Body of Peter Levine Found Late Sunday

Kidnaped Youth Had Been Object Of 3-Month Hunt

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 30 (AP).—One hundred policemen and G-men searched nearby shores today for remnants of the body of kidnaped Peter Levine, whose headless torso was yielded up last night by waters of Long Island sound after three tragic months. Scores of irate residents joined in the search.

Detective Lieutenant George Reifenberger expressed a belief the boy, cruelly cut by wire that bound the body, had been tossed into the sound from a boat.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., May 30 (AP).—The wire-bound body of long-missing Peter Levine—head, hands, and feet missing—was found and identified by detectives last night on the shore of the estate of Louis Iselin on Davenport Neck, Long Island Sound.

The body was hardly more than a mass of decomposed flesh and a few bones but Detectives Edwin Gleason and Michael Lynch said enough of the lad's clothing remained to make identification possible.

Body Blown to Shore.
Helmer Strong, 47, a yacht captain employed by Mrs. Iselin, was standing on the shore when he saw a due east wind blew the body landward and lodged it against a rock. He immediately spread the news and officers were on the scene in a short while.

The boy, son of Murray Levine, a Fifth Avenue, New York, attorney, disappeared from his home here February 24 after leaving school.

Almost immediately, the father received a note demanding $60,000 ransom but payment of the money was never made.

Theory is Offered.
Gleason said a strong copper wire was found about the torso, part of it binding down the remains of one arm. He said he believed the kidnapper, after failure to contact Levine, had become panicky, bound the boy and thrown him into the water.

There was no indication immediately, he said, that death occurred before immersion but an autopsy was ordered to determine this.

It was an ironic twist that the father should be absent at the tragic end.

He had offered a $25,000 reward for information leading toward safe return of the boy, setting a deadline of June 15, with a $5,000 reward for the body.

Only about three weeks ago, two boys, fishing near the post off the Westchester county shore where the body was washed up today, reported sighting a body and a woman motor-boating in the sound also said her craft had struck a boat.

Body Mangled By Boats.
Police searched the area but found nothing. They said they believed it possible that the body had been mangled by being struck by boats as well as having decomposed from what apparently was weeks in the water.

Detailing the description of the body, police said identification was made principally from a sweater and a maroon windbreaker Peter wore when he dropped from sight one afternoon after telling a schoolmate he intended going to a hardware store.

The windbreaker, Detective Lynch said, bore the initials "C. W." on an Indian head, representing "Camp Wigwam," a camp Peter had attended.

The sweater was the same blue one, patched on the left elbow, that he was wearing at the time of his disappearance.

On March 2, a note in Peter's handwriting, begging his father to ransom him was found in a vacant lot near his home. Two days later, Levine said "the last note he had received demanded $30,000."

Crane Woman Dies In Hospital Here
Mrs. Martha Caroline Melton, 77, Crane, succumbed in a local hospital today of a two week's illness. Mrs. Melton was brought here from her home in Crane Thursday but her condition gradually grew worse and she died this morning at six o'clock.

Funerals will be held in Grassland, Texas, former home of the deceased, tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Interment services will be held at the Post cemetery.

BACK FROM WEST COAST.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Homer Epley returned last night from a three week trip to western points, visiting San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, going north to cities in Oregon and Washington and returning by Salt Lake City and Denver.

Nightsticks Rain on Heads of Goodyear Strikers

Flailing police nightsticks beat a veritable tattoo on the heads of rioting strikers at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber plant in Akron as this picture was taken during the height of a three-hour battle which followed attempts by pickets to prevent a night shift from entering the plant. More than 100 persons, including several women, were injured in the riots, which police finally subdued to a point where an armed peace prevailed. Mayor Lee D. Schroy of Akron asked Governor Davey of Ohio to "stand ready" to send troops into the city, where a general strike was threatened.

Czech Elections Pass Off Quietly

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, May 30 (AP).—The second series of Czechoslovakia's tense municipal elections passed quietly Sunday with only one serious clash. It was between rival groups of the German minority which Adolf Hitler has pledged to protect.

One Nazi follower of Konrad Henlein and three German Socialists were injured in a riot at Elbenberg in the border region near Germany. Police arrested 75 rioters.

Incomplete returns showed Henlein's Sudeten Germany party, demanding self-government, was overwhelmingly victorious in the predominantly German districts.

Pro-government parties were stronger than ever in Czech districts as doomsday registered some formidable gains partly at the expense of Socialists.

The trend to the right in German districts and to the left in Czech regions—was much the same as in last Sunday's balloting under the watchful eye of thousands of troops mobilized a week ago against a sudden border show of German military might.

In predominantly German communities, from which returns were available at midnight, Henlein's party won 1,897 seats in local parliaments. German Socialists (anti-Nazi) 185, German Communist 160, German Democrats two and the United Czech parties 259.

Henleinists captured from 80 to 95 per cent of the vote in these Germanic regions.

Seminole Northwest Extension Gauges 135 Barrels Oil Daily

BY FRANK GARDNER.
Twenty-four hour Railroad Commission potential of 135 barrels was attained today by J. L. Frick and Osage Drilling Company No. 1 Atlantic-T. S. Riley, which gives the Seminole pool of central Gaines a four-mile northwest spread. Flow was through 1-inch choke on 2-inch tubing, with casing pressure of 230 pounds, and 20 pounds on the tubing. Gas volume tested 383,000 cubic feet daily, giving the well a gas-oil ratio of 2.837-1. Oil tested 32.4 degrees of gravity, corrected.

The extension producer is bottomed at 5,098 feet in lime, and was given one acid treatment of 1,500 gallons. It topped pay lime at 5,068 feet. Location is 1,900 feet from the north, 660 from the west line of section 249, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Packer set in 5 1/2-inch liner having failed, Eastland Oil Company No. 1 P. C. Dunbar, today was shut down for boiler repairs. When they have been completed, operators will attempt to set a packer in the 7-inch casing just above top of liner, which was cemented from 3,050 to 4,330. The well, bottomed at 4,640 feet in lime, is located 2,310 feet from the south, 330 feet from the west line of section 24, block A-12, public school land. Leaky casing, which allowed upper water to intrude, has enforced numerous deveys.

Vacuum Extension Looms.
Extension of the southeast portion of the Vacuum pool, Lea county, N. M., two miles northeast was presented today as Phillips Petroleum Company No. 6 Santa Fe, center of the southwest of the southeast of section 21-175-35e, showed some oil saturation in cores. It was cored from 4,365-85, recovering 17 feet of lime, which was saturated from 4,368-70 and from 4,383-84. Operators were preparing to core ahead below 4,385.

Repoll Oil Company No. 1 State, Lease No. 197, indicating a four-mile northwest extension of the Vacuum pool, is drilling at 4,841 feet in lime. Saturday, it swabbed 18 barrels of oil in 18 hours.

Ted Weiner et al No. 1 C. M. Parcel, wildcat in southeastern Lea less than a mile west of the Andrews county, Texas, line, this morning was drilling at 3,575 feet in lime and anhydrite. High-brown lime to top at 2,879 datum of plus 521. Has attracted attention to the well.

On the marker, it is running 35 feet higher than the highest wells in the Skeyly sand pool, four miles to the west, and approximately 250 feet higher than a dry hole six miles to the north, Texaco No. 1 C. H. Lockhart. Location is 2,149 feet from the north, 1,980 from the east line of section 5-23-38e.

Southwest Andrews Test.
Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Texaco-University, closely-watched wildcat in southwestern Andrews over five miles north of the Goldsmith pool of Ector, this morning was drilling below 4,205 feet in lime and anhydrite. Hole was reduced at 4,120 feet, leaving shoulder for packer when drillstem test is taken at around 4,220. Test is 664 feet from the north, 670 from the east line of section 26, block 11, University survey.

H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool in south central Andrews, was drilling out cement retainer this morning and will test casing this afternoon by bailing down drilling fluid. The first several cement jobs failed when gas channeled cement, allowing mud and water from upper formation to break in around 7-inch casing seated at See (Oil News) Page Six

Rebellion Said Virtually Ended By Mexican Chief

MEXICO CITY, May 30 (AP).—The defense ministry today announced the capture of three villages which were termed the last important strongholds in San Luis Potosi of the rebel General Cedillo.

The state had been restored to virtual normalcy since Cedillo rebelled May 20, government spokesmen insisted.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 30 (AP).—Government spokesmen declared Sunday San Luis Potosi state had been "virtually restored to normalcy" following the revolt May 20 of General Saturnino Cedillo.

Cedillo, with a handful of followers, was sought in the rolling, brush-covered country northwest of this state capital and in the rugged mountains north and east of Las Palomas, the estate he left to head the rebellion against President Lazaro Cardenas.

His two speedy airplanes were in government hands and army officers estimated his supporters had dwindled to scattered bands numbering 1,000 men at the most.

General Perez Gallardo, leading troops which flushed the planes Friday at Zenzulle (Mockingbird) ranch, northeast of Las Palomas, said it had been learned Cedillo was fleeing afoot, accompanied by "a few" men.

Speculation that the government may have obtained information on Cedillo's whereabouts was aroused when after the captured aviators were questioned, Generals Jose Beltran Moreno and Lucas Gonzales left on secret missions.

The defense ministry also announced the surrender of Pedro Izaguirre, one of Cedillo's right-hand men, with 217 men in nearby Tamazopo. It said only 95 carried arms.

It was stated also that Ruben Sanchez, another Cedillista leader, was back home after having laid aside his arms.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 30. — Thursday, May 30, new assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases, will provide plenty of action.

Evidence of monopoly law violations will no longer be buried in Justice Department files, under Arnold's new policy. It will be tossed before grand juries and courts for whatever it is worth.

And instead of dropping anti-trust criminal prosecutions when defendants promise to cease the violation with which they're charged, Arnold and Attorney General Cummings will insist on further "clean-ups" by accused corporations, designed to promote public interest and free competition, before they recommend nolle prosequere of indictments. No one can tell how this will work out, but the policy contains large possibilities in the field of supervision of industrial-financial practices.

COMPLAINTS APLENTY.

In its current action against the Ford, Chrysler, and General Motors companies, the government is concerned with complaints that the automobile companies have discriminated against independent finance companies, that dealers have been coerced into doing retail financing only with finance companies affiliated with manufacturers, that dealers were making secret profits on time sales as a result of excessive charges required by finance companies and that in one case bad practices were aggravated by an automobile company's complete ownership of its associated finance company.

Just what else Arnold would expect the companies to stop doing—or start doing—is his own secret.

TORRID SPUD.

Chairman Jesse Jones of RFC, who leaped in with a bill which gave him $1,500,000,000 for industrial loans instead of making the money available under some set-up other than his, now runs the day he took over the credit woes of the small business men. He grabbed himself a hot potato.

Thousands of applications for loans have been pouring in. RFC won't tell how many. But very few applications are successful. Most of the appeals come from poor risks and RFC collateral requirements under Jones are as stiff as any banker's. The result is widespread cussing of Jones—of the type that does a would-be-presidential candidate no good at all.

BLACKSLAPS FOR VARGAS.

No one can prove charges of German newspapers that the U. S. government induced President Vargas of Brazil to take the stern measures against Fascists and Nazis which preceded the recent attempted coup d'état at Rio de Janeiro.

But Roosevelt and Secretary Hull secretly have been patting Vargas on the back. Last summer the integralistas, with Nazi connections, were making headway in Brazil. Vargas invited them to put on a parade, promising to review it. The President had his men out with mechanical counters which proved the integralista marchers numbered but a third as many as their leaders said they had mustered.

Vargas then revised the government and left integralistas out, broke up German "cultural" societies, deported or jailed many Germany Nazi organizers and pretty well ruined the integralistas.

The State Department has seen no evidence to prove the claim of Vargas that the amateurish attempted revolt was inspired from Berlin. Vargas is thought to be making the claim for home consumption. But Vargas is a pet hero in Washington, just the same.

A Holiday

The Jown Quack

In a certain home where the stork recently visited there is a six year old son of inquiring mind. When he was first taken in to see the new arrival he exclaimed: "Oh, Mamma, it hasn't any teeth! And no hair!" Then clasping his hands in despair, he cried: "Somebody has done us! It's an old baby."

A large dance was in progress and one of the guests had departed from the floor in search of refreshment. In the bar he found a friend, and over a glass he began to discuss some of his partners. "By the way," he asked, "who is that long lanky girl standing over there?" "Hush!" whispered his friend. "She used to be long and lanky. But she's just inherited a hundred thousand dollars. She's tall and stately now."

We spend a million for a book on how to influence people, and seventy millions for a battleship to make sure.

Man: "I hear you lost your temper yesterday." Neighbor: "Yes, but she'll be back tomorrow."

A small boy was asked to write an essay in as few words as possible on two of life's greatest problems. He wrote: "Twins."

An Irishman had been thrown over a fence by an enraged bull. He had just recovered when he noticed the bull pawing the ground and furiously tossing his head. "If it wasn't for your bowing and scraping," said Mike, "I'd think yer threw me over on purpose."

Wife: "Wake up, John! There is a burglar going through your pants pockets." Husband (turning over): "Oh, you two just fight it out between yourselves."

Here's a new angle on the old yarn about the pal who was visiting the bandage-covered friend in the hospital. "What happened?" queried the victim. "You were drunk and you could jump out the window and fly around the block," said the pal. "Why," howled the patient, "didn't you stop me?" "Stop you, hell, I had $10 on you!"

Palm for Archery

an ancient sea bottom laid down 20,000 years ago in the Miocene Age wells up.

To "shoot" this close-up of the Rio Bravo oil sands at a depth of nearly three miles, three strings of casing were "telescoped" to a depth of 15,004 feet, each string growing smaller and smaller—a 225-ton telescope tapering from a diameter of 16 1/2 inches for the first 500 feet to 7 inches for the 12,000-foot oil string which penetrated the oil sands almost exactly under the derrick two miles down, ending in a piece of 3 1/2-inch drill pipe only 2 1/2 degrees off vertical.

Despite 44 days lost in "fishing" for lost tools and clearing the hole at 11,584 feet in a temperature of 270 degrees Fahrenheit at the two-mile level, drilling continued at the rate of 50 feet of six-inch hole a day until oil was discovered in seven months at 13,100 feet. This was a world's record depth; also the first indication that a return would be made on a $300,000 investment, the statement says.

When wells go deeper drilling costs and hazards multiply. Blow-outs from gas pressures which are several times greater than the highest steam boiler pressure threaten wildcaters; rig twist-offs are caused, often by the very weight of the tools on the bit; temperature increasing with depth turn ordinary cementing jobs into intricate chemical problems.

More money must be spent for casing that is heavier and made of better material. Derricks must be higher and stronger, surface machinery more powerful and dependable. Specially designed equipment must be used to control gas pressures. Yet despite these added costs, the drill bites deeper every year and

A new version of the twin waffle iron is now on the market. Instead of cooking two small-sized square or round waffles on separate irons at one time, this newer creation called the "reversible double waffle iron" will cook two of the full-sized crispy brown delicacies.

Human interest note about the above: This new waffle iron was invented by a Midland man who is so averse to receiving publicity about it that most of his fellow-citizens don't know his identity.

Go Through Summer "Crisp as Lettuce" In Three Easy Steps

BY ALICIA HART. NEA Service Staff Writer.

Step number one toward the achievement of "that crisp as lettuce look" during summer months is a resolution to take a warm, soapy bath every night and a tepid shower or a quick dip in the tub each morning.

Between the morning dip, or shower and the evening bath, do take time out from whatever kind of work you do to clean face, arms and neck and put on a coat of fresh makeup.

If your skin is quite oily, by all means find a greaseless foundation lotion and use it before powder and rouge.

Step number two is a promise to yourself to use an anti-perspirant as often as is necessary or else to have dress shields in every summer frock and to use a deodorant each morning. Anti-perspirants stop perspiration in the area over which they are applied.

Step number three is seeing that white touches on dark sheers, white gloves, shoes and so on are absolutely immaculate.

Do put on clean stockings every morning and fresh underwear at least every other day.

CARDS SPLIT WITH HOBBS; PLAY HERE TODAY AND TONIGHT

NEIGHBORS AND NELSON CHOSEN FOR MOUND JOBS

Back from Hobbs, where they did their heaviest slugging of the year to get an even break in a two-game series, the Midland Cardinals will meet the same team in two games here today and tonight and another tomorrow night.

The Cardinals put on a six-run ninth inning rally to cop the initial game of the series, 16-10 played Saturday night, but took a 12-27 drubbing at the hands of the Boosters yesterday afternoon.

Three hurriers, Froeschauer, Franklin and Warren were ineffective against the New Mexico lads yesterday and saw another defeat, called up against the Cardinals despite some heavy slugging on the part of the Red Birds.

The manager used four of his pitchers in the two games played away from home and the hurling chores will fall on Nelson and Neighbors in the games here today. Just who will pitch tomorrow night will depend on today's results.

The first game was scheduled to start at 4:30 this afternoon and the night game to start at 8:30. Ladies will be admitted free to both games.

Following the games here, the Cardinals will depart for games in Lubbock Wednesday and Thursday and games in Clovis Friday and Saturday.

In other league games played yesterday, the Clovis Pioneers crept to within one game of the fifth place Cardinals as they defeated Big Spring, 12-4, and the Lubbock Hubbers retained their league lead by splitting a double-header with Wink, 9-8, 6-8.

Mrs. Hicks Winner Big Spring Tourney

BIG SPRING, May 30. (P).—Mrs. Theron Hicks, 1936 titlist, recaptured championship honors in the Big Spring women's invitational golf tournament by defeating Mrs. Gordon Phillips, Big Spring, in the finals, 4 and 3, here Sunday.

The Odessa shot par golf to down the Big Spring woman. Mrs. Hicks was one-up at the end of the first 18 holes, a round in which both players fired 77's, one under par.

Miss Elinor Jones, Albuquerque, N. M., defeated Mrs. Hicks in the finals last year, 5 and 4.

Veteran of 94 Town's Mayor For 46 Years

DANVILLE, Va. (UP).—Capt. Harry Wooding, reputedly oldest mayor in the United States with 46 years consecutive service in office, was presented with a 94-pound birthday cake, topped by 94 candles, on his 94th birthday.

The Danville mayor was honored at a community birthday party in the Danville armory at which an oil portrait of himself was presented to the local national guard unit.

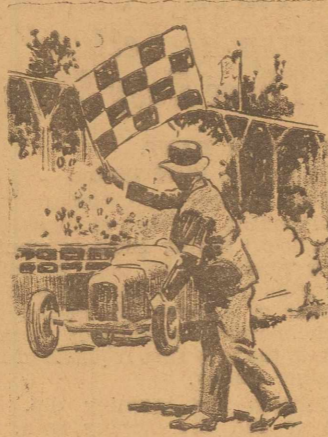

Mayor Wooding was the first commissioned officer in the original company that marched away from Danville to fight under Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The mayor served in several major engagements of the war and was never wounded. However, a brother was killed.

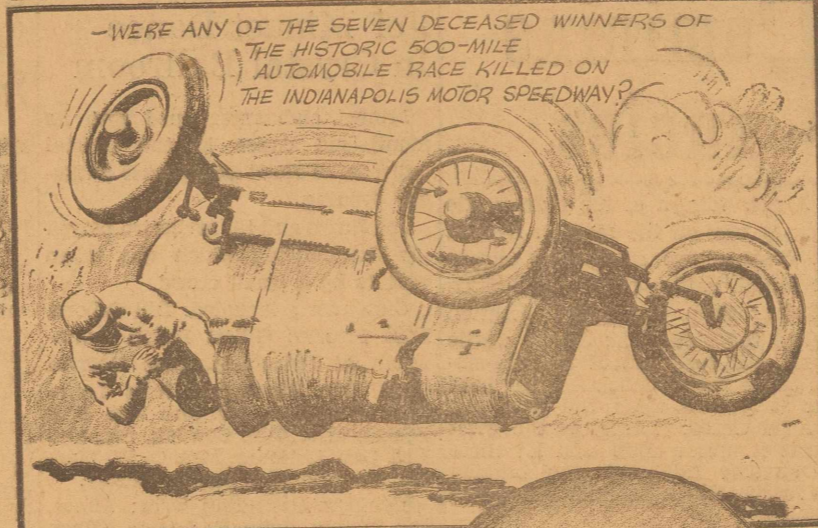

His epic description of the first battle of Bull Run, written to a Maryland girl the night after the battle, has been used by historians in reconstructing accounts of the great fight.

"I did not actually take part in that battle," the mayor said. "I was with Stuart's cavalry and we were on the outpost of the engagement held as reserves. The battle lasted three days and we were finally cut off."

Child Called Well Trained In Orphanage

LANGHORNE, Pa. (UP).—The idea that orphans in impersonal orphanages should be pitted in comparison with those in private homes is erroneous, according to Dr. Charles A. Ford, chairman of the psychology department of Temple university.

Dr. Ford told the fourth annual conference here on the exceptional child, that an orphan is an institution has a better chance of keeping out of jail than one adopted by foster parents or sent to live with relatives.

"A good institution provides all that is necessary for good mental health," Dr. Ford said. "Certainly there is no lack of security. Competition, individuality, opportunity for leadership and for co-operation are provided for. Group contact certainly exists and similarity and diversity of interests can both be found."

Romantic Touch Builds Summer Opera Interest

CINCINNATI, O. (UP).—The universal appeal of romance is helping the Cincinnati Summer Opera Association to "get on its feet" financially, its director, Oscar F. Hild, declares.

"When the man on the street sees a bill board advertisement for the opera 'Carmen' illustrated with a love scene he derives a new conception of opera," Hild said.

By using the "love" approach last season, Hild said, attendance at the summer opera at the Cincinnati Zoo was increased 83 per cent.

Tests Flunked On Slanguage By Professors

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP).—Simple campus "slanguage" flunked four Texas Christian University faculty members, who for once were called upon to answer rather than question their students. Three of the four professors have doctors' degrees and the fourth is an English teacher. Dr. Colby D. Hall, dean of men, made a grade of 70 on 10 every-day campus words although he knew the precise definition of only 6. Dr. Newton Gaines, head of the T. C. U. physics department, answered 6 of 10, the same as Prof. Mabel Major of the English department. Dr. Clinton Lockhart, teacher of Old Testament in the Bible college, could answer only 3.
