Squabbling

The circumference of Connie Bennett's thigh, the shape of her shoulders and the size of her waist is something that a Hollywood jury must ponder over. Artist Willy Pogany, pictured at his easel in the lower photo, is seeking $3500 which the movie actress refuses to pay because she doesn't think she looks like the portrait he painted of her. Miss Bennett is shown at top as she appeared in court, a veil adding intrigue to her beauty.

Military Training For All Citizens In Proclamation

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, May 31. (AP)—Czechoslovakia Monday night decreed some form of military or defense service for her entire population between the ages of six and sixty.

The war-born republic, which fears dismemberment at the hands of Germany and other encroaching neighbors, published three military training decrees.

The move came shortly after the Prague government made a conciliatory gesture toward Germany by limiting activities of Czechoslovak pilots in border regions.

Compulsory military training was specified by the decrees for all children over six with the exception of those who normally would be exempt from physical training.

Girls must devote 40 hours annually to first aid and air defense training until the age of 21, and thereafter 30 hours annually until the age of 30.

Both men and women past 30 and under 60 were made liable for 30 hours annual training in civil air defense.

Another fortnight of pre-election excitement confronted Czechoslovakia as the results of Sunday's municipal balloting were studied and as party leaders prepared for the third and final round scheduled for Sunday, June 12.

The Sudeten party, headed by Konrad Henlein, proclaimed its biggest victory to date—92.2 per cent of all German votes cast went to Henleinist candidates, party headquarters announced.

This was an increase from the figure of 88 per cent in the voting a week ago Sunday.

A total of 444,367 German votes had been accounted for in the two Sunday elections which have been held, according to Henlein's figures, and of these 405,126 went to his candidates.

More Than 9500 Garments Made by WPA Sewing Room

Astonishment at the type and quality of work being done at the WPA sewing room was expressed by visitors who attended the open house held there Monday. Mrs. Nettie Mae Curry, supervisor, reported today.

Since the establishment of the sewing room project in November, 1935, 9,580 garments have been made, using a total of 20,482 1/2 yards of material.

Practically everything worn by men, women, or children is made in the sewing room, from men's pants and overalls to tots' frocks, women's dresses, and girls' underwear.

Mrs. Curry asks that any citizen who has extra buttons donate them to the sewing room, either by delivering them at the welfare office on East Texas or by calling her at No. 159 and asking that they be called for. The county will receive credit, at so much a dozen, for all buttons donated to the work.

Poison Is Blamed In Woman's Death

Funeral services are to be held in Mineral Wells tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. N. S. Cotren, about 30 years old, who died in a local hospital shortly after she was reported to have drunk carbolic acid about seven o'clock last night.

N. S. Cotren, husband of the deceased, was reported by officers to have said that he and his wife were estranged and that she had recently come here from Mineral Wells. Following an attempt at reconciliation last night, she told him he "wouldn't be seeing her any more," came to town and procured the poison, and returned to their trailer house in northwest Midland where she evidently drank it, he is alleged to have said. He was further reported saying that he did not see his wife drink the lethal dose but that she fell as she got almost to the house. In one hand she had an empty bottle, said to have contained the poison, and in the other she was carrying a bottle of soda water. Cotren declared he procured the help of neighbors in carrying her to a hospital but she died soon after reaching it. Her body was taken to the Barrow funeral home here pending arrival of an ambulance from Mineral Wells.

A physician who attended the woman said that her death was caused by drinking approximately three ounces of carbolic acid. An inquest was not held.

The deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Manley, a brother, Carl Manley, and a sister, Mrs. Charley Cain, all of Weatherford.

2 Chinese Towns Hit By Raiders

Japanese Unleash Air Bombardments On Canton, Hankow

SHANGHAI, May 31. (AP)—Japan's air forces today struck heavily at two centers of vital Chinese resistance in Hankow and Canton.

Thirty planes attacked Hankow and Japanese accounts said they shot down 18 Chinese planes in dog-fights. Japanese admitted losing one plane.

Canton, through which most of China's munitions pass, was raided for the fourth successive day, but Chinese said four of 22 Japanese planes had been shot down.

SHANGHAI, May 31. (AP)—A Japanese army estimated at 400,000 men stretched along a 250-mile crescent-shaped front today awaited the zero hour signal for a general offensive on Hankow, one of China's temporary capitals.

The battle line, 250 miles from Hankow at its lower end, extended from Wu on the Yangtze river northwest through sun-blasted Anhwei province to a bitterly-contested point on the Lunghai railway near Lanfeng.

Stubbornly defending China's good earth was an estimated force of more than 1,000,000 Chinese.

The Japanese right wing, at the upper end of the crescent, was meeting bitterest resistance in the Lunghai railway corridor west of Suohow where a division under Lieut.-Gen. Kenji Doihara, Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria," was trapped north-west of Lanfeng.

Heavy fighting was reported in the Lanfeng sector and the narrow strip between the Yellow river and the Lunghai, where the fate of Kai-feng was being written in blood.

There was action on the entire crescent-shaped front yesterday. Japanese reported Chinese were beginning to withdraw from Lanfeng after Japanese warplanes strafed and bombed defense forces.

They said they bombed and blew up a troop train and machinegunned Chinese retreating between Lanfeng and Kai-feng.

Chinese reports in turn said desperate Japanese counter-attacks were repulsed with 400 Japanese killed and nine tanks and military supplies captured. Chinese asserted they had recaptured Lowang station and town.

(A dispatch from Hankow said the Chinese command was intensifying its efforts to cut Gen. Doihara's force to pieces after hearing that Japanese forces north of the Yellow river were planning to drive across the stream.)

In extreme northwestern Anhwei province, Japanese occupied Kwang-yang and Pohlsen.

The conquests put the invading force in a position to strike westward into Honan province.

Rubber Workers in Favor of Returning To the Factories

AKRON, O., May 31. (AP)—Leaders of Goodyear local of the United Rubber Workers announced last night that nearly 3,000 union members voted by a ratio of nine to one to end the strike at Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and return to work today.

Alan Hayward, New York, CIO leader, addressed the union members and urged acceptance of the recommendations of the executive board which sought approval of concessions made by the company and return to work.

A union official said the picket line would be withdrawn.

A statement issued by the executive board said the company has pledged "to our committee to take immediate steps to conclude a written agreement with the local union."

"Therefore, we hereby declare the present stoppage of work ended and advise all Goodyear local members to return to work on their regular shifts."

A union spokesman said the company agreed to return 16 men, transferred out of turn, to their old jobs.

Mathematician Crossing the Continent on Bicycle to Promote Nation's Prosperity

Laboriously wending his way to the nation's capital where he hopes to gain audience with President Roosevelt, O. A. Petree, who terms himself "the lone crusader," passed through Midland Monday afternoon on a bicycle.

Petree, a professor of mathematics who has taught in Missouri and California, claims the solution to the nation's economic problems is through the mathematical route. He has a system which, if put in effect, he believes will place money in the hands of the laborer and the buying public without increased taxation.

In addition to this mission, he is seeking to impress on the traveling public the fact that bicycles should be ridden on the left side of the highway. The cyclist, in that way, does not have to watch cars coming from behind but merely gives his attention to those he is meet-

Drawing a welcome respite from discussion of politics and "bosses," President Roosevelt met a genuine "bossy" when he visited Arthur Daley, W. Va., site of a subsistence homestead community actively sponsored by the First Lady. Above, the President shows his appreciation by giving the cow, member of the Arthur Daley Dairy herd, an affectionate pat on the nose. In a commencement address before Arthur Daley high school students, the President told the nation that he would allow the new tax bill to become law without his signature.

Cochran Wildcat Is Drilling at 5,058 Carrying 300 feet of Oil

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Another strike for Cochran county was seen today with the report that Honolulu Oil Corporation, Ltd., No. 1-91 Carrie Slaughter Dean had 300 feet of oil in the hole while drilling at 5,058 feet in lime. Source of the oil was not learned. The wildcat, located 12,402 feet from the east, 440 feet from the north lines of league 91, Lipscomb county school land, is three miles northwest of the Duggan pool, to which it may prove an extension. Closest producer, however, is the Wiggins, Lawson and Hyde No. 1 Dean, lone pool opener a mile and a half to the north.

Texas Company No. 1 Mallett, extreme southeast Cochran discovery nearly six miles southeast of the Duggan pool, is shut down awaiting installation of pumping equipment. On last swabbing test it yielded 15 barrels of fluid hourly, 85 per cent oil and 15 per cent basic sediment and acid water. Bottomed at plugged-back depth of 5,058, it has been acidized with 5,000 gallons.

Gulf No. 1 Mallett, two miles southwest the Slaughter pool in Hockley, pumped only water, with no oil present, on three successive days. It pumped 83 barrels of water, 98 barrels and 31 barrels, respectively, on each of the daily gauges. Hole has been plugged back to 5,034 from 5,125.

Drillstem Test Shows Nothing

Forty-five minute drillstem test drew 4,120 to 4,220 in Atlantic No. 1 Texasco - University, southwest of Andrews wildcat, showed no oil or gas, and only about 45 feet of drilling fluid. Today, operators are reaming down rat hole preparatory to drilling ahead. The well is in the northeast corner of section 26, block 11, University survey, over five miles north of Ector's Goldsmith field.

Five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart is bailing down fluid today after drilling out cement plug from 7-inch casing set at 4,302. Cement drilled hard, operators reported, indicating that a successful cement job had been attained after four tries. If casing tests satisfactorily, they will drill out bridge, top of which is at 4,312, and test zones from 4,400-83, total depth, which showed intervals of saturation and porosity.

No Time for Indifference.

Monday, Memorial Day, was observed apathetically by several million Americans. Yet by some Americans it was a day of intense feeling and possibly of deadly planning.

At Gettysburg, the annual patriotic address was delivered. In many cities, towns and hamlets, soldiers' graves were decorated and flags were flown. Most of this was in a spirit of patriotism but, whether we admit it or not, much of it was a matter of form.

However, in some of the nation's cities, demonstrations were staged by foreign-born citizens who, apparently, feel allegiance to dictators. On the other hand, foreign born or sympathetic races who have felt the iron hand of dictatorships staged counter demonstrations which reached riot proportions.

Meanwhile, most American born citizens sat passively by and paid little heed to what was behind the demonstrations or the protests against demonstrations.

Isn't it possible that in any of our towns, even Midland, there could be plotting and planning, dictated by dictators, which could be part of a world wide scheme to do away, once and for all, with democracies?

A spirit of apathy would be a poor weapon with which to combat such a program. The dormant patriotism of Americans, brought out only in the closing of federal institutions on national holidays, should be revived to a spirit of watchfulness to protect the freedom which has allowed this easy-going apathy and contentment to develop.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 31. — Now that Congress has made it clear that there is to be pump-priming in accordance with the President's plan for economic recovery, it becomes interesting to inquire into the reasons why the pump-primers think that it can succeed.

New Dealers say that business went on the toboggan between 1929 and 1933 when the pump wasn't primed, that it started up in 1933 when the pump was primed and only went to pot again in 1937 when pump-priming was too drastically curtailed.

The pump-priming theory has three props. It assumes the system will work like this: 1. Government provides some purchasing power when private enterprise and investment stagnates. 2. Government's new spending and investment goes to persons who will spend, take goods off the market and create a demand for more goods and employment. 3. Business activity then increases. Corporations and wealthy men make profits and invest savings in new plants, equipment and so on, giving private enterprise and investment need for government employment.

THEORY AND FACTS. The theory struck a snag after national income had risen from 40 billions in 1929 to 68 billions in 1937. You can get reasons for a dime a dozen, but pump-primers will tell you that pump-priming had reached zero early this year, as a result of business demands for budget-balancing.

Many economists hold, on the basis of past experience, that the American economic system needs about six billion dollars of annual capital investment to keep going on an even keel. The following figures, taken from a conservative New York financial journal, give you some idea of what has happened in the terms in which pump-primers are thinking:

New capital investment (private pump-priming, that is) reached an all time high of over 10 billion dollars in 1929 and dropped to seven billions in 1930. In 1931 the flow of capital investment dropped below six billion dollars a year and hasn't come anywhere near it since.

WHAT HISTORY SHOWS. IT hit a low of $709,000,000 in 1933. But at that time government pump-priming came into the picture in a large way. Pump-priming is generally understood here as government's net contribution to purchasing power, roughly the difference between the amount government takes in in taxes and any larger amount which it spends.

Subsequently annual history according to the above mentioned series of figures, has been as follows in terms of capital investment and government pump-priming:

1933: Private, 709 millions; government, 1856 millions; total 2565 millions.
1934: Private, 1386; government, 2338; total, 4624.
1935: Private, 1412; government, 3154; total, 4566.
1936: Private, 1973; government, 4025; total, 5998.
1937: Private, 2049; government, 900; total, 2949.

In the first quarter of this year capital investment had dropped to a rate of about 1200 millions annually and government was making almost no contribution at all.

INVENTORIES INCREASED. WHATEVER other implications these figures may have, it is demographically stated that 1937 showed more private investment than in any year since 1932 and that there was a 50 per cent drop from the combined total of the income-producing investment and pump-priming of 1937 before business went sour.

The government contribution fell off because of the bonus payment factor in 1936, administration economists and the social security taxes. But when the total practically reached six billion in 1936, industry became so confident that it piled up an inventory increase of $5,000,000,000 between September, 1936, and September 1937, the biggest increase since 1919.

While government cut its contribution to purchasing power by three billions, industry piled up an excess of goods amounting to five billions.

Inventories have been reduced to an unknown extent while factories curtailed and men were laid off. Pump-primers don't seem to think they can build the government contribution up beyond $2,000,000,000 for 1938, which means few of them hope to be able to do much more than "hold the line" this year. None of them dare try to do less.

And they're all praying for a revival of capital investment because they believe that's the only thing that can avert the need for still more pump-priming.

Canadian Vote Again to Test Social Credit

REGINA, Sask. (UP).—In one of the boldest moves in western Canada's political history, Social Credit forces will attempt to capture Saskatchewan in the provincial general election to be held in June.

Headed by Prime Minister William Aberhart of Alberta, leader of the world's only Social Credit government, members of the party are mustering their forces for an invasion of their sister province. The prospects of the party will only be definitely indicated by the outcome of the ballot, but there already is a general feeling of apprehension, if not exactly of alarm, among the business and financial interests of the province.

Social Credit theories, which swept Aberhart into power in Alberta in August, 1935, have not yet materialized in that province. The promise of basic dividends of $25 a month for every citizen is still a promise and the rosy picture of Utopian glory which Aberhart and his followers painted in their pre-election campaign has not yet materialized.

Party "Explains" Failure. But party adherents attribute the failure, not to the theory itself, but to federal intervention and the "big interests." It is these so-called "big interests" which the Social Credit party continually attacks. They are represented as being in cynical alliance with "international finance" and on their shoulders blame for nearly everything that has happened, and for war that may come, is laid.

Social Credit schemes for winning Saskatchewan are not new. Shortly after Aberhart's election in Alberta Social Credit sympathizers in Saskatchewan polled 49,000 votes out of 261,000 in the federal election. And that was done with no organization.

Since that time, however, the Western Canada Social Credit association has been formed, aim of which is to win the four western provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia—when elections are held. This is the first real opportunity the party has had of extending itself outside Alberta.

Province Hard Hit. Many political observers believe that the field in Saskatchewan is fertile for a Social Credit invasion. For the past two years drought has been devastating. Productive areas were transformed into a huge dust bowl. Half a million people have been on relief. Among such as these it may not be difficult to propagate the idea that they are being deprived of good living by enforced adherence to the "economics of scarcity" dictated by "international finance."

There is, however, a hopeful psychology in the fact that during last winter nature stored up great reservoirs of moisture in the dry areas which now promise to come back to normal productivity. This has done much to neutralize sentiments of depression.

If the movement succeeds in Saskatchewan, there is some apprehension felt lest it spread further afield. Alberta's credit among foreign investors is nil as a result of a series of financial reforms, including the renoucement of provincial obligations and an attempt to utilize the facilities of the established banks as the media of socialized credit.

The outcome of this election, it is expected, will either spell the doom of social credit or give an enormous impetus to that movement.

Small Grain Crop in Tom Green Is Heavy

SAN ANGELO (AP).—Despite appearance of rust and smut in wheat and barley in some sections, Tom Green county farmers expect to harvest the second largest crop of small grains in the county's history.

Harvesting has started in smaller fields but the big movement will not get under way until around the first of June.

Approximately 50 combines, doubling sales of previous seasons, have been delivered by implement dealers here.

Oats production is expected to be around 35 bushels an acre, barley from 25 to 40 bushels and wheat, 12 to 15, compared with the 20-bushel average last year.

The Town Quack

Some bewildered fishermen returned last night from the Red Bluff dam where they pursued the finny tribe for a few days. Some of them reported great luck. These were the fellows who probably won't be going back right soon. Bum Cowden and Hap Corrigan, however, said the fishing was pretty poor. I guess they don't want all the fish caught before they can go back for more.

Hap found a bottle which had been washed ashore, and in it was a note. One of the signatures on the message was that of a newspaper man known in this section. I will withhold further information until Hap brings down the note, and then we will expose my contemporary.

Man is a lazy beast. Yesterday I used the scissors to turn out this column and it took effect on me again today. Rather than exert my brain for interesting material, I have resorted to columns of others newspapers. In the Brownwood Bulletin I saw where a New York business man was holding the press responsible for economic conditions. The paragraphs which follow were the work of the Bulletin's columnist:

Iceland Will Harness Hot Springs for Heat

WASHINGTON (U.P.).—Iceland plans to heat its homes with hot water that bubbles from the frigid soil.

The island kingdom lying just below the Arctic Circle has no fuels common to the Temperate Zone and until recently had to depend on peat for heating purposes.

Now, however, the National Geographic Society reports that civic leaders at Reykjavik, capital which houses nearly one-third of the country's 116,000 persons, plans to harness the hot springs to heat homes and office buildings.

A seven-passenger car has been designed to fit the order of a man who frequently makes long trips. The rear of the car is fitted to resemble a trailer. The car has a double-decker bed.

Tammany Leader Held as 'Fixer'

The most legendary and powerful political figure in New York, James J. Hines, virtual "boss-maker" of Tammany, faces charges as the alleged head of a $100,000,000 policy racket after his arrest by District Attorney Thomas Dewey. Hines, who was released on $20,000 bond, is pictured leaving police headquarters. The county grand jury will be asked to indict him for "influencing and intimidating judicial officers."

Don't Get Hot and Bothered About Keeping Cool

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Rule No. 1 for keeping fairly cool and as attractive looking as possible during hot summer months is: Don't discuss the weather.

Try to remember that the cooler you look, the cooler you'll feel, and promise yourself that you just won't go around groaning about the heat, running your hands through your hair, fanning your throat with your blouse, and so on. A generous dose of poise is one of the best antidotes for torrid weather doldrums.

Then, too, it's a good idea to plan your summer wardrobe with an eye to keeping cool. One needs dark clothes for town, of course, but these can be ever so sheer. Navy or black sheer silk, featherweight prints with dark backgrounds, dark voiles and other sheer cottons are ideal materials. In the suburbs and in the country, wear simply-cut, well-designed washables. Very fine cotton lingerie is something else to consider.

Whether you are sunbanned or not, try to achieve a scrubbed look. Give up mascara and eye-shadow—during daytime hours, at least. Thoroughly clean your face and put on fresh makeup several times a day. Take a warm, soapy bath at night and as many showers as you can manage during the daytime. Keep white collars and cuffs, white shoes, gloves and so on, meticulously clean.

Don't let dread of the discomfort of sitting under the dryer keep you from making regular appointments with the hairdresser. One needs a shampoo even oftener during summer weather. However, to cut down the length of time you have to spend under the dryer, have the operator set your hair with water instead of heavy, sticky wave-set lotion. Or with one of the perfumed hair lotions. Of the consistency of water, these stimulate the scalp and lightly perfume the hair.

Pineapple Lightens Figure and Spirit

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Pineapples like to travel. Bring them north, set them down in a spring garden, and salad days are here again.

For a complete spring tonic luncheon for the connoisseur serve this plate. The recipe comes from a Fifth Avenue beauty salon in New York, where so-called "food for beauty" is served to clients seeking more slenderness and lighter spirits.

Tropical Dawn.
(Serves 4.)

One fresh pineapple, 8 fresh dates, 1 pint strawberries, blanched almonds, 1 green pepper, 8 crisp lettuce leaves, 1 carrot, 1/4 pound fresh lima beans, 4 firm buds of cauliflower, 1 zucchini, 1/4 of a summer squash, 8 cream cheese balls with chopped pistachio nuts and minced fresh tarragon.

Cut pineapple into quarters, from stem to base. Cut out pineapple, leaving shell. Cut pineapple into small cubes. Cut fresh dates into small pieces, slice strawberries, leaving a few whole for a garnish. Chop green pepper, cauliflower and lima beans. Grate carrot and summer squash and zucchini.

Arrange quarter of pineapple in center of large salad plate. File lightly with mixture of pineapple cubes, dates, and sliced strawberries. Garnish with whole strawberries, leaving a few whole for a garnish. Chop green pepper, cauliflower and lima beans. Grate carrot and summer squash and zucchini.

Missionary Groups Meet for Fifth Monday Program Session

Women of the Methodist missionary society were hostesses to other missionary groups of the town for the regular Fifth Monday union meeting held at the First Methodist church Monday afternoon.

Roses, larkspur, and sweetpeas were used in decorations for the church. Following the opening song, Mrs. J. M. Prothro, president of the host society, presented the introductory talk outlining the origin of the Fifth Monday meetings.

In 1933, she recalled, the various missionary societies of the town celebrated "The World Day of Prayer" with a union program at the First Presbyterian church.

In 1934, the second meeting of this kind was held at the First Christian church, with each auxiliary of the town participating.

Out of these annual meetings grew the custom of having a joint meeting of the groups each Fifth Monday, the development into the latter practice taking place about 1935. The exact date of the transition from the yearly to the Fifth Monday programs is not recalled but Mrs. Prothro said she supposed the suggestion for the change had probably come from Mrs. Geo. Ratliff who served as chairman of the annual meetings for two years.

After Mrs. Prothro's interesting talk, Mrs. S. H. Hudkins brought the devotional for the afternoon. She first read the Biblical text, the fourth chapter of Micah and, after a prayer by Mrs. W. C. Hinds, discussed the question of peace along the lines of "What It Takes to Establish a World Peace." This must

Feminine Fancies

Blessings of many a budget-limited but perfume-loving Miss and Mrs. should be reaped by the person who thought of putting expensive imported perfumes into tiny packages, each containing enough for four applications, and selling them at a few cents a package.

In this way, milady may experiment with an odor and see whether she really likes it, without having to buy an expensive bottle on a guess. Also, it tends to make possible a delightful variety in the use of fragrances.

For a specially grand occasion, one may purchase a few drops of heavy exotic scent, that ordinarily one would not wish to use. Or add a dash of piquancy to the plain sweetness usually worn. Or astound one's best beau by becoming a creature of Oriental enchantment for one evening.

Indicative of the astonishing (and somehow delightful) impudence of modern ways are the newest of the new in cocktail making which flaunt a derivative "You Can't Take It With You" embroidered across them.

They're sheer linen and may be purchased in colors with white embroidered slogan or in white with colored embroidery.

Handy for the traveler—or for the stay at home who does not have too much house space for that matter—is the new folding clock. It is no larger than a small compact but is built to stand on a table or dresser when opened.

Monograms, like most other adornments of dress, have grown restless and are roving from their accustomed positions on the frocks. Some of the Monogrammed jersey shirts which are favored by athletic misses now wear their individualizing letters on the plain neckband at the throat, as a change

Jacket For Slim Budget

One of the best bets for women who dress on a budget is a jacket ensemble. This Patou outfit features a dark blue fantasy weave linen dress with box-pleated apron front, skirt and feminine-looking ruching, topped with a colorful tuxedo jacket of white linen printed in shade of blue.

Miss Barber Is Hostess to YWA Meeting Monday

Meeting at the home of Miss Freddie Lou Barber Monday evening, YWA members held a shower for an underprivileged citizen as a service project and discussed business matters.

Following the business period, a social hour was held and refreshments were served.

Present were: Misses Georgia Johnson, Nedra Arden, Dorothy Hines, Helen Ruth Merrill, Alta Merrill, Daphne Shafer, Doris Tidwell, Marcella Strawn, Martha Tidmore, Ruth Tidmore, Mrs. Celia Shafer, Mrs. Marvin Douglas, and the hostess.

Lacquered Blinds.
If you want to give your windows a real treat, look at the new Venetian blinds made of a metal alloy especially processed to resist chipping, cracking and, of course, warping. The working mechanism is concealed so that the appearance of the window is neat and attractive. The baked on lacquer finish is lasting, really beautiful and easily cleaned.

Capable Table Protectors.
Now that the season for long, cool drinks is upon us, it's a good idea to consider ways of protecting furniture and rugs from dripping glasses. Knitted jackets of an elastic-like material are inexpensive, come in gay colorful patterns, in sizes to fit large glasses and stemware, and are washable.

Basic Vegetable Guide.
A good rule for cooking green vegetables such as peas and string beans, or any vegetable which matures and ripens above the ground, is to put them on to cook in boiling water and leave uncovered until done. Root vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, beets, should be put on the fire in cold water and in a covered utensil to be cooked until tender.

"YOU SHOULD SEE WHAT I SAW WHERE CAMELS ARE MADE" BY Eddie Cantor

AMERICA'S LAUGH KING, Eddie Cantor, has his serious moments too. His uproarious "Cantor's Camel Caravan" broadcasts (every Monday night—Columbia Network) command respect because of his sincerity in his work. And Eddie's truly sincere in his self-termed job of "Camel Radio Salesman." Says salesman Cantor, "Everything isn't too much to know about a cigarette like Camel." Eddie took a trip to Winston-Salem, home of Camel cigarettes. Here is what he saw—

"HELLO EVERYBODY! Here I am in Camel town. Am I impressed? Everybody looks so happy—so enthusiastic! You'd think each one of the 13,000 Reynolds workers owned the plant. And say, thousands of them are owners—they've got Camel stock! And they really get fun out of making Camels. Maybe that's a reason people get so much fun out of smoking Camels. Wouldn't you like to work here? Nobody's been laid off by Camels in 12 years. When that old whistle blows, all the officials in this place are right on the job too. And they have only one job—making Camels so good that more people smoke them than any other cigarette. Yes—that's everybody's job at Camels. Imagine a place like this Camel plant. They had social security here years ago. When you're sick, you get a nice healthy check each week. If you die, your family is protected

Have a Camel! See for yourself why there's more real pleasure—more out-and-out enjoyment—in Camel's matchless blend of finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic.

See why tobacco planters, men who grow and know tobacco, make Camel their cigarette. You'll say, as millions of smokers do, "Camels agree with me." Camel is America's largest-selling cigarette!

Don't miss Cantor's Camel Caravan Monday nights! See radio listing in your local paper for time.

CARDINALS POUND OUT DOUBLE WIN OVER HOBBS BOOSTERS

FINAL GAME WILL BE PLAYED AT CITY PARK TONIGHT

The Midland Cardinals had on their hitting clothes yesterday and managed to place their hits and Hobbs miscue together for two wins over the visiting New Mexico team. The afternoon game was won by a score of 14-13 and the night game by 17-13.

The second victory was costly for the Cardinals as shortstop Larry Battle suffered a fractured finger when he failed in an effort to get away from one of pitcher Miller's fast ones. Catcher Del Ballinger also retired, suffering from a sprained ankle.

The Cardinals managed to win both games by building up big leads in the early innings and tenaciously holding on to them. In the first game, they gave Nelson a ten run lead in the first three innings but he was blasted from the box in the fourth when Hobbs scored five times. Franklin managed to hold on to the lead for the rest of the game, thereby getting credit for the victory.

In the second game, Neighbors struck out 15 men but seven errors by his mates, five of them by second baseman Dosdoorian, kept him in hot water in the late innings. He was spotted a 13 run lead in the first four innings but had trouble holding it because of the faulty support.

The Cardinals came through with four home runs in the nightcap, two of them being by Suytar in his first two trips to the plate. Beers and Nelson got the others. In the first game, Ballinger got a homer for the Cards and Donaldson and Padgett got one each for the Boosters. Donaldson repeated in the night game.

The two clubs will meet in the final game tonight at 8:30 and the Cardinals leave for Lubbock tomorrow for the first of four games away from home.

The box score: First game.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
 Sports Editor, NEA Service.

Joe McCarthy still believes Detroit is the club New York will have to beat in the American League.

The manager of the Yankees rates the hopped-up Cleveland Indians ahead of the Boston Red Sox.

"Detroit," says McCarthy, "has too much power to stay down where it is."

"That wallop is going to assert itself before long, and it will be the Tigers we will be battling once we get going and the race gets hot."

"The Indians have good pitching. They are going to be tough. He looks like a fine pitcher now. And behind him, Cleveland has a capable pitching staff and a husky punch."

"Bob Grove is off to a great start for Boston, but it isn't in the books for him to go on that way."

"Wait until the weather gets warmer, and the heat begins to take things out of him—when he is going to need more rest."

"Where will the Red Sox be for pitchers then? They haven't got the fellows behind him to keep up. I don't think they'll be as dangerous when the race settles down as they appear now."

"The same thing goes for Washington."

McCarthy contends that no club has had a real opportunity to show to advantage, least of all the Ruppert Rifles, who had nine double-headers piled up on them before they knew it. They grew tired of sitting around on

"We haven't had a chance to start yet," explains Marse Joe.

"If our pitchers only get the chance to get straightened out quickly, you'll see that we get better pitching, and more of it, than we have ever had."

SARRON PLANNING RING RETIREMENT.

A burstic condition in his left forearm, which makes it almost impossible for him to throw an authoritative hook, prompts Pety Sarron to call it a ring career after 15 years.

Sarron, who is 30, has plenty. He must be worth $75,000. He also admits that he has had plenty.

He had little besides courage and ruggedness, but got to be world featherweight champion. He rose from the status of a destitute Birmingham newsboy. He saw the cookey world. And his faculties are intact.

Sarron's ailment is similar to the one that harasses Dizzy Dean, save that in the pitcher's case the trouble is in the shoulder.

HAS SUFFERED SINCE CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT.

Sarron has been suffering from it since he lifted the 126-pound title from Freddie Miller in Washington two years ago. Surgeons tell him that steady scraping of the bones has filled the area around them with particles like buckshot.

The veteran intends to have the arm sliced and the bones scraped at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, after which he will devote his time and attention to a business other than beak busting.

Sul Ross Summer Term Opens June 7

ALPINE. — The registration for the summer session of Sul Ross college will start on June 7 and 8 for the first six weeks. Registration for the second six weeks will be on July 16. The summer school will close with the commencement exercises at 8:00 p. m. on August 28.

Bone Fracture Week.

ZANTE, Cal. (U.P.). — Three members of one family living in three different cities all suffered broken bones in a space of one week. Mrs. W. J. Davis, 76, living here, started the series by breaking her arm. Then her daughter, Mrs. Stella Hetzel, of El Centro, Cal., broke an ankle, after which Mrs. Davis' son, C. Davis of Los Angeles, fell over a ladder and broke a leg.

Gehrig Roars On... In Bandages and Plasters .. In Braces and Splints

First of three stories on Iron Man Lou Gehrig.

By HARRY GRAYSON,
 Sports Editor, NEA Service.

New York Yankees were going so badly on June 1, 1925, that the late Miller Huggins benched the veteran Wally Pipp, and ordered Lou Gehrig to first base.

Gehrig, the Iron Man, has been there ever since.

He is about to play his 2000th consecutive game, which is only one of a number of amazing records compiled by the remarkable produce of the sidewalks of New York.

Gehrig has suffered from lumbago during his long streak of steady duty. He has had rheumatic troubles which seem chronic. He has had broken fingers. He had one last season. He has had broken toes. He has played in bandages and splints, plasters and braces.

In 1923, Gehrig was hit on the head by Earl Whitehill in Detroit. It was a close call, but Ol' Rawhide came back strong the next day.

In 1925, Gehrig was hit on the head by Ray White in a Norfolk exhibition. He was rushed to a hospital.

But the next day the Washington Nationals discovered that the report was grossly exaggerated. Gehrig belted out three straight triples, only to lose credit for them when a tornado blew up in the fourth inning. For the Nats, it was a tornado in time.

BACK TROUBLE BOBS UP AGAIN.

Latest challenge to the perpetuity of Gehrig's consecutive game streak finds him snorting defiance at a lame back, and tut-tutting the suggestion that his precious record is about to be smashed. He says he will lick this latest attack of lumbago, or whatever it is, and go right on playing, just as he beat other backaches and headaches and went right on playing.

After all, the Yankees wouldn't be the Yankees unless Gehrig went right on playing.

Indeed, Two-Gun Lou grows a mite touchy about what his suspects are reflections on his durability. He belittles the recurrence of the back ailment from which he has suffered for years.

"The less said of it the better," asserts Ol' Rawhide, scratching around the fringes of a couple of kidney plasters.

Nevertheless, it can't be kept a secret that the ailment which, in 1934, came closest to ending his streak, bobbed up swiftly and without warning in Cleveland to strike him hard again. He had to quit in the sixth inning and submit to Doc Painter's ministrations.

NO COMMON AILMENT WILL GET LOU OUT

Attack gripped Gehrig just after he had poled a mighty blow to right center on which he made second base with painful and labored effort. Hobbling to first base, rounding the asserts Ol' Rawhide, scratching around the fringes of a couple of kidney plasters.

Lou Gehrig as he appeared at bat when he first reported to the New York Yankees upon the close of the school term at Columbia University in June, 1923. Farmed to Hartford for two seasons, Gehrig returned to launch his amazing record for consecutive games, beginning June 1, 1925. Inset, the Iron Man cools off after another hard day's work as he heads for his 2000th straight skirmish.

Nevertheless, it can't be kept a secret that the ailment which, in 1934, came closest to ending his streak, bobbed up swiftly and without warning in Cleveland to strike him hard again. He had to quit in the sixth inning and submit to Doc Painter's ministrations.

NO COMMON AILMENT WILL GET LOU OUT

Attack gripped Gehrig just after he had poled a mighty blow to right center on which he made second base with painful and labored effort. Hobbling to first base, rounding the bag, and lumbering along to second, Lou appeared to have pulled a charley horse. He was bent over and gripping his right thigh as he ran.

With dogged determination, he finished the inning, scored on Bill Knickerbocker's single, and then quit in favor of Babe Dahlgren.

Later Lou explained that he had to hold his thigh while running to keep from falling. When he gets these attacks they take his breath away, and he has sharp pains through the small of his back. He can't straighten up, but he settles when anyone suggests that he has lumbago, or something else that is chronic.

Just the same, the opinion of those closest to the situation is that Lou Gehrig has some sort of ailment which is different from any common cold.

And it will take an uncommon ailment to get him out of the lineup.

He's more proud of that endurance record than any of his remarkable batting feats.

NEXT: What has kept Lou Gehrig going.

Horned Frogs 'High' On Football Team

FORT WORTH, Texas. — The Horned Frog football team of 1938 is "high" on the Horned Frog football team of 1938.

In other words, the Texas Christian University gridders believe in themselves.

"Our boys have the spirit and the fight and the ability. We're going places!" That's the way Capt. I. B. Hale, all-American Pro tackle, puts it.

"The boys like their leaders (Capt. Hale and Sub-Capt. Kl Aldrich), they have a lot of confidence in themselves, and they really have a lot of stuff." That's the way Coach L. R. "Dutch" Meyer puts it.

"Don't get the idea the boys are a cocky lot, riding for a fall," Coach Meyer hastens to add. "There's a big difference between confidence and cockiness."

"We would have made a lot better showing last year if we had had more confidence—and better punting. I believe the boys have the confidence now. And it looks as if we might get the punting."

The latter element is in the form of a bright youngster by the name of Connie Sparks, who will play his first varsity football next fall. He was a freshman standout and came along so fast in spring practice that he is rated by Coach Meyer as the No. 1 man for the fullback hole—the only sophomore to look like a starter, at this distance.

"Sparks can punt, pass, block and carry the ball," Meyer reports. "He has the fire that a real player needs. He's the heaviest fullback we have had for many a day—about 195 pounds—and I'll be surprised if he doesn't show a few things next fall."

Sparks, incidentally, is the boy who rolled up 203 points in his last year of competition (1936) at Panhandle high school.

Earl Clark is another boy who has Coach Meyer singing his praises. Clark played enough at right half last season to letter. He ran at left half during spring practice. But, right or left, he is about the best blocker that the Frogs have ever had.

"Clark is as good a blocker as I have ever seen—and that includes the famous Stafford of Texas," Coach Meyer says. "In fact, downfield, I think Clark is a better blocker than Stafford was."

Use of baby carriages started about the middle of the 19th century.

Big Job for Such a Little Fellow

Look close and you'll spot the resemblance. The shy-smiling youngster above with the battered hat and old canvas golf bag draped over his shoulder is none other than Slamming Sam Sneed. The ship will be the only non-magnetic ves-

Steel and iron, chief building materials for ships, will be rigidly banned, and members of the crew will not even be allowed to carry a steel penknife. The hull will be made of teak, with the framework, girders and fittings of bronze or other non-magnetic alloys. The anchor, cable and all the bolts will be of bronze. The cooking equipment must contain no steel or iron.

The Research will replace the American ship Carnegie, which was destroyed by an explosion off Samoa in 1929, and will continue the work from where the Carnegie left off.

With a specially picked crew of 31, the Research will sail next year for a cruise which will last two and a half years. The immediate task will be to visit certain positions in the South Indian ocean and to re-determine the value of the earth's magnetism at those points.

The earth's magnetism is not stationary and its value is slowly but continuously changing, scientists say, and it is therefore of great importance to determine accurately the extent of these variations.

The Research will cruise mostly under sail, but it will be fitted with an auxiliary heavy-oil motor. The displacement will be 850 tons and

Poultry and Eggs Shipments Halved

AUSTIN. — Shipments of poultry by rail to interstate points during April were not much more than half those of the corresponding month last year, and egg shipments to out-of-state points also were materially below a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced. Total interstate shipments of poultry during the month were 59 cars, compared to 106 cars during April last year, a drop of 44 per cent. Egg shipments to out-of-state points, 41 cars, were 18 per cent below the 50 cars a year ago.

"It is to be noted that interstate shipments of eggs, largely in the form of canned frozen eggs, totaled 73 cars, compared with 48 cars during April last year, an increase of 50 per cent," the report said. Texas receipts of eggs from out-of-state points totaled sixteen cars, compared with fifteen cars a year ago. This year all receipts from out-of-state came from Kansas.

Cardenas Declares Rebellion Ended

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 31. (AP)—President Lázaro Cardenas last night declared the rebellion of ex-General Saturnino Cedillo and his peasant followers had been stamped out by the swift concentration of federal troops in San Luis Potosi state.

"The pacification of San Luis is an accomplished fact," said the chief executive at the headquarters he set up here May 18 to direct suppression of Cedillo's insurgent movement. Though Cedillo was still at large, Cardenas declared only small, impotent bands of rebels remained in the central Mexican hills and they "constitute no military problem for the government." When and if Cedillo is captured, the president said Mexican laws would take care of his former minister of agriculture. Persons close to the President asserted he would not ask the death penalty for Cedillo. Military sources disclosed a government cavalry unit, which last week nearly captured Cedillo, was pushing into the hills above his band and had found some of the rebel chieftain's belongings. A small printing plant used for composing rebel propaganda was said to have been among the material captured.

Water Carnival for Stockton Slated

FORT STOCKTON, May 31.—Response from surrounding towns indicates that the 1938 water carnival, centered about the palatial new Pecos county bath house located at the north side of the Commerce spring pool, will be the outstanding event of its kind in West Texas this year.

Out-of-town entrants in the bathing beauty contest will compete on Saturday evening, June 18, against other young ladies from neighboring towns, and a select few of the Fort Stockton beauties. Fort Stockton's elimination contest on the previous night will limit the field of local entrants and give the out-of-town girls a better chance at the prizes and loving cups offered.

Any business firm or organization from any town in West Texas may enter a sponsor. All that is necessary is to advise Mrs. Geneva Fry, secretary of the chamber of commerce, the entrant's name, and have her suited out and on hand by 7:30 on the night of the 18th.

Surrounding towns will be visited within the next few weeks by a motored caravan of local people accompanying the Fort Stockton high school band, at which time formal invitations to attend the water carnival will be extended.

The Texas Kidd shows were booked last week for the entire week of the water carnival, and in addition to all kinds of rides and entertainment features, this show will feature a free rodeo each day.

Impressive---and Impregnable---Is Newest Federal Prison

Spick and span—even rather attractive to the eye—yet as escape-proof as modern engineering can make such a building, is the new Terminal Island federal jail at Los Angeles, picture above. And illustrative of the firmness with which the federal government treats its prisoners is the superimposed picture of the guard, with sub-machine gun grimly poised. Built at a cost of $1,380,000, the prison will accommodate 600 male and 24 female prisoners whose sentences do not exceed 18 months. It is the 20th unit to be completed in the federal prison system, and will be used principally to hold prisoners from the southwestern area.

Llano Dealer Sells Polo Ponies in East

LLANO (AP)—York Ratliff of Llano, polo pony dealer and trainer the past 15 years, has shipped nine trained mounts from San Antonio for sale on the Long Island market. Ratliff, like the famous cowboy poets, Cecil Smith and Ruby Williams, is a product of the Llano ranch country, and was among the first Texas horsemen to supply trained ponies to eastern polo players. He was in charge of polo at the Ox Ridge Hunt club at Darien, Conn., the past four years, but this summer will be located at Westbury, L. I.

Each fall Ratliff scouts the Llano and West Texas ranching sections for polo prospects and trains the green ponies at San Antonio in the winter. Polo players and dealers from over the United States make San Antonio unofficial winter headquarters, but disperse about the first of May.

Most of the ponies bought by players and others originate in the ranching country in and around Llano county. Because of the market for this type of animal many ranchmen are breeding horses expressly for polo work.

Eight of the world's largest electrical generators are located in the Boulder Dam power house. Potatoes can be cooked by at least 134 different methods.

Resident Project For Boys to Start

AUSTIN. — A Resident Project for 50 youths interested in recreational leadership will be launched by the National Youth Administration on June 15 at Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos, J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, announced. Twenty-five girls and 25 boys, all eligible for the NYA Work Program, will be selected for the project.

"A similar project sponsored by this institution last summer benefited the NYA youths so much that we want to carry on the program again this summer," Kellam said. The youths selected will work one-half time each day in recreational activities and other employment at the college, for which they will be paid by the National Youth Administration a sum sufficient to enable them to pay their room and board at a cooperative dormitory and have about $8 a month each. During their spare time they will be given training in recreation leadership under the direction of the College Physical Education Department, which is headed by O. W. Strahan. Youths who have completed a high school course will be given preference on this project. Kellam said, although some youths who have completed only two years high school work may be assigned provided they meet other qualifications.

The NYA youths will assist in operating the summer recreation program at the college and in San Marcos, as was done last year, Kellam said. The project, starting June 15, will operate through August 25.

For commercial consumption the respective increases over March and April last year were 5.8 per cent and 14.3 per cent; for industrial consumption, 6.0 per cent and 7.6 per cent; and for residential consumption, 4.7 per cent and 14.5 per cent. Normally the increase in power consumption from March to April is less than 1 per cent.
