

Roosevelt Defends His Budget Plan

Upholds Country's Policy of Good Will Toward All

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt, gazing into the future, today predicted history would say his "long range budget" had been balanced. He spoke to the National Education association.

Earlier in the afternoon, he held up the western hemisphere's good neighbor policy as a model for the rest of the world when he spoke while laying the cornerstone of New York World's Fair federal building.

A night gathering of the National Education association came to an abrupt close at Madison Square Garden last night when its president refused permission to Daniel Doherty, National American Legion commander, to address the delegates and guests.

Doherty had sought permission to answer NEA criticism of the legion which arose from an article published in the Columbia University Bulletin stating that the legion controlled or attempted to control the activities of the NEA.

The commander, who said he had obtained the right to make his address from Willard Givens, NEA executive secretary, after being referred to Givens by Miss Caroline S. Woodruff, president, this afternoon, said he would give his speech before the convention today.

Some 15,000 guests and delegates had just heard Mayor LaGuardia, a legionnaire, appeal for a national education program when Miss Woodruff suddenly terminated the meeting.

The differences were brought into the open when Teachers College of Columbia released a book-length thesis written by William Gellermann, graduate student and also a legionnaire.

Civil War "Fought" All Over Again as Veterans Gather

GETTYSBURG, Pa. June 30, (P).—More than 1,500 old soldiers camped together last night where many of them met in battle 75 years ago.

Their tents, where the blue and gray fighting "boys" of long ago laughed and chatted together, were within sight of the memorable battlefields.

Another 1,000 confederate and union veterans are expected today for the eight-day reunion. They will join state and local groups for informal get-togethers. Then, heroes all, they will be the honored guests of the formal observance of the anniversary of the great battle, which begins Friday.

There were reminiscence, and "kidding" about the prowess of the confederates or the Yankees, but the once-threatening rivalry between the northern and southern veterans was forgotten.

All day long and far into the night the veterans streamed into town.

Animated by the lively melodies of "Yankee Doodle," and "Dixie," played by the U. S. army band, they stepped with new vigor from stations to their tented headquarters.

There soon rested in easy chairs in the sunshine and cooling breezes. Others looked up old friends. They all felt "right at home."

Limit on Tonnage Of Battleships Is Agreed Upon by 3

LONDON, June 30, (P).—An agreement among the United States, Britain and France setting limits on battleships at 45,000 tons with 16-inch guns was announced in the house of commons today.

Quick to Master 'Franco Salute'

Residents of Castellon de la Plana flock into the streets and crowd balconies to give the open-handed Nationalist salute to Gen. Franco's Spanish rebel forces marching as conquerors into the city. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting marked the struggle for the town, only 40 miles north of Valencia, provisional capital of the Loyalist government.

Gulf Stakes Wildcat Three Miles Northeast of Hockley Producers

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Staking by Gulf Oil Corporation of a wildcat location three miles northeast of the Slaughter pool in southwest Hockley featured today's developments in the North Basin area. It is the No. 2 Mallett Land & Cattle Company, 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labour 25, league 34, Concho county school land. Operations have not yet commenced.

A trio of completed producers was reported today for the Beaver field of southern Yoakum. Largest was Denver No. 10 Whittenburg, gauged at flow of 906.32 barrels a day, with gas-oil ratio of 1.010-1. It acidized pay between 4,770 and 5,075, total depth, with 6,000 gallons. Texas Company No. 1 Smart flowed 731 barrels a day through opened 2 1/2-inch tubing, together with 1,240,000 cubic feet of gas. It reached total depth of 5,022 feet, where it was acidized with 7,000 gallons. Ohio No. 1 Coffield flowed 200.40 barrels in 24 hours, with gas-oil ratio of 1.200-1, bottomed at 5,065 feet. Pay topped at 5,005 was shot with 390 quarts.

Skelly No. 1 Ellwood estate, in southeast Hockley, is drilling below 4,650 feet in lime and anhydrite. In the Denver-Wasson link area, Shell No. 1 Lowe loaded hole with 100 barrels of oil and was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid. After unloading into pits, it kicked off and flowed 529 barrels of oil, cut only two-tenths of one per cent with basic sediment, the first 17 hours of potential test. Total depth is 5,024 feet in lime. Shell No. 2 Down-den, providing a short southwest extension to the link area, is preparing to deepen from 5,040 feet, where it flowed 198 barrels a day after treating with 5,000 gallons.

West of the Denver field, Shell No. 2 Mrs. Dora Roberts ran 2-inch tubing to 5,086, four feet off bottom, and is now unloading hole to test. Record Means Well.

What will probably prove to be a record well for the Means pool of Andrews was indicated by Humble No. 46 J. S. Means, extending the pool a half-mile east, when it flowed 120 barrels an hour through 2 1/2-inch casing outlet after re-acidizing with 3,000 gallons. It had tested 50 barrels an hour, with 672,000 feet of gas, following first treatment with 1,000 gallons. Total depth is 4,535 feet in lime. The well is

Treasury Closes Books on Another "Red Ink" Year

WASHINGTON, June 30 (P).—The treasury department closed its books today on the eighth consecutive "red ink" year, but found it owed less to private investors than a year ago.

Although the government spent $1,360,000,000 more than its income, the national debt is only $700,000,000 more than it was a year ago. Part of the deficit was paid by using idle gold.

25 Firms to Place Cars in Motorcade For Rodeo in Pecos

More than 25 firms and individuals of Midland had by noon today notified the chamber of commerce of their intentions of placing cars in the Midland motorcade to the ninth annual rodeo and celebration in Pecos on Monday, July 4, with expectations that at least as many more will decide to make the trip by the end of the week. It is hoped that the caravan will be the largest ever to represent this city.

Chamber of commerce officials point out that aside from being an excellent good will stunt, further cementing the close relationship between Pecos and Midland, the motorcade will afford local citizens a marvelous opportunity of advertising the annual Midland Cowboy Contest, Sept. 3-4-5, the Pecos Chamber of Commerce having promised to send a large delegation here for the Midland show. Marion Flynt, chamber of commerce president, and Clarence Scharbauer, president of Midland Fair, Inc., this morning joined in urging all local citizens to make the trip.

The motorcade will leave from the high school Monday morning at 9 o'clock, arriving in Pecos at 11:30, according to R. D. (Bob) Scruggs, grand marshal of the caravan. Brief stops are scheduled at Monahans and Barstow.

The Midland delegation will participate in the huge parade through the downtown streets of Pecos at 1 o'clock and will be recognized as a body at the rodeo performance Monday afternoon and evening. A Midland broadcast has been arranged over the Pecos radio station, and the Midland rodeo will be advertised over the loud speaker at the rodeo performance both afternoon and evening. W. T. Doherty, chairman of the Midland rodeo publicity committee, will be in charge of the rodeo advertising in Pecos.

Miss Jeanne Davis, Midland entry in the Pecos rodeo queen contest, will have a prominent part in both afternoon and evening rodeo performances as will the famed Midland junior cowboy ropers, Clarence Scharbauer Jr., Roy Parks Jr., Marion Flynt Jr., Buster Cole and Billy Wyche Jr.

Among those already having signed up for the trip are: A. & L. Housing & Lumber company, City drug, C. G. Morrison company, Perry Bros., Inc., George Philipps, United Dry Goods, J. C. Penney company, Good Eats bakery, Midland drug, Service drug, Bob Williams, Southern Body Works, Dick Graves, M. System grocery, Clarence Scharbauer, Marion Flynt, Roy Parks, Park Williamson, Roy McKee, R. C. Conkling, Scruggs Motor company, W. T. Doherty, W. C. Campbell Davis and chamber of commerce.

Others planning on joining the motorcade are requested to notify the chamber of commerce as soon as possible.

Game Commissioner Returns From Trip To North Carolina

Mrs. Hal Peck has just returned from Asheville, N. C., where she attended the International Game Commissioners' Association. A member of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission, Mrs. Peck was distinguished as the only woman game commissioner not only in the United States but so far as is known, in the whole world.

An Asheville paper printed her picture and gave her much publicity, describing her as the "West Texas Cowgirl."

Games commission representatives were present from each state in the Union, Mrs. Peck said, as well as from each district in Mexico, and each province in Canada. Four hundred fifty were registered for the meeting.

Numerous notable people were present. One of the speakers was a Mr. Pearson, international president of the Audubon Society who had returned from the Continental meeting which convened in France. Another speaker was Juan Zinser of Mexico, who has plans to let Texas have more quail. He permitted the state to have 20,000 birds last year for the price of a peso import. He has favored Texas above all other states, the Midland woman explained.

Mrs. Peck found quite interesting the contrasts in game work shown by the different states. People in the East have no understanding of the vastness of Texas, its differing needs in different sections of the

Polish Threat Is Credited With Preventing Germany From Fighting the Czechs

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, June 30.—Diplomatic circles in London are giving Poland credit for halting—or at least postponing—a German grab of Czechoslovakia.

Polish authorities are reported to have let Berlin know that their country will not remain neutral if France and Great Britain come in on the side of the Czechs.

During the critical days of late May, when it appeared that the Germans might act to "protect" the Sudeten Germans, Hitler's generals are believed to have been informed that if a war started, Poland would march her troops into Silesia—thus bringing them in a hostile position to the flank and the rear of German armies seeking to invade Czechoslovakia.

If Poland really has taken the stand attributed to her, the following are the probable causes:

First: The Polish government realizes that every German argument that Czechoslovakia is a ramshackle and unnatural state applies with some force to Poland itself. The Germans have been campaigning that Czechoslovakia, with 15,000,000 people, has 65 percent Czechs and their kinsmen the Slovaks, ruling over the balance composed in part of 23 percent Germans, 5.5 percent Hungarians and considerable numbers of Poles and Ruthenians. Statesmen friendly to Czechoslovakia have been at pains to point out to Polish authorities that Poland is a land in which 69 percent of the people are Poles, ruling over a minority of 31 percent, composed of 1,250,000 Germans, 3,000,000 Jews, 5,000,000 Ukrainians and still other racial elements.

Second: Despite the 10-year non-aggression pact between Poland and Germany, the Polish government finds inside Poland a German movement which is very analogous to what the Sudeten German movement is in Czechoslovakia. Just as the Sudetens cry that they are the worst victims of the industrial depression.

Third: The Poles fear the time when Danzig may be proclaimed a German city once more, free of all port obligations to Poland. They also fear German seizure of the Polish Corridor, which divides East from West Prussia and gives Poland her access to the sea.

Polish papers report German nazis are flooding the Polish Corridor with Hitlerite tracts and even with maps showing that the two Polish provinces which constitute the Corridor are once more to be the German provinces of Posen and West Prussia.

Fourth: It is reported the French diplomatic authorities told the Polish government that if Poland stood aloof and allowed Czechoslovakia to be sacrificed, Poland need not expect any aid from France if she came into conflict with Germany.

Cowboys Have Fun Previewing Rodeo

BIG SPRING, June 30.—With hundreds of people witnessing previews of the fifth annual Big Spring cowboy reunion and rodeo in the evenings this week, interest in the rodeo opening Saturday has reached a high pitch.

Meanwhile, final arrangements are being completed for the three-day rodeo and for other attractions here during the holiday season. Burke Summers, in charge of the parade marking the opening of the show, said that he expected enough entries to stretch the procession to more than a mile and a half. Four bands and 100 horsemen will participate.

All the stock for the show has been received and while lights have been tested in the evenings, local cowboys have given fans a treat by putting calves through their paces.

T. J. Good, president of the association, said he expected the largest attendance in the five years of the show to be recorded during Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Worst Flood In 60 Years Hits Tokyo

Nippon Advance in China Stalemated By Rising Waters

By Associated Press.

Meteorologists today expressed belief a howling Pacific typhoon, headed toward Japan, might miss the islands.

Japan's worst storm in 60 years, in addition to a heavy earthquake, left a death toll of 100 persons, most of them in Tokyo and Yokohama.

A fraction more than 12 inches of rain fell between dawn and midnight Wednesday.

A cliff behind the Tokyo mansion of Baron Takakimi Mitsui crashed down on twelve houses burying 40 persons, ten of whom are known to have been killed.

Ten others were killed similarly in Yokohama, and in Kanagawa Prefecture 26 deaths were reported.

Forty deaths were reported in scattered regions.

The deluge broke every record since Japan's central meteorological observatory was established 60 years ago. Police said 150,000 homes in Tokyo alone were inundated with the water level in many reaching to the second floor.

Emergency calls were broadcast mobilizing thousands of rescue workers from ex-service men's societies and other organizations.

During the worst part of the storm an earthquake shook Tokyo at 1 a. m. (10 a. m. CST Wednesday) causing the collapse of numerous flood-menaced houses and shaking loose more rain-soaked earth from high places.

Meteorologists warned a typhoon was approaching from the southwest to add to Japan's woes. In China, new rains swept the Yangtze valley, increasing flood dangers in the path of the stalemated up-valley Japanese drive on Hankow.

At least 45 were estimated dead as the result of a crushing insurgent air raid on Barcelona, five miles north of Barcelona.

Spanish insurgents pierced the government's main line defenses before Valencia in two places today 40 miles south of the city.

France ordered creation of additional army corps on northern and eastern frontiers and importation of colonial troops to bring the standing army to 1,000,000.

He told of the ten meetings going on at all times in the medical convention, and of the two floors of the convention hall, one block in size, covered by medical and scientific exhibits.

Chinatown, with its 15,000 residents, visiting the University of Southern California, Ames Temple McPherson's temple, studios of Walt Disney and Hollywood points, the set-ups for pictures, props, cameras, homes of movie stars, cafes where stars congregated.

Clint Lackey, president-elect, gave all present at the luncheon wooden Chinese back-scratchers as souvenirs of his trip to the convention of Rotary International at San Francisco. W. R. Upham also had just returned from the convention.

The Town Quack

Fourth of July—rodeo time—is about to roll around, and this is the week-end when Midland people, as usual, will be visiting around among the neighbors. Most of them who seek western entertainment will go to Pecos, Big Spring and Stamford. It is possible to see all three shows and, if you want to get a lot of fun, that would be the way to spend the July fourth holidays. That is, if you are going to have a holiday. The nearest we will get to a holiday will be to have Sunday off. We miss only one issue of the paper a year, and that is Christmas. When July fourth follows Sunday, there isn't much chance for a double holiday, because we can't get the paper out the night before without working on Sunday, and that wouldn't be a double holiday. So have a thought for the poor hired hands while you are enjoying newspaper hired hands while you are enjoying your two days off.

If all goes well, Lum Daugherty will represent us at the Cowboy Reunion at Stamford. Due to the time it comes up, Bill Collins may have to represent both the chamber of commerce and us on the Pecos rodeo; but if they don't watch us too closely, some member of the staff may be sitting in the stands over at Big Spring before that show is over.

But the main responsibility for all of us is to be talking up our own rodeo which will be held September 3-4-5. These July fourth shows are the best places for doing our own advertising. Call at the chamber of commerce for a windshield sticker before taking off on your trip.

Book on History of Texas Catholics Is Now Off the Press

AUSTIN, Texas. — The third volume in a painstaking seven-volume history of the Catholic church in Texas, prepared by Dr. C. E. Castaneda, Latin-American librarian at The University of Texas, has come from the press. In a format identical with that of the first two volumes—"The Finding of Texas," covering the period 1519 to 1693; and "The Winning of Texas," 1693 to 1731—this latest volume presents the historian's findings on "The Missions at Work," 1731-1761.

The entire study has been subsidized by the Knights of Columbus of Texas, with the Rev. Paul J. Folk of St. Edward's University as editor.

Although ostensibly a survey of the "Catholic Heritage in Texas, 1519-1936," this history is filled with general information on early Texas. For instance, the present volume depicts, besides the slow growth of the Spanish settlements and missions, "the gradual extension of the frontier into central and western Texas, the increasing influence of the French among the northern tribes (of Indians),

Consumption of Electric Power Up

AUSTIN.—Electrical power consumption in Texas during May was still slightly above that of both the preceding month and the corresponding month last year, but the year-to-year margin of gain was much narrower than in preceding months, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Reports from sixteen power companies representing all parts of the state show total production in these companies of 201,363,000 kilowatt hours of current, an increase of 1.1 per cent over April and 0.3 per cent over May last year. Commercial consumption for the two comparable periods increased 5.6 per cent and 13.3 per cent respectively; industrial consumption was down 2.8 per cent and 5.8 per cent; while residential consumption gained 2.3 per cent and 14.7 per cent respectively.

Poultry and Eggs Shipments Decline

AUSTIN.—Shipments of poultry and eggs from Texas to interstate points during May declined substantially from those of the corresponding month last year, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Poultry shipments totaled 66 cars, compared with 91 cars a year ago—a drop of 27 per cent; while 35 cars of eggs were shipped out during May this year against 76 during May, 1937, a drop of 54 per cent.

Only four cars of eggs were brought into Texas from other states during May, compared with 24 cars during the like month a year ago.

CARDINALS RUN WINNING STREAK TO 5 STRAIGHT BY DEFEATING HOBBS 12-3

The Midland Cardinals ran their winning streak to five games last night and extended the Hobbs losing streak to six when the Red Birds handed the Boosters a 12-3 drubbing.

The Cardinals made their runs in four last night, getting that many runs in each the first, fourth and seventh innings. All the Hobbs runs came in the third inning.

Tommy Warren went the route for the Cardinals and was in control all the way, being in trouble only in the third when an error aided the Boosters in scoring. He gave up only seven hits, all singles, and struck out four in hanging up his seventh win. Scott, Hobbs left hander, struck out an even dozen of the Cardinals but gave up 11 hits and walked 7 and hit one batter.

The Cardinals leave home today for three games with Lubbock during the next three days, returning here Sunday for one game with Big Spring and two with the same club on July 4.

"Hell Drivers" Find Natural Proving Grounds

Nature again provides the toughest proving ground, this time not far from Detroit, in the guise of an innocent cornfield that now is the scene of some of the most brutal tests of automobile endurance ever staged by "hell drivers."

Out beyond the fringes of town, test drivers of Chrysler Corporation have located an open field that duplicates the most punishing terrain in their nationwide proving grounds. This palm they award to the notorious St. Francis river bottoms of southern Arkansas.

Now they are able to conduct, close to central engineering headquarters, additional torture tests of Plymouth "Roadking" springs, body and frame that dovetail with their complete reports on Roadking performance over hundreds of thousands of miles of trial runs from coast to coast.

Bouncing, pounding and sloshing along (top and center, right), hour after hour through a Michigan cornfield, these professional "hell drivers" are tabulating effects and piling up additional data in the endless quest for further improvement of the American automobile.

There's scientific method in their apparent madness of day-after-day torture and abuse. One Plymouth test car pauses after every five miles of pounding, for observers to note the readings on a potentiometer in the driver's seat (center, left). This is linked with electric thermocouples attached to the shock absorbers to record exact temperatures of the fluid controlling spring action at all four wheels. These temperature readings supply accurate proof of how well Plymouth airplane-type shock absorbers maintain control under extreme conditions.

Detroit police soon learned about the supplementary proving ground near the city when the "hell drivers" first started using it this winter. One scout car was dispatched to investigate a report that a crazy driver was trying to wreck his car in a frozen cornfield near the road. "The engineers told me," the driver explained, "that I couldn't snap this Plymouth axle with the full force of the motor. Looks like they might be right!"

Betrothal Announced At Country Club Dance

Announcing the engagement of her brother, Dick Colvin, to Miss Dorothy Russell of Houston, Miss Virginia Street entertained with a dance at the Country club Wednesday evening.

News of the betrothal was disclosed on the individual cakes served with punch, these bearing the legend "Dick and Dorothy, June 30."

The marriage will take place at the home of the bridegroom-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Street, 102 South F street, this evening at 8 o'clock.

The announcement dance was informal and was attended by approximately 60 guests.

WITH HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Turning home-grown products into a thing of beauty, Mrs. T. O. Midkiff sent 93 pounds of grease wool to the West Unity Woolen Mills in Ohio to be made into blankets, coverlets, and batts. From this amount of wool she received two three and a half pound batts, two reversible blankets and two coverlets.

Since one wool comfort will take the place of three cotton quilts, she plans to make a comfort out of one of the batts. Thus, with the comfort and blankets she will meet her requirements of warm light bed covering.

The two coverlets not only serve as a spread but also light cover. One is woven in the "Good Luck" pattern in red and green. The other is woven in "The Star of Bethlehem" pattern in shade of brown. This is on exhibit at the Midland Hardware Company.

She planted a frame garden in her garden work. In it she planted tomatoes, lettuce, pepper, carrots, and radishes. The garden produced well and next year she plans to plant a larger one.

She has taken part in all club activities and has helped her club to grow.

Dramatize Suntanned Complexion

Gleam of Health Is New Effect

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Natural makeup which dramatizes her complexion rather than the makeup itself is best for the girl whose skin is suntanned. Leaving dull, mat finishes to her lily white friends who decided not to acquire a coat of tan, she should make up so that face, throat and arms (legs, too, when she wears shorts or a bathing suit) are faintly gleaming, with a glossy, healthy look about them.

If your skin is dry or normal, you may find it quite satisfactory to cleanse with cream before applying cream rouge and to omit foundation. If you prefer to cleanse with soap and water, a creamy foundation should be put on immediately afterward. Cream rouge ought to be patted (not rubbed) on, placed rather high and not too close to the nose, and carried right out to the hairline, of course.

When rouge has been blended perfectly, lightly dust on powder, using a clean fluffy piece of cotton. Do not press the powder firmly against your skin as you did last spring before you got your coat of tan. Use only enough to eliminate an obvious shine—not enough to take away the glossy look left by the cleansing cream or the creamy foundation. And be sure that powder matches exactly the shade of your skin.

Now dry your lips, apply lipstick and let it set before wiping away the excess with cleansing tissue. After the color is firmly set, put an extremely thin layer of cream over it. This takes away the dry look that lipstick which has been properly applied often has. If you use a very oily lipstick, this last step won't be necessary. But you should apply lip rouge often.

Keep Lids Shiny.
As a final step, put a bit of cream, white vaseline or special oil on eyelids. But don't over-do the job. Shiny lids make eyes seem larger and brighter, but be extra careful not to leave traces of oil at corners or under the eyes.

For the beach, use even less powder, and substitute a good suntan lotion for regular foundation cream. Put it on arms, shoulders, legs and feet, too. They should glisten harmoniously with your face.

If your skin is quite oily, better clean it with soap and water several times a day and apply cold skin tonic before makeup. Carry a little compact of cleansing pads in your purse and use one often to remove excess shine, not to mention dust and dirt, from nose, chin, forehead. You probably will find dry rouge more satisfactory than cream.

Use power sparingly. Use lipstick lavishly. These are the first rules for correct makeup during the summer months.

Ordovician Well Acidized.

In the Sandhills Ordovician pool of western Crane, Gulf No. 8 Wadell, bottomed at 6,083 feet in Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, was acidized with 1,000 gallons through 2-inch tubing perforated at 6,065. When swabbed down to 4,800 feet it made two oil heads, probably oil load, of 11 and 33 barrels, respectively, 20 hours apart. Swabbing was resumed, and oil load and acid water recovered. The next 13 hours, the well swabbed 49 barrels of fluid, five and one-half barrels of which were oil. The first eight hours of the 13 it had recovered 16 barrels of water, with no oil, and the next five hours got the five and one-half barrels of oil with 27 barrels of water. Swabbing continued.

Gulf No. 4 McKnight, to the northeast, is drilling time at 4,993 feet.

In eastern Crane, Magnolia No. 1-15 University is drilling at 1,295 feet in red rock.

She was proud of New Mexico, Texas' near neighbor, when Elliott Barker of Santa Fe showed movie reels of how grown antelope were trapped and moved—the first time this had ever been done successfully. Oregon was the only other state which exhibited pictures of the work being done.

She praised the beauty of the scenery about Asheville, where the rhododendrons were in full bloom, in varying shades of rose and pink. The mountains, to her prairie-bred eyes were "gorgeous."

Various entertainment features offered amusement to the association guests. Mrs. Peck visited two girl friends with whom she had attended school in Washington, D. C. On leaving Asheville, she came back by way of Atlanta, Ga., and then by New Orleans before returning to Midland.

Search for Missing
Youth Is Abandoned

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. June 30. (P). — The fate of Medill McCormick was clouded in uncertainties last night as search for the missing 21-year-old publishing heir was abandoned on Sandia Peak, where he dropped from sight a week ago today on an ill-fated mountain climbing expedition.

Only a handful of Forest Service rangers and CCC enrollees were left in the fog-wreathed foothills as night fell on a day notable chiefly for its inactivity.

Apparently convinced her son was not on the sheer, towering rock face of the peak, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms stayed in seclusion of her palatial ranch home — the first time in seven days she has failed to be in the mountains by dawn.

There, with her husband and her daughters—Bazy and Mrs. Cortland Barnes Jr., of New York—she discussed new plans. None had been agreed upon.

"There isn't a living human being who has any idea of what happened to Johnny," Mrs. Barnes said. "Johnny" is the family nickname for the youth.

"Mountain climbers who have gone over the precipice with a fine-tooth comb feel Johnny must have gotten down somehow."

would theorize. Belief that McCormick started up the mountain was based on his previously announced intention, and the subsequent discovery last Thursday of the broken body of Richard Whitmer, young Princeton student, on the rocks at the foot of the peak. Yet there has been no trace of Medill.

Economic Belt Again
Tightened by Japs

TOKYO, June 30. (P). — Confidence of her greatest asset in prosecution of the war on China—the patriotic temper of her people—Japan has tightened her economic belt again.

The government Wednesday published a ban against production for home use of a long list of cotton and iron products.

The decree was designed in part to promote export trade, particularly in cotton textiles, without increasing imports of raw materials—a device to expand financial resources to meet war costs.

The move brought wild excitement to textile markets as manufacturers fought to buy up raw cotton. Export manufacturers were happy but retailers—with a prospective, sharp curtailment of domestic sales—were in near panic.

The government declared the ban was "absolutely necessary" and, with a warning against hoarding or profiteering, announced a corps of "economic detective" had been set up.

The government pleaded for calmness and assured its 70,000,000 people that present stocks of raw cotton would be sufficient to last this year and that stable fiber and synthetic products would be used for replacement thereafter.
