Number 117

ONLY ONE COUNTY RUN-OFF NECESSARY

Despite a record-breaking rain, Midland county voters flocked to the polls Saturday in strong enough numbers to set a new record. Rain undoubtedly kept at least 1,000 more votes from being cast, but as it was almost 3,000 persons made their choices by ballots.

For one of the first times in history there will be no run-off in precinct one. In fact, the only run-off that will be held in the county will be between County Commissioner B. T. Graham of precinct 2 and J. C. Brooks. Graham trailed Brooks, 40-51, while B. T. Hale was garnering 14 votes and W. V. Jones was gathering 30 ballots.

In the hottest pre-election race—for sheriff—incumbent A. C. Francis was far ahead of his two opponents, C. C. Cobb and J. M. Speed, with a total of 1727 votes.

The closest race of the day was for election of constable of precinct 1. R. D. (Big) Lee finally won out without a run-off by piling up more votes than the combined opposition of A. C. Blackburn, T. C. Ward and a write-in candidate, Henry Currie.

In the representative race, Jas. H. Goodman was leading incumbent Clyde Bradford by about 250 votes, according to reports to The Reporter-Telegram at 2 o'clock this morning. The district judge race, thrown into an open affair by the retirement of Chas. L. Klapproth, incumbent, was a real "horse race" at the last count. Cecil Collings, present district attorney, and Paul Moss, Odessa, were tied for the top with 2,909 votes each, and Clyde Thomas was close behind with 2,681 votes.

Ranges, Crops are Greatly Benefitted By 3.63 Inches Rain

In the district attorney race, Martelle McDonald of Big Spring was the apparent leader in the primary with a total of 2,910 votes, compared with 2,000 votes for Boyd Laughlin, Midland. Walton Morrison of Big Spring was third and Don Traynor of Midland finished fourth. A run-off between McDonald and Laughlin appeared certain, based on reports from over the district.

Midland ranges and farms during the past week received the heaviest drenching in months when rainfall averaging four inches fell over practically all of the county. A total of 3.63 inches were gauged inside the city limits during the last three days of the week.

The south part of the county failed to receive as heavy a rains as did the rest of the county, but crops and ranches were greatly benefitted by intermittent showers that turned into a heavy rain Saturday.

The southeast part of the county received the largest per cent of the moisture that fell, an estimated seven and one half inches being recorded from 10 to 20 miles southeast of Midland.

Farmers were optimistic after the skies began to clear Saturday afternoon, declaring feed crops were "made" and that cotton would be assured with another light rain in two within the next month and a half.

For the third consecutive day, Midland streets were practically full Saturday morning as a steady rain fell all during the morning and up until about 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Texas Flood Situation Steadily Grows Worse

SAN SABA, July 23 (AP)—The Southwest Texas flood situation grew more ominous hourly today as the Colorado, one of the state's largest rivers, joined rampaging rivulets in the inundation of a tremendous area and threatened one of the greatest flood disasters in the history of this picturesque sheep country.

Another downpour last night, measuring 3.5 inches, was reported to have sent the Colorado, which flows past Austin, the state capital, on a 50-foot rise.

The San Saba, normally two to three feet deep, already had past its previous record high of 42 feet, and was rising at the rate of 2.5 feet an hour.

The north side residential section was under water and the muddy waters were lapping close to the business area.

The number of homeless was increasing hourly. In San Saba between 400 and 500 sought shelter in the court house and in churches.

The water system was out of commission, and only one communication line remained in operation.

Menard, also on the San Saba, reported the situation was growing worse. A "big rise" was reported coming down from the territory west of Menard.

Several houses on the river bank west of Menard were washed away, and a number of others were partly under water.

A near-cloud-burst between San Angelo and Christoval early today sent Pecan creek flowing into the South Concho, on a rampage which stopped highway traffic on Highway 30.

Loss of two lives near Menard was reported. Roughly the flood area covered a territory about 100 miles long and 50 miles wide.

The last telephone circuit into Menard went out as E. E. Pierce of the Menard News was giving the Associated Press the latest on the MEMPHIS, Tenn. July 23 (AP)—The first freight barges to travel by water between Memphis and Fort Worth, Texas, were cleared today.

Commodore B. M. Hatfield, picturesque Texan who conceived the idea, said it would be the first real river equipment to travel the Trinity river since 1860.

FLOUR SALESMAN IS APPARENT WINNER

By ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Radio and mountain music elected their first governor Saturday, it was indicated this morning on the 1:30 tabulation by the Texas Election Bureau, which showed that W. Lee O'Daniel, Texas' latest star of the ether waves, had captured a clear majority of the 527,730 votes counted up to that time. The persuasive Fort Worth flour salesman had received 268,933 votes, or twice the 109,449 votes thus far counted for the second high man, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

W. Lee O'Daniel, radio campaigning mill executive from Fort Worth and a rank new-comer to Texas politics, appeared Saturday night, on the basis of the 11:30 tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau to have an excellent chance of winning the democratic nomination for governor of Texas without a run-off.

Returns from 167 counties totaling 323,188 ballots gave the exponent of "Hill Billy" music 160,765 votes, within a fraction of a clear majority over all other eleven contestants, being 49.47 per cent of the votes thus far counted. With more than a quarter of the estimated total votes counted, and at the rate of increase over his opponents chalked up on the half-hourly tabulations since 6:30 p. m., his nomination in the first primary is a strong possibility.

Never before in the history of the double primary in Texas has a candidate been able to win on his first democratic nomination for governor. Only two nominees, both governors in office standing for re-election, have carried off such a feat.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, with 89,068 votes, seemed assured of a place in the run-off in August if the final count fails to give O'Daniel a majority. Attorney General William McCraw was in third place. Tom Hunter, four times candidate for governor, was in fourth place.

Another business man, Pierce Brooks of Dallas, and a real estate dealer, led a field of six in the race for lieutenant governor, with Speaker Coke Stevenson in second place.

Former Secretary of State Gerald Mann of Dallas and Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul of Houston were staging a close race for first place in the contest for attorney general. Railroad Commissioner C. V. Terrell was leading for re-election.

Men and Teams Busy as Tanks Are Built Under Soil Act

Ranchmen are equipped with surface tanks which greatly aid their range operations, several families are supported the year round and a better market for work stock is created through the tank building program now under way by ranchmen of Midland, Ector, Andrews, Martin and adjacent counties. The accompanying photographs show such work as contracted by C. C. (Big Boy) Whatley of Midland. At top, picture No. 1 shows Whatley at left, with his crew and teams now engaged in building tanks for the Circle-Bar ranch. Picture No. 2 shows the teams at work. No. 3 is a finished product, ready for the rains which will make the tank an important range watering place. At extreme right is Whatley standing by the pony on which is Al Skinner, of the Circle-Bar outfit. Pictures at bottom show two tanks built by Whatley's men on the C-Ranch. One rain has been caught by these tanks, with ample room for further storage of surface water. The tanks have been built under the federal soil conservation program.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON — The political primary season gets started in a big way during the first week of August and thereafter the withered aspirations of New Deal and anti-New Deal candidates will be found dotting the landscape from coast to coast.

Kansas, Missouri, Virginia, and West Virginia nominate congressional and other party candidates Aug. 2. Tennessee Democrats pick equivalent-to-election candidates for senator and governor Aug. 4. The week ends Aug. 6 with the great Democratic classic in Kentucky between the New Deal's "Dear Alben" Barkley and Gov. "Happy" Chandler. Here are the high spots:

SENATOR CLARK SURE SHOT
Missouri: Senator Bennett Champ Clark, sturdy New Deal foe and 1940 presidential possibility, has been conceded Democratic renomination and election for many weeks. Roosevelt left this one alone.

Former Speaker Willis Meredith of the Missouri House, "proud to be a Roosevelt rubber stamp," and Joe Davis, St. Louis lawyer, may poll a big pro-Roosevelt protest vote against Clark.
But Clark has all the organized political support in the state, including that of the Pendegrast machine. He profits from friendship of Jim Farley, who made public appearances with Clark when the latter stumped the state after leading the anti-Court plan fight in the Senate last year. New Dealers could find no candidate to take Clark's measure after popular Charlie Hay, railroad labor lawyer and one of his 1932 opponents, refused to try.

Branded by opponents a "renegade Democrat," Clark tells voters he won't be bossed but approves most New Deal policies.

Republicans, many of whom will vote for Clark both in August and November, are nominating former Gov. Henry Caulfield. Meanwhile, Democratic Gov. Stark and Boss Tom Pendegrast fight for control of the state in a contest over a Supreme Court judgeship, with Stark charging WPA is taking sides with the Pendegrast machine.

WILLIAM DODD, JR., SEEKS OFFICE

Virginia: Congressman Howard Smith of the Eighth District, adjacent to Washington, is first of three members of the House Rules committee—which tried to bury the wage-hour bill—marked for defeat by New Dealers and lobbied leaders.

The opponent is young William B. Dodd, Jr., son of the former ambassador to Germany, running on a 100 per cent Roosevelt platform and accusing Smith of opposing Roosevelt measures persistently. Farley has indicated preference for Dodd. Smith, backed by the Byrd machine, talks of "Communism." Result may hinge on extent of support administration gives Dodd in last few days.

Prominent Kansas pastors have urged congressional investigation of Winrod as a Hitler-Mussolini propagandist. Huxman will be opposed for election by former Gov. Jonathan Davis, independent, and probably former Lieut.-Gov. Charles W. Thompson, the likely G. O. P. choice.

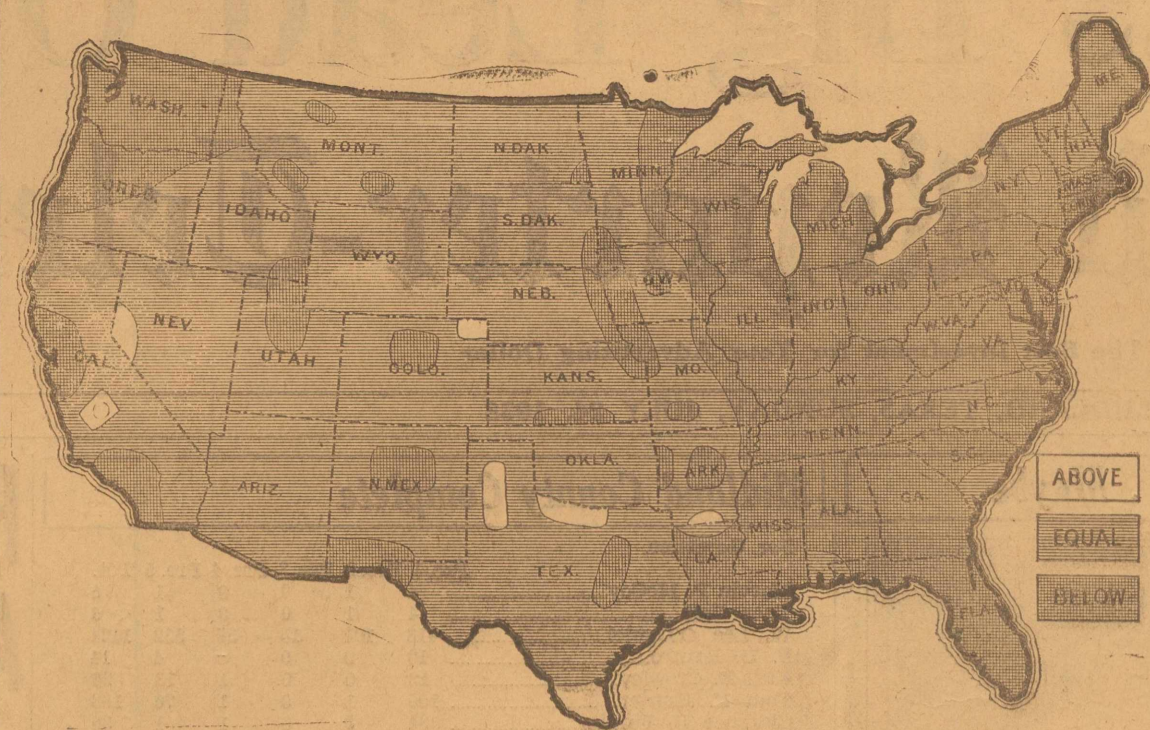

West Virginia: Six House members are up for renomination.

BERRY DEFEAT IS FORECAST

Tennessee: Senator George L. Berry and Gov. Gordon Browning, political buddies, are teamed up against Attorney General Tom Stewart and Prentice Cooper, lawyer, veteran, and former state senator. Berry and Browning are backed by the state machine; Stewart and Cooper by Ed Crump's Memphis machine, the New Deal, and partisans of TVA. A Browning commission is territory with alleged sensational purging registration list in Crump disclosures. Berry, who attacks New Deal spending and other policies, is deemed, according to most reports here.

Kentucky: Newspapers have been full of the Barkley-Chandler fight and will continue to be. Barkley is the favorite because of Roosevelt's whole-hearted public endorsement, but some of his friends fear the size of the Chandler campaign chest, piled high by levies on state employees and alleged contributions from eastern anti-Roosevelt sources. Governor Chandler campaigns furiously, with support of a powerful state machine as opposed to the place of metal and wood products made by laborious methods. They save untold sums in overhead and labor costs.

By now pushing for more supposed advantages, workers are only forcing employers to install more of these labor-saving machines and processes. I do not blame workers for wanting more money. That is only human. Furthermore, I believe in collective bargaining. But labor is foolish to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. As I warned workers in March, 1937, "higher wages are not all they are

New Glamor Girl on Film Horizon

The Town Quack

As I write this, the election has just opened and not more than a half dozen votes could have been cast, so I don't know a thing. But the point I want to make is that it's time for the election heat to be turned off, especially locally. We have a rodeo coming up September 3, 4 and 5, and it's going to take all hands and the cook to get this big job done as it should be done. With hardly over a month to go, we need to carry the news of this rodeo into the homes, offices and hanging out places of every citizen of the Permian Basin, as well as to those hundreds of interested people scattered over several states. Nobody should let politics interfere with a rodeo.

Some people enjoy mixing up in politics or elections but they get in such a swivet that they lose weight, make folks mad and then feel badly for several weeks to come. But some others get a lot of pleasure out of helping a candidate. They eat three meals a day, have time to digest their food, talk calmly to everybody they meet about the merits of their candidate and never seem to let the campaign get them down. If I got as much real sport out of supporting a candidate as Ab Hendrickson, I would be in politics the year round.

Foy Proctor, discussing the rodeo the other day, said that "after Saturday" he was going to call his committee together. A fellow doesn't have to say a lot to be humorous. It's just the way he says it.

I saw Roy Parks with a letter in his hand the other day. Maybe he has heard whether the Indians will be here for the rodeo.

Prof Lackey got home late Friday. I believe if he had stayed in East Texas a little longer, he would have been an O'Daniel man. He says it's contagious down that way.

Our society editor, by the time you read this, will be way out towards California. Myra Jo Ray, journalism student at Texas College for Women and who has helped us before on the Midland paper, will hold down the job for a couple of weeks. Call her and tell her what you know.

Tremendous Business This Fall Seen by Babson, Although He Declares Labor Is Slashing Its Own Throat with Recession

By ROGER W. BABSON.
(Copyright, 1938, Publishers Financial Bureau.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 23.—I expect to see better business each month from now until the New Year. A real upturn is in the cards. But looking further ahead, I am not so optimistic. Our unemployment problem is not being solved. There is no hope of ending joblessness until labor and the administration change their attitude. Current union tactics are short-sighted. Labor is slashing its own throat. Employers, sick of fighting with unions, are now bending their energies to the development of labor-saving machinery.

I especially hope that the current upswing in business will not give radical labor leaders further encouragement. The Babsonchart for July is registering the first monthly gain in business activity since last August. The chart shows that business has come up from 28 per cent to 25 per cent below normal. This advance is not big—but the trend is in the right direction. In fact, a sharp jump in business this fall is inevitable. This upswing will not be due to pump-priming. To this fall's business, federal spending will be only what a desert is to a man who has already had a square meal. Irrespective of pump-priming, a natural rally from the year-old recession was bound to come.

A "Labor" Recession.
There were many outstanding contributing causes to the recession. Forced stock selling was a major item. But the decline was really started by labor troubles. Everyone—manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer, consumer—was scared that higher wages would force prices into the stratosphere. There was a stampede of forward buying. Goods were over-produced. Inventories all down the line were over-stocked. Then buying started to drop because of the mark-up in prices which the higher wages forced. The drop in demand, together with the huge supply of goods on hand, put business into the sharpest tailspin in history.

Now it looks as though the losses of the past year will be wiped out by a sharp upturn. Several millions should go back to work between now and Christmas. Looking ahead into the longer-term future, however, I see little prospect of eliminating unemployment until there is a real change in the attitude of labor and in the attitude of the administration concerning labor. Any gains in jobs due to increased demand for goods will be offset by more technical unemployment due to radical labor demands. (By technological unemployment I mean workers being put out of jobs by labor-saving machinery.)

Two Do Work of Three.
The possibilities of labor-saving machinery are almost limitless. They stagger the imagination. Two workers today are doing what three did 10 years ago. This means that our standard of living is rising and that the two men have more leisure. But to the third man, who is thrown out of work, it seems just the opposite! Eventually, this jobless third man may be absorbed into some other business. Perhaps he will go into the industry which makes the labor-saving machine that took his job. Maybe he will go back to his old industry where sales are booming due to lower prices for the machine-made product which he formerly made by hand. Eventually, he will find a new job; but, in the interim, he creates a real problem. Labor-saving machinery has given us our wonderful standard of living. To continue to produce goods by hand when they can be made by machine is retarding progress. But the sensible policy is to bring about technological progress slowly. Any program which artificially stimulates the use of labor-saving devices aggravates the whole problem. Yet, labor leaders are doing just that. Their radical demands and violent actions are forcing employers to devote their efforts to the development of new labor-saving processes. Labor leaders are sabotaging their followers; while the administration, in fomenting labor troubles, is misleading workers.

The Employer's Dilemma.
The employer is sick and tired of this constant bickering and fighting. Hemmed in by "stewards" (the factory's union representative), manacled by threats of the Wagner labor act, and worried by high demands, he has had enough. Yet he really does not want to buy machinery now. He feels that he does not have the proper reserves. Moreover, he hates to see his men thrown out of work. In many a factory the "boss" knows most of his workers and their families personally. It hurts him to fire them. But what can he do?

If he marks up the price of his goods, he loses orders and has to lay off workers. That is what happened in 1937. There is no use in going through that again. If he absorbs the higher wage costs and keeps his goods at the same price, he loses money. Running a business at a loss does not help anyone. Hence, the employer's only alternative is to cut costs by installing more labor-saving machinery and discharging more workers. Millions of dollars worth of such machinery have already been installed. The surface, however, has scarcely been scratched. Huge possibilities lie ahead.

Killing the Goose.
For instance, the textile people are watching the new cellophane materials now being used for raincoats. These coats are simply pressed and stamped out rather than spun and loomed. I am told that this cellophane material—improved, colored, and made opaque—will be substituted for cheap rayon and cotton dresses. There are literally hundreds of new, practically laborless, plastic products. They take

Former Midland Girl Is Involved In Romantic "May-December" Marriage To Internationally Known Evangelist

By MYRA JO RAY.

Much has been written about "May and December" romances and marriages. Three weeks ago the attention of a great number of people was called to another when Gypsy Smith, 78-year-old internationally-known British-Romany evangelist, took marital vows with Miss Mary Alice Shaw, 26, of Los Angeles and London, and formerly of Midland.

The couple was married in a garden wedding at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Allie Gerstoe Brady, in Hollywood by the son of the bridegroom, Rev. Albany Rodney Smith, 50, of Mystic, Ct. The bridegroom's grand-daughter, Miss Betty Smith, daughter of Rev. Albany Smith, a Baptist evangelist, attended the bride.

Beautiful and with dark red hair like her father's is the way Midlanders will remember Mary Alice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Shaw who was born while the Shaw's home was in Midland. Shaw was associated with the Southland Life Insurance company, Mrs. Shaw, an excellent singer, taught voice.

The Shaws built the house north of the First Christian church which now belongs to W. W. Brunson. They moved away when Mary Alice was about five or six.

The evangelist, a full-blooded Romany Gypsy, was born in a gypsy camp. His life was turned to evangelism by his dying mother's prayer, and he is credited with having preached to more persons than any other minister in the world.

The evangelist first met his bride when she attended music and evangelistic studies in England while a child of 12. His admiration for Miss Shaw was born while he was preaching to listeners on five continents.

"Where there is no life—there is no life," was the statement with which Smith announced his approaching wedding when interviewed in Los Angeles. He added, "My admiration for Mary Alice when she was a child has blossomed into love."

"He has been my hero since I was a child. I look up to him as I would a god," was her answer to the evangelist's statement.

When asked to explain the difference in their ages the bride explained that "a few months of happiness is so precious that we don't want even that to slip through our fingers" and they should be happy because "our interests have so much in common." Mr. Smith's evangelistic engagements at Des Moines, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago and Seattle are serving as a honeymoon trip. This is his fifty-sixth visit to America where he has lectured in all the leading cities of the continent. It was last year that Smith's first wife died.

Senior League Will Open Series Of Studies Tonight

First of a series of four studies on "The Christian Life" will be held at the meeting of the Senior Epworth League this evening at the annex. It has been announced by Mrs. Ray Gwyn who will be leader.

"What the Christian Believes" will be the subject of tonight's study. The other three topics to be considered in the course are: "The Christian's Personal Habits and Relationships"; "The Christian's Responsibility for Others"; and "How One Becomes a Christian."

The aim of the course is to give young people a clearer idea of what Christianity means by discussing their beliefs and clarifying them through Bible references, Mrs. Gwyn explained.

Songs appropriate to the theme of study will be sung and prayers will be offered. Those attending are asked to bring their Bibles. All young people present will take part in the study.

The leader expressed the fact that every Methodist young person is urged to attend the study and that all young people not connected with other churches are also invited to take part in the course.

Methodist young people will be in charge of the evening services at 8 o'clock. Special musical numbers will be presented and Mrs. Ruth Ramsel will direct the choir.

Out-of-Town Couple Take Nuptial Vows At Friend's Home

Miss Pauline Finley of Oklahoma City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Finley of Macomb, Okla., and Nolan Adams of McCamey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adams of Snyder were married at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bridwell, 1306 W. Kentucky, Rev. D. H. Bonner officiated while the couple took their nuptial vows in a simple ceremony without attendants.

The bride wore navy blue sheer with full length coat and dusty pink accessories. Her flowers were gardenias.

Following the wedding the couple was feted with a dinner at the Cactus Cafe. The wedding cake, three tiers, trimmed with lattice work and touched with yellow, was topped with a diminutive bride and groom.

Mrs. Adams is a graduate of Big Lake high school. She attended Oklahoma City Business University and until her marriage was associated with the Cook Drug company in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Adams, who attended North Texas Agricultural College and is a graduate of East Texas State Teacher's College, is associated with the Humble Oil Co. in McCamey.

After a short honeymoon in New Mexico and Colorado the couple will be at home in McCamey. Out of town visitors who were present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Smith, McCamey, Miss Helen Watson, McCamey, S. J. Reed, McCamey, C. H. Oberg, Goldsmith, Miss Ruth Morble, Ashland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Daniels, Hobbs, N. Mex.

FEMININE FANCIES By KATHLEEN EILAND

The recent wedding of Gypsy Smith, 78-year-old evangelist of world fame and Miss Mary Alice Shaw, 26, acquires added interest for Midland citizens through discovery of the fact that Miss Shaw was born during the time that her parents were living in Midland and that she lived the first few years of her life here.

Mrs. Lancaster Is Honor Guest at Afternoon Party

Mrs. C. P. Lancaster, who has been the recipient of several farewell courtesies since announcement of her impending departure for Conroe, Texas, was honor guest at an afternoon bridge with which Mrs. Stewart Noland entertained at her home, 707 W. Tennessee, Friday.

Zinnias were used as party flowers in the entertaining rooms where two tables were appointed for the games. Tallies, score pads, and gift wrappings carried out the ultra-modern "Suzy-Q" theme.

First prize in the afternoon's play went to Mrs. Harry Prickett and second prize to Mrs. Lancaster who was also presented with a guest gift from the hostess.

Mrs. W. Cline was a non-playing guest. At the conclusion of the games a refreshment plate distinguished by ice cream moulded in the form of roses was served.

Present were The honoree, Mmes. Tom Switzer, Paul Nelson, Jas. Maxwell, W. G. Henderson, Harry Prickett, T. G. Redditt, J. M. Haygood, W. Cline, and the hostess.

tunate beings who were born under a dark star. No matter how hard we try, we can never arrange all the details of even a comparatively short journey before time so that at the eleventh hour all we have to do is to put on our hat and fare forth.

Not we! At the eleventh hour and fifty-ninth minute we are still rushing round on last-minute errands and cramming things into our bags with the hope that at least we have left none of the absolute essentials behind.

But then, come to think of it, trips wouldn't be half so much fun if they were not initiated with hurrys and scurrings and frantic last-minute efforts to do two things at one time. The excitement is part of the joy of it.

That's all—until after vacation.

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS

Next Thursday afternoon at 4:30 there is going to be a meeting that will be a real test of the sportsmanship of Midland residents.

At that time, in the private dining room of the Hotel Scharbauer, all persons interested in forming an Athletic Association are to gather.

The sole idea of the organization will be to give aid to athletics in Midland, particularly in the high school.

The idea is not original with the group sponsoring the organization—practically all towns the size of Midland and up have been organized for years. Some of the larger schools that each year win their district crowns or come close to it have to have such an organization to maintain their spot in state sports. Amarillo, San Angelo, Abilene, all of the schools that have outstanding football teams each year are made that way by their Athletic Association.

DRINK JAX "THE BEST BEER IN TOWN"

Any Day Now

Franks, the situation here is something like this: Unless all signs fall, Midland will be forced into Class A after this year. With the present crop of material, Coach Taylor (no other coach) can be expected to win in class B, much less class A.

A group of fans who do not like the prospects of seeing Midland be overwhelmed by other clubs such as the school was during their last year in class A are anxious to do something about it and the organization is being formed for that sole reason.

Odessa has such an organization and it is far from being inactive. Two Odessa schools officials toured the state at the expense of the association the past spring and, while they would deny it to the last, it is no secret that they were after material that would be able to help the school.

Such an association can be useful in many ways other than enlisting football players. It can find jobs and provide help for players on all the athletic teams, home town and out of town boys alike.

In fact, it is hard for a school to make an impression without such a group helping out. Midland has long needed such an organization and the need right now is imperative. Only an earthquake or such a flood as Noah had (only 37 more days will make it) can prevent these 500 students in high school here next fall. After this year—like it or not—the school will be forced into class A. Under the present setup, they would have as much chance holding their own with other schools of that classification as Hitler has of being Mayor of Jerusalem.

The men behind the idea here are business men who are interested in seeing Midland take its rightful place in the field of sports. They will be perfectly satisfied if they can get 100 members to sign up next Thursday afternoon. Efforts to increase the membership to at least five times that amount will be made before the year is over.

If you are interested in helping sports activities in Midland and Midland high school, be in the private dining room of the hotel next Thursday afternoon at 4:30. Formal organization has been delayed twice because there was only a small crowd on hand, but it will be completed Thursday if there are as many as two men on hand. Make it a point to be there.

Some odds and ends—Congrats to young Harry Sindorf who set a new course record at Big Spring in winning medalist honors in the junior golf tournament there. The Cards won Friday night but dropped another half game behind first place as the Hubbers were winning two over Hobbs. Some of the members of Midland hi football squad are peeved 'cause Bud Taylor was quoted in a story appearing in another paper as saying the team would not win more than two games this fall.

They are out to show him. And Bud is ready to be shown. This is being written at noon and our guess on the governor's race today is O'Daniel, McCraw and Thompson, in that order. In the run-off our guess is that it will be McCraw—aided by the other ten candidates for the office—against O'Daniel, and that should be enough to win. But we're not confident enough to bet that way—if we had anything to bet. Cows are going to need boots if it keeps on raining. Bill Collins writes that he took the advice of the Rotarians and is wearing his long-handled while in California. And finding them very useful, indeed. A bartender—pardon, a card dealer—in Reno asked Bill if Midland was in some part of Texas as Odessa. He probably rather hear no more about that. Jim Harrison and Bob Williams say it should be Cloudburst instead of Clouderoft. If Martin Moran will come in he can get his tie clasp. A lot of folks from here will be in Lubbock on the night of August 6 to see the South-North

End of Hope for Bucharest Hop

The hope of Captain Alexander Papan, Rumanian air ace, to make a non-stop flight to Bucharest this week crashed with his plane when he ran it into a stone wall when making a forced landing at Norwalk, Conn. Pictured above is the wreck of his ship, which was bought with funds raised by popular subscription in Rumania. With landing speed too great for the short field, the plane hit the wall, shearing off the landing gear, and smashing both propellers and the twin engines.

Differential Rate Hearing to Be Held at El Paso August 1; WTCC to Be Intervenor

ABILENE, July 23.—Continuing its policy of many years standing in opposing maintenance by railroads of the differential rate territory in West Texas, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will intervene at a hearing in El Paso, August 1 in support of the Texas Railroad Commission's refusal to authorize intrastate freight rate increases, recently authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission, in this territory.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, through its traffic committee, although not opposing the original application for general rate increases, did oppose the extension of the increase in the 50 year-old differential territory in West Texas. This territory, which includes 70 West Texas counties, bears a 15 per cent penalty above the basic rate on its shipments.

If the regional organization is successful in its fight to defeat the proposed increase in this area, it will result in practically eliminating the differential territory, and will mean the saving of millions of dollars to the farmers, livestock raisers, business men and other citizens of the area. Midland county is in the differential territory which includes all counties west of a line running approximately from Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Big Spring, San Angelo and San Antonio.

The Texas Railroad Commission refused to grant the increases in the differential territory and on certain commodities. The proposed increases are 5 per cent on livestock, 5 per cent on cottonseed and products except cottonseed oil which would bear a 10 per cent increase and 10 per cent on class traffic which includes merchandise and goods.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with El Paso and other vitally concerned cities, is organizing for a finish fight on the rate and differential territory questions. R. C. Fulbright, traffic attorney of national repute, serving with WTCC Traffic Manager, E. R. Tanner, has been engaged on the case. Members of the WTCC Traffic committee are B. Reagan, Big Spring; Jay Taylor, Amarillo; S. A. Wells, Lubbock; J. A. Willson, Floydada and Joe Kerr, Sanderson. District supervisors named by the WTCC to aid in the fight are Ed Bishop, Dalhart; A. B. Davis, Lubbock; J. H. Greene, Big Spring; Joe Kerr and Alfred E. Greigh, Jr., Sanderson; J. C. Deal, San Angelo; J. C. Nettles, Del Rio, and Wm. O. Harwell, Kerrville.

A questionnaire seeking information on shipment of products by trucks as compared with rail has been sent to every WTCC director in the differential territory and the local information will be used in testimony submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The WTCC seek to show in its testimony that the railroad by increasing rates in the territory already carrying a 15 per cent higher rate than the rest of the state will force shippers to use trucks more than ever before, thereby materially reducing the business of the railroads. The regional organization also will show that products for

To Property Owners Of the Midland Independent School District

Thirty days ago we advised, through the local newspaper, that in order to avert an increased assessment of property values and to meet the anticipated financial needs of the School District for the coming fiscal year, it would be necessary for each property owner owing delinquent taxes to make arrangements immediately to take care of such obligations.

Following this public statement, individual letters were mailed to a majority of those owing delinquent taxes, again urging that the matter be given attention.

We are somewhat disappointed in the response received, especially from those owing sizeable amounts, but we wish to take this occasion to express our appreciation to those who have responded.

There are now more than $50,000 delinquent school taxes on the rolls, more than $25,000 of which is owed in amounts in excess of $50.00, and it is our avowed purpose not to place a blanket increase of valuations in the District, until such a time, as, in our opinion, all collectable taxes have been paid. We have estimated the revenues to meet budget requirements for the fiscal year on this basis, and while there is no desire to impose additional collection costs, there will be no way to avoid such unless immediate arrangements are made for complete, or at least partial payment with further payments at definite intervals until all due is liquidated.

We sincerely ask that those owing delinquent taxes cooperate by giving this immediate attention, as no further appeals for payments will be made before legal action is taken.

PARKS HURLS 10-0 SHUTOUT OVER BOOSTERS SATURDAY NIGHT

Two Clubs Play Doubleheader in Hobbs This p. m.

HOBBS, July 23 (Special)—Clyde "Lefty" Parks pitched the Midland Cardinals to an easy 10-0 victory over the Hobbs Boosters here tonight, giving up only seven hits. Leading the attack was Evans, new Cardinal right fielder, contributed a home run and two singles to drive in five of the Cardinal tallies.

The Red Birds got off ahead in the first inning when they rapped Needham for four hits and three runs. From that time on, it was just a breeze for Parks.

The Cardinals got 11 hits off Needham, only one of them—Evans' home run—being for extra bases. But they played errorless ball to back up Parks hurling.

The two clubs meet here Sunday in a double header and the Cardinals journey to Big Spring for games Monday and Tuesday.

Riddle-Warr Gaines Wildcat Has Sulphur Water In Core to 5,541

By FRANK GARDNER.

Sulphur water apparently had drowned out chances of another wildcat in northeastern Gaines yesterday as Riddle & Warr No. 1 J. B.

Brown was reported to have shown water in cores. Core from 5,522-41, the total depth, carried sulphur water from 5,522-38, bled oil from 5,538-40, and was saturated with sulphur water from 5,540 to bottom. Late reports from the location stated that owners intended to run a Schlumberger electrical survey, then would probably plug and abandon the wildcat. It had shown but slight traces of oil and gas in cores and cuttings before penetrating the water zone.

So far as could be learned, northeastern Gaines' other wildcat, J. T. Perryman, Jr. No. 1 C. H. Doak, was still shut down awaiting acid treatment after plunging back to 5,050 from 5,128 to shut off three barrels of sulphur water hourly. It is eight miles east and two miles south of the Riddle & Warr try.

In central Gaines, Osage Drilling Company No. 1 Mrs. B. E. Miller, section 281, block G, is drilling below 560 feet in red rock. It is two and a half miles northwest of Osage and J. L. Frick No. 1 Atlantic-Riley, which several months ago extended Seminole pool production four miles northwest.

Emma Offset Staked.

Indirect east offset to Ray Rhodes, Joe Tompkins and Walter Donnelly's new find in southern Andrews has been staked by Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company on its No. 3 Emma Cowden, 271.3 feet from the north, 330 from the west line of the north-east quarter of section 1, block 44, township 2 north, T. & P. survey.

The odd footage of the location is explained by its offsetting to the south the W. E. Cowden heirs' "strip," which is approximately 542.6 feet in width.

Olson Drilling Company (formerly H. S. Forgeron) No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of Fuhrman pool production in south central Andrews, is drilling at 4,606 feet in lime, carrying 300 feet of oil in the hole. Water is being kept bailed off bottom. No change has been encountered by the wildcat since starting to deepen from 4,582, where it showed insufficient oil for commercial production after shooting and acidizing.

In Ector, Sinclair-Prairie No. 2-B Paul Moss is credited with topping first Yates sand body at 2,565, reportedly 44 feet high to No. 1 Moss, discovery pumper of the area, which lies a half-mile to the northeast. Drilling in the second test yesterday had progressed to 2,810 feet in anhydrite. The Moss area is two miles south of the western part of the Harper pool.

L. H. Wentz-Oil Division No. 3-D Jim E. Parker, in the Harper pool, flowed 1,895.31 barrels of oil in 24 hours after treating pay between 4,045 and 4,168 feet with 4,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio is 965-1.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 3-A J. L. Johnson, test north of Ector's Foster pool has rigged up rotary and is bailing to test 7-inch casing, bottomed at 4,018 feet in lime.

Denver Outpost Shows.

Yokum's newest production hope, Gulf No. 1 Lucy K. Moore recovered 17 feet of lime showing pinpoint porosity and oil staining from 4,860-61 and from 4,865-67 after coring from 4,850-70. Coring from 4,870-80, it returned 10 feet of lime showing slight porosity and stains from 4,872-78. Coring ahead below 4,880 was underway at a late hour yesterday. No. 1 Moore is a mile and a half west of Helmerich & Payne, Inc. and Conoco No. 1 Ohio-Lloyd Dowell, producer which recently spread Denver field production a mile and a half westward.

Magnolia No. 1 J. H. Lynn, new test in section 770, block a mile west of the Denver pool, is rigging up rotary.

Texaco No. 1 Ed. Randall, south offset to discovery and second test in the Walker area west of the Denver pool, had drilled to 4,690 feet in lime. Shell No. 3 Mrs. Dora Roberts, short west outpost to the Roberts area west of Denver production, is drilling below 4,491 feet in lime.

T. P. No. 8 Bennett, in the pool of that name in southeastern Yoakum, was scheduled to shoot with 700 quarts from 5,065 to 5,235, five feet off bottom.

Simpson Top Reported Low.

Simpson, middle Ordovician, was reported topped at 6,160 feet by Gulf No. 4 McKnight, western Crane deep test. This was reportedly low on structure. Yesterday, the well was coring at 6,242 feet in sandy shale, with no important oil showings yet found.

Rushton L. Audrey No. 1 J. B. Tubb, wildcat over a mile southeast of Tubb deep Permian production in west Crane, succeeded in reducing 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily to a slight blow by pumping in a total of 1,400 sacks of cement. This also cemented drillpipe in hole, and operators were reported planning to shoot drillpipe in two and set whipstock to drill by. Total depth of the test is 2,760 feet in lime. It blew out at that point after finding increase in gas from 2,683 to bottom. First gas, estimated at 7,000,000 feet per day, was struck at 2,660.

One and a quarter southeast extension to the east Crane area found recently by Magnolia in its No. 1 University was indicated when the same operator's No. 1-15 University encountered good showing of oil from 3,199 to 3,214. It is drilling ahead at 3,220 feet in lime. Texaco No. 1-G State, a mile and a half northwest of the discovery, is drilling at 2,110 in anhydrite.

In the northern reaches of the Permian Basin, Texas, No. 1 Della Slaughter Wright, Cochran's only active wildcat, is drilling below 770 feet in shale shells.

Gulf No. 2 Mallett, test four miles northeast of the Slaughter pool of southwest Cochran, is drilling below 3,870 feet in anhydrite.

New producer for the north edge of the Mason Delaware pool in northwestern Loving was assured as Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 TXL found pay in the Delaware sand from 3,943-47, filling 100 feet at that depth, and ran into more oil at 3,960, filling 1,350 feet in two hours. Continuous oil sand was logged from 3,960-91, present total depth, where swabbing test was being run. The well is said to have topped Delaware black lime at 3,894 and Delaware sand at 3,926.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 58 Dodge estate, in the Iatan-East Howard field, flowed 303.25 barrels per day in response to a 560-quart shot in 308 feet between 2,545 and 2,790, total depth. Gas-oil ratio is 252-1.

New Mex Test Logs Show.

Slight show of oil, amounting to only a scum on bailer, was found from 5,041-45 by Rowan & Nichols No. 1 State, wildcat northeast of the town of Tatam in Lea county, N. M. Drilling progressed below 5,053 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Jim Mascho No. 2 Cloyd, Delaware test in southwestern Lea, had drilled to 2,385 feet in salt.

Conoco No. 1-K-29 State, wildcat five miles southeast of Lovington, found 9 5/8-inch pipe parted at 2,469 feet and is preparing to cement break with 900 sacks. Total depth is 4,915 in lime.

In western Lea, Texaco No. 3-A J. S. Lee had reached 2,940 feet in salt.

Leaf Worms at Work; In Startling Drama at Ritz

Leaf worms already have been at work on Midland county cotton, farmers reported late in the week. The worms began eating the tender plants during the cool, cloudy days following the rains of last week. Best hopes were that the rains which followed during the week end had washed off most of them, which would allow farmers time to get in the fields and poison or spray the insects before further great damage would result.

Much of the crop was planted late and was just up to a stand before the rains of last week, providing tender foliage for the army worms which usually do not infest the fields before August.

Feed crops were flourishing as the moisture continued to fall throughout Midland county's farming area.

Mustang Boys Club Offers Safety Kits To All Residents

By MUSTANG CORRESPONDENT.

Perhaps the biggest practical "Safety" and "First Aid" drive ever held in Midland commences this week. It is amazing, almost alarming, how few automobiles carry first aid kits. Almost every car has all the tools necessary to repair the slightest damage or injury to any of its parts on a moment's notice. But how about the precious cargo of human lives? They must wait for a doctor, even though out in the middle of the Great American Desert, or stranded and broken down in the wee small hours of the night. You can buy a new car but you can't buy a new body. The car feels no pain but the body does. The weakest part of the car is the "pilot" who sits at the wheel, and the above pilot would be a thoughtless chap who would not afford the passengers who ride with him a dollar's worth of first aid protection. The damaged car remains the same. The injury grows no worse with passing time. Preventable hemorrhage, and infection in the body causes more deaths each year than did the entire American Revolution. It is safer to go to war than to ride in a car. During the entire duration of the World war, there were but 50,510 men killed but solely through traffic accidents in the year 1937 alone, 39,700 passed over the hill to "Never Never Land," the land where we all go but from which we never return. This time, the average American is a consummate gambler, but why gamble a human life against one lousy dollar?

One out of every four injuries to the hand or fingers becomes infected. Who wouldn't rather invest a few nickels and five minutes of time rather than to take a one to four chance of carrying around a bad finger for a week or more, or to lose a hand.

The Mustang Boys' club would like to place a good first aid kit in every car in Midland. This is part of their summer safety program. They have completed their bicycle safety week and their home safety week, and now for two weeks of auto safety. After this will come camp safety and then civic safety.

The first aid kit to be sold will cost one dollar. This is the regular retail price at all stores. However, one of the local drug stores is supplying the boys with these kits at cost. The profit will be applied toward affording Mustang boys a free three days' trip to the Davis mountains, all expenses paid. The boys will work in pairs, with a sample first aid outfit, complete. They will take your order and expect to effect delivery within 72 hours, at which time they will relieve you of your dollar. Many dollar kits were inspected, and it is believed that the boys are selling the best on the market. It even contains a pair of scissors.

In a few days, central locations will be announced where your orders may be received by phone and certain groups of boys given credit for same.

Your cheerful patronage and cooperation will be intensely appreciated. Please tell your friends about this.

Watch this column for some interesting questions on safety and see if you can answer them. For instance, do you know what is the safety city in the United States and which is the most dangerous state? Also, what is the most dangerous room in the house? These and other questions will be answered later.
