BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 27. — Far-reaching proposals for a national health program will be proposed to Congress by President Roosevelt next winter and a bill embodying the proposals will be introduced, probably by Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York.

That, at least is the tentative plan of administration officials on the Interdepartmental Committee to Co-ordinate Health and Welfare Activities which sponsored the recent National Health Conference.

This committee and its committee of technical experts presented recommendations for general health services, medical service to the needy and hospital construction which might reach an annual cost of $850,000,000 to federal, state and local governments. It was suggested the federal government might pay half that sum in order to equalize financial burdens, stimulate local action and develop health and medical care opportunities for everybody.

AROUSES CONTROVERSY. Few expect Congress will be asked to appropriate as much as $425,000,000 for the first year of such a program. Recommendations as to health insurance also will be opposed by some medical organizations.

As to that, the technical experts reported that an adequate general program of medical care for all Americans "may cost up to a maximum of $20 per person a year," and suggested a comprehensive medical care program for the entire population through funds raised by taxation, contributions by beneficiaries to health insurance systems or a combination of both—the choice to be made by the states receiving federal aid.

Extent of initial legislative proposals will be conditioned by public reaction to proposals at the conference. The committee thinks it has revealed a huge public demand as well as an appalling need.

Representative of the A. F. of L., C. I. O., national women's and farmers' organizations, public health services, certain medical schools and groups, certain industries and other delegates left in a high pitch of enthusiasms—which was not entirely shared by a conservative minority.

Chairman Josephine Roche of the Interdepartmental Committee and Surgeon General Tom Parran of the U. S. Public Health Service said the conference "may be the greatest event in medical science which has happened in our time." Miss Roche, to meet fears of American Medical Association officials, welcomed assurances of co-operation from the A. M. A. and promised that no federally-operated program was contemplated.

BEAUTIFUL MRS. O'CONNELL. Washingtonians who observed the victory of Congressman Jerry O'Connell of Montana, renominated on an anti-Senator Wheeler and pro-Roosevelt platform, are relieved to know that the capital will not be bereft of the presence of Mrs. Mazie O'Connell, once a Hollywood model and a winner of beauty prizes.

Beautiful Mrs. O'Connell was right alongside red-headed Jerry when he invaded the Jersey City ezardom of Mayor Frank Hague and was pushed around and out. Mrs. O'Connell herself was thrown down and her knees were bruised—a catastrophe which greatly intensified Washington bitterness toward Hague and his cops and could have been exceeded in its enormity only if one of her eyes had been accidentally blackened.

O'Connell, a first-term congressman who keeps sticking his neck out for Loyalist Spain and Tom Mooney's freedom, is 29 years old if you believe his story in the Congressional Directory. But it is alleged in Montana that he was only 19 when he first served in the state legislature in 1931—the same year he was graduated from college.

When he ran for mayor of Butte in 1932 his opponent brandished a birth certificate to show that Jerry was under 21, a charge which was a factor in his defeat at the time.

Our weather forecast may have been a little off Tuesday. Sheik Ray was out of town, so we had to use the Associated Press weather man's guess.

Hello duckbill! Have you grown webs between your toes yet? If not I think it high time you got on the city for some sewers to take care of that arm of the gulf that has been flowing past your place for the past several evenings. While I admit that it is a great pleasure to some of our brassy citizens to revert to childhood and give in to the urge to get out and play in it by seeing how near to being an amphibian, amphibean or any way the contraction they use as automobiles at any other time is, I don't have one nor can I go about in a bathing suit without having a howl raised. I don't have any rubber boots, just one pair of shoes. There are no bridges and I can't swim. I got hoarse from asking some of the above mentioned citizens to take me across yesterday afternoon. I was late for supper, and it was cold when I finally got in. To top it all off my wife accused me of being out with some dizzy blonde because I was so late and no amount of explaining on my part helped a bit I tell you just two more days of it and I will be a fit subject for the new building they have in Big Spring.

Warning Issued on Security Cards as Check Cashing Proof

EL PASO, July 28. — Banks, stores, and other business firms which cash checks for the public were cautioned today by David S. Pruitt, Manager of the El Paso Social Security Board office, against depending upon social security account number cards as identification in cashing checks.

Account number cards issued by the Social Security Board are for identification purposes under the Federal old-age insurance program and the various State unemployment insurance laws. Possession of an account card, Mr. Pruitt said, holds no particular significance for other identification purposes or with respect to the financial responsibility of the individual.

The employer uses his employee's account number, Pruitt pointed out, when he reports his employee's wages to the Federal and State governments at regular period. Since benefits under both the Federal old-age insurance and State unemployment insurance programs are based, in part, on the amount of wages paid the employee, the use of the account number in reporting wages helps to insure the correct payment of benefits to the employee when due. This is the real purpose of the account number card, Mr. Pruitt explained.

Pines in Park Are Classified As Aristocrats

EL PASO, Tex. (U.P.) — El Pasoans know the answer to the "aristocratic" trees in a municipal park that won't have anything to do with ordinary trees. Visitors in Washington Park noticed several pine trees growing at angles away from other trees. They became curious and asked Park Commissioner Hugo Meyer he said: "Well, they're aristocrats. They won't have anything to do with ordinary trees."

When pressed for an explanation he gave the real one. "The pine, Pinus Halipensis, has such a natural antipathy to shade that it invariably tries to grow away from a tree casting a large shade. "The species' need lots of sunlight," Meyer said. "When surrounded by other pines of the same species the tree will grow straight, because the trees do not make much shade."

"In the forest the pine will grow extremely tall in its effort to reach the sun, dropping off its lower branches to a height of 40 feet or more."

The pines lean far away because they were planted too close to oaks, which throw a lot of shade, Meyer said.

The onion belongs to the lily family. It has been estimated that there are 2000 species of catfish.

G B S: Happy Birthday—Miss Your Insults

By NEA Service.
George Bernard Shaw, the great American baiter, is just turning 82 years old, and all the "dear old boobs" over here in the United States are sorry that he is not feeling well.
The dear old boobs read with dismay and regret the news that doctors had ordered the serpent-tongued old Irishman to his bed just before his birthday on July 26 and had told him to stop talking because the more G. B. S. razzes the dear old boobs the more they love it.
Americans have had fun remembering those many insults that their self-appointed "God" had leveled at them these many years. The thought that they might never again cringe under the lash of the Shavian invective was strangely not a comforting one.
They remembered that radio message back in 1931 when the Great Man greeted his American adorer with this: "How are all you dear old boobs?" And later on in the same talk he said: "I am

This did not jibe so well with his oft-repeated declaration that Americans worshiped him and smothered him with adoration, but he was never the one to be stopped by such a small detail.
"In America I am a God," he would say and let it go at that.
One of his pet theories for a long time was the belief that Americans were becoming Indians again.
"The red skin of the Indian was doubtless due to climatic effects," he said in 1930. "You have the same climate. Your skins are getting redder and redder. Ultimately it will probably be necessary to classify you as redskins."
Shaw used to profess a great fear of America. He said he would never visit that "wilderness." He was scared of two things: Al Capone and the possibility that he would be elected president.
But in 1933 he did pay the dear old boobs a visit. He went east from London, arriving in the U. S. by way of California. There he had a lot of fun insulting movie stars and making everyone else feel uncomfortable at the big affairs thrown for him. He insulted practically everybody and got the best of them all—until he encountered a bunch of photographers in New York.
Those gentlemen paid no attention at all to his instructions as to how his picture should be taken—and very little attention to Mr. Shaw. Shaw swore—he dislikes swearing—and then resorted to violence. When one cameraman

Shaw shouted, "Damn color photography," grabbed the man and shook him.

He departed the country, saying, "I don't understand this wild enthusiasm of the American people for me. Why do they smother me with admiration? Why do they press upon me like this?"

He has never tired of ridiculing America and Americans. Perhaps the kindest thing he ever said was "Of course, you are not as bad as your women are painted."

Shaw's living habits, too, have intrigued the dear old boobs, especially his life-long aversion to tobacco, strong drink and red meat. The dear old boobs like the story—it's supposed to be true—that when Shaw has been around people who are smoking he goes home, takes off all his clothes and refuses to wear them again until they have been washed and thoroughly aired.

"An American, but I am the next worst thing, an Irishman." He has been much madder than that, of course, but most Americans thought those comments made a pretty good nutshell for Shaw's much-publicized contempt for them. After being called "boobs," they went out and bought more Shaw books and attended more Shaw plays than ever before.

For a long time Shaw's favorite remarks were, "Americans are savages," and "Americans are idiots."

Grazing Called Peril to Maple Sugar Harvest

MONTPELIER, Vt. (U.P.) — Grazing cows are endangering Vermont's maple sugar industry, according to Brandon Wright, state co-ordinator of the U. S. agriculture department's soil conservation service.

He warned farmers against allowing cattle to pasture in sugar maple stands, killing young trees. Wright pointed out that many old sugar groves in Vermont had been abandoned because producing trees had outlived their usefulness.

Wright's remarks were based principally on observations of investigators on the 71,000-acre erosion control demonstration project in Winooski river valley.
"Cows and trees don't mix," he said. "There are many fine old stands of sugar maple in the state grazed so clean they look like marks. They won't keep on producing sap for the syrup kettle many more years unless cows are kept out of them and returned to pastures where they belong."

Japanese Link In Philippine Group Viewed

MANILA (U.P.) — Japanese spiritual and cultural influence is growing among residents of the Batanes islands, northernmost group in the Philippines, according to Secretary of Interior Elpidio Quirino.

Quirino visited the seldom-seen islands, between northern Luzon and Formosa, to investigate reports of Japanese incursions in the Philippines from the north.
The secretary returned with a Rising Sun flag bearing a Japanese inscription. He found it being used in a religious ritual in a Filipino church. He found some of the inhabitants worshipping images given to the Batanes people by the Japanese.

Conferring later with President Manuel L. Quezon, Secretary Quirino recommended that more government cutters be provided to patrol the waters between Formosa and Luzon. He said he found only one Japanese residing in the Batanes islands, but apparently they have been making repeated visits.

Mothers May Cause Children To Not Eat Proper Foods

Editor's Note: The following paper on "Let Me Ask You These" was presented as the chief feature of the weekly radio program broadcast over station KRLH this morning at 11 o'clock under auspices of the Midland county public health board. The paper, written by Douglas A. Thom, was read by Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county health nurse.

If a child does not eat the proper foods, it may be the mother's fault. Mothers should ask themselves the following questions to see if they are making any of the mistakes indicated:

1. Do you fret about what your child eats and whether he is getting enough? If so, very likely at every meal-time you make him the star actor in a little drama, and every child likes to be the center of attention.
2. Do you talk about his eating habits to other persons in his presence? If so, any child would feel important and would want to keep up being different.
3. Do you insist on feeding him after he is old enough to feed himself just because it is easier than to teach him? Better let him spill a little until he learns than to become dependent and fretful.
4. Is some one else in the family very particular about his foods? Of course, a child likes to imitate older persons.
5. Do you choose plain, nourishing, easily digested foods and cook them well?
6. Do you let your child taste everything that grown persons have? A child used to having tea, coffee and highly seasoned foods and too many sweets has lost a healthy appetite.
7. Do you serve food as attractively as you can and not in too

Senorita Anita Lizana, Chilean tennis star and holder of the American women's singles title, gaily inspects a wedding gift with her fiancé, Robert Ellis, on the eve of their wedding in London. Ellis is a colliery agent of Invergowrie, Perthshire.

8. Do you feed your child regularly? A child cannot go too long without food, but eating between meals means that his little stomach is overworked.
9. Do you find that he sleeps poorly, is irritable, has violent temper or strange fears? If so, not only his eating but his other habits are probably disarranged.
10. Do you know that a child who is angry, fearful or worried cannot digest food properly? Overcome the emotion first and then let him eat.
11. Do you create an unpleasant scene in an effort to make him eat?
12. Do you create jealousy by denying to one child what another has? The child who is refused what the other children have should know why.
13. Do you try to show your authority by making a child eat anything just because you say so? It is better to show that you are reasonable and expect him to be that you consult his preferences when you can, but if food is needed for health, he must try to learn to like it.

Dairy Products Manufacturing Up

AUSTIN.—Manufacture of creamery butter and cheese in Texas during June declined seasonally from the preceding month but was well above June, 1937, the University of Texas bureau of business research stated in its monthly analysis of manufactured dairy products. Ice cream production increased seasonally but was moderately below June a year ago.

Reports from representative groups of creameries, cheese factories and ice cream plants show creamery butter production during June 18.3 per cent below the preceding month, but 13.5 per cent above the corresponding month last year; cheese production 6.0 per cent under May and 35.6 per cent over June last year, and ice cream production 9.4 per cent above May but 7.4 per cent below June last year.

"The increase in butter and cheese production continues to reflect the more favorable relationship that exists between feed costs and price of milk products in comparison with last year, while the decline in ice cream production reflects the influence of the business recession and consequent decline in payrolls," the bureau's report said.

School Texts Called Musty

NEW ORLEANS (UP).—Granting that school children get some "distillation" out of watching the state legislature in operation, J. L. King, director of schools in the state of Washington, finds it "will teach them more than more books will."

King said it was a practice of his to send as many of his 90,000 students to legislative sessions and city council sessions as possible so they could see how "things are run."

He takes youngsters of high school age to Europe and to Asia for bicycling or hiking tours and "talk sessions" with natives of their own ages.

"And what they get out of that in the way of knocking down prejudices is more than I could teach them in 100 lectures," said King, who is only 34 years old.

He finds textbooks out of date in about 30 years and "basic materials antiquated." He found "propaganda of seven or more varieties" when he looked into the texts.

He promptly pointed out the veiled propaganda to his students. "We want to train our students for democracy and one of the jobs there is to train them to detect propaganda, isn't it?" he asked.

King came to New Orleans on a "traveling seminar" sponsored by Yale and other institutions.

CARDS LOSE 2 TO BARONS; MEET SAME CLUB HERE TONIGHT

TWO HOME RUNS IN NINTH INNING DEFEAT NELSON

The Midland Cardinals, losers of a doubleheader to the Big Spring Barons yesterday afternoon, will try to get even tonight and tomorrow night when they play the Barons at City Park. The games will start here each night at 8:30. After the two games with Big Spring, the Lubbock Hubbers will be here for games Friday and Saturday night, the Hobbs Boosters will be here Sunday and Monday.

Yesterday was the first time this year the Cardinals have lost both games of a double header. Scores on the games were Midland 1-1, Big Spring 2-5.

The first one was a heart breaker for Frank Nelson, who had racked up seven consecutive wins, to lose. He went in to the ninth with a 1-0 lead over the Barons and retired Siegbert, first man to face him, only to see third baseman Capps blast a home run and tie up the score. He then got Saporito out but pitcher-outfielder Stasey, who had previously got a single off Nelson, hit the second home run of the inning to win the game for the Barons.

The Cardinals out-hit the Barons, 6-4, but all their hits were singles while the distance hitting of the Howard county club spelled the difference. Svytar led the Cardinal hitters with two singles, one of them driving Garbe across in the seventh inning with the only Cardinal run.

Soden pitched masterful ball for the Barons, giving up only four hits before being pulled for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Trantham gave up a couple of hits in the ninth but managed to keep the Cards from scoring and got credit for the win.

In the second game, it was just too much Ramsdell for the Cardinals. The right-hand hurler who recently joined the Barons gave the Midland team only one hit, a single by Ballinger and the lone run scored off him was unearned.

While Ramsdell was moving down the Cardinals, Soule was rapped for five hits, including homers by Decker and Saporito, good for four runs and driven from the mound in the third. Warren went in and pitched two hit ball, giving up one run, for the rest of the way, but the damage had already been done.

Rocket Ceiling May Be Raised

PASADENA, Cal. (U.P.) — An attempt to break the present world altitude record for shooting rockets is to be made in the near future by John W. Parsons, explosives chemist, who has done rocket motor research work at the California Institute of Technology, and Edward S. Forman, rocket engineer.

The present record is 8,000 feet and is held by Dr. R. H. Goddard, whose rockets have been released in New Mexico. The two Pasadena workers are convinced they can exceed this mark.

Pirates' Rise Silences Traynor Foes

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service.

PITTSBURGH — Harold Joseph Traynor is popularly supposed to be one of the last of the old-fashioned easy-going managers one willing to hoist a few beers with the boys... pat them on the back. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Pie Traynor fines more players than any other pilot in baseball. The difference between the Pittsburgh manager and some others is that he doesn't make public everything he does in a disciplinary way.

"A fine or a reprimand is no recommendation for a player," he explains. "Such action diminishes his value. Why damage your own property? You may want to dispose of the player some day."

There is some sense to that statement. There was talk of the sudden recovery and sustained drive of the Pirates saving Traynor's job.

There was nothing to that, either. Traynor is in solidly in Pittsburgh where he played plenty of third base for 15 years. The New England Irishman is highly popular in the Smoky City and well thought of by Bill Benswanger, who does the hiring and firing.

DODGERS ALONE HAVE EDGE ON PIRATES.

Pittsburgh addicts and those in the front office are diamond wise and fair. They know they haven't had the best club in the National League, yet the Pirates under Traynor have finished out of the first division in only his first year as manager, and this is his fifth.

Pie Traynor is one of the finest fellows who ever played the game, and it was pleasing to those who really know him to see the Buccaneers pull themselves together and silence his critics, most of whom are not residents of Pittsburgh.

Traynor is such an intense and nervous chap that he is inclined to become rattled in the thick of the fight at times. But his enthusiasm is contagious. His clubs reflect their leader, who was... and still is... full of the old college try.

That was one of the principal reasons why the current Corsairs were able to win 13 engagements in a row.

Brooklyn, of all aggregations, is the only team in the older loop to hold an edge over the Pirates this season. The Dodgers, who snapped the Bucs' winning streak at 13, have bagged seven of 12 engagements.

BROWN FINEST RELIEF PITCHER IN GAME.

Excellent pitching, both by starters and relief men, put the Pirates where they are. Bob Klinger, rescued from the Cardinal chain gang, and Jim Tobin, who was with the Yankees a year ago last spring, rounded out the staff.

Mace Brown has proved himself the finest relief worker in the business. He has been in and won more games than any other National League flinger.

Arky Vaughan is steadily pulling himself toward the top in the batting averages. The California shortstop has crashed the 300 circle for the first time in a month. Gus Suhr, Johnny Rizzo, and Lloyd Warner remain in the charmed class, while Pep Young, who is in his best fielding stride, is hitting 288.

Paul Waner, who should be batting 350, has a mark of only 266. Al Todd and Lee Handley should sport better averages than 264 and 269, which happen to be their respective marks at the moment.

If this trio... Big Poison Warner, especially... going, Pie Traynor and the Pittsburgh Pirates are going to be awfully hard to head off.

perments in the Arroyo Seco river bottom near here and now are determined on the style of rocket to be built and the manner of explosive energy to be used.

The rocket, being constructed, and which will probably be shot upward within the next two months, will stand 20 inches high and will have four fins.

It is to weigh only between one and two pounds, with the fuel weighing four-fifths of a pound.

This fuel, however, is arranged in such a manner that during the course of the flight there will be 100 discharges at the rate of five or ten seconds.

The cartridges containing these charges will be fired by a mechanism similar to a machine gun. The impulse from each discharge will continue "kicking" the rocket higher and higher into the air.

The smokeless powder to be used has twice the power of black powder. The powder also provides more power than the gas commonly used.

The rocket will be equipped with a parachute and an altimeter which will bring down its record.

Employment and Pay Rolls Gain Slightly

AUSTIN.—Employment in Texas industry and trade during June was moderately above that of the preceding month but substantially below that of June, 1937, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research. Pay rolls were down considerably both in comparison with May and June a year ago.

Reports from 2,751 Texas establishments show total employment up 0.2 per cent from May but down 8 per cent from June last year; while pay rolls were down 2.2 per cent from May and 5.8 per cent from June a year ago, the bureau's statement said.

Employment in 679 manufacturing establishments was up 0.6 per cent from May but down 11.5 per cent from June last year; while pay rolls in these establishments were down 2.9 per cent from May and 8.4 per cent from June a year ago.

Industries making better than average showing were: Baking goods, beverages, ice manufacturing, meat packing, paper products, public utilities, crude petroleum production, dyeing and cleaning and laundries.

Department Store Sales Stay Level

AUSTIN.—Sales of Texas department stores, measured in dollars, during June showed less than the seasonal decline which normally occurs from May to June and there was only a moderate decline from June last year, the University of Texas bureau of business research has announced. Aggregate sales during the first six months of 1938 were nearly 1 per cent greater than for the corresponding period last year.

Reports from 108 Texas establishments showed a decline in sales of 12.4 per cent from the preceding month and 3 per cent from June, 1937. Normally the decline from May to June is nearly 15 per cent, it was stated.

Miss Dorothy Kemp, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Kemp, received her pre-medical education at the University of Texas. She later obtained her degree of medicine, and at last accounts received here she was in charge of a children's hospital in San Francisco.

The Kemps have long been prominent in the social affairs of Honolulu. They are well known for their hospitality to scores of Texas people who have visited Honolulu during their long residence in the "Paradise of the Pacific."

What's Wrong Here? Does Cute Cyclist Flout Gravity?

Here's a picture that has everybody guessing—and arguing. Is this fair cyclist coasting uphill in defiance of all the laws of gravity? Certainly appears so, doesn't it? Or are you wrong? Yes, you're wrong. The picture was taken on Maine's famous upside-down hill at Wilton, where things are not what they seem. Actually Esther Washak is gliding downhill in the regular and prescribed manner, and Sir Isaac Newton and his apple were not in error after all. It's all an optical illusion. The hill is famous all over New England and many motorists go there to "coast uphill."

Zunk! And a Swimmer Is 'Launched' Practically Perfect

Boats get launched by having a bottle of bubbly crashed over their facades. So why not long-distance swimmers? At least these Venice, Calif., bathing beauties thought it a good idea, and here one of them bops the brow of Paul Chotteau with a flagon of giggler-water as he trains to break his own mark of 44 miles in 33 hours. When he gets over the shock he'll swim 56 miles from Santa Barbara Island to Venice. Oh, yes! Left to right are Margaret Thornburgh, Cleo Hughes, Chotteau, Pat Perry and Pat Gergen.

Fourteen-year-old Marjorie Gestring, Olympic champion of Los Angeles, soars gracefully through the air in one of her specialties at Santa Barbara, Calif., scene of the national women's swimming and diving championships, where she defended her title.

Young Bill Tell

Sonny Johns, shown grasping his trusty bow, electrified a large gallery by scoring three successive perfects in the third round and the three last ends of the American Junior Round in Portland, Ore. Archery authorities say it never was done before in competition. Two other perfects gave Johns, a 13-year-old Tacoma youngster, a total of five for the competition. He won the title with 2869 points. He is the Northwest and Washington State junior champion, and will participate in the national tournament in San Francisco.

Mustang Boys Club Column

The Mustang boys were pleased with the cheerful and understanding response given by the people of Midland, Tuesday, in the drive to place a First Aid Kit in every car in Midland. Some buyers were surprised at themselves that they had not thought to take this precaution before, and were also delighted with the completeness of the kit, particularly with the scissors, as most kits do not include them, and it is both awkward and unsanitary to tear tape and gauze with the hands or with a dirty pocket knife. It is gratifying that the purchasers are realizing that their dollar is not only buying a dollars worth of First Aid protection for themselves and family, but most likely another dollar's worth of out-of-door, mountain fun for a lot of real boys. The small profit on each kit goes toward meeting the expense of the mountain trip. Besides it gives the boys a chance to get a little practical experience in salesmanship, even though they may make a few mistakes at first. The fine tolerance of the public is genuinely appreciated. An effort has been made to divide the territory so that no one will be too often approached; although a few overlaps are bound to occur.

If you should like one of these kits, it will be considered a great favor—for you to set three minutes aside, go to the phone, and place your order with one of the following members. A Mustang will deliver the kit in a few days, receive your dollar and also get proper credit for same. Midland Drug, Tel. 258. Midland Hardware, Tel. 36.

The people of Midland are doing a good job in backing up their boys, who are making an honest effort to earn their own way as they go.

Goodman Continues To Gain as Returns Of Voting Come In

Late returns from over the 88th legislative district today indicated Jas. H. Goodman, Midland, candidate for representative, was slowly increasing his lead over Clyde Bradford, Grand Falls, incumbent.

Goodman, the first man to announce for the office this year, had a lead of 922 votes at the latest accounting. He and Bradford will meet in the run-off August.

Three other candidates, Gerald Hallman, Midland, A. S. Polson, Wink, Maburn Harris, McCamey, have not announced whether they would offer their support to Goodman or Bradford.

Novel Advertising Stunt Boosts Film

Manager J. Howard Hodge must have a lot of confidence in the "power to please" of "Tropic Holiday", coming to the Yucca theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The largest sign ever employed by the theatre to sell a single picture is now being used in the form of a huge beautiful curtain that measures 32 feet wide and 24 feet high. Any man would have to believe in his stock in trade to go to that expense and trouble, and especially, for one picture.

Hodge states that the entire job was done in the Art department of the theatre by Chas. Oliver and two other members of the theatre's personnel.

At the end of each feature, the curtain is lowered to the stage floor not only advertising "Tropic Holiday" but also lending beauty and atmosphere to the Yucca, the proud claim of Midland to the finest theatre in West Texas.

"Tropic Holiday" co-stars Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland.

Easy Method Found To Restore Quail

AUSTIN.—A method so simple that it scarcely seems worth writing about has been found to be one of the most effective means of restoring bobwhite quail in depopulated ranges, the game department announced today.

It is the establishment of fenced areas which offer the birds abundant food and cover in which to build their nests and hide from their enemies.

As described in a bulletin by Valgene W. Lehmann, field biologist, and just published by the game department, the plots should be about a half-acre in size and properly planted so they will be well stocked with food. They may be square or rectangular in shape.

"There are many quail ranges in Texas that produce few quail because they are overgrazed by cattle, sheep and goats, or cultivated so intensely that little food or cover is left for birds," Lehmann writes.

He added that experiments with the fenced shelters had been made in Wharton county. They did not interfere with normal farm and

Georgia to Pay More Pensions

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP).—Confederate veterans and their widows have drawn more than $50,000,000 in pensions from the state of Georgia, according to L. T. Gillen, director of the Confederate division of the state welfare department.

The Confederate pension payroll will approximate $85,000 a month for the next 14 years, Gillen estimated. Most of this will go to widows, since only 250 veterans are still on the pension rolls.

Under a recent legislative act allowing pensions to widows who married Confederate veterans between 1881 and 1920, applications have been filed by 1,669 persons, of which 1,315 have been approved.

During the fiscal year ending June 30 payments included $76,650 to Confederate soldiers; $481,710 to widows, and $221,930 to widows under the legislative act.

In addition to pensions, $690 was paid out for funeral expenses and $3,772 to county ordinaries for

Shaft on Site Of Roosevelt Talk Planned

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP).—A memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt, the president who was rainsoaked in America's "dust bowl," is planned in the park where he spoke here.

It is the sponsor's hope to put on the shaft the words, "A mighty good omen," which Mr. Roosevelt used to express his reaction to the rain. Nearly 100,000 persons saw and heard the chief executive on his two-hour stop here during his transcontinental tour.

It was the first public address ever made by a president in the Texas Panhandle.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers of Amarillo invited citizens of a five-state area to participate in the memorial. These include parts of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

A few days after Mr. Roosevelt's visit, more than $500,000 in federal funds was allotted to this area for conservation of water resources, the topic upon which the president spoke.

SOUR TEMPER MADE SWEET

When you are cross, irritable, and grouchy; when you find fault with the coffee, the eggs, the bacon, and the cook, you may well suspect that you have a touch of Biliousness or so-called "Torpid Liver," so prevalent in hot weather. All you may need is a little Calomel, or better still, "Calotabs," the nausealess calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure.

Calotabs give you the combined effects of calomel and salts, helping Nature to expel the sour, stagnant bile and washing it out of the system. One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water—that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirit bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packages bearing the trade mark "Calotabs." Refuse imitations. Trial package ten cents; family package only twenty-five cents, at your dealer's. (Adv.)
