Italy, Nazis Continues to Bait Europe

Foreign Policy of Britain Struck by Three Late Moves

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—British government spokesmen today issued sharp official denials to reports Discount Halifax, foreign secretary, might resign because of differences with Premier Chamberlain's foreign policy.

Reports yesterday from diplomatic circles said Halifax had reached the belief of his predecessor, Anthony Eden, that the time had come to treat the dictators sternly.

LONDON, Aug. 18 (AP).—Italy and Germany have struck three blows at British foreign policy which Wednesday started rumors of cleavage between Prime Minister Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary.

Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco, presumably on the advice of Italian and German dictators, was said to have balked at Britain's plan for getting foreign fighters out of Spain.

Premier Mussolini has resumed anti-British propaganda in spite of the British-Italian friendship agreement.

Chancellor Hitler, despite avowals of devotion to peace, gave Europe continued jitters with a program of army maneuvers some critics regarded as a dress rehearsal for war.

As a result mainly of the Spanish and Czechoslovak-German problems, informed quarters said, Lord Halifax now is convinced that it is impossible to save peace without taking a firmer stand against dictators.

Chamberlain's policy has been to try to moderate—rather than oppose completely—Germany's ambitions toward Central Europe.

To do this he sent Viscount Runciman to Praha as "unofficial" mediator to appease Germany's desire for control of Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 German minority of some means short of granting them autonomy.

Lord Halifax recently has been seeing Anthony Eden, his predecessor who resigned Feb. 20 in protest against Chamberlain's policy of dealing with Italy and Germany.

Informed sources expressed the opinion that Lord Halifax has come to believe Eden's stronger policy against dictators is right.

Everywhere in Europe it was recognized that the Spanish and Czechoslovak-German questions were symbolic of the larger doctrinal and economic conflicts between democracies and dictatorships.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—British classic efforts to strengthen her military force is being made coincidentally with quiet, steady tightening of the American army's efficiency, officials disclosed today.

New regulations require periodical reports from major generals and 12,000 officers below that rank, the chief of staff being the sole exception.

It is understood a wholesale reshuffling of top ranks will be occasioned by the regulations. Nearly a score of major and brigadier generals reach retirement this year.

Other recent steps included senior officers being passed in the selection of major and brigadier generals' admission ages for war college staff schools lowered; making the general staff study revitalization of the army's promotion system.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP).—The university seems to be building up rapidly from the many new buildings. There are close to 6,000 students here this term.

The music school is plenty stiff but I think it is one of the very best in the country. There are music students here from California to New York and several from Chicago in the band. Over half the states are represented.

Mr. Revell, the band director, has been in New York City two weeks conducting a band clinic but our university band has not ceased rehearsing nor giving concerts under the direction of visiting directors and composers. We have played several selections that are on this year's concert list. One of them was arranged by my cornet teacher, Mr. Lillya of Chicago.

Two couples of us came in my car. We were on the road 12 days, spending most of the spare time in Colorado, Yellowstone and Chicago. It surely was a fine trip. It seemed as though there could be no more beautiful scenery than the Yellowstone country but the North-east entrance road through Montana and back into Wyoming gave me more of a "kick" on account of the exceptionally high mountain roads. The Pike's Peak road wouldn't be so bad after climbing those Montana mountains. Snow was several feet deep and in places the road was nearly impassable where the snow plows had not done their duty. The summer is very short and the snow never melts. From the park to about 200 miles east the towns are about as thick as they are in the Sahara Desert. What few there are are typical little "tough burgs" like you see in western movies (if you see them). Ann Arbor has so many trees that See (Armstrong) Page 8.

Tammany Chief Faces "Racket Buster"

Chief defendant in the most important legal attack on Tammany Hall's power since the days of Boss Tweed, James J. Hines, right, above, smiled confidently as he entered New York supreme court on the arm of his lawyer, Lloyd Paul Stryker, left. Hines, most potent Tiger leader, is charged by Manhattan's racket-busting District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey with "confriving a lottery"—the $100,000,000 numbers racket run by the late Dutch Schultz. The greatest penalty, for all charges, that can be imposed on Hines is 25 years. But on his fate hinges the question of the survival of Tammany as a political factor in New York.

With a grim, determined expression, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, of Manhattan, is pictured mounting the steps of New York's supreme court to meet the trial of his skyrocket career—the crisis of Tammany Leader James J. Hines as political fixer of the late Dutch Schultz.

Possibility of Horse Racing in State Seen Again After Statement by O'Daniel

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP).—A statement by Governor-Nominated W. Lee O'Daniel that he has an "open mind" on horse racing had capitol circles buzzing Wednesday on the possibility the sport and its betting adjunct would return to Texas.

Even though O'Daniel should decide in favor of such a plan, advocates probably would have a difficult time pushing it through the legislature. When racing was outlawed several of his friends said they did not see how it could be brought back for at least six or eight years. It was legalized in 1933 through a rider to an appropriation bill.

One thing which might operate in favor of the ponies is that Texas now has a stringent law against bookmaking. Another factor which might contribute to reopening of the tracks is the need for more revenue.

Hospital to Enlarge and Add Building

Nurses Home and Operating Suite Being Started

Construction was started today on a new nurses home for the Mid-West Hospital-Clinic, to be located on the property at corner of Big Spring and Illinois streets, and contract was expected to be closed today for an extension of the hospital proper to provide a new operating room suite. Dr. W. E. Ryan, head of the institution, said the contract for the nurses' home had been let to Guy E. Brenneman and that for the hospital structure would be announced shortly.

Construction and architecture of the new buildings will harmonize with the present hospital and will be of tile and stucco.

The nurses' home, 40 by 48 feet in size, will face north on Illinois street and will provide living accommodations for eight nurses.

The extension to the hospital, northward 30 feet, will have east and west dimensions of 41 feet, and will face west on Big Spring street. It will include a new operating room suite, delivery room, operating room, minor operating room, doctors' lounge, nursery and new laboratory. It will give much additional room to the present hospital, providing for rearrangement of the suite of offices and making way for additional hospital rooms where the present nursery and operating rooms are located.

Relationships of Employer, Employee Subject of Address

Industrial relationship, or the relation between employer and employee, was discussed by W. M. (Bill) Holmes, regional industrial relations manager of the Humble Oil & Refining Co., at the Rotary club luncheon today. Mr. Holmes was the guest of John P. Howe, chairman of the vocational service committee, and was introduced by Bill Collyns, manager of the chamber of commerce.

A universal need exists for a planned relationship between employer and employee, Holmes said, whether it be in the field of large corporations, smaller corporations or locally owned businesses. He pointed out that industrial relations cannot be allowed to take their own course.

In the larger corporations, an intricate system is necessary, with a modification for the smaller corporation. In the case of locally owned concerns, the employer is his own industrial relations manager.

Three characteristics must be observed as a basis for successful industrial relations: fairness, impartiality and honesty, he asserted. A minimum of friction must be attained. If an employee has a problem, no matter how trivial, it is up to the employer to give him an open hearing and to assist in reaching a happy solution. Everyone must be treated equally, without special privileges to cause resentment among others. Vacations should be extended on a basis of equality, serving to prepare the employe for work of the year to come rather than as a reward for past service, he said.

Holidays, if extended to one employe, should be given to all at the same time. Sick pay, to prevent worry in case of illness among employes, should be provided for, making ill employes more efficient when they are able to return to work.

Holmes said honesty is essential, the employer being frank and square with employes, to maintain high regard for his relations. Decisions should be "yes" or "no", based on facts and not hearsay.

If all companies would follow the golden rule, the speaker said, problems of any industrial relations program would be easily solved.

Fred Gordon Middleton gave two vocal numbers, with a flute number interspersed, his mother, Mrs. Fred Middleton, playing the piano accompaniment.

Visitors today included Rotarians J. C. Ecklin of El Paso, Lee Duckworth of Abilene, E. W. Appleby of Odessa and Bill McAndrew of Sweetwater; also Bill Collyns and Claude Crane of Midland.

Henlein, Runciman Will Get Together

HENDAYE, Aug. 18 (AP).—The foreign office today disclosed a meeting had been arranged between Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator, and Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German minority in Czechoslovakia, in the near future.

It will be the first direct contact between Henlein and Runciman. It is understood Runciman will plead for the Sudetens to take a less uncompromising attitude.

Beards Spread over More Territory as Rodeo Time Nears

Regardless of speed with which beards are spreading over the faces of Clinton Lackey and Bill Collyns, rodeo enthusiasts, their idea of going shaveless until the close of the rodeo, September 5, has spread among the citizenship.

County Agent Steve Debnam, according to reports, has turned out "Pancheo Villa" style side burns and mustaches. If seen by Reporter-Telegram reporters, the agent was not recognized.

Bill Fritz, Skelly geologist, had no rodeo advertising in mind when he turned out a full set of whiskers. He let up on shaving while having a series of dental work done. However, he has checked up with the rodeo advertisers to determine who is making the best beard growing progress.

That I made a mistake in Sunday's column and classed Sacramento, California team as a Class A team and it should have been listed as a Double-A classification? AA is the fastest team classification of the minor leagues. It makes it interesting then to know that Larry Battle, who plays short-stop for the Cardinals, has been accused, by the "Papa" Cardinal scout, a try-out with the Sacramento team this next year.

Larry is what is known in baseball language as "lead-off man." Before I got to looking under everything for details about this grand sport of baseball, I'd just answered, if asked where he played, that "he played somewhere between second and third base and was the first man to bat for Midland! At first I thought that he got to be first because his name began with B-A and there were not any names beginning with A! Drive for Members in Athletic Assn. Is Started Today

Members of the Midland Athletic Association this afternoon started a membership drive which they hope will end with the addition of at least 200 new members within the next week.

The Association, organized with fewer than 20 members, has been handicapped in getting started through the absence from town of some of the officials, including President Russell Conking, but all are back and serious work is being started.

The association was formed with the purpose of fostering and encouraging athletics in the local schools. Activity in the entire school athletic program by all youths will be encouraged. It is known that at least three or four families not now living here would like to move here if the heads of the family could procure employment and members of the association are trying to locate positions for them. All have children who could be expected to participate in various athletics of the schools.

Membership fees in the organization have been set at 50 cents per month, with all members given an option as to whether or not to pay more than that.

Members of the committee carrying on the drive will meet at the chamber of commerce each afternoon at 5 o'clock for the next week to report.

O'Daniel Takes to Air Again for His Choices in 6 Races

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18 (AP).—Announcing that he had already sacrificed over $125,000 in commercial offers because he wished to be governor with no strings, Governor-elect O'Daniel today broadcast an additional appeal to the voters to elect the man he has endorsed in the run-off campaign.

He told of receiving a $50,000 offer to serve as master of ceremonies over a national radio hook-up preceding his inauguration and intimated other financial possibilities.

"I refused to put a price on my services; I have a big job ahead and intend to put in my time before inauguration studying the job," he said. He declared most of the criticism of his run-off endorsements was vanishing.

Armstrong Studying Music This Summer at Michigan Univ.

Supt. W. W. Lackey today announced receipt of a letter from M. A. Armstrong, Midland high school band director, who is making a further study of music at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor this summer.

Armstrong, who will return here when school opens as band director, spent a lengthy vacation in Texas and western states before entering school.

His letter to Mr. Lackey follows: Examination time is about here so I'll write you before I get too busy.

The days have been passing in a hurry since I finally got thoroughly enrolled and acquainted with the campus. The campus covers PLENTY ground and the streets run in any direction. There are a lot of trees and it is difficult to look straight up.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Senator James P. Pope of Idaho stays tucked up on the wall of Senator William E. Borah.

Borah was always the "only Idaho senator" because no one could ever remember the other fellow's name. Then mild, scholarly, big Jim Pope, elected in 1932, gradually grew to be a major Senate figure. Worse yet, he demonstrated great interest in foreign affairs, Borah's particular domain, and began to speak with more or less authority as an administration member of the Foreign Relations Committee, of which Borah had been chairman in Republican days.

It may not be true, as rumored here, that Borah sent word to political lieutenants in Idaho which caused thousands of Republicans to enter the Democratic primary to defeat Pope. But a horde of Borah Republicans did exactly that, as returns showed.

Congressman D. Worth Clark, conservative Democrat who nosed Pope out by 4000 votes, branded Pope an "internationalist" and continually stressed allegiance "to the philosophy of that great living statesman, Senator Borah." Clark also profited greatly by declaring, "I don't know whether the Townsend plan will work, but I'm in favor of giving it a trial." Pope refused to praise the Townsend plan. In October, 1936, facing reelection, Borah had wired Dr. Townsend that he believed the plan's fundamental principles were sound and favored its main features.

Certain other administration-supported senators would never be missed. But Pope was one of the ablest, most sincere men in the small Senate New Deal group. That's why many Democrats want him to run as an independent.

WOMEN ASSERT THEMSELVES

Because stress was laid on Mr. Roosevelt's endorsement of Senator Hattie Caraway in the Arkansas primary, it has been generally overlooked that Mrs. Caraway was the first woman ever to serve a full Senate term and now, since Democratic nomination in her state means election, will be the only woman ever elected for a second six-year term. Furthermore, she became a campaign issue and sex-feminine-won.

Although Mrs. Caraway originally was appointed in November 1931, to fill the seat vacated by her husband's death, she was nominated and elected in 1932 to serve out the term and then again in the same year was chosen for the next full term.

Her latest victory takes added point because Congressman John L. McClellan, her opponent, raised the sex issue by asserting that being a senator was a man's job, not a woman's. McClellan delicately contrasted his own flourishing type of oratory with the demure Mrs. Caraway's quiet voice. But Arkansas women busily beat drums for the senator and saved her skin.

A commentary on traditional fond hopes of the softening influence of women in politics was Mrs. Caraway's campaign boast that she had been a "leader" in the fight against the anti-lynching bill. Many southern women favored the bill. Mrs. Caraway wasn't a leader in the fight, although she spoke in opposition.

BERRY WINS BOOBY PRIZE

Capitol Hill colleagues privately award Senator George Berry of Tennessee the 1938 political booby prize. Berry, who had wanted the government to spend millions to settle his TVA marble claims—later adjudged worthless—found he could not get administration support for re-nomination. So he denounced federal spending—and was beaten overwhelmingly.

The reason New Dealers haven't boasted of their Tennessee primary victory is they don't want to advertise their tie-up with Boss Ed Crump. Actually, relations are friendly and close. Crump is pro-New-Deal and especially pro-TVA.

The Cry of Bloodhounds in the Southland

Dallas Business Men Organize to Get More Members There Into the WTCC

DALLAS, Aug. 18.—Dallas business men Thursday organized for the purpose of securing additional members here for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce membership in Dallas has up to the present time been far less than the trade territory represented warrants.

At a meeting held this week the business men arranged groups for the purpose of aiding the West Texas Chamber of Commerce solicit memberships. J. B. Adoue represents the banks; Lester Lorch, wholesale merchants; John W. Carpenter, public utilities; Holmes Green, department stores and retailers; M. J. Norrell, oil companies; Homer Mitchell, insurance companies; and John E. Williams, hotels.

Each of these named is chairman of a group and will actively urge that every business concern in the group take a membership or several memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This is the first time that Dallas business interests have made a concerted effort to aid the West Texas Chamber of Commerce whose headquarters are at Abilene with Herbert Hilburn of Plainview as president, and D. A. Bantevan as secretary.

"Dallas businessmen feel that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce should be given full support here because the organization is militant for many interests affecting the welfare of Dallas, such as Trinity river flood control and navigation," McLain said, in commenting on the campaign which is already underway. "Dallas is seeking closer ties with West Texas and we believe that Dallas business people will act wisely if they ally themselves with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has always proved a wide awake and live wire organization.

"Dallas must interest itself in West Texas progress. This is one of the fastest expanding sections in the whole United States. We have not given West Texas the support it deserves, and now we plan to pull together with this splendid group of West Texas business men for common prosperity and increase of business. I hope that every group represented on the committee will respond generously with memberships in the organization. Such memberships will be of vast help to them in the future."

The plan of the central committee under McLain is to quickly contact all firms in their groups and report to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce a Dallas membership increased more than a hundred per cent during the next few weeks. At headquarters offices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Abilene, where a permanent exhibit of West Texas natural resources is maintained, a plaque will be installed, telling of Dallas support and membership for the benefit of West Texas visitors.

Fort Worth at present lists far more business concerns as contributing members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce than Dallas. This brief campaign in which all business interests will join is aimed to increase the West Texas memberships from Dallas to equal or surpass those from Fort Worth.

The Advocate also "revives" this old one about the woman who was sight-seeing in the east:

A lady, visiting in Detroit, took a ride on a sight-seeing bus. "There," said the conductor through his megaphone, "is the Ford residence." "The Henry Ford residence?" asked the lady. "No," said the conductor, "the Edsel Ford home." Next the conductor said, "On your right is the Dodge home." "The Horace Dodge home?" asked the lady. "No," said the conductor, "the John Dodge home." "And on your left," said the conductor, "is the beautiful Church of Christ." The lady was silent and a man in the next seat said, "Keep asking lady, you can't be wrong all the time."

Most men don't like to be taken for a ride. But worse than that is to think you are going to be taken for a ride and be taken only for a fall. And that is what appears to me to be the drawback in this donkey baseball. All over the country, citizens, clubs and organizations are splitting fifty-fifty with this fellow who has the truck load of donkeys, just so's a lot of the citizens can see a few of the citizens be made jack-asses of. Chance for New Life Offered Through the Benefits of Child Welfare State Program

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On Aug. 14, 1935—just three years ago—the President signed the Social Security Act. This Act probably affects directly the lives of more individuals than any other law ever passed by the National Congress. This newspaper presents below, therefore, the fifth of a series of articles which explain the National and State programs for social security and recount the progress made in their administration during the first three years.)

(By Mrs. Violet S. Grenhill, Chief Division of Child Welfare.)

Over sixteen thousand Texas children under sixteen years of age have been helped through the child welfare division since March, 1936, when the state's child welfare program became operative under the social security act.

As one of the most humane of the social security phases, child welfare services seeks to give destitute Texas children a real chance in life. A staff of thirty-five trained child welfare workers combat the problems of children left homeless by death, sickness, or other parental incapacities; or by behavior problems in home, school, community or from physical or mental handicaps.

Under the supervision and care of the child welfare bureau, such children are being brought up in the wholesome atmosphere of home and are living normal family lives like other children. Since March, 1936, 4,500 children have been given direct service, 12,300 children indirect service through the yearly licensing and inspection by the state division of 70 private agencies, 6 state institutions, 33 PWA nursery schools, 35 private day nurseries, 8 county institutions and 170 children's boarding homes.

Five county units have been established where local funds were raised to the amount of $11,159.00 which when matched by federal funds and state resources assist in the care of 618 children monthly within their own communities and in many instances, with their own people. Six district headquarters complete the organization.

It has been estimated that it costs $24.85 a month to keep a dependent child in a state institution, in contrast to one-half this amount for the care of a dependent child under supervision in its own county.

Important studies have been made in the development of an effective program in adoptive procedure, prevention of delinquency, institutional improvements, and in general,

child under supervision in its own county.

"I'M TOUGH! I EAT QUAKER OATS EVERY DAY!"

WHY is it you so often find the sturdiest, healthiest youngsters and grownups have been "brought up" on Quaker Oats? Because oatmeal is the richest of all whole grain foods in strength-giving proteins. Proteins, you know, are the vital food elements best for building muscle, firm flesh, and lasting strength. It's richer than other thrifty cereals in phosphorus for teeth and bones, in iron, and in important Vitamin B₁, the nerve-digestive-appetite vitamin which children and everybody need supplied to them every day! So serve delicious Quaker Oats often to help fill out your growing boy or girl with the sturdy "tough" kind of muscular flesh and improve your own general well-being. Quaker Oats saves money, too... often cuts breakfast costs to half of more expensive foods... and you can have it ready in only 2 1/2 minutes! Get a package of Quaker Oats at your grocer's today!

Currin High Man in Salesmen Ranks in Eagle-Picher Co.

Information has been received in Midland that R. P. Currin, Dallas salesman for the Modern Home Insulators, ranks as high man in the United States in sales volume for The Eagle-Picher Co.

Currin has been very active in Midland and this area during the last few years. He stated this morning that he had sold twice as many insulation jobs in Midland on a per capita basis as he had in any other city in his territory. He praised this newspaper for its advertising power, stating that it was the only medium he uses here.

From Maine to California:
150,000 GROCERS SAY:
"WE BUY DWIN FOR OUR OWN USE"

DWIN is entirely different from old time kerosene sprays to which you have been accustomed in the past. That's why grocers and other food handlers who know insect killers have selected it for their own use. They know it will not injure or contaminate food—or ruin fabrics.
Do as the grocer does—use DWIN. It is unusually effective yet "as fragrant as flowers in May"—therefore, pleasant to use. DWIN kills flies, fleas, ants, moths, roaches, bed bugs, mosquitoes, etc., in your home and many plant insects in your garden. Obtain DWIN—in the green can—at grocer, drug, hardware or department store. Remember there is not a drop of kerosene in DWIN.

However, one of the most truly representative things about a reporter's life could not be well modeled—that is, a diverse assortment of memories of all sorts of experiences, some pleasant, some not, but all intensely interesting. It is something to have a job that is forever new and forever fascinating, whatever its drawbacks may be.

A nice, and picturesque, touch for the rodeo-day bandanna is afforded by small bone holders in the shape of a steer's head. The part representing the face of the animal is covered with colored beads while the bone projecting from either side of the head is left bare to represent horns. Just another of those little things which give a filip to the costume.

CARDINAL HURLERS GIVE 12 WALKS, LOSE TO CLOVIS, 10-16

RED BIRDS MOVE TO WINK TODAY FOR THREE GAMES

CLOVIS, Aug. 18. (Special)—By bunching 14 hits and 12 walks, the Clovis Pioneers salvaged one game of the four-game series from the Midland Cardinals in a free-hitting affair last night, finally winning out by a 16-10 score.

Vic Wyss, Pioneer centerfielder, paced the attack of the Pioneers on three Midland pitchers, getting a home run with two men on base and a double with three on to drive in five runs. Outfielder Dick Ratliff had a perfect night with "four for four."

The Clovis club jumped off to a five run lead in the first inning and were never headed. The sixth, however, was an even more profitable frame, six runs coming across home plate. Jim Morris came in from the outfield to hurl in the sixth and walked five runners.

The Cardinals made six runs in the last half of the ninth but were too far back at its start to catch up.

The Cardinals left here this morning for Wink, where they will be for the next three days. Following the Wink series, they go to Big Spring for three days, returning home on August 24.

Score by innings:
Midland 0 0 0 10 0 0 10 13 1
Clovis 5 20 0 0 16 14 2
Batteries: Franklin, Soule, Morris and Ballinger; Vincent, Nelson and Ratliff.

Health Bus on Tour Of Rural Maryland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maryland's "health bus" is on its summer tour to aid children in the state's rural districts.

The children's clinic on wheels is divided into two compartments, one for physical examinations, the other for treatments. Health movies are shown in the trailer or outdoors in the evenings to parents and children.

Dr. Elizabeth Sherman, of the Maryland state health department, heads the traveling staff, which includes a baby specialist, a dentist and a trained nurse.

Italian Power Station Built Under Mountain

ROME (UP).—Europe's largest electric power station is being built beneath Mount Castello in the Lake Garda region of Italy.

The power house, it is announced, has been built underground owing to its nearness to the frontier. Experts assert that no bombing from the air can damage it or impair its efficiency.

A huge underground gallery has been completed by 3,000 workers, who hewed 55,000 cubic yards of rock out of the Alps.

He Could Use a Long Rest

Playing four terrific sets with Bobby Riggs takes a lot out of a person as Joe Hunt of Los Angeles discovered. The California blond stretches exhausted on the ground, as an official gives him aid, following the finals of the Eastern Lawn Tennis Singles Championships at Rye, N. Y., won by Riggs. The scores were 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 10-8.

How 300 Dauntless Men Began the Huge Task of Bringing Law Order to Canada

This is the first of three articles on the Royal Canadian Mounted Police by Philip Goodsell, famous Arctic explorer.

FORT GARRY, MANITOBA.—Spiked helmets glistened in bright sunlight. A hundred and fifty jets of scarlet merged into a single flame. Squeak of saddle leather and thud of hoofbeats echoed from the stone walls of Lower Fort Garry.

That was 65 years ago this summer, and west along the dusty King's Highway plodded a column of green recruits: the beginning of the Northwest Mounted. Picking up another 150 recruits at squalid Fort Dufferin on the Dakota boundary, they headed west again, the pioneers of a force that was to leave its mark from the rolling foothills of the Rockies to the icy igloos of the "blond Eskimos."

The west, into which these first 300 Mounties wound their slow trek, was the home of 50,000 buffalo-hunters, scalp-seeking Indians, constantly augmented by renegades chased out of the United States, and who, from their forts at Whoop-Up and Slide-Out, turned their talents to rum-running and general depravity. It was a tremendous task to put before those 300 green, unseasoned men.

But they worked fast and hard. By Christmas, Assistant Commissioner J. F. MacLeod, he of the aggressive eyes and the square-cut beard, had built his whipsaw fort in the heart of the Blackfoot hunting grounds. The same winter the Mounties raided the nests of the rumrunners and chased them back over the American border without firing a shot.

Single-handed in many cases these redcoats got their man, and

The Indians' sneers quickly turned to consternation when the Mountie sergeant leaped quickly from his saddle, kicked the poles from under the chief's tent and sent it tottering about his ears.

Stamixoten (Bull's Head) as they called MacLeod, meted out even-handed justice to paleface and redskin alike.

GOT RESULTS BY BEING TOUGH.

The steel snake of the Canadian Pacific was wriggling its slow course to the Pacific coast in the early '80's when war was interrupted by Cree warriors who drove off frightened workers and pitched their chief's teepee directly across the right-of-way. Piapot, chief of the Crees, was a firebrand who lit a torch of rebellion.

Into the seething mass of red humanity one day rode a sergeant and one constable of the Mounted. Ordered brusquely to get out, Piapot chuckled hoarsely, and his tomahawk-toting warriors did likewise.

But sneers turned quickly to consternation when the Mountie sergeant leaped quickly from his saddle, kicked the poles from under the chief's lodge and sent it

ARMSTRONG DECISIONS AMBERS; ONLY FIGHTER EVER TO HOLD THREE TITLES

By ALAN GOULD.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Aug. 18. (AP).—Hammering Henry Armstrong, the dusky dynamite from Los Angeles, founded out a new chapter in fistic history last night by whipping gallant Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., for the world lightweight championship and thus becoming the first man to hold three ring crowns at one time.

Bloody, arm-weary and nearly exhausted from his efforts to stop the game title-defender, Armstrong emerged from 15 savage rounds of fighting to win a split official decision, despite an erratic finish that cost the little negro three rounds on penalties for hitting low, and a spectacular rally by Ambers.

DECISIVE VICTORY.

Armstrong, although unable to finish his sturdy foe, and actually hard-pressed to save his winning margin through the last five rounds, scored two knockdowns and won decisively, notwithstanding the partisan demonstration by a majority of the crowd after the verdict.

Ambers was knocked down in the fifth round, and saved by the bell, which rang just one split second after the champion was smashed to the canvas by a right to the jaw. Armstrong brought his man down again, for the count of eight in the sixth round but his most desperate efforts thereafter were unable to upset the champion.

THROWS EVERYTHING IN 11th.

Armstrong threw every punch in his arsenal in a bid for a knockout in the 11th. Again, in the 14th, after losing three straight rounds bring law and order to the west, and population increased, the buffalo began to die off, staggering under the bullets of careless settlers and railroad gangs. In 1885, Louis Reil, leader of discontented half-breeds, set up an independent "government" in the northwest. Reil was going to keep the west a land of hunters, bring the buffalo back. The Indians grew restless, infected by Reil's spirit of revolt. Big Bear led the Crees to a bloody massacre of settlers at Frok Lake, and it looked as if the whole west might run with blood.

But Chief Crowfoot, leader of the Blackfeet, was the friend of "Bull's Head" MacLeod. He was persuaded to hold his warriors in check until the redcoats cornered and captured Big Bear. Reil, too, was caught in the net of the Mounted, and in the fall of that year paid the penalty of revolt on the gibbet at Regina. Their leaders captured and punished, the Indians and half-breeds gave up their dream of a "hunter's paradise" in the northwest.

But soon the cry of "gold!" led men northward, and as they trekked into the icy Yukon, the Mounted went with them to maintain the law. Inspector Charles Constanantine and a thin sprinkling of the now-famous red-coated Mounted were enough to police the Yukon country and keep it orderly in the face of the motley horde which followed the gold trail.

NEXT: Murder in the Yukon; the Northwest Mounted turn from diplomats to detectives.

Few Indians in Pennsylvania.
HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP).—Only about 200 Indians now are living on Pennsylvania's one remaining reservation in Warren county. About half of these are "drifters." They perform in circuses, act in "Wild Westerns," or go on periodical medicine-selling tours.

STAMP NEWS

THE U. S. Post Office Department has announced that the Army-Navy series of commemorative postage stamps will soon be removed from sale at the Washington Philatelic agency. At the same time it was announced that several of the stamps of the 1922-23 regular series will soon be depleted.

Orders to the Philatelic agency, should be accompanied by money-order remittances to cover the cost of the stamps in addition to the return postage and registration.

The Army-Navy series consists of 10 stamps, with a one, two, three, four and five-cent denomination for each. The regular 1922-23 series consists of 25 stamps as follows: 1/2 cent, 1 cent, 1 1/2 cent, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 17, 20, 30, 50 cents, $1, $2 and $5.

Requests for these stamps will be filled in the order in which they are received, as long as the stock lasts.

Starting some time this fall, the U. S. Post Office Department will send a special philatelic truck throughout the country carrying a $1,000,000 stamp exhibit. In charge of a stamp expert, the truck will visit schools all over the country. Special stamp frames will show all United States issues. A model rotary press will be shown in operation, printing a souvenir, the design of which has not yet been determined. The truck will also display other items of interest to philatelists. During the visit of this truck to a community a complete assortment of stamps from the Washington Philatelic agency will be on sale temporarily at the local post office. Schedule of the truck will be announced later.

Postmaster General Farley has revealed that his department has "under advisement" a proposal to issue stamps next summer to commemorate the centenary of baseball.

Tests Require 20 Years For New Fruit Trees

ST. PAUL (U.P.) — It takes experts at University of Minnesota farm 20 to 25 years to determine whether a new variety of fruit tree is worthy of being introduced among fruit growers.

But, according to W. H. Alderman, chief of the horticulture division at the farm, it's worth the time and trouble.

With 37 stations in the United States and Canada breeding new fruit varieties, he said, thorough testing of the new strains is needed. The Minnesota method calls for long years of testing both here and at co-operating stations but it seems justified by its results, he said.

Time for testing a new strawberry variety, for instance, he said, totals 10 to 12 years.

CLASS B FOOTBALL STARS TO PLAY ALL-STAR GAME IN WICHITA FALLS; WOODROW ADAMS INVITED TO PLAY

WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 18. (Special) — Class B football stars of Texas will be divided into the East and West teams of the state for the first annual Oil Bowl charity game at Coyote stadium Sept. 3, sponsored by the Masket temple of Wichita Falls.

The game, conceived by Henry Ford, Wichita Falls hotel owner and Shriner, will bring the outstanding class B football stars, and two brilliant coaches to Coyote stadium each year to play a game that will be known as the Oil Bowl classic.

Dr. O. W. Wilson, chairman of the committee appointed by the Shrine, said a certain percentage of the gate receipts, as yet undetermined, will be given to the Crippled Children's home maintained by the Masonic bodies at Dallas. Wood and Hill to Coach. Carol Wood, coach of Cameron High school and past president of the Texas High School Coaches association, accepted the invitation to coach the East team that will start training here Aug. 30.

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatism, pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

and through Denton, Sherman and Denison. Coach Wood will select 18 of the outstanding class B seniors of the 1937 teams east of the boundary, and Coach Hill will pick his 18 players from schools west of the line. Every player chosen on the team will see action in the night classic at Coyote stadium.

Players will be furnished with round-trip transportation from their homes to Wichita Falls, and Masket temple will pay expenses of the players during the week they are here. Practice will start Aug. 30. Players will be requested to furnish their own shoes, and all other equipment will be supplied by Coach Ted Jefferies of the Wichita Falls High school.

Dr. Wilson announced that each player will be awarded an "Oil Bowl" sweater, made of red wool and designed with a gold football across the front, bearing green lettering of the year and the escutcheon of the classic. The colors will be those of Masket temple.

The two coaches were expected to start immediately in naming their team rosters, since the start of practice is only two weeks away. Ticket prices will be $1 for reserved seats, 75 cents general admission and 50 cents for students.

The Masket temple committee in charge of the venture, organized Wednesday with Dr. Wilson as chairman, included Steve Ford, Eli Morgan, Kindel Paulk, J. T. Yeargan, Henry Ford, O. G. Stephens and Jack Williams.

Woodrow "Woody" Adams, captain of the Midland Bulldogs for the past two years, has been invited to play in the game and will probably accept, he has indicated. Adams was one of the outstanding high school tackles in Class-B last year, receiving a lot of all-state mention.

Belmont Bible class will meet at the home of Mrs. W. L. Fickett, 905 W. Missouri, Friday afternoon, instead of at the home of Mrs. W. L. Sutton as previously announced.

It is difficult for Texas people to find their way about. This is a pretty part of Michigan about 30 miles from Detroit. If you are in need of a Packard, Cord or any other small auto, I'd be glad to drive it home for you. We learned about everything the Ford factories do. Also, we spent considerable time in Greenfield Village in which is located the Ford-Edison museum which covers 350,000 square feet, and Edison's original laboratory and equipment. Edison once said it was 99 1/2 per cent perfect after being moved from the original place. He said everything was too clean.

The village has in it shops, mills, a general store, the Logan county court house in which is the chair where Lincoln was sitting when shot. There is also an original post-office, several stores, a church and the school building when Ford went to school in the first grade. The general store had "in stock" the clothing worn nearly a century ago. The original Wright Bros. cycle shop and first airplane motor are also in the village.

It rained, as usual, nearly all day so we missed several things. Gonna bring a bucket of sand next time and let it strong fan blow it in my face so I won't be so sluggish after a rain.

My work in class and laboratory takes about seven hours a day. I play in the band and take private lessons which is a bit costly and requires a lot of work. Get two hours for each. I was notified early last week that I was exempt from conducting class and final exam which elated me very much. Think I'll do the same in the psychology of music but won't know until tomorrow. I have an average of B-plus in it.

It is disagreeably warm up here but people will come up to me and say, "I guess this is cool weather to you Texans." Often I have to use a towel for an arm rest, while writing, to absorb the perspiration, and I don't remember having to do much of that in Texas.

Yesterday, the university band played at a dedication program of a $18,000 band shell in a municipal park.

I will again be at 907 Madison, Amarillo, after about August 23. Hope you are in the best of health and enjoying the summer. Your friend, M. A. Armstrong reason is because his batting average is more than 300 this year. I hated to expose my dumbness further but I just couldn't figure out how 300 could do with my old standard 100 per cent. There wasn't anything to do but ask so I just broke down and was honest. Now just because I don't believe that my lack of information is just the only one in Midland I am going to tell what I found out. If you've heard this one just skip it (that is if you were ever kind enough to start). It seems that 100 per cent does not represent "perfect" in baseball records. The number of times that a player comes up to bat is classed as 1000 per cent, so if you go back to about your sixth grade arithmetic you'd figure it something like this (hope I haven't forgotten how!!!):

3 hits equal 1000 per cent. 1 hit, therefore, equals 333 1/3%. According to that then Larry is getting one hit out of every three. At first that looked very simple until I was asked if I knew what a "hit" was. Certainly, I did—every time he hit a pitched ball with his bat, Oh, no; hitting that ball didn't mean anything unless you hit to such a place that some ground could be gained by it. Of course, that made my batting average look quite different. To get some place that counts on a baseball diamond with an opposing team ganged up against you to keep you from doing that very thing makes a one-out-of-every-three average look quite different.

Larry has accomplished this average by being able to cover the ground after he cracks the ball. He is considered one of the fastest men on the team. Now who would have ever thought of "the boy that bats first" being chosen because he could do all that?

Jake Atz recommended Larry to Umpire Pettigrew, who owned the Hobbs team last year, and from whom Fincher Withers bought it and finished out the season. When Withers released all of the team except the original six upon which he built the present Midland team, Larry was one of the Originals. Jake Atz sent word to Pettigrew that Larry was an excellent baseball prospect so was signed up and has proven his value.

About the middle of the season he was injured and was not able to play for weeks. Altho' his hand was broken by having it hit by a ball, he stayed in the game until he had taken his turn as a runner and brought in a score. He was taken out then and was out of the line-up for a month or more. His home town is New Orleans, La. He is 21 years of age and is 5 feet 8 inches tall. He is a high school grad-

Il Duce's Men Got the Point

When Premier Mussolini recently complained about the "un-Fascist" stoutness of a number of his chief lieutenants, one who got the point was athletic Achille Starace, Secretary of the Fascist Party. He is pictured above, demonstrating his physical fitness by leaping over a rank of rifles bristling with bayonets during "punch reduction" tests at Rome. Others "got the point" literally, when their legs failed and they were badly slashed.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18. (AP) — Japanese forces ordered to take Changsha, capital of Hunan Province, were bogged down today many miles from their objective.

The invaders' naval air force however, raced over the heads of the struggling Japanese infantrymen and fiercely bombed the city, about 200 miles southwest of Kiukiang.

Otherwise the Japanese onslaught appeared checked. In the Hwangmei sector, 25 miles north of Kiukiang, nine Chinese divisions launched a counteroffensive which kept the invaders at bay.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18. (AP) — Japanese forces ordered to take Changsha, capital of Hunan Province, were bogged down today many miles from their objective.

(Dispatches from Hankow said the Changsha raid was the worst the city had yet experienced, with several hundred victims severely taxing available medical facilities). Otherwise the Japanese onslaught appeared checked. In the Hwangmei sector, 25 miles north of Kiukiang, nine Chinese divisions launched a counteroffensive which kept the invaders at bay.
