Banquet to Be Tendered O'Daniel

Public Invited But Only 125 Tickets for Sale

Gubernatorial Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel and his party of sixteen, including family members, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Finnell and the famous Hill Billy band, will be honored with a public banquet at Hotel Scharbauer Monday evening, at 6 p. m., it was announced today.

Tickets will be sold to only 125 people and the first 125 will get them, it was announced. The tickets, $1.00 each, will go on sale at the chamber of commerce office Saturday morning, the sale ending when 125 are gone.

In keeping with the nominee's wishes, the banquet will be informal and not restricted to any selected list. Judge Ed M. Whitaker will be master of ceremonies, the program to be entirely informal. Those purchasing the tickets are asked to dress "as they are," men and women, with rodeo attire preferable.

Mr. O'Daniel made his gubernatorial race as the representative of "all the people" and the banquet in his honor will be conducted in the same manner, it was announced. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the event and has made it plain that everybody is invited to attend who purchases a ticket before the 125th is sold.

The governor-nominate will arrive by train at 8:40 a. m. Monday, with his party. A reception committee, the high school band and a guard of mounted horsemen will conduct the party, in automobiles, to Hotel Scharbauer where reservations have been made for the day. An informal breakfast will compliment the visitors.

Mr. O'Daniel, his family and companions and the Hill Billy band will have a specially constructed box at the big grandstand of Midland Fair, Inc., and will be introduced at the rodeo.

Besides the party of sixteen, many Fort Worth citizens are expected to arrive here on the same train. Some who have announced they will be here are John N. Sparks, "Stony" Stonestreet, Allen Connell, John Collier and Joe Hogsett. John W. Davis and wife and John M. Hendrix will arrive Saturday, as will many other Fort Worthians.

A pair of $35 shop made cowboy boots will be presented to the gubernatorial nominee, choice of more than a half million voters, by George Friday and his employees, including Earl Kinsley, Fred Jones, Dick Jones, Bob Lee, L. H. Friday and D. W. Friday, to commemorate Mr. O'Daniel's visit to the Midland Rodeo.

A carload of Hill Billy flour, bought by Walker-Smith wholesale grocery here, is being distributed to retail grocers today. H. S. Collings manager, said he believed the whole car would be placed by noon Saturday.

FDR Declares He Has No Objections To Liberal GOP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (AP). — President Roosevelt told reporters today he would not have the slightest objection to the election of a liberal republican ticket, and said the American people are beginning to think more in the terms of principles than in personalities.

He said he knew several republicans who were running for office. "If the good liberal is running on the republican ticket I would not have the slightest objection to his election, a good country rises above a party," he said. He indicated he was speaking on national terms, not state.

He said inability to dedicate the Fort Huron bridge in Michigan late in September in no wise was connected with Michigan politics.

He preferred to call all international situations difficult rather than delicate, he said.

He said Postmaster General Farley and Representative David J. Lewis, Roosevelt supported candidates against Senator Tydings of Maryland, would be in his party in Maryland next week.

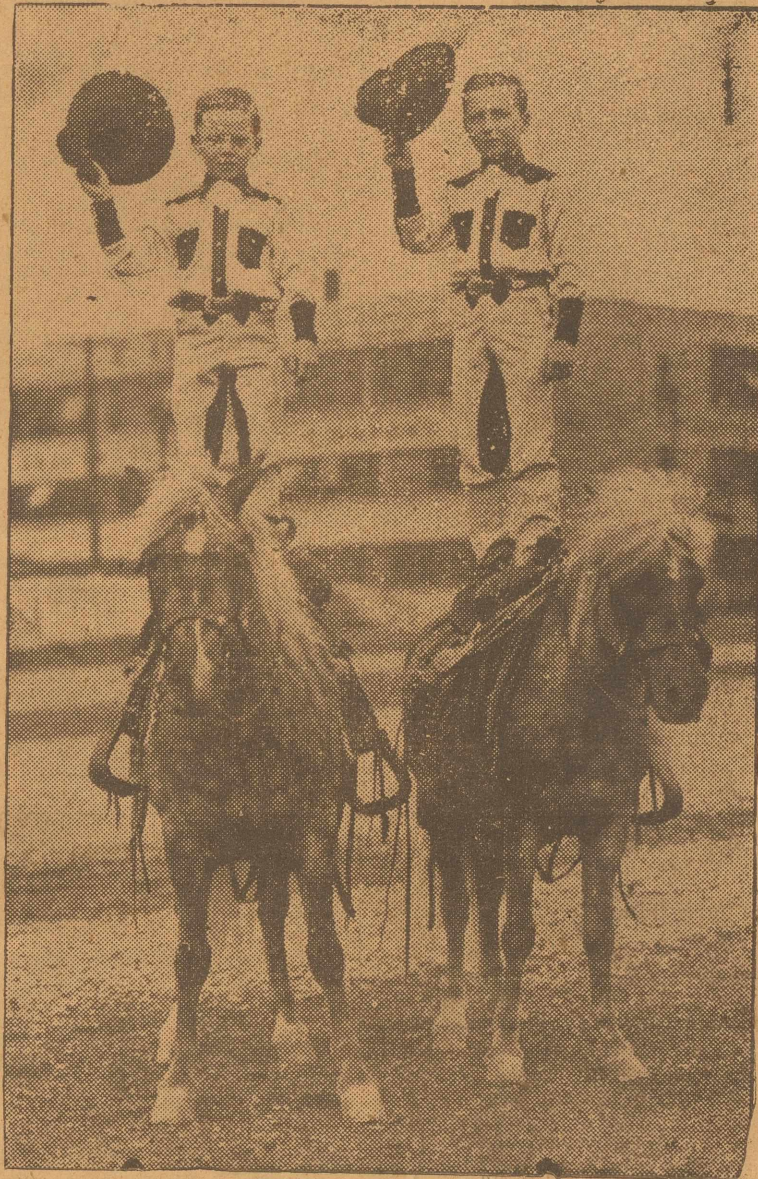

Two Additional Sponsors Named

Names of two sponsors, received today, brought to 25 the number of representatives from Texas and New Mexico communities who will enter the Cowgirl Sponsors' contest opening coincident with the Rodeo Saturday.

Mrs. J. F. Taylor has been named sponsor from Palestine and Miss Jo Ramsey sponsor from the Black River Ranch near Carlsbad, N. M.

HERE FROM McCAMEY. Miss Mary George Ramer and M. F. Discus, the latter alderman of McCamey, were here from the oil town Wednesday.

They've Been Before the Big Shots

Don and Gene McLaughlin, aged 8 and 7, respectively, were among the last feature attractions to be booked for the fourth annual Midland Rodeo but are expected to draw the "great big hand" which comes to the "tops in entertainment." These little fellows, sons of Bob McLaughlin of Del Rio, have been doing trick roping acts for five years and will fill their sixth consecutive engagement at Madison Square Garden, New York, October 7-30. With their ponies, Sass and Sue, both boys and horses are perfectly matched for attractiveness and rhythm of action. They will appear on each of the six programs, afternoon and night, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

All Sizes Await Rodeo Opening

When the gates of Midland Fair, Inc., swing open just before 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for the fourth annual Midland Rodeo, all sizes of rodeo enthusiasts will be awaiting the gala three day and night western event. Among those who have worn their rodeo regalia for the past two weeks are Kermit Wright, 7 feet-4 inches, electric refrigerator salesman; James P. Harrison, 6 feet, advertising manager of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, and Newell Beauchamp Jr., 45 inches tall, who is one of the paper's newsmen.

$15,000 Ransom Demanded After Woman Is Kidnaped

YUBA CITY, Calif., Sept. 2. (AP). — Two masked men kidnaped Mrs. William Meeks, 55, wife of a Sutter county rancher, from her home early today, demanding $15,000 ransom that her husband said he could not raise.

"We'll contact you in a couple of days for $15,000," Meeks said the men announced as they carried his wife, bound hand and foot, from the home. Meeks was left trussed on the living room floor.

The men fled in the rancher's automobile. It was later found abandoned at Marysville, near Yuba City.

The men spoke with an "Oklahoma accent," Meeks said. One carried a pistol. They were believed to be dust bowl refugees employed as transient workers in the fruit harvest. The men entered the house last night as Meeks had some guests farewell, and bound the couple before the kidnaping. FBI, state and county forces launched a search for the men.

The two men paid $75 for the bale, approximately 13 cents a pound. A bonus is also being raised to give the growers of the bale, T. E. Bizzell and Joe Barnett.

Hitler and Henlein in Conference

Czech Solution to Minority Question Refused by Pair

By Associated Press. Rising tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia pivoted today on a second momentous conference at Berchtesgaden. Chancellor Hitler saw Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German leader, today in a private conference in his mountain retreat. A spokesman said they discussed more important and sweeping questions than yesterday when they were reported to have rejected Czechoslovak proposals and agreed to offer counter proposals.

Through Henlein, via Lord Runciman, Britain was said to have sent another plea for peace with Hitler. An official announcement following the conference between Hitler and Henlein said both were "in complete accord on their judgement of the situation."

Czechoslovakia apprehensively marked time as she received reports Hitler was willing to accept nothing less than a plebiscite Sudeten autonomy.

In Paris, the strike of 14,000 textile workers added problems facing the French cabinet. The workers protested proposed pay cuts ranging from 11 to 19 per cent.

At Lille, 800 municipal street car employees refused to begin service and residents were forced to walk to work. The cabinet met in a special session to consider the labor and international situation.

Second Large Well For Emma Area Promised Today

By FRANK GARDNER. Second big producer for the Emma area of southern Andrews was in prospect today as Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 2 Emma Cowden, east offset to Monticello (former Rhodes, Tompkins and Donnelly) No. 1 Emma Cowden, flush production discovery filled with oil and made its first flow at 4,200 feet. No estimates were available on size of the flow. The well was reported drilling about 4,200 feet. First show of oil and gas came in from 4,188-93, and increase was probably logged from that point to 4,200. The Sinclair-Prairie test is in the northwest corner of the east half of section 1 block 44, township 2 north, T. & P. survey.

Monticello No. 2 Emma Cowden, west offset to the discovery, drilled plug from 7-inch casing set at 4,019 feet and is drilling now below 4,025 feet in lime. It is being drilled in with rotary, whereas the Sinclair-Prairie well is being drilled in with cable tools.

Fuhrman Petroleum Company No. 1 Ashton, test seeking a one-mile west extension of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, is drilling at 4,331 feet in lime. Stains of oil were evident in cores from 4,245-63. Vacuum East Outpost.

New wildcat location east of the Vacuum pool in Lea county, southeastern New Mexico, has been staked by Phillips Petroleum Company at No. 11 Santa Fe, 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 26-17s-35e. It is a mile east and a location north of Phillips No. 7 Santa Fe, farthest east producer, which flowed 208 barrels, naturally, in five hours for completion last week. No. 11 Santa Fe is also a mile north and three-quarters of a mile west of Helmerich & Payne and Conoco No. 1-G-36 State, wildcat in section 36-17s-35e, which at last reports had drilled to 4,351 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Out of the Chute Like a Cyclone

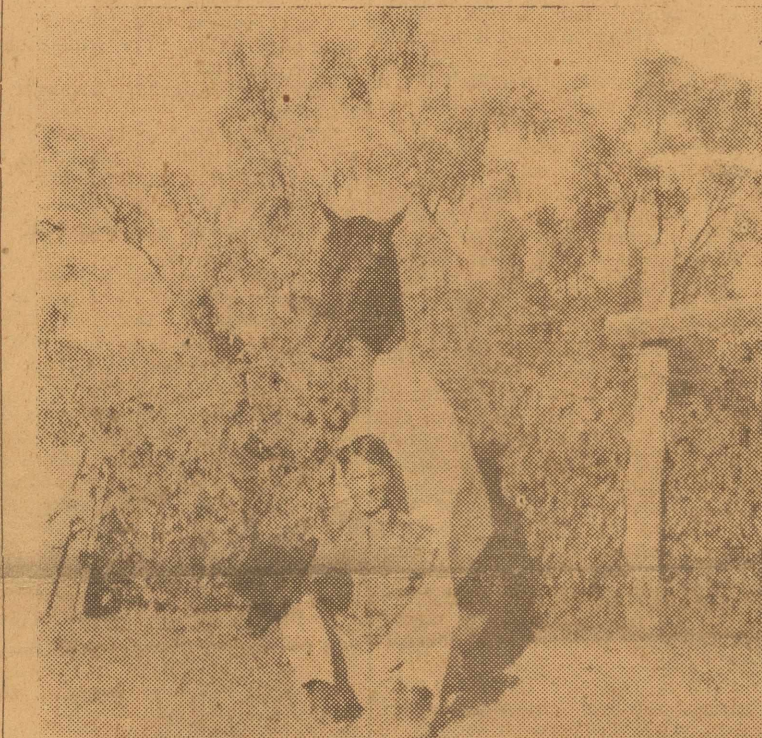

The giant Brahma bulls contracted to Midland Fair, Inc., by Beutler Bros. of Elk City, Okla., for the fourth annual Midland Rodeo which opens Saturday afternoon for three days and nights, will provide tremors for the timid and satisfaction for the blood-thirsty. Coming out of the chute with the mad fury of a cyclone, each Brahma may be depended upon to do his worst. In the above picture, Whitey Stuart, one of the best steer riders of the rodeo world, is scratching the big Number Nine Brahma which will be seen in action at Midland Rodeo.

Makes 'em Wild

Although a mild-mannered man himself, this rancher and rodeo man de luxe, Lynn Beutler, who is furnishing the saddle broncs and Brahma steers for Midland Rodeo, will have nothing but the wildest of stock. The longer he handles them, the wilder they get. "Second only to Col. Johnson," was the way one commentator described him, but his results show that he may not be second to any rodeo promoter.

Here's Professor "Cry Baby"

One of the cleverest specialty acts on the Midland Rodeo program this showing will be Tom Donalson and his educated horse, Cry Baby. Those who have seen the handsome paint go through his repertoire declare that he is so far ahead of a high school horse that he should be awarded a Ph.D. He will be seen on each of the six programs, getting his trainer out of tight scrapes and otherwise demonstrating his superior animal intelligence.

Here Saturday

Always a welcome visitor to Midland is Congressman Ewing Thomason of the sixteenth district, in which Midland is located. A member of the committee on military affairs, he is known as one of the most able and level headed congressmen of the present time. He will be in Midland all day Saturday, riding in the parade and otherwise enjoying the opening day of the annual Midland Rodeo. Thousands of his constituents will meet him at Midland.

Oilmen's Day Opens Celebration

Parade of 250 Horsemen First On the Docket

Steer number nine out of chute number six! Turn him out!

The big show starts Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, after a parade of 250 mounted horsemen through the downtown streets of Midland at one o'clock.

Midland Fair's fourth annual rodeo was ready today to open for its three afternoon and night shows, to be staged at the $60,000 plant Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Saturday is oil men's day, to be featured by an oil men's calf roping contest, along with the full program of cowboy contests, sponsors' show and outstanding feature attractions. Ten oil men from as many towns will compete for prizes of wide brimmed hats and shop made boots. Among the celebrities to be here on the opening day will be Congressman R. E. Thomason of the sixteenth district and member of the house committee on military affairs.

Early Ticket Sale

Tickets will be on sale in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer Saturday morning at 9:15 o'clock, and the box offices at fair grounds main gates will be open for ticket sales at 12 o'clock noon for the day show and at 6:30 p. m. for the night show. Admission is 75 cents for adults, including grandstand. Children under 12 years will be admitted for 25 cents, including grandstand. A few newly constructed boxes, at the front of the grandstand, were available this morning and may be purchased for the entire show by calling at the rodeo office, across Wall street from the Scharbauer coffee shop. O'Daniel Here Monday.

All attendance records are expected to be shattered at the 1938 rodeo. Estimated crowds for Saturday have been placed at 10,000, while Sunday should be as large or larger. Monday's attendance undoubtedly will break all previous records, with the visit here of Governor Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel, his family members, his pastor, Dr. Leslie Finnell, and Mrs. Finnell, and members of the famous Hill Billy band, making up a party of sixteen. They will be met at the 8:40 a. m. train Monday by the Midland high school band, a reception committee and mounted escort, and taken by automobile to Hotel Scharbauer where the governor's suite and other accommodations have been reserved during the day. A breakfast will compliment the honor or guests. They will return to Fort Worth by train after the night show Monday, the Hill Billy band being scheduled for entertainment at both rodeo performances. A special platform box, with seating capacity of sixteen, has been constructed at the grandstand, in the most central location, to provide best possible view of the arena for the visitors, also making them the center of attraction for spectators in the grandstand. Use Main Gates. Gate Men Bob Hill and Marion Flynn today issued the following information, to save time for those attending the rodeo and to allow the tremendous crowds to pass through the turnstiles with a minimum of delay: Drive to the west side, or main entrance of the fair grounds parking area, as the south gate on the highway will be closed. Come to ticket windows to buy tickets, or get them at the hotel lobby after 9:15 a. m. then enter on foot through the main, or central gates. All horsemen, concession trucks or feed trucks will enter at the north gate. Only the center and north gates will be open. Horsemen entering the north gate after the street parade Saturday were advised to purchase tickets in advance and to have the tickets ready when they arrive at the gate. No one may enter without ticket. Fair grounds must be cleared by 12 o'clock noon each day and by 6 p. m. each evening, it was advised, those entering after those hours being required to have tickets. Parade at One. All horsemen are invited to ride in the street parade, according to George Glass, H. G. Bedford and El-See (Rodeo) Page Six.

Further curtailment of cultural activities of Jews is anticipated when the fascist grand council meets October 1.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
LINDA GORDON—heroine. She gave up Manhattan to return to her Blue Grass.
BRUCE RADFORD—news-paperman. He would give up anything for Linda.
UNCLE SANDY—horseman. He would give up anything, too, for a good horse.
MONTE HILL—rich racing devotee. He also wanted Linda.

Yesterday: Just as the auctioning of Golden Toy is about to begin a big car silthers to a stop at the barns.

CHAPTER V
A MAN leaped from the car, a powerfully-built fellow in form-fitting gray tweeds. As he started toward the barn the crowd gave way. He marched straight to the auctioneer.

Linda Gordon gave a start. "Monte Hill!" she exclaimed to her uncle. He turned a puzzled face toward her. "Friend of mine, won the Juvenile Stakes last week," she explained quickly, then stepped forward. But Monte Hill was 25 feet from her, with eyes on the auctioneer. This man spent money. "Sale just starting—to the highest bidder—the Radford colts. Cash on the barrel head, and no reasonable bid refused. Now I offer—"

Again his voice went into singing. "Golden Toy, 2 years old, by Pompey, out of Toy Girl, by Lord Goldman. Half-brother of the great Pompon, winner of the Belmont Futurity, the Dixie Handicap. Need I say more? What am I bid to open? Give me a nice breather, folks!" Linda had wanted to go to Monte's side, but things were moving too fast. She'd bid—then she'd catch his eye. "One hundred dollars!" She shouted the offer. The auctioneer's jaw dropped. He turned—all turned—and looked at Linda. The auctioneer seemed hard put to find words with which to express his feelings to a lady. Why, the bid was insulting! He began protesting, as Monte Hill stared across to Linda, surprise on his face. "I—ah—folks—folks! I can't stake such an offer. He should start at a couple of thousand!"

"Two—"
THE word rang out from the other side of the circle. Monte Hill stopped, whirled around to see who was making the bid. Greeting Linda Gordon could wait. This was business.

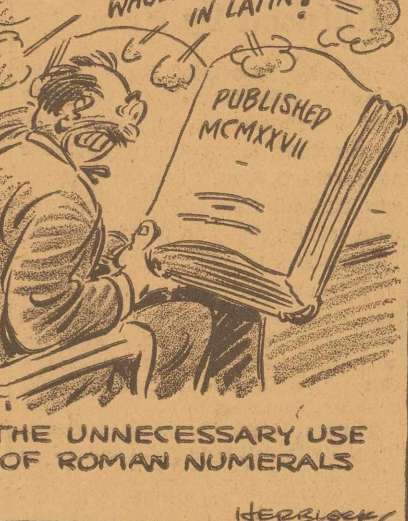

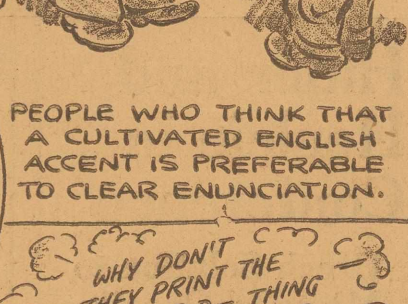

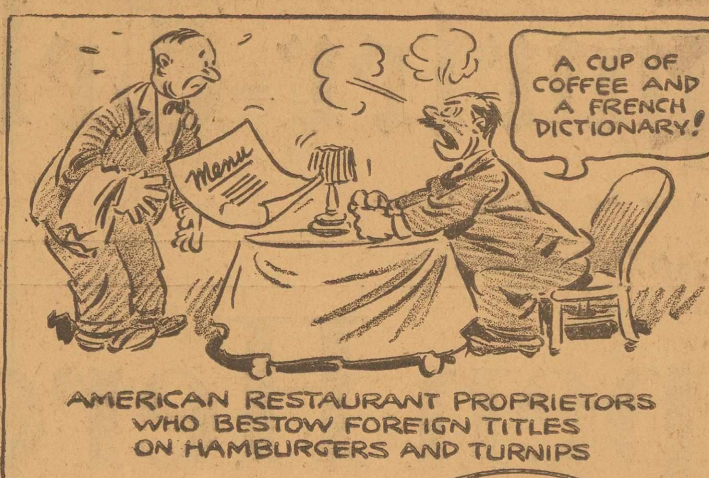

"Thank you, sir! Thank you, Mr. Donald! I'm bid two thousand!"

"My bid was two hundred—you didn't let me finish," the young man called out clearly. The auctioneer slapped his huge paunch in disgust. "What's this? Ladies and gentlemen, this is no game of marbles. We are selling one of the finest bred colts—"

"And fifty—that's two hundred and fifty from me!" Linda called. Monte Hill was at her side in three long steps. "Hello, Linda!" He seized her hands, spoke quickly: "Never mind—I'll bid him in."

"But I—I want him myself!" she exclaimed, freeing her hands, as the auctioneer cried for more bids. "Forget it! Women and racing—don't mix," Hill told her. "I'll get him." He whirled around. "What was that last bid, Mr. Auctioneer?" "I'm ashamed to tell you, sir. It was a measly little two hundred and fifty—"

HILL turned around. "You mean

Men are peculiar, just as women have long suspected. For instance, a fellow who hadn't kissed his wife in five years, shot a fellow who did. "Oh, what a strange-looking cow!" exclaimed the sweet young Alpha Phi from Chicago. "But why hasn't she any horns?" "Well, you see," explained the farmer, "some cows is born without horns and never had any, and others shed theirs, and some we dehorn, and some breeds 'em in," supposed to have horns at all. There's a lot of reason why some cows ain't got horns, but the reason why that cow ain't got horns is because she ain't a cow—she's a horse!

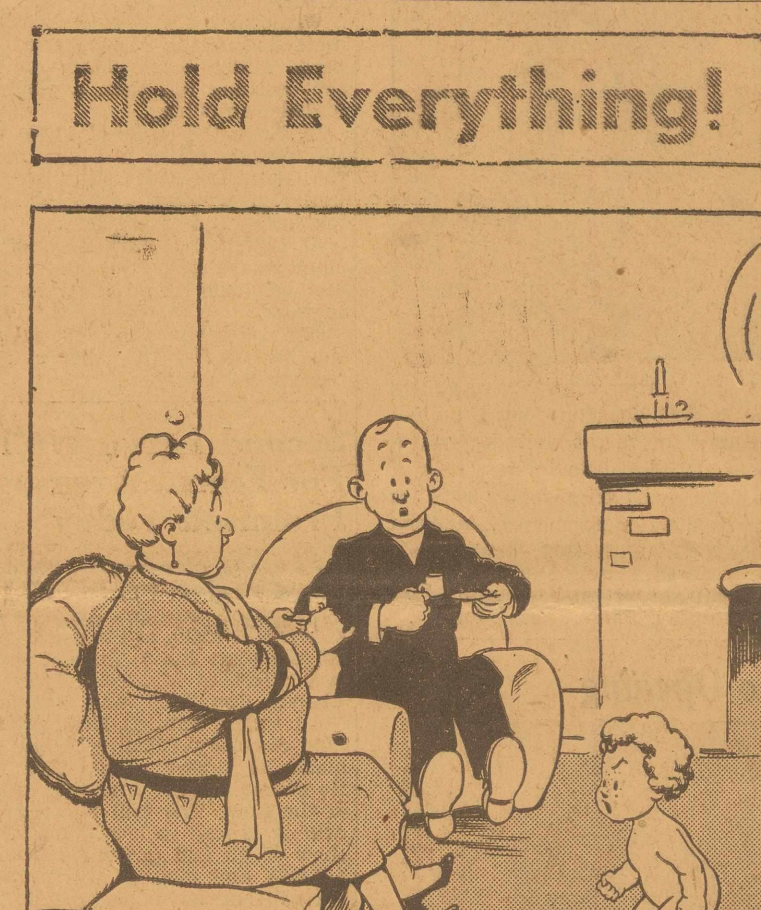

Halted by darkness after 13 hours and 20 minutes, Sue Riley and L. M. (Pie) Pfeffer played 180 holes to claim a world record for mixed marathon golfing in Akron, O. Miss Riley, 51-year-old grocery store keeper, averaged 85 strokes. Women's par was 74.

I can't bid on this horse?" he demanded. "What is this—Russia or the U. S. A.?" "It be Kentucky, Stranger—that's what!" "Glad you told me!" Monte Hill was fighting mad. "That being the case, I bid five hundred. How do you like that?" The unshaven one muttered to himself. "Gentlemen—gentlemen!" the auctioneer pleaded. "This is a lawful assembly. Our new friend has a legal right to bid, and I accept his bid—just as I took the young lady's."

"I'm bid five hundred for Golden Toy. We've just been joking so far—all in good fun." He rubbed his hands, turned his grinning, red face from side to side. "Gentlemen, step back a little—don't crowd the colt—he might whirl around and kick. That's it. Thank you! Thank you!" While he talked young Donald was circling the crowd till he reached Linda's side. She had stepped away from Hill. "I'm bid five hundred for Golden Toy, do I hear the thousand?" the auctioneer sing-songed. Donald looked straight at Linda, said in low, quick tones: "I want that colt—you want him. I've about gone the limit. I can go only five-fifty—"

He broke off, as the auctioneer addressed the girl: "Will the young lady make it a thousand? There's no rush, don't wish to hurry you, Miss. His voice wheedled, "Make it a thousand, Miss?" "I'll put my five-fifty with your money; we bid together. Own him fifty-fifty. How's that?" Linda made her decision in a split second. "I've six hundred. I'll take you if my uncle trains him," she nodded to Uncle Sandy, "and gets one-third of his wins, and one-third if we sell."

"Gandma, where th' heck are my foundation garments?"

Your Child's Future

THE biggest job you have ever had, parents,—that of caring for your children—is safeguarding their health so that their future happiness and success may be assured.

Nothing is more important to them than their eyes. No child is healthy without healthy eyes. No child can achieve success without good vision.

There's only one way to tell whether or not your children's vision is normal—have their eyes examined. Do it now before school begins.

Artist Will Arrive Here Today To Show Paintings

Mrs. Laury E. Venning, artist of New York and Texas, is expected to arrive in Midland today from Roswell, N. M., to exhibit a group of her paintings. In Roswell she has been giving a series of lectures on "A Century of Painting" in addition to displays of her pictures.

Known as the "sunrise" artist because she particularly likes to paint sunrise scenes, Mrs. Venning does portrait painting, murals, and special interior decorating in the home in addition to her landscape and still-life work, her lectures, and writing.

The artist, who has a circle of acquaintances here from former visits, stops annually at Midland to exhibit some of her work.

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

We had thought the "doll hats" were only a fad. But if so, they are growing more and more popular. When they are becoming, for we are perfectly aware they must be chosen with care, they are infinitely attractive.

For the next month, children of Midland will be playing a new game. Whole flocks of small boys and girls will vow that their greatest ambition in life is to be a champion cowboy or a cowgirl. And for the moment, they will believe it wholeheartedly.

Just as most of us grownups will feel, whether we confess it or not, that fundamentally what we'd rather do than anything is to live on a ranch and do all the things, riding, roping, handling wild cattle and horses, which look so romantically dashing in the rodeo arena—and are such desperately hard plain work when they are done in the humdrum routine of ranch life.

There's no doubt about it—rodeo time does have a charm of its own. No matter how far away from the soil we get at other times of the year—no matter how few times we've thought of horses, and the clink of spurs, and the crystal-clear vital quality of a still dawn spreading over gently-rolling plains—when rodeo time comes we go back to our old allegiance. There's a nostalgia for country life and its hard work and its independence for the element of danger and the tinge of recklessness that colors all work on the range.

Sentimental? Well, maybe. But if it be sentimentality, make the most of it!

Speaking of Sponsors . . . . .

With 25 sponsors entered, the cowgirls' contest of the rodeo promises to be one of color, competition, and pulchritude.

Big girls, little girls, blondes, brunettes, redheads, serious girls, frivolous girls—girls, in short, to suit all fancies—will be among those who parade before the judges during the week-end to win the coveted honor of first place in the sponsors' event.

Hobbies that range from designing hats and keeping house to collecting pocket knives and western incidentals; color favorites going from green to red and back again; movie star favorites from "Popeye" to Tyrone Power—and dozens of other preferences depict the many-sided interests and the fascinatingly varied characters of the girls and young married women who will compete.

Likes Housekeeping.
Mrs. Georgia O'Brien Clements, Monahans sponsor, probably ranks 100 per cent in the favor of her husband, not only when she's on horseback but also across the breakfast table and elsewhere in the house for her hobby is housekeeping.

She's likely a grand Fourth of July companion, too, for her favorite sport, beside riding, is fishing. For recreation she chooses dancing.

A blue-eyed brunette, she is only five feet tall.

Her favorite color is blue and her favorite picture stars are Myrna Loy (she's popular with women as well as men, that girl,) and Franchot Tone.

Her chief ambition is one that is serious enough and big enough to require three-score years and ten to achieve: To make a success of life.

Mrs. Clements is the daughter of G. W. O'Brien, pioneer Ward county cattleman.

Collects Arrow Heads.
Mrs. Phyllis Ingham, who represents McCamey in the cowgirl sponsors' contest, collects arrow heads as her hobby.

Her chief ambition, however, reflects a dominant interest in things domestic for she says it is "To learn to eat as fast as my husband."

Like most of the other sponsors, she prefers dancing for recreation and for sport she likes to hunt.

Pink is her favorite color of blonde-haired, blue-eyed Mrs. Ingham, who is five feet four inches tall.

James Stewart is her choice among cinema stars.

Likes Rodeos.
Gold is the chosen color of Miss Madeline Hancock, brown-eyed brunette upon whom Roswell, N. M., pins hopes for winning the sponsors' contest.

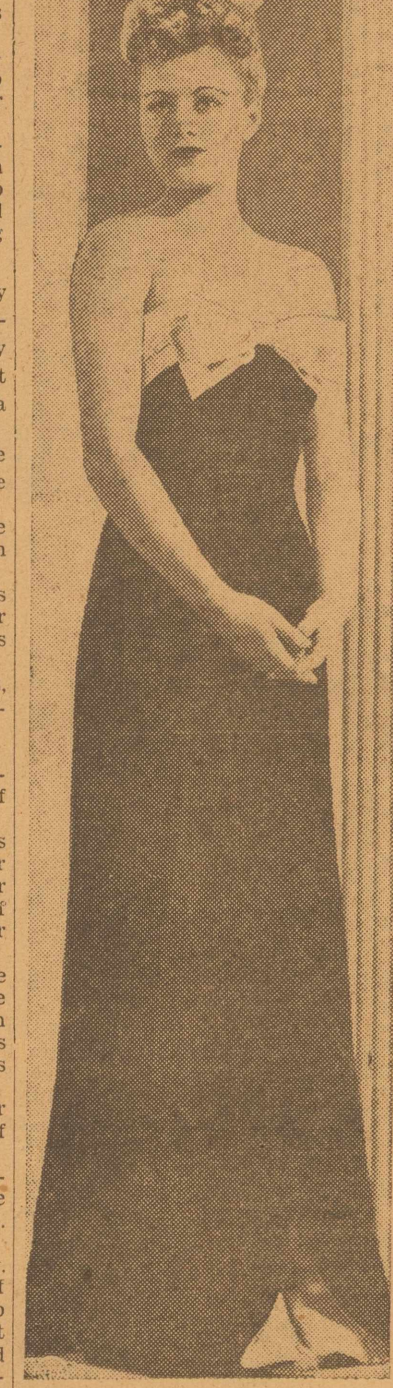

Attending rodeos as her favorite recreation and swimming for sport, the five-foot five and a half inch Roswell Miss has an unique hobby—she collects pocket-knives.

Barbara Stanwyck holds her allegiance among stars of the celluloid film.

Her chief ambition—"To be the best in whatever I do."

Designs Hats.
"I've been at the ranch for some time and do not get my mail until I come to town," wrote Mrs. Tura Bates McWilliams, sponsor from

Pink and Black

The strapless decollete of this lovely black velvet dinner gown is bordered with pink satin ribbon, tied in a flat, tailored bow to further accentuate the strapless line. The slightly flared skirt has an inverted V cut out at the bottom to show the pink satin lining.

(In addition to riding).
Joan Crawford and Ray Milland are her favorites of the screen.

Personals

Minister Harvey Childress returned Thursday from South Texas where he conducted meetings at Edna and at Beasley. He reported fine meetings and that he is home to work here another year. He returned by way of Dallas where Mrs. Childress, who had been visiting there, joined him for the trip to Midland.

Mrs. Frank Fulk returned Thursday from a visit to Fort Worth, Houston, and Galveston, swimming and fishing occupying the time spent at the latter city. She went with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Montgomery of Fort Stockton, and her sister, Miss Joan Montgomery who recently visited her here. Miss Montgomery sailed on the Algonquin for New York where she will be a student in Columbia university.

Mrs. Ira Proctor will leave tonight for Dallas, taking her baby son to a hospital there for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. De Vere Ladd of Mineral Wells are in Midland visiting her mother, Mrs. F. A. Smith Sr. They plan to remain for the rodeo.

ONE SMOKER TELLS ANOTHER:

"GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!"

MRS. ETHEL ARNOLD, tennis star, comments on nerve control—"So many tennis champions prefer Camels. Camels don't upset the nerves and spoil timing. I'm convinced Camels are made from COSTLIER TOBACCOS!"

MARSHALL WAYNE, Olympic platform diving champion, speaks decidedly for Camels. "After a strenuous competition I get a 'lift' with a Camel," he says. "And Camels sure help my digestion to hum along too."

AQUAPLANING IS FUN but it's exhausting too. That's one reason why Gloria Wheeden says: "When I feel d-r-a-g-g-y, a Camel gives my energy a swell 'lift.' And Camels are mild, delicate, yet full-flavored."

DOWN THE HUDSON—Albany to New York—in 3½ hours. Clayton Bishop, outboard motor racing star, did it. He says: "Camels never ruffle my nerves, and they give my energy a swell lift."

"IT'S CAMELS FOR ME!" declares Jane Fautz Manske, whose brilliant diving has brought her national fame. She adds: "After a diving exhibition when I feel exhausted, I welcome the 'lift' in energy I get with a Camel. Camels give me a swell sense of well-being—especially during and after meals. Camels certainly add to the joy of living. They're so mild and fine-flavored!"

SWIMMING RECORDS FALL before Lenore Kight Wingard. Lenore remarks: "Camels never tire my taste or get on my nerves. When I feel taut after a meet, a Camel helps ease the tension. Another thing—Camels are so mild—they never irritate my throat."

RALPH GULDAHL, twice winner of U. S. Open golf crown, says: "One thing about Camels is the 'lift' in energy they give. I've smoked Camels 10 years and I've never known them to jangle my nerves. I appreciate Camels."

By the Dawn's Early Light

The Star-Spangled Banner still waves—but not o'er much more than a pile of broken bricks and shattered timbers. This was what remained of St. Hilda's School for Girls, American missionary institution at Wichang, China, after Japanese bombers attacked the city. The American flag waving over the school failed to save it from the raiders, who claim such casualties are unavoidable in aerial warfare.

Host to G. O. P. 'Cornfield' Fete

Indiana's "Cornfield Conference," fathered by native Hoosier Homer E. Capehart, Buffalo, N. Y., musical instrument company executive, served as the "kickoff" for the 1938 national G. O. P. campaign. Pictured here is Capehart, bitter New Deal opponent, as he supervised finishing touches on the speakers' rostrum at the Washington, Ind., scene of the rally.

Builds Fort in Five Hours

Government officials visioned an American "Maginot line" thrown up in less than a day, after Karl Billner, New York concrete company representative, demonstrated in Washington that a bomb proof structure with 12-inch walls can be constructed in five hours with a new vacuum process of setting concrete. Billner is shown above with the completed fort, which accommodates 20 persons.

It's Official Now

George H. Davis, Colorado All-American, makes his decision to turn pro official, by putting his signature on a contract calling for $15,000 for one season's play in the National Professional Football League with the Pittsburgh Pirates. White signed only after being reassured he could take advantage of his Rhodes Scholarship next February.

C. of C. President Hits Wagner Act

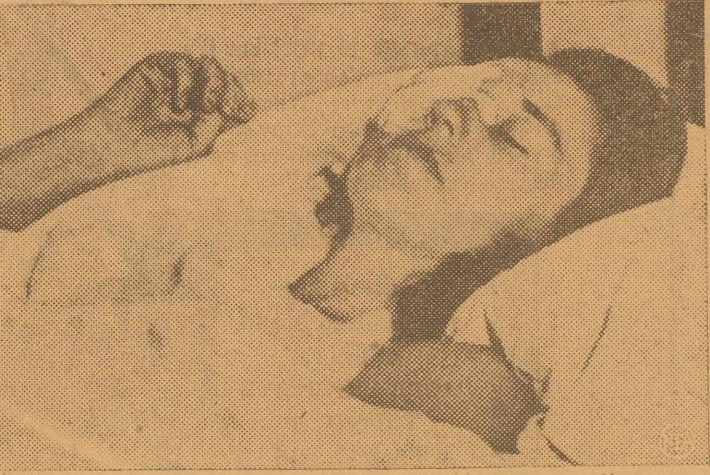

Broad changes in the Wagner Labor Relations Act are urged by President George H. Davis, above, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. In Washington he advocated amendments to the act because, he said, proceedings of the National Labor Relations Board "have not been fair and impartial."

Sign Their Names, Lose Their Jewels

The show of course must go on, and here exotic Tallulah Bankhead and actor-husband John Emery prepare for the next performance of "I Am Different," after reporting to Los Angeles police that an auto-graph seeker who got their signatures also got $900-worth of their jewels.

Mutilates Self in Religious Frenzy

"Wherefore, if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee." As she finished reading the biblical injunction during the nightly Bible lesson for her two children, Mrs. Irene Harwell, in a frenzy of religious zeal went to the rear of her cabin in Merced, Calif., chopped off her left hand and gouged out her right eye with scissors. She is shown here recovering in a hospital.

Floods Can't Drown Out Jap Guns

Knee-deep in the swirling flood waters of the Yellow river, a Japanese anti-aircraft detachment is shown above as it loosed a barrage of shells against Chinese planes. This picture was made as the invaders continued their desperate onslaught on Hankow, main objective of their "big push." Note the exploded shell falling into the water with a splash while a soldier shoves new ammunition into the huge gun.

many other examples of Indian picture-writing in caves in other portions of the state that have not yet been studied, however, and he is anxious that any person who knows of the existence of such paintings bring the fact to his attention. Though it is just off the press, this bulletin is proving a popular one, and many social studies teachers over the state are asking for copies to aid them in preparing material on Indian picture-writing for their classes. "Mr. Jackson has done in this bulletin a careful, accurate and thoroughly dependable piece of field work which, because of the rapid disappearance of the pictographs under present conditions, was badly in need of being done." J. E. Pearce, editor of the Anthropology Papers, said in his preface to the bulletin. "The vandalistic activities of commercial pot-hunting amateurs and manic collectors in their digging up the middens, cave floors and burial places of the early inhabitants are annoyingly destructive, but they are angels of enlightenment compared with the ignorant, egotistical asses who take pots of paint to the bluffs, rock shelters and caves where the early inhabitants left pictographic records of their thoughts and activities and spread their own names or initials with their idiotic vaporous musings over these ancient records. "The writer has been collecting these specimens over a period of six or eight years of field work in archaeology for the University of Texas and their collection represents a prodigious amount of labor. While there are yet a great many specimens uncollected, they are largely in the more inaccessible places and will probably be destroyed less rapidly than those reproduced here. "It is hoped and expected that this little book will serve as source material for the students of the history of civilization who are especially interested in the psychology and genesis of the fine arts of sculpture and painting and in the evolution of writing. It is hoped, also, that later Mr. Jackson may find time and opportunity to record in a like volume all extant specimens of petroglyphs and pictographs in Texas that have escaped this one. "There has not been time, technical learning, nor sources for comparison to work out an exhaustive interpretation of the figures and symbols here recorded. Many of the explanations brought forward are tentative while some we feel are final. Since the ethnology of the Texas tribes has been almost hopelessly lost, final explanations in many cases will certainly never be achieved. But we hope that what is here put down will prove to be of interest to the intelligent general reader and not without interest and value to technical research workers in the history and psychology of the early arts."

CARDINALS AND PIONEERS RAINED OUT; LUBBOCK WINS THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

CLOVIS, Sept. 2 (Special).—Rain, ed out in their scheduled game last night, the Clovis Pioneers and Midland Cardinals tonight will resume their fight for a place in the finals of the WTNM league play-off.

The Lubbock Hubbers clinched a place last night by handing Wink the third defeat in a row, by a score of 4-3 in 10 innings.

Midland and Clovis are tied at one game each and the first to win three games will meet the Hubbers in the finals. The first two games were played in Midland and the remainder of the games will be played in Clovis.

Both managers tonight will string along with their pitching choices of last night, Parks for Midland and Christie for Clovis.

The rain last night proved a tion is expected Saturday.

Opening the rodeo at the fair grounds at 2 o'clock will be the grand entry of officials, contestants and sponsors, with brief introductions. The Gulf loud speaking equipment will be used for all announcements, and Bob Calen, WBAP entertainer, trick rope artist and widely known rodeo authority and performer, will be the announcer.

Contest events, for which $2,500 plus entrance fees, making a total of approximately $5,000 have been set up, include calf roping, team tying, saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, steer bull-dogging, steer riding, wild horse race, junior calf roping, cowgirls' calf roping, on each of the afternoon and night programs. Scores of contestants were here today, ready to enter.

Sponsors' Contest. The twenty-fifth cowgirl sponsor has entered the annual contest exemplifying beauty and horsemanship, for which handsome prizes are set aside, up to this morning. Each girl represents her home town. Final judging will be Monday morning. Several social events will honor the visitors and their escorts.

Souvenir programs, with supplement showing entries for each of the six shows, will be on sale at the grandstand. Chas. B. Kay has the program concession. Eating and drinking stands will be operated under the grandstand, with Bun

Grammer holding the concession.

Wild Livestock. Livestock for the saddle bronc and steer riding events have been contracted from Beutler Bros., Lynn and Jake, of Elk City, Okla., who are here in person to assist in making the rodeo one of the wildest shows ever seen in this section.

Some of their worst outlaw broncs are Amos and Andy, a pair of big matched pairs, Strawberry Roan, Antez, Powder River, Sayre Paint, Cheyenne and Honky Tonk. There are 25 broncs in the string, all of which will do their worst.

Equally obnoxious to the contestants are the Beutler Bros. Brahma bulls and stags, the biggest and toughest known to the arena. Two of them, Hughey Long and steer No. 6 have never yet been ridden. One of them weighs 1700 pounds, with the others not much smaller. The famous "Scharbauer dun" mares will be used in the bareback bronc riding. Past 350-pound Scharbauer calves have been rented for the calf roping, with lighter calves for the junior, oil men and cowgirl contests. The fair has a string of Mexico steers for bull-dogging and team tying contests. The fair's "KC" broncs will be used in the wild horse race.

Outstanding feature acts will be on each program. The rodeo committee expressed pleasure at being able to book, at the last minute, the famous McLaughlin boys, Don and Gene, who have appeared at Madison Square Garden in trick roping acts for five years and now only 8 and 7 years of age, respectively.

One of the acts expected to bring a lot of laughs to the 10,000 persons expected here for the three-day event is that of John Lindsey, widely known rodeo clown, and his educated mule. Hoover, their variety of stunts, mixed into the program between rodeo events, and the cleverness with which they are executed give this special act a top place on the program.

"Cry Baby" Booked. West Texans love horses and another feature act is built around the famous "Cry Baby" trained by Tom Donaldson of Miles. The Palomino gelding is said to be one of the smartest and most cunning animals ever seen in similar entertainment.

Donaldson and the horse work in perfect harmony in several different acts, which are to be featured between rodeo events. Each of the acts has a definite plot, with stunts timed to perfection.

"Cry Baby" gets his master out of difficult scrapes and in another scene rescues and takes care of his master who is shown to have been injured.

Another "big time" attraction booked for the Midland Rodeo is the Ross Sisters acrobatic act, a trio which performed in this year's Pecos and Hobbs rodeos so sensationally that there was a general request to the rodeo committee to schedule them for the Midland entertainment.

Bob Calen, besides being official announcer, will put on trick roping acts at each performance.

Oil Men Rope. One of the events Saturday looked forward to by the Permian Basin is the oil men's roping contest, for which "Doc" Doherty division superintendent of the Humble Oil & Refining Co. is corral boss. Entries include Pat Hurley, Continental Oil Co., Big Spring; Terry Roach, Humble, McCombs; Charley Alcorn, Falmouth-Seaboard Drilling Co., Tulsa; Glenn Staley, proration chief, Hobbs, K. L. Sappington, Shell Petroleum Corporation, Midland; Bill Brewster, Davidson Drilling Co., Odessa; Jess Hildreth, General Crude Oil Co., Wink; Charles Holley, Eastland Oil Co., Monahan; Weldon Brigrance, Rowan Drilling Co., Fort Worth; J. D. Bonner, Gulf Oil Corporation, Crane. Each roper will be required to "bell" his calf, fastest time naming the first, second and third place winners for which a Stetson hat and three pair of shop made boots are offered.

Judges named for the rodeo contests include Marion Edwards, Big Spring cattleman, Sheriff George Humphries, Guthrie, Texas, and a third to be named Saturday.

Fair and rodeo officials, including Clarence Scharbauer, president of Midland Fair, Inc.; Foy Proctor, general rodeo chairman; Donald Hildreth, Roy Parks, Leonard Proctor and John Dublin, rodeo committee men, frankly stated today that they expect the 1938 show to be by far the best ever staged in this section.

Time, effort and expense have not been spared to make it the "top" of western entertainment.

Cardenas Declares Rejection of Hull Note Will Be Made

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2 (AP).—President Lázaro Cardenas rejected Thursday that Mexico would reject Secretary Hull's request that expropriation of American-owned farm lands without immediate compensation be halted.

The government will continue its agrarian program, the president said firmly in a message opening a new session of congress, adding that the expropriated foreign oil industry would receive payment only for actual investments in Mexico.

The president, interrupted frequently by shouts of "viva president, long live the government," said his reply to Hull's note of Aug. 25 would be a reaffirmation of policies already set forth in his "Mexico for Mexicans" program.

Those policies were elaborated Aug. 3 when Mexico, replying to Hull's first note of July 23, said flatly she did not intend to halt reforms because she lacked money to pay for expropriated properties.

Hull in the July 23 note declared uncompensated seizure of American owned farm lands constituted "confiscation."

Agrarian reform has been one of the greatest demands of the Mexican people, Cardenas said. He termed "unjustified" Hull's suggestion for deposits guaranteeing payments for expropriated lands and made it clear there would be no submission of the question of arbitration under international law.

He emphasized that his government wished to continue friendly relations with the United States and noted "with satisfaction their desire for amicable solution of the question."

But, he added, Mexico "does not propose to follow the United States government in its viewpoint regarding the land question, and instead will ratify the Mexican attitude as expressed in previous notes."

Stewarts Take House Trailer On Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Stewart returned Wednesday from a vacation trip that lasted almost two months and took them through numerous scenic parts of the western states.

Leaving Midland July 5, they traveled to Los Angeles where they picked up the house trailer which accompanied them on their further journeyings by automobile. They traveled northward on the Pacific coast to Portland, Ore., where they turned inland. In Salem, they visited relatives who had spent years in the state and said the summer was unusually warm and dry.

They visited Yellowstone National park which they left hurriedly because of the dangers of a windstorm which uprooted huge trees, blocked roadways, and even crushed two cars. Continuing the swing homeward, they saw Denver, and Colorado Springs, Colo., and other points of interest.

The drive back from El Paso was very pleasant, Mrs. Stewart reported.

GUESTS FOR RODEO.

Mrs. M. C. Osborn will have a group of guests from out-of-town during the Rodeo week-end. Her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Jack and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Harris, all of Fort Worth, are expected to arrive tonight, with Mrs. Moreton R. Rutledge and Mrs. Jean Paul Wages, friends from Dallas arriving here at noon Saturday.

PATIENTS CONVALESCING.

J. C. Whigham, in a Midland hospital where he underwent a minor operation recently, was reported today to be convalescing.

GOES TO BAHRAIN.

E. A. Hoffman, formerly with the California company here but for the past two years stationed in Los Angeles and Berkeley, Calif., has been transferred to Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf.

DELAYED BY WEATHER.

Two ships, an A-17 which came from Kelly Field, and a P-12 which came from Wink, were delayed at the Midland airport today because of bad weather. An O-47, flown by Map Boyd, which came from Biggs Field at El Paso departed for Hensley Field at Dallas.

Jap Storm Leaves 99 Dead, Many Hurt

TOKYO, Sept. 2 (AP).—Japan, clearing away wreckage left by a 75-mile-an-hour typhoon last night counted at least 99 dead, scores injured or missing and property damage estimated as high as 100,000,000 yen ($28,000,000).

Authorities estimated the damage to shipping at Yokohama alone at 5,000,000 yen ($1,400,000).

The populous eastern section of the nation which bore the brunt of the typhoon between 2 a. m. and 6 a. m. resumed a near normal activity.

Trains, trams and buses were running and communications had been restored. School authorities said buildings might be kept shut for several days until inspection for damage.

Collapsing houses and landslides caused most of the deaths, but two Korean students were electrocuted as an electric wire snapped and coiled around them.

The typhoon struck on the 15th anniversary of the Tokyo earthquake in which 15,000 perished. Winds, leveling houses by the thousands, left an estimated 15,000 persons homeless in Tokyo alone.

Thirty-four passenger and freight vessels were driven aground, mostly at Yokohama.

Floods added havoc. Police reported an entire village of 300 houses was wiped out by floods in central Japan. Most residents were believed to have escaped.

Prison Officials Held Without Bail In 'Baking' Deaths

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2 (AP).—Superintendent William Mills, deputy Warden Frank Craven, ten guards and two physicians of the Philadelphia county prison were held without bail today for the grand jury.

A coroner's jury found them criminally negligent of the "baking" deaths of four convicts.

They were taken into custody in the crowded city hall at the conclusion of a three-day investigation.

Two Firemen Die When Wall Falls

FORT WORTH, Sept. 2 (AP).—Two city firemen were killed and three persons injured at a fire in a downtown garage late Thursday.

The injured were Firemen E. E. Carr, 35, injured back and fractured left leg; C. R. Harris, 28, who suffered a head injury when he fell as he was helping firemen handle a hose nozzle, and H. H. Cotton, 42, mechanics' helper, who suffered minor injuries.
