Hitler Demands Czech Sudeten Area

Czechs Move To Abolish 'Troopers'

Henlein Flees as Order for Arrest Given by Officials

PRAGUE, Sept. 16. (AP). — The premier's office announced tonight the Sudeten German party had been dissolved by the Czechoslovak government.

PRAGUE, Sept. 16. (AP). — Sources close to the Czechoslovak government said today it has approved preliminary steps for dissolution of the storm troops of Sudeten leader Konrad Henlein, who fled to Germany before a government decision to arrest him for treason.

The regional government province of Bohemia ordered a 24-hour time limit in which all residents of 53 provincial political districts must surrender arms stored in secret places.

These steps came as strikes broke out and oobushed staked the Sudeten region.

The Czechoslovak government last night ordered the arrest of Henlein on a charge of treason after the Sudeten German chieftain broadcast a proclamation his followers wanted union with Germany.

The government, moving swiftly to put down civil strife in Sudeten German territory, coupled its sudden action with an order extending martial law to 16 Sudeten districts where sporadic, minor disorders continued.

This turn of events, apparently ending all present possibilities of settling the Czechoslovak-Sudeten dispute, preceded by a few hours announcement the British mediation mission was returning to London to confer with the British government on the grave crisis.

A brief communique announced that Viscount Runciman, head of the "unofficial" British mission, and his principal aid, F. T. A. Ashton-Watkin, would fly to London at the behest of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain who conferred today with Adolf Hitler.

Government circles, meanwhile, said chances of settling by negotiations the Czechoslovak-Sudeten dispute, which threatens the peace of all Europe, had virtually reached the vanishing point.

Graham Loses Out In Contest Over Election Returns

A contest by county commissioner B. T. Graham of the election results in the democratic primary run-off, in which Graham was defeated by J. C. Brooks by a margin of three ballots was refused by the county democratic executive committee in session here yesterday.

Graham had protested five ballots cast for Brooks and the committee upheld his request on one of them, ruled the others were legal votes. Tossing out of the one ballot left Brooks with 67 votes and Graham with 65 votes.

Graham, represented by attorney T. D. Kimbrough, has three days in which to appeal the findings of the committee to district court, if he so desires. He had not announced at noon today whether or not he would file the appeal.

Counsel for Brooks, J. A. Seymour, requested the committee yesterday to acknowledge two absentee ballots cast for Brooks and thrown out by the election judges but the committee ruled that the judges were acting in line of duty by throwing out the ballots.

Pilot Hits High Line in Landing

A narrow escape from possibly serious injuries was credited to Lieutenant McCune, reserve officer from Hensley Field, Dallas, yesterday afternoon when he broke a high line wire in landing at Sloan Field.

The pilot apparently slightly misjudged his distance from the wires as he started to land on the edge of the field, hitting one of them with his landing gear and breaking it in two. However, no difficulty was experienced in the landing, his speed having been enough to keep the obstruction from slowing up the plane.

Where Peacemakers Seek Ballot Instead of Bullets

By NEA Service. Dark-shaded on the map above, and dark in its menace to European peace, is the fringe on the north, west, and south borders of Czechoslovakia. In that area the population is largely of German blood. It is in this darkened region that a plebiscite is being sought. Czech consent is asked by peacemakers to a proposal that if the people of these areas vote to detach themselves from the rest of the country and join the German-Austrian peoples that they be allowed to do so peacefully. This plan is complicated by the fact that there are patchy areas far in the interior of Czechoslovakia which also are largely German. Taking their name from the Sudetic Mountains of the north border, these "Sudeten Germans" are the minority problem, failure to solve which will almost surely involve Europe in war. The map itself shows this racial conflict, for notice that the names on it are Czech names, yet almost every town has also a German name: Eger, where conflict between Sudeten and Czech authorities has already taken place, is shown as Cheb above. Aussig, another turbulent area, is shown as Usti. Pilsen is Pizen, Prague is Praha, Karlovy Vary, Marienbad is Mariánske Lazne, Brunn is Brno, Pressburg is Bratislava, and so on.

Bloodshed and violence has already swept this border area as Sudeten paraded, demonstrated, and staged, disorderly scenes. Czech police who tried to put down the rioting were attacked, and Czech troops began to be brought up. Thus an "incident" is in the making which Hitler might readily use as justification to invade Czechoslovakia to protect residents of German blood.

Then the darkened border areas would also be the arena in which the first victims of the war would die, though the real military defense lines, after the border forts were crushed, lie along three parallel lines crossing the country at Prague and then successively farther east.

WPA Recreational Program Will Be Started in City

A far-reaching WPA recreational program in Midland will be started immediately, according to Louis Cure, Ablene, who will serve as superintendent of the job.

First work to be done on the program will be to erect playground equipment and do other work at the Mexican school. As soon as that part of the program is completed, work will be started on projects at the Negro school and South Ward school.

The program here was made possible through cooperation of the Lions club and the Woods W. Lynch post of the American Legion and the PTA organizations have been active in attempting to land the programs here.

The Lions club committee to assist in the work is composed of J. R. Norris, Claude O. Crane and Mrs. Ellis Conner. Representatives of the Legion are W. H. Hoffman, Mrs. H. C. Hanford, T. I. Beauchamp. The PTA committee member is Mrs. A. Van Kampen.

At a meeting in the county commissioner's room at the court house this morning, Crane was elected chairman of the organization. Cure

The football squad will attend in a body, special seats being reserved for the group in the church auditorium.

Coach L. W. Taylor will speak on the subject, "What Is Football Worth?"

Mr. Hind's sermon will deal with the subject, "Playing the Game." All parents of players and others interested, as well as all members of the regular congregation and the general public, are invited to be present at the service.

Eyston Returns to Track and Sets Up Record of 357 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 16. (AP). — Captain George Eyston drove his "Thunderbolt" to a new automobile speed record today when he average 357.5 miles an hour, bettering by more than seven miles an hour the record set yesterday by John Cobb, his English countryman.

Eyston had only recently set a new record of 343 miles an hour, only to see it smashed by Cobb yesterday. He had remained here for a chance to defeat Cobb's mark, should his own record be broken.

Cobb is expected to make an effort at breaking the new record in the immediate future.

O'Daniel Takes a Pot-Shot at the Papers of Texas

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16. (AP). — W. Lee O'Daniel, gubernatorial nominee, took a pot-shot at Texas newspapers Thursday, claiming some printed "things that are not true" and opposed the wishes of the "common citizens."

He said in a radio address he would explain "how some wolves in sheep's clothing are trying to cheat you old folks out of your pensions and the fight I am waging to try and prevent it."

O'Daniel said he had no resort to the radio to reach the people because "so much of the information printed in the newspapers is not true. In my opinion it is published for the sole purpose of misleading the common citizens of Texas."

The nominee also charged the recent state convention at Beaumont was "planted full of howling, disgruntled, defeated professional politicians and their henchmen."

O'Daniel was howled down when he sought to explain his pensions stand to the convention. He said, however, "we won the fight." His pension plank was written into the platform.

"The professional politicians," O'Daniel asserted, "and the newspapers which are supported by their advertising are just as bitter against the things the common citizens want as they were during the campaign."

He charged "these enemies are aiming their attack on me."

In a departure from his prepared speech, however, he said, "I am glad there are some splendid newspapers in Texas which print the truth."

WANTS ASSURANCE ON FOREIGN POLICY

BERLIN, Sept. 16. (AP). — Adolf Hitler was said today to have demanded both cession to Germany of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten area and binding assurance Czechoslovakia's foreign policy should be in harmony with Germany's.

This information was volunteered by a man who talked with chancellery officials at Berchtesgaden where Hitler received Prime Minister Chamberlain of England yesterday.

Four-Power Peace Pact Looms After Chamberlain Visit

LONDON, Sept. 16. (AP). — A four-power pact to cement Europe's shaky peace structure loomed large last night in conjecture stemming from Prime Ministers Neville Chamberlain's hasty flight to see Adolf Hitler and quick decision to return.

British officials were tight-lipped on the Berchtesgaden conference, however.

Diplomats and informed observers envisaged three principal possibilities of the three hours Chamberlain spent with Hitler in his mountain lodge:

1. Hitler may have suggested a four-power pact among Britain, France, Germany and Italy to guarantee Europe's peace.

2. He may have demanded a plebiscite under which Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority could "choose its own destiny."

3. He may have told Chamberlain outright annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten fringe was the only way to avoid war.

In any event, most sources believed Chamberlain was coming back because Hitler had made such far-reaching proposals the British prime minister could not commit himself. See (FOUR-POWER) Page Four.

Roosevelt Back in Capital, Closely Watching War News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP). — President Roosevelt called in Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau and Norman Davis today on a canvass of possible effects of European developments on American neutrality policy, trade agreements and international finance. Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said these phases were "being more or less seriously discussed and considered."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP). — President Roosevelt arrived here shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday evening and conferred aboard his special train with Secretary of State Hull. Presumably they discussed Europe's crisis.

The Chief Executive, returning after a visit to Rochester, Minn., talked with Hull for 15 minutes before the two left the train. Mr. Roosevelt had gone to Rochester to be present during an operation on his son, James.

"The historic conference between the prime minister of Great Britain and the Chancellor of Germany is naturally being observed with the greatest interest by all nations which are deeply concerned with the preservation of peace."

State Department officials expected to receive initial reports on the conference between Adolf Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain in time for discussion by the president and the secretary shortly, and to go directly to the White House for his conversation with Hull.

At his press conference here, Hull said this government had no observer at the Chamberlain-Hitler meeting.

The State Department disclosed, meantime, that Great Britain had taken first steps toward getting the 400 airplanes she has ordered in this country.

Licenses for arms and munitions exports to Britain, totaling $1,152,293.45 were issued in August.

Legion Commander Off to Convention

W. H. Hoffman, commander of the local Woods W. Lynch Post No. 19 of the American Legion, left this afternoon for Sweetwater where he will tonight board and American Legion special train bound for Los Angeles and the National American Legion Convention starting there Sunday. He will be gone about 10 days.

Hoffman last year attended the National Legion convention in New York City, going from there to Europe where he visited several countries with the American Legion pilgrimage.

County Schools Plan for Year Of Progress

Midland county's eight rural schools, terms of which opened Sept. 5 or Sept. 12, apparently face a year of progress with several important changes marking the attempt to build up the efficiency of the county system.

One additional teacher was added at Prairie Lee, making its faculty of four the largest among the county schools.

Sixteen high school pupils of Stokes school have been transferred to Courtney high school in Martin county and the former principal, M. W. Alcorn is a member of the Courtney faculty this year. Mrs. Blanche Alcorn remains at Stokes to conduct the primary work of the school there.

Ninth grade pupils of the Cotton Flat school have been transferred to Midland high school.

A brief outline of the schools and their recent accomplishments or aims for the year follows:

Prairie Lee. Robert Sells, principal. Mrs. W. E. Pigg, intermediate grades. Mrs. Fay Smithson, intermediate grades.

Cotton Flat. Mrs. Robert Sells, primary. School opened Sept. 12 with an enrollment of 90 pupils as contrasted with 99 in 1937. One teacher was added this year.

Valley View. Leonard L. Alcorn, principal. Mrs. Leonard L. Alcorn, primary. School opened Sept. 12 with an enrollment of 54 for this year as against 43 for 1937.

McClintic. Mrs. Ruth Hazlewood, principal. School opened Sept. 12 with an enrollment of 10 for this year, as opposed to 13 for last year.

Plans were made to standardize the school this year.

Stokes. Mrs. Blanche Alcorn, principal. School opened Sept. 5 with an enrollment of 16 for this year as against 31 for 1937. 16 high school pupils have transferred to Courtney.

The school room has been painted and some primary tables and chairs and new blackboards with bulletin board tops have been purchased.

Cotton Flat. Miss Christine Moore, principal. Miss Lucile Wilmet, primary. School opened Sept. 5 with an enrollment of 19 for this year, as against 26 for last year. Three pupils transferred to Midland high school.

Cotton Flat has pioneered in giving state examinations in its eighth grades and plans are being made to give these in all grades this year.

Pleasant Valley. Miss Helen Lee Stewart, principal. Miss Maxine Bell, primary grades. School opened Sept. 12 with 18 pupils enrolled in contrast to 27 for last year.

Stephenson. Mrs. Edith Abbott Wilson, principal. School opened Sept. 5 with 15 enrolled as against 18 for 1937. Mrs. Wilson this summer made an extended tour of the Western States and Canada, bringing back an in-

Football Time, Football Weather; It's a Grand and Glorious Feeling

No time of the year is more exhilarating time of the year than the early fall, with its cooler mornings and evenings, its sharp, clear air and the resultant germination of "vim, vigor and vitality."

And there's no more enjoyable season to the sports fan than football time. Combining the pleasure of a fall morning with the anticipation of the season's first game on the home gridiron may be calculated to cause a fan to step lightly, to champ at the bits, figuratively speaking, as he contemplates the evening's entertainment.

Today is the day and tonight is the night. The Midland High School Bulldogs of 1938 meet their first opponents at Lackey field. One who wants to mix a strong dose of pleasure with his fall business will not want to miss the opening game. See the first one and after that the gate receipts will take care of themselves.

Local Contests Determine The National Issues

By BRUCE CATTON.

All of this talk about the presidential party "purge" may be turning into something of a bore, but it ought to have one useful by-product; it is emphasizing anew the importance of the various state elections.

Although we do about as much talking about politics as any people alive, we Americans really don't pay a great deal of attention to it. Our four-year presidential contests are gaudy three-ring circuses, and so we give them a lot of our time. But between these elections we have a way of settling back and forgetting about politics, elections, candidates, and all the rest.

This works out beautifully for the politicians and the pressure groups and badly for everyone else.

One of the most obvious but little-understood facts of American politics is that all of these state elections are fundamentally more important than the presidential elections.

Presidents, after all, must work through their congresses; governors must work through their legislatures. And although a candidate for the presidency or for a governorship may expound a platform and stir up sentiment on an issue, in the end the fate of his platform and his issue will be settled by congress and legislature. Men who were elected in contests that drew very little public attention are usually the final arbiters of state and national programs.

So a people that really wants its governing bodies to be fully responsive to public sentiment can never afford to let these off-year, local contests go by default. Unless it stays interested in them and searches out their hidden issues and sub-surface meanings with all the care it devotes to presidential elections, it is apt to find itself saddled with a great number of elected representatives who represent someone's selfish interest rather than the general good.

That is precisely what has been happening in this country for many a weary decade. It explains why lobbyists have such power at Washington and in the state capitals. It explains why political machines are able to keep their grip on certain regions despite perennial revelations of their corruption. It explains why congress contains so many men who represent vested interests rather than the plain people.

In other words, we pay a very high price for our lazy habit of letting ordinary elections take care of themselves. And it is here—to repeat—that all of this talk about the "purge" may do us some good.

This talk helps to focus attention on the importance of these elections. It is a reminder that the citizen's responsibility is not simply a matter of going to the polls once in four years, but is a continuing thing which calls for an alert, unflagging interest and energy.

'Still Trying to Get Somewhere, Buddy?'

BABSON'S AUTHENTIC STATEMENT ON CURRENT ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

Copyright—1938—Publishers

Financial Bureau
BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 15.—If I were a Southerner, I would not like the sudden dubbing of my section as the country's "No. 1 Economic Problem." If this were 50 years ago or even 20 years ago, such publicity and concern at Washington would have been a big boon to the South. The plain unvarnished truth, however, is that the South is now no longer the nation's "No. 1 Economic Problem."

In the last decade, Dixie has thrown off her economic shackles. She is today the fastest-growing section, both in business and in population, of the United States. Her twin handicaps—the lack of industry, and over-emphasis on cotton—have been unlocked. As a result, the South is growing by leaps and bounds. There are limitless opportunities today in every state from Virginia to California.

GROUNDWORK FOR NEW COUP

President Roosevelt and his advisers know this as well as I do. By their sudden emphasis on the "Southern problem," they are dragging the proverbial "red-herring across the trail." Actually, the snapping of the spotlight on the South is part of President Roosevelt's celebrated "purge." It is the groundwork for the shifting of the "ill-fed, ill-housed, and ill-clothed" voters of the South from the old-line Democratic party to the streamlined New Deal party.

Readers will recall that the increase in President Roosevelt's plurality in 1936 over 1932 was due in part to the switching of the negro vote of the Northern states from the G. O. P. to the Democratic ranks. Now the New Deal strategists hope they can perform a similar feat of magic by weaning the vote of the white lower classes away from the George-Garner-Harrison-Smith Democratic faction.

PURGE MAY GIVE NEW LINE-UP.

I do not want readers to misunderstand me. I believe that the

The Town Quack

When I need columnar inspiration, I always seek out the comments of State Press in the Dallas News. There is no more individual department in an American newspaper than State Press. He can pick up the most casual writings of the small time editor, like those of us who expend our efforts on The Reporter-Telegram, and draw the most exhaustive preachings. The results of the small timer's editorials are far-reaching, after they have been dissected, analyzed and amplified by State Press. The few times we have been able to find our way into his column have caused us to be surprised at the fruits of our own efforts.

Noteworthy of Mr. Joe Taylor's amplification of a seemingly trivial comment is the way he dealt with a short story in the Kilgore News. The News remarked that a Kilgore man bought his wife a bicycle, but it seemed she never got to ride because the man himself kept the bicycle busy. Accordingly, the housewife was as nice to the husband as he had been to her, so she went down and bought him a bicycle. Now both of them ride.

State Press added: Our compliments to the lady. She wanted a bicycle for her own use but soon discovered that if she was to do any bicycling she would have to buy her husband a machine before she could reclaim her own. It could be wished that all wives would exhibit the same order of independence combined with logical thinking. Furthermore, it would be desirable to wean all the ladies away from automobiles and put them on bicycles. They are going to move around, to go places, and at present they are to be seen bouncing all over town and countryside in cars. If they could be taken out of their cars—and we don't say jerked out—and set upon bicycles there would be an immense saving to the domestic budget. It may be that a law ought to be passed. Moreover, a lady looks cute on a bicycle, especially if wearing shorts. In an automobile she is hardly visible and may wear slacks without any subtraction from her appearance. Slacks in a car are invisible, but shorts on a cycle almost knock your eye out. Better than all, a bicycle gives the rider health and muscle all over, whereas the automobile driver exercises mostly her ankles. This column is for taking automobiles away from the women and giving them bicycles. If the change serves to save their husbands money and keeps them more indoors, who shall say the reform was not timely?

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

The utility black dress every woman should own was seen in a new and appealing version just the other day. Black alpaca was fashioned into a frock of princess style.

From the clever tabs which mimicked pockets on either side of the blouse front, a row of wee black buttons marched jauntily down to the hem of the dress.

Pipings of white at the short sleeves and an inner collar of white within the upstanding small black collar, plus the neat bow of white at the throat gave an added note of chic to the dress.

A delightful little dress to look at and one that should be equally delightful to wear.

Practically all the new fall dresses, even the heavier ones, have short sleeves this year.

We foresee a demand for sweaters jackets, and short coats of every description when the first blizzard of the season shrieks down from the Panhandle.

For something new and tasteful, we recommend fig sweet pickles. A nice accompaniment for meats as well as hot biscuits and butter.

The aids for assisting in selection of the right kind of dresses, hats, et cetera continue to multiply as the sand of the desert (or is it the sea shore?)

Now appears Miss Dorothy Sara who looks at your handwriting and forthwith tells you much about yourself, including what kind of clothes you should wear.

If your handwriting shows you are dramatic, then you should wear vivid clothes as a background for your personality. If you are repressed or lack initiative, you should wear dashing, colorful clothes to give you social courage, so to speak.

If you are the type of person who is "balanced" so far as mind and emotions go, then you may be safe in choosing tailored clothes.

We wonder just what Miss Sara would prescribe for us after one glance at our harum-scarum hen-track writing? Probably she would say we might as well wear a gypsy assortment—any kind that comes to hand.

"Screen Demands Accuracy", Writer Tells Public

"The time has come," the Walrus said, "To speak of many things—Of ships and shoes and sealing wax—Of cabbages and Kings."

"Alice in Wonderland"

Alice and the Walrus had to be well up in diversified knowledge to run the gamut of conversation—and they could have well qualified as experts in Hollywood's research departments.

For Hollywood workshops the authentic—and the fear of "the boner" is ever present.

For a time the novelty of seeing images actually move on the screen overcame the many handicaps and obstacles which beset a new art. Without questioning what was real, what was fiction, breathless audiences filled the nickelodeons, which sprang up all over the country.

Years of watching vaudeville artists and stage actors perform before flat backdrops representing "a drawing room," "a park" or "Times Square" had rendered theatre-goers tolerant of a certain amount of symbolism in entertainment. Just give them a cue and they would supply the imagination which made the background real enough.

When the silver screen replaced the backdrop, people weren't too critical as to whether the sheik's turban was a genuine turban properly wrapped or a turkish towel wound around his head.

Anything went.

Slim or virtually non-existent production budgets, fast scheduler and the exigencies of "shooting from the cuff" precluded any research or concern with authenticity in the early days. Armed with nothing but a megaphone and sheer inspiration the first directors developed their stories as they went along, as one situation or idea led to another. And weird as some of the results appear today, when the difficulties are considered most of those pioneers can still well be proud of their early efforts.

Among the first signs of growing pains manifested by the movies were the early attempts at authenticity. When D. W. Griffith made what will always stand as a cinema milestone, "The Birth of a Nation," he amazed his fellow-producers by employing a technical staff of Civil War veterans and former

Mrs. Johnson Is Hostess to Meeting Of Needlecraft Club

For occupation at the regular meeting of the Needlecraft club held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alvin Johnson, 103 South L street, each member present sewed on whatever handwork she had been engaged in at home.

Attendance for the day was considerably depleted because some of the club members were away accompanying children to various colleges.

At the tea hour, a refreshment plate was served to: Mmes. A. W. Wyatt, Miles Winter, Wallace Ford, Geo. Phillips, M. L. Wyatt, and the hostess.

Next week the group will meet with Mrs. Winter at 905 W. Michigan.

clubsmen to help him reconstruct history as it had actually happened. So radical was this departure that Griffith saw fit to footnote his subtleties with the parenthetical statement: "An authentic facsimile of the historic scene."

Palette Club Members Paint At Butler Home

A group of Palette club members observed their weekly "painting day" Thursday by gathering at the home of Mrs. G. H. Butler, 933 N. Baird, for art work.

Easels were set up on the back porch of the hostess' home and those present worked on a variety of pictures ranging from flower groups to ranch scenes.

A covered-dish luncheon was served at noon.

Painting were: Mmes. Mary S. Ray, J. G. Gossett, N. W. Bigham, R. W. Rochon, F. H. Lanham, and the hostess.

short notice to confirm or censor any scene, phrase, costume, or prop. For the screen has matured, and with maturity has come the realization of a big responsibility. The public no longer goes to the movies merely to be entertained. Unsought and, for the time, unrealized, motion pictures have become a great power for education.

Anyone who has seen "Marie Antoinette" or "Victoria" or "Henry the Eighth" has formed, in a few short hours, a more accurate conception of the eras they depict than he could have gleaned in hours of study

Home Art Club Changes Meeting Date to Wednesday

Date of meeting for the Home Art club was changed from Thursday to Wednesday of every other week in the initial fall session of the organization held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Neill, 411 North A street, Thursday afternoon.

The year's program "Interior Decorating" was discussed and the hostess distributed club yearbooks.

New members were discussed. Needlework occupied those who wished to sew during the afternoon.

A refreshment course was served at the close of the meeting to: Mmes. N. W. Bigham, Iris N. Boudins, Guy Breneman, M. D. Cox, J. W. Drummond, Julia Filson, B. W. Reecer, H. L. Albrecht, John B. Mills, and the hostess.

and research, simply because the companies who made those pictures did his research for him before the picture was produced.

The motion picture industry has thus taken on its shoulders the task, not only of entertaining its patrons, but of educating them accurately, painlessly and, almost unconsciously.

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 18.

The Golden Text is: "The grass withereth, the flower fadeeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever" (Isaiah 40:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Revelation 4:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Matter disappears under the microscope of Spirit" (page 264).

Your Child's Future

THE biggest job you have ever had, parents,—that of caring for your children—is safeguarding their health so that their future happiness and success may be assured.

Nothing is more important to them than their eyes. No child is healthy without healthy eyes. No child can achieve success without good vision.

There's only one way to tell whether or not your children's vision is normal—have their eyes examined. Do it now before school begins.

language spoken by his New Deal Democrats is not the same language that conservative Democrats, such as Senator George, speak. If Senator George and President Roosevelt are "at opposite ends of the poles," then I firmly believe they should not be labeled under the same political brand. That is not fair to the nation.

One reason why we have not had better statesmanship at Washington in the last forty years has been the unfortunate composition of the two major parties. There has not been a clean-cut line-up of Conservatives and Liberals. The Southern conservative has been a Democrat. The Northern conservative has been a Republican. The editor in a Georgia town speaks the same language as the editor in a Massachusetts community. The Southern lawyer and the Northern doctor see eye to eye economically.

MUST CUT OLD PARTY LINES.

On the other hand, Western liberals are usually found in the Republican ranks while most Northern liberals have been parading under the Democratic banner. Hence, if we can get the conservatives and liberals of both parties grouped together, then we are making real progress toward solving our troubles. Big, vital national issues should be debated, legislated, administered, and amended by a frank line-up of Liberals vs. Conservatives, not by the hodge-podge set-up that both major parties have represented for years.

But instead of reading the Conservative wing out of the Democratic party, Mr. Roosevelt may be "purging" himself out of that party. He may follow the same course that his cousin, Republican Theodore Roosevelt, followed 26 years ago. Readers will recall that "Teddy," unable to name the candidate of the Republican party in 1912, put together a third party with himself as the standard-bearer. He took millions of votes away from the "regular" Republican candidate. As a result Democrat Woodrow Wilson easily rode into the White House with only 40 per cent of the popular vote.

NEW DEAL TO BE THIRD PARTY?

Thus far the 1938 "party purge" has back-fired. Consequently, Mr. Roosevelt may not be able to control the Democratic Convention in 1940. If the President seeks a third term himself, or if he insists on naming his successor, there is a strong possibility that Garner, Harrison, and others of the conservative faction can stop him. In this event, the New Deal group might split off from the regular Democrats and run Franklin D. Roosevelt as a third party candidate.

The Conservatives' chance of getting into the saddle in 1940 could without approval of his own and possibly the French government.

These quarters were optimistic over success of Chamberlain's initial talk with Hitler since return talks were promised.

The British government determined to call Parliament out of recess to hear Chamberlain's report on his peace efforts.

Meanwhile, the cabinet committee on imperial defense reviewed precautionary military measures taken under strong French pressure. These would be Britain's ace-in-the-hole if the prime minister's unprecedented mission failed.

Few in Britain, however, thought of failure. King George VI returned to London from Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, but did not see Chamberlain before the prime minister left for Germany.

It was understood the monarch approved the government's move to recall Parliament in the course of long conferences with key ministers at Buckingham Palace.

The latest developments in Czechoslovakia — including Konrad Henlein's demand for union of the 3,500,000 Sudeten German minority with Germany—raised fears in some embassies in London for the success of Chamberlain's venture.

Chamberlain's dramatic move sent new optimism through London financial circles and the stock market opened with prices showing a higher trend for the first time during the past two tense weeks.

a combination of the old-age pensioners and "relievers" squeeze in between them.

COALITION COULD WIN EASILY.

My belief, therefore, is that the Republicans should not hold their 1940 Convention until the Democratic Convention is over. If there is a split between the New Deal and Conservative wings of the Democratic party, the Republicans, at their Convention, should nominate the same candidate that the Conservative Democrats have chosen. Then we could have an honest vote along Liberal-Conservative lines. This is the only way we can clean up the present mess.

It is not often that I write about politics. However, I have read so much about President Roosevelt's "purge" and his attempt to dictate who shall be in Congress and who shall not, that I wanted to unburden myself. The thought that I want to leave with readers is that voters should not condemn President Roosevelt for his attempted "purge". They should respect him for his courage and be thankful that he is trying to produce a new, and far more beneficial, political set-up!

BULLDOGS OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON TONIGHT WITH ROBY LIONS

LACKEY FIELD SCENE OF FIRST GAME OF THE YEAR; HOME CLUB IS FAVORED

The starting line-ups:

Midland	No.	Wt.	Pos.	Wt.	No.	Roby
Van Dyke	15	158	LE	157	21	Porterfield
Ford	17	157	LT	162	31	Hutto
Klatt	2	155	LG	145	32	W. Parker
Whittaker	13	156	C	147	6	Allen
Eidson	1	150	RG	125	33	R. Parker
Foster	11	140	RT	160	20	Neeper
Bryan	19	130	RE	150	27	Headstream
Wright	10	150	LH	140	25	Upshaw
Truelove	9	150	RH	140	30	Mitchell
Harris	7	135	FB	150	24	Davis
Francis	3	152	QB	143	23	Stewart

The Midland high school Bulldogs will pry the lid off on another football year tonight when they tackle the Roby Lions on Lackey field at eight o'clock.

The game will be the first test of the year for both clubs, and either side is likely to win. However, the fact that Midland can place 11 lettermen on the field compared to only four by the club from the east has made the home club a favorite.

There will be no faces in the Midland starting line-up that local fans haven't seen before but the fans are likely to see a lot more of some of the boys this year than previously. "Rocky" Ford and Leland Foster, a couple of substitutes last year, have apparently clinched the tackle positions and will be on the firing line when the battle starts tonight.

Another thing that has made the Bulldogs favorites to cop tonight is the fact they will have an average weight advantage of eight pounds per player. The Roby line will average only 149 compared to 155 for Midland and the Lion backfield, listed at an average of 143 pounds, looms inferior to the Bulldog backfield that boasts of averaging 155.

The game may turn into a duel between two middleweight backs, Francis of Midland and Davis of Roby, who to most of the ball carrying for their respective clubs.

Francis, one of the outstanding backs of the district, was never bottled up effectively by any club last year except when suffering from injuries around mid-season. With Wright having developed into a much better passer and punter, some of that work will be taken from Francis, leaving him more time to concentrate on his ball carrying.

Davis, who weighs 150 pounds, calls the signals for the Lions from his fullback position and does most of the ball carrying, passing and punting. A two-year letterman, Davis has been a star both years and is claimed to be even better this year. As running mates, Davis will have three inexperienced hands, Upshaw, Mitchell and Stewart, all being listed at close to 140 pounds. Offensive help will be furnished Francis by "Patsy" Wright, Dell Truelove and Temple Harris. None is an exceptional blocker but Wright is the only one of the three that could be called slow once he takes the ball.

Four of the boys operating in the Bulldog front line are veterans of last year's club while the other three managed to play only enough to gain their letter. Klatt and Eidson, guards, Whittaker at center and Van Dyke at one end are the lettermen while Ford, Foster and Bryan will fill the other positions.

Both Foster and Bryan got most of their experience last year at guards, but the latter will be on one flank tonight.

Loss of Woodrow Adams and Gordon English, a couple of 200-pound tackles, from last year's club has caused Coaches Bud Taylor and Bob Myers to change up their offensive tactics considerably this year. Operating off single and double wingback offenses, the boys are likely to be throwing the ball a large part of the time this year. The coaches boast a lot of manpower in the substitute ranks, but very little of it is experienced. White and Geddes in the backfield, both squadmen last year, will likely see some service tonight, and if the Bulldogs are able to take an early lead several line subs will probably be used.

Coach Odie Cromwell, former Hardin-Simmons tackle, in his first year of coaching at Roby, is considerably short on reserve strength, having only nine substitutes to choose from during the game.

Grass Greens for Country Club Course Are Assured Here

Announcement of the adoption of a plan whereby grass greens and many other improvements will be made on the Country Club golf course here was made today following a meeting last night of directors.

By a vote of stockholders, it was decided to sell stock at $100 a share in the future, a 50 per cent reduction in the present price. Persons holding the $200 a share stock will be traded two shares valued at $100 each. Most of the stockholders holding the old shares have agreed to give one share of the two received to the club to be sold to new members.

A committee was named to procure pipe necessary to pump water to all greens, and they are expected to have all the equipment necessary by tomorrow night.

Officials agreed to continue the sale of associate memberships in the club, priced at $25 annually.

However, any associate member desiring to buy stock at the reduced price will be given credit for the money paid on present memberships, club president R. W. Hamilton announced.
