Lewis Says He'll Quit If Green Will

Declares Reunion of Factions May Be Made Possible

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. (P).—John L. Lewis today offered to resign as chairman of the Committee of Industrial Organization if William Green would resign as president of the American Federation of Labor, to pave the way for peace between the two organizations.

Lewis said a suggestion from the federation's Houston convention that Lewis withdraw from his organization was "manifestly not a unilateral problem."

"Obviously it is bilateral," Lewis said, "and the same suggestion would apply to Green, whose recently ferocious seems to know no bounds."

"In any event, I think it worth trying," he said.

Lewis said that with Green and himself on the sidelines it might then be possible for the remaining leaders of the two organizations to conclude a peace pact.

Green will seek re-election Friday, Lewis said. "I have no comment to make," delegates will answer it before the Houston convention is over," Green will see re-election Friday. He has no opponent.

HOUSTON, Oct. 11. (P).—The thorny issue of labor peace "at any price" was debated and settled last night by the American Federation of Labor convention, which raised a war cry against John L. Lewis and his CIO, the Wagner labor act and the national labor relations board.

Delegates adopted, with only one dissenting vote, a caustic report denouncing John L. Lewis and the CIO after Daniel J. Tobin, A. F. of L. vice president, had withdrawn his fiery opposition to the federation's "open door" policy for labor peace. Tobin and his delegation voted for the committee report after President William Green assured him the federation remained ready to meet the CIO and "let bygones be bygones."

Florida of face and shouting, President Green of the A. F. of L. and Tobin, teamster union head, upset the usual calm of the convention delegates with a torrid debate on the peace issue.

Tobin, at one point, threatened to take the teamsters' union out of organized labor's fold, as he, the lone outstanding advocate of a plan to force the executive council to reopen peace negotiations where they were broken off between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. last December, bitterly assailed the resolutions committee report.

The resolutions committee wound up its scathing attack on the rival CIO and its leadership by recommending the council "carry on the battle" but stand ready to respond "to any genuine appeal for peace."

Scornfully, Tobin said: "That's what we did last year and the year before and what we will do next year unless the members of our national and international unions insist we do otherwise."

"I am satisfied," he said, "that a referendum would carry 20 to 1 that the executive council open up negotiations where they broke off in the last session with the CIO."

"I disagree with any man who says you are humbling yourself when you ask people who disagree with you to meet you and talk over the disagreement."

"The principle involved here," he shouted, "is to bring together the

Do you go to church? If so, why? If not, why?

For the best written answer to the going to church question, affirmative or negative, prizes of $5 each will be given by a committee of citizens. Answers should be sent to The Reporter-Telegram, Box 4, and will be referred to the committee. Best answers on both sides will be published.

Citizens are invited to express themselves freely on the question. To make the contest evenly matched for all who enter, preachers or pastors of churches are barred from competition, the committee said.

Final date for sending in the answer will be November 12, with winners to be announced in the Sunday issue of The Reporter-Telegram, November 13. Write your answer today. If you go to church, tell why. If you do not go, feel free to give your reasons. Perhaps some good will come of it.

Denver East Extension Producer Heading 300 Barrels Oil Daily

By FRANK GARDNER.

Large natural production was evidenced today by Honolulu Oil Corporation, Ltd. No. 1 R. M. Kendrick, extending the Denver pool of southern Yoakum over a mile east, as it made 30-barrel oil leads into tanks every four to five hours while drilling to 5,071 feet in lime. Last increase in pay was noted from 5,060 to 5,071. Other pay zones had been drilled from 4,929-38, 4,983-94, 5,009-27, and 5,040-49. The extension producer is located 1,550 feet from the south and west lines of section 825, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Daily potential of 548 barrels of 33-gravity oil was attained by Shell Petroleum Corporation No. 3-A Bennett, providing a quarter-mile west extension of the Bennett pool in southeast Yoakum. It had gas-oil ratio of 775-1. Well is bottomed at 5,260 feet and was both acidized and shot. Magnolia No. 4 Bennett, east edge test, is drilling past 5,066 feet in hard lime.

On the north edge of the Roberts area of southwestern Yoakum, Shell No. 5 Mrs. Dora Roberts is drilling below 4,582 feet in lime.

Cores Bleed Oil.

Seven feet of sandy lime bleeding oil and showing slight porosity were recovered by coring from 4-450-65 in Rogers & Rogers No. 1 University, southern Andrews wildcat. Another core was taken from 4,465-75, present total depth, but description was not available. The well is now circulating, bottomed at 4,475 feet in lime. It has previously logged showing of gas from 4,388-94, and core from 4,394 to 4,408-1 was oil-stained lime, with no porosity.

L. H. Wentz, Oil Division No. 1 W. F. Cowden estate, another wildcat in southern Andrews, is drilling at 398 feet in red rock.

H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton, Andrews wildcat four miles west of the Means pool, is drilling past 4,270 feet in lime. Some called top of brown lime at 4,030 feet.

Humble No. 51 J. S. Means, short southeast outcrop to the pool, is drilling below 1,137 feet in red beds.

Montecito No. 3 Emma Cowden, on the west edge of the Emma pool in southern Andrews, drilled plug from 7-inch casing cemented at 4,120 and is drilling ahead below 4,130 feet in lime. Cable tools have replaced rotary. Superior No. 1 University, on the north edge of the pool, is running 7-inch casing to 4,065 feet.

Atlantic No. 1 Parker, central Gaines test two and a half miles northwest of the Seminole pool, is coring at 5,210 feet in lime. A 45-minute drillstem test from 5,150-94 showed rise of eight feet of drilling mud, with no oil or gas present. Core from 5,194 to 5,210 was tight lime, showing slight bleeding of oil.

Czech Town Handed Over To Hungary

First Transfer of Land Lost After World War Ended

IPOLYSAG, Oct. 11. (P).—Hungarian troops occupied this Czechoslovak border town today in the first actual transfer of territory in Hungary's drive to regain a part of the land lost after the world war.

Four thousand residents danced in the streets and kissed the Hungarian troopers as they entered the city. Czechoslovak soldiers had previously retreated from the town.

The German army last night had complete control of all Sudeten German territory awarded from Czechoslovakia by the Munich four-power accord and decisions of the international commission sitting in Berlin.

"Within ten days the national change of title to Sudetenland was accomplished," Dienst Aus Deutschland observed, "and nowhere were there incidents worth mentioning, although the atmosphere had become decidedly heated through events preceding."

Dienst Aus Deutschland reflects the general attitude of both official and unofficial Germany.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in a Sunday address at Saarbruecken inferentially placed at 10,000 square miles the amount of Czechoslovak territory occupied. Unofficial estimates had placed it at 11,500 square miles. He said the Nazis in 1938 had added 110,000 square kilometers or 42,470 square miles to the Reich. Austria added 32,369 square miles of this, leaving the Sudetenland figure at approximately 10,000 square miles.

There is a feeling of relief that the entire Sudetenland occupation occurred smoothly and so far as the army is concerned, practically on the minute.

Additional Seats Are Being Placed At Lackey Field

Concrete was being poured today for erection of bleachers to accommodate 500 additional spectators at Lackey field football games. The bleachers will take the place of the smaller stands in use for several years on the east side of the field.

School officials pointed out that the project is being done by the athletic association, to make possible the securing of greater revenue at games, and is not handled with school tax funds. Heavy crowds are expected for the games with Wink, Odessa, Pecos and Monahans, the additional seats being calculated to increase revenue to the athletic association considerably.

The main grandstand, located on the west side of the field, accommodates 1500 persons. Parking room is available for automobiles and standing room for overflow crowds at the north and south ends of the stands and in the end zones.

The front cover will have pictures of Midland's skyline, being typical of the devotedly reported West Texas by the petroleum industry.

Articles about the oil business, about civic leaders over West Texas, with the burden of the issue devoted to a plea against excessive taxation of the industry, will appear in the magazine, some to be prepared locally.

Succinctly portraying human beings in the grip of war-fright and in a display of delight over sudden peace, these two photos form a striking study in contrasting human emotions. The picture at the top reveals the strained anxiety of a typical London crowd as it waited near No. 10 Downing Street during the days of tension in Europe, expecting momentarily to learn—the worst. Then, below, is another, and jubilant, crowd at the same spot after the news of the four-power Munich peace settlement had reached London.

S. A. Debnam, Rotarian, is in charge of preparation and serving of foods for the crowd. Approximately 175 will attend, it is expected.

Big Shipment of Midland Calves Is Scheduled Here

Approximately 1,500 head of calves, selected from some of the best herds in the Midland territory, will be trucked to the stock pens here tomorrow afternoon and shipped out to points in the feeder areas.

The calves, bought by Foy Proctor from various ranchmen, were resold about three weeks ago to the Producers Livestock Marketing Association, at Kansas City. They were weighed up at the local pens, in carload lots.

All big cattle trucks here were expected to be in use throughout the day, hauling the calves to the Midland pens.

Detour Removed at Office Building as Exterior Finished

Removal of the board walk, or "detour," around the new eight story office building of the First National bank last night marked the virtual completion of exterior construction, except for installation of glass and stone work around the first floor store spaces.

On the interior, walls are being given final finish and the contractors, R. F. Ball Construction Co., of Fort Worth, promise to deliver the building on the contract date, December 15, according to M. C. Ulmer, executive cashier of the bank.

Short Fed Steers Sold by Golladay To El Paso Packer

Shipment of 43 head of short fed steers was made today by S. O. Golladay, Midland stock farmer, from his place southeast of town. They were sold by the pound to J. C. Peyton, head of the Peyton Packing Co., at El Paso.

The steers had been fed, on grass, since they were weaned a year ago. On September 3, they were put in the pens on full feed, making rapid gain in the five weeks period. They averaged slightly over 1,000 pounds and brought the owner $77.20 per head. Golladay, who has been feeding out cattle for several years, declares that feeding on grass, with a short period on full feed, is the most profitable type of feeding for this section.

Cut of 13 Cents Made By Humble

Other Companies Expected to Meet Cut Immediately

Price of West Texas and New Mexico crude was slashed 13 cents per barrel, effective at 7 a. m. today, by Humble Oil & Refining Company, largest purchaser of West Texas oil.

The cut was in line with general statewide reductions posted by Humble.

According to the new price schedule, all West Texas crude below 20 degrees of gravity will henceforth bring 53 cents per barrel. Crude ranging from 20.0 to 20.9 gravity will bring 55 cents, and price will increase two cents for each degree of gravity, with top price of 95 cents per barrel for 40 gravity and above. All Pecos crude, including the Yates field, was cut to 78 cents per barrel, a reduction of 13 cents from former price.

Other major buyers of West Texas crude, including Shell, Texas-New Mexico, Atlantic and Gulf, had not yet met the price cut fostered by Humble, but all were expected to post a similar reduction shortly. An Associated Press wire from Tulsa, Okla., announced that Stanolind Oil Purchasing Company would maintain its own gravity range but would meet reduced prices posted by Humble.

Election Result Contest Started In District Court

District Judge Chas. Klapproth today ruled in favor of J. C. Brooks in the contested election results in precinct two.

A district court hearing on a contested election result was being heard today by Judge Chas. Klapproth. B. T. Graham, commissioner of precinct 2, is contesting the results of the run-off election at which time he was defeated by J. C. Brooks.

The contest was first carried to the county democratic executive committee and one vote cast for Brooks was thrown out, leaving him a majority of two votes over Graham. The latter is contesting validity of four other votes cast for Brooks, all of which were ruled valid by the democratic committee.

The hearing is expected to be completed this afternoon.

Attackers of Vienna Cardinal Are Facing Concentration Camps

VIENNA, Oct. 11. (P).—Joseph Buerckel, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's commissioner for Austria, was understood to have returned to Vienna Monday intent upon sending to concentration camps persons responsible for Nazi attacks upon 62-year-old Theodore Cardinal Innitzer.

The attacks are "deeply regretted" in official Germany, it was said.

The agency Dienst Aus Deutschland in an inspired article from Berlin said Buerckel had "taken most vigorous action" against demonstrations including that Saturday night, when the cardinal was cut by flying glass in the stoning of his palace at St. Stephen's square by Nazi mobs.

Lienst Aus Deutschland said: "Incidents in Vienna in the course of which demonstrations were made against Cardinal Innitzer are deeply regretted in official German circles."

"Reich Commissar Buerckel has taken most vigorous action against the provocative demonstrations. He has taken the guilty parties severely to account and has announced that after undergoing punishment inflicted by the courts they will be given time to reflect upon their conduct in a concentration camp."

All churches and parochial offices in Vienna were being guarded tonight by police or storm troopers to prevent attack "by radical anti-Catholic elements."

City-Wide "Beat Wink" Ambition Is Need to Help Bulldogs October 21

It's a poor city, town or hamlet which does not have pride in its gridiron warriors. Midland high school's Bulldogs of 1938 rate exceptional pride, having turned in an enviable record in the first four games played.

However, their crucial test comes Friday night, October 21. Sports writers, scouts and observers declare the Wink team to be the outstanding class B aggregation of Texas. The Bulldogs are ambitious to beat Wink, win the district 7-B championship and thereby lay claim to being the best class B team in the state.

But the Bulldogs need moral support. A half filled grandstand of disinterested customers will not do the trick. Be assured that the Wink Wildcats will be accompanied by hundreds of men, women and children who will be yelling themselves hoarse, pulling for their team to win.

Playing on the home lot, the Bulldogs surely should rate such backing. No sport fan, within reach of Midland on the night of October 21, can afford to miss this engagement which will have statewide importance.

Now is the time for the adults of Midland, along with the scholastic population, to become deeply interested in the welfare of the Bulldogs and in the outcome of the Wink encounter. Develop the "beat Wink" ambition and lend a hand to the Bulldogs. Get acquainted with the boys and tell them how you stand.

Threats as Bonds

One aspect of President Roosevelt's appeal for European peace passed almost unnoticed in the stress and strain of the moment. Yet it may well prove more important to the United States than any other.

It is this: Practically every Latin-American country lined up solidly back of Roosevelt, sending similar appeals that immediately followed his. Only a few hours after news of Roosevelt's appeal reached Buenos Aires, President Ortiz cabled a similar appeal to Hitler and Benes. Within 24 hours, practically all South American countries had followed suit.

This was, as far as can be learned, spontaneous. But following it talk is being revived in all South American countries about the desirability of closer union of the Americas to protect the governments of the western world in case of a European war.

The trend of world events, as well as the conscious policy of the administration, are turning the western world to an increasing realization that Europe's problems are not our problems, and that the natural link between the great continents which broke away from the European system a hundred years ago is worth fostering.

SO THEY SAY

THE COLUMNIST'S TROUBLES

There are always those who will kick. For instance, if you publish jokes with whiskers on them, someone will say you ought to be in a lunatic joint. If you don't print something to smile at, they say you are a pessimistic fossil. If you spread yourself and write an original article, they say it is stolen. (Uncle Bill.) If you rewrite an article, they say you cannot write. If you say a deserving word for one man, they say you are partial. If you compliment the ladies, the men are jealous. If on the contrary you criticize them the verdict of the ladies is to the effect that your paper, or column, is not fit for the construction of a bustle. If you stay in your office and work it is because you are afraid to be seen on the street. If you are out on the street it is because you are too lazy to work. If you look seedy you are a bum and squandering your money. If you wear good clothes, you are a dude, and don't pay for them. If you play a social game of any kind and get stuck, you are a sucker and a poor fish; if you win, you are a professional gambler and a thimble sport. And so it goes all through the columnist's life—just one continual round of pleasant (or unpleasant) complications.

HOW TO CARVE OUT AN EMPIRE
PLANS AND DESIGNS

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. — The Roosevelt appeal for C. I. O.—A. F. of L. peace hasn't brought it a bit nearer.

The chief reason is that no one can devise a formula by which the two groups can reunite without giving one or the other an upper hand. A. F. of L. leaders would have every reason to expect and end to their control if they took C. I. O.'s millions in an equal voting footing. C. I. O. leaders are sure many of their unions would be raided and carved up if they joined A. F. of L. on any other basis.

Neither side, in the words of one labor leader, wants to "put its head on the chopping block." John L. Lewis stands on the assertion that C. I. O. would move into the A. F. of L. "tomorrow" if each C. I. O. unit were promised a charter similar to those of other A. F. of L. unions, with the further provision that jurisdictional disputes be settled by the unions involved.

Unlikelihood of an early merger doesn't mean there's no chance of a cessation of name-calling and warfare between the two groups, as suggested by Mr. Roosevelt. But events at the A. F. of L. convention indicate there's no immediate prospect of that.

A GOOD EXAMPLE. LABOR'S chief victory in recent months has been the success of Sidney Hillman, widely known as "labor's statesman" long before C. I. O. days, and Philip Murray in reconciling the battling factions of the United Automobile Workers. That struggle threatened to damage C. I. O. even more than it has been hurt by the depression and might easily have gunned up the C. I. O. convention scheduled for Pittsburgh Nov. 14.

One important expected result is elimination of both Lovestone Communists behind President Homer Martin and Stalin Communists, who worked with the group of suspended officials now reinstated, from the union's policy-making councils.

When C. I. O. Vice Chairmen Hillman and Murray went to Detroit few believed the break between Lewis and Martin over U. A. W. peace terms could be healed. They were threatened with physical violence and gunplay. Arguing with individuals one at a time and supported by rank and file union members interested in union preservation rather than leaders' squabbles, they finally convinced a majority of Martin's board, Martin, isolated, gave over control of the dispute to Murray and Hillman. Lately a united board has been referring all problems and disputes, willingly and gratefully to the two arbitrators.

Lewis and William Green apparently can't work out a peaceful agreement like that because there's no higher authority to whom they would be willing to refer differences. Roosevelt can't do anything about it. Neither Green nor Lewis has any present intention of asking him to try.

PROBLEM FOR MINERS. ONE wouldn't expect the United Mine Workers to have much trouble getting coal to heat their big, handsomely renovated offices here. But there are some problems involved.

First they had to be careful where the coal came from. It must be union mined. Then the question of a fair price came up. Now the difficulty is in getting the coal delivered by union teamsters. Teamsters aren't organized in Washington.

THE CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL, Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 11. (AP) — Lon Smith, member of the Railroad Commission, predicts that G. A. Jerry Sadler, who defeated C. V. Terrell for re-election to that state government agency, will be popular.

There is much interest on the effect Sadler's election will have on policies of the commission, especially with reference to regulation of the oil industry.

"I have known Sadler 20 years," Smith said. "I think he will be a likeable fellow; people can't be around him without liking him. He will be very fair, and he is not going to destroy the oil business. He is an oil man himself and he will not try to ruin something of which he is a part."

Smith pointed out that he and Sadler were born in East Texas, Sadler in Anderson county and Smith in Rusk county.

Recently both were honor guests at a dinner tendered by Fort Worth citizens.

Kentucky conversation piece was brought back to Texas by a Dallas man who engaged a mountain storekeeper during the Barkley-Chandler contest for the U. S. Senate.

"How's the election going?" "Reckon Barkley'll win... what you from, stranger?" "Texas."

"Barkley gettin' many votes down there?" "No, you know Barkley is running for the United States Senate from Kentucky."

"Ain't Texas still in the United States?" "Sure."

"Well, I can't see why you ain't votin' for United States senator then."

Lengthy explanation... "Well, I never knew it was that way," mused the mountaineer. "They won't let me vote anyhow, I'm a republican."

"Who's your big man in Texas?" "Well, er... everybody seemed to be votin' for O'Daniel."

"Daniel... never heard of him."

The trend of railroad freight rates has been up since last fall, says C. R. McNamee, rate expert of the Railroad Commission.

The most recent boost in rates was on burlap bags and certain other commodities. It was not approved by shippers.

McNamee explained the situation as follows: For several years railroads reduced rates to meet truck and other competition. They wanted to see if they could make more money by hauling a greater volume at lower rates.

University of Texas Gets Nebraska Prof.

AUSTIN. — F. L. Winship comes from Nebraska to the University of Texas Interscholastic League as director of speech activities, taking the place made vacant by the resignation in September of J. Howard Lumpkin, who formerly served the League in this capacity. Roy Bedinek, chief of the University Bureau of Public School Extracurricular Activities, has announced.

Mr. Winship has had rather intensive speech training. A bachelor of arts graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1928, he then pursued graduate work in the University of Michigan, taking a master of arts degree in history there in 1930. Specializing in speech, he returned to the University of Michigan and received the master of arts degree in speech from that institution in 1936. From 1929 to 1931 he was principal of the Pleasanton, Nebraska high school, going from there to the principalship of the Trenton, Nebraska, high school, where he remained until 1934. From 1934 to 1938 he served as principal of the Central City, Nebraska, high school. During the summers intervening he has served as instructor in speech at the University of Michigan and at the Teachers' College in Kearney, Nebraska.

From 1936 to 1938 he was president of the Nebraska Speech Association, and during the same period was on the advisory committee of the Central States Speech Association. He was for two years regional director in Nebraska for the National Thespians, and is a member of the Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary drama fraternity, and is president of the Nebraska Alpha Chapter. He is a frequent contributor to speech journals throughout the country.

House Has Twin Reputation.

YARRAWONGA, Australia. (U.P.) — A house built here 12 months ago has acquired the appellation of the "Twin House," not because there are two of them but because five sets of twins are in some way associated with it. The contractor, builder, painter and tenant of the house have all become fathers of twins while the owner is also a twin.

BULLDOGS TO GET REST THIS WEEK, OTHER DISTRICT CLUBS WILL PLAY

The Midland Bulldogs will rest this week while all other clubs in the district 7-B go into battle. Next week, Midland will meet Wink and the schedule was purposely arranged to give the Bulldogs a lengthy rest before tackling the 1937 champions.

The Bulldogs have been easy winners in the four games played to date but will go into the Wink game decidedly the underdogs. The Bulldogs have met very inferior teams while the Wink club has been talking on some quite a bit tougher.

The Wink club should hang up a new high score for the district this week when they play the very weak Stanton club. Coach Lacey Turner of the Wildcats is not the kind of a coach that pulls his punches, usually letting his first team stay in and completely wear out the opposition before using his substitutes. He will probably do the same against Stanton. In case he does, there appears little chance of Stanton finishing within a dozen touchdowns of the Wildcats. Stanton has practically no defense and a worse offense.

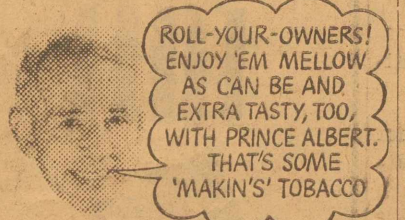

Pecos, growing stronger daily, should not have much trouble defeating Kermit. If one considered the "dope" on the game it would indicate Pecos a winner only after a struggle but the dope is likely to be upset through an easy victory for the Eagles. Pecos defeated Fort Stockton by one touchdown; Kermit hung a one-point defeat on the same club. Nevertheless, Kermit is not believed capable of holding the Eagles to less than a three-touchdown victory. Kermit undoubtedly has improved greatly within the past two weeks and is likely to hand other clubs in the district a lot of trouble later on.

The Monahans Green Wave, after suffering defeats in the last two weeks, has a good opportunity of hanging up a victory this week. Opposition for the Ward county boys will be supplied by McCamey, a club that is reported to be quite a bit below "par" or other years. It is about time for the Monahans boys to come back and play like they did in their first three bouts.

The surprising Crane team is scheduled against the Iron club and may not have exactly a cinch, although Crane will be favored to win. Midland defeated Iron by a 32-0 score and will be watching for the result of the game between Iron and Crane as a method of comparing strength of the Bulldogs and Crane. Counted out of the first division at the start of the year, the Cranes have shown a lot of ability in hanging up a 26-0 win over Monahans and holding Wink to a 39-6 win. The Cranes were not beaten nearly as badly by Wink as the score would seem to indicate, holding the Wildcats to one touchdown and making one themselves during the last half of the game. Spectators at the game say it was a jittery and scared Crane team that watched Wink roll up five touchdowns in the first half, but one that matched punch for punch with the Wildcats in the final 25 minutes.

Warner's right to the title is based on his inventive mind, which gave the game many of its more trickier maneuvers—most notable of which is the double wing offense.

Because the double wing is best suited for only a certain type of material, it is not used as much as the single wing. The system calls for extremely fast linemen who are able to pull out and block, and a fullback who can crack a line wide open from close up.

Here, too, the spectator will find the unbalanced formation, with the left tackle going into the right, or strong side of the line. The number 1 back, or right wing, is stationed a yard back of and just outside his end. The number 4, or left wing, is in the same approximate position on the other side. The bucking, or number 2 back, takes a position about two yards in back of and slightly to the right of his right guard, and the tail back, or number 3, is about five yards directly behind center.

One disadvantage to note instantly is that only two men—the tail and the bucking backs—are in position to take a direct pass from center.

The fan will notice that the bucking back struts through on a lot of spinner plays, and that both he and the tail back do a lot of straight hitting inside the tackles.

This opens the way for a lot of reverses—both single and double—as might well be imagined, on the part of the wing backs, who often raise hob with the defense by skirting wide around their opposite ends.

The double wing is a strong passing formation with either of the wings—provided they are good passers—being in position to drop back and take the ball from either the bucking or tail back, and leave it downfield.

Both guards and the outside tackle, pulling out of the line, are the men who perform the chief blocking chores.

Deception is the keynote of the double wing.

A glance at the Temple offense should be convincing proof.

Here, too, the spectator will find the unbalanced formation, with the left tackle going into the right, or strong side of the line. The number 1 back, or right wing, is stationed a yard back of and just outside his end. The number 4, or left wing, is in the same approximate position on the other side. The bucking, or number 2 back, takes a position about two yards in back of and slightly to the right of his right guard, and the tail back, or number 3, is about five yards directly behind center.

One disadvantage to note instantly is that only two men—the tail and the bucking backs—are in position to take a direct pass from center.

The fan will notice that the bucking back struts through on a lot of spinner plays, and that both he and the tail back do a lot of straight hitting inside the tackles.

This opens the way for a lot of reverses—both single and double—as might well be imagined, on

They were inspecting crudely branded animals in two herds being held east of here by county officers.

Already 52 head of cows and calves have been claimed by Shackelford county ranchers from approximately 120 head.

Tentative identifications were made today by stockmen from Hamlin, Merkel, Moran, Patnaik and Palo Pinto.

Work on the case started last Tuesday when one of the members of a pioneer Shackelford county family was arrested by officers as he attempted to locate cattle from a neighboring pasture. County Attorney Thomas B. Bianton Jr. and Sheriff John Holland questioned the prisoners at other suspects preparatory to filling charges. Several other members of the family were released after questioning.

Remaining unclaimed cattle carry various and sundry brand names having as many as half a dozen different marks, making identification difficult.

Large Cattle Theft Ring Said Broken Up

ALBANY, Oct. 11. (AP)—Local officers assisted by Texas Rangers, Monday spurred their efforts to crack what appears to be the biggest cattle stealing ring in Shackelford county's history.

Meanwhile, West Central Texas stockmen and officers began the tedious task of identifying stolen cattle of their respective areas.

How to See Football

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

Glenn Scooley Warner isn't called the Old Fox for nothing.

Warner's right to the title is based on his inventive mind, which gave the game many of its more trickier maneuvers—most notable of which is the double wing offense.

Because the double wing is best suited for only a certain type of material, it is not used as much as the single wing. The system calls for extremely fast linemen who are able to pull out and block, and a fullback who can crack a line wide open from close up.

Here, too, the spectator will find the unbalanced formation, with the left tackle going into the right, or strong side of the line. The number 1 back, or right wing, is stationed a yard back of and just outside his end. The number 4, or left wing, is in the same approximate position on the other side. Welfare Workers Bring Hope To South's Mountain Children

By NEA Service.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — A million children living sub-standard lives, and at least 100,000 of them under-nourished and in dire need. That is the picture of 205 Appalachian Mountain counties, a side of the picture not often seen by tourists and others fascinated by the "quaint" lives of the natives of the mountain regions of Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina.

It is a vivid side-light of the National Emergency Council's picture of the south as a great region needing so many things for development. It is an accurate picture, for it is drawn by Dr. Alva Taylor, Nashville sociologist and educational director of the Save the Children Fund.

No cabin is too remote, no trail too rough for Madeline Rogers, above, welfare worker of the Save the Children Fund, who carries to isolated mountain families in Tennessee, North Carolina and Kentucky their only contact with the "outside world."

This fund since 1931 has reached 50,000 children in the mountain

Cave-people of the 20th century. The children of this mountain family are able to attend school only because shoes have been provided them by welfare workers. The man and his wife and their 10 children all live in the squalid shack tucked beneath the cave-like overhanging rock. The visit of the welfare worker, shown talking to the well-armed father of the family, is a looked-for event.

regions, bringing welfare services, food, clothing, and simple medical help in regions where no other welfare organization penetrates. It has touched some 50 of the 205 counties surveyed by Dr. Taylor.

THROUGH SNOW IN BAREFEET.

Its workers have found many instances of the stark privation that lies behind the "quaint" life of the highlanders. For instance in one school attendance rose from 48 to 65 in a single week. That was the week in which the SCF welfare worker was in the district distributing shoes and clothing. The 17 families did not have even the rudimentary clothing a child needs to attend the mountain schoolhouses.

Welfare workers who travel hundreds of miles into the hills where the "traces" are mere paths halfobliterated in the brush, tell of children walking miles barefoot on snow and ice to get to school. Thousands of such children have been given the shoes whose lack meant condemnation to ignorance and illiteracy.

The report of such welfare workers tell a tale of squalid helplessness that includes children brought into the world without a doctor's services, old flour sacks their only aliyette, sent shoeless to school if indeed a school is available, condemned to a life of heart-breaking toil on washed-out hill-sides, deprived of medical care in illness, and even of an undertaker's services in death.

Half of the farms in the 205-mountain-county area, Dr. Taylor found, are of less than 50 acres. A fourth of them are of less than 20 acres. The average of cultivated land is only seven acres per adult male worker. Three fourths of the crop land has a slope of 40 per cent, or more, and "where there is poor land, there are poor people."

ATTACK ROOTS OF PROBLEM.

Hundreds of gallons of cod liver oil have been sent into the area by welfare organizations to counteract the monotonous and deficient diet. One mountain woman walked six miles each day to make soup for her own and 50 other school children. On one occasion she asked each child to bring one potato for soup. Only five were able to do so.

That is the sort of condition met face to face by welfare workers who are going back in the hills to attack at its roots the acute problem of the South's mountain people.

Arguments Are Cited For Locating Cotton Laboratory in Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 11. (AP). —The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas took advantage of a visit recently of W. B. Van Arsdale, representative of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, to make a strenuous bid for location of one of the four proposed million dollar cotton research laboratories in the state in general and at College Station in particular.

Van Arsdale, making a tour of Texas to gather material for a report to the U. S. Department of Agriculture locating committee and Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, inspected the A. and M. campus and facilities.

In presenting the claims for Texas as the location for the laboratory the state's importance as an agricultural state was stressed in a brief presented by Col. Ike Ashburn, assistant to president T. O. Walton of A&M.

"First in total acreage of principal crops in the United States, Texas holds many 'firsts' in production," the brief recited. "Among these are first in cotton and cottonseed production, in beef cattle, sheep and wool, goats and mohair and mule production.

"Like wise Texas leads in grain sorghum and sweet sorghum for forage and hay. First also in production of spinach, early cabbage and onions comes Texas. "Peanut and sweet potato production are widespread in Texas, with at least two-thirds of its area suitable for growing these crops. "In addition there is the great importance of a vast wheat crop in the plains country and the rapidly growing citrus industry in the Rio Grande Valley. Pecans likewise constitute a great money crop for the 501,000 farm homes of Texas."

Specific claims of the college for location of the laboratory were predicted upon an offer of the board of director to deed to the government, free of cost, "such land as may be needed for building sites; to make available research facilities now operative at the college, including the research library, to tender full cooperation of employees of the A. and M. college in the furtherance of these important investigations and to furnish to the federal government utilities and facilities such as power, water, etc., at actual cost to the college."

The brief further set forth that the A. and M. college is the duly recognized and constituted agency of the state and federal govern-
