

Vienna Cardinal Mobbed After Sermon

Texas Cotton Farmers Wage Intensive War on Insect Pests to Save Crops

(Editor's note: The following article was prepared by W. H. Mecom, entomologist, Houston, for the October issue of West Texas Today.)

Getting down to "grass roots" in the battle to widen margins between cotton production cost and selling price—by going after maximum per-acre yield with minimum outlay—Texas cotton farmers this year have been waging intensive war on the insect pests that normally destroy what would amount to nearly a million bales of the state's potential production.

With federal, state and commercial organizations pooling their resources of men and materials, the campaign of education, demonstration and practice of proved methods in control of the boll weevil, flea hopper and other pests has been geared up to help Texans meet the challenge of low-priced foreign competition and the acreage-reduction program.

The first step toward cutting cotton-raising costs, and one that has been, in many sections—taken quickly and with proved, practical results—is that of insect control. This is not overlooking the fact that finding new uses for cotton, improving ginning and baling practices, and producing finer grades and greater staple length are also vital to complete solution of the cotton industry's manifold economic ills. It is merely that insect control is one phase of the problem that can be attacked realistically and effectively.

Emphasizing the directness and relative simplicity and economy of combating cotton insect ravages here in Texas has been the increasing use of one of the state's own readily-available resources, sulphur, in control measures. For several years the efficacy of sulphur-dusting for thwarting the cotton flea hopper—a tiny, green sucking bug that has rivaled the more notorious boll weevil for ranking as "Cotton Enemy No. 1" in many sections—has been convincingly demonstrated in terms of both gross cotton and net cash returns.

Evidence that this method of flea-hopper control, frequently demonstrated at cotton "clinics" throughout the state this year and increasingly practiced by growers, can bring such gains in per acre yield as to show sizeable net cash profits to growers is contained in reports of K. F. Ewing and R. L. McGarr of the U. S. bureau of entomology and plant quarantine. Describing results of extensive tests in Calhoun county, their report says that 10 dusted plots—in comparison with parallel untreated check plots—showed an average gain in yield of 31.8 per cent, with a high of 89.7 per cent.

On these plots, ranging from 17.5 to 70 acres in size, the average increase was 167.5 pounds per acre. Against this gain in cotton poundage, the applications of sulphur, in from two to four dustings, averaged 62.1 pounds at a total cost of $2.69 per acre, leaving an average net profit, in cash, of $4.76 per acre—and one farm had a per-acre high net of $11.86.

In five of the cuts the gain from dusting was between 200 and 350 pounds per acre; one cut produced between 100 and 200 pounds per acre gain; three cuts showed between 26 and 100 pounds, while in only one cut did the dusting fail to show an increase in yield, and this was caused not by failure of dusting to control the flea hopper, but by the fact that the hoppers were not sufficiently numerous to over the treated or untreated plots to have as much effect on yield as

AFL Report Sent Back For Study

New Legislation Criticism Sure To Be Modified

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor last night sent back to the executive council for further study today the resolutions committee report attacking trends and tendencies in recent government legislation it labeled "socialism."

The recomittal vote was taken after President William Green said some phases of the report were a "bit confusing" and delegates objected on grounds it might be considered an attack on new deal policies.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor last night placed his future as head of the federation in the hands of 5,000,000 workmen. He called John L. Lewis' offer to resign as CIO chairman, if Green would step down as A. F. of L. president "an attempted fraud on the public."

"It is obvious," Green said, "that even if he (Lewis) resigned as chairman of CIO, he still would remain its dictator."

A projected broadcast last night with Lewis and Green discussing Lewis' offer to resign if Green would, was cancelled by the National Broadcasting company after Lewis declined to speak.

Green, as yet unopposed, is up for re-election Friday. In Washington today Lewis offered to retire as CIO chairman if Green would relinquish the A. F. of L. presidency. Lewis' offer came after the A. F. of L. convention yesterday adopted a resolution saying Lewis' removal or resignation would help to bring labor peace.

"The presidency of the American Federation of Labor is an elective office," Green said. "The chairmanship of the CIO is an entirely different proposition. The officers of the CIO are not elected by the workers they presume to represent. They are self constituted, self appointed, self perpetuating."

Ranger Invites W. Lee O'Daniel To Homecoming

RANGER, Oct. 12.—W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-nominate, and his Hill-billy band, have been invited to take part in the annual Ranger homecoming, Friday, Oct. 21.

Other notables to whom special invitations have been issued include members of the state highway commission, members of the state railroad commission and Jerry Sadler, railroad commissioner-nominate.

There will be a long and colorful parade, addressed by distinguished guests, dedication of the new Bulldog stadium and a night football game between ancient rivals, neither of whom has lost a game in the Oil Belt race—the Breckenridge Buckaroos and the Ranger Bulldogs.

Mayor Hall Walker, general chairman, invites everyone to attend, with a special invitation to all who went through the great oil boom which began 21 years ago. Ten thousand visitors were here last year and an equal number is expected this time.

Special Venire Called for Trial

A special venire of 150 men, from which a jury will be picked for the murder trial of Raymond "Red" Banks, was announced today by District Judge Chaß Klapproth. The trial is scheduled to start October 24.

Banks was indicted by the grand jury following the death of Ramon Estrada, Mexican, in a cafe operation, in this state the work of commercial organizations in putting at the disposal of college and county agencies equipment, materials and services of their own entomologists is an encouraging manifestation of the willingness of these industries to do their part in eradicating effective machinery for fighting farm problems.

With the fund of information and tested practices richer and more readily available than ever before, and with abundant, low-priced native Texas "ammunition" and willing, well-trained demonstrators from commercial organizations and county, state and federal agencies at their services, Lone Star cotton farmers are potentially the best equipped cotton growing army that has ever undertaken the perennial battle with the bugs.

Miles Buys Heifers For Local Feed Lot

J. C. Miles today purchased from the Scharbauer Cattle Co. 106 head of yearling heifers, to be placed on feed at his farm three miles south of Midland. The heifers to be trucked there tomorrow, are coming off of the Horse Camp place, south of the Five Wells ranch. Miles already has a string of yearling on feed and plans to finish out these heifers in 100 days. Clarence Scharbauer yesterday was at Lovington where he delivered 300 head of heifer yearlings to Panhandle buyer.

She Won't Starve

Irked by conflicting reports that she had received a million-dollar inheritance or would receive it soon, pretty Jessie Barker, above, secluded herself in the home of her mother and stepfather in Louisville, Ky. "She's just an ordinary girl," said stepfather Wright Barr in denying Miss Barker had already received a check for a million left in trust by her father, Jesse Barker, of Peoria, Ill. Her family said she would get the million next spring. Meanwhile Miss Barker is existing on $1000 a month.

Vorbe to Repeat Geology Course During the Winter

The course in elementary geology given last year by Georges Vorbe will be repeated this winter, the instructor has announced.

An invitation is extended to those interested in the subject to attend an introductory lecture Thursday evening, October 13, at eight o'clock in the private dining room of the Hotel Scharbauer (at the east end of the mezzanine floor). Attendance at this lecture imposes no obligation.

The series of lectures is divided into two semesters of approximately ten weeks each, and classes are held twice weekly. Following the procedure of last year, quizzes from time to time and final examinations at the end of each term will be given. These examinations and the grading thereof, however, are not compulsory, but are suggested for those who wish to gauge the progress of their study or may be exacted by companies paying the tuition of employees and consequently desiring a check on the student's work. One can naturally get more benefit from the course if he uses one of the recommended text-books in conjunction with notes made from the lectures and by taking the quizzes offered. Mr. Vorbe declares, although it is possible to attend the classes simply as a hearer and acquire a general acquaintance with the subject.

The course last year met with considerable enthusiasm by most of some fifteen students who completed the two semesters' work, and Mr. Vorbe said that he was agreeably surprised at the amount of study put into it and the splendid progress noted on the part of members of the class.

The lectures were attended by persons of quite varied interests, including geologists' wives, oil scouts, petroleum engineers, sample boys and stenographers from oil company offices. The course is designed to meet the requirements of both those people who are connected with the oil business in some capacity and those who are interested in the study from a purely academic or cultural point of view.

One field trip is offered at the end of the second semester. The party last year went to Carlsbad and to El Paso Gap, continuing the trip on the second day along the eastern edge of the Guadalupe Mountains past Guadalupe Point, along the Delaware and Sierra Diablo Mountains to Van Horn.

Forest Fire Death Toll Increases

10 Members of Two Families Thought To Have Perished

PORT FRANCES, Ont., Oct. 12 (AP).—Constable David Hamilton said today there were indications two more families, comprising ten persons, had perished in forest fires raging in the Minnesota-Canada border country.

Previously 17 others had been listed as dead. Police said it might be days before the fate of all residents in the area had been learned.

Twelve of the dead were members of the Frank, William and Noah LaBelle families, living in Dance Township, Province of Ontario. A Park Rapids, Minn., CCC boy was killed in the crash of two forestry service fire trucks and a fire fighter suffocated near International Falls.

The fire danger was diminished somewhat by overnight showers but a brisk south wind was again fanning flames, crowding fire lines manned by more than 3,000 men aided by airplanes.

Details of the Canadian woods tragedy were received by provincial police at Port Frances. The three LaBelle brothers families tried to escape first by horse-drawn rig and then afoot after burning trees blocked the road.

Frank LaBelle directed the trapped group, including mostly small children to lie on their faces in the woods trail.

"Those who did so were saved, but one of the mothers who perished became panicky and with a one-year-old child in her arms, tried to outrun the flames. In the excitement other children followed her."

Forty-Two Are Present at South Ward PTA Meeting

Forty-two women were present at the meeting of south elementary PTA, held at the south ward building, Tuesday afternoon.

Three talks were presented following the singing of a group of songs by the third grade pupils. Claude O. Crane spoke on "Fire Prevention."

An explanation of the recreation plan by means of which a playground will be established where the softball ground on South Main street now is to provide a place of amusement for children of that section was presented by Perry Sewell, an assistant on the project of recreation now being initiated here.

During the business meeting, Mrs. S. A. Debnan and Mrs. J. R. Gregory were elected delegates from the PTA to attend the state PTA convention at Lubbock, Nov. 15-17.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served through courtesy of Supt. W. W. Lackey.

East Extension to Denver Showing for Record Production

Honolulu Oil Corporation, Ltd. No. 1 R. M. Kendrick, assuring one and a quarter-mile east extension of southern Yoakum's Denver pool, continued today to show for record production of the area as it headed oil every four to five hours, with heads lasting from 40 minutes to an hour. Yesterday, in the period from one a. m. to 11 p. m., the well made five heads. It made another head at 2:30 this morning, following by still another at 7 o'clock. Operators estimate the well's natural yield at 250 to 300 barrels daily and believe it has yet to encounter the main pay. It will probably be bottomed at about 5,170 feet. Early today drilling had reached 5,090 feet in time. First free oil was logged from 4,983-94 and steady gains in pay have been encountered below that point. No. 1 Kendrick is located 1,650 feet from the south and west lines of section 825, block D. J. H. Gibson survey.

Shell No. 5 Lowe, Denver pool well, flowed 80 barrels of oil on four-hour natural test through 2-inch tubing set at 5,564, one foot of bottom. It is now preparing to acidize. Don Danvers et al. No. 3 Shell-Lynn is drilling at 413 feet in red beds.

Shell No. 5 Roberts, test well of the Denver pool and on the north edge of the Roberts area, is drilling below 4,637 feet in lime.

Big Pecos Valley Well.
One of the largest producers in the Pecos Valley pool of Pecos county was seen as E. C. Heidrich No. 1 Bernier flowed 521 barrels naturally, in 21 hours, filling all storage. It was assigned full 24-hour potential of 582.12 barrels, with gas-oil ratio of 1,000-1. No. 1 Bernier topped pay at 1,792 and reached total depth of 1,850.

In the Shearer pool of Pecos, Chidress Royalty Company No. 3 J. S. Masterson flowed 154.62 barrels a day, with gas-oil ratio of 400-1, following a 40-quart shot, bottomed at 1,453. Pay top came in at 1,394.

Seven-Story Fall Is Laughing Matter

Still not quite able to believe the miracle is Mrs. Mary Babyak, of New York, pictured holding her 14-months-old son Michael, who will probably go through life dubbed "Lucky Mike." The baby was playing on a bed in his home on the top floor of an apartment house. He plunged through an open window level with the bed and fell seven stories to the ground. Mrs. Babyak rushed downstairs to pick up, as she feared, his crushed and bleeding body. She got there in time to see him rise without a whimper and walk over to her. "Lucky Mike" and his mother are shown after the accident, whose total damage, thanks to a network of clotheslines that broke the baby's fall, were abrasions on his head and wrist.

Oil Price Cut Will Cost West Texas $34,000 Daily

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 12.—West Texas oil producers will receive $34,612.37 less daily for their crude, based on total daily allowable production for October of 266,249 barrels, not including Saturday and Sunday shutdowns, as the result of the slash averaging 13 cents per barrel placed in effect Tuesday morning by Humble and expected to become general, since Humble is the major purchaser. Royalty owners will stand one-eighth of the cut, the usual royalty being one-eighth of the production although in a few cases it is one-sixth.

The decreased revenue is based on daily allowable production for October of 236,484 barrels in what is called by the Railroad Commission of Texas as District 8 and daily allowable of 29,765 barrels in District 7-C, producing counties in which are Runnels, Irion, Reagan, Crockett and Upton. Midland is headquarters for District 8 and San Angelo for District 7-C.

The reduction was the first price change in West Texas since Jan. 28, 1937, when the market advanced six to 10 cents per barrel to an average of nearly 90 cents. It was the longest period of stability in years. Humble slashed the posted price 13 cents to 53 cents for oil of 20 gravity and below, with a differential of two cents per barrel for each degree up to 40 gravity and above, making the new top 95 cents. Yates crude in Pecos county was hacked from 91 cents to a flat 73. The reduction applied to Lea county, southeastern New Mexico.

The price cut was not surprising in view of the weak gasoline market and scattered reductions recently in Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana. While Texas has done more than its share to hold production to market demands through Saturday and Sunday shutdowns while other producing states have not taken comparable restrictive measures development of proven leases in Texas has been heavy this year.

"Beat Wink" Slogan Formally Adopted By CC Directors

That the Midland Chamber of Commerce is 100 per cent behind the Midland high school Bulldogs was evidenced last night when directors of the organization in regular monthly session, adopted a "Beat Wink" slogan and voted unanimously to extend to the Bulldogs a vote of confidence in their crucial game with the Wink Wildcats here on October 21, full support and cooperation on the part being assured the coaches and members of the local football squad. That the Bulldogs can and will defeat the Wildcats was expressed by each director in attendance. It was also voted that the Bulldogs be commended for their undefeated record to date.

A report as to the possibility of the establishing of a livestock auction sale in Midland was made by members of a special committee appointed at the September meeting, the committee being composed of T. Paul Barron, Clarence Scharbauer, J. C. Miles and S. A. Debnan. The matter was referred back to the committee for further investigation.

Tentative program for the quarterly meeting of the Southwestern Conference of Mayors and Chamber of Commerce Representatives to be held here on October 21-22 was read and approved, the program having been arranged by a committee composed of T. Paul Barron, Clarence Scharbauer and Herb Fox.

Possibility of starting a Community Chest movement in Midland was discussed, a committee composed of Allen Waitts, M. C. Ulmer and W. B. Simpson, being appointed by President Marion Flint to investigate the matter, reporting their findings at the next meeting.

ILL AT HOME OF SON.
John Tolbert is seriously ill at the home of a son, Allen Tolbert. Family members said today little improvement was shown in his condition.

Japs Start Big Attack On Canton

Capture of Key City Announced In New Advance

TOKYO, Oct. 12. (AP).—Japan today urged the United States and other powers to "refrain as far as possible from moving troops and warships in south China" in view of the landing of a Japanese expedition, presumably for a drive on Canton.

Japanese asked cooperation in preventing incidents in connection with the south China campaign.

By Associated Press
Japanese began their long-heralded attack on Canton in south China today to cut China's last important link with the seaboard, and simultaneously announced the capture of a key city on the Peiping-Hankow connection with Sian and her source of supply from Soviet Russia.

A joint Japanese army and navy announcement in Shanghai said a landing had been made "somewhere in South China" and a Hongkong dispatch quoted reliable Chinese sources as saying a landing, after heavy bombardment had been effected at Hachung, in Bias bay, about 20 miles from the railway connecting Canton with Hongkong.

At the same time the Japanese news agency, Domei, reported the capture of Sinyang, 100 miles north of Hankow, the Chinese military capital.

Spanish war dispatches, too, told of the renewal of fierce fighting. Government forces were reported to be scoring successes in a drive that recovered the Pandols mountains and again threatened Ganceda, vital insurgent communications center on the Ebro river front.

Meanwhile, Hungarians in Czechoslovakia received the Hungarian army with flowers as the troops marched into Ipolyzag, one of the two towns which Czechoslovakia agreed to cede as a symbol of her intention of reaching a peaceful agreement on Hungary's minority and territorial demands.

Hungarian and Czechoslovak statesmen, meeting at Komarom on the border, however, were in a temporary deadlock. The Hungarians were insisting upon large territorial concessions which the Czechoslovaks said were unreasonable.

In Berlin Monsignor Segare Orsenigo, papal nuncio to Germany, was believed to have taken up with the German foreign office the subject of a Nazi mob attack upon Theodore Cardinal Innitzer in Vienna. The Papal Nuncio visited the foreign office but the only official information given out was that "current matters" were discussed.

O'Daniel Refuses To Commit Self on AAA Farm Program

CORSICANA, Oct. 12. (AP).—Non-committal on the AAA-domestic allotment farm conflict now raging in Texas, Governor-Nominee W. Lee O'Daniel Tuesday told a meeting of 1,200 dirt farmers he would have nothing to say with reference to federal legislation.

After asserting he wanted to know only what the state government could do that would be beneficial to agriculture he went down into the rodeo arena where he had spoken and scuffed his cowboy boots in the dust with overalled farmers who told him their troubles.

G. E. Lawson, Ellis county farmer, told him 85 per cent of the farmers in that county were for Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and the AAA plan. Another told him the farmers wanted a graduated tax in Texas under which the man with 2,000 acres would pay a higher rate than the man with 200 acres. A farm wife told him to take care of his health while governor. He listened to all, and asked few questions.

O'Daniel appeared on the same program with J. E. McDonald, state agricultural commissioner, who took the occasion a meeting sponsored by the farmers union of Texas—to renew his attack on the AAA.

McDonald again explained the domestic allotment plan he is advocating, under which farmers would be allowed their share of the domestic market with a subsidy to assure a parity price, and then use their own judgment in regard to how much they would raise for possible foreign consumption.

Not on the program, but in the crowd and passing out literature, was Alexander Boynton of San Antonio, republican nominee for governor and O'Daniel's opponent in the general election in November. The literature was a mimeographed sheet containing a six-point attack on O'Daniel's candidacy.

"I didn't come here to tell you farmers how to farm," O'Daniel said. "I shall have nothing to say with reference to federal legislation. We have problems big enough in Texas to take all of our time. I want to know what the state government can do that will be beneficial to Texas farmers."

The Top of the World Gets a Little Cluttered

By BRUCE CATTON.

It would be interesting to find out just how Benito Mussolini is feeling right now. He seems to be sitting on top of the world, his people are hailing him as a world-saving peace-maker (which is certainly a new role for him), as he has just taken a major part in a history-making event. But it is a safe bet that if you could get a look at his inmost thoughts you would find that he is far from happy. For what has been happening in the last few months is obvious enough, when you stop to think about it. Benito has been slowly but steadily deflated. He still rolls as ominous an eye and throws out as big a chest as ever, but he is strictly the Number Two dictator now.

Hitler's Germany is the dominant power in Europe today, and there is every indication that it will become more dominant in the next year or so. And all of the boastful talk from Rome about the beauties of the Rome-Berlin axis cannot hide the fact that it is not at all to Mussolini's interests to have Hitler advancing so fast. Look at what has happened already. A year or two ago, it was a cardinal point in Italian policy to keep Germany out of Austria. Today Austria is part of Germany, and a German army occupies one end of the Brenner pass—looking down contemptively on the Tyrol, where some hundreds of thousands of Germans live under an Italian rule which is far more oppressive than anything the Czechs ever put on. Yugoslavia and the neighboring country were likewise marked down as a sphere for Italian penetration and expansion. That dream also has exploded. A great deal of penetration and expansion will take place in that part of Europe in the near future, but it won't be Italian; it will be German.

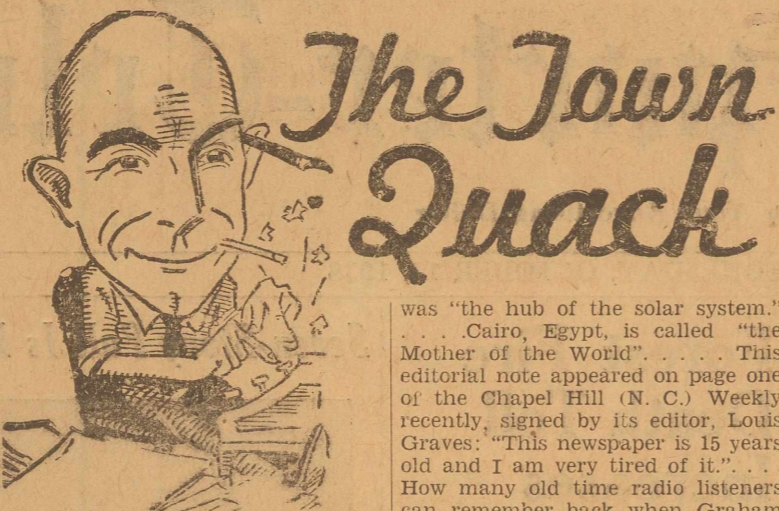

The Near East has also been a goal of Mussolini's foreign policy. But the famous old German "drive to the east" is going ahead now faster than ever before, and it would be a hopeful soul indeed who supposed that Hitler was going to revise his plans there to make room for the junior partner.

What is left? An arid empire in Africa and a half-conquered, poverty-stricken domain in Ethiopia. There may yet be a few pickings in Spain—but even there, it is the German agent who has been gobbling up the choicest concessions. So Mussolini can hardly be happy about the way things are shaping up. Already he begins to look suspiciously like the tail to Hitler's kite. The pupil to whom he taught Fascism is in a fair way to muscle teacher clear out of the schoolroom.

Now that Hitler has been hit by a bouquet from one of his frenzied worshippers they're not going to give the frenzied worshippers any more bouquets to throw. A California man was elected constable the other day by a flip of the coin. A flip of the coin in the right direction has elected lots of people to office. BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. — Can you conceive of Adolf Hitler as an exponent of peace on earth and good will to men? Some of the State Department masterminds had to stretch their imaginations considerably, but they did. At least, they imagined a Hitler who could so picture himself in moments of introspection. This story is given only for what it's worth. But it's a fact that men who worked on President Roosevelt's second cablegram to Hitler actually tried a little long-distance psychoanalysis of the Fuehrer. Clearing their minds of personal prejudice, they checked closely with Foreign Service men who thought they knew something of the Hitler character. The analysis produced, to be brief, a picture of a soldier with Nietzsche in his philosophical background—a man who considers himself godlike. A man with possibilities of philosophical ecstasy which at best could blaze into fine idealism and at worst into sheer insanity.

THE CAPITOL JIGSAW By HOWARD C. MARSHALL, Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (AP). — Hay fever sufferers in Dallas, warring on ragweed, will ask the legislature to help. A bill making it a misdemeanor to allow ragweed to grow on property is contemplated. It will not be the first time leaders of Texas' great sneezing brigade have sought to have the law to do something about their troubles. Many years ago a bill providing for chopping down all male cedar trees about Austin was introduced but ran up against a wall of ridicule and succeeded. The capital is one of the dark spots on the hay fever map. This is because the surrounding hills are covered with cedar and at certain seasons pollen from male trees pervades the air. Dean W. R. Woolrich of the school of engineering at the University of Texas is very optimistic over experiments the school of conducting with air filters. Data gathered indicate hay fever patients can do a lot in their homes to relieve their discomfort, Woolrich said. "Almost any filter where the air flow can be controlled will give relief," he explained. "It will cut out a large portion of the cedar pollen which is so irritating. "Air conditioning was of some help he said, but an air filter was

DR. JEKYL AND MR. HYDE? IN OTHER words, the boys figured that there might be a side of the Hitler character that they could appeal to. What Mr. Roosevelt thought of it all is not known to this writer. But it was the basis of a special appeal, evidence especially by assurance to Hitler that a grateful world would rise up and call him blessed if he would only call off the dogs of war. That no one has any great faith that Hitler is now a reformed character or that the second Roosevelt message appealed to his better nature is indicated by the way Rooseveltians soft-pedal earlier attempts to make F. D. R. the hero of the occasion. No one wants to take credit for what may prove to be a grave dug for democracy.

better." Attorneys for defendant companies swamped courtroom facilities here when Texas' famous anti-trust suit was called in District Judge J. D. Moore's court. Eying the lineup of opposing lawyers, Attorney General William McCraw observed that if all of them participated the trial would consume 100 years. The case had been pending seven. It was started in November, 1924, by James V. Alfred, then attorney general. Vocational education in Texas is 20 years old, a bulletin of the State Department of Education recalls. It began in 1917-18. In that school year vocational agriculture classes were held at Tuleta, Meridian, Rock Island, Comanche Pilot Point, El Paso, Ellers, Powell Point, Rollin, Marshall, Hillsboro, Grapeland, Jasper, Cleburne, Littlefield, Liberty, Yancey, Nat, Woden, State Home, Callahan, Whit, Livingston, Harmony, Manor, Hempstead, Oklahoma, Thrall, and Wimsboro. That was a total of 30 schools. At this writing 694 schools were listing the course and the Department of Education expected the number to mount to 700 in a few days. Senator Grady Woodruff of Deatur and Bob Barker, veteran secretary of the senate, were chatting in the latter's office. The conversation turned to Woodruff's defeat for re-election. Barker heaved a sigh of sympathy and then, as if seeking to put the most cheerful aspect on the fact, remarked: "Well, now we will be able to adjourn at 12 o'clock." Woodruff grinned. "You will have to admit I got my bills passed." It was one of Woodruff's habits or parliamentary maneuver to call up some pet measure a few minutes before the customary time of adjournment at noon. Very often hungry senators were in no mood to examine bills in great detail and to get into a wrangle. So they would do what he wanted and depart. Rep. Dwyer of San Antonio has served notice he will introduce a bill at the general session of the legislature proposing re-legalization of horse race betting on a local option plan. He would allow counties to have pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing if a majority of their citizens voted for it. Dwyer refused to predict to press correspondents what the legislature would do with his bill. "They ought to pass it," he said. "The larger counties should be allowed to determine their course in the matter." Says Best Canned Peas Not Ripened COLLEGE STATION, (A). — Best canned peas are never tree-ripen-

Your Child's Future THE biggest job you have ever had, parents,—that of caring for your children—is safeguarding their health so that their future happiness and success may be assured. Nothing is more important to them than their eyes. No child is healthy without healthy eyes. No child can achieve success without good vision. There's only one way to tell whether or not your children's vision is normal—have their eyes examined. Do it now before school begins. Dr. W. L. Sutton OPTOMETRIST 208 W. It looks like Five Years from Now! THE vast Buick factory is a grand place to visit, these days. Down the roaring aisles, throughout the sprawling bays there's an electric something in the air, a sense of great things happening. They're building something ultra, here at Buick, and they know it. It looks like five years from now, they'll say of this dazzling 1939 Buick, and they're not talking of appearance only. They're talking of "catwalk-cooling" that floods air under forced draft to ease the temperature of your engine. They're talking of BuCoil springing and the soft shock-smothering spirals that give you the true "full float" ride. They're talking of that Dynaflesh great eight engine, instant with life and wringing good from every drop of fuel. They're talking of weight-balance and gravity-center that hold you to your line—of wheels that camber to let you take the curves more safely—of new visibility—up to 413 square inches more glass in SPECIAL and CENTURY models. They're talking a thousand and one details of Buick that you'll never know nor need to know but that to their schooled eyes spell a better built automobile. And they're thinking of now as they talk. For they know that no car sells spectacularly when it's merely up-to-date. They know that for big years a car has to be ahead—that a car which looks like the future means better times for today. You can see this car they're talking of at the nearest Buick showroom. When you do see it, think of what the men who built it are saying, not boastfully, but with quiet sureness. They know. You spot that in their glance. It's a level glance—lighted by that spark you see only in the eyes of confident men! NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES: DYNAFLESH VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE; BUICOIL TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING; GREATER VISIBILITY HANDSHIFT TRANSMISSION; ROOMIER UNSTEEL BODIES BY FISHER; TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE; TIPTOE HYDRAULIC BRAKES; CROWN SPRING CLUTCH; "CATWALK-COOLING"; OPTIONAL REAR AXLE GEAR RATIOS; FLASH-WAY DIRECTION SIGNAL; SELF-BANKING KNEE-ACTION FRONT SPRINGING.

Tuesday Afternoon Tea Is Courteous For Miss Stebbins

As a courtesy to her sister, Miss Lois Stebbins, who is here from Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. W. W. West entertained with a tea from three o'clock until five o'clock Tuesday afternoon at her home, 1611 W. College.

Autumn colors of orange and yellow were favored in accessories. Rooms were lighted only by candle-and-lamp light.

In the dining room the buffet was centered with chrysanthemums, flanked on either side by two yellow candles.

The lace-covered tea table bore a centerpiece of fall vegetables and fruits with orange tapers on either side. Autumn colors also were featured in the refreshment plate.

An original note was introduced by the hostess in serving hot spiced grape juice instead of tea.

Pouring for the first hour was Mrs. Jas. R. Day and for the second hour, Mrs. Paul Kasper.

Mrs. C. L. I. Marmion and Miss Vee Kasper assisted.

About 25 guests called during the tea hours.

Mrs. West and Miss Stebbins will leave Friday for Kansas where Mrs. West plans to visit for about two weeks.

Miss Peggy Jo Howze, Bride-Elect, Is Honored at Triple-Hostess Shower

Miss Peggy Jo Howze, whose marriage to Ray Blackburn will take place October 15, was honored at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Ernest Neill, Mrs. Gay Harris, and Mrs. John Rhoden Jr. were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Neill, 411 North A street, Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A blue and gold color scheme accompanied by a bridal motif of love birds and wedding bells distinguished party appointments.

Rooms were decorated with cosmos, lantanas, and marigolds.

Mrs. Rhoden presided at the bride's book which was handmade by Mrs. Harris and was decorated with love birds and wedding bells.

Each guest was asked to write her favorite recipe for the bride-elect.

Unique feature of the evening's entertainment was a debate by Joyce Beateharm and Cleo Tidwell on whether Mrs. Howze should marry Mr. B. Blackburn.

Miss Bobby Clemens was chairman of the debate.

When the three judges decided in favor of the affirmative, that is, that the marriage was advisable, Miss Clemens announced that "since this is so, Peggy Jo might as well have some of these" and presented her with some of the gifts. Other packages were then presented to the honoree.

The party plate repeated the chosen colors and symbols in cakes iced in blue, decorated with golden wedding bells, served with gold ice cream, and in the favors which were cards decorated with love birds and wedding bells and the names of Miss Howze and her fiancé with the wedding date.

Limburger Cheese Starts Commotion

Location time is always ribbing time with Gene Autry-Smiley Burnette musical western pictures. But making "Springtime in the Rockies" which comes to the Ritz Theatre next Friday found Smiley and a cowboy Ken Cooper waging a continual feud of practical jokes.

Most effective of these was the Limburger cheese stunt. Burnette started it by putting large pieces of Limburger in Cooper's boots. But it boomeranged when Ken discovered the cheese. He smeared it not only on Burnette's bunk house pillow, but on the pillow of nearly everyone in the cast including Director Joe Kane. As a result all slept out under the stars and the murmuring pine trees for several nights while shooting the picture up in the San Jacinto mountains of Southern California.

Visit to Spain Is Theme Of Civic Music Club Program

In the form of a mythical visit to Spain, the Civic Music club presented its first open program of the year at the north ward auditorium Tuesday evening.

Mrs. T. R. Parker, club president, called the meeting to order, welcoming the visitors and explaining that the program would be Spanish.

Since the club study this year is to deal with an imaginary voyage around the world, the group was supposed to have reached Spain, that country furnishing the theme for the evening's selections.

Miss Lydia G. Watson called the roll, members answering with Spanish phrases.

Wallace Wimberly, as "guide" for visitors in Spain, announced the numbers.

"Hail to the Music of Spain," a brief discussion of the types and characteristics of Spanish music, was presented by Mrs. John Casselman. Among the points brought out in her brief talk was the one that there is always a background of sadness in even the gayest Spanish music. Interesting also was the statement that Spanish evening musical programs often start at 10:30 o'clock and may last until 2 o'clock in the morning.

"Habanera" from "Carmen" by Bizet was sung by Mrs. De Lo Douglas who prefaced the song by a brief explanation of the opera background for it. Mrs. Holt Jewell accompanied for the selection.

Mrs. B. W. Stevens and Mrs. F. C. Cummings played two duet selections—"Spanish Dance, Opus 12 No. 12" by Moszkowski and "Spanish Dance, Opus 12, No. 1" by the same composer.

Two violin selections, both Spanish dances, "Opus 5, No. 5" by Grandos and "Tango" Albeniz, were presented by Mrs. W. L. Haseltine, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Cornelius.

Special feature of the evening was a dance presented by Mrs. Langdon Tennis, dancer and former dance instructor, pupil of Muriel Stuart, Thomas Sheehy, Eliza Ryan, Walter Patridge, and Muriel Kretlow.

Mrs. Tennis danced "España Cani" from the music by Marquina. The dance, an original Danishwain number, in authentic Spanish manner, featured by playing of castanets, was presented by Mrs. Tennis with effective understanding of its changing moods and technical precision in its lightning changes from intense action to sudden immobility. Her costume included a wide many-ruffled skirt and red bodice and red flowers formed her hair dress.

She danced before a screen of roses and autumn leaves.

Following the dance number, Miss Jessie Scott Price played "Valse Caprice" by Marmiel de Falla as a piano solo.

A Halloween social will be held October 25 at the home of Mrs. Tiffin, 513 W. Wall, with Miss Gravette as cohostess.

Entire Club Membership Present For Bridgette Party

Mrs. Bill Van Huss was hostess to three tables of bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home, 607 N. Pecos, complimenting the Bridgette club, all members of which were present.

Chrysanthemums and roses were party flowers.

High score for the games was held by Mrs. R. R. Cowan and second high by Mrs. Kenneth S. Blackford.

Mrs. Bert Ross was the only guest. A party plate was served at the close of play to Mrs. Ross and the following club members: Mmes. S. O. Cooper, Cowan, A. E. Horst, J. J. Kelly, E. D. Richardson, L. A. Tullios, S. M. Warren, Blackford, M. S. Spry, A. H. Riley, and the hostess.

Mrs. Scharbauer Entertains for Enigma Club

Fall colors for tallies and score pads and bronze and yellow chrysanthemums for house decorations were chosen by Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer as appointments for the afternoon bridge with which she entertained the Enigma club at her apartment in Hotel Scharbauer, on Tuesday afternoon.

The party formally opened the 1938-39 program of entertainments for the club, previous parties this fall being "make-up" parties to conclude last year's schedule.

Two guests, Mrs. John Dublin and Mrs. Frank Williamson, were present for the games.

Mrs. Harry Tolbert, club member, was a tea guest.

Awards in play went to Mrs. Guy Cowden for high score among club members, to Mrs. Dublin for high score guest, and to Mrs. George McEntire, Jr., for high cut.

A tea course was served at the conclusion of the games to guests and the following club members: Mmes. Harvey Conger, Elliott Cowden, Chas. Goldsmith, McEntire, Ellis Cowden, Guy Cowden, Henry Wolcott, M. C. Ulmer, Clyde Cowden, Frank Cowden, and the hostess.

As one of the industries of Texas, your telephone company pays its share of the cost of government. It is a heavy share, too. In 1937 its local, state, and federal taxes in Texas totaled more than four million dollars... nearly $12,000 a day.

These telephone taxes were equal to more than a third of the company's entire payroll in the state. They amount to $9.25 for every telephone in service.

Where do they go, these taxes? To build and maintain the streets and highways over which you drive. To furnish you police and fire protection. To keep up your children's schools. To help pay for all the services government gives you.

"NO ADMITTANCE" SIGNS POSTED FOR FUTURE WORKOUTS OF THE BULLDOGS

The Midland high school Bulldogs will work behind barred gates for the remainder of this week and all of next week, coach Taylor has announced.

Several persons have been attending practice sessions of the Bulldogs each day this week; some of them unacquainted with the coach. Hereafter, until the Wink game is over, the gates will be locked for each session.

Coaches Taylor, Myer and Moore are working the boys hard on old and new plays in an effort to build up an offense that will make progress against the Wink club here on the night of October 21. Myer has scouted the Wink club in nearly all its games this year and most of next week's practice sessions will be taken up trying to perfect a defense that will stop the rampaging of Ezzell, Callahan and company.

The Bulldogs are going to be out-weighted between 10 and 15 pounds per man and indications are that they will try to overcome the handicap by taking to the air. The club has not shown any air attack all season but there has been no use for it. However, the few times they have passed has made it appear that they might have a pretty fair passing attack. Wright and Francis have done all the passing with Van Dyke and Bryan on the receiving end.

Record Crowd for Frog-Aggie Game

COLLEGE STATION. — It looks like sports writers have decided that the Texas Aggie-Texas Christian Horred Frog game here next Saturday, Oct. 15, will be for the 1938 Southwest Conference grid championship rather than just another game on the schedules of both teams.

Letters and wires requesting press box and grandstand space rival the number received for a Thanksgiving Day game and among those expected are some of the top men on the sports writing field. Most distant request came from Francis (Frank) Wallace, author of the recent "Pigskin Review of 1938" article in a leading weekly magazine, who wrote from Hollywood that he expected to be on hand to see how four of the seven potential All-Americans he named bear out his predictions. Those four include Capt. I. B. Hale, tackle, whom he rated as the best football player in the nation and Ki Aldrich, center, of the Frogs; and Dick Todd, "The Crowell Cyclone," rated by Wallace as America's greatest running back, and Joe Boyd, big tackle of the Aggies.

Associated Press, United Press and International News Service will have staff sports writers on hand and reservations have been made for sports editors from the newspapers in the larger cities of the state.

Those fellows pick out what looks like the best bet of the week and attend that game, so perhaps the Aggie-Frog game will turn out to be the thriller they expect. At any rate, Capt. "Slick" Rogers, Mart, says the Aggies expect to make it one.

Making That Old Welkin Ring—Again

"Hooray for us!" And the victorious New York Yankees indulge in what's getting to be their annual jubilation as World Series victors. They swept the series in straight games by beating the Chicago Cubs 8 to 3 in the fourth contest and became the only team to win the World Championship in succession. The happy Yanks pictured above in the dressing room at Yankee Stadium after the final game, front, left to right: Manager Joe McCarthy, pitcher Red Ruffing, coach Arthur Fletcher and Tommy Henrich. Charges U. S. Gets Nazi Attention

Germany's "Gestapo," Nazi propaganda organization, is concentrating on the United States, Editor Arnold Gingrich, above, of Ken Magazine, charged before the Dies un-American activities committee in Washington. Three departments devoted to espionage in this country have been added to "Gestapo" in the past year, he said.

Run That Kept Title on Ice

The New York Yanks made it four straight in the World Series by trimming the Chicago Cubs 8 to 3, and won their third consecutive world title. The four runs they made in the eighth inning simply added insult to injury, for they could have quit after Tommy Henrich, Yank outfielder, poled a home run in the sixth. In the photo above Henrich (No. 17) is pictured receiving a congratulatory handshake from teammate Joe DiMaggio as he crosses the plate.

How to See Football

From under the shadow of the Golden Dome have come many of the nation's outstanding coaches. And practically all preach the gospel of Knute Rockne—the Notre Dame system.

The most significant feature about the offense at first sight is the balanced line.

Blocking probably is even more important in this plan than in any other. The reason is that the ends, who are spread a yard or two, must handle the defending tackle themselves without aid from a wing back. This is no small assignment.

Guards pull out to block, for which reason they must be unusually mobile.

In effect, the Notre Dame system is a single wing formation, but it operates differently.

Coming out of the huddle, the backfield lines up in a "T" formation, with the blocking back just behind the center and the other three lined up in a row about five or six yards to the rear of him, forming the "T".

The shift brings the offensive set-up, which finds the blocking or No. 2 back a yard behind and slightly to the right of the right guard. The No. 1 back stations himself a yard behind his right or left end, as the case may be. The left halfback, which is the threat position, usually takes the tailback post, with the No. 3 back alongside him, and to the rear of the blocking back.

Great versatility is the keynote of the Notre Dame plan.

The wing, freed from the task of aiding the end on the defending tackle, becomes an integral part of all deceptive plays. From this formation can be worked any phase of offense. Three men are in position to take a direct pass from center, and the stage is set for spinners, outbacks, reverses, and passes of all kinds.

But the basic Notre Dame systems depends on blocking—on whether the guards can pull out fast enough and whether the ends can handle their tackles.

Variations have sprung up, and often the end will receive assistance from the wing, or the other blocking back.

Alabama, Auburn, Saint Mary's, Fordham, Michigan State, Detroit, Villanova, Washington, Wisconsin, Duquesne, Santa Clara, and other schools have been getting by famously with variations of the Notre Dame system.

NEXT: The punt formation.

Football Tackle Makes Word Good

DALLAS. (AP). — "Big John" Partlow, star tackle at Dallas Technical high school two years ago, has done what he said he would do. He has returned to his classes and is once more sniffing the vibrant air of the gridiron.

Last year at the start of the season, "Big John" sustained a bruised leg in scrimmage. The bruise developed into a severe infection and an operation resulted. For weeks he was in the hospital, stiff-arming death.

"I'll be out and ready to play Thanksgiving," he promised. But a second operation was necessary.

As November approached, John was taken home. Every day he received a "liver shot" equivalent to 20 pounds of fresh meat. His leg mended but strength returned all too slowly. Finally, even "Big John" admitted that his football would have to wait until next season.

Throughout the final games of the

STREAMLINED FULLBACKS ANSWER PROBLEM OF SHIFTING DEFENSES

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD, NEA Service Sports Writer.

PERHAPS you've been noticing the new type of fullback being developed these days—the kind with the build of a bear and the getaway of a greyhound. The sort of gent who can bustle his way through the stoutest of lines, and in so doing, have a full head of steam by the time he has taken his second step.

Coaches are developing this type of fullback to meet the challenge of shifting defenses—the five and six-man lines which are being used so effectively. Grid tacticians have discovered that all a team needs to minimize the advantages of such flexible defenses is a man who can crack into a line with devastating suddenness.

Fullbacks of yesteryear—such as Herb Joesting, Bronko Nagurski and Ernie Nevers—could blast their way through a stone wall but their wasn't the lightning-like thrusts on display today.

OPEN GAME RESPONSIBLE.

PROBABLY the biggest factor contributing to the rise of this streamlined power back has been the forward and lateral pass. The defense virtually was forced into the five and six-man line formations to combat the tricky aerial thrusts with which so many teams are now armed.

Playing against such a defense, quarterbacks discovered their strategy bogged down like a deflated balloon. With six men back of the line of scrimmage to bat down their passes and guard against laterals, something had to be done to draw the defense in again.

Alabama has the answer to the problem in Charley Holm. California comes up with Dave Anderson. Holy Cross has Bill Osman. The trend is to the streamlined fullback, who from close up, or on a cleverly-executed spinner, can rip off gain after gain on schedule, however, "Big John" strained at the barbed bonds of fate. Just before Thanksgiving, the school scheduled a benefit game to help pay hospital expenses; and the big tackle attended in an ambulance.

In the spring, he attended high school baseball games in a wheelchair. Throughout the summer, his major purpose in life was to "build up" for "next season."

This fall, John once more pulled on his jersey. He trotted the greenward and watched the booming punts spiral into the air. He was with his buddies. But across his jersey was lettered the single word "manager."

"Big John" finally has admitted that his playing days are over.

Completes 600-Mile Trip in Wheel Chair

PALESTINE. (AP). — Jim Britton, 54, former Anderson county clerk, an invalid, recently completed a 600 mile trip from Palestine to Houston and returned in his invalid's chair, a three-wheeled vehicle propelled by arm strokes.

Britton made the trip in leisurely fashion, averaging about 30 miles a day. His best time was recorded between Conroe and Houston when he travelled a distance of 40 miles in a day.

He financed the trip by selling small articles en route.

Britton covered most of Anderson county in his wheel chair during

Tallest Two-Story Building Doomed

TYLER. (AP). — What is believed here to be the tallest two-story building in the United States will be razed if a pending application for federal assistance in the construction of a new fire and police station is approved.

The building, a sturdy brick structure built in 1886, measures 92 feet from the roof to the ground and at present houses the city and fire departments, the Texas Highway Patrol office and a number of other government agencies. It formerly was used as the city hall.

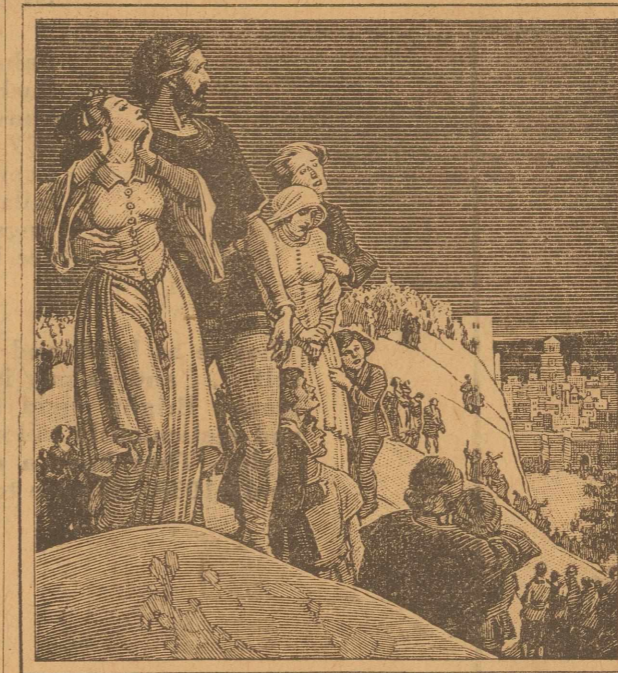

combating those shifting lines. A five-man line is a perfect set-up, however, for a quick-starting fullback. The defenders are spaced a little wider. Given a fair share of blocking the fullback can be through and away if he has the stuff.

So strong was the sentiment against the five-man line at the end of the 1937 season that many coaches were in favor of instituting a rule to prohibit its use. The proposal was turned down by the rules

Doomsday was a fizzle

"The world will end in the year One Thousand." So said the prophets. But nothing happened.

America, too, has its gloomy prophets. Has had them always. A railroad to the Pacific was a silly day dream... the telegraph a plaything... the horseless carriage a toy for fools. But all their clamor could not stem the wheels of progress... wheels kept moving by the eagerness and vision of our pioneers. Today the spinning wheels of progress run more smoothly and travel everywhere... singing a song of cheer heard 'round the world—a promise of ample rewards to Americans with faith in themselves.

Man's Pocket Is Picked by Auto

TYLER. (P). — The wonder of the automobile has not been exhausted, thinks A. M. Sutton, Tyler oilman, after one neatly picked his pocket during the recent rose festival.

Sutton, watching the one-way southbound traffic as he crossed the street at courthouse square, was brushed by an out-of-town automobile northbound and felt the pocket, containing a large roll of bills, torn from his trousers as he fell to the pavement.

Rising uninjured, he saw the pocket and its valuable contents swaying from a door hinge of the automobile proceeding northward in the face of opposing traffic. Although somewhat tattered as to trousers, Sutton gave pursuit and recovered the pocket and the money after policemen stopped the motorcar at a street intersection for obstructing traffic.

Boring a Tunnel Under The Swiss Alps

THE funds of three nations, oil lamps, and the picks and shovels of 3000 workmen drove the St. Gothard tunnel to completion on May 22, 1882. In less than 10 years, engineering skill and unremittent labor had bored nine and one-half miles under the Alps to link Italy, Germany, Switzerland, and the rest of Europe by one of the greatest railroad routes of all time.

But the toll was staggering. The construction cost more than $25,000,000, 179 men were killed or suffocated, and many contracted disease. Even Louis Favre, chief engineer, died before the tunnel was finished, collapsing from a heart attack induced by the extremely bad atmosphere in the excavation.

Crews worked 24 hours a day to drive through the tunnel. They used oil lamps, employed animals to haul out rock. The terrific rock pressure of the Alps caved in the roof repeatedly, until finally it became necessary to build masonry vaults 10 feet thick. The tunnel itself is 28 feet wide, 21 feet high, double-tracked. It runs from Goeschelen to Airolo, over nine and one-quarter miles, once the longest tunnel in the world.

At first steam locomotives caused much additional difficulty in the tunnel, expelling gases and smoke. Many engineers suffocated. The electric railway used today solved this problem. In all, the St. Gothard railway now includes 80 tunnels, 28 1/2 miles in total length, 324 bridges of more than 32-feet span. A current Swiss stamp shown here portrays a scene along the Alpine railway.

Gas Flame Burns While Submerged

OKLAHOMA CITY.—A modern miracle in water purification—a gas flame that burns while submerged in 12 feet of water—will be shown water works men for the first time during the annual convention of the southwest section of the American Water Works association here Oct. 17 to 20.

This new marvel in water treatment has cooperated with manufacturers of the underwater burner for the last six months in a series of successful experiments, which have proved it is an economical, practical device capable of reducing water hardness 20 per cent at a cost of 30 cents per 1,000,000 gallons.

LeRoy H. Scott, city filtration engineer, who has supervised experiments, predicted the burner will save water consumers large sums in soap and plumbing bills while enabling the city to avoid lime-clogged mains and water meters.

"The success of our experiments has convinced me this is one of the greatest advances made in water treatment in many years," Scott said.

"We have tried to conduct our tests secretly, but news of them has leaked out to water works men, and we have been swamped with queries. We have withheld details while bringing the burner to full efficiency."

"We're ready now," said M. B. Cunningham, city water superintendent, who is in charge of convention arrangements. "The entire process will be demonstrated fully during the convention. If the meeting offered nothing else, this demonstration would make it worthwhile."

By diffusion of carbon dioxide gas in water the burner enables engineers to control the amount of lime leaving the filtration plant. The control is so accurate engineers can govern, to a minute fraction of an inch, the thickness of lime coating in mains.

This has two major advantages: (1) it eliminates clogging of mains and meters, and (2) it assures enough lime coating to avoid red water, caused when water contacts bare iron mains.

"The softening process consists of adding excess lime to precipitate magnesium carbonate, one of water's principal hardeners. Without the burner it was impractical to add excess lime because there was no way to keep it from leaving the plant and damaging mains, meters and private plumbing."

Even during experiments the city water department has won the praise of several large industries, which have profited from softer water. Soap savings by laundries have been big items. Protection of boilers from lime brought more economies.

The five-inch underwater burner has made it all possible. It is at the base of a pipe 18 feet long, which is submerged 12 feet in a channel between the clarifier and filters. A mixture of air and natural gas is fed the burner through the pipe at high pressure. The resultant underwater flame—two feet long and generating heat of 2100 degrees F.—works the lime control miracle.

"Overages" of Oil Causing Troubles

AUSTIN. (P). — Pipeline oil overages—accumulations in excess of allowances resulting mainly from humanly imperfect tank measurements—are something of a headache to the Railroad Commission which regulates the oil industry.

Some independent producers are claiming the commission is more or less inadvertently permitting several major companies to move the overages into trade channels in that the oil becomes "lost" in vast pipeline systems.

The overages, as explained in a recent hearing, occur sometimes because persons who read tank gauges cannot measure perfectly with their eyes the actual level of oil in tanks. The fractions, it was said, might mean many barrels of oil in large storage tanks.

It also was pointed out tank botoms are uneven and while their average depth can be determined it is not always absolutely accurate. This causes differences in amounts recorded from actual volume however, only if the tank is drained.

East Texas commission employees testified a total of 175,000 barrels overage on nearly 115,000,000 handled, or thirteen hundredths of one per cent, had accrued there since the commission ceased issuing tender on such oil in August 1936.

V. E. Cottingham, the commission's chief engineer, suggested some discrepancies in reports on oil movements to the commission might be caused by changes in temperatures causing expansion and contraction in storage tanks and pipelines.

John G. Schroeder of Longview added differences also could occur in measurement of volume in gravity lines, errors in strapping tables and other kinds of miscalculation.

Tips For Furniture Buyers.

There's more to furniture shopping than merely selection the style or piece you want. First of all go to a reliable furniture dealer, one who handles only furniture that is well constructed and of the best materials. Construction should be strong, of good hard wood, reinforced to stand extra stress and strain where necessary. Fabrics should be sturdy, colorfast. Many of the new upholsteries are both dur-

Sales of New Cars In State Decline

AUSTIN.—Sales of new automobiles in Texas during September were substantially below those of the preceding month, reflecting the change over from 1938 to 1939 models, according to the bureau of business research of the University of Texas. There was, moreover, a sharp decline from a year ago, for and moisture resistant and some are processed against moth destruction. Strong springs, twine and webbing, the right filling, besides quality woods and veneers are all-important to the life and durability of the furniture you buy.

as late as September last year neither the public nor the business world had any idea that a severe business depression was impending; hence comparison with September last year is on the basis of a high level of sales, the bureau said. Reports to the bureau from fifteen representative Texas counties indicate a decline in sales of 11.7 per cent from August and 42.7 per cent from September last year.

Cars in the lowest price bracket made the best relative showing both in comparison with August and with September last year.

Fine Arts College Success at Univ.

AUSTIN.—With three times the anticipated enrollment, the new college of fine arts at the University of Texas is more than fulfilling expectations of those responsible for its creation, according to Dean E. William Doty. Although only first year instruction is now available in art and music, and only three years work in drama, it is evident that, when full curricula leading to the various degrees are offered, an enrollment of about 1,000 students may be expected. Of the total present enrollment of 350 students, 115 are majoring in the college.

miles east of here were attacked last night by a negro who beat the man to death and seriously injured his companion.

The sheriff said the young woman, suffering from head wounds inflicted by a club, crawled a quarter of a mile to the main highway and stopped a motorist who took her to a hospital here.

Sheriff Thigpen and Night Marshal Hal Posey sped to the scene and found the young man dead, his face and head beaten, and one arm smashed as though he had used it in an attempt to shield himself.

The couple was not immediately identified. Feeling was reported high in the town, where a similar attack occurred Sept. 13. On that date a negro attacked J. W. Breedlove and his companion, a Louisiana Tech co-ed, at a spot two miles from where last night's attack occurred. Breedlove was beaten with a club and suffered a fractured skull. The case is still unsolved.

Physicians at the Ruston hospital said the woman, about 20 years old, suffered a severe gash in her scalp. She was reported to be a waitress of Jonesboro, La. Sheriff Thigpen, aided by deputies and state police, threw a cordon of men around the scene and awaited the arrival of bloodhounds.

3,161 feet in anhydrite and lime. Helmerich & Payne, Inc. and Wright & McMillen No. 1 Dow Puckett is drilling at 2,400 feet in lime. Brown lime was reported topped at 2,250, about 195 feet higher than Humble No. 1 Belding, failure four and a half miles to the northwest.

John Emch No. 1 TXL, Reagan wildcat, is drilling past 1,680 feet in anhydrite. With elevation of 2,676, it topped anhydrite at 1,150, salt at 1,215, and logged base of salt at 1,550. Cochran Failure, Loomis.

Failure was indicated today by Magnolia No. 1 DeLa Slaughter Wright, east Cochran wildcat, when it encountered sulphur water. Water was believed encountered in the screw from 4,942-45, total depth, and it had risen 250 feet in the hole when bailer was run after drilling tools were pulled. The test is shut down for orders. Only a scum of oil had shown on pits before water was struck.

Extending the south end of the Slaughter pool in southwest Hockley a half-mile east, Snowden & McSweeney No. 1 A. A. Slaughter tested one bailer of oil per hour while bottomed at 5,055 feet. It is drilling ahead below 5,058, with oil being kept bailed down. First show came from 5,046-52, with probable increase to 5,055.

Atlantic No. 1 Parker, central Gaines wildcat two and a half miles northwest of the Seminole pool, showed 62 feet of drilling mud, with no oil or gas, when 45-minute drill-stem test was made from 5,194 to 5,230. It is now coring ahead. Last core, from 5,210-30, had returned 20 feet of lime, bleeding oil in the bottom two feet.

Quail Season to Open In Coleman County

COLEMAN, (AP).—Coleman county hunters were elated to read a posted notice that it would be lawful to shoot quail this year during the open season, from December 1 to January 16. The county has had a five year closed season and the birds are plentiful.

Plenty of grass for nests early in the year and better than usual natural food for the birds have caused them to thrive and the coveys are larger than in former years, sportsmen say.

Bert Fields, Inc. No. 1 Owenwood, wildcat three miles northwest of the Harper pool in Ector, drilled early today to 4,250 feet in hard lime.

H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton, Andrews wildcat, four miles west of the Means pool, is drilling at 4,350 feet in lime.

In southern Andrews, Rogers & Rogers No. 1 University cored from 4,465-75, recovering seven and one-half feet of sand and lime showing a little oil staining. Core from 4,475-88 returned lime, and the well is now coring ahead below 4,488.

Farther southeast, Great Western Producers No. 1 O. B. Holt is drilling past 2,000 feet in anhydrite and salt. It topped anhydrite at 1,765 and salt at 1,783.

Humble No. 1 J. S. Means, Andrews pool edge test, is drilling below 1,755 feet in red beds.

HUMBLE

This is a beautiful STATION
HUMBLE
Service check cards for the voluntary comments of Humble customers are available at all Humble Service Stations. Literally thousands of them are received by the Humble Company each year. They tell their own story of Humble service and Humble products. The names of the writers of the cards quoted in this advertisement will be furnished any interested inquirer on request.

Great care is taken to the end that Humble Service Stations will fit the neighborhoods in which they are located. The architecture, while practical and convenient, is not blatantly commercial; lawns are planted and tended; flowers bloom; shrubbery is trimmed; the paint is new and fresh; the bright work shines; driveways are scrubbed.

We go to this great care because we have learned that the Texas motorist appreciates it. He tells us so—voluntarily—on the service check cards with which each station is supplied. The comment above is typical; here are others: Best looking station in Texas... Driveway, pumps and restroom clean and sanitary... Premises remarkably neat and clean... The lawns are wonderful... The flowers are lovely... Beautiful place... We used the lawn for a picnic ground. Thank you... An unusual attention to neatness of surroundings.

You, too, will find Humble Service Stations—in your neighborhood or on the highways you travel—the sort of places in which you prefer to do business. Next time—stop for service where you see the Humble sign.
