

FDR Speaks Out Against Persecution

Condemns Nations Who Suppress All Forms of Liberty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP).—President Roosevelt in a virtually unprecedented condemnation of nations which suppress liberty, persecute Jews, and use threats of war to attain national ends, issued a warning last night that the United States would protect the western hemisphere from interference from abroad.

Speaking by radio from the oval room of the White House in connection with the New York Herald Tribune's forum on current affairs, Mr. Roosevelt added:

"And we affirm our faith that, whatever choice of way of life a people makes, that choice must not threaten the world with the disaster of war.

"The impact of such a disaster cannot be confined. It releases a flood-tide of evil emotions fatal to civilized living. That statement applies not to the western hemisphere alone but to the whole of Europe and Asia and Africa and the islands of the seas."

He declared that until foreign nations give the United States something more than mere verbal assurances that they desire disarmament—until disarmament discussions are actually started—this country must arm to "meet with success and application of force against us."

Without mentioning directly the recent war crisis which led to the settlement of Munich, the president declared:

"It is becoming increasingly clear that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword.

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force.

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war."

Without mentioning the measures adopted against Jews by Germany and Italy, he said:

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the dispersion all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers with no place to lay their heads."

And on the subject of liberty of thought and expression, he said:

"There can be no peace if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

Deploping armaments competition which "heightens the suspicions and fears and threatens the economic prosperity" of every nation he called for the adoption of a "good neighbor" policy under which needed political changes "shall be made peacefully."

"That means a due regard for the sanctity of treaties," he said. "It means deliberate avoidance of policies which arouse fear and distress. It means the self-restraint to refuse strident ambitions which are sure to breed insecurity and intolerance and thereby weaken the prospect of that economic and moral recovery the world so sadly needs."

The United States wants disarmament, he said, but will not disarm "while neighbor nations arm to the teeth."

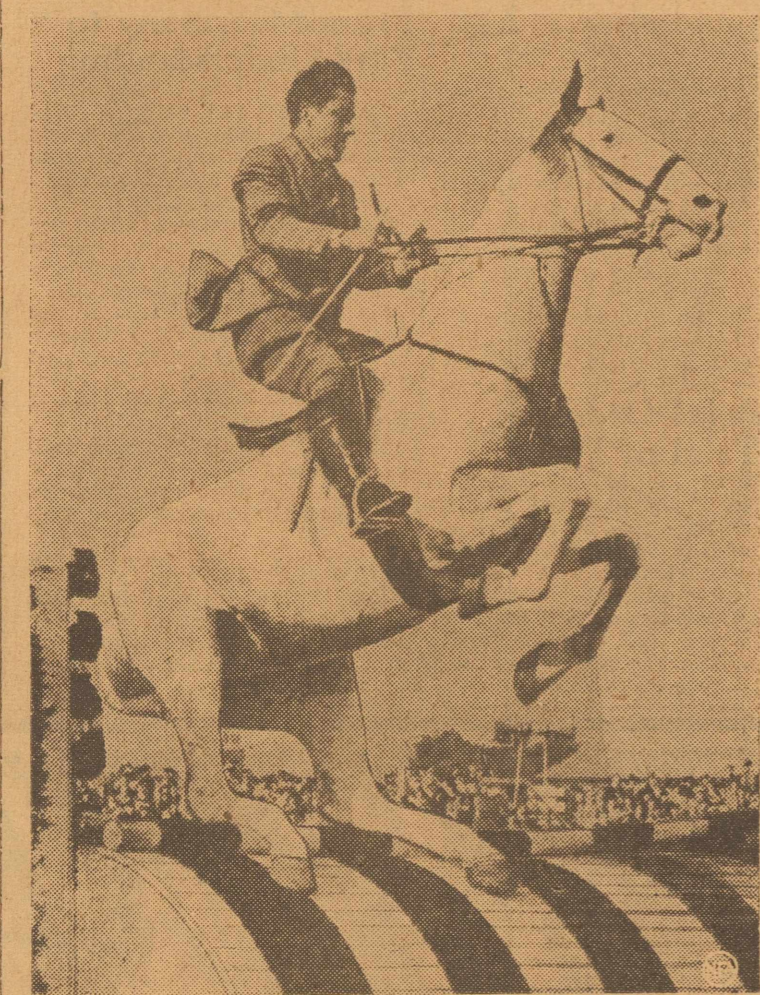

The United States, he declared, does not seek to impose its form of government on any other nation, "but we are determined to maintain and protect that way of life and that form of government for ourselves."

"And we are determined to use every endeavor in order that the western hemisphere may work out its own interrelated salvation in the light of its own interrelated experience."

In conclusion, he said:

"Let us work with greater unity for peace among the nations of the world, for restraint, for negotiation and for community of effort. Let us work for the same ideals within our own borders in our relations with each other, so that we may, if the test ever comes, have that unity of will with which alone a democracy can successfully meet its enemies."

Committee Members Ask For Recess

Dies Says Probe to Be Continued on Vote of Majority

EL PASO, Oct. 27. (AP).—Two members of the house committee investigating un-American activities went on record today as being in favor of delaying further meetings until after elections are held.

Representative John Dempsey, New Mexico, said he had telegraphed Chairman Dies, Texas, requesting postponement after conferring with Representative Arthur Healey, Massachusetts.

In Washington, the Dies committee, rebuked by President Roosevelt and urged by the two members to halt work, decided to go ahead with its investigations. Chairman Dies said the majority of seven members had agreed to proceed.

At the opening of today's session, Dies excused Homer Martin, President of the United Automobile Workers union.

Martin asked to be excused because "it would not contribute to industrial peace for him to reopen old wounds before the committee" which he said had unwittingly engaged in partisan politics.

Anniversary of County Jail Is Noted This Week

BY OLA DUBLIN HAYNES.

The time—October 27, 1885. The place—Midland County's first jail.

The actors—Three Chinamen Ah Fah, Ah Vow, Ah Foo and the county's first sheriff, Theo Ray.

If the record is to be believed—and who is there to deny it?—the Chinks above named were the first to board Midland county ever had.

It happened long ago—fifty-three years today—but the offense is still a popular one. The toughs and the would-be toughs still love to brandish pistols "against the peace and dignity of the State." A man in jail today first surrendered to this jail and later to the long arm of the law.

The next entry on the record was made June 29, 1886. (If they broke the law often they must have gotten away with it). The fifth person ever incarcerated here was a murderer; the sixth is entered as "Red, a sheep shearer" (Who would of thought it in this cow country?); the next three, flatly refused to testify before the grand jury. They probably thought they were free, white and twenty one. They lost their freedom for such independence of thought.

Crimes from 1885 to 1889 were burglary, theft of cattle, theft of a pair of pants, assault, murder, and disturbing the peace.

Crimes being paid for in our jail in October 1938 are burglary, high-jacking, murder, forgery, swindling, theft, drunkenness, and malicious mischief.

The first man to be sent to the penitentiary from Midland was Tom Rice, a burglar. Soon Uncle Bud Rus sell's "one way bus" will be stopping for a new load. And so it goes, on and on through the years. Ah Vow! Ah Foo—y!

France Frets as Nazis Stir Unrest in Alsace-Lorraine

Nazis hope to convince residents of Alsace-Lorraine that Germany—as seen here across the 300-yard-wide Rhine river from Strasbourg—is their Promised Land. Note the German fortifications built along the water's edge.

BY MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Frenchmen are anxiously asking whether Adolf Hitler's next move will be to stir up trouble about Alsace-Lorraine.

It is true that after he got the Saar by plebiscite, Hitler declared there were no more territorial questions between Germany and France.

It is true that more recently, after he got what he wanted in Sudetenland, Hitler again made a peaceful reference to the west, but spoke of what the spire of Strasbourg cathedral meant to Germans. But these things do not reassure France.

Hitler has so often forgotten past promises and made new demands on the powers.

Furthermore, the residents of Alsace-Lorraine seemingly never are satisfied. When they were under Germany, they longed for French rule. Now that they are under France, many of them appear to long for German rule.

Of those who do not, some favor autonomy. Joseph Rose, an autonomous deputy for Colmar, recently published an article demanding qualified autonomy for Alsace-Lorraine. He objected to the French method of handling the schools. He also said that natives of the region should have charge of the administrative affairs.

But there are dozens of other things that make French administrators anxious. Not long ago, when some delegates from Alsace-Lorraine attended a congress in Berlin, they were hailed by nazis as "Germans from the Vosges." German money has influenced the tone of some of the papers in Alsace-Lorraine. Two radio stations in Germany, those at Saarbrücken and Stuttgart, often have broadcasts especially designed for the ears of the people of Alsace and Lorraine.

More than that, in Germany there is an organization, one of whose jobs is to get Germans who formerly lived or studied in Alsace-Lorraine to go back there on visits. These visits are often paid for by the nazi organization. The visitors look up old acquaintances, take them out to dinner, and take the opportunity to boast to them of the order in Germany contrasted with the political unsettlement in France; the prosperity in Germany compared to the bad business in Alsace-Lorraine. Similarly, former students of the University of Strasbourg and of the lycées of Metz, Colmar and Mulhouse, make it a point to have propaganda meetings with fellow students who still live in Alsace-Lorraine.

One strong talking point is to stress how many men, born in Alsace-Lorraine when it was German, have been given important posts in nazi Germany and to contrast it with how few they allege Alsatians and Lorrainers have gotten in France. They point particularly to Dr. Meisner, born in Strasbourg, who is minister of state and chief of the German chancellery; Herr Wagner, born at Algrange, who is nazi region chief for Munich; and Dr. Derichsweiler, born in Alsace, who is one of the leaders of the German students.

That these causes for worry are not exaggerated by the French, I myself saw last summer when visiting in Strasbourg.

Germans, traveling outside Germany, are supposed to take only ten marks with them—less than five dollars. But every day in Strasbourg I saw bus after bus, adorned with the swastika and loaded with German trippers. Around the cathedral to which Hitler made reference, there were always also dozens of swastika-adorned private cars. If these visiting Germans had only ten marks each, they were doing mighty well for themselves with the rich Alsatian food and the good rich Alsatian beer. The chances are that many of them were staked by the nazi organization, because many of them visited around with former acquaintances.

An Alsatian official, loyal to France, said to me:

"I do not know what our government is thinking of. They are living here in Alsace and Lorraine hundreds of people who claim French citizenship and vote in French elections, but who also hold German passports. They are a sort of advance guard of nazism. Our government should make them be either Germans or Frenchmen, and not allow them to hold double papers."

'Open Door' Policy Is Demanded

Accuse Nippons of Making Manchoukuo Of China Territory

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP).—The United States has told Japan in a strongly-worded note to stop "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China.

A 3,000-word statement, presented by Ambassador Grew in Tokyo on October 6 but made public only today, demanded continuance of an "open door" policy.

An early reply was requested. An interpretation was if a favorable answer did not arrive soon, relations between the two countries would become strained.

The United States accused Japan of seeking to make another Manchoukuo out of portions of China she has occupied, and listed a long series of violations of American business and property rights.

Meanwhile, the occupation of Hankow and her sister cities completed, an inspired Japanese army today continued its march of conquest through China with a renewed assault upon Teian which resulted in a break through along the north wall of that desperately defended town.

Bloody street fighting ensued as Chinese rallied to prevent capture of the town 30 miles south of Klu-kiang, which they have successfully defended for nearly three months.

Capture of the town would be the prelude to a Japanese advance of 50 miles along the railway skirting Lake Poyang to the Chinese air base, Nanchang, Nanchang is 100 miles southeast of Hankow.

With the capture of Hankow and Canton now completing the Japanese conquest of China's great industrial and commercial centers, the Japanese still face years of struggle if they are to pacify China completely.

Japanese and foreign dispatches reported tonight the army and navy had completed occupation of Hankow and her sister cities, Wuchang and Hanyang without major Chinese resistance.

The occupation of Hankow today and the capture of Canton a week ago may be regarded as ending the major military phase of the Japanese "pacification" of China after 16 months of war.

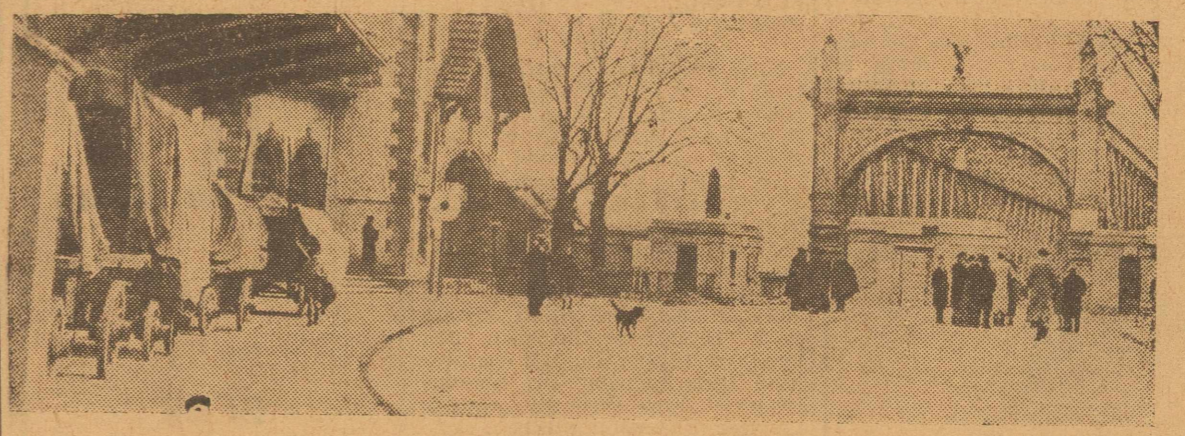

Reserve Officer Gives Impressions Of Affairs Today

Impressions of national and international conditions, from the military and preparedness viewpoint, were reviewed by Dr. W. E. Ryan at the Rotary club today. He returned early this week from Rochester, Minn., where, with other officers of the reserve corps, U. S. army, he spent two weeks in training.

Describing the unrest abroad, he said he believed the United States army is the greatest force for stabilization of the nation's citizenship, and that with such a force no ambitious leaders would attempt to create a dictatorship.

Two hundred reserve officers from 35 states were present. They spent much of the time at Mayo Clinic and Dr. Ryan described this great institution where from 600 to 700 patients are examined daily. On one day in September, there were 973. The two Mayo brothers, sons of the founder, turned the institution over to the state of Minnesota a few years ago, there now being 160 doctors on the staff, with a total of about 400 including those studying. The system of conducting the clinic was described as "marvelous" by Dr. Ryan.

Visitors to the Rotary club included Rotarians Chas. C. Burcher of Abilene and Joe Pyron of Odessa; Megland of Denver, Cecil C. Collings of Big Spring, Percy Bridgewater and L. Cure of Midland.

This street in French Strasbourg—and French soil—ends at the famous Kehl Bridge. And at the other end of the Kehl Bridge lies Germany.

The Hundred Million Dollar Penalty Against West Texas

ABILENE, Oct. 26.—Discrimination against West Texas by the present freight rate structure is penalizing this area $100,000,000 annually, charges the WTCC traffic board in an exhaustive analysis of the freight rate question just released.

West Texas with the greatest wealth of natural resources of any similar area in the nation, is paying higher freight rates than any other section, comparisons of the five major railroad regions of the United States made in the WTCC report show.

Freight rates in West Texas are 72 per cent greater than in the Ohio-Indiana, or official territory, which is the lowest-rate zone in the nation. First-class rate in official territory for 500-mile hauls is $1.22 per 100 pounds as compared with $2.26 per 100 for equal haul in extreme West Texas or differential territory, the report says.

West Texas' rates are higher in spite of the fact that statistics are presented in the report to show that expense of transportation is 17 per cent less in this zone than in any other region.

Nothing short of a legislative amendment to the Interstate Commerce Commission will remedy the situation, the report states. The WTCC traffic board recommends that the regional organization and its 191 affiliates in 132 counties champion an amendment to the Interstate Commerce Commission Act which will "definitely instruct the Interstate Commerce Commission to revise the intra-territorial freight rate structure so as to bring the rates closer together in both level and scheme, said level not to exceed a maximum of 5 per cent as between any of the regions of the country, and to revise and blend the inter-territorial rates with the intra-territorial structures."

Many of the rules and regulations governing rate-making and some of the rate zones had their origin in former days even before the establishment of the ICC and enactment of the Interstate Commerce Act. "In view of greatly changed conditions as to development, density of traffic and transportation, the board feels that the time has now arrived when there should be a complete overhauling and revision of all freight rate making policies and practices," the report states.

While rail carriers have statistics to show that average rates for the country as a whole have decreased, figures show that West Texas rates have steadily increased during the last two decades, the report continues. Examples of these increases include: Maximum rate of 15¢ per 100 pounds on West Texas wheat in 1914 as compared with 35¢ in October, 1938, an increase of 133 per cent; rate on fat cattle from nine West Texas towns to Fort Worth was 20¢ in 1914 as compared with 30.84¢ at present, an increase of 50 per cent; any quantity cotton rate, excluding compressing and handling charges, was around 39¢ per 100 in 1914 from nine principal West Texas shipping points as compared with 53¢ at present, an increase of 36 per cent.

Tables showing increases in first-class rates are given in the report. From 1914 to the present, these rates between 11 West Texas towns and Houston increased an average of 130 per cent, the report states. These increases in freight rates were made during a period when production of some commodities was increasing more than 1,000 per cent and when population of many West Texas cities was increasing more than 500 per cent, the report points out.

From these studies, the traffic committee concludes: "That West Texas when judged by population and quantity of production, has the nation's highest freight rate level; that its rates have been increasing while others have decreased; that others can ship into this territory at lower rates than shippers living in this territory have to pay for shipping wholly within the territory; and that expense of operating transportation facilities in West Texas appears to be lower even than in official territory."

The board states that its approach to the problem is not one of fighting the railroads or of depriving them of needed revenues, but is one of "equalizing these revenue payments as between the various sections of the United States to the end that one group of producers and consumers will not pay more proportionately to these revenues than another group of producers and consumers."

H. S. Hilburn, Plainview, WTCC president, says the report is accurate and conservative and is vital to the welfare and development of West Texas. "The freight rate re-

DOWNWARD RELIEF CURVE

(The Dallas News.)

Several factors suggest that Harry L. Hopkins probably is correct in predicting lighter relief expenditures for 1939. Business and employment indexes have been generally upward for several months, and the outlook is optimistic.

In addition, there will be no political incentive for keeping relief rolls at a peak next year, as there will be no national election. Mr. Hopkins states that "the old charge that we shove up relief rolls before an election and bring them down immediately thereafter is a lot of nonsense."

As the 1940 race approaches, the administration in Washington will need to take increasing precaution against scandals in relief projects. Charges of the misuse of the WPA for political purposes have been increasing, and the opposition naturally will grasp at such an excellent chance to bombard the new deal.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—Election of 32 governors, 37 senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives on Nov. 8 may be expected to produce a net Republican gain for the first time since the Hoover landslide of 1928.

Democrats, holding 39 of the 48 governorships, 76 of 96 Senate seats and 328 of the 435 House seats, admittedly are on the defensive, although party control of Congress isn't even remotely threatened and they will keep control of most state capitals.

The 1940 presidential nominations and election are on many political minds. Recovery of a few large states lost in the last 10 years would boost G. O. P. hopes of a national comeback two years hence.

Several candidates in senatorial and gubernatorial contests already are embryo presidential candidates and will be regarded as 1940 "possibilities" if they win.

BIG STAKES, BIG NAMES

In some states President Roosevelt and the New Dealers particularly, as well as the Democratic party in general, have much at stake.

The list of "doubtful" states this year is a long one, as Republicans see it. Great states such as New York, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Kansas and Wisconsin are ringing with the cries of battle and charges and counter-charges which increase in vigor—sometimes in viciousness—as election day nears.

Nationally familiar names and political fates of outstanding leaders figure in some of the warmest contests—Bob Wagner, Herbert Lehman, Frank Murphy, Fred Van Noy, Phil LaFollette, Gerald Nye, George Earle, Elmer Benson and John O'Connor.

Hard-hitting newcomers have popped up on the national scene—among them Tom Dewey, Sheridan Downey, Harold Stassen, Everett Saltonstall, Clyde Reed and Robert A. Taft. Some of them may be sent back to political oblivion. Others may win and go on to fame.

In some states such men have brought new life and more liberalism to the Republican party. The New Deal is an issue here and there, but not importantly so everywhere.

Many Democratic candidates hope to benefit from Roosevelt popularity and their opponents bank on a backswing against parts of the Roosevelt program, if not against the President himself.

There is nothing resembling the 1934 rush of Democratic and Republican candidates alike to ride Roosevelt coat-tails. On the other hand, there's no general Republican onslaught against the President and issues vary from to give odds. Not that I doubt the value of the new glass-and-concrete Ector county court house, but I seem to remember that they floated bonds to erect it, whereas if there is anything against the Petroleum building, I haven't heard of it.

The Petroleum building, which has been the greatest boon of all, besides Hotel Scharbauer, in establishing Midland as the metropolis of the Permian Basin, was as big a free gift as a city ever got, and we want to remember always to be thankful to T. S. Hogan for his far-sightedness and to the Baltimore capitalists who put up the money. I hope they keep on making plenty on it.

Even with the eight story office building of the First National bank, which is conceded to be the most beautiful edifice in the southwest, and the six story Thomas building, I wouldn't want to lose the Petroleum building on wager against the Ector county court house, because we expect to keep on needing our office structures. And we have a pretty fair little $300,000 court house which hasn't begun to crumble yet.

But, just to show my sporting blood, I would wager Old Heidelberg against La Ronda, and it makes no difference to me who wins both of them, except that I would hate to see the Bulldogs lose the football game.

That live-wire sports writer, Tony Slaughter, has been building Jay Francis up as the "unstoppable" Midland ace, hoping to give Jay the swell-head to the extent that he won't make a gain farther than from my typewriter to the waste basket, which is just far enough to fall down, but I don't think Jay is sucking it under. In fact, I have never seen him working the news stands for clippings about himself like the Wink squad. Boy, we had to take time out and help them clip the clippings here last Saturday, but we enjoyed getting acquainted with the Wildcats and are willing to admit that they rate plenty of headlines.

Besides Jay, there will be ten men against Odessa, some of their names probably being Whitaker, Eldson, Klatt, Ford, Foster, Van Dyke, Bryan, Wright, Truelove and Geddes or Harris. If the Broncs haven't stopped them, they haven't stopped Francis, because they are one for all and all for one. Hi-Ho Silver, awaaaay!

A bee recognizes every other member of its hive, although there may be from fifty to eighty thousand members.

I see by the Odessa News-Times where Editor Ralph Shuffler wants to bet the new Ector county court house against our Petroleum building on the Bronc vs. Bulldog tussle at Lackey field a-Friday night. Jess Rodgers will reprint, either today or tomorrow, the cartoon by Odessa's juvenile Bud Fisher, showing the Hogan building en route to its new site, a stock cowpony dragging it along like Buxton Estes and Leonard Proctor drag calves up to the fire.

I don't object to being a party to a fair wager, but I don't like state to state.

G. O. P. COUNTS ON NATURAL SWING.

PRIMARILY Republicans are counting on a natural mid-term swing away from the party in power such as failed to appear in 1934. Further, G. O. P. experts figure: Although the sharp 1937-38 depression which they once counted on for a major campaign issue appears to have ended and business is improving, a substantial group of voters is impressed with the idea that Roosevelt has no magic wand for maintaining a recovery trend.

Especially this is true among farmers, whose resentment against present low prices endangers several Democratic candidates. Although admitting Roosevelt popularity, G. O. P. candidates leaned from the "purge" primary results that political capital can be made by attacking "yes men," "one-man government" trends and such measures as the President's Supreme Court plan and reorganization bill. Most of them are following that line.

They believe the administration has been hurt by John L. Lewis, its 1936 political alliance with him and subsequent prejudice which has arisen against C. I. O. Farmers especially oppose C. I. O. and shrink at the thought of hired hands going on strike. Secretary Hull's trade treaties and their alleged harm is being used by Republicans in some districts.

"Reckless expenditure" as an issue doesn't get much of a rise out of voters, Republicans say, but in several states they are hitting hard at alleged corruption of Democratic machines, WPA scandals and graft, pointing out that the New Deal depends on such machines for election victories.

FDR WILL HAVE HIS SAY.

NEW, liberal and sometimes fantastic old age pension schemes are issues in some state—espoused by Republicans, Democrats or both. And any candidate favored by C. I. O. or Labor's Non-Partisan League is likely to be dubbed "Communist" by his opponent.

Herbert Hoover, Alf Landon, and National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton have been emitting the chief national Republican campaign blasts. Democratic Chairman Jim Farley and other cabinet members have been sounding off for the Democrats. The campaign speech of the year presumably will be a radio address by Roosevelt the night of Nov. 4, when the President speaks "as a citizen of New York" while the nation listens in.

One state election has been held. Maine, in September, elected a Republican governor and three Republican congressmen.

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN ELLAND

For the woman who must wear tailored clothes, it seems to us that grand purchase would be one of the "quartet" suits now being shown.

These include a monotone full-length coat, a monotone skirt, a striped tweed jacket and a striped skirt. The four may be juggled to make four serviceable, attractive outfits.

Really a complete work wardrobe, with the addition of a blouse perhaps and a scarf or two.

Another tempting feature of these suits is their inexpensiveness.

The Algerian motif which has come into vogue with the loose, flowing dress held in at the waistline with a wide ornate belt is evident in some of the newest costume jewelry. The "Kasbah collar" consists of coin-sized disks set with colored stones swung on criss-cross chains from a rigid gilt bar at the throat. Matching bracelets are also shown.

Mrs. W. L. Brown, 1707 W. Holloway, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

SATURDAY.
Methodist women will serve a chicken pie dinner at the Methodist annex Saturday. Serving will begin at about 11 o'clock. The public is invited.

Story Hour will be held in the children's library Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Business and Professional Women's club will have a silver tea in the crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock. Proceeds will go to the medical aid fund of the club.

Contributors' Column

Editor's Note: From time to time The Reporter-Telegram receives articles from its readers which do not logically belong in the daily departments of the paper. The Contributors' Column has been created in order to provide a place for such. It will appear from time to time, as material is received which is judged suitable for publication. In order to be considered for the column, all contributions must be signed.

Recently, as I watched our citizens on the screen their characteristics were more strikingly apparent. The gay, irresponsible spirit of one; the loud, flashy boyishness of another; the quiet, reserved dignity of even another made one feel that indeed the world is a stage where every man must play a part.

"To see ourselves as other see us" is rarely ever accomplished. To glimpse a panorama of our own neighbors and citizens on a screen did come nearer to making us realize that everyone has his own place to fill. "Do well thy part therein all honor lies."

Some have gifts for singing, preaching, and teaching. Others serve their fellowmen in all the needy ways of life.

Let some remember wise words from many sources and be able to pass them on; because of their very nature they have value.

Henry Van Dyke has said: "One should love books, but not better than people."

The Apostle Paul's great love for just people helped him to be the leader always, even when he was among seemingly superior men.

A Chinese proverb says: The gods we worship write their names in our faces. To notice the pictures of wanted criminals pasted anywhere makes one think of that. Abraham Lincoln's face has always been fascinating to me. Patience, kindness, firmness and a deep sympathy is largely expressed there—A face one would like to see if he were in trouble. Yet no one has ever said Abraham Lincoln was handsome.

When I'm reading about Jean Valjean in Les Miserables these thoughts, along with many others, come to mind.

"There are moments in human life when a word, a look, a thought may weigh down the balance in the scales of fate and decide a destiny"—Marla Cummings—and "Don't worry when you stumble—remember a worm is about the only thing that can't stumble"—Anon.

"Courage and perseverance have a magical talisman, before which difficulties disappear and obstacles vanish into air"—John Quincy Adams.

Series of Clinics Is Completed Here

Working under the general supervision of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, Dr. Howard E. Smith director of the division of tuberculosis of the state health department, Miss Branche Davis, field nurse, and Walter Fowler, X-ray technician, have completed a series of clinics in Midland county.

Midland county doctors requested that 112 persons be examined in the clinics, which were held primarily for those who have been in contact with active tuberculosis cases or are themselves tuberculosis suspects. A total of 91 enrolled for the four clinics while 66 actually attended and received the examinations and X-rays.

Clinics were held at Stokes school, Greenwood church, the Fair Grounds, and the school at the Catholic church.

Full reports of the findings on each case will be returned to the physician who requested that the persons be examined, Miss Davis said, along with a reduced photograph of all positive cases.

The clinics are being held in the course of making a survey to determine the extent of the tuberculosis problem in Texas, she explained. The federal government has promised funds for building more sanatoria if figures can be shown to prove that such further equipment is needed in the state.

Miss Davis, who has been here three weeks on the clinical project, left Midland today for Del Rio. Dr. Smith and Mr. Fowler left Wednesday afternoon.

The word Bible comes from "biblos," the name given by the Greeks to early types of writing paper.

scientists, as: Two bits of something—called protoplasm—get together somewhere and from something—called a cell—and then die and go somewhere—no one knows where.

To him he said the Genesis account of life was much more simple.

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself a question!

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft, "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and take a new lease on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Shower Bath Tricks Squaws.

POCATELLO, Ida. (UP).—A new shower bath room, constructed for the use of Indians at the Sun Valley rodeo, proved too much of an advance in civilization for two of the squaws. Entering the shower, but unable to find the water, they first tore up the boards looking for some sort of spring underneath and then accidentally turned the knob before they had thought of undressing.

Beavers were extinct in Illinois and wild turkeys in Wisconsin, so the U. S. Forestry Service engineered a trade; a truckload of turkeys for a truckload of beavers.

The average whale has a commercial value of approximately $1000.

Cowboys to Tangle With ETS Lions in Abilene Saturday

ABILENE. — The shadow of the undefeated East Texas State Lions, current leaders of the Lone Star conference, loomed menacingly today across the path of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, on their arrival home from a 20 to 14 inter-sectional win over previously unbeaten Murray State College, at Paducah, Ky.

The rampant Lions, rolling up

Bulldogs, Broncs Both Feature Strong Offensive Line-Ups

It will be a couple of good defenses and a couple of mighty, mighty good offenses when the Midland Bulldogs and the Odessa Broncs meet here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on Lackey field.

The Midland club has scored more than twice as many points in the same number of games as has the Broncs but they have had three times as many points scored against it. And it must be admitted that the opposition faced by Midland has not been nearly as tough as that faced by the Broncs—with the exception of the Wink club.

In five games Midland has scored a total of 221 points while giving up 51. Forty five of the points scored against the Bulldogs were rolled up by the Wink Wildcats, proving up fears that the Midland defense wasn't all it had indicated in games with clubs that boasted very little offense.

In comparison, the Broncs have made 108 points in five games and have seen 19 points made against them. But the Broncs have tangled with three Class-A clubs while rolling up their comparatively small score. In only two games have the Broncs been able to score more than two touchdowns, while the Bulldogs have been able to score at least three in each game played. The three touchdowns were scored against the Wink club, one that probably has just as good, possibly a better, defense than Odessa.

The Broncs have had three tough games while the Bulldogs have played only one club that deserved to be called strong. At present, the Odessa club has four victories and a tie while the Bulldogs have scored four wins and have one defeat again them.

Head coaches of both schools, Bud Taylor and Joe Coleman, are firm believers in the declaration that a good offense is the best defense.

From play of the two teams during the season, it is probable that the game here will be an open affair with both clubs ringing up some tallies. Neither side has been held scoreless this year and this doesn't appear to be the game that will stop the offenses of either.

Both clubs boast lines from tackle to tackle that are thoroughly capable of handling any situations that might arise. The Midland ends have not appeared any to capable and in this department the edge must go to Odessa. Proof of the Odessa ends' ability is shown in the removal of Jack Callon, the best end in this area last year, to the backfield.

And it will be around the ends and through the air that most of the Odessa plays will be headed, if their play to date can be used as a basis for judging. The same offense will probably be stressed by Midland.

The Midland boys were given some lateral pass plays and some end plays last week that they forgot to use in the heat of the Wink game and it is reasonable to suspect they will uncoil these for the benefit of the Broncs. Should these new plays be used, the fans won't get to see as much of Francis carrying the ball but that should strengthen rather than weaken the offense. It is foregone that the Broncs will be set to "stop Francis" regardless of all else. A couple of "cover up" plays on the Bulldog list may give either Wright, Truelove or Geddes an opportunity to get loose when least expected.

Midland coaches have admitted the Bulldog backs are likely to pass the ball around quite a bit but have made it plain that they are not to pass in the territory paroled by Callon. Callon went through only three games last year in which he did not intercept a pass and carry it back for a touchdown. While his record has not been as impressive this year, he is still rated just about the best defensive against passes that any school in this area boasts.

Callon and Cauble rate as a passing combination comparable to Callahan and Ezzell. And in the line the Broncs have a 100-pound guard, Russel Wilkins who can do "everything." Not only does Wilkins do a swell job of pulling out of the line and running interference, he is a stout wall on defense. Very, very few yards have been made over the big senior.

Comparative scores for the two teams follow:

Odessa.	Midland.
25, Crane 0.	53, Roby 0.
12, El Paso 6.	66, Big Lake 0.
6, Pecos 6.	32, Iraan 0.
13, Fabens 0.	49, Stanton 6.
52, Ysleta 7.	21, Wink 45.

Crowd of 5,000 Is Expected to See Midland-Odessa Play

With less than 50 reserved seats remaining to be sold, school officials today predicted a crowd of "at least 5,000" persons would be on hand tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when the Midland Bulldogs and the Odessa Broncs meet in a football game on Lackey Field.

Three hundred general admission tickets have been placed on sale at the chamber of commerce and the demand for these is expected to reach a peak tomorrow. Officials agreed there was no possibility of there being enough seats for all who will see the game and urged local fans to procure the tickets before the field gates are opened tomorrow night.

Indications are the crowd will be somewhat smaller than the one that completely filled the stands and all standing room last week. More than 1,000 persons from Wink attended the game here last week to swell the crowd. Wink fans purchased about 100 tickets for the game this week, no game being scheduled at Wink this Friday night. Odessa school officials have sold approximately 1,200 tickets to the game and indicate a steady demand remains for the ducats.

School officials here today reported efforts were being made to have the Midland-Crane game transferred here. The game is scheduled to be played in Crane, last year's game having been played here, but local officials are hoping they can make the Crane club a financial offer that will get them to play the game here.

Delivery of Calves Over Week End to Continue Actively

Fall deliveries of Midland territory calves will continue actively for the next few days, a check-up today showed. Foy Proctor and Roy Parks, biggest buyers of the season, who already had received and re-sold approximately 1,500 head, were due to receive the J. O. Nobles steer calves today. They also will get during the latter part of the week the A. G. Bohannon Steer, heifer calves, the Simpson & McGrew steer calves, the Ratuff and Bedford steer and heifer calves, the remainder of the Guy Cowden steers and heifers and the Free Bird steers.

They also will get the remaining 250 C-Ranch steers, the heavy end being shipped last week, they having been re-sold to the Producers Livestock Marketing Association of Chicago. Earl C. Fleming of Emporia, Kas., will get from the C-Ranch 450 head of heifers, going to Corn Belt points. This will com-
