Entire Demo Slate Wins In County

Other Three Parties Are Given a Few Scattered Votes

Midland county voters yesterday "strung along" with the rest of the state by voting a straight democratic ticket for all county, district and state offices.

All democratic candidates polled overwhelming majorities for state offices and there was no opposition to county candidates on any except one race, in precinct two, the name of B. T. Graham was written in on 82 ballots for county commissioner but he trailed J. C. Brooks by nine votes. Graham, the incumbent commissioner, was defeated by Brooks in the run-off election and lost election protests before the county democratic executive committee and in district court.

Democratic nominee for Governor W. Lee O'Daniel received 999 votes in the county compared to 42 for Alexander Boynton, republican, Homer Brooks, communist candidate, received two votes. The republican total in the county was higher than had been cast in several years.

The vote in the county was surprisingly heavy as only one sixth of the total vote had been cast at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. However, many voters rushed to polls at the last hour to swell the total over the 1,000 mark.

The two candidates scoring the highest votes in the county were county Judge E. H. Barron and county clerk Susie G. Noble. Each received 1079 of the 1081 eligible ballots counted.

Republicans received votes for every office they had nominated a candidate for; socialists received votes for three positions and communists received votes for three offices.

Results of voting in the county are as follows:

Northeast Edge Well In North Cowden Flows 1,750 Barrels

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Gauging flow through open 7-inch casing of 1,750 barrels of oil in 24 hours after shooting with 640 quarts from 4,206 to 4,363, the total depth, Tide Water and Atlantic No. 4-C Holt today had proved a short northeast extension to the North Cowden pool of Ector. The well flowed 291 barrels the first hour after shot. Its location is 1,760 feet from the south, 2,200 from the east line of section 20, block 43, township 1 north, T. & P. survey.

In section 4, block 43, township 1 north, on the Andrews county side, L. H. Wentz No. 1 W. F. Cowden estate is drilling at 4,142 feet in lime, with no shows reported. Great Western No. 1 Holt is drilling at 4,332 feet in lime, unchanged.

Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Ashton, a mile west of the Fuhrman pool, has been abandoned at 4,465 feet, where it was plugged back from 4,529 to shut off flow of 150 barrels of sulphur water daily. Plugging back shut off oil as well as water. New location for the Fuhrman pool, Skelly No. 1 W. T. Ford was staked 990 feet from the north, 330 from the west line of section 16, block A-43, public school land. It is a north offset to Fuhrman No. 13 Ford.

South of Shafter Lake in Andrews, Texas No. 1-H State was shut down for orders at 4,442 feet in lime after it encountered four barrels of oil in 10 hours from 4,538-42. Several miles farther northeast, H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton is reported to be swabbing one barrel of fluid per hour, 90 per cent oil, after acidizing 4,000 gallons as follow-up to initial 1,000-gallon dose. Total depth is 4,615 feet in lime.

Delaware sand was topped at approximately 5,328 feet by Humble No. 1 A. H. Robertson, western Pecos for orders at 5,442 feet of Fort Stockton. A core from 5,323-31 returned five feet of black lime, and it was believed that the unrecovered bottom three feet of the core were sand. Full recovery of gray sand was obtained of next core, from 5,331-48, and the well now is coming ahead below 5,348, with no shows of oil or gas logged. It had topped black lime at 5,251.

New semi-wildcat location for Pecos is the O. E. Schkade No. 1 Otis Garrett, 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 59 1/2, block 8, H. & G. N. survey. It is a quarter-mile northwest of Falvey No. 1 Trees, a failure, No. 1 Garrett has spudded and is shut down.

J. L. Greene and Paul Davis No. 1 Gulf-Shearer, a half-mile east of the Shearer pool of pecos, is drilling at 1,030 feet in anhydrite.

In southern Reeves, Ohio No. 1 Popham is drilling at 5,153 feet in Delaware sand topped at 5,135, showing nothing.

Gulf No. 9 Waddell, Ordovician test in the Sandhills area of western Crane, is drilling at 4,724 feet in lime.

Standard No. 1-6 University, half-mile north outpost to eastern Crane's University area, is drilling past 2,740 in anhydrite.

Denver Well Gauged.

J. W. Murchison No. 2-B Elliott, in the Denver pool of southern Yoakum, flowed 822.20 barrels on 24-hour test after acidizing with 1,500, then with 6,000 gallons. Oil is 33.8 gravity, and gas-oil ratio figures

Democrats Win Easily In State

Large Majorities Are Rolled Up as Light Vote Cast

DALLAS, Nov. 9. (AP). — The Texas Election Bureau at noon reported returns from 206 counties, 33 complete, gave O'Daniel 177,481 votes, Boynton 6,254 votes.

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

Associated Press Staff Writer.

Texas voters, in sparing numbers, elected W. Lee O'Daniel governor.

Yesterday and agreed to let a citizen hold office without swearing he had not participated in a duel.

Democrats swept the campaigns for state offices and for representatives in congress, piling up the usual tremendous majorities.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau from 194 of 254 counties, including 23 complete, showed O'Daniel leading Alexander Boynton, republican, 149,232 to 5,426, Homer Brooks, communist gubernatorial candidate, polled 123, and Earl Miller, Socialist, 150.

Repeat of the dueling provision, placed in the state constitution drafted in 1876, was carrying 39,063 to 23,734.

Only Formal Approval.

Since nomination on the democratic ticket is tantamount to election in Texas, the voting amounted only to a formal sign of approval for the party's nominees.

The interest and balloting, consequently, were light. Election bureau officials said there probably would be no more than 250,000 votes cast.

O'Daniel, the flour salesman who campaigned with a hillbilly band, had asked the electorate to turn out in large numbers.

"Let's have a million votes next Tuesday," he said last week, O'Daniel asserted it was necessary to keep alive the interest in democracy to stop the spread of "foreignisms."

"Out here in Texas where the wide open spaces permit free breathing and free thinking, let Texas democracy stand like the rock of Gibraltar in this disastrous political storm which is twisting the world asunder," he said.

The voters ignored him so far as the balloting was concerned. More than a million voted in the hot primary fight and yesterday's election was an anti-climax.

O'Daniel was as undisturbed over the election as anyone else. He couldn't vote, anyway, because he didn't pay his poll tax, and spent part of the day in Dallas.

Democratic nominees for other state offices were:

Lieutenant-governor: Coke Stevenson.

Attorney general: Gerald Mann.

Supreme court justice: Richard Criz.

Court of criminal appeals: F. L. Hawkins and Harry N. Graves.

Railroad commissioner: G. A. (Jerry) Sadler.

Comptroller: George H. Sheppard.

Land commissioner: Bascom Giles.

Treasurer: Charley Lockhart.

School superintendent: L. A. Woods.

Commissioner of agriculture: J. E. McDonald.

Congress Nominees.

Democratic nominees for congress were:

Wright Patman, Texarkana; Martin Dies, Orange; Sam Rayburn, Bonham; Hatton W. Summers, Dallas; Luther A. Johnson, Corsicana; Nat Patton, Crockett; Albert Thomas, Houston; James J. Mansfield, Columbus; Lyndon Johnson, Johnson City.

School System of State Boasts Long And Unusual History

Editor's Note: The following sketch of the history of the school system of Texas is taken from the Interscholastic Leaguer, publication of the Texas Interscholastic League.

For the greater part of a century there lay side by side in the office of the Secretary of State two documents; the one, the Declaration of Independence with its arresting accusation against the Mexican regime; the other, was a stirring memorial signed by sixty-two men calling upon Congress to establish a system of public education and set aside land for its endowment. This petition was the work of Andrew J. Yates, college professor, author, and financial agent of Texas. Yates was an authority on government, the best informed man in Texas on education, and probably the wealthiest man in the Republic. Among the great signatures on this memorial are those of Dr. Asa Hoxey, J. A. Collingsworth, Francis R. Lubbock, Robert Barr, David G. Burnet, and Amson Jones. Yates favored the New York State system of education. Lamar the Pioneer.

Nothing was done to promote public education by the First and Second Congresses. The election of Lamar was the signal that a new day had dawned for the interests of the children of Texas. He had taken as his ideal statesman, that great educational pioneer, Thomas Jefferson, who took more pride in founding the University of Virginia than in his authorship of the Declaration of Independence.

In accordance with the demand of Lamar a law was passed in 1839 setting aside three leagues of land for a school in each county and fifty leagues for two colleges or universities. Andrew J. Yates was sadly disappointed with law and wrote President Lamar a lengthy letter. He outlined a complete system of State education from the primary school through the graduate department of the university. As a consequence a system of education was provided in the law of 1840. Strange to say, not a single public school was ever established on these local endowments. The fact is, State education was neither understood nor desired by the rank and file of Texans of a century ago.

Land Endowment Policy.

The leaders of education in Texas a century ago pinned their faith to a land endowment policy. The same day the law of 1839 was passed giving each county three leagues of land, DeKalb College and the University of San Augustine received four leagues of land each from Congress. The same day the law of 1840 was passed. Rutgersville College was given four leagues of land. All seven of these local colleges were endowed with and by the Congress of the Republic. Thus the local and private school interests countered every move made by the advocates of state education.

First Schools Not Really Public

A public system of education was established by law in 1854. Schools sprang up in great numbers all over Texas. They were not, however, public, in our sense of the word. They were private schools receiving public subvention. The tuition of indigents was paid first, and any balance, usually a pittance, went for the tuition of other children. There were around 1,200 schools in over one hundred counties before the war. Universities, colleges, academies were or-

Mrs. M. C. Ulmer Entertains for Enigma Club, Guests

Mrs. M. C. Ulmer entertained for the Enigma club and two tables of guests with a bridge-luncheon at her home, 111 North O street, Tuesday at one o'clock.

In the bridge games which occupied the afternoon, high score for the day was held by Mrs. Ellis Cowden, cut by Mrs. Elliott Cowden, and guest prize by Mrs. E. M. Whitaker.

Mrs. W. L. Breyfogle of Los Angeles, mother of Mrs. W. W. La Force, was presented with a guest-gift from the hostess.

Playing with the club members were Mrs. W. W. La Force, Breyfogle, Whitaker, Fred Turner, F. H. Schouten, J. M. Armstrong, Fred Wright, John House.

Members present were: Mmes. Elliott Cowden, Ellis Cowden, Frank Cowden, Gay Cowden, George Glass, Chas. Goldsmith, O. B. Holt, Foy Proctor, and the hostess.

Organized in great numbers.

There were at least 150 in all. The Masons, Methodists, Catholics, Baptists, and Presbyterians were the chief agencies in their establishment. But local initiative was even more active than all these other agencies combined. Noble Yankers.

Following Constitutional Convention of 1875, when old carpet-baggers' educational system was swept away, two noble Yankee citizens helped desparingly Texas, George Peabody, the princely merchant, donated $500,000 to encourage public education in the South; Dr. Barnes Sears, formerly president of Brown University, was the wise and sympathetic agent of this Peabody Board. They introduced superintendents of public schools, the grading of school, the training of teachers, and the public high school.

Retiring Baptist Head Warns Against Subtle Agitation

DALLAS, Nov. 9 (P).—Texas Baptists were warned last night by their retiring president, Dr. J. B. Tidwell of Waco, to brace themselves for a "revolt against the churches" and to guard against "subtle agitation."

Dr. Tidwell, professor of Bible at Baylor university, brought his final report in three years of service at the opening of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"All of our Baptist doctrines are due for an attack and must be restated and defended," the denominational leader urged. "There must be no compromises. Christianity is ultimate and absolute with no half-way in it and the current hostility to it may indicate that severe persecution awaits uncompromising Christians."

"We already suffer in many countries, but we are not the sort to run away from difficulties. Christianity is not an easy-going religion and we must meet the issues as they arise, no matter how serious the suffering involved. The way of suffering is often the way of victory and power."

er's report, said Texas Baptist women during the past year had increased their gifts to the denominational causes under the state co-operative program 23 per cent. Their total gifts to all causes were $1,468,845.48.

Write-ins Winners At Rankin, Brady

RANKIN, Nov. 9. — Lewis J. Feeler, Democratic nominee for Upton county commissioner of Precinct No. 3, was defeated in a write-in campaign in the general election here Tuesday when C. G. Harral, ranchman, received two more votes than the incumbent. Harral got 15 and Feeler 13.

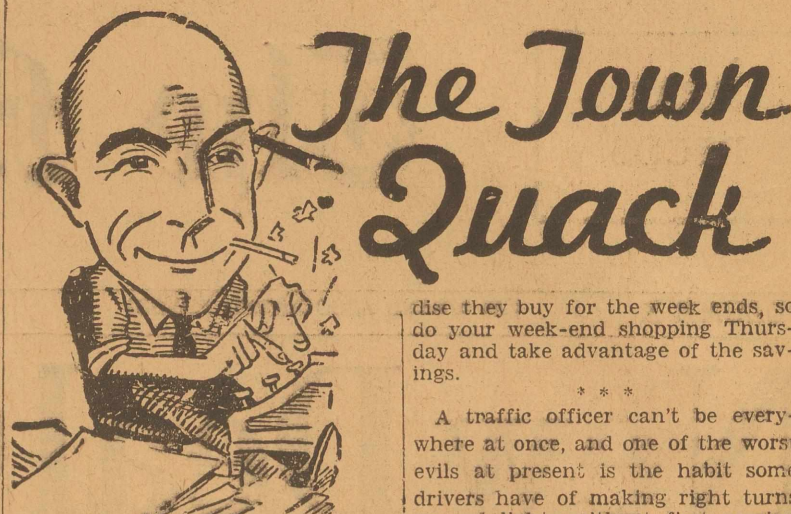

BRADY, Nov. 9. — E. E. Polk, veteran Brady barber, was elected justice of the peace of Precinct 1 here Tuesday. Unofficial returns gave him a lead of 63 votes over Mrs. Ruth Jarvis, daughter of the late W. B. Douglass, who held the office for 12 years. Polk received 297 votes in the two Brady boxes to 230 for Mrs. Jarvis.

Other candidates in the race, in which a write in was necessary were: W. W. Cox, 92; John Wintstead, Sr., 84; Otis Waddill, 57; Walter Caldwell, 48; H. O. Rhodes and H. L. Blassell, 31, each.

Menard Stays Wet In Tuesday Vote

MENARD, Nov. 9.—Menard county stayed wet here Tuesday when a local option election carried by about 2 to 1.

Approximately 1,200 votes out of a possible 1,300 had been counted, one box, Saline, being unreported. Citizens first voted to bring beer to the county several years ago.

One of the funniest news items I have read lately appeared in yesterday morning's daily papers:

"The state democratic executive committee... authorized Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas to make his own selection for the post of secretary. He announced his choice was Clarence Butcher of Plainview, a brother-in-law of W. Lee O'Daniel, the democratic nominee for governor."

A traffic officer can't be everywhere at once, and one of the worst evils at present is the habit some drivers have of making right turns on red lights without first coming to a full stop. Many of them make the turns without looking to see what is coming from their left. The "through" traffic on the green lights have the right of way and, consequently, are not expecting to be run into by someone making the corner where they should make a stop first. If a collision occurs, the one driving the green light will be in the right, and the one failing to stop before making the right turn will have to bear the costs. That is, if the law takes its course.

I am told, unofficially, that Jay Floyd and Rip Smith are working to revive horse racing at Midland Downs.

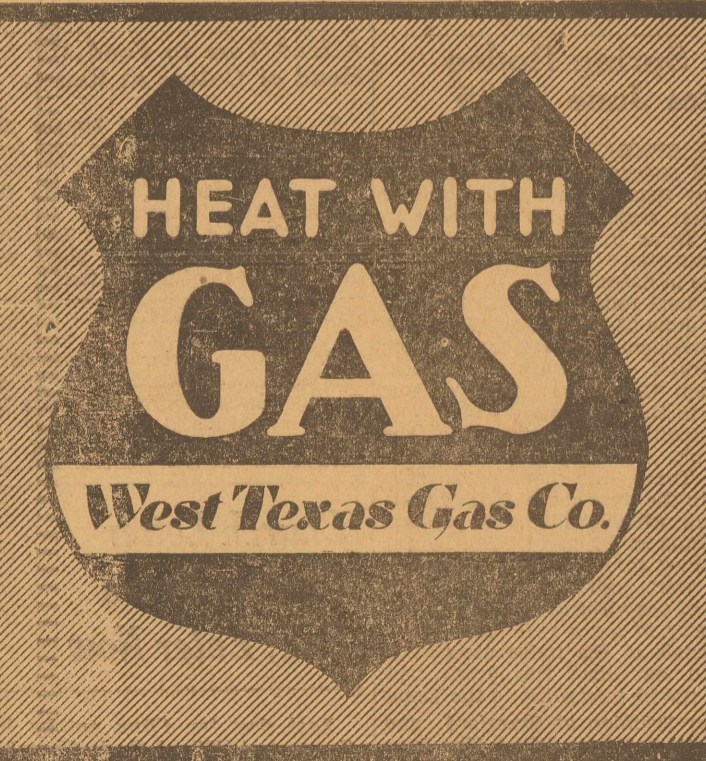

The meeting on conservation of underground water, held early in the week at Lubbock, resolved itself into a protest against having the government take any part in such a program in that area. Town fellows who own farms, as well as water pump salesmen, were reported to have been in the majority. The pump salesman who was reported to have made the motion against the government supervision of the business probably thought "good enough" should be "let alone."

EYE to EYE in your own living room, Your Mileage Merchant would unblinkingly talk this same good sense about saving your car's battery and oil by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

NO BRASH "sounding off" by Your Mileage Merchant, because he can easily be specific about his patented Conoco Germ Processed oil. It specifically OIL-PLATES your engine for winter... no other oil does. And winter OIL-PLATING specifically cuts down on draggy "starts," battery exhaustion and oil extravagance, for these specific reasons:

The Germ Process adds in to this oil a patented man-made substance that sets up a strong force of attraction between Germ Processed oil and every engine surface it touches. Even the upright surfaces instantly attract and hold Germ Processed oil in the form of lasting OIL-PLATING. This OIL-PLATING can never drain down—any more than chrome plating—during the longest, coldest parking. No question then, about winter OIL-PLATING speeding your starter from the first, because before you've even got out your key, your engine is ready-lubricated by slippery OIL-PLATING. Never letting loose, OIL-PLATING can't shoot out of the engine, but remains a constant help to your oil-level—one of the smartest reasons for changing to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco Germ Processed Oil. Patented—your one way to change to WINTER OIL-PLATING!

Canned Pecans Are Food Supply Aid

COLLEGE STATION. — A pecan harvest in Texas of from 17 to 18 million pounds has been estimated by J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, and extension foods specialists have pointed out that the crop offers an opportunity to housewives to add to the family food supply.

It has long been a commercial practice to keep pecans either under vacuum or in cold storage to prevent the meats from becoming stale or rancid. Neither practice, of course, can be used by the average housekeeper.

County home demonstration agents have information for home canning of the pecan meats by use of pressure cookers, according to Miss Grace I. Neely, extension specialist in food preservation and the author of the bulletin "Canning Fruits and Vegetables."

For those who desire to keep small quantities of nut meats for home use, and who have no pressure cooker available, Miss Neely recommends a water bath method recently announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry.

"Fill glass fruit jars with freshly cracked meats, put on the rubber rings and tops but do not tighten them down," she said in explaining the procedure. "Put the jars in an ordinary wash boiler provided with a wooden rack to keep them from contact with the bottom. Two inches of water in the boiler is enough."

"Let the water come to a boil, and after it has boiled for 18 minutes with the lid on tight, remove the jars as rapidly as possible and tighten the tops. The jars of nuts may be kept at ordinary room temperatures, but should be stored in a dark place."

Home demonstration club members stored more than 400,000 pounds of nuts in 1937, the annual report of the Extension Service shows. With the large supply of pecans available from the present harvest, products such as meat animals, dairy and poultry products, and fruits and vegetables, the first items to respond to increases in consumer purchasing power.

"The outlook for cotton is unfortunately not as encouraging as is the case for most other agricultural commodities," Morgan said. "Record supplies of American and foreign growths, contraction of export demand, and the technological advances in the production of synthetic fibers account for the discouraging cotton situation, both as a short time proposition and as a long time factor."

General economic conditions in the United States are "mostly favorable to recovery," according to the outlook report. A material increase in industrial production in 1939 is expected to be reflected in larger consumer incomes, which in turn will mean a stronger demand for products from Texas farms.

The increase in net cash income will be greater than the total cash income increase, Morgan believes, for the things farmers must buy in producing a crop are expected to show little change and may be lower in price. The average farm wage is expected to be about the same as in 1938, while prices paid for farm machinery, automobiles, fertilizer, feed, and seed will probably be lower.

Acceptance of memberships will be continued beyond the minimum number, it was announced, but the national organization will not create a chapter here with less than 150 members.

All citizens interested in becoming members of Town Hall which will bring a series of well-known lecturers here, are asked to communicate with L. C. Thomas, phone 528 today or in the morning, in order to assure fulfilling of the quota.

1939 Crop Outlook Appears Brighter

COLLEGE STATION. — Texas farmers are expected to share in the improved demand for farm products and increased farm income in prospect for 1939, according to W. E. Morgan, who has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the national conference on the 1939 agricultural outlook held by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Morgan, economist in agricultural planning of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, said the 1938 cash farm income for the nation was down about 13 per cent from that of 1937. Some pick-up has been noted in recent months with a general improved demand for farm products.

The improvement is expected to develop further in 1939, mainly in it is expected that this amount will be greatly increased.

The average farm wage is expected to be about the same as in 1938, while prices paid for farm machinery, automobiles, fertilizer, feed, and seed will probably be lower.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION. Miss Marie Spencer, president of the Midland Business and Professional Women's club, Miss Fannie Bess Taylor, education chairman for the state organization, and Mrs. D. R. Carter, director of District 5, Business and Professional Women, plan to leave Thursday for Oklahoma City to attend the three-day convention of the organization. Texas and Oklahoma will have a joint convention with Miss Earline White, national president, in charge.

GALVESTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Edward E. Sutton, 30, convict, today was found guilty of murder with malice aforethought in the killing of Jail Guard Ernest Goode and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Deadline Set for Town Hall Quota. Thursday noon has been set as the deadline for accepting minimum memberships in the proposed Town Hall organization here, sponsors reported today. With 132 memberships already obtained by noon today, confidence was felt that the remaining 18 to make the required minimum of 150 would be received by the deadline.

Acceptance of memberships will be continued beyond the minimum number, it was announced, but the national organization will not create a chapter here with less than 150 members.

All citizens interested in becoming members of Town Hall which will bring a series of well-known lecturers here, are asked to communicate with L. C. Thomas, phone 528 today or in the morning, in order to assure fulfilling of the quota.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION. Miss Marie Spencer, president of the Midland Business and Professional Women's club, Miss Fannie Bess Taylor, education chairman for the state organization, and Mrs. D. R. Carter, director of District 5, Business and Professional Women, plan to leave Thursday for Oklahoma City to attend the three-day convention of the organization. Texas and Oklahoma will have a joint convention with Miss Earline White, national president, in charge.

GALVESTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Edward E. Sutton, 30, convict, today was found guilty of murder with malice aforethought in the killing of Jail Guard Ernest Goode and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Recently-Wed Couple Honored at Shower

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Williams who were married at Winters, Texas, October 30, were honored with a wedding shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Whiteaker, 506 S Terrell, Monday evening. Mr. Williams is the brother of Mrs. Whiteaker.

Various games were played, and music and singing enlivened the evening. A "treasure hunt" was held and when the honorees went to search for the "treasure," they found a basket of gifts.

Refreshments were served to the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whiteaker and daughter, Reza Maude, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Raney and daughter, May, and son, Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Klatt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Whiteaker and daughter, Inez, Mrs. Grace Wright and daughters, Laverne and Billie, Mrs. J. C. hard seeds. Worse than the rose with the thorns, we'd say.

Then there are quinces. We saw some one day, looking quite out of the ordinary in a West Texas grocery, and mindful of the stories in which the heroines made pretty pictures of domesticity while cooking up quince preserves or grandmother made a picturesque figure doing the same, we thought we'd try them.

The long-suffering soul who shares our domicile and does 99-100 lbs of the cooking almost rebelled when we gently suggested stewed or baked quinces (the cookbook said the latter were delicious). However, with some misgivings a huge quince was stewed—and didn't prove palatable.

We'd read that quinces were not supposed to be eaten raw but since we didn't like them stewed and saw little chance of having one baked, we decided to find out what one tasted like "in the raw." We did—it tasted as pithy as a poor turnip and as sweet as an apple and had an astringent quality vaguely reminiscent of the persimmons which East Texas high school students thrust upon unwary teachers from West Texas.

Having displayed our sad lack of knowledge of fruits and also learned some object lessons, we'll probably subsidize and confine our purchases to hum-drum apples, oranges, and such-like for a while—at least until the grocer displays something else strange we'd like to taste.

Maybe it is silly—but we still believe that a large share of the fun in living comes from being able to get a lot of enjoyment out of a little thing—like trying out a new dish, or tasting a fruit that is strange to one—or watching an orange November moon brighten a long road ahead of the car—or a thousand and one other small but zesty things.

Mr. Williams and his bride, the former Miss Thelma Pauline Hager of Winters, will make their home here.

Early Training Is Influence on Later Church Going Desire

My primary reason for going to church may be summed up in the phrase, "as a twig is bent so is the tree inclined." Early training, however, is not solely responsible for my acts in this matter, for I find that I go also because I like it.

Church attendance, to most of us in America, is for the purpose of worship and learning something of the teaching of Christ. He lived upon the earth that we might have a more abundant life. Prior to his coming men were taught the fear of God. He taught the love of God and equally important the love of our fellowman.

Because of human imperfections churches and church goers make a lot of mistakes and are subject to a lot of criticism. Many believers in the teaching of Christ claim to stay away from church because of the hypocrisy of some of its members. Never the less, the church today represents a big percentage of the best folks in every community.

Since there is probably a greater opportunity for the average man to be a more useful citizen by working in a group, I have chosen to ally myself with the church.

I don't want to live by the side of the road. Where the race of men go by. I want to be part of that marching throng. Erect, and my head held high. And if in the grind that is sure to come. Some comrade fails to stand. I hope it my lot to be at his side. And to stoop and give him a hand.

When the going is tough and the burden so great. That the weak are inclined to cry. Let me be of good cheer and whisper a word. That will help them again to try. To watch from the side with a purpose to help.

Is a just and commendable plan. But I'd rather keep step in that big parade. And still be a friend to man.

FEMININE FANCIES
By KATHLEEN EILAND

For the homekeeper, wearily looking for something different in the way of greens or raw salad material, we recommend the Chinese cabbage which is on the market now.

Its brittle, sweet leaves are delicious eaten like lettuce or cabbage in salads. When cooked they prove as tasty as does the ordinary cabbage which they resemble in flavor.

Maybe it's an inheritance from Mother Eve but we can't resist wanting to taste every new and unusual fruit that we see in the grocer's bins. Which is why we carried home in triumph some pomegranates—only to find that the fruit so often sung about in Oriental poetry and Biblical references protected itself against being eaten by filling the center, with its tiny bit of beautifully-colored flesh and its delicious acid juice, quite full of disagreeably
