Midland and Pecos Clubs Meet at 2

Time: Nov. 11, 1918

Three of the principals at the dramatic signing of the Armistice in a railroad dining car in the Forest of Compiègne. Left to right: Foch, for France; Wemys, for Britain; Winderfeld, for Germany.

Today, let us roll back the years, 20 of them. It is dark in the Forest of Compiègne . . . the first wan light of dawn has not penetrated the aisles of great oaks and beeches . . . this remote spot in the venerable wood is only 50 miles from Paris . . . but there is no sign of war. Standing on a spur track built temporarily for gun transport, is a railway car . . . just an ordinary dining car, impressed into service four years ago and placed at the disposal of Marshal Foch. Lights come from its windows. On a nearby spur a train looms darkly.

Something to Think Of As You Celebrate Armistice Day Today

Since 2 o'clock on this morning on Nov. 11, 1918, the lights have blazed from the windows of the dining car . . . but Compiègne Wood has become used to strange doings in the past four days.

On Nov. 8, for the first time that other train, now dark, had been shunted into the forest rendezvous . . . five figures that morning walked silently across from their train to the waiting car. They had come through the French lines near La Capelle the night before . . . not knowing their destination . . . secretly transferred in closed autos and railway cars to the forest rendezvous where Foch waited.

There they heard Foch's terms after he had compelled them to make first overtures for an armistice . . . humiliating terms that left no doubt as to the victor. In those four days frightening things happened . . . Germany in revolution . . . the Kaiser fled . . . Bolshevism stalking the Fatherland. There is no longer any question of what is going on in the lighted car. Only one thing can happen.

On opposite sides of a plain table . . . in the regular dining car seats, two rows of men sit. On one side Foch, opposite him the German Gen. Detlaf von Winderfeld, and across from him Weygand, and across from him Mathis Erzerberger, German plenipotentiary . . . two British admirals in sober blue, two more German uniforms, one more German in civilian dress . . . a military interpreter in French blue.

High and clear and true in the echoes of the guns, a bugle lifted the old, old notes of taps, the lullaby for the living soldier, in death his requiem. The guns roared out again in the national salute. He was home, the unknown, to sleep forever among his own.

Lovington Wildcat Tract Brings $107 an Acre, Said

By FRANK GARDNER.

The Westmont area southeast of Lovington in Lea county, N. M. continued to hold interest with the report that Skelly Oil Company, at the State lease sale held yesterday at Santa Fe, had paid $107 an acre for the southeast quarter of section 36-168-36e, slightly over a mile due north of the Westmont Oil Company No. 1 Amerada-State wildcat, which has run high structurally. Cement plug was scheduled to be drilled this morning in the Westmont well. It had set 8 5/8-inch casing at 1,936 feet with 75 sacks. Total depth is 3,327 feet in lime. In southern Roosevelt permit, Shell No. 1 Harwood county is reported to have taken a 15-minute drillstem test from 4,150 to 4,276 feet, but result of the test was not announced. The well had shown bleeding cores from 4,150-86 and gas at 4,210 feet. Pecos Well Plugging. Failure for a Delaware test in western Pecos, the Humble No. 1 A. H. Robertson, was seen today as the well showed 570 feet of drilling mud and 100 feet of sulphur water on 25-minute drillstem test from 5,262 to 5,368 feet. It is now plugging to abandon. The well topped black lime at 5,251 and Delaware sand at 5,232 feet. Having logged pay increase from 5,010-19, where oil rose an additional 1,000 feet to the 3,500-foot level, Texas No. 1-B Mallett, exploration test two miles west of the Slaughter pool in southwest Hockley, today was running tubing for test. Total depth is 5,035 feet in lime. At old depth of 5,007, the well had swabbed 48 barrels a day through tubing after acidizing with 3,000 gallons. In the Denver pool of Yoakum, Texas No. 1 Keller flowed 253 barrels a day on 24-hour natural production test through open tubing. Gravity of oil is 33 degrees and gas-oil ratio is 450-1. The well topped pay at 4,975 feet and is bottomed at 5,115 in lime. In Andrews, H. C. Wheeler No. 1 White & Shelton was pulling tubing preparatory to bailing. On last gauge, it swabbed 16 barrels of oil in 14 hours. Hole is bottomed at 4,615 feet in lime and has been treated with a total of 5,000 gallons.

CLUBS RATED EVEN ON YEAR'S RECORDS

Two fine football clubs, the Midland Bulldogs and the Pecos Eagles, meet on Lackey Field this afternoon at 2 o'clock in a battle that may ultimately decide the winner of district 7-B.

Midland has lost one game in conference competition, Pecos is yet undefeated. The Midland loss came in the game with Wink, a club that Pecos has not yet played. Midland can stay in the pennant race by handing Pecos a defeat, the Bulldogs are definitely out of the chase if they are defeated. Pecos could lose to the Bulldogs and still have a chance—by defeating Wink on Thanksgiving Day.

The two clubs this afternoon will be about as evenly matched in all departments as anyone could wish. While the Eagles will have about a five pound per player advantage in the line, the Bulldogs will make it up with a heavier backfield.

The two clubs also rate about even on season's performance. Pecos has one tie game—with Odessa—to mar an otherwise perfect record while Midland has one defeat against her.

Added incentive for Midland comes through the fact a local team has not been able to defeat Pecos since 1932. The best the Bulldogs have been able to do since that time was get one tie. However, Pecos is determined to continue defeating Midland, so a ding-dong battle throughout is assured.

It one must pick a favorite, Midland would probably rate a small advantage because of a whirlwind offense that has not been stopped with less than three touchdowns in any game this year. The Bulldogs have scored a total of 280 points in seven games compared to 149 for Pecos in eight games. However, only one club has been able to score more than one touchdown against the Eagles and Pecos partisans are sure the Bulldog offensive will be stymied in this afternoon's battle. The Bulldogs will not be in top physical peak for the game today since two backfield men are on the injured list. Geddes has been suffering from tonsillitis and may not get into the game at all and Jay Francis, individual high scorer of the team, is suffering from a leg injury that is sure to slow him up.

An individual duel between Francis and Frank Medanich of the Eagles has been one of the things that caused all tickets to the game to be sold before game time. Each has scored in all games played this year and the defenses of the two clubs have been worked hard to stop these two boys. Pecos also has another better than average ball carrier in Halfback Ellis that Midland will attempt to counter with "Fatso" Wright. Ellis ranks as one of the best defensive backs in the league, particularly on pass defense. Wright is also a capable defensive man and has developed fast as a ball carrier and passer.

Midland, without a line buster such as Pecos boasts in Medanich, will probably do quite a lot of passing with Dale Truelove hurling the ball. Truelove has developed in-See (BALL GAME) Page Six

Injuries Wreck Odessa Chances Of Beating Wink

ODESSA, Nov. 11. (Special).— The Odessa Bronchos, a badly crippled and demoralized club through rapid succession of serious injuries to key players, will attempt tonight to do what no other club has been able to do during the past two years—stop the Wink Wildcats.

The two clubs meet at 8 o'clock tonight on Fly field and a crowd of 5,000 is assured. Three thousand reserved seats were sold out during the first two days of the week and the general admission seats are expected to be gone soon after the gates of the field are opened.

The Bronchos were believed prior to last Saturday to have a chance to defeat Wink but they rate only one chance in 100 now of being able to do so. No less than seven of them will not be able to play tonight. The three that will be missing are Russell Wilkins, guard and ing up Russell Wilkins, guard and line cracker that had accounted for most of the yards gained by the Bronchos this year, and lineman Webb. Several of the other boys will be far from in peak condition.

The Wildcats will be in peak condition for the game. They had an easy game with Monahans last week and came out of it without injuries of any kind. Only Wink regular who will not be in the game is Dee Ezell, out with an injured knee. However, Ezell has been out most of the year because of one injury after another and coach Turner has a replacement for him.

BISHOP TO BE HERE. Bishop E. Cecil Seaman of Amarillo will make his semi-annual visit to Trinity Chapel Episcopal church here this week-end. He will arrive in Midland Saturday night and will conduct the 11 o'clock service at the chapel Sunday. All communicants and friends are urged to be present.

MOVE TO LUBBOCK. Bob Gregory, for the past eight years connected with the theatres here as an operator, and Mrs. Gregory and daughter, will leave soon for Lubbock where they will make their home. Gregory has accepted a position in a household supply company store there.

World Refugee Situation Demands Careful Study

By BRUCE CATTON.

It would be interesting to know just how many of us who now live in America are living here because of some acute wave of tyranny or persecution in Europe.

A few generations ago, each one of the periodic upsurges of repression on the continent sent a flood of new immigrants to America. People came over by the thousand, fleeing from every form of autocracy; America received them gladly, and was so proud of the ability to take them in that a Democratic party platform in 1856 boasted that the country was "the asylum of the oppressed of every nation."

But times have changed. The oppression goes on—in forms which make some of the 19th century abuses look mild—but America's gates are closed. Under the current immigration law, only a small fraction of the host that formerly came is admitted. The most that can enter in any one year now is 150,000.

Now that immigration law was not passed hastily. Americans have had a good many years to observe the workings of the melting pot, and it was perfectly obvious that in many ways it was not working so well.

So restrictions were voted, with the approval of the vast majority of Americans, and there is small chance that a return to the old era of unrestricted immigration would win much approval. Yet we might as well realize that we are facing a new situation in Europe, and that both our humanity and our traditions require us to examine it very carefully.

For the refugee situation abroad is worse than ever before. The great authoritarian states are calmly exiling people by the thousand, and in innumerable tragic cases these people have literally nowhere on earth to go. Among these exiles are men of talent, even of genius; considered by and large, they could make valuable contributions to any country which offered them asylum.

It is not easy to say that a nation with 10,000,000 unemployed should open its gates to thousands of newcomers. Yet the idea of offering a haven to come of Europe's refugees at least deserves prayerful consideration.

Henry Goddard Leach recently pointed out in Forum Magazine that our times of greatest prosperity, and that cutting down on immigration did not save us from the great depression of 1929. Perhaps some relaxation of our barriers could be accomplished without making our economic situation worse; perhaps the infusion of new blood might even be a help.

In any case, the refugee situation is one which we cannot dismiss offhand. If we can do anything, we should; and we ought to study the situation very thoughtfully before deciding that we can't.

SO THEY SAY

A CORRECTIVE MATTER

(San Angelo Standard.)

Lawyer members of the Legislature, while they are sitting around waiting for Governor O'Daniel to lay before them his instructions for raising money to pay pensions, might give a little thought towards correcting what seems to be a conflict in laws. It might be that some action following the thought would be a good idea.

A district court in Western Texas heard the case of a man charged with misappropriation of public money, a jury found him guilty and he was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary, all presumably in accordance with the statutes in such case made and provided. Also presumably in a lawful way the man was taken to the penitentiary and given a number and the other things that are usual and provided by law or regulations.

Apparently this man did not like the accommodations at the penitentiary so he employed a lawyer who drew a paper of some sort and presented it to a district judge several hundred miles from the judge who presided at the man's trial and sentenced him. This judge seemingly discovered that there was no lawful reason for holding the man in the penitentiary so he signed an order for his release.

The judge who passed sentence ordered the rearrest of the man and the judge who issued the order of release countered with an injunction forbidding all officers to arrest the man.

Both these men are district judges. Both presumably were acting in accordance with law, else they have no business being on the bench. But one of them is dead wrong, or the law is what Mr. Bumble called it and then some. It is such capers that bring the law into disrepute. If the law is ineffective it ought to be fixed. If the judge is incompetent he should be shelved.

President Roosevelt doesn't seem to care for the Committee Investigating un-American Activities and from his comments one might think the Dies were loaded.

On Again, Off Again For Tone Mustache

Franchot Tone spent a month growing a mustache for a motion picture role, then cut it off in the first scene. For the role of the publisher in "Three Loves Has Nancy", coming Sunday to the Ritz Theatre, Tone has a mustache in the opening sequence. For the sake of realism Director Richard Thorpe asked him to grow a real mustache, since one of the scenes takes place with Tone and Robert Montgomery engaged in conversation while Tone is shaving. After spending a month raising the mustache, Tone wore it in the picture for exactly five minutes!

Small Farmer Gets AAA Consideration

COLLEGE STATION.—The small farmer gets special consideration in the AAA's 1939 program.

Armistice Day. I shudder with memories of the campaign of the S. A. T. C. What a seige. From barracks to class room, from class room to mess hall. Only thirty dollars a month for going to college. And a paltry sixty dollar bonus.

I've waited until the last day to give the low-down about Gordon Geddes, regular Bulldog full-back, and his sore tonsils. On the night we had the cold rain, about a week ago, he braved the storm trying to catch Jim Harrison's Great Dane, Rigo. Gordon was aided by Mrs. Harrison, who also has been having tonsil trouble ever since. Jim was down at the office, by a warm fire, and suffered no ill effects. Rigo, due to his strong physique, also came through without illness. But before you take it out on Jim for what he has done to the team, remember the time, in '20 that he saved the game from Stanton, single handed, by a series of 90-yard runs.

The funniest thing I've heard over the radio since last Sunday night was a comedian's description of dreaming about a snake with two olives in its mouth.

Certain of our staff members have been talked about, I am told, for failure to sign up for a certain civic enterprise, but we still stand foursquare for freedom of the press, freedom of speech and freedom of action. Also, we feel democratic as long as we act about like 9,840 of the other citizens.

The country-wide controversy

Texas Said First in Speech Development

AUSTIN.—"Texas is head and shoulders above the average state in the Union in its development of speech work in its schools," F. L. Winship, new director of speech activities for the University of Texas Interscholastic League recently stated. Winship, who has made a survey of the trend in speech affairs between the Alleghenies and the Rocky Mountains, says Texas ranks with the best.

"Texas is well on the way to becoming a leader in the instruction of public speaking and drama," he said. "The distribution of speech material in one-act plays alone is tremendous, and this indicates that the state is pushing ahead. What Texas needs now is to equip her schools with specialists in the teaching of public speaking and dramatic courses.

"Twenty years ago there were hardly any extra-curricular activities in schools. Now, even the smallest have their plays and enter debating and extemporaneous speaking contests. Radio and talking pictures have made us speech conscious, and although we have just begun to think of the science of speaking, the stress laid upon its importance is one of the most valuable things modern schools can do for students.

Winship, who is also director of the drama loan service, a part of the division of extension of the university, pointed out that interest of Texas public schools in dramatics is so great that every year 672 high schools compete in one-act play contests.

"Only twenty-nine counties do not take part in these contests," he said. "They are scattered in the Panhandle, and East and Central Texas."

Shelter Belts in 6 States Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP).—The United States Forest Service announced it had started digging nursery stock preparatory to planting 4,500 miles of field shelterbelts in six prairie states during 1939.

Assistant Regional Forester D. S. Olson announced in Lincoln, Neb., that emergency labor is being used in digging the forest service's tree stock for replanting in belts in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Approximately 8,000 trees per mile will be required for the new shelterbelt plantings, Olson said. About 4,500,000 pines and cedars are available, some of which will be bought from commercial nurseries.

Next year's planting, the service announced, will be in a 600 mile strip in Texas, 700 mile strip in Oklahoma, 800 mile strip in Kansas, a 1,000 mile strip in Nebraska, an 800 mile strip in South Dakota and 500 miles in North Dakota.

Planting will begin in Texas and Oklahoma in January and in the Dakotas late in April. Since 1935 trees have been planted in belts 7,000 miles long.

In commemoration of the signing of the Armistice, twenty long years ago, this editorial is reverently published.

All the people in any one country never want a war. Any group of men, from any variety of nations left together socially will talk and laugh and have a fraternally good time. But there are a few individuals in the world who have the power to force the issue of war at the cost of millions of innocent lives. There is only one reason for war—and that is the protection of one's own land. Every young boy in every home in America should know that, and understand its full significance. The best man to make him understand is the father who remembers the events that preceded Armistice Day

Get Comforting Relief from RUNNY HEAD COLDS

DO THIS: Put some Vicks VapoRub up each nostril and sniff well back.

NEXT: melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water; breathe in the medicated vapors for several minutes. This loosens phlegm and further clears the air-passages.

AT BEDTIME: rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back so its long-continued double action can relieve the misery of the cold while you sleep.

TRY IT— then you'll know why VapoRub is a standby in 3 out of 5 homes.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 13.

The Golden Text is: "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Corinthians 5:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life" (II Corinthians 5:4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is the Principle of man, and man is the idea of God. Hence man is not mortal nor material. Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man" (page 476).

Mixed Tendencies Shown by Lumber

AUSTIN. — Lumber statistics during September showed mixed tendencies, it was stated by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. Production of saw timber increased 3.2 per cent over August and 1.4 per cent over September last year; while weekly shipments increased 3.2 per cent and 6.4 per cent weekly over the two comparable periods. Average unfilled orders were down 14.8 per cent from August and 17.9 per cent from September last year.

Miss Daphane Shafer, Bride-Elect of Ernest Nance, Is Honored at Shower

Miss Daphane Shafer whose marriage to Ernest Nance will take place tonight was honor guest at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. John Rhoden Jr., Mrs. Marvin Douglas, and Mrs. Alvon Patterson were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Rhoden, 906 W. Kentucky, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The affair was a surprise to the honoree.

Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the party rooms where guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Rhoden and signed the guest register presided over by Mrs. Douglas. The book bore the picture of a bride on the cover and was tied with green ribbon.

Green and brown, colors which the bride-elect has chosen for her wedding costume, were followed in appointments for the evening.

Using the three initials of her name, each guest was asked to write, if single, why she was not married, if wed, why she was.

Another pencil-and-paper game was a "motor romance," which was completed by filling in the rhymed couplets with names of the parts of cars.

At the presentation hour, Miss Shafer was asked to go on a treasure hunt and, by following clues in verse, was directed from one gift to another until a heap of packages was discovered in the hall closet.

The refreshment plates carried out the green and brown motif in individual square green cakes, bearing a wedding bell outlined in brown.

Present were: The honoree, Mrs. John W. Rhoden Jr., Miss Nora Mae Kiser, Mrs. Ray Blackburn, Miss Marie Reising, Miss Kathryn Beauchamp, Mrs. John E. Mills, Mrs. Ernest Neill, Mrs. Garth D. Neill, Mrs. Joe Fleming, Mrs. J. Fred Barber, Mrs. W. R. Tillman, Mrs. Joe Howe, Mrs. J. L. Barber, Mrs. D. E. Holster, Mrs. S. H. Martin, Mrs. Tommy Irwin, Mrs. E. B. Patterson, Mrs. J. L. Tidwell, Mrs. Alvon Patterson, Mrs. Jesse Lee Barber Jr., Miss Bobbie Clements, Miss Charline Savage, Cleo Tidwell, Jane Bounds, Miss Vivian Arnett, Mrs. C. Shafer, Mrs. Marvin Douglas.

Sending gifts were: Mrs. R. L. Mitchell, Miss Joan Sewell, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Livingston, Miss Doris Harris, Bertha Flournoy, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tucker, Mrs. J. W. Rhoden Sr., Mrs. J. H. Rhoden, Mrs. Ed Dozier, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hunter, Mrs. White, Mrs. Herman Phillip, Mrs. H. H. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pilot Carries Cycle—In Case

MELBOURNE (U.R.). — Declared to be the last of its type in the world, an old Maurice Farman airplane was reconditioned here for a barn-storming tour of the continent and New Zealand. The plane, built here in 1914, is equipped with a bicycle so that in the event of forced landings in remote parts of the continent, the pilot can pedal his way to civilization.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Written by students of John M. Cowden Junior High School, under direction of Miss Louise Latham

MILK DISTRIBUTION.

Since the beginning of last week, the underweight pupils of Junior High have been given free milk each morning.

Mrs. James Fitzgerald is chairman of the committee that raised the school milk fund. The milk is furnished to all pupils who are as much as ten per cent under weight, and who are not able to buy it. Junior High School has forty-seven pupils receiving milk paid for out of this fund. The pupils benefit from this service and really appreciate what is being done for them by the charitable citizens of the community.

This was carried on by North and South Elementary Schools last year, but this is the first year that Junior High has had it.

In addition to these forty-seven pupils, thirty pupils are buying milk for themselves. The local dairies are very kind in selling it to us at a very low price.

WHO'S WHO THIS WEEK.

There aren't many schools who can boast a janitor such as our Mr. Phillips. He is very kind and polite and is always willing to do what is asked or given him to do. He comes when called and does his work well. He even cleans up ink blotches with never a grumble. We appreciate his kindness and willingness in all things.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM.

We had our first program of the year Thursday, in celebration of Armistice. Sometimes Junior High is on the verge of becoming conceded because our visitors compliment our programs so highly. But we do feel that this one deserved every bit of the praise spoken. Mrs. Phillipus was in charge of it, assisted by Miss Price. All of the students like to work for each of them. So our efforts were a pleasure as well as a duty in effecting this program.

THE WEEKLY FOOTBALL GAME.

The game between McCamey and Cowden Junior High School was a more evenly matched one this time. Our team played the best game of this year. The boys missed two tackles on the fifteen-yard line, which cost us a touchdown. The first game we played with McCamey they trounced us 19-0. But this time the score was 7-0. Both Coach Freels and Coach Kimbriel think the team is improving.

I REMEMBER WHEN.

(An interview with Mr. Wadley.) Mr. Wadley was a youngster in Midland. He says: "I have seen the Midland Schools grow from a one-room schoolhouse with spilt-log benches to about sixty-five teachers. I went to the first school here when it had about sixty pupils and three subjects. "I think the Midland Schools today are better than the average public schools in Texas. Our first school was across the street from the Methodist church. It was later moved to where the old North Ward stands now. This school was built with cash. There were no debts to be paid on it. "In the first Midland School when I attended it, there were six grades: the chart, the first reader, the second reader, the third reader, the fourth reader, and the fifth reader."

SO SAYS NEW STUDENTS.

Zella Winkler, Stephenson School, "I like the friendly teachers and pupils."

Where Hungary Slices a Piece of Czecho

For the third time this fall another nation has sliced off a big chunk of Czechoslovakia. The beneficiary this time is Hungary. The above map shows the 4635 square miles of Czech territory along Hungary's northern border that has been parcelled out in this latest re-mapping of Central Europe. Earlier German and Polish acquisitions also are shown. The indicated Hungarian territory is not official, but is sketched on the basis of latest information as to Czech towns ordered ceded to Hungary by an Italo-German conference. Note that Hungary did not achieve the common boundary with Poland she had hoped to gain. Important Bratislava still belongs to the Czechs.

War Supplies Fired as Japs Land at Bias Bay

First act of Japanese troops when they had landed at Bias Bay for the smoldering fire on Cannon was to set fire to military warehouses on the waterfront. Framed in a border of grimly-silhouetted Japanese soldiers, this picture shows an important part of the military supplies of the Cantonese going up in smoke.

Barney Coyle, Pleasant Valley. "All of us country-school kids love to come to Midland."

Lona Sue Davis, Houston. "Midland Schools are swell. The principal is swell, too, but Mr. Freels, my home-room teacher is the swellest."

Barbara Stevens, Wisconsin. "I'd hate to think I'd ever have to go back to Wisconsin after going to school here."

Mike Buffington, New Mexico. "I like the school and teachers, especially my coaches."

Doris Martin, Junction. "I like everything about the school. Even the teachers are grand."

Retta Jo White, Nacogdoches. "I hope I can go to school in Midland until I graduate."

Frank Troseth, Austin. "Midland has the best system I ever attended."

The Black and Tan Purp. "I don't like it. They kick me or throw me out every time I go in the door."

OUR NEW PHYSICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM.

This week on Monday, November 7, we started a new physical education program with Mr. James Kimbriel as instructor.

The State Department of Education of Texas requires every school in the state to have a physical education program in which the pupils have some kind of physical exercise. No one can get out of taking physical education without a doctor's certificate, excusing him or her.

Each room has a period of thirty minutes in which the students go outside. The girls play softball, and the boys play touch football. The pupils act as referees, captains, and scorekeepers, which duties they assume from day to day. In football twenty-one points is a game, and the first side reaching that score wins. When Mr. Kimbriel blows his whistle, we have to go in.

Mr. Kimbriel has full charge of the new P. E. program. The other teachers of Junior High have taken over his classes in order to carry out the new schedule. He has had a great deal of training along this line of work. We like him very much, and appreciate his sincerity and enthusiasm in making our venture a success.

HIGH SIX SPONSORS PROGRAM.

Last Friday the High 6th Grade sponsored the assembly program. It was really the date for 7c, but since Mr. Kimbriel, our home-room teacher could get this program on this day only, Miss Lowry was kind enough to exchange dates with us.

We feel like just down-right bragging. Sad but true, we "high sixers" are a little short of talent in the arts. Just John Pittman can hold his nose and play the harmonica, so our wide-awake sponsor, Mr. Kimbriel got out and got what we think will be called the best program of the year.

It was put on by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The chief spokesman was Mr. Fox, who exhibited the first telephone model, the most commonly used one, and the latest model, explaining each one separately. He also showed us many instruments manufactured by their company.

About the most interesting thing was enacting the process of a long-distance call from Midland to Sydney, Australia, going via Dallas, New York, London, and to Sydney.

We of High 6th wish to thank Mr. Fox and his helpers, Mr. Alvers, Miss Hayes, and Miss Wilson.

THE JUNIOR SAFETY PATROL.

A few weeks ago Mr. Gilbreth called all the boys, who wanted to organize a Junior Safety Patrol, into the auditorium. Two highway patrolmen of the Texas Department of Public Safety from Big Spring met with us. With them were Bill Collins, secretary of the chamber of commerce and president of the Lions club, and Mr. Manning of the local police force.

The traffic problem has decreased considerably around the school. Mr. Gilbreth says that about 95 per cent of the students had cooperated with the Junior Safety Patrol movement.

The Junior Patrolmen have voluntarily helped to solve the safety problem around the building. The Patrol officers are as follows: Captain John Perkins, Lieutenant Frank Troseth, Sergeant La Grant Daugherty. The patrolmen are distinguished by their white Sam Brown belts furnished them by the Lions club.

Jack Brewer from 7B returned Tuesday from a visit to Ft. Worth. We hear that our Tom Smith is retracing his steps from Montana soon. Once in Midland, one can't stay away.

Antia Jean Hilly, 7C, is moving to El Paso. Don't forget us, Jean. Mr. Greene, Mr. Yeager, Mr. Martin, Mr. Upham and Mr. Vertrees of our school board were visitors in our school building Monday morning.

Friday, Armistice Day, and a holiday finds our faculty drifting around Miss Hogue is visiting friends in Lubbock. Miss Alverson her parents in Whiteright, Miss Farnham, her home in Odessa, Miss Lowry, relatives in Bonham. Miss Price on her father's ranch near San Angelo, and Miss Latham her family on the ranch near Mason. Mr. Kimbriel and Mr. Freels, always so football minded, don't get enough football during the week so they are going to see the game between TCU and Texas Saturday.

Dezen Chefs for Barbecue.

SAN FRANCISCO, (U.P.) — A barbecue pit where 3,000 pounds of meat can be cooked at one time is being constructed on the site of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition. Twelve chefs will be in charge, headed by Tony Liapro who barbecued steaks for Theodore Roosevelt.

WHAT'S GOING ON OVER OUR WAY.

The cold spell found us ready. Our heating system has just had an overhauling. The Board of Education and Dr. Lackey have installed a new electric controlled burner in the boiler and a new water pump for the return line to the boiler. The old return pipe has also been replaced with new copper tubing. This improvement is going to make us a lot more comfortable as well as make life easier for our janitor.

We're also waging a big clean-up campaign. All waste and rubbish must go from the basement to the upalo. Even the floors are getting their faces washed with clorex. Now we students are going to have to handle ink bottles with steadier hands.

Moving Day. Mr. Lackey came over Monday morning and made things hum around for a while. As a result we have a brand new "sitting room." Mrs. Conner moved into the room formerly used for band practice. Her old room is now fitted up with eighty folding steel chairs. This change is going to make it more convenient and comfortable for meetings etc.

THE CITADEL

Adapted from the METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture by FRANCES BARBOUR

SYNOPSIS: Andrew Manson (Robert Donat) a brilliant young doctor, has come to London with his wife Christine (Rosind Russell). In the winding township of Aberlady, South Wales, the people had been antagonistic to research work. Perhaps here, he can continue with it in peace and also build up a practice. But politics are few and far between.

NOW READ CHAPTER FIVE—BELOW

"Now go on. Cry it out."
"We'll have all the laboratory money we'll need."
"Nice shot."
"Pretty as ever."
"Hurry. His blood count is very bad."

Lunching with Christine in Schmidt's bakery one noon, Andrew is suddenly summoned to a nearby modish shop. A rich customer is having hysterics. Andrew rushes to the place, grabs the girl, a Miss Topsy Thornton, slaps her face and brings her to her senses. Topsy takes a great fancy to him and promises him patients.

True to her word, Topsy does send her friends around. Freddie Parker helps Andrew along by introducing him to other physicians all of whom indulge in fee-splitting. To his amazement, Andrew finds that he has a charming bedside manner and there is no need to struggle. At first, it all seems wonderful to Christine.

But to her dismay, she suddenly sees that Andrew is forgetting his ideals, and revealing in his easy fees, his motor cars, his golf and expensive clothes. Then she is delighted when Denny, their old friend, comes for a visit. But Andrew is contemptuous of his plan to bring the best medical care to the poor at low fees.

Completely disillusioned and dazed, Denny leaves and walks into a passing truck. Andrew rushes him to a hospital, calling in Dr. Ivory, a fashionable physician, to operate. Assisting him, Andrew realizes, too late, that Ivory is a quack. The operation is bungled and Denny dies. Don't miss reading the concluding episode.

Church Aids Aborigines.
 MELBOURNE (U.P.) — The Presbyterian church of Australia has undertaken to take care of the dying remnants of the aboriginal tribes of the country. It has purchased Ernabella, a 500-square-mile sheep ranch in the heart of Australia which will be kept inviolate for the aborigines who will help with the grazing of 1,650 head of sheep.

Bullet-Scarred Buck Falls.
 CHICO, Cal. (U.P.) — Loren Burch and Frank Swayer finally brought down what is believed to have been the most battle scarred buck in this neighborhood. The deer was about 12 years old, with five points on each side, but with a broken nose due to somebody else's bullet in years past and with part of a horn shot off at some previous encounter with hunters.

WPA Nap Nearly Fatal.
 BUTTE, Mont. (U.P.) — Sneaking a sleep on a WPA project can entail even greater dangers than merely getting discharged. A local workman slipped under a warehouse platform to take his nap and was sleeping soundly when a truck drove onto the platform. The support gave way, and the truck settled on the ground only a foot from the sleeper's head.

The Great Lakes have a barely perceptible tide, which is called a seiche, and is partly due to atmospheric conditions.

Nuys, democrat, finally beat Raymond E. Willis, in Iowa. Senator Guy M. Gillette, democrat, was the apparent winner over former Senator Lester Dickinson, republican.

In all, but without counting the uncertain elections, the republican party held 170 places in the House out of a total membership of 435 and 28 seats in the Senate of a total of 96. Thus a coalition of 48 anti-new deal democrats with the republican membership would give such forces a majority. On some past issue, many more than 48 democrats have deserted the administration. In the Senate, the republicans would have to pick up 26 democratic votes to command.

Funds for Relief of Needy Appropriated By Red Cross Here

Appropriation of $400.00 of the funds of the Midland county chapter of the American Red Cross to be used for purchasing shoes and clothing for Midland county needy was announced Thursday morning by Mrs. J. A. Haley, chairman of the Midland County Red Cross Chapter. Funds are available for immediate purchasing of goods as they are needed, according to John P. Butler, secretary-treasurer of the local chapter.

It was called to the attention of local chapter officials that there has been much suffering from cold among the needy of the county since the recent cold spell due to lack of shoes and clothing, especially among school children. Local Red Cross officials immediately took steps to appropriate funds with which to furnish needed wearing apparel to needy families and individuals. Mrs. Haley said that taking care of the needy is one of the major objectives of the Red Cross and that the Midland County Chapter is happy that funds are available for such use.

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND

If you're one of those people who shiver and shrink at sight of a filmy nightgown on freezing night, then you'll be glad to note that old stand-by for warmth, cotton outing is being tailored into neat and good-looking pajamas which make a good appearance as well as proving comfortable.

Now you don't have to hate yourself for the sake of being able to sleep in comfort, as used to be the case when outing was a plebeian material with not even a humble yearning toward beauty.

Care of Teeth Must Not Be Neglected During Illness

The proper care of the teeth is much more important during sickness than in times of normal health. Especially is this true in long protracted illness such as typhoid, tuberculosis, etc. At this time activity in the mouth is diminished. There is not the normal amount of masticating. There is a lessening of the amount of food and it is usually of a soft or liquid variety. Therefore at this time the teeth and gums do not get the usual scouring and exercise of hard, rough, fibrous food to keep the gluesy pasty film from accumulating over the teeth, and to stimulate a healthy normal circulation of blood in the gums and in and around the roots.

During illness the general resistance is lowered; the structure of

Pershing Declares Defenses of Nation Should Be Built Up

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP).—General John J. Pershing counsellor the teeth is weakened, then quite naturally with the above named menaces, disease of the teeth and mouth is much more apt to occur. It is at this time that fillings and artificial restorations are much more likely to give way, and bleeding of the gums or pink tooth brush is very probable. When the gums first begin bleeding, it is nature's danger signal to you of the beginning of pyorrhea, and that is the time to institute your fight. "A stitch in time saves nine," you know.

Correct brushing with a mixture of table salt and cooking soda (half and half) or some good dentifrice at least twice a day followed by vigorously washing the mouth with warm salt and soda water or a good antiseptic mouth wash and gargle is imperative. On the contrary it is often the case that during illness less brushing is done than in good health, or in many cases none at all.

Brush from three to five minutes with a very hard brush. The surfaces to be brushed are Outside (next to cheek), inside next to the tongue and the chewing surface. Use a short wiggling movement so as to force the bristles well into the spaces between the teeth where more of the food matter and bacteria accumulate and most of the dental infections originate. Be sure to brush for from three to five minutes at each time. Modern dentists would rather have one good and correct brushing than a half dozen of the sort that most people do. It is poor economy to try to make out with a worn out soft, matted brush. Keep brush hard. Hang it where it can aerate, if possible in the sunshine. Do not boil or place in scalding water. To sterilize, submerge for a few minutes in rubbing alcohol, then rinse in plain cool water.

For small children select softer brush, (not too soft) and use the same treatment as for the adult, as nearly as possible.

The mouth is the doorway to health. Keeping it clean and healthy means much toward general health. Keep it healthy all the time, and more especially during illness.

ed the nation Thursday, 20 years after he led the American armies to victory in the World war, to take "prompt and vigorous action" to reinforce its defenses.

"The situation in the world today is as menacing as at any critical time in history," the gray, but erect, commander of the A. E. F., said in an Armistice Day statement.

"Let there be visited upon us the recent experience of England and France," he urged an "adequate" thoroughly trained and equipped army, supported by a mobilized industry.

"We are the natural protectors of the freedom of this hemisphere, and we can not escape our obligation," he declared.

Pershing's pronouncement came on the eve of a nation-wide observance of a day of peace which is overshadowed this year by reminders of war.

By an act of congress, the anniversary of the World war's end is President Roosevelt, Pershing, as general of the armies, and representatives of a score of patriotic organizations will lay wreaths on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Marks Furs Are On Display Here

Returning to Midland for his second visit this season, Rudolph Marks, representing the firm of Herman and Ben Marks of Detroit is conducting a special manufacturer's sale of display of $100,000 worth of fine furs at Addison Wadley department store. The furs will be held here until Saturday night.

It is the wholesale line of the Detroit company that is being displayed here, Mr. Marks said. He returned from the factory about three weeks ago and some new numbers have been added to the line, such as the leopard combination, and the skunk-seal combination.

In addition to carrying styles which have already won popularity, the present collection includes some new styles, such as the small collars on fur coats, which are being tried out here and if successful will be included in next year's line of Marks fur coats.

"Chubbies," the short fur coats, are still in demand, the merchant said, although some people of colder natures prefer the longer coats.

The small collars which open out into lapels when not fastened are one of the new styles. The silver fox scarf composed of two skins is another feature style which is popular.

This is the second year that the Marks representative has made two trips to Midland during the season, which proves, he agrees, that West Texans are becoming "fur-conscious."

Hornet's Nest Costly.

ARLINGTON, Mass. (U.P.) — It cost John L. Bixby $5,000 to smoke out a hornet's nest under the eaves of his home. An ignited rag on the end of a pole with which Bixby routed the hornets fired the roof. Flames swept the attic and second floor, causing $5,000 damage before the blaze could be checked.

ARMISTICE DAY

YEARS AGO TODAY

With youth and determination: in the name of "making the world safe for democracy" they marched off to war. Some of them were consecrated by the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Some of them rest in peace, out there in Flanders Field. Some of them came back older, wiser men. They fought for an ideal, and helped to preserve it. They don't want wars for war's sake; they don't want to see their children embroiled in battle unnecessarily. But they do believe that peace must be kept—peace with honor. On this day, Armistice Day, we join the veterans of past wars in setting this new ideal before the youth of America—let us maintain peace with honor!
