Legality of Oil Shutdowns Will Be Questioned in Suit

AUSTIN, Nov. 18. (AP). — A suit challenging legality of the Saturday and Sunday oil production shutdowns today threatened the statewide prorated hearing here.

Ray Starnes, East Texas operator, formally protested the shutdowns, explaining such a protest was necessary before a court test could be filed.

Texas officials were advised by the United States bureau of mines that the demand for Texas crude would be 27,100 barrels less daily during the next month than during this one.

Amerada Stakes Diagonal Offset North of Westmount Strike

By FRANK GARDNER. Interest in the area southeast of Lovington in Lea county, N. M., where the Westmount Oil Company No. 1 Amerada-State offers prospects of an important new pool, continued at a high pitch today with the staking by Amerada Petroleum Corporation of a diagonal north-west offset to the discovery well.

It is on State land, 660 feet from the south, 1,980 from the west line of section 1-173-36. Meanwhile, the Westmount well was still trying to kill gas by pumping in water under pressure. Yesterday the test had blown out at 3,988 feet after logging gas increase from 3,956-64, in sand. Gas volume increased as the well blew, and late yesterday it was estimated at 30,000,000 cubic feet daily. However, another report this morning stated that the gas had been gauged at 7,000,000 feet while water was being pumped in.

Unfavorably low structural position was indicated by a wildcat three miles northwest of the Westmount prospect, Bardsall Oil Company No. 1 Humble-State, in the south end of the northeast of the southeast section 33-168-36, when it topped anhydrite at 2,065 feet, datum of plus 1,837. On the first marker, it is 103 feet low to the Westmount well, which topped anhydrite at 1,890, datum of plus 1,940. Drilling continued past 2,125 in anhydrite.

A 26-minute drillstem test from 4,262 to 4,390 in Shell No. 1 Harvard permit, southern Roosevelt county, N. M., wildcat, showed rise of 47 feet of drilling mud, with no oil, gas or water present. Operation now are remaining core-hole at 4,275 feet. They plan to core ahead after reaming down.

First Show in Wentz Test. Slight show of gas was struck at 4,392 feet by L. H. Wentz No. 1, W. F. Cowden estate, southern Ansonia pool. It now is drilling ahead below 4,394 feet in hard gray lime.

Superior No. 1 University, on the northwest edge of the Emma pool, is on test after shooting with 420 quarts from 4,133 to 4,286, total depth. Before deepening from 4,227, it had flowed 39 barrels a day on gas lift.

Texas No. 1-H State, south of Shafter Lake in Andrews, is drilling unchanged at 4,685 feet in line, carrying some sulphur water and a little oil from upper shows. Great Western No. 1 Holt, west offset to the Rogers & Rogers No. 1 Holt discovery in southern Andrews, is running tubing preparation to putting on pump. It had 1,200 feet of oil and 300 feet of salt water in the hole. The well is bottomed at 4,476, plugged back from 4,479, and has been shot with 110 quarts from 4,450-76.

Seminole Test Staked. Amerada has made location for a new test in the Seminole pool of central Gaines. It is the No. 2 T. S. Riley and was staked 660 feet from the south, 1,980 from the east line of section 229, block G. W. T. R. R. survey.

Three and a half miles north of the pool, Adams & Brasley No. 1 Ohio-Craig, 660 feet from the west, 1,980 from the north line of section 216, block G, is standing after cementing 10 3/4-inch casing at 2,228 (some reported 2,232) with 50 sacks. Total depth is 2,240 feet in anhydrite.

Texas No. 1-B Mallett is swabbing out acid water and load after recidivizing with 3,000 gallons. It had flowed 179 barrels of oil, cut one and two-tenths per cent with basic sediment and water on last 24-hour gauge made after treating with 1,500 gallons at 5,035 feet. The well provides a two-mile west extension of southwestern Hockley's Slaughter pool.

In northeastern Garza, Gulf No. 1 Swenson is standing after cementing 7 5/8-inch casing at 7,400 feet with 350 sacks. Hole was plugged back to 7,400 from 8,145 feet. Operations presumably will gun-perforate casing and test zones which showed saturated cores.

After swabbing 24 barrels of fluid, 30 per cent drilling water, in 12 hours, Shell No. 1 Ruyts lost swab, taking eight hours to recover it. During that time, fluid level rose to 800 feet from bottom. When swabbing was resumed, the well yielded 16 barrels of fluid, 99 per cent water, in four hours. It is bottomed at 5,266 feet in line and has not been shot or acidized. Slight show of oil had been logged at 5,060-70, with shows of oil and gas from 5,110-40 and from 5,240-60.

Texas No. 1 H. T. Boyd, in southeast Cochran county, stopped drilling at 5,000 feet in line to run Schlumberger for purpose of checking formation markers and picking casing point.

Boycott of Ford Threat Of The CIO

Say Manufacturer Must Recognize Union in Plants

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18. (AP). — John L. Lewis today was elected the first president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations following a tumultuous demonstration by 400 delegates representing 3,800,000 in more than 40 national and international unions.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18. (AP). — The Congress of Industrial Organizations hurled Thursday a threat of boycott to its claimed membership of 3,799,000 against the Ford motor company unless that concern agrees to "bargain collectively" with the United Automobile Workers union.

The sudden action climaxed an exciting day in which delegates mapped a "broad social security program, cheered approval of a resolution requesting an exhibition of their unity, and endorsed the "humanitarian and social program" of President Roosevelt.

Fiery speeches by Van A. Bittner, regional director of the C. I. O., and district president of the United Mine Workers, Richard Frankenstein, vice-president of the auto workers, and others preceded action of the Ford resolution.

"If we are going to boycott Ford, let us boycott Ford. He will either manufacture cars with an agreement with auto workers or he will not sell any cars in America."

"We will notify every Ford dealer we are not going to buy any Ford cars until Ford signs a contract with the U. A. W."

The resolution charged the Ford management with exercising every means of destroying all semblance of bona fide labor organization within its plants, was an "unfair competitor" with other manufacturers who have signed union agreements.

In Detroit Harry Bennett, personal director for Ford, asserted the U. A. W. was "not representative in Ford plants" and that "we'll iron out difficulties" with the union "wherever they are representative."

On the question of unity, the newly created congress charged newspapers with misrepresenting the "purpose of ordinary debate, twisted meanings and distorted head lines" in striving "to portray and actually to create splits among forces of the C. I. O."

Morris Watson, a former newspaper reporter and vice-president of the American Newspaper Guild, read the resolution.

New Trade Agreements to Help Agriculture Situation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP). — Administration farm officials today predicted American farmers would gain three types of benefits from the British-Canadian trade agreements.

The three were: Substantially increased market for wheat, lard, hams, cured pork and other hog products, fruits and rice; slightly lower prices for many manufactured products; increased consumption of farm products at home.

Experts generally agreed, however, that the treaties would not relieve the problem of agricultural surpluses to any great extent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18. (AP). — Agriculture department experts said last night the British and Canadian trade agreements should benefit American agriculture but not to the extent of greatly relieving existing surpluses.

Major advantages gained from the British, they said, would flow to producers of corn, hogs, rice, apples and citrus fruits.

On the other hand, southern producers of cotton and tobacco, groups confronted with the most serious problem of excessive surpluses, gained no advantage not already possessed. Cotton continues on the free list in the British agreement.

British import duties on tobacco, which give dominion producers a price advantage, were continued in effect.

Although state department officials emphasized that the British duty on American wheat, equivalent to 5 cents, was removed, the government experts said that the use of export dumping programs by Canada, Argentina and several other major wheat producing countries tended to lessen the importance of this concession.

Because of dumping, wheat is selling in world markets for as much as 20 cents a bushel below American prices. At present American wheat sold abroad is marketed at prices below domestic levels, and the government experts said that the government's duty on American wheat would tend to reduce this concession.

To Report on 'Attitude' of This Nation

Persecution of the Jewish Minority To Be Continued

BERLIN, Nov. 18. (AP). — Germany today called home her United States ambassador for a report on the "queer attitude" of President Roosevelt and other American leaders toward the wave of violence against the Jews in Germany.

The summons to Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff was sent four days after an announcement the United States Ambassador, Hugh Wilson had been ordered to report home for consultation.

The order came as a surprise to many foreign office functionaries. This was interpreted as meaning foreign minister Von Ribbentrop found it difficult to believe Dieckhoff's cabled reports concerning the American reaction to Germany's anti-Semitism.

Der Angriff, organ of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, who is one of the leaders of Germany's violent anti-Semitism, announced preparations to drive Jews from their homes throughout the Reich.

The government is preparing a decree canceling for Jew tenants the protective law, together with its provision that notice is required in order to oust tenants," the announcement said.

"It is officially estimated that 8,000 homes in Berlin alone will be vacated because Jews in the future will be unable to afford the expense of the homes. Large de luxe apartments probably will be partitioned among Germans."

Germany's Jews, already stripped of one third of their wealth, according to Nazi estimates, are denuded by a collective fine, and damages totaling about $500,000,000, feared that Goebbels' announcement heralded a move to establish ghettos.

If they are driven from their present homes in the Reich, the Jews and German Aryans refuse to rent them new homes there probably will be no alternative except ghetto life, Jewish leaders believed.

Jewish Refugees Tell of Losing Money and Jobs

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 18. (AP). — Jewish refugees, arriving here Thursday by boat from Germany, told how their property, jobs and savings had been confiscated in Chancellor Adolf Hitler's anti-Semitic drive.

Special police guarded the gangway when the vessel, the German motorship Oakland, docked.

Chief among the small group of refugees in the Oakland's 40 passengers was Walter Frost, a German who was veteran and for 15 years head of a textile commission house at Breslau.

Frost said he served in the German army as a sharpshooter from 1914 to 1918. Five months ago he was fairly well to do. He landed here penniless.

"The first thing the German government did was to take away my job," Frost said. "They confiscated my business. Then they took away my mother's and my own bank savings, our property and even our household goods, totaling about $80,000. When I was taken from Hamburg I was permitted to leave with just 60 marks, or $24 in American currency."

Threat to Strike Is Voiced by Workers Over Daladier Plan

PARIS, Nov. 18. (AP). — Faced by the threat of a nationwide strike of protest, Premier Daladier declared last night that the violence of campaigns against his three-year economic plan "proves we have chosen the right road."

"If anyone believed we were at an impasse would be the object of so many violent assaults?" the premier asked in an address before the French newspaper federation.

The General Confederation of Labor, an organization of 3,000,000 workers, earlier had voted through its congress to fight Daladier's decree laws, planning a day of national demonstration for Nov. 26 and threatening a nationwide strike.

Deputies said the premier was planning to dissolve the chamber of deputies and rule France for a time without parliament if it refuses to ratify the economic program against which the confederation had set itself. The constitution empowers the premier to wait six months before calling a newly-elected chamber after dissolving parliament.

Large Crowd Sees Stunt Driver Here

An estimated crowd of 500 persons yesterday afternoon watched Jimmy Lynch, daredevil stunt driver, in an exhibition here.

Persons who watched the exhibition cheered lustily time after time as Lynch performed a series of stunts before the driver, who claims to have overturned cars 421 times for movies and in making tests of new cars, between stunts, gave a short talk on the proper way to overcome many driving difficulties that arise, explaining what to do when a blow-out occurs while driving at high speed, when the car gets into a spin and many other questions.

He demonstrated how to take the car out of a spin while driving in reverse down the street, then drove the car over ramps placed in the street, the car landing several feet out in front of the ramps. He then drove two wheels of the car over ramps elevated to 42 inches, bringing the car to a perfect stop each time.

Following the demonstration, many fans received autographed pictures of the driver from him and his aides.

Nephew of Midland Attorney, in America After Several Months Reporting European Melees, Says German 'Bully's Method' to Continue Its Spread

Home from central Europe for a visit with his parents at Chattanooga, Tenn., John Whitaker, roving correspondent of the Chicago Daily News and a nephew of Ed M. Whitaker, Midland attorney has been quoted in the Chattanooga News as saying "the period of Versailles peace has come to an end and we are at the beginning of twenty years of German domination of Europe."

"The German method will be the bully's method of terrorism," he said. "What Hitler and his wild men are doing to the Jews today is what they have already done to the Spaniards, the Austrians and the Czechs. It is the bully's way and it will be used by the Germans against anybody and everybody who is too small or weak or too badly armed to defend himself. After Europe comes South America and then the United States. No bully understands anything but force and never stops until he is beaten."

"Britain and France could have stopped the German bully in October when they had Czechoslovakia as an ally. The Czechs with 2,000,000 men under arms had a Maginot line better than France's, an army twice Great Britain's and 5 munitions industry three times Italy's. Now I don't believe that Britain and France could win a war against Germany.

"Britain needs courage more than she needs airplanes. The British were too soft to help us against the Japanese during the Manchurian crisis, too soft to help themselves against the Italians in Ethiopia, too soft to help the Spaniards and the Czechs. Soft people disappear from the map. Chamberlain is paying blackmail to the gangsters. . . .

"This sounds funny, but we have got to worry in America from now on about whether the British are going to give Manhattan away. For twenty years our defense program has been based on the idea that a war between this country and Britain was impossible and that we could count on the British navy in a pinch."

Hitler is the dominant power on the Continent. And we have no one to blame but ourselves.

"We had better start seeing things clearly. We had better learn from Britain's bad example. We had better rearm and we had better remember that when gangsters are shooting up China and Spain they are right next door to us. Our house may be next."

Whitaker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson S. Whitaker of Chattanooga, formerly was a member of the staff of the News there, entering the foreign correspondent's service of the New York Herald-Tribune. For several years he has been an ace correspondent reporting the European scene. He is author of the book "And Fear Came."

"He is visiting his old home prior to going to South America to report changing conditions, for his newspaper. South American points probably are included in Hitler's quests, he predicted, hence his visit to the southern republics to gain background."

Among his statements, he said Hitler and Mussolini are not truly friends of each other, and that the duce had told his son-in-law that "this is a man with whom I can see (Nephew) page four."

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Organized Hypnotists

The Society of American Hypnotists was launched under auspicious circumstances in New York over a few scuttles of beer, pig knuckles and sauerkraut recently as a hypnotized subject took a shower bath. The shower bath was imaginary, the beer, sauerkraut and pig knuckles were real.

The society has as its avowed purpose, dignity for the profession and the hook for phony hypnotists. Dignity has ruined full many a fine fellow and it is hoped that the hypnotists will not acquire too much of it. And there is danger lurking in the proposal to run the phonies out of business. For a phony may be good sport.

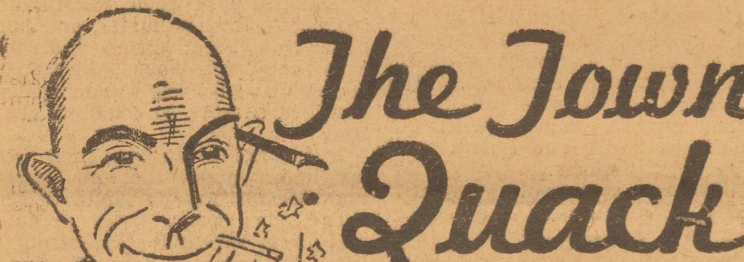

A phony is frequently funny. His demonstrations of the ancient occult art are never too mystifying and offer some opportunity to the layman to match wits with him. Showmanship is frequently more evident than hypnotism. And if the phonies were all barred from the business, the annual meetings of the society might be much smaller. It's something to think about.

Sidewalk Supervision

The latest benefaction of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has been to build a grand stand to permit the crowds of spectators to watch the excavating now going on for Holland House in Rockefeller Center in New York.

Men at work have become such a rare sight that men at leisure may now watch them in comfort from behind a wire netting and under the protection of a roof. The stand is open to the public and a huge sign welcomes everyone to the Sidewalk Superintendent's Club.

At the opening of the club recently cards were distributed which bore the inscription "The best pilot stands on the shore," in Dutch. The day may not be far distant when the sidewalk superintendents may have their favorite steam shovels and crews and an ordinary excavating job may assume the color and spirit of a crew race.

Letters to Editor

You are of course well aware of the less Texas agriculture is suffering through soil erosion and lack of water conservation measures. Our disastrous floods, silting of reservoirs, and periods of excessive drought would be minimized, in the opinion of experts, by adequate conservation practices.

The Texas A. and M. College Extension Service has been working on this problem for more than 25 years. A survey made in 1937 revealed that on 90 per cent of the crop and pasture land of Texas there is need for some method of soil or water conservation. Although protective measures have been carried out on about ten million acres through the efforts of the Extension Service, there is much work left to be done. We are the first to admit that we need all the help we can get in this connection. Our country agricultural agents could not run all the terrace lines needed in the state in 100 years.

We hope to speed up the conservation process. To this end our agents have given instruction in the operation of farm levers to farmers and club boys, and there are today more than 15,000 men and boys who are qualified to run contours. Contour-cutting cuts through the use of county-owned machinery, have made available something farmers have long needed—powerful equipment.

The Governor of Texas, in accordance with legislation passed in 1921 by the Texas Legislature, will proclaim the second week of January, January 8-14, as SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION WEEK. During this week, we expect to put on a concentrated campaign to bring the need for conservation measures to the attention of the public. Churches, service clubs, civic and agricultural organizations, the Soil Conservation Service, the vocational agriculture teachers and other groups and agencies have been asked to cooperate with us in the campaign. It is our hope that the Texas press will aid the movement in every way possible. Thanking you in advance, both on behalf of our Institution and Texas agriculture, for your cooperation, I am Yours very truly, H. H. Williamson, Director.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 20.
The Golden Text is: "Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee" (Isaiah 26:8).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him" (Psalms 62:5).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is the substance, Life, and intelligence of man, which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit. Man is the expression of Soul" (page 477).

Accompanying the photograph was a story of the organization of Beta Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority in Odessa recently, with Mrs. Johnston as educational director.

Before moving to Odessa, Mrs. Johnston was educational director of the Midland, or Beta Delta chapter of the sorority, and was favored with the title of honorary member when she took up her residence in the Ector county town.

She was also a member of the Business and Professional Women's club here and was known as a capable book reviewer and reader.

FEMININE FANCIES

It's time to be purchasing bulbs if you want Christmas blooms. This year there are quaint china containers shaped like elephants or maybe pigs (anyhow some kind of four-footed creatures) and filled with colored stone chips in which to plant your bulbs. Quite pleasing they are.

But if you're naturally conservative and care nothing for a menagerie in connection with your blossoms, you'll choose round bowls of china, or those rustic, hinged-out logs or similar receptacles in which to plant the rusty, crusty bulbs that will soon shoot up into gay green glory.

There's something about winter evenings that calls for popping corn. One of the not-too-expensive electric poppers would make a welcome Christmas gift for the man who must have a bite to eat before going to bed at night.

Did you know that now you can buy a popper complete with large glass bowl for holding the popped kernels, individual small glass dishes for serving the corn daintily, and even a tin of oil to take the place of the old-fashioned pat of butter in seasoning it?

We've no doubt the new poppers are all they should be. But we're perfectly sure the corn popped in them will never be one whit more delicious than that which we popped in a long-handled wire popper over the kitchen fire long years ago.

With the dishes should not be such monotonous task, now that designers are thinking up bright colors and gay pictures to put on the cup towels.

For a practical and at the same time pretty and inexpensive gift, we nominate the sets of four kitchen towels and two dish cloths which are now being shown. No woman ever has too many dish cloths or too many kitchen towels.

Besides the novel parka hoods of which this department has spoken before, there are other warm and unusual articles of headgear which will be just the thing for those raw and blustery days when there is the sting of sleet in the air.

There is the knitted cap with a stiffened visor to give it that bit more kinship with a hat. It comes in colorful stripes and boasts an

MIDLAND, TEXAS

BULLDOGS INVADE CRANE TONIGHT SEEKING EIGHTH VICTORY

INJURIES DUE TO HAMPER OFFENSE OF MIDLAND CLUB

The Midland high school Bulldogs, seeking their eighth victory in nine starts this season, departed at noon today for Crane where they will meet the Golden Cranes of that city tonight at 8 o'clock.

Between 500 and 1,000 fans from Midland are expected to view the game tonight, many of them having left this afternoon and others planning on leaving after working hours are over today. The band and pep squad left this afternoon at 2:30 and were scheduled to parade through the streets of Crane at six this evening.

Although crippled through the loss of one backfield man and an injury that will limit to a few minutes the play of the other, the Bulldogs were favored to cop the game by two or more touchdowns over the heavier Cranes.

Also on the injured list is "Boog" Eklund, a standout at his guard position all season. He suffered a badly sprained ankle when he stepped in a hole while practicing the other afternoon and will probably be forced to see the match from the bench.

Odds favor the Bulldogs no matter what ratio is considered. They triumphed over Odessa, a club that defeated Crane by a 25-0 score, and defeated Pecos, a club that won a 12-7 victory over the Cranes, by 30 points. The Bulldogs also handed Iran a 32-0 defeat while the best Crane could do was a 19-14 victory over the same club.

However, the Cranes are generally recognized as the "passingest" club in district 7-B, the sole department in which the Bulldogs have shown themselves to be weak this year.

Despite the fact the game may turn out to be closer by far than anyone has considered it would, the Bulldogs were allowed to take it easy in practice sessions this week. With two men out, the coaches were determined not to take any chances on any of the others being hurt.

With Jay Francis, quarterback and driving force of the team, suffering from a leg injury that will keep him on the bench most of the time tonight there is a possibility that the Bulldogs will fail to score as many as three touchdowns for the first time this year. Ball-carrying ability of the other backs in the game for the Bulldogs will be hurt when Francis is not in the game because the Cranes, like every other club played this year, are set to "stop Francis." With him out, the surprise element that is present when other backs carry the ball will be missing and the Cranes will probably be more effective at smothering the Midland attack than they would be if he were in the game.

Francis' injury is not the only worry of the coaches. Gordon Geddes, best defensive back on the squad, particularly against passes, is not expected to play at all because of a broken hand. Few passes have been completed over him this year and his loss will be seriously felt against a team that relies upon passes for most of the ground gained.

The Howard to Howard, halfback and end, combination of the Cranes has accounted for most of the 155 points registered by the Cranes this year and unless the defense perfected by the coaches during the past week clicks the oil field boys are expected to do some scoring on their own account tonight.

However, all the passing won't be done by the Crane club tonight. Dale Trudlow, number one punger on the Midland squad, is ready to unwind a few passes himself. He will probably get quite a bit of hurling to do if the Midland ground attack bogs down.

The rest of the forward wall is in fine physical shape and the Cranes are not expected to make many yards on power plays. Throughout the season, few scores have been made through the Bulldog line and there is little reason to fear that the Cranes will show a better ground gaining attack than some of the other clubs met by the Bulldogs to date.

The records show that the Cranes have scored 155 points this year while allowing the opposition 116 points; compared to the Midland record of 319 points scored to 78 for the opposition.

A win for the Bulldogs tonight will practically assure the Bulldogs second place in the league this year. They will have only one game left, against the weak Monahans club, while the Pecos Eagles, deadlocked with the Bulldogs for second place, have yet to play the league leading Wink Wildcats. However, if the

By POP BOONE

FORT WORTH. — There are a number of football experts in the southwest who would make an easy job of picking a sectional honor team, merely by naming the Texas Christian varsity en toto.

Although a consensus isn't quite so flattering, the Horned Frogs finally wind up with three men on the first team, and Dutch Meyer's entire line is named somewhere among the first three teams.

Named as the outstanding choice in the district, and one upon which all observers concur, is Davey O'Brien, The T. C. U. 150-pound quarterback not only is a smart field general but is recognized as the passing equal of Sammy Baugh at a comparative point in the latter's career.

At the halves are Elmer Tarbox of Texas Tech and Dick Todd of Texas A. & M. Tarbox has starred for two years with the Red Raiders, who are undefeated this season.

A fast, dynamic runner, critics rate him one of the hardest men to stop ever seen in the district.

CRITICS SAY TODD RATES HIGHER HONOR.

Todd, the finest triple-threat back in the southwest, actually is All-America caliber according to most observers, but the Aggie's spotty season probably will keep him from national honors.

Kay Eakin, Arkansas' junior, gets the fourth post in the mythical backfield. Playing with a weak club Eakin nearly always was the most dangerous man on the field.

Sam Boyd, Baylor's great pass-shattering end, is a popular choice at one flank, and pairs up with Billy Dewell, Southern Methodist junior, who should be headed for the top next year.

Gigantic I. B. Hale, 240 pounds of smashing tackle, has his post all to himself. The Texas Christian captain's pass this season stamps him as a definite All-America possibility. As a running mate, Hale has Joe Boyd, Texas A. & M. junior, a devastating lineman whose bulk belies his speed.

Bulldogs are defeated tonight, they can get no better than a tie for second place with Pecos even if the Eagles lose to Wink.

At guards are Matt Landry, outstanding man in the Rice forward wall, and Jack Rhodes of Texas. Both weigh close to the 200-pound mark, and in addition to possessing slashing defensive ability, are particularly adept at pulling out to run interference.

VERY LITTLE ALDRICH DOESN'T DO FOR FROGS.

Ki Aldrich of Texas Christian, considered by many to be the greatest center ever developed in the southwest, is a unanimous choice for the pivot job.

Standing more than six feet and weighing 200 pounds, Aldrich not only was the backbone of the Horned Frog defense, but often performed the most unheard-of feat of pulling out to run interference after snapping the ball.

There are a host of others who pressed closely for first team positions, but fell just a trifle short. Billy Patterson of Baylor, one of the truly great passers to come out of the southwest, almost was placed in the first backfield. Bill Dwyer of New Mexico has few peers as a ball carrier. Ollie Cordill, Rice halfback, far overshadowed his teammate, Ernie Lahn, who was nominated for stargom in preseason predictions. Jack Schuehle of Rice probably could play fullback for any team in the land.

Charley Sprague, Southern Methodist leader, and Don Looney of Texas Christian are way above the average as ends. Allie White of T. C. U. and Jess Hines of Rice are just a shade below Hale and Boyd.

Forrest Kline of T. C. U. and George Sanders of Southern Methodist would make a swell brace of guards for any coach, and Larry Woodell of Arkansas rates with the best when it comes to centering.

It isn't so simple picking an honor team in the razzle-dazzle country, where the stars shine their brightest.

Championship in Sight for Muckers

EL PASO, Nov. 17. — With two major hurdles ahead, the Texas Miners looked to the Border Conference Championship today after their 26-14 win over the University of Arizona Wildcats, Nov. 11.

The first chasm to be bridged will be that offered by the Arizona State Bulldogs of Tempe here Saturday afternoon. The Bulldogs have not won a conference game in three tries but have shown steady improvement and should be ready for the Miners, who head the league race with two wins and no defeats. The New Mexico Aggies, once beaten, will offer the second hurdle Thanksgiving Day when the two clubs tangle in a traditional battle in El Paso.

Only Big Mike Maros 205-pound fullback, will be missing from the line-up when the Muckers play Arizona State. Maros did not play in the Arizona University game because of a sprained ankle, but his post was ably filled by Fred Barrett who will start at the fullback position Saturday.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Written by students of John M. Cowden Junior High School, under direction of Miss Louise Latham

SOME 7-B TALENT.

We of 7B want to do a bit of bragging and boosting for our accomplished trumpeter who tooted himself into fame on the Armistice program. Those of you who heard him may remember him as the boy who blew the petals off "My Wild Irish Rose." But he is really Billy Anderson, who came to Jr. High at the beginning of the school year. Billy formerly lived in Fort Worth. His trumpet solo was really the feature of the performance last Thursday. Billie has a good reputation of being an honest, smart, and well-mannered boy. He seems to be happy with us and always has a funny joke to tell. He is a good sport about everything that happens in work and play. He tries to be an all-around student.

COULDN'T STAY AWAY.

I think it was understood here that I was up in Montant to stay, but here I am back in Midland. Surely am glad to be here because it's getting cold up in Montana. Miss Alverson must have been glad to see me because she said she would kiss me if I were a girl. I actually didn't know what to do when all the kids started hollering as I came into the room. Guess it was the old Texas welcome. I'm waiting for those sandstorms, but haven't seen any signs. You bet, I'm glad to be back in Junior High!

PEP SQUAD DOINGS.

The Junior High Pep Squad really enjoyed the Pecos-Midland game Friday, two-fold. The Bulldogs won the game, and we got to sit in the section next to the High School pep squad. It was a thrill for us to take part in their yell. Mrs. Tolbert was very kind and willing to chaperon us in the absence of Miss Price. There were about thirty Jr. High girls there, and we made quite a noise when something happened.

NEW PROGRAM WORKING FINE.

Mr. Kimbriel, our P. E. director, says that everything is moving along as well as any project that has just been started. Every girl and boy is participating in the games, except about four, who have doctor's excuses. At the present the girls are playing softball, and the boys touch football.

The teams are evenly matched and the scores are running close together. Later on different games will be played such as volleyball, basketball, boys' softball, and crossball. We plan other games just as soon as we get our equipment lined up.

THE CRANE GAME.

The Bullpups played their seventh game of the season with Crane November 10th. It appeared at first that it might be one of our off days. The team was slightly weakened in the first quarter by the loss of Troy West, who had to be taken out of the game. At the end of the quarter, the score was 6-0 in favor of Crane. In the second quarter Odie Kelly covered the ball behind Cranes goal line for a safety, making the score 6-2. In the last half the Pups rallied and scored a touchdown, converting the extra point which gave us a 9-6 victory at the crack of the gun.

A bit of stardom also goes to E. G. Foster, one of our backfield men, who made a thirty-yard gain when he smashed the Crane line.

WHO'S WHO THIS WEEK.

Newel Beauchamp better known in Junior High circles as "Samson" is to our school what Reno is to Nevada. Reno boasts the biggest little city in the world. He is the biggest little fellow in our school. Small in stature, yes, but what a regular fellow he is to his schoolmates. Everyone wants to pal around with "Samson." And, have you seen him on the streets as a paper-boy? In spite of his news-boy duties, he manages to rank among the honor students. Newel's teachers tell us that he is a willing and cheerful worker, and we do believe that broad grin is really real.

NOTHING UNUSUAL TO HEAR.

Mr. Gilbreth, "Well, I have some more bicycle complaints." Mr. Kimbriel, "I'm a sad man." Miss Price, "Now just the autos, please." Student-like-to-run-around, "May I go to the office and see if my fountain pen has been turned in?" Energetic Student, "Could I sell you some concert tickets? I get a pass if I sell two." Miss Latham, "E. G., if you don't get your English outlined copied, I'm going to pulverize you." Mr. Gilbreth, "Billie Howze, if you don't get your history, you're going to get a runner pulled in you." Mrs. Philippus (displaced) trilling five consecutive "Nos" with striking rapidity.

Mrs. Tolbert, "I have you marked absent two days and no written excuse."

Business Rolls Toward Prosperity as Demand for Good Securities Increases

CHICAGO, Nov. 18. — Business continues to roll on toward prosperity. It is now only 11 per cent under normal compared with 28 per cent below last June! This is one of the most sensational recoveries in history and the end of the rise is not yet in sight. Meanwhile, security prices have run up even faster than business. Hence, the question in every investor's mind today is: What should I do about my securities. In answering that question let me emphasize that no one can tell you whether the market is going up or down next week. Most of those who attempt to do so and who "play" the short swings eventually end up in the poor house! They can lose their money more pleasantly at the race track while having the fun of watching the horses run. Hence, I do not want anyone to interpret this article as a forecast of what the market will be immediately.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM. We invite you to our Thanksgiving Program November 23, at two o'clock. Miss Lowry is in charge of the performance this year, assisted by Mr. Kimbriel. There will be musical numbers, readings, and dances by the students in Junior High school. It is very good training for the students to participate in the type of program that we have. Some of you who have never heard the concert readings and singing which has become a tradition, should try to attend one of our programs for this feature alone. We should like very much for the public to attend our Thanksgiving Program.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK GOOD. Thirty-five years of experience in analyzing the business cycle have taught me one vital lesson: Security prices depend first on the business outlook and second on the supply and demand for securities. Certainly, my investigations have proved that the business outlook does not depend on security prices! Hence, because I believe that business will continue to rise, I feel that carefully selected stocks and bonds of sound, progressive companies are still attractive. Not only can business break through the all-time highs of 1929, but here are some other vital considerations. The net result of certain of these basic factors is to create a shortage of good securities:

(1) Many investment channels, which formerly were attractive, have been narrowed or virtually closed under new legislative set-ups. A good example of this is the mortgage paper field. Only a few years ago conservative investors could always buy good mortgages to yield a 6 per cent return. The Home Loan first, and then the F. H. A. killed this class of investment. Utilities are another example—they are still unattractive to many investors because of political saber rattling.

(2) The Social Security program of the government, plus pension policies of individual companies, call for big reserve funds. These reserves must be invested. So far, government securities have been getting the call for this purpose. Sooner or later, however, the demand from this source will spill over into corporate securities.

(3) Bond investors are having a hard job to pick up good new issues. Many a company needing capital is selling its new securities directly to insurance companies. This practice provides a detour around some of the government's restrictions and requirements on capital offerings. Moreover, I believe that the direct sales of new securities to institutional investors will increase rather than diminish.

(4) Banks may also buy direct. A group of banks, hungry for a chance to make two or three per cent on their money, may together take up an entire issue of securities. This, of course, would further restrict the supply of desirable investments available to the public.

(5) This trend toward the private side of securities is now limited to bonds. However, the same thing could happen to new stock offerings. Fire insurance companies and investment trusts are big buyers of stocks. They are just as eager to get good stocks as life insurance companies are to get good bonds. The crowd on the capital market, if new stock offerings if they should also decide to short-circuit the S. E. C.

HUGE DEMAND FOR SECURITIES. Then there are also basic reasons why potential demand for securities is greater than ever before:

(1) Money available for investment is the most abundant in history. Banks, insurance companies, and individual investors have huge wads of cash ready for investment. Credit reserves are very large. He mentioned the fact that the subject matter is of the right type. And continues Mr. Lackey, "It seems to have a great deal of variety." He also said that he thinks it creates interest and promotes regressiveness.

WHAT WE HAVE TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

Nancy LaForce.

Again time has rolled around to another last Thursday in November, giving us our Thanksgiving Day. It is to be looked forward to not as a holiday only, but as a day to thank God for all our blessings. The American people should be thankful for a president, and not a king or a dictator. We have a free government, and are not ruled by the iron hand of some selfish man as are the peoples of Europe. We are not constantly overshadowed by wars or revolutions, and are not taxed beyond endurance. American children have public schools, and are allowed the benefits of higher, free education. Our President is wise, and his methods are good. So I think we have much to be thankful for.

AN EX-STUDENT SAYS.

A letter from Ruth Dozier who is now living in Austin and attending the University Junior High School tells us that she likes it there, but that she misses her friends and teachers very much. Mary Ruth says she has to be at school at 8:30, and classes begin at 9:00. Then instead of having assembly there is in each room a loud speaker through which the principal can say to them what he wants to, and stay in the office. Their assemblies are extra features. Some of the subjects that she has and which we do not have are Home Economics and Romance Language Arts. She sent her six-weeks grades, and they were high enough that we are proud of her.

6-B GOES OVER THE TOP.

A few weeks ago Mr. Lackey came over to Jr. H with some tickets to a group of concerts which are to appear in the high school at intervals, until April. He gave each room a number of tickets to sell. In 6-B no one seemed very enthusiastic until Mr. Freels gave us the old pep talk, and told us that the room which sold the most tickets was to get a prize.

It was almost the eleventh hour when all of a sudden, 6-B came alive and got on its working clothes. In the final count we led the other rooms with a ticket sale of twenty-two dollars.

We were very glad to win, and to receive the prize which was some ice cream sandwiches.

LAND MARKS

Mr. Pliska and His Blacksmith Shop. By Leon York.

Mr. Pliska's story goes, "My first shop was nothing like the one we have now. The original one was where the depot is. My work then was mostly on wagons and stage coaches. Then I had people coming the way from Old Mexico to the shop. You see there were only three blacksmith shops in this country. Mr. Slaughter had many wishes to go from ranch to ranch, and I did much work on them. Yes, I built the first airplane built in Texas. While demonstrating it, I crashed and got crippled. That was in 1912. My second shop was on Main Street. It was made of adobe. In 1917 I built the shop I now have. J. Everts Haley, son of Mrs. J. Haley, and who was a professor at the State University, came here ten years ago and got a lot of old riding irons, bridges, and bits, and with the original old door and its hinges that I had made, they are now in the university museum."

LACKEY SAYS.

By John Perkins.

In an interview with Superintendent W. W. Lackey on what he thinks about our Junior High page the paper, he said: "I think it is an excellent idea. The material is very well selected, your organization is good."
