King, Queen Visit in the Capital Today

President and Wife Greet Royal Couple At the White House

WASHINGTON, June 8. (P) — King George and Queen Elizabeth arrived in Washington at 11 a. m. today on the first visit ever made by reigning British monarchs to the United States.

With a bright sun beaming down, the royal couple walked from the train to the presidential reception room station where they were greeted by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and high government and military officials.

Secretary Hull, who accompanied their majesties from Niagara Falls, introduced them.

After a reception at the station, the king and queen were driven through streets lined with shouting crowds to the White House.

Vice-President Garner, wearing formal morning clothes, was among those greeting the royal visitors at the station.

An informal luncheon attended only by the king and queen, the president and Mrs. Roosevelt and members of the Roosevelt family was held at noon. A bit of slight seeing, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, a gala garden party at the British embassy, and a dinner at the White House complete the day's program for the royal visitors. ### Gulf 1 Holt Deepens One Foot to 5,158, Finds No Increase

By FRANK GARDNER

Deepening by one foot to 5,158 yesterday apparently brought no increase in pay in Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 O. B. Holt, discovery well in the deep horizon in northern Ector. Over a 24-hour period, the well swabbed 47 1/2 barrels of oil through casing. Before deepening, it swabbed 10 1/2 barrels of oil in three and one-half hours from 5,155-57, at a point 1,300 feet in the lime section and over 700 feet below the regular pay of the North Cowden pool, which lies a half-mile to the east. Location of No. 1 Holt is 440 feet out of the southeast corner of the west half of section 1, block A, public school land, of the Sun Oil Company No. 4-C Wright, North Cowden pool well, flowed 481.39 barrels of oil on 24-hour production gauge, bottomed at 4,197 feet. Oil tested 34 gravity, and gas-oil ratio was 349-1. The well topped pay at 4,050 and was shot with 460 quarts of nitro.

New location for the northeast edge of the Cummins area of the Goldsmith field in Ector is Eastland Oil Company No. 1 H. E. Cummins, 330 feet from the south and east lines of the north half of the southeast quarter of section 10, block A, public school land.

Six miles south and west of the Goldsmith field, Barnes, Conkling and White No. 1 E. R. Thomas estate had drilled to 4,160 feet in lime with no shows reported.

Sloan & Zook Company and Ferrandis Drilling Company No. 2 Johnson, south of the North Cowden and northwest of the Foster pool, is shut down at 3,715 feet in anhydrite awaiting 7-inch casing. It struck flowing salt water in sand at 3,700.

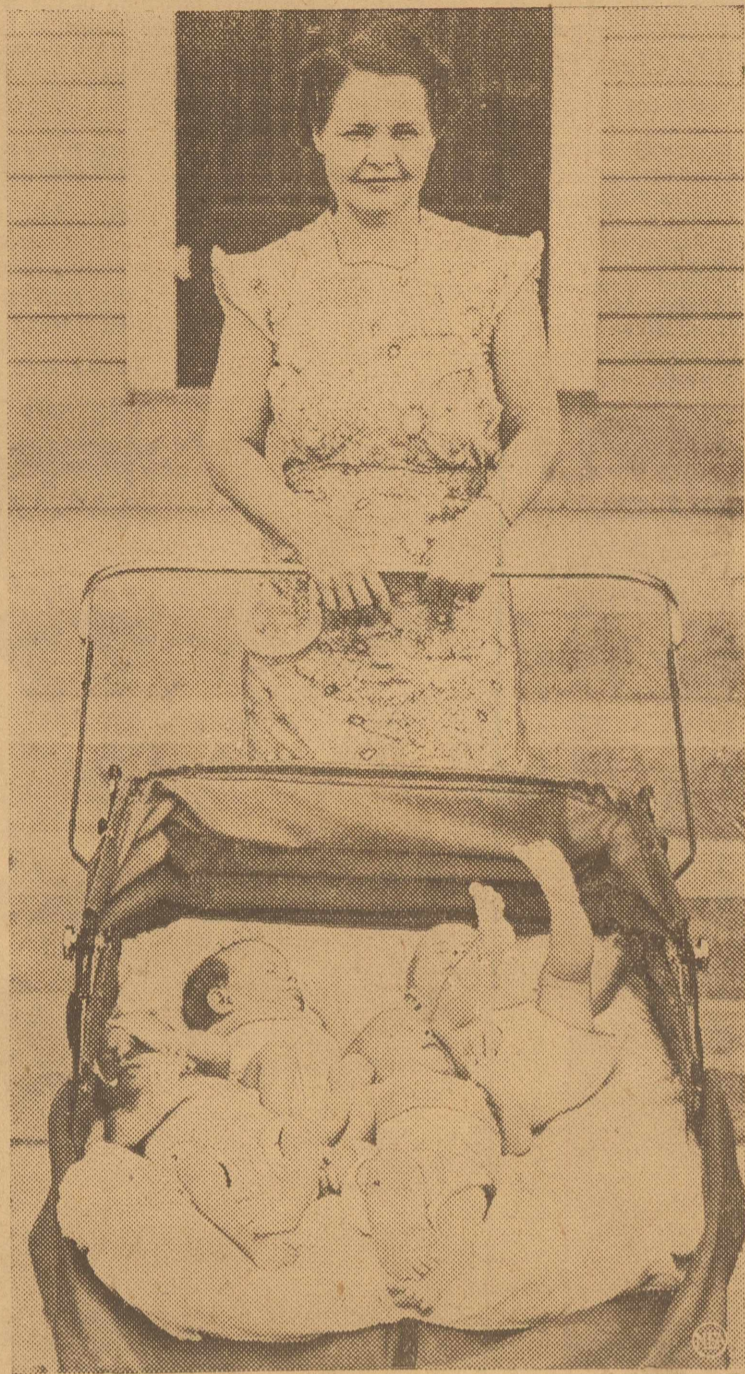

Arkansas Fuel Oil Company No. 3-B Johnson, Foster well, flowed 593.46 barrels in 24 hours following 570-quart nitro shot in pay from 4,100 to 4,224, total depth. Oil is 36.6-gravity and gas-oil ratio 645-1. Extending the pool a half-mile north, Lee Drilling Company No. 1 Johnson is cleaning out near bottom with 700 feet of oil in the hole. Oil cannot be swabbed below that level. The well is bottomed at 4,309 feet in lime and has been shot with 540 quarts.

An east-side Foster test, M. B. K. Drilling Company No. 2 Johnson, M. Gist is drilled below 710 in red rock. M. B. K. No. 1-D H. C. Foster had reached 1,660 in anhydrite and salt.

Hudson-Million to Core. William A. Hudson and Charles Million No. 3 J. D. Webb, Yoakum well, in section 54, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, this morning had stopped drilling at 5,120 feet in lime and was preparing to core the Bohago pay horizon. It is two miles northeast of the discovery producer in the one-well Bohago area.

J. W. Murchison and Walter Palmman, in the Denver pool, southern Yoakum, set initial potential of 571.32 barrels of 33.8-gravity oil per day and gas-oil ratio of 860-1. It topped pay at 4,841 and is bottomed at 5,100 feet, where it was treated with 7,000 gallons of acid. (See OIL NEWS, page 8)

The contest is limited to musicians 50 years of age or over and music must be of the "breakdown" variety.

Downpours Strike Rio Grande Valley, Crops Damaged

HARLINGEN, June 8. (P) — Rain fell in torrents over the central section of the lower Rio Grande Valley Wednesday, flooded streets and business houses in San Benito and here, and wetting the entire 62-mile strip from Brownsville to McAllen.

In a six-hour period starting about 6 a. m. water fell in sheets in Harlingen and nearby San Benito. The day's total fall here was seven inches, at San Benito 6.53.

Streets became lakes, water rolling over curbs into ground floors of downtown stores. Many roads were impassable.

Farmers speculated on possible damage to their maturing cotton crops. One observer said that if warm, dry weather follows at once the crop may be spared, otherwise it may be hurt. The valley crop, one of the earliest-maturing in the country, will be ready for picking in a few weeks.

Rainfall reported at other points: Brownsville, 3.20 inches; Raymondville 3.50; Donna, 1.30; Weslaco, .80, McAllen, .70.

The Harlingen Morning Star, its presses drowned out, prepared to print its morning editions on presses of its sister paper, The Herald, at Brownsville.

Valley streams were not appreciably up and residents counted on the valley's great flood-control system to take care of excess water.

The rain slackened off gradually from noon on, but skies were still murky late Wednesday afternoon.

Abilene to Remain in WTNM; Modified Split Season Adopted by Officials

Announcement was made by directors of the baseball club this afternoon of the resignation of Charles Wilson as business manager of the club. Playing manager Charlie Smith, who tendered his resignation Tuesday night, will be retained as manager, the directors said.

ABILENE, June 8. — Other members of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league want Abilene to remain a member through this season, and through future seasons. Furthermore, they feel that the people of West Texas consider Abilene a natural leader in the league territory, an important business and distributing center—and they do not see how Abilene can afford to be out of the league fold.

These expressions were made by directors here yesterday at a meeting of the league directors at Hotel Wooten.

Representatives of six of the seven clubs other than Abilene were present. Unanimously adopted was a resolution, as follows:

"We, the directors of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league, after careful deliberation, want to go on record as expressing our confidence in Fincher Withers, president of the Abilene club, and our confidence in the city of Abilene as a member of the league, and to express our sincere hope that Abilene will continue, not only through this year, but in the years to come, as a league member, and it is our belief that Abilene is a valuable unit in the league. This resolution is the expression of the directors individually, and collectively and is our pledge of our service and time to Abilene."

By motion of Claude Duffey of Midland and E. L. (Bob) Cook of Big Spring there was added to the resolution that "we believe the people of West Texas consider Abilene a natural leader as a business and distributing center and feel that Abilene cannot afford to be out of the league fold."

Next to these official expressions the directors' most important action, especially insofar as Abilene and Midland—the cellar teams—are concerned, was the voting of modification of the Shaughnessy play-off system to allow a split season.

The season will be split into its mathematical halves, which will occur after the games of June 26. The club that is leading at that

Talk on Electricity Made at Rotary by Utilities Manager

Proving by example that it requires energy to produce electricity, R. L. Miller, district manager of the Texas Electric Service Co., made a classification talk at the Rotary club today on "Selling Electricity to Our Customers."

The speaker, through a system whereby the peddling of a bicycle generated sufficient electricity to light four lamps varying from 25 to 100 watt capacity, showed how it is necessary for a steady pull to keep up the standards of service, whether it be in the electrical industry, the Rotary club or any organization.

By adding voltage to the plates of the tubes, greater service is made possible, he said, bringing the application to the work of individual members of any organization.

Mrs. Frank Miller played a piano solo, "Rustle of Spring," and Miss Georgia Goss gave a tap dance, with Mrs. Miller playing the piano accompaniment. Col. John Perkins was program chairman.

Visitors included Rotarians Willard Phillips of Abilene, P. W. Appleby and A. J. Hunt of Odessa and the Rev. C. R. Hooten of Sweetwater; Dr. Robert Jones and Mrs. F. J. Middleton of Midland, Mrs. Hume of Fort Worth. A short talk was made by Dr. W. E. Ryan who had just returned from the coast where he recuperated from a recent operation.

Lists of standing committees of the club, to take their places at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, were passed out, having been made by the new president, S. A. Debnam.

Ballinger Rancher Slain, Wife Gives Up to the Sheriff. BALLINGER, June 8. — Dess Herring, about 35, ranchman 11 miles northwest of here, was shot and killed at his ranch last night.

County Attorney Roy L. Hill filed charges of murder against Mrs. Herring after she had given a written statement. Bond of $2,000 was set, which was expected to be furnished immediately.

Mrs. Herring drove here with her children—three sons, and went to the home of her father, J. R. Holloway, and then found Sheriff C. R. Robinson, Hill said.

The statement said that Herring, who had been to Ballinger, came home, had an altercation with his wife, and went to sleep, Hill said. When he awakened, Mrs. Herring got a .38 caliber pistol and sat down beside him. He later awakened, got up off the bed and she fired a shot into his chest. That was about 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Herring ran from the house, the statement said, went to a gate a half mile away to see if her children were all right, returned to the house for the car and drove with the children to Ballinger.

Sheriff Robinson and other officials went to the ranch, but found Herring dead.

Mrs. Herring was granted a divorce in 119th District Court here in the fall term, but she and Herring had re-married several weeks ago.

Only 9 Votes Needed for Its Passage

Recommendation of Governor No Help On Final Vote Today

AUSTIN, June 8. (P) — The house today rejected for the fifth time the sales-natural resource constitutional amendment to finance social security.

The vote was 91 ayes to 55 noes. One hundred votes was necessary for adoption of the constitutional amendment, which had been recommended by Governor O'Daniel.

The senate had previously voted to submit the amendment to the people of the state.

Proponents of the resolution in the house showed gains from a fourth attempt. On the last test several weeks ago 85 votes were registered for the amendment.

Opinion differed on whether the proposition was dead, although a leader of the forces favoring it, Representative Thornton, Galveston, said it was.

Asked if proponents would bring the resolution up again, Thornton said flatly: "It's dead."

AUSTIN, June 8. (P) — Friends and foes of the sales-natural resource tax constitutional amendment espoused by Governor O'Daniel fought it out on the floor of the house today for the fifth time.

Representative Jack Langdon, Glen Rose, opened debate with a bitter attack on the governor.

"Texas needs straight talking and sound thinking without music and buffoonery," Langdon shouted.

The measure would impose a two per cent tax on retail sales of gas, light and telephone bills and boost natural resource imposts one-fourth.

A NIGHT LETTER

Since you are gone,
And I must walk this weary way
alone,
I write to you—
To let you know how sad the days
all seem;
How long the nights.

I miss you so, my dear,
Where are you now?
The flowers bloom, outside my door,
The mocking bird still sings.

I wait for you,
Some how, I know that you will come again.
The way is long,
Still somewhere out along the road we knew,
I'll find you dear.

I don't know what the restrictions are on reprinting clippings from the American Magazine, but our old contributor, Hired-Tired-Fired, has sent in the following quotations from that familiar C. B. Kelland character, "Seatergood":
ON TRUSTIN' FOLKS.
"I never see nobody," said said Seatergood, "that wasn't worthy of trustin' some of the time, nor nobody that was worthy of it all the time. But I calculate humanity strikes up an average better'n fifty percent. Yeah, seems as though a body gets along better by re-positin' confidence in everybody 'n gettin' disappointed once in awhile, than he does by suspectin' everybody 'n bein' wrong most of the time. And his vittles sets better."

What most any housewife would mortgage her earthly possessions for: A thousand and one recipes for cooling summer dishes fit to serve easily and to be eaten with zest on listless hot days.

Voile dresses have a pleated front skirt insert of crisp dotted swiss, with lace edging the insert. The same material is repeated in the yoke. Result is a cool-looking little frock to wear on innumerable occasions. We lost our heart to such a little dress in a printed voile with a background of lovely cornfield blue—one of those shades of blue with tones of lavender. We keep thinking of periwinkle blue as the descriptive term but we're notoriously vague about shades and tones of color. Whatever the correct name, it is a lovely shade of blue.

Maybe talking about fall shoe fashions will make us more comfortable by bringing a hint of cool days.

Recently returned from a shoe convention, one gentleman of the merchant's guild informs us that leading materials for fall shoes will be suedes, smooth leathers such as kid, and alligator.

As to the colors which the smartly-shod will be wearing when autumn breezes blow, he says black is leading, medium dark brown is second, and wine ranks third. Take your choice, ladies.

But we baffle you if you've spent all your shoe allowance on high heels and freaky styles.

This fall you will be shod in plain shoes that anyone can see at a glance are really shoes. The step-in type will be popular and there will be a decided trend toward lower heels.

This latter, we are informed, is the result of the World's Fairs, and the necessity for low heels when touring them.

And there's your bird's-eye forecast of shoes for next season.

Junior Woman's Wednesday club will sponsor a benefit dance in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer Saturday night from 9:30 o'clock until 1:30. The public is invited. Ray McNeill and his college-boy orchestra from Sul Ross college will play.

He left Austin, June 5.

Before the drawing division of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, Mr. Degler was to list the stumbling blocks before today's young engineers as: (1) lack of interest in drafting, (2) lack of proper instruction and advice concerning drafting, (3) over-estimation of his importance and value, (4) lack of patience.

Good Desserts Offer Nourishment As Well as Fluff for Sweet-tooth

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

The sweet tooth need not be slighted by the bride's budget. Desserts can be food, too. And they can be delicate, satisfying and colorful without costing very much.

At this time of year, fruits and berries are ready to help the bride with her sweets. Remember this—when your dessert contains milk and eggs, flour and some form of fat, you are actually putting food value into the menu, therefore you do not need so much protein and fat in the other dishes for the same meal.

Here are basic desserts for the small budget. Plain, perhaps, but certainly good.

Approximately $8 per week for The Bride's Budget Menus—two.

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, bacon or ham, raisin muffins, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Pineapple - mint cup, broiled beef steak, mashed potatoes, fresh asparagus, lettuce and green pepper salad, cottage pudding, strawberry sauce, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Toasted cheese sandwiches, fruit salad, sliced cottage pudding, frosted, tea, milk.

Turkey Eggs Biggest Crop of Farm Youth

DALLAS (AP).—Although harvest time for most Texas farmers still is weeks away, Neal Van Dalsem, Jr., of Coleman has cashed the crop that is paying for his new 248 acre farm.

The crop was turkey eggs. It enabled Van Dalsem to make the first payment in the United States among five thousand former tenant farmers who received loans from the Farm Security Administration this year to buy land.

Van Dalsem received the Farm Security Administration check with which to pay for his farm last February, and his first annual payment, amounting to $322.84, was not due until the last day of next December. But he has paid it in full out of turkey eggs.

It takes lots of turkey eggs to pay for a farm, but not as many as before the Farm Security Administration set up its plans, under the Bankhead Jones act, which allows farmers forty years with interest at three per cent.

Van Dalsem is one of 530 Texas and Oklahoma farmers selected by the Farm Security Administration this year as land purchasers. He had 72 turkey hens. One nest was provided for each seven hens.

The ration included laying mash made of wheat, oats, corn, meat scrap, alfalfa leaf meal, bone meal, and salt. This mash was kept before the birds at all times and feeding twice daily were given of corn, maize, and hegarl. Each afternoon the turkeys were herded over the pasture to graze and exercise.

Eggs were gathered twice daily and sold once a week through the Brady Turkey Egg Cooperation. The average hen laid fifty-two eggs, forty-four of which graded number one. The feed cost per egg was approximately 2 cents. The eggs brought thirteen and one-half cents each.

In addition to those sold, two hundred seventy-five have been set at home.

Besides his turkeys, Van Dalsem owns and looks after a flock of sheep, several head of cattle, hogs, and chickens, and is cultivating 88 acres of land, doing all the work himself with a tractor. He has 37 living lambs from 29 ewes, and his flock recently sheared eleven pounds of wool per head.

Along with all this activity on the farm, he recently was elected vice president of the Coleman County Dairy Herd Improvement association.

With his Farm Security Administration loan, Van Dalsem bought 248 acres of Coleman county land for $5,700. An additional $1,700 was added to the loan for construction of a dwelling, barn, sheep shed, implement shed, garage, poultry house, and smokehouse.

The Coleman county committee responsible for the six farmers to receive land purchase aid from Farm Security Administration found Van Dalsem had an unusual amount of equipment on hand and enough cash to more than pay the next year's operating expenses. Looking for a reason for such success, they found that Van Dalsem had been keeping records on all his operations since he began farming in 1927. The books were kept carefully, and at the end of each year the enterprises that did not pay were either improved or dropped.

Cow Pays Way Through College for Youth

DETON, Texas (AP).—Every morning the past winter, Fred "Fibber" Magee, took his pail from the kitchen and went to the barn behind his rooming house.

Magee was paying his way through school with the help of "Gardenia," the gentle-Jersey cow which had accompanied him to Denton from his home more than 100 miles away.

It worked like this. Magee fed Gardenia. Gardenia did more than feed Magee. Magee had raised Gardenia's feed back on the old home place. Cost to Magee for the first semester, $25. Gardenia turned her food into 2 1/2 gallons of milk every day and with that milk Magee made trade agreements with his neighbors. Agreement one: He furnished enough milk to his landlady to serve 23 boys for three meals a day. In return he received his room and board. Agreement two: a quart of milk to a neighbor paid the rent for Gardenia's suite in the neighbor's barn. In addition, the sale of a few extra quarts netted Magee an average of about $5 a month spending money.

Cost to Gardenia—zero, and a very neat system for both Magee and Gardenia.

Magee was following in the footsteps of his older brother, W. J. Magee, who had worked this thing out the year before, with another cow, when he was a student at the Teachers College.

This spring the younger Magee went off the barter system, got a job as a soda "skeeet" in a drug-store. Gardenia wasn't bringing in enough cash, he explained, so he sent her back to the farm. Smilingly, he explained that now he didn't have to get out of bed before daylight to milk Gardenia, didn't have to come home in the afternoon and get down the milk pail again. Fred is on the greenback living standard again.

Interest Springs Eternal in Hopes of Navigation Along the Trinity River

AUSTIN (AP).—Interest stirs in north and east Texas when Trinity River navigation is mentioned and hope springs eternal when possibilities are enumerated. But this is no new thing.

Always boastful of the bounties of Texas when new colonists were sought, the early settlers, nevertheless, were surprisingly generous with their private funds when river developments were concerned.

Stephen Austin had published in the United States and Europe in 1831 his description of Texas that "Texas rivers and harbors are abundantly sufficient for all purposes of commerce. . . It is susceptible to great internal improvements by rail, turnpike and canal."

Later he said: "Anubiah will no doubt become an important place as it will command the trade of the Trinity River." adding that "the rivers of Texas are the Sabine, Neches, Trinity, Brazos and Colorado, all navigable for a considerable distance into the interior."

Other rivers used prior to 1850 were the Colorado which had been navigated to Austin, the Guadalupe up as far as Victoria and the Rio Grande as far as Rio Grande City. Prior to the Civil War serious effort was maintained to make Texas rivers more useful. In 1839, President Lamar issued warrants, for $520 from collapsed treasuries, for the study of channel possibilities from the gulf. In 1852 a bill provided $250,000 for river improvement and by 1865 an additional $315,000 had been appropriated. Each locality was expected to put up one fourth of the expense for channel improvement.

Fifteen thousand dollars were spent to remove a bar from the mouth of the Trinity. Apparently little else was required at that time to make it navigable to points above Liberty and northward. On the Brazos $50,000 had been spent to open it as far as Washington. The Guadalupe and Aransas from Matagorda Bay had received $57,500. The Sabine was opened to Logansport, La., at a cost of $31,455 and the Guadalupe was opened to Victoria at a cost of $22,800.

The Trinity was readily navigable as far as Liberty and generally as far as Magnolia, and Rankin declared that "the river may be successfully navigated with but little difficulty from six to nine months in the year." Present day historians regard this as one of the exaggerations characteristic of the times.

No section of the United States, excepting the Rocky Mountains region, is so barren of navigable rivers as Texas. The variable in the amount of water carried by these long rivers has been a major obstacle, being too low in several months to insure heavy investments in shipping equipment. It is upon modern devices that supporters of river navigation in Texas are counting. In this respect they are more fortunate than the early settlers who did not even have steamships until shortly before the revolution and had no heavy dredging equipment.

Movies Bury Hatchet, Show Scribe as Gent

Hollywood has at last carried an olive branch to the press! After years of mauling the Fourth Estate and portraying newspapermen drunkards, stone-hearted gorillas and good-for-nothing rakes, the screen now presents a reporter who is everything a regular guy ought to be! He will be seen in the new comedy, "Cafe Society," opening Friday at the Yucca theatre, portrayed by Fred MacMurray, who now co-stars with Madeleine Carroll and Shirley Ross. Hollywood's turnaround is revealed by a comparison of MacMurray's part in "Cafe Society" with his earlier reporter roles. In his new picture with Madeleine Carroll he is a sober, hard-working, conscientious fellow with a serious outlook on life and human beings. It's a far cry from "Exclusive," which showed him as a tipsy reporter, and "The Gilded Lady," in which he played a scatter-brained member of the press!

The screen's maligning of newspaper figures has ranked only second to the newspapers' descriptions of the average motion picture producer! "Five Star Final," "The Front Page," "Gentlemen of the Press," "Nothing Sacred" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" are only a few examples of pictures that threw the dirt at reporters and their bosses.

MacMurray's portrayal of a reporter as a relatively normal person in "Cafe Society" marks the initiation of a new trend. MacMurray is not only a normal person but actually the hero of the piece, with New York's smart cabaret set coming in for most of the roasting.

The whippet, fastest dog in the world, is a cross between the greyhound and a terrier.

Education Instead of Training Emphasized

COLLEGE STATION, Texas. — Emphasis on education rather than on training will feature efforts of home demonstration workers in the future.

This is the theme of an article entitled "An Appraisal and a Prophecy," prepared for the national Extension Service Review by Mildred Horton, state home demonstration agent and vice director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

There is a vast distinction between training and education, Miss Horton points out. Education involves the effort to understand, to comprehend, to develop ideas, interests, and aspirations. Training is a means, education is an end in itself. Often training must precede education, she explained.

Through the entire article runs the realization that the Extension Service is concerned with helping farm people reach "equality of economic, social, and cultural opportunity."

Currently extension workers face two jobs: helping farm families make the best of what they have, and helping agriculture as a whole attain a more stable and more profitable basis.

The first job is the one the organization has been working on for more than 25 years. This involves bringing help and encouragement toward practices that will increase the income or improve the status of the family, such as frame gardens, trench siltos, canning, and bedroon improvement. Such practices show definite results and their progress can be measured.

The second job involves a higher agricultural income through a change in economic status. Many believe that agriculture cannot reach parity with other industries without a change in the basic economic situation. Agriculture, they say, suffers from the tariff, the freight rate structure, and the distribution system. A change in these fields can come only through an awakened public conscience. Any progress in this direction, on a national scope, will be slow and cannot be measured in any definite way.

Real Barbecue Is Planned for Editors

LUBBOCK.—A real West Texas barbecue with all the trimmings will be given at noon Friday, June 9, to editors attending the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association in Lubbock June 8, 9, and 10. Two fine whiteface steers will be barbecued for the newspaper men. One was donated by President Clifford B. Jones of Tech from his Rafter J ranch near Spur and the other was given by Jay Slaughter from his herd on the U Lazy S ranch near Post.

"Wifely Privilege" Wins, Pocket Searching Upheld

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP).—Mrs. Evelyn Richardson of Fitchburg was granted $10 weekly support for herself and two daughters after testifying in probate court that her husband, Forrest, struck her because she "exercised the wifely privilege" of searching his trousers pockets.

After striking her, she said, he warned her not to rifle his pockets again. She said she got only $2 from the pockets, and used that to buy food.

Army Barracks In Sydney Like Country Club

SYDNEY, N. S. W. (UP).—Barracks which soldiers everywhere will envy have been built for the permanent artillery garrison at North Head, the key point in the defense of Sydney.

More like a country club than the uncomfortable barracks of former days are the white brick buildings with spacious verandas provided, at the cost of $750,000, to house the garrison of North Head. From the many windows the soldiers may look upon the broad expanse of the Tasman Sea on one side, and from the other have the best possible view of Sydney's famous harbor.

The gunners have 46 dormitories, all with natural lighting and hot and cold water. Each gunner has his own stained and polished chest of drawers and his personal arms rack.

There are six buildings altogether; headquarters blocks, officers' mess, sergeants' mess, gymnasium, canteens and commanding officer's residence.

Living quarters are provided for 11 single officers, 16 sergeants and 286 other ranks. The gymnasium has indoor tennis court, two squash courts and a boxing ring.

Fir cones stand erect on the twigs; the cones of pines and spruces hang down.

COWBOYS GET EVEN WITH OILERS; W UP SERIES TONIGHT

Brown Hurls Way to First Win for Team

The Midland Cowboys broke another losing streak last night by hanging up a 7-6 victory over the Pampa Oilers.

Bill Brown, veteran righthander, held the visitors to six hits and with better luck would have given them only three runs. Three errors by second baseman Saparito for the second consecutive night caused Brown more than a little bit of trouble.

Gordon Nell, league's leading home run hitter, got hold of a fast ball with one mate aboard last night and hit it out of the park for the first two Pampa runs. Four more came a couple of innings later.

Coincident with the win by the team came announcements from officials of the club of the release of pitcher Dixie Swartz and outfielder Bob Mort and the resignation of Manager Charlie Smith. Smith turned in his resignation to the club directors after failing to get the club out of the cellar position in his short stay. Directors accepted his resignation with regret, asked him to remain until they could find another manager. Smith consented to do this.

Last night's win evened the series between the Cowboys and the Oilers at one each, with the odd game coming up tonight. Following tonight's game, the two teams will leave immediately for Pampa where they will play three games in as many days. The Cowboys then return home for three games against the Clovis team.

The Cowboys really won last night's game in the first inning although more runs were needed later to assure the victory. After Brown had retired the Oilers in order in the first half of the initial frame, Saparito started off the Midland attack by drawing a walk. Petzold then doubled, the ball rolling under the fence in left field. Guynes lined out to the pitcher, Smith grounded out second to first Saparito scoring. Everson walked.

Wooten came through with a hard single to right to send Petzold home and Everson scored when P. O. K. singled. Allday, new Cowboy catcher procured yesterday from Lamesa, struck out to retire the side.

The Oilers managed to get a couple on base in the second but a fast double play, Smith to Saparito to Wooten wiped out any scoring threat.

Brown got into trouble in the fourth by walking Reeves, first man up. He was forced at second by Seltz and then Nell got his four-ply blow. Pietras followed up with a double after the second man had been retired but Brown made Bailey ground weakly to Wooten at first to end the scoring.

The Cowboys bounced back with four runs in their half of the inning to sew up the game for "Windmill." Allday started it off with a single and was moved up a notch on Brown's sacrifice hit. Saparito walked and Petzold came through with another hit, sending Allday home. That was enough for pitcher Tiry and Verregia took over on the mound for Pampa.

Eddie Guynes, making his initial appearance at short, greeted the new hurler with a single through the box that scored Saparito and sent Petzold to third. Petzold scored and Guynes took second a moment later when Verregia balked. Guynes then headed for third base and when Pietras muffed the throw from Verregia raced home for the fourth run of the frame.

The Oilers got four runs in the sixth to come within one run of tying up the score on four hits, a couple of errors. However, Brown got better as he went along and only one more Oiler reached first base. Swift got a life on Saparito's error in the seventh but a double play, Brown to Guynes to Wooten, wiped him out.

The Cowboys got a couple of hits in the seventh but could not push a man all the way around. Nell was top slugger of the night with his homer and a single but Petzold had a double and single and Saparito, Guynes, Wooten and Volk each had two safeties.

11 Amateur Fights Lined Up On Friday Night Fight Card

Promoter Bob Royall today announced 11 amateur fights had been lined up for tomorrow night at the Midland Athletic club.

Winners of the fights in each weight division will be given an all-expense trip to the state tournament at Slaton on June 23-24.

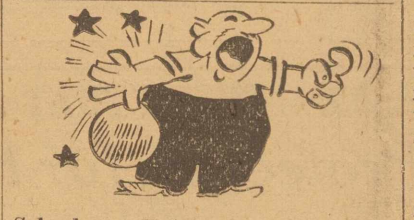

Boys ranging in weight from 90 pounds up to 200 will take part in tomorrow night's show. The feature fight will probably be between Walt Stone, Big Spring Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, and George Watford of Midland.

A match for Earl Pace is being sought in order to keep the up and coming young welterweight in shape. Pace, fighting as he did last week, would have proven a match for almost any amateur in the state at his weight.

Six of the young Mexican battlers will be on hand for exhibits tomorrow night.

All fighters interested in trying to make the team should see Bob Royall or Benny Wilson any time during the day.

Tomorrow night's program: Little Smokey Woods vs. Sanne

Longest Horse Race In History Sated

MINERAL WELLS, June 8.—The longest horse race in history, an endurance contest for horse and rider, will be the interesting feature of the Stage Coach Caravan which leaves Mineral Wells on July 15, headed for the New York World's Fair. Applications are already being received at the caravan headquarters in Mineral Wells from riders who are anxious to make the trip. L. A. Parton, manager of the caravan, states that he expects to have 100 riders to start the race on the morning the stage coach caravan leaves this city.

Rules of the Scout Race limit the rider to one horse, and the race will start each day in the city where the caravan has bedded down for the night. A cash prize of $1,000 will be paid the winner on his arrival at the World's Fair in New York, Parton stated.

It is expected to take 50 days to make the trip with the stage coach caravan over the distance of 2,000 miles. Each night the caravan will "bed-down" in frontier style and stop on a free show with the 16-piece orchestra and show troupe that will make the trip. The scout race will begin in Mineral Wells and on the first day will end in Jacksboro, 33 miles north, where the winner for that day will be greeted and received by city officials. Each morning the race will begin anew and a complete score card kept with the grand winner of the $1,000 prize announced at the end of the race in New York.

More than two hundred inquiries have been received at the caravan headquarters and stage coaches, covered wagons, musicians, handicraft experts, cowboys, school teachers and blacksmiths have been among those inquiring about the trip. Parton states that it has become necessary to stop soliciting entries for the caravan, however, more scout riders can be used. Riders will be allowed only one horse and will not need a truck, trailer or any helpers on the trip. The riders' personal belongings will follow them in the stage coach caravan.

The stage coaches will carry the mail, probably the last stage coach mail run in history, and with the aid of the scout riders will attempt to reach the world's fair on schedule time. Special covers for stamp collectors have been prepared.

Jap Plane Fired on By British Cruiser

TOKYO, June 8. (AP)—A foreign warship, "apparently a British cruiser," fired on a Japanese airplane east of Hongkong, the Japanese news agency, Domei, reported Wednesday.

The pilot said the plane escaped damage although ten shots were fired and several shells exploded within 100 yards of his plane. The Domei dispatch was dated from Talhoku, Formosa, where the airplane departed at 8:15 a. m. bound for Tokyo by way of Swatow.

While "far outside British waters" and cruising at 5,000 feet altitude, the pilot was quoted as saying, a warship carrying a British flag and similar insignia painted on her sides, suddenly swung her anti-aircraft guns into action.

After the first shot the pilot began climbing and zigzagging. He returned at once to Talhoku. While some Chinese gunboats are known to be equipped with anti-aircraft guns, Japanese naval sources said none had been sighted in south China waters for many months.
