TODAY: 25 Years After, Europe's Dictators Hold Balance of Peace or War: Hitler, Mussolini

July is the "crisis month" in which the history of Europe for the past 25 years has so largely been written. July, 1939, finds the world again poised on the brink of world war, just as it was 25 years ago, except that deadlier preparations have been made. The Polish-German situation, the Japanese-British situation are at a tension during July of 1939, fatefully reminding of the desperate July of 25 years ago when Europe slipped and slithered, faster and faster, down the road to war.

JULY, 1914—Following the assassination of the Austrian Archduke Ferdinand on June 28, the whole month of July was a "crisis month," with statesmen desperately trying to avert by diplomatic means the catastrophe which their former policies had made inevitable. As July ended, the declarations of war began, and by Aug.

4 the British had joined France, and the four-year slaughter was on.

JULY, 1919—The long war over, July saw the world eagerly discussing the peace terms signed on that same anniversary of June 28. Disarmament and the hope of a peaceful world were in men's minds in this July of 20 years ago.

JULY, 1928—The Kellogg-Briand pact to outlaw war was in the making, and in August was submitted to 62 nations, still hopeful that another world war might be averted.

JULY, 1934—The Russian Soviet government rocked with the violent "purge" of alleged anti-Stalin elements.

JULY, 1931—The Hoover debt moratorium was still another effort to make workable the terms of the peace of the World War by easing pressure on the struggling German republic.

JULY, 1932—The disposal of the "Bonus Army" in Washington mirrored the discontent of veterans of the war concluded 14 years before.

JULY, 1932—War began in the Chaco of South America.

JULY, 1933—Anti-Jewish atrocities begin in Germany.

JULY, 1934—Prime Minister Baldwin declares that Britain's frontier is at the Rhine, marking the beginnings of the world's realignment on the 1914 crisis.

JULY, 1934—Chancellor Dollfuss murdered by Austrian Nazis, foreshadowing the fall of Austria and the reassertion of German power in the European field.

JULY, 1936—League of Nations lifts sanctions imposed on Italy incident to the conquest of Abyssinia. Decline of the League as a force in world affairs marked.

JULY, 1936—Spanish Nationalist revolt spreads to Spain, marking the rise of the "Fascist International."

JULY, 1937—Japanese large-scale invasion of China with bombing of key cities and the taking of Peiping, "city of peace," begins, marking rise of the "new Japan."

JULY, 1938—British fight Arabs in Palestine in clashes over World War mandate involving Jewish homeland. At the end of the month, Japanese-Russian clashes were reported on the Siberian border.

Thus scarcely a July since the fateful one of 1914 has passed without its share of crises, and July, 1939, is regarded by the world as perhaps more critical than any.

British and French Avow To Aid Poland

Danzig Question Is Not Settled After New Speech Saturday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Britain and France reaffirmed Saturday their determination to fight for Poland in the event of aggression but, unanswered was the question of whether a Nazi putsch within Danzig would lead to war.

A British spokesman said any Hitler-arranged "apparently spontaneous" movement in Danzig would "at once create a most dangerous situation," but avoided saying such a situation would start a war.

France meanwhile told the German ambassador the French were ready to back Poland if the latter were attacked.

In Berlin, high quarters said Danzig probably would return to Germany through declaration of citizens on the basis of "self-determination," but gave no hint when it might occur.

WPA and PWA Are Combined Under 1 Head

Both Agencies Will Be Operated by the Same Organization

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP).—The WPA and PWA, administration agencies to distribute relief and create employment, came under one head today for the first time.

Both agencies, however, will continue their current programs, John Carmody, administrator of both under federal reorganization, announced, continuing with the present personnel.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, meanwhile, became one of the biggest "spenders-lenders" of the government under new program. Authorities estimated he would have between two and two and a half billion dollars to spend and lend in the 1940 fiscal year on a program designed to help agriculture gain parity with other groups.

Richmond, Hannigan Wildcat in Andrews to Be Deepened to 5500

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Plans to carry Richmond Drilling Company and William F. Hanagan No. 1 University, southwestern Andrews wildcat, to 5,500 feet for test of possible deep pay horizons upon completion of original 5,000-foot contract were announced here yesterday by William F. Hanagan, pioneer Permian Basin operator. Negotiations now are being made with major companies supporting the test for additional contributions.

Although high structurally, No. 1 University has found the upper Permian lime uniformly dense and barren. Cores at intervals from 4,380 to 4,781 feet returned hard, tight lime. Yesterday, the well was drilling at 4,873 feet in lime. It is located 690 feet out of the southwest corner of section 25, block 12, University survey. Should the Richmond and Hanagan test find production in the lower zones, it will launch a drilling campaign of major proportions in the area as a number of University leases which must be held by production expire in 1940.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Letta Jones, extending the Fuhrman pool of southern Andrews a half-mile west, yesterday was swabbing and flowing by heads after treating with 5,000 gallons at 4,465 feet in lime. First acid job had been with 2,000 gallons. The well encountered porous, oil-saturated lime from 4,365-50 and from 4,405-25. Location is 2,310 feet from the north and west lines of section 11, block A-42, public school land. Barnes Test To Plug.

Arrangements to deepen for test of the Gulf-Holt and Tubbs horizons having failed to materialize, operators yesterday were preparing to plug and abandon Barnes, Conkling and White No. 1 E. R. Thomas estate, western Ector wildcat. It had been shut down for the past 10 days at 4,752 feet in lime, two feet past contract depth. Like the Richmond-Hanagan No. 1 University, No. 1 Thomas encountered all markers high structurally but found tight lime section in expected pay horizons and later encountered water. It is possible that operators will leave hole in such condition that the well may later be drilled deeper to the zone. 1,300 feet in the lime recently found productive in Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 O. B. Holt, 217-barrel discovery on the northwest edge of the North Cowden pool in northern Ector. No. 1 Thomas is in the southeast corner of the northwest quarter of section 28, block 45, township 1 south, T. & P. survey.

Extending Ector's Johnson area a mile and a half northwest and pointing to its eventual linking with the North Cowden pool three miles farther north, Sloan & Zook Company and Ferndale Drilling Company No. 1 J. L. Johnson is drilling unchanged at 4,266 feet in lime, carrying 1,100 feet of oil in the hole and making seven gallons of salt water hourly from above the pay horizon. Sand showing oil staining and possible gas was encountered from 4,256-66, apparently occurring at the base of the Pos- (See OIL NEWS, page 2)

"No Surrender" Is Announced Position To Rebel Senators

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt was reported today to have taken a "no surrender" position in his twin battles with a rebellious congress over monetary and neutrality legislation.

Friends said apparently the chief executive had no thought of compromising on either issue.

His last public word on the monetary question was insistence his powers be continued.

Secretary of State Hull today reasserted the administration's demand for neutrality legislation knocking out the mandatory embargo, which the house turned down last night.

Neutrality legislation opponents said the issue was "dead" for this session, however.

PRESIDENT LOSES TO GOP ALLIANCE.

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP).—A senate republican filibuster swept away President Roosevelt's dollar devaluation powers early today but democratic leaders obtained an agreement for a showdown vote Wednesday on restoring them.

In the house at another late-hour session the rebellious block of republicans and democrats passed a neutrality bill distasteful to the administration.

Administration forces predicted ultimate victory on the devaluation question but were doubtful the repeal of arms embargo, asked by the president, could be passed this session in view of the 200-181 house vote to continue a modified ban on arms shipments.

Adjustment by mid-July was widely predicted.

HULL DEMANDS EMBARGO REPEAL.

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP).—A new demand for repeal of the mandatory arms embargo on arms shipments in interest of world peace was secretary Hull's reply today to action in the house tearing apart the administration's neutrality bill.

Failure to repeat the proposal, the secretary said in a statement, was a "matter of regret and disappointment from the standpoint of peace and the best interests of the United States in its international relations."

Referring to European tension Hull said he "must continue to urge the embargo repeal he submitted to chairmen of the senate and house foreign committees on May 27."

Midland Losing While Citizens Delay Contributions to New Institutions

Despite the fact that Midland citizens seemed to agree that the Day Nursery and Girls' Recreational Center, recently announced by sponsors, are badly needed here, contributions to the fund for such purposes are coming in slowly.

Before any funds were solicited, according to women of the federated clubs fostering the projects, many expressed desire to help in cost of the buildings, but now that the time has come to start construction, few have followed up their offers.

One person, without giving name or address, mailed a dollar bill to Box 1828. Perhaps that gift meant a great sacrifice on the part of the donor. Perhaps some woman who has had to struggle for years to rear her children might have wanted to help some woman in similar circumstances have a safer place for her children to stay while she worked.

To those who have steady employment, a dollar is negligible, while to others it is a sizeable sum. To some women who must support their families, it is a whole day's pay, with no assurance that there will be work tomorrow.

To those who are forgetful, or too busy to mail contributions to the Day Nursery and Girls' Recreational Center fund, it is pointed out that procrastination is a thief of more than time, because to get government aid for the projects in time to have the buildings in use next winter, the money must be put up soon.

Many children too young to attend school, whose mothers must go out and work during the day, have no heat. Their mothers fear to leave small children in homes where fires are burning. Now that warm weather prevails, it is easy to lose sight of the severe weather to be expected in winter, but those citizens face cold without heat unless Midland persons who are financially able will appropriate funds to provide the Day Nursery and Girls' Recreational Center.

After 600 letters were mailed to explain the projects, first reports showed that only four answers had come, one check for $5, two for $10 and one for $100. One man went to a local bank and deposited $25 to the fund. Both banks have accounts for the funds.

It will take very little time to mail in a check or take it to the bank. Take time off tomorrow and do your part in these important projects. Do it in the name of those small children who may go hungry and cold without such assistance.

A Bounce for Two Common Fallacies

Now that every man is his own economist, and even the dumbest of us never hesitates a minute to work out his own particular remedy for our economic ills, it might be just as well to note two very common fallacies which were badly bounced around recently.

One: that wage-earners are gradually getting a smaller and smaller share of the national income as great fortunes pile up.

Two: that advertising so greatly increases the cost of goods that things would be cheaper if they were not advertised.

A great many people assume the truth of one or the other of these hypotheses without worrying much about whether they are true or not. But both questions have been carefully studied recently, and the results of the studies are interesting.

First, Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins had a thorough study made of where the national income went in 1938. And this was the conclusion: that the wage-earners' share was the greatest of any year since any calculation began to be made of the national income.

Dividends, that is, the reward of invested capital, fell off one-third from 1937. Wages paid to employees in 1938 fell off 7 per cent from 1937, due more to reduced employment than to reductions in pay. But the share of the wage-earner reached a new all-time high of 67.3 per cent. In short, the entire national income was down 18 billions from the 1929 peak, though it has been raised 60 per cent from the depression low. But of that reduced income, the wage-earner got a bigger share than ever before.

Second, the Twentieth Century Fund, which has been studying distribution is far less than many have supposed. The cost actually is from a small fraction of 1 per cent to a maximum of about 18 per cent. On many widely-advertised products it was infinitesimal, and the average for all goods was set at less than 3 per cent of the cost of the final purchaser. The cost, for instance, in cigarettes selling at 14 cents was just over a half cent a package. A widely advertised soft drink put less than 16/100ths of a cent's worth of advertising into each five-cent glass. A standard breakfast food paid 3/10ths of a cent for a 15-cent package.

Obviously, when the wider distribution, with consequent lower production costs is balanced against such small percentage expenditures as these, a good argument could be made that advertising had actually reduced the cost to the final consumer.

That's one handicap of us amateur economists. We so often start off from the wrong information that it's no wonder if we sometimes wind up behind some eight-ball on the pool table of economic theory.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Silver is an odd metal, and some of the facts connected with it are pretty odd, too. For one thing, Uncle Sam now has on hand, in various vaults, strongboxes and what not, rather more than 85,000 tons of the metal.

For another, silver has three faces—the world market price, the price Uncle Sam pays for newly-mined domestic silver at the mint, and the price silver is legally worth. When he buys foreign silver, Uncle Sam pays around 38 cents an ounce for it. When he buys newly-mined domestic silver, he pays 66 cents—will pay 77, if the amendment just voted by the Senate gets by the House. And, legally, silver is worth $1.29 an ounce. 16-1 RATIO IS OUT NOW Originally, the country was on a bi-metallic basis, with a ratio of 16 to 1 between silver and gold. So, the official legal price of $1.29 (and a fraction) per ounce is a sixteenth of the pre-devaluation gold price of $20.67 an ounce.

Now, however, gold is worth $35 an ounce; legally, the administration could, tomorrow if it chose, revalue silver to restore the 16 to 1 ratio — which, since the 2,744,000,000 ounces of silver it already would mean a tidy bit of inflation, owns are worth $3,548,000,000.

The silver-buying program began in 1934. At that time the government had somewhat less than 700,000,000 ounces of silver in its possession. Since then it has bought silver as follows:

Newly-mined domestic silver: 289,000,000 ounces, costing $795,946,000.

Silver "turned in" under the nationalization program: 113,000,000 ounces, costing $56,500,000.

Foreign silver: 1,670,000,000 ounces, costing $880,000,000.

Some of this silver is on tap in the big storage vault at West Point. A lot of it is in the Federal Reserve vaults, some of it is held in the New York assay office, and the balance is held in the mints at Philadelphia, Denver, and San Francisco.

METAL COULD BE INFLATED

Uncle Sam isn't doing anything special with this vast hoard of silver, but he could do plenty with it, if he chose. He could treat himself to quite a lot of inflation with it.

First of all, there's the matter of revaluing silver as gold was revalued. If this were done, and notes were issued to the full monetary value of the metal, approximately $4,280,000,000 of additional currency would go into circulation.

Short of revaluation, a good bit of new money could still be issued. So far, silver certificates worth $1,162,000,000 have been issued against the government's store of silver. An additional billion and a half could be issued before revaluation, if desired.

All of which simply calls attention to the tremendous inflationary powers which the government possesses, but is not using.

In addition to the four-billion-odd which would be raised by devaluing silver, the government has the authority to issue three billions in greenbacks. Most important of all, though, there is the huge gold supply—16 billion dollars worth, by the latest reckoning. Federal Reserve notes to the extent of $32,500,000,000 could be issued against this gold if the administration decided to do so.

Secretary Morgenthau is a sound-money man, and probably won't use any of these powers. But he could do plenty if he felt like it.

Seeking Ordovician production in northern Pecos county, Magnolia No. 2 Abel-Eaton had drilled to 4,115 feet in gray lime. Flour Bags Clothe Chinese

Hospital Head Requests Beer for His Patients

DURBAN, North Australia (U.P.)—Nurses may become "barmaids" in the King Edward VIII hospital for natives here, if the recommendations of Dr. R. E. Stevenson, the medical superintendent, are accepted.

He has asked the Durban City Council to buy kaffir beer for patients suffering from diseases due to deficiency in diet, for he declares that this native beverage contains valuable vitamins.

A sympathetic native administration committee has recommended to the council that five gallons of the beer be supplied to the hospital daily.

Schoolhouse Only Marker Of Ghost Mining Town

EUREKA, Utah (U.P.)—Not a saloon nor a pool hall, but a school house is the lone remnant today of Knightsville, Utah, ghost mining town of the old West.

Stipulations made by Jesse Knight, discoverer of the $10,000,000 Godiva claim and founder of either a pool hall or a saloon. Instead, he built a school, although the town of 500 persons lacked the needed students to meet state school grant standards. Undaunted, Knight went to Diamond, Utah, where he hired the father of 12 children. They swelled the school's enrollment to quota standards.

Mrs. Thomas Leaves on Cruise To South American Conference

Bound for a two months cruise with Rio de Janeiro as her destination, Mrs. Alma Thomas, principal of the north elementary school, left Saturday morning for New York City. She was joined at Big Spring by Miss Agnes Currie with whom she took a trip to Europe last summer, and will be joined at Saint Louis by Miss Vada Crowley, former high school economics teacher here.

The three women will attend the International Educational Association conference, originally scheduled at Rio de Janeiro but later transferred to shipboard because of political situations. They will sail from New York on the S. S. Rotterdam July 6.

Mrs. Thomas returned late last week from Camp Waldemar, at Kerrville, where she holds an executive position during summer months.

Midland Couple Are Married in Arkansas On June 3, Announced

Miss Elizabeth Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Earle Payne, and Fred Wright, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Wright, were married June 3 in Fayetteville, Arkansas, by Rev. R. J. Flaherty, it was learned here Saturday.

The bride is a graduate of Midland high school and also a graduate of the University of Arkansas. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of California and is now employed as Petroleum Engineer with the Magnolia Petroleum Company at Ellinwood, Kansas, where the couple will make their home.

We, The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

The man who says loudly that woman's place is in the home fails to see that home has become too small for the average woman.

The house itself is small compared with the big-porch, rambling house grandmother presided over. Not only that but as Dr. P. K. Whelpton of the Census Bureau's Division of Population, pointed out the other day—the average white woman today has only 2 1/2 children, or one third as large a family as the average woman in 1800.

And he prophesies that the number of children per family will continue to decline to a possible average of 1.5.

With a big house to run and seven children to wash, feed, and make clothes for, the nineteenth century woman had her hand full. She didn't need to get outside the home.

But her twentieth century descendant can't possibly make a small house or apartment and two children a big enough job to fill her life.

A lot of women fool themselves when they think they are fooling other people.

Sunday Is the Day Hollywood Wears It's Own Clothes, Not the Studios'

By LUCIE NEVILLE, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

For her out-of-doors suppers, Binnie Barnes wears a cool frock of thin, smooth silk. Small flowers are widely spaced on a white background and there is no trimming to detract from the graceful lines. The yards-wide fan-pleated skirt is trimly gathered into a slim, long waistline and the draped bodice has simple, loose sleeves. Note an old-fashioned fashion that's new—the parasol.

HOLLYWOOD—Sunday isn't a day of rest in Hollywood; it's a day of exercise, the only time when movie people have time to enjoy their pools and tennis courts. And since there isn't any such thing as a Saturday afternoon off, Sunday is the big day for entertaining.

People here dress formally more for the fun of drifting around in picture hats than anything else. The usual Sunday parties are out-of-doors affairs, winding up with buffet suppers or patio-picnics, and you wear what you please.

The greatest influence these formal clothes have had shows in skirts, which have come down to grass level. Perhaps it's because women find the short peasant skirts aren't as cute as they wish they would look.

Silks in colorful prints, all sorts of linens, and gingham in every size check are used for these patio-frocks, as they call them. And, instead of trimmings, fresh flowers—a necklace of real daisies, or a lei of gardenias—often are worn with these simple dresses.

Everybody is pretty tired of the Mexican motif, with its cacti-and-oleander-donkey patterns. There is some indication that Chinese styles will come in later; they're already wearing the straight, up-and-down trousers that reach well above the ankle bone. But just now Tahiti is the favorite. The tropical flowers in violent colors look well on tanned skins, and California flowers are cheap and fragrant and wild in color.

AT Gale Page's bon voyage party for Lola Lane, sailing for Honolulu, both hostess and honoree went Tahitian. Miss Page's long-skirted frock was a gray and blue Hawaiian print. Miss Lane wore a red and white patterned blouse with full cut trousers of white tropical cloth; red carnations in her dark hair and a lei of the same flowers matched the blouse.

Joan Crawford's Sunday entertaining is usually a buffet supper, followed by a movie in her own small theatre. Tired of glamorous clothes all week, she likes tailored ones for her own parties. A favorite this summer is a long-skirted frock of blue chiffon, its blouse as tailored as a shirtwaist, and its full bishop sleeves fastened close at the wrist.

Anna Neagle, British star of "Nurse Edith Cavell," wears a garden frock from her own wardrobe—a cotton striped like peppermint candy in white and two shades of pink. Tiny pearl buttons trim the triangles of the white piping collar. A cartwheel hat of fine white straw, with a creased crown, is banded in black velvet ribbon.

WITH FLOWERS IN HER HAIR

her matching socks and Ascot scarves, all dotted in white but in half a dozen colors.

Mary Beth Hughes, another guest took along a pinafore bathing suit of pastel plaid, lined in white wool jersey, with a knee-length wool jersey coat quilted and tufted in black wool. Jane Bryan's one-piece navy lawn suit was brief, but she took no chances on sunburning, with cellophane slacks and beerjacket to wear after the swim.

SWEEPERS AND SLACKS GO TO TENNIS

Memories of Iowa days prompted the Lane sisters, Pat and Rosemary, to have a Sunday picnic at Crater Lake, as a joint celebration of the mother's and Pat's birthdays. Mrs. Lane, who says "the girls talked me into buying a pair of slacks just once," wore a navy blue sheet cotton dress, but both Pat and Rosemary wore fuzzy sweaters and white flannel slacks suits, taking along shorts for a change.

Nearly everybody does that, especially at the tennis and badminton parties. Wendy Barrie, one of the best players in town, like regular men's trousers of white flannel with a handkerchief linen shirt for tennis. Afterward she changes to white shirtmaker frocks with an accordion pleated skirt.

Sometimes they just add a skirt and bolero. If the game hasn't been too hot. Anne Shirley's above-the-knee coat of navy blue desert cloth is made with short, puffed sleeves and buttons to the waist, covering the blue and white checked gingham bra, but Virginia Fields has several little quilted boleros, to slip on over her white tennis frocks.

Fruits Won't Discolor

Fruits for salad or dessert can be prepared in advance of serving without danger of discoloration if sprinkled generously with lemon juice. The lemon juice accents flavor, too.

More Farmers Found Reading Daily Papers

WASHINGTON (UP)—Seven out of every 10 farmers read a daily newspaper, according to a personal interview survey of 32,000 farmers in 35 states.

No comparable statistics are available for city workers, but the survey indicated that farmers are as "well read" as their city cousins. The percentage of farmers reading daily newspapers has increased steadily.

More than half of the farmers subscribed to a weekly paper. Many of these also take a daily paper. The radio was shown to be an important source of news and entertainment for farm families.

Ten years ago there were only two states in which nine out of 10 farmers took a daily newspaper. Now, the survey showed, there are 10 such states: They are Washington, Oregon, California, Indiana, Ohio, Connecticut, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Illinois.

Fireworks Precautions Urged By Fire Chief at Holiday Time

Exhortation to boys and girls, as well as their parents, to use all possible precautions with fireworks during the Independence Day holiday season was issued Saturday by Fire Chief J. L. Tidwell. He pointed out that with the many methods of enjoying the holidays, such as motor trips, picnics, swimming parties, family reunions, athletic contests, dancing and "fire works displays under supervision," there should be little need for disturbing the peace by promiscuous shooting of firecrackers.

- 1. Clear your premises of all rubbish and papers.
- 2. Keep out in the open, away from buildings, when discharging fireworks.
- 3. Keep matches out of the reach of young children. Don't let them play with matches.
- 4. Warn children not to throw sparklers. They remain hot for some time and are very dangerous.
- 5. Be sure an adult supervises children who are discharging fireworks.
- 6. Caution children not to stand too close as fireworks are discharged.
- 7. Warn children not to pick up fireworks that fall to go off. They might explode in their hands. This has happened many times, causing injury to hands, fingers and eyes.
- 8. Keep fireworks in a covered tin box until ready for use.
- 9. Call a doctor to treat wounds, because of possible infection.

LOUISIANA'S NEW LONG WHETS KNIFE FOR LONG-PROMISED SKUNK-SKINNING

Huey's Brother Says He's 'Agin' Grafters Even If They Are His Own Relatives

Louisiana State University truck delivers material to private dwelling being built in New Orleans suburb by Col. James McLaclachan, friend of Governor Leche. Published in New Orleans newspaper, picture started chain of sensational developments, climaxed by Governor Leche's resignation.

By JAMES E. CROWN

NEW ORLEANS—All Louisiana these days is remembering a homely farmboy phrase Gov. Earl Kemp Long spoke a year ago. The scene was Sicily Island, Louisiana. Earl Long rose before a joint mass meeting, faced friends and enemies, and opened his speech with seven words now historic:

"Now, I'm going to skin a skunk!"

Earl Long now sits in the governor's chair in Baton Rouge, with the great Maestri machine behind him, and all the power the law and party politics can place in a governor's hands in Louisiana.

Earl Long has a lot of "skunks" to skin, and today he has the knife to do the job if he wants to. For a long time, now, a lot of "the boys" have been kicking Earl's houn'-daw around. They thought Earl was neatly shelved in the innocuous job of lieutenant-governor, and that he would retire when his term ended May 12, 1940, and become just one more Louisiana lawyer.

And they get little consolation from the interview Earl Long gave when he first learned Governor Leche had announced he was going to resign.

"I'm not governor yet, so I have no statement to make," said Lieut. Gov. Long, in the luxurious suite of Mayor Robert S. Maestri of New Orleans in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Then Governor Long was asked, "Are you going to use the weight of your office to protect grafters under fire?"

but 200 per cent," says Mayor Maestri. "The prospect of a Long dynasty looms in Louisiana now. Gov. Earl Long has no children. In hot political campaigns on the L. S. U. campus he has shown aptitude and the old Huey Long technique. He has emerged victorious in those campus campaigns for undergraduate offices. He has married young and spectacularly, while yet in college, as did his father before him. Strange physical similarities mark the Long family. In many ways Earl Long grows more and more to look like Huey Long every day, even to act like him in many a mannerism. He has the same hot, reddish-brown eyes. He has the same tangled thatch of dark-brown hair. He has Huey's build, though not so stout as in Huey's later years. And more and more, he is using Huey's homely, telling, country-boy phrases.

SAVINGS-LOAN ASSOCIATION PAYS ITS SEM-ANNUAL DIVIDEND

More Than $2,500,000,000 Home Insurance in Effect

The FHA observed its fifth birthday Tuesday, June 27, with more than $2,500,000,000 home-financing insurance on its books. This includes insurance covering small-home mortgages, large-scale rental projects and property-improvement loans.

Administrator Stewart McDonald pointed out that the loan insured have been supplied by more than 10,000 banks and other lending institutions in all parts of the United States. They have enabled over 8,000,000 people to improve their housing conditions.

The number of people thus benefited is approximately equal to the combined population of 15 states—Colorado, Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Utah, Oregon, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Delaware.

Sufficient New Housing.
For the first time in nearly a decade sufficient new housing is being provided to meet the increase in the population and to offset the destruction of old houses. This is due in large part to the stimulus furnished by the amended FHA program providing the most favorable home-financing terms in the history of the country.

During the first five months of 1939 mortgages on homes to be constructed show an increase of 80 per cent over the corresponding period of 1938. This is resulting in the starting of construction of over 500 new single-family homes under FHA inspection each working day. At the same time, work is being started each day on the repair or modernization of more than 1,500 existing homes under the property-improvement program.

On June 20 FHA records showed that loans numbering 2,401,215 for $2,505,000,000 had been insured, divided as follows:

- Small-home mortgages numbering 378,000 for $1,580,000,000.
- Property-improvement loans numbering 2,025,000 for $827,000,000.
- Large-scale rental projects numbering 215 for $88,000,000.

These figures include a small number of catastrophe and farm loans.

They do not, however, include commitments to insure amounting to more than $450,000,000.

During the five years of the FHA's existence, a widespread reformation of the country's home-financing system has been effected, involving elimination of the second-mortgage racket, excessive interest rates, concealed commissions, costly renewal fees, and other discredited devices of the predepression days.

Income Equals Expenses.
FHA income, derived from mortgage-insurance premiums and appraisal fees, now approximately equals total operating expenses. During the next fiscal year it is estimated that income will increase sufficiently to pay all operating expenses and leave a substantial balance to be added to reserve funds now available in the Treasury to meet possible mortgage-insurance losses.

Net assets of these reserve funds now exceed $24,000,000. They were accumulated through an original $10,000,000 allotment by Congress and through additions made from time to time from the collection of insurance premiums and appraisal fees.

Charges against the funds at June 1 in connection with sales of acquired properties amounted to $195,555.

Under the property - improvement program, from which no income is derived, unrecovered claims paid at June 1 amounted to $13,800,000, a ratio of less than 2 per cent. After July 1, under amendments recently approved by Congress and the President, an insurance premium of three-quarters of 1 per cent will be charged the lending institutions to help meet FHA losses and operating expenses.

Suitability of Homes Weighed In FHA Analyses

Greater emphasis is now being placed by builders and architects on rooms that are well planned to suit family needs, Federal Housing Administration officials point out.

In its examination of homes the suitability of which are to be insured by the Federal Housing Administration, the suitability of the home to the needs of the owner is considered. Size and price of the home in relation to the family's income are considered as important as soundness of construction and desirability of location.

Among the rules that guide the builder of modern homes today are:

1. A plan which makes it possible to go from room to room with the fewest possible steps and the least disturbance of occupants of other rooms.
2. Wall space arranged for maximum utility.
3. Practical use of glass or window area.
4. Simplicity of design.
5. Multiple use of space.
6. Provisions for seasonal outdoor living.
7. Equipment and planning of the kitchen for time and labor saving.
8. An easy-to-get-at garage with no lot space wasted.
9. Adequate wiring, with outlets provided for the convenient use of all electric appliances.
10. Arrangements for a labor-saving laundry room.
11. The orientation of the house and location.
12. Provision for privacy, both in relationship of rooms in the house and in relationship of neighboring houses.

- Concrete in varied hues offers a novel though practical method of flooring the basement and recreation rooms in homes. The application is not restricted to residences, however, as many uses have also been found for such floors in industrial and commercial structures.
- Durable and easily kept clean, colored concrete floors require no repeated repainting. Among the colors available are: Nile green, French gray, terra cotta, seal brown, battleship gray, blue, Persian red, tile red, russet, and mation.
- Funds for installing such floors may be obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Federal Housing Administration's Modernization Credit Plan.

Gay Colors in Concrete Give Novel Effect

Imitation tile wallboard helps to modernize old kitchens. Easy to install and clean, the wallboard brings bright, cheerful colors into the kitchen.

Room doors, like other features of a home, react to the dictates of style, and today the average door is much smaller than those in the home of Colonial time. Doors of early periods were frequently three feet or more in width, while today doors are usually not over 2 feet 8 inches wide.

Chief Justice Nealon Succumbs to Pneumonia

EL PASO, July 1 (AP)—Joseph M. Nealon, chief justice of the eighth court of civil appeals, died in an El Paso hospital Friday afternoon. He became ill of pneumonia Wednesday and was placed in an oxygen tent. Mr. Nealon had lived in El Paso 24 years, coming here from Georgia.

Midland county library will be closed all day Tuesday, July 4, in celebration of Independence Day, Miss Marguerite Hester, librarian, has announced.

Home Owners' Weekly Hints

Window Seat.
An attractive feature of many small homes today is a combination window seat and bookshelf. It is particularly well suited for recessed windows.

In most types the seat has a height slightly greater than that of a chair, the cushion usually being level with the window sill. Beneath the seat is a one-shelf bookcase, with a storage drawer below. This is an inexpensive improvement. Such built-in features as window seats may be financed with funds obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Floor Cleaning Easier.
Linoleum-covered floors sometimes cause the housewife unnecessary work because of the difficulty in cleaning the surface where the covering joins with the base of the wall.

One direct method, eligible under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration, to end this source of annoyance is in the installation of a curved base.

Wallpaper Follows Style Trend.
Wallpaper manufacturers have developed new patterns in wall coverings to be used in complementing blond woods and pastel upholstery typical in the modern scheme of decoration.

The new patterns were designed specifically for modern interiors and, like other types, may be applied with funds obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Bookshelf Dimensions.
Home owners installing bookshelves are advised to give considerable thought to the depth of the shelves, as the sizes of books vary. The average book is about five inches in width, so for general efficiency a shelf six inches in depth is recommended.

New Type Flooring.
A new compound type of wood flooring so designed that it can be laid over any type of wood under-flooring is offered home owners. The flooring is laminated and is said to reduce expansion and contraction to a minimum. The Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration may be used to aid home owners in financing reflooring jobs. Funds for the work are obtained from private lending institutions qualified by the FHA.

Foundation Walls.
Leaky foundation walls make cellars damp and, aside from being annoying, increase the fuel bill. The Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration may be used in waterproofing the walls. Private financial institutions, qualified by the FHA, make loans for home improvements of this type.

Door Styles Change.
Room doors, like other features of a home, react to the dictates of style, and today the average door is much smaller than those in the home of Colonial time. Doors of early periods were frequently three feet or more in width, while today doors are usually not over 2 feet 8 inches wide.

City Plans Need To Be Restudied.
In undeveloped areas city plans should be restudied with a view to eliminating the endless extension of rectangular blocks, according to the Land Planning Section of the Federal Housing Administration.

Such plans increase the cost of development, increase the instability of neighborhoods, and are regarded as unsuitable to the production of attractive neighborhoods.

NO PLANS.
The Federal Housing Administration does not furnish plans or specifications of any of the houses shown in the clip sheet.

Quite a Change!

Funds obtainable from lending institutions qualified under the Federal Housing Administration Modernization Credit Plan make possible such transformations in utility and appearance as are shown in the above illustrations. Removal of the outmoded equipment in the above view and replacement with modern appliances make the remodeled bathroom shown below a healthier and pleasanter room.

Employment in Building Field Up Over 1938
Employment in the construction industry in April was 646,000 greater than a year ago, according to a recent report of the National Industrial Conference Board.

While the rise in building employment was about equal to the increase in building activity, industrial production rose 19 per cent during that period, and manufacturing employment rose only 8 per cent.

This disclosure has strengthened the conclusion of many business observers that a continued rise in building activity is the surest way to effect a further reduction in unemployment.

As the building industry assumes the lead in reduction of unemployment, many observers look to the recently amended National Housing Act to serve as a further stimulant to this key industry.

Home Building Spur to Industry
Construction operations and allied activities helped to accelerate general industrial movement during the latter part of May, according to a report of Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins.

The volume of new construction contracts moved at a favorable rate, particularly in the residential field, the report said.

Reflecting the same building progress was a recent statement by Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald that construction was begun under FHA inspection on more than 500 new single-family homes every working day, on the average, during May.

"Applications for insurance of small-home mortgages have continued to reach us in a consistent volume each week for the last three months," Mr. McDonald said. "This indicates that residential construction will be maintained during coming weeks at a satisfactory pace."

Daugherty Attends Four Rodeos in Week
Lum Daugherty is getting in a busy week attending rodeos. He witnessed the Big Lake show Friday, reporting heavy crowds, good barbecue and a fast rodeo. He will attend the Carlsbad Calvacade today, the Pease rodeo Monday and the Stamford Cowboy Reunion Tuesday and Wednesday.

Don Ameche Brings Immortal to Screen
Don Ameche brings another immortal character to the motion picture gallery of the great in the title role of Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," which is currently at the Zig Theatre. The film will be shown only two days, Sunday and Monday.

Sharing stellar honors with him in this Cosmopolitan production for 20th Century-Fox are Loretta Young, as the deaf Mabel Hubbard,

Smith Resigns as Fair Grounds Keeper
Rip Smith, grounds keeper at the Midland Fair park for almost two years, resigned his position effective Saturday. He and Mrs. Smith are moving to the Tom Nance ranch thirty miles northwest of Midland where Smith will break and train a string of young thoroughbred horses, most of which are polo prospects. While at the Fair park job, he played in the polo engagements in which Midland had a team, trained several outstanding ponies and boarded saddle horses for local owners.

R. D. (Old Man) Shores will be in charge of horses at the fair stables pending appointment of a new grounds keeper, committeemen said. He has been associated with Smith there for several months.

Mortgage Recordings For May Set New High
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Home mortgages recorded in American cities and towns during May set a new high monthly record so far for 1939, numbering 125,604, and amounting to $349,454,000, officials of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reported today.

For the first five months of this year, 521,762 mortgages on homes were recorded, valued at $1,437,276,000. The report of the Board's Division of Research and Statistics, covered all non-farm mortgage recordings in the United States of a value of $20,000 or less.

Savings, building and loan associations continued to maintain top positions as chief institutional lenders on home property throughout the country, accounting for approximately one-third of the mortgages recorded in May.

Statistics of the Board re-veal that this year has been slightly better than the preceding month. The same is true for rent collections. In May, there were exactly 100 per cent of billings, as compared with 98.7 per cent in January.

Collections from HOLC borrowers as a whole were 99.5 per cent of billings in May. Mr. Jones said. Collections every month this year have shown a decided increase over corresponding months of 1938.

Royal Couple In 80,000 Feet Of News Film
OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—There were 80,000 feet of motion picture film taken of King George and Queen Elizabeth on their recent 11,000-mile tour of Canada and the United States.

The pictures were made by a pool of motion picture and news reel photographers under the direction of the head of the government motion picture bureau here.

The Dominion government to which no proposition has yet been submitted, is expected to authorize the wedding together of all the pictures. Many suggestions that this be done for exhibitions all over the country, are being received.

whose affliction was the inspiration for his great accomplishment; and Henry Fonda as Thomas Watson, the untiring and devoted assistant who shared the early years of hope and struggle of Alexander Graham Bell.

"The Story of Alexander Graham Bell," which was directed by Irving Cummings from a screen play prepared by Lamar Trotzi, from an original story by Ray Harris, was accorded a signal honor by the San Francisco Golden Gate International Exposition, where its world premiere was held. This marked the first time a film was ever so horrible.

Convenience Chief Factor In Bath Plan

Convenient arrangement of the necessary fixtures is one controlling factor in the size and shape of bathrooms in a home, Federal Housing Administration officials point out.

For a three-fixture bathroom, 5 by 7 feet is a minimum, as a rule. The most economical arrangement of fixtures in a bathroom is one in which the supply and waste fittings of the three principal fixtures are in the same partition. The fixtures should be of good quality and well designed. Bathtubs should not be less than 5 feet in length.

Bathroom-fixture fittings are as important as the fixtures themselves. Essential qualities are durable finish, sturdy construction, ease of operation and repair.

Home Values Safeguarded By FHA Plan

"Jerry-building"—the haphazard, unsound method of home building which gave many home buyers standard values in the past—has been virtually eliminated today, in the opinion of Federal Housing Administration officials.

Today, the inexperienced or uninformed home buyer may venture into the home market without great fear of being victimized by unscrupulous dealers. One protective factor given such buyers is the Federal Housing Administration's insistence that sound materials and building methods be used on homes built under FHA inspection. Other FHA requirement are: Suitable neighborhoods free from impairing influences, conformation to sanitation and health needs, and the presence of conveniences necessary for comfortable and modern living.

Upturn Noted in Sale of Homes by HOLC, Report Shows

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The sale of 4,159 homes in May set a new record for the Home Owners' Loan Corporation for the second consecutive month and signaled the passing of the 50,000 mark in cumulative sales, Charles A. Jones, General Manager of the Corporation, announced today.

The May sales, which amounted to $14,279,229, compared with 3,761 in April, 3,376 in March, 2,391 in February and 2,390 in January, and made a total of more than 16,000 since the first of the year.

"The increase of nearly 1,000 sales in March over the number in February led us to predict an active real estate market for the spring season," said Mr. Jones. "If May figures are any indication, the upturn should continue for the summer."

"All real estate operations of the Corporation are encouraging. Of the homes owned by the Corporation which were available to yield income on May 31, more than 91 per cent were rented, as compared with 87.5 per cent in January. Each month this year has been slightly better than the preceding month. The same is true for rent collections. In May, there were exactly 100 per cent of billings, as compared with 98.7 per cent in January."

Collections from HOLC borrowers as a whole were 99.5 per cent of billings in May. Mr. Jones said. Collections every month this year have shown a decided increase over corresponding months of 1938.

Quarter Million Placed in Homes Since Founding

Directors of the Midland Federal Savings & Loan Association Friday announced the payment of its semi-annual dividend of four per cent to share holders, the total payment amounting to $4,225.26.

The association, directed by officers and directors who are local business men, is under federal supervision and has for its primary purpose the promotion of thrift and home ownership.

The investor and the borrower have played a most important part in the success of the association. With over $250,000.00 invested and loaned to the prospective home owner since its organization, every penny of this money has been kept in Midland.

Since the first of January this year, the Texas Association have loaned to the prospective home owners, $10,734,000.00, which is an increase of $2,300,000.00 over the same period last year. More than $7,500,000.00 in new funds have found their way into these institutions by the investor. Further material increases in investments in the associations are expected, following the payment of their semi-annual dividends on June 30th. Funds placed in the association are insured against loss up to $5,000.00 for each account by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an instrumentality of the Federal Government.

Investors in the Midland Federal Savings & Loan Association have received a 4 per cent dividend annually since its organization in 1934. Compare the earning capacity of this investment with any that you might call to mind, and where the watchword, must be, safety of the principal.

FHA Activity Boosts Credit Of Community

Any increase in Federal Housing Administration insured - mortgage financing greatly increases the soundness and credit of the municipalities where the homes are built, it is pointed out by Federal Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald.

This is due to the fact that the FHA plan makes its incumbent upon the mortgagor to pay the taxes on the property in advance. Mr. McDonald continued.

"If a community consisted 100 per cent of FHA-insured homes," he said, "there would never be a penny of tax delinquency. The borrowers like this, too, because most people of moderate incomes find it difficult to meet annual tax payments coming due in one large sum, but if spread over 12 months and tacked on to interest and other charges the payment is made with ease."

Plumbing System Costs Estimated

The Federal Housing Administration suggests to the builder of a new home that the cost of a complete plumbing system should be approximately 10 per cent of the total cost of the dwelling. "This applies to small, single - family homes.

Owners are cautioned against installing fixtures that are too expensive in proportion to the total cost of the home.

'Old Hoss Trader' Has a Busy Season

Sale of three horses for a gross price of $800 by Clarence Schabauer has been reported here during the past few days, all three animals having been raised and trained on the Schabauer Cattle Co. No. 1 place where Bill Houston is foreman.

Jay H. Floyd, polo player and dealer in polo ponies, bought two chestnut and a bay. The third was the dun horse which has been ridden by governors and nobles in street parades here and was sold to Miss Walter Pay Cowden to be used in sponsor's contests.

Floyd bought another horse from Schabauer, which the latter had bought from Keesey Duncan of Pecos.

This would permit the masses in one city, to have a picture of what went on elsewhere—in Canada and the United States.

Likewise thousands who were unable to go any place on the tour can envision the celebration from the comfort of theaters or local community centers.

Patrons will get their money's worth. It is estimated that four hours, at least will be required for the whole exhibition. Many of the pictures are in color.

MOTORCYCLE RACES TO BE HELD TODAY

Meet Will Get Underway at Two-Thirty

The first officially-recognized motorcycle races ever held here will get underway at 2:30 this afternoon at the old fair grounds, one mile south of town.

Ten events have been decided upon for the large number of racers that will be here from various West Texas towns and cities. An official of the American Motorcycle Association, Blondy Hodges, Phoenix, will be on hand to judge the races and any records that might be set here will be given official recognition by the association.

Heading the list of racers that will participate is Cecil Birch, San Angelo, generally recognized as the outstanding motorcycle rider of this area. Other well known riders who will participate include Leon Loecker of McCamey, Cecil Thixton of Big Spring and Jack Jones of Midland.

A loving cup will be awarded to the rider scoring the most points in the ten events. A point system for first, second and third prizes won will be figured out by the judges prior to the start of the races. The cup will be presented by Miss Eddy Gene Cole, queen of the recent McCamey water carnival.

Admission for the races will be only 40 cents for adults, 25 cents for children. The first race will start promptly at 2:30.

The ten events that will be held include 80 open race (6 laps on the half-mile course), slow race, novice race (5 laps) dig out race, relay race (6 laps), Hazard race, Stake race and final (12 laps).

Huge Field of Peonies Blossoms in Missouri

SARCOXIE, Mo. (UP)—Missouri nursery men worked overtime here to dispose of the largest field of peonies in the world.

More than 100 acres of peonies in southern Missouri tossed their multi-colored heads in the breezes of early summer. In the next few weeks, thousands from Missouri, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Kansas will visit the fields which flare in colors from snow white to deep red.

The fields were covered with 3,500 to 5,000 plants per acre which yielded anywhere from 20,000 to 25,000 flowers. History of the fields has been traced to 1880 when, according to C. C. Weiss, listings were found in the catalogues issued by his father.

The crippled Midland Cowboys, cellar occupants in the West Texas-New Mexico league during the first half completed yesterday, will attempt to get away to a winning start this afternoon when they meet the Big Spring Barons in two games in the Howard county capital.

The first game will get underway at 2:30 and the second one ten minutes after the first game is concluded. Probable hurling choices of the Cowboys will be "Tex" Nugent and Joe Piet, both right handers.

The Cowboys last night dropped their sixth in a row when they were on the short end of a 2-1 score with the Abilene Apaches. "Slim" Leonard went the route for the local, giving up only eight base hits, but some faulty work by Saparito and Everson spelled his downfall.

With two out in the first inning, Short singled, Everson muffed Bell's fly to center and Short came all the way home on a short single into right field.

The Cowboys tied it up in the second on singles by Everson and Volk, a sacrifice hit by Wooten and an error by Barnhill, Apache second baseman.

The Abilene team took a lead in the third that was good for the decision when Short walked, stole second, advanced to third on a single by Bell and scored after Saparito took Morris' fly ball close to second base.

The box score:

in last place. And it is going to take a lot of work to keep them out of the cellar during the second half. Every club in the league is attempting to strengthen for the next 90 days and the Cowboys are going to have to keep pace or wind up behind the eight ball. More power is an absolute necessity in the outfield, and a left handed hurler is needed just about as badly. Club officials thought they had landed the hurler Thursday but the deal fell through.

From this corner, we would guess that Big Spring will be the club to stop in the second half. The Yankees have been sending in a string of replacements, making the Barons plenty hard to beat. They do appear to have one weakness, however, and that is the club is loaded down too heavily with left hand hitters. Tony Rego, taking advantage of his short right field fence, has almost an all left hand hitting club. As proof of the mistake he has made, the Barons have won only one game over a wrong hander in the last month.

Big Spring Hank Hart calls Don Wolin, the new Baron shortstop, a better fielder than Manager Salty Parker of the Lubbock club. We will have to have more than Hank's word to believe that because Salty would be in the major leagues if he could hit. This "hit"—The recent hitting of Jim Kerr can be credited to his "you do or you don't" attitude while up at the bat. The uncertainty of his stand while managing the club affected his play all around. Neal Rabe says he has his orders to turn out a winner this half. And with the Gold Sox attendance ranging between 1,000 and 1,300 every night at home now Neal has plenty of money to get what he wants. A note from the rule book to Bob Porterfield: "If a batsman in the last half of the final inning of any game hits a home run over the fence or into a stand, all runners on base at the time, as well as the batsman, shall be entitled to score. The final score of such a game shall be the total number of runs made by each team." For those who can't make it to Big Spring this afternoon, there will be plenty of other action here. Golf, tennis and the big motorcycle races at the old fair grounds. Jim Kerr should be a cinch for the all-star game. We'll also pick Bobby Petzold to break into the game. His only competition will come from Barney Barnhill and Bobby is hitting about 50 points more than the Abilene second sacker. Big Spring and Lamesa have had lots of trouble around the keystone sack all year but it is going to be hard to get any Midland or Abilene players on the team because interest is high in Big Spring and Lamesa and the fans will be voting heavily.

Ostrich Slaughter Rises With Demand for Pelts

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UP)—Because only dusters wear ostrich feathers now, half a million ostriches have been slaughtered in the Karroo district of South Africa in the past four years.

Ostrich feathers at one time brought an income of $10,000,000 to the Union. White feathers, which brought $100 and more a pound in the boom days before the World War, can hardly be sold now at 50 cents a pound.

So the farmers are killing ostriches for their skins, which are sent to Britain, France and the United States to be made into fancy leather goods. The ostrich farms of the Karroo are giving place to fields of lucerne and vineyards.

School Youths Follow Same Path 16 Years

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—William S. Burke and his identical twin brother, Walter E., are wondering when their paths will part.

The two youths have completed 16 years of schooling together during which they had like interests. Both receiving Bachelor of Arts degrees from Union College, where they belonged to the same clubs, studied like courses, and became members of the same athletic teams.

again. However, the shrubbery and trees had grown up and I was completely lost. I remembered the mine was on the south slope of a mountain and inside of it was a wheelbarrow and pots and pans."

McGahan said Casper spent a year looking for the mine before he died. The fact Casper returned to this territory voluntarily and was convinced the wheelbarrow and cooking utensils would be found in the mine made McGahan believe Casper's partner died in the tunnel.

Tale of Gold In Lost Mine Appears True

MOSCOW, Ida. (UP)—A legendary hole of fortune—the lost Wheelbarrow mine—is believed to have been discovered at last on a brush-covered slope of Gold Hill in the Panhandle of Idaho. A story relayed from person to person the last several decades told of a mine that yielded $20,000 in gold before the two partners who operated it quarreled, and one left the other for dead to return years later only to find he was unable to find the diggings. Finally, the remaining partner died—his search still futile. Behind he left the story of the mine he said could be identified through the wheelbarrow and pots and pans it contained. As time went on and the tale circulated, it became known as the Wheelbarrow mine. In June, workers of the Fitsum Mining Co., north of Pocatello, found the weed-grown entrance of an abandoned mine. Curious, they dug out the front. Thirty feet into the mine was the remains of an old wheelbarrow, its whisky barrel staves crumbling to the touch. Human Bone Found. But perhaps more important was the discovery of what officials of the company said was a bone—part of a human backbone. Also, lying on the floor were several pieces of gold-bearing quartz. The company plans to build a road into the mine and re-timber it to determine whether it is the lost digging from which $20,000 in ore was taken more than a half century ago. A pioneer of the Palouse country, W. H. McGahan of Troy, knows the legend of the lost mine well. In 1903 McGahan met an old-time miner named Casper, who assertedly was the surviving partner. As McGahan tells it, this is the story Casper related to him: "My partner and I packed into the district from Walla Walla, Wash., the closest town in the early days. "We worked over the different mountains around Moscow and opened up a rich vein of gold-bearing ore. We crushed the rock by hand and panned the gold. As Indians still roamed the district, we lived in the mine. "After taking out $20,000 in small nuggets and dust, we prepared to return to civilization. Partner Left for Dead. "Getting ready to leave, we quarreled. I struck my partner with a ing I had killed him. I went down pick, took the gold and left, believing California, lost most of my money and then came back to Portland, there, I heard that my partner had not died. "Twenty years had passed, but I thought I could find the mine

Slayer of 4 Persons Is Discovered Dead Near Home in Paris

PARIS, Texas, July 1. (P)—The decomposed body of Marion Mackey, 38, was found by his brother and niece Friday near where he blasted four neighbors to death with a shotgun last April 26, in a Red River Valley feud over straying chickens.

Marvin and Effie Lee Mackey and a neighbor girl, Susie Singleton, made the discovery while picking berries two miles from the Marvin Mackey home.

Justice of the Peace R. L. Johnson returned a verdict of suicide. County Attorney M. D. Emerson theorized Mackey killed himself in a rude shelter by tripping the murder gun with a forked stick. Emerson estimated Mackey had been dead 60 days.

This indicated, Emerson said, the hot-tempered farmer took his own life several days after he strode a few hundreds yards from his home, shot five persons and then proceeded a mile to a creek bottom to kill another man with whom he had differed frequently.

Slain in the yard of their home were J. W. Snow, 79, and Snow's daughters, Mrs. Willie Kemper and Mrs. Leo Dennis, while Mrs. Snow and Leo Dennis were wounded. Dee Chandler was killed while at work plowing.

Drivers' Licenses Extended 3 Years

State highway patrolmen here Saturday announced all car operators' drivers licenses are automatically renewed to April 1, 1942.

The officers suggested that persons intending to take trips out of the state present their licenses to the officers who are here each Thursday from 11 a. m. until two p. m. for a renewal stamp.

The stamp is not necessary while operating an automobile in Texas, it was explained, inasmuch as all enforcement officers are aware that outstanding licenses are good and have been renewed for three years.

Stamford Reports "Ready" for Opening of Big Cowboy Reunion

STAMFORD, July 1. — Culminating weeks of careful planning and preparation, Stamford stood ready today to entertain for the tenth time what is heralded as the world's greatest roundup of cowboys and cattlemen. Based on previous attendance records, crowds totalling 35,000 to 70,000 are expected here during the three days of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, July 3, 4 and 5.

Hundreds of tanned cowhands just in from spring roundups on Texas ranches, a thousand graying cowboys and cattlemen who pioneered the development of the west, and many thousands of tenderfeet from every walk of life will be in Stamford Monday for the opening activities, highlighted by the grand parade at 11 a. m. In fact a scattering of visitors was already here today and the town will be crowded by Sunday night.

Organized delegations will attend the Reunion from Fort Worth, July 3 and from Abilene, Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells on July 4.

Distinguished visitors at the Reunion will include Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson, Railroad Commissioners Lon Smith and Jerry Sadler; Judge James V. Allred and Amos G. Carter, Ft. Worth publisher. Paul Whiteman, who had planned to attend, expressed his disappointment at being detained in New York.

Visitors this year will note the effect of $10,000 spent for new improvements and will find the usual program of major event supplemented by special new entertainments.

Changes in the usual lineup of events include the shifting of the grand parade from the second day to the first day, switching of the time of meeting of the oldtime cowboys organization from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. of the first day, changing the place of the old fiddlers' contest from the city auditorium to the cowboy bunkhouse and transfer of the square dances each night from the bunkhouse to the newly completed Roundup building.

Beginning with the early morning matinee at 8 o'clock Monday morning, three performances of the famous cowboy rodeo, featuring actual ranch hands, will be held daily. Afternoon show is at 2 o'clock and night performance at 8 o'clock.

Some 300 cowboys will compete in the calf-roping, wild-cow-milking, steer-riding and bronc-riding contests. Another 50 will participate in the cutting-horse contest and the special calf-roping event for oldtime cowboys. A score or more of youngsters will contend the saddle in the junior cowboys' contest and 50 or more cowgirls will compete for sponsors' honors. Prizes in the various contests total $2,600.

Highlighting the specialty acts in the rodeo arena this year will be the juvenile cowboys, Gene and Don McLaughlin, who have performed five successive years at the Madison Square Garden rodeo in New York, making their first appearance at the Reunion. Coming to Stamford also for the first time will be the rodeo clown, George Tyler of Gainesville, Texas, who played the world's championship rodeo at Chicago during the Century of Progress.

For the dancing each night at the sponsors' pavillion, a big-time dance orchestra has been signed for the first time—Jerry Johnson and his musicians.

Birthday Jubilee Is Slated at Odessa

ODESSA, July 1. — The All-American Derby and Birthday Jubilee of the City of Odessa is scheduled for August 1, 2, 3, and 4, and a huge program of various events is being planned by the chamber of commerce who is sponsoring this celebration.

On the first day will be held a Boy Scout Field Day during which all the Boy Scout Troops in the Buffalo Trails Council will participate in competitive events, and in the evening will be held a street dance honoring the pioneers of Ector county. The second day will feature a Horned Toad Derby, and in the evening of this day will be held a Tiny-Tot Bathing Revue planned for the children between the ages of 2-8. The third day of the celebration will consist chiefly of a Jack Rabbit Derby and a baseball game in the evening. The fourth and final day of the celebration, which is the 53rd anniversary of the City of Odessa, will be devoted to a Rattlesnake Derby and a huge Pioneer Parade. In the evening of the final day, a dance will be conducted during which a capital attendance prize will be given.

Detailed plans for this celebration are at the present time being arranged, and further information concerning the celebration may be obtained upon request at the office of the chamber of commerce of Odessa.

Woman and Daughter Found Shot to Death

NEW YORK, July 1. (P)—Mrs. Rose Shapiro, 35, and her daughter, Rhoda, 15, were shot to death in their apartment today while they were preparing to leave for a summer camp.

A negro maid, Mary Stewart, was quoted by assistant district attorney John B. Lee with saying the slayer was the woman's estranged husband, Joseph, 46.

Delegation to Attend Cavalcade at Carlsbad

Approximately a dozen Midland rodeo enthusiasts left Saturday for Carlsbad to attend the annual Cavern City Cavalcade which opens today and runs through Tuesday evening. Six Midland boys will compete in the junior cowboy events, including Clarence Scharbauer, Roy Parks, Marion Plynt and Biff Wyche, juniors, and Buster Cole and Mack Cook.

Clarence Scharbauer, president of Midland Fair, and Roy Parks, member of the local rodeo committee, are special guests at the show and will ride in the parade. Horses of the Midland men and boys were trucked there Saturday.

Represents Midland In Sponsors' Contest

Miss Walter Fay Cowden will be in Stamford Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, attending the annual Western Cowboy Reunion and representing Midland in the cowgirl sponsors' contest. She has recently bought a new horse, a Scharbauer dun, for the contest and is counted on by local backers to be a contender for the championship saddle.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, and a number of Midland friends will be in Stamford for the rodeo.

New 'Ism' Signs Up in Montreal

MONTREAL (U.P.) — Communists and Nazis again are using paint, brush and chalk to spread propaganda here.

Communist slogans, swastikas and anti-Semitic outbursts are appearing on walls, sidewalks and fences in widely-scattered parts of the city. A similar campaign flourished here several months ago.

The latest Communist "paint and brush" propaganda campaign is aimed at the recent judgment handed down by the Superior Court here upholding the constitutionality of the Quebec's Government's much-disputed "padlock law" against Communism.

"Padlocks or Jobs?" was the cryptical query brightly painted on a fence in the crowded shopping district of the city.

Goshawks Fight Youth Robbing Their Nest

GRAND COULEE, Wash. (U.P.) — A Mason City youth, Harold Kanzler, had to fight off two large goshawks when he obtained two birds they had hatched. Kanzler was lowered to the birds' nest—100 feet down a cliff—by a rope in the hands of two companions. The young birds had a wingspread of almost three feet.
