Lending Bill Given Further Assault in Night Discussions

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP).—The first night session of the senate's adjournment drive produced last night a series of republican speeches denouncing the administration's $2,490,000,000 lending program as waste and extravagant.

One after another, Senators Taft (Ohio), Townsend (Del), Barbour (N.D.), Davis (Pa) and Danaher (Conn) arose to belabor the measure, before—for most of the time—an audience of four to eight senators.

Captured Velma West Does Some Thinking

Awaiting arrival of Ohio officers to take her back to the women's reformatory in that state, Velma West, 32-year-old hammer murderess, Tuesday night after her surprise capture by Dallas police, sulked in jail and talked little of her 36 days of vagabond freedom. (Associated Press photo.)

Garner Flayed By CIO Chief In Testimony

Lewis Says Texan Cause of Attacks Made in Congress

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP).—John Lewis, CIO chief, today charged that Vice-President John Garner, whom he termed a "poker playing whisky drinking old man," was responsible for recent attacks on labor in congress.

Lewis accused Garner of responsibility for attempts to modify labor legislation and declared that he would oppose Garner "when he seeks the presidency in 1940."

Shortly after Lewis made his remarks, Garner was found in his office adjoining the senate chambers. When statements of the labor chief were read to him by reporters, his heavy white eyebrows contracted for a moment, then he chuckled and said: "I have nothing to say."

Montreal's Mass Marriage Offsets 'Divorce Publicity'

At the end of a year of training in the economics and morals of marriage, 108 French-Canadian couples march across a baseball field in Montreal, Can., as seen above, to be married in a mass ceremony performed by Roman Catholic officials. Three hundred of the 20,000 onlookers who jammed into the stadium were prostrated by the heat.

Grouped around an improvised altar set in the outfield of a Montreal baseball diamond, 108 couples are seen kneeling on wooden prayer benches during their mass marriage. Photo is a general view of the ceremony staged by the Young Catholic Worker organization of Quebec to offset "the unfavorable publicity marriage is getting from the world's divorce courts."

Action Taken On Treaty to Aid Embargo

Treasury Studies Means of Backing Through Tariff

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced today that the treasury is studying means of backing up Secretary Hull's termination of the Japanese commercial treaty by action involving the United States purchases of gold, silver and merchandise.

He gave no hint of what action could be taken. It was known, however, that the treasury is studying the alleged subsidies of cotton cloth exports to the United States with a view to possible penalty tariff duties against cloth.

TOKYO, July 27. (AP).—Decision of the United States to terminate the 28-year old commerce and navigation treaty with Japan was regarded in foreign office circles today as an unfriendly act because of its abruptness.

Secretary of State Hull, in a note last night notified the Japanese ambassador of intentions of the United States to terminate the treaty, giving Japan the required six months notice.

The foreign office spokesman declared that ending the treaty was "unthinkable."

"We fail to understand America's real intention," he added. "Japan certainly will take retaliatory measures if there is discrimination by America after a six months period, but during that time relations will remain unchanged."

TREATY WAS OBSTACLE TO RESOLUTION FOR EMBARGO.

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP).—The United States served notice last night it was terminating its 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation with Japan, opening the way toward embargo on the shipment of raw materials to that country.

On behalf of Secretary of State Hull, Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of state, handed a note to an official of the Japanese embassy informing him of the step. The government's action came like lightning from a blue sky, since the Senate Foreign Relations Committee discussing a resolution calling for the denunciation of the treaty postponed discussion on it today until later in the week.

Earlier Secretary Hull conferred with President Roosevelt, following talks with his Far Eastern advisers. The President approved, perhaps ordered, the action.

Six months must pass before the abrogation can go into effect. They will be on Jan. 26, 1940, at which time Congress will be in session and can discuss an embargo on raw materials shipments to Japan.

The State Department regarded the 1911 treaty as a legal obstacle in the way of a resolution by Senator Pittman (D-Nev) calling for the embargo. Article 5, paragraph three, of the pact, said: "No shall any embargo be enforced by either country on the importation or exportation of any article from or to the territories of the other which shall not equally extend to the like article imported from or exported to any other country."

Religious Freedom Is Declared Huri by Church-State Idea

ATLANTA, July 27. (AP).—A resolution asserting that "state churches and church-states are alike in direct conflict with the principle of religious freedom" was presented today to the sixth congress of the Baptist World Alliance.

In separate resolutions, direct mention was made of religious restrictions in Russia and Rumania.

Best to Get Your Driver's License Renewed Instead of Discarding It

Texas holders of auto drivers' licenses will do well to retain their license certificates instead of throwing them away because the period for which they are dated has expired.

The licenses have, in fact, been extended by announcement of the Department of Public Safety, though new certificates have not been issued in place of the old ones as provided by law.

Unfortunate for the safety movement in Texas was the Legislature's failure to enact a more stringent license law that would take the incompetent and the disabled from behind drivers' wheels.

The Eternal Gold Brick

The more it changes, observed the acute Frenchman, the more it is the same thing.

In the springtime of American progress westward, a standard comic figure was the fellow who bought the gold brick. He was right alongside the yokel who bought Brooklyn Bridge.

But he isn't dead. Gold brick schemes have extracted at least $19,500, perhaps more, from gullible Americans in the past year.

Always there is a new twist to the gold brick scheme to make it plausible. This time it is "Yaqui gold" awaiting someone to finance its illegal transportation and sale in the United States.

There is no reason at all to doubt that as long as men love gold there will always be some who hope to get it by schemes like this, and who will wind up as empty of pocket as they are of mind.

Ham Drivers

We Americans usually take pride in our skill and familiarity with out automobiles. But nevertheless, J. Standard Baker, traffic safety consultant for the National Safety Council, thinks most of us are "hams" at the wheel.

The result: drivers who fail to get into the proper lane before turning, drivers who straddle lanes and pay no attention to the rights of others, drivers who zoom out of parking position at the curb without looking to see who is coming up behind, drivers who gabble with others in the car, fail to watch the road, and fail to signal with any decisiveness.

Have you been driving a car for 20 years, and do you think you know all about it? Maybe you're a ham driver, at that.

A Place to Loaf

The No. 1 idea of the summer is that of Thomas E. Pratt, retired railroader of Palmyra, Mo. His idea of retirement is to loaf, and nobody can quarrel with that.

When old friends wants to loaf with him, they come to his office and loaf. They don't bother people who want to work. They don't get under their wives' feet. They just loaf.

The trouble with loafers is that they get in the hair of people who are working. By setting up an office specifically and exclusively devoted to loafing, Thomas Pratt has done his share toward solving one of the world's greatest problems, and should be awarded some kind of medal, preferably made of solid gold.

SO THEY SAY

$22 Apportionment

(DALLAS NEWS)

Optimistic hope that curative efforts by the Legislature would reduce the school apportionment to a definite status was dispelled in the fog of disagreement at the meeting of the State Board of Education at Austin Monday.

In view of the Monday action of the board, however, the only outstanding doubt in the current situation is the rate which the Automatic Tax Board must fix in order to obtain the revenue. It is agreed that the funds available must first be used to retire the deficit.

Cost to the individual will depend, of course, on assessed valuation. A $5,000 homestead with a $3,000 exemption was taxed last year for school purposes at the 7c rate or $1.40 on the $2,000 open to taxation for state purposes.

The constitutional conflict ought to be cleared. Thus if a six-month term is mandatory, the Constitution should provide "except where this length of term will force a deficit in the available fund."

Mona Lisa With a Moustache

held by Arabs in a dry well, and finally the preacher riding in toward Jerusalem on a donkey and getting picked up by a district officer in his car, all that will be swell dope for a movie.

Getting back to the Jerusalem kidnaping. What have those Arabs done with their good horses. A bunch of horse traders must have gone in there and left them with only a lot of burros.

From Ralph Shuffler's Odessa News-Times, I get this clipping: "I guess maybe somebody will cut the Johnson grass in that new 'office building' at the Corner of Third and Grant now and ease Paul Bayon's pain, for I am reliably informed that at least part if not all the vacant space in it has been rented to local parties."

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

WASHINGTON. — It isn't easy to understand how Congress operates unless you understand the club-like atmosphere that pervades both of its houses.

Witness, for instance, the interchange Majority Leader Sam Rayburn had with Republican George Bender of Ohio in the House the other day.

This everybody's-a-good-fellow spirit finds expression in the way the members refer to each other in debate. It's always "my colleague, the learned gentleman from Missouri" or "the distinguished senator from New York" who goes even when the man who says it is doing his best to prove that his beloved colleague is trying to lead the country to the dogs.

EULOGIES FOR McREYNOLDS

When the death of Congressman Sam McReynolds of Tennessee was announced, upwards of a dozen of his colleagues of both parties made graceful little speeches in tribute to his memory.

and popular, but the same thing would have held good anyway. It's a strong bond that ties the membership together.

Sometimes this spirit has a direct effect on the things Congress does. It accounts pretty largely for "senatorial courtesy" in the matter of confirming appointments to patronage posts, for instance.

Occasionally the feeling of solidarity within one chamber will lead to a tiff with the other chamber. Each body is jealous of its rights and prerogatives; once in a while a bill gets in a jam because each feels it would be beneath its dignity or something to yield.

UNWRITTEN RULE IS LAW

The member who violates the unwritten rule of good fellowship gets sat on. The House made its displeasure unmistakably manifest a month or so ago, when Congressman Gearhart of California rose to a point of personal privilege and explained how his colleague, Congressman Elliott, had sought to prove that he, Gearhart, was taking bribes.

Midland Girls Attend Camp Carrizo

Three girls from Midland—Helen Armstrong, Ann Ulmer, and Hilda Vogel—have been discovering the joys of camp life at Camp Carrizo, a girls' camp located near Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Helen departed last week to spend the remainder of the summer vacation with her parents at their cabin in Colorado. The other two girls are planning to stay the full eight weeks which began June 26 and will end with a big final show on August 18.

Ann, a junior at the camp, has been especially active in dramatics work, having taken part in several of the regular Saturday night vaudeville shows.

Hilda recently took part in an all-day trip on horseback to Mount Baldy.

Both girls will go with the other campers on a moonlight trip to the White Sands next Sunday.

Birthday Party Compliments Small Guest of Schlossers

The birthday of the only boy in the family is rather a special occasion. So thinks the Schlosser family and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Schlosser entertained with a party at their home, 1710 W. Holloway, Wednesday afternoon in honor of the second birthday anniversary of their nephew, Jon Schlosser.

Guests arrived at 5 o'clock. Birthday gifts were opened and the group found amusement in playing with the toys presented to the honoree.

Moving pictures were made of the children at play.

The refreshment table was attractively decorated in pink and white, with the birthday cake bearing pink candles.

Favors of tiny telephones and balloons were distributed.

Mothers present included: Misses S. A. Schlosser, Ben Carsey, E. A. Wahlstrom, Addison Young, W. L. Brown, R. R. Herrell.

Those Reeves Boys Naturally Like The Davis Girls

Lightning may never strike twice in the same place but Cupid certainly aims his darts twice at the same family successfully. As witness the romances of the two Reeves brothers, Elmo and John, members of the airport staff.

The first case of boy-meets-girl which led to romance between the Reeves family and the Davis family was that of Elmo Reeves and Miss Althea Davis. Their love affair climaxed in a marriage in June 1938, and they set up a household here.

Only other member of the Reeves family was brother John and only other child of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Davis of Palo Pinto was sister Ina Ruth. John and Ina Ruth repeated the love story of their brother and sister and they two recited their wedding vows—on June 11 of this year at Denton, Now they are at home at 501 N. Main, after a wedding trip to Houston.

Maybe there is some truth in the old proverb of "like to like"—anyway, certain families just like certain other families when it comes to selecting partners for a lifetime.

Midland Couple Wed in Ceremony At Santa Fe

Mr. and Mrs. Georges Vorbe are at home at 411 N. Marienfeld here following their marriage in Santa Fe, New Mexico, July 17.

Mrs. Vorbe, the former Miss Corinne Freeman, and Mr. Vorbe, son of Mrs. A. Vorbe of San Francisco, were united in a ceremony held at high noon in the Santa Fe Presbyterian church (the oldest Protestant church in the states of Arizona and New Mexico), with Rev. A. G. Tozer officiating.

Miss Mary Edith Thomas of Kansas City, Missouri, niece of the bride, was her only attendant.

Mrs. Vorbe chose for her wedding dress a costume of black sheer with white accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses and white stephanotis.

Miss Thomas wore navy blue sheer with white accessories. The ceremony was also attended by the bride's sisters, Mrs. J. P. London of Denver, Colorado, and Mrs. E. M. Sontelle of Midland.

Following the wedding service, a luncheon was held at the Old Mexico Club for the bridal party and other guests, Edwin G. Bedford. After a short call at the Bedford home, the couple left for a trip to the Grand Canyon.

The bride was educated in the Kansas City public schools and the Cranston School of Music. She was a member of the Kansas City Grand Opera Company and also a member of the Little Congress at Washington, D. C., a debating organization for secretaries to United States Senators and Representatives.

Mr. Vorbe was graduated from the University of California, where he later did graduate work and teaching. He has lived in Midland for a number of years, being one of the first geologists in the West Texas oil fields. At present he is engaging in consulting work. He is a member of Theta Tau, professional fraternity.

Honoring Miss Dorothy Ann Neuhardt and James E. Smith whose marriage will take place in Amarillo, August 14, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turpin and Col. and Mrs. John Perkins and the latter's daughter, Dorothy, entertained on Tuesday evening with an al fresco dinner party at the Perkins home, 1909 Binnison.

Tables were laid in the back yard where moonlight and the tinkling of stringed instruments made a pleasant background for conversation and games.

Invited guests were: The honorees, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Zutscher, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Straughan, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Z. German, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beckman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muldrow III, Mrs. Nancy Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dougherty, Jessica Turpin, John Perkins III.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

Designers seem determined to thrust the bustle theme upon the American woman's wardrobe, willy-nilly, with her consent or without. Maybe they can think up variations of the ungraceful bulk our mothers wore which will be pleasing to our skeptical soul—but we doubt it.

After all, when clothes can be so lovely without it, why worry about working in a bustle somewhere about one's favorite frock? We're "agin" it.

Musings before supper time: People up North don't know how to make good iced tea; nor good coleslaw; this idea of serving grits as accompaniment for the breakfast bacon and eggs sounds goofy, but really doesn't taste bad at all; terribly disheartening to discover that the Scottish scones we've read so much about are simply hoe-cakes like mother used sometimes to cook in the frying pan when we were small; the best fresh vegetable soup we ever ate was in a neat restaurant in the Central states; and the best chocolate milk in a New York automat.

To those of us who enjoyed so thoroughly the series of lectures sponsored by Midland Town Hall last winter, there is great satisfaction in noting that officers have been chosen and plans are going forward for this year's lectures. We still maintain that Town Hall supplies a cultural opportunity which Midlanders need. More power to it!

Most novel form of announcing an engagement that we've noted recently was used in a Northern city. Miniature bank books announced the opening of a joint account in the wedding month for the betrothed couple. Quite simple but something different, too.

Somebody has said that we spend one-third of our life in bed (speaking generally for the human race and not for this particular atom of it). No wonder we always wish sleepers "pleasant dreams." It would be terrible to spend one-third of one's years in the grip of such horrors as falling off a cliff or finding one's self lost in a crowd or any of the other ghastly adventures that go under the title of "bad dreams."

Stars of Hollywood Dance in Frocks Light as Moonshine on Glamorous Night Parties

Hollywood Likes Fragile Frills For Midsummer

BY LUCIE NEVILLE NEA Service Correspondent.

HOLLYWOOD — With midsummer nights just right for dancing and good name bands playing in the hot-spots along Sunset Strip, there has been a rush for evening frocks that are sentimentally summer-ish. Nothing dramatic or stark about these frilly, floating dresses. They're made to dance in and no "Chestnut-Tree" strutting and slapping, either.

Materials are thin and fragile—no heavy cottons such as pique or kitchen-curtain gingham, and you'd have to hunt all over town to get a white satin dress. Chiffons, nets and tulle, old-fashioned organzies and crinkle-wave sheer cottons are the order of the day.

The gals who can't abide—or wear—ruffles are choosing silk jersey, and the frocks are mostly the two-piece match-em-yourself kind: a full white skirt topped with a Kelly green blouse, a pencil blue one with a lipstick red polo shirt. With these chokers of gold links or triple-stranded white coral usually are worn.

SONJA SPLURGES FOR THE HOME FOLKS TWO blondes who went to visit their home towns chose as frilly evening frocks as they could find to represent Hollywood fashions. Sonja Henie, on her annual jaunt to Oslo, really splurged on a dress of the finest white silk net—made with a simple square neckline and puffed sleeves but its yard-wide skirt shirred onto cordius of apple-green silk with a deep fitted waistline of the green. She'll probably bring back some new Norwegian styles—she was a full year ahead with Tyrolean embroidered-suspender frocks.

Brown-eyed, yellow-haired Mary Healy, going back to New Orleans for the premiere of "Second Fiddle" took an armful of photos, in anticipation of boyfriend's demands, and an evening frock calculated to make them remember her on her return from Hollywood. It's tobacco brown net with a swirling skirt and its bodice is printed in brown, white and red. To wear with it, she chose a white fox bolero.

A new jacket is one designed by Edith Head for Oss Massen to wear in "Are Husbands Necessary?" But another Paramount actress, Patricia Morison, grieved so with envy at not being able to wear it—as a Canadian trapper's wife in "Untamed" she goes in for parkas—that Miss Head is making her a duplicate. The jacket is sewn solidly with small white balls, the kind that bob on window curtain fringe, and has a wide, flat back bow like a matador's jacket with its wide, square shoulders. Its dress is white with a set-in belt of black, widening to a diamond in front to slim the waistline.

School Funds Found Periled By Old Age Aid

SAN FRANCISCO. (UP)—Old-age pensions are sapping the funds necessary for education, with the result that for the first time in the history of civilization old people are lined up against the youngsters, Dr. George Willard Frasier, president of Colorado State College, told the National Education Association here.

"Education is suffering in the conflict between the old and the young; between grandfather and grandson," he said.

"Unless some sharp turns are taken now, the generation just entering school will be deprived of an adequate education because there isn't enough money to pay old-age pensions comparable to the average wage in a state, provide for relief, social security and unemployment, and have anything left for adequate education for the children."

Trend Noted In 1938

Dr. Frasier declared that if the actions of state legislatures during 1938 are to be taken as indicating the present and future trend, education faces difficult times.

"Michigan cut state aid for public schools $9,000,000," he said. "New York likewise cut; Colorado took 65 per cent of the money that belonged to the public schools which came from an income tax and turned it over to the general fund. Many Pennsylvania schools haven't paid their teachers for months."

"The campaign in the fall of 1938 in many states saw the major political parties vying with each other in their promises to the aged. But we look in vain for any promise to the coming generation for better health or recreation or more adequate education."

World "Money-Minded"

Dr. Frasier declared that the political aspects of the problem are only a manifestation of a new trend that seems to be worldwide, and that the public today is facing a world that has gone money-minded, conservative and militaristic.

"Most current problems now," he said, "are economic and that the economic phase of existence has, as a consequence, permeated youth."

"Too many of them as a consequence have lost their daring, their courage to pioneer and the excitement of exploring a new life. Most of them would gladly change the chance for adventurous living for security and a routine job."

"Education is suffering in the great economic conflicts of the day, particularly between youth and age, between the haves and the have-nots, between those who love democracy and see the need of universal free education and those who are Fascists at heart."

Ohio Has Lost Two Fugitives

MARYSVILLE, O. (UP)—The escape of Velma West, 33-year-old hammer slayer, from the Marysville reformatory compares with that of Mabel Champion, the "sphinx woman" who escaped in 1925.

Mabel Champion was a slayer and she escaped by obtaining keys to the prison doors. She walked away from Marysville on March 25, 1925, and nothing has been heard of her since.

The soft-spoken, good-looking woman boasted that she never would serve her 20 years for manslaughter. She fatally shot Edward O'Connell, a carnival promoter with whom her husband, Ausley, had a fight on July 26, 1922.

Her case was carried to the state supreme court but the conviction was sustained. While she waited the court's decision in Cuyahoga county jail, Mrs. Champion's husband went to California where he was hanged for the murder of a man in a dice game.

In her escape from Marysville the "sphinx woman" helped herself to the night warden's clothing, unlocked the main door and escaped. It was never learned whether she had outside aid.

All clues checked by police in the last 14 years have led nowhere. No trace of Mabel Champion has ever been found.

Mrs. West, who slipped to freedom June 19, was serving a life term for beating her husband to death in 1923 at their cottage near Perry, O.

After being struck by her husband during an argument, she crushed his skull with a claw hammer and the leg of a table. She then went to a bridge party. The following day she went Christmas shopping, even buying gifts for her husband.

Mrs. West had been a model prisoner prior to her escape.

Texas Tax Laws Are Said Badly Outworn

AUSTIN. — Texas tax laws are outworn, unenforceable and generally result in about a 50 per cent leakage of collectable tax money from harassed city treasurers, Dr. Stuart A. MacCorkle, municipal research director at The University of Texas declared today.

Writing to the current issue of "National Municipal Review," official publication of National Municipal League, Dr. MacCorkle called for revision of state tax laws along enforceable lines. He also asked substitution of a single assessment for the many "varying competent applications," and provision of a central agency, "studied with experts to advise, supervise and exert pressure on local tax officials, lax in their duties."

"There is little doubt that, were the legally exemptibles and the illegally exempted properties added, in most Texas cities, the resulting total would indicate an absence of 50 per cent or more of the proportion on the tax rolls," Dr. MacCorkle declared.

His survey of tax exemption practices covered a field of more than 100 Texas cities.

Reasons for the present "chaotic" system of tax collection, he laid to:

1. Lack of knowledge or understanding of the tax laws by local officials.
2. Lack of conformity in tax laws over the state and existence of conditions which make it expedient not to conform to the law.
3. Pressure groups.

The appearance of federal property, such as the RFC and HOLC, the inability to determine where public service leaves off and profit-making begins, and the lack of time to study conditions prevents the local tax officials from knowing how far they can go in collecting taxes, he explained.

He also cited the inability of Texas cities near the Louisiana border to collect taxes against industries for fear of losing them in the neighboring state.

Fishing Joke Rebounds With 8-lb. Black Bass

ELDORADO, Ill. (UP).—Mrs. Al Cagle sought to have some fun with her husband by baiting his hook with the tail fin of a small fish, but the joke was on her.

Cagle, fishing in a large pond, landed a black bass weighing 8 pounds, 7 1/4 ounces with the bait. The bass struck the hook as Cagle pulled the fishtail from the water. It was one of the largest ever caught in Southern Illinois.

Twenty-four states had blast furnaces in 192 of their counties a half century ago, when accessibility of ore deposits and fuel supplies was a primary factor in locating a blast furnace.

COWBOYS STOP LOSSES, TAKING AMARILLO 13 TO 9 IN LONG GAME

Heavy Scoring in 35-Minute First Inning a Feature

BY BILL COLLINS

Overtaking a six run lead in the first inning and then taking a lead which they never relinquished in the third, Sammy Hale's Midland Cowboys broke an eight game losing streak by hopping on the Amarillo Gold Sox 13 to 9 in a wild game of baseball played at City Park here last night, the victory featuring the "Booster Day" attraction which was staged to bolster club finances as well as the morale of the players.

The same two clubs will tangle in the second game of the current series at City Park this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

In a boisterous first inning, which, by the way, consumed 35 minutes of the two hours and ten minutes it took to play the game, each club scored six runs, due largely to wildness on the parts of Dean, Midland's new righthander, and Allen, Amarillo hurler. Dean walked the first two men up and then allowed three hits and five runs before being relieved by Hendricks who finished the game. Allen walked four men, heaved two wild pitches, allowed two hits, one of which was a home run by Everson with the bases loaded, and five runs before Conway took his place on the mound. Hendricks allowed 11 hits, struck out four and walked two while Conway allowed seven hits, struck out five, hit one batter and walked one.

Kerr of Midland and Bolton of Amarillo joined Everson in knocking home runs during the evening's entertainment.

The Cowboys were out nine to 14 by the visitors.

In that wild first inning, Holt and Attenburg walked, Sanders flew out to left, Nook singled scoring Holt, Bolton singled scoring Attenburg, Dunlap singled scoring Nook, and Hendricks took over the chunking chores. Nichols singled scoring Bolton, Hudson singled scoring Dunlap, Allen flew out to first, Holt singled scoring Nichols, Attenburg was out short to first, retiring the side—finally.

In Midland's half, Parma, Cox and Kerr walked, Hale singled scoring Parma, Everson poled one over the fence scoring, Cox, Kerr and Hale who were on bases, Naranjo flew out to second, Pezold walked, and it was then that Conday relieved Allen, Willoughby got on base on an error by short, Pezold going to third, Hendricks went to first on a shortstop error, Pezold was put out short to catcher, Parma went to first on the third error by short, Willoughby scoring to tie the score, Cox was out pitcher to first, for the third out.

Second inning, Amarillo, Sanders struck out, Nook walked, Bolton flew out to left, Dunlap struck out, Midland, Kerr was out at first, Hale flew out to short, Everson struck out.

Third inning: Amarillo, Nichols was out third to first, Hudson got to first on a third base error, Conway hit into a double play, Hale to Cox to Willoughby, Midland, Naranjo flew out to center, Pezold was safe on first on first base error, Willoughby doubled scoring Pezold, Hendricks was out, third to first, Parma flew out to left.

Fourth inning: Amarillo, Holt flew out to short, Attenburg flew out to third, Sanders was out short to first, Midland, Cox struck out, Kerr struck out, Hale doubled, Everson was safe on first base error, Hale going to third, Naranjo got on on second base error, Here scoring, Everson scored on a wild pitch, Pezold flew out to short.

Fifth inning: Amarillo, Nook grounded out to first, Holt walked, Naranjo over the fence, Dunlap doubled, Nichols was out short to first, Hudson flew out to short, Midland, Willoughby struck out, Hendricks was out short to first, Parma was out third to first.

Sixth inning: Amarillo, Conway was out short to first, Holt walked, Attenburg doubled sending Holt to third, Sanders singled scoring Holt, Attenburg being put out center to second on the play, Nook struck out, Midland, Cox struck out, Kerr knocked a homer, Hale singled, then stole second, Everson doubled scoring Hale, Everson stole third, Naranjo got to first on fielders' choice, Everson scoring, Naranjo stole second, Pezold flew out to left, Willoughby was out pitcher to first.

Seventh inning: Amarillo, Bolton was out third to first, a shortstop error put Dunlap on first, Nichols hit into a double play, Cox to Parma to Willoughby, retiring the side, Midland, Hendricks flew out to right, Parma was out third to first, Cox flew out to short.

Eighth inning: Amarillo, Hudson got on on fielders' choice, Attenburg being put out short to second, Sanders flew out to center, Midland, Kerr doubled, Hale singled scoring Kerr, Everson was hit by pitcher, Hale going to second, Naranjo got to first on fielders' choice, Hale being same at third, a double on play, Hudson to Attenburg to Sanders, retiring the side.

Ninth inning: Amarillo, Nook struck out, Bolton was safe at first on short stop error, Dunlap doubled sending Bolton to third, Nichols flew out to right scoring Bolton, Hudson singled sending Dunlap to third, Dorman, hitting for Conway, flew out to right.

Say, Can That Be Johnstown, 'Way Off Yonder?

To 40,000 sweltering spectators, the defeat of Johnstown at Arlington Park, Chicago, in the $47,600 Arlington Classic was the biggest upset of the 1939 racing season. Johnstown, winner of seven of his eight races this year and a 1-to-5 favorite, can't badly handle Challenor (first and Sun Lover (second) in the back stretch and finished a poor third as shown above.

French Coin of 1640 Found on Indian Sites
DANVILLE, N. Y. (U.P.)—Joseph J. Quinlan has unearthed a French copper coin dated 1640, believed among the earliest to be brought to America, at an Indian site near Honeover Falls.

Quinlan, who has 25,000 arrow point spearheads and other Indian relics as results of 23 years of excavating and trading, said the coin apparently had been drilled by Indians for ornamentation purposes.

Although the mint stamp was partially obliterated by age, the date was quite legible on the copper.

Young People Today Cannot Waltz, Says Famous Dance Expert

"The young people of today cannot waltz." Such is the declaration of Espinoza, world-famous maitre-d'hotel, who supervised the dances in the great waltz scene of "Good-bye, Mr. Chips." M-G-M's Englishman picturization of the James Hilton best-seller novel, starring Robert Donat, which opens Sunday at the Yucca Theatre.

Espinoza spent more than a week in selecting two hundred couples for the gay ballroom sequence of the picture in which Donat plays romantic love scenes with Greer Garson, now acting "discovery," who later becomes the "Mrs. Chips" of the story.

Casting a critical eye over the efforts of the many applicants to perform with its original grace the dance which belonged to the days of his youth, the noted maitre-d'hotel finally selected the requisite group who were to make their appearance before the cameras.

"Then ensued days of rehearsals in which an accompaniment beat the familiar rhythm while the couples whirled ceaselessly before the director until he was satisfied with the results.

"The majority of the present younger generation do not know how to waltz," asserted Espinoza, "and have to be taught the steps almost as though they were learning to walk all over again. The hardest task is in preventing them from continuously dancing forward and back. They forget that in the waltz, there is no 'forward and back.' It is all turning."

Where Avalanche Buried Students

Six members of mountain-climbing party, similar to six snow crossing 130-inch-deep snows in Mount Baker region of northwest Washington, lost their lives in half-mile long avalanche which thundered down the side of 10,750-foot peak. Searching party uncovered bodies of man and woman, hunted four other victims of worst disaster in history of Pacific northwest climbing.

The species, some naturalists asserted, was well on the way to extinction in Texas, where, generatively ago, it flourished.

Game conservationists for years had tried to get the legislature to prohibit wanton slaughter of the beast and the law finally passed across the season except from November 15 to January 1.

The brown pelican, which sports along the coast say does little if any harm but provides a picturesque addition to the scenery, was perpetually protected from sharpshooters.

Amateur Audubons in legislative halls declared the bird was subject to a lot of target practice by gun-toters and was being alarmingly thinned out. They contended its food consisted largely of rough fish unfit for human consumption.

The starlings, innocent-appearing little members of the feathered species, were introduced into this country on the northeastern coast in 1890.

Game experts say only six birds were set free and that this number increased to vast flocks, now spread all over the United States.

Rapidly increasing, the birds have grown into a menace, destroying grain, garden crops and fruits.

The conservationists' main complaint against the starling, however, is that it eats up useful birds' food and is starving out the songsters.

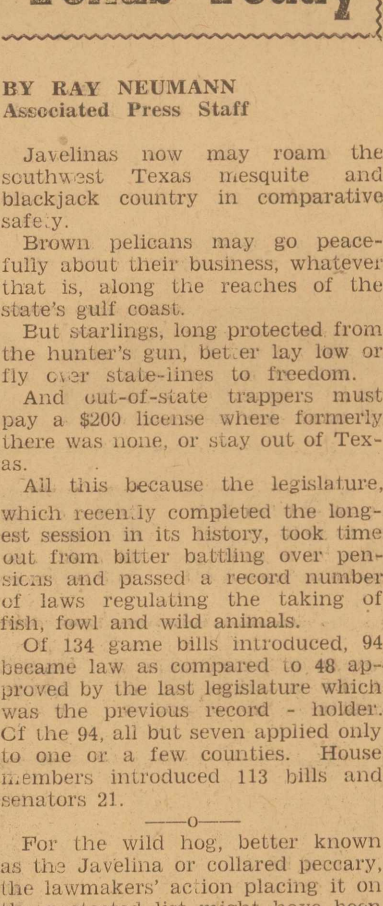

The lucrative trade of trapping fur-bearing animals in East Texas came under observation of the lawmakers because of complaints.

Texas trappers said Louisiana came into this state, bought 11 licenses, snared large numbers of animals and took the furs back to Louisiana.

To protect the Texas trapper, the legislature provided a $200 license for out-of-state hide hunters. Violation of the law carries a heavy penalty.

The legislature did not disturb general hunting or fishing laws, although a number of counties were placed under universal license regulations requiring all except residents or landowners to buy licenses.

Urged in Plan To Stifle War

NEW YORK (U.P.)—"Neo-neutrality"—whereby a worldwide bloc of nations would pledge severe measures against warring nations—is urged by Dr. Georg Cohn, chief of the International Law Section of the Danish Foreign Office.

Dr. Cohn said neo-neutrality took no sides but disqualified either a war of aggression or a war of defense. Under the plan mediation, arbitration and solidarity economic, political, legal or military pressure upon one or both warring states would be the weapons employed.

"Neo-neutrality sets itself the uncompromising task of fighting war in all its forms to the utmost and of working for peace in the interest of the outside states and in the interest of the belligerents themselves," Dr. Cohn said.

"Under this system the neutrals are determined not to fulfill the hope of the belligerents that they will take sides and enter the war. Paced with pleas of the warning parties traditional neutrality said: 'It is not certain that you will convince us.' Neo-neutrality says: 'It is certain that you will not convince us.'"

Dr. Cohn said the "theory of aggression" was defined so that certain powers saw it as imposing the duty of general participation in war when it accorded with their own political interest and as not doing so when it was contrary to their interests.

"Neo-neutrality deals with realities which can gradually acquire real value for the preservation of peace in the world," Dr. Cohn said, "while the aggression theory operates, through national and international channels, to create an agitation which is directed only to the unmediated masses so long as the true objectives have not been disclosed to them, and which, at least in the field of international relations, will be without effect when such objectives are in conflict with these economic and political interests of the state whose participation in war is requested."

Dr. Cohn said neo-neutrality "places no limitations or conditions" upon the type war it opposed and that it was "not concerned" with the question of aggression or defense but merely with the "guilt" of the warring nations.

Vast Differences Stressed
"The difference between traditional neutrality and neo-neutrality are thoroughgoing," Dr. Cohn said. "Traditional neutrality relied upon

Fort Snelling Soon to Have History Niche

ST PAUL, Minn. (U.P.)—The 119-year-old round tower of Fort Snelling, now being converted into a historic shrine, is to contain the bones of the first white child born in what is now Minnesota.

After lying 118 years under the sod of Fort Snelling's cemetery, infant daughter of the fort's early commander, Col. Josiah Snelling, will be removed to a niche in the tower's wall.

Around the crypt, fort authorities plan to place murals and exhibits tracing the fort's colorful past. The display will tell of purchase of the fort's site from the Sioux Indians for 50 gallons of whisky.

Also to be told by manuscripts will be story of the marriage in the fort of Dred Scott, the escaped Negro slave whose supreme court trial in the pre-Civil War period made legal history.

The tower, originally raised as a fortress to ward off Indian attacks, is the oldest building in Minnesota. It was erected in 1820.

Reds Hurt Worse

Ival Goodman watches the Reds with his left shoulder in a cast. The slugging outfielder dislocated the shoulder while attempting a diving catch of a low liner hit by George Selkirk of the Yankees in the All-Star game at Yankee Stadium. His being out for from 10 days to two weeks doesn't figure to do the Cincinnati club any good.

Over Half Million in Construction for Valley in Half Year

BROWNSVILLE (AP).—Construction in the Lower Rio Grande Valley the first six months of 1939, a survey shows, totaled $5,745,318, making it the banner building since 1930. The total exceeded by 40 per cent the corresponding period for 1938.
 Irrigation work led with a total of $1,275,207, the major part being spent on the Willacy county project, one of the largest irrigation undertakings under development in the world.
 The total for municipal buildings was $1,115,804 and for new homes, $828,124. McAllen led in home building. Improvements started at the ports of Brownsville and Port Isabel involved expenditure of $628,000.
 Construction work on various buildings by the Federal government totaled $60,311, the larger part being spent on migratory labor camps at Raymondville and Weslaco. Road construction started totals $450,422.
 Flood control work by the International Boundary Commission with J. L. Lytel of San Benito as project engineer, amounted to $406,836.
 Value of construction and remodeling of store, office, filling station and theater buildings in the Valley for the year amounted to $35,400.
 A total of $206,711 is being spent on tourist construction in various towns, including $123,611 on construction and remodeling of hotels, $67,100 on new apartment buildings and duplexes and $16,000 on tourist courts.
 Work on schools in the various towns of the Valley amounted to $33,843 and church construction totaled $39,250.
 Value of new and reconditioned buildings to be used for the cotton industry in the Valley to date was $20,000. Approximately $14,000 was spent on the construction of warehouses, $11,250 on packing plants and $5,000 on remodeling of processing plants.

Body of Boy Scout Recovered from Lake

SWEETWATER, July 27. (AP)—The body of Fred Buhler, 18-year-old New Orleans resident knocked accidentally off a sailboat into Lake Sweetwater yesterday, was recovered late Wednesday.
 Grappling hooks brought the body to the surface 26 hours after a boom swung against Buhler and toppled him, apparently unconscious into the water, 60 feet deep at that point.

Seek to Organize Senior Scout Unit

Plans for the organization of a Senior Scout unit in Midland will be discussed at a meeting of prospective members at the Boy Scout hall here Friday afternoon at two o'clock, all Scouts or former Scouts over 15 years of age being cordially invited and urged to attend.
 Jack Penrose, field executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, who is organizing the senior scout troop will attend the session. Wallace Wimberly will be in charge of the meeting. Scouts or former scouts who are over 15 years of age are eligible for membership in the senior scouts.

Highway Commission Member Visits Here

The Hon. Harry Hines, accompanied by his secretary, Tom Payne, spent last night and part of this morning here, en route back to their Dallas offices after a trip to towns on the plains. Although not here on official business, Mr. Hines discussed highway plans with local members of the chamber of commerce highway committee.

Amendment to Crop Control Law Signed

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today an amendment to the crop control law providing that the cotton production goal shall not be less than 10,000,000 bales annually hereafter. Old provisions lifted the ten million bale minimum after this year.
 The story of an oil executive who has tooth powder sent regularly by plane half way around the world at a cost of $408 for a four-ounce package, was revealed by his wife, who lives at Brownsville.
 The oil man is A. J. Herruff, located at Babo, Dutch Guiana.
 A certain tooth power is sent to him to counteract the effect of jungle heat and water on his teeth. Mrs. Herruff explained. Only small amounts are sent, since a large supply would be spoiled by the tropical heat and humidity.
 Mrs. Herruff sends the package by Braniff Airways to Dallas, then to San Francisco via American Air Lines, and from San Francisco to Hong-Kong via Pan American Airways.
 At Hong-Kong the tooth power is transferred to the Imperial Airways and carried to Batavia. There the package is shipped by boat to Babo, and presto, Mr. Herruff has his tooth powder.
 The trip takes 18 days.
 The bars are hollow inside and when sawed to the point where the compressed air inside is released, it establishes a contact with a signal system in the warden's office.

 KRLH Is Granted Full Time Permit
 Attorney for KRLH telegraphed from Washington last night that the Midland radio station had been granted full time permit, station officials said today. The Federal Communications Committee has not yet notified KRLH of the increase in time but officials said the attorney's report is authentic.
 No increase in power was granted, the station to continue on 100 watts but the scope of operations, due to increased hours is expected to be considerably enlarged, permitting broadcast of football and baseball games and other activities.
