

KANSAS JOINS THREE OTHER STATES WITH COMPLETE SHUTDOWN

Pole Trooper Is Slain by Danzig Guard

Peace Efforts Are Further Hindered By New Incident

DANZIG, Aug. 16 (AP)—The shooting of a Polish soldier by Danzig guards today clouded efforts of Carl Burckhardt, League of Nations high commissioner, to clarify the grave Danzig situation in a meeting with Danzig nazis and Polish officials.

The conference, participated in by the president of the Danzig senate and the Polish commissioner-general, was described in Polish circles as merely a "contact." It lasted for 30 minutes.

A Danzig communique said a Polish soldier was slain on Danzig soil soon after he answered a call to halt by pointing a rifle at Danzig guards.

The Polish version said the soldier was 16 yards from the frontier after losing his way in the darkness. The Danzig communique claimed he was 300 yards within Danzig territory.

WARSAW, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Polish Telegraph Agency reported that German authorities today closed all border traffic along that part of their Silesian frontier facing Polish district of Rybnik.

By the Associated Press

A silence, which many observers regarded as ominous, hung over the foreign offices of Europe last night and in Berlin there were indications almost immediate action might be forthcoming in the German-Polish dispute over Danzig.

Amid continued rumors of peace plans and exchanges of mysterious messages between capitals, trained observers thought they saw a parallel to the days preceding Munich. One of the most potent signs in Berlin was the silence in government quarters where there usually is much to be said until something definite is afoot.

Other signs noted in Berlin included: Massing of German soldiers all along the Polish frontier; Demands by the German press for "speedy" settlement of the Danzig question; warnings to England, France and Poland to be reasonable "before it is too late."

The unexpected return from Italy to Berlin yesterday of Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels; The hasty return to Rome from Salzburg, Germany, on Sunday of the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano;

Prohibiting of German fishermen to go to their fishing grounds in the Baltic;

Desertion of German beaches on the Baltic;

And the reported distribution of booklets to German soldiers telling them how to ask for essential needs in the Polish language.

Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, who arrived in Oslo for the inter-parliamentary congress, said "we are drifting toward war" and "if something is going to be done to prevent war, it must be done immediately." He said he feared there was danger of war by Sunday.

Odessa, Pecos and Grand Falls Sponsors Selected for Rodeo

Appointments of three more entries in the Cowgirl Sponsors' contest at the Midland Rodeo, September 2-4, were received yesterday by the chamber of commerce, the three entries bringing the total number of entries to date to nine.

Miss Betty Sue Knickerbocker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Knickerbocker of Odessa, will represent that city in the contest. Miss Knickerbocker, a sophomore in the Odessa high school, has had much experience in horse riding at summer camps. She will be mounted on Frank, paint horse owned by H. H. Beagle of Odessa.

Representing Grand Falls will be Miss Barbara Ann Dorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dorr Ward county ranch people. Miss Dorr is a graduate of Oklahoma University.

Mrs. Jewel Duncan of Pecos has been appointed by the Pecos Chamber of Commerce to represent that city. Mrs. Duncan having represented Pecos at last year's rodeo. She is one of the top-hand cowgirls of this section.

IN NEW YORK

John Hix, on a trip through the East with a group of life insurance representatives, sends a postcard from the New York World's Fair to tell Midland friends he had a grand time in the city.

President Sails to "Cool Off"

Washington weather, including the political kind, having been somewhat heated in recent days, President Roosevelt declared he was taking his 10-day cruise in the North Atlantic "to cool off." He is pictured above, waving good-bye from the bridge of his "cruise ship," the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa, as it steamed from New York.

Good Will Group to Advertise Rodeo in Two-Day Trip Next Week

Traveling in a 33-passenger Greyhound bus, the first of the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored good-will trips to various towns and cities over West Texas in the interest of publicizing the Midland Rodeo, September 2-4, will be made on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 22-23, more than 30 towns to be visited during the two-day jaunt, according to Jack Wilkinson, chairman of the rodeo committee of the Jaycee organization. Efforts were being made today to line up 33 passengers to make the trip.

Approximately 700 miles will be traveled during the two days, transportation cost to be $7.00 per person for the entire jaunt.

Leaving Midland at 7:00 o'clock next Tuesday morning, the group will visit Odessa, Monahans, Kermit, Wink, Pecos, Barstow, Pecos, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Rankin, Big Lake, Barnhart, Mertzon and San Angelo, a night stop to be made at San Angelo.

Leaving San Angelo at 7:00 o'clock the following morning, towns to be visited will include Miles, Rowena,

Contract Awarded For Construction Of Airport Runways

Announcement was made today by city officials that the San-Ore construction company of McPherson, Kans., has been awarded a contract for the construction of paved runways at the Midland airport.

Bids from contractors were opened yesterday by city officials and the McPherson company was low.

Officials of the company said equipment would be moved in next week and that work would start immediately. It is estimated that work will be completed within 30 to 45 days. A traveling mixer will be used and work will go on both day and night until completed.

Approval of the Civil Aeronautics Authority has been granted not only for the runways program but for additional quarters for enlisted men, contact lights and additional boundary lights. The field will be extended beyond its present limits, through purchase of an additional 80 acres of land.

Two paved runways will be built, each to be 150 feet wide and 4,500 feet long. Contact lights will be placed every 200 feet on each side to facilitate night landings.

The "instrument landing" runway will be built due north and south, while the other will be at a tangent of north 67 degrees, 30 minutes west. The north-south runway will take care of 90 percent of the landings and the two will take care of 95 percent of landings in wind above five miles an hour.

A radio control room and weather observation tower on top of the present administration building will be completed this week, the first job to be completed under the extensive remodeling program.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Mrs. M. S. Garrett underwent major surgery in a Midland hospital this morning.

Probe of Oil Companies to Be Initiated

Any Violations of Anti-Trust Laws to Be Probed by Mann

HOUSTON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Eight assistants to the attorney general appeared at the office of the Humble Oil company today to investigate the possibility of anti-trust law violations in Texas by the company.

The state officers came here quietly from Austin after Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler had requested Attorney General Mann to investigate the Humble's reported agreement with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann announced Tuesday he had launched an investigation to determine whether any oil companies were violating Texas' anti-trust laws.

Mann's announcement was made shortly after Jerry Sadler, a member of the State Railroad Commission, had charged the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey with such violation and had called on the attorney general to institute an investigation.

The attorney general stated the investigation had been under way for some time and two men from his department were now in Washington for the purpose.

"We have been working on this matter for some time," Mann said. "Two men have been in Washington for several days in this connection, and we are going on with the investigation. We had not announced anything about it previously because we wanted first to obtain the facts."

Will Enforce Laws

"If we find that any laws have been violated, we are, of course, going to enforce them. We are anxious to co-operate with the railroad commission at all times."

Sadler charged the Standard of New Jersey was operating in Texas under the subterfuge of a subsidiary, the Humble Oil Co., and submitted to the attorney general as evidence an alleged contract for sale of oil from the Humble to the Standard.

Years ago the Standard Oil Co. was ousted from doing business in Texas.

"The first thing we have got to do in Texas to clean up the oil business is to run the Standard Oil Co. out of the state again," Sadler declared in a statement.

He made public a telegram from W. S. Farish, president of the Standard of New Jersey, asserting that company did not operate in Texas and had never attempted to exercise any control over or to direct policy of the Humble.

Action Not Influenced

Recent action by Humble reducing crude oil prices was initiated by it and was based on its own judgment uninfluenced by Standard of New Jersey, the Farish telegram said.

"Upon posting new prices Humble advised us that it estimated more than a half million barrels of crude oil were moving to market daily in competition with Humble's purchases at prices below a parity with Humble's own 'posted prices,'" it said.

"Under the circumstances I am taking the liberty of sending copy of your wire and this reply to Humble Oil & Refining Co."

Sadler termed the telegram typical of the "gigantic Eastern corporations now milking Texas' economic lifeblood." It was an insult to the intelligence of Texans, he said.

"The Humble is a mere puppet and stooge for the Standard," Sadler said. "They can't operate in Texas under their own name, but they are doing it through the Humble. Why Mr. Farish himself was president of the Humble before becoming president of the Standard."

Farish's telegram replied to one from Sadler of Aug. 13 asking the Standard of New Jersey to either cut the retail price of gasoline five cents a gallon or to restore recent price cuts for crude made by Humble.

If Standard of New Jersey did not do one or the other, Sadler declared, it would be guilty of attempting to rule or ruin the oil industry, run independents out of business, deprive the state of money to care for the aged, blind and dependent, deplete Texas oil reserves to the benefit of Wall Street and bring on federal control of the oil business.

SPEAKS AT BIG SPRING

Rev. H. D. Bruce, Midland Baptist pastor, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Baptist church at Big Spring Monday evening. He discussed some of the problems of a pastor. T. S. Cole and Eddie Conner of Midland were also present for the meeting.

400 Masons, Guests Attend Barbecue at Park Tuesday Night

BY FRANK GARDNER

Approximately 400 Masons and guests of Midland and surrounding towns attended a barbecue at Cloverdale park Tuesday evening, hearing an inspiring address by the Hon. Lee Lockwood of Waco, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

The outing was one of a series being held in various Masonic districts of the state.

Visitors included Mrs. Lockwood and their two daughters, Ann and Maurine; J. Wiley Taylor from the Big Lake district, Herbert True from the Odessa district, approximately 25 from district 80 around Big Spring, 40 from the 82nd district around Odessa, a half dozen from Pecos, 25 from various sections of the country and the remainder from district 81 in which Midland is Midland is located.

The efficient crew of food servers, members of the Midland lodge, quickly took care of the large crowd, having three lines in motion at one time past the food tables. A photograph of the assembly was made just before dusk.

Mayor M. C. Ulmer, in a short speech of welcome, introduced Mr. Lockwood. The grand master decried the conditions in some foreign countries at present, expressing gratitude that America thus far has been spared such situations. He pleaded with Masons and their families to preserve the spirit of true democracy for the preservation of liberty such as Americans have long enjoyed.

He said he was anxious for views of Masons to know more about the manner in which it was served. On the committee were: C. F. Cowden, W. E. Whitson, Horace Newton, R. L. Stewart, Geo. Lewis, Stanton.

Cedar Lake Discovery Remains Shut Down With Drillpipe Still in Hole

BY FRANK GARDNER

Northeastern Gaines' prospective pool opener, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Jeanette B. Rayner, on the east edge of Cedar Lake, today remained shut down for orders with drillpipe hanging 1,440 feet off bottom. It is reliably reported that there is several inches of oil in the collar of the well.

According to unconfirmed reports from the field, No. 1 Rayner encountered showing of gas at 4,648 feet and cored pay lime from 4,650-99, total depth, with soft section logged from 4,676-99. It apparently still was in pay at 4,699.

Drillstem test then was made from 4,651-99. Although drillpipe was on bottom for three hours and seven minutes, it is understood that testing tool was open only for 18 minutes. Top of the column of oil appeared when 40 stands (approximately 3,600 feet) of drillpipe had been pulled, and operators immediately re-ran 24 stands without pulling the balance of the drillpipe to determine if the fluid was all oil. However, it is the consensus of opinion of those interested in the outcome of the well that in all likelihood No. 1 Rayner is a commercial producer.

Future plans of operator have not been announced, although it is probable that a test through tubing will be the next step. The well has been drilled "tight", and no information other than total depth has been released by owner.

Location of the Cedar Lake discovery is 560 feet west of the southwest corner of section 3 block C-30, public school land.

Reeves Delaware Test
Forest Development Corporation No. 1 I. E. Scott, Reeves county Delaware test, this morning was reported drilling with rotary below 4,000 feet in lime and anhydrite. It had changed over to rotary from cable tools at total depth of 3,971 feet when 1,500 feet of water encountered from 3,950-55 impeded

Long Studies Closing Order For Louisiana

Oklahoma, New Mexico Follow Texas Lead in Fighting Price Slush

TOPEKA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Kansas today joined Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico in closing general oil production as a retaliatory measure against lower crude prices.

The corporation commission ordered Kansas' 19,268 wells throttled at noon for 15 days.

Louisiana was also considering a shutdown. Governor Long announced he had under consideration a ten-day closing order. He said if

AUSTIN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Harry Weiss, president of the Humble Oil company, at a railroad commission hearing today said the Humble reduced crude prices "very reluctantly."

He said he recommended any "sincere" legal effort to correct the situation that made the reductions necessary." He denied the cuts were dictated by Wall Street.

The remarks were made on a hearing of Humble's application for an increase in allowable in the East Texas field.

such an order were not issued Louisiana's September allowable might be cut 50,000 barrels daily.

Oklahoma officials reported a shutdown in that state that appeared 100 percent effective.

Almost simultaneously with the history - making compact session came word from Texas that Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler charged Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey was operating in Texas in violation of anti-trust laws. He asked Attorney General Gerald C. Mann to investigate.

Price of crude oil cracked last Thursday, when the Sinclair-Prairie company announced a general 20-cent per barrel cut. Some smaller companies followed, and the whole price structure tottered when Humble Oil and Refining Co. reduced prices in Texas.

The Oklahoma shutdown order, signed quickly after the compact meeting, became effective at 7 a. m. today. It applies to all oil wells, both stripper and produced, but excepts natural gas wells and wells producing both oil and gas where the gas is marketed to utility companies.

The Oklahoma order will affect about 55,800 wells, producing 435,000 barrels daily. Only some 2,200 wells in New Mexico will be affected.

The oil compact, as such, took no direct part in the shutdown. After a two-hour executive session of compact representatives with state regulatory commissioners and representatives of state governors, Col. E. O. Thompson of Texas, compact commission chairman, summoned reporters and announced:

"Each state will handle its own particular problem in its own particular way, subject only to the laws of that particular sovereign state."

"Then in what some observers took to be a thrust against federal control of the oil industry, he added:

"We reiterate that state sovereignty should not and will not permit encroachment upon its exclusive police power."

Tension increased as Thompson called a roll of oil state representatives for a statement of their position. Red-haired Leon C. Phillips, Oklahoma's governor, swiftly announced a shutdown for this state "to see if we can protect our natural resources against any group trying to put Oklahoma in a squeeze play."

Michigan will "take whatever action is necessary," P. G. Hoffmaster, state director of conservation, predicted, but asserted he could not say whether that action would be a complete shutdown.

Guy E. McCaughey, representing Illinois, said that state was "deeply sympathetic" with the problem and would give it "keen understanding and study."

Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana telegraphed "you can count on us to cooperate in every reasonable way" even to taking a reasonable cut.

Thompson pointed out that states represented at the conference produced 77.44 percent of the nation's oil.

50,000 to One

Judge Joseph Sabath of Chicago recently celebrated the 51st anniversary of the day when, at 18, he eloped and married the lady who is still his wife.

Judge Sabath's usual task is the hearing of divorce cases. He has granted, he estimates, in a long career on the bench, 50,000 divorces.

You would think that such a protracted procession of marital woes would tend to sour a man on matrimony. But not Judge Sabath. "My wife and I are still on our honeymoon," said the judge on the 51st anniversary of his own wedding, a day on which, by the way, he had 51 divorce cases on his call.

It might be a good idea for Judge Sabath to bring Mrs. Sabath to court with him, and allow her to sit on the bench by his side, in the hope that some of the divorce-seekers would see in them a living lesson in life and how to live it; to see that in spite of all the stresses and strains of modern life, it can be lived successfully in double harness.

Pressure Is Pressure

The Department of Agriculture officials who circularized their employes for contributions for a fund to build a Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park have done a bad thing.

No one can doubt that pressure on a federal employe to subscribe to a fund of this kind is greater than pressure on an ordinary citizen not so employed. It is a subtle pressure, all too much like the pressure placed on private employes who are urged by the boss to vote for Joe Blow lest the plant close down next week.

Pressure is pressure, and this kind of thing is to be discouraged both in government and private employ. If it is a good thing to build by private subscription such a library at Hyde Park, then it should be possible to raise the money from people who simply as citizens are interested in seeing it done. People dependent on the government for their pay-check are too vulnerable to this sort of appeal; it is a bad precedent, and ought to be halted at the outset.

Gas Masks--In Color

It is hard for us in the United States to get accustomed to the gas mask idea. In Europe they have become a commonplace of everyday life, and only the most rugged of individualists refuse to give them a place in the background of every daily activity.

But to make them acceptable even to very young babies, the British Home Office is now about to turn them out "in attractive colors." Mothers are being urged to let baby play with them so they will not be afraid if the time comes when they are donned in a desperate hurry while the sirens scream.

A few years ago it was a cartoonist's joke to picture a European baby cutting its teeth on a Mill's bomb. Today baby is encouraged to play with his gas mask. Yesterday's sardonic jest has become today's grim reality.

whirling at sixty perilous miles an hour around the kinked and snaky twists of mountain roads like some demoniac buy racing along the spine of a coiled rattler.

If I am one to say, you probably have primed yourself for this senseless speeding on that most dangerous of all mixed tipples—the fearsome combination of alcohol and gasoline. Or perhaps, like the blind mule of the folklore tale, you just naturally don't care a dern. One thing is plain: Despite the high percentage of mortality your breed is on the increase.

So, again, echoing the question which the coroner must frequently ask at the inquest, why the hurry, Sonny Boy?

It can't be that anybody wants you back at the place where, you've been or that anybody else will be glad to see you at the place where you're going.

Really now, Sonny Boy, what is all the hurry about?

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—If you like to dip into the future and look for portents and marvels, you ought to devote a little speculative attention to the Department of Agriculture's famous food stamp plan.

Here may be the biggest thing that the New Deal has turned loose yet. It is just beginning to pick up steam, and it has all the earmarks of being a self-accelerator. The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, which invented it, may yet find itself in the position of a man who has a bear by the tail.

Consider, for instance, the figures from Rochester, N. Y., where the plan got its first tryout. They apparently prove that somehow this plan creates an extra dollar's worth of food-buying power — out of thin air, maybe—for every government dollar that is put into it.

UP GOES SALES RECORD

Total grocery sales in the Rochester stores patronized by the stamp users rose 12 per cent during the period under study — yet the blue stamps, in themselves only accounted for half of that increase.

Evidently, the mere fact that the plan was in operation somehow created an increased demand for foodstuffs.

Now go on from there: The 8000-odd Rochester relief families which have been using the stamps like the idea — as why wouldn't they, when it adds 50 per cent to their buying power? The grocers like it, as they would naturally like anything that hikes business by 12 per cent.

The farmers like it, because — apparently on the basis of these early figures — it does twice as much to stimulate the buying of food as did the old direct-sales-and-distribution system of disposing of farm surpluses. And the Rochester merchants who have been getting this business have been spending more money on advertising, on store fixtures, and the like.

The FSCC is beginning to get a rise out of the bankers. The banks handle the food stamps, and draw cards in the plan that way; furthermore, they are likely to react favorably to anything which stimulates business among their commercial depositors. And the FSCC is beginning to get inquiries from bankers asking how about all of this, anything, and is it as good as it looks?

Now a scheme which does all of these things is easy to start—and, once started, is likely to be mortally hard to stop.

NO EXPERIMENT NOW

The food stamp plan was an experiment three months ago. Now it is getting out of the experimental stage and being readied for 50 or 100 cities. You are hardly being overly-imaginative if you begin figuring that sooner or later it might be expanded to apply to all of the relievers in the United States.

But that is only the half of it. About the first of September, FSCC is starting a new experiment. It is going to make the blue stamps available to people in the low-income brackets who are not on relief at all. This is due to happen in Shawnee, Okla., and that experiment will be about as much worth watching as anything

Approval of 14 WPA Projects in the State Is Announced

SAN ANTONIO.—Approval of 14 projects involving expenditures of $366,376 in Work Projects Administration funds and $133,340 supplied by local governmental agencies, was announced today by Sternes S. Tucker, deputy state administrator.

Projects approved, with amount of WPA funds, sponsor's funds, and number of workers to be employed, follow:

BOWIE COUNTY

COUNTY.—Improve a two-mile connecting road between two state highways near Moran by clearing and grubbing and constructing culverts, drainage structures, and rock retards; Federal funds, $13,596; that will happen in the United States this summer.

Officials of the FSCC are frank to say that they don't know where the whole business is going. Will it eventually take in all the relievers, plus all the low-income wage earners? If so, how many hundreds of millions will it cost, and where will the money come from? They don't know and they won't even try to guess.

The one obvious fact is that they have hold of something big, which might easily turn out to be many, many times bigger than anyone dreamed when the experiment was first started.

sponsor's funds, $4,928; workers, 50.

HOPKINS COUNTY

Texas Today

BY RAY NEUMANN
Associated Press Staff

The belief by some that Texas, when it comes to liquor, is more than half dry has been exploded by the Liquor Control Board.

Research men on the board's staff, after diligent checking of figures, assert the state is two-thirds wet. "Alcoholic beverages," they say, "are legal in some form in areas where 66.63 per cent of the people live."

The statisticians say Texas may or may not be half dry in actual geographic area. They don't know. Their calculations were halted when, despite efforts, they could find no figures on the geographical size of precincts, although areas of counties were readily available.

The staff men declare wet districts contain homes of 3,880,912 persons by census figures of 1930 which give Texas a total population of 5,824,715.

They admit the population has grown but they point out the growth in wet areas normally would be the same as dry areas.

If anything, they argue, the population shift has been from rural to urban areas and urban areas are the ones which are preponderantly wet.

In counties where distilled spirits are legalized, 14 per cent beverages (wine and ale) and 4 per cent beer automatically become legal also. It is not possible for a county as a whole to legalize distilled spirits and prohibit 14 per cent beverages and beer.

Beer, therefore, is legal in all territory described as wet. Distilled spirits are legal where 3,021,755 or approximately 51.88 per cent of the state's inhabitants live. Beer only is legal in areas where 815,404 or approximately 14 per cent of the people reside. Fourteen per cent beverages are legal in territory inhabited by 43,653 or approximately 75 per cent of the people.

This leaves 1,943,903 or approximately 33.37 per cent of the people live in dry areas.

The total dry area in Texas includes the following component parts:

112 entire counties with a population of 1,845,173.

178 towns and communities, in 58 counties partly wet for distilled spirits, with a population of 50,707.

159 towns and communities, in counties partly wet for beer, with a population of 45,199.

6 towns and communities, in two counties partially wet for 14 per cent beverages, with a population of 2,824.

Of Texas' 254 counties, 39 are totally wet for distilled spirits, 16 totally wet for beer only, and one totally wet for 14 per cent beverages.

Because the law permits lesser subdivisions than counties to vote on alcoholic beverages, there are 63 towns in the 58 counties partly wet for distilled spirits which permit the sale of beer only, and four towns in this same group of counties which permit the sale of 14 per cent beverages.

Before the board had completed its research on dry territory, estimates had placed its extent as high as 68 per cent in some instances.

Even distilled spirits institute, fact-finding agency at Washington, D. C., listed Texas among states with populations 50 to 75 per cent dry.

Board employees said prohibitionists added to their territory an entire county and one precinct each in three others in elections in May of this year, but these additions were insufficient to affect the status materially.

Texas, they say, has been fairly consistent in maintaining its standing of two-thirds wet and one-third dry since repeal.

Statisticians said per capita consumption of beer and wine both showed gains in June, but distilled spirits declined slightly, compared with the same month a year ago.

Beer consumption was 838 gallons per capita against 790 in June, 1938, and wine was up to .019 from .012 a year ago. Liquor fell off two points from .033 in June a year ago to .031.

Galloneage reports from June Beer 5,123,305; wine 116,204, 204, and liquor 188,361.

The figures were based on population estimates and tax stamp sales.

SHELTON "MAKES" COWBOY CLUB BY DEFEATING OILERS BY 4-2

Series Final to Be Played Tonight By the Two Teams

Manager Sammy Hale unveiled a new hurler—"Lefty" Shelton of McCamey to Midland baseball fans last night and they unanimously declared today he was the lone thing lacking in making the Cowboys a permanent threat after he had come through with a 4-2 win over the Pampa Oilers.

Baseball fans tonight will probably get to see Raines on the mound for Midland and Dilbeck, a lefthander, on the mound for the Pampa Oilers, it was announced this morning. Dilbeck scored a victory over the Cowboys here last week. Raines also recorded a victory over the Oilers to make tonight's game look like another prospective pitchers' battle.

The Oilers, hardest hitting club in the league, got only three hits and one of them should have been an easy out. Not only did Shelton keep the Oilers practically hitless, he struck out nine of them in the process. He tired toward the last but had enough stuff left to retire the Oilers scoreless after he had walked the first man up.

Pitcher Hallbourg of the Oilers was just as good as Shelton after the first inning. The Cowboys got to him for four runs in the first inning but after that time could never get more than one man on base in one frame.

Shelton got into trouble in the first inning through no fault of his own. Cox struck out Saporito's grounded to start the game and after Jordan hit to Hale, Cox failed to cover second in time to get Saporito on a double play attempt, both runners pulling up safe. Seitz and Nell then struck out but Summers hit a fly ball which fell on two base hit when Petzold and Cox ran together, Saporito scoring. Cox injured a leg when Petzold and Cox ran together, Saporito scoring. Cox injured a leg in the collision but remained in the game for the rest of the night. Shelton then struck out Malvica to end the threat.

The Cowboys came back with a bang in their half, ringing up three hits and four runs to sew up the win. After Petzold struck out, Cox got a single into left, Kerr walked and both scored when Hale's single into center got away from Seitz on a bad hop. Rube Naranjo then hit a long homer over the left field wall to score Hale ahead of him and provide the winning margin for Shelton.

Shelton walked Phillips to start the second but struck out Saporito and retired Hallbourg and Saporito on fly balls to retire the side. Bailey was called out by umpire Howell on strikes and voiced such a vehement protest that he was ejected from the game and the park by the arbiter.

Summers started off the fourth for the visitors by hitting a home run over the left center field wall to account for the final score for Pampa. Shelton followed up the Summers homer by striking out Malvica and Beers and taking Phillips' liner for the other out.

The Cowboys could get only four men on base after the first inning and a double play erased one of the runners. Hale had a single in the third and another in the sixth but was forced at second both times by Eyerson. Cox doubled in the fifth and Willoughby singled in the seventh for the only other threats made by the Cowboys.

ALL STAR GAME ADDED WORRY TO LAYDEN

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

EVANSTOWN. — Elmer Layden, the world champion worrier, has started earlier than usual.

On top of a suicidal Notre Dame schedule—Purdue, Georgia Tech, Southern Methodist, Navy in Cleveland, Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh, Army, Iowa at Iowa City, Northwestern and Southern California on successive Saturdays, the people made South Bend's famous Thin Man their choice to coach the College All-Stars against the champion New York professional Giants at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, Aug. 30.

sixth when Seitz walked and Malvica singled but could not push a man around. In the eighth, Jordan walked but Seitz hit into a double play to nullify any scoring chance. The Oiler lead off hitter again walked in the ninth but he never advanced past first.

Manager Hale of the Cowboys accounted for three of the hits off Hallbourg and drove in two of the runs. Naranjo's homer was good for the other two tallies. Cox of the Cowboys and Summers of the Oilers each contributed two hits.

Before tiring in the closing frames, Shelton exhibited a burning fast ball and fast breaking curve that compares favorably with any seen in the league this year.

Following tonight's game, the Cowboys will leave town for eight games in six days. The Cowboys will play Pampa for the next two nights, one game Saturday night and a doubleheader Sunday in Clovis, three games in Amarillo Monday and Tuesday, then return home for six days games against Clovis, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Bob MacLeod and Bill Osmanski. But it is the linemen who catch Layden's eye, especially the tackles, the 240-pound I. B. Hale of Texas Christian and the six-foot four-inch Don Siegel of Michigan.

"I could use those two boys at school this fall," remarks the Thin Man, whose biggest headache is the loss of six of his seven first-string linemen . . . Earl Brown, Ed Behor, Capt. Jim McGoldrick, Ed Longhi, Augie Bossu and Paul Kell.

KELLEY ONLY FIRST-STRING LINEMAN BACK FOR MORE

Only Captain-elect Johnny Kelly of 1938's first-flight Irish forwards remains.

"But we still have Johnny O'Brien to substitute for Johnny Kelly," beams Layden. "Who asked what became of the Irish of Notre Dame?"

There are the reserves of last autumn, of course, Bud Kerr, Geo. Rassas and Johnny O'Brien, ends;

Tom Gallagher and Tad Harvey, tackles; Joe DeFranco, Johnny Gubanich, Pete Kelley and Chuck Riffle, guards, and Johnny McIntyre and Al Mooney, centers, and several sophomores are coming along, but a team can't lose six of seven linemen who proved best under fire and be quite the same.

New names to be watched at Notre Dame are Petchell, Paul Lillis, Jim Brutz, Johnny Maddock, Hercules Berocis, Ed Sullivan, Hargrave, Steve Bearus, Bernie Crimmins, Jim Ford and Cliff Brosey.

Petchell is an end from Minnesota, Lillis a tackle from New Rochelle, N. Y., Brutz a tackle from Ohio, Maddock a guard from California, Berocis a guard from Hammond, Ind., Sullivan a guard from New York, and brother of Joe, who died as captain-elect several years ago, Hargrave a guard from Evansville, Ind., Bearus a back from South Bend, Crimmins a back from Louisville, Ford a center, and Brosey a tackle.

LAYDEN LIKELY TO SET NEW LOW IN HIS WEIGHT

Lawden will have use for these sophomores.

Notre Dame has only 20 days to get ready for Purdue and its 25 lettersmen. Then, following engagements with Georgia Tech, Southern Methodist and Navy, comes a corking Carnegie Tech array that was great as a young team a year ago.

Army always is tough for Notre Dame and Iowa has Nile Kinnick and an ambitious new coach, Dr. Eddie Anderson.

Bill DeCorrevont is only one of a fine band of sophomores augmenting a well-balanced Northwestern aggregation.

Southern California comes to South Bend with Ambling Amby Schindler al in one piece and Granby Lansdel and all the rest.

Elmer Layden weighs 160 at the start of a season . . . 145 at its close, but he's likely to establish a new low by Nov. 25.

Walter Morris Gives Nod to Present Day Baseball Players for Getting Things Easy

By Harold V. Ratliff

DALLAS (AP)—J. Walter Morris looked down baseball's glory road and gave the nod to present day players when it came to getting the breaks.

Rounding out 40 years in which he has made his name synonymous with baseball, this sharp-eyed, pudgy man brought a glimpse of the Texas League when the players took their fighting where they found it, off or on the field.

"Why, the first team I played on," he said, "carried only eleven players and three of them were pitchers. That meant we all played every day and the pitchers had to take their turn at least every third day. And that team—it was Corsicana—set a world record with 27 straight wins."

"A training camp" He snorted. "No. We reported ten days before the season opened and got in a lot of hard work, and when they used one of us to the big leagues $500 to $1,000 was top money."

Morris has been a player, manager, club owner and league president, and today is business manager of the Shreveport Sports. Once, as league president, he had to step in and umpire a game because the regular umpires were scared to come to the field.

It was in the days when Dallas and Fort Worth made every baseball game a personal matter, did their fighting when opportunity arose and had support from the fans.

"I was lucky," he grinned. "Paul Wachtel pitched a two-hitter and Fort Worth won 10-0. But I stand-der to think what might have happened had it been a 1-0 game. I probably am the only league president who ever had to pinch hit for an umpire."

Morris, who played in that famous game in 1902 when Corsicana defeated Texarkana 51-3 and Nig Clarke hit eight home runs in eight times at bat, started in baseball with the University of Texas.

It was at the turn of the century and he had the rest of the squad were suspended from athletics for a year for using an ineligible catcher under the name of a substitute.

That 1902 game probably was the only one in professional baseball where a pitcher was left in the box all the way although 50 runs were scored on him.

"A new owner of the Texarkana club sent his son down with the orders to Manager Cy Mulkey to let him pitch. Cy, who didn't like it at all, left the boy in and coming by us after each inning when we had slugged the cover off the ball he'd say: 'Papa said to let him pitch. He's pitching ain't he?'

Morris once sold himself to the St. Louis Cardinals for $1,000 and recalled ruefully that the deal eventually cost $500 from his own pocket.

It was in 1908 when he was with Savannah in the South Atlantic League. The next year the Cards sent him back to the minors and he wound up at Knoxville, also in the South Atlantic loop. Knoxville dropped out and he became a free agent, so he bought the Fort Worth club.

"Then, do you know, the Knoxville club assembled and claimed me and I had to pay $500 for my release. Out of the deal I lost $500 because the $1,000 from the Cardinals had gone to the Savannah club which I didn't own."

During his colorful career—and he was quite an infielder in his day—Morris was with Corsicana, San Antonio, Beaumont, Shreveport, Charleston, S. C., Savannah, St. Louis, Birmingham, Memphis, Knoxville, Fort Worth, Dallas and Tyler, was promotional director in the Southern Division of the Minor Leagues, president of the East Texas, Cotton States and Evangeline Leagues, and from 1915 through 1921 headed the Texas League.

"The game has been good to me," he said. "If I had all the money I've made out of baseball I would be setting pretty. But I sunk too much of it in lead mines and oil wells."

"And," he added, "If the World War had lasted 90 days more I'd have done all right with my lead

Tahoka Rodeo to Use Beutler Bros. Stock

TAHOKA, Aug. 16—The Old West will live again here next Thursday.

Morris had deserted baseball temporarily to become a partner in promotion of a lead and zinc mine for which he and associates paid $90,000.

They were selling one hand over fist and getting a good price for it when the armistice was signed.

"Shucks," he said, "They didn't even come and get the last orders. We lost about $30,000."

But his eyes were laughing. Maybe to him 40 years of baseball is worth more than $30,000.

and Friday, August 24 and 25, when the third annual Tahoka Round-Up is staged under direction of Lynn County citizens.

Cowboys, and milkmaids, soda jerkers and stenographers, businessmen and housekeepers are dressing up in cowboy and cowgirl regalia, and plans are complete for a big show.

Each day's program opens with speaking on the public square morning's by State Supt. L. A. Woods, Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler, Sen. G. H. Nelson, Representative Alvin Allison, and other notables.

At noon, each day will be a mile-long parade, led by Chief Baldwin Parker of Cacho, Okla., son of the famous Chief Quanah Parker and grandson of Cynthia Ann Parker, white girl kidnaped when a child and reared among the Indians. Parker will bring seven other Indians with him. Others in parade will be Tahoka high school band, 100 or more cowboys and cowgirls and their mounts, merchants' and lub's floats.

Rodeo performances will be afternoon and nights, with bucking stock and bulldogging steers from the famous Beutler Bros. Elk City, Okla., herd, which is being publicized in Middlewestern newspapers.

Other attractions include a carnival, square and modern dances, and band concerts.

Visitors are invited to bring their lunches, spread them on the shady lawn of City Park, and spend the day or both days.

"THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC" A Photo-serial in six chapters based on the SAMUEL GOLDWYN screenplay starring JASCHA HEIFETZ, with ANDREA LEEDS and JOEL McCREA CHAPTER 3

Frankie spends the next few days starving on the streets and earning a few pennies by shining shoes. He picks up a mongrel dog who becomes his mascot and the two wander aimlessly and pathetically, trying to find food and shelter. Their luck changes when Frankie's dog chases a cat into a brownstone house. Frankie follows and finds himself in the Lawson Music School for Children. He sees an orchestra of children playing under the guidance of Professor Lawson, an unusually kind and generous person. While the Professor is instructing one of the pupils, Frankie impulsively calls out the correct notes. The Professor is amazed at his marvelous ear and decides immediately to teach the child. He assures him that he needn't worry about money, because the school is primarily interested in talent. Frankie is thrilled and overjoyed. Here is a new, wonderful world. He is befriended by Ann, the Professor's daughter, her boy friend Peter, and Betty, a remarkable child songstress. But he also meets Willie, the youngster from whom he used to steal a weekly dime. Willie knows that Frankie's stepfather and the reform school authorities are after him, so, as the price of silence, he makes Frankie give up his one and only dime—which he had been hoarding for his supper.

When lessons are over, Frankie and his dog try to find lodging in a junkyard, but a policeman spies them and they are on the run again. They finally return to the school and Frankie confesses that he cannot go home. The Professor, sympathizing with the child, makes room for him in his own quarters. Forgetting that Frankie is only a youngster, he tells him of his wonderful dreams for the school and the children he is teaching.

Brazil Rubber May Serve U. S. 15 Years Hence

WASHINGTON (UP).—Brazil, through intelligent and progressive agricultural methods, will be able in the future to supply an increasing share of the United States $800,000,000-a-year tropical plant needs, Dr. Walter T. Swingle, government plant specialist, predicts. In his first interview since his return from Brazil, where he spent three months studying plant culture, the agriculture department specialist said that Brazil eventually will be able to ship to the world's markets important quantities of such products as rubber, tung oil, soy beans and quinine. Dr. Swingle was lent to the Brazilian government by the department of agriculture. He expressed the opinion that the southern republic ultimately can fulfill its own needs for quinine and supply part of this country's demands as a result of the successful cultivation of the cinchona plants. Seeds and plants were shipped from the United States to Brazil last year and they are being grown with great success. Cheap Quinine Seen.

"I believe Brazil soon will be able to supply cheap quinine to agricultural workers throughout the country, as the Philippines government has been doing, and this take a big step in the fight against malaria," Dr. Swingle said. The scientist said the Brazilians knew little about growing cinchona when the plants were first shipped to them. Now, however, the country's scientists have gained such a knowledge of the plant and its cultivation that successful production appears assured. Dr. Swingle believes that Brazil, because it is sparsely populated, must utilize in all phases of tropical agriculture highly scientific methods to permit competition with the abundant cheap labor of many other tropical lands. He said Brazil already has reached a high degree of skill and efficiency in certain agricultural lines.

Dr. Swingle is highly optimistic over the outlook for Brazilian rubber cultivation. He believes Brazil, using the proper methods and assisted on technical details by the United States, will be able to supply a large part of this country's needs. Rubber Possibilities Great.

"With our help, Brazil should be able to produce a sizeable rubber supply within 10 or 15 years," the scientist asserted. "I believe Brazil certainly can produce rubber by modern scientific means that will enable her to compete successfully with the East." In the event of widespread disturbances in the East, Dr. Swingle pointed out, rubber supplied to the United States might be irregular, greatly diminished or possibly cut off altogether. Dr. Swingle said Brazil has made progress toward production of tung oil. The United States supplies only a small part of its own needs and has to purchase about $20,000,000 worth annually from China. Because of the hostilities there and the general world situation, there is no assurance that this source might not be suddenly interrupted.

Ten Years Needed. "In five years I think Brazil will be in production with this important product," Dr. Swingle said. "At the time she should be able to start exporting. In 10 years she could be supplying a good part of our demands." Brazil is planting oiticaca oil trees on a rather extensive scale, and they are rapidly nearing production. The United States already has greatly increased its purchases of this highly useful drying oil and the future prospects appear to be exceedingly bright.

Dr. Swingle said Brazil is just beginning to produce soy beans and commented that the increasing uses to which the beans are being put offers great possibilities to growers.

The specialist said he recommended that Brazil send a number of young agriculturalists to this country to study what is being done here. It is understood the government has accepted the suggestion.

lets should be the first consideration, McCarthy says, and he suggests half-filling the houses with carefully graded pullets. In addition to feeding green feed, use of m-ash and scratch grain in hoppers arranged in the laying pens is also recommended.

"Visit the pullets after dusk to make sure they are roosting instead of huddling on the floor," McCarthy advises. "It is very important to watch the body weight of pullets for the first three months because pullets come into production early and loss of weight will indicate fall molting," he said.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

This is the season of the year when, if we were really what our ancestors called foresighted, we'd sit down and with the electric fan cooling our fevered brow and a pitcher of ice water to lend us aid, we'd concentrate on the problems of woeen dresses and the advantages of fur-trimmed coats over furless ones in planning our winter wardrobe.

Alack-a-day! We must be by nature neither forehanded nor foresighted for we simply can't get enthused over such problems when afternoons are long and hot and lazy and evenings warm.

After all, why mend the roofs until the snow comes? Then's when the mending is needed. It's the same way with clothes.

Away with forever stumbling over the present because you're looking forward to the future! One day at a time is all we can muster energy to face—especially in this kind of weather.

—O—

We predict there'll be much to do about President Roosevelt's decision to move Thanksgiving forward one week this year. Already the inhabitants of Plymouth, Mass., are protesting vociferously and other wails may be expected soon.

Not that the date really matters. The thing that does matter is that there shall be, on some one day, a concerted display of thanksgiving by the people of the United States. That this display shall be rooted in sincerity and carried out without shaf or hypocrisy.

It seems to me nothing to rouse deep feeling over—whether or not the day shall be this Thursday or that in November. If the people protest too vigorously, the President would be wise to heed and let them carry on in the traditional manner.

If the people do not, as a whole, seem to care and if certain classes would be inconvenienced by the change in date, then changing the date is probably a kind deed. But, we repeat, the matter is not worth any deep feeling or discussion, pro or con.

—O—

We've just been reading that Hollywood pictures are now in the throes of a period of killings—that heroes, heroines, and bit players and extras are being killed off right and left—on celluloid, we mean. Just an example of pictures, along with literature and music, reflecting life, probably. Considering the troubles in the Orient, the Near East, and Europe, a good many million people are seeing death (and violent death at that) as a part of their daily life.

It does seem, however, that at least in the movies we might be privileged to see happiness.

Mexico City Trip Is Reviewed in Talk at Lions Club Luncheon

Attorney Hamilton McRae was guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon today, reviewing a recent trip taken to Mexico City.

McRae spoke of the differences of the Mexican and United States nationalities, pointing out that each year the Mexicans are doing more to model their country after the one to the north.

He spoke of the climatic changes that occur in driving from here to the Mexico capital, pointing out the fact that most tourists go there prepared for tropical weather only to find that the temperature is seldom more than 70 degrees at this time of the year.

Contrasting life of the Mexicans took up most of the time during the talk. The speaker told of driving past large Mexican homes that approximated a small town in size; within a quarter of a mile dozens of small mud and straw houses with thatched roofs. In Mexico City, he pointed out, owners of fine automobiles could be seen driving down the streets, only to be followed a moment later by freight carriers who managed large loads on their backs. He declared it was almost impossible to buy anything in the Mexican towns during two noon hours, all stores being closed up for the daily siesta.

He also spoke of the torrid campaign that is now being waged for president of the country, although an election will not be held until November, 1940.

McRae was introduced by Clint Myrick, in charge of today's program. Thirty six members and four guests were present. The meal was prepared by the Valley View Home Demonstration club.

Maestri Summned In Burford Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16. (AP)—Mayor Robert Maestri, former state conservation commissioner, was subpoenaed today by the federal government to appear in federal court in Dallas tomorrow as a witness in the Freeman Burford removal hearing.

Assistant Attorney General John Rogge also announced he would attend the hearing. Burford, Dallas oil man, is resisting removal to New Orleans to answer a charge of conspiracy to violate the Connally hot oil act.

Later in the day it was announced Rogge had changed his plans to have Maestri appear as a witness. The change was apparently made upon Maestri's request to view an open house he had arranged at city hall tomorrow to celebrate completion of his third year in office.

Midland Girls Return From West

Hoffer accompanied the two on the trip West but returned before the girls did. Miss Laney reported the Exposition to be about like the Dallas Centennial, with the latter fair perhaps slightly the better.

Greyhound Driver Awarded Gold Pin For Safety Record

Dallas-El Paso division operators of the Southwestern Greyhound Lines added more laurels to their enviable safe-driving records this month when operator W. A. Jameson of Dallas was awarded a sapphire-studded gold pin for four years of accident-free driving for the Greyhound company, and operators V. P. Farley of Dallas and Roy V. Benkin of El Paso were given pearl-bordered gold pins for operating Greyhound coaches two years without an accident.

In announcing the awards, E. F. Freeman, superintendent of the Dallas-El Paso division, stated that of the 43 operators driving Greyhound coaches in the division, 38 have earned awards for from one to eight years of accident-free driving.

Announcement of the safe driving awards also disclosed that the Dallas-El Paso division of the Greyhound line now holds third position in a national safety contest among bus lines, being conducted by the National Safety Council. The Dallas-El Paso division record for the first five months of the contest is one accident for every 116,920 miles of operation. National Safety Council rules define an "accident" as any incident in which a moving bus comes in contact with any object. According to Greyhound officials many of the company's "accidents" do not exceed $1.00 in property damage.
