

Jaycees Start Riding Tomorrow and You Had Better Be Able to Fool Tourists Into Thinking You're a Cowboy or Cowgirl

Anyone wandering the streets of Midland from tomorrow morning until after the rodeo is over, will be taking his own chances unless he is bedecked in cowboy regalia. For it's time to dress up for the rodeo and the "corral" is scheduled to go up in the morning. The much-dreaded Jaycees will be riding tomorrow and anyone who isn't dressed up is due to get toosed into the corral. Just what the penalty will be for those guilty has not yet been decided upon. But it will be severe enough to make the guilty one regret the fact he did not obey orders of the self-appointed officers. From now until the rodeo is over, the Jaycees will be running the town—with President Bill Holmes as "high sheriff." His decisions will be final, without recourse of appeal. He has already announced that persons appearing on the streets tomorrow without cowboy attire will be hauled in promptly—all in one piece if no resistance is shown. There has been a slight delay in construction of the jail and if it is not ready in the morning prisoners will be tied up like a dogie calf to a light pole. So, better get out the scarf, hat, boots, spurs, gunbelt, or any other cowboy clothes you have—and don't venture forth on the streets without them. And that goes for the ladies as well as for the men!

The Jaycees have moved up their scheduled Tuesday luncheon date from Tuesday to Monday at noon in order to give full attention to the problem of outfitting residents in cowboy regalia on the first day of the "season." Many of the members of the organization will be out of town Tuesday and Wednesday on their good-will trip advertising the rodeo, but there will be enough of them left to enforce the laws of Sheriff Holmes regarding what local citizens wear for the next two weeks. No matter what the fashion dictators say should be worn during the month of August, you had better have on something that will fool a tourist into believing you are a cowboy, or it is a trip to the branding pen. Practically every merchant in town has his windows filled with rodeo attire. And the merchants will be wearing such kind of clothes just as well as everyone else because none will be exempted from the "ordinance." In case there is any misunderstanding: YOU HAD BETTER BE DRESSED LIKE A COWBOY OR COWGIRL TOMORROW. 'Cause the Jaycees will get you if you don't watch out.

War Clouds Darken Over All Europe

Decisive Turn of Events Multiplied By New Happenings

By Associated Press

Signs of a decisive turn of events multiplied Saturday in unsettled Europe. While Pope Pius XII voiced a new appeal for peace, these highlights pointed to tense days ahead: Germany strung nearly 100,000 troops along the Polish border; Gradual mobilization of Slovakia's army, pledged to cooperation with Germany, was in progress; A meeting of key ministers of the British cabinet was called for Tuesday; The controlled German press heaped fresh scorn on Poland, insisting she come to terms on Hitler's demands for Danzig; Talk in high Nazi circles England would keep hands off Poland, current a week ago, apparently changed to acceptance of the fact Britain and France intended to stand by Poland. Germans derided what help the allies could give Poland.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19 (AP)—A British policeman named Kinloch, armed with a sub-machine gun, tonight killed two members of a Japanese-controlled Chinese squad and wounded six before he was dropped with a bullet in the back in a fight on the International Settlement border. Settlement police said Kinloch was searching a pedestrian when he was shot in the back, but not seriously injured.

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—Competent quarters here today maintained German military activity in Slovakia was limited to the presence of Bratislava of a military mission and to occupation by German troops of a zone agreed upon last March. Slovakia's army was described as independent of Germany.

Soap Peddler Held For Murder of His Wife One Year Ago

DURANT, Okla. Aug. 19 (AP)—Stooped and quiet John C. Story, 60-year-old soap peddler, was in an undisclosed Oklahoma jail tonight, accused of murdering his second wife who died screaming in a flaming smokehouse a year ago. County Attorney Bill Steger said Story collected insurance on the death of his wife. He said officials had been informed of the violent deaths of three sons of Story in three states. On each, he said, the father held a policy. Story himself had four accidents, on two of which he collected insurance. "He has owned homes in every town in which he has lived and had fires covered by insurance," the attorney said.

Milk Supply Of New York Is Cut Off

Ex-Sailor Directs Striking Dairymen In Battle on Prices

UTICA, N. Y. Aug. 19 (AP)—Led by an ex-sailor, the Farmers' union which three years ago had eight members throttled the milk supply of 7,000,000 persons today with latest strike in New York's turbulent $2,000,000,000 city dairy industry. Pickets tightened blockades around upstate plants, further cutting the huge metropolitan market's dwindling supplies in a fight for higher prices.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia called a Monday conference between rival factions. Archie Wright, ex-sailor, agreed to the conference on behalf of the strikers.

ITU DELAYS MOVE AGAINST SUSPENSION

FORT WORTH, Aug. 19 (AP)—The International Typographical union today took no action regarding their suspension yesterday by the American Federation of Labor as the eighty third convention began here.

Show Horses To Be Featured Each Night At Midland Rodeo

Show horse and saddle horse fanciers will have a share in the program at Midland Rodeo each night September 2, 3 and 4, it has been announced by the rodeo committee. W. Chappell Davis, who maintains a pleasure horse stable at Midland and has show horses in training at Colorado City, has been authorized to get up this portion of the program.

Davis said present plans call for a five gaited open class on Saturday night, September 2, an open three gaited class on the night of Sunday, September 3, and a stake for five gaited winners of the first night to be held on Monday night, September 4. Announcement of purses for the events will be made shortly. Several outstanding five gaited and three gaited horses from various parts of the southwest will be in competition here, Davis predicted.

The show horse portion of the program will occupy the same place on the night program as the relay races and free for all races on the afternoon program, taking the place of feature acts of slower nature formerly used at rodeos here. "The use of pleasure horses and saddle bred animals in this section is growing steadily, rodeo committee members said, and it is desired to expand the program later into a full-sized horse show. In the belief that many Midland citizens prefer entertainment of this type to the straight western events, the saddle horse show is expected to become a permanent feature.

Parade Committee For Midland Rodeo Announced Saturday

Appointment of a parade committee for Midland Rodeo was announced Saturday afternoon by Clarence Scharbauer, president of Midland Fair, Inc., and Foy Proctor, chairman of the rodeo committee. As general heads to have charge of the mammoth horsemen's procession were named George W. Glass, chairman, H. G. Bedford and M. P. King. The three will name as many assistants as are needed to have charge of various sections of the mounted parade.

The procession, probably to start at the High School grounds and traverse the down town section, is expected to be approximately two miles in length, starting at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 2, and proceeding to the fair grounds in time for the opening program of the rodeo. All horsemen and horseback riders were urged to prepare their entries at once, with date for reporting to the committee to be announced shortly.

WEST TEXAS ALLOWABLES TO BE SLASHED SHUTDOWN MAY BRING FEDERAL CONTROL

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Writer

The spectacular shutdown of southwestern oil wells by order of state governments is being watched more closely by several pairs of observant eyes than it is by the public generally.

John Q. Public knows that there are nearly six weeks' supply of refined gasoline in storage and enough crude oil for almost another three months. He knows he could stagger along for four months or so even if not a single barrel of oil were produced.

So he doesn't worry about a shortage as yet. But there are other eyes watching the southwestern situation more closely. Some of them belong to Congressman W. P. Cole's subcommittee of the House Interstate Commerce Committee. This is the primary congressional committee on oil, and one of the last acts of the expiring Congress was to charge it with an investigation of the oil industry.

It is to report to the new Congress in January, where its findings will be brought to bear on a bill proposed by President Roosevelt just before the end of the last Congress for federal control of the entire oil industry in the interest of conservation.

ICKES BACKS REGULATION

The other pair of eyes, twinkling in this case, belong to Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, who attempted oil control under the NRA and has been an active proponent of it ever since.

The southwestern shutdown is, in part at least, a contest between states like Texas and Oklahoma which have proration, and states like California and Illinois which do not.

Proration is simply a system by which a state authority estimates the demand for the state's oil, and then parcels out a quota of that market to each producer, limiting his production to this fixed amount.

The present controversy, though its roots go deep, began June 14, when Harry Sinclair attempted to

Throughout the southwest oilmen are closing valves, cutting off about 2,000,000 barrels of oil daily in an attempt to stabilize the falling price of crude oil to the producer.

lead all retail gasoline prices upward by announcing a price raise. He told the public that at present gasoline prices there just isn't any money in it for refiners and distributors. Some of the larger companies failed to follow the Sinclair prices upward, and he was compelled to take the other tack of reducing the price of crude oil to the producer. It was easier to get follows for this lead, and the mid-continent shut-down is an effort to focus attention on the low price of crude and try to force it upward again. Typical of the unrestricted competitors which Texas faces in its new move is Illinois. Two years ago, Illinois oil production was a negligible 17,000 barrels a day. Today it has reached a rate of nearly 300,000 barrels a day, and the first state regulations of drilling are just going into effect. Illinois oil is easily drilled and close to populous markets. It has been for the past year a boom field, with all operators out to "get theirs" quickly.

THOMPSON HALTS PRODUCTION

Illinois member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, on which Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission urged a cessation of production in all member states. But Illinois has no power to halt its own production even if its observers on the compact wanted to do so.

The result of this confusion between producing states, with some carefully husbanding and regulating their oil resources and others permitting them to be tapped almost without restraint, is expected to present to the Cole committee a powerful argument for federal regulation across state lines.

It is already being suggested in the southwestern field that state proration may not be the answer to the industry's problem, since oil from those closely-regulated fields is being forced off the market by cheaper oil from unregulated fields.

The test now being carried on will indicate whether or not interstate action is able to stabilize prices.

It noted, the Cole committee and the federal government proponents of federal regulation of the industry will be given a powerful argument. All forces in the oil industry are trying to avoid this, and there have been some efforts to settle the matter in industry-wide conferences between producers and distributors. Failing this, the industry is looking federal control squarely in the face.

East Texas Fields Due To Get Raise

Sadler and Smith Will Favor Move at Proration Hearing

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—A majority of the railroad commissioners today said production allowable in the East Texas oil field would be raised in the next statewide proration hearing.

Allowables for other Texas districts will have to be trimmed to compensate for the East Texas increase. Chairman Lon Smith and Commissioner Sadler said.

The new proration plan will probably become effective after expiration of the current production shut-down, extending through August 29.

ROGGE TO PRESS CHARGES ON BUFORD

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19 (AP)—John Rogge, assistant attorney general, today announced he said would make Freeman W. Buford, Dallas oil operator, a "virtual prisoner in the northern judicial district of Texas."

Rogge yesterday failed to obtain Buford's removal to New Orleans to face an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the Connally act. "We will pick him up if he leaves that jurisdiction, which will make him a virtual prisoner in the northern district," Rogge said.

NO VIOLATION OF OIL ACT REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Ickes announced today his department had received no reports of Connolly "hot oil" act violations in connection with the six-state shutdown of crude oil production.

Ickes, who as oil administrator declared there would be no oil famine, reiterating a previously expressed position that "should there developed a lack of parity between total supply and consumptive demand, the government would suspend shipments should be made inoperative during the shortage."

SADLER DECLARES ICKES NOT WARRANTED

AUSTIN, Aug. 19 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler today telegraphed Secretary of Interior Ickes his "domination or interference in the present oil crisis situation is completely and wholly unacceptable."

At the same time, Commissioner Ernest Thompson said suspension of the Connally act by Ickes would mean "nothing on earth," adding, "It's not operating anyhow."

Coring Stops at 4,780 in Cedar Lake Discovery, Tubing Test to Be Taken

BY FRANK GARDNER

Tubing was being hauled yesterday to Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Jeanette B. Rayner, prospective pool opener on the east edge of Cedar Lake in northeastern Gaines. Coring was halted at 4,780 feet in lime after the last five feet of lime cored hard. Practically continuous pay lime was logged to 4,775 in deepening from 4,699 feet where the well had shown oil on drillstem test. An 18-minute drillstem test from 4,651-99 showed rise of 1,100 feet of fluid, 1,000 feet of which was oil. It also was reported that a 4,000-pound gate valve had been ordered for the well. The strike is located 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 3, block C-30, public school land, on a geographical high.

In the Slaughter pool of southwestern Hockley, Western States Gasoline Corporation No. 1 Frazier topped anhydrite at 2,230 feet and drilled ahead. Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 J. W. Westheimer et al, northwestern Cochran wildcat, is shut down for repairs to drawworks motor. Total depth is 3,039 feet in anhydrite streaked with shale.

Crockett Flush Well

First flush producer in the Crockett pool on University of Texas lands in northwestern Crockett, Gilcrease Oil Company of San Antonio No. 1-13 Humble-University, flowed a total of 2,245 barrels of fluid through 2-inch line off 7-inch casing in 28 hours. At the end of the gauge, the well was shut in for the duration of the statutory shut-in period. It showed seven percent water dilution toward the end of the test. Total depth is 1,444, deepened from 1,412, where it had originally been completed for 63 barrels a day on pump. Gilcrease also is preparing to deepen to the new pay in No. 10-13 University, a north offset to No. 1-13. Its initial production was 94 barrels a day on pump, bottomed at 1,386 feet, after a 140-quart nitro shot. The well formerly was Black & Eubank No. 2 University, the property later being sold to Gilcrease. In the Apo Ordovician pool of northern Pecos, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 M. I. Masterson is drilling past 3,910 feet in hard brown lime. It is a direct southwest offset to the only well yet completed in the pool, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Monte Warner No. 1 J. S. Masterson. Humble No. 1-C J. B. Tubb, western Crane test, a half-mile northeast of the Tubb deep Permian pool, is drilling below 4,267 feet in lime. Two and three-eighths miles north of the pool, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 11 W. N. Waddell et al, bottomed at 3,965 feet in lime, still is fishing for a bit and part of stem. Six miles northeast of the pool, Gulf No. 5 M. B. McKnight is drilling 6-inch hole at 4,920 to straighten. It went off vertical in drilling to original total depth of 4,980 feet in lime. Humble No. 30 Tubb, diagonal southwest offset to No. 1-C Tubb, has completed. (See OIL NEWS, page 8)

BRUCE CATTON'S AMERICAN ROUNDUP

Another in United States tour series by Bruce Catton, NEA Washington correspondent, who's out "calling on America."

BY BRUCE CATTON
Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent.

NEW YORK.—No matter how the political tide turns next year and no matter who is elected president, Mayor Lioello LaGuardia of New York believes that the fundamental objectives of the New Deal have been achieved and that the nation is not going to backtrack away from them.

He feels that the important thing right now is for the country to stop calling the current depression an emergency.

"As long as we call it an emergency, we will continue the wastefulness of treating it as an emergency," he says. "We must realize that it is not a temporary depression but a new normal, and adjust ourselves accordingly."

SAYS NATION AGREES ON FUNDAMENTALS

In this situation, Mayor LaGuardia feels that there are certain fundamentals that everyone agrees upon. These are—that something is wrong when we produce both surpluses and want at the same time; that the remedies used to cure previous depressions won't work in this one; that, pending a solution of the problem, no unemployed person will be permitted to starve; and that the vicious circle which makes the cost of government greater in a depression—when it can least be afforded—than in times of prosperity; is something that can't be put up with much longer.

If these fundamentals are agreed on, then what? Well, Mayor LaGuardia believes that the greater part of the New Deal's social security program—old age pensions and unemployment insurance—is accepted by everyone. Still in controversy, he remarks, are the wage-hour law and the Wagner act.

The wage-hour law he considers fundamentally sound but in need of a country-wide educational campaign as to its benefits—and, also, of stricter enforcement. He suspects that the Wagner act is still causing discussion principally because it is still so new.

Beyond these things there is the problem of surpluses.

"Surplus," says the mayor, "is just a word. It was true in the days of the old economy but it is not true now. 'Surplus' today means that amount of our production over and above all the normal needs of the people, rather than the amount which is over and above their present purchasing power. If all of our children were properly clad and fed, for instance, it'd cut a pretty big hole in our surpluses."

ENDING THE HUMAN SURPLUS

As things stand now, we have a surplus of manpower. And Mayor LaGuardia wonders if it might not be wise, instead of keeping this surplus on relief, to send it into the factories to produce a huge volume of goods for export—below cost, if necessary—to Central and South America.

Suppose, he says, that we produced, in that way, goods worth $1,500,000,000 and took a loss of half a billion on the deal. It would still cost us much less than it would have cost to keep that labor on relief—and it would have been a step toward cohesion and unity in the new work. He admits, with a grin, that he might have trouble selling this idea to Secretary of State Hull.

Readiness of the adjustments that may still be necessary, Mayor LaGuardia thinks that the fundamental objectives of the New Deal are so firmly established that "no candidate would dare to state that he'd change them or, if elected, would dare to go ahead and change them."

The Town Quack

The time has come when the success of the Midland Rodeo depends on the efforts which the citizens put forth to advertise and boost the event. The rodeo committee has its plans well in hand, the contestants are coming in large numbers, many novelty and feature attractions will be staged, several notables and celebrities are expected to accept invitations to attend, and the only thing remaining is to interest the spectators in buying tickets to the Rodeo.

This week, at least two opportunities will be given where any citizen may contribute to the welfare of the annual entertainment event. Tomorrow morning, everyone is asked to wear some form of rodeo attire to the arena, keeping up the habit right through the Rodeo. If you failed to secure your accoutrements during the week end, please do so early Monday and join, in crystallizing interest in the Rodeo which will be held September 2-3-4.

The other project is the advertising trip in which Midland citizens will take a bus Tuesday and Wednesday and visit towns and cities within a 150 mile radius, making announcements of the Rodeo, talking it up to the people of those communities and distributing advertising matter so that thousands of people may be apprised of the dates and of the events of this major western spectacle.

Go on the trip if you can, but at least join in to the extent of wearing something to tie in with the annual Rodeo.

For those who do not care particularly for cowboy contests there

Texas Today

By the Associated Press

Dogged by a prolonged period of low incomes, farm people the past few years have explored those steps of processing and distribution which stood in the way of general consumption of their products. Considering fields which offered solutions, it was not surprising that they returned to basic methods, namely co-will be other spectacular events. One free for all horse race will be run each afternoon, attracting some of the fastest race horses of the southwest. Regular jockeys will ride and the races will be practically like those of the old pari-mutuel days with the exception of the betting. And it wouldn't surprise me if some of the boys lay a few wagers on the quiet, just among themselves.

Another noteworthy thrill will be the cowboy relay race each afternoon. A half dozen or more riders, each to have three horses, will ride a total of two and a quarter miles each, saddling and unsaddling in front of the grandstand. This is one of the most spectacular races known to horsedom, and a relay race needs wide recognition to those who have seen them.

Still another form of entertainment will be the horse show event on each night program. The time used in afternoons by racing will be devoted at night to show riders. On the first evening there will be an open class for five gaited horses, on the second evening for three gaited horses, and on the final evening a stake for five gaited animals. Sufficient money is being allotted to attract some extra nice horses here for the three days. W. Chappell Davis has been assured that competition will be keen, with a splendid show for the spectators.

A full program of calf roping, team tying, bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, steer riding, bulldogging, boys' calf roping, Brahma cow milking scramble, cowgirl sponors' contest and rodeo features will be on each afternoon and night program.

Using the first event for the last, don't forget the two mile long street parade in which some of the most attractive riders and horses ever to have been seen on Midland streets will march through town to music of the bands. Few localities ever provide more colorful mounted parades than are seen at Midland Rodeo time, and the 1939 event is due to be the best.

operatives, which have shown a phenomenal growth the past four years. In 1936, there were 89 charters issued to new Texas farmer-owned and operated co-ops; in 1937 the number rose to 109 and in 1938 to 149.

As these home-owned enterprises grew in number and volume of business, the question as to the effect on those who formed the business, or performed the services absorbed by the co-operatives, often is raised by business men, the consumer and the farmers themselves.

C. E. Bowles, Texas A&M College Extension Service specialist in co-operative marketing, answers these questions impersonally.

In the first place, Bowles points out farmers in 1917 received 60 cents and distributors 40 cents of each dollar spent by consumers for staple goods. By 1938 the division was reversed, with farmers getting 40 cents and distributors 60 cents. During this 25 year period farms and homes were lost and farm tenantry increased 17 percent. Farm mortgage debt doubled while farm values were cut in half.

Cooperatives start where things are not done well, where needs are not supplied. Texas cooperatives have not gone far in fields where margins are narrow and established business is efficient. In the 1920's when the farmers in northwest Texas were setting up large numbers of fuel purchasing associations, it was protest against handling margins of as much as 8c per gallon which they were asked to pay on fuel for their tractors, trucks, and automobiles. The gross margin to retailers of gasoline has declined from 17.6 percent in 1930 to 17.5 percent in 1936 and very few new fuel associations have been set up during the last few years.

Cooperative grain elevators sprang up because farmers were charged 15 cents or more a bushel for passing their grain through the elevator. Now, cooperative elevators can operate on a margin of 5 cents per bushel and pay a good dividend to their members.

Cooperative gins came into existence because cotton farmers felt that ginning charges took too large a share of their cotton income. Farmers at Quanah paid $13 a bale for ginning before they put in their own gin 17 years ago. The actual net cost of ginning to members of the Quanah association has averaged $3.75 a bale the last four years.

Bowles says the way cooperatives spread buying power can be illustrated by the workings of a cooperative gin association. Suppose a gin patronized by 200 cotton farmers closes the season with $6,000, after paying operating costs, taxes, setting aside funds for depreciation, etc. If the gin is owned by the 200 patrons, the $6,000 will be distributed among them in amounts of $20, $30, or $40, depending on the volume of ginning and seed marketing each furnished to his gin. These small checks will be spent for overalls, shoes, groceries and other supplies, paying debts and increasing the business activity of the community.

Even the farmer cooperatives making considerable advances both in total number of organizations, and in volume handled, it should be reassuring to realize that the cooperative movement has been gradual and evolutionary, not revolutionary.

Upsets are nothing new, however for one kind of private business is continually replacing another, the Extension Service specialist points out. The garage and filling station have replaced the blacksmith shop and the same forces unbalanced the business of thousands of farmers who grew grain and hay and who bred horses and mules.

The grain combine sent in search of other work an army of men who had for a generation followed the wheat harvest from Texas to Canada. A large number of business and professional men, and even the State of Texas, now own and operate farms in direct competition with farmers who must make their living from the land. Progress has called for countless adjustments and farmers who must make their living from the land. Progress has called for countless adjustments and farmers have had their share of concessions to make.

"It is not surprising that cooperatives should make some mistakes," Bowles says. "The Texas Cooperative Law is only 22 years old and pioneers must do some experimenting. Business statistics, however, show that there is a much smaller percentage of failures among cooperatives owned and controlled by farmers than among other businesses.

"The cooperatives are unwilling to admit that no improvement can be made in the present system of distribution as long as one-third of the people are ill-housed, ill-fed and ill-clad. They believe better ways can be found to distribute the necessities of life than those which permit groups of farmers in one area to be cursed by surpluses and low prices, while farmers, along with consumers' in other sections cannot buy these products.

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 20.
The Golden Text is: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? ... For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:34,36).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength" (Mark 12:29,30).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If Mind was first chronologically, if first potentially, and must be first eternally, then give to Mind the glory, honor, dominion, and power everlastingly due its holy name" (page 143).

WINSTON CHURCHILL, AT 65, IS BRITAIN'S "STRONG MAN"

"Winston Churchill has so much energy that even when he is sitting down he seems as active as most men when they are running," was a London journalist's description of the 65-year-old statesman. Here you see Churchill (right) in a characteristic and recent photo, taken in London during the visit of former Premier Leon Blum (left) of France.

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—In his 65th year—an age which most Americans deem a period for retirement rather than for further strenuous efforts—Winston Churchill finds the Englishman-in-the-street and many in high places leaning upon him as upon a strong man in time of crisis.

The popular demand to include Churchill in the British cabinet is based upon the fact that the Nazis hate and fear him.

His boosters point to his boundless, youthful energy compared with the apathetic, footling, aged efforts of some of the pet canibetters to whom Premier Chamberlain clings. They call attention to Churchill's record—that of a man who has held practically every big political cabinet post, except that of the Premiership.

They cite his books and speeches in which for the past six years he has been warning Britain that the Nazi regime constitutes dire danger to democracy and that Britain should arm.

The asset—and with good reason—that almost more than any man now living in Britain, Churchill could issue the trumpet call on the stump which would arouse the whole people.

at the front, he was successively Minister of Munitions, War Secretary, Air Minister and Colonial Secretary. His last ministerial post was as Chancellor of the Exchequer under Premier Baldwin—1924-29.

HIS ORATORY
A POTENT WEAPON

Since then he has been just a private member of the House of Commons, left out in the wilderness by Chamberlain. But his is one of the most potent voices in the House of Commons, and on the stump.

See him when he gets up to speak. His round, ruddy, almost cherubic countenance belies his years. His eyes sparkle with youth and fire. He has on old man's stoop.

But he has what, to an American, seems a sort of stammering, halting style—until he gets going. He has no notes before him. They say he writes all his speeches, polishes them to the last adjective, commits them to memory and practices them before a mirror. Maybe so. It's what makes him the virtuoso that he is in any set speech he makes.

He is just as efficacious in debate. On the spur of the moment, he cuts and thrusts with his oratorical rapier. He can make glor-

They say President Roosevelt has enjoyed being President more than any man within living memory—taking the work in his stride. It's the same way with Winston, as his friends affectionately refer to him. As cabinet minister he loved tough problems, immersed himself in them, mastered them.

Driving himself, he also drove those who worked with him. But he managed also to get their affection and devotion. In other words, a natural leader of men.

Natural Formations Of Earth Obtained By New Instrument

AUSTIN.—Recently an electrical instrument for determining natural formations of the earth to depths of 100 feet or more below the ground surface has been developed by the Public Roads Administration. The Texas Highway Department has been experimenting with the use of this instrument in Texas for locating hidden deposits of caliche, gravel and rock, suitable for pavement base courses, and is effecting economies through the use of it. Hidden deposits of suitable materials have been found adjacent to construction projects, and where they were not previously known to exist. This instrument, with its accessories, is as easily transported as an engineer's transit or level, and with practice can be operated rapidly.

Examples of savings which have been made with the aid of this electrical resistivity instrument are as follows:

1. In one District a search by digging test holes had uncovered no suitable material in the vicinity of the project and it appeared that base material would have to be hauled quite a long distance. A search then was started with the electrical resistivity instrument and a large deposit of suitable material was located only one-half mile from the highway project. It is estimated that $5,150.00 in haul was saved by the finding of this local deposit with the electrical instrument.

2. On another construction project the nearest known deposits of gravel for paving base course was 10 miles from the job. Subsurface explorations with the electrical resistivity instrument revealed an abundance of concealed good road gravel 2 miles from the highway. The difference between the cost of the 10-mile gravel haul and the 2-mile haul was $1,150.00 per mile of highway to be built.

3. During the latter part of 1938, 200,000 cubic yards of base material were located in a county where such material had been very scarce, and a material saving was effected over the cost of shipping materials from another source.

Why worry any more about moths getting into your Sunday-best coat? Some up-and-coming manufacturer is now putting out coats with a three year guarantee. These are moth proof (the little pests just won't stay in such a coat) and water repellent, we are told. They've not been made impervious to grease spots yet—but who knows when that will come? Anyway, the qualities named, though they sound like large orders, should be definite drawing cards to any purchaser if they stand up to tests. We hope they will.

Among the minor novelties is a new one that catches our eye. This is an "automatic compact", designed to do away with the inconvenience of a puff that spills powder over all the contents of a purse.

The puff is made of soft, delicate spongy material (apparently rubber). In one side is a slit into which enough powder is ladled to supply milady for a week or 10 days. To start the powder flowing to the surface of the puff, one need only tap the porous side against one's hand. Do away with the shiny nose, tuck the puff away into its pliofilm carrying case—and worry no more about powder sifting out at undesired moments—so the makers advise. The gadget is inexpensive.

If sounds like a reasonable device. In fact, we'll probably try out one ourself.

Ammonia Cuts Oily Dirt

Oiled dusters or floor mops can be cleaned by washing in strong hot soapsuds. Add plenty of ammonia and rinse in hot, clear water until all dirt and oil has disappeared. Dry in sunshine.

El Paso Visitor Is Guest at Party For Escondida Club

Zinnias and rosebuds were chosen by the hostess for house decorations when Mrs. D. H. Griffith entertained for the Escondida club with a dessert-bridge at her home, 701 N. Marientfeld, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. C. C. Lyon of El Paso, mother of Mrs. S. S. Stinson, was the club guest.

Following the dessert course, two tables of bridge supplied recreation for the group, with high score going to Mrs. Peck Cunningham and bingo-cut prize to Mrs. Lyon. Present were the guest and the following club members: Mmes. Harry Adams, Cunningham, E. C. Hitchcock, Bill Collyns, O. L. Wood, Butler, Hurley, S. S. Stinson, and the hostess.

To Store Oiled Mops

Oiled mops and polishing cloths are best kept in tin containers to prevent oil from spreading and discoloring storeroom woodwork and walls, and to guard against fire danger.

CRIPPLED COWBOYS DROP OPENER TO CLOVIS

Teams Meet in 2 Games Today; Bob Petzold Injured

CLOVIS, Aug. 19 (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers scored at will against two Midland pitchers tonight, coming through with an easy 12-1 victory over the visitors.

Joe Piet, ace of the Midland staff, started on the mound for the Texas team but was driven from the mound in the fourth inning with a six-run barrage. Leonard relieved him and for the second time in three nights hurled superb relief ball. However, it did no good as the Pioneers had ten runs to start on him.

The home team got three home runs, none of them with a man on base. Stone hit one in the third, Ratliff hit one in the same frame and Gorman hit one in the eighth. The Pioneers got to two Midland hurlers for 16 hits, compared to seven the invaders could get off the hurling of Jake Christie.

Manager Hale of the Cowboys was again forced to start a patched-up line-up because of injuries. Already out, along with shortstop Cox, Hale saw another regular go out Friday night when second baseman Bobby Petzold received an arm injury that will keep him out for sev-

The PAYOFF

If any club in organized baseball has had harder luck this year than the Midland Cowboys, we would like to hear about it. Sickness and injuries have followed the team all year like a plague.

For one of the few times during the year, the team was in top shape during the last home stand. They took what happened: Bob Petzold got a wrist and arm injury, Sammy Hale pulled up with a turned ankle and had to take himself out of the line-up, and the crowning blow of all came when Conley Cox and Petzold ran together the other night, the shortstop receiving an ankle injury that will probably keep him out for the rest of the year.

Henry Parma, who was slated for release after "Lefty" Shelton was hired, gained reinstatement with the team Friday and was rushed to Pampa to take over an infield position. Parma won't field or hit with Cox but will probably be better at short than Rube Naranjo.

Several days. As a result, the Cowboys had Parma at second, Naranjo at second, Raines on short and Jordan on third. Bill Brown, regular pitcher, was in right field.

Furthermore, the Mexican seems to hit a lot better when playing in the outfield.

There has been at least one bright spot for club officials on the present road trip of the team and that was the way "Slim" Leonard went into the game and throttled the Pampa club Thursday night after the Oilers had driven Brown from the mound in the first inning. Leonard gave up only three runs in seven innings, not a bad job against the Oilers by any hurler since they probably boast more batting power than any other team in the league.

Team batting averages pleased by statistician Tom Miller show that Clovis leads the league in hitting. To those who have watched all clubs in the league, the figures are a big laugh. It is generally known all over the league that the Clovis score-keeper will only on rare occasions give errors to visiting players. When one of the Pioneers hits a ball and set on, no matter how much the ball was booted around, it is marked down a hit.

The biggest kick we have got of the baseball season came Friday far from a baseball game and Big Spring Herald Hank Hart furnished it indirectly. In this column Thursday, Hank quoted L. E. Morris, Big Spring Barons business manager, as saying it was certain Midland would call it quits in the league after the current season as the men now paying the freight on the Cowboys guaranteed to league officials they would only see the club through this year.

It was like waving a red flag in front of a bull when Claude Duffey and Clarence Seharbauer saw it. After hearing them it was our pleasure to send Hank a telegram that read something like this: Whoinhell is Morris? The Midland club will be in the league as long as there is a league. Any statements to the contrary are a lot of hokey.

Of all the hundreds of dumb stunts pulled by the Interscholastic League "dictators," the rule forbidding football coaches to issue equipment before September 1 tops the ermine-lined goboon. Coaches all agree that the best way to prevent the boys from getting hurt in games is to have them in top shape. They can't be put in top shape in one week. There will be plenty of violations of the absurd rule and probably nothing done about it. Many coaches will take their boys to training camps and they "won't be able to help it" if a few of the boys slip in a few fowls with their clothes.

This'n that—Big Spring officials are complaining of the number of baseballs they have used this year.

If they would put their right field fence back where it should be they would save a lot of balls. . . . Incidentally, batting averages in the league this year will be regarded more seriously by prospective buyers of any ball players.

fight led by Claude Duffey at the league meeting in the spring resulted in the regular National League ball being adopted instead of the "rabbit" ball used last year. . . . Midland fans are anxiously awaiting a chance to see "Lefty" Shelton against the Big Spring team and its six left hand hitters.

Thanks to the President, the Midland football team will not play a Thanksgiving Day game this year if they observe November 23 as the holiday. . . . Proof that football season is near is shown by the fact that Johnny Smith of Monahans has once more started up his sports column. . . . He works at it only during the grid season. . . . If Jo Jo Saparito had played ball half as well for Midland as he is for Pampa he would still be out here. . . . He has easily been the best second baseman in the league in games against Midland.

BELFAST, Me. (UP)—What's in a name? Dr. Hazel V. Bird daily feeds about 300 doves. Last year her grant bill totaled about $75. She also tends sick and injured doves and other birds brought to her by neighbors.

UP MY ALLEY

By 111 in the 7th

He done went and done it! And the "he" happens to be Barron Wadley who chalked up a high of 256 for the week at Plamor Palace Bowling Alley. Jay Harrison will tell you that Barron is a rough bowler when he wants to be, and his high score for the week proves it.

Al Waldron was second high with 245, Red Shore followed with a 235. The first mark of the week was made by Andy Divine with a 224.

Only one name appears on the women's list. Holly Tippett scored 167, which will rate with anybody's bowling.

Hear something about an endurance contest at Plamor Friday. Probably you'd better contact Tommy at the bowling alley for details. Sounded as through somebody played 26 games without stopping. I don't believe that even Frank Cowen could play that many games without stopping.

Really believe that some person is going to do the perfect thing before long—just have a hunch—and that 300 would look mighty good and would be a mark for a bunch of us punks to shoot at.

McCamey Gridders Report September 1

McCAMEY, Aug. 19.—Eleven let-terminers from the 1938 district champion McCamey Badger football squad are expected to report for practice Sept. 1 to Coaches Marlin Hayhurst and Cuthbert Carr. Three of the 1938 members and mainstays of the club will be lost this year in Wayne Reeves, Tyrus Davis and J. E. Alexander.

Butch Smith, halfback, Dick Bowen, quarterback, Dave Jones, fullback, and Wilbur Hemperley, halfback, are the only ball carriers left from last year. In the line will be found Roger Choate, Howard Lee Jones, Louis Woodward, Murrell Daulton, Leon Tinney, Harry Williamson and Georg Griffin.

New uniforms were ordered this week which are supposed to be on hand for the opening game Sept. 15 with Ft. Stockton in McCamey. The 1939 schedule follows:

Sept. 15—Fort Stockton in McCamey.
Sept. 22—Eldorado in McCamey.
Sept. 29—Open.
Oct. 6—Open.
Oct. 13—Big Lake in McCamey.
Oct. 20—Pecos in Pecos.
Oct. 27—Wink in Wink.
Nov. 3—Kermit in McCamey.
Nov. 10—Crane in Crane.
Nov. 17—Grandfalls in McCamey.
Nov. 24—Open.
Nov. 30—Monahans in McCamey.

New Uniforms Are Received at Wink

WINK, Aug. 19.—When the football season opens here next month Wink gridders will wear the flashiest playing uniforms and equipment ever purchased for the local team.

Twenty-five complete uniforms from helmet to socks and shoes have been purchased by the school. Emphasizing the school colors of orange and black, the dueren jerseys of burnt orange are decorated with black and white diamonds, which are centered with the numerals. The burnt orange jockey satin pants are trimmed with black leather knee pads, black ribbing and white trimming. Socks of orange and black will complete the most colorful and unique uniform the Wink football squad has ever worn.

Monahans Gridders Off to Training Camp

PECOS, Aug. 19.—Coaches Cundiff, Hanscom and Holcomb and 25 candidates for the 1939 Green Wave left Wednesday morning for a two-week conditioning camp on the Pecos river and in eastern Pecos county.

Besides the coaches, bus driver Cleveland and Chef J. D. Andrews, the following boys made the trip: Andrews, Cox, Crow, Carpenter, Duncan, Ellis, Funk, Fielding, Harris, Hary, J. Lamothe, Leuthy, Keith, Martin, Moore, Whitmire, Pierce, Rankin, Rutherford, Stewart, Stevenson, Freeman, Wallace, Wooten and Ellithorpe.

Superintendent Baze expects to visit the camp next week end.

Letter Sorter Perfect, Sets National Test

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—One of Uncle Sam's better letter sorters is James O. Pace, distribution clerk in the U. S. postoffice here. On 12 tests, he has exceeded the postal requirements for distributing 16 letters a minute into the proper boxes, without a mistake.

This year, he hung up a national record with 30 letters a minute. It was his 12th perfect score. Charles Gilbert, superintendent of mails, said a single mark of 100 is unusual.

Blind Attorney Argues Before Appeals Court

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A blind man read his arguments with his fingers before the U. S. Court of Appeals here. He was John A. Carver, U. S. attorney for Idaho, who brought his notes to court in Braille.

He opposed the appeal of a former Texas oil promoter whom the U. S. Court in Seattle ordered released through habeas corpus after he had served two years for mail fraud in an Idaho prison camp.

TWC-Sul Ross Will Meet in Monahans

MONAHANS, Aug. 19.—Final arrangements were completed this week for a college football game to be played here on October 14 between Sul Ross Teachers College of Alpine and Texas Wesleyan of Fort Worth.

The date does not conflict with the high school schedule and should be a big drawing card for Monahans, the sponsors said.

Venerable Parrot Dead; Brought to U. S. in 1830

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Although parrots and cats are natural deadly enemies, the case of Polly and Blackie was an exception.

Both pets of Perry Bauer, they became friends at first sight four years ago and were inseparable companions.

When Blackie, a Persian, took ill and died, Polly grieved for two days, refused to eat and finally passed away of a broken heart.

Perry said the parrot was at least 108 years old and was brought to this country in 1830 after being found aboard a pirate craft in the China Sea.

Movie Camera Goes Along With Mrs. Earl K. Long

ALEXANDER, La. (UP)—Residents of Louisiana aren't accustomed to seeing a governor's wife taking motion pictures.

Where Mrs. Earl K. Long goes, her movie camera goes, and she becomes the target of other picture-snappers.

"THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC"

A Photo-serial in six chapters based on the SAMUEL GOLDWYN screenplay starring JASCHA HEIFETZ, with ANDREA LEEDS and JOEL MCCREA

CHAPTER 6

Meanwhile, the creditors learn that Peter lied to them and that Heifetz's presence at the school recital is just a pipe dream. They rush into the building to denude it, but they are stopped by a group of stalwart women—parents of the children who have been organized by Peter to hold them off.

Peter goes back to Heifetz's apartment in a last desperate effort to help, and is nabbed by the police who are trying to solve the mystery of the stolen Stradivarius.

At the police station, he meets Frankie, who has been arrested for the theft. The police are hammering away at the boy, but he refuses to talk, insisting that he will explain nothing until Heifetz turns up to identify and claim the priceless instrument. His mother and stepfather have also arrived for questioning and Frankie is happily reunited with his mother.

At length, Heifetz arrives. Again the boy implores the maestro to come to the aid of the school. Again the maestro is harassed by his manager who tries to rush him away. But the harrowing events of the preceding hours finally take their toll, and Frankie collapses in a dead faint.

Back at the school, pandemonium reigns. While the children are performing and the Professor is directing, their parents at the doors are being buffeted by the police who have arrived to take the hired instruments and break up the recital. Ann pleads with them to wait for the end of the concert, but to no avail. Just as she is about to give up and tell her father the bad news, there comes the clear strain of a violin solo. Heifetz is playing. He has come to the school and Frankie's prayers have been answered. With him are a group of wealthy music-lovers who become impressed with the school and the talent of the children. They undertake to endow the school and all the dreams of Professor Lawson are at long last fulfilled.

Pecos Cantaloupes Shipped to Canada

PECOS, Aug. 19.—Pecos cantaloupes reached a foreign market this week for the first time of the season as shipments increased to twenty-four carloads. Tri-State Produce company continued to hold the lead, with 12 cars. In second place was M. L. Todd, who has shipped five cars during the past week, raising his total to 10. Harold Wendt reports he is lagging in car-load shipments, but right up among the leaders in daily volume. Wendt has shipped two cars to market. J. W. Brooks and Earl Easterbrook who not only is farming his own crop on the B. G. Smith land, but is also interested in the Tri-State Produce, report late crops, with shipments to start soon. H. M. E. Jones, railway express agent, this week filled an order for six crates of melons to Montreal and Canada.

Kermit Lions Will Seek Attendance Cup

KERMIT, Aug. 19.—Determined to bring back the attendance banner Kermit Lions and their guests will descend on Wink Tuesday night for the quarterly zone meeting. Attendance of about 70 from Kermit was indicated, although more will be taken if needed to bring up the attendance and win the banner. Emory Spangler, Lee R. Pool, and W. K. Wharton were appointed as a committee to get out the attendance. An elaborate program, in addition to the barbecue and trimmings, is being arranged by a committee of the Wink club, composed of D. A. McClatchey, O. O. Whitten, R. T. Roberts and J. D. Gilmore. A. G. Beardon of Lamesa, governor of District 2-T, is to be the main speaker at the program in the auditorium following the barbecue.

County's Hefty Budget Is 5-Ton Lock Box

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (U.P.)—One of the more weighty problems confronting the Marion county commissioners is a five-ton concrete "cracker box" in the main corridor of the courthouse. Sixty-five years ago it was a lock box for payroll cash, but now—a couple of passes at the ancient padlock with a hairpin and the "safe" would be as open as a baby's mind. No longer of any use, the concrete box has at best only one excuse for existence—a pair of tin panels of oil paintings of questionable decorative value. One painting depicts children romping around their mother, who is knitting, and the other is probably a picnic scene. It would be illegal to give the eight-foot high museum piece away, even if anyone could be found who wanted it, and the cost of relegating it to the scrap heap has been estimated at $150. There is no appropriation in the county budget for such emergencies.

TYLER PUBLISHER HERE.

Jas. Donohue, publisher of the Tyler Courier-Times, spent part of the week-end in Midland, visiting Foster Schempf, district geologist of the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company. Mr. Schempf and family recently moved here from Tyler.

HERE FROM KERRVILLE.

R. C. Langston is here for fifteen days from the Veterans' Hospital near Kerrville, visiting his family and transacting business. He will return there soon for further treatment.

LOSES EYE.

R. O. Smith of Crane underwent an operation for removing an eye Saturday afternoon in a Midland hospital. Loss of the eye followed an injury several weeks ago.

SENIOR SCOUTS TO MEET.

A called meeting of the Senior Boy Scouts of both Troop 52 and Troop 54 will be held at the Scout Hall Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock. There will be a business session and a game period.

Old Horse First Cured At Michigan Town Spa

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (U.P.)—Mt. Clemens owes its fame as a spa to mislaid oil promoters and an old white horse. The town had no ranking until after 1882, when two wells were drilled in an attempt to discover oil. Operators discovered salt brine instead and three years later began operating a salt company with only indifferent success. Then in 1870, a Frenchman turned out his foundered horse and was amazed that it recovered after standing in mud pools of the town. Dorr Kellogg, who suffered from skin eruptions, decided to try the same treatment, and when he, too, was cured, it was only a few years later that Mt. Clemens' first bathhouses were erected.

The gas industry is one of the oldest public utilities in the United States.

Dry Ice Lures Fish.
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (U.P.)—Patrolman Michael Reiser has devised a method of improving live plugs. He drills a large hole at the top and a smaller one at the bottom, filling the bait with dry ice and plugging the top hole. The plug, floating on the water, emits a trail of fumes which assertedly proves an attraction to large fish.

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (U.P.)—Tiny, a South American midget horse, is Norman V. Tohn's strange household pet. The horse, 12 years old, stands 36 inches high and weighs 165 pounds.

Tiny, quite at home in her owner's house, likes to stand near the table at meal time, knowing she will get whatever food is left over. She likes to ride in automobiles and will climb in the front or back seat whenever a door is left open. Tiny spent several years with a circus and five with carnivals until Tohn, who formerly played in a circus band, bought her.

The horse was the center of attraction at a party in a downtown hotel one night. Tiny rode in the elevator to the 13th floor, extended a front foot for handshakes and entertained everyone for two hours.
