The Town Quack

When members of the rodeo committee decided to invite several towns to enter teams in the COWPONY RELAY RACE here September 2-3-4, they hit on a splendid idea. Half a dozen or more towns had decided to compete with local ranch teams up to this morning, and it was indicated that at least ten relay riders would start each of the three races. If you have ever seen this type of race, you know what fun and excitement is coming up. If you haven't, you have one of the best thrills of western sports ever to have been seen still ahead of you. I know of at least four local teams, each one to have one rider and three horses. Pecos, Big Lake, Valentine, Odessa, Big Spring, LaMeza, San Angelo and probably other towns will be represented, selecting horses from various ranches of their localities, so as to get the fastest possible steeds.

Another new attraction here will be the Brahma cow milking scramble. In the past there have been alleged wild cow milking contests, but they were tame. This one will be wild. Six ropers, on their horses, will be placed in the chutes at once.

BRUCE CATTON'S AMERICAN ROUNDUP

Another in U. S. tour series by Bruce Catton.
BY BRUCE CATTON
Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

NEW YORK—In the old days, you began every political analysis in New York by asking what Tammany Hall was going to do. Nowadays you begin by asking what the American Labor Party is up to.

That doesn't mean that Tammany is dead, or that the Labor Party rules the roost. It does mean that an important change has taken place.

Some of Tammany's decline is due to population shifts, which have made Manhattan—Tammany's one big stronghold—comparatively less important in the city's politics. Some of it due to the new deal.

When the federal government went into the direct relief business, it robbed Tammany of an important prop.

While all of this was happening, leaders of organized labor were putting together a political machine to help President Roosevelt in his 1936 election. Elsewhere, the pro-Roosevelt work was done through Labor's Non-Partisan League; in New York an out-right labor party was formed, and in the 1936 election, it gave Roosevelt 274,000 votes.

The organization was then made permanent. In 1937, it rolled up 482,790 votes for Mayor LaGuardia, bringing about his reelection and demonstrating that, in New York City, the new party actually held the balance of power.

Republican and Democratic strength was close enough to being evenly divided that those 400,000-odd Labor Party votes could decide the issue. This was proved again last fall when Gov. Lehman, re-elected by the narrow margin of 64,000 votes, was given 419,000 by the Labor Party.

So while Tammany—out of power in New York, and in bad with the New Deal administration—lingers for lack of patronage, which is thus added to all its other woes, the Labor Party occupies an extremely important position. And it will go down the line for President Roosevelt, or any other "satisfactory" New Deal candidate, next year.

Which may easily mean that New York will go Democratic in the 1940 presidential election.

Mayor LaGuardia recently sought to throw the party's support to William Herlands for the post of district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn). Scandals have clustered about the controlling Democratic machine there. Herlands is an able man, formerly chief assistant to Thomas E. Dewey in Manhattan. But the Labor Party refused to follow the mayor, endorsing instead Magistrate Charles Solomon.

The disagreement reflects the fact that LaGuardia's prime concern is to break the power of the New York Democratic machine, and the Labor Party is thinking primarily in terms of national politics. Party leaders figure that they must not do anything now to build up Republican strength which, in the 1940 campaign, would be used against the New Deal.

In reaching that decision, these leaders were thinking principally of Dewey. They believe that with any other candidate running against a New Dealer, the vote in New York will be even enough so that their 400,000 votes will bring about a New Deal victory.

Surgeon Tests Gas Mask Successfully in Operation

LONDON (UP)—An account of a successful operation for appendicitis performed by Col. E. M. Cowell, of Wimpole street, while wearing a general service respirator is printed in The Lancet.

"The respirator was donned before washing, and was worn for the 45 minutes till the dressing was applied. No difficulty was experienced in comfort, efficiency or visibility. The wearing of the civilian-duty type of respirator would, Col. Cowell thinks, be much more comfortable and easier for all concerned."

Vinegars made from wines or from fruits, such as black currant, raspberry, elderberry, or from the pungent garlic and shallot, can be purchased in specialty stores. Use them with discretion and your fame as a cook is assured.

Woman Pioneers Poor Farm Into Rich Sheep Ranch by Plucky Toil, Brains

As "impressive as a college football player's" is the muscle Mrs. Lucille Jentzen developed during the years when she turned a rundown farm into a paying proposition. She is pictured at the wheel of one of her farm machines.

BY RUTH MILLETT

MRS. LUCILLE JENTZEN could meet a pioneer woman face to face and never give an inch. She has done some pioneering herself.

Fourteen years ago this born-and-bred New Yorker walked out from behind the counter of a delicatessen, made the down payment on a house and 165 rocky acres—optimistically called a farm.

Today she's sitting pretty. The New Jersey farm, vastly improved is hers. On it she has a herd of 200 very special sheep—the kind whose hides go into expensive Persian lamb coats.

Her daughter-eight when the mother turned pioneer—has been sent through an expensive college.

And Mrs. Jentzen, at an age when most business women start dyeing their hair in an effort to meet younger competition, hasn't a single fear for the future.

NO JOB IS TOO HARD FOR HER

Until you feel her muscle, impressive as a college football player's it's hard to believe her story.

"I do everything myself, even to dynamiting boulders from the fields. I painted the outside of my 12-room house when it needed painting, put a new roof on it when the old one began to leak, laid a hardwood floor in the kitchen. I've built both wire and stone fences.

"I raise all the feed for my sheep. Right now I'm cutting alfalfa. Once a year I go to the fur market and sell my pelts that I've skinned myself.

"Between times, I turn an honest dollar any way I can. I sell about 40 quarts of milk a day. Occasionally I take a calf or ram down to the stockyards.

"In the winter I make comforters, using wool from her own sheep, wool that I have sheared, washed and brushed myself. In the winter, too, I rent the farm to hunters. Whenever I get a chance, I take a boarder.

"Anybody can make a rundown farm pay—but it takes a lot of hard work."

GIVES ADVICE ABOUT FARMS

Agricultural colleges and farm bureaus around Mrs. Jentzen's part of the country send young people to talk to her when they say they want to go back to the farm—and make it pay. For her fame has spread.

Just the other day, the B. F. Goodrich Company asked Mrs. Jentzen to bring her working overalls and be their guest of honor at the opening of Farm Week at the World's Fair.

She left her haying long enough for that.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

The jeweled bib is the latest conceit from Paris. It sounds like a mixture of the infantile and the sophisticated. In truth it is only the latter. On a necklace of gilt beads is strung a biblike front of the bead strings each tipped by a twist of colored glass.

What is that old saying about man's life (or woman's) completing a circle? When grown-up ladies don babies' bibs, we think the circle is nearly complete.

Another pretty bauble is the necklace or bracelet made of huge iridescent bubbles of glass, almost as fragile in appearance as the soap bubbles we blow in childhood. The delicate glancing tints of the bubbles make lovely shadows of color to contrast with sombre dresses.

If you've been worrying about what kind of bag to use with that gay plaid you're going to purchase, worry no longer but tie forth and buy a plaid bag in matching or harmonizing shades.

The plaid bags come not only in the pouch-like styles but we've seen a pretty one in a flat beauty-box style which appeared to have a wooden frame.

An attractive novelty in purses combines two zipper-closed, fan-shaped bags into one. These are so placed together as to form a large bag in a more or less rectangular form.

Half-sized cakes of soap come nine in a box for the use of guests. Economical and sanitary, too, we call it.

We presume the over-sized cakes must be for the man of the house, since no nice woman would want to struggle with such huge blocks of soap.

Some of the newest boxes of dusting powder are equipped with straps and buckles to hold the lids on. These may be a wee bit of trouble to open but they are insurance against tiny prying fingers if there are toddlers in the household.

Over 250 Fur Coats Now on Display Here

Interesting facts on the different types and styles of fur coats now selling were presented by Rudolph J. Marks of the firm of Herrman and Ben Marks, famous furriers, who is conducting a showing of furs at Addison Wadley's store. The furs, representing thousands of dollars in value, include over 250 fur coats in addition to various styles of scarfs, and will be on display today and Thursday.

A number of sales are being made in short coats, Mr. Marks said, although long ones are still selling.

Foxes are selling well in all colors and in lengths from boleros to long swaggers.

Skunk is holding its own and selling in all length garments.

The fact that furs are so much lower in price than in recent years seems to have made the public fur-minded. A number of customers are now buying fur coats in place of cloth ones, the dealer said.

Considering the durability of the various furs, Mr. Marks feels that it is always wise to tell the customer who is making the purchase whether or not the fur is durable.

Successor to Pat and Mike

Jokes used to begin, "It seems there were two Irishmen named Pat and Mike—". Nowadays, though, an estimated 63.8 per cent of the funny stories related orally in the parlors and club rooms of America are ascribed to Dorothy Parker, author famed for her ready wit.

Rich Fossils Are Excavated by Class

AUSTIN—With six "shovel-jawed" mastodons to its credit to date, The University of Texas' newly-famed Bee County excavation has yielded fossilized remains of a tiny three-toed horse, a camel, an alligator, a rhinoceros and a seventh mastodon, it was disclosed here today.

Described as "in only fair condition," the fossils arrived for processing at the University-WPA laboratory here today. They included the skull of a very young three-toed horse, genus "amniops," an alligator skull, the lower jaw and leg bones of a camel, and the lower paw of a rhinoceros.

All the fossils were taken at the same level in the excavation—the 1,000,000 year-old Pliocene formation—and within a radius of 200 feet, Dr. Sellards said.

He accounted for the presence of the camel with the belief that the animal existed in South Texas in great quantities during the Pliocene era.

"There is a theory that the camel even originated here," he added. "Its presence did not necessarily mean a desert surrounding, as evidenced by the mountainous habitat of the South American llama, a descendent of the camel."

"I never lost a customer by telling the truth about furs" is the motto used in his sales work. Some customers give their furs hard wear, others do not, and they make their purchases accordingly.

In stylings the extra wide sleeves are making a strong showing. There is also "no objection" as he phrased it to the new shrugged shoulders. Last year shoulders were built out horizontally. The shrugged shoulder is given vertical building up.

The public is invited to see the furs during their display here.

COWBOYS TO OPEN SIX-DAY HOME STAND AGAINST CLOVIS TONIGHT

Final Game of Series Dropped To Gold Sox

The Midland Cowboys, now in a fourth place tie with Berger, returned home today to open a six-day home stay that will probably decide whether or not they get into the league playoffs.

The Cowboys will meet the Clovis Pioneers tonight and again tomorrow night. Friday and Saturday nights the Amarillo Gold Sox will be here and there will be double headers with the Lubbock Hubbers Sunday and Monday.

Stud Raines, who defeated the Pioneers Sunday, will probably be on the mound for the Cowboys tonight. Pete Poteet, who gained a 2-2 tie in a hurling duel with "Lefty" Shelton Sunday, will be the probable choice of Manager Rathoff of the Pioneers.

The Cowboys dropped into a fourth place tie last night when they were defeated, 8-2, by Amarillo and Berger defeated Lubbock. The Cowboys got 11 hits off Hendrix, an ex-Midland hurler, but could not bunch them for runs. Menawhile, the Sox were hammering Joe Piet and Leonard for 14 safeties.

Two double plays and a triple play pulled Hendrix out of three holes. Several times sensational fielding stunts by the Sox prevented Cowboy scores.

Lightweight Championship Won Back by Ambers From Armstrong

BY SID FEDER

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—The world lightweight championship passed back to swing-singer Lou Ambers last night, but only because little perpetual motion Henry Armstrong was penalized five rounds by Referee Arthur Donovan for low punching.

If it hadn't been for those five heats, which provoked a howl of outraged protest from Armstrong's corner, Hammerin' Henry would have won—and retained the title—in a walk.

The little negro, who skyrocketed out of St. Louis, by way of Los Angeles, three years ago to win the lightweight, welterweight and featherweight championships, and hold them simultaneously, forced the fighting all the way. He never stopped coming forward, despite the storm of left uppercuts and hooks showered on him by the Herkimer Hurricane from upstate New York.

All in all, therefore, there was nothing conclusive about the fight, except that everything is all set now for a third meeting between the pair. They tangled the first time a year ago, and the Hammer dethroned the square-jawed little Italian.

Lou, by last night's victory, became the first fighter in ring history to win back the 135-pound crown.

Last night's battle, for which Henry scaled 135 and Lou 133 1-2, was regarded in advance as the fistic "natural" of the year, and it was when Donovan wasn't warning Hurricane Hank for tossing punches below the belt line.

Contracts to rite third fight already have been signed. This one

Hudson. Two base hits—Everson, Petzold, Altenburg, Hendrix. Three base hits—Hudson 2, Altenburg. Sacrifice hits—Hendrix. Stolen bases—Hudson (home). Left on bases—Midland 6, Amarillo 6. Double plays—Piet to Kerr to Willoughby, Hudson to Altenburg to Sanders, Hendrix to Altenburg to Sanders. Triple plays—Altenburg to Hudson to Sanders to Weiland. Struck out by Leonard 4, Hendrix 1. Base on balls—off Piet 1, Hendrix 1. Hits and runs—off Piet 8 and 4 in three innings (none out in fourth). Wild pitch—Leonard. Losing pitcher—Piet. Time of game—1:30. Umpires—Smith and Fritz.

puts Henry's welterweight title on the line some time this fall, and was contingent on Ambers' winning last night. Thus, by Lou's taking the victory and the title, another good-sized gate and turnout is virtually assured. A crowd of 29,088 was in this big ball yard last night in the cool weather and contributed to a gross of $135,925.77. The net was $116,396.85.

Although Referee Donovan and one of the judges, Frankie Fullam, who is ordinarily a referee, were agreed in their voting, with seven heats for Armstrong and eight for Ambers, the other judge, Jack Healey, gave Lou a top-sided margin of 11 rounds to three, with one even.

The Associated Press score card had nine rounds for the new champion, and six for Henry, but five of these were taken away by fouls, in only one of which Ambers showed a clear margin, regardless of the low punching.

The crowd, obviously an Ambers "house" anyway, judging by its tremendous reception of Lou, was pleased with the decision. But there was a sharp divergence of ringside opinion among the boxing writers. A few believed Armstrong won the fight, despite the penalties, but most were of the opinion the rounds he lost cost Henry the title.

Mustang Boys Club Column

Although there was not a large herd of Musties at the meeting Saturday night there was plenty of action. A manhunt in which the Night Riders and Moonshiners bucked and reared. The Night Riders finally corralled the Moonshiners for a first place. Prizes were sandwiches, drinks and show tickets.

After a very active summer the boys came to the close of the season with one more swim and two more baseball games on their schedule. The club is to be closed on August 26, and will remain closed until October 7.

New High Reached In Lavish Wardrobe

Renting a streamlined club car from a railroad, photographing a woman's reflection in the eyeball of a man, fitting a screen heroine to twenty-one gowns, a total of 63 fittings; these were a few of the odd tasks that went into the making of "Stronger Than Death," New York society melodrama with Virginia Bruce and Walter Pidgeon, coming Friday to the Yucca Theatre.

The club car was rolled over the streets of Culver City by an electric locomotive while cameras inside photographed the actors in early morning, the buildings outside giving a moonlight effect. The reflection of Miss Bruce in Lee Bowman's eye was microscopically enlarged to furnish a clue in a dramatic murder mystery in the story. The gowns, ranging from Paris evening wraps to sports clothes, set a record for diversity of wardrobe in a single picture.

The Dominion of Canada, during 1937, produced 3 3/4 times as much standard newsprint as the United States, or 73.7 per cent of the total North American production of 4,943,000 tons.

STAR PASSERS IN LABOR DAY GAME

DAVEY O'BRIEN, T. C. U. BILLY PATTERSON, BAYLOR

Keen rivals through three years of intercollegiate competition and the subjects of more fan debate than any two athletes in the Southwest have stirred up in a long time, these ace quarterbacks of 1938 will join forces in Dallas Labor Day night for this section's fourth annual football dream game. O'Brien and Patterson will alternate at the throttle of Dutch Meyer's and Matty Bell's College All-Stars against the powerful Green Bay Packers, western division champions of the National Professional League and the only outfit ever to win the world's professional championship four times. As was the case last year, the game is being sponsored by The Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Times-Morning Club for the latter's recreation camp for underprivileged children.

Freshmen Expected To Aid Morrison On McMurry Team

ABILENE, Aug. 23. — Dale N. Morrison, newly elected McMurry College coach, will eye carefully his freshmen candidates when the call for practice is issued here September 5.

Though openly admitting that he has the nucleus of a fair team returning from the mediocre aggregation of last season, Morrison includes a couple of guards, a center, and a tackle on his "must" list as he surveys 1939 possibilities.

Back from last season's array are 11 lettermen and a host of promising squadmen but nevertheless it'll take first year men of rank to make the club "go" during the forthcoming season. At present Morrison is doing little worrying about ends, one tackle, and three backfield posts. At the terminals he inherits three monogram wearers and a promising squadman.

In Clyde Wood, three year letterman from Winters, Morrison believes he has one of the classiest wings in the conference. Though shifted to end even after the past season was underway, Wood shined on a losing club at a strange position—being chosen on the second all-conference team. A trio of husky aspirants will vie for the other terminal post. Tippy Reynolds, a black-haired soph from Pampa, however, seems to hold the inside track. Other candidates are Frank Weaver, two-year vet from Rusk, and Gerald (Dopey) Anderson, squadman from Big Spring.

Holdover tackles are Earl Carter and Aldine Moore. A 200 pounder from Rogers, Ark., Carter looms as a consistent performer provided he ## can overcome an injury jinx.

Morrison is also expecting plenty from Arthur Wylie, burly Plainview lad. Weighing around 220, Wylie looks like part of a "Greek Adonis." He is a transfer from Texas Tech.

Only returning veteran at guard is Donald Raymond, scrappy Abilene boy. Having put on needed heft since last season, Raymond appears good for part time duty at one of the guards. The other post, however, is wide open with a first year man most likely to get it.

No centers are returning—not even a scrub.

With five veterans and a trio of promising squadmen due to aspire in the backfield, Morrison isn't particularly worried about his ball totting department. He adds, though, that he could use a hard blocker. Triple threats include lettermen Bill Emerson, Bill Gray, and squadmen Al Simmons and Clifton Beasley. Buster Peek, the Palmt Rock crusher, is expected to come through again at full. Other letter backs are Ralph McClesley and Doc Shultz. A bright squadman is Roy Baird, swivel-hipped Lorraine boy.

New motor truck registrations for the first quarter of 1938 were approximately 20 per cent higher than for the same period of 1937.

Rose Festival Slated For Oct. 13 at Tyler

TYLER.—Plans for the Seventh Annual Rose Festival, to be held here October 13, 14 and 15, are nearing completion, according to an announcement the early part of this week by S. P. Burke, President of the Festival Association.

Over one hundred local people under the direction of John Womble, Secretary-Manager of the Festival, have been devoting the major portion of their time for the last four weeks to committee work. Although a great amount of detail work remains to be done, Womble states the program is practically complete.

Friday, first day of the Fete, will be Garden Club and Rose Growers Day, with luncheons planned for these two groups. The Queen's Coronation, to take place that night in Bergfeld Amphitheatre, will be the main attraction of the day. The Queen's Ball will follow the Coronation ceremonies.

Saturday program will feature a floral parade in the morning and the rose classic between A&M and University of Villanova in the afternoon.

Sunday has been designed as National Rose Sunday. A vesper service

"WINTER CARNIVAL" CHAPTER 3

The ski competition begins. It is a gloriously bright day on the snow-covered campus. All eyes are on the skiers. The Dartmouth men are tense with excitement as they wait for Mickey Allen's turn on the jump. But Ann Baxter, garbed in a chic ski costume, is too interested in her boy friend and her camera, to realize that the track must be cleared. While the crowd watches in horrified silence, Ann blocks Mickey's way just after he takes off. She loses her balance and falls in a heap in the center of the course. Mickey is ruled out of the race. Ann is heartbroken. Mickey gets over his disappointment, for he is slowly but surely falling in love with Ann. They go off together over the gleaming hillsides. Meanwhile, down among the spectators, Professor Weldon is lured to the Coffee Shop by his friends, the Morgans, who have a surprise for him. The surprise turns out to be Jill Baxter, who looks gorgeous in a dashing ski suit. Jill is gay and casual. She doesn't explain why she has stayed on for the carnival, but it is obvious that Weldon is the reason. The Morgans insist that Jill and Weldon join them for dinner that evening. Tiger Reynolds, still trying to scoop the Jill Baxter story, catches up with them. Jill is furious at being followed and treats Reynolds rudely. That evening, the new Carnival Queen is to be chosen in a brilliant ceremony. Jill and Weldon shuttle the Morgans off to the festivities, while they stay home to mind the baby—and to get acquainted again after the long years of separation. They wash the dishes, take care of the baby—and they fall in love all over again. But their love never runs smoothly, for Jill is afraid of being tied down to a college campus while Weldon loves his work as a professor and refuses marriage on any other basis. Weldon tells Jill that she believes everything she reads in the papers about herself. They quarrel bitterly and once again their engagement is called off...

STORIES IN STAMPS

Stuart Painted Favorite Portrait of Washington

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S most loved likeness is not a handsome painting hung in an art museum. It is the small, engraved head which, from the first 10-cent adhesive, issued in 1847, to the 3-cent issue of 1932, has been the most popular stamp in U. S. mails.

The picture on the stamp was taken from a portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart, one of the greatest of the early American painters.

Stuart was born in Rhode Island in 1755. In 1775 he went to London, where he opened a studio six years later. He gained fame quickly, painted George III, Sir Joshua Reynolds and other celebrities.

At the height of his career he returned to America, in 1792, painted portraits of the first five presidents of United States and of many other distinguished men and women of the period.

Best known are Stuart's paintings of Washington. One of these hangs in the Metropolitan Museum, another in the Boston museum. A third, a full-length portrait, was painted for the Marquis of Lansdowne.

Stuart died in 1828 and was elected to the American hall of fame in 1900.

Steady Dish for Baby

Tiny fingers, precious as they are, are none too certain when handling food dishes. All too often these go skittering into the clean floor, if baby is left to feed himself for a minute or two. But not one of the new, special serving dishes designed particularly to stay put. Made of colorful plastic, it is divided into three compartments and has three suction-cupped stubby legs to hold it firmly to table top or high-chair tray.

DOING WELL.

Mrs. Bill Collins, who underwent an appendectomy in a Midland hospital Saturday, is reported today to be doing well.

Rampaging Rivers in China Threaten the Lives of Thousands

TIENSIN, China, Aug. 23 (AP)—China, torn by war, flood, famine and disease, bore still heavier burdens of distress Tuesday night.

There was no death estimate from the flooded area in and around Tientsin in Northern China, but the rampaging Hai River was known to have taken an enormous life toll. Officials, seeking outside aid, said 3,000,000 persons were affected.

Both American and British authorities planned to evacuate their women and children if boats could be obtained. The American women and children, about 100, were to be sent to Chinwangtao, a beach resort northeast of Tientsin. United States Marines were offering food and inoculations to all Americans.

The water in some places was from ten to fifteen feet deep and continued to rise. Disease spread rapidly and authorities were unable to obtain sufficient vaccine and medicine.

In the midst of this natural disaster the British were informed that the anti-British campaign at Petaiho, a beach resort 150 miles north of Tientsin, had become so intense that English women and children must be taken away.

The Japanese-controlled municipal government at Shankai Tuesday received unqualified rejection by the International Settlement Council of demands for indemnity, an apology and punishment for a British police sergeant who killed two and wounded six of the Japanese-controlled government's policemen with a submachine gun last Saturday.

In a note to the puppet government, the council stated that evidence showed the sergeant fired in self-defense.
