Daladier Rejects Hitler Peace Plan

Louisianans Seek Recall of Orleans D. A.

Name of Governor Boomed by Crowd of 5,000 at Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10. (AP).—A mass meeting of 5,000 persons boomed the name of Governor Earl K. Long for more than a minute and then broke up without disorders at the criminal district court building today after hearing speeches denouncing District Attorney Charles A. Byrne and launching a recall movement.

Byrne, in the building, was arranging a defense against charges of grand jurors asking his removal. Byrne announced his assistants would conduct a hearing to determine the "truth or falsity" of charges he obstructed the jury's work.

The jurors' charges against the District Attorney included allegations that his staff "have failed and refused to co-operate with your grand jury to the extent necessary, and delayed, stalled and refused to produce and to order the production of books, records, papers, documents and pay rolls."

Judge Platt found the jurors, Edgar H. Powell and Sydney D'Armas, guilty of contempt of court and discharged them from the jury after they had been under arrest an hour in the office of the court clerk.

"It's a lie," was Byrne's only comment after his request for the hearing. "Arrest that man! Arrest that man!" Judge Platt shouted as Powell began to read the petition after the judge refused him permission to do so.

Powell, as deputies grabbed him, tossed the petition to D'Armas, and Judge Platt yelled "Put that man in jail, too."

D'Armas tried a lateral pass of the petition to another juror, but it was intercepted by a court assistant and Judge Platt recessed court in a turmoil while he consulted associate judges.

Drought Broken by General Rains Over Areas in East Texas

By Associated Press. Rains ranging up to 4.35 inches at McKinney today broke a drought that has held sway in East Texas for several weeks. It was the first general precipitation since July 1.

Other places reported: Navarro county, 1.22; Paris, 1.19; Sherman, 2.2; Laredo, 2.5; Kerrville, 2.19.

Farmers and stockmen in a wide area where benefited and started planting wheat.

Answers Come Steadily On Embargo Question

Answers were coming steadily today on The Reporter-Telegram's poll of local opinion of the question of retaining or repealing the embargo on arms shipments to warring nations. Elsewhere in this paper is a coupon which readers may clip, vote their opinions and sign. The results will be used to inform congressmen of the "cross section" opinion of Midland citizens. At least 100 votes are wanted to complete the "cross section."

C of C Membership Drive Is Scheduled for October 19

Meeting in regular monthly session in the organization's office in Hotel Scharbauer, members of the Board of Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce last night voted to stage the annual chamber of commerce membership drive, a one day campaign, on Thursday, October 19, the members committee to be in charge of the campaign. As last year, the membership campaign will be in the form of a contest with two groups competing on a point basis, the losing side to "feed" the winning side at a dinner following the close of the contest. Captains of the two groups will be named later this week by Marion Flynn, chairman of the membership committee.

Although the tentative program of work for 1940 will not be submitted to the Board of Directors for adoption until the next meeting, suggestions offered by local citizens during Chamber of Commerce Suggestion Week ending last Saturday were presented for discussion by Paul McGargie, chairman of the activities committee. Chairman McGargie termed Suggestion Week as being highly successful from the standpoints of both type and number.

Iroquois Skipper

Capt. Edgar A. Chelton, skipper of the U. S. Iroquois, which Germany reported would be sunk, was informed of the threat by wireless message, ordered by Maritime Commission to search the vessel, double lookouts and patrol watchmen. The ship is expected to dock in New York tomorrow or Thursday.

Eight Members Are Signed Up at Local Flying Club Meet

Eight members were signed up at last night's meeting of the Midland Flying Club, held at Room 1120, Petroleum Building. A total of 16 local aviation enthusiasts were present at the gathering.

Those signifying their intention of joining the club were: M. T. Smith, Jim McHargue, Nelson J. Ramsey, Don Parsons, E. E. Reagle, J. N. Kenderdine, W. P. Thurmon, and H. P. Fagg.

A committee composed of Messrs. Smith, Reagle and Kenderdine will meet Thursday to draw up by-laws, rules and regulations to govern the club. They will report their decisions at the next general meeting of the group, to be held Tuesday night, Oct. 17, at a place not yet decided upon.

Executioner of Bruno Hauptmann Dies Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 10. (AP).—Robert C. Elliott, 85, executioner of Richard Bruno Hauptmann, Sacco and Vanzetti, died here today of coronary embolism.

A foe of legalized killing, Elliott spun the death dials for 300 murderers in a 13-year career. "It's the hardest executing women," he said after Ruth Snyder was put to death for the murder of her husband several years ago.

Hitler Says Nazis Ready For Warfare

Says No Power on Earth Can Humble The Germans Again

BERLIN, Oct. 10. (AP).—Adolf Hitler declared today that if "readiness for peace" was declined Germany was determined "to take up the fight and fight it out one way or another."

Opening the winter relief campaign, Hitler mentioned Poland's fate. "What the future may bring we do not know, but of this we are certain: No power on earth ever again will be able to force Germany to her knees. The way ahead of us cannot be more difficult than that behind us."

Winter relief will be devoted chiefly to the Red Cross, with the two practically merged, he said.

"We want to bring evidence of what we can endure and accomplish," the Fuehrer declared.

Hitler added sarcastically "it is to be hoped that others can do as well."

"The decision of peace or war lies with others. We simply have a grim determination to fight."

Life of Pioneer Women Discussed By Mrs. Brunson

Interesting reminiscences of the hardships, joys and sorrows in the lives of pioneer women of the Midland area were presented by Mrs. W. H. Brunson, longtime resident, in a talk before the Business and Professional Women's club in the private dining room of Hotel Scharbauer Monday evening.

"Thrilling experiences such as the rescue of a tiny child from a circle of wild range cattle which later stamped and a ride after dark through dimly-tracked rangeland to help ailing neighbor were interspersed with lighter details of a Christmas dinner cooked by a bride for a group of cowboys and various laughable incidents of ranching life in Mrs. Brunson's recital.

Speaking of the many hardships which attended the task of keeping house without the modern conveniences, she declared that hard though such conditions were, they taught women the truth that they must call on their own resources and must do things for themselves. For seven years, Mrs. Brunson lived on a ranch 85 miles from Midland, the post office and trading point. Transportation was the worst problem confronting the ranchers, she said. It took about seven days to go to town and when the men went for a load of groceries, they took a four-horse team for four horses were needed to pull the load back through twisting, sandy roads.

In the early days of Midland (she came here in 1894) Mrs. Brunson said that husbands did not like for their wives to work outside the home. This was not because they were tyrants, she declared spiritedly, but because they were slaves to custom and wished to protect their wives from the gossip which would attend breaking the rule that women should be rarely seen or heard outside the home.

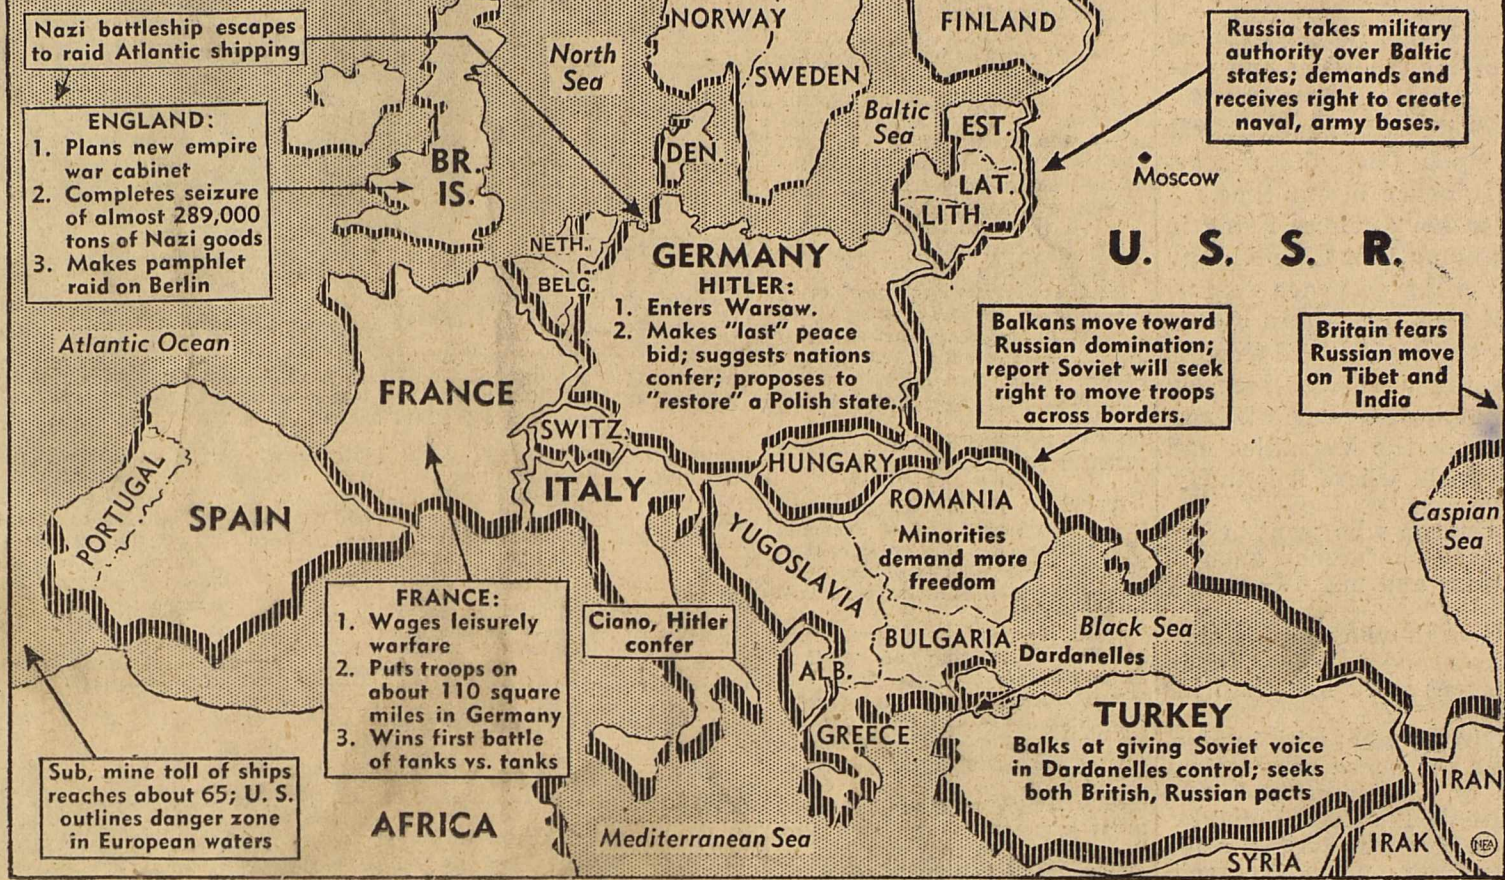

She named numerous ranchmen and women and business people who were prominent in the building up of this country and declared that many people were not what would be called outstanding but stood in.

After her talk, Mrs. Brunson answered questions asked by club members.

Miss Fannie Bess Taylor introduced Mrs. Brunson, paying tribute to her as a woman and a pioneer. Mrs. Iva Noyes, vice president, presided in the absence of Miss Betty Wilson, club president. Various matters of club business were discussed. Resignation of Miss Alpha Lynn as a member was accepted.

Miss Kathleen Eiland was in charge of the program for the evening.

Pieces of Europe's Jigsaw Puzzle Are Slipping

After five weeks of war, alignments in the pieces that make up the puzzle of Europe are changing. Russia has taken the center of the stage with her program of dominating pacts for Balkan and Baltic states. There is no more Poland—it is split between Germany and Russia—but Hitler now is talking of creating a new dependent, portless Poland fronting the new Russian border.

Congratulations to: Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Blocker of Stanton on the birth of a daughter in a Midland hospital this morning. The baby weighed 7 1/2 pounds.

Division of Present Neutrality Act Into Two Parts Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. (AP).—Senator Tobey (R-NH) today urged the senate to divide the neutrality bill in two parts, one repealing the existing arms embargo and the other imposing restrictions on American shipping and travel to belligerent zones.

Administration forces in the senate lined up last night against a proposal by Senator Johnson (D-Colo) that the chamber recess for three days so that President Roosevelt could be free to undertake the role of European peace-maker.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, told reporters he believed there wasn't "a chance in the world" of the senate adopting the proposal, which Johnson said he might call up for action today.

The Kentuckian said he was opposed to the senate taking the initiative and halting debate over repeal of the arms embargo. The neutrality revision legislation was designed to keep the United States out of the conflict, he added, and consideration of it should go forward without interruption.

Reports from Berlin have said Germany would like the United States or some other neutral to mediate the war. Barkley took the position that President Roosevelt had received no request to take a hand in the matter, that he decision would be up to him if a request were received and that defeat of Johnson's proposal would not tie the chief executive's hands.

The republican leader, Senator McNary of Oregon, joined him in predicting defeat of both the Johnson motion and a proposal by Senator Tobey (R-NH) that the administration's neutrality revision bill be divided. The Tobey measure, designed to obtain immediate action on the bill's proposed shipping restrictions and to delay consideration of arms embargo repeal until later, is scheduled to be voted upon today.

The discussion as to whether President Roosevelt should attempt to effect peace in Europe at this time shared attention with an angry row in the house. It started when Rep. Woodrum (D-Va) proposed that the chamber set up a special seven-man committee to investigate the "national committee to keep America out of foreign wars," which he said was headed by Rep. Fish (R-NY).

Woodrum, who has been a bitter critic of administration spending policies but who vigorously defended the president today against critics of his foreign policy, said the group led by Fish had been soliciting contributions in a "propaganda campaign that makes the utilities and Doc Townsend look like pikers."

Gunter Given 5 Years; One Son 2 Years Suspended, Other Freed

W. S. Gunter, Sr., was sentenced to five years in prison, Herman Gunter, a son, was given two years suspended sentence and W. S. Gunter, Jr., was found not guilty by a district court jury on charges of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of S. L. Box in the 100 block on South Main street last May 13.

Hearing of testimony by witnesses was concluded last night and the case went to the jury men this morning at the conclusion of arguments by state and defense attorneys.

Defense and state witnesses told conflicting stories of the shooting. Two state witnesses declared they saw Gunter and his two sons together a short while before Box was shot, a blanket denial to the state-

Second Acid Job Is Aid to Stanolind's Ector Deep Wildcat

By FRANK GARDNER. Re-treating with 2,000 gallons in Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-A B. H. Blakeney, Ector county deep Permian test a half-mile southwest of nominal shallow production in the North Cowden pool, increased production slightly, it was revealed today.

In the Foster pool of Ector, Stanolind No. 23-B Elliott F. Cowden found 1,048.51 barrels of oil in 24 hours for completion at 4,200 feet. Pay was topped at 4,000 feet. The well was shot with 600 quarts of nitro and is producing 36-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio 1.079-1.

Gulf No. 222 Goldsmith, in the pool of that name in northwestern Ector, earned potential rating of 1,847.60 barrels of 34.1-gravity oil per day, with gas in the ratio of 1.055-1. Pay between 4,150 and 4,199 feet, total depth, was acidized with 400 gallons.

Oil Development Company of Texas accounted for two of the starts, staking No. 2-763 fee 440 feet out of the southeast corner of the southwest quarter of section 763, block (See OIL NEWS, page 8)

Heavier Offensive Launched by Germans Along Western Front

PARIS, Oct. 10. (AP).—The French high command reported last night that the Germans were attacking an artillery duel covered the entire northern flank of the Western Front, from the Moselle to Lauterbourg, where the French-German frontier joins the Rhine.

Shell screamed overhead as German patrols extended their contact with French advance guards from near the Luxembourg border to Saarbruecken, central key of Nazi defenses between the Moselle and the Rhine.

A French success in sea warfare was reported by the night communique which said a French patrol boat had attacked "an enemy submarine with success."

On the Western Front, German attacks, obviously were increasing in strength day by day.

French official reports of the last few days have told of repulsing German patrols in surprise attacks against various sectors.

Last night the communique said there was "very great activity of enemy patrols between the Moselle and the Saar."

The Germans were believed by observers to be throwing larger and larger units into the fighting.

Military observers reported 24 hours ago that the Germans were using units as large as companies, supported by machine gun and anti-tank units, for their advance patrol work.

French-observers considered it too early to say whether a long-expected German offensive was yet underway, but the communique left little doubt that one of the heaviest actions of the war to date was in progress.

Changed tactics of German artillery caused some French observers to believe a limited German offensive might be starting. German batteries for the first time began trying to silence French artillery just behind the front lines.

Football Game Will Be Started at 8:30

Midland high school officials today announced the Midland-Sweetwater football game here Friday night would be played at 8:30 instead of at eight o'clock, as previously advertised.

Sweetwater fans are chartering a special train for the game and, because many of them could not board the train in time to get here for a game starting at eight, the time was moved back 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, there has been a record demand for tickets to the game, at noon today, approximately 1500 tickets had been sold at the chamber of commerce office. Persons desiring to see the game are urged to procure their reserved seat tickets as soon as possible in order to keep from having to set in the end zones.

Officials have advised persons procuring reserved seat tickets to disregard the printed matter on the ticket stating that the game would be started at eight o'clock.

British Warships Beat Off Attacks By Nazi Bombers

LONDON, Oct. 10. (AP).—Repeated clashes between British warships and German bombing planes in the northeast area of the North sea was reported last night by the admiralty which said there were no British casualties.

The admiralty disclosed no details of the encounters and said it had no information as to how the Germans fared.

A German naval squadron of undisclosed strength was asserted to have escaped a British naval patrol off the south coast of Norway yesterday.

Other forces endeavored to engage it, the admiralty announced, "but darkness enabled the enemy to escape."

Scouting activity by British planes over the entire length of the western front was reported by "Eyewitness," the official correspondent with the British forces in France.

"Eyewitness" said four British planes had made successful daytime flights along the German frontier from France to the North sea. One pair of planes was said to have flown safely through two anti-aircraft barrages.

The planes set over Germany were said by "Eyewitness" to have investigated reports received at headquarters of "the excavation of important cities, big troop movements near Aix-La-Chapelle (Archen), significant concentrations of aircraft, and intensive building of fortifications near the Luxembourg frontier."

Although the communique said the scouting planes landed safely in England with photographs taken on their flights, there was no indication of the nature of their findings.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET.

Civic Music club will meet at the North Ward school tonight at eight o'clock. Mrs. Tom Parker will be leader for the program on "Contrasting Musical Types of Many Lands."

Says War Was Forced Upon The Allies

"Real Peace" in the Future Promised in Answer to Fuehrer

PARIS, Oct. 10. (AP).—Premier Daladier told the French nation today "many schemes of German propaganda" had come to nothing, and described Hitler's peace proposals as a peace of "ruse and violence."

Daladier promised the people a "real peace" in the future.

"We have taken up arms against aggression and we will not lay them down again until the world has certain peace."

"Under the circumstances, we once more call upon the French people to make efforts to surmount their common dangers. The French were willing to make sacrifices for the safety of the western civilization."

"Neither France nor Great Britain has embarked on any war of conquest. They accepted that war because Germany wanted to impose domination of Europe."

"Austria was one of the first milestones in Germany's conquest. 'After Austria, Hitler said he had no more territorial demands. After that came Czechoslovakia, and Chancellor Hitler announced he had no more territorial demands. And then came Poland."

"Every six months Germany makes new territorial demands and then says she is satisfied. 'In order to bring about a lasting peace, we must fight against the abuses of force,' the premier declared in concluding his answer to Hitler's proposal of peace."

Russian Support of German Peace Plea Advanced by Chiefs

MOSCOW, Oct. 10. (AP).—Soviet Russia backed Germany last night in her drive for peace in Europe and at the same time sought to counter her military, territorial and economic gains in a diplomatic chain stretching from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

In the first comment to appear in Russia on Adolf Hitler's Reichstag speech of Friday, the government newspaper Izvestia made a strong reserved seat diagnosis of Hitler's terms, which the paper called "real" and "practical," and attacked British and France.

Izvestia accused the allies of "returning to the middle ages" in waging war to "exterminate Hitlerism."

"It is impossible," the newspaper declared, "to exterminate any idea or any opinion by fire and sword. One may respect or hate Hitlerism or any other system of political opinions. This is a matter of taste. But to begin a war for the extermination of Hitlerism means to admit to criminal silliness in policy."

The "disintegration" of Poland was called "irrefutable proof that its lack of vital power" removed the causes for further war.

Still, Izvestia went on, British and French newspapers "demand that Hitler's peace proposals be given no consideration and that war be continued" until the aims of the allies were "fully accomplished."

AFL Refuses to Give Endorsement to FDR

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10. (AP).—The American Federation of Labor voted non-concurrence with a resolution calling for new deal endorsement today without debate and decided it could not give a "blanket endorsement" to all the new deal actions.

And Now It Is Lloyd George Who Wages Peace!

Nobody is likely to argue that Prime Minister Chamberlain of the United Kingdom, on his record, is one who is likely to turn heedlessly aside from any honest offer of peace that really promises a civilized Europe.

So it seems strange indeed to see a figure rising in the House of Commons and demanding that Chamberlain give fullest consideration to any offer of peace coming from neutrals.

It is 20 years ago, true, but the world can scarcely have forgotten that this is the same Lloyd George who was so great a factor in forcing through the Versailles mill the treaty whose failure put the world where it is today.

Was it not this same Lloyd George who went before his electorate just before the peace conference opened, with a program of "hang the Kaiser and make Germany pay the full cost of the war"?

Was it not this same Lloyd George who won his election on that platform and then returned to Versailles in such a position that he could accept little less than his election platform called for?

Was it not this same Lloyd George who, with implacable Clemenceau, jammed through the peace negotiations impossible reparations demands on Germany, and who helped to jettison President Wilson's Fourteen Points?

Was it not this same Lloyd George who pushed aside the advice of the American negotiators when they said that the harshness of the Versailles terms would inevitably lead to the rise of a German leader who would seek to throw off the oppressive treaty?

Yes, it was the same man, and not one whose record would seem to argue that he is best qualified to contribute to the question of a 1939 peace. Such a peace must be better than the peace of 1919, or it will have been scarcely worth the making.

Lloyd George wants the United States dealt a hand in any new peace conference "because you have there a great power whose interests are not European interests and which has not been involved in any of these disputes and quarrels."

Whether the United States might have any interest in the making of a general peace in Europe would depend largely on whether it proved to be a mere military armistice or a real settlement going to the root of economic, colonial, financial and armament problems in a truly international way.

That Woodrow Wilson once envisioned such a world settlement, and what happened to his hopes, and why it happened, no one is in a better position to remember than David Lloyd George. And if there should appear in the United States a certain reluctance to take another hand in that game, especially if there are any deuces wild, again Lloyd George is in the best possible position to understand.

74,000 MILES, 18,000,000 PEOPLE NOW WON, GERMANY IS FACING TO THE WEST

By NEA Service

WITH at least 100 million men, women and children in her expanding borders, Germany turns from the conquered eastern front to plunge her military might into the conflict in the west.

Industrially, she is better prepared for conflict than a month ago. Poland has been her greatest grab in the series of seizures that began with the Austrian Anschluss in 1938.

In partitioning conquering Poland with Russia, Germany has added at least 18,000,000 persons, most of them hostile, to her population. With them, the Nazis have absorbed an estimated 74,000 square miles of Poland's best industrial areas and some of her valuable natural resources.

From a nutritional standpoint, Germany is little stronger than before the Polish grab. German's section of Poland contains the industrial areas more than the agricultural or grazing regions.

In an effort to forestall famine, she has started rationing her people early in this war.

German housewives, now carry seven ration cards for each member of the family. Curbed foods include meat, butter, margarine, cheese, sugar, jam, cereals, coffee substitutes, eggs, soap and bread.

WHEAT IS LARGEST SINGLE EXPORT

BREAD is rationed because even the vast wheat fields of Bohemia and Moravia do not grow enough to supply the millions of Germans. Wheat is the Reich's largest single edible import.

Substitution plays a great part in the functioning of wartime menus. Sugar is made from potatoes, fish is eaten for meat, sawdust makes for wood flour for use as a fodder. For bread, Germans eat a substitute made partly of cellulose.

Only agricultural product Germany acquires in any abundance is potatoes. Already she has an abundance of this food.

In the Polish partition, Germany got the lion's share of electrical, chemical, textile, leather, and foodstuffs industries, and deposits of iron, coal and oil. Russia got the largest grain fields, pastures, forests, oil wells, and the Ukrainians.

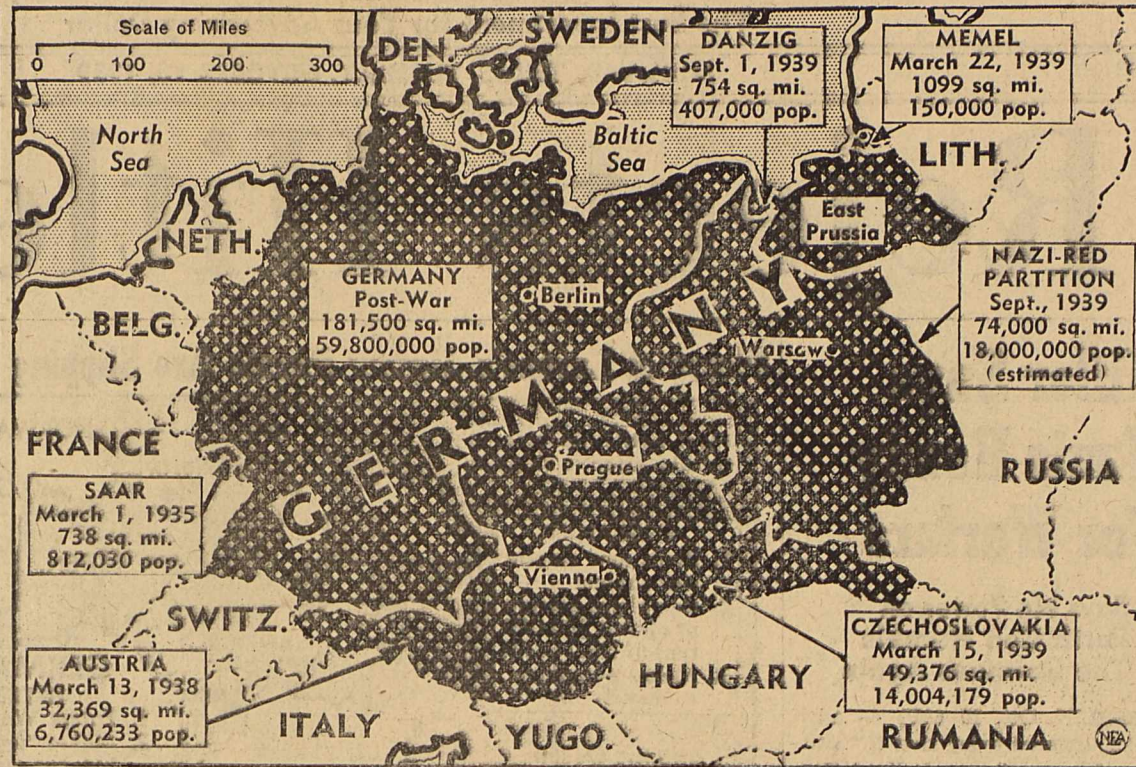

Germany is not the dependent nation she was in 1914, but she still must bring in from outside both raw materials and foods.

Of the 30-odd vital materials necessary to an industrial nation, Germany has only coal and potash in abundance.

Before the war, Germany built up manufacturing industries to decrease unemployment and to increase her armed power. Along with cotton, silk, rubber and wool imports for eventual civilian consumption, she brought in iron ore, lead, copper, tin, and zinc to make arms and military machines.

REPORT NATION HEALTH DROP

Factories worked at a rapid pace of production as Nazis prepared for the war they knew would eventually come. Equipment wore out, and not replaced, caused frequent breakdowns. Men, overworked and underfed in the mad rush for industrial expansion, grew sickly and there was a nationwide drop in the health level, according to a For-

This is the new Germany. The Polish partition with Russia increases the Reich's population to 100,000,000 persons, many of them hostile, and boosts her area to an estimated 400,000 square miles, 127,000 more than held before the first World War.

But despite predictions from outside that the system would collapse, the Nazis have kept their economic ship afloat. Industrial output and employment before the war had risen above pre-depression levels. No noticeable effects of the great, but unknown debt, revealed themselves in the progress of German industry. By ignoring the consumption needs of its own population and industry, and by ceasing to accumulate emergency supplies, Russia might aid Germany, lightly in industrial products, heavily in agricultural stocks.

throttled by a blockade, with insufficient supplies of materials for her munitions industries, or food for her increased populations. Barring the unknown factor of reserves, she can keep her armies marching and her people eating only if a trade channel is forced through to friendly nations in the outside world.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

Another Catton column which takes you behind the scenes of the current neutrality fight in Washington.

BY BRUCE CATTON
Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—A vast amount of "war talk" of different kinds is going around in Washington official circles.

First there's the public talk. It is discreet enough for anybody and consists largely of ringing declarations that this country is going to stay out of war.

Then, there is private talk, which ranges all the way from definite predictions that the nation will be in the war by spring, to fatalistic remarks that while the administration will make an honest effort to keep out, it will do no good because it is "inevitable" that America will ultimately get involved.

On Sept. 9, as conservative and non-sensational a magazine as Business Week announced flatly in its Washington letter that the administration was calculating that the United States would be in the war within six months.

Shortly thereafter a reputable business-advice service notified its clients that every indication here pointed to war by mid-winter.

U. S. BRUSHES UP MILITARY MACHINE

The enlisted strength of the army and navy is being increased, under the "limited emergency" proclaimed by the President. A fleet of destroyers is being put back into service. New details have been sent to strengthen the defenses at Panama and elsewhere in the Caribbean. Naval patrols far out in the Atlantic are under preparation.

All of which, military men say, simply add up to the precautions which any sensible nation would take in a time of world crisis. Yet the atmosphere which these steps create is very definitely a war-like atmosphere. You can sense it in the War and Navy departments. It extends to little things, too, as well as big ones.

Presidential Secretary Stephens Early's recent remark that the administration does not contemplate any censorship of press or radio at this time. . . . The President's proclamation of a "limited emergency" . . . The action of the capitol police in closing the capitol building to sightseers on Sunday. . . . The ceremonious closing of the iron gates through which by-passers ordinarily can stroll freely up to the White House grounds. . . . The tremendous number of police and secret service men detailed to guard the capitol when President Roosevelt went there to address the joint session of Sept. 14. . . . The navy's order that no news of U. S. warship movements be made public. . . . The President's announcement at a White House press conference (where the news was certain to get far more publicity than it could have obtained if issued from the Navy Department) that two foreign submarines had been sighted in American territorial waters. . . . and so on, and so on.

These things give the capital the "feel" of war.

RUMOR FACTORY GETS AROUND

The most fantastic rumors are going around. Here are two samples, heard within the past week on Capitol Hill:

NUMBER ONE: A congressman gets a long-distance call from an old-time college classmate, who is now on the staff of an "international banker" in New York. The classmate was worried. He just been talking with a member of a British mission sent over here to prepare for the turning of British-held American securities into cash for war purchases; the Briton told him his government felt that the American government was going to get into the war too soon — that it ought to wait about eight months, meanwhile preparing its factories for wartime production, because if it came in too soon the British and French would have to supply U. S. soldiers with rifles and artillery as they did last time.

NUMBER TWO: That France and Germany have had extended peace negotiations of late and that both have tried to persuade London to enter into a peace agreement, but that London has held off because of pressure from Washington.

Stories such as these may be utterly absurd and groundless. You can always hear wild yarns of one kind or another in Washington. But the point is that stories such as these, circulating in a war-like atmosphere, in the midst of frequent predictions that the United States is going to war, make up the background against which the embargo repeal question is going to be decided.

In view of which it is asking a good deal to expect that that question will be debated and disposed of coldly logically and without emotion.

PAVE ALL STREETS WITH CONCRETE! 8 good reasons why— 1 You want a pavement that requires the minimum of maintenance which must be done at city expense. 2 Concrete is quiet. It greatly reduces the tire rumble set up by rapidly moving vehicles. 3 Traffic markers are built-in. Joints running the length of the pavement serve as lane markers without costly and impermanent stripe painting. 4 Every street demands a gritty, non-skid surface for the protection of motorists and pedestrians. 5 At night you need a pavement with high visibility. 6 Safety also calls for a pavement that is free from chuck holes, ruts and bumps. . . and stays that way with minimum maintenance. 7 Concrete pavement drains quickly. . . it is easily cleaned and stays clean. . . no depressions to catch dirt. 8 You want a pavement that makes the whole neighborhood look modern, prosperous, attractive. Concrete. . . and only concrete. . . completely meets all of these specifications.

Yankees Celebrate Fourth World Title in Row

Wildly cheering their 7-to-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, these New York Yankees celebrate their four-game sweep of the World Series by whooping it up in the Cincinnati ball field clubhouse. Left to right: Babe Dahlgren, Frank Crossetti, Rosar (waving cap), Coach Art Fletcher and Manager Joe McCarthy.

Family's Nine in Hospital.

SWOYERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Nine children of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Lavin were all in the hospital at the same time for removal of their tonsils. A like operation on a 10.1/2 child was postponed because of a cold.

Mashed Sweet Potatoes

Mashed sweet potatoes are good—peel and cook until tender, then mash, add a little brown sugar, salt, pepper and lots of butter.

ALL DISTRICT 3-AA TEAMS GO INTO ACTION THIS WEEK

The Play That Tied Up the Ball Game

The Cincinnati Reds were ahead until this happened in the ninth inning of the fourth World Series game at Cincinnati. Joe DiMaggio slides past Catcher Ernie Lombardi with the run that tied the score, 4-4. The Yankees then swept the series in the tenth with three runs for a 7-to-4 victory.

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS.

The Midland Bulldogs, after ten days of just "missing around," went back to hard work yesterday in preparation for what is likely to be one of the toughest games of the year — against the Sweetwater Mustangs here Friday night.

The most attractive week-end games of the season to date loom for football fans of district 3AA this week as two conference and three non-conference games are slated.

Most interesting game of the five will probably be the Midland-Sweetwater game on Lackey Field here Friday night at eight o'clock.

The Midland Bulldogs will once more, as in their last game, be the underdog in this battle. The Mustangs, winners of three games in as many starts, were tabbed early as one of the favorites for the district championship and have looked the part of champs in all their games, epping all three without having been pressed at any time.

The Mustangs have scored 83 points in three games and have had only six points marked up against them. Meanwhile, the Bulldogs have scored 88 points and have given up 19 points in four games.

The game here will have increased interest because it will pit Eddie Freeze of Sweetwater, league's leading scorer, and Jay Francis, runner-up, against each other.

Probably the next best game of the evening this week will find the Brackenridge club of San Antonio meeting San Angelo. The San Antonio club has won three games without having been scored upon. Among the victims are Amarillo Sandies.

The Angelo boys have also copped three games, trampling Brownwood, Cisco and Paechal of Fort Worth. The San Antonio team, because of its better defensive record, will probably rank as favorites in the game.

The Odessa Broncos, over a large attack of swell head after being upset by a supposedly far weaker bunch of Big Spring Longhorns, journey to Lamesa for another conference battle. The Lamesa team has won only one game of three played this year and the Broncos have been made favorites to get back on the winning track.

Another game that should prove well worth watching is the Big Spring-Ausitt (El Paso) battle in Big Spring Friday night. On the basis of past scores, Big Spring should rate as favorites but they go into the game the underdog, nevertheless. The Ausitt club was defeated by Odessa, 6-18, and Big Spring hung up a one touchdown win over the same Odessa club but persons who saw both games declare the Ausitt team outplayed the Odessans even more so than did the Big Spring boys, although losing.

The Abilene Eagles, able to make only one touchdown in losing their only two games played to date, meet a strong Thomas Jefferson team of San Antonio and will probably drop their third of the year. The Eagles were drubbed 52-0 by Brackenridge and 19-0 by Sweetwater in their two games played. Only a lot of fumbling by Sweetwater kept the Broncos from rolling up a far larger score. As it was, the victory was plenty decisive to make all concerned view the Mustangs with alarm.

Season Standings table with columns: Team, W, L, Pts, Op, Pct. Rows include Midland, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Odessa, Big Spring, Abilene.

Conference Standings table with columns: Team, W, L, Pts, Op, Pct. Rows include Sweetwater, Big Spring, Abilene, Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, Lamesa.

Advertisement for Praetorian Policy, featuring the text 'THERE IS NO WAR CLAUSE IN A PRAETORIAN POLICY Wars and the rumors of wars cause the patrons and executives of life insurance organizations to meditate upon the factor of increased mortality incident to such violence. At the outbreak of the World War all standard life insurance policies contained what was known as the "war clause," cancelling the insurance, or at least denying liability for loss or injury incident to military service. That limitation was deemed vitally requisite to actuarial soundness and solvency. Strange to relate that among the Americans enlisted, fatalities from disease exceeded the heavy mortality of the service at the front. In that holocaust of death and destruction, cruelty and murder, there transpired many fine things to redeem the depravity of the mad world. One incident of local origin, and a matter of modest pride, gave to all life insurance history, a new and challenging spirit. The Praetorian Life Insurance Society of Dallas, Texas, notwithstanding the war clause in its policy, on the 24th day of July, 1917, decreed and provided that the institution would pay all "CLAIMS FOR DEATH RESULTING, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, FROM ENGAGING IN MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AND THAT MEMBERS, WHILE SO ENGAGED, SHALL BE EXEMPT FROM PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS." This policy was carried out in good faith and actual performance. Since nations feverishly prepare for war, and armies of the millions are now marching, what must be the thoughts of those now holding, and those desiring to acquire, life insurance protection? The alert mind and the keen thinker will act promptly before new clauses, exceptions and limitations are incorporated in future policies. There may be no real occasion for special concern in this matter, but who can foretell the tomorrow? Praetorian policies now contain the following clause: "This policy is free of restrictions from date of issue as to change in occupation, residence or travel." J. WRAY CAMPBELL, Dist. Mgr. 502 Petroleum Bldg.—Midland, Texas Office Phone 111—Res. Phone 859-J'.

New Orleans Men Are Indicted by Jury

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10 (AP)—Income tax evasions exceeding a half million dollars in connection with an alleged slot machine racket which flourished in New Orleans for several years were charged to six persons in an indictment returned Monday by the federal grand jury here.

The evasions were said by members of the United States attorney's office to be the largest such case in the South and second nationally only to the $5,000,000 evasions charged to Moses L. Anneberg, Philadelphia publisher.

Named defendants were Frank Costello, described by New York police as a former slot machine king; Philip Kastel, alias Harold Miller, gambler who supports a $150,000 mansion in Stamford, Conn.; Dudley Geigerman, Harold Geigerman, alias Harold Miller; James Brocato, alias Jimmie Morgan; and Jacob Altman, otherwise known as Jake Altman, all of New Orleans.
