FDR Answers Criticism of Soviet Head

"Sympathy" Notes of Six Months Ago Are Used in Rebuttal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt, who had been criticized Tuesday by Russian Premier Molotov for "intervening" for Finland, dug up and reread last night an official record which recalled that Russia had given "profound sympathy" only six months ago to his efforts to prevent attacks on Finland, Poland, and other European nations.

Mr. Roosevelt's action apparently was both a reply to the Molotov speech and a new effort to show that a bond of sympathy links Finland and the United States.

It was a dramatic action, in which the President, as the leading actor, remained off the stage. It was a drama almost without words or even pantomime.

The President merely directed his press secretary, Stephen T. Early, to run off on a mimeograph machine new copies of cablegrams dated last April. Early then handed the texts to reporters.

In one of the messages the President appealed to Adolf Hitler to give assurances which would guarantee at least ten years of non-aggression abroad. Specifically Mr. Roosevelt asked Hitler whether he was willing to give assurances that his armed forces would "not attack or invade the territory or possessions" of certain nations.

The President named Poland, of which Russia since then has seized. He mentioned Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, with which Russia has concluded agreements recently allowing her to utilize their territory for military purposes.

He specified Finland, with which Russia is negotiating now for military advantages, and he also named all the other nations of Europe and a few in western Asia.

The day after the White House made public the message to Hitler last April, President Kalinin cabled "an expression of profound sympathy with the noble appeal which you have addressed to the governments of Germany and Italy."

Kalinin continued: "You may rest assured that your initiative finds most ardent response in the hearts of the people of the Soviet Union."

Mr. Roosevelt cabled a reply, assuring he was "glad to learn that your views with regard to my efforts on behalf of world peace are similar to those expressed to me by the heads of numerous other states."

In those three documents—the message to Hitler, and the Roosevelt and Kalinin cablegrams—the American President found his reply to Molotov.

The Russian premier had accused him of mixing in the Finnish-Soviet negotiations in "contradiction" of the United States' neutrality policy.

Pep talks were presented by: Rev. W. C. Hinds, Coach Taylor, Prin. D. D. Shifflet, Miss Jo Hestand, Miss Jesse Scott Price, Prin. A. L. Gilbreth, Bill Collins, and others.

Increased Service By Red Cross Said Necessary This Year

Wide expansion of the national defense system, calling for an increase of 40 per cent in the personnel of the armed forces, necessitates increased Red Cross service to members of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps during the next year, Ralph Geisler, Roll Call chairman of the Midland county Red Cross chapter, said yesterday in an appeal for increased membership.

The Red Cross, he said, has set as a goal a million more members for this year's Roll Call, scheduled to be held between November 11 and 30. He pointed out that the Red Cross must be prepared to meet greater demands for the augmented military personnel.

"As a strictly neutral organization, established as such under the Treaty of Geneva, the Red Cross shares with the people of this country strongest hopes for peace," the chairman said. "But in view of the very purpose for which it was established, the Red Cross must be prepared for any emergency."

Red Cross war service, Geisler pointed out, has a peace-time as well as a war-time function. The organization carries on a daily program throughout the country assisting veterans and those in the regular armed service, he said.

"In military stations and hospitals throughout the country, the Red Cross during the past year assisted more than 50,000 soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen," Geisler declared. "Assistance was given in many forms. Thousands of service men in this country as well as those stationed in our insular and foreign possessions were given assistance last year in an effort to solve problems arising from illness and injuries."

"Red Cross aid to disabled veterans has been one of the largest programs of the Red Cross since the World War. Despite the fact that the conflict ended 21 years ago, the individual cases of 150,000 veterans of all wars came under the care of the Red Cross during the past year."

Red Cross aid to disabled veterans has been one of the largest programs of the Red Cross since the World War. Despite the fact that the conflict ended 21 years ago, the individual cases of 150,000 veterans of all wars came under the care of the Red Cross during the past year.

Mr. Geisler explained that the Congressional Charter of the Red Cross officially designates the organization to carry on a program for the relief of soldiers in peace as well as in times of war.

"These services of helping veterans and those actively in the armed forces with their problems," he declared, "are founded on the recognized medical doctrine that anxiety, fear and other upsets weaken the morale of the able-bodied and delay the recovery of the sick."

"If the Red Cross is to be better prepared to offer aid to these men, the organization must have the membership support of a million more civic and patriotically-minded Americans. Those who enroll in the approaching Roll Call not only enable the Red Cross to assist veterans and members of the armed forces, but they support a general program of many services which daily fight human suffering in its many forms."

THE HAGUE, Nov. 2 (AP)—A royal decree last night established martial law in key Netherlands defense communities, including 500 of the nation's 1,200 smaller towns and villages, to bolster military plans and curb espionage.

The whole of Utrecht province, except for its capital of the same name, was placed under martial law.

No large cities were affected by the proclamation, which placed

Pletch Sentenced to Life Imprisonment For Slaying Aviator

MACON, Mo., Nov. 2 (AP).—Earnest Pletch, 29-year-old Indiana amateur flyer, was sentenced to life imprisonment late Wednesday after he pleaded guilty, in a surprise move, to the fantastic airplane slaying of Carl Bivens, Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor.

Circuit Judge Harry J. Libby of Shelbyville said the sentence was in accordance with the wish of Bivens' widow—that Pletch not be given the death penalty.

Sentence was pronounced just five days after Pletch and Bivens left the Brookfield airport in a borrowed yellow plane. Pletch, known as a "flying Lochinvar," told Prosecuting Attorney Vance S. Moody he shot and killed Bivens without cause as they flew 5,000 feet above Mason county.

Sheriff Clara Nuhn planned to take the confessed slayer to the state penitentiary at Jefferson City either tonight or tomorrow morning.

Judge Libby told the defendant that in sentencing him to life imprisonment he would never apply for a pardon or parole.

Pletch, who displayed little emotion during the proceedings, said he would make the promise.

ITIO's New Ector Wildcat Strike Is Shut in While Storage Being Erected

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company No. 1-B J. L. Johnson, new Ector wildcat strike a mile northwest of the Johnson area and one-half mile southeast of a small producer drilled by The Sloan & Zook Company, today was shut in while storage was being erected.

It had encountered salt water from 4,182-85 feet, total depth, which was successfully shut off by plugging back to 4,178 with limit plug sand lead wool. From broken pay between 4,100 and 4,174 feet, the well had been heading four times daily for an estimated 100 barrels, each head lasting 20 minutes. Gas is estimated at around 500,000 cubic feet per day.

Operators already have tested water shutoff, and Schlumberger electrical survey has been run. The well had 3,700 feet of oil in the hole when shut in. It probably will be shot.

Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 3 Fay Holt, test offsetting deep Permian production at the northwest edge of the North Cowden pool in Ector, is drilling below 4,868 feet in lime.

Apco Outpost.

Drilling below 4,610 feet in formation reported to be metamorphic pre-Cambrian schistose, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Monte Warner No. 2 H. I. Masterson, 2,000-foot north outpost to the Apco pool of northern Pecos, which produces from the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, today appeared doomed to failure. No Ellenberger has been encountered by the well, and formation has been dry to present depth.

It ran high to its discovery well of the pool, Anderson-Prichard and Warner No. 1 Masterson, on detrital zone topped at 4,515, but went into metamorphic material at 4,510 without finding any Ellenberger. Location is 660 feet from the northeast and northwest lines of section 104, block 10, H. & G. N. survey.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. S. Masterson, newest production prospect for the pool and in the same section, cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,505 feet, top of the Ellenberger, with 250 sacks, and probably will drill out plug Sunday. Total depth is 4,536 feet in Ellenberger dolomite, and it showed oil saturation from 4,515-36.

Childress Royalty Company No. 1 J. S. Masterson, also in section 104 is drilling at 4,335 feet in lower Permian lime.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 5 Wristen Brothers, southeastern Ward county Ordovician, is moving out cable tool rig and will move on rotary. Total depth reached by cable tools was 2,885 feet, but crooked hole forced plugging back in several unsuccessful attempts to straighten.

Seminole Natural Producer.

Ossage Drilling Company, Inc. of Oklahoma No. 2-A J. L. Tippett, in the northwest part of the Seminole pool of central Gaines county, flowed 745.55 barrels of 34.6-gravity oil through 2-inch tubing on 24-hour test of natural production. It topped pay at 5,073 feet, is bottomed in lime at 5,815, and has gas-oil ratio of 1-317-1.

In the Seminole pool, Magnolia and Atlantic No. 2 Havenyer & Jenny cemented 9 5/8-inch pipe at 3,132 feet in anhydrite with 300 sacks.

New location for the east side of the Denver pool in southern Yorkum has been staked by Sinclair-Prairie at No. 6-A Kendrick, 900 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 825, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 2 J. G. Comer estate, extending the Bennett pool of Yorkum farther southwest toward the Denver, is running 2 1/2-inch tubing to test after drilling pay lime from 4,995 to 5,174 feet, total depth.

Magnolia No. 2 H. O. Mahoney, south extension to the southwest part of the Bennett pool, rated daily potential of 1,024 barrels after acidizing with 2,000 and 3,000 gallons, bottomed at 5,220 feet in lime.

Finland to Demand A Settlement Upon Her Answer to Reds

MOSCOW, Nov. 2 (AP).—The Finnish delegation arrived here today to resume negotiations on Russian demands for military and territorial concessions.

Observers saw a sign of conciliation in the fact the Finns arranged to attend tonight's session of the supreme soviet, Russia's parliament.

HELSINKI, Nov. 2 (AP)—Finland is prepared to "make a far-reaching settlement with Soviet Russia—but will reject proposals which would rob us of the possibility of defending the independence and neutrality of our land," Foreign Minister Erko declared last night.

Speaking to a defense benefit meeting, the foreign minister declared Foreign Commissar Molotov's disclosure of Russia's parliament yesterday had created a "queer atmosphere."

He spoke as a five-man Finnish delegation journeyed toward Moscow to deliver what observers believed was a firm "no" to Soviet demands, as disclosed yesterday, but with counter proposals of its own.

Erko said his country would insist to the end on its right as a neutral and its right to self defense.

"The Finnish people, he added, were ready "to throw into the scale all we can" for these rights.

Disclosing for the first time from the Finnish side some of the details of the Russian-Finnish negotiations, now almost a month old, Erko said Finland had "declared her readiness to make such arrangements as, above all, strengthen the safety of Leningrad and at the same time increase the safety of the Gulf of Finland and offer to the Soviet the possibilities of increasing this safety."

New location for the east side of the Denver pool in southern Yorkum has been staked by Sinclair-Prairie at No. 6-A Kendrick, 900 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 825, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 2 J. G. Comer estate, extending the Bennett pool of Yorkum farther southwest toward the Denver, is running 2 1/2-inch tubing to test after drilling pay lime from 4,995 to 5,174 feet, total depth.

Molotoff Talk Is Derided by Leader Today

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, making his weekly war report to the house of commons today declared Russian Premier Molotov's foreign policy speech had "occasioned some disappointment" in Berlin.

Chamberlain said he refused "to disturb myself over flights of fancy in which Molotov indulged when describing the aims of the allies."

Despite losses to British shipping, Chamberlain said "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace."

Saying that stormy weather had slowed the war, Chamberlain described as particularly "gaudent" the flight of air force reconnaissance planes over Germany.

Submarine Menace to Be Overcome He Says in Talk to Commons

PARIS, Nov. 2 (AP)—German heavy artillery was continuing its pounding of French positions on the western front, military reports said today, disclosing the town of Forbach was shelled yesterday.

New Territory Is Welcomed Into the Soviet Wednesday

MOSCOW, Nov. 2 (AP)—Soviet Russia Wednesday welcomed two new regions, fruits of the German-Soviet partition of Poland, into membership in the Soviet Union.

Parliament, cheered the first appearance of delegates from the two regions—White Russia and the Western Ukraine—carrying red banners into the chamber where the two houses of parliament met in extraordinary joint session.

Joseph Stalin was among the delegates who heard a Ukrainian representative declare "Our first words are words of gratitude to Comrade Stalin."

The Supreme Soviet unanimously approved a resolution admitting the Western Ukraine into the Soviet Union, and uniting the territory with the Ukrainian Soviet Socialist Republic.

At about the same time it was reported in semi-official German circles that a Nazi economic delegation had successfully completed negotiations for the purchase of major Russian items and was returning to Berlin.

Expected to accompany the delegation by plane was German Ambassador Count Friedrich Werner von Schulenberg, summoned home to "report."

(Through her delegation to Moscow, Germany hoped to arrange the purchase of foodstuffs and raw materials to offset the British blockade.)

It was learned that a separate group of German industrialists would remain in Moscow presumably until Nov. 13, when Herr K. Schurrer, German foreign office expert who headed the economic delegation, was expected to return here.

Despite the German claims of successful negotiations, it was rumored the Germans were encountering difficulties in their trade talks.

Parliament while Moscow awaited the return of a Finnish delegation which was en route for the third in a series of talks on Russian demands for territorial concessions from her northern neighbor.

Peace Parley Will Have Tough Assignment

No international commission ever had a problem so intricate and confused as the peace conference will have when it finally ends in Europe. Theirs will not be mere questions of dividing the spoils, shifting boundaries, placing the blame.

Whole peoples have been juggled around central Europe. Some have been driven out of their homelands, forced to seek refuge elsewhere on the continent or on another part of the globe.

Long before war began, Jews were being driven out of Germany in great droves. Then, in line with the policy of his axis-brother, Mussolini finally agreed to the exile of all Jews who had not been in Italy before 1919.

Russia has now decided to move Poles to her Don river coal areas from conquered Polish regions. There will not be room in Poland for both the Russians and the Poles.

The Tyrolese, before the World War, were part of Austria. Essentially, they are similar to the Swiss. During the past two decades, all of Mussolini's efforts to Italianize the Tyrolese have met with notable failure.

Now they are to be "repatriated"—which means, in less pretentious language, they will be kicked out.

Will the peace that must finally come be no more conclusive than was the Versailles treaty? Can any settlement that accepts the turmoil of population as an irrevocable fact accomplish permanent security?

The attitude of the extreme pessimist—that Europe's second war is paving the way for a third conflict—cannot be summarily cast aside. Even at this early stage, it is apparent that the eventual peace may be balanced even more precariously than was the peace of the past two decades.

BYRD HAS CASH FOR TRIP TO SOUTH POLE BUT NO FUNDS YET FOR THE RETURN HOME

BY MARSHAL D. SHULMAN
NEA Service Correspondent

BOSTON.—A lot of people want to visit the South Pole, to judge by the flood of mail into the headquarters of the Second U. S. Antarctic Expedition here, but not many people know why.

To thousands of people of all ages, the trip apparently sounds like a lark—but to the Government this expedition is serious business.

There are at least three important reasons why, early in November, 125 men under the command of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd will be on their way to this mystery land of penguins and blizzards—remain until the Spring of 1941.

First of all, there's the matter of land-claiming. The United States has never recognized the claims of any other country to the Antarctic, nor has it ever made a claim on the basis of the previous trips of Lincoln Ellsworth and Admiral Byrd.

EXPECT MUCH OF SCIENTIFIC INTEREST
The second purpose of the expedition is scientific. On the basis of its observations, the expedition hopes to shed some light on the mystery of weather.

The expedition will also carry on medical studies, testing the effect of extra low temperatures on the human body.

ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD

says, referring to his seven-month solitary stay at Advance Base during the 1933-35 trip. However, there will be several observation posts with from two to four men each which will be cut off from the main bases for long periods at a time.

WASHINGTON.—Beaten in their fight to retain the arms embargo, isolationist senators are looking ahead to the next session of Congress and are planning to make a determined drive for a stringent war profits taxation bill.

As a matter of fact, they would like to see this bill taken up at once. But the administration has the votes to get the Senate adjourned, and the matter will have to wait until the next session in January.

This bill is the one which was drawn up as a result of the work of the famous Nye munitions committee. It is probably the most startling taxation bill ever seriously considered in Congress.

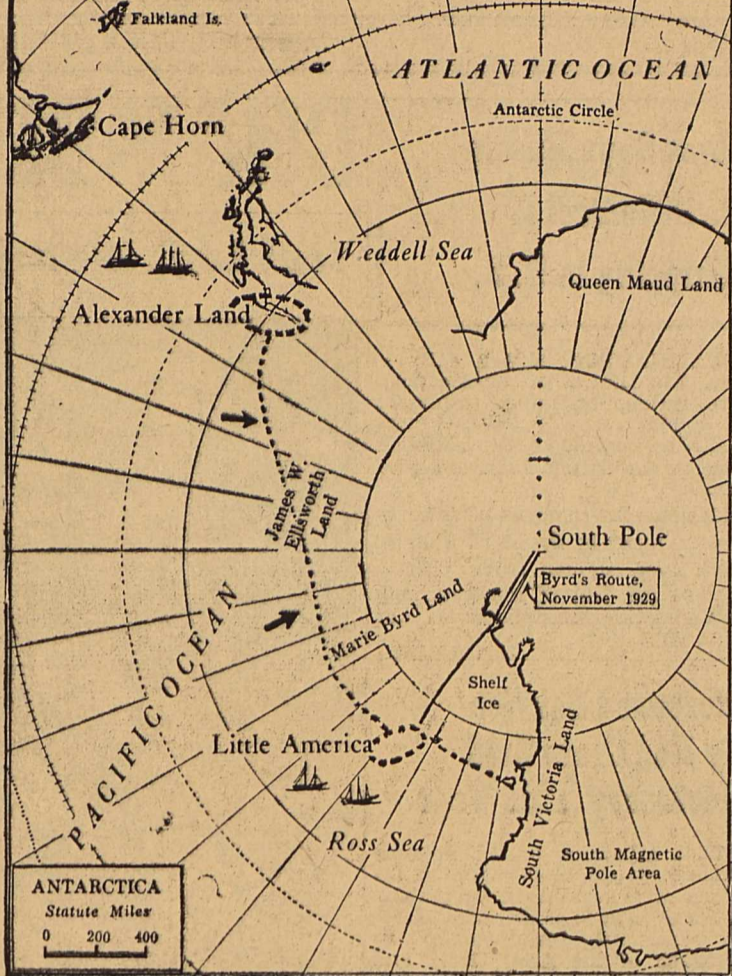

In its upper brackets it is frankly confiscatory, with rates running as high as 90 per cent on top incomes; indeed, as it stands now the bill's tax schedule would—when state income taxes are added in—exact in taxes from a wealthy man or heard of Tucker's weekly rating of the state's best teams. Jinx had been carrying Big Spring along about as high as Odessa since the Steers beat the Bronchos, but we did accomplish enough in defeating Big Spring to have them dropped from the list of the best 40 teams.

Sportsmanship was the principal theme of a pep rally up at high school this morning. Although the kids are out to beat Abilene Friday night, they are out to keep Midland's reputation for sportsmanship on a high plane.

When we complimented the Halloween prank players in this paper yesterday, we naturally hadn't heard of all the pranks. Today we learned that two saddle horses were turned out of a corral here in town and this morning the horses were still unreported.

But a lot of West Texans never heard of Jinx Tucker, so the fact that he never heard of Midland shouldn't hurt us seriously in our own neck of the woods. If it were not for Blondy Cross of San Angelo, most of us would never have seen

This bill is the one which was drawn up as a result of the work of the famous Nye munitions committee. It is probably the most startling taxation bill ever seriously considered in Congress.

In its upper brackets it is frankly confiscatory, with rates running as high as 90 per cent on top incomes; indeed, as it stands now the bill's tax schedule would—when state income taxes are added in—exact in taxes from a wealthy man

WASHINGTON.—Beaten in their fight to retain the arms embargo, isolationist senators are looking ahead to the next session of Congress and are planning to make a determined drive for a stringent war profits taxation bill.

As a matter of fact, they would like to see this bill taken up at once. But the administration has the votes to get the Senate adjourned, and the matter will have to wait until the next session in January.

This bill is the one which was drawn up as a result of the work of the famous Nye munitions committee. It is probably the most startling taxation bill ever seriously considered in Congress.

Rare First Editions In Library at Univ.

AUSTIN.—From a tattered page of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," to a first copy of America's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a University of Texas library collection of rare first editions traces the development of English literature.

Taken from the university's Stark, Wrenn, and Atken rare book libraries, the collection, now on exhibit, has 64 of the one hundred books generally recognized as best in English literature.

Of the more than 25,000 acres of green manure crops turned under by United States farmers under the Agricultural Conservation Program in 1938, Texas farmers accounted for 7,709,865 acres.

Citrus Production Continues to Gain

AUSTIN.—A phenomenal increase in production of grapefruit and orange growers in the lower Rio Grande valley has been established in the past ten years, and annual gains will continue for several more years.

1. Grapefruit shipments from Cameron, Hidalgo and Willacy counties have increased 791.2 per cent in the last ten years, orange shipments 3,489.5 per cent.

2. Only ten per cent of Texas' 5,228,000 grapefruit trees and some two million orange trees are in full production.

3. Texas now ranks second in production of grapefruit in the United States and third in production of oranges.

4. World markets outside this country are still supplied largely by Spain, Italy and, in recent years, by Palestine and Brazil, despite the facts that the United States produces half the annual harvest.

5. California surplus production has afforded an outlet for large quantities of fruit which could not be shipped profitably in fresh form, 43 per cent of the total 1937-38 Florida and Texas crops having been canned.

Fifteen Commercial Failures Are Listed

AUSTIN.—Fifteen commercial failures occurred in Texas during September, involving total liabilities of $236,000, the University of Texas bureau of business research has announced.

The number of failing firms was the same as in September, 1938, but compared with 28 during August, 1939. Liabilities dropped from $663,000 in August but almost doubled the $171,000 in September last year.

For the first nine months of 1938, 240 bankruptcies occurred, compared with only 144 during the like period last year. Liabilities of $3,970,000 were involved as compared with $1,637,000 last year.

University Student Gets Bravery Award

AUSTIN.—Called to the office of President Homer P. Rainey this afternoon, Doyle Hardy of Houston, University of Texas freshman, was presented with a citation for bravery with the appreciation of the Houston fire department.

On Oct. 17, Hardy, "at great personal risk," entered the burning residence of Sam Katz in Houston, and helped him rescue his grandson, Harold Goldmann, age 11, who later died of burns. Mrs. Katz also lost her life in the disaster, and Mr. Katz was badly injured.

So impressed with Hardy's "cool conduct in the face of terrific heat and smoke," the Houston fire department adopted resolutions of appreciation for his action, which, it was pointed out, evidenced the "finest qualities so greatly desired in Texas youth."

Dr. Rainey personally added his commendation to that of the firemen. Hardy, a 1935 graduate of Sam Houston high school, has been working for the past four years for a Houston oil company, and entered the university this fall. He is a member of the freshman football team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Hardy, formerly of Houston, now of New Iberia, La.

Three Conferences For Baptists Will Be Held in State

Baptists of the state will trek to three conferences and conventions in November. Fifteen hundred college students are expected to attend the Baptist Student Union Convention at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, November 3-5.

Texas Baptists number 660,000 members in 3,156 churches. Through a state-wide evangelistic campaign launched last year, 90,000 new members united with these churches.

Reports will be heard in San Antonio from nine schools of higher learning owned by Baptists: Baylor University, Waco; Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; Howard Payne College, Brownwood; San Marcos Academy, San Marcos; College of Marshall, Marshall; Wayland College, Plainview; Decatur College, Decatur and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Based upon recent governmental statistics it is conservatively estimated that Texas Baptists and the

Amarillo Had Plane Manufacturer in '01

AMARILLO. (AP)—Old pictures and letters preserved by Lon Sellers, a Potter county commissioner, shows the Wright brothers had a competitor in the airplane business before the famous flight at Kitty Hawk in 1903.

Sellers still has stock he bought in an airplane company in Amarillo at the turn of the century. C. A. Rex had invented a plane patterned after an eagle. It was a flap wing sort of thing. Rex believing any successful airship would have to be patterned after a bird.

Many Amarillo residents bought stock in the company and the model ship was named Amarillo flyer. Sellers says Rex was somewhat discouraged when the army bought its first airplane after successful tests at Fort Myer, Va., July 30, 1908.

Rex continued his work on the flap-winged ship, however, until 1911. On Jan. 7 of that year an aviator flew a Curtis and Radley ship over San Francisco Bay, landed on a warship, took off and flew back to land. The same day at Charleston, S. C., Jimmy Ward, 18, won $5,000 by flying a plane over the navy yard, the city and 25 miles of ocean.

The hope of the flap-wing in Amarillo died and the business of flying in that manner was left again to the buzzards, the hawks and the eagles. The Amarillo Flyer, pictures of the model show, had a gas bag for a stabilizer. A motor at the front of the passenger cage below the bag flapped the wings. The rudder was a long narrow tail.

Rex departed from Amarillo years ago and friends here do not know his whereabouts.

Retail Grocers Will Fight Profiteering

HOUSTON. (AP)—The Houston Retail Grocers Association, through its board of directors, has resolved that it shall utilize all its resource to prevent profiteering as a by-product of the European war. The board also offered to cooperate with Mayor Oscar F. Holcombe in his biweekly survey of food prices here.

In common with mayors of many other large cities, Holcombe every two weeks will gather a list of the retail food prices, as well as those paid producers, and send it to the United States Conference of Mayors at Washington.

Fossil Discoveries Made at Ingleside

ARANSAS PASS. (AP)—A new page in the geologic history of Texas may be unfolding at a caliche pit near Ingleside, where the fossils of several specimens of prehistoric animals have been uncovered according to Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, after a visit recently to the site.

Dr. Sellards was especially impressed by the wide variety of fossils being uncovered, including the skeletal parts of elephants, mastodons, horses, ground sloths and huge land turtles. He estimated that the deposits, in what must have once been a water hole, are about 25,000 years old.

A. H. White of the Department of Paleontological Research of the University of Texas is supervising the work which has received a WPA grant. The site is approximately two acres in extent. Especially interesting to paleontologists are the remains of well-developed prehistoric horses, which may have stood as tall or taller than the largest draft horses of today, Witte said. Students of history will recall that the Spaniards brought the first horses to the New World in 1492. There were no horses extant in the Western Hemisphere before that day.

Petrified Footprint Of Camel Discovered

Students Get Start On Building Up Zoo. CLARKSVILLE. (AP)—Officials of the Bogota high school are debating whether to set up a zoo or add a new science course. They have specimens for either. Some time ago Frankie Branson, the superintendent's son, gave the school a three foot alligator he captured on a nearby highway. Later, persons, unknown unloaded a 73-pound snapping turtle on the school yard. The alligator was given a home in a vat in the manual training department, but the big turtle is merely under protective detention. No quarters have been found for it.

Bulldogs in Top Physical Form For Game With Eagles Tomorrow

With all hands in top physical condition, the Midland high school Bulldogs will taper off practice tonight for the game here Friday night at eight o'clock against the Abilene Eagles.

Coach Bud Taylor this morning declared he was "thoroughly dissatisfied" with appearances of the team during the week in practice sessions but that apparently there was nothing that could be done about it. The Bulldogs are suffering a swell case of "I love me" and it is up to the Eagles to knock it out of them. Taylor is afraid of just that.

The Bulldogs have looked weak against the mediocre second string boys the past few days and there still remains the possibility the "cannon fodder" boys will open the game against the visitors.

The coaches are already resigned to the fact Abilene will score. What they are hoping now is that the Bulldogs will be able to outscore the Eagles. The Midland passing attack, nothing to write home about all season, has received a thorough working over this week—whether any good has been accomplished remains to be seen.

The Bulldogs expect to take the game in stride and without any trouble despite warnings by the coaches that they have been able to win over only two teams this year that could really be classed as better than fair—Wink and Big Spring. The boys also had an idea they would defeat Sweetwater, only to come out on the short end of a 13-36 score.

The Abilene boys have not been able to win a ball game all year but reports from the Eagle camp say they are confident of being able to take this one. Coach Dewey Mayhew of the Eagles believes he has devised a defense that will stop Jay Francis, Midland quarterback and ace ball carrier, and if so, the Eagles must be given a good chance to win. The Eagles gained a "first" last week when they stopped Jimmy Vaughn, Lamesa quarterback, after he had scored in every other game this year. Many observers rate Vaughn the equal or better of Francis at broken field running.

Interest is at a low ebb, fewer than 500 reserve seats having been sold. At that rate, several hundred fans are likely to miss a game that may turn out to be a thriller.

On paper, the Bulldogs rate a couple of touchdowns better than the Eagles. Unfortunately for the Bulldogs, they still play the games on the field. The Abilene boys, whether they can read or not, will not be scared by anything the Bulldogs have done lately.

Proof that the outcome of the game cannot be forecast is shown by these two comparisons:

Big Spring beat Lamesa by 26 points; Lamesa beat Abilene by one point; Midland beat Big Spring by eight points. That makes the Bulldogs 35 points better than Abilene.

Sweetwater beat Abilene by 19 points; Sweetwater beat Midland by 23 points. That makes Abilene 7 points better than Midland on a more direct comparison. The Eagles have improved far more since their game with Sweetwater than has Midland.

The Eagles are definitely out of the pennant chase. The Bulldogs retain a small chance to gain a tie with a victory tomorrow night. A tie or loss would eliminate them for keeps.

Challedon Is Winner Of "Horse of Year" Title at Pimlico

PIMLICO RACE COURSE, Baltimore, Nov. 2. (AP)—Challedon, the local boy who made good, came home Wednesday to win the racing championship of the year.

With a great stretch drive that was all heart, William L. Brann's Maryland-bred colt got up to take the Pimlico special by half a length from Charles S. Howard's Kayay II, with Townsend B. Martin's Cravat a distanced third.

With the victory, Challedon took the $10,000 purse in this mile and three sixteenth "dream race," a beautiful gold cup, and since he was "top man" of the three outstanding horses in training, he naturally earned ranking as the horse-of-the-year.

Most of the approximately 20,000 fans who turned out for the gallop which young Alfred G. Vanderbilt conceived and brought to reality, were strong for the local lad even before the race started. As a result, the boy son of Challe Ger II-Laura Gal, winner of the Preakness last May on this same track, was backed down to $2.90 for $2 in the mutuels.

He finished the route in 1:59, far time for a track, which while in good condition, was not yet completely dried out from three days of rain.

The purse in this winner-take-all affair boosted Challedon's earnings for the year to $184,535 and marked his ninth victory in 15 starts in '39. He has been out of the money only once this year and only once last year as a two-year-old. His two-year money earnings now are $252,235. He probably will give a rest for the remainder of the season.

Abraham Eliahu. The inscription read:

"The man Abraham Eliahu Hitler, son of Shmil, died in the month of Cheshvan, 5653."

The Rumanian marking says:

"Here rests the mortal remains of the deceased Adolf Hitler who died on October 26, 1932, at the age of 60. Pray for him!"

Adolf represents a "westernization" of the Jewish names.

The emblems and the motto, "Love thy Neighbor" of the Jewish society to which he belonged were engraved on the upper part of the tombstone.

The grave is neglected and covered by wild grass.

Grave of Austrian Jew Janitor, "Adolf Hitler," Is Found Near Rumanian City

BUCHAREST (U.P.)—A Jewish namesake of the world's foremost anti-Semite lies buried among 20,000 other Israelites in the Jewish cemetery "Phantopia" of Bucharest.

The Jew was Adolf Hitler, who spelled his name with one more "t" than the German fuhrer. Like the German dictator, he hailed from Austria.

The inscription on his tombstone said he died at the age of 60 in 1892. Little is known of him except that he was brought from Austria to serve as a porter in the Hotel Boulevard, which still exists on the Boulevard Elisabeth here. He held the job until his death. He was a bachelor and no trace was found of any relatives in Bucharest or Rumania.

The cost of the burial was paid by a Jewish mutual assistance society of which the earlier Adolf had been a member.

The tombstone also bears an inscription in Hebrew, showing that he was known among the Jews as

Abraham Eliahu. The inscription read:

"The man Abraham Eliahu Hitler, son of Shmil, died in the month of Cheshvan, 5653."

The Rumanian marking says:

"Here rests the mortal remains of the deceased Adolf Hitler who died on October 26, 1932, at the age of 60. Pray for him!"

Australia Set To Aid Britain With Men, Arms

SYDNEY, Australia. (U.P.)—Australia, industrially geared to meet "crisis" conditions, has swept into action to assist the Allies in the war against Hitlerism. Britain, president of the 1914 and the Australia of today there is a big gulch measured in terms of manufacturing industries.

"In 1914 Australia had to depend on Great Britain for munitions," said James Henry, president of the New South Wales chamber of manufacturers. "Today it is most likely that Australia will not only help to feed the allied armies, but will also export munitions of war beyond her own boundaries."

"Now that the call has come, the manufacturers of Australia will respond with all the resources at their disposal. Great Britain requires for her own needs the entire resources of her industries. Australia's safety may well depend on the ability of Australian industry to supply all the many, varied, and complicated requirements of modern mechanized warfare."

For nearly three years, the government has been mobilizing private industry, as well as such units as government railway workshops, into an "annex" scheme in conjunction with the extensive government munitions factories. Many organizational and manufacturing difficulties have been overcome and an intensive drive during the last few months, resulting in the industrial force swinging smoothly into action when the fateful day came. Australia now is actually making almost everything for modern warfare from airplanes to armored cars.

Although Commonwealth ministers had announced that there would be no immediate call for volunteers for active service, thousands of young and middle-aged men enlisted as soon as war broke out and during the succeeding days.

Military men feel there is no doubt that Australia will provide a volunteer force, if necessary, that will live up to the traditions of the 1914-18 Australian Imperial Force the men who established the famous Anzac tradition. Expert observers believe that the new standards will be even higher.

In 1914, Australia had a compulsory military training scheme in operation, but it was abandoned in post-war years as an economy measure. Since then, a volunteer militia force has been trained and is said to have reached a high standard of efficiency. Permanent and militia officers, of course, are immediately available.

Two arms in which Australia takes great pride are the Royal Australian Air Force and the Royal Australian Navy. They are expected to play an important part in the war.

Young as it is, Australia has a substantial aviation tradition, built by aviators whose pioneering feats now are legendary. The navy, too, has its traditions, not only descended from the royal navy, but also from such deeds as the sending of her doom to the German raiding cruiser Emden in November, 1914.

Each Australian city has a well-organized National Emergency Service of men and women to cover all phases of war-work on the home front, including air raid precautions, and emergency work in actual air raids.

Most of the garlic produced in the United States comes from Texas, California and Louisiana, Texas' production of the pungent bulb centering around Moulton in Lavaca county. In 1935 production had become important enough to induce the Legislature to make a small appropriation for experimental work to aid growers in problems of production.

TENNESSEE PICKED TO HURDLE LSU CLUB

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor.

TENNESSEE, en route to the Rose Bowl, figures to hurdle another high barrier when the nation's No. 1 college football team tackles formidable Louisiana State, Nov. 4.

The Tigers can lug the ball and have a superlative pass snatcher in the tall end, Ken Kavanaugh, but the unbeaten, untied and unscored on Volunteers have a little bit too much of everything for even such a fine club as the one from the bayous.

Things don't look so bright for the Baton Rouge homecoming as the Knoxville brigade points for its 19th consecutive victory.

Southern California, the club generally expected to meet Tennessee in Pasadena, Jan. 1, is picked to get over undefeated and untied Oregon State in Portland. The Trojans are rolling after their customary slow start.

Notre Dame makes its annual appearance against Army before a capacity crowd in New York and should come down in front this time by more than a point after touchdown.

Princeton and Harvard open the Big Three series in Tigertown and Old Nassau is doped to prevail despite the loss of Don Herring, 237-pound tackle who suffered a knee injury in the Brown battle.

Cornell, which so bravely upheld eastern prestige against Ohio State, will be given little more than a good workout by undermanned Columbia at Ithaca.

BUCKEYES LIKELY TO BOUNCE BACK

YALE is expected to execute an about face at the expense of Dartmouth in New Haven. The Elis must have absorbed some football knowledge along with their bumps at Michigan.

Pennsylvania is better than it appeared when it fumbled and lost the ball, could reach no quick decision in the huddle, was penalized for delay, lacked cohesion and twice quick-kicked on first down with 10 minutes to go and the score 27-0 in favor of North Carolina.

Penn has power and passing which is expected to show itself in Philadelphia against what is only a fair Navy.

Rice has been one of the season's disappointments and it looks as though the Owls will remain in that role against Fordham in New York.

Ohio State really isn't as helpless as it appeared to be in the second half against Cornell. Indiana will stir up some trouble in Columbus, but this fall's Buckeye outfit doesn't figure to drop two in a row. There is too much latent ability there.

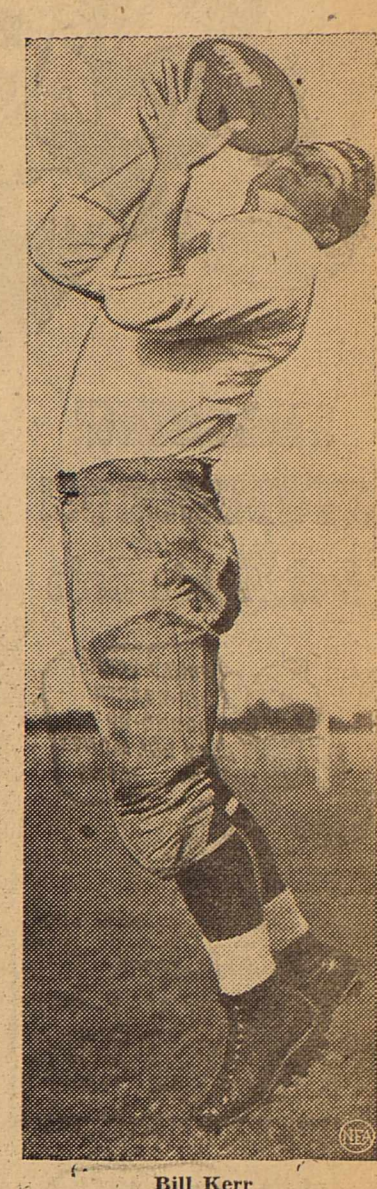

Northwestern had a tough time scoring on mediocre Illinois and Minnesota already has lost its season's share. I like the Gophers in the Minneapolis production.

I'm giving Iowa and the remarkable Nile Kinnick a shaky vote over Purdue at Lafayette. Dr. Eddie Anderson... there's a fellow who really has turned in a Grade A coaching job.

Tom Harmon and mighty Michigan will march on against Illinois in Champaign.

KENTUCKY VICTORY WOULD BE UNSET.

UNBEATEN Kentucky bids for a place in the football sun in going against Alabama in Birmingham and a victory for the Colonels could in no way be considered an upset. I'm stringing with Frank Thomas, Jimmy Nelson & Co. until the Crimson Tide is beaten for the second time, however.

Georgia Tech will give Duke all it cares to handle in Atlanta, but the nod goes to the Blue Devils by a gnarl's eyelash.

North Carolina will have a rather easy time of it at Chapel Hill against its neighborhood rival, North Carolina State.

U.C.L.A. is picked to give its big brother, California, another poke on the chin in Los Angeles. Santa Clara is given the call over poor Stanford in Palo Alto.

But, as Robert Zuppke pointed out some time back, you never can tell how a football will bounce.

Saddest Days of Year on Hand For Many High School Grid Clubs

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP)—November's days are here, the saddest of the year for more than 80 teams in the Texas Interscholastic League scramble.

In four weeks 16 district champions will be known and the first week in December they start play for the twentieth annual title.

Without attempting ledgerdom but using the season's records to date the writer picks the district champions to be as following on Thanksgiving Day, knowing full well that everything happens in Texas schoolboy football:

Amarillo, Electra, Sweetwater, El Paso High, Gainsville, Sulphur Springs, Masonic Home (Ft. Worth), Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Breckenridge, Waco, Hyler, Lufkin, Austin (Houston), South Park (Beaumont), East, McAllen.

Several of the selections are on the border line, such as Masonic Home in district 7, where North Side is a big threat; Woodrow Wilson in district 8, where Adamson still has quite a say-so in the ultimate result; South Park in district 14, where Beaumont and Livingston are to be reckoned with; Austin in district 15, where Breckenridge must be considered strongly, and district

Master Dead But Dog Keeps Vigil 3 Years

FORT BENTON, Mont. (U.P.)—

Old Shep, a shepherd dog, for three years has met every train that stops here, scanning the face of each alighting passenger in search of his master.

Trainmen say that Shep belonged to a shepherd who died and whose body was taken East for burial. The dog followed the body to the Great Northern railroad station here and saw it placed on a train.

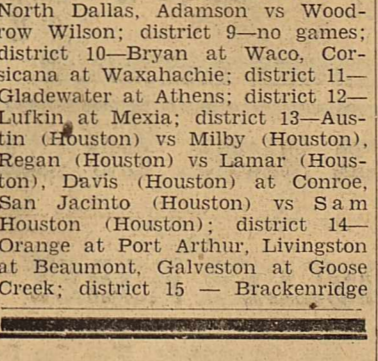

"The incident was soon forgotten by all except the faithful dog, who has remained at the station meeting every train — day and night—in the hope the next one will return his master to him," said Ed Shields, veteran Great Northern conductor.

He has refused to make up with anyone and is seldom seen except at train time. After the train has left he crawls back under the station to await the next one.

A good-natured section foreman, Pat McSweeney, has been bringing the dog food.

Insects survive where other creatures cannot. Unlike most other forms of life, insects go through no long periods of helpless infancy and old age, and wear their skeletons on the outside of their bodies, which affords them great protection.

"Three R's" of Health Declared Important

AUSTIN. — Children brought up according to the three "R's" of mouth health have a very good chance to escape the discomforts and accompanying "ill-health" that comes from dental disorders, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

This season of the year, when the children are getting adjusted to school routine, is a particularly appropriate time to give special thought to the physical as well as the mental aspects of a child's development. The child who is physically fit makes much better progress in school, than does the boy or girl who is below par. Parents can help to keep their children fit by carefully following the rules of mouth health in bringing up their children.

The three "R's" of course are not Reading, Riting, and Rithmetic, but are "Right" foods, "Real" cleansing, and "Regular" office visits, which are as important to mouth health as the three "R's" are to mental development.

The teeth and other mouth tissues depend for their original structural strength and their continued resistance to ill-health on the quality and quantity of building materials made available in the food one eats. The first set (baby or foundation) of teeth obtain their materials from the mother before a child's birth. The permanent set may depend on the diet of both the mother and the child itself. Consequently, the diets of both should be rich in calcium, phosphorus, and in those vitamins that seem to affect mouth tissues, with special emphasis on vitamin "D" which is found principally in sunshine, cod liver oil, and fish. That is, there must be the "right" food in the diet for strong, decay-resisting teeth.

"Real" cleansing means twice-a-day thorough brushing of the teeth with effort to reach every tooth surface, and finally, the equally thorough flushing of the mouth with some mild antiseptic liquid or saline solution. The germs that play the part of tooth and gum destroyers in the diseases known as dental decay and pyorrhea are more active in unclean mouths. Real cleansing will help to prevent their activity.

But it is unwise to place complete dependence for dental health on the first two "R's". So "Regular" dental office visits should be made if only to assure one's self that the mouth is healthy. These visits permit your family dentist to discover defects when they are small and to correct them before much damage is done. Naturally these corrections are much more easily made than those which have gone unattended. Children of two and a half years of age are not too young to start dental office visits. From then on

Put on Weight And Drink Away

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.) — A lightweight is no match for a husky in a drinking bout, says Dr. Merrill Moore, Harvard psychiatrist and alcoholism expert. Writing in the New England Journal of Medicine, Moore said: "It's simply a matter of arithmetic. Since alcohol is uniformly 'Regular' visits, combined with the other two 'R's' will be good insurance of continued dental health.

distributed throughout the body, the greater the weight of the subject the less the effect of a given dose will be. "Thus a 50 - cubic centimeter portion of absolute alcohol or its equivalent taken as whisky, beer, or wine will reach a higher concentration in the blood and nervous system of a 125-pound subject than in one whose weight is 200 pounds."

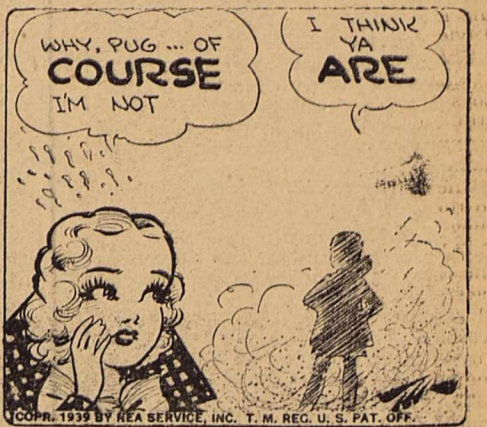

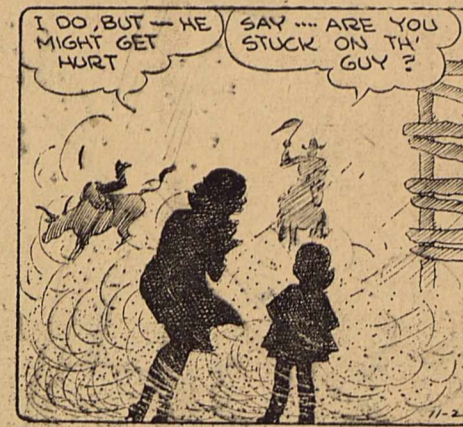

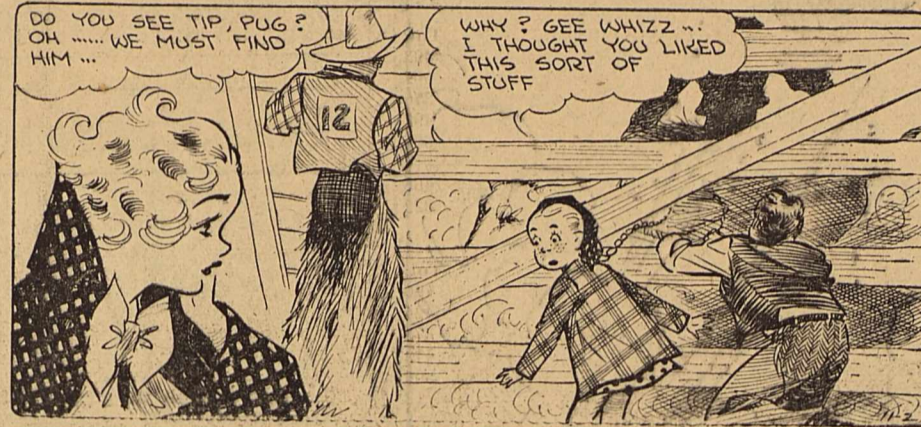

And Immunity Moore said that a definite tolerance is established in persons who regularly use alcohol so that they are able to drink with less intoxication for a given amount than can no-habituated persons. He said heavy drinking formerly was considered a mode of behavior entirely apart from the general background and mental attitudes of the patient. "Today it is recognized that alcoholism is a symptom of underlying psychologic or social maladjustments."

At the end of 1938 the average city person would buy 10 per cent more food with his income than he could in 1929, even though factory production in the previous two years averaged 20 per cent less than in 1929.

At Yucca Today

Zorina, star of Warner Bros. "On Your Toes," which opens today at the Yucca Theatre and runs through Saturday, is as sweet and friendly as she is beautiful and graceful, say those who know her even casually. It is recalled that when she first came to Hollywood she chose to use the community dressing room shared by all the lesser dancers of the ballet rather than to isolate herself in the expensively furnished single dressing apartment that had been provided her. She is simply too busy with her flourishing career to bother with the kind of temperament usually attributed to stars.

The ballerina's Norwegian ancestry is strongly emphasized in her clear blue eyes, blonde hair and creamy white complexion, which is faultless. She is slightly above medium height, weighs 110 pounds without variance of an ounce from week to week and month to month. She was born on February 1, 1917, and her birthplace is Berlin, Germany, explained by the fact that her parents were travelling at the time.

Drawing and sketching is her hobby and she does excellently with both pencil and charcoal. She loves fine music and mentions the Philadelphia Symphony as her favorite orchestra.

She loves dogs, carries one, two and even three with her everywhere she travels. Sometimes she thinks they are not worth the worry or the bother, but she has them just the same.

"Ma" Weighs Only 95 But Drives Her Big Truck With the Best of Them

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—Driving a 12,000-pound truck is a cinch for Mrs. Katherine Rainville, who weighs 95 pounds.

Averaging 50,000 to 75,000 miles a year, "Ma"—as she is known to truck drivers—carries new automobiles between Buffalo, N. Y., and Providence in all kinds of weather. When loaded, the weight of her truck is doubled.

Mrs. Rainville not only drives the truck, but makes whatever repairs are necessary. She also loads and unloads the vehicle after getting the 200-pound runways in position.

"I'm not afraid of any kind of weather," she says. "Many's the time I've driven my trailer truck through the Berkshires when it was so slippery you didn't even dare put your brakes on. I've never had an accident."

Most truckmen know and like "Ma", but occasionally she meets someone who doesn't approve of woman truck drivers. "Them," she says, "I just act a little high hat, too."

"Ma" learned about machinery on her father's farm and bought her own truck while helping her husband in his trucking business.

When not busy on the interstate highways, she likes to cook for her husband and two children at their Longmeadow, Mass., home.

Paul Harrison in Hollywood

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

HOLLYWOOD. — On a set the other day an actor who rather fancied himself a Romeo with the girls was chatting with an especially pretty and seemingly shy little extra. "What would you do," he asked, "if I were to kiss you?"

She didn't blush or giggle. Just looked him over critically and said, "Why, I'd go to the supervisor and ask for a $25 stunt check."

Besides food, Director Alfred Hitchcock—who weighs 320 pounds—likes odd little jokes. So he gave a dinner party at a local restaurant and invited five other couples.

When the guests found a flinty-eyed elderly woman already seated there, she merely glanced up and went on nibbling at a bun. Hitchcock offered no introductions.

The dinner began, and people who tried to talk with the strange guest got only a stinging answer from her. In whispers, the inquiry was relayed around the table to the host and his wife: "Who is she?" Never saw her before in our lives," whispered the Hitchcocks.

Everybody got pretty fidgety, especially after it was noted that the gray-haired stranger made 13 at the table. She ate every course and was still sitting there when the party left. Next day they learned that she was an extra, hired by Hitchcock from Central Casting.

Listening to Director George Ratoff in action, you wonder how he manages to turn out such good pictures. You wonder, I mean, how he even makes his wishes understood.

On the set of "Daytime Wife," which might be called "Two-Time Husband" — Tyrone Power comes home to Linda Darnell with Wendy Barrie's perfume on his coat. Just before the scene, Ratoff gives his instructions to Miss Darnell.

"Darling baby, this now is the san-say-shun-al, smash scene of the picture and I want you should react ter-rific, giving it always to the peoples in the balcony from the heart."

"Comes in Mr. Power and kisses you. You hear the perfume. You know what is happening this snake-in-the-grass secretary. You give it big!"

When Akim Tamiroff came to America from Russia, he couldn't speak a word of English. Evenings he'd go over on Second avenue and dine with expatriate countrymen, but in order to get lunch on Broadway he memorized the words, "Apple pie and coffee."

After a couple of weeks he told a friend that the mere sight of apple pie was beginning to make him ill. The friends suggested "ham sandwich and coffee," so Tamiroff gratefully memorized those words. Next day he tried them out. "White or rye?" asked the waitress. "Ham sandwich and coffee!" insisted the actor. "White or rye?" demanded the girl. Tamiroff groaned. "Epple pie and coffee."

Irving Hoffman tells the story of the time that Dustin Farnum was given a handsome silver-mounted saddle by a group of Hollywood Indians. Farnum and his pictures had been responsible for many of the Indians' acting movie work, and the saddle was an expression of their gratitude.

The actor was overwhelmed and went into a flowery speech. He told of his long-standing friendship for the red men, of his tremendous admiration for them, of their many sterling qualities, their loyalty, their bravery.

About that time a wrinkled old chief tapped the actor on a shoulder and pointed at the saddle. "You like?" he asked. Farnum nodded.

"Okay," said the chief. "Just say, 'Thanks.'"

Building Permits for State Show Big Gains

AUSTIN. — Construction in Texas has flourished during 1939, with building permits for the first nine months of the year in 39 cities totaling $64,410,276, a gain of 10.5 per cent over the like period last year, University of Texas business research officials have announced.

Permits granted during September totaled $6,970,769, 12.4 per cent higher than in September a year ago and 7.5 per cent over August, 1939.

Cement Plants Show Large Gains in Sept.

AUSTIN. — Almost doubling production, Texas cement plants during September turned out 685,000 barrels, compared to 485,000 in August, University of Texas business statisticians have reported.

Production was up 9.8 per cent over September last year. Shipments gained half of one per cent over August but fell 2.7 per cent below September, 1938, while stocks on hand at the end of the month gained 13.7 per cent over August 31, dropping 4.6 per cent below September 30, 1938.

To Make a Long Tale Short

"Not only my wife, but the whole congregation," was his reply. "This is the age when people are doing things, and every woman should know how to drive a car—might come in handy in an emergency. ANY of these would do for her to learn."
