350 to Make Ranch Tour Here Friday

Extension Workers, Ranchmen of Large Area to Be on Trip

Heavy attendance was expected today for the tour of Midland ranches by extension workers and ranchmen of 35 counties, scheduled for Friday. A meeting started this morning at Big Spring in which county agents, AAA committeemen and officials of the extension service were working on problems affecting the sixth extension district counties. A telephone call from County Agent S. A. Debnam of Midland reported an attendance there of 225, particularly all of whom will be here tomorrow for the ranch tour.

Many others, not at the Big Spring meeting, have made reservations for the tour, it was announced, with expectation that as many as 350 will inspect contour furrowing and soil and water conservation work on ranches in southern Midland county.

Leaving Big Spring Friday morning at 10 o'clock, the large party will drive from the Midland court house at 11. Debnam announced. Dinner will be served the guests en route and the Dunagan sound truck will be used to explain the furrowing work as it is inspected at various points in the county.

M. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, will be in the party, as will J. S. Watson, state committee member, J. D. Prewitt, district agent, Mrs. Johnson of the state home demonstration service and other officials. More than 200 ranchmen from 39 counties will attend. Due to the large crowd, the tour and the dinner are being handled on an invitation basis and reservations have been made at the agent's office.

Rotarians Hear of Trip to "Garden" By Miss Cowden

Recounting her experiences as a "Texas Glamour Girl" at the recent Madison Square Garden rodeo in New York City, Miss Walter Fay Cowden was guest speaker at the Rotary club luncheon today. She described the special train which was run by the World Champion Rodeo Corporation from Dublin, with its fifteen stock cars, two Pullman cars and a diner, the latter having been operated "cowboy style."

Arriving at Grand Central Station, the seven girls eyed a throng of photographers and newspaper reporters, flash bulbs exploded and they thought "Hellozoppin!" was being enacted. Such questions as "Did you sleep with your horse?" were fired at them rapidly by the reporters, marking the beginning of a month's siege of such interviews.

Billed on Park Avenue, they were "wined and dined" about New York City continuously except for the time they were being featured at the rodeo performances. They presented demonstrations of horsemanship similar to those used in the cowgirl sponsors contest at Midland Rodeo.

"We were allowed no dates," Miss Cowden said, "but we were entertained at the principal clubs, always wearing our cowgirl regalia, and were shown a grand time." The girls were being featured at dinner at the New Yorker. Celebrities attending the shows at the Garden were introduced to the Texas cowgirls. They were guests of Al Smith, going through the Empire State Building, and were featured on the "Up in the Air" broadcast.

They met Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia who Miss Cowden described as "a grand gentleman." The rodeo itself, she said, was exceptionally large. If fewer than 10,000 spectators were in the stands, it looked like no crowd at all. Stock was wild and in fine condition. The cowboys gave wild exhibitions, as was wanted by the easterners, although roping contests were slowed by the humane laws which forbid the jerking down of animals.

"I could have done with about twenty less performances," Miss Cowden said in conclusion, "there having been 35 entries made by the Texas girls. She admitted she was 'caught up' on rodeos until next season. Thanks were expressed to George C. Carter of Fort Worth for making the trip possible for the West Texas girls, including Miss Cowden, Misses Mary Nell and Anna Bell Edwards of Big Spring, Miss Fern Sawyer of Cross Roads, N. M., Miss Fay Marburger of Abilene, Miss Peggy Minnick of Crowley and Miss Elizabeth Miller of Snyder. She also thanked "Midland" for making her the city's representative.

Also on the Rotary club program was a talk on the Red Cross Roll Call, eloquently delivered by Doris Blackburn, high school sophomore. Clinton Lackey presided in the absence of President S. A. Debnam (See ROTARIANS HEAR, page 8)

Some Cheated Death; One Didn't

Happy indeed were these weary survivors (above) of torpedoed S. S. City of Mandalay when, after bobbing on Atlantic for hours, they sighted American ship Independence Hall coming to their assistance. But one who lost the fight against death was Sgt. T. M. Clements, English soldier returning from India aboard the S. S. Yorkshire. Below, he lies badly wounded from explosion of U-boat torpedo that sank his ship. He died later, and was buried at sea.

Peace Appeal Of Two Rulers To Be Dropped

Chamberlain Says the Germans Understand No Language But Force

LONDON, Nov. 9. (AP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared today "the stiff-necked men" who run Germany "speak no language but that of force" and therefore "I am not very hopeful of a satisfactory response from the German chancellor" to peace proposals of Queen Wilhelmina and King Leopold.

Chamberlain's declaration was delivered before the lord mayor's luncheon by the chancellor of exchequer Sir John Simon as Chamberlain was suffering from gout.

He termed the king's and queen's appeals for peace as "lofty motives."

BERLIN, Nov. 9. (AP).—Germany last night took the position that the efforts of King Leopold and Queen Wilhelmina to halt the European war had been killed by British action "almost before the ink was dry" on their offer of mediation.

While Adolf Hitler and his trusted leaders were in Munich celebrating the anniversary of the abortive 1923 "beer cellar" putsch, officials and the press were busy throwing on Britain the onus of rejecting the offer.

Officials said British opinion "solidly supports" last night's speech of Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax and today's speech of Labor Leader Clement R. Attlee.

Both the commission, which approved the lines' application earlier this week and then held up action at the President's request, and Secretary of State Hull, who opposed the transfer yesterday on the ground that it might seem to nullify neutrality act provisions, appeared to be standing pat.

Chairman Emory S. Land of the commission was expected to confer with Mr. Roosevelt shortly after the latter's return to the capital tomorrow from Hyde Park, N. Y., where the President said yesterday that he thought no question of neutrality was involved in the proposed transfer.

The fact that the commission had approved the transfer of 15 Standard Oil tankers between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1 was revealed by a commission representative after Standard Oil officials had reported in New York that at least six of these vessels had been shifted to the flag of Panama in the past six weeks and that the others would eventually make the change.

President Will Act On Transfer of Ships In the Near Future

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (AP).—In the midst of controversy over the United States Lines' proposal to hoist the flag of Panama over eight of its ships and operate them to areas closed to American vessels by the new neutrality act, the Maritime Commission disclosed Wednesday that it had recently approved a similar flag transfer for 15 Standard Oil tankers.

This word was given out while the commission was preparing to present to President Roosevelt a memorandum declaring that the transfer proposed by the United States Lines would not involve this government in any responsibility.

Both the commission, which approved the lines' application earlier this week and then held up action at the President's request, and Secretary of State Hull, who opposed the transfer yesterday on the ground that it might seem to nullify neutrality act provisions, appeared to be standing pat.

Chairman Emory S. Land of the commission was expected to confer with Mr. Roosevelt shortly after the latter's return to the capital tomorrow from Hyde Park, N. Y., where the President said yesterday that he thought no question of neutrality was involved in the proposed transfer.

Ten New Stewards Named on Board By Methodists

Addition of 10 new members to the board of stewards and concluding visit of Rev. C. R. Hooton of Sweetwater in his official capacity of district superintendent marked the quarterly conference of the First Methodist church here Tuesday evening.

The new members, bringing the stewards' board to a membership of 33, were added looking to advances in the church along all lines, Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor, reported.

The ten include: Ray Beville, N. G. Oates, Everett Kiebold, Roy McKee, Gene Reichman, Oliver Haag, L. C. Stephenson, J. W. Thomas, N. A. Moore, G. D. Taylor. Mr. Hooton, a dynamic speaker and church leader, was praised by the Midland pastor as being "loved by every preacher and, I suppose, every layman in the district." He has served as district superintendent for a year. He has been appointed pastor of the Tyler street church in Dallas, which rivals the first church of that city in attendance being chosen for the post by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt because of his personal ability and his preference for this type of work.

Huge Reward Is Offered By Officials

Seventh Victim of Explosion Succumbs in Munich Today

BERLIN, Nov. 9. (AP).—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today viewed photographs of the first officially-disclosed serious attempt to kill him since he assumed power in 1933.

Meanwhile, the reich's police power combed the nation for the perpetrators of last night's explosion at Munich which would have buried the fuhrer under nine feet of debris had he not left the "beer hall" putsch anniversary observance earlier than customary.

The blast in Burgerbrau Hall, shrine of nazidom, came a few minutes after Hitler had left to entrain for Berlin and killed seven of his veteran followers and wounded 63 others, 29 seriously.

British secret service and Jews were openly charged with the crime. The original reward of 500,000 marks for information leading to the arrest of the guilty was increased to 600,000 marks.

By ALVIN STENKOPF.

BERLIN, Nov. 9. (AP).—Adolf Hitler escaped possible death or injury by a few minutes yesterday in an explosion which wrecked the famous Burgerbrau beer cellar in Munich after he had completed a fighting war speech.

The terrific blast brought down the ceiling of the spacious room, killing six and injuring more than 60 among the old Nazi leaders, who had come together to celebrate the famous 1923 putch that failed.

Hitler himself, the cheers of his trusted comrades still ringing in his ears, was safe on an armored train speeding toward Berlin when the blast let go.

The men killed were veterans of Hitler's party who now are the aristocracy of the Nazi movement.

But it was stated by authorities that none of the leaders of Nazidom were among the dead or injured.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels, Deputy Party Leader Rudolf Hess, Minister of the Interior Wilhelm Frick, Julius Streicher, Robert Ley and Sister Pia—the only woman who was among Hitler's old battles—had attended the party's anniversary celebration.

But as far as could be learned several hours after the blast all either had left with Hitler or departed shortly after he had stepped into his car in Rosenheimer Street at the conclusion of his address.

After confusion subsided, somewhat authorities said there were clues that the blast had been arranged by "foreign agents."

Great excitement was said to exist in Munich and extraordinary security measures were ordered throughout the Reich.

No reason for the possibility that foreign agents were responsible was given, but the government at once offered a 500,000 mark (about $249,000) reward for the persons responsible, one of the largest rewards in European history.

The explosion apparently came from above in the hall in which Hitler was dining and in which he had defied England and boasted that the German people was united as never before.

"Without any preliminary sound or other warning," the beer hall proprietor said, "there came a tremendous explosion which caused the ceiling to fall and crash with a terrific roar."

"There were screams and the air was filled with dust and an acrid smell. Bodies lay under the debris and there was a great struggle for the injured tried to find a way out."

A great force of police immediately closed in and the area was blocked off to traffic.

Communications Shut Off.

For several hours Munich was shut off from telephone communication with the rest of the country.

Only when the situation was fairly well in hand were communications restored.

Then Munich, which since the war has had blackouts nightly, suddenly was brightly illuminated. The street lights were turned on apparently to aid the police. Ambulances converged on the scene and departed with screaming sirens.

Meanwhile Hitler was securely on his special train bound for Berlin. It was stated he probably owed his (See SEARCH FOR, page 8)

About thirty days will be required to complete the project, he said.

Pipe is now laid in forty foot lengths and welded, whereas when the tank farm was put here, the lines consisted of twelve foot lengths, and were screwed together. With the present ditching machinery, laying of lines is speeded up considerably.

Traffic Fatalities Show Drop in State

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—The State Highway Engineer reports that: "A summary of motor vehicle fatalities for the first nine months of this year shows 1,098 deaths as compared to 1,148 during the same period of 1938, a reduction of 50, or 4.4 per cent.

"Two hundred forty seven of these fatalities occurred in cities of over 2,500 population; sixty six in cities of less than 2,500; one hundred thirty six on county roads not a part of the Highway System, and six hundred forty nine on highways.

This reduction is attributed to the fine cooperation being evidenced by motor vehicle operators in the observance of traffic control regulations, such as center and restricting stripes, signs and signals, dimming headlights at night, and other regulatory measures.

The Highway Engineer further comments, "It is my firm conviction that a great percentage of our highway users want and are demanding safety upon our highways and they are anxious to do their part to that end. We must prosecute an unceasing campaign of education to teach operators how to utilize safety fences we are building into our highways."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, gouts under the eyes, headaches and dizzy spells or dizzy sensations of some kind.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

3 Million Bushels of '40 Wheat Predicted

AMARILLO (AP)—There may be dust, drought and hail, but 3,960 Panhandle-Plains farmers will market at least 3,660,000 bushels of wheat next summer.

The Federal Insurance Corporation has guaranteed the harvest, which is about one-eighth of the amount of wheat harvested in the area last year.

More than 11,000 Texas farmers have contracted for wheat insurance, said E. R. Drake, state administrator, compared with 3,500 contracts made last year, first year of the government's crop insurance program.

Although hardly a third of the Texas farmers taking out insurance of the 1940 wheat crop live in the plains country, the bulk of the insured acreage is in the area. Of the 1,105,055 bushels paid as premium in the state, $33,414 has been paid by farmers living in 22 plains counties that make up the state's "biscuit basket."

Swisher county leads, more than 500 farmers having insured 90,000 acres in that county.

Student Warns Against Eating His Pet Goldfish

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Gordon Sherwood isn't taking any chances on losing his pet goldfish. Sherwood, a sophomore student at West Virginia University, well aware of the recent goldfish-swallowing craze, has taken steps to protect his three fish.

The fish are housed in a bowl in a fraternity house. On one side of the bowl, Sherwood has printed this notice:

"Do not trespass.
"Do not feed.
"Do not EAT!"

More Coal Oil Lamps Go Out in Mississippi

MAGNOLIA, Miss. (AP)—The coal-oil lamp, symbol of early rearing in many rural areas, has been placed on the closest shelf in many homes in four of Mississippi's counties. Electricity has replaced it.

Gov. Hugh L. White dedicated 327.7 miles of rural electrification lines, 115 miles of which are serving 210 homes in Pike and Walthall counties in Southwest Mississippi. The remainder of the circuit, nearing completion in Lincoln and Amite counties, will serve 750 homes.

Two hundred miles of power lines will be built by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Farmers Told To Use Profits For Expansion

BOISE, Ida. (UP) — The wise course for the farmer is to use war profits to pay off existing debts rather than to buy more land and otherwise expand operations, C. A. Youngstrom, University of Idaho extension economist, believes.

The uncertainty of the duration of the European war and the possibility of governmental control of price levels makes it dangerous for a farmer to attempt any great expansion, he asserted.

Youngstrom warned agriculturists to stick to their farming and prepare for a substantial improvement in the demand for farm products during the next three months.

No "runaway" price rise and increased market for farm products in general were expected, he said. The World War was in progress nearly two years before an important advance in the general price level took place. Prices now are normal after the September flurry.

Cheaper Contact Lens Foreseen by Optician

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — A new method of procuring contact lenses soon will place them within the means of the average person requiring them, Dr. William Feinbloom told the Pennsylvania Ophthalmic Association.

Hitherto the lenses have cost $150 for a pair and frequently required months for a proper fit. Under the new process, Dr. Feinbloom said, the fitting will be speeded up to about a week.

Any and all creditors of the estate of W. F. Scarborough, deceased, are notified to file any and all claims against said estate at once with Mrs. Evelyn Lineberry, Executrix, Midland, Texas. (Adv.) Nov. 9.

U. S. Air Base Is Nearly Ready

TACOMA, Wash. (UP) — McCord field, the world's biggest military air base, is being rushed toward completion for occupancy by the first of the year.

Col. Frank W. Wright, field commandant, said the $18,000,000 project was the center of air defense plans for the entire Pacific northwest of Alaska.

Military strategists looked upon the field as an important link in the Pacific coast defense. It is located between Tacoma and nearby Fort Lewis.

About 700 planes eventually will be housed at the field, and barracks will take care of 1,285 men — not including officers and pilots.

The field will maintain contact with the U. S. naval air station at Sand Point a few miles away.

"The first detachment of men probably will be moved in here at the start of the year," Wright said. "Buildings now under construction will be completed by April. At that time an unannounced number of men and planes will be brought here."

It was believed the field would serve as a composite base for bombing, pursuit and observation planes.

As many as 2,000 men have been at work on the project.

Tall Co-eds Form Club, Six-Footers Study Poise

MONTEVALLO, Ala. (UP) — Alabama College women doubt if the Greeks had a word for this one at Sand Point, a few miles away.

Hi Cappa Cappa is a club exclusively for girls of extraordinary height. The president, Sarah Christenberry, is six feet tall. Although the club's aims are mainly social, there are frequent study groups on how tall girls may appear at their best in society.

Male IQ Tops Female Rating, Scientist Says

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. (UP) — The male of the human species is superior in intelligence to the female, according to Prof. William Reuter, Westminster College psychologist.

In a review of the ancient controversy between the sexes, Reuter asserted, on the basis of tests, that it has been proved that women rarely become successful through their own ability.

"Men have always beaten women in every field, even in their own domain of cooking and dress-making," Reuter said. "The only woman cook who ever reached any distinctive fame was Aunt Jemima."

Reuter said the difference in innate intelligence between the sexes may be due to the fact that the masculine brain is larger.

The better grades usually made in schools by girls, especially in grade and high schools, he explained on the basis that teachers credit personality and discipline.

Kansas Food Terminal One of World's Largest

FORT WORTH, Texas (UP) — A $4,000,000 public market at Kansas City, Kan., one of the largest in the world, is among $44,000,000 worth of Public Works Administration projects now under construction in seven southwestern states.

Director George M. Bull said that the Kansas city food terminal is approximately one-half finished. It will be a central marketing point for fruits, vegetables and farm produce from 40 states and a distribution center for the entire mid-west.

Two refrigeration buildings are included, one five stories high and the other one story. Four produce buildings will cost nearly $1,500,000 and a farmers' market with selling space for 500 farmers will cost another $180,000. The Missouri river levee, upon which the food terminal borders, will have $200,000 worth of improvements in the completed project.

A $2,000,000 grain terminal, financed by PWA, also will be built on the levee.

AUSTIN (Special) — A Texas Game Department warden recently arrived upon the scene of one of those terrific battles nature's children sometimes engage in just in time to rescue one deer; but the other had not survived a struggle to death which, persons who have witnessed such battles declare are as thrilling as any plot ever conceived by an author.

The warden arrived on a flat on the Herbert Ranch in the Hill country to find a pair of seven and eight point bucks with their horns locked and signs of a terrific struggle having taken place. One buck was dead, but the warden worked with the other, the eight-pointer, got him loose and watched the deer literally stagger off in to thick cover. Bucks fight frequently, but it is not so often that their horns become locked. However, if that occurs and no outside help is available, both deer are generally victims of the battle.

White-wing doves, considered much better sport than mourning doves, generally remain Texas' Rio Grande Valley. Large numbers are found in several counties there, but this year, and the reason is not known by Game Department biologists, the birds have come much farther north than usual. Flights of several hundred each have been seen in Medina county and a good many sportsmen of that section have gotten their limits of white-wings without having to make the usual trek to the Valley. Infrequent reports of white-wings nesting as far North as Medina county have also been received by the Game Department.

An Abilene fisherman recently lost $30 in prizes because he had not spent $1.10 for a fishing license. Abilene merchants marked a dozen fish and released them in Lake Abilene. The largest one carried notification of a prize of $50 for the person catching it providing he had a fishing license. Smaller fish were marked for prizes of less amount. Only one sportsman had caught any of the marked fish according to latest reports. However, he did hook the $50 fish, but was unable to collect because he did not have a fishing license. He mended that situation with a $1.10 purchase, and believe it or not, returned to the lake to catch another fish which had been marked. However, the second catch was worth only $20 in prizes and the fisherman was "out" $30. Other sportsmen of that section are still trying to catch the remainder of the marked members of the finny tribe in Lake Abilene.

Motor cars take a terrific toll of deer, as is attested by a report to the Game Department's executive secretary by the Warden at Fredericksburg, who stated that a personal check disclosed seventy-six deer found dead on the highways of one county, Gillespie, during a period from October 1, 1938, to October 1, 1939.

Girl Makes $5 Pig Bring in Over $1000

HEREFORD (AP) — Ira Jeanne Ricketts, 19, of the Progressive community is so progressive she has turned $5 into more than $1000 in the past 10 years.

When Miss Ricketts was 9 years old she invested $5 in a pig. With this start, the young 4-H Club girl went into the swine business. The pig was her project for the year. She kept the young sow and soon had more pigs. Miss Ricketts counted up the other day and found that: 1. Since a short time after she bought the pig she has had a checking account in the bank. 2. She has bought her own clothing and stowed many items in her "hope" chest.

BULLDOGS TAPER OFF TONIGHT FOR LAMESA

21 Squad Members To Be Making Final Appearance at Home

The Midland high school Bulldogs tonight will hold their final practice drill before their final home game — here tomorrow night against the Lamesa Golden Tornado.

For 21 members of the squad it will be the final chance to play on the home field. All will be given a chance at various times of the game if the coaches feel like they can allow the boys in the game without weakening chances of a victory.

The Bulldogs are overwhelming favorites to capture the game and barring unforeseen events the first team should be able to build up enough lead early in the game to allow all the boys who will finish to get in a few minutes of play. For some of the boys, it would be their first time to get into a district game.

Ten of the boys that have been regular starters throughout the year will be playing their last game at home. Only Maurice Bratton, an end, will remain as a starter on

The PAYOFF

BY JESS RODGERS

Why the lack of interest in the Midland-Lamesa game here tomorrow night? True, the Midland team rates as a heavy favorite to cap the affair—but anything can happen in football.

Conceding the fact that the game may not turn out to be very interesting (something that cannot be considered a cinch, however) there remains a more important fact—it is the last game of the year for the team on the home field.

Fans of the town owe it to those 21 boys that will wind up their careers permanently on the home field to be on hand. The town may turn out a better football team at some time in the future but certainly will never turn out a gamer or harder trying club than this one.

Bud Taylor this year has probably had fewer capable reserves than any other coach in the district and most of the regulars have been next year's club.

Some of the boys that will finish their home playing tomorrow night will be remembered for a long time, however. A few of them qualify as members of any "all-time" team that would be picked at the school.

Boys who will finish up are guards Bob Edson, Paul Klatt, David Bizzell; tackles Leland Foster, Selman Cooke, Carl Ward, Fred Cooke; ends Wendell Williams, William Whitlaker, James F. Johnson, Jim Truelove; centers J. E. Wallace, Coleman Collier; backs Jay Francis, J. M. White, Temple Harris, Dell Truelove, Odie Kelly, Cletus Hines, John Olive, Preacher Roberts, Roger Sidwell.

Four of the boys, Williams, White, Edson and Kelly, will be eligible for play another year if they desire to return to school but all will probably go ahead and graduate in the class of 1940.

School officials are hoping for a large crowd out to see the boys in their final home game, paying tribute to them for four years of work most of the boys have put out in earning whatever little praise they have received.

The Southwest Conference was organized in 1914 and first championships awarded in 1915. University of Texas, Texas A&M, Baylor, Rice and University of Arkansas are the only remaining charter members.

Southern Methodist was admitted in 1916 when Oklahoma University dropped out. Texas Christian took over the membership vacated by Oklahoma A&M in 1922 and since that time the same seven teams have formed the conference.

Admission to the conference is by unanimous vote of all member schools but at their meeting last May they voted to keep the membership at its present size.

forced to earn an "iron man" title for themselves. The only grumbling that has been heard came from boys removed from the games, not those who were forced to play the entire game.

It will be a final chance for fans of the city to pay tribute to one of the finest teams in all respects, that has ever represented the city.

About this time each year football fans begin to talk about what team won the Southwest Conference championship in what year, so to forestall the questions due to arise here is the record:

Year	Champion
1915	No Champion
1916	No Champion
1917	Texas A&M
1918	No Champion
1919	Texas A&M
1920	University of Texas
1921	Texas A&M
1922	Baylor
1923	Southern Methodist
1924	Baylor
1925	Texas A&M
1926	Southern Methodist
1927	Texas A&M
1928	University of Texas
1929	Texas A&M
1930	University of Texas
1931	Southern Methodist
1932	Texas Christian
1933	No Champion
1934	Rice
1935	Southern Methodist
1936	Arkansas
1937	Rice
1938	Texas Christian

"In 1915 Baylor finished first but was disqualified for using an ineligible player and no championship was awarded."

"In 1916 Texas had the best record but her claim was disputed and no championship was awarded."

"In 1918 no championship was awarded owing to the World War stripping the teams of all their regular players."

"In 1933 Arkansas finished first but was disqualified for using an ineligible player and no championship was awarded."

The Southwest Conference was organized in 1914 and first championships awarded in 1915. University of Texas, Texas A&M, Baylor, Rice and University of Arkansas are the only remaining charter members.

Southern Methodist was admitted in 1916 when Oklahoma University dropped out. Texas Christian took over the membership vacated by Oklahoma A&M in 1922 and since that time the same seven teams have formed the conference.

McMurry Indians to Meet Team Coached By Their Ex-Mentor

ABILENE, Nov. 9. — McMurry's Indians, coached for 16 years by R. M. McElroy, will go up against their former tutor for the first time Saturday afternoon at Georgetown. The Braves meet the Southwestern Pirates in a Texas conference game.

Having experienced a disastrous season, the Indians are due to take the field as distinct underdogs. Out for the week and perhaps for the season are five key men.

On the other hand Southwestern hasn't fared so well either. The Pirates have won only one game, defeating the ACC Wildcats here two weeks back by a 26 to 7 score. McMurry's tentative starting lineup:

Ends, C. Wood and Anderson; tackles, Wylie and Carter; guards, Walston and Raymond; center, Wheeler; quarter, Besley; halves, Simmons and Shults; full, Stovall.

Brooklyn Club Official Advises Giants' Secretary to See Bombproof Cellars

By NEA Service. NEW YORK. — Eddie Brannick's tours in London and Paris during the winter of 1937 and of Italy in 1938 brought no pennants to the Polo Grounds, so the New York Giants' secretary has headed south. He visited Havana and the Caribbean countries in '35 and '36 before Stoneham championships, but this time will stick to Florida and Texas.

John MacDonald, secretary of the Brooklyn Dodgers, insists Brannick is making a mistake. "After his club finished in the second division," says Mad Anthony MacDonald, "Brannick really ought to inspect these bombproof cellars they're building abroad. The Giants may need them next year."

The little one catches in the sky and the big one hangs onto it like a coat on a nail. It makes for a speedy, perfect opening.

The two or three seconds gained by use of the little parachute has saved many lives, the corporal said. Parachute rigging is a highly specialized work. The rigger is constantly opening parachutes, drying them, testing them, and refolding them. Every parachute is opened and hung up to dry every six months, in order to prevent the folds of the silk from getting "set" or damp.

There are few experienced parachute riggers in the country, and the army is looking for men who desire to learn that or other trades in the aviation industry. Courses are given in parachute rigging, instrument maintenance, radio, aerial photography, and aviation mechanics. Most of the courses are given at the army's schools at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois, and at Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado. The school terms are generally for six months.

Boys From Syracuse, Starring Pro Brothers, Keep Catholic U. Unbeaten

By NEA Service. WASHINGTON. — The boys from Syracuse, or rather from Solway, which is a suburb of Syracuse, have helped to keep the Catholic University football team unbeaten and united.

Dutch Bergman's club has respected South Carolina, Elon, Detroit, West Virginia Wesleyan and Miami with a net adverse total of 13 points.

Three Solway residents are regulars. Rocco Pirro and his brother, Carmen, right tackle, and Hank Brostek, blocking back.

Co-captain Rocco Pirro was converted from a tackle to a fullback and was given a terrific build-up. He weighs 208 pounds and stands six feet one. The natural inference, since Bergman coached Bronko Nagurski at Minnesota, was that Rocco was another Bronko, who also switched from tackle to fullback.

But Bergman had his doubts, naturally, because Rocco is a bit slower than was Bronk. Bergman held Rocco back in the South Carolina game, but turned

So-Called "One Man" Teams Do All Right in the State Races

DALLAS, Nov. 9. (AP). — The so-called "one-man" teams have been doing very well in Texas schoolboy football this season. Some instances do not bear out the statement, such as Corsicana which lost to Waco when its star back, Wally Spencer, was stopped, but generally speaking the teams that depend largely on one player are catching in.

Tyler, with its Walton Roberts; Lufkin with its Willie Smelley; and Austin, with its Travis Raven, are notable examples.

Austin gets its hardest test of the season this week, however, and it will be up to Raven, the year's high-scoring and chief "one-man" team, to keep his type to the forefront.

Austin, unbeaten and untied, plays Brackenside, twice defeated but still the biggest threat for the Maroons in the district's race. Both are undefeated in conference play and Brackenside, which took out Kerrville, another hot contender for the title, will be favored by many to upset the Austin wagon that's hitched to a star.

Woodrow Wilson of Dallas has a fine blocking team but its main-spring is Reese Maley, a triple-threat who can pitch passes with deadly precision and carry that ball when the others fail. Last week Maley sparked Woodrow Wilson to the virtual championship of district 8 in smothering the strong Adenson team 20-6.

Woodrow Wilson is the first team considered to be "in" with a championship but there will be a half dozen or more given the same rating this week barring startling upsets. Brackenside, Tyler, Waco, Lufkin and Brownsville being chief examples.

It is a big week in the schoolboy race with more than 35 contests in a schedule of 50 contests. The conference card:

District 1—Plainview at Lubbock, Amarillo at Pampa; District 2—Quanah at Childress, Vernon at Cliney; District 3—Odessa at Sweetwater, Big Spring at San Angelo, Lamesa at Midland; District 4—Bowie (El Paso) vs. Austin (El Paso); District 5—Bonham at Paris, Gainville at Denton; District 6—Greenville at Sulphur Springs, High Point Park (Dallas) at Denton; District 7—Pasehal (Fort Worth) vs. Masonic Home (Fort Worth), North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Poly (Fort Worth), Riverside (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech; District 8—Adamsom (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas); District 9—Ranger at Cisco, Brownwood at Breckenridge; District 10—Bryan at Hillsboro, Cleburne at Waco; District 11—Tyler at Longview, Gladewater at Kilgore, Texarona at Marshall; District 12—Lufkin at Nacogdoches, Henderson at Jacksonville; District 13—Reagan (Houston) vs. Davis (Houston), San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Austin (Houston), Sam Houston (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston); District 14—Livingston at Port Arthur, Galveston at Beaumont, South Park (Beaumont) at Orange; District 15—Jefferson (San Antonio) at Kerrville, Brackenside (San Antonio) at Austin, Laredo at San Antonio Tech; District 16—Upper bracket, Kingsville at Robstown; lower bracket, Edinburg at Brownsville, San Benito

Texas Today

Down in the East Texas piney woods, where generations have listened to the whine of sawmills and become accustomed to the language of the lumber world, there is a new vocabulary in the making.

For 600 years the Chinese kept paper a secret after the Emperor, Hoi, developed a material to write upon by beating bamboo and old rags into a fibre. For hundreds of years, too, the industry has been a mystery for most folks in the southern states. The Pacific northwest, Canada and foreign countries produced the world's supply of newsprint paper from northern tree trees and the role of the southern pine was chiefly that of lumber making.

When the late scientist, Dr. Chas. Holmes Herty, perfected the pine newsprint process in his Savannah laboratory the opportunity was made for the South to take up a brand new industry. Texas and southern leaders drew the many dangling threads together after years of work against many obstacles, and today the $6,000,000 Southland Paper Mills plant is rapidly nearing completion on a one-time farm in the midst of a pine forest just outside of Lufkin.

The natives, both urban and rural, are beginning to hear the strange language of a new world. The piney woods people have lived long in the atmosphere of sawmill talk and timber terms. Now, a man's next-door neighbor may be a pulp chemist from New York, a four-drainer operator from British Columbia, or a grinder man from Wisconsin.

Just one machine for the Lufkin plant filled seventy freight cars—a full-length train—and every piece of that equipment has a name and each step in the operation of paper-making contributes to the jargon, as do also the trade-titles of the 800-1,000 workers who will be engaged in newsprint manufacture.

The cotton and lumber populace therefore, is beginning to hear on the streets, over bridge tables, and at luncheon clubs, the tossing about of such terms as sulphite process, digesters and cookers, half stock, stuff, cooking liquor and pulp beaters.

New words, new blood, and new houses have been the theme song of 1939 for Lufkin. The year of the beginning of a new industrial era in East Texas. Skilled paper-making men who will be engaged in turning out 50,000 tons of newsprint a year in the Southland plant have come from paper mills from one side of the nation to the other.

Lufkin has been concerned chiefly with building enough homes for the newcomers to live in—construction permits in the first three months of the year exceeded the combined total of the preceding two years—and secondly in picking up the lingo of a business so fresh the shine hasn't even begun to wear. Newsprint and pulp have crept, in some form or other, into the lives of all Angalia county's 40,000 inhabitants. The new paper people are taking their places in civic clubs, social affairs, churches, schools and civic activities. And more are yet to come.

The pine trees now growing on millions of acres of East Texas acres will be tomorrow's front pages of scores of Southern newspapers. How they get that way has become the area's fascinating subject of talk and attention. The sheer size of the monumental machinery going inside the great mill in the first three months brings area onlookers; the scope of the venture dwarfs the imagination of a section geared for generations to sawmills, sorghum fields and cotton-picking. Lufkin has two large iron foundries, and employs nearly 1,000 workers, but the foundry industry is a landmark there and the town grew up with it.

Making newsprint in the South is new. It has never been done before, outside Dr. Herty's laboratory-mill. Ernest L. Kurth, the president of Southland, achieved the first practical application of Herty's developments to commercial manufacture when he succeeded in organizing Southland. Early in the new year an endless big white sheet will be rolling off the seventy carloads of machinery which will turn a milky liquid into material for newspaper for 1940. The eternal green of the Piney Woods will take on a new luster with the spring, every twig and branch potent with importance over the little part of the story they will tell of the changing world, not the least of which changes in the Southward trek of a great industry.

Chemurgy Provides Castor Plant Chairs

LUFKIN, (AP)—Your next rocking chair may come, not from sturdy oak, but from the lowly castor plant, according to Chemurgists at the North Texas State Teachers College. They are developing a new plastic from the entire castor plant, which can be rolled like dough, hardened with pressure, and molded into furniture to please the most critical. The days of sticks and stones and bricks and plaster may be over in the building world, for the new plastic will be used not only in furniture manufacture, but also as heat-insulating material for wall boards, floors, and for pressed building materials.

Developed by the Teachers College chemurgy class under the direction of Gilbert C. Wilson, the new material will be hard as metal, yet elastic, malleable, with high wear and insulative qualities. It is made from the whole plant, roots, bark, trunk, limbs and leaves proportionately as they grow in the fields. Wilson explains that the plastic is formed by making a semi-molecular separation of the coleur of the castor wood, and all-molecular separation of the mole-husts in the manufacture, no chemicals are actually added to the finished product.

W. D. L. Van Over, director of the farm bureau of Woburn Industries, Harrison, N. J., and Dr. Harry E. Barnard, research director of the National Farm Chemurgic Council, Columbus, Ohio, recently expressed an interest here in the new plastic, and the Woburn Industries are to make more specialized experiment possible through special laboratory equipment for the college class.

Woburn processes have been used for some time at the Denton college in laboratory demonstrations of castor plant uses such as making
