AMERICANS CRUSH NAZI ARMOR

Bombers Sink More Jap Ships

By The Associated Press
American bombers have sunk or damaged 14 Japanese ships, ranging from a minesweeper to a big freighter, in new assaults on the enemy's long supply line to its war bases in the Pacific, Allied reports said Thursday.

Ten vessels were hit by Navy and Marine fliers in the third and heaviest blow this month at shipping in the port of Rabaul, pivotal base for the striking Japanese territory in the Southwest Pacific. The Japanese lost 24 to 28 planes in an unsuccessful defense of their vulnerable New Britain harbor.

A small freighter was destroyed in another Allied air raid on the Admiralty Islands, northwest of Rabaul. In the Far East, 14th U. S. Air Force Mitchell Bombers sank two 1200-ton freighters and a minesweeper off the East China coast. Heavy Loss At Rabaul

The latest strike at Rabaul brought the enemy's cost of maintaining that base to at least 26 ships sunk or damaged and more than 350 planes destroyed during January.

First reports from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters on the raid last Monday assessed the shipping losses as five cargo vessels and a tanker sunk and two cargo ships and a tanker beached. Dispatches from New Georgia in the Solomons, site of the raiders' bases, said, however, that Navy torpedo bombers alone had sunk or badly damaged five cargo ships at Rabaul's Simpson Harbor, including one vessel described as 8,000 to 10,000 tons.

Marine pilots accounted for four ships in adjoining Keravala Bay and set a tanker afire.

In contrast with recent statements by Allied pilots that the Japanese still had their "first team" at Rabaul, Associated Press War (Continued on Page 7)

War Bond Sales Total $253,369

Midland citizens Wednesday purchased $22,978.75 worth of War Bonds to bring total sales for the month to $253,369.05—$1,076,630.95 short of the quota of $1,330,000. Series E bond purchases total $82,178.25.

Daily sales during the 19 remaining days of the Fourth War Loan must average $56,664 if the quota is to be reached.

Two-Thirds Of U.S. Army To Be Overseas By End Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—As present plans shape up, two-thirds of America's steadily growing army will be at overseas stations by the end of this year.

That was the word Thursday from War Secretary Stimson as he announced plans for closing a number of domestic Army camps during the next few months and the transfer to combat units of a substantial proportion of the soldiers now assigned to administrative duties.

The overseas expansion program will double our forces abroad. As of the end of 1943, only about a third of the Army had been sent outside the country.

In addition, a number of officers over 38, particularly those commissioned directly from civil life or in the National Guard and Reserve Corps, will be placed on the inactive list because "no suitable assignments are available or in prospect either at domestic or overseas installations or establishments."

One-Third Overseas Now

"The readjustments were dictated generally by the progressive shift of Army operations from the defensive to the offensive and by the growth of air power," said Stimson. As of Dec. 31, 1943, approximately one-third of the Army's strength was overseas. By the end of this year it is contemplated that two-thirds of the Army will be overseas.

With the peak of the training program past, the Army already has placed a number of its facilities on a stand-by basis, or announced that it intends to do so. The Air Forces have relinquished 69 or more establishments, and the Ground Forces have begun to close up some of their training camps and other facilities, including Camp Atterbury, Ind., Pine Camp, N. Y., and the induction center at Fort Hayes, Ohio.

Stanolind I Cobb Cored Oil Shows In NE Hockley

By JAMES C. WATSON Oil Editor

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Tom Cobb, wildcat in Northwest Hockley County, 13 miles north of the nearest proven acreage in the Slaughter field, is showing indications of opening a new San Andres lime producing area.

Cores from the zone at 4,639-69 feet in dolomite have shown good porosity, and were well stained and bleeding oil. Operations were reported suspended Thursday morning while a decision was being made whether to core some more or to take a drillstem test.

From 4,639-54 feet a full 15-foot recovery was obtained. The bottom eight feet was bleeding oil. The second specimen from 4,654-69 feet also had a 100 per cent return. It was stained dolomite bleeding oil and with good porosity.

From Slaughter Pay

The oil signs are in the same zone which is producing in the Wagon While the operator reveals that the section is the San Andres, no official top has been released.

Location is in labor 103-E, league 75, Haskell County School Land survey. It is four and one-half miles northeast of a dry hole drilled several months ago by Brown & Wheeler on the French fee, which had some shows for production in the San Andres. Leveland, county seat of Hockley County, is about 12 miles southeast of No. 1 Cobb.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Carter, pre-Permian exploration in the Deep Rock area of Anderson County, has drilled out a pecker rubber and cleared the hole to bottom of 10,281 feet—five feet below the former reported total depth, and was going in to attempt another drillstem test.

Scientists Undecided

Opinion varies as to identity of the zone which is giving indications of possible production. Some technicians are calling it Silurian; some think it might be Devonian, and some are naming it Mississippian. Others say that a Mississippian. (Continued on Page 7)

Bowles Says Living Costs May Go Higher

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Administrator Chester Bowles told a Senate labor subcommittee Thursday further increases in living costs are inevitable unless he gets "the vigorous support of Congress and the general public."

Asserting that "efforts to hold the line against any further rise in the prices of food have been hampered by the continuing uncertainty on the use of subsidy payments," Bowles stated.

He was testifying before the Pepper committee inquiring into the economic status of white collar workers.

Russians Close Trap On Nazis

LONDON (AP)—Russian General Leonid A. Govorov announced Thursday that Leningrad had been completely liberated by the two-week Red offensive, with the Nazis driven 40 to 60 miles from the city and more than 700 nearby towns and villages freed.

The exceptional honor of 24 salutes from 324 guns reserved for the greatest victories was ordered fired by the guns of Leningrad for the armies, the people of Leningrad and the Red fleet.

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians have reached the bank of the Luga River west of Novgorod, a Pravda dispatch reported Thursday as the Leningrad army of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov and the Vichkov Army of Gen. K. A. Meretskov continued to smash from opposite directions into the Germans' main salient.

The Luga is only about 10 miles east of the Leningrad-Vitebsk railway, one of the two remaining railroads radiating southward from Leningrad which remain available for German use.

The Pravda dispatch said three German regiments were defeated in a clash on the Luga.

Warm Weather Slows Drive

A sudden, freakish, warm thaw has turned the Russian-German front below Leningrad into quagmires, muddy roads, unlogged swamps and flooded rivers, front dispatches reported Thursday, but the Red armies under Gen. Leonid A. Govorov and K. A. Meretskov kept up their great northern offensive.

In weather, the like of which seldom has been seen in the Leningrad area, Russian troops strove mightily to clear the last remaining 35 miles of the Leningrad-Moscow trunk railway still in German hands and make possible the resumption of direct rail traffic between Russia's two largest cities.

The big junction towns of Tosno, Luban and Chudovo are in hourly peril from the advancing Soviet forces, dispatches said, and it was difficult to see how all of them will be able to remain in German hands for another 24 hours.

Ration Point Values Of Beef Are Increased For February By OPA

WASHINGTON (AP)—One to two point hikes in the February ration point values on most cuts of beef, lamb and veal were announced by the Office of Price Administration Thursday.

More brown stamps will be required also for all types of cheese and the values of pork loin cuts will be one point higher next month. The ration cost of all other pork cuts will remain unchanged.

Butter continues at 16 points a pound but there will be slightly more available, OPA said. Lard values advanced one point to three points a pound.

The new schedule, effective Sunday, calls for two-point increases on beef steak cuts, with revised values ranging from eight to twelve points a pound. Most other beef cuts, including roasts and stews, get a one-point boost.

For veal, lamb and mutton cuts, one or two-point increases are fairly general.

Cheese Goes Up

Cheddar cheese goes from 10 to 12 points a pound in the new table and cream cheese is raised from eight to ten points.

For veal, lamb and mutton cuts, one or two-point increases are fairly general.

With the exception of oysters which continue at present levels, all canned fish is given a four-point reduction, being listed at 12 points a pound as compared with the previous 16.

Among canned meats, dried beef is raised two points to 16 a pound, while two-point cuts are ordered for canned pork sausage, beef tongue, and Vienna sausage.

Sliced dried beef in bulk gets a 14-point value, up two points a pound.

OPA Explains Boost

Explaining the boosts in meat point values, OPA said the total retail supply for February is estimated at 1,400,000,000 pounds, while the January total was approximately 1,600,000,000 pounds.

Of the amount available for next month, pork constitutes about half the total, at around 750,000,000 pounds, the agency said.

"I want to stress the point," said Price Administrator Chester Bowles, "that we are making sure there are enough ration points to buy up all the meat available to civilians in February."

"We would rather take the chance of having too many ration points in the hands of housewives, which may cause possible local shortages of some kinds of meat, than to have any waste because of insufficient points."

Pork loin cuts—such as roasts, center end chops and tenderloin—were raised a point, OPA explained, because these choice items are becoming relatively scarce in some parts of the country.

Excessive consumer demand caused the hike of these values, OPA said.

Argentine Ships Remain In Ports

By STANLEY BOSS

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine military government froze movements of the state merchant fleet Thursday as one of the first follow-up actions to its diplomatic break with the Axis, all vessels being directed to remain in port "until new orders."

It was expected here, however, that the fleet would not last long since Argentine economy largely depends on the movement of the merchant fleet.

(Although no reason was given for the freezing order, it seemed apparent that the Ramirez government deemed it unwise to expose the vessels to the menace of any lurking enemy submarine in the South Atlantic until some provision could be made for their protection, possibly in convoys.)

(Nazi submarines sank three Argentine ships in 1942 but no mention was made of these torpedoed vessels in Wednesday's official announcements concerning the diplomatic break.)

As congratulations poured in from all over the continent, the Argentine government turned to another problem attending its diplomatic break—the question of communications with Germany.

Suspension of these facilities loomed as great importance in view of the revelations that Buenos Aires was headquarters for a giant espionage ring. It is believed that telephone communications with Germany already have been cut.

Troops And Supplies Are Piled Into Wedge Near Italian Capital

By EDWARD KENNEDY
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS (AP)—The first German counterattack against the Americans and British just south of Rome, the first of the many that probably will be launched in a furious effort to wipe out the Allied beachhead, has been thrown back with the crushing of German armor, Allied headquarters announced Thursday.

Men and supplies continued to pile into the strategic wedge threatening the Italian capital.

Gen Sir Harold Alexander's Central Mediterranean headquarters announced that elements of the Herman Goering armored division had been met southwest of Littoria, the chief town of Mussolini's famous Pontine Marsh agricultural development, in a "fierce local engagement."

The Germans left 120 dead on the field as they were tossed back. The Hermann Goering division, formerly an armored grenadier outfit, has been strengthened by new equipment to a fully armored unit. It was last encountered on the main Fifth Army front. Its appearance on the beachhead indicated it had been shifted to encounter the threat to the German rear.

Americans Near Liri Valley

Meanwhile, other Americans of the Fifth Army, 48 miles east of Littoria, continuing to uproot Germans, mines and meshed defenses, struggled slowly forward across flooded streams and over steep crags just north of Cassino where field dispatches said they were within half a mile of the Liri Valley gateway and were overlooking the bomb-riddled ruins of the ancient monastery town. Patrols had penetrated the outskirts of the stronghold.

Some four miles farther north the French rushed down from their mountain positions on Mt. Il Lago in the Sant'Elia area, across the Secco River and the Cassino-Adina road and attacked the Germans on the slopes of Mt. Belvedere.

Cassino itself appeared to have been largely abandoned by the Germans, but their positions on the rugged mass of Mt. Cairo and other hills nearby enabled them to rake the streets and ruined houses with their artillery.

Naval Units Blast Roads

Allied naval units continued to exert a powerful control over the coastal roads by which the Germans could shift their fighting front from the Cassino area to the (Continued on Page 8)

Partisans Free 70 Per Cent Of Central Bosnia

LONDON (AP)—Yugoslav Partisans, skilled in the art of mountain warfare, have liberated 70 per cent of Central Bosnia from the German invaders, headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced Thursday.

Reporting one of the major Yugoslav successes of the winter campaign, the Yugoslav war bulletin broadcast by the Free Yugoslav Radio, said the last remnants of German forces have been cleared from the Central Bosnian area with the occupation of the town of Prnjavor, 25 airline miles north-east of Banja Luka.

Southwest of Mrkonjgrad, Vrbas River stronghold recaptured from the Nazis, the Partisans have advanced about 31 miles.

The Berlin radio claimed the capture of the island of Hvar off the Northern Dalmatian coast and said 19 days of recent fighting had cost the Partisans more than 21,000 casualties against undisclosed Nazi losses.

More Farm Workers May Be Drafted Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—Selective Service served notice Thursday on the 1,700,000 farm workers who have been deferred from military service that if their individual production does not add substantially to the nation's food supply their deferments may be cancelled.

Commander Patrick H. Winston, assistant executive, National Selective Service headquarters, said in a speech prepared for the National Council of Private Motor Truck Owners, Inc., that farm workers may be called upon in the near future to increase sharply their production goals or be taken into the armed services.

Winston pointed out that the Agriculture Department has set crop goals for 1944 substantially above 1943 production and declared: "We can't afford to further defer farm registrants whose production does not substantially exceed their own family consumption and add to the nation's food supply."

Winston said that about 1,000,000 of the 1,700,000 farm workers deferred are non-fathers and that about 400,000 are under 22.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Allied fliers in the South and Southwest Pacific have bagged 463 Japanese planes and probably destroyed 109 others since the first of this year, Secretary of War Stimson reported.

LONDON (AP)—Allied planes operating from bases in Britain and the Mediterranean have dropped 31,000 tons of bombs on Hitler's European fortress since Jan. 1, according to RAF estimates.

'Freedom From Want'

"Freedom from Want" is perhaps more nearly a reality in the United States today than at any time in our history. But a post-war day looms ahead when plenty of wise thinking and hard work may be needed to keep that brave, utopian promise even close to its present level of achievement.

That a start has been made on this wise thinking is evident in the eighth annual report of the Social Security Board. It contains several new recommendations which are designed to give a broader base and a greater range to the "Freedom" of which this program is a practical representation.

Among other things, the board would extend old-age and survivor insurance to include the self-employed, farm and domestic workers, and employees of public organizations, non-profit institutions, and federal, state and local governments. There should be little quarrel with this, since obviously modest incomes, cessation of earning power, and acute need are not the exclusive properties of the workers now covered by social insurance.

Neither should there be much bickering over the proposal to protect the social security rights of the millions now in the armed forces, or to insure against total loss of income due to permanent or total disability.

The Social Security Board also presents sound arguments in favor of replacing the 51 state and territorial unemployment insurance systems with a uniform, national system to be administered locally. Besides correcting numerous current inequalities, the proposed system would relieve employers of considerable complicated bookwork, especially in the case of interstate employers.

The board would also lower the qualifying age for benefits to wives from 65 to 60, since, as it points out, wives are ordinarily younger than their husbands. And it would remove the requirement of regular school attendance now attached to benefit payments to dependent children.

Social Security's conception of "Freedom from Want" may hit a snag in Congress on the proposal that social insurance be broadened to include partial coverage of wage losses due to unemployment, sickness, disability, old age and death, plus a "considerable part" of hospital and medical services. This would raise the combined employer-employee tax to 12 per cent of salary.

The Senate already has turned down the 7 per cent combined tax scheduled to succeed the 5 per cent tax on Jan. 1—a move which the Social Security Board chairman claims will force the government to "subsidize" old-age pensioners to the extent of $1.5 billion. The House seems likely to follow suit. And the broadened, 12 per cent proposal includes the not-yet-congressionally-debated "socialized medicine" provision.

One thing is certain. The Social Security Board's proposals deserve careful consideration and temperate arguments, aimed toward the greatest good and unclouded by partisan clashes of political philosophy. Social insurance is here to stay. Millions have needed it, even in this time of supernormal wages. Millions more are going to need it badly after the war. The whole country has a stake in seeing that the lawmakers give them the best, fairest and wisest deal possible.

Stirring News

We can imagine the profound emotions that must have stirred American soldiers in the cold and slush of the Italian front when they heard the news from home the other night. To think that poor Jimmy Cromwell's valet had to wait till noon, mind you, before Mrs. Cromwell's guest, a hyper-sensitive British fugitive from the London blitz, would vacate the master's bedroom.

We can imagine their emotions over that $7,000,000, too. Did wealthy Jimmy really demand it for the price of his freedom? Or did Mrs. Cromwell, the former and even wealthier Doris Duke, simply get a fit of petulance in her Hawaiian paradise of Shangri-La, and refuse to give it to Jimmy to dole out to the masses?

We can imagine the G. I.'s emotions, but we probably couldn't print the words that expressed them.

Overcentralized

The following is offered as clinching proof to those who have been maintaining right along that we depend too much on our centralized government.

The other day in Washington, a young husband came home to discover that the little woman had skipped town with a rascally rival.

Did the young husband rush forth with fire in his eye, full of righteous indignation and pioneer spirit, with fists clenched or, perhaps, packing a horsewhip? He did not. He rushed down town to the United States attorney's office, breathlessly announced that someone had stolen his wife, and asked for a warrant.

Last we heard, the United States attorney was holding up the warrant, trying to determine whether theft of a wife is grand or petty larceny.

Here's what became of the mile relay team from the Navy Midshipmen's School at Columbia U. in the Metropolitan AAU track meet last Saturday. After warming up and giving officials his team's running order, Roy Hollander, one-time North Carolina State athlete who was "captain" of the foursome, retired to the dressing room for a rest. The first three runners were well up in the race, but when the third man finished his leg, there was no one to take the baton. Still wondering what had become of Hollander, the midshipmen searched the locker room and found Roy sound asleep.

Midland-Odessa Contest Will Be Friday Afternoon

The time of the Midland-Odessa basketball game here Friday has been advanced from 7:30 p. m. to 3 p. m., so it will not conflict with the President's Birthday Ball Friday evening.

Coach Gene McCollum announced Thursday that the Bronchos-Bulldogs clash will start promptly at 3 p. m. in the high school gymnasium. The B teams' game will follow.

The Bulldogs haven't dropped a game to a high school quarter this season and have hopes of blasting the Bronchos. All members of the squad are in good condition, McCollum said.

In the recent Odessa tournament, the Bulldogs defeated the Bronchos 29 to 24.

Step-Ladder Is Used To Train Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. — (AP) — Dr. Eugene Lambert has been using a step ladder in practice this week to show his Arkansas basketball team what it will be up against in its series with Oklahoma A&M. Arkansas plays the Aggies at Stillwater Thursday night and at Oklahoma City Friday night and the ladder is psychology stuff to get the Razorbacks in the habit of shooting at the basket from such an angle that Giant Bob Kurland can't bat the ball away.

Kurland is seven feet tall and, according to Aggie Coach Henry Iba, "if he straightened up he might be taller."

Someone Won A Battle But It Wasn't Ais

Only three trees yielded starlings for the Midland Fire Department Wednesday night in its campaign to rid the courthouse lawn of the pests. They were easily flushed, and led firemen to believe they were an advance guard, placed to test the determination of the fire department.

At the first sign of opposition, the birds flew to join their friends in the warm cornices of downtown buildings.

"It looks like we've got them away from the courthouse, anyway," a fireman said Wednesday night. "I guess they know now, firemen don't give up."

Speculation is rife as to the winner of the water battle. Some say starlings would rather roost on buildings than trees anyway. Early risers claim the trees are filled with birds each morning, indicating they return to the trees after the firemen retire from the scene. In any case they are still with us.

Some steam locomotives operate without fires; they store steam in thermos bottle-like containers.

Roy Weatherly Is In 1-A And Yankees To Shuffle Outfielders

NEW YORK — (AP) — Any resemblance between the New York Yankee outfield of 1944 and the Keller-DiMaggio-Henric picket line is going to be purely coincidental according to reports drifting in from the outlying precincts.

With Roy Weatherly reclassified as 1A and probably unavailable for the centerfield job, Marse Joe McCarthy is down to Johnny Lindell, Bud Metheny, Tuck Stainback and a couple of rookies from Newark and Kansas City.

One of the rookies, big Ed Levy from Newark, is a first baseman by trade but played in the garden for the Bears last year. He has not been formerly recalled by the New York club. The other is Russ Reary, a gentleman farmer from Missouri, who could give up only enough time from his crops in '43 to play 40 games with Newark.

May Lose Johnson
Add to that situation the report from Augusta, Ga., that Bill Johnson is due to come before his draft board in the near future, possibly Feb. 7, and you can see another change in the making.

If Johnson goes into service or decides to stay at his job with the fire department at Camp Gordon, the Yankees will lose one of the outstanding young players in the game.

Although Johnson was used at third base last year and performed capably at the hot corner through the pennant drive and the World Series, he played more regularly in the outfield during his minor league days.

Christopher Columbus journeyed to Ireland to check a report that St. Brendan had once sailed across the ocean.

Boxer Buddy Baer Wants Home On Range

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. — (AP) — Buddy Baer, who once dreamed of annexing the world's heavyweight boxing title, looks forward now to retirement on a cattle ranch.

A staff sergeant in the Army's physical training program, Buddy said Thursday he would never fight again. He is undergoing treatment at the Reams General Hospital for a neck injury resulting from an automobile accident in 1941.

Max Baer's kid brother declared he was salting away all his Army pay, and the income from a cocktail lounge he operates in California toward that home on the range when the fighting is over.

Buddy's last fight was a go at Joe Louis for the title Jan. 9, 1942. He and brother Max joined the Army shortly before voluntary enlistments were ended and both are engaged in the PT program.

pend largely on the advance preparations," said Osborne. "Since all Red Cross activities are based upon the work of the local chapter, we in Midland are an essential part of this great endeavor. Our war fund campaign takes on an even greater significance now as our forces are poised for a general invasion. New Argentinian Bid Is Expected For Lend-Lease

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — Argentina's new position in relation to the rest of the Americas probably will be clarified when she again applies for lend-lease, arms and supplies.

A request for such aid is expected as soon as Buenos Aires has completed re-orientation of her foreign policy started Wednesday when she severed diplomatic relations with Germany and Japan.

The issue is considered by the Argentinians to be of immense importance because they see themselves suffering as a South American power in relation particularly to Brazil, which as a full-fledged fighting ally of the United States has been receiving arms and equipment since 1941.

What Washington's reaction will be, however, probably will depend on the extent to which the Buenos Aires government has gone by then in clearing up Axis spy nests, propaganda and revolutionary intrigue within her borders. It probably will depend also on the need Argentina can show for lend-lease in the interests of hemispheric defense and the Allied war effort.

Brazil, which has received the bulk of the lend-lease material furnished to Latin America, is not only fighting side-by-side with the United States and Allied forces in the Western Hemisphere but began several weeks ago to send an expeditionary force abroad.

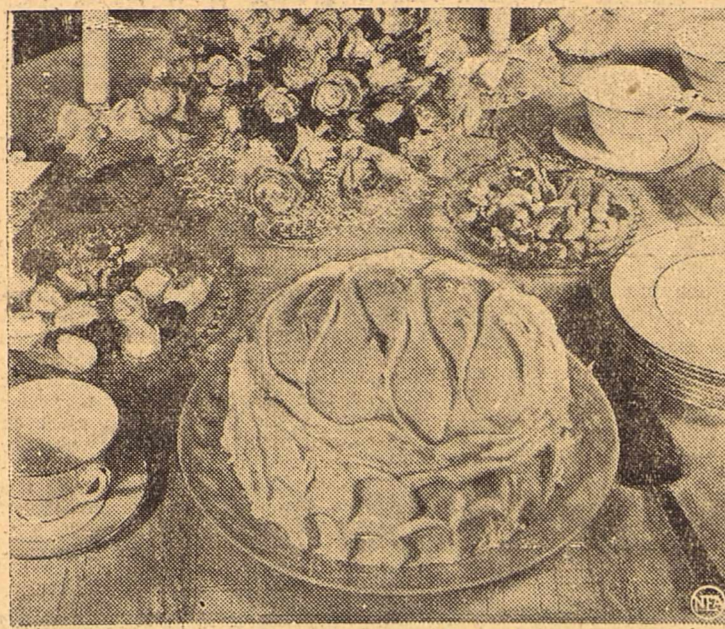

The subject of lend-lease help for Argentina was last broached in August, two months after the revolutionary regime of President General Pedro Ramirez seized power.

Full Rejected Request

Secretary of State Hull hotly rejected the request at that time both because of Axis activities then permitted in Argentina and because the request was based partly on the expressed desire of the Ramirez government to restore "equilibrium" in South America.

The reference to "equilibrium" was taken to mean that Argentina wanted to be as strongly armed as she could be combined with United States supplies as her neighbor Brazil despite the fact that she was

A Cake For Boys In Uniform

Dainty pink frosting tops the special Valentine sponge cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For Valentine's Day, especially if some of the boys in uniform are home, make a super Valentine cake. This combination of hot milk sponge with jelly tinted frosting will go to anyone's heart.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake
 One cup sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon combination baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 6 tablespoons hot milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Beat eggs with rotary egg beater until thick enough to stand in soft peaks (5 to 7 minutes). Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add lemon juice. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time. Add hot milk and stir quickly until thoroughly blended. Turn at once into ungreased tube pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan 1 hour, or until cold. Remove from pan. Or bake in two 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Spread tops and sides with pastel jelly frosting.

Pastel Jelly Frosting
 (Makes 3 1/2 cups)
 One-half cup jelly, 1 egg white, unbeaten, dash of salt.

Combine jelly, egg white and salt in top of double boiler, beating with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater and cook 3 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from boiling water and let stand until cool enough to spread. The government has just released three-quarters of a million cases of canned peaches. With fresh fruit difficult to get, this is timely news for the wartime menu maker.

Two Prime Questions In Soldier Ballot Debate Are Revealed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The two main questions of the soldier vote debate have been broken into the open: whether negro soldiers should be permitted to ballot and whether President Roosevelt would have an advantage over any opponent in the 1944 elections.

More than a year of argument has come down to this: Senator Overton (D-La.) said "Let's be frank. x x x down in the solid South we've got to retain our state voting qualifications to preserve white supremacy."

And Senator Taft (R-O.) expressed fear that the servicemen would know the name of Roosevelt better than any other in a national election and therefore would be apt to write in the word "Democrat" no matter who ran for Congress.

First Army Nurses Arrive In Burma

IN THE NORTHERN BURMA JUNGLE — (AP) — Something new has been added to the Northern Burma jungle.

It is a bevy of Army nurses—the first in Burma. Members of the "Foreign Legion" field hospital, they arrived wearing unflattering fatigue uniforms, but they looked mighty good to Americans, some of whom hadn't seen a white woman in six months.

Five trees in the forest are needed to supply each man in the armed forces with the equipment he needs.

Slayer Of Officer Gets Death Penalty

WAXAHACHIE — (AP) — Death in the state's electric chair was the penalty given by a district court jury which convicted J. B. Stephens of slaying Deputy Sheriff Jess White on the outskirts of Waxahachie Jan. 8. The verdict was reached Wednesday.

Stephens was serving a life sentence when he escaped from the Retrieve Prison Farm last December.

White had captured Stephens and was bringing the fugitive to Waxahachie. When White was shot, the automobile went into a ditch. White then wounded the fugitive. A crowd gathered and the convict was disarmed and taken into custody. White died upon arrival at a hospital.

PEONY fervently influenced the Doctor when Mr. H. Sanderson Sanderson-Smith invited him to join the CCCC in Washington, D. C.

Peony yelled, "Oh, do it! Washington! We'll meet senators and generals and the President, and maybe it'll lead to your finally going into politics—Saaaay! When did our plan to make you a senator get lost in the shuffle?"

On the surface, the Cizkon was so idealistic that it dripped, and this was the department to which Dr. Planish was particularly assigned. In lectures and pamphlets, it shouted the best battle cries: "The traditional American right to work unhampered by labor racketeers," and "The menace to fundamental American institutions, by foreign atheism and Jewish international socialism," and "The Founding Fathers' ideals of Free Enterprise, an Economy of Abundance, and Free Competition unchecked by summary laws, so that the Poorest Citizen may have his chance in the race for fame and fortune against the wealthiest corporation or the most aristocratic and highly educated individual," and "The Cross and the Stars and Stripes—or the Assassin's Dagger and the Crossed Hammer and Sickle—WHICH?"

All that Dr. Planish had to do was to take the slogans he had believed in and turn them inside out. He was still in the Ideals and Public Improvement business, even if he had gone over to a competing firm, and his salary was now a comfortable $4500 a year. They had a thin tail house in Georgetown and they entertained senators—perhaps twice—and he and Peony and Carrie were happy—anyway, Peony said she was happy.

The Cizkon's chief operative, Mr. H. Sanderson Sanderson-Smith, was an esthete. If the sort of beefy, Hamilton-Frisby, football-squad, Skull-and-Bones, Meadowbrook-Club millionaires who always intimidated Dr. Planish also despised Sanderson-Smith, in revenge he knew how to make them tremble with his inside news about Jewish, Communist, and Scandinavian-Irish-farmer-labor conspiracies against them, and radicals now known to be manufacturing sub-machine guns in a cellar near St. Sebastian, North Dakota. He panicked them into giving him funds with which, as he caressingly put it, he would "put Bibles instead of tommy-guns into the horny hands of these sons of—well—of toil!"

THE bad luck of the Planishes seemed over. The Doctor had been in the new job only a year when Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected President, and during the experimentation of the New Deal, so alarming to the Better People, who liked to have the objects of their charity grateful and transient, the Cizkon became important as a safeguard against loose spending and the horrid heresy of maintaining that Democracy also included people who did not live in your block.

Years later, in the 1940's, even after America had entered World War II, Dr. Planish was interested to see that, though H. Sanderson Sanderson-Smith himself was in prison on the astounding charge that he was a Nazi agent, other bodies were carrying on the ameliorative work of the Cizkon, with the slogans "The American Way of Life" and "The Sacred Right to Work" and "The Founding Fathers who laid down the principle of Free Competition" still frequently meaning that employers did not care much for union wage scales.

THROUGH all the Planishes' prosperity and social magnificence in Washington, the Doctor had spiritual trouble.

Whenever his former colleagues, Chris Stern and Dr. Kitto and Natalia Hochberg and Professor Buchwald and George Riot, all of them Reformers at whom the Cizkon had heaved a paragraph or two, came to Washington, the Doctor felt uncomfortably that they felt uncomfortably that he was no longer a Liberal. He tried to explain to them that, really, he was more of a Liberal than ever; he and Sanderson-Smith were all for Constructive and Enlightened Labor Leadership, and they opposed only the misleaders who made a living out of Labor. They seemed highly unimpressed by him or by the fervors of Sanderson-Smith for whom they adopted Peony's name of "Sneaky Sandy."

Dr. Planish tried to be jovial about it: "All right—all right! You get me as good a job with some liberal outfit in New York, and I'll leave Sneaky Sandy flat!" He had, he felt, proudly, "called their bluff." But he was still disquieted, and he tried to explain it all to Peony, when she came in from a cocktail party to celebrate the anniversary of the repeal of Prohibition.

"Now get this, Peony. To be realistic, I must admit that the first purpose of any uplift organization must be to support the executives who give their time and good hard work to it—like a doctor or a preacher. But I do feel that if I make my living out of a movement to strengthen the public morale, then it ought—well, it ought to try and do some strengthening, don't you see?"

"See what?" said Peony. He went on, thinking aloud. "And I'm afraid Chris Stern is right. The Cizkon isn't really liberal. Chris is probably just as much of a fourflusher as Sneaky Sandy—just as crazy to get power and publicity, only he's a careerist on the right side, and Sandy is on the wrong side."

Peony sniffed, "So what? He's a Liberal, but he's practical." "When was he ever liberal?" "What's the diff? We get our salary, don't we?"

"In the long run, I think that an executive does better if he's known as a Liberal. By 1940, I'll wager there'll be more money—rather, I mean a more dignified social position—in being associated with anti-Fascism than with Fascism. Besides, I'm an old-time Fighting Liberal, and a man with his battles behind me, I mean my battles behind me, he simply can't turn his back on the People, don't you see? . . . No, no, it isn't fly-by-night advocates of individualism like Sneaky Sandy that come out on top eventually; it's proponents of communal discipline, like Col. Charles B. Marduc, the greatest promoter of widespread prosperity."

"Want a drink?" said Peony. "Of course I want a drink!" said Dr. Planish. (To Be Continued)

Pvt. Alvin Roth of New York is No. 4 on the All-American contract bridge team for 1943. His record includes the winning of the world championship Masters individual tournament, the national knockout team-of-four championship for the Vanderbilt Cup, and he finished second in the national mixed team-of-four. He accumulated a total of 166 Master points for the year. Our enemies had better not disclose any of their strength to this soldier, or they will get fixed, as the doubler did on today's hand.

East cashed the king and ace of diamonds, and it looked as if it would be impossible for Roth to avoid losing two hearts—but he did avoid it. He ruffed the third diamond, led a club to the ace and ruffed a small club in his own hand, preparing for the endplay. Now the ace of spades was cashed, then the king. A small spade was ruffed in dummy. Roth discarded his last spade on the king, or clubs, then ruffed a club with the seven of hearts. Now he led his heart queen. East had to win with the king and lead from the jack-nine of hearts into the ace.

University Of Mexico Politically Free

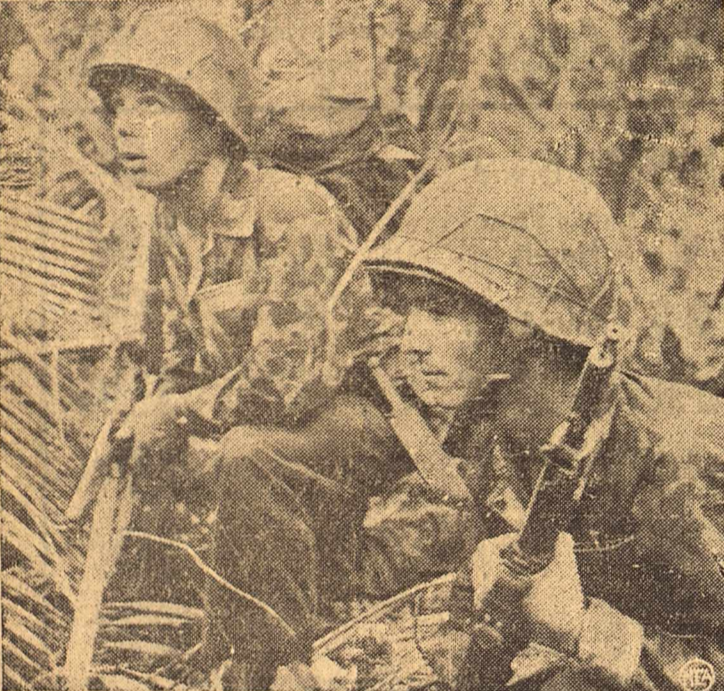

AUSTIN — (AP) — The national autonomous University of Mexico is now an institution of free education, free from political influences, a lecturer told a University of Texas audience. He was Dr. Manuel Gonzalez Montesinos, an official of the school currently appearing here as an exchange lecturer. He said a revolt of students and faculty in 1929 led to the institution's complete independence from political influences, "where we can teach any philosophy without fear of political interference."

Tax Simplification May Be Method Of Getting More Revenue

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tax simplification may be the peg upon which the Treasury will hang another demand for added revenues next spring.

Department officials pointed significantly Thursday to President Roosevelt's recent budget message in which the chief executive urged upon Congress the "need for additional revenue beyond that provided in the bill now pending."

Although Capitol Hill at first expected any new recommendations to be confined to administrative matters—primarily simplification—in all probability they will embrace a revenue demand only slightly less encompassing than last October's $10,500,000,000 which, under Senate and House trimming, now has shrunk to $2,775,000,000.

Estimates Are Disputed
One of the bases for the expected Treasury requests is its dispute with both Senate and House estimates of the potential yield of the pending bill. It takes the view that by halting the scheduled automatic doubling of the Social Security rates—a step that would have yielded $1,400,000,000 more cash—Congress cut the bill's net yield to little more than $800,000,000.

The department probably will contend that high taxes need not be synonymous with complicated forms, offering specific suggestions for reducing the taxpayers' paper work and at the same time, suggestions for stepping up rates.

Quick Action Is Urged On Proposal For Soldier Votes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Administration Senators, faced with a possible week-end delay if they don't get some quick action, tried Thursday to hurry a vote on their second attempt to pass a uniform federal absentee balloting plan for the armed forces.

At least 15 members probably will leave the Capitol after Thursday's session—some of them to attend the Indiana funeral of Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) and others as official visitors to the New York launching of the battleship Missouri. With that number gone failure to get a vote Thursday probably would delay final action until next week.

Amendment Is Proposed
Buoyed by a blunt-worded presidential message and by the support of some of the Southern Democrats who helped beat the first federal ballot plan, administration backers were confident they have the votes to put over the new Green-Lucas bill, despite the headwinds engendered when Senator Taft (R-Ohio) described it as a "fourth time announcement."

Several Southern senators got together behind an amendment which would require those using the federal absentee ballot to meet all voting qualifications of their home states. That would restore local registration and poll tax payments as prerequisites to voting.

Ration Calendar

By The Associated Press

Meats, fats, etc.—Book three brown stamps R, S, T and U valid through Jan. 29; stamp V valid through Feb. 26.

Used fats—Each pound of waste fat is good for two meat ration points.

Processed foods—Book four green stamps G, H and J good through Feb. 20.

Sugar—Book four stamp 30 good for five pounds through March 31.

Shoes—Book one stamp 18 and book three "airplane" stamp 1 good indefinitely.

Gasoline—10-A coupons good for three gallons each, will expire March 21.

Those abundant and unrationed ready-to-eat cereals which seem so important at breakfast can serve handsomely at lunch time, too.

Since cereal breakfast foods contain an average of about 10 per cent protein, depending on the grain source, they are a nutritious, economical and ration-free extender for other less available protein foods, such as meat, fish, eggs, cheese and milk.

Just heat the cereal about 10 minutes in a moderately hot (375 degrees F.) oven. If you have individual casseroles or ramekins, you can heat the cereal in these, then pour your mixture into each one.

Or heat the cereal, then portion it out onto heated plates, pour over the creamed mixture and serve. For shredded wheat biscuits, you may wish first to split the biscuits in half lengthwise, spread lightly with butter or margarine, then heat or toast.

Corn-Cheese Casserole
In a greased casserole, place alternate layers of whole kernel corn, crumbled wheat biscuits and grated cheese. Season with salt and pepper; add milk to casserole to cover layers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, or until milk is almost absorbed.

Sausage-Flake Ramekins
Combine left-over cooked sausage meat with an equal amount of corn flakes. Arrange in individual ramekins or custard cups; top with spoonful of ketchup or chili sauce. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until heated.

Meat Pie Topping
To meat drippings add a dash of Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Mix with wheat flakes. Spread over casserole of meat and vegetable pie filling; bake until heated.

Liver Luncheon Dish
Cube cooked liver, add well-seasoned to white sauce with any left-over vegetables (peas, carrots, corn, green beans). Heat and serve on crisp corn cereal.

Others attending the meeting were Patsy Collins, Shirley Cooper, Betty McCain, Emma Sue Cowden, Vangie Theis, Jessica Turpin and Jeanne Devereaux.

Evelyn Moreland Is Feted On Birthday

Mrs. Arthur Moreland honored her daughter, Evelyn Raye, on her fifth birthday Wednesday, when she entertained a group of her friends. Favors of candy suckers were distributed and games were enjoyed. At the conclusion of the party, a white birthday cake, with the name "Evelyn Raye" written in blue frosting across the top, was served to the guests.

Friends present for the occasion were Maxine and May Von Johnson, Maggie Dell Sanders, Curtis Bilbrey, Ronald Pringle, Bobbie Gene, Billy Joe and Joyce Faye Kaye, Richard Allen Beard, Pauline, Dorothy Jean and Doris Ruth Kizer, Porsell Sanders, Gene James and Doris Ray Bishop, Joe Arnold Tunnel, Reba Bishop and Carolyn Sue Aslyne.

New MAAF Orchestra Will Provide Music For President's Ball Here

A brand new 14-piece dance band from Midland Army Air Field will make its first public appearance at the President's Birthday Ball in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer at 9 p. m. Friday.

The orchestra, said to be the best military dance band in Texas, is so named that it has not even been named. The personnel of MAAF proudly presents this recently organized organization and promises the best music offered at any dance in West Texas in many years.

The entire proceeds from the ball will be used in the fight against infantile paralysis—half of the receipts going to the Midland County Infantile Paralysis Fund and the remainder to the national foundation.

The event is sponsored by the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce which is charged with the responsibility of administering the funds for infantile paralysis work in Midland.

MAAF Glad To Cooperate
Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer of MAAF, said the bombardier school was glad to assist in carrying on the fight against the disease by furnishing its top band to provide music for the President's Birthday Ball from which most of the funds for the welfare program are obtained.

Tickets for the dance, priced at $1.10 per person, have been on sale since last Friday. They may be obtained at the Chamber of Commerce or may be purchased at the door Friday night. Jaycee members plan a canvass of the downtown district, urging persons to buy tickets or to make cash contributions to the fund.

"Dance in order that others may walk" is the slogan of the campaign.

Spencers also have completed arrangements for the "Tub of Dimes" collection Saturday morning when wash tubs will be placed in strategic locations in the business district. Every citizen is urged to contribute to the work.

A goal of $1,000 has been set by sponsors for the drive here. More than $500 was spent last year in medical treatment and rehabilitation work on three infantile paralysis cases. The expenditures practically exhausted the fund and sponsors hope to obtain sufficient money to carry on the program of mercy without retrenchment this year.

Ten MAAF Officers Receive Promotions

Ten officers at Midland Army Air Field have received promotions, the War Department announced Thursday.

First lieutenants promoted to captains were: Robert G. Schuck, bombardier instructor, and James K. Saunders, pilot.

Second lieutenants promoted to first lieutenants were: Edwin E. Rags, Woodrow E. Downin, William J. Kasson, aerial bombardier instructor; James H. Parker, James T. Fulton, bombardiers; James A. Fepper, Robert E. Klemme, pilots; James K. Curry, weather officer.

specific instances, but asserted that "the Army will no longer need all its present troop housing facilities and it will be necessary to place a number of camps, posts, stations and other installations on a caretakes basis, and to return many of the civilian installations and facilities which previously had been taken over by the Army."

He announced that the War Department has ordered physically qualified men in all branches of the Army who have a total of more than 12 months service at fixed stations or "overhead activities" in the United States to be reassigned to combat units "or mobile activities ultimately destined for overseas service."

Enlisted men under 30 will be reassigned first according to their length of service in the United States, and they will be followed by those over 30, in order of age-youngest first.

Replacements for reassigned enlisted men, said Stimson, "when necessary, will be made first from civilians, next by Women's Army Corps personnel, then, in order, by men permanently disqualified for overseas service, men who have served overseas, recently inducted men with physical handicaps, enlisted men with less than 12 months service in fixed installations in the United States."

As to the officers over 38, Stimson said "there are many" for whom suitable assignments cannot be found, and that "Army commanders have been notified that the retention of such officers on active duty is no longer necessary or desirable in the public interest.

Therefore, if they cannot be reassigned they must be recommended for relief from active duty. Final decision in each case will be made by the War Department."

Capt. C. L. Norsworthy Addresses Rotarians

Capt. Clarence L. Norsworthy, operations officer at Midland Airport No. 2, discussed the port's development and thanked Midland citizens and organizations for their cooperation in an address at the Rotary Club's meeting in Hotel Scharbauer Thursday noon.

Facilities at the field, he said, are being developed to four times what originally was specified. The work of the detachment was explained and he pronounced the field "one of the outstanding ports of the country."

Captain Norsworthy said plans are being made for a visitors day at the port soon.

Combat Bombardier Will Be Instructor

All but two of the fifty bombing missions participated in by Lt. Claude E. Elland of Florida, Ala., who has arrived at Midland Army Air Field to enter the Bombardier Instructors School, were carried out in the B-25 "Maybelle," named for the pilot's girl. The "Maybelle" is still in Africa and is still in fightable condition in spite of the grueling action it has seen, according to Lieutenant Elland, who has been awarded the Air Medal with nine oak leaf clusters.

The mission was accomplished and all the bombers returned, although one ship had more than two hundred holes in it and all of its crew wounded. It made a crash landing.

Allies Progress Slowly Into Burma
NEW DELHI — (AP) — Allied ground forces, slowly knitting into Burma under aerial support, inflicted casualties on Japanese forces in the Chin Hills sector of the western front Wednesday and made "some progress" on the Mayu Peninsula of the southwestern front.

The southwestern drive by British and Indian troops threatening the Japanese port of Akyab has carried south of Rakhit unauang, four and a half miles northeast of Maungdaw, against determined resistance, the Allied southwest Asia command said Thursday. Minor enemy counterattacks on Rasabali, west of the Mayu mountain range, were thrown back Tuesday night.

The Chin Hills offensive, apparently directed at the Chindwin River communications and supply route, has carried Allied forces to Kyaukchaw, 18 miles southeast of Tamu.

northern beachhead, and again ploughed up sections near Formia Tuesday night with their plunging shells. This sea attack on enemy road traffic is continuing day and night.

Allied air forces, despite deteriorating weather, put new rents in other sections of the German communication network in the angle between the two Allied fronts, hammering especially at Cisterna, Ceccano and Itri.

The fact that Cisterna was being attacked by Allied bombs was evidence that that pivot point on the Apennine Way and the main railway, 24 miles southeast of Rome and 12 miles inland from the Nettuno beach, was still in German hands.

The clash with German armor southwest of there may have indicated that the British or Americans had pushed forward across the Volturno Canal along which sharp clashes previously occurred with German patrols.

The Americans on the old Fifth Army front were making steady if painful progress in an encircling maneuver against Cassino despite a hail of fire from every type of German weapon and impediment that could be devised by the enemy.
