GOVERNOR AUTOGRAPHES BOOK -- Governor Ann Richards autographed a book for the Muleshoe Public Library as Hazel Gilbreath looks on. Governor Richards spoke at the Biggest Little Banquet In Texas Friday night. Approximately 1200 were in attendance at the banquet including a number of State Officials.

Former County Judge Explains Commissioners Qualifications

By Glen Williams The Commissioner's Court is the governing body of the county. It is composed of four Commissioners, one from each of the precincts, with the County Judge as the presiding member. The County Clerk keeps the minutes and the County Attorney serves as legal advisor. The Judge enjoys equal voting rights with the commissioners, which means the Judge may make motions, second motions and vote or withold a vote at his or her discretion. The County Clerk is a non-voting member.

Except for a few particular items such as fixing the tax rates, any three members constitute a quorum. But all members must be notified of every meeting and given an opportunity to attend, and agendas must be made public. The court is required by law to meet on the Second Monday of each month in Regular Session, except at times when there is no business to attend to they may meet only once in each quarter. The court can officially act only through its minutes, but an order duly passed, is official even though it may not have been recorded in the minutes.

The Commissioner's Court is a court of limited jurisdiction, that is, it has such powers, and ONLY such powers as is given it by the State, either expressed or clearly implied. And it is subject to the general supervision of the District

Commissioners are elected to serve a term of four years, and their terms are staggered so that two come up for election each two years. Those of uneven numbered precincts--and three--will be elected this year and numbers two and four will be elected in 1994. The office of County Judge will also come up in 1994, as will the County Clerk.

It is the duty of the Commissioner's Court, acting as a body, to supervise and conduct the business affairs of the county. This includes maintenance of the courthouse, jail and other county buildings, setting tax rates and salaries, purchase of supplies and equipment, establishing precinct boundaries and operation of the county roads. In Bailey County the Court also provides and operates the ambulance services. And they are required by law to provide health care to its indigent residents under the Indigent Health Care Act. But the act itself sets out the eligibility requirements, an the amount and type of assistance to be rendered. The court many provide more assistance if they so desire, but they are not required to do so.

In our county the procedure established for operation of the roads is substantially as follows. The court appoints each commissioner as road overseer in his respective precinct. They agree on what they believe to be an equitable division of the moneys available for working the roads. Thus each commissioner has his own money, he has his own equipment, he buys his own supplies, he employs his own labor and supervises the entire operation-in his own precinct. But the court does not lose jurisdiction over the money and equipment, and they can, should circumstances require, take over the money and equipment and proceed to operate the roads as they think best. In the division of money and equipment the court must consider the needs of each precinct, and not allocate it on a arbitrary basis. And all bills are audited and paid by the court as a body. Thus the court never really loses control.

Commissioners must reside in the precinct in which they are elected. Some offices have minimum age requirement to be eligible to serve, but as far as I know there are none for County Commissioners except they must have reached their majority so as to held accountable. Commissioners should be men or women of good judgment, interested in the progress and development of the county, having a good knowledge of county affairs, especially those of their precinct. They should be so situated that they can devote whatever time is required to do the job. But that is a matter that cannot always be scheduled. Also they must have outgoing personalities so as to always have a good relationship with their constituted and to cooperate with other officials. Honesty, the ability to withstand pressures and the ability to say 'no" are necessary qualities. While commissioners are often referred to as "road commissioners", operating the roads is only a part of their functions, and not the major part at that, for they employ other personnel to do the road work. thus

Purdy, Logan Take First, Second Place

In what was said to be the best Spelling Bee held in Bailey County, JoBeth Gilliland became the 1992 Champion and Tyson Purdy came in second after he misspelled 'pheasant'. JoBeth spelled 'pheasant' and then spelled 'plight' for the championship.

Third place winner, Irene Logan gave the champion and second place winner a close race, staying four or five rounds after all other spellers had been eliminated.

JoBeth was also the 1991, Bailey County Champion. In 1991, Tyson Purdy, then a third grader, came in in third place. Irene Logan was also a winner in the Spelling Bee, two years ago.

Evelene Harris, editor of the Muleshoe Journal and Bailey County Journal presented checks to the first, second and third place winners and participation ribbons to the other 24 contestants.

School Coordinator this year was Elizabeth Watson assistant superintendent of instruction. Curtis Shelburne was the pronouncer an Betty Cowan, Delton Wilhite and Ethel Allison served as judges.

Following the welcome by Mrs. Watson, pronouncer, Curtis Shelburne explained the rules and led the group through two practice rounds before getting down to serious spelling

After the second round there were eleven left in the competition.

Three more dropped out in the third round.

Six spellers were left in the competition in the fifth, sixth and seventh round.

Round eight saw one more drop from the competition.

In Round nine the competition dropped to three and remained there through Rounds nine, ten and Irene Logan dropped out in the twelfth round, leaving JoBeth Gilliland and Tyson Purdy to finish the Spelling Bee. They continued to battle for several more rounds before Tyson Purdy missed a word.

Kiwanis News By R.A. Bradley

Fourteen Kiwanians, four honorary Kiwanians, and one guest, Rodney Duns met this morning (Friday) at the Dairy Queen for breakfast. Honorary Kiwanians present this morning were Dee Morris, Bekki Bowen, Stacey Langfitt and Jon Keith Turner.

Jon Keith said he was 11 years old on March 5, 1992, at 9:00 a.m.!! Happy birthday Jon Keith Sweetheart Tiffany was having migrane headaches. Tiff, are you sure it is not research paper fever. It was good to have our honorary Kiwanians present.

This being the first Friday in the month, Scott Churchman was handing out Thank You notes. Of course there was a 7.00 due on the stamps. Jerry Hutton had been looking for a friend and decided that Scott would make a good friend since he was collecting all of the money this morning.

Snake Hunting Larry Parker called the meeting to order. Bryan Morris led the pledge to the flag and Brad gave the invocation. While we waited for Jim Lutz to run home and get the video so we could see the last part of this tape and find out what the Prairie Dog was good for.

Larry told about their rattlesnake hunt. Larry Parker, Glen Morris, Keith Turner and some others caught 66 rattlesnakes, two horned snakes and one coach whip snake. That is 69 snakes too many for yours truly.

Athletic Director Gives Rotary Club Program

"Our problems are just opportunities in disguise," Randy Adair, Athletic Director of the Muleshoe Schools, said at Rotary Tuesday at noon. "One of the questions we ask is, "What do we work on now? We have made few changes. Our non - district games have changed. These games will include Morton, Idalou, Colorado City, and Coronado and Estacado High Schools in Lubbock."

"I have met privately with each coach and we are bringing the kids back into the fold," Adair continued. The track students, state competitors, weren't getting any school credit. Students in track, tennis and golf will now get school credit."

"We are working on out lack of speed and strength." We have put all of the high school athletes into a weight program. We have wonderful kids, ones you can be proud of. We took 30 kids to Fort Stockton with no problems. They are good kids," Adair added.

"I have had no problems since starting here on January 6. We are Harris.

restructuring our off season, developing our speed and strength, these are two things you use in all sports."

We are teaching the kids how to run and have seen a major improvement in speed. We are also teaching them how to lift safely. Another thing the kids are learning is putting the team first."

Another thing Adair spoke about was "What are good sports parents, what do they do, or don't do? Parents should be as involved as possible," he continued.' "Another thing we will be having more track and tennis meets in Muleshoe in the future," Adair said. With the meets here, the kids will be spending money here instead of elsewhere. "We are ahead of schedule and we and a lot of benefits in the fall," Adair concluded. Randy Field introduced Adair as well as other visitors including J.B. and Darren Sudduth of Farwell,

Local Citizens' Questions Answered By The Governor

Ann Richards, governor of Texand main speaker at Friday night's banquet that welcomed over 1200 people to the Bailey County Civic Center, took the time to answer eight questions raised by several governmental and agricultural leaders of this area.

Glen Williams, former county judge asked what Richards' plans were for highway improvement:

Answer: Thanks to Senator Bentsen and members of the Texas delegation, the outcome of that visit is that we are going to get a greater share of federal dollars for highway projects. Along with more funding for Texas highways, we are consolidating related agencies into the Texas Department of Transportation so we can deliver services more efficiently. By combining bureaucracies and getting a larger chunk of federal monies for highway projects, we'll be able to build the roads we need and upgrade and maintain those we have.

the strongest pieces of consumer protection legislation that has ever come out of the Texas Legislature. HB 2 established a whole slew of tough new standards to protect consumers from insurance company insolvencies and increase competitiveness in the insurance industry by repealing and anti-trust exemption for insurance companies. It also allows for greater flexibility in setting rates. Insurance policies should now be written in plain English. And a policy cannot be cancelled without the consumer being informed about it beforehand. Claims will also be paid in a more timely fashion. If the claims are late, then the insurance company will be required to pay 18 percent interest. These consumer protections, and many others I haven't mentioned, were hammered out by representatives of consumer groups and the insurance industry. Also, I appointed new commissioners to the State Board of Insurance who are Kenneth Henry expressed inter- there to make sure consumers are being properly served by the insu-Answer: We've made great rance industry. strongest pieces of insurance legislation in the country and an industry dedicated to making it work.

Marilis Hornidge asks what are your predictions for Super Tuesday? If the eventual Democratic candidate asked you to run with him as his vice presidential nominee, would you consider it?

Bill Clinton has a very strong organization in Texas, and Senator Harkin has a great deal of support from Texas labor. Most of the pundits think Texans won't vote for Paul Tsongas because we think his name is unusual, but he speaks the language business people like. One thing is certain, the field will thin out a little more after next Tuesday.

I have no interest in running for vice-president. I've got the best job anyone could have and I've got my hands full serving as governor.

Glen Williams asks: How many women and minorities have you appointed to government positions since you took office? Do you hve a goal on this and are you reaching it? Have you experienced any backlash as a result of these appointments?

Answer: Between January of 1991 and January of 1992. I made 880 appointments to state boards and commissions. Of those, 63 percent are white, 21 percent are Hispanic, 15 percent are African-American and the remaining 2 percent fall into the category of "other," which includes Asian Americans and Native Americans. Those numbers further divide by gender to 45 percent female and 55 percent male. Those numbers reflect the population of our state.

And that is how it should be.

My goal all along has been to make state government more inclusive, to open the doors to ALL our citizens. For out citizens who are interested in public debate and public service, but never had the opportunity even to be considered for serving on a state board, this is a chance to actively participate in the democrative process.

Pollings show overwhelming support for these appointments.

Are you writing a book? If so, tell us about it?

No, I've already written Straight from the Heart.

James P. Wedel and J.B. Douglas joined in asking the governor this question: Crop producers and cattle feeders face new environmental regulations passed down from the federal government. Many of these seem unreasonable. How can the state government help lessen the impact of these?

Answer: Without knowing specifically the regulations to which you refer, it's difficult to respond. I can tell you that in some cases, state agencies have had the authority to override federal rules if the state regulations are more stringent than what comes down from the federal government. In some cases, farmers and ranchers have successfully worked with state and federal agriculture officials to develop localized solutions that work.

Nick Bamert asks the following question: In what can state government balance the desires of businessmen to cut costs of worker's compensation against the employee's right to be compensated for injuries?

The changes in the workers' compensation reform bill that passed in 1989 changed the system from one based on trial by jury to one that utilizes the administrative hearings process. According to the Workers' Compensation Commission, we have seen decreases in losttime claims filed and attorney involvement since the passage of this law. Additionally, the competitive workers' compensation state fund, which began January 1, is expected to reduce the premiums small businesses in Texas pay from ten percent to twenty-five percent.

A final question was raised by Nick Bamert: In light of the North American Trade Agreement, how can we stop the loss of jobs resulting from business interests like vegetable production moving to Mexico to avoid higher U.S. wages and Texas government regulations?

Answer: This is precisely the kind of issue that will be hammered THE OWNERS OF THE OWNER, WHEN THE OWNER, WHEN

Hobby Club

The Muleshoe Hobby Club met Thursday, March 5 in the Senior Citizens Complex with Sammie Ethridge in charge.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Twelve members answered roll call.

Those answering roll call were: Jane Williams, Glenda Morris, Callie Dyck, Esther Magby, Catheryn Hancock, Fransces Bruns, Mattie Benton, Hazel Reeder, Ladema Wright, Sammie Ethridge, Blanche Aubrey, and Laura Mae Stansell. One visitor, Onieda Cornelison, was also present.

Ms. Benton took a checked apron to show. Ms. Ethridge took a picture she had painted.

Mrs. Ethridge drew the hostess gifts which were covered clothes hangers, towel and corn picks.

Frances Bruns was hostesses for the day and she served chips, dips, punch, Cokes and coffee.

The next meeting will be on March 19 with Glenda Morris as

Ms. Benton reported that they enjoyed the treats and visiting.

Other questions that the governor is taking more time to consider are those raised by Cindy Smith and Sam Damron. Smith question is: What is currently being done re: medical insurance and the increase of rates? What is the status of Texas state health care? How will this be funded? How can rural Texans assure themselves of adequate medical care?

ucts that we grow in Texas.

Given these high costs, what options are available to those persons not qualified for medicaid?

Damron asked: Welfare credit payment for prescription drugs are extended but the pharmacy owners are not re-imbursed promptly. Turnaround time for these claims is much too long. Claims submitted to Medicare need to be speeded up. Can your office help?

The crowd gathered for the banquet Friday were delighted with the governor's personal approach in her talk. Many references to problems and opportunities in our community brought the audience to applause repeatedly. A fuller report on the evening will be forthcoming in subsequent issues.

Bailey County Commissioner Precinct 1

To The Voters Of Bailey County Precinct # 1

On March 10, 1992, the interested people of Bailey County will go to the polls to vote.

As a resident of this county and owner of a business in Muleshoe, I am very interested in its affairs and would, therefore, like to solicit your vote on my behalf as a candidate running for County Commissioner of Precinct #1 in the Democratic Primary.

Regarding My Family---

- My wife, Joyce, and I have lived in Bailey County for 17 years. We like Muleshoe and the many friends we have made while living in this county.

- Our two children were raised here. Our son, Brad, is presently the County Agent in Refugio County where he lives with his family. Our daughter, Sharla Saylor and her family, still lives and works in this community.

- My wife and I are the consignees for the Texaco distributorship, and we work together in the business.

- We are active in community affairs and have worked with the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, Bailey County 4-H Clubs, Bailey County Junior Livestock Show board (I have served as Treasurer for this board for 12 years). I am a past president of the Kiwanis Club in Muleshoe, and we support other community activities.

Regarding my Qualifications---

- I am interested in helping our County make the best use of its resources and will search out ways to help its economic enhancement. I will work with other county officials in proposing and considering the most advantageous ways to accomplish our goals.

- I am willing to consider matters which come before the Commissioners' Court with an open and fair mind so that my vote will be effective.

- I can, and will, take time from my business to work with others to process county business. My personal business experience will help me to use county resources wisely.

- I will dedicate my self to working for the people of Bailey County in making it an even better place for all of us to live, work, and raise our families.

Regarding My Employee Relations ---

- I know how to work with people and have always had good working relations with my employees and consider them as my friends. Several have worked for me until retirement then return later to work on a part-time basis.

- I have been able to provide health insurance and a retirement plan for my employees, which I feel is very important.

will appreciate your vote for me---Herman Morrison --- for Bailey County Commissioner -Precinct #1 - On March 10, 1992, Your Vote Does Count!

Valentine's Wedding Unites Lynda Glover and Harold Hill

A Valentine theme marked the setting for the wedding of Lynda Pierce Glover and Harold Joseph Hill, both of Muleshoe. The candlelight ceremony was held Feburary 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Mallouf. Officiating was Rev. Doug Chapman, minister of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church.

Parents of the bride are Junior and Corine Mallouf of Lazbuddie, Texas and W.L. (Red) and Betty Pierce of Texico, New Mexico. Parents of the groom are Jay and Margie Hill of Mantica, California.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her stepfather, Junior Mallouf. She was attired in a white dress with tiny red hearts imprinted throughout the dress, trimmed in red lace and accented with a red satin ribbon around the waist. She carried a cascade bouquet of red, black and white flowers, with red ribbons and gold and pearl hearts.

Leesa Fuque of Muleshoe was matron of honor. She was attired in a white dress with small red hearts imprinted throughout the dress and trimmed in red lace. She wore a red silk corsage.

Junior attendants were the bride's daughter, LaTasha and Felicia Glover and the bride's stepsister, Cissy Pierce of Texico, New Mexico. They all wore matching red, black and white dresses with matching wrist corsages. The junior attendants' dresses and all bridal party flowers were made by the bride's step-mother, Betty Pierce.

The bride's and matron of honor's dresses were made by the bride's mother, Corine Mallouf.

The groom was attired in a red western dress shirt with a black boutoniere, and Wrangler jeans. Chris Fuqua was best man. He was attired in a black western dress shirt fashioned like the groom's and wore a red boutoniere and Wranglers.

After being pronounced man and wife, Rev. Chapman introduced the new Mr. and Mrs. Hill and her daughters as a family unit to the guests attending.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. A white wedding sheet cake, iced in white and red was accented with gold wedding bands and miniature bride and groom and the word "Best Wishes" inscribed on the cake in green frosting.

Cake, valentine punch, nuts and mints were served to guests by Ann Miller of Muleshoe, aunt of the bride and Nadine Edge of Lazbuddie, the bride's maternal grandmother.

The bride's father, W.L. Pierce and the groom's parents, Jay and Margie Hill, were unable to attend.

After a short wedding trip to Lubbock, the newlyweds are at home in Muleshoe. The groom is employed at Bailey County Gin and is also self-employed in auto repair in Muleshoe. The bride is employed at the Farwell Convalescent Center in Farwell, Texas.

Residents with raised glasses and Old West "celebrities" toasted tradition during the third annual Toast to Texas celebration.

This year Bailey County, Texas, residents also toasted the county for its 75th anniversary.

District Judge Jack D. Young served as master of ceremonies for the program and played host to such celebrities as Lillie Langtry (Dawn Merriott) and famous county resident Joshua Blocher (County Commissioner R.L. Scott).

Toast coordinator and District Clerk Nelda Merriott said this was the first year period costumes were used as well as an antique car showing. The first show covered the history of Texas and the second was a salute to the troops of Operation

Young said he would much rather live and see the county the way he has than as reputed codger Roy Bean.

News From Bob Bullock

Lieutenant Governor Bob Bullock today applauded a decision by the Federal Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) which will allow Texas to receive $800 million a year in federal medicaid funds as part of the federal Disproportionate Share Program.

Last summer, state lawmakers approved new legislation to expand the federal Disproportionate Share Program. Afterward, the Bush administration threatened to change the program's rules to make it harder for states to qualify.

Though Congress passed legislation in November preventing the Administration from changing the rules for two years, HCFA had yet to approve Texas' specific application for the federal funds. That approval came last week.

The Disproportionate Share Program provides additional federal funding to qualifying hospitals who carry more than their share of Medicaid and other uninsured

Twenty-four large urban hospitals and 990 rural hospitals in Texas will benefit from the program.

This program affects hospitals in every region of the state and in very major city." Bullock said. "Without this money, hospitals that treat low-income and uninsured patients like Dallas' Parkland or Houston's Ben Taub would have lost millions of dollars in assistance."

Bullock said Senator Lloyd Bentsen and State Senator Chet Brooks deserve special reognition for their efforts to protect Texas' share of the federal funds.

Hospitals should begin receiving the federal funds within the next few weeks.

Dear Bailey County Resident(s) and Registered Voter(s)

I wanted to have the opportunity to visit with you personally in regard to the Primary Election which will be held on Tuesday, March 10, 1992. However, this has not been possible. As you are probably aware, I am running for re-election to the Office of Bailey County Attorney. I have served as your County Attorney since July 1, 1981, following my appointment to the office by the Commissioners Court to fill an unexpired term. Then in November of 1982, I was elected to the office and have served as County Attorney since that time.

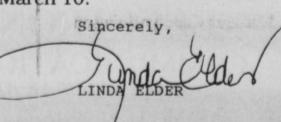

I want to continue to be your County Attorney and would ask for your support on March 10. I feel that my years of service as County Attorney give me the qualifications that are needed for an office such as this. I am involved in the prosecution of criminal cases on a misdemeanor level. the handling of juvenile matters and mental commitment matters as well as advising the Commissioners Court in any legal matters that pertain to the County.

I realize that in a position such as County Attorney, that I have had to be prosecutor-minded in the handling of criminal matters. In doing this, my main goal has been a strong sense of fairness. I understand that to some people who have been involved in the criminal system. that whatever is done is not fair but I can sincerely state that I have tried to treat every person that I come into contact with the same regard and that same sense of fairness. I will continue to do this in the future if reelected as County Attorney.

I truly want to continue to serve as County Attorney and to continue in making Bailey County one of the best counties in the State in which to live...

Please remember to vote on March 10.

Dear Governor Richards:

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and the Muleshoe Activities Committee extend an invitation for you to attend "The Biggest Little Banquet In Texas". The dual purpose of this event will be to honor you and to promote this area.

We would prefer to hold this event on February 15, 1992, but would be happy to change the date to accommodate your busy schedule. We would be delighted if you would choose to speak to this group about 30 minutes.

It is our intention to invite Senator Montford, Senator Bivins, Representative Laney, Representative Rudd, and other community and state leaders from surrounding counties including Lamb, Parmer, Lubbock, Hockley, Terry, Castro, Hale, Randall, Potter, Deaf Smith, and Cochran. Representatives from the press in these counties will also be invited. We anticipate a crowd of about 1500 in attendance.

"The Biggest Little Banquet In Texas" will be held at the Bailey County Coliseum. Muleshoe has a 5200 foot air strip and we are only 65 miles from Lubbock International Airport. We will gladly work with your office to coordinate any details such as security, transportation, and housing for your party.

Please let us know at your earliest convenience if you can accept our invitation so that we may adequately prepare this event in your honor. We want to make it an enjoyable, memorable evening.

The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture and the Muleshoe Activities Committee have extended an invitation to you to attend "The Biggest Little Banquet in Texas".

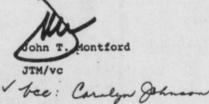

The date suggested is February 15, 1992, but those groups will be happy to select a date more accommodating to your schedule.

Local, area, and statewide officials will be invited to attend. A crowd of 1500 people is expected.

I hope you will be able to accept their invitation. The good people of West Texas need more personal contact with their elected officials in Austin. This would be excellent opportunity for you to visit with many constituents from a vast rural area of Texas.

I will be happy to do whatever I can to facilitate your attendance at this event. If you need additional information, please contact me.

GET THE LEAD OUT

It's time to get the lead out! If you live in an older home, in a house that is being renovated, or in an industrial area, you and your family may be at greater risk for lead poisoning, says Texas Medical Association. Lead poisoning is a serious medical condition that affects people of all ethnic groups, geographic areas, and socioeconomic groups. Children are especially sensitive. If you suspect lead poisoning, talk to your physician. He or she can tell you more about causes, effects, and prevention of lead poisoning.

EAMILY VIOLENCE CAN BE PREVENTED

The tragedy of family violence touches the lives of many Texans. Besides possibly serious or lifethreatening physical injury, abuse can take a psychological toll. Victims may develop suicidal feelings, depression, substance abuse problems, and shame. However, families can work to prevent violence in their homes. Parents can create an environment that discourages violence and encourages alternatives for resolving conflicts. They also can consider "time out" or grounding as alternative discipline methods. This message brought to you by Texas Medical Association--Physicians caring for Texans.

"The main reason exercise helps develop a high level of self-image is because physical strength and stamina and a confident attitude are the main by-products," aid Jeff Zwiefel, M.S., director of The National Exercise For Life Institute. Texas Department Of Agriculture Rick Perry

Low-interest emergency loans are available to eligible farmers and ranchers in 53 Texas Counties declared disaster areas, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry today said.

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan issued the disaster declaration for counties that suffered adverse weather conditions in 1991. making affected producers eligible for emergency assistance from the Farmers Home Administration.

These counties were declared disaster areas due to hail, drought, heavy rain, heat and humidity damage throughout 1991. These designations do not include the recent heavy rains.

Each loan application will be considered on its own merits, taking into account the extent of losses, security available, repayment ability and other requirements.

The following nine counties were disignated as primary disaster areas, which means a certain percentage of the county's economic base was Crosby County suffered from agriculutral losses from drought and hail between Jan. 1 to July 19, 1991, and continuing. Drought during the same time period damaged crops in Andrews, Dawson, Dickens and Duval coutnies. Heavy rains between Jan.

1 and July 19 damaged crops in Bowie and Liberty counties. Heavy rains, high temperatures and humidity from July 1 to Aug. 23 also resulted in El Paso and Leon counties being designated as primary disaster areas.

All other counties were declared contiguous disaster areas because they were adjacent to the primary disaster areas, but did not have the same extent of losses. Drought and hail from Jan. 1 to July 19, and continuing wrecked havoc in the cotton-producing counties of Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Dent,

Lynn, Lubbock and Motley. Drought from Jan. 1 to July 19, and continuing caused agriculutral

Surgery For Back Pain

A new type of surgery for degenerative disk disease may offer hope to millions of people who suffer from low back pain.

The new procedure is less painful than the current type of surgery and decreases hospital time for the patient, said Dr. David S. Baskin, a neurosurgeon at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

In the new procedure, a small incision is made in the back to expose the affected area. An operating microscope is aligned to magnify the area, enabling the physician to accurately pinpoint and remove the deteriorated fragment that causes back pain.

Rains Put A Damper On East Texas Forest Fires

downpours also put a damper on forest fires.

Soaked with almost 74 inches Frain last year, forests in East Texsuffered the fewest fires in alnost two decades.

The Texas Forest Service, which has tallied fire reports since 1925, counted 998 fires in 1991, down from 1,522 the previous year. The record number of forest fires or the state was more than 7,800 in "The light year for forest fires bas a lot to do with the rainfall patfern,"said Bruce Miles, Texas Forest Service director. "Normally, we have 2,500-3,000 fires a year."

The forest fire report includes some 22 million protected acres, about one-half of which is forested, Miles said.

Though the number of fires decreased, Miles noted, the average fire claimed 19.4 acres for a total loss of more than 19,000 acres. And the two major causes for fire remain the same: burning debris and arson.

"Probably 70 percent of the fires each year stem from these two causes," he said.

Indeed, more than 500 of the year's forest fires were attributed to burning debris and 300 involved ar-

"Debris burning usually is the No. 1 cause," Miles said. "That includes everything from burning trash behind a house to burning off a garden spot or spreading fireplace ashes.

"Arson is often associated with land-use disputes in hunting situations," he said.

A number of fires each year are set out of spite by people unhappy about some change in a lease or other hunting arrangement, explained Bobby Young of Lufkin, head of agency's fire control department.

The public often perceives campers and smokers as the culprits behind forest fires, Miles noted, but Excessive rain caused its share hose are among the lowest number of trouble in 1991, but frequent in Texas. In 1991, campfires and smoking each were listed as the cause of fire in only about 2 percent of the blazes.

"We've even run tests where we threw burning cigarettes in grassy spots near highways and found that it was pretty hard to start a fire," Miles said.

Other minor causes of forest fire in Texas last year included six by lightning, 22 by railroads, 32 by equipment use, eight by children and 63 miscellaneous.

Most of the fires happened during the daytime between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

"People are more active in the day, especially on weekends, when they may be cleaning the yard and burning debris," Miles said. "But also by 10 a.m. there often is a drop in humidity and increasing wind that can fan fires."

Based on the degree of fire danger on a particular day, he said, the forest service contracts with local pilots to fly in search of fires.

"During a potentially bad situation, we may have three planes up in an area looking for fire," he said. "On a low danger day, we may have one plane make a couple of flights to make sure things are

Senator Phil Gramm Reports

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm lent immediate support to the president's proposals for tax cuts and incentives to aid middleimcome Americans.

"The president has laid out a blueprint to jumpstart the economy that can pull us out of the recession by summer," Gramm said.

Key elements of the State of the Union address included these:

An immediate reduction in the amount of income taxes withheld from workers' paychecks by the IRS. An average, married worker would get a one-time, $350 boost in available cash.

An increase in the personal exemption of $2,300 by $500 for each child under 18, effective Oct. 1. A family with three children and gross income of $40,000 a year would get a tax cut of $250 a year.

A tax credit worth up to $5,000 for first-time homebuyers.

A deduction for interest paid on college and vocational school

A deduction for home sellers to help offset losses that exceed 10 percent of their income.

'Approving this program will not only end the recession, it will lay a concrete foundation for a sustained period of economic growth," Gramm said.

"By investing in America's families rather than in American government, the president has chosen the correct path," he said.

Understanding Infant Sleep Cycles longer periods of time than they actually do. When you're exhausted and wish that your baby would fall asleep so that you could get some rest, it may be helpful to understand common infant sleeping patterns.

While each baby has his/her own sleep habits, most newborns sleep 16 or 17 hours during the first few days of life. But, according to Lauri Dalrymple, R.N., parent educator at Methodist Hospital, not all babies get that much sleep in one stretch. Some babies will sleep for only two hours at a time while others will sleep up to 10 hours at Dalrymple said that at first newborns usually split their sleeping hours equally between daytime and nightime. As they get older, their sleep patterns will be more like an adult's-less sleep during the day and more at night.

As your baby grows older, he/ she will also sleep for fewer hours, and will sleep for longer stretches at a time. An average baby will begin

Seeking New Heart-Assist Devices

How do you mend a broken heart? If the problem is medical, not romantic, the solution may be heart-assist devices that will not tie patients to equipment or require costly monitoring in cardiac care

"We want a small, implantable device that can be used in patients who require temporary assistance until their hearts heal," said Dr. George P. Noon, a surgeon at Baylor College of Medicine and The DeBakey Heart Center, both in Houston.

"For longer term--a lifetime or until a donor organ becomes available for transplant--we want an enclosed device not tethered to an external power source that can be implanted."

Transplantation is currently the best long-term solution for mending medically broken hearts.

Many paretns expect their ba- sleeping through the night, meaning bies to sleep more soundly and for one long stretch between midnight and 5 a.m., by the time he/she is 3 months old, Dalrymple said.

> By the age of 6 months, your baby will probably be getting a total of 14 hours of sleep, while at 12 months the need should decrease to about 13 hours. As your child gets older, the total amount of sleep he gets will be more nearly like that of adults-between nine and 11 hours. But, this doesn't mean your toddler will sleep for nine hours in one stretch. Dalyrimple said that between one-fourth to a third of all children wake up during the night even after they're 1 year old.

Our nation is witnessing a building boom, such as has never before been seen. Every day new foundations are being dug and laid. Any builder will tell you that it takes a firm foundation to support today's skyscraper.

Our Lord, in His sermon on the mount, compared those that heed His word, to the wise man that built his house upon a rock, and those that did not heed His word to the foolish man that built his house upon sand and it was washed away.

Build your house upon a rock... Attend church regularly.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love n to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hornbacher's program will begin with a work by the Russian composer, Ilia Emmanuilovich Shakhov, titled "Scherzo," for trumpet and piano. The first half of the recital concludes with one of the most famous Classical Era Nepomuk Hummel's "Concerto" for trumpet. Both pieces will be accompanied by ENMU faculty pianist, Susan Lindahl. The second half of the recital will open with a festive work by Giambattista Martini, the "Toccata" for trumpet and organ. Another work for trumpet and organ, Prayer of Saint Gregory" by Alan Hovhanness, will follow. This work offers a lyrical contrast to the Martini composition. Both of these works will be accompanied by faculty organist, Tom Uchtmann. Hornbacher's recital will conclude with Robert Russell Bennett's "Rose Variations" for trumpet and
