British Report Crisis Will Be Over Shortly

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH NEW DELHI — (AP) — Japanese patrols, filtering through the jungles of Eastern India onto the Manipur Plain, have cut the roads around Imphal, Manipur capital, in an offensive obviously aimed at Maniapur on the Assam-Burma railway lifeline to Lt. Gen Joseph Stilwell's forces.

The question whether air-borne supplies might be dropped to the Imphal garrison was answered here by the statement that that would not be necessary as the crisis would be overcome before such action was needed.

Fierce fighting in the wild hill country east of Kohiba in India and repulse of a determined Japanese drive to reach the Tiddim road below Imphal to the south was announced Monday by Allied headquarters in the show-down battle for Allied communication centers and bases along the Burma border.

Next Summer, Toughest Yet

Responsible military authorities say we are approaching what will probably be the final summer of the war in Europe. If this is so, then we are also facing the war's most difficult summer. It will require extra effort from those at home.

Nowhere, according to present indications, will this extra effort be needed more than in food production. So before we become too immersed in post-war planning and political speculation, let's take a serious look at the prospects.

There are two chief difficulties among the predictable obstacles to raising still another record crop in 1944. One is the scarcity of labor. The other, confusion regarding future of price control and stabilization.

Solution of the second difficulty rests with Congress and the President. Their task is complicated by the shortage of time, and by the hot political fight over the subsidy program.

Solution of the first problem rests with women and youths and men out of service. Last year women and boys and girls under 18 made up about 1,500,000 of the 3,500,000 supplementary workers. This year the Department of Agriculture estimates that this supplementary force will have to be 4,000,000. It has assigned to women and youngsters the task of making up the difference.

The implication in this is that the remaining 2,000,000 of last year's seasonal workers marked a peak figure, and that we cannot depend on getting more imported labor, war prisoners and furloughed soldiers to take up the slack.

It's a job for the ordinary civilian, and the need may be even greater than the Agriculture Department's estimate shows. For since the estimate was issued, draft deferments for farm workers have been tightened, and the agriculture labor force is now at a record low—4 per cent below the figure at the same time last year.

There is every indication that our annual food crop will have fewer producers and more consumers in 1944 than ever before. The armed forces' needs cannot be denied. An invasion of Europe will necessitate heavy replacements, and the liberation of half-starved Europeans will present another outlet for our food supply.

The only solution seems to be for more women and children to continue the excellent job done last year, for more businessmen within reach of farms to give an afternoon or full day whenever possible, for more vacationers to take a holiday of agricultural work.

All this and Victory Gardens too can turn the trick.

Money Makers For Post Office

In the transportation field, on sea, land and in the air, the government during pioneering stages, found it advantageous to extend some form of aid to individuals courageous enough to enter such fields of endeavor, and it has profited tremendously through resulting development of the country and its transportation resources.

There is still an erroneous impression that the commercial air transport system is a government-subsidized institution, because the government did subsidize the air lines with mail contracts in the early stages of their development. But in 1943, while the Post Office Department paid all domestic air carriers $22,500,000 for the carriage of air mail, it received in return at least $60,500,000 from the sale of air mail postage. There are ground expenses of the Post Office Department other than the direct mail payments to the air carriers, but even the most liberal allocation of ground expenses to air mail would still leave the Post Office Department with a huge profit.

Now the Revenue Bill passed by Congress has increased air mail postage rates from six to eight cents. Air mail postage may become not merely the means of recovering the cost of air mail, but also a means of taxation for other purposes, thus causing air mail to become the subsidizer instead of the subsidee.

In 1931 mail revenue of the air transport industry was 82 per cent of total revenue, whereas in 1943 is approximated only 17 per cent. Mail rates in the last ten years have decreased from $8 a ton-mile to only 60 cents a ton-mile, or 92.5 per cent. Passenger rates have dropped from 12 cents a mile in 1929, to approximately 5 cents today.

The Achilles Heel

Military Police Have Lonely Posts Guarding Supply Lines At Anzio

By GEORGE TUCKER
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY—(D-Layed)—(AP)—Major Samuel H. "Hamp" Lyons of Alexander City, Ala., is in charge of all military police in this sector and his men have some of the loneliest posts in the world.

Most all movement on this front takes place after dark. Our lines are too near and observation is too good to take chances in daylight.

Still Opens Holes
In 1934 and 1935, Lyons was a tackle on Alabama's Crimson Tide. Now, as a divisional provost marshal, he is still opening holes, but the backs who pour through carry tommyguns, not footballs.

Lyons' men haunt sunken roads and dry river beds after dark, directing traffic from back areas straight to the foxholes.

New units going into the lines and old ones being pulled out wouldn't get far without their aid. There are too many minefields, and too many traps, and too many trick gullies and ghost trails that lead into a labyrinth of trouble, lead everywhere except where a man wants to go.

Wednesday night, as every night, Lyons went up again, and I rode with him.

Every now and then the Germans would release flares and the terrain would burst brilliantly into orange and red. After a while, we stood by a river and watched infantrymen file slowly across a bridge. They were going in, occupied with their own thoughts, and as they passed in silhouette it wasn't difficult to tell what most of them were thinking.

Play For Keeps
They were going up to where they play for keeps, and some of them would never come back.

Sometimes we got only 100 yards before being stopped by vehicles on the one-way, jet black roads. Once it took us 40 minutes to travel a quarter of a mile. Every few minutes an MP would appear from nowhere and tell us which way to go.

Seabees Learn the Tough Way

Senate May Inquire Into 'Bad Reporting' Of Vital War News

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Some Senators have given tentative endorsement to a proposal by Palmer Hoyt, Oregon publisher and former domestic director of the Office of War Information that the Senate investigate the distribution of war news, both at home and to the troops abroad.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) of the Republican Steering Committee supported the proposal by Hoyt that the Senate set up its own committee to "find out why vital news is so often withheld and to find out the reasons for that practice." Hoyt also said such an investigation should include a study of news that goes abroad.

The publisher added that despite some recent improvement, the government still ranks as a "bad reporter" because, he said, "we still are not getting all the story all the time."

Senators Reed (R-Kan) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) also expressed approval although the latter emphasized that he favored no "punitive" probe.

The War Today — Big News Of Day Is Soviet Invasion Of Rumania, War Analyst Reports

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The big news of the day is that Red troops are actually on Rumanian soil, not only because of its military importance but because it provides strong evidence to refute the German-inspired report that when the Russians had evicted the enemy from their territory they would halt on the borders and let the rest of the Allies fight it out with the Axis.

12 Nazi Prisoners Take 3 Months To Dig Escape Tunnel

ABILENE—(AP)—It took 12 German prisoners of war three months to dig an eight-foot deep tunnel for their escape from the Camp Barkley stockade last Wednesday, but Monday only two of the escapees were still at large.

It was the biggest single prisoner of war break in the Eighth Service Command area since the installations for captured enemy soldiers were built.

Still at large were Gerhard Lange and Heinz Rehnen. Three—Peter Ritters, Horst Nicolai and Heinz Brauer—were captured by farmers in a house near Bradshaw, Taylor County, late Sunday. A nightwatchman at San Angelo took Herbert Stankevitz and Josef Dorstegen into custody as they walked down railroad tracks on the edge of town at midnight Saturday.

Three were recaptured at Ballinger and two others at Winters last week. The trio captured in the Bradshaw area, not far from the camp they escaped, told C. W. Partlow, Bradshaw filling station operator, they dug the tunnel, put the dirt in their pockets and sprinkled it on the stockade grounds. They said they worked only a few minutes at a time and went undetected.

Partlow said they apparently were glad to be back in the custody of officers because they had neither eaten nor been warm since they left camp. They offered no resistance when arrested, being apprehended in an abandoned tenant house on the Shaffer Ranch, after they had walked to a windmill to get a drink of water, the first they had since they broke from confinement.

Sabath Says Cocktail Lounges Crowded With Army Officers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Adolph Sabath (D-Ill) dean of the House, Monday undertook a one-man investigation of what he called "reliable information" that 30,000 Army officers "are sitting around with nothing to do."

"The cocktail lounges all over the country are full of them," he declared. "I want to know why the Army doesn't put them out in the field to get experience instead of letting them sit around in cocktail bars and swivel chairs. We have so many of them they are just getting in each other's way."

Sabath said he proposed to get an explanation from the Secretary of War, the Undersecretary of War, George C. Marshall, chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commanding general of the Army Supply Forces.

From them, he said, he hopes to "find out how many officers we have, where they are stationed, what their experience is, what jobs or functions they are performing, and in general how they are being used to help win the war."

He is especially interested, he added, in knowing "how these cocktail lounge officers got their appointments and why they are being kept in service when experienced officers with full Army careers behind them are being let out."

Nelson Basts Path To Beat McSpaden At Knoxville

KNOXVILLE, TENN.—(AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Byron Nelson, who battled side by side in last year's winter swing, headed for their home courses Monday with $23,900 in war bonds for their efforts.

McSpaden, the Philadelphian who won the San Francisco Open, the Phoenix, the Hope-Crosby tournament and the Gulf Mississippi Open, led with $13,500 in war bonds, while Nelson, the 31-year-old iron master from Toledo, Ohio, pocketed $10,400 in bonds.

Clipping seven strokes off par figures in the final 36 holes, Nelson nosed out his rival, McSpaden, by a stroke and won Knoxville's first open tournament Sunday with a 72-hole 270.

It was the lowest score turned in by a professional on the winter tour, being rivaled only by Craig Wood's 271 at Durham, N. C., a few weeks ago.

McSpaden, who held a two-stroke lead through Saturday's play at Knoxville, fired a 67 and a 69 in the final two rounds for a 271 and $1,000 in war bonds. Nelson coupled a brilliant four under par 66 in the morning round with a 67 to grab first place and $1,333.33.

Former A&M Students Score Confusion In Administration Policy

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—"Serious confusion exists in Texas A&M College affairs because of the lack of a clear-cut, well-defined administrative policy and its consistent application," the board of directors of the A&M Former Students' Association declared, adding:

"There is deep and widespread concern among A&M men over recent developments at the college." A statement unanimously approved by the 31 directors attending the board's regular spring meeting Sunday asserted that "there is no clear understanding of the proper fields of authority and responsibility between college officers and the college board."

"Such conditions are not conducive to the best interests and welfare of the A&M College of Texas." The statement was released by J. P. Hamblen of Houston, association president. Press representatives were not admitted to the meeting.

Investment purchases of American life insurance companies were over $5,720,000,000 in 1943.

COMPARE, THEN SAVE THE DIFFERENCE

Twin Rouge Shades Assure Natural And Day-Long Complexion Harmony

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Do you wrestle, when you put on make-up, to subdue the blazing red of cheek rouge and to fade out ragged edges of color?

If you do, you can use the simple trick, hit upon by Nadine Connor, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, to solve this dilemma. Her skin has the delicate tones of a Dresden figurine, and she uses make-up merely to enforce this natural coloring.

"First, the use of a foundation," says Nadine, "is as necessary to even up the spectrum of color for a face as it is for a canvas, which is made ready for a portrait."

Her suggestion is to use a cream foundation for this ground work, if your skin is inclined to be dry; a greaseless lotion of powdery liquid, if your skin is oily. All that you'll need to use of either type is a well-like film, sparingly applied and carefully blended to give face and neck a uniform covering.

All set? Now, while skin is still moist, stipple cream rouge on your cheeks in faint polka dots. Next, dip your finger in cold water and spread the rouge. The wet finger gives slide to your rouge and blends dots together until they make a melting pink blush on each cheek. That done, blot up moisture with a tissue, and clinch the impression of a blush on each cheek with face powder.

For touch-ups of cheek color that you may need during the day, carry with you a box of cake rouge, color-tinted with the cream rouge that you wear. To apply the cake rouge more subtly, draw color off your cake with a fresh dab of cotton and touch it ever so lightly to your cheeks before you powder your face.

NADINE CONNOR: Natural.

Erasure Tricks

To erase white marks left on varnished table tops by hot dishes or sweating glasses of water—and to remove fuzzy rings of lint frequently deposited by a cloth or cushioned pad—rub the spot lightly with a flannel cloth dampened with essence of peppermint or camphorated oil.

But if the table has a waxed surface, treat the spot to a turpentine-moistened cloth. After the turpentine has dried, re-wax the surface.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: You are discussing with your sixteen-year-old daughter the time you think she should get home at night after attending a dance.

WRONG WAY: Keep telling her what time you had to get in when you were a girl, so as to impress her with how lenient your ideas for her really are.

RIGHT WAY: Discuss the matter from the point of view of what is right for your daughter, bearing in mind the hour that her friends have to be in—rather than the hour when you had to get home. (It only irritates young people to have their parents harp on how things were when they were young.)

Service Wives Should Find Jobs

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Service wives who give in to the blues need to take big doses of work as an antidote. A job is what the doctor orders for the girl who mopes. If you're not trained for a job, make a business of learning to do things that will absorb your interest, keep you on your toes and your mind diverted from your personal problems.

If you're tied down at home, which prevents your joining the outside ranks of the 9-to-5 girls, or the women who are doing war work, use this opportunity to develop some dormant talent which marriage hasn't hitherto allowed you time to pursue. A guaranteed antidote to loneliness is an engrossing hobby. Make yours that language you've always had a yen to study. Perhaps it's a musical instrument or a course in typewriting gardening or interior decorating which you've always wanted to master. Any such new proficiency not only enlarges your scope as a person but will most certainly surprise the please your home-coming hero.

If ever the desire to have a good secret cry assails you, the best way to dodge it is to get out of the house. Sling a pair of roller skates over your shoulder or stuff a bathing suit in your bag and hie yourself off in a hurry to the nearest rink or swimming pool. Don a pair of walking shoes and take the dog for a brisk walk or spend an hour at a bowling alley. Any one of these diversions will yank you right out of the doldrums. Try it and see.

Prayer for Easter

Hardest of all, dear Lord, to bear
Is that my boy on some far shore
Should wounded lie, and I not there—
(Always I was there before.)

That someone else now takes my place,
Bends in pity, swift to do
All he needs. Oh, by Thy grace,
Let him feel my presence, too!

MOTHERS of America, you can make him feel your presence in a very real way. You can help supply the very medicines that may save his life! One tablespoon of used fat alone makes enough sulfadiazine ointment to treat 35 wounded men!

So save every precious drop of used fats (in any kind of tin can, not glass). When can is full, take it to your butcher; he will give you 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound. Start today!

It took a lot of grit for a man and wife to stow their children into a prairie schooner with a few bare necessities and fight it out with all the hardships the frontier had to offer. In America's future by buying and keeping War Bonds. They know Bonds help to win battle after battle. They know, too, that Bonds will provide security and opportunity for personal initiative when war-supported activity ceases.

Today, solid citizens are staking their claim

A journey's end is the beginning of relaxation. In such a moment, Budweiser will prove a welcome companion. Count on Budweiser to make your simple wartime meals taste better. Every sip will tell you why.

Scientist Finds Gasoline Can Be Made From Crops

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE CLEVELAND (AP)—A postwar plan for making the world's gasoline, and later its coal, from farm crop wastes, forests and seaweeds was presented to the American Chemical Society here Monday.

The plan is based on a newly completed laboratory process developed during the past 18 years by Dr. E. Berl of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Commercial perfection of the process would take time, but Dr. Berl indicated the method is simpler and cheaper than present synthetic gasoline processes.

Major Grow Gasoline He predicted that in the world of tomorrow there need be no have-not nations for coal and oil. He said he has information that England already is planning a carbohydrate empire, probably in Africa, to develop postwar gasoline.

The tropics may be the most productive of a gasoline area. Dr. Berl puts plant wastes in a cooker which causes them to burn internally, consuming their own internal oxygen. When the oxygen is gone they become hydrocarbons. The product of the cooker is a jelly-like mass which he termed a diesel fuel without further refinement. Adding hydrogen produces oils, gasoline or coal and coals.

Could Operate Cars Dr. Berl said one year's farm crop wastes of the United States could by this process make enough gasoline to run our 32,000,000 cars for a year.

Sugar cane is especially good, because even after all the sugar has been extracted, the gasoline yield is still high. Other good gasoline sources include cornstalks, sweet potatoes, sorghum, grass, leaves, Irish moss, seaweed, algae, wood and sawdust.

A contract for carrying the mail from the city to the airport will be announced soon.

President Van Buren considered building a canal across Nicaragua as far back as 1839.

Draft Clouds Have Silver Lining For Selectee Fathers

NEW YORK (AP)—One silver lining appeared in the father-draft clouds Monday as income tax experts calculated that many draftee dads would be eligible for a windfall of "folding money" in addition to their mustering-out pay.

After sharpening their pencils and delving into current intricate tax laws, these experts found that many fathers would get back the major part of the money withheld by their employers for income tax purposes — provided they enter the armed services by around July 1.

Any resultant windfall probably will be returned by the government to the soldier or his family by mid-1945 or about three months after the income tax blank is figured out on March 15, these sources said.

Voters Still Like Democratic Party, Rayburn Believes

DALLAS (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) believes the special Oklahoma congressional election in which a Democrat was nominated proves the Democratic party is still in the good graces of the peoples.

Speaker Rayburn, in an interview here Sunday night, predicted the voters will back the President and the party again in the next election.

Don't Count New York Yankees Out Of A League Pennant Yet

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't count the New York Yankees out of the running for the American League pennant—not yet, anyway.

When the world champions lost such star players as Charley Keller, Spud Chandler, Bill Dickey, Johnny Murphy, Marius Russo, Joe Gordon, Rollie Hemsley, Frankie Crosetti and Bill Johnson to the armed services and essential industry, a lot of wishful thinkers put their thoughts into words—the crippled Yanks couldn't possibly win their fourth straight pennant and eighth in nine years.

The season hasn't started yet and, who knows, maybe the Yankees will finish in the second division for the first time since 1925. But the events of the weekend when the Yanks beat the Brooklyn Dodgers and Phillies at Atlantic City, N. J., indicate that Manager Joe McCarthy may fashion another of his managerial "miracles."

For one thing the Yanks are still piling that long ball, a homer, double or triple that can bust up a game at any minute. The Dodgers and the Phils both outthit the champs, but the final scores read: Yanks 5, Phils 4; and Yanks 4, Dodgers 3 in 11 innings.

NEW YORK GIANTS—Cliff Melton named to pitch against Red Sox on Wednesday.

CINCINNATI REDS—Pitching prospect uncovered in Lefty Carter who held Indians to one run and seven hits in five innings Sunday.

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS—National League champs, lucky to beat Fourth Perring Group Sunday, are due to plenty of hard work this week.

BOSTON RED SOX—Vic Johnson, Yank Terry, and Joe Wood Jr. listed to pitch against Navy at Annapolis Monday.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS—Manager Luke Sewell, disregarding cold weather, scheduled another game with Toledo Monday. Mudhens walked the Browns Sunday, 12-4.

CHICAGO CUBS—Rookies Tony York and Roy Easterwood each got three hits against Tigers Sunday while Paul Derringer hurled scoreless three innings.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX—Johnny Humphries and Ed Lopat each twirled a scoreless three innings against Pirates Sunday.

Sports ★ ★ ★ Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)—This is supposed to be hush-hush stuff; nobody will confirm it officially and nobody wants his name used. If it turns out all wrong, you can blame it on the way GI rumors travel, but it comes in confidence from a widely divergent "good source."

The story is merely that the Army Air Forces are planning some big-time football next fall. Apparently the plan is to have one big team for each air force in the United States.

Reports say the bigwigs already have begun to live up player prospects, but there's no indication of what sort of schedules they'll play. . . . Anyway, if this goes through, you'll be hearing about something besides Great Lakes and the Iowa Seahawks next fall, regardless of what happens to college football.

My greatest sports thrill was experienced at the Olympic Games of 1936 in Berlin. The most coveted championship is the decathlon. The winner is the world's greatest all-round athlete.

Glenn Morris of Denver, Robert Clark and Jack Parker of the U. S. team finished one, two, three, respectively.

At the ceremony following the event the boys mounted a platform to be crowned with their honors.

As they were presented with their medals, wreaths of laurel and little live oak trees, three American flags were raised to three staffs and the band blared fourth with our national anthem. That moment I got the greatest thrill of my life. My eyes popped out—and for some reason they were wet.

Cautious Cloutier

An "old timer" of the boxing game tells this yarn about the fight between Battling Nelson and Dick Hyland back in the days when fight movies were something new.

Nelson had arranged to have the scrap filmed for his own benefit and, being thrifty, told the photographer to shoot only the first few rounds and then await his signal to resume grinding.

Hyland gave the Battler a good going over for a while and after a particularly strenuous round the fans shouted to Hyland "get him in the next round" . . . As the bell sounded, Nelson, his eyes like pin-points, waved a signal to the camera man and tore into Hyland . . . The rest is in the record books—KO 23."

Monday Matinee

Tino Argimon, varsity football coach at the University of Havana, will observe Notre Dame's spring drills in hopes of learning something about the "T" formation.

The late E. C. "Billy" Hayes, who developed some great distance runners at Indiana University, predicted in his last interview that it will be either a Swede or a Finn who will eventually run the elusive four-minute mile . . . West Coast fight fans are high on Lightweight John Thomas and matchmaker Babe McCoy is trying to pair him with Lulu Costantino for a scrap next month.

Texas Track, Field Championships Seem Cut And Dried

AUSTIN (AP)—Track and field championships in Texas appear cut-and-dried propositions this season.

There appears little chance of any college knocking the University of Texas out of its nineteenth Southwest Conference title in 30 years.

Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio seemingly faces a battle only from its intercity rival, Brackenridge, and the Mustangs, whipped along by the flying heels of Charley Parker, will be top favorites to win the Texas Interscholastic League championship.

These points, brought forcibly to mind several weeks ago when Texas and Jefferson won their division titles in the Southwestern Exposition meet at Fort Worth, were accentuated further last week end when Texas and Jefferson rolled to victory in the Texas Relays.

meanwhile, swept nearer to the Carpathian Mountain passes leading into Hungary.

The important strongholds of Kuzov and Kut, 37 miles southwest of Czernowitz and not far from the famous Tartar Pass, fell to Zhukov's troops, and Berlin broadcasts indicated that Tarnopol and Kovel further north in old Poland were about to capitulate to the Russians.

The fate of upwards of 200,000 Germans and Rumanians in the Odessa area hung in the balance as Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army converged on that Black Sea port, which field dispatches to Moscow newspapers said was burning fiercely as the result of German demolitions.

Russian columns captured Alexandrandovka, 19 miles east of the blazing city.

BOYS SOCIETY MAKES LONG RANGE PLANS

JACKSON, MICH. (AP)—City police disclosed Monday they were investigating a boys' "secret society" whose "ritual," they said, required members to wipe their feet on the American flag and stab the Bible with a knife.

Police Sgt. Fred Foster said a 16-year-old high school boy claimed leadership of the group of juveniles and that they called themselves "The State" and hoped to take control of the government within "15 or 20 years."

Yanks Build Food Arsenal For Big Push

By AP Features

LONDON—Keeper of one of the largest arsenals for the invasion of Europe is U. S. Major Gen. R. M. Littlejohn, who doesn't have to worry about his ammunition exploding.

General Littlejohn's particular worry is emergency food rations K, C and D, which the ordinary soldier will carry along with helmet and gun when he hits the continent's beaches. This sandy-haired big chief quartermaster knows everything there is to know about Army feeding—and never forgets the traditional privilege of every soldier to gripe about the chow.

As a former Infantry battalion commander who has been at both extremes of the chow line, he knows that under barracks lights when soldiers write letters, nine out of 10 mention supper. The general also knows that chow, "swell" or "lousy," is a morale factor that has no exact parallel anywhere in military life.

That's why, although he's justly fond of emergency rations, General Littlejohn's ideal is to get the soldier off them and back to traditional food at the earliest moment. Actually, his storepiles of K, C and D will be clock symbols of our invasion progress—when the troops stop eating them it will mean that the first shock assault has been carried, that the bridgehead is in, and that our position is secure enough to warrant bringing up the field kitchens.
