U. S. Planes Strike Deep In Germany

LONDON —(AP)— More than 750 Liberators and Fortresses attacked aircraft plants at Oshlersleben and Bernberg and other targets deep inside Germany Tuesday, U. S. Air Force headquarters announced.

"Fighter escort in very great strength came from Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings," the announcement said, indicating probably 1,500 planes participated in the attacks.

The Berlin radio said battles broke out over the Brunswick and Hannover areas as Nazi fighters intercepted large U. S. formations thrusting deep into the Reich with strong fighter escorts.

The broadcast said that violent aerial combats also were fought over the Baltic area.

Berlin radio said the Americans dropped bombs on Central Germany and asserted the raiders suffered heavy casualties in widespread operations. Formations leaving Reich territory were harassed by German fighters, the broadcast said.

The Lancasters and Halifaxes making the Monday night assault on Germany were disclosed authoritatively to have compromised the largest British armada ever sent against occupied territory.

The main targets of the RAF night raiders, an Air Ministry communique said, were railway yards at Ghent, Tours, Tergnier, Aulnoye and Leon in Northern France and Belgium.

Squadrons of Mosquito bombers thrust simultaneously into Western Germany to bomb Hannover and objectives in the Ruhr. Mines also were laid in enemy waters during the night operations, from which 22 planes failed to return, the bulletin said.

Approximately 1,500 American planes were estimated to have taken part Monday in attacks on targets along the French-Belgian coast and in the French interior, during which Marauder medium bombers of the U. S. Ninth Air Force dropped their biggest bomb load—more than 1,000 tons.

Tornadoes, Floods Sweep Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes and floods swept through the Southwest Monday night leaving at least six persons dead, 90 injured and nearly 500 others forced from their homes. Rising flood waters and continuing heavy rainfall warned worse overflows to come in eastern Kansas and Oklahoma.

Scattered tornadoes hit Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas. Mrs. Marion Ward was killed at Harrison, Ark., and two of her children and 18 other persons injured. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Martin and Joyce Rodgers were killed at Woodson, Ark. At Sulphur Springs, Ark., Mrs. Rex Raney lost her life. Mrs. Garland Walker was killed by another twister that cut a 12-mile path between Cornell and Corn in western Oklahoma.

65 Men Injured
Another tornado destroyed 14 buildings in a camp for conscientious objectors near Magnolia, Ark., injuring 65 men, 15 of them seriously. Other destructive tornadoes hit near Walnut in southeastern Kansas and near Hutchinson in the central part of the state. No casualties were reported from these storms.

About 200 persons were evacuated from homes along the Caney River at Bartlesville, Okla., ahead of rising flood waters, and as many more were homeless at Kingfisher, Okla., as converging Indian and John creeks flooded portions of the city.

Snow In New Mexico
Many communities were without power and lights in the wake of the windstorms.

Snow rangings from six to 14 inches fell in northeastern New Mexico, marooning a bus load of passengers and several cars between Greenville and Des Moines on U. S. Highway 87. Temperatures were mild, however, and no fear was felt for the stranded travellers.

Enemy Gives Up More Than Half Of New Britain

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

The Japanese threat against the Allied supply line into China and Northern Burma was unabated Tuesday but the enemy has given up more than half of New Britain in the Southwest Pacific and is preparing for a last-ditch fight around the bomb-battered citadel of Rabaul.

Allied headquarters communique the Japanese have withdrawn from Gasmata and Cape Hoskins in Central New Britain and that U. S. troops now control more than half of the jungle-covered island.

But there was no let-up in Japan's drive into India. Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's Allied communique reported enemy "pressure was maintained against a defended locality in an area" 35 miles from the rickety but all-important Bengal-Assam railroad which the Allies use to supply Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's forces in Northern Burma and to feed Allied airdromes in China.

Allied defenders of Imphal, 60 airline miles to the south, fought off Japanese attempts to gain control of the Imphal Plain and managed to ambush small enemy forces southeast of Imphal.

Discussing the Japanese plight on New Britain, past which the war has swirled and left it important as a stubborn island of enemy strength, an Allied headquarters spokesman estimated one-fifth of the original 50,000 enemy troops on New Britain when the Allied campaign began last December has been killed, captured or lost through disease or starvation.

Rabaul, where he predicted the out-fortified, isolated Japanese will make their death stand, rocked under an 80-ton assault in the latest reported bombing raid.

Other airmen ranged from Boeroe Island northwest of Australia to Woleai Atoll in the Western Caroline Islands, hitting such New Guinea targets as Wewak, with 131 tons of bombs, Hanaia Bay, 123 tons, and Aitape, 59 tons.

Central Pacific bases sent up planes that raked Ponape and Oroku in the Eastern Carolines and four enemy-held atolls in the Marshall Islands.

Congress May Turn From Legislation To Investigation

WASHINGTON —(P)—Legislation may give way largely to investigating when Congress reconvenes Wednesday for a session leading up to the national political conventions.

With committee of both houses charting explorations into nearly every phase of the war and post-war picture on the home front and abroad, final disposition appeared likely for little more than a half dozen major measures.

These Bills Loom
Legislative interest was concentrated on three principal bills to be sandwiched in between appropriation measures for government departments.

Top on the calendar is legislation prolonging the wartime price control and economic stabilization program to prevent its expiration June 30.

Virtually every one on Capitol Hill concedes a need for extending the program, but fireworkers are sputtering over proposals to ban subsidies and to reduce the list of controlled articles.

Pool Tax Battle Ahead
Sharing the spotlight with the OPA bill are proposals to extend the lend-lease program for another year and a $3,500,000,000 Senate-approved "GI bill of rights" measure to provide educational, unemployment and other benefits for veterans of World War II.

Behind the scenes, a fight was shaping up over the question of bringing up the anti-pool tax issue again.

USED POISON GAS
NEW YORK —(P)—The Germans and Rumanians "used poison gas against the Partisans" during their occupation of Odessa, the Moscow radio said Tuesday in a broadcast.

Here's What 'Wiped Out' Means

Humble To Hunt More Ellenburger In Pecos County

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

Humble Oil & Refining Company has made location for another lower Ordovician wildcat in North-Central Pecos County.

The test is to be Humble No. 1 State National Bank of El Paso, trustee, 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 7, block 140, T&STL survey, and about six miles southeast of Heimer pool Ellenburger production. Drilling to around 6,500 feet will start shortly.

Warren Petroleum Company No. 1 Fowler, North Coke County exploration, is running a string of 5 1/2-inch casing to test oil shows in the Ellenburger.

Coke Strike Runs Pipe
Total depth is 6,425 feet. Surface elevation is 2,161 feet. A previously reported unofficial Ellenburger top at 6,383 feet, has apparently been changed in the calculations made in some sources.

While operators representatives have not disclosed any definite information, it is reported that the driller's pick for the top of the Ellenburger was 6,392 feet.

A saturated section was reported in this test at 6,390-6,416 feet, according to information in some quarters. The pipe will be cemented at about 6,383 feet, with around 200 bags.

Hinton Shoots Pipe
W. B. Hinton and others No. 1 Texas American Syndicate, Brewster County Ellenburger wildcat, perforated the 5 1/2-inch pipe at 8,940-90 feet, with 200 shots and was preparing to start swabbing, to test possible oil yielding formation.

Paroled Convict Indicted In Slaying Of Dr. Hunt

OLTON, TEXAS —(AP)— Strong, stocky James Thomas, 49, a convict on parole from the Texas State Prison, has been indicted by a Lamb County grand jury in the slaying of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, Texas, last Oct. 26.

It was on that October morning that 6-year-old Jo Ann Hunt ran to a neighbor's house at Littlefield to report that her father, Dr. Hunt, and her mother had been killed by "a bad man."

Bond of $25,000 was set for Thomas after the indictment was returned Monday. The convict, who was arrested in Galveston the day after the slayings, probably will be arraigned within the next three or four days, Dist. Atty. Harold M. LaPoint said.

Held At Lubbock
The indictment against Thomas was confined to the slaying of Dr. Hunt.

Held in a Lubbock jail for several months, Thomas has refused to make a statement in the case. LaPoint said his case might be called for trial prior to the next regular term of court in August.

Dr. Hunt and his wife, 26, were found side by side in their bed and Thomas, alias James Clyde Thomas, was accused of one of the most savage killings Texas officers ever tried to solve.

Go On Child's Story
Included in the evidence which Sheriff Sam Huston of Lamb County, Ranger Maney Gault, and many other officers had to go on in seeking the slayer, was the childish testimony of little Jo Ann.

This was her story to officers: During the night she awoke thirsty and went from her nursery into a kitchen for a drink. She called her mother, who did not re-

Camacho Barely Escapes Death From Assassin

MEXICO CITY —(P)— President Manuel Avila Camacho barely escaped assassination Monday by a young Mexican army lieutenant who later made a break for freedom and was himself seriously wounded.

A bullet fired at point-blank range pierced Avila Camacho's coat, but the husky president helped overpower his assailant, identified as Lt. Jose Antonio de la Lama Rojas, 31. An official bulletin said "several documents from a Nazi source" were found upon him, but there was no amplification.

Attacks Two Guards
Lama Rojas attacked two guards taking him from the national palace to army barracks, and fled through a suburban street before he was felled by a bullet below his chest. Gen. Francisco Urquiza, undersecretary of national defense, announced.

There was no immediate explanation why the young officer, a nephew of the late Gen. Samuel C. Rojas, former Mexican Air Force chief, made the attempt against the president.

The official bulletin said he approached Avila Camacho "when he descended from his automobile in the national palace. He saluted and then fired one shot which missed." Avila Camacho and his aides overpowered him.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW —(AP)— Russia's Fourth Ukrainian Army

stormed down into the Crimea from two directions Tuesday in a drive aimed at completely clearing South Russia of the Axis invaders as Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Army smashed to within six miles of Ovidiopol, escape bottleneck through which the remnants of the Nazis' Odessa garrison were fleeing toward Romania.

The Fourth Army, under the command of Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin, was attacking in the Crimea along a 75-mile front from the Perekop Isthmus at the northwestern corner of the peninsula to Sivash Bay on the northeast, field dispatches said.

In two days, a Russian communique declared, Tolbukhin's forces advanced more than 12 miles through strong German defenses to kill 5,500 enemy troops and capture another 1,000. About 11 German divisions (perhaps 100,000 men) were believed isolated in the Crimea.

Threaten Rail Center
To the northwest another Red Army simultaneously crossed the Siret and Suceava Rivers in Romania, the war bulletin announced, and reached a point less than five miles from the rail junction of Iasi. This drive by Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army was said to have captured 180 towns and villages along a 65-mile long front and smashed to within 15 miles of the Campulung oil fields and within 100 miles of the Ploesti wells.

Near Transylvania
Deepest penetration reported on this sector was at Solca, 19 miles northwest of Suceava and 35 miles from Transylvania.

There was no mention in the Russian communique of the progress of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army, which reached the Czechoslovakian frontier Saturday.

Front dispatches said a quick reconquest of the Crimea, sealed off Nov. 1 when Tolbukhin's army hurled the Germans back from Meopopol on the mainland, appeared likely, with the Russian Black Sea fleet and the Red Air Force cooperating in the offensive.

The Concert Of Allied Nations

Every Hour On The Hour

Every hour on the hour, and frequently in between, the German radio now broadcasts reports of progress of Allied bombers over Nazi territory. Secrecy is gone and with it efforts to prevent the bombers from riding the domestic radio beams.

Bombings have become a part of daily life, like the weather. And the broadcasts, like weather reports, give warning of the storm of retribution that surges day and night.

Americans who recently came from Germany on a prisoner exchange tell us that the first six months of their internment Allied bombings strengthened, rather than weakened, Nazi civilian morale. They were speaking of morale in Baden-Baden, not Berlin or Hamburg. But even if this bulwarked morale does prevail throughout Germany, it is unlikely that Germans can continue to accept bombings as casually as they do the weather.

There must be tremendous confusion in the wake of these bombings, in addition to destruction. The confusion must mount with every raid, however high the morale. A reading of excerpts from Swedish and smuggled German newspapers, collected by OWI, indicates that.

These reports reveal the growing problems of the government and relocations that follow reported bombings. There is inference of a smoldering undercurrent of unrest in the accounts of new regulations and increasing arrests. There is a card system for those who must stay in bombed cities and work, another for those permitted to leave.

If an evacuee's house or apartment remains intact it is requisitioned to shelter the homeless. And the evacuee is not always welcome elsewhere.

Berliners received extra rations because of the bombings, since "Berlin is the heart of Germany and of the New Europe of the future." But that isn't much comfort to the people of Frankfurt who also have been bombed.

These are only a few samples of a few stories from inside Germany. We don't gloat over them. But we can be glad, even for the civilian Germans' sake, that life under Hitler grows more intolerable.

The German people know the cure. Until they effect it, they can expect the bombs and the disruption and disease and death and the radio warnings—every hour on the hour.

The Three R's For G. I.'s

The Army has sent out a call for civilian school teachers to replace men needed urgently for active military assignment. From three thousand to five thousand men and women will be required to take over the instruction of illiterates in uniform.

Our public schools as well as the Army are short of manpower. The armed services have taken many men teaching for better paying war jobs. If the Army quota is met, it will add more difficulties to the present educational problem.

But the Army's call cannot be ignored on that account. Illiterates, no matter how intelligent, cannot make first-rate soldiers in a war in which the scientists play so large a part. Furthermore, the Army probably offers the last chance for the illiterate adult to gain education. Illiteracy being the social and economic millstone that it is, the country cannot afford to ignore this military opportunity to cure it.

No Cut In Pay

General MacArthur has made a sensible answer to the Australian suggestion that we cut the pay of our forces in the Southwest Pacific to the Australian army level. He favors raising the Aussie's pay.

A good chunk of our tremendous war expenditure goes for military pay, but certainly the American taxpayer doesn't begrudge it. Nor does he think that our G. I.'s at $50 per month and keep, plus overseas pay, are being overpaid.

From what we hear of the Aussie soldier, it probably isn't too much for him either.

Overdue Alcohol

Our rejoicing at the news that the WPB has authorized manufacture of alcohol from wood waste and sweet potatoes is tempered by the fact that this step has been so long in coming.

In the case of wood waste, at least, a Department of Agriculture pilot plant has been demonstrating for months that good industrial alcohol could be made at a fraction of the present cost. The WPB chose to sidetrack this method, even after the shortage of metal for new plants was eased. Meanwhile an unnecessary amount of grain has been used for alcohol.

It's high time we put to practical use the valuable knowledge of how to make weapons of war from waste.

Men In Non-Essential Jobs Due To Be Drafted Right Along With 18-26 Year-Old Group, Reporter Finds

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Draft-age men up to 38—now that Selective Service has ordered the draft of all men possible under 26—can well ask themselves: But how does this affect me?

The order will have to be carried out in different ways because the various draft boards have different problems and only this much can be answered simply:

There is to be a clean sweep of the men 18 through 25, except those deferred for super-essentiality.

Does this mean that no men over 26 will be drafted until all those under 26 are drafted? No.

Men 26 to 38, not in war jobs or war-related jobs or jobs considered necessary in their community, will be drafted right along with the 18-26 group without any delay.

But SS has ordered that the 26-38 men, whose jobs the boards consider essential, are not to be inducted until the 18-26 group is taken. The reason: The Army and Navy want the 18-26 men most and wants them first.

And even the decision on who is essential will vary from board to board. A cook might be unessential in a town full of cooks. But in a war town lacking cooks he might be considered locally necessary.

Other Problems
There is also this problem: Board AAA has 500 men under 26. Board BBB has only three men under 26. What happens?

Board AAA delays drafting men over 26—except those non-essentially employed—and concentrates on the men under 26 until it has taken them all.

Board BBB takes the three men under 26 and goes right on trying to fill its quota with the older men.

But what about the over-26 men who were found acceptable for service and were ordered to report for induction this week? Must they report?

Better Seek Advice
Yes, unless they have been personally notified by their boards not to report. If they have any doubts about this, they had better go to their local board for advice.

Their induction was meant to be postponed, SS said so. But some boards are going right ahead, permitting them to be inducted, at least for the remainder of this week. Some boards have stopped such inductions.

Does all this mean that some boards will forget about quotas all together—so far as the 18-26 group is concerned—and just make a clean up of all the men they have in that group even when this means going beyond the usual quota for that board?

SS says yes but points out that comparatively few boards will be able to exceed their usual quotas in a draft of the 18-26 group because so few have that many young men left.

How long will induction over 26-38 men be postponed generally? No accurate estimate is possible. For some, there may be no delay. For others, where boards have many in the 18-26 group, the delay may be up to 90 days.

Oil Company Crew Helps Kill Serious Blaze At Monahans

MONAHANS—Fire of unknown origin which, during a high wind, Sunday afternoon gutted the Union Furniture Exchange, was held within the sheetiron covered building and away from adjacent frame structures with the timely assistance of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company of 807 South Minor Street.

Realizing the gravity of the situation, the company rushed a powerful truck-pump to the scene, together with a crew of men. Taking a stand on the lee side of the burning building, the oil well cementing crew, with equipment much more powerful than local volunteer fire departments, literally killed the flames, allowing the fire department to gradually subdue the fire through doors and windows on the windward side.

Damage, which otherwise might have extended to huge proportions, was held to $6,000.

ON THE MOVE AGAIN

XIV

"OLD JAN," I asked, "will you answer a very private question?"

"Fire away," he said.

"Do you believe in God?"

"Well, now that is a question," he replied slowly, "and, as you say, a private one. Do I believe in God?"

He was silent for a minute. He tilted back in his chair. Finally he said:

"Look up there in the sky and tell me what you see."

It was one of those summer nights in the high plains when the skies are gloriously crowded with brilliant points of light.

"Stars," I replied.

"How many do you think there are?"

"Millions, I suppose."

"Well," said Old Jan, "I didn't put them there. John D. Rockefeller didn't put them there. Edison didn't have anything to do with it. Why, even the Denver Post couldn't claim credit for it. They must have been put there by someone bigger than any of us human beings, so they must have been put there by God. Yes, Little Jan, it would be a pretty foolish, conceited man who didn't believe in God. But don't ask me to describe Him to you. I just know that Some Power exists, a Power greater than man, that we call God."

"Did He create you, too, Old Jan?"

"Well, I don't know whether I'm important enough for God to spend His time creating, but I know that He created the human race, or at any rate He created the situation from which the human race emerged. And the system He established made possible my creation."

I STARTED to ask another question, but he stopped me. "Wait a minute there, young fellow," he said. "You're dishing out some pretty fancy questions for a boy your age. Let's make it simple."

"I believe in God, and I believe in man. I believe in the brotherhood of man as it was preached two thousand years ago. I believe in man and the brotherhood of man because I have to if I want to believe in myself. I may get pretty disgusted with some people some of the time, and with myself, too, but I have to believe in people because I am a part of them."

By this time he had forgotten all about his audience, its age, its immaturity.

"No sane man can do other than believe in God, in the brotherhood of man, in people. That is why our country, America, is so wonderful and the principles on which it is founded so important, so very important, because this country believes in the people, all of the people. Here in America the wise men who laid down the principles of our government made possible the greatest forward sweep ever in man's progress. For they made possible the self-development of the individual, and through the individual, the group. "It may not always work out perfectly, but as long as the principles of free government are preserved it has a chance, and it has the best chance of any plan devised by man."

"Is that," I asked, "why you told Judge McNamara that you were for the jury system even though it didn't do so good by you?"

"America," the immigrant farmer said in reply, although the words did not seem to be directed at me, "is part of my deep beliefs and convictions. Yet it, today, is making a mistake. America is founded on the principles of men's brotherhood, yet it is seeking to limit that brotherhood selfishly. It is operating on the theory that that brotherhood can flourish in one part of a modern world and be denied the rest. It is a serious mistake. It will have to be corrected.

"And what I am doing about it? I am like Tolstoy's peasant who was asked what he would do were he to learn that he would die that night.

"I would plow," the peasant replied.

"That is what I am doing—plowing. It's not much, but it's something. And you can't go wrong plowing."

He sat quietly for several minutes. Then he started laughing, grabbed at me and shouted:

"Say, what is this, anyway? You just started me talking so you could stay up later. Well, school's out. Class is over. Get to bed."

OUR visit with my grandfather in the summer of 1925 was our last for more than three years. Dad and mother and I kept moving farther away from Colorado. In three years time we went from Kansas City to Racine to Terre Haute to Cleveland. Each job looked a little better to my father than the one he left; each city offered greater opportunities. But the greener pastures invariably had their drawbacks, which Dad was quick to discover. In a few months he could see nothing but the weeds, the stones, the bare spots.

It was never my Dad's fault. It was always the boss who was shortsighted or stingy; or the car, which was really just a pile of junk and no one could sell such a crate; or the other salesman, who horned in on a guy's deal; or the town, which stank and he'd be damned if he'd live here the rest of his life if they gave him the city hall and the courthouse and the whole damn works.

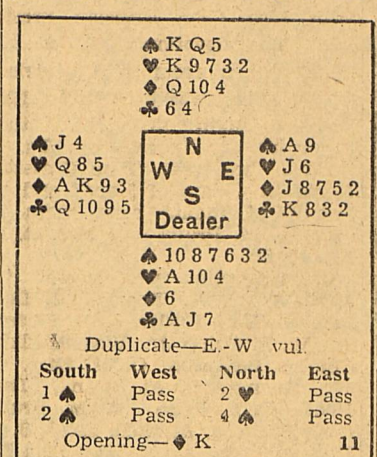

So we moved, and my grandfather's letters followed us as we pushed eastward.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Here is a very pretty squeeze play that came up in the Eastern Tournament. The bidding shown is rather optimistic. This is the type of hand, however, that Waldemar Von Zedtwitz likes to open and I agree with him. If North had bid three spades over two, the bidding probably would have stopped there.

but the play to make four is very interesting.

After winning the first trick West shifted to a small club and South won East's king with the ace. South could see that he had a loser in every suit, and must develop a squeeze. He had already located the ace of diamonds, and West probably held the queen of clubs and ace of spades, there would not be much danger in the hand.

But at this point declarer must lead the jack of clubs. West was forced to win and again could not continue the diamond. He led a spade and East won. East did return a diamond, but South ruffed, ruffed a club, and proceeded to run his trumps. West could not protect the ace of diamonds and queen of hearts.

If the declarer had played a trump before leading the jack of clubs, East would have won the trump and returned a diamond. South could ruff, but then when West got in with the queen of clubs, he would lay down the ace of diamonds, killing the squeeze play.

The goodluck is the largest edible clam on the west coast of the United States.

U. S. Crude Output Shows Increase

TULSA, OKLA. —(AP)— United States crude oil production increased 41,060 barrels daily in the week ended April 8 to 4,418,510 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said Monday.

Texas output gained 46,850 barrels a day to 1,910,350; Oklahoma, 700 to 330,800; Illinois, 8,900 to 224,100; and eastern fields, 6,450 to 76,600.

California production dropped 2,250 barrels a day to 825,250; Kansas, 12,800 to 257,300; Louisiana, 2,450 to 358,500; Michigan, 2,000 to 48,850; East Texas, 2,850 to 362,300; and the Rocky Mountains area, 970 to 117,000.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

EAGLE DAY is payday in the Army. It comes once a month and is the only day when every member of the outfit is present for roll call. Men who have a way of disappearing when a detail is wanted, appear as if by magic on EAGLE DAY. On this day there are more monetary transactions in one outfit than there are on Wall Street in a week. All debts are paid (it says here), haircuts procured and plenty of sand raised in town. Come nightfall, Monte Carlo has nothing on any given G. I.'s barracks. There's a story about a G. ## Hinder Army Program

Objection to the use of either of two San Angelo airports was made by the War Department, however, on the basis that the new service would hinder the Army training program at the fields. Army Air Forces officials are represented on the traffic control board with which Drinkwater is to meet.

Drinkwater said that if the board approves current plans of his firm to use Concho Field, San Angelo's bombardier training center, the firm would be prepared to make initial test runs over the new route within a few days. He asserted the board here might refer to AAF headquarters at Fort Worth for a final decision after it has been reviewed here.

Improvements Halted

Army public relations officers said the Texas AAF office disapproved the proposed San Angelo stop on two counts—that it would interfere with cadet training and would add considerable responsibility to the field's commanding officer's duties. Army spokesman said headquarters here might override the Fort Worth office decision but that ordinarily the action of a regional office was upheld.

Italians Repulse Nazi Thrust at Mt. Marrone

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES—(AP)—Italian troops holding Mount Marrone, mile-high peak 15 miles northeast of Cassino, have repulsed small German thrusts at two points, killing seven of the foe and taking one prisoner—the first announced capture of a Nazi by the new army of liberated Italy.

An American ambush patrol on the Anzio beachhead, meanwhile, trapped a six-man German patrol, three miles west of Littoria, killing three and wounding two. British troops two miles southeast of Carroccio on the other side of the beachhead drove off a German platoon with casualties and other Nazi attempts at infiltration in that sector were repulsed.

She told newsmen she intended to marry a "fabulously wealthy businessman in Mexico City." She described him as a good-humored man, about 31, who telephoned her "many times, constantly."

"Is he a comedian," she was asked.

"No, I should say not," she replied.

Changed Her Story

Later Miss Morris took back the "other man" story and said she and Red had parted by mutual agreement and for no definite reason. Still later she intimated the previous story was correct but said "anything further will have to come from Red."

Meanwhile, the comedian refused any comment beyond "anything concerning this will have to come from Miss Morris."

"It looks as though they're deadlocked," said Edna Skelton, the comic's ex-wife who remains his gag writer and manager, "and I'm determined not to get in the middle. On my word of honor, there will be no reconciliation between Red and me."

Building Starts Trip To Airport

The large service station, formerly used by Simlar in Pasada Park will start its journey to Midland Airport No. 2 late Tuesday, working men who are moving the structure told city officials.

At the airport, the structure will be renovated and used temporarily as a passenger station and terminal for commercial air lines. Continental Air Lines plans to start regular service in Midland Saturday on its new El Paso-San Antonio route.

Utilities will be installed in the new building without delay, officials indicated.

Gravestone Blocked Pub No Place For News Editor During London Air Attack

By SID FEDER LONDON—(AP)—Blackout blues: Everybody here has his favorite air-raid story. One of the best is about the newspaper editor, Harry Meller, who was caught by the alarm one night not far from a pub adjoining a recently-bombed churchyard.

The pub-keeper, not letting anything go to waste, had "borrowed" several of the churchyard's uprooted gravestones to bulwark the entrance to his thirst-quenching dispensary. When the siren went off this night, Meller headed for the pub door like whirlwind coming down the stretch. . . . He thought it was a mighty convenient and handy spot to be in during a raid. . . . Then the name on one of the gravestones caught his eye. . . . It was Meller. . . . Harry's thirst went right away from there.

Scouts To Hold Pot Luck Supper Thursday

The Boy Scouts will hold a pot luck supper in the high school gymnasium on Thursday, April 20. A trio of singers, Fred Gage, Frank Miller, and Frank Cochran, all from Odessa, will entertain the gathering, followed by a session of group singing.

About 75 Boy Scouts are expected to attend and food will be furnished by the mothers. Mrs. E. B. Osburn is chairman of the supper committee, assisted by Mrs. Dewey Jordan.

Stevenson Comes Up With New One—It's 'Use-Eggs-Now-Month'

AUSTIN—(AP)—Eggs above and beyond the demand of the market, brought from Gov. Coke Stevenson the proclamation that April be known as the "Use-Eggs-Now-Month."

Springtime brings the best fresh eggs, said the governor, and increased consumption now will save good food, encourage producers to maintain full production and benefit the health of the people.

Stevenson complimented the farmers for producing this essential item, but remarked that their enthusiasm had caused them to produce eggs beyond the quantity needed.

AUSTIN—(AP)—With an aim to the "preservation of the worthwhile values of family life," Gov. Coke Stevenson has proclaimed May 7 to 14 as National Family Week in Texas.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths will join in focusing attention "upon spiritual strengthening of family life to meet wartime and postwar conditions which tend to disrupt families," said the governor.

The War Today — Reporter Sees No Need For Alarm In Aussie Manpower Reallocation

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

There seems to be anxiety in some American quarters (though it's difficult to understand why) over Australia's making a re-allocation of manpower, involving the withdrawal of some 90,000 from the army, many of them veterans who have passed their jungle-fighting prime.

Australia is pulling her weight. New Guinea—El Alamein—Tobruk—the Malay Peninsula jungles—

Greec! I've been with the Aussies in two wars, and they're fighting-fools. Their only fault is that they try to do more than their share. It was the Australians, by the way, who on July 4, 1918, took our 33rd Division over the top at Hamel on the Somme in the first Anglo-American attack of history. A grand team they made, the Aussies and the Yanks, as I know from personal observation. They're still a grand team.

The Russian recapture of the Black Sea port of Odessa is the richest one of the most important victories of the entire Russo-German conflict.

The fall of this port renders the Crimea untenable for the dozen or so Nazi and Romanian divisions which have been holding it. And the Crimean Peninsula which hangs down from the Russian mainland into the Black Sea like the pendulum of a grandfather clock, has been the keystone of Hitler's defense of both the Ukraine and the Balkans—a vast naval-aerial-military shield for his entire right flank.

That's why Nazi Field Marshal General Von Manstein, on orders direct from the Fuehrer, sacrificed scores of thousands of men in a suicidal effort to hold the vast salient of the Dnepr Bend as protection for the Crimea.

Already the Red Army has opened a fierce offensive against the Crimea. There have been close to 100,000 Axis troops on the peninsula, but the number there now is problematical, for some may have been evacuated by sea to Romania, and others are said to be trying to escape by water now. In any event, the Nazi gangsters' hold on the Crimea is doomed. Once it has been cleared of the enemy, the Red fleet will move back to its big naval base at Sevastopol and, with possession of Odessa as well, the Muscovites will again rule the Black Sea.

Dream of all boyhood came true for this youngster when he got to make friends with elephants of the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus when it arrived in New York. He's pictured fearlessly patting the trunk of one of the big fellows.

Investigations developed oil or gas. Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A Lamar, south of the discovery well in that area had reached 3,790 feet in lime. Magnolia No. 10 P. J. Lea, on the northeast side of the Sand Hills field in Crane County, was flowing between two and three barrels of oil hourly, and showing from two to three million cubic feet of gas daily after treating with 4,000 gallons of acid through perforations at 3,225-36 feet. The Texas Company No. 1 Hobbs, Southeast Crane County prospector was drilling in lime under 5,753 feet. Texaco No. 1 Goldthwaite had cored from 5,250-68 feet, and was mixing mud preparing to drill ahead. The core had a recovery of eight feet, with the top one and one-half feet being anhydrite with dolomite inclusions, and the bottom six and one-half feet, reported as white, siliceous dolomite, carrying some indications of sulphur. Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 2-A Hickman, 2,651 feet west of the nearest producer in the Barnhart-Ellenburger field of Southeast Reagan County has been completed for a daily potential of 8,143-20 barrels after 15,000 acid had been injected into the pay through perforations at 9,008-9,200 feet. Shell No. 1 Jones, Northwest Gaines County exploration, was coming out of the hole after a drillstem test to the bottom at 6,245 feet in the Clear Fork lime. No oil indications had been revealed by the test.
