Situation Unchanged

The departure of ex-Premier Tojo from the center of the Japanese stage is no signal for hat-waving and shouts that the Japanese home front has cracked.

We have known for many months that Japan was losing the war. So has Tojo. So do his successors. The road to victory will still be long and hard and costly.

The only difference seems to be that the Jap government has decided to confide the unpleasant truth to the people. Truth, of course, is no part of the Jap code of ethics.

When the Japs were given the unvarnished bad news about Saipan, it was evidently a matter of expediency, with no official blushes for the whoppers that they have been told in the past.

It is not unlikely that dissolution of the Tojo cabinet was decided on some time ago, and that the story of the Saipan defeat was issued to prepare the public for it.

This policy may work better in Japan than in Germany. As Matsuo Suzuki recently wrote in The Christian Science Monitor, "Industrially, Japan has become a modern nation."

As for Tojo's successors, they have a slightly more "moderate" reputation, but the same militaristic background. They may alter the unsuccessful Hitler-Tojo strategy for defending every far-flung outpost or bit of land.

All this won't alter the final outcome. Neither Jap nor Nazi fanaticism can overcome American arms or American industry. But the way still isn't short, or the going easy.

Mild Reproof

Some London newspapers have chided the liberated Norman French for shaving the heads of women collaborationists. One called the practice the "despicable technique of the Fascists."

But we had always understood that the Fascists, or rather the Nazis in France and Italy, had not contented themselves with such mild reproof when the collaboration was with Germany's enemies.

The hair of the collaborationists will grow back. The patriot victim of the Nazi technique will not return. We do not think that a haircut for those women who fraternized with an enemy is too severe a punishment.

Republicans May Try To Grab Leadership

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats showed a bit of concern Friday over a possibility that Republicans might try to wrest the House leadership from them before the election.

The organization of the House, by the Republicans conceivably could help their vote-getting capacity in November. And there is just enough of a chance that they might make the attempt, and succeed, to cause their opponents some worry.

The party that organizes the House gains the speakership, the majority leadership, all its committee chairmanships and therefore the dominant position on legislation in the chamber.

Fifty-four Midland Boy Scouts and their leaders are due to return late Friday or early Saturday from a two weeks' camp at Pilmouth Scout Ranch near Cimarron, New Mexico.

Democrats To Hold Rally At Montague

NOCONA, TEXAS — (AP) — Banners bearing the words "We Want the Democratic Party Back" have been unfurled here as a citizens committee mapped a political rally in Montague Saturday to reorganize the Jefferson Democratic Party.

Five thousand North Texans and Southern Oklahomans are expected to attend the rally, said members of the committee, headed by A. V. Grant of Saint Jo, Texas.

Ford Predicts Higher Standard Of Living

DETROIT — (AP) — Henry Ford, who built a billion dollar industrial empire with an initial investment of $28,000, will observe his 81st birthday anniversary Sunday confident, he said, that "prosperity and a higher standard of living can be attained after the war."

He predicted in an interview that the end of the war would bring a tremendous demand for motor cars and mechanized farm equipment and suggested that the Ford-operated Willow Run bomber plant may be used to manufacture Ford tractors.

Dame de Cencilly on its left, taking that town 11 miles southwest of St. Lo and about the same distance from the jumpoff point in the offensive.

Here the Americans were nine miles southeast of Coutances, while other columns of the same movement spread along an eight-mile front were pointed at the city itself. The nearest was within gunfire of the only bridge affording escape at Coutances for the Germans.

Others pushed to Ledeshayes, six miles south of Marigny and to the Souilles Woods, 3 1/2 miles south of Caullay.

Capture Two Cities Two other spearheads closed in from the north from captured Lestay and Periers.

The Germans possibly were planning to make a stand behind the steep-bluffed Soule and Sienne Rivers which run inland through Coutances, but already such a line was threatened by three other spearheads shoving deep into Germany territory from the west and east of St. Lo.

Highballing down the highway from Normandy toward Brittany, one column had reached a point within 1 1/2 miles of Tassy-Sur-Vire, 10 miles south of St. Lo.

Another column was fanning out to the west. These twin spearheads southwest of St. Lo were aimed at Avranches, at the base of the Normandy peninsula and behind Coutances. Avranches is 30 miles below St. Lo.

Coming through Le Mesnil Hergman, they were in position to swing west to join the forces driving on Coutances, or to veer east and join the sixth spearhead which had cleared a 13-mile stretch of the road running east from St. Lo to Caumont.

Capture Thousands of Nazis Bradley thus had put the Germans in the position every commander dreams of—stabbed on a wide front by numerous forces which had a bewildering profusion of opportunities to converge, fan out, encircle and cut off the opposing troops.

There was no authoritative indication of the number of Germans in the growing pocket. Supreme Headquarters declined to discuss the number of German divisions facing the Americans in the fluid sectors.

But 12 divisions have been disclosed in action on 48 miles of the front, and seven to four might be jammed in the Coutances pocket.

Field dispatches said at least 3,000 prisoners were taken in the first two days of the offensive.

As the tanks, half-tracks and self-propelled artillery units continued their advance, American doughboys mopped up by-passed pockets of German resistance.

East of St. Lo other American troops were reported to have improved their positions, driving the Germans out of a 13-mile stretch between St. Lo and Caumont.

A spokesman at Supreme Headquarters said the Americans were so extensively on the move on the 40-mile stretch from Caumont to the sea that there "no longer was a question of a line on the American front." He described the situation as fluid.

Despite bad weather, Allied fighter-bombers continued their close support of the Normandy ground troops, striking at the battered enemy and providing cover for Allied armor and infantry.

Japanese had driven out of the north to seize the road.

Inside and outside the walls of beleaguered Hengyang the Chinese defenders and the Japanese were locked in confused fighting. After 32 days of costly battling the decision for this strategic rail town seemed near at hand.

The Chinese tempered their Hengyang ordeal with a victory in Yunnan Province, where enemy defenses at Laifengshang were overrun. They killed at least 600 of the enemy at this town, which is an outpost of Tengchung, the city which controls part of the Burma Road. Tengchung, under U. S. air attack, appeared next on the Chinese list.

American and Chinese troops widened their area of control around Myitkyina, but had not yet taken that key North Burma city, also vital to use of the Burma Road.

Jaycees Score Another Victory

Behind the tight pitching of T. J. Stall the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce softball team slammed out a 10 to 0 victory Thursday over the Training Union team from the First Baptist Church.

The lop-sided victory was sweet revenge for the Jaycees. In a game last week the Baptists defeated the Jaycees 8 to 7 in a contest which went 11 innings. Frank Monroe hit a home run with two men on that went a long way toward boosting the Jaycees' score to the two-figure mark.

Next game scheduled for the rampaging Jaycees is set for Monday when they will play the Midland Municipal Airport team. The last game played by these two teams went to 10 innings before the Jaycees eked out a 4 to 3 victory.

5. Daugavpils, third city of Latvia with 45,160 population.

6. Bialystok, 110 miles northeast of Warsaw, which had long been surrounded and bypassed. Its 60,900 residents made it old Poland's 13th city.

7. Stanislawow, guardian city to Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Its fall and other nearby gains in the Carpathian foothills placed the Russians within 13 miles of the Carpatho-Ukraine sector of Czechoslovakia which Hungary annexed.

8. Rezekne, a railroad junction in Latvia, 52 miles northeast of captured Daugavpils.

9. Garwolin, a rail center, 30 miles southeast of Warsaw.

10. Other Russian troops broke into Siedlce, another rail center 50 miles east of Warsaw where street fighting was in progress.

Blackest Day For Nazis All these tremendous achievements gave Germany her blackest day of the nearly five years of war. The conquests were never matched in the peaks of the German blitzkrieg.

The picture was one of German collapse along a meandering front of 1,000 miles from the wooded shores of the Gulf of Finland—an arm of the Baltic Sea—to the Carpathians. Both northeast and southeast of Warsaw, the Russians were on the broad plains leading into the very heart of the Reich, and there were no major natural barriers between.

Upwards of 1,632 towns fell to more than 1,500,000 marching men in the front ranks of the eight great Soviet army groups. The advance was two miles an hour in places.

Pro-Roosevelt Forces Hope To Gain Power At Meetings Saturday

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN — (AP) — Control of the Democratic party organizations in Texas is at stake Saturday in county convention at which the fierce factional feud between pro- and anti-Roosevelt forces again will flare up.

County delegates chose delegates to the state convention Sept. 12. These delegates will determine the convention's course in the selection of a new state executive committee and in the naming of its chairman, co-chairman and secretary.

Pro-Roosevelt Democrats, encouraged by the recognition accorded them at Chicago, are seeking to wrest control of the party from the regulars, who still sit in the driver's seat.

Governor Avoids Controversy The September session ordinarily is referred to as the governor's convention, to differentiate it from the convention which comes in May once every four years to nominate presidential electors. The individual who has won the Democratic nomination for governor is regarded as the titular party leader, and his wishes in a large measure have always determined the complexion and make up of the party organization for the next two years.

This year Gov. Coke R. Stevenson is in that position. He has carefully avoided taking public part in the current party controversy, but the present organization is regarded as the Stevenson set-up.

Americans Traveling At Tremendous Rate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's mid-summer now and in spite of all government appeals for them to stay off the trains and spend their vacation at home—Americans are traveling at a tremendous rate.

The American Hotel Association says the summer resorts — from Pennsylvania up through New England and west to Minnesota—are packed to capacity.

One representative of the association said that the only thing preventing this from being the all-time record-breaking vacation year is the lack of summer resort facilities—like manpower, linens, and so on—to handle even greater crowds.

The Office of Defense Transportation has been hammering away at a campaign to keep people off the trains. It's been a "don't travel" campaign.

Oklahoma 'Cyclone' Gives OPA Officials Some Proven Pointers

Veteran rationeer Mrs. Howard J. Conhaim of Tulsa, Okla., gives some pointers on improved methods to Mrs. Leone Crowlie, OPA Community Service program planner.

By ANN STEVICK
NEA Staff Writer

WASHINGTON — Ten minutes after ultra-smart, blonde, blue-eyed Mrs. Howard J. Conhaim barged into OPA offices in Washington, officials were certain that nothing short of an Oklahoma cyclone had hit them.

By the end of the week the soft-spoken fashion plate from Tulsa, who had first won approving smiles for the bird-bedecked hat that perched over one eye, had almost completely revolutionized OPA, and officials' smiles of approval were for the several clever rationing methods she had devised.

A veteran of two years of eight-hour daily volunteer service on her local ration board, Mrs. Conhaim gave the Office of Price Administration some straight-from-the-shoulder criticism of the ineffectual methods in force. Among other things, she told them, you can't sell grass-roots price control simply by sending out pamphlets. You need an old-time "drummer" to sell it to local groups by word of mouth. Agreeing with her completely, OPA has included it in their new program for additional price panel volunteers.

Also, she pointed out the success of her board's policy of using local businessmen for price checking with restaurant managers, instead of leaving it all to housewife committees. Now other boards are being urged to adopt the scheme.

In the opinion of this one-woman delegation from Tulsa, rationing and price programs would smooth out if more people from local boards could go to Washington, and vice versa. Of course, the financing of such trips poses a problem, for she realizes that not every volunteer would be willing to underwrite the expense, as did her geologist husband.

But closer relations between local boards and Washington would clear up a lot of confusion—and violence—she feels. Though violence in her board never reached the gun-totin' stage, she assured OPA officials, there have been cases of volunteer workers who have been jabbed with pens and kicked in the shins when they've turned down requests.

The violent visitors to the ration board, Mrs. Conhaim hastened to add, are far in the minority. "The average person actually would like to give up more than he is asked to," she believes. "When the tragic war news comes in he realizes he is living much too comfortably. But he wants everyone to give up just as much as he does."

As Mrs. Conhaim wound up her visit, John O'Brien, director of OPA field operations, assured her that the bureau was anxious to do everything they could to simplify the job of their 110,000 volunteer workers were doing. And he's convinced that the blonde bombshell's suggestions will be just the thing to turn the trick.

'Miss Midland' To Be Named Sunday

The name of the young woman who will represent Midland in the finals of the State Junior Chamber of Commerce personality girl contest in Port Arthur Aug. 16 will be announced Sunday.

The Midland Jaycee committee charged with selecting a "Miss Midland" has been interviewing young women who have the qualifications to compete in the contest, and the number of possible competitors has been narrowed down to the point where a final selection will be made by Sunday, U. A. Hyde, chairman of the committee, said Friday.

The girl chosen must be between the ages of 18 and 28, and must never have been married. Since, if she should win the "Miss America" title in the national finals, she will spend the next year entertaining at Army camps, talent is a major factor in the contest.

Members of the committee who will select "Miss Midland" are Hyde, Russell Howard and John Hill.

Keep Comb And Brush Clean For Fresh, Fragrant Tresses

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

You get a longer lease on fresh, fragrant hair—important now that salon appointments are hard to get—if you bathe your comb and brush every day and afterward will keep them safe from dust.

You can float out settling residue in combs and brushes that you wash if you'll pour a few drops of household ammonia into the water. To keep these aids clinically clean, use a few drops of disinfectant in their bath water once or twice a week.

To keep brush bristles safe from dust—which is important if you want to keep it out of your hair—don't hang outside to dry, unless you cover them up. When comb and brush are not in use, put them in dresser drawers—not on top where they can collect anything at all that floats in the air.

FREDDA'S STORY

FREDDA doesn't simply sneer, "I am not keen about this stupid mail." She says, "It's a pity that I don't give a hoot about mail, otherwise I could show you all up!" The circle she used to draw around me is not so wide any more. She even addressed me the other day when we met at the linen closet.

"I still owe you a story, Charlotte." "As you like," I said, feeling awkward as always to be burdened with someone's confession. "Tomorrow," she said. "Or the next day, whenever we find a good hour."

This hour, together with the first mail, came some days later. Fredda, indeed, was the only one who didn't receive anything at all. "It's my own fault," she admitted. "My life would make a good movie but nobody seems to be interested in the dramatic rights."

"You are more honest than I suspected! Most people blame the world for their own shortcomings." "Are you married, Charlotte?" "Widowed." It was the first time that I heard myself saying this word. It cut through my head and heart.

"You, at least," said Fredda, "know where you're at. I don't even know my civil status. I only know I am alone." And all of a sudden, in a shower of hastily self-accusing words, she burst out, "See, Charlotte, I come from a terribly rich Philadelphia family and I was brought up—on rather brought myself up—in the belief that life couldn't deny me anything as I had the money to buy everything. Besides, I was good-looking and thought I was irresistible! Father died when I was 16, and Mother let me run household, estate, herself and myself.

"It was at my first big party that I met my 'dream man,' and I made up my mind I was going to marry him. I invited him to spend a weekend at our country home. We rode and swam together, had fun, and I fell terribly in love. Monday I showed him father's factory, told him our manager was unreliable—which was a lie—and said that we needed a strong hand; in short, that I wanted him. It was tantamount to a proposal. He asked for time to think it over, being under contract to his own firm, and went back to New York. I could not wait till his answer came and drove down there the day after. He lived with his parents, simple, old-fashioned people who had immigrated from Sweden a generation ago. They didn't approve of me from the first.

"We married on my eighteenth birthday. The wedding made headlines in all the Philadelphia papers. Gunar said it was too extravagant. On our honeymoon we 'did' Europe: London, Stockholm, Paris, Vienna, Rome, Budapest—with grand hotels, luxury sleepers, flowers, music, shopping. I know, now, that these months were the best time of my whole life. But not even then did I know if Gunar really loved me. I was an only child, but Evelyn, the daughter of Mother's English sister, had lived with us ever since I could remember. She was a year younger, two inches smaller, and by the same token, plumper, duller, homelier. Now that our honeymoon was over she and Mother moved up to the third floor of Father's big house, and my handsome husband and I took it over. Gunar stepped into the manufacturing end of the business and proved himself worthy. People liked him very much, even though he was an outsider.

"Gunar wanted kids—half a dozen. I didn't. They spoil your figure and your fun. That was my first big mistake. My second was having Mother and Evelyn around, especially Evelyn. Not that she had become more attractive, not in the least, but she who always hated me began to pay attention to Gunar. She did it in her sly, slow, planned manner. And Gunar fell for it. "I was stupid enough not to take it seriously from the start. I just couldn't visualize any danger from a poor ugly relative who would never be able to hold a candle to me. Then—a day before our second anniversary, Gunar asked me to divorce him! The homely snake had charmed him out of his wits! "I DID not free him. Instead I threw Evelyn out of the house, Mother too, and tried to mend the whole affair. Tried it with all the different yarns: tricks, sweetness, love, money, hysteria, fits, business. Nothing worked. He asked me time and time again for a divorce. "And then one day he left me. He flew off in our plane with Evelyn as a passenger, and that was the last I saw or heard of him. Evelyn had promised Mother that she'd write from South America, where they intended to live, but Mother never got a letter. What happened? I don't know. They vanished without leaving a trace. "Do you see now, Charlotte, why I need some stirring-up for my restlessness and bad conscience? I have no idea whether even Mother is alive or dead. For her I have been dead ever since that time. "It was sticky in the linen closet and I felt as if the whole piece of sheets were lying on my chest. "Let's get out of here, Fredda," I said. "Not before you tell me that you now understand me." "I do understand you and I'm sorry. But why do you complicate things still more for yourself by being rude to all the girls?" "Because I hate all girls. Because they all would like to trip me if they could. Because they are all camouflaged Evelyns." She left abruptly and I went back to the ward. (To Be Continued)

Ten Army Airmen Are Killed in Plane Crash

SAVANNAH, GA. — (AP) — Pfc. Truman Griffith, assistant radio operator and son of Jack Griffith, Athens, Texas, was one of ten Air Corps men killed Thursday when their B-24 bomber crashed ten miles south of Augusta. The men were stationed at Chatham Field, Savannah. The ship burned.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

In the Navy and Coastguard, an IRISH PENNANT is anything that has not been stowed away properly. Pin-up pictures, stockings, and undershirts have an uncanny way of becoming IRISH PENNANTS. Any sloppy, loose ends that stick out of the ventilator openings or the sides of the locker door can get their owner into a lot of trouble on inspection day. In most cases, IRISH PENNANTS are collected and the owners' names taken. The unfortunate whose name appears on the inspection list is a marked man. In all future inspections he is inspected more closely, and if the name is taken again, his chances of having no liberty for a week or so are more than excellent.

New Businesses Are Increasing in Texas

AUSTIN—New business is opening up in Texas at a steadily increasing rate, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

During the first six months of 1944 a total of 310 new corporations received charters to operate in Texas, compared to only 169 in the first half of 1943.

The 1944 firms are smaller, for the most part, than those which entered business last year, capitalization of the 310 amounting to $4,626,000 while the 169 establishments last year had capital stock of $3,654,000. Ninety of the new ones were capitalized at less than $5,000 and only ten at $100,000 or more.

During World War I, one British soldier was affected by disturbed action of the heart for every four actually wounded.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Tournament players from the south and a few from the north will attend the meeting of the league at the Southern Appalachian Tournament to be held at the George Vanderbilt Hotel in Asheville, N. C. Aug. 25, 26 and 27. Several groups of players in the south have already raised a scholarship for a war orphan, and several more will sign up at this meeting.

Today's hand was played in the Southern Appalachian open pair event last year, by Benjamin Johnson of Spartanburg, S. C., who won the event with Mrs. J. E. Folline of Richmond. The opening lead was won by Johnson (South), and it was apparent that the result depended on limiting the losers in trumps to two tricks. He led a low trump and West played the nine, which was permitted to hold the trick. West returned another club, Johnson won and led another trump. West put up the jack, dummy again played low and East had to win with the ace and a spade was returned and West won, but there were no more tricks for the defenders. The last trump was drawn and the hand spread for the ten tricks needed.

DALIES FRANTZ TO REMAIN AT U. OF T.

AUSTIN—Dalies Frantz, internationally-known concert pianist and one-time movie actor, has accepted re-appointment to the faculty of the music department at the University for the coming school year, Dean E. W. Doty announced.

This will mark Frantz's second year as professor of piano at the university following a well-traveled career as a student in Europe, concert artist here and abroad, musician for and actor in several Hollywood productions, plus a tour as an officer in the Army Air Corps.

Athens is the oldest city in Europe serving as a capital.

Construction Activity Shows Large Increase

AUSTIN — Construction activity in Texas during the first half of 1944 is almost 50 per cent ahead of the first half of 1943, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Building permits in June, for example, were almost a million dollars above those of June a year ago, totaling $3,804,958.

NO COMMERCIAL FAILURES IN TEXAS

AUSTIN—The first six months of 1944 have passed without a single commercial failure in Texas, the University Bureau of Business Research reports.

Last bankruptcy of a Texas business firm occurred in July, 1943. The University of Rome occupies 40 acres.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels assures his people that Germany has secret weapons, the sight of which made his heart "stand still" and despite his tendency to falsehood and bombast we shall be unwise to dismiss this lightly.

Certainly the citizens of Britain, who are suffering death and destruction from Hitler's new robot bombs, don't discount the possibility and even probability of further devilish inventions. Prime Minister Churchill has warned them to be prepared for even greater trials.

Hitler promised Germany victory by means of secret weapons. Well, he certainly delivered one terrible instrument in the flying bomb, and his insistence on reorganizing for total war and making a fight to the finish might indicate that he has something further up his sleeve.

Pipeline Official Scores Ickes' Attitude On Proposed Carrier

DALLAS — (AP) — A proposed West Texas-to-California oil pipeline which was rejected by Interior Secretary Ickes in May "could be laid in four months and it could move around 175,000 barrels daily in a steady stream," said L. M. Glasco, Dallas.

Glasco, secretary-treasurer of Pacific War Emergency Pipe Lines, Inc., said Ickes is beginning "to realize that oil for a war effort powerful enough to smash the Japs may be another case of too little, too late."

The Texas was commenting upon Ickes' announcement from Washington that from 30,000 to 40,000 barrels of West Texas oil would be shipped by railroad tank car to the Pacific Coast daily under a proposal being considered by the Petroleum Administration for War to help stop a deficit caused by declining California crude stocks.

Storms Cause At Least Three Deaths

By The Associated Press
At least three people were killed and a fourth died of a heart attack in storms Thursday which ranged from Mississippi to Kansas and which in one spot reached a 90-mile an hour velocity.

Two of the dead were soldiers. Cpl. William A. Hall, 25, of Lucas, Ohio, was killed and a dozen others were injured in a storm demolishing four buildings at the Greenwood, Miss., Army Air Base. Pvt. Teofilo Salinas, of Holtville, Calif., died of injuries at Camp Robinson, Ark., after a tree, toppled by a high wind, struck him.

Also killed by a falling tree was Clarence T. Woods of Memphis. John Glenn Robinson of Conway, Ark., died of a heart attack while seeking shelter from an electrical and wind storm.

The Municipal Airport at Wichita, Kas., recorded a 90-mile an hour wind, lasting for 2 1/2 minutes, long enough to blow out all the windows of the control tower. Power lines were ripped out, trees uprooted and buildings were damaged there and at Hutchinson, Kas., where the wind gauge recorded 64 miles an hour.

There was an 80-mile an hour wind at the Muskogee, Okla., Air Base.

Mort Cooper Still Is No. 1 Hurler For Pennant-Bound St. Louis Cards

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookies come and rookies go but Mort Cooper's powerful right arm still represents much of the pitching strength of the pennant-bound St. Louis Cardinals.

The husky Red Bird from Webster Groves, Mo., staggered through the early season and was batted off the hill three times in a row as he took a back seat to George Mungler, Harry Erechtchen and the veteran Max Lanier.

Mort answered the "What's the matter with Cooper?" remarks by opening a spurt May 28 which has produced 11 wins in 12 starts and boosted him into a tie with Bucky Walters of the Reds for most shut-outs with five.

Phils Are Shutout
As the Cards opened up a 14½-game lead on Cincinnati, their longest margin of the year, Cooper hurled a two-hit shutout against the Phils for a 5-0 decision over Ken Raffensberger, after Harry Erechtchen had wobbled to an 8-7 verdict over Bill Lee in the opener of a double.

Ray Mueller's double in the eighth inning boosted Cincinnati back into second place by a 4-2 nod over Boston. Pittsburgh was rained out at New York, as was Chicago at Brooklyn.

Browns Miss Opportunity

Sig Jakucki was upset by the Athletics, 7-5. Dick Siebert's two-run homer in the first helped start the A's to a 16-hit barrage behind Russ Christopher.

Cleveland dropped the New York Yankees into a second-place tie with Boston by pounding Walt Dubiel for an 8-1 score.

Boston moved up by trimming Detroit, 6-1, on Tex Hughson's six-hitter, earning him the honor of becoming the first big leaguer to win 16 this season.

Orval Grove of the White Sox went the route for the first time in eight starts to shut out Washington, 4-0.

Golf Pro Has Plan To Get Used Balls
AMARILLO—(AP)—Gene Root, professional at the municipal golf course, has a plan for collecting used golf balls.

But it will take nine pre-war balls to do it.

He has started a hole-in-one tournament. Root arranged a special 125-yard hole with the green by the clubhouse. The entry fee is the ball shot.

Nine pre-war balls will be given as prizes and for each hole-in-one a $10 sport shirt is to be given by a clothing store.

Golfers may enter as many times as they desire, but must pay one use ball for each shot.

By FRITZ HOWELL
(Pinch-Hitting for Hugh Fullerton Jr.)

NEW YORK—(AP)—He's been 1-A in the draft four times, and 4-F four times, but he's the hottest hitter in the American League. We mean Al Zarilla, the St. Louis Browns' outfielder who has whacked back and forth between the club house and his draft board so often that he hardly has had time to get into a baseball uniform.

Two weeks ago, operating mostly as a pinch-hitter, he had a batting average of .204. Then he blazed into the starting lineup, and in nine games has fashioned 15 hits in 24 times at bat, boosting his mark to .286. Sprinkled among the 15 singles were three doubles, a triple and two homers. During the spree he scored four runs and batted in 10. He may be 4-F to the Army, but he's A-1 with the Browns. He's hitting .625 for the nine contests.

Qualifying Play Starts At Odessa

ODESSA—(AP)—Bill Skeeters of Dallas, Aviation cadet Bill Roden of Glen Rose and Maj. Richard Ashley, Midland, defending champion, loom as favorites in the fifth annual Odessa Invitation Golf Tournament.

A threat to these three was Billy Maxwell of Abilene as qualifying play began Friday.

The meet opened Thursday with a darkhorse team led by Roden, a last-minute entry winning the pro-amateur event with a 13-under par 59. Others on the all-amateur winning team were Morgan Neill, Jake Dye, John Crenshaw, Mrs. Wilma Sewell and Cotton Clover, all of Odessa. They defeated a team from Abilene.

Also run off Thursday was a putting tournament, which ended in a four-way tie with a score of 69. Those in the dead heat were Billy and Bobby Maxwell, the Abilene twins; Skeeters and Jimmy Game-well, Odessa.

First and second round play is set for Saturday with the semi-finals and finals Sunday.

Skipper Hawkins And Band To Be Featured Here At Log Cabin

Midland's Log Cabin will reopen Saturday night with a brand new band and floor show.

The popular night spot for this section has been remodeled and repainted, H. W. Donohoo and Paul Houston, owners, said. The kitchen and dining room have both been enlarged. The improvements were made in order to give customers better and more rapid service, the proprietors said.

Skipper Hawkins and his band have been booked, and members of the orchestra are said to be equally adept at "sweet" or "swing". The band comes to the Log Cabin direct from Kansas City.

Other units in the floor show are Smokey Joe Harmor, master of ceremonies and novelty tap dancer; Ruby Ellis, vocalist, and Peggy Cleveland, dancer.

The band will play dinner music from 7 to 9:30 p. m. Dancing will be from 9:30 until midnight. Floor shows will be at 10 p. m. and midnight.

Anti-Roosevelt Group To Control Convention

Anti-Roosevelt Democrats will control the Midland County Democratic Convention which convenes at 2 p. m. Saturday in the county courtroom at the courthouse.

Delegates from Precincts No. 1 and No. 5 are instructed to vote in the convention to uphold the policies and actions of the regular State Democratic Convention held at Austin May 23. The two precincts control the county convention by a large majority.

The regular convention held at Austin chose a slate of presidential electors who are free to vote, if they desire, for some Democrat other than Roosevelt for president. A movement has started in the state among the pro-Roosevelt group to gain control of the next state convention and rescind the action of the last convention by having the approaching convention instruct electors to vote for Roosevelt.

Lt. Col. Haley Aycock Receives Promotion

PUEBLO, COLO.—Lt. Col. Haley Aycock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Connor of Midland, recently was appointed director of training at Pueblo Army Air Base.

He formerly was assistant director of training. In the service five years, he spent six months in Newfoundland and a year in England with a heavy bombardment group where he was awarded the DFC, the Purple Heart, the Air Medal and two clusters. He attended Texas Tech for three years before entering the service.

TOO MANY FISH AND TOO FEW FISHERMEN

PUEBLO, COLO.—(AP)—Lake Isabel has too many fish, too little fish and too few fishermen.

So the State Game and Fish Department has raised the legal limit to 20 a day, any size, in an effort to attract anglers. It said gasoline and tire rationing had helped the fish over-populate.

TOO MUCH COMPETITION SO DOG LEAVES HOME

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Toby was a pet chow belonging to the Donald Hudsons. Three and a half years ago they became the parents of Donna.

When Donna was a month old, Toby was let in to see the new baby. He took one look, left the house and hasn't been back since.

Then Hudson heard Toby was at a nearby police station. He went to see his old pet Toby—and got a growl for his trip. The Hudsons still have Donna. The cops still have Toby.

STOLEN BABY BUGGY CAUSES TRAFFIC TANGLE

ELKHART, IND.—(AP)—When traffic became tangled at Main and Jackson Streets, Policeman Walter Carter rushed into action.

He found it was caused by a baby buggy crossing the intersection against a red light. In the buggy was a three-year old girl and propping it was her four-year old brother.

Carter said the children had wandered away from home and "borrowed" the buggy from in front of a furniture store.

More Questions Concerning Rent Control Regulations Are Answered

Here is the second of a series of questions and answers The Reporter-Telegram is publishing concerning OPA rent control regulations which go into effect here Tuesday.

Q. I have three identical apartments. Two rent at $40, one at $35. Can I raise the rent on the third to equalize?

A. No, because these rents were not equal on the maximum rent date.

Q. My tenant says that my apartment is worth more than he is paying—can I collect more rent since it is all right with the tenant?

A. No, to accept more than the maximum rent, even though the tenant agreed to pay it, would be a violation of the regulation.

Q. May I raise my rent because the tenant is making higher wages?

A. No. This is not one of the grounds upon which an increase may be granted.

Capital Improvement Explaned

Q. What constitutes a major capital improvement?

A. A major capital improvement which substantially increases the rental value of the premises and for which improvement the landlord may petition for an increase in rent, will fall into one of the following: (1) a structural addition. This is a clear addition to the premises, such as the building of an additional room or the installation of plumbing, heating or electricity where such equipment did not previously exist, (2) a structural betterment, such as the modernization of an existing bathroom or kitchen or the replacing of a very old heating system with a more modern heating plant, or (3) a complete rehabilitation. Taken all together, this is a general improvement and reconditioning such as would place the property in a higher rental range. This is a general overhauling of the premises and not ordinary upkeep.

Q. Can the landlord obtain an increase in rent if the tenant uses more utilities such as gas and electricity than were used on the maximum rent date?

A. Usually in such cases where adjustments are granted it will be because an increase in the use of such services results from increased occupancy.

Q. I am now going to furnish my apartment which was not previously rented furnished. May I charge more rent?

A. Yes, you may set your own first rent and must within 30 days register the property at the area OPA rent office. The rent director may reduce this rent if he finds it to be higher than the prevailing rent for similar furnished premises on the maximum rent date. You may, if you wish, ask the rent director's opinion of a proper rent before renting.

Q. If landlord is renting furnished rooms and later adds kitchen privileges, can he get an increase in rent for these additional privileges?

A. Yes, if the privileges given to the tenant amount to a substantial increase in services, the landlord may file a petition with the area rent office for a rent increase.

Q. If on the maximum rent date the occupant was a blood relation, can I increase the rent on a new tenant?

A. You may petition the area rent office for an increase if the rent was substantially lower than the rent charged for similar premises on the maximum rent date because of the blood relationship.

Q. On the maximum rent date my tenant had been with me for a long time on a month-to-month basis. I was satisfied with him and I had not raised his rent. Can I increase the rent on a new tenant?

A. No, this is not a ground for an increase under the rent regulation.

Q. For five years my landlord charged me $40 per month in winter and $35 in summer. The maximum rent is in winter. He has refused to lower my rent during summer. Must the landlord reduce the rent in summer?

A. The tenant may file an application for a decrease in the rent during the summer months. Until an order of the rent director is issued reducing the rent, the rent is $40 per month.

ICE CREAM CONE IS REFUSED WAR WORKER

DENVER—(AP)—Melvin L. Backes, 46, Denver shipyard worker enroute to a new job in Portland, Ore., was refused an ice cream cone in the service men's canteen at the station. He pleaded that he was a war worker and, besides, had two sons in the service. Rules are rules, replied the waitress.

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Grocer Leo R. Jensen always left $6.50 in small change in his cash register, with the drawer open, believing that if burglars entered they'd take the money and not damage the costly depository.

It worked even better than that. A burglar came in, took the money and left without damaging anything. And he was convicted of third degree burglary, too, after police caught him close by—with exactly $6.50 in small change in his pocket.
