Americans Invade Mapia Island As Trap Tightens

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor

American forces have seized the Mapia Islands, 900 miles behind front lines in the Philippines where the U. S. Sixth Army Wednesday tightened a triangular trap on the cornered enemy.

A small amphibious force Wednesday overwhelmed meager resistance in the Mapia landings, 150 miles north of Western Dutch New Guinea. Two days of aerial bombardment by planes from the huge Biak Island airdromes, and a preliminary naval barrage shattered the light Nipponese defenses.

The invasion knocks out lookout posts from which Japanese spotters warned other enemy-held islands that U. S. bombers were on the way from Biak.

Knocked Off 24 Jap Ships

In other Oriental war theaters British submarines knocked off 24 more Japanese ships, Australia formally announced the enemy threat of invasion had vanished, and Chungking expressed growing fears of an invasion of interior China.

In the Philippines a double enveloping movement by the U. S. 24th Division on Northern Leyte Island "practically severed the Ormos road" and trapped several thousand Nipponese troops around Limon, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced. The 24th is 14 miles north of Ormoc.

The advancing Seventh Division "bloodily repulsed" enemy counterattacks at Balogo, ten miles south of Ormoc. This is the closest American forces have come to the Nipponese stronghold.

PT boats and Yank planes lashed what shipping they could find in the bay west of Ormoc.

While Yank troops were taking over the Dutch-owned Mapia Islands, Netherlands officials announced in Washington they would soon recruit an army of their own to liberate the rest of the Dutch East Indies.

Texaco Wildcat In SE Winkler Flows 27.3 BOPH

By JAMES C. WATSON Oil Editor

The Texas Company No. 1 Hogg, Southeast Winkler County wildcat, in section 24, block B-10, was shut in to change well connection, early Thursday morning, after flowing 246 barrels of oil into tanks in nine hours.

Following injection of 1,000 gallons of acid, through casing perforations at 6,100-6,400 feet, the swab was pulled twice and the well kicked off and flowed mud, water, oil and gas into pits for one hour and ten minutes.

It was then turned to storage and made the flow which averaged 27.3 barrels of oil per hour. This discovery is one mile north and one-half mile west of the initial producer in the North Monahan pool, which gets its oil from the same section as the No. 1 Hogg—the Tubb-Perman.

Had Gas Cut Mud

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 McElroy, section 135, block E, CCS&RGNG survey, in West Upton County, was drilling ahead below 6,448 feet, in black shale, after taking a 45-minute drillstem test at 6,376-6,448 feet. Recovery was 1,380 feet of gas cut drilling mud.

Texaco and Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Cowden, section 7, block 44, TU survey, T-1-N, in Northwest Ector County, was making new hole, past 5,409 feet, in line after a 30-minute drillstem test at 5,280-5,389 feet, recovered 30 feet of drilling mud with no oil or gas shows.

Pecos County Wildcat

The Texas Company No. 1 C. R. Hart, 1,980 feet from the south and 690 feet from the east lines of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, block 114, GC&SP survey, is a wildcat to 3,000 feet, approximately one mile southwest of closest producing well in the Fort Stockton field in West-Central Pecos County, where the production is being tested.

Death Of Dies Committee Is Nearing Daily

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON—(AP)

For more than six years a congressional institution that few members ever opposed, the Dies Committee is headed for extinction—for lack of influential Capitol Hill friends.

Created by the House in May, 1938, to investigate un-American activities and headed since then by Rep. Martin Dies, Texas Democrat, the committee is due to die on January 3.

Five Times in the past the House overwhelmingly has voted to renew its life. It has given it more than $650,000 to finance its far-flung investigations that have produced 17 printed volumes of testimony and 20 volumes of reports.

But no one influential enough to obtain results has volunteered to step forward to request a sixth continuation, and the odds are that the end of 1944 would see the end of the committee. In its lifetime, it has been one of the most criticized and at the same time most praised investigational bodies in recent congressional history. It has delved into charges of both Communistic and Fascistic activities.

Dies Out

Dies himself will not be back for the new Congress, having decided not to seek re-election, giving reasons of health. The CIO Political Action Committee, current object of committee investigation, had until then planned a campaign to prevent his return.

Three other members were defeated in this year's primary or general elections—Reps. Starnes of Alabama and Costello of California, Democrats, and Busbey of Illinois, Republican. Two Democrats, Eberharter of Pennsylvania and Courtney of Tennessee, and two Republicans, Thomas of New Jersey and Mundt of South Dakota, were re-elected.

Mutilation Slayer Of Two Nude Women Held By Police

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A husky, 31-year-old waiter was held incommunicado Thursday after confessing, police said, one of the most fiendish crimes on record—the mutilation slaying of two nude women in separate downtown hotels.

Drinking wine at a nearby bar, Otto Steve Wilson, recently medically discharged from the Navy, was handcuffed Wednesday night by an alert patrolman shortly after the suspect's description had been broadcast.

The first victim was Virgie Lee Griffin 25, wife of a truck driver. A hotel maid on routine cleaning rounds found her lying in the closet of one room. The torso had been split from neck to abdomen, the right leg severed at the hip and knee, the right shoulder hacked through. A butcher knife with a 9-inch blade lay nearby. Razor blades were scattered on the floor.

Congress Thinks Of Creating New Five-Star General

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress showed a bill creating five star generals and admirals toward the top of the legislative slate Thursday.

It shares ranking with broader matters due to be handled before Christmas.

At Roosevelt's request, legislation adding a fifth star to the shoulder insignia of several four star generals and admirals was readied for possibly early action. It can now be called up in the House at any time.

Under it, two generals and two admirals would be designated "General of the Army" and "Admiral of the Fleet." The four presumably are General George C. Marshall, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Admiral Ernest J. King and Admiral William D. Leahy.

Generals Douglas MacArthur and H. H. Arnold and Admirals Chester W. Nimitz and William F. Halsey also may be added to the list.

Morganthau Hopes For Army-Navy Game Big City Transfer

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Morganthau said Thursday he hopes the Army-Navy football game will be transferred to a big city stadium, as a War Bond show.

He added that he believes the Treasury can sell $50,000,000 in bonds in connection with the game if it is moved from Annapolis, where only about 20,000 spectators can be accommodated.

President Roosevelt has disclosed he is considering the advisability of moving the game to a stadium where upwards of 60,000 persons can be accommodated.

Harold M. Vestal Is Prisoner Of War

Mrs. Laura E. Vestal has been informed her son, Sgt. Harold M. Vestal, was last reported by the International Red Cross a prisoner of war in Hungary.

The Red Cross also reported he had shell splinter wounds in both legs and the right arm, but was on the way to recovery.

Mrs. Vestal was advised by the Army Service Forces that his status now is not certain because of chaotic conditions in Hungary, and suggested she not try to correspond with him until further information is obtained.

Russians Blast East Nazi Flank

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Red Army has cracked the German flank east of Budapest, and is hurling its armored might through a breach within 12 miles of the Hungarian capital, front dispatches said Thursday. A decisive battle for control of the invasion routes to Austria appeared imminent.

The German withdrawal extended along a 100-mile front from Mende, 12 miles southeast of Budapest, to Korom and other towns 10 miles below the North Hungarian rail junction of Miskolc.

The tired and mauled German Panzer units fell back toward the southern base of the Matra Mountains and westward to the perimeter defenses of Budapest.

One Soviet column, following the Jaszbereny-Budapest railway, passed well beyond Mende, 12 miles from the capital, and drew the siege line tighter against the virtually doomed city.

Other Russian formations of tanks, cavalry and infantry, supported by swarms of attack planes, drove straight north in a continuation of the challenge for mastery of the highway and railway communications leading to Vienna.

Democrats Have Large Plurality

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Democratic House plurality of 53 members over Republicans was shown Thursday in a complete unofficial test compiled from the November 7 election.

The lineup in the new house convening January 3 (barring the possibility that late soldier vote counts may switch some districts) will be: Democrats, 243; Republicans, 190; Progressive, 1; American Labor, 1.

This compares with the margin of two to the Democrats held over Republicans when they went into the election. However, the Democrats elected three additional members to fill unexpired terms—until January 3—while one Democrat has resigned.

The lineup now is 216 Democrats and 212 Republicans. Provided soldier votes do not wipe out present leads in Missouri and Pennsylvania, the new Senate will line-up this way: Democrat 57; Republicans 38; Progressive 1.

This would give the Republicans a net gain of one. Of the 35 Senate seats contested for, the Democrats apparently won 21 and the Republicans 14.

City's Trailer Camp Is Being Expanded

Workmen are busy at the city's trailer camp, at the old ball park extended water, gas and electric lines to accommodate 50 per cent more trailers.

The project was not started as a money-making venture by the city, Mayor A. N. Hendrickson said, but rather to aid in housing here. The city sets rentals at a low rate.

City Council Holds Its Regular Meeting

The city council met in regular session Wednesday afternoon at the city hall and disposed of routine business. Mayor A. N. Hendrickson announced at the council meeting he will leave Friday for New York to remain until January 1. Paul McHargue will act as mayor during Hendrickson's absence.

New Commanding Officer

Col. John M. White will arrive in Midland within a few days to become commanding officer of the Midland Army Air Field, succeeding Col. Charles H. Downman, who will become commanding officer of the Hondo, Texas, Army Air Field. Colonel White for the last two years has been commanding officer of the Childress Army Air Field. The 34-year-old colonel, a native of Texas, formerly served as director of training at the Midland Army Air Field.

Heavy Rain Hits Midland As Snow Is Reported In Nearby Sections

The weather man has thrown the book at Midland County with a cloudy cold weather, rain and a slight touch of sleet.

Midland Army Air Field reported 1.02 inches of rain fell there until 7:30 a. m.

The rain, which started falling Wednesday night, was greeted with mixed emotions by farmers and ranchers of the county.

A heavy snow was reported at Carlsbad, Seagraves and Lubbock with the fall continuing Thursday. Agricultural observers report the cotton remaining in the fields probably will be lowered some in grade as a result of the rain, but in many instances any damage to the cotton probably will be offset by the advantage of an early season for those who want to do early plowing.

Ranges and pastures will benefit from the rain to the extent that good winter pastures practically are assured. Reports to the AAA office indicate the rain was fairly general over the entire county and most Midland County ranchers have their winter pasture problem solved.

The rains were accompanied by a temperature which fell to within eight degrees of the freezing point as the mercury rested at the 40 degree mark from 3 to 9 a. m. Thursday, which was four degrees under Wednesday's minimum of 44 degrees.

The mercury didn't do much climbing Wednesday as the maximum temperature for the day only reached 50 degrees from 2 to 7 p. m.

Snow And Fog
Guadalupe Pass, in Far West Texas, had snow, fog and a strong north wind along with its 29-degree temperature.

Amarillo reported no rain and 26-degree weather, a rise from Wednesday's low of 29. Marfa had 36 degrees, Big Spring 41 and Abilene and El Paso, 44. The mercury at Dallas dropped two degrees to 43 Thursday morning. In warm South Texas, Brownsville had a reading of 69, Corpus Christi 59 and Houston 36. Austin had 46 and Lufkin 50.

Rainfall, general over the state except for the Amarillo and El Paso areas, was heaviest at Brady, 1.12 inches, and Eldorado, 1.05.

Senators Change War Plan To Asiatic Mainland, Says Gen. Wedemeyer

CHUNGKING—(AP)—Japan plans to fight the final, decisive battles of the war on the Asiatic mainland and is steadily reinforcing her substantial strength in South China, Maj. Gen. G. Wedemeyer said in an interview Thursday.

He succeeded Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell Oct. 31 as commander of U. S. forces in the China Theater and as chief of staff to President Chiang Kai-Shek. He declined to discuss the removal of Gen. Stilwell.

Wedemeyer said he believed the war against Japan would last about a year after Germany was beaten, "but everyone thought the war in Europe would be over this year—and it may run into early next summer."

He said Japanese strategy originally based on employment of naval and air forces had proved ineffective. The Japanese now have gone from an oceanic to a continental strategy, he said, adding: "The Japanese army is fairly well intact and well trained and equipped."

He declined to estimate Japanese strength in South China except to say it represented a very formidable array, steadily being strengthened.

Yank Troops Smash Forward On All Fronts Except Aachen Sector

LONDON—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's winter offensive smashed forward on the Western Front everywhere except in the U. S. First Army sector in the Aachen area Thursday.

From within sight of the Swiss Alps to the sodden marshes of Holland Allied Armies hammered the Germans toward their pre-war frontier.

The First French Army, latest of Eisenhower's forces to spring into action, plowed forward on a 25-mile front on both sides of the Doubs River to a point within 11 miles of Belfort in the historic gap to the Rhine.

U. S. Ninth Army Opens New Attack

WITH THE U. S. NINTH ARMY, GERMANY—(AP) The United States Ninth Army, whose whereabouts has been a major secret for months, attacked German homeland defenses near the Dutch border Thursday.

The Ninth, commanded by Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson, who is known familiarly as "Texas Bill," attacked after planes had laid an aerial bombardment. The aircraft continued to support the attack. Simpson is a native of Weatherford, Texas.

It was the fourth American army beating against the German West Wall fortifications.

Angelina County Goes Over Quota Ere Drive Starts

LUFKIN—(AP)—The Sixth War Loan drive opens Monday, but Angelina County already has exceeded its $1,500,000 quota by nearly $100,000.

A one-day radio bond sale was conducted, and the county went over the top Wednesday.

Senate Group Is To Probe UT Row Atty. Gen. Rules

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Attorney General said in an opinion Thursday afternoon the Senate's Special Educational Investigating Committee has full authority to investigate the University of Texas administrative controversy.

The committee which had voted to ask for the opinion after its authority had been questioned was in recess until 1:30 p. m. when it intended to begin its inquiry.

Specifically, the committee which was created at the last session of the legislature was authorized to investigate the purchase and distribution of free public school text books. It also was authorized, by resolution to inquire "into such other matters affecting the schools of Texas as in its wisdom it may see fit."

Full Authorization
The opinion by Assistant Attorney General Ode Speer said this phrase gave the committee authority to make the university inquiry. He said in part: "Now, undoubtedly, the University of Texas is included in the broad language 'the schools of Texas.' Indeed, it is the highest, greatest, and in many respects, the most important institution of the many great schools of Texas. It is to the schools of Texas what the Constitution is to the acts of the Legislature—the supreme component part."

Whatever affects the University of Texas affects in some degree every lesser state institution and public free school in the state—every school.

First Sgt. Purvis Most Decorated Soldier On Front

By HAL BOYLE WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY—(AP)—The only soldier along the front currently wearing two black eyes from playing football inside the Siegfried Line is also probably the most wounded and most decorated American enlisted man now fighting in Germany. He is First Sgt. Darwin Purvis, 27, of Mars, Pa., who has fought in more than 40 tank engagements in 26 months overseas in Africa, Sicily and Europe.

Interdependence

Premier Stalin made a good speech and a heartening one on the occasion of the anniversary of the Soviet revolution. It was sober, factual and statesmanlike, and much less inflammatory than the writing in some of the journals which reflect his government's attitude.

The Russian leader's latest address came at a propitious time as far as this country is concerned. It served as an antidote to Izvestia's unwarranted and unsubstantial piece of the day before, which hinted at a "fake attempt" on Governor Dewey's life in a last-minute "Reichstag fire" attempt to rouse the public against American Communists.

It tempered other intemperate comments on our political campaign in the Russian press. And it did much to counteract that strange tirade, also in Izvestia, questioning the presence of American troops in Iran—though no one knew better than the Russians that the sole reason for their presence was to expedite delivery of American supplies to Russia.

When Stalin speaks it is with the authority of the Russian state. Thus there is comfort to be derived from his confident assertion that a new, strong, peace-loving international organization "will be effective if the great powers, which have borne... the main burden of the war against Germany, will act in future also in the spirit of unanimity and accord."

But what might be of greatest long-range importance (at least for Americans) was Stalin's stressing of Allied interdependence, his ready admission that, while the second front could not have succeeded without the Russian bulwark in the East, neither could recent Russian successes have been possible without the full-scale offensive in the West.

We Americans are prone to forget that obvious interdependence. Some of us seem terrified of hurting Russian feelings, and are so oversolicitous as to blandly accept Soviet attacks on one of our political parties.

Allied interdependence will not cease with victory. The help, leadership and good will of this country, the world's strongest, will be indispensable. That being so, it seems neither isolationist, subversive nor anti-Russian to ask why we cannot honestly question Russian diplomatic policy on occasion even while we admire Russian courage and virtues, and why we cannot conduct our own domestic affairs without feeling apprehensive.

Regimentation is an overworked bogey, but a situation has come up in which it seems proper to rear regimentation's ugly head and scare the daylights out of everybody while there is yet time.

In the latest issue of "Tomorrow's Town," put out by the National Committee on Housing, there is the suggestion by a California architect that the planning of a house is not the business of an amateur (meaning the unimportant creature who is merely going to build, pay for and live in the dwelling) but of a professional.

Can it be that we are coming to the point where a man's home is not his castle unless the turrets and battlements bear the professional stamp? Will the desire for an enclosed back porch become a matter of bureaucratic concern?

If so, let us raise a howl before a new generation comes along to whom the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" will be as meaningless as a jungle chant.

THE WAR TODAY By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

If we are going to keep up with the rapid changes in the international kaleidoscope we must miss the far-reaching implications of the Anglo-French love-least growing out of the visit of Britain's Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Minister Eden to General De Gaulle in Paris.

This is one of the outstanding political developments of the war. It's something which will mount in importance, for we are witnessing—or so I believe—the early manufacturing of the great powers for post-war influence in a Europe which is on the verge of a new epoch.

We start from the premise that Russia bids fair to emerge as the dominant power not only of Europe but of Asia—that is, of the whole Eastern Hemisphere. In short, the Soviet Union is cutting across the best of John Bull who long has been the undisputed policeman of Europe and points east.

Only Prologue The Paris conference is widely regarded as aiming at the formation of a bloc of Western European nations—Britain, France, Belgium and Holland (and maybe others)—to guard against German aggression. Well, there's no doubt that the formation of a bloc is rich. Economic affairs also may be expected to play an important part. However, I believe that's only the prologue.

Woman's Wednesday Club Hears Book Review On Germany

The Woman's Wednesday Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ida Fay Cowden, 201 North B Street. Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, president, had charge of the business session.

At the business meeting, the club voted to send a cash donation to the fund now being raised by the Organization of World War II Mothers to beautify the grounds of the McCloskey General Hospital in Temple, Texas.

The members also decided that the club's project for the coming year would be the placing of at least ten worth while volumes on the Memorial Shelf of the Midland County Library. The idea for this shelf was originated by the Woman's Wednesday Club, and the first volume for it was contributed by the club.

After all the business was taken care of, Mrs. Etie Payne reviewed Vicki Baum's novel, "Hotel Berlin '43," which is the story of the escape of a hero of the German underground movement.

International Business Conference Says Nazi Shipping Be Restricted

RYE, N. Y. — (AP) — German and Japanese merchant shipping after the war must be sharply restricted to prevent either nation from ever again developing into strong naval power, in the opinion of delegates to the International Business Conference.

This viewpoint was expressed in a resolution which the conference panel on transportation agreed on for presentation to the full membership at a plenary session Friday. Delegates in the transportation section were understood to have favored such a stand on the grounds that if the Axis powers were permitted unlimited shipping and ship-building facilities after the war they would have easy opportunity of secretly building naval vessels.

The Curtain Call

News Of The Civic Theater

Playing the part of the pompous, over-important clubwoman Anna Sue Barrow has one of the best character parts in the Civic Theater's production, "First Lady," and her interpretation of the role promises to be one of the high spots of the show.

In addition to being a natural-born actress, Miss Barrow has had a great deal of dramatic experience. Some of the other plays in which she has had important roles have been, "Ladies In Retirement" and "Mr. and Mrs. North."

Following her graduation from New Mexico A&M College, where she participated in collegiate little theater activities, she taught dramatics in a Carlsbad, New Mexico, high school.

She decided, however, to give up teaching for a while, and came to Midland from her home town of Las Cruces, New Mexico, to work as a stenographer for the Plymouth Oil Company.

One of Miss Barrow's best dramatic assets is a well-developed stage voice, which she uses to its fullest advantage in portraying Mrs. Louella May Creevey, national president of the Women's Peace, Purity and Patriotism Society. It is Mrs. Creevey, with all the thousands of members of the WPPPS behind her, who booms Carter Hibbard, elderly Supreme Court judge, for president, and starts off the fireworks in the Kaufman and Dayton satire on Washington politics.

Now Its Mulching Time

In Montana, They Say

BOZEMAN, MONT.—(AP)—Montana State College horticulturists sent out this SOS: It's time for victory gardeners to mulch those strawberry plants.

Mulching is best done with straw, often obtainable at homes of nearby milk cows, or old potato vines. The experts frown on leaves raked from lawns — they smother wintering plants.

If you're wondering, mulch keeps plant roots warm and comfy.

All American Bus Line Hearings To Start Next Week

The State Railroad Commission will start holding hearings Tuesday in Gainesville on an application of All American Buses asking permission to do interstate business along its route in Texas.

Besides Gainesville, hearings will be held in Breckenridge, Eastland, Abilene, Midland, Pecos, El Paso and Fort Worth.

The All American line started operations in September 1935 and operates from New York City to San Francisco. In Texas its buses operate on Highways No. 77 and Highway No. 80, entering the state north of Gainesville and leaving the state at Anthony, N. M.

The application not only includes the present route the company is using, but also includes the new Highway No. 80 from west of Weatherford through Ranger, Eastland and Cisco into Abilene.

Promises More Buses

The company which started with one schedule a day, now is using the latest type of equipment and operates a minimum of four cars each day over the route. Officials say more buses will be put in operation of the permit is granted. It now has rights to carry local business in Missouri and Oklahoma.

The All American company has become one of the larger operators of buses and handles from 300 to 400 passengers a day through Texas. It recently purchased property in Dallas and El Paso where it erected modern bus terminals.

If the permit is granted, the company will be able to carry passengers between Texas points. It now does only an interstate business.

The Greyhound Lines are opposing the application.

Rotarians Urged To Express Gratitude

Ivy Pratt told Rotarians Thursday morning that gratitude is the "fruit of great cultivation," and urged Rotarians to not only be grateful but to "prove it."

"We are not ungrateful, but we often neglect to express the gratitude in our hearts," he told the club at its meeting in the Scharbauer Hotel. "We fail to thank the fellow who helped us. Always give the other fellow a pat on the back when he helps or does a good job. All work and no praise makes men dull."

Pratt also discussed the fundamentals of Rotary and asserted 5,200 Rotary clubs meet each week. Even during wartime, he continued, more than 20 new clubs have been started in the British Isles.

Furnishes Vision

"Rotary," he said, "furnishes visions for men of all countries to go forward and do something for the other fellow."

He described Rotary as a great four-lane highway with the first lane for friendship and the second for better business relations. The third, he listed, as community service, and the fourth the advancement of international understanding which "will bring goodwill and peace to the world."

He asserted there is no place in Rotary for isolationists or for selfishness.

Merl Cornelius sang a selection for the entertainment of the Rotarians. Ray Upham was program chairman.

C. H. Shepard, president, appointed Guy Brennan chairman of the club's safety committee. Members are Herbert Collins, J. P. Carlson, Roy McKee, R. W. Hamilton and J. E. (Bob) Hill.

Turkey Should Be Slow-Roasted

Mandarin sauce is special addition to roast turkey.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Turkey's too valuable to take chances with its roasting. As it now looks, we'll have enough to give each civilian about 3 pounds this year, after the boys in service get theirs.

Here's some good turkey talk by Kathryn B. Niles, home economist of the Poultry and Egg National Board:

Cook by dry heat in an open pan. No water is added to the pan, no cover is used, and no basting is done. Equipment, a shallow pan and rack. The shallow pan allows the heat to circulate around the bird, at least 1/2 inch high, raises the bird off the bottom, keeping it out of the pan juices.

Baptist Convention Reports Improved Financial Status

SAN ANTONIO —(P)—The improved financial condition of the Baptist Foundation of Texas was reported to the Baptist General Convention here Thursday.

The Foundation has reduced the $6,000,000 debt of Texas Baptists to $1,000,000 and has increased endowments for Texas Baptist institutions from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 since 1931, George Mason, Dallas, executive secretary to the convention, said.

The convention also was told that the board now has 514 missionaries working in 1050 churches and mission stations in every state of the Southern Baptist Convention and in Cuba and Central America. Debts which formerly hampered the missions program have been liquidated, said Rev. E. E. Gregory, Jr., Comanche, chairman of the home missions committee, who made the report.

The committee on Baptist hospitals of Texas reported that during the past year five hospitals under the Texas Convention cared for 55,195 patients and gave $133,382 to charity. Total present assets of the hospitals, said Chairman Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, is $6,011,810.

The executive board presented for approval and adoption a $3,000,000 budget for the next convention year. It will be divided equally among state missions, endowment and Southwide causes.

Speakers Wednesday were Dr. J. M. Dawson, Waco, and Dr. J. B. Lawrence, Atlanta, Ga.

Japs Worried Over Diamond Shortage

By The Associated Press

Scarcity of diamonds and platinum in Japan is worrying the Mikado's government, Tokyo radio intimated.

Domestic broadcasts recorded by the Federal Communications Commission said the Nipponese government was cracking down on platinum hoarders and would continue to buy all the diamonds it could get.

Government purchases of diamonds were continued for a month because "the quantity consumed by the aircraft and radio-wave weapon fields is tremendous."

European Casualties Exceeding 200,000

WASHINGTON —(P)— American ground force casualties in Western Europe now exceed 200,000.

The War Department said Thursday the 200,349 total includes 35,884 killed, 145,788 wounded and 18,677 missing to November 1. It does not cover the Air Force but embraces the Central Postal Directory which landed in Southern France as well as the armies in the north.

Cheyenne Residents Rally To Give Gifts To Incurable Child

CHEYENNE, WYO. —(P)—Cheyenne pitched in Thursday to see that Forest (Nubbins) Hoffman has everything to make him happy for "his Christmas" next Sunday.

His mother, Mrs. Marshall Hoffman, reported numerous boxes have arrived at the Hoffman home for three-year-old Nubbins' Christmas from Cheyenne residents.

Highly Excited

Because he knows Christmas is coming, Nubbins—who may not live until Dec. 25—was in a high state of excitement Thursday. The boy is suffering from what has been diagnosed as an incurable ailment.

His parents promised him that his Christmas tree would be decorated by Santa Claus Saturday night and that Sunday would be Christmas.

The boy hasn't been interested greatly in anything for his Christmas except the tree, Mrs. Hoffman said. It will be set up in his room, opposite his bed, so he can see it first thing "Christmas morning."

Battle Talkers Are Trained By Navy To Give Precise Signals Under Fire

By ANN STEVICK
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Loose talk can't lose lives on shipboard, too. That's battle-talkers. They're the men who talk into head phones or hand sets plugged into a jack-box something like a light socket, sending vital orders from the modern battleship's hundreds of telephone stations to the point of action.

Battle-talkers can't have loose tongues. They must speak clearly, precisely, and fast, because there's no time for slips when you have to get off in the thick of battle a sentence like "Prepare to illuminate bearing 0-35 with searchlight and starshell."

The captain, commander, or other officer may give the original orders: "Port engine ahead full," but it's up to the talkers to get it over the ship's wires to the engine room officer so it doesn't sound like: "Put ten in the head full." When it's time to telephone the message: "Prepare to repeat dive bomber attack on starboard quarter," it's high time with nothing to spare for false starts or heard mumbling.

Ship's phones are sound-powered. Voice vibrations work up current to carry the sound, and it takes a strong, clear tone to do it. Navy has been quietly busy since early in 1943 on a training program for telephone battle-talkers. It began at Eastern training stations, spread to the West Coast, and recently to Pearl Harbor to catch up with telephone talkers from any ship which comes in there.

Early research was done by the Office of Scientific Research and Development. A test set-up with sailors from the USS New Jersey as guinea pigs was worked out at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Mock telephone systems were used to find a simple speech interview which could be given by inexperienced officers.

The sailors repeated commands and numbers from memory, read a sample paragraph containing all American speech sounds. Since then, at the Norfolk Yard, some 40,000 seamen have been classified into groups as well qualified, qualified, and not qualified. The best are used at vital key posts, the poorest not at all.

Mass Drill Is Effective

Since some 70 per cent of Navy personnel comes in for telephone watch duty, a mass drill plan for 40 or 50 men is used for basic training to impress first facts of loudness and speed. The teacher, likely to be a speech expert recruited for the job, points out that such catchy words as "boiler, nine, the" are not "berler, nahn duh." "Nine" is always hard to tell from "five" in the telephone, is pronounced "niner" in Navy talk, instead of the familiar telephone operator's "ni-yeh," which Navy research showed was confused with "five" three times as often as "niner."

The rapid-fire war-time training program requires two hours of general elementary training for all recruits; a six-hour course for special training; and advanced practice courses for specialists in gunnery or engine-room battle talk. New methods and equipment are coming along. Psychologists have worked out tests for memory and ability to listen through noise. Battle noise recordings are being made to furnish a likely background for talking and memory tests. Special microphone machines play back the battle-talker's voice to aid in speech correction.

That takes care of the recruits pretty well. Next touchy problem which is passed over lightly was setting up a few speech sessions to make sure the brass hats spoke clearly enough so commands could be passed on without delay.

Waco Tigers Are Top Texas Team Replacing Bobcats

By The Associated Press

Waco's Tigers returned to first place in Texas schoolboy football rankings Thursday after being in the runner-up spot for two weeks in the vote of more than 20 sports writers of the state.

The Tigers gathered seven first-place ballots, thirteenth second places and three thirds to edge out San Angelo with its ten votes for first, seven for second, three for third and one each for fourth, fifth and sixth.

Amarillo replaced Highland Park (Dallas) in the third spot, moving up from fifth, while Highland Park dropped to fourth. Austin fell from fourth to fifth, Lufkin stayed in sixth, Vernon in seventh and Port Arthur went from ninth to eighth, while Abilene advanced from tenth to ninth, and Sunset (Dallas) fell from eighth to tenth.

Waco, San Angelo and Amarillo scored impressive victories last week, but Highland Park an Austin were just so-so.

Army-Navy Service Team Classic Would Pay Off Says Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—The Navy's best service team vs the Army's No. 1 club in a post-season War Bond benefit game.

That's the proposal made Thursday by Hal Middlesworth, sports editor of the Daily Oklahoman, in his column "On the Level." Middlesworth suggested that the game be played in the Los Angeles Coliseum, and predicted that the game between, say, the undefeated Norman, Okla., Navy Zoomers and March Field would fetch several million dollars in bonds.

He thought the game should be either a week before or after New Year's to avoid conflicts with Civil contests, and in addition to the Norman club, said that the Bainbridge, Md., Commodores or the Fort Pierce, Fla., Amphibians could hold down the ship for the Navy, with the Randolph Field, Second Air Force or the Third Air Force as Army possibilities.

Longview Vs Marshall Feature Game Of Schoolboy Football

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor

Veteran Pete Shotwell, who has coached high school football teams as long as the Texas Interscholastic League Race has been run, sends his Longview Lobos into their do-or-die battle Friday night as the feature of a week's play in which every district has important games.

It's Longview vs. Marshall, at Longview, and if Shotwell can get his Lobos over this hump—which he is not favored to do—it will virtually mean the District 11 championship for him. Then only three-beaten Gladewater would stand in the way.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr

NEW YORK—(AP)—Haven't confirmed this yet, but word comes from a good source that the Army Air Forces are going all out for big time basketball even more than for football. A team being assembled at Wright Field, Ohio, includes John (Georgetown) Mahnken, Harry (St. Johns) Boykoff, George (St. Joe) Senesky, and other big stars—big in every sense—Col. Heinie Miller, former NBA president now overseas (or on his way) with the Marines, has authored an article in Joe Gans for the current Esquire. . . . After those trimmings by Navy and Army, Ed McKeever still thinks his Notre Dame team could play Ohio State on about even terms.

Ohio State Has Little Chance Of Bowl Game

CHICAGO—(AP)—Ohio State's unbeaten and untied football team is casting longing, hopeful eyes at a possible post-season Rose Bowl game, but some of the Big Ten Conference faculty officials have frowned on the idea—and there's a conference rule opposing such contests.

The Buckeyes, receptive to a tentative bid to the coast classic, are backing a plan to have the conference change its rule banning post-season games, says Athletic Director L. W. St. John. A majority of the faculty athletic committee is necessary to lift the ban imposed several years ago and pave the way for Ohio to accept a formal bid. Opinions expressed by several officials Wednesday indicated the rule will not be rescinded.

Humble To Broadcast Three Football Games

Humble football broadcasters Saturday will present probably the most crucial games of the season in the Southwestern Conference race.

At 2:20 p.m. two games take the air simultaneously. The S.M.U.-Arkansas game will be broadcast over station KRLD, Dallas.

The second 2:20 p.m. game will be T. C. U.-Texas university tilt over stations KTSA, San Antonio and KGKO, Dallas-Ft. Worth.

The Rice-A. & M. game will take the air at 2:50 p.m. over WOAI, San Antonio and WFAA, Dallas-Ft. Worth.

Combat Films For Wounded Veterans

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Special motion pictures, filmed in combat, will keep GIs in all 58 general military hospitals up to date on what's happening on battlefields all over the world.

The War Department will show restricted staff film reports—official Signal Corps combat films, banned from public view by wounded veterans. These photographic "reports" show military operations on all fronts with complete explanatory remarks, but without editorial comment.

Final Judging At Dallas Hereford Show

DALLAS—(AP)—Final judging of choice stock will be made Thursday by Pablo Rizzo, Uruguayan judge, at the Pan American Hereford Exposition here.

Rizzo will pick winners of all remaining classes including the set of sire, two females bred and owned by exhibitor, pair of yearlings and pair of calves. The best five head chosen Thursday night when special awards will be made.

Wednesday Lady Domino 19th, two-year-old heifer from the ranch of James M. Brook, Brady, was judged grand champion female over WHR Miss Mixes 57th from the Wyoming Hereford Ranch, Cheyenne.

Bud, grand champion steer of the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America entries brought the top price of $2.25 a pound. It will be slaughtered and sent to Auburn General Hospital at McKinney. It was bought by Sanger Bros.

'Solid South's' Vote Unneeded By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Democrats have now won a presidential election regardless of the South for the fifth time since the Civil War.

The three other times they won the presidency in that 80-year period the "solid south" was needed to put their candidate over—in Grover Cleveland's elections in 1884 and 1892 and Woodrow Wilson's second election in 1916.

In every campaign it has been a bulwark on which the Democrats counted.

But an analysis Thursday showed that President Roosevelt would have won all his four terms without counting the South's eleven-state electoral vote. The same held true of Wilson in 1912 election.

Expressed Surprise

Politicians expressed surprise at these facts. But beyond an observation here and there that Southern voters also might be unaware of the historical record they preferred to let the situation speak for itself.

It is obvious, however, that the Democratic party, while not needing the south's vote in the electoral college to win with Roosevelt four times and Wilson once, could not have maintained its majorities in Congress without that big bloc of votes below the Mason-Dixon Line.

The presidential vote usually determines the make-up of Congress. Thus, if the South's 127 electoral votes had gone this time to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey instead of the President the Republicans might have come close to controlling the next House.

GI Settlement Program To Provide Farms For Returning War Veterans

DENVER—(AP)—Early enactment of a "soldier settlement program" to facilitate the rehabilitation of war veterans on new farms was advocated Thursday by Harry W. Bashore of Washington, commissioner of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

He reported in a speech prepared for the annual convention of the National Reclamation Association that the bureau already is working with Rep. Murdock (D-Ariz) "to formulate a plan which will be to the best interest of our service people."

"It will be ready soon," said Bashore.

The demand for farms by discharged soldiers, he predicted, "will far exceed anything we can offer large as our program is." He explained that the program, submitted to Congress, provides for development of about 135,000 new farms on some 6,700,000 acres of desert land plus supplemental water for approximately 10,000 additional acres having inadequate supplies.

War Vets Should Feel At Home On School Campus

AUSTIN—(AP)—Counselors and others concerned with channeling returned war veterans into college life should concentrate on making them feel at home on the campus, the Texas Commission on Co-ordination of Education was told Wednesday.

They should be made to feel at home both mentally and socially, several speakers suggested. They should be treated normally and as individuals, with any problems worked out on an individual basis.

Accomplishment Standards

Accomplishment standards rather than time standards should be the guide for setting up courses for returning servicemen in colleges and universities, R. O. Jonas, chief veterans' counselor of the University of Houston, told the commission.

"We do not expect standards to be lowered for veterans," Jonas said. "Veterans should follow the best standards, just as other students do. However, some courses can be accomplished with an individual assignment standard, and not a time standard."

Low Price Production Secret To Postwar Economy Says WFA

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States wants the world to know that it is ready to use aggressive measures to preserve overseas markets for its farmers.

This notice was given in twin announcements of the War Food Administration (1) that it will cut prices on American cotton and wheat in world markets and (2) that it will encourage farmers to continue large production of these and other products.

The price cutting will be made in the form of subsidies to exporters designed to enable them to meet prices of other countries which have not raised their prices to levels prevailing in this country.

The Roosevelt administration has in times past condemned the use of export subsidies and other aggressive measures in world markets. It has urged, on the other hand, the establishment of world agreements dividing markets and stabilizing markets. Such agreements were recommended by the United Nations Food Conference held at Hot Springs, Va., last year.

Announcement of export subsidy programs at this time is interpreted as a psychological weapon in behalf of international trade cooperation.

Dallas Union Terminal Employees Voting On Whether To Strike

DALLAS—(AP)—Dallas Union Terminal employees are voting on whether to call a strike "not later than Dec. 21."

Ballots were issued Wednesday and will be counted Nov. 30, H. R. Lyons of Minneapolis, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, has announced.

Employees ask time and a half pay for Sundays, holidays and all work over eight hours and a guarantee of an eight-hour working shift, Lyons said. He added the controversy has been before the National Board of Mediation since February, 1940.

General Ben Lear Is Inspecting Fourth Army

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, chief of all ground forces in the United States Army, is in Texas inspecting troops preparing for combat duty overseas.

He held conferences at Fourth Army Headquarters here Thursday.

General Lear succeeded the late Lt. Gen. Leslie J. McNair as head of the ground forces. He is on inspection tour of the Fourth Army, with troops stationed at posts in 11 states.

Idaho Is Confused On Thanksgivings This Year

BOISE, IDAHO—(AP)—Here's that double Thanksgiving confusion again: Idaho will have two Thanksgiving holidays—Nov. 23 and Nov. 30.

The attorney general opines that the state statute fixing the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving (that's Nov. 30) also called for observance of any day proclaimed as Thanksgiving by the President. That's Nov. 23.

The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics occupies one-sixth of the earth's land surface.

This Time the Jeep Rides

That versatile American vehicle—the jeep—entered a new phase of its colorful history when it was "carried" over a Chinese mountain and reassembled in the vicinity of Burma Road, where it was used to test roads over which captured Jap vehicles were later driven. The American Lead Lease machine is shown above as it was being carried by Chinese, with Capt. Lui An, of the Chinese Foreign Affairs Bureau and an interpreter attached to the American Operations Staff, standing by and directing the operations.

Eyewitness Reports On German Bestiality In Paris Prison Camp

By MAJOR RENE CHAUVIN
Commander, Battalion of Fort de Romainville (Paris)
Written for NEA Service
FORT DE ROMAINVILLE, PARIS—I am writing this story because I want Americans to know German bestiality for what it is. The story which I am going to tell is not an unusual story of extraordinary savagery and torture by the Germans. It is a very ordinary story, one which was repeated many times every day during the occupation, accounting for the lives of perhaps 200,000 French men and women. It is because this is the story of every-day bestiality that I want it told. Everything which I have written here I have seen myself. I will take two separate episodes. The first concerns me more personally. Before the war I was a lieutenant. I had been an engineer in civilian life. I went into the resistance movement in 1942. In March, 1943, I was arrested on suspicion of "trying to reorganize a dissolved political party" — whatever that meant. For four days I was kept at the Special Brigade of the Prefecture of Police. I was lucky. Personally I was only questioned, without torture, for hours on end. At the end of four days I was let go. Not So Lucky The others in my cell were not so lucky. There were about 25 of us—men and women—in one room about 30 by 12 feet. To watch us there were more than 25 policemen. Our food was a quarter of a pound of bread a day and as much water as we

Girl Bell Ringer Sets Record

LEICESTER, ENG. — (AP)— Jill Poole, 15, set a world record in bell ringing when she took part in the ringing of the Cambridge Surprise Maximus at Leicester Cathedral. The ringing of 12 bells involved 280 changes and took three hours and 55 minutes to complete. The youngest ringer ever to take part in such intricate exercises, Miss Poole took up bell ringing when she was 13. She is the daughter of H. J. Poole, secretary of the National Guild of Police Bell Ringers.

wanted. For sleeping, we had a total of four small benches. Those among us who were suspected of being franc-tireurs (snipers) were chained to the wall hand and feet tied so they could not move. Every day several people were taken away for a few hours for torture. I saw with my own eyes one man who was tortured for three hours every day for the four days I was there. The tortures? I saw one man who was blacked from the base of his skull to his ankles from being whipped with a bull whip. He had over 50 open wounds on his back. Sometimes it was a mass beating up, as many as 15 men mutilating a single man. Sometimes the torture was more "refined." For instance, a man's arms were chained behind his back, his feet chained together and to the chain on his arms behind his back. An ordinary chair was turned upside down so that its four feet stuck up in the air. Then the chained man was thrown up in the air and let fall on the chair's legs. He was thrown up over and over again until he passed out. Then water was thrown on his face until he could be revived for further torture. The only medication we had to give him when he was returned to our cell was water. Nothing more. Women fared worse. They received not only these tortures but others so disgusting and so savage that I cannot write about them here. The burning of women's breasts with cigarettes was only the beginning. So much for those who lived. Somehow, miraculously, many persons thus tortured did live — many of them cripples for life. As for those who died, let me tell you the story which we found when we took the Fort de Romainville on August 26. The Germans used this fort as a concentration camp for political prisoners. We don't know the whole story, because by the time we got here the Germans had all fled, taking with them any records they may have bothered to keep.

Squalor And Misery I won't go into the general conditions of the camp. The filth, squalor, overcrowding, undernourishment, and general bestial conditions of German concentration camps are too well known to bear repetition here. I will only say this was no exception. We found 11 bodies — 10 men and a woman — horribly mangled, heaped together and not even buried. All the bodies showed signs of beating before being shot. Most of the feet were bound together with barbed wire. The Germans had used explosive bullets to mow these human beings down. As a result, there was nothing left of what had been the heads and chests where these bullets had entered and exploded. We could see that the men and the woman had been shot while on their knees, their arms around each other's necks. We don't have to guess about these things. Like the 50 people kept in confinement in a small, hellish dungeon in the fort and then mowed down, en masse, by machine guns. Put my story concerning only things which I myself have seen. Tortures and acts of cruelty which seem unbelievable — until you have seen them, not once, but many times. America must believe them, too.

America Still Needs 6,000 Tons Of Tin Annually For War

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON —The nation's housewives have stopped saving tin cans, but the country still needs tin — perhaps as much as 5,300 to 6,000 tons annually. The used tin cans that housewives washed out and prepared for collection in their neighborhoods have provided the only domestic source of tin the nation had. Today the government isn't getting anywhere near the tin needed — only around 2,000 or 3,000 tons yearly. That's why the War Production Board's Salvage Committee is revitalizing its campaign program, setting up what it calls a "well organized structure for the collection of cans."

WPB salvage officials say the announcement several weeks ago that collapsible tubes were no longer wanted had a bad psychological effect on the public. Failed To Emphasize The announcement failed to emphasize why the tubes were no longer wanted. The majority were war-fabricated, contained little or no tin. The country still gets some tin from South America. But even if the war should end tomorrow, the visible supply would last but one and a half years. This is a dangerous position to be in. If you're got enough money in the bank to live on for a year and a half, but know you'd get no additional money for two years, you'd worry too, WPB officials say.

Defeat of the Japanese, even tomorrow, still leaves us out on a limb as far as tin is concerned. It would take considerable time to rebuild and rehabilitate Japanese tin holdings. The tin shortage, however, isn't as critical as the paper shortage, WPB officials hasten to say. Lots of people, WPB says, have foresaid, early relief on the pulp situation. This is not true, they say, even though we are getting more pulp out of Canada than ever before. Manpower and lack of transportation facilities are slowing things up in that direction. In addition, the surplus pulp stocks were able to buy from the Scandinavian countries we can't get now.

There is no immediate relief in sight in the pulp situation, and we need several hundred thousand tons right now, and on through the months ahead, WPB says. Paper requirements for military purposes are constantly going up. Paper Holidays In operation now, or about to be, in some 400 cities scattered throughout the nation are WPB-instigated "paper holidays," carried out by civic organizations in joint cooperation with citizens. Boston has been a successful example to other cities. The idea has been to get people to take unwrapped all packages that don't need to be wrapped. "Of course," said one member of the salvage campaign, "we don't expect people to carry such items as two pounds of birdseed home in their bare fists."

"Still," he pointed out, "newspapers read per family average 28 pounds per month. That's a lot of blood plasma containers."

Flavor Pumpkin Pie With Maple

Maple pumpkin pie is Thanksgiving surprise dessert.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Pumpkin pie is part of Thanksgiving dinner. But how would you like slightly different version—one with maple syrup and chopped nuts in it? Developed by Lucy Malby, of Corvallis, New York, an old kitchen pal of this column, this is a prize winner. Of course, a good pie goes well any day. You don't have to wait until Thanksgiving Day.

Maple Pumpkin Pie

Pastry: Two cups flour, sifted, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt 2/3 cup of shortening, 6 to 8 tablespoons ice water.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in shortening, until the size of peas, with a pastry blender or two knives. Add the ice water a little at a time, mixing it in gently with a fork. Use only enough water to make the dough stick together. Pat into a ball and chill.

Roll out two-thirds of the pastry and line a nine-inch crinkle edge heat resistant glass pie plate with it, making a deep crimped edge.

Filling: One and one-half cups cooked pumpkin, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup maple syrup, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons chopped toasted almonds.

Combine filling ingredients in the order mentioned above with the exception of the almonds, and beat all with a rotary egg beater to make sure they are well mixed. Pour filling into pastry lined pie plate. Roll out remainder of dough and cut pastry leaves with a leaf cutter. Place on top of filling and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees F., for about 10 minutes. Then reduce heat to a moderate oven, 350 degrees F. and continue baking for about 30 minutes or until a knife comes out clean when inserted into the pumpkin custard. Sprinkle with the chopped almonds when you remove it from the oven.

American Immunity

WASHINGTON — (AP)— A Navy medical officer reports that on his hospital ship there were 284 Japanese and 384 Americans, all wounded in the same engagement. The Japanese developed 14 cases of tetanus, ten of them fatal. The Americans, who had been vaccinated, had none.

Brazil Woods Shade World Lumber Market

RIO DE JANEIRO — (AP)— Brazil's potential and untapped wood supply indicates the possibility of a postwar lumber industry which might well overshadow the world market. Possessing more than 64 per cent of South America's forests, Brazil in the states of Amazonas and Para, alone, has some 260,538,100 hectares, or more than the estimated totals of either Europe (105,859,344 hectares) or North America (79,913,380). A hectare is almost two and one-half acres.

Auto Death Rate Goes Down Hill

CHICAGO — (AP)— The lives of 310,000 Americans have been saved since the national safety movement began in 1913, says the National Safety Council. A box score of accidents contained in the council's yearbook shows that the death rate has been lower than for 1913 each year in the 30-year period from 1914 to 1944, except for 1917 and 1936. In 1913 the rate was 85.5 per 100,000 population. Last year it was 72.3. During the triple decade there were 2,803,000 accidental deaths. If the death rate had been as high each year as it was in 1913, this death toll would have been 3,119,000.

SCOTCH TOFFEE MAKES AN IDEAL "ALL-ROUND" PACKAGE

If you have a boy or girl in the services or away from home—at school, in defense work, etc.—then you know the delight of finding some new delicacy—especially one high in food value and low in ration points—to send in one of your gift packages. This recipe for Scotch Toffee is especially praiseworthy for it packs easily, ships well and stays fresh for a long, long time.

Actually it's a hard candy—that's why it ships so well—but it has a tendency to be chewy, prolonging its goodness just that much more. From first reports we'd say that those "way-from-homes" really go for this candy treat—for they've sent back lip-smacking requests of "Send us more!"

Scotch Toffee is great for the home front, too! It makes a tasty treat for afternoons, or parties, and from Junior right on up it's voted a favorite candy. Make up a batch today. It's easy—takes so little time—and one batch makes 40 pieces.

SCOTCH TOFFEE (Makes 40 pieces)

- Baking Time: 12 Min. Temperature 450°
- 2 cups Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or regular, uncooked)
  - 1/2 cup melted butter or fortified margarine
  - 1/2 cup brown sugar
  - 1/4 cup dark corn syrup or honey
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
  - 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips or pieces
  - 1/4 cup finely chopped walnuts
1. Pour melted butter or margarine over rolled oats and mix thoroughly.
  2. Add brown sugar, corn syrup, salt and vanilla; mix until combined.
  3. Pack firmly into a well-greased 7"x11" or 8" square pan and bake in hot oven 12 minutes, or until a rich brown color. The mixture will bubble.
  4. Place on wire rack. Let stand until completely cold. Loosen; turn pan over. Tap until candy comes out.
  5. Spread melted chocolate on top of candy. Sprinkle with walnuts. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate hardens.

Ordeal Of Silence Breaks Morale Of Stuffy Non-Coms And Officers

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY—(P)—Rank and its special privilege are the cause of bitterness in the American civilian army, but men without stripes baru have a way of dealing with non-coms and officers who let promotion go to their heads.

Witness the sergeant who was broken by silence.

Call him Okie—close enough to the name the men knew him by. He was a jeep driver for a service outfit which made several trips daily to the front lines. Okie would go anywhere in the rear areas, but he was distinctly allergic to gunfire.

Whenever a jeep had to be sent toward the front Okie wasn't around—or if he was he became suddenly too ill to drive.

Okie volunteered as a night courier driver which nobody else wanted because of the hours. Okie was glad to get it—the trips were dark and lonely, but they were far beyond the range of enemy artillery.

He did his job well and wasn't disliked. He could strum a guitar and sing hillbilly songs and other soldiers found him amusing. Some officers couldn't stand him, but others thought he was a model little soldier.

Okie Promoted

So when the table of organization permitted, one officer angled a sergeantcy for little Okie, the boy who wouldn't go near the front.

He found himself a snazzy pair of leather puttees and an old pair of french riding breeches, grew a little black mustache and began giving orders. He was "out of uniform," but the officers who liked him overlooked this because he was Okie and never forgot that "Yes Sir" and that salute.

But the men under him stopped dropping by to listen to his guitar. They had half-way liked Okie as a private—but they didn't like the idea of taking orders from such a half-pint.

No one ever came up to speak to him voluntarily. If he gave an order it was taken in complete silence. Okie had no friends.

Then most of the old men in his unit were moved several hundred miles away. Okie missed them, obtained a week's pass in order to visit them. He was met at the new camp by stony silence. The men he spoke to would nod curtly and turn away. Okie stood it for three days. Then he left.

He didn't show up at once at his old camp. He went AWOL—and was four days late returning from his leave. He had plainly been on a binge—Little Okie, who always before had one toe carefully on the line.

They busted Okie, took away his stripes and his extra pay, made him take off his puttees and his riding breeches. Okie is a private again now. He sometimes forgets to salute when an officer goes by. He plays his guitar—but only when the new men in his outfit gather to listen. They kid him and call him "the man who was."

Bananas, Ah! Orchids, Oh!

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA—(P)—Colombia's growing export of bananas brightens the life of coast dwellers but a similar increase in orchid exports is worrying the government.

The National Economy Ministry recently asked state governments to try to halt the export of orchids if roots are included. It explained that florists in the U. S. were obtaining the roots and growing their own orchids, thereby cutting the future market for the Colombian product. The orchids, costing a nickel apiece here, are usually shipped by air.

Meanwhile, shippers reported gleefully, an increase in boots available has permitted banana exports to Miami to be stepped up to 9,000 bunches a week.

Brazil Is Nuts About Peanuts

RIO DE JANEIRO—(P)—The Ministry of Agriculture has set aside some 20,000 acres of land in northern Brazil for scientific and experimental peanut planting, to show farmers the widespread uses of peanuts.

The government is turning over 180,000 acres to a similar cultivation of rice, beans and corn—staples in the Brazilian diet. The work will be carried on with modern, mechanical farm equipment scheduled to be imported soon from the United States.

Social Situations

The situation: A friend or relative overseas writes you that the cookies you included in his Christmas box were spoiled by the time they reached him.

Wrong way: Feel that his telling you that showed he didn't appreciate your effort and your thoughtfulness and don't send him any more packages.

Right way: Realize that he was telling you the truth so that you wouldn't waste your time, money, and effort on sending the same thing again—as you well might have done if he had pretended the cookies arrived in fine shape.

The situation: You receive a statement for a bill you know you have already paid.

Wrong way: Say to the person you go to "see about the matter, "See here, you're trying to charge me twice for one bill."

Right way: Say: "I believe there is some mistake as I have already paid this bill in full." (The first solution implies that the person is deliberately trying to collect twice for a bill.)

The situation: You take your small child to a children's party, intending to stay until it is time to take him home, but at the door the mother of the child giving the party says, "Thank you for bringing Bobby; we'll take good care of him."

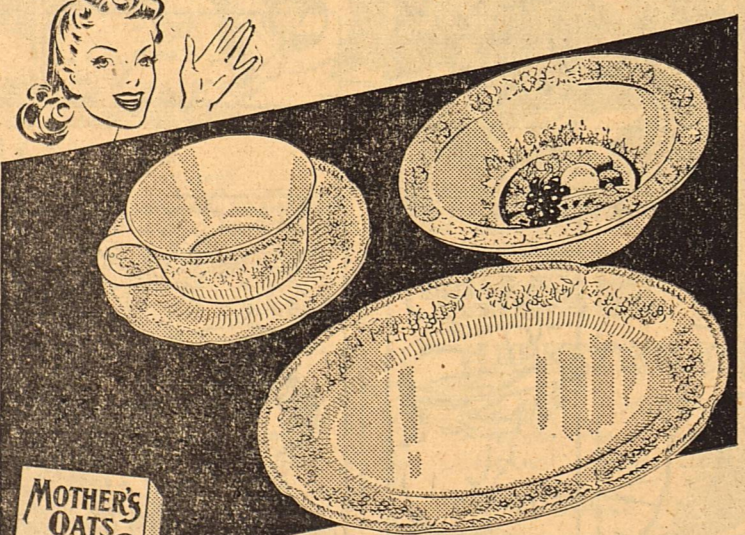

Wrong way: Say, "Oh, I just thought I'd stay and watch the children."

Right way: Say, "Thank you. What time shall I come back for him?" without giving any sign that you had supposed your hostess meant for you to stay at the party.

Admiration - Where All Tastes Meet

Dear Son:

I know it all too well. She called you a mouse and you called her a moose. Twenty five years ago your Mom and I started every breakfast the same way. It went on for months. I had to sift a lot of sand to find the flea but I found it. It was the little things of married life—like squeezing the tooth paste tube in the middle, cold flabby pancakes, uncombed hair, and others. We both were guilty and admitted it. After that compliments replaced criticism and well, Mary and I agree that life without each other would be like wandering in deserts. We still do.

YOU GOTTA THINK QUICK

By Stanley Paley

Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Boggio gets an attack of dyspepsia and thinks he is going to die. Ginger prophesies that he will be cockier than ever the next day to make them forget it.

BREEZED in the following afternoon to find Boggio stretched out on the divan. He had put on his glasses and was going through some documents filed in the little portfolio beside him.

"Well, Virgil," I said cheerfully. "Glad to see you're up and around again."

"What's that idiotic grin on your face for? Anything funny about me?"

This sudden crack took the wind out of my sails. I looked at him perplexedly.

"I wasn't grinning, I'm merely glad to see you're all right."

I didn't realize it then, but I'd been about as tactful as a guy who asks a woman how old she is.

Boggio was still raving because I'd seen him bellyaching the night before and he was making it his business to regain his former prestige.

For a moment Boggio continued reading, then he suddenly threw the document down.

"Damn you!" he said. "The way you stand there looking at me you'd think I was a museum piece. If there's anything funny about me, say so. Maybe my nose is green. Or there's straw in my hair."

He began sputtering the way he always did when he worked himself into a rage. Now it was all clear to me. When I came in I should have acted as if nothing had happened the night before.

I know better than to argue when Boggio gets that way. I sat down, fixed my gaze on a cigarette burn in the carpet, and waited for the storm to blow over. But it didn't.

He got off the divan, shoved his feet into a pair of red leather slippers and started pacing up and down.

"What the hell do you do with yourself all day, Leo? Why aren't you learning? Improving yourself. Why don't you go to court and pick up a few ideas instead of playing around? D'you think I'm keeping you for the fun of it? D'you think I'm paying out good money so you can buy yourself fancy cars and burn up the town?"

I GRIPPED the edge of my chair. The injustice of this sudden onslaught was enough to make anyone fight back. But when you've been around Boggio for some time you know when to control yourself.

After a while Boggio's voice broke and he sat down. I got up, walked over to the kitchen and brought back a glass of water. He gulped it down, then panted, getting back his wind. It looked like an opportune moment for putting in my two cents' worth.

"Look, Virgil," I said quietly. "You don't like the way I'm earning my dough. I don't like it either. D'you think I get any kick out of those piddling little jobs you've been giving me? Drawing up contracts that a half-baked law student could do with one hand tied behind his back. I'd like to sink my teeth into something worthwhile. I'm ambitious and I'm getting stale. All those months you were away in Cuba I was waiting for you. And you got back in the nick of time. I was flat broke. The morning you called me I was looking at the Help Wanted ads. That wouldn't have happened if you'd let me open a law office. And I could still handle all your work."

"How long can you stay away now?"

"I can't. I went out to buy some bicarbonate. He's waiting for me."

"I was tempted to tell her to ditch him; then I thought better of it."

"Call me again the moment you're free, Ginger. I want to see you badly."

"I want to see you too, Leo."

"All right, hon. Make it soon."

"I will. (To Be Continued)"

He crashed his fist down on the table beside him, knocking over the half empty glass. It began dripping on the carpet, and I picked it up.

"For Chrissakes!" he yelled. "How many times do I have to tell you I don't want no law office. And no other office of any kind!"

That got him started on round two. I could have kicked myself for not keeping my mouth shut. This had always been a sore spot between us. He asking for an office and Boggio refusing because he didn't want me to become too independent.

"Who put you there you are?" he continued. "Who gave you your first break? I did! So get this straight! I've got you tied up and you'll do as I tell you. I own you, see? Like I own these slippers! Like I own Ginger!"

I didn't say anything. Maybe he hadn't heard about Abe Lincoln yet. Since it was useless trying to get anywhere with him this afternoon, I waited till he was all in again, then walked to the door.

"I'll be seeing you, Virgil," I said, "when you feel better. Goodbye!"

I slammed the door behind me. GINGER called me up that evening.

"I'm speaking from a drugstore. Virgil's up but he hasn't moved from the house all day. He's in a vile temper."

"You're telling me! He practically slaughtered me this afternoon."

"You mean you were over?"

"Sure I was. Where were you?"

"Getting my hair fixed."

"How long can you stay away now?"

"I can't. I went out to buy some bicarbonate. He's waiting for me."

"I was tempted to tell her to ditch him; then I thought better of it."

"Call me again the moment you're free, Ginger. I want to see you badly."

"I want to see you too, Leo."

"All right, hon. Make it soon."

He is to be congratulated on the job he and the committee did in Brooklyn, and also for finishing in third place in the mixed pair event with Mrs. Dorothy Roberts.

Slatery's timing was nice on today's hand. When the opening diamond lead held, West shifted to a club and Slatery (South) won. West's no trump overall and double practically marked the king and jack of spades. It looked, therefore, as if the correct play would be to cash the ace of spades and lead toward the queen. But then, if the opponents cash two hearts, the contract would be defeated. If Slatery cashed the king and queen of clubs, discarding one of his hearts, he would be locked in dummy.

He timed the play by going over to the king of diamonds, cashing the king and queen of clubs and discarding a heart, leading a small spade to the ace and discarding the fourth club on the good jack of diamonds. When he led a small spade toward the queen, West could win with the king; but even though he put his partner in with the king of hearts, and the jack of clubs was returned, Slatery was able to ruff. If West over-ruffed, the queen of trumps was still the protecting card in dummy.

World's Only Subsidy Free Airline Operated In Peru By Slim Faucett

"Slim" Faucett, Peruvian King of the Air

By ANN STEVICK NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON— "Slim" Faucett (Elmer J. but not out loud), one-man air-peddler to Peru, is in Washington on a trouble-shooting errand vital to the future of his airline.

This 53-year-old, six-foot Irishman has built out of trouble the only subsidy-free airline business in the Western Hemisphere, maybe in the world. It takes all comers in the way of cargo—prize bull calves done up in burlap, rubber and monkeys from the jungle.

Slim Faucett has been making a good thing out of troubles since he left his farm home in Savona, N. Y., to get into the aircraft business with Curtiss Aviation. Promoted to chief service man for Curtiss in Peru, he started in the airline business when an American engineer approached him one day, with an urgent cross-country errand and cash to pay for it.

No flier was around to do the job, so Slim, now a veteran of less than six hours solo flying, took it over. He put his passenger down at the destination in an old training ship, and put himself in business as a charter pilot doing odd-jobs for cash flying customers.

Slim got into some real trouble the next year because he couldn't pass up the chance to make the first flight across the four Andean ranges from Lima to Iquitos. A Curtiss Oriole, and collect the $4000 prize offered by the Peruvian government. Without air maps or instruments Slim found his way through the Andean passes, and steered himself by the Marañon River almost to Iquitos. He was downed within 40 minutes of his final stop by a tropical storm which masked the countryside.

The soft sandbar he landed on toppled the plane. The propeller broke and it was eight months before he finished the final lap to Iquitos. Slim came out of that with loads of prestige, hailed as King of the Air by the Peruvians, but his prize money was tied up for years. He returned to Lima, famous but penniless.

With Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, hero of the Tokyo air-raids, in those days a Curtiss demonstrator pilot, as an intrepid passenger, Slim tried a night-flight that ended ed up with his being ground-looped by a burro on a dark landing-field.

That was in 1928. It was his last flight in the Oriole, and it put him out of business as a barn-stormer. But within four months the momentum to start the airline he'd gathered the cash (40,000 worth of Peruvian money), and which took up where llama-trains, burros and horses left off, carrying passengers and freight to keep Peru's mines, cattle-ranches and rubber prospects going.

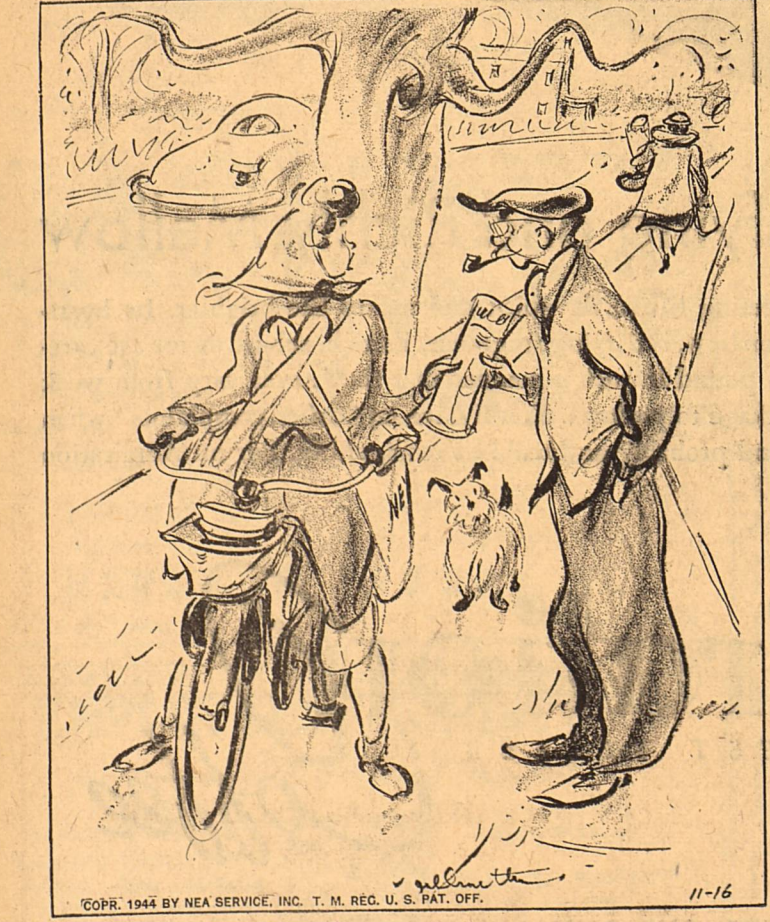

Fought Rate War Slim fought his way through a deadly ten-year rate war against foreign and U. S. competitors, kept in the air his small planes special-built for altitude flying. He came out winner, and found that even this major struggle turned into a good break. The Peruvian populace had become air-minded during the cut-rate days, and customers had multiplied many times.

Before the war Faucett airlines, now 60 per cent Peruvian, 40 per cent U. S. owned, had ten planes with U. S. pilots on daily flights up and down the 1400-mile Peruvian coast and over the mountains. His planes made special trips on hundreds of miles of other air-routes. Wartime scarcities have cut his planes to seven, and brought in Peruvian pilots to replace U. S. fliers now doing war jobs. He expects some post-war expansion, but does not predict clear sailing ahead for South American aviation. There'll still be ups and downs, and Slim will probably still be making the most of them.

Cold Weather Makes Demand On Batteries

Cooler mornings mean more strain on automobile batteries in starting motors and batteries should be checked before colder weather arrives. This was the suggestion made by Grady Brown of Grady Brown's Standard Service Station at 601 West Wall.

Brown features rapid battery charging. With his modern equipment batteries can be charged while the driver waits, saving the inconvenience of having to use a rental battery.

American Beauty Shop Offers Best In Every Type Of Beauty Treatment

Although this is her first venture in the beauty shop business, Mrs. June B. Zeller, owner of the American Beauty Shop, is not new to the beauty business herself, having been a cosmetician for the Rexall Drug Stores in her home city of Clearwood, Iowa, for five years.

Mrs. Zeller came to Midland last year to be near her husband, Pfc. Ernie Zeller, who then was stationed at Midland Army Air Field. In July after working for five months in the cosmetic department of the Midland Drug Company, she purchased the large, well-established beauty shop at 407 W. Wall, which she now manages, assisted by five experienced operators. One of these her operators, Mrs. Adean White, has been working in the shop for the last five years, under various managements.

Completely Remodeled Shop

Mrs. Zeller completely remodeled the shop, so it is now one of the most modern, and most spacious in Midland. For the further comfort of her patrons, she installed an air-conditioning system, which makes having one's hair done on a blistering hot day, a pleasure rather than a chore.

In addition to being the efficient manager of the shop, Mrs. Zeller has complete care of her five-months old son, Lynn, now that her husband is in San Antonio "taking specialized training. She divides her time between the shop and her apartment, which is in a neighboring building, in such a way that one would never suspect that the trim, red-haired and attractive business-woman also is a very successful housewife and mother.

The equipment of the American Beauty Shop is the finest which can be obtained. Helene Curtis cold waves, which leave the hair with a naturally soft and lustrous curl, are a specialty, although beautiful Realistic and Bonat machine per-manents also are given, in addition to Padel machineless permanents. Private Facial Room

In the privacy of the facial room, Madame Rubinoff facial packs are so skillfully applied, that tired, dull skins become dewy fresh.

For dry hair, the shop offers all types of oil treatments, including the excellent treatment in which the hair is soaked in two different types of oils, and then steamed under a hot lamp. This treatment does wonders for hair which has been dried out by the summer sun and wind, for it leaves the hair soft, shiny, and manageable.

Expert manicuring, hair dyeing, and eyebrow and eyelash dyeing are other beauty treatments which can be obtained from the competent beauticians of the American Beauty Shop.

Part of Mrs. Zeller's activity in the shop consists of having charge of the attractive merchandise counter, where cosmetics, compacts, sheer hose, hair rats, combs, and latest hair ornaments are sold. The well-stocked cosmetic department has a complete line of Farrel Deslin, Madame Rubinoff, and Revlon make-up, Revlon and Chen-Yu nail polishes and hand lotions, and Vitta-Fluff shampoo, with Mrs. Zeller offering expert advice on the proper selection for each individual.

Wichita Falls Sailor Can Unravel Red Tape And Also Save Lives

ABOARD A CONVOY SHIP. SOMEWHERE IN THE ATLANTIC—(P)—Allen Jinks of Wichita Falls, is one of the many aboard merchant marine vessels who unravel red tape.

There's paper work aboard a ship, too, but with mass deliveries of lend-lease and war materials, the job has become more exacting. Jinks is purser and pharmacist's mate, and in one instance his four-month course in pharmacy, part of his regular training, may have saved a life.

Jinks, 28, whose wife, Norma, lives in Wichita Falls, was all set to join the Navy after Pearl Harbor. He had been married four years. Then word came that his younger brother in the Navy had been killed, so he stayed home with his family.

Had To Go

But he soon yielded to a merchant marine recruiting drive, and has been on convoy duty almost ever since.

Jinks has seen action in the South Pacific, the Caribbean, Mediterranean, North Atlantic, and on the run to Murmansk, Russia. On a trip to Murmansk, his convoy slipped through without a scratch.

The German radio announced safe arrival of his convoy, but warned it never would return.

"The Nazis aimed made good their threat, too," Jinks observed.

On the return run, Jinks saw several vessels of the convoy picked off, some by torpedo planes, some by U-boats.

Correct Diagnosis

On one North Atlantic voyage—Jinks now is on that run—a crew member received a hard knock on the head and was unconscious 17 hours. Jinks diagnosed the injury as a skull fracture or severe concussion. An escort vessel physician was notified, and soon Jinks' ship was given permission to take a short-cut to their port of arrival. An ambulance awaited at the pier and the youth was taken to a hospital. That sailor stood watch on the return voyage.

Jinks' paper work includes supervision of the ship's payroll, handling of correspondence, and keeping track of manifests of the cargo.

He doesn't know what he'll do after the war—he explained that hadn't yet occurred to him.

Campus is a Latin word meaning "level plain."

A & M Packing Company Offers Many Services

The A. and M. Packing Company performs many services for Midland citizens in providing them with the best meats.

The company was founded seven years ago by S. L. Alexander and H. M. McReynolds and they have continued to operate the concern since then. Roy L. Tuggle is office manager for the company.

The A. and M. Packing Company has become famous all over West Texas for its pork curing. Felix Summers is owner for the company, and West Texas citizens bring him pork to cure from as far as 100 miles away. By means of tried and proven curing processes, the pork cured at the A. and M. Packing Company has an unusual and distinctive flavor which has won widespread popularity.

In addition to its wholesale meat business the company does custom killing. In the case of custom killing of pork, it cures the meats, renders the lard and grinds the sausage. This service has become so popular many rural residents who raise hogs have quit the practice of killing them themselves and have the A. and M. Packing Company to do the job. They have found this service not only far more convenient as

All Meats Are Inspected

After a hog is killed, it is placed in the chill vault where a temperature of 35 degrees is maintained. When the curing process starts the meat is then placed in the curing vault where a temperature of 33 degrees is held.

Every piece of meat which leaves the A. and M. Packing Company plant is inspected to make sure customers of the concern receive only the best.

A new service recently inaugurated by the concern is its frozen locker department. The company has 900 lockers now and is trying to get more. In order to install the frozen lockers the size of the company's plant was doubled.

The frozen locker service made an instantaneous hit with Midland citizens. They found it extremely economical to buy a half or whole calf; have the A. and M. Packing Company kill, cut the meat and wrap it and place it in a locker. By using this service citizens with lockers enjoy the best of meat at a price which is well under average retail prices.

In addition to processing meats for storage in lockers the company processes fruits and vegetables. By using this service citizens can enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables the year around.

Lovers of good food have found foods placed in a locker retain all their fresh flavor as the freezing process seals the flavor in.

In performing its various services for the public the A. and M. Packing Company employs 25 persons.

Welcome him when he knocks at your door

THE 6th WAR LOAN STARTS NEXT WEEK

Within the next few weeks in every city, town and hamlet, men and women will be knocking on the doors of American homes: They come in the name of your fighting men, giving their time to take your subscriptions for extra War Bonds.

Welcome them as though they were actual soldiers from the foxholes of the Pacific. Your boys know what cooperation means during a battle—with them, it's a matter of life or death, victory or defeat. Think of this when a volunteer worker knocks on your door. Double your Bond buying during this drive. Buy at least one extra $100 Bond. Then buy another and another. It's going to take a lot of Bonds to meet the goal of $14,000,000,000.

Remember that the Japs are firmly united against us. They have 73 million people at home plus many of the 400 million enslaved people in conquered territories working to prolong this war. Japanese industry is strong and modern, and they have the supplies to carry on a long war unless we stop them.

And remember, when you buy a Bond during this drive, you're backing the boys fighting into the heart of the Nipponese strongholds. Buy Bonds with a grateful heart out of an open pocketbook.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

The "basket" of securities to be sold under the direction of the State War Finance Committee is especially designed to fit individual investment needs. It consists of eight issues:

- Series E, F and G Savings Bonds.
- Series C Savings Notes.
- 2½% Bonds of 1966-71.
- 2% Bonds of 1952-54.
- 1¼% Notes of 1947.
- ⅞% Certificates of Indebtedness.
