

TRUMAN PROCLAIMS V-E DAY

Gen. Kraus Lauds Men Of MAAF

V-E Day brought a congratulatory message from Major Gen. Walter F. Kraus, commanding general of the Central Flying Training Command, to personnel of Midland Army Air Field lauding the part the local field has played in bringing about the victory in Europe.

"Although we are thousands of miles from the scene of victory," General Kraus' message stated, "I want you to know that the Army Air Forces recognizes your part in the campaign concluded Tuesday. Hundreds of aircrews who aided in the conquest of Fortress Europe learned their fighting skills at fields of this command and their combat record is ample evidence of the thoroughness of the work you have performed. My congratulations on the job you have done, and will continue to do, until complete victory is ours."

MAAF Observes V-E Day

In common with other CFTC schools, Midland Army Air Field suspended flying for a limited period in order that personnel might take part in observance ceremonies on the spot. Immediately following the announcement of the European victory Col. John W. White made brief informal talks before military groups on the field. He announced that all official activities in observing V-E Day would be tempered by the 30-day period of mourning officially proclaimed by the War Department following the death of President Roosevelt. No official social events were planned in keeping with the War Department policy of cancelling all official functions during the period of mourning to President Roosevelt.

The chaplains at MAAF will hold special services of thanksgiving for the victory over Germany and prayers for an early victory over Japan. The personnel services staff has arranged to tout the field, performing singing and singing patriotic songs.

Still Important War Ahead

"I regret that we couldn't take the time to participate in all of the observances scheduled in connection with the collapse of Germany, but regulations from higher headquarters directed the celebration for the personnel of MAAF be confined to the military installation, so that our important training program can be resumed with a minimum of interruption," Colonel White stated.

Colonel White, in commenting on the contribution in aircrew personnel trained at pilot, bombardier and navigation schools of the Central Flying Training Command, stated that in the past two years well over 75,000 students have graduated. In that period over 40,000 pilots have won their wings, almost 15,000 bombardiers have completed their training, and over 20,000 navigators have been graduated.

Humble's 2 Word In N-C Pecos Is Coring 'Burger'

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Word, North-Central Pecos County wildcat, in section 601, Mrs. E. J. Carlton survey, about 11 miles northeast of Fort Stockton, topped Ellenburger, according to an unofficial report, at 7,650 feet, on elevation of 2,724 feet, and was coring ahead from 7,656 feet.

A core at 7,640-56 feet recovered 15 feet of hard lime, with no oil or gas shows. A slight show of gas was reported from a core at 7,597-7,611 feet in lime.

Atlantic Drills Ahead

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-A, University, in section 33, block 21, East-Central Crane County exploration which showed gas, distillate and oil indications on a drillstem test in Devonian, at 7,913-8,024 feet, had reached 8,042 feet, in lime, and was continuing.

Continental Oil Company No. 1-D Settles, South Howard County prospect in section 138, block 29, W&NW survey, started filling up with black, brackish water with a seum of oil, when the hole had been swabbed down to 4,000 feet from surface, over a plugged-back total depth of 9,260 feet.

That swabbing was after 400 perforations at 9,100-9,200 feet, in the Strawn section of the Pennsylvania.

China Front Gains By Japs Are Reported

By LEONARD MILLIMAN, Associated Press War Editor

With the promise of huge reinforcements in men and material from Europe, Allied Ground Forces reported slow but steady gains on every Pacific front Tuesday except on erratic China battlegrounds.

Allied commanders fighting Japan generally greeted V-E Day with quiet satisfaction, while Tokyo's worries over possible entrance of the Soviet Union into the Pacific war were heightened. Gen. Iro Mami, head of Japan's totalitarian party, told the Nippon that defeat of Germany left them nothing "to think about but how to win."

Tokyo reported two Jima-based Mustang fighters raided the Tokyo airfield Tuesday as about 50 Superforts continued neutralizing raids on suicide air bases in Southern Japan. Bombers ranging down the China Coast and up to Tokyo sank five sizable Japanese ships and damaged six others.

General Advances

U. S. Tenth Army Forces made general advances on Okinawa, where they have killed 36,535 enemy soldiers since they invaded the stepping-stone island 825 miles south of Japan April 1.

Allied planes began operating from the captured 4,600-foot airfield on Tarakan, bringing every corner of oil-rich Borneo within their range. Australian infantrymen and Dutch colonials came within a mile and a half of completing their drive across Tarakan Island—first step in the reconquest of Borneo.

In the strangest battle in the Philippines the U. S. 41st Division annihilated 800 grounded Japanese airmen trapped on the Zamboanga peninsula of Mindanao. They had fled from New Guinea, where Australians were reported closing in on Wewak.

Jodl Pleads For Mercy For Nazis

By The Associated Press

REIMS—Through an iron faced Prussian general, speaking after he had finished signing the unconditional surrender of the Nazis, Germany pleaded for mercy for the German people. On the wall behind his back was a huge chart tabulating Allied casualties.

He was Col. Gen. Gustaf Jodl, chief of staff of the German army. After he had signed the instruments of surrender and after the military representatives of the four powers had signed them, Jodl asked for permission to speak.

He was told he might.

Stiffly Erect

He held himself stiffly erect, conforming to the traditions of Prussian military correctness. His voice was low and soft and he said:

"With this signature, the German people and armed forces are, for better or worse, delivered into the victors' hands.

"In this war which has lasted more than five years, both have achieved and suffered more than perhaps any other people in the world. In this hour, I can only express the hope that the victor will treat generously with them."

His face was expressionless and so were the faces of the American, British, Russian and French generals who represented the Allies.

All had seen German murder camps and all knew the furious cruelty of German occupying forces.

War Production Board Lifts 'Brown-Out'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The "brown-out" is ended.

The War Production Board Tuesday revoked its order against unnecessary lighting immediately after President Truman's proclamation of victory in Europe.

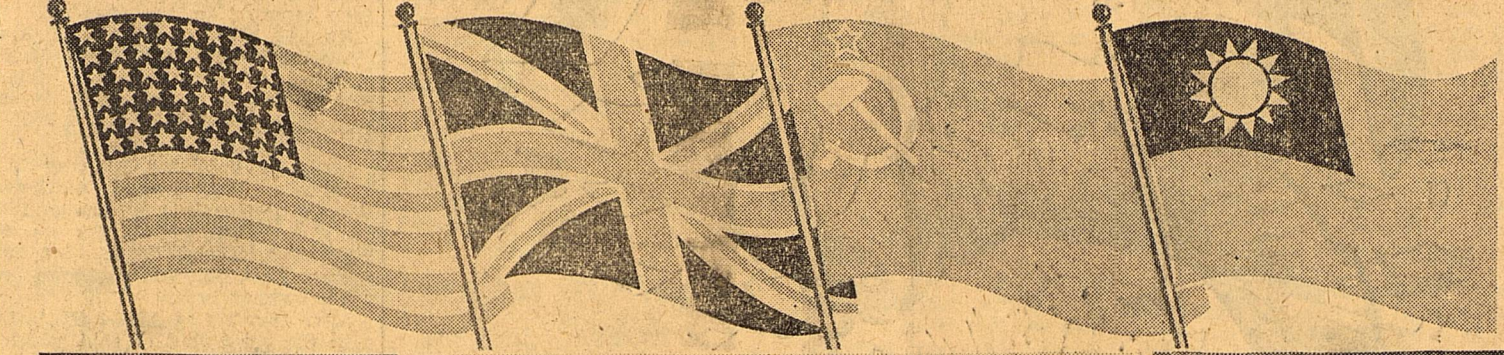

It was the first lifting of the so-called "morale" curbs on civilian activity imposed during last winter's military setbacks.

The midnight curfew and the prohibition against hoarding are expected to be dissolved shortly.

The revocation signed by Edward Falck, director of WEPB's office of war utilities, ends the ban on the use of electric power for advertising, promotional, decorative, ornamental or sign lighting.

Falck commended stores, city authorities, power companies and other consumers are "virtually 100 per cent compliance" with the brown-out.

All Nazi Guns To Be Silenced By Five O'clock

LONDON — (AP) — Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, Germany's current fuhrer, announced Tuesday that all German arms would be silent by 5 p. m. (5 p. m. Central War Time).

Hitler's successor as fuhrer of the German people said in an address over the German-controlled Flensburg radio that the Germans would lay down all their arms in accordance with the unconditional surrender terms he had ordered.

In slow, deliberate terms he told the Germans that the Nazi party had been severed from the German state and that "the party has left the scene of its activities."

Doenitz, addressing the German people, said he ordered the high command to surrender unconditionally the night of May 6-7 on all fronts.

Arms Will Be Silent

"On May 8 at 11 p. m. the arms will be silent," he said.

The German leader said "German soldiers of countless battles now are treading the bitter path to captivity and thereby are making the last sacrifice for the life of our women and children, and for the future of our nation."

"With the occupation of Germany," Doenitz said, "the power has been transferred to the occupying authorities. It is up to them to confirm me in my function and the government I have appointed, or decide whether to appoint a different one.

"Should I be required to help our fatherland, I will remain at my post."

"Duty keeps me on my difficult post for the sake of Germany. I will not remain one hour more than can be reconciled with the dignity of the Reich."

V-E Congregation Told To Work And Pray For Victory Over Japanese

If the United States is to continue to receive the blessings of God, its citizens must pray as if everything depended upon God; and work as if everything depended upon the individual, the Rev. Hubert Hopp, told a V-E Day congregation which filled the First Methodist Church to capacity at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday.

"We do not know how much longer God will continue to bless the United States as He has in the past," the speaker said. "If we are to continue to receive these blessings we must live as God would have us live and be honest and just."

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, vice president of the Ministerial Alliance, presided.

Most Midland business concerns closed during the time of the service.

Greatest News Scoop Of History Is Made By Associated Press

By The Associated Press

This is the story of how The Associated Press scored the overwhelming news beat, acclaimed by editors throughout the world as possibly the most resounding in journalistic history.

The story was broken by Edward Kennedy, chief of The Associated Press Western Front staff, who was present at Reims, France, 75 miles east of Paris, Sunday night and early Monday when the surrender articles were signed by representatives of the American, British, Russian and French military commands and the German government of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz.

Kennedy returned to Paris at dawn Monday, May 7.

By noon, Monday Paris was aflame with reports that the story was about to break.

From Stockholm a British agency carried a flat statement that the event had been announced by the Swedish radio.

Paris dailies, under London date-lines, asserted without qualification that Britain was only awaiting the official announcement.

About 2:30 p. m., Paris time (8:30 a. m. EDT) European radio monitors picked up a broadcast from the Flensburg radio to the German armed forces of land, sea and air, ordering them to cease resistance. This immediately was flashed to the world and reached The Associated Press offices in Paris through normal channels.

Demand's Release of Story

On the basis of this fact, Kennedy interviewed SHAEF censors and demanded immediate release of his Reims story.

He asserted that according to SHAEF's long established policy, military security was the only consideration on which correspondent's reports were censored.

He said that in view of broadcasting reports from Flensburg, London and Stockholm there was no military security involved, and he also openly notified the censors that he intended to file his story.

Kennedy said he considered the function of his staff and of himself was to report the news, and that he did not feel bound by any (Continued on page 2)

Ferrying Men Get Official V-Day News

Immediately following President Truman's announcement that the war in Europe had ended, Capt. Wilbur L. Burall, commanding officer at Midland Municipal Airport, called a meeting of all personnel in the Post Theater.

He reminded the men that the Army Air Forces was the first American unit to strike an offensive blow in this war. Captain Burall also reminded the men that they should carry on with their duties without a letdown.

The captain called the names of 24 men who have served in the European theater and 14 who have served in the Pacific and had their stand.

A message from Lt. Gen. Harold L. George, commanding general of the air transport command, was read, and another from Brig. Gen. Bob E. Nowland, commanding general of the Ferrying Division of the Air Transport Command, was heard.

Isolated Groups Of Nazis Hold-Out In Defiance Of Surrender Orders

By TOM OCHILTREE, Associated Press War Editor

While the rest of the world celebrated the end of the European War a handful of holdouts in Prague and in some parts of the shrunken Moravia-Bohemia pocket fought on Tuesday in defiance of the signing of an unconditional surrender by their commander.

General Patton's Third U. S. Army had driven northeast from captured Pilsen to the outskirts of Prague, the Czechoslovak capital, and three Russian armies were driving toward the same goal.

Czechoslovak broadcasts from the embattled capital said the Nazis still were shooting, burning and looting the city at noon. Earlier the Prague radio said Gen. Ferdinand von Schoerner, German commander in Bohemia and Moravia, has signed unconditional surrender terms and that his divisions were to cease firing as soon as they received word of the capitulation.

The German-controlled Flensburg radio declared earlier that German troops "are fighting hard to save Germany from bolshevism in the last few hours," and said that they were withdrawing westward in the hope of being captured by the American forces.

Reds Break Through Lines

By the Germans' account troops had failed to prevent the Russian breakthroughs north of the Moravian war production center of Olmuetz (Olomouc). The Germans said, however, that their troops had stopped the Russians on a "new line."

Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko's Fourth Ukrainian Army laid siege to Olmuetz after entering the city's northern suburb of Chvalkovic.

German anti-aircraft batteries on the Danish Baltic Island of Bornholm fired on Russian planes Monday, and Soviet airmen dropped bombs which caused damage and casualties.

Big Three Meeting To Be Held Soon

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — A meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin is expected by United Nations diplomats to be arranged soon. They authorities believe that only a gathering of the Big Three—probably somewhere in the European area—can solve some of the urgent problems now arising from the total defeat of Germany and lay the basic plans for restoring civil order and real peace in Europe.

Immediate Impact

The immediate impact of the ending of the European war is to reinforce demands of Secretary Stettinius, Foreign Minister Eden, Russian Commissar Molotov and other leaders that the conference lose no time in finishing its task.

Meanwhile the dawn of V-E Day found ranking diplomats of the big powers agreed on another big matter in addition to the general security system. This is that the powers should take separate but parallel measures to make sure that for the next half century or so Germany will be denied the resources and industrial development necessary to plunge the world into another war.

Reds Claim Finding Of Body Believed To Be That Of Hitler

WITH THE BRITISH SECOND ARMY — (AP) — Col. Anatoly Pilugin, war correspondent of Tass, official Soviet news agency, has said a Russian general had stated that the body of a man identified as Adolf Hitler had been found in the ruins of Berlin.

The Russian general was not named.

During a meeting two days ago between Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky of the Second White Russian Army, Russian officers asked Pilugin, who is attached to the British Second Army as a war correspondent, whether the British believed Hitler was dead or alive.

Pilugin said he replied there was a mixed opinion, but that the Russian general, whose identity he did not disclose, stated that the Russians had found in Berlin the bullet-torn and battered body of a man identified as Hitler.

Announcement Is Issued At Capitol In Early Morning

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman proclaimed Tuesday "complete and final" victory in the European theater of the greatest war in history.

He went on a radio hookup to read his formal proclamation, which he prefaced with brief remarks in which he solemnly warned:

"Our victory is but half won. The West is free, but the East is still in bondage to the treacherous tyranny of the Japanese. When the last Japanese division has surrendered unconditionally, then only will our fighting job be done."

Churchill Says Ratification To Be At Berlin

LONDON — (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill, proclaiming the victory in Europe, said Tuesday the unconditional surrender of Germany "will be ratified and confirmed at Berlin" and that hostilities will cease one minute after midnight, British time.

(This will be 5:01 p. m. Central War Time.)

Churchill officially bearing out Monday's dispatch of Edward Kennedy of The Associated Press, said the German capitulation occurred at General Eisenhower's headquarters at Reims at 2:41 a. m. Monday.

The capitulation was made simultaneously to the Allies and the Soviet High Command, with General Jodl, representative of the German high command and of Grand Admiral Doenitz, signing the act for Germany.

Still Resisting Russians

He said the Germans are "still in places resisting the Russians," but added that if resistance continued after midnight "they will of course deprive themselves of the protection of the laws of war and will be attacked from all quarters by the Allied troops."

He said it was not surprising that commands of the German high command should not be obeyed immediately because of disorganization.

Japan Next

"Japan, with all her treachery and greed," he declared, "remains unsubdued. The injury she has inflicted on the United States and other countries and her detestable cruelties call for justice and retribution.

"We must now devote all our strength and resources to the completion of our task both at home and abroad."

There was no immediate proclamation from Premier-Marshal Stalin.

Supreme Headquarters announced the Germans agreed to:

- Yield all ships and aircraft unscuttled and undamaged;
- Ensure compliance with all further orders from the Allied supreme commander and the Soviet High Command.

The surrender document specified that nothing it contained limited or restricted any terms which might later be imposed on the Reich.

Texas Quietly Commemorates Victory Day

By The Associated Press

President Truman's victory in Europe proclamation set in motion Tuesday prayer and commemoration plans long drawn in Texas cities.

State departments in Austin continued on the job. County offices closed for 15 minutes, then went on with business as usual. There city officials said flags continued to fly at half mast in observance of a 30-day period of mourning for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"This is a day we have lived for and one for which many men have died," Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, commanding general of the Eighth Service Command said in a statement.

The power plant whistle at the University of Texas called students to a pre-arranged convocation of 30 minutes after which they were to return to classes.

Sirens, which had sounded at Odessa with Monday's news of the unconditional German surrender, shrieked again Tuesday. V-E church services were scheduled. Most businesses in Odessa closed Monday and were remaining closed Tuesday.

The cadet corps at Texas A. and M. College planned to hold a solemn celebration Tuesday night.

War Bulletins

LONDON — (AP) — Allied radios Tuesday flashed orders to all German and German-controlled ships at sea to head for the nearest Allied ports and remain there for further orders.

LONDON — (AP) — Marshal Stalin announced in an order of the day Tuesday night the capture of the big Czechoslovak rail junction of Olmuetz.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The fight to bring Germany to her knees cost the U. S. Army 732,270 casualties, including 139,498 dead, up to about April 1, the War Department reported Tuesday.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government has spent $275,703,000,000 on this war, as of May 5, the Treasury reported Tuesday.

Victory

It is here at last, the day of victory. It is a day of spontaneous, heartfelt rejoicing, of deliverance and profound thankfulness. It is also a day of questioning and of stock-taking. The celebration will pass and be forgotten.

What has been accomplished? Europe has gained liberation and peace. America has come half way, perhaps the hardest half, in its fight for survival as a free and decent nation in a free and decent world.

It has taken five years of struggle in the greatest, most terrible war ever known to achieve this victory. They have been five bitter years of "blood, toil, tears and sweat." Their cost has been staggering, counted today in the millions of combatants and civilians who died for the victory.

And for what has this price been paid? To curb the murderous ambitions of one man, a criminal paranoiac permitted to hypnotize his country into a frenzy approaching his own.

Never in history was a man more personally responsible for a great war than Adolf Hitler. And never in history was one so unworthy of the sacrifices that he exacted.

The victory is certainly a triumph of American strength and courage. American production and strategy and leadership. Without them there could have been no victory.

America has learned through her sacrifices that she can live in harmony with herself and in mutual friendliness and understanding with other nations when the goal demands the effort.

But are goals of freedom and prosperity and lasting peace any less desirable and demanding than the goal of victory in war? Do military victories mean that we may now forget their lessons and return to selfishness, suspicion, disunity and hatred at home and abroad?

When postwar autos come out the new lines will be beautiful—especially the salesman's.

All the people who think they're paid what they're worth could hold a convention in an upper berth.

Employers Must Get Security Number

Returning veterans planning to go into business for themselves were cautioned Tuesday by Elliott W. Adams, manager of the San Angelo office of the Social Security Board, that they must file an application with the board for an identification number for their business.

Adams suggested interested individuals watch the newspapers to learn when a representative of the board will be in their city.

But four hours after the AP story had been cleared, the British Ministry of Information announced that Prime Minister Churchill would make a formal V-E Day proclamation Tuesday.

Press Association added that "the surprisingly delay in announcing V-E Day, in spite of the complete capitulation by the Germans," was due to the importance "attached to synchronizing the news in London, Washington and Moscow."

Betty Ericson And F-O Terrence Neel Are Married Here

In a double ring ceremony performed by Chaplain Claude T. Miller at the Midland Army Air Field Chapel May 2, Miss Betty Ericson of Santa Maria, Calif., and F-O Terrence J. Neel of MAAF were united in marriage.

Salmon-colored gladioli and fern formed the floral background with white tapers in tall candelabra adding a soft illumination to the setting.

Prerecital music was by Mrs. Miles Olson, organist, who played "I Love You Truly" in addition to the traditional wedding marches.

For her wedding dress, the bride chose a pink floral print dress with which she wore white accessories. She carried a rainbow Bible.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Scharbauer Hotel.

Mrs. Gifford A. Covault of Guthrie Center, Iowa, attended the bride as matron of honor and Lieutenant Covault served the groom as best man.

Present for the ceremony were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Ericson of Santa Maria, also her grandmother and brother.

The bride attended Oregon State College in Corvallis, Ore., where she was a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Flight Officer Neel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neel of Santa Maria, graduated from the Union High School in that city. He is now stationed at Midland Army Air Field.

Midland Civic Theater Elects New Officers

Members of the Midland Civic Theater elected Mrs. N. A. Lancaster president, Mrs. H. S. Forgeron vice president, and Mrs. John Hill secretary-treasurer in a meeting held Monday evening. The terms will start next September.

The forthcoming production, "The Drunkard," was discussed and it was decided it will be the last Civic Theater play of the season.

Final Tryouts
Final tryouts of the play will be held in the Civic Auditorium Tuesday night at 8 p. m. Membership in the theater is not required for participation.

"Any one interested in assisting with the staging, lighting or make-up problems involved in the production is invited to come Tuesday night," Mrs. McKinley said.

After the business meeting adjourned, members of the radio workshop rehearsed the weekly radio show "The Red Carnation," a special Mother's Day tribute which goes on the air at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

Officers Elected For St. Anne's Society

Mrs. J. N. Beakey was elected as president of St. Anne's Altar Society of the St. George's Catholic Church at a meeting of that group Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Allen Tolbert. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Jack Moore and Mrs. J. A. Morehouse.

Mrs. J. H. Chapple was reelected vice president. Other officers named were Mrs. H. S. Forgeron, treasurer, and Mrs. L. S. Hensy, secretary.

The meeting, directed by Mrs. Paul Schaefer, opened with a special prayer of thanksgiving for V-E Day by Mrs. Beakey. A report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Geisler, and Mrs. Earl J. Moran, secretary, also gave a report for the year's work. This was the last meeting for the summer months.

Mrs. L. A. Monroe and Mrs. Joe Canon volunteered to make a catafalque for the church. The society gave Mrs. Schaefer, retiring president a rising vote in appreciation for her services during the year.

Refreshments were served during the social hour to those appearing on the program and the following: Meses. J. Leo McLaughlin, W. E. Fox, A. G. McCarver, J. Alfred Tom, J. W. Millen, C. P. Yaden, P. S. Wright, V. E. Collins, T. J. McGuire.

Jaycees Continue Seeking Pledges To Underwrite Rodeo

Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce members were out Tuesday obtaining pledges for underwriting the city's World Championship Rodeo against possible financial loss.

A report on Monday's work was turned in to Dick Prather, committee chairman. The work done Monday was in the suburban business section.

"I would like to point out the rodeo has never had a financial loss," Prather said. "About the only possible way for it to lose money is to be rained out, so business men are not taking such a great risk in underwriting the event."

BY the middle of October the foliage was gone from the maples and birches, leaving the birds' nests bare. The burdock withered, and the milkweed clung to its last little banners of white. Except for one long, green line of morning glories, the growth along the shore was limp and darkened. Lobster pots toppled above the high-water mark. Dories were drawn up and turned over, power boats cradled and housed. Every morning there was a thin shell of ice in the pond above the dam.

In November it grew steadily colder. My father had promised that we would be home by Christmas, but he had never set the exact day. Whenever we pressed my mother for it, she put us off by saying, "You'll find out in good time." Though we were impatient, we were not apprehensive, for we knew that there was almost enough money on hand to pay the note.

The cold kept up until the end of November. Still there was no snow. Jay was getting worried, for the ruts in the road were hard on the wagon. They loosened the body bolts and racked the wheels. A thaw early in December only made traveling harder than ever, for at noon there was mud to contend with and at morning and night re-frozen ground.

On the ninth of the month the tongue showed a crack, which Mr. Giddings repaired with an iron band. On the twelfth, just as the Christmas loads were beginning a spring broke. That meant only one thing—a new wagon. It would cost $150.

My mother dreaded to tell us, but she couldn't put it off, for we were asking her daily when we should begin to pack our things. That night she came into the parlor where we were playing "Girls," she said, "we won't be going home after all. We'll have our tree right here in the corner."

AT the end of January we owed the bank $150. Profits from the stage had become very small. People didn't travel now unless they had to, and those who had horses transported their own perishables to keep them from freezing on the road. It didn't help our feelings any to discover that my father's bid for the line had been $500 lower than that of his closest competitor.

We girls were having our winter vacation, a long one in our village, and for us already becoming dull. The excitement of the snow had worn away under the routine of filling wood boxes and watching the arrow of the furnace gauge to see that the fire did not become too hot. It was not so warm in the American House as it had been in school. You were a sweater all day, and your feet began to burn and itch as soon as you stopped moving. There were very few transients. Except for the meat, fish, eggs, and potatoes my father got as payment from his patients, we would have been operating at a loss.

Mr. Cutter had been growing lazier and lazier. He never swept the office or shoveled the snow from the piazza without being reminded. Day after day he let the clock run down. His naps grew longer. When he was awake, he just sat on his stool drawing his circles or handling some of the bright new Lincoln pennies. Sometimes he piled them up in tiers. Sometimes he arranged them in intricate patterns around the brass-topped circular inkwell. When anyone came in, he guarded them jealously. I never got a chance at the register and the paper weight except when he was in the dining room.

Mrs. Guphill's irritability was keeping us out of the kitchen. She sputtered constantly about the cold, for, located as it was, the stove couldn't possibly heat the entire room. She kept harping, too, on Mr. Cutter. His laziness. His extravagance. His appetite. The business of the lamp plagued her terribly. She didn't say much about that, but she kept her eyes open.

ONE afternoon she came hurrying down to the kitchen where my mother was ironing and listening to my complaints about how drab the days were.

"I've found out," she gasped. I brightened, for her face suggested an outrage.

"Found out what?" my mother asked, looking up.

"What he does with it." He, spoken so scornfully, could mean just one person as far as Mrs. Guphill was concerned.

"Does with what?"

"The kerosene."

"Oh." My mother had never begrudged Mr. Cutter his kerosene. His extravagance was the least thing she held against him. We girls had never given it a thought. "Well, what does he do with it?"

Mrs. Guphill's face took on an expression of disgust. "He uses it to soak his hands in."

From Mrs. Guphill's manner, my mother, too, must have been expecting something more. "Well," she said coolly, "that's probably the way he keeps them so nice and white."

Her composure knocked some of the wind out of Mrs. Guphill's sails. "If you ask me, I think something should be done about it," she said, looking injured. Then she left and went back upstairs.

I felt quite let down. Still it was a story. . . .

"Are you going to tell Papa?" I asked my mother.

She shook her head. If my father had not been moved by the discord Mr. Cutter was causing, he was unlikely to be impressed by the fact that he soaked his hands in kerosene. Besides, she had her pride. For some reason my father could not discharge Mr. Cutter. If he did not care to divulge that reason, she would not ask it. She would not even bring the subject up.

"I've said all I intend to say," she told me.

Benham Has Charge Of Carthage Gas Program

AUSTIN—(AP)—Beauford Jester, Railroad Commission member, announced Monday that C. E. Benham, engineer with the Oil and Gas Division of Kilgore, has been placed in charge of the Carthage Gas Field conservation program.

Jester said Benham was placed in charge of the field to prevent such waste as had occurred in some fields at the beginning of gas production.

Before commenting on the play, I would like to state that the reason East does over-call the one no trump bid with two clubs is due to the vulnerability.

Now, while in this case South might have made three no trump, you cannot blame him for preferring a suit contract, especially holding the singleton ace.

Departmental Bill Tops Calendar Of 49th Legislature

AUSTIN—(AP)—Topping the calendar of the House Tuesday was the bulky departmental appropriations bill, passage of which is a necessary prelude to adjournment of the 49th Legislature, and the Senate was ready to take up the higher education appropriations bill.

Amendments adopted thus far have added $984,200 to the $30,532,836 departmental bill as recommended by the committee on appropriations. Attached to the bill Monday were amendments appropriating $325,000 for a state blood plasma collection and distribution program; $100,000 for meat inspection; $313,000 for the Liquor Control Board; $60,000 for refunds to pay claims on the General Land Office; $59,000 to match county funds for the payment of bounties on predatory animals.

Senate Passes Bill
While the House was laboring over the departmental money bill, the Senate was passing a bill appropriating $2,400,000 biennially for vocational education.

The judiciary pay raise bill, including all from district judges through the Supreme Court, was opposed by Sen. Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo. He said it would cost the state an additional $316,000 annually. Sen. T. C. Chadick of Quitman argued that it was unfair to raise the salaries of district judges 20 per cent a year in view of the fact that maximum raises granted by the legislature to state employees were 15 per cent.

In some parts of Ireland, a father is not permitted in the house when a child is being born, and even male doctors are excluded.

Three Score, Ten

CARS COLLIDE
Little damage was done when a 1936 Chevrolet and a 1942 Ford collided about 8:30 p. m. Monday on East Florida. The drivers were not injured.

Jester Requests Slow Cutback On Production

AUSTIN—(AP)—A gradual rather than a sudden reduction in oil production by the Petroleum Administration has been requested by Beauford Jester, member of the State Railroad Commission.

Jester said on company last month placed in storage 30,000 barrels more than it was able to move and foresaw the possibility that this condition would increase with the cessation of hostilities in Europe.

"The commission anticipates a marked reduction in view of the European situation but does not know when it will come. We hope it will be gradual rather than in a lump cut back and are requesting that the PAW follow this suggestion to avoid disturbing the demand," said Jester.

By The Way Soldier What Did You Want?

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—A soldier eased into a counter seat at a cafe here and called for "scotch and soda."

"This state is dry," the waitress told him. "Well, doggone," he growled, "the politicians sure change things fast these days. Fellow sleeps a few hours, wakes up and finds Dallas dry."

George B. Ross Is Awarded Bronze Star

WITH the 102D INFANTRY DIVISION IN GERMANY—T/Sgt. George B. Ross, husband of Mrs. Virginia L. Ross of Midland, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for "meritorious service in connection with military operations against the enemy in Germany."

Human beings cannot exist at altitudes higher than 23,000 feet without artificial oxygen.

the ace of clubs and naturally read this lead as a singleton.

The trick is to give your partner a ruff and at the same time tell him in which suit you have an immediate entry. You do that by returning the queen of clubs. This says, "Partner, my re-entry is in the highest ranking suit not trump."

If he holds the ace of diamonds and the king of hearts, his proper return is the deuce of clubs, thus stating, "Partner, my re-entry is in the lower of the two suits."

So with the aid of this convention West was able to get in two club ruffs and defeat the contract.

Story Behind Italian Surrender Is Dramatic One Equipped With Spies And An Extensive Dog Hunt

By NOLAND NORGARD
 ROME—(P)—German spies and other difficulties delayed final capitulation of the German and Italian Fascist armies in Northern Italy for nearly two months after negotiations were started in spy-thriller secrecy which included disguises and an ostensible search for a Dachshund named Fritz!

Two Allied officers, U. S. Major Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer of Washington, D. C., and British Major Gen. T. S. Airey, flew to Lyon, France, on March 13 and then, wearing civilian clothes and using names borrowed from two American enlisted men they met in France, drove to Switzerland where they set themselves up in a small house at Locarno and prepared to wait for a meeting with Nazi SS Gen. Karl Wolff.

The report on negotiations for the peace, released Sunday at Allied headquarters, said "Lemnitzer described the three weeks which followed as chapters from E. Phillips Oppenheim." The two officers explained their presence in the community by saying they came to look for a dog, and "Fritz" was purchased by General Airey.

Meeting With Wolff
 The Switzerland meeting with Wolff, top SS general in Italy, was arranged after a series of events beginning in February. On March 2, Allied agents said two German officers had reached the Swiss border and wanted to establish communication with Swiss headquarters. March 8 was set as the date. After this communication, the meeting with Wolff was arranged.

Wolff arrived on March 19 and was informed during a 44-minute conference that the Allies were interested only in unconditional surrender. Other difficulties included Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler's spies, the German general said.

No Word
 He left the meeting with the promise to attend another conference in five days, but March 24 passed without any word from him. The story was, the Allied headquarters report said, "that Himmler telephoned Wolff and asked him why he had gone to Switzerland." Wolff said it had been in connection with a prisoner exchange, and was then instructed by Himmler not to go back. Later Wolff sent word that he was going to Switzerland with two plenipotentiaries who were authorized to go to Caserta and sign a surrender.

The German representatives were brought to Allied headquarters on April 27 by plane and negotiations started anew. The surrender was signed April 29, to be effective at noon, May 2.

'Diamond Jim' Wins Second At El Paso
 "Diamond Jim," black five-gaited gelding owned and ridden by Chappell Davis of Midland, carried away second honors at the El Paso Riding and Driving Club show, Sunday afternoon, in El Paso.

First prize, in the feature of the show, went to "Bonnie Bell," owned by Bill Whitesides of Plainview, and ridden by Buck Barlow, of Fort Worth.

Fourth place, in the field of ten horses from the Southwest, was won by "Frontier Sue," owned by M. D. Self, of Midland, and ridden by Frank Kelly, of Colorado City. More than 100 horses were entered in the show.

Daily Oil Production Continues To Rise

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Daily average oil production for the week ending May 5 broke a week-old record with a total of 4,836,850 barrels, an increase of 24,850 over the previous week's figure, the Oil and Gas Journal estimated Tuesday.

Major increases were in Oklahoma, which came up 20,800 barrels to 384,350, and Texas, where production increased 15,600 barrels to 2,186,150.

Although Kansas cropped 11,450 barrels, Illinois 5,100 and Michigan 2,250, the losses were more than offset by gains in Oklahoma and Texas and smaller increases in Louisiana, California and Mississippi.

Mississippi output increased 2,500 barrels to 53,000.

V-E Day Means World Series Will Be Played

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
 Surrender day means baseball will play its world series this fall and may reinstate its all-star game but no great influx of returning GI athletes is to be expected.

Of about 500 major leaguers now on the national defense service lists, a majority are believed overseas, many in the Pacific theater. War Department estimates are that more than 12 months may be required to return the European armies to this nation, giving little hope for any familiar names returning to the 1945 box scores.

Delicate Balance
 Both circuits appear to be in such delicate balance that re-appearance of a star player in the lineup of any team could make it a pennant contender.

The New York Giants and Chicago White Sox were the big surprises of the new season but the intersectional tests were just beginning. Chicago polishes off some unfinished business with Cleveland Tuesday.

Cincinnati provides the opposition for the Giants Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds.

Recently scheduled benefit games for the July 9-11 period, may prevent any all-star tilt this season although Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler has indicated he will try to arrange a new date.

President Ford Frick and Will Harridge of the majors had cancelled the all-star game and left the World Series on the status of the war at a winter meeting with ODT chieftains.

Athletic World Anxiously Waits Official Word

By BUS HAM
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — Athletic leaders waited expectantly Tuesday for definite government word affecting sports as the result of Germany's unconditional surrender.

They were eager to learn, first when the racing ban will be lifted, and, next, if the War Department will take action on Congressional contentions that 4-F professional athletes have been discriminated against in the draft.

Remained Silent
 Government officials in positions to know what plans are being made remained silent about racing, but turf spokesmen said they had learned the ban will be removed on or about V-E Day.

The War Department has been investigating for some time complaints that professional athletes who could not meet physical requirements were being inducted into service.

An announcement was expected Monday, but the War Department said "it still is being cased. You'll just have to coast along until it's ready."

Herb Pennock Organizes New 'Manager's Club'

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Baseball fans who've been telling club owners and managers—unofficially—how to run their teams for years, can now advise the Phillies—officially.

General Manager Herb Pennock, recognizing the rights of fans to give owners and managers the benefit of their opinions, has formed the first official "Grandstand Managers' Club" in the 106-year history of baseball.

And even Manager Freddy Fitzsimmons, who's been receiving unsolicited advice from fans for years, is in favor of the new set-up.

Yelling All Year
 "They have been yelling at me all year," said Fitzsimmons.

"A few more will make the party a little merrier and maybe they will help, too. A thousand heads are better than one."

In addition, Pennock says, grandstand managers, who become such by applying at the Phillies' office or by mail, will be entitled to sit in a special section located behind the Phils' dugout.

And, if you're a dully enrolled grandstand manager, you're also entitled to suggest trades, sales and purchases of players or even complain about the hot dogs, the color of Pennock's ties, or the way Fitzsimmons wears his uniform.

Golfing Teams To Enjoy Stag Dinner

The team of Midland Country Club golfers which was defeated Sunday by a team from Midland Army Air Field will entertain the MAAF golfers at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday with a stag dinner at the country club.

On the last occasion the MAAF team played host to the civilian team as the civilians won the first contest between the two teams.

Wright Fires First Into Czechoslovakia

Lt. Raymond J. Wright, whose wife lives in Midland, was in command of Battery A, 915th Field Artillery of the 90th Division which was the first to fire into a country east of Germany, Czechoslovakia.

Lieutenant Wright lived at Odessa when he entered the Army in May 1941, but had lived in Midland. He went overseas in April 1944.

Atrocity To End All Atrocities

SEATTLE, WASH. — (AP) — Reluctant as he is to talk about his war experiences, Lt. Col. Howard F. Beir does recount one—with a shudder.

"Two German JU-88s were jumped by our fighters over Scotland," he reminisces. "They jettisoned their bombs and were shot down. The bombs hurt no one—just struck a mountain.

"But that mountain (insert shudder) was just a huge vat for 861,000,000 gallons of vintage Scotch whiskey."

The New York Giants and Chicago White Sox were the big surprises of the new season but the intersectional tests were just beginning. Chicago polishes off some unfinished business with Cleveland Tuesday.

Cuccinello And Olmo Lead League Batlers

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two surprise package hitters, Luis Olmo of Brooklyn and Tony Cuccinello of the Chicago White Sox, led the major league batsmen Tuesday at the end of the first three weeks of competition.

Olmo picked up 123 points for himself by collecting eight hits in nine at bats against the Phillies Sunday, boosting his average from .286 to a lofty .409. The Puerto Rican was riding the Dodgers bench for 10 days because of "weak hitting."

Cuccinello continued to hit so hard even Skipper Jimmy Dykes was amazed. A .395 mark for 11 games was on reason the Sox were in first place.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The news of Germany's surrender had just come over the cable and in the comparatively quiet corner where the sports department functions there, was some speculation as to when horse racing would be resumed, when real big league baseball players would be rejoining their clubs and whether football will be better next fall . . . when the discussion simmered down, the day's sports news still came from the armed forces. Here are a few samples:

News Around the World
 John Rigney, former White Sox pitcher, sends word from the Marianas, where he manages a ball team, that his best man, ex-Tiger Johnny Lipon, misses a lot of games while flying casualties from the Okinawa region. Rigney says that riding a B-29 bomber is "just like a trip on the Chicago 'L' except the ride isn't so jerky and it doesn't cost a dime." . . . A note from the University of Arkansas points out that three former Razorbacks have been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor—Capt. Maurice L. (Footsie) Britt, Lt. Nathan Gordon and, posthumously, Lt. Harold (Buck) Lloyd . . . In Italy, Pvt. Edward (Budge) Patty of Hollywood, Calif., former National Junior Tennis Champion, won the Florence Allied Area singles championship last week-end, beating Capt. Edward Minch of New York, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

Cleaning the Cuff
 "Scrapiron" Young, Notre Dame trainer for 14 years, will take on the training duties for the Detroit Lions next fall . . . Bucky Harris Jr. and Dad De Grott Jr., sons of the Senators' manager and the Redskins' coach, collaborated to win a baseball game for Washington's Wilson High School the other day . . . The Thoroughbred Club of America hints at retaliation if Happy Chandler continues "maligning the sport of horse racing." . . . Wonder if they'll advise the horses to stay away from ball parks and avoid public censure.
