Cross-Country GI Travel

Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson invited the accusation of resorting to the sort of buck-passing the public mind associates with official Washington in his recent comments about charges that shameful traveling accommodations are being provided for soldiers transported from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Most readers recall the circumstances. Charges were that servicemen were being packed like sardines into vermin-infested day coaches for the long trip across the continent.

Patterson had nothing to say at the time about vermin. He did acknowledge that day coaches had been used for such travel, adding that the War Department was attempting to correct that condition. He then mentioned that the provision of travel accommodations is up to the Office of Defense Transportation and to the railroads, to which, he said, the Armed Services had protested the lack of sleepers for all troops on long hauls.

It is entirely possible, as the undersecretary implied, that the Army was not at fault if soldiers were required to ride three per seat on a five-and-one-half-day ride toward the Pacific where, inevitably, some of them must die. Perhaps the War Department cannot be blamed, even though some may wonder why the Army did not make sure, in advance, that men bound from one theater of war to another fighting men can travel and sleep in comfort.

But, without attempting to say who it might be, certainly someone was to blame. And it is proper that the responsibility should be fixed. It is not enough to do everything possible to be sure that such things do not happen again.

True enough, the shortage of railroad equipment is serious. But no American will be persuaded easily that the shortage is so acute that any soldier should be required to share a seat with two others, and to sleep in the aisle, during a trip across the United States. That sort of business cannot be justified so long as there is one Pullman car being used for civilian travel, or for any purpose except, perhaps, the movement of sick or wounded veterans. If this means discomfort for civilians, or that many of them are to be crowded off trains entirely, what of it? How many civilians would be willing to trade places with Pacific-bound fighters, even if they could travel like royalty?

Doubtless it is the official job of ODT and the railroads to provide the equipment on which soldiers are transported. But, unofficially, it is the job of every American, including everyone connected with the War Department and the Armed Forces, to make sure that the accommodations are the very best available. And it will be difficult to persuade any American citizen that the best available should be anything worse than equipment in which the nation's fighting men can travel and sleep in comfort.

City people go to the country and country people to the city to answer the call of the wild.

A three letter word meaning the worst possible time for you to let down in your war effort—NOW!

The least we can do for our returning boys is let the path of glory lead to a good job.

McKinney Cow Visits 'Five And Ten' Store

McKINNEY —(AP)—Sadie, the sightseeing cow, once was strictly rustic. But when 800-pound Sadie was sold to a McKinney man and moved to town she went cosmopolitan. She must have heard a juke box playing "Don't Fence Me In."

She left her cowlot, sedately toured the town. First she visited the courthouse, climbing the south steps. Next she ambled into a gas company office.

But the highlight was her visit to the "Five and Ten". She even mounted the stairs to the stockroom, and wouldn't leave until Manager C. D. Ledbetter lassoed her in true Texas style. Once, however, he had to jump the partition to his office to get out of her way. Sadie is home now, and with a higher fence she's more like Elsie, the contented cow. Anyway, she stays home.

Miss LaVera Guess Becomes Bride Of Staff Sgt. Osborne W. Hummel Of MAAF

Women Of Midland County Can 16,400 Lbs. Pineapple Bought Here

A total of 260 women of Midland County have saved $935.77 and 378-120 blue points by canning 16,400 pounds of pineapple which was purchased through the marketing committee of the Home Demonstration Council. These facts were revealed Thursday by Mrs. Nettie B. Messick, county home demonstration agent. The pineapple bought, amounted to $1,476, and 9,453 pints were canned and 264 processed for frozen food lockers. This is a saving of nine cents and 40 points on each can of fruit, and 25c on each pint of frozen. Mrs. Messick reported. Juice made from the cores and skins totaled 380 cans.

The marriage of Miss LaVera Guess of Midland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Guess of Haskell, and Staff Sgt. Osborne W. Hummel of Sterling, Ill., was an event of June 23 in the Hummel home in Sterling. Dr. L. N. Main, pastor of the United Brethren Church of East Jordan, officiated for the single ring ceremony. Decorating the living room of the Hummel home were attractive arrangements of pink and white peonies and white syringa. Attendants to the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Parks. Mr. Parks was formerly Sergeant Hummel's scoutmaster at East Jordan. Attired in a dress of chartreuse, the bride chose accessories of black and white. Her shoulder corsage was of pink roses. DALLAS —(AP)—H. F. Former Professor Is Ordered Off Campus

AUSTIN —(AP)—An order restraining Dr. John Leo Abernethy, former assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Texas, from coming on the campus or exercising teaching duties has been signed by Judge Roy C. Archer of 128th District Court. The order is effective pending a hearing set for July 20 on an injunction application filed by the attorney general in behalf of the University of Texas. The petition, including an affidavit signed by acting president, T. S. The petition alleged Abernethy refused to leave his post when his contract was terminated.

Better Be Sure To Get Priority

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Travelers—discouraged by the restrictions on Pullman cars—should think twice before trying to board airplanes without priorities.

An official of the Air Transport Association of America said: "No one, unless he's crazy, would try now to travel without a priority."

This same official scoffed at the idea that Pullman car restrictions would add to the airlines' burdens. "Where would we put them?" he asked.

People without priorities are being "bumped" all over the country.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The fierce aerial bombardment which Admiral (Bull) Halsey's carrier-based warplanes administered to Japan has led the Tokyo Radio commentators to speculate whether this is the curtain-raiser for invasion.

Well, it could be, but the signs are that, barring some unexpected development, the mikado's mother No Enemy Pressure

How long will it take to reduce the main islands to the point where we can carry out amphibious invasions without undue casualties? That's a matter of pure speculation, of course, but it's safe to say we can do it much more expeditiously than in the case of Germany.

Bombing Continues There are military experts who believe we could knock Japan out completely by bombing, but that remains to be demonstrated and can't be assumed at this juncture by any means.

Many observers have the feeling that the bombing of Japan may continue for several months as a preliminary to invasion — always making allowance for some circumstance which would invite an earlier landing on the Japanese mainland. However, by October we should have a good idea of how things stand.

Mike Turnesa, Nelson Clash In P.G.A. Tourney

DAYTON, O.—(AP)—Mike Turnesa, 36-year-old golf star from White Plains, N. Y., goes into Thursday's 36-hole second round matches of the 27th PGA Championship hoping he can do as well as his kid brother, Sgt. Jim, did three years ago.

Mike has the chore of playing Byron Nelson, the Toledo umbrella man transplanted from Texas—and that's considered the toughest chore a pro can face. Nelson, favorite for the title, has won 30 of his 36 matches in PGA play.

But three years ago, at Atlantic City, Sgt. Jim Turnesa handed Nelson one of his six defeats. Nelson beats Sarazen. Nelson breezed into Thursday's second round with a 4 and 3 win over Gene Sarazen, three-time winner of the tourney, while Mike registered a 5 and 4 verdict over Johnny Gibson of Wilmette, Ill.

Both 1944 Champs Lag Behind Pace Of Last Season

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer. Baseball swings into a fourth vital intersessional series Thursday with the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers, respective league leaders, showing largest gains over their 1944 mid-season standings.

A year ago both the Bruins and Bengals were mired deep in seventh place while Thursday's won and lost records show Chicago one game ahead of the National pack and Detroit with a 4 1/2 length advantage in the American.

Both 1944 champions, the St. Cardinals and Browns, are behind their '44 pace. The Cards are 9 1/2 games off last year's pace and dropped from the lead to third. Luke Sewell's "Cinderella gang" has from first to sixth, six games behind their pennant-winning gait.

Detroit Has Opportunity. Detroit has been first since June 12 and comes east to open in Boston with a chance of building a solid lead by a repetition of their first successful road jaunt.

The Boston Braves, who were manhandled by the Bruins 24-2 and lost an entire series to Chicago at home, lead the invaders into Wright Field followed by New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Greenberg Makes Trip. Detroit comes to the Atlantic seaboard with Dizzy Trout and two lesser pitchers on the ailing list but with Hank Greenberg making his first swing around the circuit.

House To Vote On FEPC Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Congressional fight over the Fair Employment Practice Committee apparently was all over but the shouting Thursday.

There were indications, though, there would be plenty of that before final action on a compromise worked out to jar loose the deadlocked $752,000,000 War Agencies Supply Bill. It carries $250,000 for continuation of the agency on short financial rations.

The legislative skirts were greased to shove the big bill through by nightfall and send it to the White House Friday. Not until it is signed into law will 16 home-front war agencies have money with which to operate.

Action to break the deadlock that gripped the bill more than a month ago will start in the House, with a vote on an Appropriations Committee recommendation to give FEPC the $250,000 voted by the Senate.

No Time Set For Liquidation. It was the Senate action, after the House originally had denied funds for the agency, that precipitated one of the longest appropriation stalemates in recent years.

The compromise allows the FEPC to use the $250,000 for its normal activities during the current fiscal year. Although it calls for liquidation of the agency, no time limit is set for liquidation.

FEPC supporters said the agreement was all right with them, even though it called for less than half of the budget estimates. Their claim that the liquidation provision was meaningless was not disputed even by FEPC foes.

That the Senate would accept the compromise was predicted by members of a Senate-House Conference Committee who met to discuss 32 other differences in the bill.

Dick Hawkins Tells Rotarians 'America Is Hope Of World'

Dick Hawkins, Huntsville, Texas, educator and president-elect of Sul Ross Teachers College at Alpine, told Midland Rotarians at their meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer that "America is the hope of the world."

He urged Midland citizens to vote for the bonds of the school district here in Saturday's special election so Midland's educational facilities may be improved.

Discussing the importance of the San Francisco Conference and the United Nations Charter, Hawkins declared the "future of civilization is at stake."

"Must Show Way" "Democracy is the expression of Christianity. Physical victory is not enough. We must attain a moral victory. America must show the way to peace. America has many responsibilities but need not play Santa Claus to the world."

He said Sul Ross College will offer a broad, liberal, general education program as a foundation for citizenship.

Guy Brenneman, president, presided at the meeting and Richard Brooks, program chairman, introduced Hawkins.

The past-president's pin was presented to C. H. Shepard by T. Paul Barron.

'Sky Fire' Declared 'Complete Mystery'

MADRID (AP)—While scientists, reporters and movie cameramen waited Thursday in La Roca, Almeria Province, for a glimpse of the recurring "Sky Fire" reported to have terrified villagers and scorched buildings, another mountain village announced a similar occurrence.

The mayor of Lechon, in Southern Zaragoza Province, wrote that during a storm June 5 a whirling column of air struck the ground near the village "with a tremendous noise like a gigantic bomb bursting" while "flames more than 30 yards high leaped in the sky."

The Lechon phenomenon was witnessed by a nearby weather observatory which called it "a complete mystery."

Postwar Plans Of Major Airlines Are Revealed

WASHINGTON—In their early expanded post-war fleets, 19 airlines of the United States expect to have 975 planes operating at higher speeds with many new comforts and seating 36,180 passengers, it was disclosed in a survey released by the Air Transport Association of America.

To raise their equipment to meet post-war programs, the airlines have ordered or have on order 409 new planes seating 23,275 passengers, and including the latest models of aircraft incorporating many war-developed improvements in design, speed and detail appointments.

The great size of the new fleet is indicated by comparison. Before Pearl Harbor, the 19 domestic airlines had available 359 planes with 6,250 seats. After the Army and Navy had taken over one-half of these planes for war uses, the airlines were left with about 166 ships. Increased Number of Planes

In recent months, and since the fall of Germany, the domestic airlines have, through recovery and purchase, increased the number of available planes to 395, while 1,169 are now in foreign service.

The post-war fleet, therefore, will be nearly three times larger than pre-war 1941 in number of planes and more than five times in seating capacity.

The enlarged fleet of 1946-47, it is pointed out, will be capable of operating 6 to 8 billion passenger miles per year, whereas the wartime fleet of 1944 racked up 2,264,222,443 passenger miles.

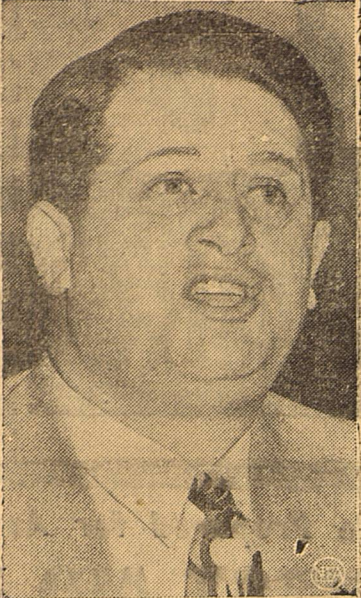

The size of the 1946-47 fleet may go up or down somewhat, depending on the rapidly with which aircraft materials and manpower become available. To meet increasing war demands, the War Production Board has given the green light for speeding up the expansion of air transportation which has proved so essential in moving key personnel, the wounded and sick and vital war material.

There are 130 bridges across the Mississippi River.

Richard T. Frankenstein, above, vice president of the United Automobile Workers and a candidate for mayor of Detroit, denounced automotive workers on strike in that city, declaring the stoppages "tragic folly" that is a "total disregard of the union's no-strike pledge."

Pullman Car Ban May Last Five Months

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Association of American Railroads has predicted the ban on Pullman cars for short runs might last three to five months as troop redeployment sends passenger mileage to record-smashing levels.

Arrivals of Pacific-bound troops from Europe were one-third greater than expected in June and apparently will run 40 percent greater this month, it was reported.

Will Shorten Crisis This will shorten the coming crisis in domestic transportation—which had been expected to run until March—but will throw an unprecedented burden on the nation's railroads through the entire vacation-travel peak.

The Office of Defense Transportation, which last night prohibited the use of sleeping cars on runs under 450 miles, said the order would apply to soldiers and sailors on "through travel as well as to civilians. Railroads simply will not assign Pullmans to short runs after July 15, thereby freezing nearly 900 cars for organized troop movements. Persons going less than 450 miles may take Pullman space on trains scheduled for longer runs, if the space is available.

Japan Changing Propaganda Tune For Okinawa Troops

By S/SGT. GEORGE R. VOIGT (Marine Corps Combat Correspondent)

OKINAWA — Radio Tokyo has changed its tune in propaganda broadcasts beamed to our troops here.

The line put out over the airways no longer is "you're best so why not give up," but rather "you'll never get us to agree to unconditional surrender so why not settle for a negotiated peace and go home?"

Tokyo's propaganda attempts always have been a source of amusement to the troops, but the new approach, in addition to being amusing, serves as a morale builder as well.

The reaction among the men of Major General Lemuel C. Shepherd's Sixth Marine Division is "when they begin talking like that they're on the ropes."

The new propaganda line is put out by a soft-spoken man, with a slightly southern accent, who speaks in the first person as though he were an American Marine or soldier. He is accompanied by soft, creamy background music. The gist of his dialogue is "I wanna go home."

"Ya know," he starts out, "now that Germany's knocked out of the picture I'd just as soon call this thing quits and go home."

Then he begins to gripe in the best American serviceman's manner about the hopelessness of unconditional surrender.

"Now you know as well as I," he says confidentially, "that Japan will never agree to unconditional surrender. And anyway, what the hell difference does it make? What's wrong with a negotiated peace?"

"I don't know who started this war," the voice continues as the Marines howl derisively, "but I do know it takes two to keep a fight going. And I've been over here a long time and I wanna go home."

"While everybody's talking about unconditional surrender we could be talking about knocking off this fighting. The guys who started it are all gone now anyway—or will be gone soon. So let's quit."

"I don't know about you guys but I want to get back home."

"To which one? Marine quipped. "What the hell, Mac? You are home."

Fliers Destroy 130,342 Square Miles Of Jap Industrial Areas

By LEIF ERICKSON

WITH THE U. S. 21ST BOMBER COMMAND, GUAM—(AP)—In a massive acceleration of the air war against Japan, Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay's Marianas-based Superfortresses smashed targets with at least 42,250 tons of fire and demolition bombs and flew 6,500 individual sorties through June and the first days of July.

Sixty-nine missions were flown in the 39-day period, including 27 fire raids against Japanese industrial cities.

With damage yet to be assessed in four cities, 36,297 additional square miles of urban and industrial areas were burned out, bringing to 130,342 square miles the total destroyed Japanese built-up industrial sectors.

Thirty-five war industry and oil plants were hit with demolition bombs as the weight of the Superforts was shifted from Tokyo and other major cities to Japan's less populated centers and dispersed war plants.

Loss 39 B-29s Thirty-nine B-29s were lost, a loss ratio barely more than one-half of the one per cent in the tremendously stepped up bombing assaults beginning the fulfillment of Gen. H. H. Arnold's promise that 2,000,000 tons of bombs would be dropped on Japan in the year starting the first of this month if the Japanese persist in war.

B-29 mining operations—particularly significant in tightening the blockade on Japan's sorely needed war supplies and food from the Asiatic mainland—increased dramatically with 12 mining missions in June and two more runs thus far in July.

During the first three months of mining operations against Japan, Marianas-based Superforts laid more mines in the enemy's home waters than were laid by the Royal Air Force during the peak three months of its mining operations against the Germans.

Argentina's Meat Goes To British

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Empty meat counters are causing many Americans to turn their eyes toward Canada and Argentina and to wonder why the government doesn't import supplies from those meat-producing countries.

Suggestions of this nature pour in on American food officials. The latter reply that it is impossible to obtain meats from either country under the Allied program for coordinating purchases of the fighting nations.

Canada's exportable surplus is being turned over to the United Kingdom and to liberated areas in Europe. Insofar as Canada is able to help supply the British and Continental Europe, demands of these groups upon this country's supply are lessened.

Argentina's exportable supply likewise is earmarked largely for the United Kingdom and the armed forces of the Allied nations.

Early in the war, the British and American governments agreed to make the British government the sole purchaser of meats in Argentina. This agreement took into account the fact that before the war the British were the principal buyer of Argentina's exportable supply.

Teach Junior Miss How To Cook

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

American teen-age girls have a job—that of learning in these days of food shortages how to help their mothers plan and produce adequate and edible meals from limited supplies. Girls should be taught now the cooking art of self-defense. Not only to insure a home front food army, but also to train a generation of future mothers to feed their families adequately regardless of money on markets.

Peggy Ann Garner, the 13-year-old movie star of "Junior Miss," actually helps cook in her mother's home. She's a lovely youngster, simple and unafected. She gave us these easy recipes to pass on to other Junior Misses who want to learn now how to be 100 percent trained for family life and food front national defense.

Cheese and Bean Loaf
One cup cooked kidney beans, 1 cup cottage cheese, 1 cup ground peanuts, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 cup boiled rice, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 cup tomato juice, salt and pepper.

Mix the ingredients well and form the mixture into a roll. Brush it over with melted fat and bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Serve the loaf with a medium white sauce to which may be added two tablespoons minced parsley.

Hamburg Toasties
One-half pound ground beef, 1 cup corn flakes slightly crushed, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper, 3 to 4 tablespoons milk or water.

Combine ingredients and mix well. Shape into flat cakes and panbroil in lightly greased pan, turning to brown both sides. Makes 6 cakes about 3 inches in diameter.

CONSTRUCTION IS HALTED ON WAR INDUSTRY

MARSHALL, TEXAS—(AP)—Most construction work on plant No. 2 designed for manufacturing propellants for rocket bombs, at the Longhorn Ordnance Work, Karnack, was ordered halted by the War Department.

Maj. J. H. Walker, commanding officer, said that under present plans approximately two-thirds of the originally scheduled quantities of materials are not to be made available.

Peggy Ann Garner believes every Junior Miss should learn to cook intelligently.

'Feather' Fluid To Remove Spots

By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

The kind of rings no woman likes are those left on clothes by spotting fluids.

Unless properly applied, all spotting fluids will "ring," say dry cleaning experts, who suggest using one of the generally accepted kind, but caution that good results depend upon the skillful practice of "feathering out."

To imitate successfully the professional dry cleaner's method, the experts warn you never rub a fluid into a spot, traveling in continually widening circles until the spotting fluid has evaporated. This will leave no sharp line of demarcation between fabric treated by spotting fluid and that which has not been cleaned—thus obviating the tell-tale ring.

The average person will drink 90 bottles of soft drink per year.

Americans Win Confidence Of Okinawa Natives

By AL DOPKING
 OKINAWA—(P)—The little brown natives of Okinawa cling to their ancient ways and shy away when they are spoken to but United States military government is gradually winning their confidence. The 250,000 of them, who have conquering Americans, like to work become one of the problems of the in the fields. They seem to know little about their origin. Their culture appears to be a mixture of Chinese and Japanese, imposed upon them in the last 100 years of their history.

Early in the 1800's the last king of Okinawa was taken to Japan and installed there in regal splendor. He never saw his people or native land again. There are still some vestiges of the ancient kingdom, such as Shuri Castle, which the Japanese made the key fortress of their defense of more valuable property were long ago taken over by Japanese government officials. But all the castles and most officials.

Okinawans Obtain Rations
 During the first few weeks of the invasion, the Okinawans behind the American lines were almost self-sustaining. But now, with more and more coming into camps and towns under military government, they have been drawing largely on rations provided for them. Those who work and are allowed three meals a day (the non-workers get only two) are handling their own ration system under American supervision.

Brig. Gen. William E. Crist of Harrisburg, Pa., military government commander, said the government policy was threefold:
 1. Primary mission, to facilitate military operations.
 2. To adhere to provisions of international law as embodied in the Geneva Convention.
 3. To provide minimum humanitarian needs in clothing, shelter and medical attention.

Rankin Puts Congressmen On Hot Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
 WASHINGTON —(P)—Rep. John E. Rankin, white-haired Mississippi Democrat, said: "I would stop every damn strike in this country." He meant a bill he has introduced in Congress. He probably has a heart of gold, but before he can get it considered on the floor.

Narrowing his sharp brown eyes, Rankin said in an interview his bill means:
 1. Even in a plant where a union has a closed-shop contract, a World War II veteran could be hired without having to join the union or pay dues.
 2. Where there's a strike—even in a plant with a closed-shop contract—veterans could be hired without having to join the union or pay dues.

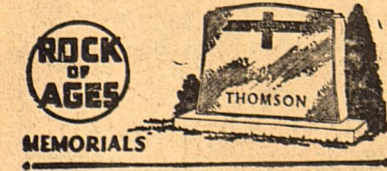

Contrary to Contracts
 No. 1 in contrary to the kind of union-management contracts which have government recognition. No. 2 could make strike-breakers of veterans.
 "If this bill passes and becomes the law of the land it will break more of the strikes in our defense industries than anything else that has been done since the war began." Rankin introduced the bill in the House. It was assigned to the House Committee on Veteran Legislation. Rankin is chairman of that committee. The committee approved the bill.
Rankin Is Shrewd
 The bill places congressmen on a hot spot:
 They might fear that, if they voted for the bill, labor unions would look upon them as enemies of labor.
 They might fear that, if they voted against the bill, some veterans would look upon them as enemies of veterans.
 Rankin is shrewd. He knows the tricks and rules of Congress better than most congressmen. He may be able to pull one out of the hat and get the bill before the House in spite of any efforts to choke it off by silence.

Point System Means Little To One Vet

OCCUPIED GERMANY—(P)—It will be some time before Pfc. Manuel Fernandez, of San Antonio, gets back there if he has to go via the Army's discharge system. Manuel is a line company soldier in Company B, 324th Infantry Regiment, and has three children. Yet he has only 21 points.
 The reason is that Manuel was married at the tender age of 14, became a father when he was 15 and now all his children are over 18 years of age, hence no help at all in the point system.

Cox Has Eight-Point Program For Improvement Of Cotton Production

AUSTIN —(P)—An eight-point program for the improvement of cotton production in the United States, which has 50 per cent of the world's cotton producing areas within its borders, was presented by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

Dr. Cox, who is also economic adviser to the American Cotton Association, and a member of the U. S. Cotton Policy Committee, said that "because cotton is so closely allied with other industries and with agriculture, national policies should be all-inclusive."
 He proposes:
 1. Build as much of the nation's economy on agricultural products as is economically feasible to attain maximum income and security.
 2. Maintain agriculture on the basis of family-sized farms, privately owned and operated, in sizes for efficient operation.
 3. Increase farm family income by lowering costs and improving qualities of products, and at the same time furnish better raw materials at lower cost to expand employment in industry and trade.
 4. Develop efficient, aggressive marketing policies to provide profitable outlets for a greater volume of better agricultural products scientifically produced.
 5. Develop a system of credit flexible enough to meet all the farmer's needs, operating on a scientific basis, and especially to encourage farm owner operation to a very high degree.
 6. Provide a strong program of research in farm management, scientific crop and livestock breeding.
 7. Promote conditions conducive to the development of strong, virile rural communities with all modern necessities and conveniences.
 8. Encourage holding on the farm and in rural communities farm commodity processing plants and other manufacturing adapted to such communities.

Helmeted Soldiers Paint White Crosses

By BONNIE WILEY
 OKINAWA—(P)—This is a tour of the Okinawa battlefield after the guns have fallen silent — a battlefield where many valorous young Americans fell but carried with them into eternity an even greater number of Japanese.
 The jeep bumps along — moving slowly through the dust clouds to keep from running down Okinawans—past the ruined and deserted villages into the rubble heap of what was once Naha, the capital of Okinawa.
 It is peaceful now on Conical Hill, where the Americans fought up and were driven back and finally went up to stay.

 Not far away is a cemetery where many of those who fought on Conical Hill lie buried. Helmeted soldiers are painting white crosses. In the center of one cemetery was a low picket fence around the grave of Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner Jr., commander of the U.

Kiss and Tell

by F. HUGH HERBERT
An Actual Movie Shooting Script

THE STORY: Corliss Archer and Mildred Pringle, ostensibly selling guest towels at a USO bazaar, are actually selling kisses. Business is brisk and all goes well until their mothers suddenly put in an appearance.

INT. MOVING SEDAN—DAY
TRANSPARENCY

The Pringle sedan, with Mrs. Pringle at the wheel, is moving through a residential section. Next to Mrs. Pringle is Mildred and next to Mildred is Raymond. In the back seat Mrs. Archer is seated between Corliss and Dexter.

CORLISS: (protesting shrilly) Honestly, Mum, I don't know why you're making such a fuss! It was only—

MRS. ARCHER: Be quiet, Corliss.

Corliss subsides in a martyred manner. Mildred looks at her mother's angry face.

MILDRED: I'm sorry you're so upset, Mother, but I don't see any harm in what we did.

Mrs. Pringle has no comment to make, but Mrs. Archer leaps into the breach.

MRS. ARCHER: Possibly not, but you are nearly 18 and Corliss is not yet 16—and you have been raised quite differently.

Mrs. Pringle turns around to glare at Mrs. Archer, almost letting go of the wheel.

MRS. PRINGLE: I resent that remark!

MILDRED: (hastily) Mother, please—look where you're driving.

Mrs. Pringle grabs the wheel just in time to avert a collision.

CORLISS: But, Mum, if you'd only listen—

MRS. ARCHER: I don't see how you could let Mildred persuade you to do such a thing.

Again Mrs. Pringle jeopardizes traffic to turn around.

MRS. PRINGLE: Now just a moment, Janet—as I understand it, the idea originated with Corliss.

CORLISS: As a matter of fact, it was Dexter who started it all.

DEXTER: (yelping) Me? Holy cow, you must be crazy!

RAYMOND: (bored) I think it's all very dumb. What does it matter whose idea it was?

MRS. PRINGLE: You be quiet. It matters a great deal.

MRS. ARCHER: (frigidly) When we get home, Dorothy, if you want to come in where we can thrash this thing out properly—

MRS. PRINGLE: (equally frigid) No, thank you, Janet—I have no desire to intrude where my daughter is considered a contaminating influence.

MILDRED: Mother, please!

MRS. ARCHER: Now, Dorothy, I never said—

MRS. PRINGLE: Oh, yes you did—those were your very words, Janet—and I for one am not likely to forget them!

The car is slowing up in front of the Archer house at this stage of the altercation.

EXT. ARCHER HOUSE—DAY

This is a modest but attractive two-story frame dwelling with a nice yard in front. A cement driveway separates it from Dexter's home next door. Sitting on the stoop of their home, enjoying the cool of the late afternoon, we find Mrs. FRANKLIN, while MR. FRANKLIN is moving the lawn in his shirt-sleeves. The Pringle sedan chugs up to the curb and pulls up in front of the Archer residence, the engine still running. The rear door opens and Mrs. Archer, Corliss, and Dexter get out. At the same moment a large, fat Springer spaniel comes tearing down the driveway and greets Corliss ecstatically. This is MORONICA, the Archers' somewhat dim-witted pet. Without waiting for any further overtures, Mrs. Pringle slams the door of the sedan shut and pulls out of the shot. Over the roar of the motor we hear a familiar, "I think it's all very dumb!" from Raymond. The Franklins have observed the hasty and hostile departure of the Pringles. Mr. Franklin has ceased mowing the lawn. Mrs. Franklin is intrigued. Corliss is playing with Moronica, but Mrs. Archer pulls her away and together they start up the driveway.

SHOOTING TOWARDS FRANKLIN HOME

Dexter remains for a moment staring after the receding car.

MR. FRANKLIN: What's up, son?

DEXTER: (morosely) Oh, boy, it's Mrs. Pringle good and mad!

MRS. FRANKLIN: (to Dexter) What happened, dear?

DEXTER: Plenty, Mom. Tell you later.

He hurries down the driveway in the wake of Corliss.

EXT. PRINGLE HOME

The Pringle sedan has just pulled up into the driveway, and Mrs. Pringle, with a very grim expression, is getting out followed by Mildred and Raymond.

MILDRED: (soothingly) Honestly, Mother, I really think—

MRS. PRINGLE: Just wait until I tell your father what she had the nerve to say!

MILDRED: Oh, Mother, you're making mountains out of mole-hills.

Ignoring this comment of her daughter's, Mrs. Pringle marches into the house. Raymond looks at his sister and raises his eyebrows eloquently.

RAYMOND: Oh, boy, by the time Pop hears about it, it'll be a whole range of Alps!

Mildred looks at her little brother menacingly.

MILDRED: (grimly) And if you—

Raymond strolls away with his hands in his pockets.

RAYMOND: (bored) Don't worry about me. I think it's all very dumb.

Mildred follows her mother dejectedly into the house.

I get many interesting letters from our members throughout the world. I just got one from Lou Fagon. He could not tell me where he was located, but he did say that they had no duplicate boards. Since the boys wanted to play duplicate, they made some out of corrugated paper. Most of the boys had never played duplicate before, and the mechanics of the game got them a little confused. He said he and his partner certainly got mixed up in the bidding of today's hand. Of course, his bid of five hearts was intended for blackwood, but his partner forgot and, holding four hearts to the king, he immediately bid six hearts. Now Fagon went to six spades, only to have his partner bid seven hearts. Well, he did not want to play a hand with a vacant suit, so he bid seven spades and West made the mistake of doubling.

The opening lead was won with the ten of diamonds, and Fagon was careful to play a small spade from dummy. The drop of the singleton king allowed him to pick up the whole spade suit, and he ran the diamonds and discarded from dummy until it was down to the ace and nine of clubs. In his own hand he had the queen and three of clubs and the deuce of diamonds. When he led the last diamond, West had to let go of either the ace of hearts or the jack of clubs.

Texas Soldier Drives Horses Across Austria

A modern Texas trail driver who carried his shooting irons in case of trouble just like he did in the old days is Robert P. Bailey of Sulphur Springs.

In a letter to his home town newspaper, the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram, he said he laid claim to being the first Texan to drive a string of horses 90 miles across Austria.

He is with a tank battalion in Austria. When Germany surrendered, his outfit was on the Czech border. The Germans turned loose 15 good riding horses, and Bailey was ordered to round them up. He did, and the Americans organized a riding club.

Later they were ordered to move across the Danube, 90 miles away. The Texan was placed in charge of the horses, and was told to drive them to the new location.

He selected his "cowboys" for the trip—seven men—and commanded a jeep to use as a chuckwagon.

They carried shooting irons just in case, but didn't have to use them. The trip took several days.

Blind Man's Crime Baffles Court Judge

NASHVILLE, Tenn. —(AP)—A 51-year-old blind man committed to state prison under one-year sentence for stealing a ham, was unshaken at questioning on how he'd done it.

When Chester W. Nimtz was 27 years old he was commander of U. S. submarine forces in the Atlantic Ocean.

Every Miss Was Hit For Charity

LONDON —(AP)—Due to an anonymous man's strange offer, the family of some soldier, sailor or airman will benefit by about $450 from the Soldier's, Sailors' and Airmen's Families Association fund.

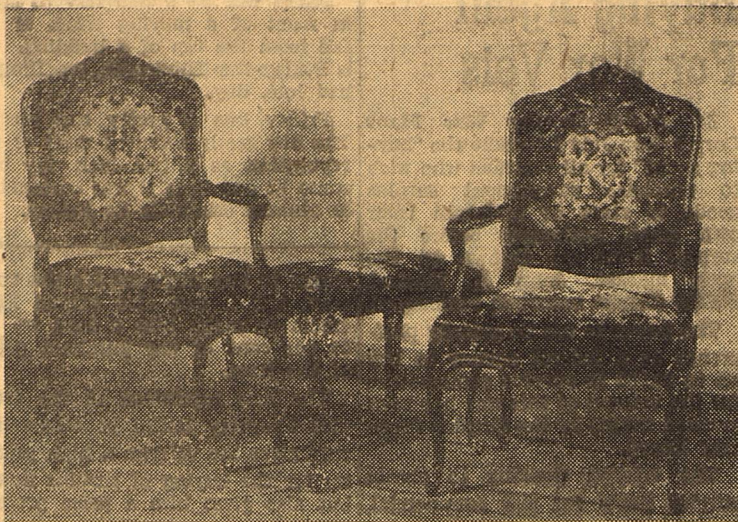

When the V-bomb attacks were at their height last July this man told his family he was prepared to pay $5 to war charities for every week of danger so long as his house, family, office premises and staff remained safe. He did this for 41 weeks.

A few days before the end of London's rocket ordeal a V-2 landed within 100 yards of his house, causing some damage. But this man decided that since other homes in the neighborhood were completely wrecked, such a "trifling matter" as his own ceilings, roof and windows should not let him out of his promise.

He sent his usual check to the S.S.A.F.A. with the request that it be used to help towards the education of a service man's child or to help a war widow.

Weird Truce Is Negotiated With Japanese Major

By LEIF ERICKSON OKINAWA —(AP)—A weird truce has been arranged with a Japanese major commanding a garrison on an island off Okinawa whereby he permits Americans to swim and hunt shells on the beach but refuses to surrender "as long as there are no orders from the emperor or his representative."

The truce negotiations with the Japanese commander, who shall be known in this account as Major Watanabe, started June 13 when an I-GI broadcast an appeal to the island garrison to surrender.

Giving the word to the Japanese were Lt. (jg) Henry C. Norton and Lt. (jg) D. L. Osborn, Japanese language officers, and two captured Japanese officers, known in this account as Lt. Abe and Lt. Nomura. As a gesture of good faith, Osborn and Norton accompanied the Japanese garrison commander to his headquarters unarmed.

Signed Short Snorter Bills After lunch, the Americans returned to the beach. Next day a messenger appeared at the beach to report that Watanabe had decided not to surrender without word from the emperor.

A yellow memorandum signed by the Japanese commander said: "We will refrain from harming any parties engaged in non-military pursuits such as swimming, picnicking and shell gathering on the shores of the island."

He also expressed thanks to Clark "and everyone in your party for your friendliness and warm heartedness."

Peas were brought to America by the pioneer settlers. They were extensively cultivated in England, Scotland and Holland at an early date.

It required 13 years to build the Brooklyn Bridge.

"Service is the principal commodity of our service station," Joe Roberson, owner of Roberson's Sinclair Service Station, declared.

The Roberson Sinclair Service Station at 320 West Wall Street is one of the busiest in the city as many Midland County automobile and motor truck owners have learned when they take their cars and trucks to Roberson's they get prompt, efficient and courteous service.

To illustrate Roberson's high regard for giving his customers the best of service, he still gives road service, although numerous handicaps are encountered under wartime conditions.

Motorists who take their cars to Roberson's find they still receive such services as windshield wiping, tires and radiator checking and other smaller things which save quite a bit of trouble for the car owner.

Prizes Sinclair Products Roberson emphasizes the quality of Sinclair petroleum products which he sells at his station. "I don't believe there is a line of petroleum products made that gives the car and truck owner as much quality and value for his money as Sinclair products," Roberson declared.

The research facilities of the Sinclair firm are busy at all times seeking ways and means of improving the products. New refining methods are developed which improve the products and causes them to give the car and truck owner better service.

"Sinclair lubricants have played a major role in keeping cars and trucks in operation during the war," he asserted.

Roberson pointed to the fact regular lubrication helps perhaps more than any other one thing to prolong the useful life of cars and trucks. While regular lubrication is highly important, it is equally important to use the proper kinds of lubricants. The Sinclair line has a lubricant for every type of connection and car part.

Roberson invited car and truck owners who have not visited his station to do so.

"They will be welcome," he said.

Marine Evacuation Hospital On Okinawa Completes Its Work

By BONNIE WILEY OKINAWA —(AP)—A Pacific war experiment—a Marine evacuation hospital originally named entirely by Navy personnel—is ready to close, its job of evacuating the wounded completed.

Nine wards were in cellars dug 10 feet down. These were reserved for patients who could not be moved no matter how close enemy bombs fell during the campaign to wrest Okinawa from the Japanese.

Twenty-one wards were in sand-bagged revettments and the remainder were in tents with foxholes for the walking wounded.

Tragedy hit this hospital in May when a bombing and strafing by Japanese planes cost 13 lives and wounded 31.

"A real hero was killed," said Capt. Walter F. Karbach, San Antonio, commanding officer of the hospital.

Helped With Wounded "He was one of our loyal hospital corpsmen off duty and could have jumped into a foxhole. But instead he rushed into the wards to help with the wounded."

"When the going was roughest he showed a patient against a wall and threw himself in front of the man. Both were hit. The wounded man was slightly injured but the corps man was killed."

Operating rooms buried in the ground look like something from a fantastic story but in those rooms countless lives were saved.

"Ninety percent of our cases were surgical," said Capt. Daniel W. Wheeler, Duluth, Minn., the executive officer.

"The casualties were more mutilated than any I ever had seen before," Karbach declared.

On the peak day 540 patients were evacuated by the hospital, mostly by air.

Phillips Electric Company Has Plenty Of Wiring Material Now

Wiring material has become more plentiful at the Phillips Electric Company, H. N. Phillips, owner of the concern said. At present the firm has a large amount of this material to use for the numerous electrical wiring jobs it performs.

The Phillips Electric Company at 216 North Main Street is a well established business concern of Midland, having started here 14 years ago. Phillips has wired many Midland homes, business structures and public buildings.

Since some electrical supplies have become more plentiful since the victory over Germany Phillips hopes to be able to take care of more electrical work now than at any time since the war started. Just this week he unloaded 10,000 feet of pipe.

The owner of the concern does not expect to be able to obtain many electrical appliances for some time, primarily due to a shortage of labor. In view of this he keeps its appliance repair department going at full speed helping Midland citizens keep their electrical appliances in operation until new ones can be obtained.

Since the victory in Europe restrictions have been taken off the sale of light bulbs and Phillips now has a large stock of the well known GE bulbs.

Light fixtures are another line of electrical products which the concern now has in quantity. Customers of the firm are offered a wide choice of fixtures.

Improve Lighting "New light fixtures can make an astonishing change in the appearance of a home," Phillips pointed out. "Not only do they improve the appearance, but they improve lighting conditions as well."

Phillips continues to feature his electrical contract work. In performing this work he makes safety his first consideration. Know how is tremendously important in performing electrical work, Phillips declared as he pointed to the fact numerous fires start from faulty electrical wiring and connections.

He invited Midland citizens who are interested in having electrical work done to get in touch with his concern.

"We promise them we will do the best work we know how to do."

Texans Have Right To Tell World What They've Done In World War II

DALLAS — Ever since the first shot was fired, Texans, individually and in groups, have been telling the world what Texas has done and will do to help win the war.

They have told it to their buddies and shipmates in uniform from other states; they have told it to their fighting allies from other countries; they have told it in camp and on shipboard—in cities, towns and villages—in English and in whatever other languages they have been able to acquire in their travels.

Some have been tall tales; some have been startling facts.

Since Texans, for all their pride in their home state, on the battle fronts and the home front, have been fighting as Americans rather than as Texans and since many of the essential war records are not broken down by areas, the whole statistical story of what Texas has contributed thus far to the winning of the war will probably never be told. Some of the facts are obvious, but the complete statistics are not available.

Significant Facts

But now that the Nazis have been beaten, the Navy has released some significant facts and figures which show beyond question that

Whiskey? That's Just An Old Wheeze, Judge

RALEIGH, N. C. —(AP)—City Judge Paul C. West has found, he says, the first defendant ever to tell the truth about whiskey.

The defendant, charged with public drunkenness, admitted he was drunk and said, he bought the whiskey because he has asthma.

"Yes," said the judge, "I know how good whiskey is for asthma."

Then the defendant popped up with: "No sir, judge. Whiskey's no good for asthma. I just drank it in a moment of weakness."

The judge left the defendant off with the court costs.

Blueberry Cheese Ring Delicious

True Blue Cottage Cheese Ring with blueberry mayonnaise.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Staff Writer

Cultivated blueberries from New Jersey, Michigan and North Carolina are arriving daily to brighten our menus. "As is," with light cream, in pies, with crisp cereal, with ice cream, with salad mixtures, these frosty blueberries are a natural treat for hot day meals.

True Blue Cottage Cheese Ring (Serves 6)

Two tablespoons plain unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup water, cold, 2 cups cottage cheese, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dill seeds, if desired, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 pint box cultivated blueberries.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water in double boiler. Combine cottage cheese, salt, mayonnaise and a little over half the berries (save remaining for garnish and mayonnaise). Add dissolved gelatin and mix well. Turn into ring mold (or any fancy form). Chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on bed of lettuce.

Garnish with sliced cucumbers, berries, and watercress. Serve with True Blue Mayonnaise.

True Blue Mayonnaise

One cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup finely minced or grated cucumber, 1/4 cup cultivated blueberries, dash of cayenne pepper.

Mix all ingredients well. Serve with salad.

New Orleans Fruit Bread

One cup (1/4 pound) dried apricots, chopped, 1 cup seedless raisins, chopped, 1/2 cup molasses, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 cup shortening, 1/2 cup walnuts, chopped, 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, well beaten.

Combine apricots, raisins, molasses, water, cinnamon, salt, shortening and simmer for 5 minutes. Cool, add nuts. Sift together flour, soda and baking powder and stir into first mixture with egg. Bake in greased and floured bread pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour or until done.

Purgatory And Hell Are Listed For Sale

RALEIGH, N. C. —(AP)—If you want to get Hell come to North Carolina.

Nobody will give you Hell, understand. You have to buy it.

Hell and Purgatory are the names of two uncertain bogs in eastern North Carolina. The State Board of Education, owner, recently sold Purgatory. Hell is also for sale.

These bogs, called pocosins, are alternately very wet and very dry, often have excessively acid soil, are covered by evergreen shrubs and scrubby pines, and have never been adequately surveyed.

In the history of the two pocosins a fire warden stands in the most sympathetic light. He called up headquarters and told his superiors there was a fire in Hell.

You can guess what they thought.

SWPC Becomes Buying Agent For War Vets

EL PASO—Smaller War Plans Corporation July 1 became the "buying agent" for all veterans who wish to purchase government surplus goods to start or maintain their own small businesses before the surplus items are thrown on the open market, John A. Roetzel, SWPC district manager, announced.

The power to use its priority preference as a federal agency to buy up to $2,500 in surplus commodities for the veteran of this war has been granted SWPC by the Surplus Property Board.

The veteran desiring to obtain surplus items for any commercial, industrial, manufacturing, financial, service, medical, dental or legal enterprise of his own with an invested capital of not more than $50,000 should immediately make his needs known to the Smaller War Plans Corporation, Roetzel said.

Can Extend Credit

The SWPC is not only geared to locate and exercise its priority preference to buy surpluses for the veteran, but it can also extend him credit or make him a loan up to 85 per cent of the purchase price of the item.

The new regulation of the Surplus Property Board in effect not only gives the veteran a high priority for the buying of surplus items, but also gives him a price preference since he will not have to pay the margin of profit that retail dealers get when they resell property which they buy from the government. Furthermore, the veteran has the special advantage of a chance to buy from the growing stockpile of surpluses before these items are put up for sale to other civilians.

Bad Luck Near As Friday Is Thirteenth

Friday will be a bad day to step in front of a moving truck or to fall from the top of a building. It is Friday—the Thirteenth, traditional bad luck day.

Friday has a pretty bad name. The day really acquired most of its reputation as a bad luck day because at one time it was customary to execute criminals on Friday.

Limited to the narrow confines of a play pen, she'll pull up to see what's going on beyond it. But given free scope to roam and satisfy her adventurous soul, she'll stay on all-fours until little legs are sturdy enough to carry her around in fine, upright fashion.

And don't try to force her to walk just because her contemporary next door, who is able to get around on two hesitant feet, makes her seem like a slow-poke.

Allowed to crawl until she takes to her feet of her own sweet will, she'll master the art of walking and on legs that will be plenty sturdy to sustain her weight without bowing out.

Fruit butters take less sugar than do jams and jellies and therefore will stretch the sugar you intend to use for sweet spreads.

Don't Force Baby To Walk Too Soon

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

If you want your baby's legs to be straight when she grows up, don't fence her in while she's in the crawling stage.

Try Wearing Your Pearls New Ways

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

Those pearls that do so much to flatter you and a simple black frock can do even more to enhance dress appeal, if you'll try new ways of wearing them.

For a change, swing the strand swag-style across your bodice, and anchor each end with a clip. Next time, use the same clips to fasten your pearls on a tall turban. Twist your pearls around your wrist as a bracelet. Or plait into a velvet ribbon "braid" and wear as a head band.

If you have a gold necklace chain or other strands of beads—amethyst, turquoise, coral or amber—twist one of these into your pearls, and see if your inventive trick doesn't arrest glances.
