Tornado-bearing clouds that began in Parmer County and apparently played out after hitting Pampa Friday night, left a trail of destruction in the Lazbuddie area as well as other parts of the Texas Panhandle.

One woman, Mrs. Alton Morris, was the victim of a heart attack following the tornado at her home east of Lazbuddie and was pronounced dead on arrival at a Muleshoe hospital. Her husband and teenage daughter were treated for injuries, mostly lacerations.

Mrs. Morris was a sister of Archie Tarter, Parmer County

The tornado hit at least seven farm homes Friday night about 10:30 in a path that began seven miles west and six miles south of Lazbuddie and extended northeast to the Castro County line, Weldon Moody of the Texas Highway Department

The W. F. Lancaster home, six miles southwest of Lazbuddle was the first hit. There the house was partially unroofed, outbuildings destroyed and trees uprooted.

The next in its path was the E. A. Parham barn one and three-quarter miles east of Lazbuddie. The barn and farm equipment were demolished. Windows were knocked out of the back side of the house and the roof was damaged.

Across FM 145 was the Alton Morris brick home. It was completely unroofed, outbuildings and farm equipment heavily damaged. One of their mothers lived in a house nearby. The roof was taken from it, but the woman, sleeping inside, was not injured.

Another house down the road had shingles torn from the

Mrs. Morris, a fifth grade teacher in Lazbuddie Schools, suffered the heart attack and was taken to a Muleshoe hospital. However, she was pronounced dead on arrival there. Morris was treated for cuts and abrasions and their daughter received forehead lacerations.

The Wayne Clark place, three miles east and three miles north of Lazbuddie, was the next hit by the storm. Windows were knocked out of two houses there and roofs blown off. Two automobiles were heavily damaged, along with farm equipment.

Continuing in a northeasterly direction, Clayton Graff's home, just beyond the Castro County line, was hit while the couple slept inside. Three horses and three cows were killed, all outbuildings destroyed as well as the carport of the home.

A four-room rent house on the Graff property was demolished. What remained was scattered far from its foun-

Apparently in the path of the storm was Dimmitt, which received heavy damage from 100-mile per hour winds. It is thought the same cloud was the one that hit Pampa later

The tornado that originated in this county paralleled one that was responsible for millions of dollars in damage and over 20 deaths that began at Whiteface and terminated at Sherwood Shores near Clarendon, where at least seven people were killed. Lazbuddie was one of 11 towns in "Tornado Alley" that If there is anything discouraging about the Springtime on the High Plains of Texas, it's the wind. And we don't necessarily mean the tornado-type, either. A couple of days or more of consecutive high wind has a tendency, possibly, to dampen the enthusiasm of even the most optimistic. Farmer Floyd Damron took a break from his tractor-driving chores on wind-blown Monday afternoon and came into town. He had a face-full of dirt, but was still smiling when he commented, "It's days like today that make a man think about leaving this good country.'

Fire Dept. Notes Law On Safety

Bovina Volunteer Fire Department asks that citizens cooperate in safety measures during the time the department is called to fires and while they are being extinguished.

Since a state law prohibits following a fire truck or parking near a fire, department officials ask that the law be observed in Bovina and the area. A spokesman said that curiosity seekers too often park in the way during a fire and hinder the work of firemen. This endangers the lives of both the firemen and onlookers, especially when explosives are involved.

"It would certainly be of benefit to everyone if the law were observed," said R. L. Hopingardner of the Volunteer Fire Department.

Section 100, Texas Motor Vehicle Laws, states: "Following fire apparatus prohibited. The driver of any vehicle other than one on official business shall not follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than 500 feet or drive into or park such vehicle within the block where the fire apparatus has stopped to answer a fire alarm."

"Bob Armstrong's announcement that he will be a candidate for commissioner of the General Land Office . . . offers the public the first real choice for that office since 1960. It is the choice between a fresh, open, energetic, progressive approach to the office and the musty, secrecy-ridden approach of the incumbent."

CORPUS CHRISTI CALLER-TIMES

* "Critical of the secrecy that has surrounded the operations of the General Land Office, Armstrong will operate this important office openly if elected. He has pledged to devote full time to the job and to keep the press and public informed as to the handling of millions of dollars in funds.

"Armstrong's record of public service and his views as to the operation of the General Land Office are sound, They contrast with those of the present holder of this position who has not conducted himself with the dignity which Texans have a right to expect of state officials."

missioner of the General Land Office of Texas is so clearly the best in the field that Texans can make that decision early and surely.

"Armstrong . . . has a well-defined career that shows a keen sense of responsibility, well-motivated desire for public service, strong evidence of learership ability, and a sound background of experience.

"The Land Office . . . deserves far better administration than It has had in

* "The people of Texas have the chance this election year to get back their land commissioner's office, and this is what we think they should do.

"Seeking as a Democratic primary candidate is State Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin -- sharp, personable and with considerable legislative experience in matters with which the land office deals.

"We think Representative Armstrong can furnish the awareness and the leadership the office needs."

HUMBLE YOURSELF BEFORE GOD

Pride has been called the most heinous sin of all sins. As long as a man is lifted up in pride he cannot come to God or do anything about his sins. Belief and acceptance of God involves surrendering oneself and surrender involves a deep humiliation before the victor.

When we surrender to God we should admit to Him and to all men that we are weak, unstable, and laden with sins. Only a man with a humble spirit will make such a devasting admission. Jesus speaks of this earth-shaking change by saying, "Except you turn, and become like children, you shall not enter the kingdom of heaven." This is humility that we "become like children." We are to become changeable, pliable, and moldable in the hands of the Master Crafts-

Our humility affects our entire life. It continues in not exalting ourselves before others. It is shown by the complete lack of the haughty look, words, or action. It does not show itself by the "I am holier than thou" or by the "looking down on others" routines. Nor by the constant speaking to be heard, by harsh quick words nor by telling the latest sensational story to receive attention.

Humility gives man great power. Great confidence is channeled into the life of the one that is humble, He no longer relies upon his own Ability but looks to God, May God help us to know more of the joy of humility.

On The Farm In Parmer County

Dr. John Shipley and Dr. Allen Wiese, respectively assistant professor of Agricultural Economics and professor of Agronomy, USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland, recently completed a study of the economics of weed control in grain sorghum. A report from this study has been completed and established guidelines that can be used in making weed-control per acre savings when sorghum decisions for specific weed is selling for $1.75. problems in irrigated grain sorghum.

Listed below is a table from this study showing the amount of grain uield sacrificed by permitting specified populations of pigweed to grow in irrigated grain sorghum.

No. weeds %Esti. Est. loss in Yield lbs./a from Loss 6,000 lb.

100					yield
					potentia
1	in	128	ft.	5	30
1	in	64	ft.	7	42
1	in	16	ft.	14	84
1	in	8	ft.	20	120

1	in	2	ft.	36	288
1	in	1	ft.	48	366
100	In	Ahin	ales	der the	maduallam

In this study the reductions in grain yield per acre were expressed as "opportunity costs," which represent the value of grain sacrificed by permitting specified populations of weeds to grow. Farmers interested in maximizing profits during a particular crop year can compare the cost of weed control per acre with the opportunity cost associated with their specific weed problem. When the "cost of weed control per acre"is equal to or less than the opportunity cost, weed control is justified and will increase profits.

Opportunity cost in irrigated grain sorghum as determined by this study is given below when sorghum is yielding 6,000 lbs and selling for $1.75 per cwt. Price of 1 No. weeds 6000 lb. Grain Sor- per Ft. yield $ ghum per of row Value of grain Sac-

1 per 8 ft. 21.00 1 per 4 ft. 28.35 1 per 2 ft. 37.80 Thus, if it is assumed that the total cost of a particular weed control measure to be $5.00 per acre, it would be profitable to control pigweeds where the population was no more than 1 weed in 128 feet of row. In this particular example there would be a 25 cent

According to the weekly Texas Cooperative Economic Insect Report some counties in the Panhandle are experiencing some high infestations of greenbugs in small grain fields,

PILE POWER

Stacked up against many competitive models, Farmland batteries still come out with surer startability and longer life...at fairer prices. Farmland 12-volt batteries produce up to 8% more power from their massive, case-depth plates. Capacity for cranking at higher voltage is lengthened as much as 20%. This is due to shortened under-the-cover cell connectors and unitized cover-to-case construction.

Everything adds up to faster, longer lasting starting power for your engines. We call it Cold Cranking Power. Charge in and pick up yours today.
