BY BILL ELLIS

WHAT MANY OF US have long suspected, the prestigious Brookings Institution in Washington has now confirmed: government regulatory agencies have wasted millions of dollars, extended enormous amounts of energy, piled up untold economic losses and squandered human resources while producing little or no benefit for the people of the United States.

These conclusions are found in a carefully researched study published in early May by the Brookings Institution; a study compiled by ten distinguished economists, educators and lawyers and packed into 397 pages of fine print.

The recommendation of the experts? Less government interference and more freedom for business competition.

In a speech delivered in Concord, New Hampshire in April, President Gerald Ford estimated that the combined cost to consumers of federal regulation is $2,000 per family per year.

It seems incredible, then, that the U.S. Senate has just passed a bill calling for still another government agency to pile on top of the existing over-bloated agencies, an agency for "consumerism." The bill now goes to the Congress where, it is predicted, the measure will be approved.

Happily, President Ford has said that he will veto the bill. Thus, Praise the Lord, we may yet be saved from another bureaucratic boondoggle which will waste millions of dollars and produce far more harm than good.

A letter of encouragement from you to the President will help. And how about reminding your representatives in Washington that you would appreciate it if they would remove some of the existing bureaucrats rather than adding more of them?

THE IRONICALLY NAMED "Human Kindness Day" held in Washington, D.C. earlier this month was a bitter but timely reminder of the potential for massive trouble if strict security measures aren't in force when millions of innocent tourists troop to Washington for Bicentennial events.

"Human Kindness Day" drew a crowd of 125,000 to a rock concert on the mall near the Washington Monument. When the merrymaking was over, there had been 500 reported robberies—most involving assault—and 86 persons injured. One of them, Steven Laine, the director of public affairs at the Department of Agriculture, was stabbed in an eye that doctors say he'll lose. Mr. Laine was simply passing through the crowd on his way to work when he was attacked.

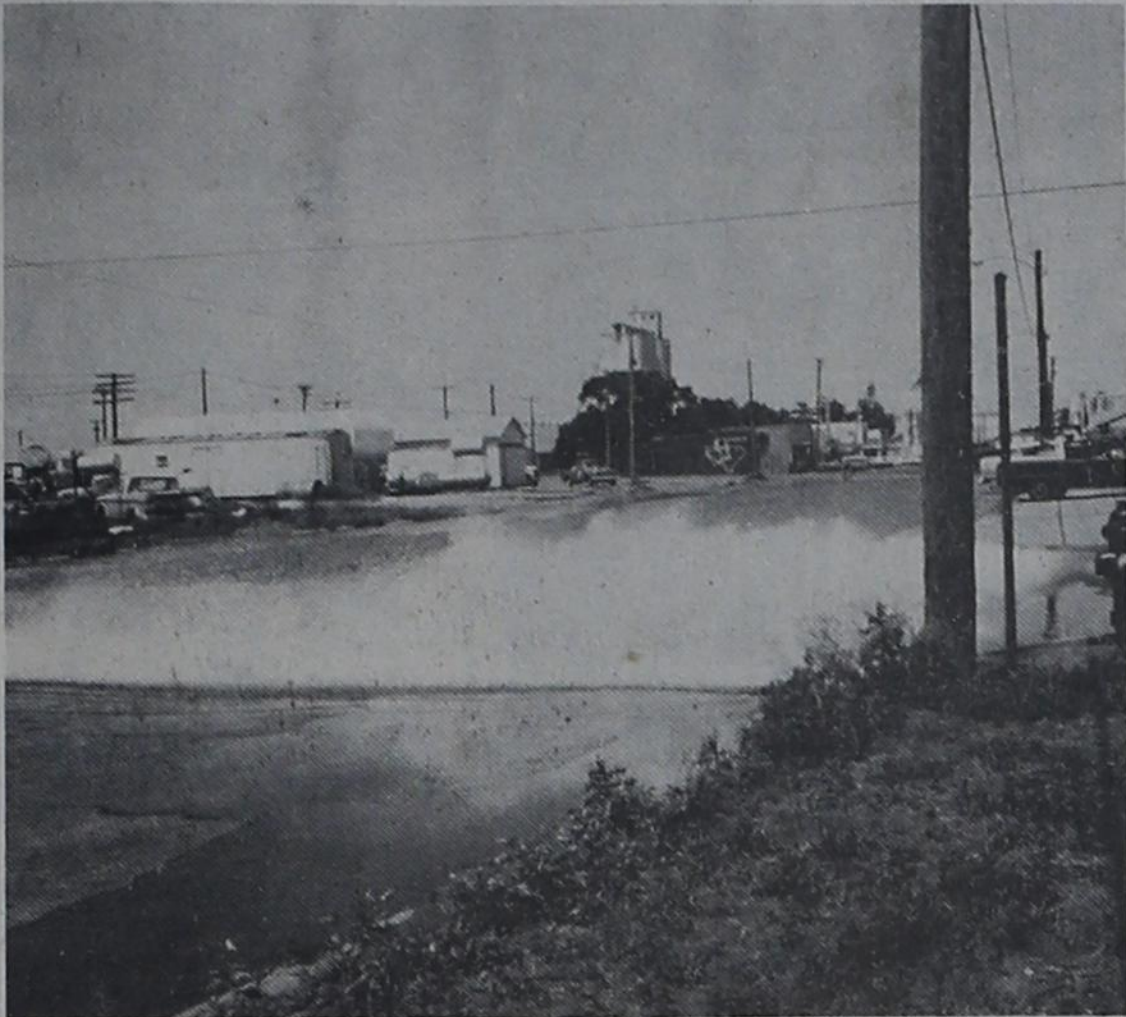

Despite the terror and carnage, one of the organizers, Carol E. Kirkendall, told the "Washington Post" that "Human Kindness Day this year was an unbelievable success, beautiful and happy."

Miss Kirkendall represents a group called Compared to What Inc., which co-sponsored the bizarre affair. One can only wonder in amazement how it showed "human kindness" and compared to what was it "beautiful and happy?"

Supporters of the Concert argue that most participants were law-abiding and it was roving bands of young blacks who committed the crimes.

To accept that explanation is to overlook at least three crucial lessons from Human Kindness Day: first, the marauding thugs were abetted if not aided by hundreds of others in the crowd who refused to raise their voices in protest. Second, the ugly fact must be faced that the crimes were largely racist, with blacks attacking and robbing whites. Third, the event was co-sponsored by the National Park Service, whose planning and execution of crowd control obviously were wholly inadequate.

We are still waiting to hear a word of explanation from the White House. People have a right to know what officials in the capital are doing to ensure that thousands of other Americans aren't treated the same way when they journey to Washington this summer and next.

Diesel Spills Over

DIESEL SPILL...City employees opened a water hydrant a block west of Third Street Tuesday afternoon to wash down a diesel spill at the corner of Third Street and Main Streets. A tank truck being filled from a storage tank owned by Charles Oil Co. apparently overflowed, sending diesel fuel running into the gutters on Third Street. The water hydrant was opened to wash the fuel down.

FOR PRE-SCHOOLERS

Visual Screening Slated Saturday

Free visual screening for pre-school age children of the Bovina community will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Community Room of First State Bank of Bovina.

Volunteers from Bovina Young Homemakers, trained by representatives of the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, will check youngsters for signs of visual problems at that time.

The "E" game, an integral part of the screening procedure, is used to discover indications of visual faults in children who have not yet learned to read. The pre-school tots who learn the "E" game, complete with "magic shoes" and a topsy-turvy "table," seem to enjoy the tests.

The topsy-turvy table is actually the letter "E" that tops the usual eye chart. The "E" appears on the wall chart in diminishing sizes and rotates positions, with the "table legs" pointing in a different direction each time.

The child being screened indicates which direction the "legs" are pointed, thus permitting him to be checked even though he cannot read.

For the actual screening test, the child performs alone; however, to enable the youngsters to learn the game and overcome any possible shyness, the pre-schoolers play the game in a group first. The children sit in a semi-circle before a volunteer who displays the "E" symbol, and they move their arms up, down, right, or left to correspond with the rotation of the "E" by the volunteer screener.

When the time comes for the individual tests, the child stands on "magic shoes" while he reads the chart from a distance of 20 feet.

"We hope every pre-school child in Bovina will be brought in by his parents," Mrs. Kregg Wilson, chairman of the project, said today. "A vision problem can be a tragic, and needless, handicap for a youngster going through school."

The Bovina screening program is the latest in a network of programs being carried out in the state in cooperation with the Texas organization. The program has the approval of the County Medical Society and the Health Department.

Volunteers have been trained by a program consultant of the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness in an eight-hour training session held in Amherst. The Young Homemakers will be assisted by members of the Future Homemakers of America, headed by Rhonda Nuttall, president of the chapter.

TO HONOR DADS

CowBelles Seek 'Father Of Year'

The Bovina CowBelles are seeking Bovina's "Father of the Year." For the third consecutive year, the local CowBelle organization is sponsoring a "Father of the Year" contest and asking residents of Bovina to pick the winner.

Local organizations have nominated their choice for the honor with this year's winner slated to receive a roast of beef and a copper bell, fashioned after the CowBelle insignia, which will be inscribed with his name and "1975 Bovina Father of the Year."

Named "Father of the Year" in 1973 was Dan Koelzer, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. representative here. Last year, Wilbur Charles, retired farmer and Bovina's justice of the peace, was selected for the honor.

Nominees for the '75 honor are Oakley Stevenson, Lions Club; I.W. Quickel, Woman's Study Club; George Powell, Jaycees; Lawrence Jamerson, Jaycee-Ettes; Kenneth Cary, Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture; Benny Shelby, Bovina High School Student Council; and Tommy Williams, Roping Club.

Readers are invited to vote for their choice, vote off the ballot and mail to Mrs. M.H. Carson, Box 327, Bovina. Those voting are asked to sign their ballot and vote only once. Mrs. A.M. Wilson is once again chairman of the project.

The 1975 Father of the Year will be announced at a Father's Day dinner at Bovina Schools cafeteria, sponsored by the CowBelles, on Friday, June 15.

Voting boxes with a supply of ballots will be placed at Bovina Supermarket, Don's Medicine Chest and First State Bank of Bovina.

Deadline for casting votes will be 5 p.m. Saturday, June 14.

The CowBelles, in addition to urging everyone to vote for their choice and attend the Father's Day dinner, are also suggesting that Bovina housewives plan to serve beef on Father's Day if they are unable to take dad to the dinner. "Barbecue a big steak for Dad on his day," said a spokesman for the beef promotion organization.

Further details concerning the contest, dinner and the candidates will be published in next week's edition of The Blade.

Agriculture has moved to New York. Right into Wall Street. Stock exchange members, investment counselors and stock brokers are talking about wheat. That's right, not commodity brokers but stock brokers. Specific nature of this conversation is taking the form of advice to their favorite investors. Advice about watching the big seed companies to see which of them breaks through with a super-hybrid wheat. So far the 200 bushel per acre hybrid has proved elusive for developers but it's difficult now to review a current agri-business corporate report without reading of the possibilities. Many of the Green Revolution's observers say the 200 bushel per acre target is still out of sight and probably cannot be developed until interim hybrid varieties are completed and stabilized. Implications are nearly staggering since potential production for the United States alone could approach nine billion bushels.

Farmers hereabouts say barley and wheat harvest is about to get underway. At least the dryland variety, with the irrigated crops still 10 days to two weeks away, depending upon the weather.

Some samples of dryland barley have been brought into the elevator here, but the moisture content is apparently still too high to begin harvesting. If the weather remains hot and dry, however, dryland barley will probably be ready to cut by the end of the week.

Coffee-talk says the wheat and barley crops are perhaps a little better than normal this year, however, most are pessimistic about the expected prices the crops will bring.

We don't doubt that fact, after a drive from Bovina to Childress, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Ardmore, Fort Worth, Abilene, Lubbock and back to Bovina last week.

Every available bare spot has been planted in wheat, and it's good wheat. The grain still has a greenish tinge, so it's not quite ready for the combines yet. But the combines are lined up in every town, crossroad and farm along that route just waiting to roll.

Even if the wheat were ready to harvest, it is too wet to get into the fields. Every low spot was standing in water, every little creek was running over its banks and the larger creeks and the Red River were something to behold.

For one raised on the South Plains, that's quite a sight!

Our sense of timing is always "off" it seems. We made the harvest with the Nuttall clan in the days before air-conditioned cabs on the combines and trucks.

Started at Childress and would go all the way to the North Dakota-Canadian border. Most easily remembered thing about those harvests is that we seemed to always be dusty, sweaty (and that's the only word for it) and itchy. Did

Out-Of-Town Hospital Report

Mrs. Durward Bell of Bovina underwent major surgery Thursday at the Bone and Joint Hospital in Oklahoma City. According to friends, she is in good condition following the surgery and will probably remain in the hospital for therapy for about two weeks more. Her address is Bone and Joint Hospital, 605 N.W. 10th St., Oklahoma City, Ok. 73103.

Mrs. C.W. Grissom of Taiban, N.M., was admitted to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday after suffering an apparent stroke Monday at her home. She remains a patient there. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ellison of Bovina.

Mrs. Billy Smith of Bovina underwent major surgery Wednesday of last week at University Hospital in Lubbock. She is in good condition, according to friends, and is expected to be dismissed today (Wednesday).

meet a lot of nice people and saw a lot of new country.

Of course, as usual with our timing, just about the time we quit the farm, they come along with all this air-conditioning, radios and all the comforts of the family sedan.

Item in a Smithtown, New York, paper: Freedom of speech was arranged by ancestors who couldn't possibly have had an idea of what-all was going to be said.

An upsetting fact has come to light during the recent natural gas priority hearings—it appears that General Motors is the probably instigator of the whole story situation.

GM's high-powered attorneys were in Lubbock cross examining the farmers at the hearing and afterwards reportedly stated that no one had proven to their satisfaction in the hearings at Tucson, Albuquerque and Lubbock—that farmers really needed natural gas and that it was impossible from a financial standpoint to switch to an alternate fuel.

That viewpoint makes it almost impossible for one to control one's vocabulary in telling those big city dudes what we think of them.

General Motors has aggressively committed its corporate power and money against the farmers in Texas and other states. In a blatant, callous attempt to get all the natural gas for GM and other corporate powers, GM is leading the cause to get this essential fuel away from the very people that buy a tremendous amount of GM products and also feed the idiots.

If ever a domino theory applies, surely it does here. From the pumps that bring the water to the surface of the ground for the farmers to irrigate their crops to every facet of the agriculture industry, a change in the natural gas priority will affect drastically the economy of agriculture.

Texas' Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White, in a letter to T.A. Murphy, chairman of chief executive officer of GMC, stated: "General Motors' legalistic cajoling and wheedling of the FPC, an insulated bureaucracy if there ever was one, into giving GM the farmers' gas may be good for General Motors lawyers; in the long run, it is not only bad for the U.S.A. but for General Motors as well. I intend to resist it and to call on the farmers and consumers and if necessary the courts of America to do the same."

Bill Tell Zortman, on Channel VII-TV's Hot Line, advises not to boycott the local General Motors dealers. Just get on that phone and tell your local dealers what this situation is going to do to you and your neighbors and strongly urge that the dealer contact the "wheels" in Detroit.

Beginning to feel like some others we have heard comment that "it would serve those idiots in California and New York right if they were starving and had to crawl here on their hands and knees and beg for food."

DEBRA STANBERRY and DONALD CRAIG OLIVER....Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Bralley of Amarillo announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Debra Carol Stanberry, to Donald Craig Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oliver of Amarillo. Col. Crabb Speaks At Senior Brunch

The Senior Class of 1975 was feted with a brunch Friday morning prior to graduation exercises that night in Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church. United Methodist Women host the annual event.

Theme of the brunch was "A New Beginning." Colonel Cecil D. Crabb, Director of Operations for the 832d Air Division headquartered at Cannon Air Force Base in Clovis, was guest speaker for the occasion.

Mrs. Vernon Estes welcomed the seniors and other guests. Rev. Howard Marcom, pastor, gave the invocation. Following the meal of sausage crepes, scrambled eggs, fruit breads, fruit cup, milk and coffee, Mrs. Jon Lin Riddle and Mrs. Lowell Boozer, accompanied by Mrs. Mac Glasscock at the piano, sang "Time Was" and "Graduation Day." Mrs. Boozer introduced the guest speaker. Rev. Marcom gave the benediction.

Col. Crabb, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., was awarded his pilot's wings at Goodfellow Air Force Base in Texas in 1950. Parachute-qualified in 1951, the colonel served as a jump forward controller with the U.S. Army's 82d Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., from 1951 to 1952. He flew RB-26s with the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing in Korea from 1953 to 1954.

After other tours of duty, the colonel served as Chief, Strike Plans, TACC-In Country, at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Republic of Vietnam, in 1965. After completion of his tour in Southeast Asia, he served at Headquarters, USAF, in the Far East section of the War Plans division. From 1968 to 1971, he served as Rolling Thunder Project Officer for air operations in Headquarters, CINCPAC, Hawaii.

After his tour in Hawaii, Col. Crabb entered the F-111 program at Mountain Home Air Force Base, Idaho, and served as Assistant Deputy Commander for Operations and Deputy Commander for Operations for both the 347th and 368th Tactical Fighter Wings from July '71 to July '73. From 1973 to Sept. '74, he served as Vice Commander and Commander of the 347th Tactical Fighter Wing at Takhli, Thailand. He was reassigned to Cannon Air Force Base in October

COLONEL CECIL CRABB CANNON AIR FORCE BASE

'74. Col. Crabb has attended Butler University in Indianapolis, El Camino Junior College in Los Angeles and Chaminade College in Honolulu. He is also a graduate of Squadron Officers School, Air Command and Staff College and the Air War College, all at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama.

Col. Crabb is a command pilot. His decorations include the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, Meritorious Service Medal with one oak leaf cluster.

He spoke to the seniors on duty, honor and love of country. Col. Crabb spoke of General Robinson Risner, now at Cannon Air Force Base, and the seven and one-half years he spent as a prisoner of war in North Vietnam. He told the seniors that Gen. Risner's sense of duty and honor had helped him survive an unbearable situation and stressed the need of honor and integrity in all levels of life today.

Col. Crabb called upon the youth of Bovina and the nation to become more aware of the needs of the United States, the greatness of our country and the opportunities existing here. He commented that there is a need today for people to have a willingness to serve and love our country and God and reminded the seniors that each of us needs to be vigilant and strong in the face of a ruthless and devious enemy.

Mother's Day Out Set By YH Chapter

"Mother's Day Out," sponsored by Bovina Young Homemakers, will be held Thursday, June 19, at the First United Methodist Church from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., announces Mrs. Garry Beauchamp, president of the organization.

Infants, toddlers and older children will be kept in separate areas with constructive play, records, games and craft time on the schedule.

Mothers are asked to bring any special written instructions concerning the care of children, especially infants. All children are asked to bring a sack lunch with milk for the noon meal and an afternoon snack of cookies and punch furnished. The cost is $3 per day per child or 50 cents per hour per child, Mrs. Beauchamp said.

The project is designed to give Bovina mothers a day out while their children enjoy constructive play under guidance, she commented. "Plan to bring your youngsters to the Mother's Day Out on Thursday, June 19," she concluded.

Kitchen Band Entertains At May Meeting

The Bovina Senior Citizens met Wednesday of last week and following the luncheon in Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church, the group was entertained by the newly-formed Kitchen Band.

Lunch was served by members of the Bovina Young Homemakers. The Jaycee-ettes sponsored a program on making terrariums. Mrs. Jerry Wright demonstrated the procedure.

Games of dominoes and "42" were played during the afternoon.

All "senior" citizens in the community are invited to attend the meetings.

THE VALUE OF TRIALS

The Christian ought not to divide his experiences into pleasant and unpleasant ones. All the experiences which God permits in our lives ought to be sources of great joy. It is possible for the born-again Christian to experience joy in its totality here on earth. Here we are facing the circumstances of life, difficult, harsh and unyielding. HOW CAN THE CHRISTIAN MEET THEM? On the one hand we have the external pressure and on the other hand, we have the internal attitude. The future of the Christian dispels the gloom of the present. The Psalmist says: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning" (Ps. 30:5).

James states in James 1:2-4 that the Christian is not only tested but triumphant. "COUNT IT ALL JOY..." Jas. 1:2a. The Greek word HEEGEESASTHE, "count it," has to do with the internal attitude of heart and mind. It means to "think forward, consider, regard." Temptation is something we cannot escape. There is an absolute certainty that all around us there is temptation and it cannot but challenge you to a fight; but victory is assured and joy follows the victory.

"Tribulation worketh patience," Jas. 1:3. Patience is the ability to endure. It makes us complete, entire. Christ was made perfect through suffering (Heb. 5:8-9). If a Christian meets his testing in the right way, then day by day he will live more victoriously, day by day he will reach nearer to the Standard of Jesus Christ himself.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—JUNE 1, 1960

A site for Bovina's second produce processing shed has not yet been selected. However, one is definitely in the planning stage and will be ready by harvest time, according to Otto Ables, representative of Salt River Valley Produce Co.

Plans for a donkey softball game to be in connection with Bovina's Fourth of July celebration were discussed at a regular meeting of Bovina Lions Thursday noon.

Approximately 1500 braceroes are expected to be employed as farm hands here this summer. Pete Davies, manager of Panhandle Growers Labor Association, estimates this will be the number needed at the peak of the busy season ahead. Some 170 Mexican men are employed through the organization now with more expected to arrive this week.

TEN YEARS AGO—JUNE 2, 1965

Methodist Churches at Bovina and Oklahoma Lane have new pastors beginning their duties this week. Rev. J.B. Fowler Jr. is the new Bovina pastor. Rev. Hardy Cole was assigned to serve the Oklahoma Lane Methodist congregation.

Construction on a new service station for Bovina is scheduled to get underway this week. Announcement of the new building, which will replace a station building at the intersection of Third Street and Highway 60, was made by Harry J. Charles, Phillips 66 jobber here. He will own the new building.

FIVE YEARS AGO—JUNE 3, 1970

Voters in the City of Bovina will go to the polls Saturday to approve or turn down a one per cent city sales tax proposal. If the one per cent tax is approved, the measure will go into effect Oct. 1, with the city receiving its first tax money on Jan. 1, 1971.

Rev. Charles R. Gates, minister at Paducah the past three years, will become the new pastor of Bovina United Methodist Church. He succeeds Rev. J.B. Fowler who will become pastor of First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe.

Truck Lusk has accepted a position as high school principal at Dell City, 90 miles east of El Paso. Lusk came here as head basketball coach four years ago and has also helped with the football program in Bovina School.

SCS News

We have just finished our official wind erosion season, according to Herb Evans, SCS, Friona. The period runs from November first each year through May thirty-first.

Our records show that the first four months (Nov.-Feb.) of the "blow season" had only seven days of wind erosion. This was a slow beginning for which we can be thankful.

The last three months (March-May) made up for the slow start. One thing to remember is that there is more clean tilled land ready to blow during March and April than at any other time of year.

We observed fourteen days during the final three months that we called "blow days." The worst of these days occurred April 7 with sixty to eighty mile-per-hour winds, and on April 17 with forty five to fifty mile-per-hour winds.

Moisture conditions have been fairly good, which made emergency tillage an effective practice.

There have been about fifteen thousand acres damaged in Parmer County this year. Only a small portion of the damaged acreage had growing crops.

"We have been real lucky this year that more damage has not occurred with the number of high winds we've had," Evans concluded.

Do your bit for conservation while you do your thing. A gas grill lets you cook outside and take the heat with you. You don't put an added tax on your air conditioner with cooking heat. A gas grill is so convenient (no charcoal mess or bother) eating "out" will become an everyday affair. And, it will add a charisma to your outdoor living that will last all year long. Get the voters "out" and that wonderful charcoal taste will earn you a vote of confidence from family and friends. You'll receive a mandate for more gas grill cooking. Ask any Pioneer employee.
