Congress Tackles Compromise Plan To Reduce Taxes

WASHINGTON —(P)— A compromise tax-cutting plan that would wipe out income levies for some 5,000,000 persons began to take form Thursday.

It also would scale down tax bills for all individuals as well as corporations. This development came amid mixed Congressional reaction to a proposal by the Committee on Postwar Tax Policy for an ultimate slash of more than 50 per cent in present tax collections.

The policy committee, a private study group, called for immediate repeal of the three per cent "normal" tax on individual incomes and elimination of the wartime excess profits tax on corporations. The compromise reported under discussion within the Congress's own tax staff would provide:

1. Retention of the "normal" tax but with a 1946 exemption of $500 for the taxpayer and each person dependent on him. The present $500 flat exemption gives the taxpayer no credit for dependents. The new plan would apply the same exemptions for the normal tax as is now used for the surtax and would relieve about 5,000,000 low-income families from further federal income taxes. It would have no effect on single persons without dependents. But for a married man with two children who now pays $45 on a net income of $2,000, the plan would reduce that bill to zero.

2. An "across the board" reduction in all individual taxes, probably by 10 per cent. This would give each person a flat cut—in addition to the new system of exemptions for the normal tax. Congressional tax experts estimated the change in "normal" exemptions would reduce taxes by $800,000,000 and that a 10 per cent "across the board" slash would cut the burdens by another $1,200,000,000.

3. Reduction, if not repeal, of the corporate excess profits taxes. The compromise would shoot between the Policy Committee's "transition period" proposal and a plan by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) to reduce each individual's taxes by 20 per cent.

Suits Will Be Filed To Collect Delinquent Taxes

Members of the City Council voted unanimously Wednesday evening to join with the Midland school board in employing an attorney on a salary basis to prepare and file tax suits against property on which the taxes have not been paid for 10 years or more. The council was advised by attorneys that homesteads are not exempt from tax suits. A check of the city tax rolls revealed a number of homesteads here on which no taxes have been paid for more than 10 years.

Ily Pratt, city and school tax collector, told members of the council there are 559 pieces of property on which no city taxes have been paid for 10 years or more.

Mayor A. N. Hendrickson said the council's plan is first to prepare and file the suits on property where the taxes are delinquent 10 years or more. When this is done, preparation of suits on property where the taxes are delinquent five years or more will be started.

Japs See Red

As spokesman for a group of leading Jap industrialists, Ryozo Asano, above, president of the Japan Steel and Tube Co., Ltd., warned that Japan faces a wave of starvation this winter that may precipitate a socialist revolution. Asano and his colleagues hope for American commercial and financial aid to revive Japan's stricken business.

Gen. Marshall Tells Solons 550,000 GIs To Get Out In October

WASHINGTON —(P)— General George C. Marshall told Congress Thursday the point system of demobilization of soldiers can be abandoned by winter.

The Army chief of staff advised a joint Senate-House meeting that the present discharge score of 80 points could be lowered to 70 points by Oct. 1 and to 60 points by Nov. 1.

"We may reach a point in late winter when the point system will cease and all men with two years service will be released," Marshall said.

Speaking quietly and informally in a dark basement room in the old Library of Congress across the street from the Capitol, Gen. Marshall carefully reviewed the military man power program since the start of the war. D-J Day Was Nov. 1

He asserted that the sudden Japanese surrender had nullified extensive plans for a huge invasion of Japan on Nov. 1.

The surrender, he explained, had reversed numerous personnel plans for the Army.

Marshall assured Congress that demobilization was going forward as rapidly as possible. He said there was no relationship between the rate of discharge of men from the Army and War Department plans for a postwar Army.

Any such postwar plan, he told Congress, can wait until the middle of next year. 450,000 Out in September

Marshall predicted that 450,000 soldiers would be released during September and 550,000 during October.

Thereafter the release will be at a rate from 700,000 to 800,000 a month, he said.

Marshall reported that both General Dwight Eisenhower, commander in the European Theater, and General Douglas MacArthur, Army head in the Pacific, had vigorously protested when the initial 85 point discharge score was reduced to 80 points.

The theater commanders contended that key leadership personnel, such as master sergeants, technical sergeants, and cooks, were among the long service veterans who would be entitled to release first, Marshall said. "It (the 85 point score) took away the first team, and a point reduction took away the second team," the general said. "Further reduction would take everyone away."

WPB Approves Permits For Midland Schools

DALLAS —(P)— Construction permits for nine projects in its area have been approved by the War Relocation Authority. The list totaling $1,258,540 includes: Midland independent school district, two elementary school buildings and addition to cafeteria, $325,000.

Texan Escapes Death In Liberator Crash

BOISE, IDAHO —(P)— T/Sgt. Garnett E. Gayle, 28, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Gayle, live at College Station, Texas, was one of three survivors from a Liberator bomber which crashed north of Death, Nev., Tuesday.

Seven members of the ten-man crew were killed. They included Sgt. David C. Boswell, 27, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Boswell, live at Clarksville, Texas, and Cpl. Harold W. Johnson, 19, whose father, Algot N. Johnson, lives at Kilgore, Texas.

Continued cool and partly cloudy Thursday afternoon. Partly cloudy and slightly warmer Friday.

3d Fleet Steams For Home

TOKYO —(P)— Seventeen ships of Admiral Halsey's fighting Third Fleet steamed for home Thursday carrying several thousand Navy men due for discharge—while General MacArthur's headquarters disclosed that Army occupation forces will increase to 400,000 before the predicted slash to 200,000 takes place.

There are approximately 150,000 American soldiers in Japan.

State Department expressions of surprise and concern at MacArthur's prediction of three days ago on the size of the occupation forces drew another terse "no comment" from MacArthur himself Thursday.

His staff officers pointed out, however, that his announcement of future reductions had clearly specified a probable force of 200,000 six months hence. It did not say that this would be the maximum landed in the meantime, they emphasized. Troops will continue to pour into Japan through September, October, November and December until about 400,000 have arrived by the end of the year, they reported.

Japanese demobilization meanwhile is proceeding so smoothly that approximately three-fourths of the homeland army has been disbanded and discharged in half the allotted time, MacArthur's headquarters announced.

The 400,000 maximum, Army spokesmen said, does not include Marine units in Navy occupation zones, nor fleet personnel.

In Washington, acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson remarked sharply that the United States government, not the occupation forces under MacArthur, is determining American policy toward Japan.

MacArthur's staff officers pointed out that thus far the occupation has been without incident and that elimination of what MacArthur called "the unknown quantity of the initial operation" permitted new planning for the future.

American Soldiers Escape Injury In Japan Typhoon

TOKYO —(P)— American soldiers stationed in areas hit by Japan's latest heavy typhoon escaped serious injury, a check disclosed Thursday, but the Japanese Home Ministry said incomplete early reports showed at least 48 Japanese killed.

The 100-miles-an-hour winds wrecked numerous American air planes and barracks on the home island of Kyushu, in the center of the storm which also lashed at Shikoku and Honshu islands in its two-day rampage. Communications with Kyushu and Shikoku still were cut Thursday.

The Home Ministry also reported that more than 2,000 homes were destroyed and uncounted thousands more were damaged by the storm. Corps were reported badly damaged.

In Tokyo, outside the principal damage zone, winds were strong enough to blow down tents at headquarters of the First Cavalry Division.

Coastal Land Dispute Before House Thursday

WASHINGTON —(P)— A dispute between the federal government and the states over ownership of submerged tidal lands and beds of navigable streams was headed towards settlement Thursday in the House.

Scheduled for action is legislation which would permanently and clearly fix the title to such lands in the name of the states. Involved are properties worth hundreds of millions of dollars, including oil-bearing deposits off the coast of California, Texas, and Louisiana, and such installations as docks, piers and waterfront warehouses.

Hays Will Drill 2,000-Ft. Wildcat In Eastern Pecos

By JAMES C. WATSON,
Oil Editor

Mack Hays, of Abilene, has filed application with the Railroad Commission to drill a 2,000-foot wildcat in Eastern Pecos County, starting at once.

It will be Hays No. 1 White & Baker, and is 320 feet from south and east lines of east-half of section 27, block Z, TC survey.

It is approximately one and one-half miles southeast, of closest production in the White & Baker field.

Texas Gulf Producing Company has staked location for G. F. Lester (A. F. Schum), in Southwest Crane County, as a 5,300-foot exploration, about one-half mile southwest of nearest Devonian producer in the Crossett pool.

Location is 660 feet from northeast and southeast lines of section 42, block 35, H&TC survey. Rotary rig is being moved to the drillsite.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Buchanan, East Midland County wildcat in Baldridge survey, No. 32-892, treated through perforations in casing at 10,380-515 feet, with 3,000 gallons of acid, and was swabbing a 3,500 feet from surface early Thursday morning.

Standard Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Mack Taylor, in southwest corner of section 8, block B-2, ps1 survey, about one and one-half miles east of closest pre-Permian producer on southeast side of the Keystone-Ellebunger field in North Winkler County, was making hole under 3,895 feet, in hard Devonian chert.

Bad Gas and Oil Mud

A one-hour drillstem test was run at 7,995-8,987 feet. Gas came to surface in 20 minutes. Recovery was 180 feet of slightly gas cut drilling mud, and 1,170 feet of gas and oil cut drilling mud.

Attempted drillstem tests on Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 1 Ratliff, in section 25, block 73, ps1 survey, in Southwest Andrews County, to a total depth of 9,350 feet, in chert, and on The Texas Company No. 1-D Frasier, in section 27, block 45, TP survey, T-1-S, in West Ector County, both failed on account of packer troubles.

Owners report that further efforts to get tests will be undertaken at once.

Key-Elleb Completion

Sinclair No. 8-A Walton, in southeast corner of northeast quarter of section 20, block 77, ps1 survey, and furthest northwest well so far completed on northwest side of the Keystone-Ellebunger pool, in North Winkler County, completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,146 barrels of 43.6

Eight Industries Hit As Coastal Strikes Spread

By The Associated Press

Three refineries, three rubber plants and two affiliated industries in the Port Arthur, Texas, area, employing a total of more than 13,000 persons, were closed or closing Thursday and strike troubles were spreading down the coast to Houston where unions announced walkouts in seven oil plants.

With the Pure Oil Company's Nederland plant near Port Arthur already closed, the Texas Company refinery, employing 5,000, was shutting down gradually, and the Gulf Oil refinery, which employs an additional 5,000 was stopping production Thursday.

Other Jefferson County plants which J. D. Ford, president of the two Port Arthur oil workers International Union Locals (CIO) said would close Thursday included: The Goodrich and Firestone synthetic rubber plants, the Neches Butane Product Company and the Texas Company Asphalt Roofing Refinery.

Major Refineries The closing would stop operations in all major refineries in the county except at the Atlantic Oil Company, where a strike vote is scheduled Thursday, and at the Magnolia Petroleum Company, where a vote was to be held this week.

Eltram A. King, vice president of the Sinclair Prairie Oil Company, said union demands on his firm include: 52 hours pay for a 40-hour work week; a five percent per hour premium for working the 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. shift and a 10 percent per hour premium for working the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift, a retirement plan to be approved by the union and a complete closed shop.

Tax Evaluations Total Almost Ten Million Dollars

The city now has a total tax evaluation of slightly less than $10,000,000, members of the City Council were told Wednesday evening by Ily Pratt, city tax collector.

The new roll shows real property evaluations of $7,108,180 and personal property evaluations of $2,344,915 on rendered property. Unrendered real property evaluations total $434,160, bringing the total evaluations to $8,887,255.

At the city's tax rate of $1.40 per $100 the tax return from the total evaluations is $138,421.57.

Tojo Is Slated For Calaboose In Week

YOKOHAMA —(P)— Japan's warlord Hideki Tojo will be moved into Yokohama Prefectural Prison with other members of his Pearl Harbor cabinet as soon as he recovers from his self-inflicted bullet wound.

Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the U. S. Eighth Army, said Thursday.

The Eighth Army, occupying Central and Northern Honshu, now has 32 suspected war criminals in cells in this jail on the outskirts of Yokohama.

Tojo is reported improving rapidly at the Army hospital here, and all indications are that he should be able to move within a week. Then, said Eichelberger, "I don't believe the supreme commander is going to object when I move him into the local calaboose to join the rest of his Pearl Harbor gang."

Battleship Texas May Be Docked At San Jacinto As State Shrine

WASHINGTON —(P)— That glorious old battleship the USS Texas, though marked for retirement, may find permanent berth at the historic San Jacinto Battlegrounds in the Lone Star State.

No ignoble scrap heap finish will come to this proud battlewagon which fought the Germans in two wars—not if Texas members of Congress can help it.

Plan Submitted to Navy Under a plan submitted to the Navy Department the Texas would take her last cruise up the Houston ship channel and find permanent mooring in the shadow of the towering 550-foot monument marking the spot where Texas won her independence from Mexico in 1836.

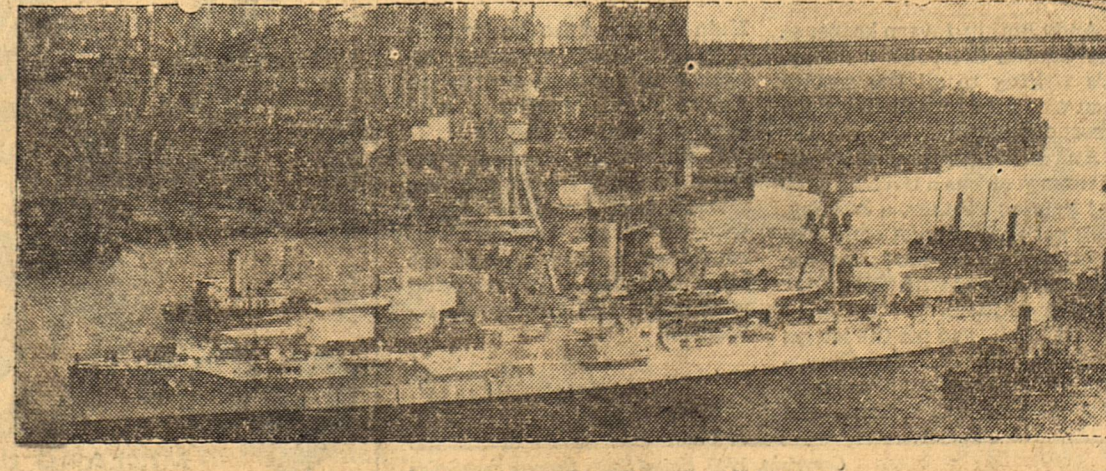

Rep. Thomas (D-Texas), following conferences with high Navy officials "expressed confidence the proposal would be approved. He is a member of the House Naval Appropriations Subcommittee.

Another Texas close to the Navy Department is Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson, member of the House Naval Affairs Committee. After hearings by the committee at which Navy officials testified the Texas was to be retired, Johnson took up privately with them the matter of obtaining the Texas as a shrine to honor Texans who lost their lives in the service of the fleet.

Johnson said the idea was favorably received by the officials although he did not get a final decision from them.

Meanwhile, the chairman of the Texas Congressional delegation, Rep. West of Brownsville, said he would call the group together to discuss the matter of taking concerted action.

The Tokyo newspaper Mainichi reported three more Japanese on MacArthur's suspect list had been arrested. They were Col. Akira Nagahama, former commander of Gendamerie in the Philippines; Shigeru Osana, former civilian official at a Japanese prisoner of war camp; and Sgt. Seichi (Gunzo) Miura, guard at the same camp. All three were accused of brutalities.

Demobilized Fast Demobilization of the Japanese has continued at the rate of 50,000 men daily, MacArthur reported. There were 2,253,000 Japanese under arms in the home islands Aug. 15, and approximately 1,645,000 had been demobilized by Sep. 17—with only 608,000 to go by the Oct. 1 disarmament deadline.

In addition to American Navy-personnel passengers being ferried home for discharge, crewmen themselves on many of Halsey's 17 warships expect to remain in the United States. The ships will go to various U. S. ports in time to participate in Navy Day ceremonies Oct. 27.

THE POWER OF X-999

VI
THE STORY: Spud Delaney, driver of the truck carrying Hale's precious cargo, stood for a beer. Then, curious to know more about his unusual load, he opens the box as a nitro-explosive watches. A bit of hot cigar ash falls. Carolyn, at home, suddenly hears a terrifying roar. Fearful that X-999 is the cause of the blast, she hurries to the scene.

"GEE!" murmured the driver, appalled. He slowed down because he had to, now. In a moment the traffic stopped him entirely. "Come on, miss! On foot, eh?" He was excited.

Efficiently he escorted her up a railroad embankment. He asked questions of everybody. He climbed part way up a power pole ladder the better to see, then boosted Carolyn up.

"Oh-o-h!"
The devastation was overwhelming. From her point six feet up the power pole Carolyn could see limitless wreckage. Twisted girders. Piles of brick and stone. Flames. Smoke. Every kind of debris.

It was as if the whole area had been run through a grinder, so small were the pieces. She wasn't familiar with this section of town and so couldn't tell what structures had actually gone down, but the whole lurid landscape here was a scene from a warfront hell.

She looked around to pick out their taxi now in the sea of cars that had crowded up behind. Honking and shouting, police whistles, wailing sirens, all added to the general hysteria.

CAROLYN learned that Bob Hale was safe when she telephoned her mother at 5 a. m.

"He called here twice and came out just a little bit ago!" Mrs.

Tyler said, after Carolyn's initial explanations. "Carolyn, you haven't had any rest and—"

But personal rest and comfort were farthest from Carolyn's mind. After her mother hung up, she went outside again and a newsboy crying third extras assailed her. She bought one.

"With only four lives known to have been lost," the paper read, after the opening summary, "citizens can be thankful for a miracle, the Chief of Police said. He warned that other bodies may yet be found although the wreckage has been fairly well combed. The four dead were all plant watchmen. In daytime the explosion would inevitably have taken hundreds of lives.

"Two other men are reported missing and may be dead. One is W. H. Delaney, a truck driver for the Metropolitan Transfer Company, and the other is a liquor store owner, M. M. Cragin.

"Cragin's establishment was near the apparent center of the explosion and was so completely destroyed that no trace of it has been found, only a great crater showing on that spot now (see second photo, page 1). Delaney's truck also is missing and so he may yet turn up safely, his company admitted, but he is so long overdue as to cause grave concern. . . ."

CAROLYN read and re-read. Then she found herself walking up a street. She had long since lost her friendly taxi driver, hadn't even thought of paying him. Presently she was on the edge of the big crowd of people and cars and found another taxi that could turn around and take her away.

She had herself driven directly to the Schoenfeld Laboratory. By

"Yes, I—it didn't come! The X-999. The—I heard the explosion. That's what I cannot understand, Carolyn. Why? Why did it explode?"

"We'll never know that, Bob." "And it's only part of what we have, Carolyn. My thought was to divide it in separate localities to guard against the possibility of tampering, but the first bit moved has caused this. It's appalling!"

"Bob, you must not blame yourself! It's an unknown quantity. You took every precaution possible."

Carolyn spoke so vehemently that he was impressed and he squeezed her hand in gratitude. Leana Sorni had seen them; she came out of the office building walking fast. Her face was even more pale than normal, and strained.

"Robert, you must come home with me," she ordered, peremptorily, ignoring Carolyn. "We must be rational. Say nothing to any one. Nothing! You haven't slept for two days and nights. You will collapse!"

That much was true, surely. Carolyn saw Miss Sorni take Bob's arm and literally force him toward her own taxi. When the driver began to explain that he was waiting on order, Carolyn hastened to pay and release him.

But she stood watching, vaguely alarmed in an entirely new way, as the cab drove off with her employer and his efficient woman companion.

Parade Will Open 1945 Grid Season

The 1945 football season for Midland will officially get underway at 4 p.m. Friday when the Midland High School Band will lead a parade of high school students through business streets of the city preceding the first Midland game of the season. The Midland Bulldogs tangle with the Pampa eleven at 8:30 p.m. at the high school athletic field.

Members of the band have been busy the past week rehearsing for the part they will play in the between-halves show.

First they will form the word "Hi" as an official welcome to those attending the game. While in this

Cubs Win, Tigers Lose In Drives To Clinch Loop Titles

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Prospects of a fourth Detroit-Chicago World Series hit a snag Thursday with the Tigers faltering before Bobby Feller's one-hit shut-out pitching.

The Cubs held up their end of the bargain as Fordham Hank formation they will play, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." Next they will make a football formation, after which they will change to a semi-circular arc extending to the 35-yard lines and play the "Orange Bowl March." The band members then will form the letters MHS and play, "On Ye Bulldogs."

Borowy broke the St. Louis Cardinals' "hex" with a 4-1 decision in 10 innings at Sportsman's Park. It was the ninth victory for the former Yankee whom Larry MacPhail sold to Chicago for a reported $70,000 "because he couldn't win after July 4th."

If Chicago does hit the pennant grade, much credit must go to Borowy who has lost only two since leaving New York in late July and holds two important decisions over the Red Birds. Counting his American League triumphs, Hank now has a total of 19 for the year.

Just when it appeared certain that Billy Southworth's Champs were going to cram another shut-out down the throats of the Cubs, needing only one more out in the ninth for a 1-0 verdict, Andy Pafko ruined George Dockins' day with a tying single. The leaders then went on to score three times in the tenth on only one base hit for their fifth success in 19 meetings with the Birds.

Cubs 3 Games Ahead
It's now three games from Chicago on top of St. Louis in second place with only nine to go, an overwhelming advantage as the two clubs go into the final game of their all-night series at Sportsman's Park.

Things were not so happy in the camp of the Detroit club which saw its advantage over idle Washington shrink to a single game after the 2-0 shutout by Feller's Cleveland tribe. Jimmy Outlaw's Texas League single in the fifth inning saved the Tigers from the humiliation of having a no-hitter thrown against them in the thick of the race.

One long clout by Jeff Heath, his fifteenth homer of the year with one man on, was the difference between Feller's near-perfect job and a combination three-hitter offered up by Les Mueller, George Caster and Tommy Bridges.

Feller, who failed in his lone start against second-place Washington, now has faced the Bengals three times, holding two decisions over them. It is possible he may work one of the three remaining tilts between the two clubs.

While Washington tangles with the Yankees Thursday in the opener of a two-game series preparatory to a final three-game set in Philadelphia, Detroit must meet Cleveland again and then face the St. Louis Browns over the weekend.

Problem in Mathematics
If the Senators can sweep all five remaining tilts, the Tigers must take five of seven to tie or six to win. What looked like a sure thing for Steve O'Neill's gang after they had taken three of the first four in Washington, now has become a nerve-racking scramble that probably will not be settled until late next week.

Most important of the lesser major league games played Wednesday were the two contests in the Yankee Stadium where St. Louis sunk the Yanks twice, 6-5 and 4-3, both times in 10 inning. The results left New York three full games out of third place, threatening them with a fourth place finish for the first time in the regime of Manager Joe McCarthy.

Boston swept both ends of a double bill from the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-10 and 3-0, and Washington and Chicago were idle.

Brooklyn strengthened its third place margin in the National by nosing out the New York Giants, 5-4, with Cy Buker decisioning Ace Adams. Johnny Hutchings pitched his first complete game since July 15, tossing Boston to a 4-0 shut-out of the Phillies. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Midland Army Air Field Prop Wash

The end of the war brought its first major change in the life of the average officer and soldier at Midland Army Air Field when the official work day was cut to 8 o'clock in the morning to 5 o'clock on weekdays and from 8 o'clock in the morning 'till noon on Saturdays.

The change was in compliance with a directive from Training Command headquarters in Fort Worth and places the work week within four hours of that authorized for civilian employees at MAAF. The civilian work week is from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Three officers were promoted to captain at MAAF this week and eight were notified of their advancement to first lieutenant. The new captains are Joseph Chopp, Arthur C. Fanning and Arthur J. Roth Jr. The first lieutenants include William M. Bomar, James W. Foster, Clarence Goff, Noel E. Herridon, Eugene Rice, John S. Wallace, and William W. Willemin. Hortense M. Wilson, a WAC, also was promoted to first lieutenant.

Lt. Kenneth W. Nuhn, who has been Enlisted Classification Officer for many months, has been named Recruiting Officer as an additional duty. The Army's large-scale recruiting program is expected to get under way soon.

Next Friday and Saturday nights will be high points in MAAF's entertainment history when Earl Carroll's road-show Vanities come to the Post Service Club.

The cast of 50 is reported to live up fully to Carroll's slogan—"the most beautiful girls in the world."

Although the discharge of men "over 35" who have served two years or more in the Army has been announced in Washington, MAAF Headquarters is awaiting the receipt of the official War Department circular before moving the eligible men to separation centers. This has created one of the most ardent groups of "mail sweaters" MAAF has ever seen. As one eligible remarked, "We know we're getting out but we're sure sweating that circular." When? That's the big question.

Efficient management has built up a little surplus of funds at the MAAF NCO Club and the members are going to treat themselves to a barbecue and dance Saturday night, Sept. 29.

The affair will be held at the Feter County auditorium and the feed will be put on by the Chuck Wagon Gang.

The cigarette rationing at MAAF was relaxed a little this week with allotment rising to ten packs per man per week. There is no information as to when the rationing may be lifted completely.

CONSCIENTIOUS JANITOR GIVE DETECTIVE FIT
SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—A conscientious janitor did his duty at an untimely moment for Joseph B. Burbidge.

Burbidge, police fingerprint expert, was diligently examining pieces of broken glass gathered up after a burglary when he was called from his work. Returning, he found the glass gone.

The janitor admitted he'd swept up the glass, explaining: "That couldn't have been used for anything. The glass was broken."

What Good Nursing Can Do

Smell Of Fresh Paint, T-Bones On Menus And Gasoline—That's Texas

By JACK RUTLEDGE
DALLAS —(AP)— Those lucky enough to take a trip through Texas by car have noticed an encouraging smoothness in the change from war to peace.

Here are a few examples: Service stations are reopening by the hundreds. Many are operated by service men now discharged, enthusiastic over their first business. Detours have returned as highway repairs, long needed, get under way. New highways, also, are being built.

Towns smell of fresh paint. Store fronts are being remodeled. Homes are being painted. New buildings are going up with surprising suddenness.

An occasional traveling salesman is seen. Shelves are beginning to bulge with such things as cigarettes again.

T-Bones on Menus
Menus printed during the war show signs of peace—in the smaller places such items as T-bone steaks have been added in pencil or ink. Larger restaurants, of course, have printed menus to include the new dishes.

Large signs on now-vacant buildings proclaim the imminent opening of war-closed non-essential businesses such as sporting goods stores.

Everywhere there is a heart-warming courtesy. It'll take a long time to get completely used to it after long war years of short tempers and short stocks which resulted in an un-Texas-like gruffness.

But one still sees signs of die-hards. Like the farmer near Dallas who, through peace and war, has grimly kept five lightning rods on his house, three on his barn.

Home Front Emotional Strain Produced High Industrial Absenteeism

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON —(AP)— Wartime working conditions and the mental stress of home front living produced the highest sickness absenteeism rate among industrial workers in at least 23 years.

This peak rate was reached in 1944, Dr. W. M. Gafaer, principal statistician for the U. S. Public Health Service, said in a statement in public health reports, amplified by an interview.

Asked the reasons for the high rate, Gafaer said it undoubtedly could be attributed to "the extraordinary demands on the productive capacities of industry."

Because of the reduction in available manpower, industry found it necessary to employ youth, the older workers, women workers, the long-unemployed, the inexperienced and many persons excluded from the armed forces for some reason or another.

Emotional Strains
Gafaer added that other contributing factors indicated were "emotional strains and personal mental conflicts (among workers), the lowered physical standards of employment, overtime with its attendant fatigue, and night work."

A sample survey of 250,000 workers, based on statistics from industrial sick benefit organizations, listed the number of workers absent for eight consecutive calendar days or longer during 1944. For males, the record showed 140.9 absences per 1,000 men, compared with a ten-year average of 102.9.

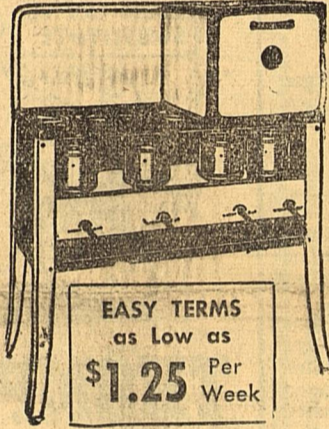

For women there were 221 absences per 1,000 workers, compared with a ten-year average of 163.1.

A breakdown of specific causes showed this picture:
Absences due to digestive diseases in 1944 exceeded the 10-year average rate by 31 per cent for males and 42 per cent for females. Absences due to such things as nervous ills, heart disease, rheumatism and infectious maladies topped the 10-year average rate by more than 40 per cent for both sexes.

International Chess Tourney Helps Unite Russia-American Friendship

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK—The chess masters have brought the United States and Soviet Russia closer together, thanks to the first international sports match since the start of World War II.

It's dollars to doughnuts that if any writer had tried to guess which sport would bring the two world powers into competition, he wouldn't have named chess.

The players who specialize in manipulating kings, queens, bishops, knights, etc., haven't commanded the attention in this country that they have in Russia.

Russia's National Sport
 Over in the land of vodka, chess is the national sport. The game is taught in the public schools and subsidized by the government.

Tournaments are held in huge auditoriums by collective farmers and Soviet labor unions. Entries in some meets have reached as high as 700,000. Just think of regulating and satisfying that many competitors in any sport here.

It's too bad that more sport fans couldn't have viewed the American end of the recent international matches. It was a sports picture to be remembered. The same scene was repeated in Moscow.

Each of 10 American chess experts sat at a table with a set of chessmen and a board, a chess time clock, by which he made 40 moves in two and a half hours, and pencil and paper to record his moves in chess code.

Often, all the watchers could hear was the clock ticking, although once or twice some of the other experts said they heard their fellow player's brain ticking.

This is the first time any top Soviet team ever played a championship match against any top team from the outside world—in any sport.

Just imagine the excitement that swept through the big hall they used over there when the blackboard announced that a move had won the match or that one of the Americans had resigned.

The boys on this side of the Atlantic didn't do too much winning but when they did, the spectators whooped and hollered as loud as any student body.

Probably the funniest scene of all happened when Herman Steiner of Los Angeles scored the first win for the United States.

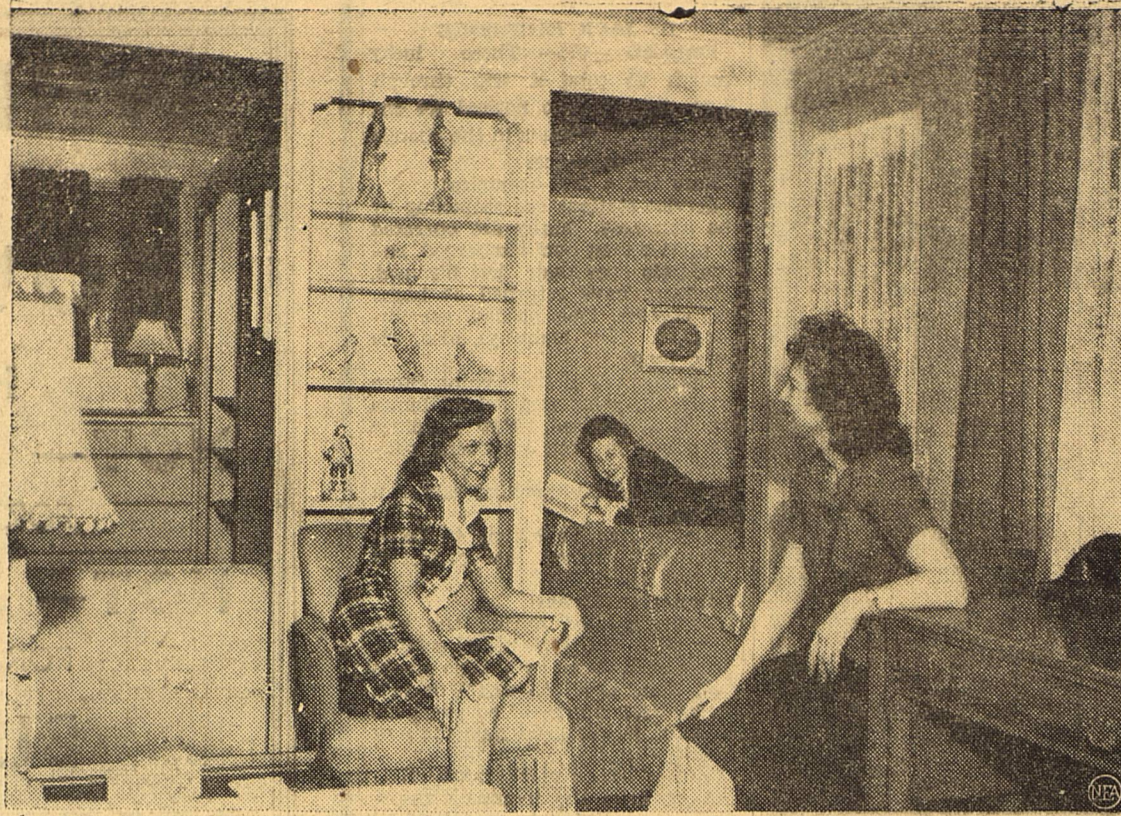

The other players immediately took up a chant:
 "We want Steiner. We want Steiner!"

They rushed the hero who came all away across the continent to win a game in the first international match since the war, and hoisted him on their shoulders, parading all over the hotel.

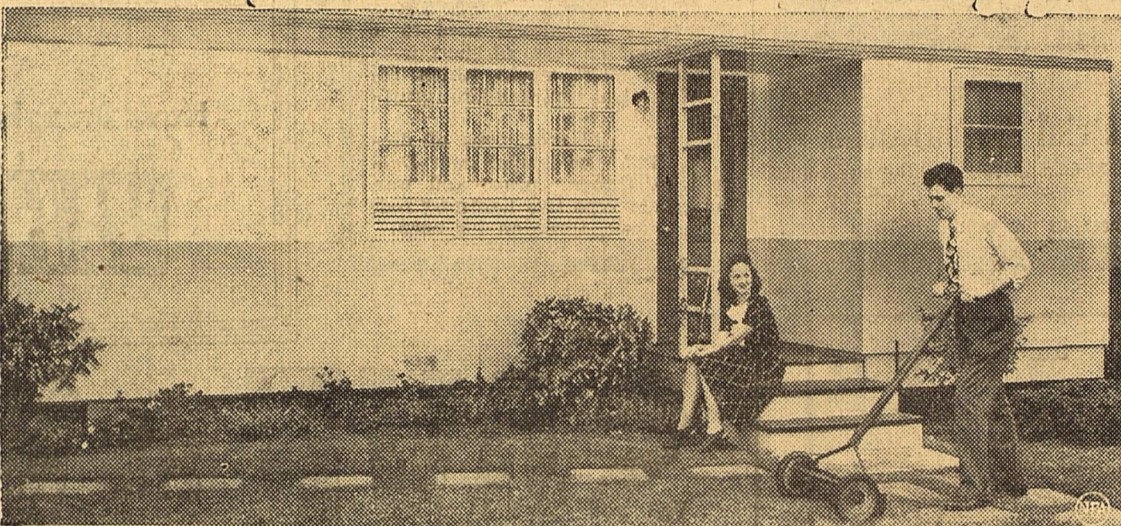

Stories have been written about how chess players became so engrossed in the game they broke a leg or threw a neck out of joint. Nothing like that happened here, but the Army-Navy game, or the World Series never caused any more excitement than did the few points the United States made against the top chess players of the world.

The score: Russia, 15 1/2; United States, 4 1/2.

WITH NEW MOBILE HOMES YOU'LL BE ABLE TO PICK UP AND GO WHEREVER YOU PLEASE

This interior view of the new mobile home shows a part of the living room and two bedrooms beyond with built-in bunks and furniture.

Shrubbery and a well-tended lawn give this mobile home a look of permanency. But within minutes it can be disconnected and on its way to another site.

By ROSELLEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—Those of you who have never bought a house because it would tie you down to one spot, soon will be able to satisfy both the desire to have a home of your own and the urge to pick up and move whenever the gypsy in you is aroused.

The answer to how to have your cake and eat it too is the new Wingfoot Home, which will be sold as a package unit, completely furnished and ready to hook up to utility connections.

When shipped from the manufacturer it will measure eight feet wide and 26 feet long—dimensions which allow transport on any highway without special permit. But when it is delivered to the plot you own or the site you've rented temporarily, bedroom wings can be extended to 15 feet.

Fully Equipped
 Insulated for hot and cold climates, it comes complete with such built-in features as bedroom furnishings, storage space, sink, stove, refrigerator and bathroom facilities.

What it lacks in size it makes up in scientific space-saving devices, worked out by experts of the Akron tire and aircraft plant which manufactures the house. Big enough for a family of four, it has two bedrooms, bookshelves and mirror, closets and footlocker storage space.

The living room, made light and airy with triple windows and louvers which permit the house to "breathe" fresh air without admitting dust or rain, is large enough for a couch, easy chair, dining table and side chairs. At one end there is a fully equipped kitchen with plenty of cupboard space.

Beyond the kitchen there is a bathroom equipped with standard size fixtures and shower cabinet. All plumbing for bath and kitchen is installed and ready to be hooked up.

Priced within the means of the average family, it will serve not only as a year-round dwelling, but will make an excellent guest home, resort cottage, hunting or fishing lodge and housing for harvest hands at peak seasons.

Official Delay Of War's End Would Benefit Farmers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A delay of at least four months in declaring the war officially at an end could be a multi-million dollar boon to farmers.

It also would give them until 1949 to adjust their war-expanded production of food products to prospective smaller peacetime requirements.

Early in the war Congress passed a law directing the Agriculture Department to support farm prices at not less than 90 per cent of parity for a two-year period after the war.

Under terms of that law, the two-year period does not begin until the first day of January after the President, by proclamation, or the Congress, by resolution, declares the war ended.

Hence, should the war be declared officially over before next Jan. 1, farm price supports would cover 1946 and 1947. On the other hand, should official end of the conflict be delayed until some time in 1946, the government would be committed to support farm commodities for a three-year period ending Jan. 1, 1949.

Longer Period Likely
 This latter course appeared the more likely. President Truman in his message to Congress last week emphasized that "time has not yet arrived" to proclaim the war ended.

Agriculture Department economists have estimated that it may cost the government more than $1,000,000,000 a year to carry out the farm price support program.

Mechanisms used in the past to support prices include loans, government purchases, and subsidies. Aside from loans on the so-called basic commodities—corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts—postwar price support mechanisms have not been announced yet.

Other commodities for which price supports are mandatory include hogs, eggs, turkeys, chickens, milk, butterfat, dry peas, dry edible beans, soybeans for oil, flaxseed for oil, American-Egyptian cotton, potatoes, and sweet potatoes.

'On Second Thought' Said The Sergeant

BASEL, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—When Sgt. Rogers Raymond, formerly of Detroit, Mich., stepped into Switzerland from France on furlough, a welcoming committee greeted him.

"You're the ten thousandth American furlougher to pass through Basel," the Swiss informed him. "Let us give you a watch."

"No, thanks," Raymond said absent-mindedly. "I've already got a watch."

For that his buddies called him aside. How to buy a Swiss watch without spending most of your $38 furlough allowance is a universal furlough problem in Switzerland.

"Well," Raymond explained, returning to the committee, "this watch really belongs to the Army. I'd better take it."

He took it.

Action-Loving Wainwright Feared He Might 'Miss War' In Philippines

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—When four-star Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright—then a major general—was sent to the Philippines in September, 1940, he expressed mild irritation. He told his friends he was afraid that meant he was going to miss the war.

His fear of missing action in World War II was unfounded. In the few historic months during which he earned a reputation as the most "front-fighting" general in the Army. With his brilliant record in the Army and his fighting heritage, this was expected.

He is the son of the late Major Robert Powell Page Wainwright, who gave his life in the Philippines in 1901 during an uprising. His grandfather was Commander Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, killed in action in the Civil War. His great grandfather had the same name and was Protestant Episcopal Bishop of New York.

To an intimate few of his friends who went through West Point with him, Wainwright was known as "Skinny." He was described as "tall, lean, and wiry; a typical cavalry officer."

Foresaw Mechanization
 Riding horses was his favorite sport. Wherever he was stationed he quickly established himself as the best polo player. He is also an excellent shot with a rifle and pistol.

When he got out of the Academy in 1906, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the cavalry. He stayed with it off and on until World War I. In 1918 he had risen to the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel, having served with the General Staff of the 82nd Division in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, and with the Third Army in the occupation of the Rhine.

In 1931 he decided a new kind of warfare was developing. He knew motorized divisions were coming to take the place of horses, but hated to see it. He told a friend: "All these years I've been getting bow-legged to fit a horse. I don't know how I'm going to fit a tank."

In that year he was graduated from the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. In 1934 he completed the course at the War College in Washington, and then went through the Chemical Warfare School at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. He always maintained a brilliant scholastic record.

Tough as promotions were in peacetime, he made full colonel in 1935 and brigadier general in 1939.

The usually unemotional War Department records go all-out in giving him this description: "Natural leader, magnetic personality, clipped speech, good disciplinarian, popular with officers and men, alert, forceful and has plenty of confidence in himself."

Mild-Tempered
 No less enthusiastic, his friends describe him as a very pleasant-mannered, mild-tempered man with a good sense of humor. They say he is easy-going at the right time and a tough disciplinarian at the right time.

His most historic pronouncement was made when the Japs sent their first bid for his surrender when he was trapped on Corregidor. He replied: "I have been one of the battling soldiers of Bataan and I'll play the same role on the Rock as long as it is humanly possible. I have been with my men from the start and if captured I will share their lot. We have been through so much together that my conscience would not let me leave before the final curtain."

U. S. Feared DDT
Was A Nazi Trick

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture were in a suspicious frame of mind in their early studies of the insecticide DDT, says Dr. Fred G. Bishop, assistant chief of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine.

"The material (DDT) appeared to be a nerve poison," Dr. Bishop recently told a group of physicians, "and it was suspected that possibly Germany had permitted the material to be shipped out of Switzerland in the hope that it might be used extensively on our troops and thus in some way adversely affect them."

"Extensive toxicological tests carried out by the food and drug administration and the national institute of health, however, failed to demonstrate any toxic effects."

Byrnes: South Carolina's Fifth Cabinet Member

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is the fifth South Carolinian to hold a cabinet post and the state's third secretary of state.

Byrnes' appointment broke a 100-year dearth of Palmetto state service in official families of the nation's presidents, for the last South Carolinian to be a cabinet member was John C. Calhoun, who in 1845 was also secretary of state.

The others were Paul Hamilton, secretary of the Navy in 1809, Joel R. Poinsett, secretary of war in 1837, and Hugh S. Legare, attorney general in 1841 and secretary of state in 1843.

TYPICALLY JAPANESE
Japan's national flower is the chrysanthemum, but, like most of their other assets, the Japs did not adopt it until someone else had perfected it. Chinese plant breeders were developing the flower as early as the fifth century A.D.

Men Like Big-Bite Meat Pie

Returning G.I.'s like to sink their molars into large-size pieces of beef in a meat pie with vegetables and biscuit cover.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Of course those returning soldiers will eat meat pie—eat it and like it, particularly if the beef is cut into large man-size hunks. And they want plenty of fresh vegetables in it, too.

Victory Meat Pie (Serves 10-12)

Two pounds solid beef, cut into inch pieces—or 1 pound beef and 1 pound beef kidneys, 1/3 cup drippings or other fat, 14 small onions, 4 cups water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 bay leaf, 12 cloves, 1 stalk celery, 1 bunch carrots, 4 medium-sized potatoes, 1/2 cup flour.

If kidneys are used, soak in salted water 30 minutes. Drain and slice. Heat 2 tablespoons drippings or other fat in heavy kettle. Add beef and one sliced onion and saute until meat is brown on all sides. Add water, seasoning and celery, and one whole onion stuck with cloves. Cover and simmer several hours until meat is almost tender. Add remaining whole onions, scraped sliced carrots and kidneys, if used. Cover and continue to cook a half hour. Add potatoes and cook until tender. Drain meat and vegetables and arrange in large casserole. Melt remaining shortening, stir in flour, and, when smooth, add liquid. Stir over heat until sauce thickens and boils. Add more salt, if necessary. Pour into casserole.

Prepare rather soft biscuit dough and pile in a ring near edge of casserole. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F) until dough is brown. Note: Halve recipe for family use.

Savory Stew (Serves 8)

One and one-half pounds lamb neck or shoulder, 2 tablespoons fat, 4 cups water, 2 teaspoons salt, pepper, 1 garlic minced bud, 12 small onions, 12 small potatoes, 3 large quartered carrots, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 1 1/2 cups fresh peas, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup water, soda crackers.

Cut meat in 2-inch cubes and brown in fat. Add water, salt, pepper and garlic; cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours, or until meat is tender. Add onions, potatoes and carrots; cook 25 minutes. Add remaining vegetables and cook 10 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce. Remove vegetables and meat and keep hot. Blend flour and 1/2 cup water, add to liquid of stew and cook until slightly thickened. Add vegetables and meat and serve piping hot with soda crackers.

In 1891, William and Mary granted letters of patent to Thomas Neale to establish a postal service in the colony. He was to have a monopoly of 21 years, and was authorized to "charge such rates and sums of money as the planters shall agree to give."

Jockey Dean Jessop With 272 Winners Shoots At Decade-Old Record Of 307

By BARNEY PEYSER
AP Newsfeatures
DADE PARK, KY.—J. Dean Jessop is a name to be reckoned with around race tracks.

He's the apprentice jockey who set the world on fire at the fall race meet here, and at present is the leading jockey in the country in the number of winners booted home since the ban on racing was lifted this spring.

Young Jessop—he's 18 and was too small for the Army—has 272 winners to his credit since he rode his first one on Memorial Day, 1944. Nearest competitor is Johnny Longdon.

And J. Dean has his eye on a total of 308 before his year as an apprentice is up. The record of 307 winners for an apprentice jockey was set by Jack Westrope almost a decade ago.

Jessop's apprenticeship was interrupted by the ban on racing during the war, but he is finishing it now.

Another Tod Sloan
Among some of the horsemen with long memories, Jessop is being referred to as another Tod Sloan, the American jockey who took England by storm in the 90's.

They say Jessop has everything Sloan had. A great judge of pace, a strategist and daring to an extreme. Sloan rode winners consistently, and was always in the spotlight.

There's no doubt about it. Jessop is riding 'em consistently—and he's sure in the spotlight.

The little apprentice already has performed a great feat that has not been accomplished more than six times in the long history of the turf—12 winners in two days.

They had seven races daily at Dade Park. So one day, up comes Jessop with six winners. That just about set the trackmen ga ga. Then a short time later he repeated—another six out of seven.

This new sensation of the turf is an unassuming little fellow. He appears unspoiled and goes about the daily business of riding horses in a matter of fact way.

Mum About the 'J'
Some of the boys around the stables say the "J" in name J. Dean Jessop stand for Job. Jessop himself won't say, but others claim his brother, who is also a rider, is named Del.

That would have meant two D. Jessops, in case they ever appeared at the same track, so Dean is supposed to have put the "J" there just to make things easier for the race track fans.

Brother Del was hiding at River Downs in Cincinnati while Dean was at Dade Park. Earlier this season, both boys appeared at Akersden Field in Omaha, Dean came out of that meet as the leading rider with 55 wins in 22 days while brother Del finished second with 24 winners. Del is seven years older than Dean.

Young Jessop is making quite a bit of money these days, and he's sending a lot of it home to Mom and Pop, who live on a farm at Nibley, Utah.

For the record:
He weighs 104 and stands half an inch under five feet.

He won his first race on a legal track with his sixth horse.

He has several trophies which he won with jumping horses in horse shows and on bush tracks.

He missed only one race while at Dade Park, riding 173 out of 174 races.

He's been injured twice, once a broken collar bone and once a broken foot. The collar bone injury laid him up for five weeks but the broken foot didn't bother him at all. He rode with a steel arch support in his boot.

He likes to sleep at the barns, likes to be near the horses and listens to advice.
He rode the horses in four daily doubles at Dade Park.
And one of his top ambitions is to ride a Kentucky Derby winner.
Watch Jessop—he's ambitious and he can ride.

AT LEAST THIS LANDLADY WAS FRANK ABOUT IT

CHICAGO —(AP)— Mrs. Wilson Smith's "for rent" advertisement in a newspaper read: "Dark, dirty four-room apartment. . . Shabby furn."

She explained: "I don't want people to bother coming unless they know what it is. We can't get decorators and even if we could they'd want too much money to fix up the place."

Car Owners Should Check Window Glass

Automobile owners should check the glass in doors and windshields of their cars before cold weather to determine if it is in good condition, Q. M. (Shine) Shelton, owner of the Midland Glass Company at 1611 West Wall Street, suggested. Shelton carries a complete line of both windshield and window glass for cars, and it always is installed by expert workmen.

Insulation Saves Money In Winter

The lobby, mezzanine floor and Crystal Ballroom of the Scharbauer Hotel look like new again since they have been redecorated. The Crystal Ballroom is the meeting place for all service clubs of Midland.

Brazil Looks To U. S. For Air Supplies

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Brazil, boasting the most modern air force in South America, has established an aeronautical mission with headquarters in Washington to acquire U. S. aviation material. Brazilian fighter pilots brought home a score of modern U. S. Thunderbolt planes after fighting on the Italian front, and the air force also has a limited number of Marauder, Mitchell and A-20 bombers, Catalina patrol planes and P-40 fighters.

Citizens Plan New Homes

With the lifting of building restrictions by the federal government, many citizens are looking forward to building new homes. The sale of lots in Grafaland, the most exclusive and highly restricted residential section between Fort Worth and El Paso, indicates many of the future homes will be of the better type. The large lots in Grafaland are ideal sites for larger homes.

Thought And Planning Required Before Grafaland Could Be Opened

The opening of Grafaland as the most lightly restricted and exclusive residential section between Fort Worth and El Paso is not the result of chance, but follows months of planning and consultations with experienced municipal engineers. Barney Grafa, developer of Grafaland, has opened five residential sections in the years he has been here, since 1927. All have been restricted and are from 95 to 100 per cent built up. Grafa utilized his experience in

Baker Oil Company Features New War Developed Cosden Gasoline

The new Cosden higher octane and premium Ethyl gasolines are far better than they were before the war and car and truck owners who try the new Cosden products will be surprised at the manner in which motors perform, and at the mileage delivered, R. B. Baker, owner of the Baker Oil Company, Midland County distributor of Cosden products, declared. "The war has brought out many wonderful scientific discoveries and improvements in things which are used for peacetime living," Baker pointed out. "Gasoline is one of these products." The two fine Cosden gasolines are now being made from stocks formerly used in making aviation gasoline for the government, but due to cancellations of contracts they are now available for the public generally, Baker explained. "This means a lot to the automobile and motor truck owners. It means Cosden gasolines today are far superior to any Cosden manu-

Glarus, Switzerland, celebrated, and sent a special welcoming committee to greet the men from New Glarus and their comrades. The local newspaper wrote of Kundert and Aebly that "they speak a purer German than we do; they use expressions which are known only to our grandmothers." Economic stress in Switzerland in 1845 prompted 108 settlers from this area to found the American Glarus, where the U. S. Swiss cheese industry began.

Civilian Historian Made Naval History

ANNAPOLIS, MD.—(P)—The U. S. Naval Academy, which has contributed as much or more to American history than any other institution, was started through the efforts of a historian.

He was George Bancroft, Secretary of the Navy in 1845 and author of a 10-volume "History of the United States." Bancroft Hall at the Naval Academy, which marks its 100th anniversary Oct. 10, bears his name.

Ex-GI, 44, Says He's Oldest College Boy

STATE COLLEGE, PA.—(P)—James E. "Pat" Todd, a 44-year-old ex-GI enrolled for a two-year agricultural course at Pennsylvania State College, believes he's the oldest veteran of World War II to tackle a higher education under provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

At any rate, Todd, who served with an anti-aircraft unit in New Guinea, is the oldest of about 200 veterans now enrolled at Penn State.

Foreign Secret Service In Peacetime Proposed As Safeguard Against Wars

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON NEA Military Writer

WASHINGTON—Mussolini once jibed: "The American Secret Service must be the world's best, for no one can discover it." He meant, of course, that we had none.

So that we will never again be caught napping, as we were in pre-war years, Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan has recommended the establishment of the first peacetime foreign Secret Service in the United States.

In resigning as Director of the Office of Strategic Services, General Donovan wrote President Truman requesting an opportunity to present his views on an organization to carry on Secret Service activities abroad. He recommended that it should link Army and Navy Intelligence branches, incorporating some of the existing personnel and facilities of the O.S.S.

Few Americans realize the importance of the role played by Army and Navy Intelligence branches and Secret Service men in hastening the victorious end of World War II. In addition to the above-board war of land, sea and air, the United States fought an underground war of spies, propaganda, and modern science.

Blinded By Blackout Our Government depended for information about Hitler's arming largely on a few attaches—but did not quite believe them. Our attaches in Japan were blindfolded by her blackout of information, especially about her navy and air forces.

Secret agents sent to piece out the attaches' imperfections seldom came back. Moreover, the small number of secret agents were so underpaid that one group which penetrated secret mandated Pacific islands refused to work any more at such risk for so little. They accused their paymaster of holding out.

We were not only squeamish about doing what every other great power does to find out what goes on, but we were picayune in allotting payment for services received. Congress gave the Navy little enough for such work. The Army received much less—$8,000 for a full year, not long before Pearl Harbor.

Both the Army and Navy were frustrated in their efforts to obtain radar listening devices in pre-Pearl Harbor days because of insufficient appropriations. Jap bombers virtually smashed General MacArthur's air force, because Fifth Columnists had sabotaged the only Manila air-raid warning system. The Army had asked for several—in vain.

The same nigging left Naval Intelligence so short of radio-interception equipment that for some time it could not adequately pick up messages the Japs were interchanging. These messages were of priceless value in revealing Japanese plans and intentions. Moreover, we lacked a sufficient number of code and cipher experts.

We Fooled Hitler

Today we have plenty of operatives and equipment. We have built the greatest Intelligence and Secret Services we have ever had. They have done well, not only defensively against enemy espionage and sabotage, but offensively in a variety of operations.

Here's just one example, which dates back to that dark dawn when we first landed in North Africa. Germany's Master Spy, Admiral Canaris, had warned that we would, but Hitler disagreed. The Gestapo had told him we would land at Dakar. And who told the Gestapo? An American agent, playing a double role. Our landing was aided by the Casablanca harbor master, kidnaped by other American agents. We enlisted tribesmen to keep potentially dangerous Spanish troops busy.

Presently other Americans, recruited from New York's cosmopolitan population and specially trained in one of several unadvertised "schools" descended by parachute to help Partisans in Italy and Yugoslavia. Later others in history's biggest underground operation, prepared France for D-Day by sabotaging railroads and mugging information from behind German lines. Our troops waded ashore guided by maps showing minute details, thanks to aerial and civilian photographs, including vacation snapshots.

General Eisenhower's "war-room" where the Germans capitulated, contained maps showing the whereabouts of every German unit facing us. Our surrender propaganda, by pamphlet, radio and amplifier, effectively reduced German strength.

In Asia our Intelligence saved our Australian base in great naval battles, locating Japanese ships that never knew what hit them. It won our base in the Philippines by daring spy-operations, using submarine and radio.

Need Scientists

Intelligence today depends less upon "spies" than upon scientists: Geographers, map-makers, weather forecasters, linguists, cryptographers, aerial photographers. Pearl Harbor caught us with a bare corporal's guard of them, with a weak platoon in reserve.

Precise experience and tested methods, gained through the war years, will largely be scrapped if we have our usual post-war relapse into complacent apathy on defense matters. Intelligence is ranked as a No. 1 defense matter. In this contracting world of airpower we must know earlier than ever before of the first preparations by anyone for aggression.

The new world organization must depend largely upon the major powers—including the United States—for military Intelligence. Abroad, our strategists insist, we shall need larger peace-time personnel than in the past, including Secret Service agents of high ability and character.

The best defense-insurance of all is to discover any potential menace to peace while it is still only potential—and can still be smashed.

Let 'Em Eat Cake—They Will!

Cocoa devil's-food cake . . . something the returning serviceman dreamed about

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

They'll shout with joy—those returned G. I. Joes—when a rich, thick devil's food cake appears. It's another one of those things they didn't get in the Army or Navy. A big slice of devil's food and a tall glass of cold milk—that's a dream fulfilled.

Here's a big-time recipe repeated at request of many wives, mothers and sweethearts.

Cocoa Devil's Food Cake

Preparations—Have shortening at room temperature. Grease two 9x9-1/2-inch pans, line bottoms with waxed paper, and grease again. Star: oven for moderate heat (350 degrees F.). Sift flour once before measuring.

Measure into sifter: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup breakfast cocoa.

Measure into bowl: 1/2 cup vegetable shortening, 1/2 cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Have ready: 1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed, 3 eggs, unbeaten, 3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk.

"Mix-Easy" Part: Mix or stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add brown sugar. Force through sieve to remove lumps, if necessary. Add water with vanilla and the eggs. Mix until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add sour milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. (Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow at least 100 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon or beater often.)

Baking: Turn batter into pans. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Spread almond or vanilla cream filling between square layers and your favorite chocolate frosting on top and sides of cake.

A meat loaf with soya flour and fruits can stretch 3 1/2 pound of ground meat from 3 to 6 servings.

Putting a biscuit dough or corn meal mush lid on a meat pie will help stretch it.

POPULARITY IS WORTH THE EFFORT

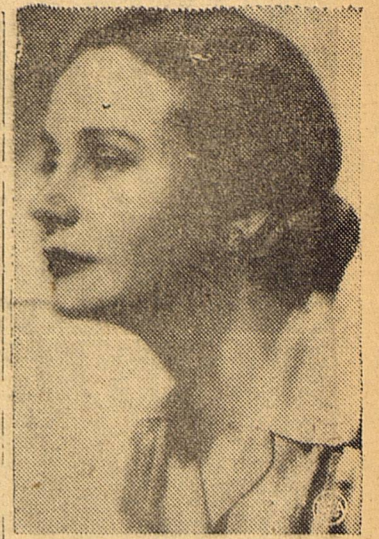

By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

What three qualities do you think help most to put a person across? Jean Dalrymple, play producer and counselor to stars of the theater, radio, screen and concert stage, says it's "simplicity, warmth and generosity. They have been predominant in all of the glamorous personalities with whom I've worked."

Olivia Grace Moore, Tallulah Bankhead and Lily Pons as individualists, Jean says they have in common the simplicity of the direct approach and personal warmth which makes people take to them immediately.

Capacity for hard work and the ability to appear meticulously dressed at a moment's notice are two more reasons for rising to the top, which Jean observes. She recalls that Turb's boast, "I am a pig for work" often was borne out by a feat of memorizing a symphony overnight which was to be rehearsed the next morning.

Health Officers Advise DDT Should Be Sprayed On Surface, Not In Air

By WILLIAM E. KEYS

AUSTIN.—(P)—Slow but sure is the killing quality of DDT, advise State Health Department officials for persons using the insecticide the first time.

Now that it is generally available, the public should know something of its properties and what to expect of it, the officials believe.

Most likely you'll find it put up in solution. The solution is sprayed on screens, walls, floors and other surfaces. When it dries it leaves tiny, almost invisible crystals as a residue.

Insects touching the crystals die eventually—not immediately. That's why the best way to judge its success is by the absence of live insects rather than the presence of dead ones.

Insects evidently absorb the DDT through their feet. Soon they become restless. Their feet drag. Then their movement becomes jerky and spasmodic. Finally they develop tremors and die.

The insect may be far removed from the point of exposure before death occurs.

Don't Spray Into Air

Bear in mind that unless insects walk or alight on the crystals there will be no kill. That means it should be sprayed on locations visited by insects. Don't spray it generally into the air.

If you are using a small quantity spray screens, and doors and the facings of screens and doors. Don't forget cupboards and closets. Remove cooking utensils and food before spraying. Put them back when the spray dries. If you spray walls make sure the solution does not stain wall paper. It's a good idea also to spray the outside surfaces of garbage cans.

DDT has proven a positive killer of flies, roaches, ants, fleas, mosquitoes, lice and bedbugs, if properly used.

The Health Department has used tons of it in malaria and typhus control. The results are so encouraging that State Health Officer George W. Cox asserts filth borne disease can be reduced to an absolute minimum if every home, business building and outhouse is sprayed.

Atomic Power At Alamogordo, New Mexico

(NEA Telephone)

Atomic Crater In New Mexico Isn't Much But Rates As Shrine To Science

By PETER EDSON
NEA Staff Correspondent.
ATOMIC BOMB CRATER, New Mexico—When the Army lets tourists come in for a gander at the spot where the first atomic bomb was tested last July, they may have to look closely or miss the point. The spot "X" is, in this case, dwarfed by the big mountains and vast desert of the New Mexico scenery. You go north from El Paso about 100 miles on the Southern Pacific or U.S. 70 to the little stockpen and water-tank town of Orosquieta, which means dark or obscure.

Thirty miles or so west of the railroad is the Alamogordo Army Air Forces bombing range where the B-29 crews trained and perfected their bombing aim. A big hunk of this range was set aside for the atomic bomb test. You pass a high steel tower where a lonely detachment of MP's keep out stray cattle and stray humans. If you're authorized to have a pass, you get a big but on badge with a number on it, just like the Pentagon's.

MP's Guard Area

Exactly 10,000 yards, or about six miles from the spot where the bomb was set off, you come to the bunker where the scientists pushed the button and watched the fireworks through periscopes. Parked in the desert behind the shack are two lead-lined tanks which were used for observation over the ground after the bomb was set off. But at the actual time of the explosion, this was the closest point anyone was allowed to get.

A few miles farther back was the Oscura Range Camp—a ramshackle bunch of barracks and ten's set around a windmill well and an adobe hut—where the technicians and construction crews lived while they were setting up their contraptions. The blast was felt back at the camp, but the buildings were not damaged.

The 10,000-yard observation post was not damaged either, but it was protected on three exposed sides by concrete and 10 feet or more of earth piled around it. Under this earth work is a rough board shack, filled with electrical gadgets. A dozen of the scientists and technicians were crowded into this shack to witness the big night of July 16.

Many wires on low poles and crossarms lead from the control shack towards the site of the explosion. The road has been hard surfaced here, because there was a lot of traffic getting the test set up. For about four miles you ride along smoothly and the scenery is the usual mixture of greasewood, mesquite, cactus and tough desert growth.

First thing you know, the wires are down. Then the crossarms are down, the poles are down. These are the first observations of damage. Any buildings standing in this area would have been destroyed two miles away.

Across the desert from both sides come a couple of men on horseback at full gallop. They are MP's guarding the area. A new high barbed wire fence surrounds an area of four or five square miles around the point at which the bomb was fired. Until the scientists complete their examination of the area, the general public is kept out. The MP's examine passes and let you in through a gate across the road.

Sand Turns To Glass

Eight hundred yards—about half a mile from the center of the area, the vegetation ends. The root stubble is burned black at the ground. The branches and leaves just aren't there. Blown to bits. Nearly two months after the explosion nothing in this area has started to grow, though scientists say it will. The ground is not sterile. The roots are not destroyed. You must remember this is desert country.

Four hundred yards from the center of the area the surface takes a different hue. It is a light greenish gray in color. It makes a lacy pattern on the ground. Closer examination reveals it is about a half inch thick, hard but brittle and glass-like. It is fused sand. So terrific was the heat of this atomic explosion that in an instant it turned the desert sand into a crude glass.

Fifty yards from the firing point this glass coating ends and the crater begins. As craters go it isn't so big. Nor so deep. But where the ground was level, an area about the size of a small city block was scooped out to depths up to 10 feet. This is the earth which was melted and sprayed over the larger area to cool as glass. The hard surfaced road in this area is wiped out, rutted and impossible for any car to traverse.

In the exact center of the area are the stubs of the four legs of the 100-foot steel tower, at the top of which the test bomb was placed for firing. The tower itself, as previously announced, was completely destroyed. Evaporated. Here and there a few pieces of fused scrap iron can be found. But only a few.

The scientists go around with gamma ray meters, measuring the radio activity of the glass, the fused iron and the earth. The iron and some of the glass beads show considerable radio activity. If you were them around your neck, you would probably get a bad burn, similar to what you'd get from over-exposure to x-rays or radium. Or from too much sunburn.

There is enough radio activity to fog photographic film in only a few minutes. Some of the photographers who went in to take pictures of the ruins lost their shots because they stayed around too long.

National Monument

Well, that's what you get for your money if you go to the atomic bomb site. It isn't much. There are bigger and better craters in lots of places. This one can't compare with the meteor crater in Arizona or Grand Canyon. But a lot of scientific history was made here. It's worth preserving as a national shrine.

Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes wants to take it into the national parks system, rating it as a national monument, like the nearby white sands, or Abe Lincoln's birthplace in Kentucky. But Harold has a better watch out when the Army gives his grazing land back to him as part of the national range. The souvenir hunters are going to go for bits of that fused glass like nobody's business, if rains and snows and sandstorms don't destroy it first. Maybe they ought to roof it, as well as fence it in.

Exactly 10,000 yards, or about six miles from the spot where the bomb was set off, you come to the bunker where the scientists pushed the button and watched the fireworks through periscopes. Parked in the desert behind the shack are two lead-lined tanks which were used for observation over the ground after the bomb was set off. But at the actual time of the explosion,

OFFSETS TEEN-AGE SKIN BLEMISHES

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Buck up, you teen-agers who think all is lost because nasty blemishes mar your skin.

Some flare-ups are superficial, and for these temporary nuisances there are eight-hour creams which, put on before you go to bed, can ease a headache over night.

If the trouble is chronic, follow your doctor's advice in treating it and faithfully use the healing lotion and powder he recommends. Promise to do that, and I'll show you how you can still match looks with any girl in your crowd.

Promise? All right, get set with the brightest lipstick you can find. Use it as a red banner to flag attention away from troubled skin.

With the same idea in mind, make eyebrows models of good grooming by tweezing 'em clean. Darken them, if need be, with an eyebrow pencil to enforce color. To make orbs underneath look pretty special, use eyelash pomade to gloss up your fringes.

You want also to pull audience eyes to your hair by these decoys: freshly-stamped shine, simple, tailored outlines and the cleanest hair-parting you can draw.

Repeat the well-defined, uncluttered look of your hair in a hat. Sharply outlined and fuss-free berets, visor caps, sailors and other types of "haberdasher" hats are better for your purposes of strategy than fancy millinery.

What goes below your face? Just as a slick little tailored topper on your head makes an eye-compelling frame above your face, so will the starchiest white collar you can snap on whoop up appeal below. Pose this neckwear for sharpest effects against dark dresses, and change to a fresh collar every day, so that both you and your clothes have an out-of-the-dressbox look.

Italian Partisans Turned In Knives But Kept Machine Guns And Mortars

By GEORGE BRIA
AP Newsfeatures

ROME—Thousands of partisans who fought the Germans and Fascists in Northern Italy with arms supplied by the Allies or captured from the enemy have given up only part of the weapons and authorities are frankly worried.

Shotguns, pistols, knives and museum battle pieces comprised the major part of the arms turned in by the patriots in accordance with Allied Military Government proclamations. Subsequent raids have shown the partisans kept the machine guns and submachine guns and still possess even mortars and anti-tank guns.

"The partisans are much better armed than the Italian police in Northern Italy," a high Allied public safety officer said. "What's more, they are taking care of their arms. We recently seized a machine gun cache. The weapons were carefully oiled and crated. We also

WASHINGTON—The first nationwide Army Crafts contest for GIs stationed in the United States will end up with a national exhibition at Rockefeller Center in New York from February 15 to March 14, 1946.

Winners in the handicrafts contest will be selected in four classes—for originality of design, best craft techniques and materials, inventive use of improvised materials and functional value.

First prize winners will receive certificates valued at $75, second prizes $50, and third $25, which will entitle the winners to purchase crafts tools and materials through the Army Exchange Service. No restrictions are placed on the number of entries by an individual soldier, but each must have been made while he was in service. Only paintings, drawings, sculpture, prints, renderings and photography are not eligible for consideration.

Sponsored by the Special Services Division, the contest will begin with the elimination competitions in each Army installation in this country. Representative works will be forwarded to Service Command headquarters, and entries shown in regional exhibitions where selections will be made for the national show in New York.
