Navy Takes Over Strike-Bound Oil Plants

Twenty-Six Firms Involved As Truman Order Carried Out

DALLAS—(P)—O. A. Knight, chairman of the International Executive Council of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) Friday notified Texas oil strikers by telegram to stop picketing and to return to work.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Navy was boss Friday over a third of the nation's oil refinery capacity. President Truman seized the strike-bound plants in 15 states Thursday night and put the job of getting them back into production into the Navy's hands.

Truman said the strike of 43,000 workers, which began Sept. 16, had caused "serious shortages" in fuel supplies of the armed forces, besides endangering essential production and "all forms of transportation."

There was no immediate indication whether the CIO oil workers would return at once to their jobs in the seized plants. Union President O. A. Knight reserved comment.

Acting Secretary of the Navy H. Struve Hensel told a news conference the Navy would not try to deal with the union demand for a 30 per cent increase without an order from the War Labor Board.

Laval Returns To Court With Three Lawyers

PARIS—(P)—Pierre Laval returned to the high court of justice which had ousted him from his own treason trial and asserted Friday the authoritative powers granted old Marshal Pétain after the fall of France "would be useful to the country."

Laval had lawyers Friday, three of them. They refused to attend the tumultuous opening of the celebrated session Thursday but repented overnight after being warned of disbarment.

"I demand for Pierre Laval the same rights that are being granted the monsters of Delsen in Luebenburg," Chief Defense Counsel Albert Naud insisted. He referred to the current trial of 45 Nazi concentration camp functionaries before a British military court.

Much of the session was devoted to Laval's final and futile plea for a postponement. When Judge Paul Mongibeaux denied this, Laval asked the jury to "reserve my judgment until I have fully explained my case."

The former premier of the Vichy regime said he had wanted to be a buffer between the French and the German occupiers. He recalled there had been no protest at the national assembly against the armistice.

"I am accused," Laval said, "of trying to overthrow the 1875 constitution, but on Oct. 21 the French people will go to the polls to decide whether that constitution will be done away with."

Mongibeaux reversed his decision of Thursday barring Laval from the courtroom.

AUSTIN—(P)—Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, said Friday four men were arrested Thursday night by State Rangers on warrants charging injuring the personal property of the Lower Colorado River Authority.

Garrison said the men were arrested by Ranger Captain Fred Olsen on warrants sworn out by Olsen before Justice of the Peace Frank McBee of Austin.

30 Countries Ratify Charter Formulating United Nations

LONDON—(P)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., American delegate to the United Nations World Preparatory Commission, announced Friday that 30 countries had ratified the organization's charter—one more than necessary to bring it into existence.

Stettinius, who made the announcement at an open meeting of the league's executive committee, said 11 countries already had deposited their ratifications in Washington and that the other countries had sent word that ratifications were on the way.

Washington Gives Nimitz Welcome

WASHINGTON—(P)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told Congress Japan had more planes and a bigger army at the end of the war than she had at Pearl Harbor—and yet took a terrific beating.

Nimitz, home for a whopping hero's welcome that included a 1,000 plane escort, said the enemy had no alternative except surrender even before atomic bombs were dropped and Russia entered the war.

He said that was because: 1. Japan's fighting fleet "had ceased to exist."

Gen. Strahm New Director Of AAF Central Command RANDOLPH FIELD—Brig. Gen. Victor H. Strahm, former chief of staff of the 9th Air Force, has been named commanding general of the AAF Central Flying Training Command, according to an announcement from the Command headquarters at Randolph Field.

Gen. Strahm served with the 9th Air Force from the time of its inception in 1942 until the end of the war, seeing action in China, India, Africa, England, France and Germany. Returning to the United States last May, he became commanding general of the 34th Flying Training Wing, supervisory headquarters at Midland for bombardier training within the Central Flying Training Command.

He was promoted to the rank of brigadier general in 1942. In addition to theater ribbons which he is authorized to wear for his 33 months overseas in World War II, Gen. Strahm has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star, and Legion of Merit by the United States government; the Croix de Guerre with two palms during World War I; the Croix de Guerre with one Palm during World War II; and the Legion of Honor by the French government; and the Order of the British Empire by the government of Great Britain.

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman Friday conferred the nation's highest valor award on 14 Navy and Marine heroes and asked that the nation win the peace to prevent other young men from being killed or wounded.

Resignation Follows Inability To Enforce New Freedom Policy

TOKYO—(P)—Japan's post-surrender cabinet quit Friday because it couldn't—or wouldn't—enforce General MacArthur's revolutionary freedom policy and oust its home minister—and Japanese newspapermen said former Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida "might" be the new premier.

Emperor Hirohito accepted the resignations of Prince Higashi-Kuni and his entire cabinet with the comment "that is good," and made it clear that he would ask MacArthur's prior approval of the next premier.

Yoshida, a career diplomat, told Japanese interviewers that "it is not I," but they pointed out that he "is always foxy and wouldn't admit it before hand anyway."

Headquarters explained in a press release Friday night that Yoshida's first call had been to inform the Allied high command officially of the resignation of the cabinet and that a new cabinet was being formed.

The newspaper Asahi Friday cited two "direct" reasons for the cabinet's fall: It felt that it couldn't carry out MacArthur's freedom directive; and it felt that it couldn't be responsible for maintenance of peace and order after the directed removal of leading police officials.

Hirohito Making Choice Imperial household sources earlier had reported that Hirohito was dispensing with the traditional advice of Japan's elder statesmen in making his new choice of a premier acceptable to the Allies, and was discussing the matter only with Kido and Baron Hiranuma.

7,000 Telephone Workers To Walk Off Jobs Friday

By The Associated Press Almost 7,000 telephone workers in Texas have voted to walk out of their jobs Friday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. in line with a nationwide strike in demonstration of union strength.

Dial systems will not be affected and telephone officials said they will try to give service on vital long distance calls.

Because Beaumont does not have the dial system, the city will be almost entirely without telephone service this afternoon. To meet the emergency, all city police auxiliary police and State Guard members will be on duty.

Workers at Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, San Antonio, Austin, Houston and Southeast Texas, Corpus Christi and towns of Central Texas have voted to hold mass meetings during the stoppage.

A. L. Edmondson, district commercial superintendent at Houston, said he expected press and leased wires to function during the stoppage but could not assure the service since a break anywhere on the line would disrupt service.

LAKELAND FLA.—(P)—Florida State Senator Harrison E. Barringer of Sarasota is one of two passengers reported missing in the crash of a National Airlines plane which crashed here Friday morning at 1:03 a.m. as it overshot the Lakeland Air Field, airline officials stated.

Location is 1,320 feet from north and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 890, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is on southeast side of the Wasson field and is on a lease where Honolulu has eight wells producing from the regular Wasson pay around 5,000 feet.

Tax Cutting Bill Will Go Before House

WASHINGTON—(P)—A $5,300,000,000 tax-cutting bill goes before the House next week for debate and almost certain quick passage.

Both Democrats and Republicans were pleased with the measure which emerged from the ways and means committee late Thursday.

Sweeps about 12,000,000 low-income persons from the income tax rolls completely after January 1.

Repeals the $5 automobile use tax next July 1, for a saving to motorists of $135,000,000.

Repeals the social security tax in 1946, meaning that employers and employees will continue to pay one percent each on payrolls and pay envelopes. This tax was set to jump from one to 2.5 percent January 1.

Operators Remain For Emergency As Walkout Starts

Enough telephone operators remained on the job in Midland to handle emergency calls when the nationwide walkout of telephone workers started at 1 p.m. Friday.

The Midland workers joined with telephone workers over the nation in a four-hour work stoppage in protest against a governmental order to dissolve their independent union.

BUENOS AIRES—(P)—Argentina's nation-wide student strike against the Farrell-Peron government ended in defeat Friday, with one student dead, others injured and some 1,600 in jail.

A court police communique said that "forces of authority" had occupied buildings of the nation's six universities and ousted students barricaded within, writing fims to the "civil disobedience" movement which involved some 30,000 male and female students.

The movement flared into open fighting here and at La Plata Thursday and Thursday night, and the students yielded and agreed to evacuate the building Friday.

Good News From China

The Moscow report that the Kuomintang and the Chinese Communists have reached an agreement is, if true, about the most encouraging news that could be hoped for in the world today.

The differences between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and the Communists were bitter and of long standing. Their views and aims were radically opposed. Both sought control of all China. Both had legitimate claims of one sort or another to back them up.

Their combined efforts against the Japanese had the earmarks of an armed truce which seemed destined to end when the invader was expelled. Informed students of modern China feared a tragic civil war which might draw in Russia and force the reluctant intervention of the United States.

If the generalissimo and Mao Tse-tung, the Communist leader, have reached a compromise, it is a feat of diplomacy for which the whole world owes them thanks. And if the report of an agreement to reform the national government is good news, the forecast of general elections at an early date is even better.

We Americans sometimes forget that free, honest, general elections are a blessing not accorded the people of every nation. We often go off the beam on the emotional binge that precedes our elections. But, with rare exceptions, the vote itself is an uninfluenced, unhampered and satisfactory solution of our major political problems.

Free general elections probably could settle the majority of the world's political problems today with equal satisfaction. But they are a device that fills some heads of state with fear, and others with a sincere, convinced distaste.

Naturally, a government which holds office by force of arms fears the popular will. But there are also political philosophies which hold that a narrowly representative government is preferable to one chosen democratically. If Premier Stalin, for example, were to be a candidate for the office he now holds in a general American-type election, he probably would win hands down. But it isn't likely that the victory would change the present Russian government's attitude toward a wide open political field.

So if Generalissimo Chiang and Mao have decided to reshape China's government according to the popular will, it is a great and historic decision. A free election there would do much to give new meaning to the word democracy, which was twisted into a variety of amazing shapes to fit a variety of purposes during the years of military alliance against the Axis.

No Sauce For The Gander

President William Green of the AFL is a veteran labor leader, but he seems to have the wrong conception of his important role in the creation of a peaceful industrial atmosphere after the war.

He has rejected the proposed Ball-Burton-Hatch industrial relations act, not reasonably and categorically, but in a single blast of general damnation. He has rejected the suggestion that labor and industry sit down with government to chart a course for preventing added difficulties in the difficult time of reconversion.

Green shudders at the thought of any government control of labor, though he can scarcely deny that his memberships employers are held strictly accountable by the government for the general conduct of their business. What's sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander, in Green's book of proverbs.

Rather, the AFL leader makes the brilliantly original proposal that industry and labor get together and iron things out. It is apparent that Green would approach such a get-together with his same set of implacable ideas, and that this meeting would fail as most of the others have.

Labor Secretary Schwelmbach's statement that the public interest should take precedence over either industry's or labor's self-interest doesn't seem to have got across to Green as yet, even though it might seem obvious that what is best for the public interest will be the best for labor's self-interest in the end.

Show-Me State Gets Shown

In the first baseball game attended by a Chief Executive since the 1941 season, President Truman watched the Washington Senators trim the St. Louis Browns for the fifth victory in a six-game series.

Whatever they may say about the President's preference for home-state boys in the matter of appointments, the Senators showed the President, the Browns and the country that there's one group of Missourians that isn't running things in the nation's capital.

Dead Storage

The last we heard, British engineers were still trying to crack the private safe of Gustav Krupp von Bolen and Halbach, the Nazi munitions king. They had cut through bronze, brass, steel and copper doors, and at last reports were trying to puncture a wall of steel.

Those persistent lads are going to find Hitler yet.

They Always Make It Sound So Wonderful

Government Says Costs Have Risen 30 Per Cent But Many Items More

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Take a look at your living costs, and how they've gone up.

Living costs in this country have risen at least 30 per cent since August, 1939, which was just before World War II started.

That 30 per cent rise is a government figure. It's an absolute minimum figure; labor—says the figure is far too low.

Labor says living costs are almost double what the government says they are.

That's one of the chief reasons why labor—now that it has lost its high wartime pay—is yelling for higher wages.

The government's latest figures are for August, 1945. So the increases given here will be the increases between August, 1939 and August, 1945.

Food—Up 50 per cent.
Clothing—Up 45 per cent.
House furnishings—Up 44 per cent.

Miscellaneous costs and services—Up 23 per cent. (This includes movies, tobacco, medical care, drugs, transportation.)

Fuel, electricity and ice—Up 14 per cent.

Rents—Up 3 per cent.

But this is far from telling the whole story: how individual items within those six categories above have risen far beyond the average for the group.

For example:
Fresh fish—Up 124 per cent.
Apples—Up 197 per cent.
String beans—Up 159 per cent.
Potatoes—Up 114 per cent.

Rents—which had gone up only 3 per cent—made the best showing of all the main groups in the government's effort to hold down living costs.

Army Court Sends Texan To Prison For Slaying

LONDON—(AP)—Pfc. William Raymond Knight, 20, of Segno, Polk County, Texas, was sentenced Thursday night to four years imprisonment by an Army court martial for the killing of Harold Newton, 19, a British merchant seaman.

Knight, who was a member of the 515th Field Artillery, was charged with shooting Newton after a quarrel Sept. 17 in a bar at Brixworth, in Northamptonshire.

Patricia Boon, a WAAF, who was with Knight at the time, testified that three men including Newton attacked the Texan. During the struggle, she said, a shot was fired and Newton fell.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

It really looks as though we are getting ahead with the colossal task of eliminating despotism, militarism, barbarism and the other isms of evil from Japan and Germany.

Indeed, in the case of medieval Japan, the sudden removal of governmental repression of thought and action from the public has created a situation that may result in rebellion to do away completely with Nippon's ancient autocratic rule.

"The Japanese government," said the Potsdam Declaration, "shall remove all obstacles to the revival and strengthening of the Japanese people." Freedom of speech and religion and of thought, as well as respect for the fundamental human rights, shall be established.

Protect World Interests
This recently was emphasized in a directive from Washington, and MacArthur was told that if the people resorted to the use of force in seeking political reform, he wasn't to interfere any more than necessary to protect United Nations interests. So when the Jap government still clung to repressive measures, the general struck.

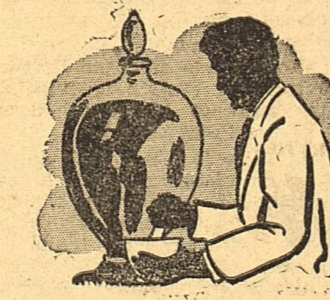

The supreme commander Thursday decreed a magna carta for Japan. He ordered the government to remove all bars to freedom of speech religion and assembly. He further decreed the disbandment of the "thought police," which were the equivalent of Germany's Gestapo, and ordered the release of their 3,000 political prisoners who had been locked up—some for many years—for expressing ideas displeasing to the pre-surrender government.
Friday the Japanese cabinet resigned rather than obey MacArthur's order. The mikado is said to have remarked, upon receiving the resignations, "that is good and I accept."

As the result of this explosion, neutral observers believe that rebellion against the imperial regime is a strong possibility. I don't think we should jump to conclusions at this juncture, but simply recognize that the potentialities of a popular upheaval are there.

Try Hot Water Plus Acid Indigestion

If the thousands of unfortunate people who suffer from so-called dyspepsia, acid indigestion, food fermentation, sour stomach, flatulence, gas or other stomach distress brought on by excess acid would just try drinking slowly after each upsetting meal half a glass of real hot water containing one spoonful of Neutraacid they can usually get amazingly quick relief in a very few minutes.

Neutraacid is not a laxative—it is soothing and comforting to the mucous membranes and very agreeable to take. Neutraacid—a physician's formula can now be obtained at Midland Drug Co.—Central Drug Store—Palace Drug Store or any first class drug store.

Exercise Coupled With Custom-Made Bra Will Give You Youthful Lines

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Sketchy curves reflected in a mirror have caused many a displeased owner to resolve upon a change in bust measurements.

If your encompassing tape is THAT slack, give a good uplift bra a whirl, and see if measurements aren't more to your liking. If not, there's always exercise which, slow as it is to show results, usually is rewarding.

Take a bra and give it as deft alterations as you would a dress to make it fit. By doing that, a clever girl can make her bra the equivalent of a custom-order job. For instance, adjust shoulder straps for better placement. Make bra-cups fit snugly by taking in darts. Lengthen the tab that joins bra cups, if the bustline needs widening.

Profile Flattery

Exercise? Take it, anyway, and the next time you buy a bra, you might have the satisfaction of asking for a larger size. But exercise must be taken every day—not a stint now and another next week.

If you're willing to work at it, here are three, with Ruthe ("Ziegfeld Follies") Brady showing how.

First, stand tall with body balanced on one foot and clasp your hands behind your head as Ruthe does at the right. Push forward with your arms, hands and the upper part of your body, and push backward like mad with your head. After each push, relax and switch weight to the other leg, alternating your stance for 10 counts the first time, and gradually increasing the number.

Do Backstroke

Next, play ball. There's nothing better for developing muscles under the bust than 10 minutes a day of tossing and keeping a medicine or beach ball or Sonny's football in the air and over your head, as Ruthe demonstrates, left.

And last, swim the backstroke in and out of water. Good exercise is

NEW YORK—Profile pouffs—that's what new hats are called which focus at one side the decorations that garner compliments.

Sometimes such hats swoop upward from one corner of the head at a gravity-defying slant to show off three-quarters of a face and a good half of the coiffure. Sometimes the hat sits tight and the trimming shoots up, as for example the aqua felt toque, top, which uses shaded velvet violets and cerise satin loops to point up a profile and a neat chignon.

Typical of the three-quarter pose is the large profile hat, below, which is a pouff of iridescent chiffon interlaced with sparkling royal blue beads.

Series Of Communion Services Will Be Held At Christian Church

A series of services will be held Saturday and Sunday at the First Christian Church under the sponsorship of the Christian Youth Fellowship. The services will be in keeping with the global celebration of World-Wide Communion Sunday which is observed each year on the first Sunday in October.

A total of 24 communion services will be held in the church beginning at 5 p.m. Saturday and continuing to 4 p.m. Sunday. The program at 11 p.m. Saturday will be broadcast over KORS.

Each series will last about 15 minutes and all those taking communion will leave a sacrificial offering for the World-Wide missionary purposes. The Rev. Clyde Lind-sley will be in charge, said, "Every believer in Christ, regardless of his church affiliation, is invited to attend any of these services. He urged all planning to arrive at the church "on the hour."

First Continuous Series

Mr. Lind-sley said that as far as it is known, this is the first time in the history of the church universal that such a continuous series of hourly communion services has been held. The over-all aim of the series is "to proclaim Jesus Christ until he comes again."

The Christian Youth Fellowship has two objectives in sponsoring these services: The young people want to realize themselves and demonstrate to others that disciples of Christ are found around the earth in every time zone. And the young people of the Christian Church want to "keep the feast" in fellowship with other Christians of every time zone. Christians in India will be communing during their regular Sunday morning worship at the same time eucharist is celebrating in Midland.

Southern Ice Company Plans Now For Greatly Improved Service
 Praise was given citizens of Midland this week for their splendid cooperation during the war time shortage of ice, and restrictions on deliveries.
 "Our customers seemed to realize the problems we faced and were patient and cooperative," L. W. Sandusky, manager of the Southern Ice Company, declared.
 The concern attempted to avoid any shortage of ice by increasing the capacity of its Midland plant by 40 percent. The capacity would have been increased even more if materials could have been obtained. Despite the shortage of materials, the capacity was sufficient to take care of the needs of the firm's customers during the 1945 peak season without any serious ice shortage.
 The company is looking ahead to the future needs of Midland and plans to increase its cold storage capacity as soon as possible. The cold storage is filled at present. For the most part, the storage is used by food distributing and processing concerns to store foods where they can be kept fresh and at the peak of flavor until they are ready for the consumer.
 To Handle Refrigerators
 The company plans to have a stock of the modern ice refrigerators as quickly as the postwar models are available. Sandusky pointed out the war had brought many improvements in ice refrigeration which will be reflected in the refrigerators he soon will be selling. The postwar refrigerators will provide safe, dependable and economical refrigeration which will protect foods and preserve their

Brownwood Rounds Up Shells Carried By Boys
 BROWNWOOD —(P)—A roundup of "live" munitions continued Friday in Brownwood after 30 high school boys admitted Thursday having in their possession artillery shells, bazooka shells and grenades.
 Two boys were seriously injured Wednesday by the explosion of a rifle grenade.
 Col. John H. Travers, Jr., speaking in the Brownwood Public Schools, urged that students report the possession of explosives. Ammunition experts found that shells boys were taking apart were "dangerous as rattlesnakes," the Brownwood Bulletin reported.
 Camp Bowie authorities issued a warning against trespassing on the Army reservation.

Don Juan Looks Forward To Early Restoration Of Throne Of Spain

By HOWARD COPPENBARGER NEA Staff Writer

Prime prerequisites of a pretending monarch are patience and perseverance. Sometimes these qualities pay off.

Don Juan de Bourbon of Spain, who for 14 years has been patient and persevering, may soon be rewarded by restoration to the throne of Spain, upon his own terms.

Rumor is that Dictator-Generalissimo Franco, onetime friend and sometime foe of the 32-year-old exile whose followers hope to call him King Juan III, sent two emissaries to the Lausanne, Switzerland, villa of Bourbons with an invitation to return to Spain. Circumstances lend credence to that rumor.

Franco's back against the wall. Spain is a shunned nation, its Axis friends beaten and its belated efforts to conciliate the democracies cold-shouldered.

Franco shook up his cabinet this summer, kicked out nine of his 13 ministers, mostly Falangists, and replaced them largely with monarchists. He waited in vain for applause from Great Britain, France and the United States. The next step obviously is restoration of the monarchy, which he has long promised and which is believed to be favored by many Spaniards.

Juan holds priority to the throne by right of lineage. His friends believe his personality and background would make him acceptable both to the Spaniard and to the democracies.

Trained in Britain Don Juan de Bourbon, in his earlier life, was somewhat a Spanish counterpart of Britain's Edward, Prince of Wales. He was slim, tall, dark like his father, the late King Alfonso XIII. He was democratic, made friends easily and was a favorite with the ladies.

Third in line for inheritance of the throne, Don Juan spent a childhood free of the restrictions bearing on a crown prince. Alert, intelligent, physically active, he loved the sea and was attending the San Fernando Naval Academy at Cadiz when the Republican revolution in 1931 drove the royal family into exile. His father entered him in Dartmouth Naval College, England, and after a year's training Don Juan enlisted in the British Navy.

While he was in this service, in 1933, his father cabled him that his oldest brother, Alfonso, Prince of the Asturias, had relinquished his claim to the inheritance because of his health—he was a victim of haemophilia, and several years later died after an auto accident. Don Juan, second in line also had stepped aside because of his health—he was a deaf mute.

Don Juan refused to leave the British Navy to take up his inheritance, and served until 1935, when he left to study law and political economy at Florence University in preparation for his royal position. In the fall of that year he further evidenced his faithfulness to his obligations by marrying Princess Marie de la Esperanza, his second cousin and a daughter of the late King of Naples.

The couple toured the world on their wedding trip and made friends throughout every country they visited. Prince Juan already was looking forward to restoration of the monarchy.

His hopes skyrocketed with the beginning of the Franco revolution, and on July 31, 1936, the day after his first child, a daughter, was born he stole across the border into Spain to offer his "strength and life for the defense of the Spanish nation and religion."

Hoped To Bar Reds Franco turned him down with words that encouraged him in the belief that success of the revolution would mean return of the monarchy. "I could not endanger the life which might one day be most precious to me."

The exiled King Alfonso was cheered, too, by Franco's apparent friendliness. He contributed $10,000,000 of his personal fortune to the revolution and frequently conferred with Juan March, Franco's "contact" man in Rome. Britain, hoping the revolution would banish communism from Spain and that return of Alfonso would prevent a fascist dictatorship, was plugging for a monarchy, and Italy was favorable.

But Franco had stronger obligations. Hitler held both a debt and a threat over his head, and Hitler could use Spain more profitably under a fascist dictator than under a king whose only interest was in the peace and prosperity of Spain. Besides, there was too much British about Alfonso and Juan. Alfonso's estranged queen, Victoria Eugenie, was a British princess. Juan had been educated in England and still was a reserve officer in the British Navy. Hitler wanted no pro-British regime in strategic Spain. Franco did nothing to bring the exiles any closer to a throne.

The Bourbons' hope persevered through 1941, however. King Alfonso died in February and the Monarchists began calling his son King Juan III. The pretender moved his residence to the Villa Les Rocailles, on Lake Geneva, for better contact with his homeland.

Finally, with bitter disappointment, the exile received from Franco in June, 1943, an offer to restore the monarchy under the Franco regime.

Rejected Falange Juan's heated reply declared "my acceptance of this demand would imply evident negation of even the essence of monarchy. . . . Acceptance of the Falange would tend to encourage disorders which would ruin the restored monarchy in the future. . . ." and called for "urgent installation of a new national regime which, like that of the traditional and Catholic monarchy, would find itself free from compromising positions and injurious ties and capable of carrying out the concept of strict neutrality."

A few days later, rumor spread through Europe that Juan had reached an accord with Franco but it was a false report. In fact, Juan's hatred for Franco grew and their separation increased. Last March, in a manifesto to the Spanish people, Juan declared the Franco regime not only is inconsistent with the traditions and character of the Spanish people but also is compromising the nation's position in democratic world reconstruction.

Now, with the weight of the world behind him, it appears that Franco is finally moving to bring Don Juan to the throne so long denied him.

Buchanan Plugs Back Humble No. 1 Buchanan, East Midland County wildcat, in Baldridge survey No. 32-692, was attempting to set a cement plug at 10,440-640 feet. This action would indicate that operator had decided the section between 10,440 feet and total depth at 12,574 feet, was barren of petroleum, and that the sections above 10,440 feet, which indicated possibilities of gas and distillate production, while being drilled, will be tested shortly.

Concho Test Official Extex, Ltd., No. 1 Martin, Concho County wildcat, which discovered flowing oil in the Bend at 3,801-09 feet, was shutdown to await Railroad Commission allowable, and a means of moving oil already produced, when the project flowed 81 barrels in three hours, on an official test, witnessed by a representative of the Railroad Commission, to give it a one-hour potential of 643 barrels of 44 gravity oil.

It is reported that the owner is planning to build a pipe line to Eden, four miles to the southwest, and to construct a loading rack there so the oil can be shipped by rail.

Informed sources also report that Eltex is planning to drill three more tests on the block, which covered at least 10,000 acres, at the time the discovery well was spudded, several weeks ago.

Parker Cores Ahead Humble No. 1 Parker, South Andrews County wildcat, in northeast quarter of section 24, block A-41, ps1 survey, which had tested for around 80 barrels of oil per hour from the Simpson, at 8,625-8,808 feet, in the McKee section of that horizon, cored from 8,826-44 feet, and recovered 15 barrels of sand and shale, with no shows, and was coring ahead.

High On Anhydrite Corrigan and Crump No. 1 J. P. Nystel, in southwest corner of section 8, block 38, ps1 survey, in Southeast Terry County, was making hole below 3,220 feet, and had drilled through the Yates section. Top of anhydrite was at 2,070 feet, on an elevation of 3,169 feet. That pick puts it 65 feet high to Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 Gunn, dry hole, in the vicinity.

Pickens test on the Leavitt. Samples had not been run to pick Yates points, but those markers are expected to be reported shortly.

Through San Andres Barnsdall Oil Corporation No. 1 Williams, east Lynn County exploration in section 2, block 8, EL survey, was making hole past 3,540 feet in chert Permian lime.

The test had apparently drilled through the San Andres and had found only slight porosity, stain and odors in that formation. It is 190 barrels of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Woodley Petroleum Company No. 1 Preston, South Terry County development in section 20, block C-41, ps1 survey, in extreme South-east Terry County, is being abandoned and plugged on total depth of 8,255 feet in lime. It had some traces of porosity and oil stain, but developed a case of sulphur water.

Another TXL Well Cities Service Oil Company No. 2-B Thomas, in the TXL field, in West Ector County, completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 1,268 barrels from Devonian pay above total depth of 8,045 feet in chert. Gas-oil ratio was 873-1. The oil came through a one-inch choke on two-inch tubing and was from casing perforations at 7,950-8,000 feet, and at 8,015-40 feet.

LOTS OF MONEY BUT NO CASH IN POCKETS

CHICAGO —(P)—The 123 extra clerks in the Cook County treasurer's office were hired for the express purpose of handling the flood of taxpayers' money. All day they handle thousands of thousands of dollars, but they never get a cent for themselves. Not even salaries.

Treasurer Victor Schlaeger said the 123 extra employees haven't been paid for July and August and have little prospect for pay in September. The $222,000 fund for the extra help was exhausted last June. The 312 regular employees are unaffected as their salaries are provided for in the county budget.

WPB Order Favors Low-Priced Clothing

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON —(P)—You have a stake in what President Truman has just done. Things like these are involved:

Whether you get low-priced clothing, two pairs of pants with a suit, a vest with a double-breasted coat, or puffy sleeves on your dress.

Truman Thursday ordered the War Production Board (WPB) scrapped November 3.

For this, it is substituting the Civilian Production Administration (CPA), a brand new agency, it's new in name. But that's about all. Until goods are more plentiful, WPB has forbidden two pairs of pants with one suit, or a vest with a double-breasted coat.

Limit on Goods Used It's put a limit on the amount of goods that can be used in other ways. Such as puffy sleeves in a woman's dress.

The government wants to be sure a certain amount of low-priced clothing is made. It largely disappeared during the war.

For this, it has set aside 160,000,000 yards of cotton cloth, 115,000,000 yards of rayon, 30,000,000 yards of woolsens.

Manufacturers of low-priced clothing can go to the government and get a priority—first claim—on those set aside materials.

Manufacturers of higher-priced stuff will have to take their chances in buying from the mills what they make above the amounts mentioned above. They can't get priority help from the government.

CPA takes over November 3 but its powers, under the law, expire December 31. It will be up to Congress then.

Rome's first aqueduct was built by consul Appius Claudius in 312 B.C. He also built the great Applan Way.

ESME OF PARIS by Esme Davis

IF I wasn't born precisely in the traditional dressing room trunk, it was the next best thing, for I spent the first years of my life in theater and circus dressing rooms in many lands, playing between wardrobe trunks and slumbering in an atmosphere of greasepaint with the distant throbb of the orchestra as my lullaby.

Grandmother often told me that I had been inconsiderate enough to arrive in the world feet first. But perhaps I should begin at the beginning...

I was born on January 18, 1906, in Wheeling, West Virginia, during one of the wildest storms and coldest winters ever known in that region. Mother was visiting my grandmother, who was assembling her company for the southern tour of the Sells-Floto Circus, Wheeling being in those days a sort of taking-off point for acts going south for the winter circus dates.

My father was in Canada, and mother had intended joining him for the "blessed event," but I was born three weeks prematurely, the result of an accident mother experienced while out driving with grandmama, in which she broke her wrist. The shock not only precipitated my birth but caused complications which nearly cost mother her life.

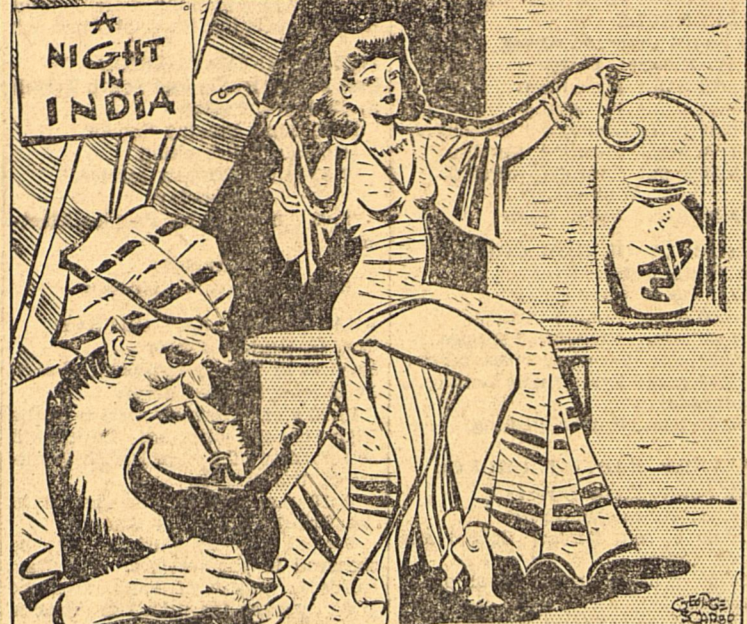

My mother, Sofia Oswaldo, was an exceedingly beautiful woman, with a dead-white skin and copper-colored hair that contrasted strangely with her vividly green eyes. She was very tiny, with exquisite little feet but ugly hands of which she was morbidly ashamed, especially when this defect was reproduced in me.

Grandmama used to say that mother was a seventh child of a seventh child and as a result had second sight. I don't know just how true this is, but mother insisted that she encountered ghosts almost everywhere we went, often announcing she had just seen "The Enrique," a favorite uncle, or some other defunct relative who sent his regards to everybody. This happened so frequently we eventually took it as a matter of course.

In addition to her beauty, mother had a magnificent soprano voice and was a finished musician. She played both piano and guitar perfectly and had a vast knowledge of music. She had made a considerable reputation for herself as a concert and grand opera singer, under the stage name of Maria de Lisle, both in Europe and in the Americas. She had a childish disregard for the practical things in life, living only for music, yet she was devoted to me, and looking back, I have a feeling of intense admiration for her and the things for which she stood.

In appearance she was totally different from my grandmother, who was also very tiny but with a dark, almost oriental beauty frequently seen in the Andalusian gypsies, lovely feet and hands, and jet-black hair so long she could almost stand on it. She smoked black Cuban cigars incessantly, loved to gamble, and, like all gypsies, preferred to "borrow" rather than buy anything she wanted.

GRANDMOTHER married very young, in the Spanish custom, and couldn't have been more than 16 when she was already a famous flamenco dancer known throughout Spain as "La Maravilla" (the Marvel). Her diminutive green satin slippers are still preserved in a glass case in the Posada de la Sangre, an ancient hangout of bullfighters in the gypsy quarter of Seville, where the autographed dancing slippers of many great dancers of Spain are reverently kept, together with the glowering black heads of famous bulls.

Grandmama's maiden name was Lolita Bazil de Delgado, and her husband, my grandfather, was Guillermo Oswaldo. He must have been very handsome, to judge from the little faded photograph grandmama always carried. His family had been owners for three or four generations of a fleet of small freighters that plied in and out of the Port of Cadiz with cargoes of fruit. Grandfather was also an "abogado," as lawyers are called in Spain, and he died rather young to have had such a large family, for grandmama managed to have 14 children—and keep her figure.

She was very slender as I first knew her, and as she got older, she seemed to shrink till there was nothing left but her great black eyes. After grandfather's death she found herself obliged to return to the stage, for he had left very little money. As far as her own people were concerned she could look for no assistance whatsoever, having married out of the gypsy race, and thus, in their eyes, automatically forfeited her right to make any call on them.

In Spain a woman in her early thirties is considered almost decent and far too old to dance professionally, so after months of struggling to make a "come-back," grandmama conceived the idea of turning to account her gift of snake-charming which she had learned from her infancy and for which she had an uncanny talent.

WITH this talent and her great beauty, grandmama created her famous act, "A Night in India," which rapidly became a star attraction throughout Europe and the United States. She had her own orchestra of Indian musicians

While in Washington recently on business for War Ophelia Scholerships, Inc., I visited William Cheek's club and saw this interesting hand played.

West won the opening spade lead and immediately returned a trump, which declarer allowed to ride to the seven-spot. East very wisely did not put up his queen. At this point, if the declarer had attempted to discard a losing heart on the king of spades, he would have lost the contract. He made the correct play of a heart from dummy, won with the ace, ruffed a heart in dummy, ruf-

He cashed the ace of diamonds, ruffed a small diamond with the ten of trumps, laid down the ace of clubs, and picked up the queen. The jack of trumps and ten of hearts won the last two tricks.

Alley Inspection Is Being Made Here

Inspection of the alleys in the business district of the city by a citizens committee cooperating with the Junior Chamber of Commerce's rodent extermination campaign was underway Friday afternoon.

Members of the committee were Mayor A. N. Hendrickson, Jack Elington, Graham Smoot, John J. Redfern, Jr., and Elliott H. Barron.

The alleys were being checked to determine if metal garbage containers are used; if the containers are covered; if all of the garbage is in the containers and if the alleys are clean generally.

Carl Jacobs, rodent exterminator expert of the Fish and Wild Life Service, and Graham Smoot, sanitation for the Midland County Health Unit, were continuing Friday treating buildings with poison.

They reported a re-check of buildings previously treated showed far more than half of the bates were being taken.

Plans will be announced soon whereby home owners can obtain poison to be placed around the premises.

PORTLAND, ORE.—(AP)—Not-too-bright lawbreakers make life easy sometimes for the police department.

Shortly after a wholesale fruit company reported being looted of cash and produce, officers nabbed him.

He was sitting on a curbstone a few blocks away eating grapes, apples, oranges and bananas.

SEABEE LOSES FAITH IN STORK SCHEDULES OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.—(AP)—Seabee William P. Barringer, who wrangled his way from Dutch Harbor, Alaska, to be present for the birth of his first child, has lost all faith in stork flight schedules.

Arriving with days to spare, he grew over-confident and took a pleasure trip to Memphis, Tenn. The stork speeded up its flight and the baby arrived before the red-faced father could return home.

Pioneer In Armor Is 'Old Ironsides' By NEA Service To the First Armored, the "Old Ironsides" Division, rightfully belongs much of the credit for the battle brilliance of American armor. It could just as well be called the "Guinea Pig" division. For it was the first, and for a long time the only, American armored outfit in action. The lessons the First learned in the bloody classrooms of Oran, Mater, Faid Pass, Kasserine Pass, Cassino, and Anzio, were passed on to its brother units prior to battle, saving them from learning the hard and costly way.

The First has fought over every type of terrain except jungle. The First had its first taste of combat when it went ashore at Oran at the start of the North Africa campaign. After the "Battle of the Moussetrap" the First, in three days of stabbing action, slashed from Mater to the Mediterranean at Porto Farina. The flying columns of the First, avenging the mauling it had taken from German armor at Kasserine Pass, chopped the enemy to bits and took 23,000 prisoners.

After Cassino, the First shifted to Anzio, and for four months operated as a mobile reserve.

The whole outfit fought as infantrymen at Bologna. It took Milan. It split Italy in two by driving to the Swiss border at Como. VE-Day found the First headed for Austria.

Midland Rated As Underdog In Game Against Plainview Thursday Night

By CROM HOLMES
Midland's High School's Bulldogs packed football toes and their reservoir of gridiron tactics aboard a bus Friday morning and set out for Plainview determined to give the highly-rated plains city eleven a man-to-man tussle for victory Friday night.
The kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.
Coaches Gene McCollum and Aubra Nooncaester indicated they may start E. A. Whitson at right tackle in the place of Jerry Bohman, who started at tackle last week against Austin High of El Paso after J. C. McNeal was switched to right end.
That was the only probable change in the line-up as the Midlanders go into the game against the favored Plainview team which has not been scored on. Plainview, with one of its best teams in years, defeated Childress 26 to 0 and Electra 7 to 0.
The game between the Midland Purple and Gold Bulldogs and the Purple and Scarlet Bulldogs of Plainview will be a battle of modified T formations, with the host school noted for its occasional single-wing formation and an occasional spread.

Plainview Stars
The Plainview backfield is paced by Jack Williams and Jack Weldon. 165 pounds and Jack Weldon are being spoken of as all-star tilters. Williams is a triple threat who runs, passes, and punts. Weldon was all-District 1AA back last year and is reported even better this year. One of the other backs, 170-pound Jim Graham, is a letterman and Rudolph Halle rounds out the backfield.
Outstanding in the Plainview line to date have been John Stoneham at right guard and Jack Bond at right end whose defensive play has been a big factor in keeping the opponents scoreless.
With Quarterback Wilbur Yeager on the sideline with an injured shoulder, Midland backfield will consist of Bobby Cole at quarterback, Dunny Goode at left half, Bobby Hightower at right half, and Bobby Drake at fullback.
Outstanding player in the Midland line so far has been Center Jimmy Edwards, the Bulldogs' defensive linebacker.

First Score Of World Series

Don Johnson, Cubs second baseman, scores from third base for the first Chicago score in the 1st inning on a passed ball. Tigers' pitcher, Newhouse, at right. Pafko, next Cub batter, who walked holding bat; umpire is Bill Summers. The Cubs won the first game 9 to 0. The Tigers won the second contest Thursday, 4 to 1. The third tussle is scheduled Friday.

Tigers Rely On Overmire And Cubs On Passeau In Crucial Game Friday

By SID FEDER
DETROIT — (P)—The big "clutch" game—the crucial third tussle—comes up in the World Series Friday, and the National Leaguers are wondering if there isn't some way they can get Hank Greenberg out of town.
The chief reason for this is that likeable, lanky Hank is "money in the bank" up there any time, as one veteran National Leaguer put it Thursday when Greenberg's three-run homer in the fifth inning gave the Tigers a 4-1 win over the Cubs in the second series scuffle and tied it all up like a Christmas package at one game a-piece.
To many of the older hands in the industry, this third game is a "must" win in the series whenever the two team split the first two games. The loser then has the load of taking three of the next four, while the winner can roll along on .500 ball the rest of the way. It is extra special stuff for the Tigers Friday because it will not only put the Bengals one down if they blow it, but would leave them in a spot where they'd have to win three out of four games in the enemy's backyard.
Detroit Likes Southpaws
Manager Steve O'Neill, still believing southpaw hurling can stop the Chicago shotmakers in spite of what happened to Hal Newhouse in the opener, is relying on the squat southpaw Stubby Overmire, an erratic little twirler who wound up the season with a nine-and-nine won-lost record. Against him there'll be the Cubs Claude Passeau, who won 17 and lost 9 this year.
Hank's been the big number ever since he came back from the Army last July. He put the Bengals into the World Series with a homer last Sunday. He kept them in it with another Thursday, just when Wednesday's 9-0 defeat and a 10-lead the Cubs grabbed in the fourth inning of the second game made it begin to look as if Detroit was just in the fall frolics on a rain check. Furthermore, Thursday's game

How Those Irish Do Get Around

SALT LAKE CITY — (P)—Capt. W. L. Monson would like it a little better if his dog could understand English. But the animal was raised in Italy, will answer only to commands spoken in Italian, Monson learned enough Italian so he and his Irish setter get along fine but the airman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Monson, admit they can't make "Rusty" understand a word.

AP Picks Georgia Tech Over Notre Dame And SMU To Down Missouri

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK — (P)—Off for a third ride on the football merry-go-round, but hanging on for dear life to protect a two-week average of .843.
Notre Dame-Georgia Tech: The Yellowjackets don't intend to disappoint their followers for a second straight time. Notre Dame's backfield personnel still in doubt.—Georgia Tech.
Wake Forest—Army: One of the best teams in the South tangles with what is probably the best team in the country.—Army.
Alabama-Louisiana State: It is not impossible that the Southwest Conference flag and a bowl bid will ride on the outcome of this night fray.—Alabama.
Indiana—Illinois: Despite the wholesale injuries and illnesses among the Illini ball carriers and the returning Hoosier veterans—Illinois is the choice.
Navy-Duke: Mr. Jenkins has returned to the Middle backfield and that's reason enough, although Duke counted 136 points in its first two games.—Navy.
Ohio State Over Iowa
Iowa-Ohio State: The country's No. 2 team of 1944 makes it victory No. 2 for the present campaign.—Ohio State.
Holy Cross—Yale: One that could go either way but—Yale.
Tennessee-William and Mary: The Vols pulled through, 7 to 6, a week ago and their margin shouldn't be much greater this time.—Tennessee.
St. Mary's Pre-Flight-Southern California: The Trojans to keep on climbing.—Southern California.
Michigan-Northwestern: Anulana defeated Michigan, tied Northwestern.—Still it is Michigan.
Dartmouth—Pennsylvania: The Quaker backfield talent is terrific.—Penn.
Oklahoma A and M-Denver: Bob Fenimore and Co., to give a display of the Denverites will remember.—Oklahoma A and M.
Washington-California: The Huskies are determined to make good on their Southern invasion.—Washington.
Tufts-Harvard: The song says "Rock-A-Bye Baby." The record says—Tufts.
Arkansas Over T. C. U.
Arkansas-Texas Christian: The Texans were lucky to win last week, 7 to 6, and the Razorbacks looked good in defeat.—Arkansas.
Finishing up in a hurry: Georgia over Miami, Temple over New York University, UCLA over Pacific, Detroit over Scranton, all Friday night, Marquette over Villanova (Sunday).
East-Cornell over New London Sub Base; Penn State over Colgate; Pittsburgh over Bucknell; Franklin and Marshall over Muhlenberg; Rutgers over Swarthmore; Princeton over Lafayette; Boston College over Brown; Rochester over RPI.
Midwest—Minnesota over Nebraska; Purdue over Wisconsin; Michigan State over Kentucky; Iowa State over Kansas.
South—Clemson over North Carolina State; Mississippi over Vanderbilt; Mississippi State over Auburn; Tulane over Florida; North Carolina over Virginia Poly; Maryland over Richmond; Virginia over VMI.
Southwest—Southern Methodist over Missouri; Texas over Texas Tech; Oklahoma over Texas A and M; Tulsa over Drake; Rice over Southwestern.
Far West—Washington State over Oregon State; Colorado over Utah.

Arkansas-TCU Fray Tops In Southwest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
There is strong likelihood that the Southwest Conference will have only one undefeated team after this weekend's battles.
Texas gets Texas Tech, a team that doesn't appear to have the guns for an upset, at Austin. Season records indicate the Red Raiders won't be able to approach marling the Longhorn's record.
The other members of the triumvirate—Texas A&M and Texas Christian—face tough opponents on foreign fields.
Texas Christian expects, and rightfully so, to run into all sorts of trouble up in the Ozarks in a joust with Arkansas. Texas A&M isn't figuring on Oklahoma University being in the category of soft touch at Norman.
Missouri at Dallas
Completing the Saturday schedule Southern Methodist meets Missouri at Dallas and Rice engages Southwestern in a night game at Houston.
The T. C. U.-Arkansas game looms as one of the decisive battles of the conference race. Both are rated with the top four of the campaign and in this contest it appears the whirlwind Horned Frog aerial offensive will be put to a rugged test. Arkansas has the best defensive record against passes of any team in the conference.
Texas A&M should take Oklahoma but the margin probably will be narrow. The Sooners could win the game and occasion no surprise.
Southern Methodist meets a twice-beaten Missouri team and ought to win handsily enough and Rice should finally break into the win column with Southwestern.

Five Texans Place In Madison Square Rodeo
