British Indian Troops Renew Savage Street Fight In Soerabaja

BATAVIA, JAVA—(AP)—Foreign Minister Soeardjo pleaded Monday for Soviet intervention on behalf of his unrecognized Indonesian Republic as heavily-supported British Indian infantry renewed the house-to-house assault which drove Indonesian Nationalists from almost half of Soerabaja over the weekend.

"It is apparent now that Britain is paving the way for the reimposition of Dutch rule in Indonesia," Soeardjo said in a radio appeal addressed to Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov.

The Indonesian leader asked that the Russians aid in winning "justice from the world" for the Indonesians. He promised that the Indonesians would assist Allied forces in disarming and evacuating Java-based Japanese forces.

"By the very principle of independence we do not like foreign troops on Indonesian soil," Soeardjo told the Soviet foreign commissar. He added, however, "the presence of British troops is tolerable for a certain time."

Meanwhile, the battle for Soerabaja raged with unabated fury after a weekend of fighting in which the British renewed their air attacks upon Indonesian forces. Indonesian-manned Japanese tanks reportedly fired 30 shells into the 5th Indian Division ranks.

Both Indonesian and British sources indicated that Indonesian casualties were heavy. President Soekarno declared that "thousands and thousands" of civilians had been killed in a "vast massacre." An official British report said that many of the "enemy" were slain in "fanatical charges against British tanks" and that "many Indonesian bodies were removed by women" after Saturday's fighting.

The British announced that their fighter-bombers had blasted the main Indonesian Army Headquarters and three other staff headquarters with direct hits.

The British also said their artillery had silenced the Indonesian-manned tanks after they attacked Indian troops. Twenty-one British Sherman tanks and a number of tracked gun carriers (turretless Shermans) arrived in Batavia to reinforce British forces in Java.

Three top-ranking Japanese generals were arrested by British authorities on charges of violating Allied surrender orders by turning tanks, armored cars, guns and ammunition over to the Indonesians. They will be removed to Singapore Wednesday for trial as war criminals.

Large quantities of arms were captured by the Indians as they pressed slowly forward in Soerabaja under what an eye-witness described as cover from naval guns, artillery, mortars and fighter-bombers.

One strange paradox in the fighting was that both the British and Indonesians held telephone exchanges in Soerabaja and both were using the same telephone lines to communicate with their representatives in Batavia.

CAPTAIN OF "FIGHTING LADY"—

Pacific War Hero Dies In Plane Crash

BEACON, N. Y.—(AP)—A high municipal official said that the body of Commodore Dixie Kiefer, Pacific war hero, had been identified as one of six men killed in the crash of a Navy plane on Mount Beacon, three miles northeast of here.

The wrecked plane and the victims were found on the mountain side at 1:35 a. m. (CST) Monday said the official who declined to be quoted by name.

Commodore Kiefer was widely known as "Captain Dixie" of the documentary film "Fighting Lady." The plane, a twin-engine bomber, crashed at noon Sunday while enroute from Caldwell, N. J., to Quonset Point, R. I.

The wreckage, spread over a large area of the mountain, was first reached by Joseph Brown Sr., and his son, Joseph Jr., employees of the Texas Oil Company's refinery at Gilman, N. Y.

They reported the bodies badly burned and said the plane's fuselage had been destroyed by fire.

The municipal official said Commodore Kiefer was identified by items in his pocket. Another mark of identification, he said, was the cast on his arm, which he had worn since his arm was broken when Japanese suicide planes struck the aircraft carrier "Ticonderoga" during a Naval battle off Formosa.

During that battle, Kiefer was struck by 65 pieces of shrapnel as he stood on the bridge of the ship.

Wounded 10 Times

Kiefer, a bachelor, called Kansas City, Mo., his "legal home." He was wounded 10 times during the two World Wars. At death, he was commanding officer of the Naval Air Station at Quonset, and had under his jurisdiction 29 Naval air bases in New England.

The new Midland minister attended McMurry College at Abilene and Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

He is expected to move here with his family this week.

The two men were the sole occupants of the plane, and had been visiting relatives in Dallas.

Texas Farms Become Larger But Fewer

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texas farms are getting even larger.

Statistics released by the Commerce Department show that cultivated lands in the state increased by 5,338,236 acres during the past five years. The number of separate farms decreased by 19,819.

The average increase per farm was 9.2 per cent, from 329.4 acres in 1940 to 359.7 acres in 1945. The number of farms dropped 4.7 per cent, from 418,002 to 298,183.

Hudspeth County in West Texas showed the greatest gain in farmland with an increase of 700,000 acres. Webb County, along the Rio Grande south of San Antonio, showed a loss of 382,000 acres and 156 farms.

Hidalgo County in the fertile Rio Grande Valley showed the greatest gain in the number of farms, an increase of 1,979; the total acreage, however, showed a negligible drop.

Harris County, which includes Houston, showed the great loss in the number of farms, a drop of 1,866.

Peace Looms In China As Council Will Settle Issues

CHUNGKING—(AP)—Chinese Communists said Monday they and Chiang Kai-shek's Central Government have agreed to allow the proposed Political Consultative Council to settle "all outstanding issues" of China's undeclared civil war—and that the council will be called into session about November 20.

The final issue of peace or all-out war, however, rests with the generalissimo, a Communist spokesman asserted, adding:

"If Chiang cancels his orders for 'bandit suppression' there can be peace."

The decision to entrust disputed issues to the new council was reached at a Sunday peace talk arranged by the increasingly influential liberal Chinese Democratic League—while war clouds thickened as the result of two other developments:

The government called China's National Assembly to meet May 5—with no word of whether Communists would be given representation they demanded; and a top Nationalist general forecast a major government drive into Manchuria "very soon" despite crack Communist troops massed to block it.

Sunday's three-party peace talk placed the question of calling an immediate halt to hostilities at the top of the political council's agenda, the Communist spokesman said.

He disclosed that wires have been sent urgently summoning to Chungking Tung Pui, Communist member of the Chinese delegation to the San Francisco Conference, now in New York.

Tung Pui would be one of the Communists' seven delegates on the council, the spokesman said. A similar wire was sent to Carson Chang, leader of China's National Socialist Party, one of six groups forming the Democratic League.

He will be one of the league's representatives on the council.

Lt. Gen. Fu Li-Ming, Nationalist supreme commander for Manchuria, said his 13th and 52nd Army troops would begin moving forward "very soon" from their positions north of Chinwangtao. Thus far, he said, his troops have only deferred themselves. Communists, he alleged, had attacked in that sector seven times.

The Communist representative said that "serious fighting" now is in progress near Communist-held Shanhaikwan, north of the port of Chinwangtao, and that government reinforcements were pouring to the front—headed toward Manchuria and hoping "to deal the Communists a serious blow."

Here To Discuss Atomic Control

Attlee Said To Urge Scientific Pooling

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A report that Prime Minister Attlee is urging an international pool of scientific information held Washington attention Monday as official silence cloaked the historic atomic energy conferences.

An official in a position to know—but who declined to be identified as to position or nationality—told reporters the British prime minister had suggested to President Truman and Premier MacKenzie King of Canada that:

1. Unless atomic and other discoveries are channeled into controlled uses for peace they will be given over to war-making purposes.

2. The best way to channel these discoveries into proper uses is to share them with other nations—once safeguards for the future are set up.

The official added that any pooling by the three countries now holding the secret of the atomic bomb, would require co-operation by Russia, France and the other United Nations. The others participating would be asked to make their own developments available to the same pool.

No White House Comment

There was no comment from the White House or other official circles on this report after Truman, Attlee and MacKenzie King returned.

Humble To Drill Another Wildcat In East Crane

By JAMES C. WATSON, Oil Editor

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B W. H. Cowden is to be a wildcat to test to the Ellenburger in East Crane County.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 14, block X, CCSD&RGNG survey. It is slated to start at once.

The project is one mile east and two and one-half miles north of the same company's No. 1 Cowden, in southeast corner of section 35, block X, CCSD&RGNG survey, which was drilling below 8,482 feet in lime and shale, Monday morning.

That exploration is supposed to be in Ellenburger. No shows had been reported from the formation. However, it is said to have shown for some sort of production in the Devonian between 5,079 feet and 6,200 feet.

Humble No. 2 Parker, South Andrews County discovery for flowing production in the McKee section of the Simpson, in the middle Ordovician series, completed as an oil well and a discovery for a 24-hour natural flowing production of 577.1 barrels of 42.3 gravity oil from perforations at 8,700-foot level.

This well, located 660 feet from north and 1,390 feet from east lines of section 24, block A-41, psal survey, is first Simpson producer north of the McKee field, in Southwest Crane County, about 100 miles south.

It showed for 364,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke. Tubing pressures were between 750 pounds and 110 pounds, and casing pressure was between 900 pounds and 650 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 630-1.

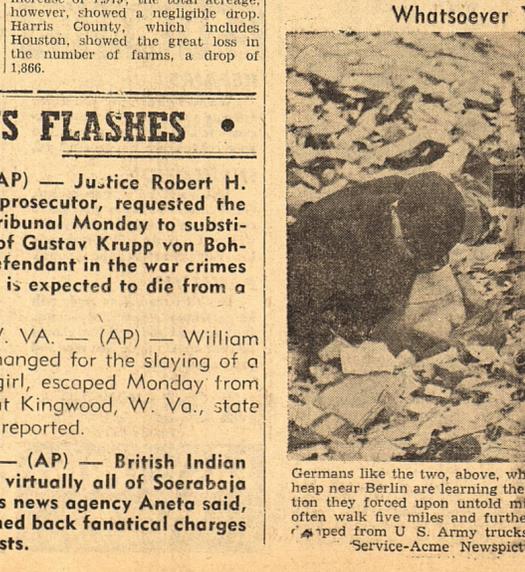

Another Parker Spotted

Humble has staked location for No. 2 J. E. Parker, to be 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 23, block A-41, psal survey, one-half mile due east of the discovery. It will likely drill to about 9,100 feet to test the Ellenburger.

No. 1 Parker penetrated that formation in going to a total depth of 9,072 feet—but had sulphur water in the zone.

The Texas Company No. 29 Connel, in northwest quarter of section 9, block B-16, psal survey, in Southwest Ector County, ran two hour and 30 minute drillstem test at 5,061-8,248 feet in the Silurian.

There was a steady blow of air at the start of the test, which gradually decreased. Recovery was 450 feet of salt water.

Tito's Candidates Win In Yugoslavia

BELGRADE—(AP)—Candidates representing Marshal Tito's national front were assured of victory Monday by incomplete returns from Sunday's national constituent assembly election, which showed that more than 90 per cent of the nation's 8,020,671 voters had cast ballots.

Opposition parties had boycotted the elections by not putting up candidates but it was reported that practically no voters upheld the boycott by staying away from the polls.

A complete absence of election disorders was reported by Yugoslav officials. Women were eligible to vote for the first time and the percentage taking advantage of their franchise was large.

A holiday atmosphere marked the election, with gay crowds of peasants singing and dancing in open spaces near many of the polling places.

The Magic Formula

It is safe to predict that the results of the National Labor-Management Conference in Washington will disappoint a lot of people. It will be the same sort of disappointment that was felt in President Truman's radio address on wages and prices because the President failed to produce a magic formula for settling all industrial disputes.

Perhaps the Labor-Management findings will be more specific. The conference agenda covers most of the sore spots in today's industrial relations. If mutually satisfactory answers can be found for all the questions that the agenda raises, then the whole country can breathe a little more easily.

But still there will be no magic formula forthcoming from these meetings—not because there is no such formula but because the formula has been so long and familiarly known. Its symbols are words long since grown trite. And Truman, in his recent speech, employed them in all their triteness: good sense . . . reasonableness . . . consideration for the position of the other fellow . . . teamwork . . . give-and-take.

There are many difficult and complex problems which go far beyond the simple prescriptions of these copy-book maxims. But their solutions cannot be approached until there is a sober and sincere acceptance of those maxims, and of the further self-evident truth that the problems of industrial relations are basically problems of human relations.

Unhappily there are too many people in both camps who are reluctant to admit the fairness and permanence of both collective bargaining and private employment under the profits system. There are too many employers secretly bent on union-busting, and too many labor executives trying to usurp management's functions without assuming the attendant risks. There is too much hot temper, recrimination and easy resort to violence. There is too little common civility.

Perhaps the clearest and most positive statement of the magic formula to date has been made by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. It is found in a letter to the President and Labor Secretary Schwelbenbach:

"Responsible management knows that collective bargaining is here to stay and that progressive law must continue to support it and that it must be wholeheartedly accepted.

"Responsible labor leadership knows that irresponsible strikes and subversive attacks upon essential production are the gravest threats to the permanent success of labor's Bill of Rights.

"The American public knows that we cannot rebuild and maintain our national economy at the high levels required by our unavoidable necessities if we cannot have productive peace instead of disruptive war on the industrial front.

"American government knows that social statutes are futile except as they largely stem from mutual wisdom and mutual consent."

One Small Voice

"Who is there in this chamber," Rep. E. E. Cox of Georgia asked the House, "who does not know that in the world grown as small as this world has, Russian Communists and Russian domination of a great section of the globe, and free America . . . cannot long abide side by side with peace on this planet?"

We wonder what Cox would have said if a similar statement had come from a representative of the Russian government. We wonder what Cox thinks he is contributing to the present rather delicate state of Russo-American understanding?

Would he have the Russians and the world think that America is ready to chuck the United Nations Organization overboard before it has been tested? Would he have them think that America, almost eagerly despairing of agreement, is now about to prepare for aggressive war?

It may be hoped that Russia and the world realize that one voice on Capitol Hill is not the voice of the American people.

Two Of The Four Are Still Riding

So Cpl. Schultz Wrote Letter Of Commendation To General In Charge

FORT BENNING, GA.—(AP)—Cpl. George W. Schultz of Pompton Lake, N. J., was dejected.

He'd used up his battery trying to start his car.

Car after car passed, jeep after jeep, truck after truck—but no one heeded his plea for a push.

He gave up, decided to wait for a wrecker from the post exchange.

"Oh, well," he sighed, and began flagging the motorists again.

The first car along the super-highway stopped.

Flustered, Corporal Schultz saluted.

The occupant of the car was Brig. Gen. Ogden J. Ross, of Troy, N. Y., stationed here.

General Ross promptly aligned his car behind the corporal's and got it started.

So when Corporal Schultz arrived at the PRO's office, a half hour late, he asked:

"Can a corporal write a letter of commendation to a general?"

Anyway, he did.

Japs Beat Texas POW For Protecting Friend

TEMPLE—(P)—A Texan took a severe beating from Japanese guards rather than tell them the name of the man who had given him cigarettes.
 Sgt. Robert C. Howren of Amarillo is in McCloskey General Hospital here, and he said he is in complete agreement with those who have said Japs are ruthless, brutal and uncivilized.
 An aviation machinist on Mindanao, Howren was captured May 10, 1942. He was later sent to Bilibid Prison and then to Japan. He was put to work in a steel plant, and he said the Japs paid him about one and two-thirds cents U. S. money.
 One day a Jap civilian guard found some cigarettes in his possession and demanded to know who had given them to him. Howren refused, and was made to stand at attention and submit to a brutal beating. Clubs, fists, shoes and anything the guards could lay their hands on were used, according to the sergeant.
 BONESTEEL, S. D. —(P)—A threshing crew on the Edmond Odenbach farm brought in what may be a record yield—41 rattlesnakes in 80 acres.

Home-Mixed Cough Syrup Gives Quick Relief

Saves You Big Dollars. And It's So Easy! No Cooking.
 Here's an old home mixture your parents probably used. But, once tried, you'll always use it, because it gives such quick, pleasing relief for coughs due to colds.
 It's so easily mixed. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking is needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, if desired. Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a long time.
 You can feel this simple home mixture take right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes irritation, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, makes breathing later sugar and one cup of water a leasier, and lets you get restful sleep. No Pinex is a special concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

FAIR WARNING!
 The jewelry and gift shows, at which retail jewelers usually buy their Christmas merchandise, were not held this Fall because manufacturers and wholesalers did not have sufficient merchandise to sell that would justify the expense of holding a show.
 Anticipating just such a condition, we have been buying heavily in all markets during the summer months and now have one of the most complete stocks of precious metal jewelry in West Texas.
 This merchandise will not be here or elsewhere at Christmas time. Therefore we urge you to take advantage of our convenient lay-away plan to supply your Christmas needs now.

Arbitration Board Is Likely If Management-Labor Conference Fails

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON—(AP)—The men at the labor-management conference have this very important question on their minds but may do nothing about it.

Should there be an arbitration board to settle labor-industry disputes if labor and management can't settle a dispute themselves?

There are labor and industry leaders who want no part of such a board. They fear it might mean, eventually, government dictation to labor and industry.

The preferred way is for labor and management to sit around a table, discuss their dispute, and reach an agreement.

That's the way it is now. Too often it doesn't work well. The negotiations break down and labor strikes or management shuts down its plant.

The only thing the government can do to help when negotiations break down is this:

Send in its labor conciliators to try to get both sides together again in the hope they'll finally agree on something.

Under the law the government can't go beyond that. So if conciliation also fails, strikes can go on indefinitely, or a plant can remain closed.

Truman States Ideas Now look at what President Truman told the labor-management conference Monday:

"If labor and management find they cannot come to an agreement, there must be found of resolving their differences without stopping production.

"Finding the best way to accomplish that result without government direction to either labor or industry—that is your job.

"The American people know the enormous size of your task. But the stakes are enormous, too. If the people do not find the answers here they will find them some place else."

You can read anything you like into that statement. Labor and management men at the conference probably did not overlook this possible warning:

If labor-industry strife ties this country up in knots after the conference—because the conferees failed to work out machinery for settling disputes—Congress may set up an arbitrator board to do the settling.

There are bills in Congress now to set up such a board.

Army Coach Says Blanchard Tops

By GAYLE TALBOT WEST POINT, N. Y.—(AP)—Coach Earl Red Blaik, whose great Army team plowed Notre Dame under Saturday at New York's Yankee Stadium, is willing to confess that he never has seen a greater fullback than his own Felix "Doc" Blanchard.

"I wouldn't have said so myself," he replied when pressed for an estimate of the big fellow's ability, "but since you ask if I've seen a greater fullback I'll have to admit that I never did."

From that point on it was easy. Evidently feeling that he already had plunged in up to his ears, Blaik proceeded to unburden himself on the subject of the strapping youngster who is the idol of the Point, the boy who, in the last analysis, gives Army its overwhelming power.

"Blanchard is very superior," Blaik said. "What makes him a great fullback is the fact that he's really a halfback—that is, he's fast enough to play half back. He starts like a flash and he never stops driving. He does everything as well as any fullback I ever saw, and he does some things better."

"It's strange," he mused. "There's something about the terrific power with which Blanchard runs that makes people think he's much bigger than he really is. A professional coach recently offered to bet me Felix weighed 240 pounds. Actually, he weighs only 208. But what's all the use, and he has a wonderful physique."

DOWN SPORTSLANE TANNER LAINE

There is a clamor heard around the world for Army to be invited to play in the Rose Bowl. The desire is not without foundation. Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard and all the lads are a colorful company indeed. Whoever the victor is out California way may invite the Cadets and if the transportation problem gets solved and the Academy consents, what a ball game.

Midland High Bulldogs are playing and thinking about their ball games one at a time. Which is healthy. A lot of good clubs have tripped because they were looking over one Friday's game and priming for another. You never hear the coaches or the purple-suited boys figuring out Lamesa's strength when Cisco is the team on schedule for the next one. Don't want to make Lamesa unhappy but this week the Midlanders have out the Cisco maps for study. Heaven and the Tornados can wait.

Sportslane saw Billy Conn overseas. He's that likeable Irishman, who is going to lift Joe Louis' crown, having almost done it before the two boys went into uniform. We also saw Joe overseas. Conn looked the better of the two. Billy was friendly and frolicky but impulsive. He's smart. Joe looks sluggish. Both were "good jobs." They joked with the kids in the hospital and put on good shows for the fighting men. I asked Billy what about Louis? The Irish wit twinkled in his eyes and he said: "You mean Sergeant Louis, I'm just a corporal." Being a captain I still didn't pull any rank on those two guys. Can't you just see the postwar possibilities of officer relationship with guys like Conn and Louis? Come to think, that sure was a big set of corporal stripes Bill had. Pretty, too.

They say Leon of the House of Joslin, the TCU Frog flipper, is better at this stage than either Sammy House of Baugh, or Davey House of O'Brien. That makes Mister Joslin quite a passer. And kindly remember Emery House of Nix, also an ex-Horned Frog. Baugh threw a bullet. O'Brien did the same. Nix's losses were not as hard but very effective. Joslin's kind has not been announced but they must be gluey. This state has produced some wonderful passers. It would be like calling Dallas the suburbs of Fort Worth or vice-versa to say which was the top-hand. Maybe there's some kid in Midland or Stanton or Courtney or Kalamazoo, who will make us forget them all.

Odessa Vs Sweetwater Game In Limelight Of State Football Race

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Two district championships are in the balance Monday as the Texas schoolboy football race rolls into its final three weeks.

Unbeaten Odessa battles Sweetwater at Sweetwater and Brownwood, which also has not tasted defeat or tie, clashes with Breckenridge at Brownwood.

The winners will be prohibitive favorites to capture the titles of Districts 3 and 9 respectively.

Next week-end finds 35 more conference games over Texas with important tilts at Marshall and Corpus Christi.

The Marshall Mavericks meet Brownview, the last undefeated team in District 11 conference play barring their way. Austin goes to Corpus Christi in a game matching two of four teams tied for the lead in District 15.

Midway Already Champ Otherwise there is a general leveling up process in the state's other districts except down at Houston where Milby already is champion.

Milby also happens to be one of the state's six undefeated, untied teams. Others are Odessa, Paris, Brownwood, Lufkin and Brownsville. Four teams have been tied but not defeated. They are Galveston, Wichita Falls, Highland Park (Dallas) and Pampa.

None of the elevens boasting records without defeat appears in longer this week, other than Odessa and Brownwood Monday. Odessa will play two games this week. The Bronchos clash with Lamesa Saturday. Paris plays Bonham, Lufkin meets Livingston, Milby engages Gladewater, Brownsville plays McAllen, Highland Park entertains Arlington and Pampa takes on Borger. Galveston and Wichita Falls are idle.

'B' Bulldogs Have Sights On Dogies

Midland's Bulldog "B" gridders enter extensive training this week in preparation to play Big Spring's Dogies at the Howard County capital Thursday night.

A game between the two elevens scheduled here Saturday night was postponed.

Considerably outweighed the "B" Bulldogs will depend on Bill Little and his blockers for a win.

Rice Downs Arkansas

Bulldogs 'Scout' Odessa Bronchos

After a morning workout the Midland High Bulldogs were in Sweetwater Monday to "scout" the Odessa Bronchos and Mustangs performing in a 3-AA classic.

The Bulldogs play at home Friday night, being hosts to invading Cisco.

Cisco defeated Ranger last Friday. The Bulldogs were idle.

Skymasters Lose To 1st Air Force, 24-6

BROOKLYN—(AP)—The Army Air Forces Training Command, Fort Worth, which started the season as top favorite to win the national AAF football title, took its second beating in a row Sunday as the Skymasters fell before the First Air Force 24-6 in a "Bond Bowl" game.

The Training Command, which lost its first game in two seasons last week to the El Toro Marines, started with a touchdown early in the first period but the First Air Force eleven came back with two and added another in the third and still another in the fourth.

The defeat by Marines did not count in the AAF league but Sunday's did.

Next Sunday Training Command goes to Tampa, Fla., to play the Third Air Force.

Java Changes Premiers In Peace Move

Attlee Tells Congress Peace Depends On World Prosperity

WASHINGTON—(P)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee told Congress Tuesday that the foundations of peace must be "world prosperity and good neighborliness."

There is "no reason," he said, for economic rivalry between Great Britain and the United States.

Speaking in the House of Representatives to Senators and Congressmen who must approve any U. S. financial aid for Britain, Attlee frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his Labor Party's program.

In his 3,000-word address, the British leader mentioned only briefly the prime purpose of his visit to this country — to discuss with President Truman the eventual disposition of the secrets of atomic bomb production.

Attlee likened his country to a man in Britain returning from the war to find "his home blitzed and his business ruined."

Attlee said he looked forward to "an era of increasing cooperation and friendship" between the U. S. and Britain. That friendship, he said, should not be "exclusive, but rather a contribution to the knitting together with all peoples through the United Nations Organization in the bonds of peace."

Although Attlee is known to have conferred with Lord Keynes on the progress of negotiations for a "four big tasks" in Britain, he made no direct reference in his address to British requests for financial aid.

The prime minister said he believed "some people over here" imagined that the British Labor Party was "out to destroy freedom, freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of the press."

"In line with freedom," he asserted, adding that the Labor Party was "in the tradition" of all British freedom-loving movements and "in line" with "those who fought for the Magna Carta, and habeas corpus, with the Pilgrim fathers and with the signatories of the Declaration of Independence."

In following their different courses, Attlee said, it is important that the U. S. and Britain "should understand each other and nations whose institutions differ from our own."

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 Faver, Northeast Nolan County wildcat, in section 50, block 21, TP survey, was reported by unofficial sources to have shown some free oil, a good gas flow, and a small amount of slightly salty water on a 29-minute drill-stem test Monday in the Straw-Pennsylvania, at 5,670-82 feet.

Some sources credited the project with a recovery of as much as 1,000 feet of clean oil and 200 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud.

U.S., British Set Up Group On Palestine

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman announced Tuesday the United States has agreed to the establishment of a joint Anglo-American committee to examine the whole Palestine problem.

The British suggested the creation of the committee after Truman had proposed admission of an additional 100,000 Jews to Palestine. Truman previously has disclosed that Prime Minister Attlee felt that figure was too high.

In London, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told Commons of this nation's agreement to form the committee but expressed doubt that Palestine could make more than a contribution to solving the problem of Jewish migration from war-ravaged Europe.

President Truman's statement, issued by the White House, said the committee will:

1. Examine political, economic and social conditions in Palestine as they bear upon the problem of Jewish immigration.

2. Examine the position of the Jews in European countries "where they have been the victims of Nazi and Fascist persecution."

3. Hear the views of competent witnesses "and to consult representative Arabs and Jews."

4. Make recommendations to the two governments to meet immediate needs either by remedial action in Europe or by providing facilities for Jewish immigration to countries outside of Europe.

U.S. Officials Deny Increasing China's Supplies

CHUNGKING—(P)—American officials denied flatly Tuesday, amid increased reports of civil war, that the United States had gone beyond war-time commitments in military assistance to China.

An American embassy spokesman termed completely unfounded the Communist published report that China would get a $64,000,000 loan for purchase of munitions from the United States.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said the United States would keep its wartime contract to supply 30 Chinese divisions but denied Communist reports that 70 divisions would be supplied by the United States.

He said conversations regarding military aid to China were on a much higher governmental plane than his and he had no information on whether commitments might be increased.

In Washington, Secretary of War Patterson said "there is no danger of our troops becoming involved in civil war in China unless they are attacked."

Yanks Disarming Japs
The Americans in China, Patterson stated, are concerned entirely with disarmament and repatriation of Japanese troops.

From the war fronts, serious fighting was reported in interior Manchuria with a greater battle building up along the North China-Manchuria border.

A Communist dispatch from Shantung Province asserted that "American planes with Komin-tang (Nationalist) markings" and more than 1,000 Japanese aided government troops in recapturing Pingyuan from the Reds. The action took place Nov. 1, the dispatch said.

Another Communist report said that seven government divisions, supported by more than 6,000 "puppet" troops, have been sent north of the Yellow River to reinforce another Nationalist attack northward along the Peiping-Hankow Railroad.

Eisenhower Arrives In Washington For Committee Hearings

WASHINGTON—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower came back to Washington Tuesday to give Congress his views on pending military legislation.

The general arrived at Union Station from Boston at 8:45 a. m. He did not disclose his immediate plans, but before leaving Europe he announced that he intended to testify before several Congressional committees.

Eisenhower came to the capital after an all-day welcome in Boston Monday.

A caution against too rapid return of American soldiers from Europe was left with the nation by Eisenhower.

The general said in a speech at Boston Monday night that he believed American soldiers "should be returned to their homes," but added America's obligations to the world and ourselves should be fulfilled.

"If disintegration of our forces goes too far, it will provide evidence to the German people that we are not equal to our task, and an enduring peace may disappear and the war may have been fought in vain."

CHUNGKING—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops have captured the strategic rail town of Shanhai-kwan from Chinese Communists, neutral sources reported Tuesday.

Hull Awarded '45 Nobel Peace Prize

LONDON—(P)—The Nobel Peace prize for 1945 has been awarded to former U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the Norwegian government office in London announced Monday.

As secretary of state, Hull laid the foundation for the San Francisco Conference which drafted the United Nations Charter. He was succeeded as secretary of state on Nov. 27, 1944, by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Simultaneously it was announced that the Nobel Peace Prize for 1944 has been conferred on the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva, Switzerland, for its work among prisoners of war. It was the second time the Red Cross has received the award, the first time being in 1917.

The 1944 and 1945 awards were made by the five-member committee of the Norwegian Parliament, as provided under the will of the late Dr. Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite.

This marked the first time the Nobel Prize had been awarded since 1938. A Norwegian government spokesman in London said: "It is quite likely prize winners will subsequently be named at least for the years 1942 and 1943."

The Nobel Prize is awarded annually to the person or persons who shall have most or best promoted the fraternity of nations and the abolishment or diminution of standing armies, the formation and extension of peace congresses.

Distribution of the prizes takes place on Dec. 10, anniversary of Nobel's death.

The Peace Prize is awarded at Oslo and the prizes for physics, chemistry, medicine and literature at Stockholm. Sir Alfred Fleming, a British scientist, and his associates in the discovery of penicillin already have been named the 1945 prize winners for medicine.

Officers Investigate Death Of Big Spring Man Near Stanton

The battered body of Miles Y. Seay, 49, was found in the weeds by a railroad embankment near Stanton, about 15 miles east of Midland, Monday morning by a section hand.

Martin County officers suspect foul play and are making an investigation.

A health certificate on the body showed Seay was a cook or dishwasher and lived in Big Spring.

The body had been in the weeds two or three days, officers said. It was covered partially with weeds and brush.

It was almost decapitated. Body bruises were discovered. No blood stains were found near the body.

The highway parallels the railroad at the point where the body was discovered.

The body was brought to Midland until relatives were located in San Angelo.

Investigate Report
Martin County officers Tuesday were investigating the report of a man answering Seay's description having been seen two or three days ago at a filling station in Stanton while en route to Midland.

Funeral services for Seay were scheduled in San Angelo from Robert Massie Chapel Tuesday. Interment will be in Fairmount Cemetery.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. S. H. Carrington, San Angelo, a stepfather, and a sister, Mrs. Gene Jones of Christoval.

Relatives said here Tuesday night they had last received a letter from Seay November 2, and he was working in a restaurant at Big Spring.

The body was moved from Ellis Funeral Home to San Angelo Monday night.

Stop That Ad In The Classifieds; I Want Some Sleep
It was about 7 a. m. The telephone rang in The Reporter-Telegram office. A tired voice came through to the early newspaper worker.

"Stop that classified ad of mine. Folks have kept me up all night answering the ad." The voice trailed off wearily, "I want to get some sleep."

There's a moral in this true story of real life. The little want ads pull like a new mountain type locomotive hauling a few empty flat cars.

What do you have to sell? What do you want to buy or swap? What is your "want ad"? Remember, they're not called "want ads" just for fun. And they're inexpensive. You're not letting a dollar wait on a dime, are you?

Running a Reporter-Telegram want ad is one case of "sending a boy to mill" and ending up saying, "Oh, boy!"

Peaceful Settlement With Dutch Likely As Cabinet Change Made

BATAVIA, JAVA—(P)—Sutan Sjahrir, described as a moderate with whom the Dutch are likely to deal, became premier of the unrecognized Indonesian Republic Tuesday as British forces blasted at Indonesian Nationalists in the heart of Soerabaja.

Sjahrir's selection as premier by the cabinet meant that the Nationalists had decided on a new governmental system under which President Soekarno apparently will have but a minor role. The Dutch had refused to deal with Soekarno.

A 36-year-old Socialist leader, Sjahrir retained temporarily the portfolios of home affairs and foreign affairs in the Nationalist cabinet.

The youthful Sjahrir said his policy would be cooperation with the British in the task allotted them at Potsdam — releasing internees and rounding up Japanese. So far as the Dutch are concerned, he said, "I shall encourage our getting together."

Sjahrir said the fighting between British and Nationalists at Soerabaja had hurt the Nationalist cause, and that one of his first acts as premier would be to send a three-member commission there to investigate the cause.

Warfare Was Intense
The warfare between the British, charged with the task of occupation, and the Nationalists rose in intensity, with naval and field guns and RAF planes supporting troops which hammered through at least half of Soerabaja.

In Soekarno's absence, Sjahrir had written and distributed a pamphlet entitled "Our Struggle" in which he openly criticized Indonesian youths for "committing all sorts of crimes" and asserted that "attacks on foreigners prove to the outside world we are not a united people and that we are not ripe politically."

The pamphlet said "our revolution must begin with removing whatever remains of Japanese fascism. The fascist who sold their honor to the Fascists must be eliminated."

Critiques Soekarno
Both President Soekarno and his vice president, Mohamed Hatta, were clearly and frankly characterized by the pamphlet as collaborators with the Japanese.

Only one member of Soekarno's regime, Minister of Information Amir Sjarifuddin, was retained in the cabinet which the premier promptly selected. Sjarifuddin also was made responsible for all affairs of the native peace preservation corps and the police.

Soekarno now will have only slightly more powers than French presidents exercised under the Third Republic, it was explained.

Declaring that the new system would provide a greater division of powers, Sjarifuddin said Soekarno would continue as the spiritual leader.

The change was decided at a meeting in Soekarno's home.

As his first move the new premier probably will fly to Soerabaja with three members of a Nationalist government commission to investigate Indonesian leadership at the great Java naval base and attempt to stop the fighting there.

Uncle Johnny Says 'Neither' Too Young Nor Too Old To Go
The youngest, the oldest come from Midland.

J. C. (Uncle Johnny) Roberts and Frank Midkiff, Midland County commissioners, were the oldest and youngest, respectively, of 15 West Texas officials recently visiting a tractor and farm implement plant in Illinois.

But Uncle Johnny won't give out the ages. Says they're neither too young or too old in Midland.

$100,000 Loss In Fire At Big Spring
BIG SPRING—(P)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the seed house of the Big Spring Cotton Oil Co. Monday. The amount of seed in the 3,000-ton capacity structure was not immediately known. Fire Chief H. V. Crocker estimated the loss may exceed $100,000.

Victory Bond Box Supper Scheduled
Plans have been completed for a Victory Bond box supper Friday evening at the Prairie Lea School on the John M. King ranch.

The rally has been scheduled to boost the sale of Victory Bonds in the community and all citizens of Midland County are invited. A number of Victory Bond campaign officials are planning to attend.

DeGaulle Elected French President By Cabinet Vote
PARIS—(P)—General De Gaulle, France's wartime military leader, was elected interim president of the French government by the constituent assembly Tuesday to direct the creation of the Fourth Republic.

The vote was 555 ballots for De Gaulle, none against and one abstention.

The Communists at the last minute swung to De Gaulle after Deputy Jacques Declos said his party "would create no obstacle to a manifestation of national unity."

A week of bickering has left the three leading parties, the Communists, Socialists and Christian Democrats, M. R. P. Parties unchanged in their stand on a national program. All three say they agree on a board program of leftist reforms. The Communists assert that the M. R. P. program is not sufficiently specific.

Truman Asks Appropriation For UNRRA
WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman asked Congress Tuesday to authorize a new appropriation of $1,350,000,000 to help carry forward in Europe and in Asia the work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

This would match an original authorization by Congress on March 28, 1944. Of the original authorization, $550,000,000 remains to be appropriated. The House has approved the sum but Senate action is still pending.

The President said current UNRRA funds will be exhausted by the end of this year.

"China," Truman said, "presents the largest of all relief responsibilities which UNRRA now faces."

A "limited program of aid is planned for the Soviet republics of White Russia and the Ukraine, he said.

60 And 70 Point Men In Japan Coming Home
YOKOHAMA—(P)—All 70-point veterans and nearly all 60-point men of the U. S. Eighth Army in Japan will be on route home by December 1. Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, Eighth Army commander, estimated Tuesday.

PLAN STUDIED TO SEND WAVES OF GAS TO JAPAN

'IRRESISTIBLE' TO GIRLS —
What-A-Man Wisecarver, 16, Elopes With His Second Married Woman
CROVILLE, CALIF.—(P)—Sixteen-year-old Ellsworth "What a Man" Wisecarver, the boy with an apparently irresistible fascination for married women, eloped in his jail cell Tuesday awaiting the arrival of another woman—this time his mother.

In the same jail, Mrs. Eleanor Deveny, 25, Los Angeles, mother of two children, declared in an interview that she would divorce her soldier husband, now in Japan, and marry Ellsworth if he "still wants me."

"I thought I was happy with my husband as anyone could be. Then I met Sonny," she sighed. x x x "It was love at first sight. He made love to me right from the start—and I couldn't resist him."

"I knew how old he was, but it didn't make any difference. He's the kind of a man every girl dreams about but seldom finds. He's more of a man at 16 than a lot of men are at 35."

Last year, when Sonny was 14, he eloped with Mrs. Elaine Ludlum, 25, another mother of two children. The marriage was annulled.

Last Wednesday, Mrs. Deveny told the deputies, she eloped from Long Beach with Sonny, whom she had known two and a half weeks.

Sonny is being held pending arrival of his parents.

Will It Pay Off?

The President's proposal of salary increases for almost everyone on the government payroll would cost an estimated $415,570,000. That's no inconsiderable sum even in this day of billion-dollar thinking. And the question which the citizens who would foot the bill may ask is whether this sizable investment really would pay off in more efficient government.

The 100 per cent pay increase asked for congressmen would account for only about $5,000,000 of the total bill. But its importance could be much greater than the amount would indicate. If $20,000 a year would attract a greater number of able men to this important department of government, then certainly the increase would be a sound investment.

It is pretty well established by now that a congressman's present $10,000 a year is no gold mine. There isn't much left after he has maintained a Washington and home-town residence, lived in a manner befitting his position, met campaign expenses and footed the many other bills that go with trying to get re-elected. Thus, many of the men Congress has attracted must divide time and energies between public and private business to make ends meet.

Every Congress includes some members whose services are worth $20,000 a year and more, and others whose services might be more fittingly rewarded with a plugged nickel. Perhaps a doubling of the present salary would provide a membership of higher, more uniform ability.

But such a membership would be possible only if the voters were to choose their senators and representatives as carefully and intelligently as a business executive would choose a man for a $20,000-a-year position. Maybe that's asking to buy political Utopia for $5,000,000, but at least it suggests to the voter a frame of mind which deserves to be encouraged.

To be somewhat more practical, it might be suggested that the present Congress could offer the public a couple of reforms before it asks us to pay the proposed addition to the tax bill. First of all, there is the matter of making Congress itself more efficient. "Streamlining" legislation already has been proposed to that end, and certainly should be acted upon before Congress votes itself more money.

Much of the President's projected pay boost would go into a 20 per cent increase for some 860,000 federal employes. The increase is undoubtedly deserved. But Congress should insist on the clearing out of over-staffed wartime departments and agencies before it is put into effect.

As for other salary rises asked for various justices and executive department officers, the story is about the same as in the case of Congress. Important governmental service should be financially attractive if the country's best talent is to be recruited. And here too an alert Congress, in confirming or rejecting future presidential appointments, could make sure that the proposed officer's ability and character merited the more adequate salary offered for services rendered.

MackENZIE'S COLUMN

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Troubles are buzzing about John Bull's ears so actively that it's given to wonder whether British Prime Minister Attlee—currently the honored guest of President Truman—didn't invite worry by breaking a mirror sometime after his new Socialist government came to power in September.

The boiling over of the Palestine problem, with its dangerous Jewish-Arab differences, has been followed by other embarrassing events. A couple of days ago Pandit Nehru, who next to Mahatma Gandhi is the most influential Hindu in all India, declared during a speech in Bombay that it was India's duty to revolt. Then Monday along came Egyptian Prime Minister Nokrashi Pasha with a demand for complete independence, including the withdrawal of British troops from his country.

Academic Challenge
Of course Nehru's advocacy of revolution to break away from England may be rather in the nature of an academic challenge which is calculated to force the political issue with the new British government for independence.

Still such a statement coming from Nehru can't be brushed aside lightly. He is powerful, and he has been making strong speeches ever since last June when he was released from prison.

The Egyptian demand looks rather formidable, since it was made at a full-dress opening of parliament, in the presence of King Farouk, the queen and a large gathering of diplomats. Egypt of course is one of the vital bases for the

Texas Increase Leads Oil Production Gain

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—A 104,200-barrel increase in Texas led daily average crude oil production up 145,200 to 4,459,150 in the week ending November 10. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.
The Texas gain, general except in the Panhandle, brought that state's average for the week to 1,894,200, still far ahead of second-place California, which slumped 4,500 barrels to 835,250.
Oklahoma, reflecting a higher allowable in the West Edmond field, climbed 27,350 to 390,150, while Illinois increased 1,700 to 206,300 and the Eastern area came up 3,450 to 66,500. Louisiana gained 5,550 to 367,000 and Arkansas inched up 50 barrels to 76,100. Mississippi was down 350 barrels to 53,500. Kansas' 243,800 was 1,950 under the figure for the previous week.
The Rocky Mountain area of Colorado, Montana and Wyoming gained 4,700 barrels to 133,350.

Glamorize Your Gala Fall Hair - Do With Gay Necklaces Or Bracelets

By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer
Better bring out your party dresses and brush up on your evening gals. GI home-comings are going to make tricks hum this fall and winter. For hair-do tricks that can take top place with party duds, here is what Hollywood—also stringing out banners for the boys—is up to. Necklaces are going to girls' heads as well as their throats. If you have a pair, use both as Yvonne ("Frontier Girl") de Carlo does to shine up her braids. She interlaces one, zig-zag fashion, and holds it in place with hairpins, then criss-crosses that necklace with the other string of shiners. Or you might try, with fine effect, what a Hollywood hair stylist suggests: use a glittery bracelet (breath which to pull curls to the top of your head. The trick is to separate curls into large, soft ringlets and to arrange and pin them so your jeweled bracelet peeps out in-between.

Should we add a box of pencils?

Before the war, Joe was studying architecture.

But Joe's last sight on earth was the blinding flash of a Jap grenade.

After months of hospitalization, Joe's other wounds have healed. But his eyes are gone for good.

Part of his present equipment is a pair of dark glasses, and a cane to help him feel his way.

Should we add a box of pencils? And let Joe try to eke out an existence selling them on a street corner, or begging? Or does Joe deserve a better life than that?

To train Joe for a real job, and real place in the America he fought for, will take money.

Lots of money. There are many Joes who need help. For there were over a million American casualties in the war!

The debt we owe our wounded can never be paid in full. But what can be done, must be done—and it's up to us.

The Victory Loan is on now. The money you lend (at interest) by buying Victory Bonds will help to give our men the best medical care in the world. Artificial limbs. Education and training, to make them self-sufficient citizens. And the money you lend will pay you back four dollars, at maturity of "E" Bonds, for every three you put in. That means a comfortable nest egg for you—a big step toward security and comfort in years to come.

Remembering what boys like Joe have done for you, buy Bonds to the hilt! This is the last time you'll be asked to buy extra Bonds... to say "Thanks" in a very real way for the Victory those boys won for us!

*Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F, and G U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

For the last time, America — Buy extra Bonds!

15 Per Cent Income Decline Is Predicted For Farmers In 1946

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A decline of as much as 15 per cent in the net income of farmers in 1946 was forecast by the Agriculture Department.

Story Of Connie Mack Cook At Sea Is Tale Of Many From West Texas

By TANNER LAINE When Connie Mack Cook, Midland ranch worker, looks over the sprawling cattlelands of West Texas he surely must be reminded of the vast expanses of the Pacific where he saw battle action from the swift, hard-hitting boats of Uncle Sam's Navy.

Connie Mack Cook's story is one of many. It tells a little for all the boys of Midland and West Texas. The difference between watching sleek, fat cattle graze on ferreting out the Japanese rat from sea and jungle is a wide one to Cook.

At the time of the welcomed Jap capitulation, Cook and his buddies were actively engaged in cleaning up Japanese shipping along the China coast.

On Nov. 30, 1942, our force reached the entrance to Savo Sound and we were joined by two more destroyers. Late that night while crossing the sound our force made contact with seven enemy ships.

Aboard the U. S. S. Meade after patrol duty in the Solomons, Cook and his mates left for the Aleutians, where they engaged in the expedition for the occupation of Attu.

In its 1946 outlook issue of the demand and price situation, the department predicted that total demand for farm products would remain high through the year.

The curtailment of military purchases of most products will be offset largely, if not entirely, by expanding civilian requirements and increased purchases for relief and export, the department said.

Indications are that cash receipts from crops will be about 5 per cent above last year, receipts from livestock and livestock products only slightly higher.

Attlee -

Attlee said the world's greatest task today is to "bring home to all people before it is too late that our civilization can only survive by the acceptance of a new practice in international relations and in our national life of the Christian principle—we are members of one another."

Referring to talks with President Truman, Attlee repeated one phrase from his speech in Britain last week.

"And yet," he added, "America is a threat to no one. All know that she will never use her power for selfish aims or territorial aggrandizement in the future any more than she has done in the past."

Report On the War

By General George C. Marshall

Biennial Report of the Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army 1943 to 1945, to the Secretary of War

Published by NEA Service, Inc., in co-operation with the War Department.

NORMANDY BEACHES contained four prime targets, two each assigned to British and U. S. forces attacking across the English Channel. Invasion's success deflated German boast that coastal defenses were "impregnable."

This is the second of 42 installments of material selected from General Marshall's report on the winning of World War II.

GERMAN MISTAKES

The steps in the German defeat, as described by captured members of the High Command, were:

- 1. Failure to Invade England. Hitler's first military set-back occurred when, after the collapse of France, England did not capitulate. According to Colonel General Jodl, Chief of the Operations Staff of the German High Command, the campaign in France had been undertaken because it was estimated that with the fall of France, England would not continue to fight. The unexpectedly swift victory over France and Great Britain's continuation of the war found the General Staff unprepared for an invasion of England.
- 2. The Campaign of 1941 in the Soviet Union. In the Autumn of 1941 after the battle of Vyasma, the Germans stood exhausted but apparently victorious before Moscow. According to Jodl, the General Staff of the armed forces considered that one last energetic push would be sufficient to finish the Soviets. The German High Command had neither envisioned nor planned for a winter campaign. A sudden change in the weather brought disaster. The Red Army defense, a terrific snow storm, and extremely unseasonable cold in the Christmas week of 1941 precipitated the strategic defeat of the German armed forces. Impatient of all restraint, Hitler publicly announced that he had more faith in his own intuition than in the judgment of his military advisors. He relieved the commander in chief of the army, General von Brauchitsch. It was the turning point of the war.
- 3. Stalingrad. Even after the reverse before Moscow in 1941 Germany might have avoided defeat had it not been for the campaign in 1942 which culminated in the disaster at Stalingrad. Disregarding the military lessons of history, Hitler, instead of attacking the Soviet armies massed in the north, personally planned and directed a campaign of which the immediate objectives were to deprive the Soviet Union of her vital industries and raw materials by cutting the Volga at Stalingrad and seizing the Caucasian oil fields. The campaign collapsed before Stalingrad with the magnificent Russian defense of that
- 4. Invasion of North Africa. Allied landings in North Africa came as a surprise to the German High Command. Field Marshal Kesselring, who, at the time, was commanding all German forces in the Mediterranean except Rommel's desert task force, states that his headquarters did expect a landing and had requested reinforcement by a division. However, Kesselring's fears were not heeded by Hitler and Goering. Allied security and deception measures for the landing operations were found to have been highly effective. Only when the Allied fleets and convoys were streaming through the Straits of Gibraltar did the Germans realize that something very special was under way, and even then false conclusions were drawn: either that the Allies intended to land in the rear of Rommel in the Middle East, or that these were British reinforcements en route to the Far East, or supplies for starving Malta. Since no advance preparations had been made by the Germans to repel such an Allied invasion of North Africa, all subsequent efforts to counter the Allies suffered from hasty improvisation.
- 5. The Invasion of France. All German headquarters expected the Allied invasion of France. According to Colonel General Jodl, both the general direction and the strength of the initial assault in Normandy were correctly estimated; but Field Marshal Keitel states that the Germans were not sure exactly where the Allies would strike and considered Britain as more probable because of three major U-boat bases located in that region. Both agree that the belief of the German High Command that a second assault would be launched, probably by an Army under General Patton, held large German forces in the Pas de Calais area. Both Keitel and Jodl believed that the invasion could be repulsed or at worst contained, and both named the Allied air arm as the decisive factor in the German failure.

Most birds, constantly active and sleeping little, burn themselves out in a few years.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Offhand, I suppose one might say that New York has the best group of bridge players. However, Philadelphia can produce as many, and possibly more fine players at a tournament, than any other city. Certainly the best players from both these cities will compete in the forthcoming national tournament.

Simon (Skippy) Becker of Philadelphia made a nice bid at the Eastern Pennsylvania tournament at Reading, where he won the pair event with Joseph Davis. It is one you might bear in mind when you are competing against the Blackwood convention.

I did not particularly like North's jump to four no trump, but that is what he did, and South correctly bid five hearts showing two aces.

Becker based his double on the inference that one of South's two aces was very likely the ace of hearts. Therefore he felt that a heart opening would help to defeat the slam contract to which North-South appeared to be headed, as the (Becker) held the ace of spades.

North's jump to six no trump was a wild stab in the dark, but Becker's reasoning was correct. With a diamond opening, six no trump was cold, but with a heart opening the hand went down.

Geologist Who Says World Getting Hotter Speaks Tuesday Night

Dr. Bailey Willis, professor of geology emeritus, Stanford University, and one of the world's foremost geologists, will address members and guests of the Geological Society Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Midland District Courtroom on "Terrestrial Dynamics." Willis appears under the auspices of the distinguished lecture committee of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

Dr. Willis, 68, twice was decorated by King Leopold of Belgium, served as assistant director of the U. S. Geological Survey and member of many American and foreign scientific societies, and now serves as a consulting geologist.

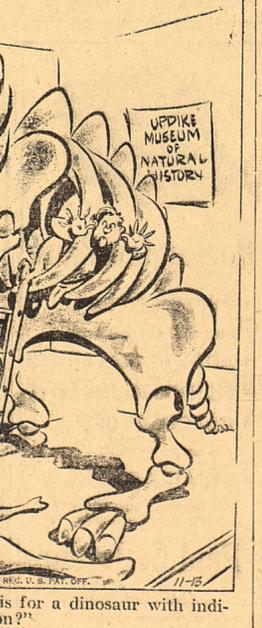

Dr. Willis is an exponent of the theory the earth has a molten core but probably not due to survival from an originally molten globe. He attributes the molten state to compression and radioactive disintegration of atoms and since the heat cannot escape the core continues to grow hotter. He concludes, therefore, the earth is growing hotter and not cooling.

Covering this molten core, Willis says, is a shell 1,800 miles thick which in turn has an outer crust from 20 to 30 miles thick. He says the expansion of the molten core is at the expense of the mantle and crust and, therefore, the mantle eventually will disappear and the earth will become a star.

A&M's Smith Loses 2 Yards, Baylor's Pierce Gains Two On Weekend

By The Associated Press
 The Southwest Conference's leading ground-gainer—Preston Smith of Texas A&M and Sammie Pierce of Baylor—had plenty of trouble last week, Smith losing two yards and Pierce making only two, but they still are the top men as the football campaign rolls into its final three weeks.

Smith, gaining three and dropping five in six carries against Southern Methodist, now has 543 yards on 119 runs while Pierce, netting two yards in 10 tries against Texas, has an even 500 on 77 carries.

In passing, Texas Christian's Leon Joslin continued to pick up large chunks of yards although he had four throws intercepted last week by Texas Tech. Joslin now has 683 yards on 48 connections out of 94 attempts to be far out in front.

Second man is Jack Price of Baylor who has 480 yards on 42 completions in 78 throws.

In punting veteran Howard Mailey of Southern Methodist increased his lead as he kicked 11 times against A&M for an average of 44 yards. Mailey has an average of 40.5 on 52 boots for the season.

In pass-receiving it's still Hubert Bechtel of Texas, who has taken 22 throws for 353 yards.

Thompson Leads Broncs To 13-12 Victory Over Inspired Pony Team

SWEETWATER—Displaying the brand of football which has made him a contender for the All-State team, Fullback J. W. Thompson of Odessa led the Bronchos to a 13-12 victory over an inspired Sweetwater Mustang eleven here Monday afternoon.

Coach Pat Gerald's Nolan County boys played a surprising caliber of football on defense and took the lead early in the fourth quarter when a short punt by Odessa's Byron Townsend went short after being partly blocked and rolled back toward the goal. It was touched by several players in coffin corner but finally Tackle Jerry Smith of Sweetwater covered it across the goal for a touchdown. That made the score 12 to 7.

But within a minute or so Thompson displayed the type of football that makes a player great by taking the ball 70 yards in two plays for a touchdown. Townsend returned the kickoff to the 30. On the next play Thompson rammed to the 45. Then Hayden Fry passed to Thompson in the flat and he battered over for the winning touchdown.

Odessa opened the scoring early in the second quarter when Thompson plunged over from the 4. Townsend kicked the goal that proved to be the margin of victory. The Mustangs made the score 7 to 6 early in the third quarter. They drove from the Sweetwater 33 to the Odessa 17 from where Fullback Don Lambret passed to Quarterback Shaff DeGush for the touchdown. Lambert missed the kick for extra point.

One-Point Victory Drops Bronchos From 4th To 5th In State

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS—(P)—There are a few changes in the schoolboy football ratings this week but they're mostly from the bottom. Odessa lost a little prestige in being able to just nose out Sweetwater and Brownwood fell out of the top 20 in losing to Breckenridge, while Pampa, tied by a fair Lubbock team, drops out of the first 10.

- Here goes:
1. Highland Park (Dallas).
 2. Wichita Falls.
 3. Waco.
 4. Lufkin.
 5. Odessa.
 6. Amarillo.
 7. Paris.
 8. Galveston.
 9. Brownsville.
 10. Milby (Houston).
- The second 10: Pampa, Breckenridge, Marshall, Crozier Tech (Dallas), Port Arthur, Plainview, Sweetwater, Austin, Goose Creek, Jefferson (San Antonio).

On down the line: San Angelo, Paschal (Fort Worth), San Jacinto (Houston), Sunset (Dallas), Austin (El Paso), Vernon, Breckenridge (San Antonio), Temple, Brownwood, Cleburne.

See where the Rose Bowl committee announces it has Texas under consideration for the January coast classic. Doesn't the Rose Bowl know that the Southwest Conference champion is committed to the Cotton Bowl each year? Not that Texas is certain to be the conference champion but the Rose Bowl hardly would take a second-place team. So either way it would appear Texas wouldn't be in the Rose Bowl.

This question comes up every year from one bowl or another. The only conference teams that can go to a bowl other than the Cotton are those that finish out of first place.

The Cotton Bowl visiting team this time looks more and more like Oklahoma A. and M. although there are certain obstacles likely to come up.

Temple, coached by Ray Morrison, former Southern Methodist mentor, was looked upon as a good choice until Saturday when the Owls lost to Penn State—their first defeat of the season.

The Oklahoma Aggies appear certain to finish the campaign without a defeat or tie. Should Texas, Rice or Texas A. and M. win the Southwest Conference title, the Oklahoma would likely return to the Cotton Bowl. They have already played and beaten Texas Christian, the other team with a chance at the championship. Thus there are three chances to one of getting the Cowboys in the big saucer on Jan. 1.
