PEARL HARBOR AIR DEFENSE COUNSELED IN 1940 —

To Probe Lack Of Air Patrols

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) called Thursday for Army and Navy testimony on how many planes were available at Pearl Harbor in 1941 and why no long range patrols were being flown when the Japanese struck.

A member of the Senate-House Committee investigating the disaster, Lucas told reporters he wants to know why, if it was possible to fly a 300-mile patrol in 1940, similar daily reconnaissance could not have been in effect a year later.

Adm. J. O. Richardson testified that he instituted the air patrol June 18, 1940 when the Army ordered an alert in Hawaii but called it off in December of that year. Previous Army and Navy inquiries have shown that no regular patrol was flown after Adm. Husband E. Kimmel took over command of the fleet from Richardson on Feb. 1, 1941.

The committee's hearings were in recess Thursday for Thanksgiving. But Lucas asked William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, to obtain information on the number of planes attached to the fleet under Richardson's command and the number under Kimmel's command. He asked also for a listing of the long-range planes available at the time of the Japanese attack. The Illinois Senator said he also wants information on an Army night patrol.

The committee may delay its inquiry into this subject, however, because Mitchell announced that the diplomatic side of the story will be brought under investigation with testimony Friday from former Secretary of State Hull.

Hull, in ill health, can appear for only 45 minutes at a time, the counsel said. He added that Sumner Welles, former under secretary; Maxwell Hamilton, former head of the Far Eastern Division; and Joseph C. Grew, ambassador to Japan in 1941, will be on hand to fill in a full picture.

Wednesday the committee heard Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy testify that he had guessed late in 1941 that the Japanese might attack the Philippines but that he did not foresee an assault on Pearl Harbor.

Thanksgiving Day Services Conducted

Midland's annual Union Thanksgiving service was held at 10 a. m. Thursday at the Calvary Baptist Church.

The program included a sermon by the Rev. Clyde Lindsey, pastor of the First Christian Church; invocation by the Rev. Paul H. Cox, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church; pastoral prayer by the Rev. Howard Hollowell, First Methodist Church minister; scripture reading by the Rev. F. W. Rogers, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene; music under direction of the Rev. Raymond Hall, assistant preacher of the First Baptist Church; benediction by the Rev. Aubrey Smith, pastor Calvary Baptist Church.

The Rev. Vernon Yearby, First Baptist Church, was in charge of the service.

Child Welfare Service Handles 115 Requests

Progress of child welfare for the month of October in Midland County, as reported to the Midland County Commissioners Court, shows that requests by 10 families concerning 13 children were acted upon by the service. Eleven new requests had been received during the month. Eight applications are pending.

Problems in the new applications include: neglect, eight children; delinquent, two children; runaway, three children; and behavior problems, one child.

New applications were recommended by schools, court, law enforcement officers and interested individuals.

Ten children were added for supervision during October. Total service was given to 115 with four cases completely handled.

Dorothy Sumner is child welfare worker for the County. The board consists of Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, Robert Dickey, Roy McKee, Charles Veitres, Mrs. Cooper Hyde, Mrs. John Hills, Mrs. James H. Chapple and Judge E. H. Barron.

The child welfare report will be repeated to the board of the service and to the City Council.

VETS TO DIG FOX HOLES IN TURKEYS —

Texas And Nation In Peacetime Fete

By The Associated Press
With the exception of Austin, Texas, main streets took on scenes of tranquility Thursday, as the Lone Star State joined the nation in the observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The Texas seat of government decided to wait until next Thursday to declare a day of composure, giving Austin citizens a chance to witness the traditional Turkey Day football game between Texas University and Texas A. and M. College.

It was the happiest Thanksgiving Day in four years for thousands of Texans. Returning soldiers, sailors and Marines dug deep foxholes into turkeys, stuffed with dressing, for the first time in many months.

And there was solemnity also. Houston, Denison, Hillsboro, San Antonio, Amarillo, Abilene, Midland, Galveston and Beaumont, were among many Texas cities which planned religious services.

Football played its usual colorful role, with games scheduled at Denison, Abilene and San Antonio, as well as other cities.

Service men's centers planned to stage special events and meals for personnel who could not be at home for the occasion.

School students were granted a four-day reprieve from studies by the holiday, as classes will not be resumed until Monday.

Gen. Patch, Leader Of Seventh Army Across France And Germany, Dies

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Lt. Gen. Alexander McCarrell Patch, Jr., 55, benedicted veteran of two wars who led the victorious drive of the U. S. Seventh Army across France and Germany, lost his battle for life Wednesday night.

The high-tempered, slightly-built, six-footer, "Sandy Patch" to his friends and his men, who triumphed in the Pacific Theater as well as on the European continent, died of pneumonia in Brooke General Hospital here. He had entered the hospital Nov. 14.

Commander of the Fourth Army at Fort Sam Houston since last July, General Patch would have observed his 56th birthday anniversary Friday.

At his bedside, where an oxygen tent had been used to combat what hospital authorities called a special type of pneumonia, were his wife, Julia Lillet Patch; his daughter, Mrs. Charles M. Drummond; his widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alexander M. Patch 3rd, and his brother, Maj. Gen. Joseph Patch.

The general's son, a captain, member of the U. S. First Army in France, was killed Oct. 22, 1944, while assaulting enemy positions.

The colorful career of Sandy Patch found a climax in the European war. Placed in command of the Seventh Army March 1, 1944, he trained the Army for amphibious operations and led it when it hit the beaches of Southern France Aug. 15, 1944. In three months the Seventh drove the Germans back almost 600 miles. The smashing drive made General Patch the first Army commander to pierce successfully the natural frontier formed by the Vosges Mountains.

Mopped Up Guadalcanal
Patch handled the final mopping up of the Japanese on Guadalcanal, moving in with Army troops late in 1942 to relieve the Marines. Previously he had commanded United States troops in New Caledonia. For his work at Guadalcanal, he was awarded the Navy's Distinguished Service Medal.

He returned to the United States last March to head the Fourth Army Corps with headquarters at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Fourth Army Headquarters.

Rationing Board Will Be Closed For Two Days

Midland County War Price and Rationing Board will be closed Thursday and Friday, officials announced.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

MOSCOW (AP)—Early recognition by China of the independence of the Mongolian Peoples' Republic (Outer Mongolia) was forseen Thursday with the formal presentation to the governments of China and the Soviet Union of official returns from the Mongolian plebiscite. The returns showed not a single voter balloted against independence.

ROME (AP)—Jews in the displaced persons camp at Cremona, where they were brought by the Allies from Central European concentration camps, began a hunger strike Thursday in protest against the British policy in Palestine, the Italian news agency Ansa said Thursday.

ATHENS (AP)—Archbishop Damaskinos announced Thursday he definitely would resign as regent of Greece. He made the announcement to a press conference shortly after the 85-year-old Liberal leader, Themistokles Sophoulis, was sworn in as premier, heading a new cabinet.

Thanksgiving After Victory

By JAMES THRASHER

Thanksgiving is, by tradition, a holiday of family feasting, and family reunion. As such it is the happiest of any we have known for the last four years. Soldiers and sailors by the hundreds of thousands have come home since the last Thanksgiving, men who were fighting then in Germany and the Philippines and the danger-infested skies and oceans, and wondering when and if there would be another Thanksgiving at home.

Today the reunion is a reality for them. And so in countless homes a deep, personal gratitude is added to the day's good food and good spirits. There are new, intangible trimmings for the turkey which will make this a memorable as well as a happy holiday.

Thanksgiving is also a day traditionally marked by a national counting of blessings. This year we count victory and the total is nearly complete, nor any less impressive because it is so quickly computed.

Beyond victory this day does not offer too many reasons for rejoicing. There is scant joy in many parts of the world. And here at home the peace and plenty so painfully won, the well-being so earnestly desired, are surrounded by hostile forces. There is unrest and anger and confusion, and above them all hovers the invisible threat of the new and deadly atomic force which the world must live with.

So the rejoicing is solemn at best. But perhaps that is in the true spirit of Thanksgiving. The Pilgrims who first celebrated this day 324 years ago had little material cause for celebration. They, too, were surrounded by hostile forces. But the worst was behind them. They had freedom, and they had survived.

Their descendants, and the millions who have come to join those descendants in the land so bitterly won, have also managed to preserve freedom and survive. Today our problems are greater, but we are stronger in number to cope with them. The difference is in magnitude and not kind.

The essential qualities which have brought this country thus far are the same ones which brought the Plymouth colonists through their first winter. They are the qualities which are still needed today and which, we may hope, offer our best chance of continued survival and progress.

Negro Confesses To Slaying

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—District Attorney Bert Clancy announced Thursday that Louis Young, 44-year-old negro convict from Houston, Texas, had signed a full written confession to the murder of 23-year-old Mrs. Eloise Kennedy, socially prominent wife of a Santa Fe banker.

A charge of murder in the first degree will be filed Thursday against Young, an "outside trusty" at the New Mexico State Penitentiary, Clancy said.

Mrs. Kennedy, pretty wife of Leon G. Kennedy Jr., and mother of a five-week-old daughter, was stabbed to death Monday in the bathroom of her apartment and, state police said, apparently criminally attacked.

Clancy declined to give any details of the slaying as contained in Young's confession.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Victory Loan statement by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, named by President Truman to be Army chief of staff:

"The great military victories of 1945 must be consolidated in terms of meeting minimum obligations in both hemispheres. Support of the Victory Loan Drive is as important to the future peace as were former drives to the successful prosecution of the war. Americans always meet such a challenge successfully."

gained it. We should be thankful for victory and be willing to pay the price of it."

Midland is over the halfway mark toward Victory Bond quotas. A special day, Victory Bonds for the Victors, observed Tuesday, netted large sales.

The score:
E Series quota $335,000.
E Sales $133,612.50.
Overall quota $985,000.
Overall sales $543,139.50.

Not Forever But Bubbles, Pretty Ones Blown Here

They may not forever be blowing 'em but they are now: Soap bubbles in Midland.

The high school had a seige of it and now downtown they do it.

Fancy, pretty multicolored bubbles dance in the air.

In a cafe downtown the other day one floated perilously near a cuppa coffee. But it burst on the cup edge.

No damage.

International 'Oscar' For Good Will Planned

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An international "Oscar" is being planned by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, President Jean Hersholt announced Thursday.

"This award," Hersholt said, "will be given for the film that contributes most toward international friendship and good will." The award will not be based on photographic skill, so nations whose motion pictures are not highly advanced technically will have an equal opportunity to compete.

A committee, including Charles Boyer, Walt Disney and foreign representatives of the major studios, has been appointed to draw up plans for the international award.

International Court Rules Jew-Baiter Streicher Is Sane

NUERNBERG (AP)—A mounting pile of documents, ranging from intimate diaries of leading Nazis to carefully worded secret plans of the German High Command, was placed before the international tribunal Thursday as the Allied prosecution moved to convict 20 of Hitler's highest aides as war criminals.

As the third day's session opened the four-power court ruled that Jew-baiter Julius Streicher was sane and must stand trial and denied a defense motion which asked postponement of the trial of Martin Bormann, Hitler's missing deputy, who is being tried in absentia.

The tribunal accepted a medical board report finding Streicher sane and Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, ruled that his trial will proceed.

For the first time since the trial opened two days ago, the accused German leaders appeared in high spirits. Smiling all the time, Reichsmarshal Hermann Goerring chatted animatedly with defense counsel, Rudolf Hess, who has had only a vacant stare for most of the court proceedings, laughed for the first time as he talked with former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop. Even the stern high command generals, Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl, were smiling.

36th May Demobilize In New York To Assure Christmas At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Texas) announced that the 36th (Texas) Division would be demobilized in New York and not in Texas.

The Texas senator said he had conferred Wednesday with Lt. Gen. J. E. Hull of the Army General Staff, and was informed that the veterans can be discharged and sent home by Christmas if demobilized in New York.

Hull also told Connally that both General Marshall and General Eisenhower had considered the proposal of Brownwood, Texas, citizens that the division be returned there for inactivation. The 36th was mobilized in Brownwood in 1940.

The idea was turned down in the interests of the veterans themselves, General Hull told Connally, since it would probably prevent most of them from getting to their homes for Christmas. The division is not expected in New York before the middle of December.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU GENERAL COUNSEL DIES
DALLAS (AP)—Funeral services are planned here Friday for William H. Collier, 48, executive vice president and general counsel of the Better Business Bureau. He died suddenly at his home here Wednesday.

Survivors include his widow, two sons and a sister.

Service Folk At Home Helps Observance Of Thanksgiving

Midland, with many of its homes brightened by the return of service folk, observed quietly the first peacetime Thanksgiving in several years Thursday.

Retail stores, Federal agencies, banks, city and county offices, were closed.

A Union Thanksgiving Day service was held at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Hundreds of citizens planned to attend the Midland-Texas football classic at the high school stadium, a 3-AA conference game.

Many residents took trips. Several hunting parties went out. Jay-Cees held a pre-Thanksgiving Day dance Wednesday night at Hotel Scharbauer.

A holiday was declared at Midland's schools.

Both air bases observed Thanksgiving with holidays and the traditional Army menu of turkey for military personnel. An enlisted man's

Thanksgiving For Victory!

The Victory Loan Drive should rightfully be termed the "Thanksgiving Loan Drive". Not only because Thanksgiving Day comes during the period of the drive, but to give the campaign a real impetus by developing an awareness and appreciation of just what it means and represents.

Thanksgiving for Victory—Thanksgiving for the fact that we can realize now just what Victory will mean in so many different ways—Thanksgiving that we have supported seven War Loan Drives, and have generously over-subscribed each one.

Our thanks can best be expressed by going all out to put every idle nickel into this drive and demonstrate to the rest of the world our Thanksgiving for all the events of the past four years that brought us this victory.

This is the last—Give it all you have and more. If you have done your "share" in preceding war loans—do more than your share this time. Let's go overboard for the last one. More than you can afford. Let's wind up this drive in a blaze of glory—For yourselves—For everybody—For our own satisfaction in years to come—For Thanksgiving.

The Detroit Elections

At the beginning of the mayoralty campaign in Detroit, political observers there predicted that UAW Vice-President Richard Frankensteen would win by about 50,000 votes.

About a month before the election, after the UAW announced its possible program of tying up one big auto company after another by strikes, these same observers gave Frankensteen about an even-money chance.

At the election, which came at a time when industrial unrest showed no signs of quieting, Frankensteen lost to the incumbent, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, by more than 57,000 votes.

It may be coincidence that Frankensteen seemed to lose political strength as labor troubles increased. But the fact remains that a strong labor candidate, who at one time seemed a shoo-in, lost an election in one of the country's most strongly unionized cities.

There have been indications for some time that the public is growing increasingly weary of industrial contention and strikes. The Detroit election would seem to offer further proof of that. This is not to say that the public considers organized labor at fault in every instance. But labor's leadership will undoubtedly ponder the lesson of Detroit.

Another Hitler Error

It has been noted already that Hitler might have had the atom bomb himself if his persecution of the Jews hadn't driven the eminent physicist Lise Meitner from Germany and permitted her to make her pioneering work available to the Allies.

Now it develops that the eight Nazi saboteurs who landed here in 1942 might have got in a lot of damaging dirty work if one of them, angered by the Gestapo's brutal treatment of his wife, hadn't turned informer.

Primo Carnera KOed In Ring Comeback

MILAN, ITALY—(AP)—Primo Carnera, the "Ambling Alp" who once held the world heavyweight championship, was knocked out Wednesday night in his first attempt at a ring comeback.

The hulking, aging 39-year-old former champion who survived the rigors of the Nazi occupation, lasted only seven rounds against Luigi Musina, a smaller and younger Italian and claimant to the European heavyweight title.

Although he weighed 264 pounds to Musina's 184 1/2, Carnera was floored three times before the referee stopped it in the seventh. The big Italian was standing dazed and helpless as Musina pummeled him at will. It was scored as a TKO.

His 39 years told on his strength and his slow punches did not match those of his more agile, sharp-punching opponent.

Carnera won the heavyweight title in June, 1933, when he knocked out Jack Sharkey. He lost it a year later when Max Baer stiffened him in 11 rounds.

USO Club Plans Gala Affair For Soldiers Turkey Day Evening

For the soldiers stationed at the local air fields not given furloughs over the Thanksgiving holidays, the USO Club in Midland has planned a gala Turkey Day evening.

The affair will get underway at 8 p. m.

The club will be decorated in keeping with the festive mood, and junior hostesses will serve light refreshments to soldiers and their wives who attend.

A musical program will feature members of the Junior Club, which is sponsored by the Civic Music Club. Among the artists will be Misses Barbara Brown, Joyce Denton, and Billie Jones, whose voices will blend in two songs, "Along the Navajo Trail" and "Make Believe."

Mrs. Granville Porter will play a piano solo, "Clair de Lune," after which "Winter Wonder Land" will be sung by Mrs. Juanita Sherrod and Mrs. Joe Mims.

A piano medley will be played by Mrs. R. L. Denton, Mrs. Joe Mims and Mrs. Dudley Cardwell will vocalize the song "Sympathy," and Mrs. Cardwell will sing "My Hero." Mrs. Lee Cornelius will close the musical program with the song "Malaguena and the Little White Donkey."

A large number of soldiers is expected to turn out for the occasion.

Star Club Members Enjoy Thanksgiving Luncheon Wednesday

A Thanksgiving luncheon was enjoyed by members of the Star Club Wednesday at the Masonic Hall with Mrs. Leo Baldrige serving as hostess. Juanita Collins offered a prayer of Thanksgiving.

Members responded to roll call by giving "what we are most thankful for."

Florence Floyd gave a talk on "Things We Are Thankful For," and Mary L. Wyatt used as her subject "Ideas How to Spend Thanksgiving."

A gift was presented to Lucille Adams who is leaving soon to make her home in Oklahoma. The group voted to bring gifts to the next meeting to be sent to the club mother, Mrs. Burrihill, at the Eastern Star Home in Arlington, Texas.

Yearbooks, planned and made by Nova Lynn Campbell and Elizabeth Ficke, were distributed. Three new members, Blanche Alcorn, Louise Jones and Della Rae Murphy, were voted into the organization.

Announcement was made that the next meeting will be held at 1 p. m. December 5, at the Masonic Hall.

Present were Nora Barbara, Elizabeth Wright, Florence Wright, Ellen Reising, Hatti Inman, Lulu Wycoff, Bertha Jones, Mary L. Wyatt, Juanita Collins, Della Rae Murphy, Nora Lynn Campbell, Leo Baldrige, Elizabeth Ficke, Sammie Lane O'Neill, Louise Jones, Lucille Adams, Gladys Luccous, Ester S. ## QUIET CLOTHES WIN AUDIENCES

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Woman's club activities are in full swing, and your program is coming up next. Your speech has been planned to the last comma and rehearsed to letter-perfect smoothness before a super-critical family audience. You are all set. But what are you going to wear? Take a tip from seasoned professional lecturers and plan your outfit as carefully as you do your discussion. That darling little flowered hat, for example, which tilts enchantingly over your eye and covers your face with a swathe of veiling—put it back in its box and substitute the chic one that frames your face, but doesn't conceal it. You want your audience paying attention to your speech, not your hat.

Nothing is better for the lecture platform than the simply-tailored dress or suit with trimmings limited to a touch of color at the throat. And as for a large, fussy corsage, it's better not to pin it on until after you've finished speaking. Your audience will be more attentive if their eyes aren't distracted by clothing details and accessories.

Miss Billye Starling Gives Talk On Plastic At Tawasi Club Meet

Miss Billye Starling gave a talk on "Plastic" at a meeting of the Tawasi Club Wednesday evening. Mrs. J. C. McClure and Miss Ruth Simmons were co-hostesses for the occasion at their home, 404-A North Marienfeld.

Miss Dorothy Hamilton, president, welcomed the new pledges. They are Misses Jean Richards, Ruth Wehner, Brittle Neill, Maisie Coon, Martha Jane Tubo, LeVerne Callihan, Dorothy Williams, Sue Miles, Lois Lynch and Erma Nichols.

Plans were discussed for the Christmas party at which time formal initiation services for the pledges will be conducted. A committee composed of Edie Bryan, Dorothy Bracewell and Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale was appointed to compile a list of club activities for a Christmas letter to be sent to the alumni.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses. Members present were Misses Dorothy Bracewell, Deana Gray, Dorothy Hamilton, Janie Johnson, Ruth Simmons, Billye Starling and Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale and Mrs. J. C. McClure.

Midlanders To Take Part In University Building Fund Drive

A student campaign will be launched at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene on December 4. This will be the official starting day for the endowment drive for the greater Hardin-Simmons development program continuing through December 7.

The goal is completion of the million-dollar fund for new buildings, the first of which will be Sander Memorial. Students have set their goal at $20,000.

Miss Beth Shirey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Shirey, of Midland, will have a part in the drive. She is a reporter for The Brand, university paper, reporter for Ferguson Hall and a member of the Press Club.

Another Midlander to take part in the campaign is Mrs. C. D. McIntire, daughter of C. O. Welch of this city. She is a sophomore student at the university and her husband is in the ministerial school.

Texan May Head Office To Handle Vet Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General Tom C. Clark soon will set up a special branch in the Justice Department to handle veterans' re-employment and legal affairs. A Justice Department official who asked not to be quoted by name said Searcy M. Johnson of Dallas probably will head the branch. Johnson recently was discharged from the Navy as a lieutenant commander. During the war he was one of the Navy's liaison officers with Selective Service Headquarters.

ESCAPE AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Military and civilian authorities were pressing a search Wednesday for two escaped German prisoners of war. The pair escaped from a mess detail at Brooke General Hospital between 6 and 7 p. m. Monday, according to FBI officials here.

Lt. R. J. Wright Of Midland Led Field Artillery Battery In Normandy Fight

By HARRELL HOLMES
D-Day landing, Normandy breakthrough, and the Battle of the Bulge highlighted eleven months' battle with the 90th Infantry Division in Europe for Lt. Raymond J. Wright, in Midland on terminal leave. Mrs. Wright is the former Mozelle Brooks of this city. "We learned that part of our infantry was to make the initial landing early on D-Day," said Lieutenant Wright. "There was excitement initially, but once American soldiers know that the time for action has arrived they really get down to business. "Our first sight of action came when one of our boats hit a mine and went down. Then it came fast and furious. "Battleships poured shells inland, and German planes came over by the dozens. Almost instantly five of those planes were shot down, one crashing so near our boat that the force knocked us off balance. Bombs continued to fall by the ton for hours, some missing us by a mere fifty yards. Many of the bombs were direct hits on our boats."

The landing of the 90th was delayed two days, and the German artillery became more accurate every hour, Lieutenant Wright said. "The third morning, the landing was made, and the 90th Infantry Division went into the line. The grueling, bloody battle of Normandy began."

Of the Normandy breakthrough, Lieutenant Wright said, "I think the courage of our infantry was displayed here more than any other place. I talked to the men in the fox-holes who had been under constant, demoralizing fire for several days, and these men had not thought of withdrawing a single inch. Some companies which had started out with 150 men were reduced to 40."

Heavy Luftwaffe Attack

Probably the heaviest attack by the German Luftwaffe happened near Alencon, Lieutenant Wright said. "I was sleeping in a chateau when I was suddenly awakened by the shattering of glass. I received a slight cut on my face," he said. "The division continued its attack to the Moselle river and took a position facing Metz. "I had an interesting experience there," he remembered. "My observation post was in the third floor of a house in Malmaison. Late one afternoon I spotted a German observer dug in directly to my front. Making a precision adjustment with 155mm artillery, I called for three rounds for effect. The effect was comical. Killing Becomes Impersonal

"The second round landed ten yards from the 'Jerry's' fox-hole, sweeping away the camouflage. The German was stunned for a moment, then he jumped from the hole and ran up the hill at a speed attained only by a jet-propelled plane, or a mighty scared Kraut. The third shell was a direct hit. At times killing becomes very impersonal."

The move into Luxembourg and what was to be the Battle of the Bulge was made at night, Lieutenant Wright said. It was bitterly cold, and snow lay two feet deep. Under those conditions, casualties died immediately, and many men suffered frozen hands and feet. "One cannot imagine the strange assortment of clothes or clothing the men wore in a futile attempt to keep warm," he said.

"I don't like to think about the Battle of the Bulge," Lieutenant Wright said. "It was a long, bitter, cold battle with many counter attacks, all of which were stopped, but not without heavy losses to our troops. However, we went forward with determination to crush the German resistance and get it all over with as soon as possible."

Lieutenant Wright commanded "A" Battery of the 915th Field Artillery Battalion. He was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for bravery, and earned five bronze battle stars.

Game Body Warns Against Carelessness On Hunting Trips

AUSTIN (AP)—Officials of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission Wednesday warned Texans to be more careful to avoid further increase in hunting accidents.

Game Wardens have reported that many apparent novices are afield this year. Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the commission, said that while the department has no means of collecting comparative figures on hunting accidents, apparently they have increased this year. It would seem so from newspaper reports, he said.

Wardens reported to commission headquarters that they had encountered many men in the Hill Country on the opening day of deer season who admitted they had never before seen a deer or a turkey. Many were unfamiliar with firearms.

Hunting Rules
Dodgen said the commission would continue its educational campaign, conducted in the field by wardens, and through distribution of safety pamphlets and motion picture films. He reminded hunters of these fundamental rules:

- Don't mix whiskey and gunpowder.
- Avoid leaving loaded guns standing around the house or camp. Remember that a gun with the works open and all shells removed can not shoot.
- Don't carry a loaded gun in the car, and don't try to climb or crawl through a fence with a loaded gun. Take out the shells, break the gun open, and stay alive a while longer.
- Look where you are shooting. If you can't see for sure don't shoot.

Shoots Hole-In-One On First Golf Round

DENISON—(P)—Roy McDaniel of Denison had never played golf until he went to Columbus, Georgia, to visit his two sons-in-law, Lt. Robert Taylor and Lt. Charles Denison.

The sons-in-law are among the better golfers and agreed to show McDaniel some pointers on the game. On the first round he scored a hole-in-one.

Turkey Day Classic Kick Off Time Is 2:30 Thursday

Two evenly-matched 3-AA elevens, the Midland Bulldogs and the Lamesa Tornados were ready for the kickoff at 2:30 Thursday as principals in a Thanksgiving Day classic booked for Midland's stadium.

The Lamesa team and contingent of supporters were expected in the city at noon.

Midland is below par with injuries. Lamesa took a grueling from Odessa last week.

A victory for either ball club would enhance its conference standing as each has won a single game. Midland is only a jump ahead of Lamesa in percentage.

Yeager Out of Game

Wilbur Yeager, quarterback, and Bobby Drake, halfback, two familiar names on the Bulldog starting lineup, will be on the sidelines with ailing legs. Jimmy Edwards, center, is patched up and will play.

At full strength Midland was expected to give the visitors a battle. The injuries to three key men may make a difference in the score.

With Yeager the passer out, Midland probably will depend on its fast opening line thrusts and tricky reverses, worked from the T-formation.

A large holiday crowd of fans was expected to enjoy the game in clear, cool football weather.

Lufkin Panthers Set Texas Scoring Pace

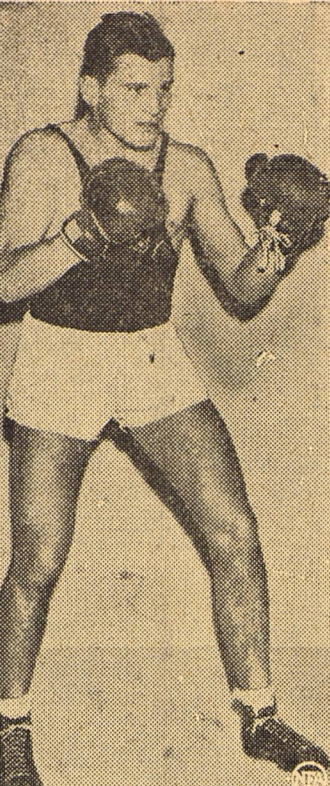

By The Associated Press Lufkin's Panthers set a merry scoring pace along the Texas schoolboy football trail.

The boys from the piney woods have rolled up 329 points in nine games—an average of 36.4.

The second high scoring team in Class AA football is Brownsville with 321 points in nine games, while Austin is third with 285, Paris fourth with 273 and Brackenridge (San Antonio) fifth with 257.

Defensively the top teams are Pampa and Highland Park (Dallas). Each in eight games has allowed only 19 points by the opposition.

Rice Given Edge Over TCU; SMU To Defeat Bears; Tulsa, Hogs

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

The Rice Owls reach another climax in their football championship hopes Saturday when they go to Fort Worth to battle Texas Christian in the headliner of the Southwest Conference for the week. There can be no slip-up now for the embattled Owls who have two games ahead of them with the certainty of a tie for the title if they win them both. They could take the championship undisputed should Texas—the only other team with just one loss—stumble before Texas A. and M. at College Station Nov. 29.

Texas rests this week preparing for the Aggies, who also are idle, but they will be watching the Fort Worth game with much more than casual interest.

While the Owls and Horned Frogs play, Southern Methodist will be in Waco battling their arch-rivals, the Baylor Bears. S. M. U. Still has an outside chance of sharing the title should Rice and Texas be upset. Baylor is out of the race.

Razorbacks Play Tulsa At Tulsa Thursday the Arkansas Razorbacks meet the Tulsa University Golden Hurricane in the final inter-sectional game of the year for a Southwest Conference team.

Having hit four for four last week and not knowing when to quit on a good thing, we submit with bravado these selections for this week:

Thursday—Arkansas vs Tulsa at Tulsa: The Golden Hurricane will sweep the Razorbacks clear back to Fayetteville; Tulsa by four touchdowns.

Saturday—Rice vs Texas Christian at Fort Worth: A great game, no surprise should T.C.U. win but we're taking the Owls by another narrow squeak; Southern Methodist vs Baylor at Waco: Ought to be a lot of scoring in this one with the Methodists getting more points than the Baptists.

DOWN SPORTSLANE TANNER LAINE

If all the adhesive tape necessary to patch up Midland's Bulldogs Thursday was straightened out it would reach from here to Guam. And it takes a B-29 35 hours to fly that. This is no coach-printed handout. The kids are bruised and battered. Two regulars are out. Another is doubtful. They are young and light but they are ours. Boost 'em, fans, Thursday, they can't win if you don't think they can.

Ever think about the handicaps some guys overcome to play football? Bob Carley can't hear a thing but he's a standout right end on this year's Minnesota team. And you don't make Bierman's Gophers if you haven't got the stuff. Carley is an accomplished lip reader, getting his signals in the huddle by leaning down and facing the quarterback. He even "wisecracks" by signs at his buddies. Some fellows have bad eyes and go on to play with special built-in glasses. You surely have seen other guys playing with a noseguard or some special brace. One Joe played this season with 14 stitches in his chin.

Remember the one-armed player Tulsa had, a few falls back, who gained All-American mention? He's just one.

Texas School for Deaf used to be the scourge of downstate teams, knocking off the teams as if they had a "walkie talkie."

It all adds up to an American boy a football and he'll play.

ROUNDING UP THE STRAYS A Midland oil man, "Chief" Morningstar, is a 100 per cent backer of the Bulldogs and says "quote me, they are a good ball club" . . . A proposal to limit the number of players competing in a golf tournament was up for discussion at the Professional Golfers of America parley . . . There goes the guy we bought last in the Calcutta . . . Just my "O'Mulligan" luck . . . $68,000 on ice . . . Close to $68,000 has been spent improving Duquesne Gardens home of the Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League . . . Now that they don't hide "A" gasoline cards at big games, here's the attendance figures last Saturday: At Philadelphia, Army-Penn. 73,000 . . . At Columbus, Ohio, Illinois - Ohio State, 70,287 . . . At Evanston, Ill., Notre Dame-Northwestern, 49,500 . . . At Baltimore, Navy-Wisconsin, 35,616 . . . At Austin, Texas-TCU, 32,000 . . . At Atlanta, Ga., Auburn-Georgia, 20,000 . . . And a lot of little boys like us that see 'em from the bleachers, through a knothole or from the press box.

District Grid Titles Go On Line Thursday By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Championships go on the line in every section of Texas schoolboy football Thursday as traditional Thanksgiving Day games are played from Panhandle to Gulf.

Top battles on the gridiron menu: Vernon at Wichita Falls for the District 2 title. El Paso High vs Austin (El Paso) for the championship of District 4. Paschal vs North Side for the pennant in District 7.

Breckenridge at Mineral Wells for the District 9 title. Marshall at Tyler for the title of District 10. Jefferson (San Antonio) vs Brackenridge (San Antonio) for the title of District 15 - if Jefferson wins. Otherwise, the decision will wait until Friday when Austin plays Kerrville.

Friday will determine several other titles. Crozier Tech meets Sunset for the Dallas district crown on that day. Lufkin plays Jacksonville for the championship of District 12. Galveston clashes with Goose Creek for the District 14 flag and Brownsville takes on Harlingen - the last team in its path toward undisputed honors in District 15.

In District 3 Thursday San Angelo plays at Abilene, Lamesa at Midland, Sweetwater at Big Spring.

$27,498,000 Is Paid Texans As Insurance Benefits

NEW YORK—Texas families received $27,498,000 in life insurance death benefits in the first nine months of the year, under 23,517 claims, the Institute of Life Insurance reported Wednesday. This compares with $25,181,000 in the corresponding period of 1944, when 22,003 claims were paid, and $20,362,000 in the like period of pre-war 1941, when 18,130 claims were paid.

"This continuing flow of benefits is an important stabilizing force in the present period of readjustment to a peace economy," said Holgar J. Johnson, institute president. "Insurance benefit dollars have continued to go to families in emergency circumstances and they are funds which go into immediate circulation throughout the community."

"The aggregate of death benefits in these nine months has continued high largely because of war death claims which have offset the benefits of a continued low civilian death rate. War claims did not fall off immediately after V-J Day because of the natural delays in transmitting notices from distant theaters and in clearing up cases previously reported missing."

Of the aggregate payments in this state, $20,522,000 was under 8,061 ordinary policies; $4,187,000 was under 1,966 group life insurance policies; and $2,789,000 was under 13,490 industrial insurance policies.

For the nation as a whole, $967,474,000 was paid as death claims under 1,008,000 policies in the first nine months, compared with $899,593,000 under 941,856 policies in the corresponding period of last year and $751,490,000 under 818,255 policies in the first three quarters of 1941.

Emerge As Sultry Sirens

Rita Hayworth: bodes no good

Lana Turner: mean and murderous

Barbara Stanwyck: deadly

Lynn Bari: sultry and seductive

It seems like only yesterday that the sultry stars pictured above were the movies' nice girls, the kind you'd want your sister to be type. Now look at them. They're to the forefront among the Vicious Vampires who, according to NEA Hollywood columnist, Erskine Johnson, will reign as queens of the postwar screen. Miss Turner is doing the murderous "The Postman Always Rings Twice," Miss Hayworth acts a ruthless vampire in "Gilda," Miss Stanwyck up and murders her aunt in "Love Lies Bleeding" and Miss Bari is the femme fatale in "Shock."

William Shakespeare had four. The word parliament is derived from the French parler, meaning to speak.

TIP: HOW TO DINE OUT LIKE A KING

NEW YORK—(AP)—Patrons of a Broadway cafeteria eating from plain, sturdy restaurant plates are puzzled to find one diner eating, night after night, from dazzling gold and silver plate.

He's a New York physician who takes his equipment with him. An attractive wooden case he carries contains a silver cup, gold-plated cup, silver trays and dishes. When these utensils are filled from the cafeteria's steam tables, the physician sits down to dine like royalty, using two dainty napkins from his case.

The meal finished, the cafeteria permits him to do his own KP on the spot.

Plane, About Empty Of Gas, Lands And Taxies Up To House

By JACK RUTLEDGE AP Feature Writer

The postwar world, with almost foolproof planes and dream gadgets, may be right on top of us.

J. B. Jackson and G. S. Johnson flew one of the first postwar-built private planes to Waco. En route they almost gave out of gas, and landed neatly in a farmer's meadow.

They taxied up to the front door of the farmhouse, and filled up with ordinary gasoline.

They said that in Indiana, they found an airplane court, with tourist cabins right at the field.

But a 14-year-old Waco girl isn't sold on these modern machines.

She was picking cotton on the R. C. Scoggins place. She saw his car and obeyed that impulse.

She climbed in, somehow got the engine started, put the car in gear, and ran through a fence, across a fish pond, and finally crashed against the side of a house.

She climbed out and went back to picking cotton. Deputy Sheriff Martin Owen said it was a hard job getting the automobile out of the yard.

Back in Waco, a man gave a friend a lift and landed in a hospital.

The friend, who didn't want to go home, got a shotgun and clubbed the wood smartian. The shotgun wielder had a few lacerations on the forehead, but the friends who gave him a lift was "black and blue" all over" hospital attendants said.

EAT HERRING BREAD

BERLIN—(P)—The Berlin press published this recipe as one of a series of helpful hints to harrassed Hausfrauen: "Herring-flavored bread: take herring head, remove eyes; boil head with bones, strain off liquid and mix with flour, adding salt and vinegar to taste. This should be served with onion rings or chopped turnip to get the full effect."

NEW SHIP SLIDES DOWN BUTTERMILK WAY

INDEPENDENCE, ORE.—(P)—The launching of the ferryboat Claggett III on the Willamette River was marked by enough enthusiasm to offset the lack of spectacle. No champagne was available, so Mayor Maurice J. Butler substituted a gallon of buttermilk.

Then an argument arose as to which end of the craft was the bow. Fortunately, Judge Herman Van Well of the county court was on hand, and he made a swift judicial decision.

Butler swung the bottle of buttermilk with a vigor that would have done justice to a Henry Kaiser launching, and a bulldozer pushed the boat into the river.

Only One In 100 Veterans Finds Place To House Family In Cities

By JEAN GEORGE NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—More than 20,000 bitter veterans are walking the streets of New York or sitting 50 deep at agencies and housing centers, waiting for apartments.

At night they bunk with their wives and children in family parlors, on cots in friends' homes, or if they are single on blankets on the kitchen floor of any stranger who will offer a roof.

At daybreak they start apartment hunting. One of the most helpful sources is the Officers Service Committee. This volunteer organization has a waiting list of 5,000 and has set up offices in a rent-free room at the lobby of the Commodore Hotel.

Approximately 200 applicants go through this office every day. On an average day, two are lucky enough to find homes.

Hopeless Bottleneck

Mrs. Herbert L. Carlebach, a vivacious strawberry blonde of abounding energy, listens to each story and wrings her hands. She has taken the job as chairman of Officers Service Committee and is about ready to resign after four years because of the hopelessness and bottlenecks in the New York housing situation. She is on the phone every three minutes and carries buried in her pocketbook the addresses of perhaps two apartments that she brings out for the most desperate cases after long deliberation and weighing.

"We all do that," she said as she thoughtfully told an assistant to give her pocketbook apartment to a Navy commander who had been calling every day for five weeks. "After all, some of them can stay with their relatives in the living room. It's bad, but it's a roof."

Mrs. Carlebach said she goes to bed worrying about the veterans who come into her office. At this point, a stocky corporal bounced up to this reporter, pounded his fist in the palm of his hand and said: "Some one has got to listen to my story. Maybe you will. I have been in every housing bureau in this city. I just came from the City Vacancy Bureau, and there are nothing but cold water flats and old bug-ridden rooms."

"I won't give you my name and please don't take my picture. If you did they'd put me on the bottom of the list. I want an apartment."

The corporal brought over his little brunette wife.

"We have been going from hotel to hotel for weeks," the corporal went on. "And I'm sore. We can only stay in one hotel five days and then we have to pack and move on to another. Not that the hotels haven't been swell, but I can't afford this life. My mustering out pay is almost gone and I haven't a job or a roof."

Vagabonding

A handsome lieutenant colonel in the Army Air Forces, whose wife sat in a chair clenching her hands over her obvious pregnancy, told his story. In ten days they had moved four times.

"First we borrowed a room in Manhattan for two nights," the colonel said quietly. "The City Vacancy Bureau then got us a flat in Brooklyn. We stayed there one night. It was dirty and full of cockroaches. We couldn't stand it. From there we camped in a Park Avenue apartment with some friends for four days, and finally went to a hotel when we had worn out what we felt was our welcome. Now we have to get an apartment. My wife goes to the hospital in a few days and we must have a home for our child."

He laughed as he recalled the 10 days of vagabonding. "It's so bad it's funny. You might add that my wife was overseas with the Red Cross for a year and a half."

A lieutenant came into the room. He had obviously been there many times before as he took over the floor with an air of familiarity and talked to the switchboard girls in that old friend tone of voice.

One Room $150

"I have found some apartments," he said. "They are just being renovated and the landlady is taking interviews. One room $150, two rooms $175—anybody got a million bucks?"

He is a repatriated German prisoner, and had been living behind the German lines for two years. He leaned against the switchboard and ran his fingers through his hair.

"The Germans could find us a place to stay with half the nation blasted to ruins, but New York can't find us a one room apartment. My wife and I are living with her parents in Brooklyn in a two-room apartment. Her brother and his wife are expected any day. They are all swell people, but gee, we want some privacy."

Others in the room were asked how many were in their apartments.

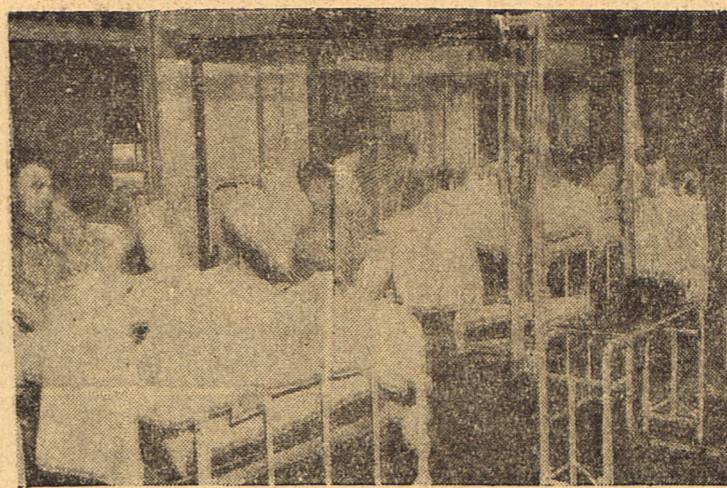

"Four adults in two rooms."

"Four adults and three children and everybody has a cold."

"We're living in hotels."

"This goes on all day. Meanwhile the men are being discharged in New York at the rate of 500 a day, 3,500 a week. By June there will be 100,000 homeless veterans."

Police Officer Joseph Cicolese, who found the birds dodging traffic, said they will remain in jail until claimed "which should be before Thanksgiving."

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off unguinely weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any drugist, four ounces of liquid Barcol Concentrate. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

against cold. Invitation to snow or rain is a zelan-treated cotton lining which turns out for protection as quick as a flash. Other winter togs boast style tricks and matching caps which catch a child's fancy. These win mother's vote because weather-repellent finishes promise to keep the apple of her eye safe from snow, rain or sleet. Proof that togs can be both smart and weather-proof are the two snow-suits shown.

Ranchers In Nebraska Use Planes To Round Up Strays And Check Fences

By TIM PARKER AP Newsfeatures
ATKINSON, NEB. — Rudolph Dvorak, Green Valley rancher, was flitting along in his plane one day on an errand when he saw a neighbor down below. The neighbor was Joe Dobrovoly, who was hunting some stray cattle and having trouble finding them in this rugged country. Dvorak soon saw them from the air, flew over to the discouraged neighbor and shouted down to him where to find them. That is one of the innumerable examples of how the light airplane is becoming part of the daily life of ranchers in northeast Nebraska. Truck With Wings. Recently Dvorak's brother-in-law, Robert Clifford, needed a spare part for some farm equipment. He borrowed Dvorak's plane and in 24 minutes was back from town with the needed part. Korea, Strange Land Of Antiquity, Awaits Modern Statehood

By HAL BOYLE
SEOUL, KOREA.—(AP)— In this "land of the morning calm" you have to stay up all night on New Year's eve or your eyebrows will turn gray. That, at least, is one of many popular beliefs. Korea, waiting impatiently to essay modern statehood whenever the Russian and American troops depart, still leans heavily on her antiquity. During 40 years of Japanese occupation and industrialization, the country has been Westernized to a degree, but education has been limited to a small segment of the population. In the rural areas literally millions of illiterates still adhere to the old customs, fables and foibles. The women of each household have an inner "hen room" which no male is allowed to enter. Koreans have an easy way of disposing of unwelcome callers: Whether you have a servant or not, the visitor arriving at your door must stand outside and bellow, "tell the master that so-and-so is calling."

If you don't like the guy or he bores you, you just raise your voice as if addressing your imaginary servant and bellow back, "Tell him the master is not in." The visitor gets the idea and scrams. Also, when someone calls on you the first time he is required by custom to start right off by telling his full name, age, occupation and style of living. Then you know whether to give him the brush-off or break out your best bottle. Usually, however, in contrast with the Japanese system of dishing out tea to all comers, the Korean offers visitors tobacco. When someone dies, an announcer climbs to the roof of the house and waves the clothes of the departed to make public his passing. Women mourners are hired for the funeral. No cats are allowed in the room where the body is kept.

Plymouth Celebrates First Pilgrim Thanksgiving With Food Aplenty

Editor's Note: This is the story of Thanksgiving, written as if it happened yesterday. Because the exact date of the Pilgrims' week of rejoicing in 1621 is not known, the date line has been omitted.

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Newsfeatures Writer

PLYMOUTH, MASS.—This town settled back to a normal workaday routine today, after a week of feasting and rejoicing to mark the harvesting of its first crops.

Unexpected guests at the celebration, first of its kind held here since the colonists landed in December of last year, were 90 Indian braves who accompanied the invited Chief Massasoit.

This sudden addition to the Pilgrim table brought a drain on the food supply, which the Indians solved themselves by capturing five deer to add to the menu.

After almost a year of hardship and short rations, one of the principal features of the celebration, of course, was food.

The 50 colonists—all that remain from the more than 100 who originally set out on the Mayflower—were divided into households.

Over each household presided a Pilgrim mother skilled in the culinary art, whose responsibility it was to keep the pewter plates filled.

The menu included oysters, ducks, geese, roast venison, turkey, partridge, barley loafs and cakes of Indian meal.

The game supply was obtained by four hunters sent out by Gov. William Bradford. They were lucky enough to find in one day enough game to last the entire colony for a week.

Although both the long hard winter and the tang of the autumn air made the townspeople thankful for such plenty, there were other reasons of rejoicing.

Peace had been made with the Indians. The beaver trade is under way.

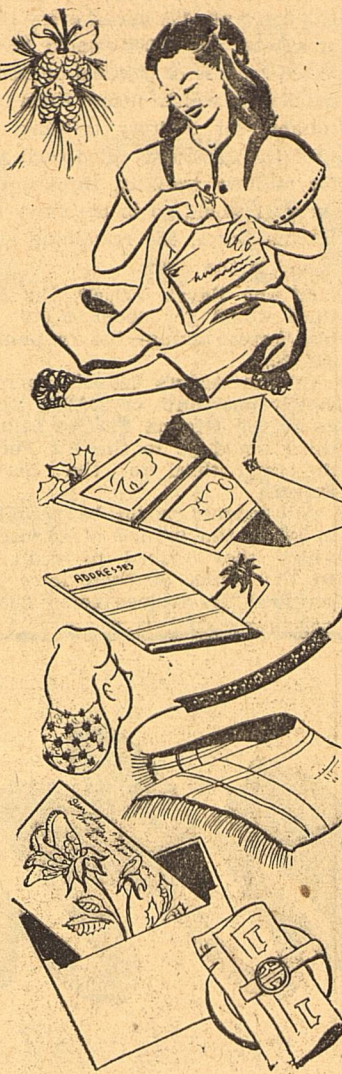

There have not been any serious illnesses for several months. And there are 11 houses in Plymouth—four of them for the common use.

In addition, the regular weekly food ration, formerly consisting of a peck of meal from the stores of the Mayflower, which left Plymouth in April of this year, has been supplemented with a peck of maize.

The 20 acres of corn, planted with the advice and assistance of the Indian brave Squanto, were successfully harvested before the celebration, at which Captain Miles Standish staged a military review.

Less successful were the six or seven acres of English wheat, barley and peas—a loss which Gov. William Bradford attributes either to bad seed, or late season or some other unknown defect.

SEND A SMALL GIFT ALONG WITH YOUR CHRISTMAS CARD

(Lord and Taylor)
Tuck a surprise in your greeting card.

By ROSELLEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—This year there are lots of inexpensive answers to that Christmas puzzle: What to buy as a small remembrance for those friends to whom you want to send a little something more than a holiday greeting?

Main floor counters are beginning to fill with useful novelties small enough to slip in with the Christmas card, several of which are sketched here. A pair of stockings—nylons, of course, if they're available—is always welcome. A flat, folding pocket-size picture frame, which can be opened up and slipped in an envelope, comes in bright-colored leather for women, and dark colors for men.

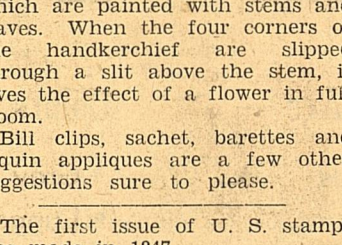

The leather address book shown is also thin enough to be tucked into a wallet.

Kerchief Flowers
For the flamor girl, why not send her one of those embroidered or beaded velvet headbands, or a sequin-studded net for her evening hair-do?

No one ever has enough scarves or ascots, and this season there are so many new ways to wear them. Nor can anyone have too many handkerchiefs. One store is packaging them in colored gift cards which are painted with stems and leaves. When the four corners of the handkerchief are slipped through a slit above the stem, it gives the effect of a flower in full bloom.

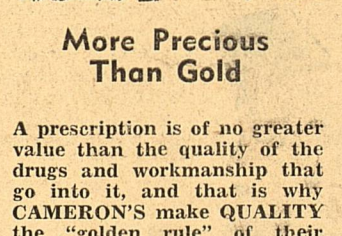

Bill clips, sachet, barettes and sequin appliques are a few other suggestions sure to please.

The first issue of U. S. stamps was made in 1847.

American Occupation Forces Show Sympathy For Starving Japanese

By HAL BOYLE

TOKYO—(AP)—Japanese misery is simultaneously creating here one of the greatest black markets in the world, and slowly stirring among American occupation troops a strong sympathy for the people they have been trained for years to hate. It goes against the grain of the American soldier to see even enemies suffer, if they are old men and wives and children. And you can walk anywhere in the rusted ruins of this Japanese capital and see these people dully and silently starving.

Whatever world comeback Japan's present servile leaders may be plotting in generations to come—and it's doubtful if their dreams of future empire have died, any more than Nazism can be said to be fully stamped out—vast numbers of the tired and numbed people combing the wreckage of their finest city won't live to lift the banner of the Rising Sun again.

Those leaders won't starve this winter, but thousands of the poor people who dumbly followed them into the war will. The rich Zaibatsu may deplore the breaking up of their huge trusts and profitable cartels. Their plants and buildings may be taken from them. But some wealth will remain to them. They won't die of pneumonia, tuberculosis, exposure or malnutrition.

Dying thus is strictly the privilege of the poor and the former middle classes—Japanese who had no country house to which they could move when firebombs razed their Tokyo homes, and who now have no reservoir of hidden yen to buy food on the black market.

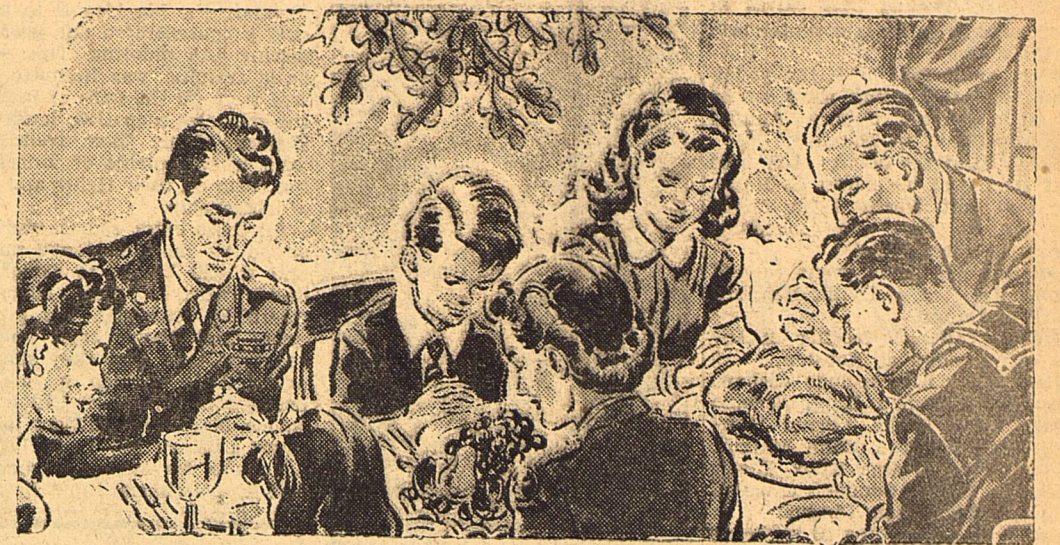

There are two black markets in Japan now—the black market of money and the black market of compassion. Both are run by American soldiers violating orders. One is organized, the other isn't. The government is trying to break up the first. It is more or less winking at the second—as it probably is forced to do.

The money black market is run both by individual soldiers and by highly organized military gangs operating with Japanese or European civilian fences.

Already hungry Japanese on bicycles openly halt passing soldiers carrying parcels and try to buy any food or cigars. A carton of cigars, the universal currency of the needy, brings up to 300 yen—$20.

Little effort is being made to break up the black market of compassion. The active ones here are soldiers and officers who give up their own rations of food, candy and cigars to impoverished Japanese acquaintances, or toss them—almost with a guilty gesture—to the poor they pass in the streets.

THANKSGIVING

Young Beef Raisers Feeding Out Calves For Coming Shows

The ranchers and beef raisers of tomorrow—Midland 4-H Club boys—are busy feeding beef calves in preparation for the late winter and spring shows.

Main event for which the young stockmen are feeding show calves is the Midland County Annual Livestock Show in March.

Some Midland County 4-H beef calf stock will be shown at Houston and Fort Worth if the calves develop in time for scheduled events of those cities.

Another attractive event to 4-H clubbers is the Sand Hills Hereford Show at Odessa.

Jimmie O'Neal is feeding an Angus calf to show at Houston.

Beef calf raisers include Richard Countess, Goodman King, Norman Drake, Glen Drake, Leland Howard, Bobby Howard, John Midkiff, Weldon Free, George Knox, Henry Locklar, Gene Conner (Angus), Wayland Livingston (Angus).

4-H boys are feeding 32 lambs as compared with about 12 last year and 25 swine are on feed, County Agent Buck Green reported.

Feeds Calf for Brother
Bobby Howard is taking over the feeding of a calf from his brother, Royce, who is in the service.

Royce Howard last year won a trip to Chicago in a rural electric sponsored contest. He fed out the champion milk fed calf of Midland County in 1944.

Beef calves are further advanced in finish this year than in previous years, according to Green. The number of lambs are increased. Lamb feeding is about the same as last year. Swine have increased. Twenty-five barrows are on feed.

Midland's 4-H show includes entries from five counties, Midland, Ector, Martin, Upton, and Glasscock.

Army Prefers Continuous Plan For Military Training During Peace

By PETER EDSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—In the original Army and Navy staff planning on the universal military training program now requested by President Truman, the big idea is to provide only a concentrated one year's soldiering and saloring. This year of basic training was intended to be free from all the frills of improving the trainees' education, lowering illiteracy, giving them training for work in war plants or indoctrinating them on their rights and duties of citizenship.

All these extra courses were suggested by the President's message, and it will be up to Congress to decide whether these educational flourishes belong in the program.

Army and Navy staff planners aren't so sure that they should be expected to include a one-year's post graduate vocational high school course, along with military training. Their primary job is to build up a reserve for national emergency, and these charts show how they intend to tackle the job.

Army and Navy planners also believe that the year's training should be continuous and not broken up into four summer vacations. Under the former plan, the young man's civilian life is broken only once. Under the latter, it would be interrupted four times.

993,000 A Year
Since it takes a week or two of travel, preliminary issuance of equipment and physical conditioning before any man can take military training, with an equal amount of time to be mustered out at the end of each period, the amount of actual military training which the trainees would get under the two plans would vary greatly.

In a year's uninterrupted training, the young man would get 48 weeks training. Breaking up the year's training into four summer vacations would give the young man only 37 weeks of training.

About 1,200,000 young men reach the age of 18 every year. The Surgeon General estimates that about 17.3 per cent—173 out of every 1,000, or a total of 207,000—would be rejected because of physical or mental handicaps which make them unsuitable for military training.

Of the 993,000 accepted each year for military training, three out of every 11 would go to the Navy and Marine Corps, the remaining eight going to the Army.

Of the Navy's 273,000, the Marines would get about 45,000, the sea forces taking the remaining 228,000.

Of the Army's 720,000, approximately one-third, or 240,000, would go to the Ground Forces; another third would go to the Air Forces, the final third to the Service Forces.

All trainees would be permitted to select the branch of service in which they wished to train, up to the limits of each force and provided the trainee could qualify for the technical skill required.

Suppose the young man went into the Army. He would first have to undergo nine weeks of basic training, regardless of whether he ended up in air or ground forces. Here he would learn the fundamental life of the soldier—personal hygiene, first aid, how to defend himself against gas and mines, how to handle rifle, grenade and other small arms.

Specialize
The trainees would then be broken up for Air, Ground or Service Forces training. In the Air Forces the young man would get 13 weeks of basic technical training, alike for all, and 13 weeks of advanced technical training.

In the Service Forces he would get 16 weeks of basic and 10 or 12 weeks of advanced technical training to qualify him for duty with Medical Corps, Signal Corps, Engineers, Transportation Corps and so on.
