Large Number Of Holiday Deaths Expected

Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported today that the DPS Statistical Services estimates a large number of persons will die in traffic accidents during the upcoming Fourth of July holiday. Speir said, "Deaths so far during 1977 are running higher than expected due to excessive use of alcohol and speed."

"Operation Motorcade" is designed to focus attention on the added dangers of death in holiday travel. Traffic fatalities will be counted by the DPS throughout the Fourth of July period. These totals will be announced three times daily in order to keep safety uppermost in the minds of the drivers.

Major C.W. Bell, DPS Region 5 Commander of Lubbock, said, "Most traffic accidents are made more tragic by the fact that they could have been avoided. Too often the best driver lets his attention wander, and the

City Receives June Sales Tax Check

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday his office has mailed checks totaling $39.3 million to 865 Texas cities for their June share of the one percent city sales tax.

The City of Haskell received $13,250.54 for this period. The latest checks bring to $167.1 million the amount rebated to the cities to date this year, a 15.1 percent increase over the same period last year.

The City of Houston again received the fattest check—$7.5 million—while Dallas and Fort Worth received $4.8 million and 1.8 million, respectively.

Roanoke received the smallest check—$15.79. Bullock also reminded Texas taxpayers of the following bills approved by the 1977 Legislature which will affect sales tax collections:

—SB 110 exempts from the sales tax syringes and hypodermic needles used for medical purposes. The bill is effective Aug. 29.

—HB 694 exempts newspapers and subscriptions sales from taxes from state and local sales taxes effective Aug. 29.

—HB 1831, now in effect, exempts from the sales tax the sale and rental of motion picture film to or by movie theaters and television stations.

Bullock said that the exemptions will have only a minor effect on overall sales and use tax collections.

OES MEETING

Members of the Haskell Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will host a special patriotic program on their regular meeting night next Tuesday. All local Masons and their wives are invited to attend the program which will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Costly Space How To Get 30% More

"Space emphasis" in home planning can give a family about 30 per cent more of it, says Mrs. Sue Young, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Space is expensive, but it is abundant when families re-think their shelter needs—remembering that average American home designs waste about 30 per cent of their total space, she said.

Mrs. Young is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Most important, she says, is to budget for the most square footage possible for family indoor freedom.

To save space and money—build fewer walls, she advises.

"Fewer walls mean fewer halls—which need only five per cent of total floor space—freeing the surplus for well-planned storage space.

"When storage needs are met, most bedrooms can be smaller.

"That, in turn, frees living areas of the cluttered, closed-in feeling and adds spaciousness to family living areas."

When it makes sense, let one room do-for-two, she suggests.

"A living-den, for example, is practical while the formal living room/dining room syndrome usually is not, except on holidays."

Also, the master bedroom might play a double role by serving as a sitting room by day.

Save space in a compact kitchen and bathrooms, too, by planning them with "Step-savings" in mind.

Overall, stay stingy with footage in lesser-used areas—and spend the leftover freely in family breathing s-p-a-c-e.

IRS Revises Sick Pay Exclusions

The Internal Revenue Service announced that it has issued a revised version of the 1976 sick pay exclusion form to enable taxpayers to compute the exclusion which has been extended for a year by the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977. The revised Form 2440, marked with a 1977 revision date, is available by writing or calling the IRS.

The legislation extends until January 1, 1977, provisions of the law which allowed a sick/disability pay exclusion for all qualifying taxpayers. Previously, the Tax Reform Act of 1976 had revoked, retroactive to January 1, 1976, this exclusion for all but totally and permanently disabled retirees under age 65.

As a result of the change in law, eligible taxpayers can exclude from income up to $100 a week sick/disability pay received during 1976 when they were out of work while sick, injured or disabled. Disabled retirees cannot, however, claim the exclusion after mandatory retirement.

Taxpayers who made an election under the Tax Reform Act to recover their contributions to an annuity or pension plan now have the option to withdraw that election. However, if by revoking the election and claiming the sick/disability pay exclusion there is no change in tax liability, an amended return need not be filed.

The IRS cautioned that the new law provided relief to taxpayers only for their 1976 income taxes.

Taxpayers who have filed their 1976 income tax returns, and are now eligible to claim the exclusion for sick or disability pay, should file a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, and attach a Form 2440 (revised 1977) showing the computation.

Taxpayers filing an amended return are cautioned that any changes to gross income could affect other items on the return such as certain tax credits and itemized deductions.

Taxpayers who have not yet filed, can claim the sick pay exclusion on line 15b of their 1976 Form 1040, attaching a revised Form 2440 showing how the exclusion was determined.

Rams, Tigers Tied For League Lead

The Haskell Little League moved into its last week with the Rams and Tigers in a virtual tie. Both teams have lost 3 games, but the Tigers have a make up game with the Hawks. The Tigers come from behind twice last week to win in extra innings. They defeated the Rams 3-2 in 7 innings after trailing for 5 innings. They then defeated the Eagles after going into the 6th (last regular inning) trailing 7-4. The Tigers tied the game and won in the 7th inning. The Rams kept pace by defeating the Hawks 21-4.

In other outstanding events for the week Travis Young and Doug Lanier combined for a no-hitter and the Cubs defeated the Eagles 6-1.

This reporter is trying to secure the results of the minor league season for at least the league standing.

The All Stars will be announced at the last game. However, there is a possibility of a playoff game so All Stars will be announced at that game. The mothers of the minor league are playing the mothers of the Major League in a benefit game on Friday June 24th at 8 o'clock in the Little League Park. The money raised will be used to help defray last week's expenses.

Absent ON HEALTH

Texas Department of Health Resources
Fratis L. Duff M.D., Director

Mosquitoes have a way of turning up as uninvited guests at picnics and backyard cookouts, for instance.

But you don't have to let mosquitoes take all the fun out of your summer fun. There are some measures you can take to ward off their attacks, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, an experienced agency in this field.

Bountiful—and frequent—spring rains throughout most of Texas have left the state ripe for mosquito infestations in practically all areas. Perhaps you've already seen and felt evidence of a mosquito hatch in your own yards, or in a camping or picnic area.

It only takes a little standing water and some adult mosquitoes to bring on the pain, discomfort, aggravation and sometimes disease from the pesky insects.

Water in which to pass their early life stages is a necessity for mosquitoes. Adult flying mosquitoes frequently rest in grass, shrubbery or other foliage but they don't develop there. In walking through such areas you can run into a swarm of them, leading you to believe they hatch out there.

Some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where they hatch in a day or two. Other mosquitoes lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans, or other water-holding containers in which they may remain unhatched for weeks or months until they are covered with water.

With both types of mosquitoes, the wigglers or larvae grow quickly and turn into tumbler or pupae. Soon the skin of the tumbler splits open and out climbs another hungry mosquito—looking for you as its victim.

In addition to being pests, says the Texas Department of Health Resources' General Sanitation Division, mosquitoes can spread disease. Such diseases as encephalitis, yellow fever, dengue fever and malaria are common diseases spread by the flying insect. They are major health problems in other parts of the world.

One of the latest epidemics of mosquito-borne diseases in Texas was Vanezuolan Equine Encephalitis (VEE) which struck the state in 1971 after entering through Mexico. The disease hit many people—mo-ally, physicians differ in their checkup routines, but the basics remain the same. These basics include a general physical examination; a careful breast examination; a quick, painless Pap test; inspection of the internal and external genitals; a manual examination of the womb (uterus), ovaries and rectum. Your physician will note your health history. If you have any questions, or conditions you are concerned about be sure to speak up. Your gynecological checkup is a vital part of health protection and a major safeguard against cancer.

An automobile salesman asks: "How many cancer drugs have scientists developed? And, are they getting to the cancer patient or are they just for experimental or research work?"

ANSWERline: Some fifty chemical compounds have been found to be clinically effective against cancer. About thirty-six of these drugs are already commercially available by prescription. Medical science has learned that drugs can be combined to deliver the maximum beneficial effect. And, drugs plus other therapies such as radiation or surgery are frequently used in a combined approach to treat the cancer patient. This kind of team approach is being used in the treatment of many forms of cancer including leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, breast cancer, bone cancer, etc.

A reader explains: "Are more Americans smoking cigarettes or aren't they? I seem to be reading a lot of contradictory stories."

ANSWERline: Here is the correct story. In June, the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health, a Federal Government agency, reported that the proportion of adult male and female smokers has gone down in almost every age category. Whereas 52.8 percent of American men smoked cigarettes in 1964, 42.2 percent did so in 1970, and 39.3 percent in 1975; whereas adult women smokers were 31.5 percent of the population in 1964, they comprised 30.5 percent in 1970 and 28.9 percent in 1975. While this very positive and encouraging downward trend has taken place, another recent study, this one done for the American Cancer Society, shows an alarming upward trend in teenage smoking. For example, between 1969 and 1975 one-half million more teenage girls (ages 13-17) became cigarette smokers. Hence we have a very sad contradiction: on one hand, the proportion of adult smokers has dropped, on the other, the young are joining the cigarette ranks in greater numbers. The ACS puts the blame squarely on the cigarette "establishment" for luring pre-teen girls and boys into this dangerous habit.

A middle-aged woman asks: "I think that I am due for a gynecological examination. What should a complete examination include?"

ANSWERline: Quite naturally, physicians differ in their checkup routines, but the basics remain the same. Terry Lynn Walton and Tommy Ray Matthews were united in marriage June 18, 1977 in the Paint Creek Baptist Church with the Rev. Wayne Sistrunk, pastor officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glen Walton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Elton Matthews of Grand-

Prarie. Given in marriage by her father the bride wore an old Fashioned Victorian Style

A high Victorian neckline, repeated the lace ruffling. Long Pearl beaded lace sleeves tapered to ruffled cuffs, falling over the wrists. The full circular skirt fell in panels, with pearl beaded Venise lace medallions. The entire ensemble and

CITY NEWS

The Rule City Sanitation Department is going to pick up trees and shrub trimmings during the summer at the time of the regular trash pickup, provided that there are no limbs longer than three feet in length and not so heavy that one man could not handle them. They can still pick up leaves and trash that is bagged or in a box that can be tossed into the packer unit. This will be done on a routine basis, so there is no need to call city hall.

The City of Rule received the quarterly check for the 1% city sales tax in the amount of $2,033.91 on June 15th. The Abilene paper had stated that Rule received $903.64 last month, but that item was in error. That amount went to the city of Runge, and Rule was not due any payment last month. The most important question is: "What must I do to be saved?" The book of Acts in the New Testament answers this question by showing us what action people of the first century took to obey the Lord. What saved them will save us because God's will has not changed.

Here's what they did:

- Believed gospel message (Acts 16:31-33)
- Repented of their sins (Acts 2:38)
- Confessed Jesus (Acts 8:37; Rom. 10:9, 10)
- Were immersed in water for remission of sins (in every case of New Testament conversion—1 Pet. 3:20, 21)

Write us for more detailed information or study for yourself the Acts of the Apostles.

The Bible Says: "These were more noble than those in Thessaonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. (Acts 17:11)

In Texas, land management for wildlife is in the hands of the farmers, ranchers and other landowners. Ninety-five percent of the land in Texas is privately owned. The wildlife on these lands belongs to the citizens.

All wildlife, game species and non-game species, must have their habitat requirements fulfilled to be able to survive, prosper and maintain their numbers. The most critical habitat needs are year-round food and cover.

The cropland farmer holds the key to wildlife management practices that can be a great benefit to species such as bobwhite quail, mourning doves, pheasants and cottontail rabbits. Leaving crop residues and wast grains on the soil surface after harvest will provide more than adequate food and cover through the critical winter months for the smaller wildlife species.

Surveys on croplands have shown that waste grains on the land following harvest average 38 pounds per acre for sunflowers, 89 pounds per acre for grain sorghum, 113 pounds per acre for corn and 138 pounds per acre for soybeans. Project these figures to the total acres in these crops annually in Texas, shows there is ample fall and winter food for wildlife on croplands if it is left on the soil surface.

Aside from benefiting wildlife, proper crop residue management has other beneficial effects. Crop residues left on the soil surface protect it from wind and water erosion. It improves water intake by reducing crusting during rains, as well as holding blowing snow in the winter.

Minimum tillage practices in conjunction with good residue management practices will mean increased income to the farmer. Reducing the number of trips over the land will reflect substantial savings in capital inputs such as labor, energy and wear and tear on machinery.

Rangeland wildlife species such as deer, turkeys and scaled quail have somewhat different and often complex food and cover requirements. They depend largely on woody and weedy plants for food and cover.

Competition between domestic livestock and wildlife is often overlooked by the landowner. Competition will vary with the seasons of the year and the classes of domestic livestock on the land. Goats and deer are strongly competitive for food year-long while sheep and deer compete for weedy plants during spring and early summer.

Competition between wildlife and domestic livestock can be reduced by using grazing systems that will provide alternate periods of grazing and rest by the domestic livestock. Observations have shown that deer and turkeys will move into a pasture recently vacated by domestic livestock. When significant wildlife populations are on the land, they should be considered when stocking rates and periods of use are planned for domestic livestock.

On deer and turkey ranges, food and cover are often provided by the same vegetation. Indiscriminate brush management on wildlife ranges can result in habitat destruction that will cause the wildlife to leave their home range.

Mechanical or chemical brush management should be planned to preserve brushy cover in strips and patterns in sufficient quantities to meet the wildlife needs for food and cover. Removal of 60 to 70 percent of the brush on deer ranges will be detrimental provided the cleared strips are not over one quarter mile wide. Turkey roost trees and adjacent brushy areas should be preserved.

The landowner can realize increased income from his wildlife management practices. The demand for hunting privileges on private lands by the public is increasing each year. Current cost-return data shows hunting enterprises in Texas bringing net returns to landowners ranging from $5.00 to $3.50 per acre annually.

Leasing arrangements can vary from year-long recreation privileges to daily fees such as $5.00 for an afternoon of dove hunting to $35 or $40 for a day of deer hunting.

Management practices applied on the land for game species also benefit many non-game species such as song birds, hawks, owls, and furbearers. These non-game species contribute significantly in insect and rodent control as well as filling a niche in the aesthetic value of the land.

Anyone desiring assistance in planning management for their wildlife or land and water resources should contact Soil Conservation Service Field Office in Haskell.

Medicare Premiums To Increase

Monthly premiums on the medical insurance part of Medicare will go up starting July 1.

The basic premium rate will go from $7.20 to $7.70 a month, according to Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene.

Medicare medical insurance helps pay doctor bills and other medical expenses and is funded by individual premiums and Federal general revenues. The protections is offered to people 65 and over, to disabled people under 65 who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more, and to many people under 65 with permanent kidney failure.

The Medicare law requires an annual review of the cost of the medical insurance program. Based on this review, an estimate is made of the cost of this coverage for the following year. "Under that provision," Hammons said, "the Medicare beneficiaries' basic premium rate would have been increased by over 70 percent to $12.30 a month because of rising costs of medical services covered by Medicare's medical insurance."

"But the law also limits any increase in the basic premium rate to the percentage that social security benefit payments increased in the previous year. Social security payments increased 6.4 percent in 1976, so the Medicare medical insurance basic premium rate was limited to an increase of 6.4 percent starting July 1 to $7.70 a month." The premium is about one-third the cost of this protec-

Corzine, Washam Wed In Kennedy

Miss Lydia Jo Washam and Edward Daniel Corzine, Jr., were united in marriage during a candlelight ceremony on June 11, at the First United Methodist Church of Kenedy, Texas. The Reverend Bill Hammond performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph T. Washam of Kenedy. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daniel Corzine of Fort Worth.

Pittosporum greenery, white pompon mums, and candleabras formed the background for the lovely ceremony.

Susan Terrell, pianist, and Robert Douglas, organist, played traditional wedding music before the ceremony. Miss Terrell, Sally Mika, and Sue Washam, sister of the bride, sang "The Wedding Song," and "Prayer for Peace," was sung by Miss Terrell and David West.

Escorted by her uncle, Elmo Martin, Jr., the bride chose a formal length, candlelight wedding gown of satin and lace. The empire style gown had a slight stand-up collar which was attached to a sheer yoke adorned with lace applique and seed pearls. The lace aplique and pearl designs were used again in complementing the front of the full A-line skirt. The floor length veil, scattered with seed pearls, was attached to a Juliette cap carrying out the same lace and pearl design. She carried a bouquet of pink rose buds, white stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Miss Sue Washam of Kenedy attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Lester Ralph, Mrs. Robert Mauck, Miss Sharon Chasteen, and Miss Stephanie Reid.

The attendants wore identical gowns of pink crepe with sheer overlays of pink chiffon that flowed down to a point at the back. They carried pink rosebuds tied up with baby's breath and pink streamers.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length pink gown using a rosebud corsage to accent the V-neckline.

The groom's mother chose a soft gray knit that draped across the shoulders. A corsage of rosebuds and baby's breath completed her attire.

Robert Howard served as his cousin's best man. Groomsmen were Paul Morgan, Roy Ahrens, Dan Ahrens, and Kris Kollaja. David West helped serve as an usher.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Atkinson where a lovely three-tiered bride's cake was cut by the happy couple. Registering the guests and serving at the reception were Mrs. Dan Ahrens, Mrs. Steve Rattigan, Mrs. Marvin Adcock, Mrs. John Windham, Amy Corzine, Pam Stapleton, Aliene Copeland, Jamie Atkinson, Robbin Homeyer, and Cheryl Homeyer.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride chose to wear a cream gaucho suit. Her gold accessories and orchid corsage completed the ensemble.

Following their return, they will reside in Fort Worth. The bride, a 1970 Kenedy High School graduate, received a Bachelor of Arts degree from The University of Texas at Austin.

The groom graduated from The University of Texas.

Hints For Water Safety

Swimming and boating accidents continue to claim a large number of lives each year. Traffic deaths have declined, possible due to the 55 mph speed limit, but nothing similar has happened on Texas waterways to control boating problems, the Texas Medical Association says. About 625 people drowned in Texas in both 1975 and 1974.

Every year when people get ready to hit the water for the first time, they need to check their boats for safety and run through a quick mental checklist of laws and procedures that could keep them out of trouble.

For instance, boats must have lifejacket or some other flotation device of every passenger. Legal requirements about lights, horns, fire extinguishers and other safety devices vary according to boat size. The Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife, 4200 Smith School Rd., Austin, Texas 78744, can provide detailed information about water safety and boating. The department also may have a regional office your area.

Law requires children age 12 and under to wear lifejackets in a boat. However, many older, experienced swimmers drown because they do not wear lifejackets and are tired, injured or get cramps. If a boat accident occurs, the easiest and safest thing to do is hang on to the boat because it takes less strength than swimming and people can spot an overturned boat faster than a swimmer.

Another big problem is careless handling. Even in the wide open spaces of a lake, boats hit skiers, logs and other boats. Drinking, too much speed, and watching the skier instead of looking ahead are common causes of accidents that could be avoided.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McAdams of Haskell announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Christie Kay to Kris Wesley Love son of Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Love. "As It Looks

From Here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C. — SMUT PEDDLERS HAVE ALWAYS BEEN A DISGUSTING LOT but more recently they have sunk to an unbelievable low. They are now exploiting children in the worst possible way. Printed and filmed materials are invading every community, assaulting all civilized values. Its depravity has made pornography the number one social evil in our Nation.

THE WASHINGTON STAR NEWSPAPER RECENTLY DOCUMENTED the horrors of a billion dollar operation that abuses children. The materials have been so distasteful that the news media are reluctant to discuss what is being produced.

"UNFETTERED BY RE-

GULATION" the Star reported that "pornography has grown more varied and efforts to control it have failed." Confusing laws on obscenity have given such groups as the American Civil Liberties Union an argument against censorship of such materials as violating the First Amendment protecting free speech. As a result, obscenity in the past year or so has moved into adult book stores and mail-order houses largely without contest with the interpretation of the Constitution by these certain groups.

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE POLICE are needed to deal with this filthy traffic. One encouraging development is action by the National District Attorneys' Association which has formed a nationwide task force in efforts to clean up this threat to our national sense of moral values.

DURING THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS, the Courts have construed rather strictly the Constitutional provision of freedom of speech. The result has been that laws on this subject are blurred and left in doubt. Legislation, both on the Federal and State level to meet this situation has been found difficult to draft but the Subcommittee on Crime has held hearings and will attempt to form legislation to meet the test.

ON THE OTHER HAND, RECENT COURT ACTION, decided on the basis of the standard demanded in a particular community, has been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court. If this reasoning holds up, community groups and officials can better cope with offenses in their own area.

THE AUTHOR, WILLIAM STANMEYER, of the Indiana University Law School says in an article, "To remove all legal controls over pornography is to teach the young that their elders do not know right from wrong; that we do not care how our young are entertained; that civilization and barbarism are the same." THE PROFESSOR POINTS

OUT that some people say that the best way to deal with pornography is to let it run its course. He then asks, "Why should parents have to let their children's moral environment get so corrupt that by comparison Sodom and Gomorrah resemble the Trappist Monastery?"

THE FINAL QUESTION TO THIS ISSUE IS: Can the lines be drawn somewhere or must no lines be drawn at all? Must we tolerate everything no matter how depraved or sick? The public's answer is that lines must and will be drawn because we have the right to decent surroundings and a decent society.

THIS IS THE BASIS FOR COMMUNITY ACTION against the filth peddlers as pointed out by Professor Stanmeyer who evidently has given extensive study and research to the subject.

ON THIS QUESTION, A DECENT SOCIETY has the right to remove from it the depraved and perverted who corrupt their community.
