will be a senior next year. He stayed with Rotarian and Mrs. Andy Anderson Sunday and Monday night. He departed from Haskell Tuesday afternoon on his way to Wichita Falls. There are 11 students in the group from Japan. (Staff Photo)

County Roads To Be Repaired

Work in Haskell County is included in the 1978 Special Rehabilitation and State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program approved by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. The quarter-billion-dollar program was made possible by the funds provided by the 65th Texas Legislature.

A large part of the program will be financed with General Revenue funds especially appropriated for this purpose with the remainder of the projects financed with state highway funds.

District Engineer, Roger G. Welsch of Abilene, said the work includes:

- (1) Reconstruction of SH 6 from Rochester south for 3.3 miles south
- (2) Removal and replacement of guard fence on FM 600 at Stamford Lake.
- (3) A seal coat consisting of a single application of asphalt and aggregate on Fm 617 from Rochester to Rule for a total of 17.7 miles.

(4) Reconstruction of FM 618 from US 380 to FM 600 for a total of 8.0 miles. Estimated cost of all Haskell County projects total $637,100.

Statewide, the program provides for the improvement of some 6,900 miles of highways at an estimated construction cost of approximately $222,560,000, with an additional $4.3 million set aside for later assignment. Approximately 68 per cent of the overall program will be on State and U.S. Highways, another 30 per cent of Farm to Market Roads, and the remaining 2 per cent reserved for future assignment.

The program is the first phase of a long-range program to restore the highway system to the standards Texans have come to expect, Welsch said. It is based on recommendations submitted by several district engineers and selected following a statewide assessment of highway needs.

Haskell To Use New Insecticides

Haskell and Knox counties have been added to the previously designated emergency area in Texas, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced, authorizing the sale of four new insecticides to control the bollworm/tobacco budworm complex in the counties' cotton fields.

"We have reports from county extension entomologists that tobacco budworm infestations have been detected during field inspections," Brown said, warranting these additions to the list of infested counties.

Brown's action follows specific exemption granted by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to allow the use of four insecticides, Bolster 6, Ambush, Pounce, and Pydrin, which have not obtained full registration for use on cotton. Use of the insecticides is granted by the EPA after minimum criteria are met on a county-by-county basis since the insects have become resistant to currently registered pesticides. The EPA authorization expires Sept. 30, 1977.

Brown advised farmers in the area to check their fields and consult professional entomologists for recommendations before deciding to purchase and use the pesticides. "All cotton farmers in the area may not necessarily be affected," he added.

He also warned that "some of these pesticides are toxic to fish, so applicators need to be extremely cautious when using them near fish-bearing waters."

H.V. Woodard Named To Advisory Board

H.V. Woodard, owner of Woodard Farm Sales, has been named to the Abilene Christian University Advisory Board, according to Dr. John C. Stevens, ACU president.

Woodard of 1700 Ave. F is a 1935 graduate of McJey High School in Moresville, Tenn. He served as the mayor of Haskell from 1968-1973 as well as president of the Chamber of Commerce in 1976. He is a member of the Rotary Club. He served in the U.S. Air Force from 1941-1945 and is currently an elder at the Haskell Church of Christ.

The Advisory Board consists approximately of 180 members across the nation who work in the general areas of student recruitment, annual fund drive and public relations for the university.

Burleson Will Not Seek Reelection

Congressman Omar Burleson announced today that he will not be a candidate for reelection next year. The Congressman said that he and his wife, Ruth, have had sort of a silent agreement, for a long period of time, not to run again but had not gotten around to a final decision because of other pressing matters. Now, however, in order to give ample time for the people of the huge District to select his successor, Burleson says it appears proper to declare his intentions.

"We considered not running for a 16th term two years ago," the Congressman said, "but there is always something out there in front of you which you hope to accomplish," he added. The 17th Congressional District sprawls from Howard to Parker County. It is about everything from Lubbock to Fort Worth, covering 11.5 percent of the State.

"It is only fair to the 466,000 plus people of this area that they have full opportunity to know the candidates who seek this office and to the candidates themselves to make their case for election," Burleson said.

The funds represent non-metropolitan discretionary grants and will be used for acquisition of real property, public works and facilities which includes water systems improvements.

He expressed gratitude to the people of the District for their loyal support and cooperation who have kept him in office for the 32 years, ending in 1978. Burleson has served longer than anyone in the history of the 17th Congressional District.

"During the remaining 17 months or so, I pledge to continue my best efforts in behalf of the people who have

BOB BULLOCK Comptroller of Public Accounts

Dear Mr. Bullock: Are Bibles sold by chain stores subject to the state and local sales tax?

No. Bibles, books consisting wholly of writings sacred to any religious faith and transcriptions of these sacred writing, including records and tape recordings, are exempt from the sales tax.

Sheet music and films with religious themes are subject to the tax, however.

Why does your office continue to bill me for franchise tax on a corporation formed by my late husband? The corporation has been inactive since his death.

A franchise tax is assessed on all non-exempt corporations until such time as the corporation is dissolved, or its charter is forfeited administratively.

I suggest you contact the Secretary of State's Office immediately. You will be sent the necessary forms for dissolving the corporation and notified of any outstanding franchise tax that must be paid.

I took my girl to a western dance recently and the ticket seller added a tax to the price of the ticket. I refused to pay the tax and they wouldn't let us in. I say that tickets are exempt from tax, but my girl said they wouldn't be charging it if it wasn't legal. Who's right?

Your girl. There is a 10 percent gross receipts tax on the price of tickets to such events.

I recently rented a carpet cleaner and the man at the rental place added a sales tax to the rental charge. Are rentals covered by the sales tax?

Yes. The Sales Tax Act defines a "sale" to include lease or rental and therefore rental receipts are subject to the sales tax.

Some people say that in the future we will be cooking by computer: before a party you tell the machine how many people you're having and what you plan to serve and it will tell you how much of what to buy, and when and how to cook it.

Experts predict that by removing artificial controls on interstate natural gas prices we may save ourselves from being in an even worse position than we are today: forced to import natural gas at $4.5 per thousand cubic feet—double the highest price paid today for unregulated domestic supplies.

Washington "As It Looks"

From Here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.— THIS PAST WEEK THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON HEALTH of the Ways and Means Committee started consideration of a measure recommended by HEW proposing to contain hospital costs.

ON MARCH 25, 1976, WE WROTE ABOUT SOARING COSTS of hospital care. It is the Government's attitude that the high cost of health care is a rip-off by the doctors, hospitals and all other facets of the business. In some instances this is undeniably a factor but it has been encouraged by the Government itself. The problems in our medical pricing system have been largely created by the Government, yet the basic truth is continually ignored.

THE ADMINISTRATION IS TELLING US ALL THE DRASTIC THINGS we need to do to curtail the "devastating inflationary trend" of hospital costs. As usual, the blame for the evil complained of is laid at the doorstep of private enterprise and not at the network of Government controls. There is no acknowledgement anywhere that the problems is further Federal meddling, added to all the previous meddling. Never is there any indication the Federal Government is largely the problem, not the solution.

STUDIES BY BOTH GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS find that Federal involvement in the public health-care field has virtually wrecked the medical pricing system. Government programs have unleashed a surge of demands into the medical economy over the past decade, producing spiraling inflation now being experienced.

BETWEEN 1965 AND 1975, TAXPAYER DOLLARS released into the system by Medicare and Medicaid increased from around $7 billion to $41 billion. All that money, bidding for medical resources, would have had an inflationary effect in any event but the impact was made particularly acute in the case of hospitals, through the special emphasis of Government programs on hospital care.

FROM THE STANDPOINT OF THE CONSUMER, hospital care (and other medical services) is perceived as "free" or virtually so. Normal restraints on demand have been abolished and the pricing system is no longer able to perform its usual function of sorting out priorities. As a result, the sky is the limit. Under methods now used, hospitals are paid a daily rate, related to their own cost of operation. The hospital administrator can no longer deny requests for higher wages, more supplies and other intensive costs on the ground that money is lacking.

PUT ALL OF THIS TOGETHER and we have the crisis of rising hospital costs complained of by HEW, representing the Administration. Efficiency of operation is in many cases, penalized while inefficiency in other instances is rewarded. Obviously, it should be the other way around.

FROM START TO FINISH, the current mess in medical pricing is the creation of the Government itself and there will be little remedy until that fact is recognized, admitted and something done about it.

Tri-Region Health System Explained

Every person in Haskell County can have something to say about his or her health care. And every person can say it where it can make a difference. Citizens will be asked to participate in the Tri-Region Health Systems Agency's (HSA) planning and development process.

The Tri-Region HSA was created by Congress in 1974 under the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act. It is the consumer-oriented, non-profit corporation empowered by Congress to provide comprehensive health planning and development for this health service area which included Haskell County.

Tri-Region HSA Board member B.O. Roberson of Haskell said that HSAs were created because the federal government believes that citizens should have equal access to quality health care at a reasonable cost. "Congress didn't feel that previous federally-funded programs have achieved this priority," Roberson said.

"Congress said that HSAs should help solve four major problems in the health care system," Roberson continued. "Those are lack of uniformly effective methods of delivering health care, poor distribution of health care facilities and manpower, increasing costs of health care and most people's lack of knowledge of proper personal health care and how to use available health services effectively."

To achieve their purposes, the HSAs are required by law to include consumers of health care, as well as providers, in their planning and development programs. The Tri-Region HSA will soon announce meetings and workshops which will be held for this purpose.

Overall, the HSA is legally charged to improve the health of residents in the health service area. This means increasing the quality of health services while making sure they are accessible and acceptable to area residents and that appropriate services continue as long as a patient is in need. The HSA must also plan activities to control increases in cost of providing health services, and to prevent unnecessary duplication of health services.

To help achieve these goals, the HSA must prepare a five-year Health Systems Plan (HSP) and amend and update it annually. In addition, the HSA must produce an Annual Implementation Plan (AIP) which outlines projects and activities which will allow the HSA to reach the objectives of the HSP.

The Tri-Region HSA will be the organization reviewing the need for any proposed changes in health facilities in the area. The HSA will recommend to the Texas Health Facilities Commission and the Texas Department of Health projects and priorities for modernization, construction and conversion of medical facilities and projects to avoid or eliminate unnecessary duplication of services.

The question arises, how does the average citizen participate in the HSA activities? And why? First, consumers are a majority of the HSA Board members. Members serve two-year terms, and each year the HSA invites Board nominations from interested parties and organizations. The HSA also invites citizen comments on the Board composition and qualifications of its members in writing and during a public hearing. Second, all HSA Board and committee meetings are open to the public.

Third, all HSA records are open to the public. They are available in the HSA office and the HSP and AIP are distributed to all area libraries.

Fourth, consumers are invited to participate in the development and adoption of the HSP and AIP at several stages. A series of community workshops will be held throughout the area to gather citizen comments on what the area's health needs and priorities are. All Board and committee meetings held to develop these plans are open to the public. And drafts of the plans will be made available to the public for review and comment in writing and during public hearings before their adoption by the HSA Board. Once adopted, the HSP and AIP will be distributed to all area libraries so interested persons have access to them.

And fifth, consumers are invited to participate in the development and review of each year's re-designation application which the HSA must submit to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Why should a private citizen bother to participate? Because the Tri-Region HSA is the planning, implementation, and review organization for anything that affects an individual's health in this part of the State. It is the local group that can affect change. If the public says that Haskell County needs more doctors, more nurses, more hospitals or more nursing homes, this Agency has the responsibility to try to meet that need.

The HSA is committed by law to respond to public needs and requests, but the citizen has to make his views known. There will be the opportunity to do this in Haskell when the HSA announces its upcoming workshop

Extra moisture can be secured this winter by catching and holding any and all snow that should fall.

The above field, located between Rochester and Weiner, provided its owner with approximately 2 inches additional moisture from the snow that was trapped by standing or shredded residues.

Harvest of grain sorghum, maize, milo-which-ever you prefer to call this grain crop-is now getting underway. Plan now to reap an additional income from your crop. Not an income that can be measured in dollars and cents for this year's crop, but one that can be ascertained in soil and moisture saved. Also, take into consideration the cost of destroying the residue by deep plowing or mold-boarding.

The soil in the picture above has a 4-ton soil loss tolerance. That tolerance can be reduced considerably by proper management of residues such as shown above.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,
I would like to take this opportunity to invite the people of the Haskell area to inspect and enjoy our "remodeled" tennis courts at the Haskell High School.

A big "Thank You" is extended to the many individuals and businesses who donated money and time to work for the improvement of the courts. There were several who worked late into the night painting and stripping the courts.

Thanks to the Haskell Lions Club for purchasing the paint and to the Young Homemakers, the Rotary Club, Odd Fellows Lodge, and the Lions Club for their contributions toward the purchase of the lights. Also credit is due to Stamford Electric Coop and A & J Construction of Stamford for their help installing the lights and Wayne Waincott for adjusting them.

This project is a good example of what we can do in Haskell with all of us working together.
Sincerely yours,
Doyle High

"Life", said A. J. Marshall, "is what happens to you while you are making other plans."

The river of life takes some pretty strange twists in its course. About the time everything seems to be going pretty well a problem arises that disappoints and embitters.

Life is so uncertain. We must never take our life for granted. The old saying is true: "No one holds a lease on life." Furthermore, we should never make plans without taking God into consideration. What is His will in the matter?

Sagerton News

The milo harvest is in full swing in our community, and it probably will not take long to harvest the early milo; and most of it was planted early this year. Most of the acreage is planted in cotton in our area this year. The yield is not exceptionally good, but fair considering the amount of rain and the hot weather we have had.

F.A. Stegemoeller, who has been in business here in Sagerton for the past forty-nine years, is retiring. He started out in the grocery business in 1927 with a small store next door to the first service station in our area operated by August Balzer.

He tried farming on his dad's place for a couple of years, but hit some very bad years for farming, so in 1930 he moved to Sagerton and began running the drug store for Engleman, and later bought the drug store, which he ran until 1947, when he built the Stegemoeller Grocery on the highway at the corner of Fourth and Garfield.

He plans to devote more time to his janitor work at Faith Lutheran Church and sell crop insurance and planting seed, but not to be tied down to the grocery store for ten or twelve hours a day.

It is local business men like this that stay open extra hours and are available when they are needed that we should appreciate. It is true they do not stock all the latest fads and convenience items, as the chain stores have, but they are there with the necessities. When our local business men decide to retire, who will take their place? Someone—I hope.

Texas flea mart world's largest

BY GORDON M. QUARNSTROM

CANTON—The licenses on the autos parked here, there and everywhere on a recent weekend in this East Texas town showed the owners were from Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and a dozen other states removed from Texas.

Why were they here in this town of 3,000? Why, because of the First Monday Trades Day, of course.

The Trades Day, which actually begins on Friday, has been an institution for more than 100 years. Yes, for a century and more people have been coming to this little town in northeast Texas to swap, shop or just look at the goods on display. Now they come in such numbers the town has developed what the local chamber of commerce says is the largest flea market in the world.

The vendors and the customers start arriving on Friday before the first Monday of each month. By the weekend the population has inflated to as many as 50,000 people.

The city fathers have acquired or have leased a total of 35 acres, with 2,200 lots for rent. The town took in more than $200,000 in rental fees last year, providing funds for a lot of niceties that other communities this size lack.

At Canton during the Trades Day programs you can buy jeans and cowboy boots, ducks, geese and flying squirrels. There's good arts and crafts and amateur stuff. You'll see a nanny goat tied to a tree and hear hound dogs howling in the dog trading area.

Canton is located just off Interstate 20 about 35 miles north of Dallas. It is not far from Athens, which has good motel accommodations.

The Canton Chamber of Commerce will supply information on request.

For data about reaching Canton and other sites in the Lone Star State you can get a free 160-page illustrated book, "Texas—Land of Contrast" by dropping a postcard or note to Dept. GW, Texas Tourist Divt. Agency, Box 12008, Capitol Station, Austin, Tx., 78711. It's a splendid book and full of information.

Ever see a 15-million dollar cattle truck? It looks as though that's where things are headed with the announcement by major air carriers that 747's are going to be converted to livestock haulers for international markets. Officials say live cattle transportation to countries outside North America is already 80 percent by air with both the volume and the percentage expected to increase during the coming years. For the animals themselves it's all first class. Interiors are redesigned and structured to resemble a barn with separate pens or stalls. Special temperature control and ventilation systems are being designed and separate studies are underway to determine other ways to increase animal comfort. No one has yet decided whether to include in-flight movies but it sounds as if they may not be far away.

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record. The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open. If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house. You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

SI PERCIBE OLOR A GAS NATURAL OBEDEZCA ESTAS 3 NORMAS DE SEGURIDAD.

La industria del gas natural tiene un récord de seguridad excelente. El hecho de que Usted pueda percibir el olor a gas natural se debe a que se le ha añadido un producto químico extra, que no es nocivo. De lo contrario, el gas no olería. Si detecta ciertas ráfagas de olor que cree son producidas por escape de gas, investigue. Es posible que se pueda corregir fácilmente y sin peligro, por tratarse de que una llama-piloto se ha apagado, o que una válvula de algún aparato está parcialmente abierta. Cuando suceda que a pesar de que su equipo aparentemente funciona bien, pero el olor a gas se intensifica y se siente en todas partes, entonces siga estas precauciones:

1. No conecte ni desconecte ningún aparato eléctrico. No use el teléfono de su casa. No prenda fósforos. No haga nada que pueda producir chispas.
2. Haga que todos salgan de la casa inmediatamente, dejando las puertas abiertas para que se ventile.
3. Vaya a un teléfono cercano y llame informando a la Compañía Lone Star Gas Co., y espere hasta que los encargados de la Compañía investiguen las causas y determinen si se puede o no retornar a casa. Es muy posible que Usted nunca tenga que enfrentarse con escapes de gas, pero queremos informarle por si acaso le sucede alguna vez. Asegúrese que toda su familia conozca estas normas de seguridad. Le aconsejamos también que guarde este aviso como referencia para el futuro. Gracias.

Texas Department of Health Resources
Fratris L. Duff M.D., Director

A new set of rules establishing uniform health requirements for places serving food may soon benefit both the dining public and restaurant owners, according to the Texas Department of Health Resources.

"The proposed rules would give restaurant owners in Texas a standard guide to sanitary practices," said James M. Doughty, Jr., Director of Food and Drug Division for TDHR. "Recent studies have shown that food-borne illnesses and diseases are a health problem. Another purpose of the new rules, therefore, is to reduce such outbreaks to protect the consumer from adulterated and insanitary food," Doughty said.

"The Department has been holding a series of public hearings across the state about proposed regulations dealing with food service sanitation," said Doughty.

Each city in Texas establishes health standards through local ordinances for places that serve food. The local ordinances cover food serving operations, the food servers, the serving equipment and utensils, the examination of the food and the sanitation of the eating establishment. These local ordinances often differ quite a bit from one city to another. The new proposed rules on food service sanitation would give all the cities the same common set of regulations from which they could draw up their ordinances.

"We have a lot of chain-type restaurants in the state today selling hamburgers, chicken, fish and other things. They can be in one city, and then find sanitation requirements for the same kind of eating place totally different in another city. The chains would like to have the rules governing such things as building plans, lighting, ventilation and storage to be the same for the entire state. We hope that the proposed rules on food service sanitation will make inspections statewide more uniform," said Doughty.

After the public hearings are held, the proposed regulations will be submitted to the Board of Health Resources. If the board approves them, the new rules will become official regulations 90 days later. The proposed measures are patterned after food serving regulations of the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

Under the new food service proposals, whenever an inspection is made of an eating establishment, the findings will be recorded on a special inspection form. The original of the form will be given to the owner and will summarize the new regulations. The various requirements for proper food service sanitation will have different point values. The score of the restaurant will be the number of points accumulated from violations subtracted from 100.

When the score is less than 60, the establishments must begin correcting its violations within 48 hours. One or more

Employee of the Month

Phillip Martin, Registered Nurse at Haskell Memorial Hospital was chosen by popular vote of the employees as "Employee of the Month" for the month of August.

Phillip is in charge of the 11-7 shift and his friendly smile and efficient manner are welcomed by the patients and the staff.

Quotes from the ballots were "Nice to the patients", "Nice to fellow workers, always happy and "Anyone working at night and is still happy should be employee of the month."

Phillip grew up in Dallas and attended Garland High School, El Centro College in Dallas and Hardin Simmons University in Abilene. He graduated from Mary Meek School of Nursing in 1974. He worked as night charge nurse in ICU at Hendricks Medical Center after graduation until employment at Haskell Memorial Hospital December 1, 1975.

He is married to the former Laela Salman of Rochester and has a son, Andrew and a daughter Katherine. They are members of the Weinert Foursquare Church. Haskell Memorial Hospital feels very fortunate to have Mr. Martin on the staff. Congratulations on being chosen "Employee of the Month."

Haskell Memorial Hospital

reinspections will be conducted at reasonable time intervals to assure that the proper action is being taken.

If an imminent health hazard exists, such as a sewage backup, or the complete lack of sanitization or refrigeration, the restaurant must stop serving food immediately. It can't begin again until authorized to do so by the local health authority. Penalties for violations can be imposed under the Texas Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act.

While the cities are responsible for the sanitation of the places that serve food, the Department of Health Resources is chiefly responsible for the sanitation of the businesses that manufacture food. "The bakery or the bottling company, any place that manufactures food or beverage—that's where we spend our time," said Doughty. "We are also interested in the transportation and display of food, and in the wholesaler. We concentrate a lot of effort in warehouse inspections, looking into protection of food there."

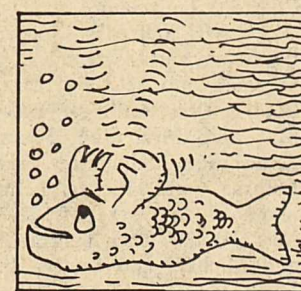

In a recent year, more than 14,000 manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and other establishments were inspected by the Food and Drug Division. About 570,000 pounds of food were ordered withdrawn from the market because they were unfit to be eaten.

In addition to this routine inspection and regulatory program, the Food and Drug Division has a special responsibility in the case of any natural or man-made disaster. Food and Drug inspectors are part of the Texas Department of Health Resources' disaster team, to make sure that salvaged foods and drugs are undamaged and are safe for use.

Nothing is something when you're trying to find fish with an electronic depth sounder. The ultrasonic pulses probing beneath a boat bounce back as echoes when they hit the bottom to tell how deep the water is. But engineers at Raytheon Marine Company in Manchester, N.H. say they also bounce back when they hit an air pocket underwater. Although the soft body of a fish usually will not reflect an echp, the fish's air bladder invariably reveals the fish's presence beneath the boat.

THEN NOW!

THEN. Soap was invented, as legend has it, when rain washed a mixture of animal fat and ash down Sapu Hill in ancient Rome and into the Tiber River. Women doing their wash in the river noticed that their clothes were getting cleaner. Why? The fat had combined with the alkali in the ashes to form soap.

NOW. Detergent was invented during World War I when a soap shortage led a German scientist to develop a cleaning agent from chemicals. By the '30s detergents were becoming popular since they worked well in hard water and didn't leave a scum. In the '40s economical store brands, which use the same technology and ingredients as name brands, were introduced. Since then store brand detergents like those made by Witco Chemical's Ultra Division have become more and more popular with cost-conscious consumers. For a free booklet on "Store Brand Detergents" write to Witco, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.

Reddy's helpful tips for your

HOME LAUNDRY

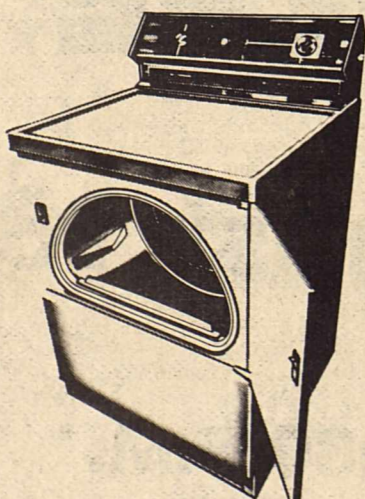

Wash and dry a full load, but never overload... it is essential for each item to move freely for proper cleaning and drying.

Choose the correct cycle for washing modern materials. Perhaps hot water isn't needed, and only a gentle drying temperature.

Too much detergent can clog machine and drains... always measure, don't guess!

Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for your type equipment.

Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.

Many manufacturers of permanent press garments recommend machine washing and machine drying for best results. Following instructions on the garment tag can help preserve the life of your clothing and give you wrinkle-free clothes without need for ironing. A big savings!
