4-H Membership Info.

How would you like to join 4-H? You can, you know, if you really want to and we'd be glad to have you says Max Stapleton and Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

4-H is a national youth program for all youth between the ages of 9 and 19 regardless of race, color, ethnic background, economic status or cultural differences. The program is administered by the Cooperative Extension Service in each state.

The purpose of 4-H is to develop leadership and character in young people. 4-H'ers learn by doing through actively working on projects and participating in club meetings and 4-H activities.

4-H clubs are organized in such places as rural, suburban and urban neighborhoods. Groups may be organized among neighborhood families in one or two city blocks, housing complexes or anywhere they are needed.

Youth can participate in a variety of projects in 4-H, such as foods, clothing, animal projects, electricity, pigeons, arts and crafts, and many, many others. In fact, almost anything you want can be a project.

Most important and most of all, 4-H is a lot of fun! Where else can you get together with other people your age and have fun while you learn? Boys and girls in 4-H are always on the move doing something and participating in various activities. For instance the 4-H rifle project attracts numerous youngsters each year who are interested in learning to shoot and observe gun safety. Livestock projects give youngsters a chance to be responsible for an animal and enter stock shows where they learn competitiveness and sportsmanship. 4-H'ers can even learn to make their own clothes through clothing projects.

Besides projects, other activities such as the Share-the-Fun Contest give youngsters the chance to participate in organized recreation. County 4-H Fun Day is the time for playing games and making new friends. Members in 4-H can go on trips, take tours of interesting and educational places, and can help finance their college education with scholarships awarded through 4-H.

If you know of a young person aged 9-19 call the County Extension Office at 864-2658 or 864-2546 and we'll contact the individual about joining the 4-H program.

In an effort to meet the ever-changing needs of youth as we enter the third century of American history, a set of recommendations designed to guide 4-H programming, "4-H in Century III," has been developed. The recommendations include doubling the number of volunteer leaders serving 4-H during the next decade, which should result in doubling the number of 4-H clubs, special interest groups and 4-H participants.

"4-H in Century III" views the 4-H program in eight major areas of emphasis: Economics, Jobs and Careers, Animal, Plant and Soil Sciences, Environment and Natural Resources, Home and Family Resources, Health and Safety; Leadership, Citizenship Education and Community Development, Creative and Performing Arts, Leisure Education and Communication; Mechanical Sciences and Energy.

These areas of emphasis provide the program thrust of the National 4-H Council as it assists the 4-H program, its leaders and members under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Services in the various states.

Boosting the 4-H program is the private sector which provides great resources of money, personnel and materials for the advancement of 4-H. The many business and industrial leaders who have supported and continue to support 4-H give significant testimony that 4-H is a valuable educational program for America's youth.

Remember, you are what you want to be in 4-H. It is educational, interesting, challenging and lots of fun, emphasizes the County Extension Agents.

The Haskell Jr. High Warriors concluded their football season by traveling to Olney last Thursday night. The 7th graders received their first blemish on their season's record as they were tied by Olney 0-0. The 7th graders played their usual outstanding defensive game but simply could not get much going on offense. They were hampered by poor field position for most of the game. The 7th graders wound up with a record of 6 wins and 1 tie.

The 8th graders finished their season suffering another defeat by a score of 27-12. The 8th graders finished with a 4-4 season record.

At Rochester

Veterans Day Celebrated

It was a festive occasion in Rochester on Saturday November 12, when practically the entire town showed up to honor our American veterans at the American Legion Hall headed by Eugene Bittick, Commander.

Opening the celebration on this crisp autumn day was the National Anthem sung by Lois Ann Ballard. The Master of Ceremonies, Fred Edwards, then introduced the guest speaker, Don Jeffreys, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rochester. Brother Jeffreys spoke on the future of America in its relationship to Christianity.

Following the speaker, three veterans of World War I, who honored the occasion with their presence, were introduced. Next the World War II, Korean and Vietnam veterans were recognized, followed by a 21-gun salute.

Also introduced was the Veteran Queen, Reva Greenwood, and her court consisting of Brenda Stegemoeller, Cindy Tibbits, Dolly Marshal, Shawndra Reeves, Melonie McGhee, Mary Cardoza, Jessica Ortiz, Amanda Mathis Michele Scoggins, Trina Fry and Nicole Mitchell.

Concluding the ceremony

"Taps" was played by Ellen Neely and Chad Glover in honor of those courageous Americans who died for our freedom.

There were more than 525 people to feast upon barbecue beans, potato salad and various covered dishes after the program ended.

Later in the day there was a gala parade down the main street of Rochester led by Grand Marshals Knott Ballard and Sam Basden. The parade consisted of the Boy Scouts on bicycles, horsemen, Grace Helton and Feral Burleson, and various floats some of which included the Queen's float, a float carrying the veterans, George Mullino's Cotton Warehouse float, the Literary Club Officer's float, the American Legion's float, a wishing well float, the Baptist Church float and a float carrying all of the Rochester football players. Also participating in the parade were two cars escorting the wives of World War I veterans. Other floats included: Hobby Club, Fishers of Men, Red Cross, and flying saucer.

All in all, the Veteran's Day Celebration was an enjoyable occasion for all the citizens of Rochester.

BAKE SALE
The Rule FHA is having a Bake Sale this Saturday, November 19 at Wood's Pharmacy, 9:00 a.m. They will have homemade cakes and pies.

Indians Win District Championship

The Haskell Indians won their first district championship in seven years last Friday night by defeating the Crowell Wildcats, 16-6.

The Tribe will meet Albany, this Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Shotwell Stadium in Abilene, for bi-district.

Tickets for the game may be purchased at the gate for $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for students. There will be no pre-game ticket sales in Haskell, and all tickets will be general admission. There will be no reserved seats. Haskell will be the visiting team and will sit on the east side of the field.

The Tribe scored first against Crowell in the first quarter when quarterback Rex Pittman scored his first of two TD's of the night. The PAT by Robert Rodriguez was good. The score was set up by a Bruce Enriquez pass interception.

Crowell threatened to score twice in the second quarter but was stopped both times inside the twenty by the Tribe defense.

On the third play of the second half, Pittman scored the final Indian TD of the game on a 66 yard run. The PAT failed.

Indian scoring was finalized midway in the final quarter when Rodriguez kicked a 21 yard field goal.

Crowell's only score came late in the final period following a 16 play drive which covered 70 yards.

Two Indian Backs, Jimmy Browning and Ronnie Hise both reached the 1,000 yard mark during regular season play this year. Browning rushed for a total of 1137 yards and Hise for a total of 1060.

Pittman led the Haskell rushing attack last Friday with 96 yards. Hise had 94 yards and Browning had 82.

The Haskell-Albany game will decide the bi-district championship and promises to be another exciting game.

Albany has a big team with good talent. Their best running back is out with a cast on his leg, but the team is well balanced with no real standouts. Offensively they run a Houston veer and a five-monster, defensively.

The Haskell Coaching staff has scouted Albany twice, against Roscoe and Anson. The team is not exceptionally fast, but has good size in both the defensive and offensive lines. The defense has been scored on throughout the year but the offense just outscored their opponent.

All members of the Indian team are in good shape both physically and mentally and should be ready for the game Friday.

The winner of the bi-district contest will meet the winner of the Seagraves and Marfa game.

Lone Star Plans For Future

Even though Lone Star maintained uninterrupted natural gas deliveries to more than 1.1 million residential and commercial customers during the past record-breaking winter season, the Dallas-based utility has prepared for improved services to all customer classes as the 1977-78 winter months approach.

Harry King, vice president of Lone Star's Transmission Division, announced that on October 14, 1977, the company had increased its gas supply in underground storage by about 2-1/4 billion cubic feet, or 4.6 percent more than last year. "This means," King explained, "an increased daily gas availability for Lone Star customers. We injected gas into our storage areas earlier than in our previous years' storage injection patterns. In addition, the Federal Power Commission approved the company's plan to serve the Wichita Falls area from its intrastate system, which will improve service in that area and will provide the available interstate gas to fewer customers on the interstate system."

Texas customers will experience increased natural gas availability for two reasons, according to King. A gas treatment plant at Teague in Freestone County is being expanded and will more than double the daily volumes of natural gas available to Lone Star's pipeline network from that plant. Secondly, Lone Star anticipates having additional gas supplies daily from its current suppliers.

"Barring weather-related interruptions, these additional gas supplies could reduce the level of industrial curtailments in the 1977-78 winter heating season," King said. "Nevertheless, industrial and power generation users should expect normal curtailment patterns when residential and commercial customers, our highest priority users, experience increased heating demands."

King added that Lone Star's industrial and power generation customers are contractually subject to scheduled curtailment and are required to have stand-by fuel if the continuity of the operation is essential.

Last winter many parts of the nation experienced shortages of natural gas which resulted in economic and human suffering. Despite the heavy demands on Lone Star, at no time were highest priority users curtailed. "With our improved daily availability of natural gas deliveries into our inter- and intrastate lines," King stated, "we expect to duplicate or improve on last winter's performance."

Conservation of Utility Dollars Depends on Kitchen Sense
Even with energy-saving appliances, you can waste electricity unless you think about the way it is used. When cooking, for instance, cover pans tightly and use a minimum of water. Less energy is wasted, the food cooks faster and, culinary experts say, the food looks and tastes better. Energy suppliers suggest: • Use flat-bottomed pots and pans for the best contact with the heating surface. • Center pans in from the sides of the oven for the best heat distribution. • Keep the oven door shut. Peeping wastes energy. • Thaw frozen meats before cooking; it conserves energy. Well-built kitchen cabinets are another energy saving device. Cabinets that provide long-term service, require only minimal care and provide ample storage space, help conserve the homemaker's energy. Plenty of storage space, notes the National Kitchen Cabinet Association, helps reduce the number of shopping trips to the supermarket. Assured of sufficient room for storage, homemakers can stock up on canned or packaged goods whenever they are on sale. While storage is the main function of cabinets, NKCA points out that durability and easy-care are equally vital to the average homemaker. Whether in new construction or in remodeling, kitchen cabinets should be built to last despite rough everyday use. Cabinets that bear the certification seal of the National Kitchen Cabinet Association have to meet the tough construction and performance standards of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI). To qualify, cabinets must pass rigid laboratory tests on cabinet structure and cabinet finish. Structural tests measure the cabinet's ability to withstand above average weight on shelves and in drawers; to withstand the impact of 46-47p

Texas DPS Looking For Men & Women

The Texas Department of Public Safety is in the midst of an intensive Recruiting Campaign for men and women interested in becoming uniformed troopers. The next Recruit Training School is scheduled to begin December 6, 1977. All employment applications must be in by November 7, 1977 to enable the Department to properly consider each applicant. For the convenience of those students who are currently enrolled in college, there is also a class tentatively scheduled to begin early in 1978.

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said, "General qualifications for DPS troopers are: (1) Applicants must be 20 to 35 years of age (2) Good moral character (3) Excellent physical condition (4) Weight not less than 2 pounds, nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height (5) Vision no worse than 20/40 correctable to 20/20 (6) A citizen of the United States (7) At least 60 hours of college.

The student officer will participate in 850 hours of a variety of law enforcement subjects. The curriculum will consist of criminal law, traffic law, human relations, techniques of accident investigation, boxing, judo, marksmanship and pursuit driving. Applicants selected as cadets will enter 18 weeks of training at the Homer Garrison Junior Law Enforcement Memorial Academy, one of the most modern police training facilities in the United States located in Austin.

While in Recruit School, the pay is $848.00 a month and upon completion of the 18 weeks training, the commissioned officer will draw $968.00 a month. Uniforms, firearms, insurance benefits and transportation are furnished by the Department for each officer.

Upon graduation, the trooper will be qualified to enter the following DPS Field Services:

(1) Drivers License (2) Highway Patrol (3) Motor Vehicle Inspection (4) License & Weight. The graduate will be placed according to his aptitude, desires and the Department's needs.

For additional information concerning the position of trooper, training and/or benefits, contact the nearest DPS trooper or the DPS office in Lubbock, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, or Mineral Wells. You will receive complete information in regards to the application and employment procedures on becoming a DPS trooper.

The Texas Department of Public Safety is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

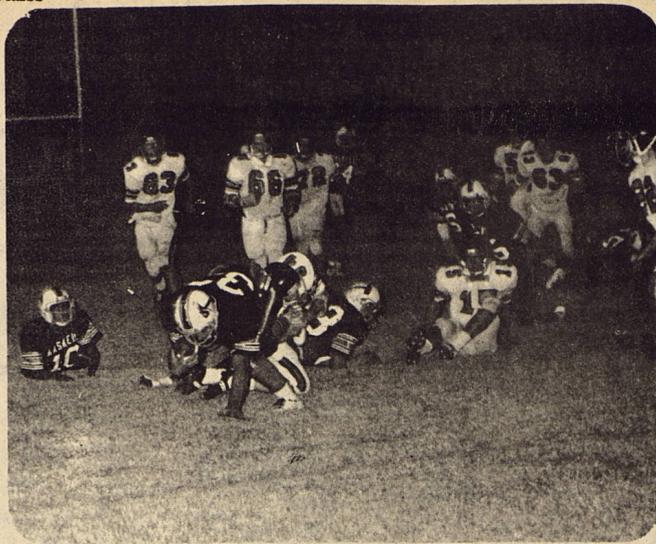

Cotton Classing

MUNDAY

Cotton prices ranged from 42 to 43.85 cents per pound for mixed lots of grades 42 and higher with staple 30 and longer, according to Sidney Ferrell in charge of the Munday Classing Office. Demand increased until Thursday when the new projected bale estimate came out, showing an increase of 1/2 million bales.

Light Spotted grades accounted for 75 percent of the cotton classed last week, with the predominant grade being grade 32 accounting for 60 percent. Grades 42 and 31 each accounted for 14 percent. Staple 31 increased to 58 percent over last weeks 53 percent, and staple 32 accounted for 36 percent. Micronaire readings in the 3.5 to 4.9 range accounted for 97 percent of the cotton tested. Pressley strength readings averaged 87,000 pounds per square inch.

About 13,000 samples were classed by this office during the week ending November 11. The season total is now 76,700 samples as compared to 4,700 at the same time last year.

SECOND EFFORT...Vonnie Hise reached the 1,000 yard mark last Friday night against Crowell behind good blocking and second effort. Indian Jimmy Browning crossed the 1,000 yard mark the week before. Brownings total for the year is 1,137 and Hise carried for 1,060. This is the first time in recent years that two Indians have rushed for over 1,000 yards during regular season. (Staff Photo)

DPS Issues Appeal

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today issued an appeal to Texas motorists to give better voluntary compliance to the 55 mile per hour speed limit on the state's highways.

Col. Wilson E. Speir said he is alarmed over the increasing percentage of drivers exceeding the speed limit, particularly in light of the increasing number of fatalities and major accidents in the state.

"From our own observations as well as surveys conducted by the Department of Highways and Public Transportation, it is indicated that the vast majority of vehicles on our roads are exceeding the legal speed limit of 55 MPH," he said. "Meanwhile traffic fatalities are on the increase, showing an eight per cent rise over the same period last year. At last report traffic deaths have increased from 2,467 at this time last year to 2,675—an increase of 208 deaths.

"What's more, the percentage of increase in deaths is becoming greater with each passing week. "The latest report indicates that some 74 per cent of motorists are exceeding 55 MPH. This compares to 69 per cent exceeding 55 during the calendar-quarter year ending December 1, 1976.

Speir noted that while the DPS enforcement effort has been increased tremendously—well over 100 per cent since the new speed law went into effect—shortage of highway patrol personnel makes the task extremely difficult when some three-fourths of the driving public is violating the speed law.

"We are therefore issuing this appeal to motorists in the hope they will realize that slower speeds will pay off in the saving of lives, suffering and money in the form of better gas mileage and insurance costs," he said, "in addition to extra wear and tear on vehicles."

Speir reported that there is an alarming increase of 50 per cent in deaths on the interstate system over last year, clearly indicating that excessive speed is a major factor in fatal accidents.

And he said the efforts of highway patrol troopers to remove dangerous drivers from the traffic stream will be continued.

"The ultimate solution to the problem of speeding above the limits on Texas highways will come only when the majority of Texas drivers accepts their responsibilities under the law," Speir added.

New Home Cost Is Increasing

The average cost of a new single-family home has increased more than 100 per cent in 10 years, and this trend is likely to continue, says Kenneth E. Graeber, economist in real estate with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. His information is based on recent U.S. Department of Commerce reports.

Given population and inflation trends, Graeber projects an average home appreciation rate of 8 per cent annually. "If the trend continues, homes selling for $35,000 today might sell for $63,000 in 10 years," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Many families have postponed purchasing a home in hopes of saving up to buy or build their 'dream' home. However, inflation may prevent these individuals from ever owning their own home," notes Graeber.

Studies indicate that buyers of similar income levels who previously owned homes pay 20 to 30 per cent more for homes than buyers who previously rented. "This is, in part, due to an accumulation of equity in the first home which can be reinvested in the next," points out the economist.

"Other individuals have postponed purchase until interest rates decline. Any benefits gained by waiting for lower interest rates could be offset if homes cost increased.

"A properly selected and cared-for home will remain one of the better investments for most families," contends Graeber. "The motto of 'Wait 'Til Next Year' might best be reserved for football."

Hunters Must Have Crane Permit

Only hunters possessing a 1977 sandhill crane permit issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be allowed to hunt and bag cranes during the upcoming season which starts Nov. 1 in Zone A and Dec. 5 in Zone B.

The permit will allow the hunter to participate in the hunt in accordance with the provisions of both state and federal regulations governing the hunt.

Following the close of the season on Jan. 31, 1978, the permittee will be contacted by mail and asked to report the number of times hunted, the number of cranes bagged, and the number downed but not retrieved. This information will help the P&WD determine crane harvests in Texas.

Since Texas hunters bagged more sandhill cranes during the 1976 season than any other state, this requested information is of paramount importance.

Applicants can obtain permits for more than one individual if the name, address, and county of residence of each individual is requested on a written form to John Roberson, P&WD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Tx 78744 or by calling John Roberson at 512-475-4871.

'Freedom To Be' Theme of 4-H Congress

CHICAGO—Sixteen hundred 4-H members from across the nation will converge on Chicago the week-end for Thanksgiving for the 56th National 4-H Congress.

The "Freedom To Be" theme of the five-day meeting will highlight the opportunities 4-H offers young people for personal, social, life-skill and career development.

Congress opens Nov. 27 and runs through Dec. 1 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Most delegates are older teens who have won state, sectional or national honors for their 1977 4-H projects.

273 of the delegates will share in national and regional scholarships totalling $249,500 to be awarded during the week. Scholarships and expense-paid trips to congress are donated by about 40 businesses, foundations and other private-sector organizations.

Several of these 4-H donors sponsor major events during congress. Among them are The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, which hosts a breakfast for all congress participants, and International Harvester Company, sponsor of an all-congress luncheon. Firestone is donor of awards in the national 4-H automotive program and Harvester as national winners in the 4-H alumni recognition program sponsored by Olin Corporation.

National 4-H Congress is jointly planned and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and National 4-H Council, with the support of the private sector, to provide education, inspiration and recognition for outstanding 4-H members.

In addition to scholarships, expense-paid trips and other congress-related support, private-sector resources make possible a variety of programs and services to 4-H throughout the year.

For example, a new 4-H wildlife conservation program funded by Atlantic Richfield Foundation encourages young people to take the lead in their community and state conservation efforts.

The Singer Company supports a training course to improve 4-H leaders' teaching skills and members' learning experiences in the care and use of sewing machines. The Conrad Hilton Hotel and the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks fund the Report to the Nation phase of a national 4-H public relations program. And Daisy Division, Victor Comptometer Corporation, sponsors a 4-H hunter education program that emphasizes safety and conservation.

Sunken treasure

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Encrusted globs from the bottom of the sea are being "reborn" as valuable treasures from sunken Spanish galleons, thanks to a University of Texas laboratory working under a project of the Texas Antiquities Commission.

Within the past decade, UT's Texas Archaeological Research Laboratory has cleaned and preserved hundreds of artifacts (from cannons to crucifixes) found in three Spanish ships that sank in the mid-1500's off the Texas Gulf Coast.

Through complex conservation techniques it has devised, particularly in the use of electrolysis to preserve metal artifacts, the UT lab has acquired an international reputation for underwater archeology.

The 1977-78 "blow season" has officially made its annual debut as was evidenced by considerable dust in the atmosphere a week ago last Tuesday.

Considerable soil movement took place, but no severe damage resulted.

It is time to start emergency tillage operations. Conditions are most favorable for soil blowing. January, March and April are the only months in 1977 that we reached or exceeded normal rainfall. To date we have received only 15.36 inches of rain in ten months. 21.77 inches is considered normal for the first 10 months according to Weatherman Sam Herren of Haskell. This places Haskell County at about 70% of normal rainfall for 1977.

It is too dry to sprout small grains and other winter cover crops. So this leaves a lot of bare land that is currently subject to the ravages of the wind.

I would suggest that mulching with cotton burs would take top priority. Surely with all the cotton production we experienced this year, there should be an abundance of "gin trash" that could be put on top of this unprotected soil. May I urge each producer with any type of crop residues still on the soil surface to leave them there.

It is too dry for winter weeds to sprout and some deep plowing may only be a detriment to the land. Light chiseling or sub-soiling may be beneficial. A tandem disk or one-way plow will only leave a powdered texture on the surface.

If sufficient moisture is present, a deep moldboarding of sandy soils may bring enough clod forming material to the surface to furnish a good rough surface.

Just be careful of what tillage operations you do, or you might end up with all your field in the tractor cab with you, or worse yet, deposited on some farm several hundred miles away.

special place in the minds of thousands of Texans; it marks the beginning of the state's regular hunting season of quail, deer and turkey.

It is truly an exciting time of year, especially for those young hunters who are going hunting for the first time. If you happen to be in this group, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department hopes you take more into the field than a loaded gun and your enthusiasm.

Hopefully, you will take along a knowledge of hunting safety and safe gun handling. The rifle or shotgun you will be carrying has been designed to kill, and the bullet or shot it shoots cannot tell the difference between a deer or a man.

A careful study of hunting accidents has shown that most of them could have been avoided if those involved had practiced hunting safety. Careless gun handling alone is responsible for at least 35 percent of the accidents which occur in Texas each year.

To protect you and your hunting companions while hunting together with loaded firearms, there are several rules to follow that parallel common sense.

The cardinal rule is to consider every gun as if it were loaded whether in the home or field. Guns carried into camp or home must always be unloaded, taken down (taken apart) or have actions open. It is best to case firearms while traveling from your residence to the field or from one field to the next.

Be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions such as mud or snow. Even cleaning patches left in the barrel could cause an explosion.

Never point a gun at anything you do not wish to shoot and that includes your hunting companions, T.V. screens, livestock and windmills.

Be sure of your target before pulling the trigger as this can be the most dangerous time of the hunt if you haven't identified the bird or animal. Remember, if you miss your target, that bullet or load of shot will continue to travel for quite a distance.

Since many hunting accidents occur while climbing in and out of deer, and duck blinds, the hunter must be sure the gun is unloaded at this time.

Crossing fences accounts for many accidents as the hunter becomes snared by the barbs or hooks the trigger on a post. Sportsmen hunting alone should unload the firearm and lay it on the ground with the muzzle pointing away from him. As the number of hunters increases, so does the potential danger when crossing fences. In this situation, both hunters should unload their guns and while one holds the firearms, the first hunter crosses the fence then takes the unloaded guns from the second hunter. Then the second hunter can safely cross the fence.

Although Texas has no clothing requirements, the safe hunter should wear blaze or fluorescent orange cap and vest which can be spotted by another hunter at a distance. Mature gun handling comes with experience and training but, if you remember the safety tips, your first hunt should be only the beginning of a lifetime of fine outdoor sport.

spotlight on science

by GEORGE BELL

PWS

The first step in the final conquest of virus diseases, and a totally new way to treat this overall class of highly infectious diseases, has been achieved with the development of a new medical advance called vidarabine.

Viruses have long remained resistant to medical treatment because, unlike bacteria, viruses lodge within the cells of the body rather than having an independent existence outside the cells of the host body. Because viruses actually live and reproduce within the cells of the body, the problem in treating them has been to come up with a drug that will destroy the virus without also killing the human cell.

Within the past two months, Parke-Davis has reported considerable success with a new drug called Vira-A, a trade name for vidarabine. The new drug prevents the virus from reproducing, while allowing the human cell to remain unaffected and develop normally.

Federal scientists have hailed development of the new drug as a major medical breakthrough in the never-ending battle against virus diseases, an advance many consider as significant as the discovery of penicillin in 1941.

Encephalitis caused by the herpes simplex virus is considered the most common cause of fatal brain disease in the country, and generally those who do survive usually experience disabling neurological side effects following the disease.

In a controlled study sponsored by the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, the new drug dramatically reduced the incidence of deaths from herpes simplex encephalitis from 70 to 28 percent. In addition, more than 50 percent of the treated survivors had little or no residual effect from the disease.

Of perhaps greater long-term significance, according to Dr. R. A. Buchanan, director of Clinical Therapeutics for Warner-Lambert Parke-Davis Pharmaceutical Research division, is the fact that the new drug "is a true anti-viral; with so much promise for potential good in so many viral diseases. It has opened the door to so many avenues of research that were passed over because it was thought that development of anti-viral drugs was an impossibility due to the nature of the viruses themselves."

Doctors at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases have hailed the new drug as "the first successful treatment of a life-threatening viral disease." Dr. Richard Krause of the institute said that the new drug was given to 18 patients suffering from herpes encephalitis. Of these, seven recovered and were able to lead normal lives.

Although the new drug cannot be used to treat herpes genital infections because it must be administered in a hospital and involves injections, studies are now under way to determine if it can be used on the skin to treat fever blisters, which are part of herpes infections.

The development of vidarabine was a direct result of Parke-Davis' ongoing soil collecting and screening program which began in 1941. While seeking new antibiotics to combat bacterial infections, a microorganism which was later to produce Vira-A was isolated in 1962 from a soil sample collected near Naples, Italy. Since the samples seemed to lack any antibacterial activity, it was sometime later that scientists learned that the sample contained a chemical structure that did prove effective against the herpes virus. I don't think time could possibly be your excuse because it only takes about 30 minutes of time.

A hearty thanks to those who did donate, your donation could save a life, but for those who did not donate, you should stop and ask yourselves, "Have I done all I could as a citizen of a town of approximately 4000 people to help save the life of a dear friend, a member of my family or a fellow citizen."

Dear Editor,

This letter is directed to the citizens of Haskell. Shame on you and forty lashes with a wet noodle or how about a bull whip? I am referring to the amount of blood units received at the Blood Mobile at the Methodist Church on Thursday November 3, 1977. This is truly a shame. There were only 19 units collected. I hope in the future no member of your family needs blood. The Red River Blood Bank could say, "Sorry but Haskell only donated 19 units and they

Texas Department of Health
Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

Two of every three deaths in Texas during 1976 were caused by diseases of the heart and blood vessels-plus cancer, says the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health.

Deaths from all causes in 1976 totalled 100,620, according to Don Carroll, Chief Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Slightly offsetting these grim statistics is some good news. Infant deaths reached the lowest point in Texas in 1976-16.0 deaths per 1,000 live births.

The two top killers, heart disease and cancer, came as no surprise since both of these have been the leading causes of death in the state for some time.

Last year, Carroll noted, heart disease killed 33,836 Texans, while cancer accounted for 19,230 deaths.

Even though heart disease is a top killer in Texas, a decline in the death rate from heart attacks has continued for the third straight year. In 1976 the death rate was 118 per 100,000 population. In fact, health officials say, there were 360 fewer deaths than expected from heart attacks, based on 1975 experience. "Whether a three-year declining rate is related to a decline in 'risk factors' for heart attack isn't known," said Dr. Richard K. Donelson, Director of the Epidemiology Division.

"And, whether the decline is matched elsewhere in the United States will be answerable soon, when the US mortality data becomes available."

The mortality rate for all forms of cancer in 1976 showed an increase of 550 more cancer deaths in Texas last year. The mortality rate was 154 per 100,000 population, compared to the 1975 rate of 150.

"Some forms of cancer, such as leukemia and cancer of the mouth and throat, are showing slight decreases," said Dr. Donelson. "But unfortunately, cancer of most of the other body sites has continued to cause a gradual increase in the death rate over the years."

The other killers in the top 10 for 1976 were: (3) apoplexy (cerebrovascular disease) 10,653; (4) accidents 6,468; (5) pneumonia 3,057; (6) diabetes mellitus 1,894; (7) certain causes of infant deaths 1,817; (8) arteriosclerosis 1,691; (9) homicide 1,633; and (10) suicide 1,526.

A significant increase in the number of deaths ascribed to septicemia was observed last year. The 405 deaths were up from 297 such deaths in 1975.

"Several explanations for this increase in septicemia deaths are now being investigated," said Dr. Donelson. "One possible explanation is that physicians and hospital workers have recently become more persistent in their attempts to diagnose and make special records of septicemia. This is perhaps due to the increasing emphasis on hospital infection control. The several different types of septicemia appear to have been equally increased, said Dr. Donelson. About half of the deaths occurred in persons over 65, which has been the experience in past years.

The infant death—which includes the first year of life—continued its downward course to 16.0 deaths per 1,000 live births. Since 1972, when the death rate of infants was 20.2, the number of infant deaths has gradually decreased. Despite this gratifying decline, there were 3,502 deaths last year.

Physicians with the Department are concerned about the number of infant deaths and feel that the infant death rate can be improved.

"The greatest decline in infant mortality will come in the newborn period and will be influenced by better prenatal care and the continued improvements in hospital facilities and trained personnel," said Dr. P. Cliff Price, Chief of the Bureau of Personal Health Services. "Good intensive care for the premature babies can be a big factor."

The number of "preventable" infant deaths is the subject of continuing great interest among obstetricians and pediatricians, as well as public health workers, in this country, says Dr. Donelson.

Recording births and deaths was one of the very earliest duties assigned to the state health department.

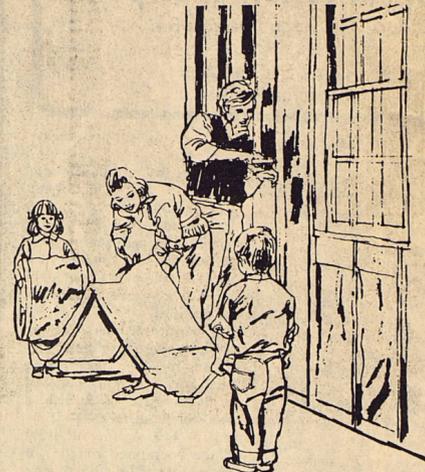

Today, the department maintains more than 20 million records of births, deaths, marriages, and divorces. The vital records of the births and deaths of Texans are protected in a new 32,000-square-foot facility along side of the Department's headquarters at 1100 West 49th St. in Austin.

More than half a million new records are filed each year, and 250,000 requests for certified copies of these records are received each year. The bulk of the Bureau's work involves recording births and deaths. For every child born in Texas, the attendant at the birth must file a certificate of birth with one of the one thousand local Registrars of Vital Statistics. Similarly, funeral directors file a certificate of death with the local Registrar. The original records are then forwarded to the State Bureau.

How To Button Up Your Home

The entire family can help out when it comes to insulating. The 'heavy' work can be done by mom and dad, with dad swinging the stapler to affix the bunting between the studs.

aluminum foil vapor barrier, the flanges on both sides must be stapled to the SIDES of the studs.

If you use insulation without a vapor barrier, place it between the studs in the usual way, then cover the entire wall with sheets of clear polyethylene plastic as a vapor barrier. If possible, fold the sheet so you are stapling through a double thickness. Staples should be inserted every 8 inches along the front end of each stud.

It is very important to insulate attic floors, cellar ceilings and the walls of unfinished rooms. In these cases, to have the vapor barrier facing the warmer adjacent areas, the barrier and its flanges will be out of reach on the inside of the cavity. Support this insulation with chicken wire stapled to the studs.

WEATHERSTRIPPING—Controls heat loss through windows and doors. Windows and doors represent the biggest sources of heat loss in your house if they are not properly sealed. Weatherstripping is available in a wide variety of forms, but usually, the least expensive is the felt type with burlap backing. Place the stripping with its edge firmly against the frame of the window sash and staple it about every four inches. Doors should be weatherstripped on the outside. Install the stripping on the door stops, the wood strips on the sides and top against which the door closes. Stapling is the same as for windows.

STORM WINDOWS—Additional protection. You can make excellent temporary storm windows by covering them with clear plastic. Use 6-mil polyethylene and staple it around the outside of the window. Double the plastic at the edges and drive the staples against the outer edge of the trim where they won't be noticed.

These easy-to-do measures will make your home far more energy-efficient. You'll save significant amounts not only on your winter heating bills, but on summer air conditioning bills too. Your investment in materials will soon be paid back again and again.

Turkey was the pride of the Pilgrims back in 1621 at the first Thanksgiving. That part of Thanksgiving has never changed. Only the turkey itself has changed—and much for the better. The modern edition is more plump and tender, with a greater proportion of white meat to please these pampered moderns.

While you can prepare a turkey for the oven in about six minutes without stuffing—and the turkey flavor will be just as good—many people love a great stuffing with their turkey, especially at this holiday time. Try this rich chestnut dressing for a change. We assure you, you won't be disappointed.

Although the Pilgrims didn't know this about turkey, they were eating one of the most nutritious foods there is. Turkey has the highest quantity and quality of protein of any popular red meat or poultry, and it is an excellent source of riboflavin, niacin and even iron. Yet turkey is low in fat and cholesterol. In the three centuries since 1621 the popularity of turkey has never waned, yet it remains one of the most economical meats in the market today. A remarkable bird—this turkey! No wonder it was the Pilgrim's Pride.

Turkey has never become old-fashioned. It's as popular now as it was three centuries ago at the first Thanksgiving.

How To Roast A Modern Turkey
It's easy as 1-2-3!

I. How To Thaw A Turkey:
Follow the instructions on the turkey bag. Refrigerate or cook turkey as soon as it is thawed.

II. How To Prepare A Turkey:
Remove turkey from its plastic bag; remove neck and giblets from cavities, rinse turkey and wipe dry. (Cook neck and giblets for broth to flavor dressing or make giblet gravy.) Make dressing as described below. Stuff Chestnut Dressing loosely into body and neck cavities, then skewer neck skin to back. Fasten down legs either by tying or tucking under skin band. Twist wings akimbo under turkey.

III. How To Roast A Turkey:
Place turkey, breast up, on rack in shallow roasting pan. Brush with butter, margarine or cooking oil if desired. If a roast-meat thermometer is used, insert into thick part of thigh. Bulb should not touch bone. Roast at 325°F. Time chart below is your guide to length of roasting time. A "tent" of foil placed loosely over turkey keeps it from browning too fast, and may be removed when necessary to baste turkey. Remove foil last half hour for final browning. Turkey is done when roast-meat thermometer registers 180-185°F., or when thick part of drumstick feels soft when pressed with thumb and forefinger, or when drumstick and thigh move easily.

Chestnut Stuffing
2 lbs. chestnuts (4 cups, boiled)
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup minced onion
2 cups chopped celery
1 tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon sage
3 quarts toasted bread cubes, lightly packed
Hot broth or water

Wash chestnuts, make long slit on both sides of each shell. Bake at 500°F. for 15 minutes. Shell and skin nuts, then boil in salted water and cover for 20 minutes. Drain and chop medium fine. In butter in skillet, saute onion and celery for about 10 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Combine with sage, salt, pepper and bread cubes. Add enough broth or water to moisten as desired. Add chestnuts and toss lightly. Makes enough stuffing for 14-18 lb. ready-to-cook turkey.

Time Chart For Roasting Turkey In Preheated 325°F Oven (Thermometer for all—180—185°F.)

|----------------------|--------------------------|
| 6 to 8 lbs. | 3 to 3-1/2 hrs. |
| 8 to 12 lbs. | 3-1/2 to 4-1/2 hrs. |
| 12 to 16 lbs. | 4-1/2 to 5-1/2 hrs. |
| 16 to 20 lbs. | 5-1/2 to 6-1/2 hrs. |
| 20 to 24 lbs. | 6-1/2 to 7 hrs. |

Wrapping Tips For Mailed Parcels

- Use a strong container such as a corrugated cardboard or fiberboard box.
- Use cushioning material inside the box to prevent contents from striking each other and breaking.
- Use reinforced strapping tape to seal box or parcel.
- Address package legibly on one side and include an address card inside the package.

Three illustrations of proper packing and wrapping are shown here:

Fragile items can damage each other within the same package if they are not individually cushioned and separated by fiberboard strips. Newspaper or similar materials provide good cushioning. (Diagram A)

Textile products need a sturdy container because they offer little support to the box. If the outer corrugated container is too large, it can easily be trimmed to size by slitting the four corners as needed. (Diagram B)

Sturdy hardware items, like an electric knife, deserve good packaging, too. The light paperboard box in which such goods are sold was never intended to be a shipping container. Always place the display container within a sturdy corrugated box. Cushioning can be crumpled newspaper or similar materials. (Diagram C)

Texas Sportsmen Warned Of Fire Hazards

Texas sportsmen are gearing-up for the fall hunting seasons and new hunting licenses have been purchased, bird dogs have received their shots and permission to hunt has been obtained from landowners.

There are not many incidents that can mar a hunt quicker than an uncontrolled fire and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is reminding hunters to use common sense and proper techniques in preventing or controlling a range or brush fire.

Be sure the exhaust system on your hunting vehicle is in good condition and drive only on defined roads. Catalytic converters can be dangerous if grass, weeds or other combustible materials become lodged under the vehicle.

Even using the road systems on ranch or farmlands could be dangerous this year due to dry conditions if cigarettes, and matches are not placed in proper receptacles.

When building camp fires, use designated areas free of heavy cover and protected from winds after getting permission from the landowner.

Most hunters have citizens band radios and if there is doubt as to whether you or your hunting group can handle the fire, relay the message as to location and size of the fire to the landowner and other authorities.

Uncontrolled fire is dangerous to wildlife, their habitat and also to human life. A careless mistake may lead to tragedy for both you and wildlife.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Texas' foul weather months have just started and many people are beginning to think about ways to cut back on a high heating bill.

The first thing that comes to the minds of many of us is the cozy and inviting blaze of a fireplace, although it may be questionable as to how much warmth and comfort a fireplace can provide in actually heating a home on a chilly evening.

There is no doubt that it can provide a reasonable amount of heat if it's installed correctly and the proper materials are used. Otherwise, some consumers who are thinking of adding a fireplace could find that resulting problems may cause more discomfort than comfort.

The lawyers in our Consumer Protection Division have had a number of reports of fireplace construction problems. One incident involved a woman who hired two itinerant contractors to build a fireplace. When it was finished, all the fires she built went out immediately. She discovered later that the contractors had failed to install a damper to regulate air flow, and the resulting draft blew out every fire the woman tried to start.

To avoid problems after a fireplace is built, give plenty of advance thought to what you want, and take certain precautions before hiring a contractor for the job. The initial step is to decide on the type and size of fireplace. Three kinds are available. The best known is the traditional version with firebrick interior and brick or stone chimney.

Another is a preassembled built-in unit with metal firebox and flue. This kind can be installed to look like the traditional version, even to the extent of enclosing the metal flue within a chimney. The third kind is a freestanding pre-fabricated unit that can be placed anywhere in the room. Any of these types, if properly installed and made of quality materials, should be satisfactory and safe.

Several sizes of fireplaces are available. The size you choose will determine the maximum size of the logs you can burn. You should also decide whether to include certain options in a fireplace, such as a gas or butane starter or an outside door or special drawer for ash removal.

Think, too, about some of the heat-circulating devices that can improve the ability of the fireplace to heat an entire room. Some of these might be a worthwhile investment if you plan to use the fireplace as a major source of heat.

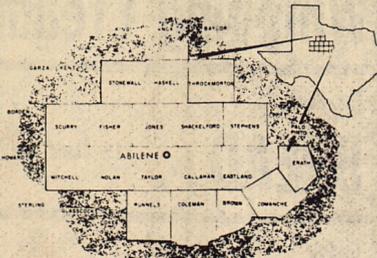

It is also advisable to get several bids before selecting a contractor to build or install the fireplace. When you have decided on a contractor, discuss with him exactly what you want. Reputable companies or individuals will be happy to show you examples of their work. After you have reached an agreement on the work to be done, the price, and the timetable for completion, draw up a contract. Some companies will have their own contract.

Also, when contracting a fireplace, be wary of paying too much money before the work is completed. Our Consumer Protection attorneys say a good rule of thumb is to hold back a substantial part of the price until the job is completed.

If you have a consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Lubbock, McAllen, or El Paso. If you live outside these areas, call toll-free: 1-800-252-9236.

Louisiana Hayride and races provide Shreveport action

By Gordon Quarnstrom
Travel News Service
SHREVEPORT — The Louisiana Hayride is getting ready for its 30th year, which means that David Kent and Frank Page are among the veterans in the country music broadcast field.

The Hayride, as many readers will know, is a musical production heard via radio throughout the South and which from time to time has been heard in many other areas, as well.

The Hayride is one of the numerous attractions for visitors in the Shreveport-Bossier area, not far east of the Texas-Louisiana border. The first Hayride broadcast was on April 3, 1948. The current star is lovely Micki Fuhrman.

The show has sent many entertainers on to Grand Ole Opry at Nashville and to recording fame, including Elvis Presley. There is dancing each Friday night, while on Saturdays there is the broadcast show plus dancing. Admission for the show and dance is $4, with children playing $1 for the show. The Hayride kitchen is a favorite and features a barbecue dinner with all the fixin's, and all you can eat.

Shreveport-Bossier is the home of Louisiana Downs, whose racing season for 1978 will be June 30 through Nov. 26. I watched the thoroughbreds from an air conditioned grandstand, during my 1977 visit, after first having a lunch that I'll long remember. It was worthy of a top dining room and deserves a four star rating of approval.

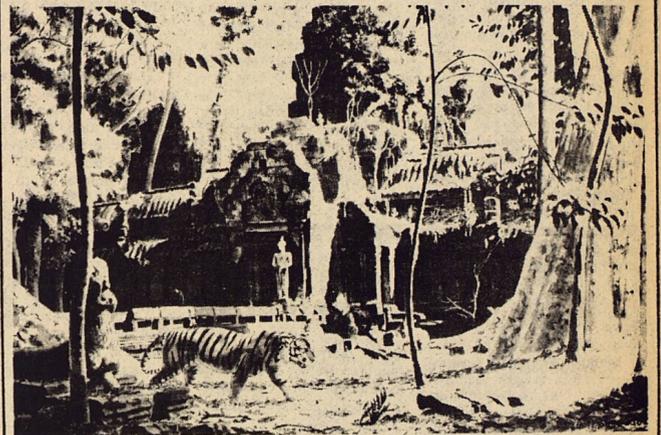

Near Shreveport are the gardens of the American Rose Society. They indeed are spectacular, set in a pine grove with a carillon tower in the center.

The American Rose Center is new, having been inaugurated only five years ago. It is an oasis of tranquility and loveliness, located on 118 acres, planted not only with roses but also with other flowering plants, trees and shrubs. Harold Goldstein, the executive director, says the property ultimately will be the largest park of roses in the world. You can get information by writing to the American Rose Society, Box 30,000, Shreveport 71130.

There are two fine galleries that should be seen by any visitor to the Shreveport-Bossier area. Admission is free to both. One is the Meadows Museum on the Centenary College campus. It has the beautiful collection of drawings and paintings produced by the late Jean Despujols, the French artist who traveled in rural Indochina in 1936-38.

The other gallery is the Norton, which has an outstanding collection of Western art, including works by Charles Russell and Frederic Remington.

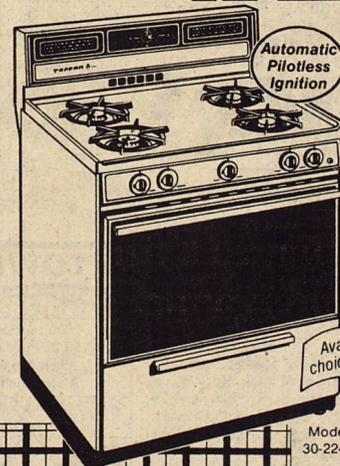

This striking pen drawing with wash in colors shows the ruins of a temple visited by the French artist Jean Despujols in Indochina in 1937. It is one of his many excellent works in the Meadows Museum on the Centenary College campus in Shreveport, La.

Sagerton News

There was much activity in Sagerton Monday morning, as the equipment and pipe were moved in and the construction of the extension of the Sagerton Water Supply Corporation lines were begun. The contract was let to Bill Bowen of Coleman and is being financed through a Federal Government Grant and the F.H.A. Thirty miles of new line will be laid, serving approximately thirty new customers. They will also enlarge some main lines and install a 24,000 gallon storage tank.

Mr. F.A. Ulmer, chairman of the Sagerton Water Board, asks that all new customers please put stakes to mark where they want their meters installed, so that there will be no delay in getting the work done.

The remodeling of the interior of the sanctuary of the Faith Lutheran Church has been completed, and as soon as the floors are refinished, the pews will be moved back in.

The beautiful redecorated sanctuary will be rededicated to the Glory of God on Sunday, November 27, by Gary Kleypas, former pastor of Faith Lutheran. This has also been designated as Harvest Festival Sunday and Rev. John Striepe, a retired minister from Brownwood, will have this service, which will be followed by a fellowship meal at noon. This will be a big day for the Lutherans, and they should be proud of the work they have done.

The youth of our community have been very busy the past two weeks.

Monday evening, November 7, was Award Banquet Night for the Haskell County 4-H'ers. The Rule 4-H Club was responsible for the planning and decorating for the banquet, and Kraig Kupatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt, and president of the Rule 4-H Club, was master of ceremonies for the event. His sister, Kris, also took part in the closing exercise of the program.

If LACIE is the answer, then what is the question? Well... it might end up as the answer to "How can the government spend a lot of money?" or it could be the answer to "How can we accurately predict crop results without on-sight inspection?" Scientists are hoping it answers the second question since, if so, planning for U.S. farmers could be greatly simplified. LACIE is the fast way of saying Large Area Crop Inventory Experiment. Purpose of the experiment is to determine better ways of obtaining information on growing crops by satellite surveillance. Specifically, the tests involve a special kind of "photography"... using instruments which measure the amounts and intensities of heat or light reflected from the land. Researchers say there is a good chance the new devices can become sophisticated enough to accurately report crop conditions not only in the United States, but from any place in the world.

Thursday evening of last week several men of our community were out with very young dates. This was "Daddy Date Night" for the Rule F.H.A. Chapter and the girls had dates to a spaghetti supper with their fathers. The theme was the "Fifties" and there were a lot of bobby socks, pony tails, can-cans, and rolled up jeans visible, as well as baggy pants and duck tails.

Basketball has started at Rule High School. The girls have played two games already and won them both. They played Guthrie and Benjamin. Members of the basketball team from Sagerton are Jill LeFevre, Lynn Fouts, Renee Toney, and Kris Kupatt. The boys will start this week. Let's support our young people!

Mrs. Si Curry of San Antonio and Mrs. Frances Hendrix of Austin visited here with their mother, Mrs. B. Kupatt last week.

Several of the men folk of our community enjoyed the pretty weather last weekend by going hunting for deer and quail.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monse, Sr. and Mrs. Franklin Mrazek of Aspermont visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Monse in Ballinger last weekend.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

AUSTIN — What would be your reaction if a friend collared you about a business proposition which promised an annual return of more than $10 for every $1 you invested? You'd probably do as I would -- listen very carefully to what that friend had to say.

I made just such a proposition to the Texas Legislature shortly after taking office in January, 1975. This was our offer: Give us the money needed to beef up our audit staff and we'd produce an extra $50 million by audits in 1976.

The Legislature agreed and we lived up to our part of the bargain, producing not only the promised $50 million but an extra $30 million to boot. And fiscal year-end reports just completed by my office show that our audit staff had an equally productive year in Fiscal 1977 which ended August 31.

The report shows that our auditors uncovered an additional $81 million in taxes owed the state for the year--money that otherwise would have gone undetected.

That amounts to more than $191,800 for each of the 420 auditors employed by the Comptroller's Office. That's a return of $10.55 for every $1 dollar invested by you, the taxpayer. And we think that's a pretty good return, even by Texas standards.

There's one other interesting little fact relating to this audit production record: More than $14 million of that $81 million was assessed firms located in other states, but doing business in Texas.

In the past, these out-of-state firms were audited only rarely, if at all. As a result, the state was losing millions annually in tax dollars legitimately owed it.

We believe that our expanded audit program is paying big dividends to our "stockholders," the Texas taxpayers. And we hope to do even better in the future.

By seeing that every dollar legitimately owed the state reaches the treasury, we hopefully can continue to meet our responsibilities without new taxes.

IF YOU HAVE ANY STATE TAX PROBLEMS OR QUESTIONS, CONTACT YOUR LOCAL COMPTROLLER'S FIELD OFFICE OR CALL TOLL FREE, 1-800-252-5555.
