Greeting Issue Of Free Press Set For Dec. 22

Christmas greeting ads, along with regular merchandise ads, will be published in the Free Press Wednesday, December 22. All businesses or individuals desiring to run ads are asked to call the Free Press office, 864-2686, by noon Friday, December 16.

It is impossible to contact all businesses, but a sincere effort will be made.

This issue will also contain all letters to Santa Claus that reach the Free Press by noon Monday, December 19.

This is an ideal and economical way of saying Thanks to your customers and friends at this time of the year. Many individuals also publish a greeting ad, in lieu of Christmas Cards.

The Free Press will be closed December 22-23 and 26 for the Christmas holidays, and ad deadline for the January 4, issue will be noon, December 30.

Safety Urged During Holidays

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said today that "it is tragic that so many men, women and children will become victims of motor vehicle accidents during the Christmas and New Year holidays."

He added, "Based on past holiday experience, we believe many of the traffic accidents during the holiday will involve either speeding or drinking."

Bell called on motorists to cooperate in law enforcement efforts to hold speed down during the holiday.

He also urged motorists to work with officers to eliminate the serious threat posed by drunk drivers.

Major Bell noted that law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in an all out effort to make the streets and highways safe, and in addition he said the Department of Public Safety would be working with the news media, trying to focus public attention on accident dangers during the holiday.

Deaths so far during 1977 are running more than 10% higher than 1976, and are made even more tragic because they could have been avoided.

Drivers are urged to burn their low-beam headlights during daylight hours throughout the holidays as a reminder to others to drive safely and light the way for a safe holiday in Texas.

MOST IMPROVED

Certificates were recently awarded to Earnest Stewart and Donna Markey naming them the most improved man and woman golfers at Haskell County Club according to Jack Medford, club pro.

Black Mission To Open Sunday

The First Assembly of God Church in Haskell has leased the old East Side Baptist Church building at 400 S. 1st St. The building formerly was the Spanish Mission.

The building will be used for the purpose of beginning a Full Gospel Mission for the black community in Haskell.

The first meeting will be held this Sunday at 3 p.m. with an opening address by the Rev. Dudley Bragg, pastor First Baptist Church in Haskell. Other churches in Haskell and the surrounding area will also participate on the program.

This meeting is held for the purpose of starting a new mission and was brought about by the pastor and congregation of the First Assembly of God Church in Haskell.

Six Enter Guilty Pleas

Six persons accused of crimes in Haskell County plead guilty to their charges last Thursday in 39th District Court with Judge W.P. Ratliff presiding.

Pleading guilty were: Dorothy Louise Bruner, Edward Joe Owens, James Edward Lewis, Benjamin Gonzales, Robert Lee Gonzales and Domingo Escobedo Garcia.

Representing the State in each of the cases was District

Attorney Joseph Thigpen.

Bruner admitted guilty to the April 9, charge of forgery and was sentenced to 10 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Area Residents Reminded Of City Ordinance

Chief of Police Wayne Merchant reminds local residents that the City of Haskell has an ordinance against the shooting of fireworks within the city limits.

He warned that the ordinance would be enforced.

Dry grass and high winds combined make the shooting of fireworks an extreme fire hazard.

In addition to the fire hazard, fireworks are a nuisance to many people.

All area residents who shoot fireworks outside the city limits are urged to practice extreme caution, not only to prevent fires but also personal injury to hands, eyes, and ears.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The 1977-78 Christmas concert will be held in the Haskell High School gymnasium on Wednesday, December 21. The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. There will be two bands performing: the high school band and the junior high band. The public is invited to attend the concert, which will be presented free of charge.

Christian Church Sets Service

The Christian Church has announced that the annual White Christmas service will be at 6 p.m. next Sunday, December 18th. The young people of the congregation will participate. The annual fellowship supper will follow the service in Chandler Fellowship Hall.

It was also announced that from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Christmas Day, Sunday, December 25th, a combined Bible School, morning worship and communion service will be held, in the main auditorium of the church building. The public is cordially invited to attend.

SANTA LETTERS

The Free Press will print letters to Santa Claus in the Dec. 22 issue. All letters to Santa must be in the Santa Mailbox in the Free Press by noon on Dec. 19, to be included in the issue.

WTC To Sponsor Fine Arts Tour

Western Texas College is announcing plans to sponsor a Fine Arts Tour of Europe through its Fine Arts Department from May 17-June 7, 1978.

Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of WTC, will serve as tour director and instructor. Persons making the tour may earn three hours of college credit in Music Appreciation and three hours credit in Art Appreciation, or may choose to audit the courses rather than receiving college credit.

The group will fly from Dallas to London on a charter flight on May 17 and remain in London until May 21 when they will go by ferry to Harwich and Amsterdam. Other highlights of the tour on the Continent will include a cruise on the Rhine, a performance by the Boys' Choir of Vienna, sightseeing in Venice, Rome and Florence, and tours in Paris and Versailles.

Cost of the trip will be $1795 per person. This includes first class accommodations in hotels (double occupancy), a Continental breakfast each morning, train fares, and the ferry from England to Holland. It also includes all tours, tickets to the concerts, plays and other activities, and tuition and fees.

A brochure with additional details of the tour is to be ready about mid-January. Persons wishing further information may contact the Fine Arts Department office or Dr. Clinton's office at Western Texas College.

Both Benjamin and Robert Lee Gonzales pled guilty to the May 1, charge of Aggravated Assault with a Deadly Weapon and received 10 year probated sentences.

Edward Joe Owens admitted guilty to a January 18th charge of burglary to commit theft. He was given a 5 year probated sentence.

Garcia pled guilty to the July 16th charge of criminal mischief and was sentenced to 2 years probation.

Lewis admitted guilt to the Nov. 20, 1974 charge of DWI, subsequent offense and was sentenced to 1 year probation.

Christmas Winners Named

Winners in the second Christmas drawing held last Saturday include: Delight Jones, $100.00. Others winning $50.00 were: Mrs. Robert Stiewert, Clyde Bland, Mrs. Gus Rueffer, Mrs. Betty Pueblo, L.C. Williams, Buelah Toliver, Mae Lou Yeldell, and Marie Bailley.

The third drawing will be held this Saturday at 11 a.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Council Names Police Chief

Members of the Haskell City Council met in regular session Tuesday night and faced several items of business.

Mayor Belton Duncan called the meeting to order and Councilman Loraine Johnson gave the invocation.

Following the approval of minutes, members of the council discussed Linco Water meters with Ray Rampy. No action was taken regarding the purchase of meters.

Corporation Court Judge Hubert Bledsoe met with the council to discuss fines concerning throwing water balloons and shooting lights. City Policeman Wayne Merchant met with the council and was named Police Chief. Chief Merchant recently completed 240 hours of certification training in Brownwood and is now a certified law enforcement officer.

Members of the council agreed to present service merit awards of 10% of one months salary to each city employee.

Henry King met with the council to request information concerning the zoning of property in the Shook Addition. He was directed to the zoning committee.

It was pointed out that other parties had inquired about leasing the grazing at the sewer farm and councilmen agreed to advertise for a one year grass lease in the near future.

Members of the council were invited to attend the annual Fire Department Christmas Party which will be held next Monday in the community building of the Haskell National Bank.

Others attending the meeting in addition to those mentioned were: Councilmen Guy Kennedy and E.J. Stewart, City Sec. Desmond Dulaney, City Atty. Joe Williams, and Water Supt. Marvin Collins.

14 Indians Named To Dist. Band

District Band tryouts were held in Hamlin, on December 10. There were 120 members chosen from 21 different schools. Fourteen members of the Indian Band made the All-District Band; thus, Haskell makes up more than 10% of the 1977-78 District Band.

Those making the Band from Haskell were: Terri Therwanger on the flute; Kim Lane, Cindy Everett, and Betsy Opitz on the clarinet; Patricia Arredondo on the saxophone; Tamra Sorrells on the tenor saxophone; Greg Gideon and Mary Lu Gonzales on the cornet; Thomas Long on the trombone; Connie Frierson on the bass clarinet; Karen Gray on the french horn; Sharon Gray and Ronnie Rea on the drums; and Peggy Harris on the contra-bass clarinet.

Terri Gideon, Sonja Tidrow, Vicki Hill and Phillip Parker also tried out on various instruments.

The District Band members practice from 2:00-5:30 Saturday afternoon, and then at 7:00 Saturday night they presented a concert in the Hamlin auditorium. All of the members enjoyed the day, and felt it was a rewarding experience.

NFR To Be Televised

Rodeo's top money winners will compete for eight "world champion" titles on the nationally televised final performance of the 1977 National Finals Rodeo direct from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma (Dec. 16 on most U.S. stations, Dec. 21 in Canada). Check local listings for time and station.

A purse of more than $165,000 will be at stake as rodeo's finest cowboys compete in bareback and saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and team roping. Girls' barrel racing will also be featured during this two-hour family oriented broadcast.

Only the top 15 money winners from rodeo's seven major events may compete in the National Finals. World champions in each of these events, including the World Champion All-Around Cowboy title, will be based solely on total dollars earned during the National Finals.

Expert commentary by Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association announcers will add color and excitement during the telecast.

The Hesston corporation and participating Hesston Farm Equipment Dealers will sponsor the N.F.R. telecast for the fourth consecutive year. A potential 20 million television viewers will be able to watch the most competitive performances in rodeo. The rough and tumble action that has characterized rodeo from its American frontier beginnings will be as rugged and exciting as ever in Oklahoma City's Jim Norick Arena, site of the National Finals.

Driving Safety Tips Hints For Motorcyclists

NIGHT RIDING If you're one of America's 15 million motorcyclists the chances are that sometimes you're a night rider. Here from the experts at Motorcycle Safety Foundation are some tips to make your night riding safer.

• Learn to use the lights from other vehicles. Don't override your headlight which may not cover the road as well as those of an automobile.

• Take extra care to make sure others see you. Your riding gear is important. Wear light, bright clothing. Reflective tape on your helmet and clothing may help catch another driver's eye.

• Don't wear a scratched face shield or goggles. At night it would be particularly dangerous because of the poor vision caused by the reflective glare from oncoming lights. If you use tinted eye protection during the day remember to carry a clear face shield or goggles for night riding.

• If the high beam of your headlight goes out, use the low beam, but get the lighting system fixed at the first opportunity. If your low beam goes out, switch to high beam, and turn or twist the headlight lower so it does not annoy other drivers. Remember, when riding at night, to take extra care.

Coltharp Appointed WTCC VP

The appointment of Edward H. Coltharp as Executive Vice President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was announced today by WTCC President E. Bruce Street of Graham.

Coltharp has been serving as Acting Executive Vice President since the resignation of J. Fike Godfrey and will assume the permanent position effective December 1, becoming the seventh person to serve as Executive Vice President since the regional chamber was formed in 1918.

Prior to his interim appointment as Acting Executive Vice President, Coltharp had served four and a half years as WTCC Development Director with primary responsibilities in areas of Local Action, Agriculture and Ranching and Tourist and Travel Development.

When asked to comment on the appointment Street stated that, "Ed Coltharp is an experienced Chamber of Commerce Executive and is thoroughly familiar with all areas of the WTCC's program having maintained an overview of all projects carried on by the organization in addition to his specific areas of responsibility. As WTCC Development Director he has been called on to travel extensively testifying on behalf of WTCC positions at both the state and national levels and in so doing he has provided a very important service to the membership and the area served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce."

Street went on to say that, "the promotion of Ed Coltharp from the position of Development Director to that of Executive Vice President is evidence of the confidence the Executive Committee has in his ability to continue to provide the quality of professional staff leadership the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has had in the past and must continue to have in the future."

Coltharp is a native of Sweetwater, Texas and a 1961 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University with a degree in Economics and Business Administration. His professional career in Chamber of Commerce Management began in 1961 and has included service as the Executive Vice President for the Chambers of Commerce in Dimmitt and Vernon in the West Texas area and Terrell in East Texas.

In addition to his professional interests he owns and operates a stock farm in Fisher County which enables him to continue his lifelong interest in agriculture.

Mrs. Coltharp is the former Glenda Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Elliott of Sweetwater and the couple have two sons, Curt 16 a junior at Cooper High School and Glynn 12 who attends Jefferson High School in Abilene. The Coltharps are active members of the University Baptist Church in Abilene.

Texas Producers Dislike U. S. Policy

The foreign and domestic food policy of the United States is generally held in disfavor by Texas farmers and ranchers, a recent survey shows.

The survey, conducted by Dr. Ronald Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, shows that the majority of Texas producers favor a reduction in the food stamp program and a tightening foreign food aid program.

Regarding the food stamp program, producers voiced strong feelings that people should work for a living and that only those families in extreme poverty or receiving a minimum level of nutrition should receive aid," noted Knutson. "They felt strongly that the food stamp program has gotten out of hand in terms of size and scope. Although beef and milk producers are the greatest beneficiaries of the program, their attitudes varied little from other producers.

Knutson pointed out that the domestic food aid program

Poisoning

Common In

Cold Weather

Carbon Monoxide poisoning becomes increasingly dangerous as colder weather sets in, points out Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Enclosing of homes, garages, shops and other buildings that contain open fuel-burning appliances increases carbon monoxide contamination which kills hundreds of people each year in the United States. However, the most common cause of carbon monoxide poisoning is exposure to engine exhaust fumes, either by being inside the vehicle or being enclosed in a garage or shop with the engine running.

Fatal carbon monoxide poisoning occurs when fuels burn incompletely, as most of them do. This causes a buildup of carbon monoxide unless adequate ventilation is maintained, says Nelson.

has been expanded to attract the support of urban congressmen for the new farm bill just passed. This program is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and last year took 60 percent of the department's budget. In addition to food stamps, the program includes school lunches and child nutrition.

"As far as foreign food aid is concerned, most Texas agricultural producers felt that this should be limited primarily to emergency situations," said Knutson. "They favor efforts by the recipient country to control population as well as to increase food production as a condition for foreign food aid. In actuality, however, such food aid programs tend to increase dependence on aid, foster further population growth, depress prices in the recipient countries, and thus reduce incentives to produce."

"On the 'right to food' issue, Texas Agricultural producers again showed their displeasure of any give-away program without a willingness on the part of the recipient to care for himself and work for a living. They feel that a 'right to food' exists only for those who have the financial resources to buy on the open market and who are willing to work," noted the economist.

"Domestic and foreign food aid programs will continue to be major political issues in the years ahead," emphasized Knutson. "They are issues that are receiving strong reaction from consumers, government officials, Third World nations and the church, and they will continue to have marked effects on agricultural producers."

Consumer Safety Act Reducing Injuries

Many injuries result from use of defective, poorly designed, unsafe products. However, a new product design philosophy spurred on by the Consumer Product Safety Act is beginning to reduce product related injuries, notes a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Basically, this new design philosophy states that not only must consumer products be free of hazards encountered during the normal intended use of a product, but they must also be free of hazards encountered during reasonable foreseeable mis-uses," points out Dr. Gary Nelson. "This means two things. First of all, a product must be free of sharp edges, electrical shorts, pinch points and other hazards encountered during normal use. Secondly, manufacturers must anticipate common abuses of their product and either design it to safeguard the product abuser, or, where this is not possible, warn the user of misuse hazards."

Nelson notes that product manufacturers are recognizing their responsibility more and more to produce hazard-free products, but users of consumer products must recognize their responsibilities, too. "Many injuries involve not acquiring the right product for the intended use," says the engineer. "That is, we buy a product and then use it in ways for which it was not designed—like using a wrench as a hammer, a space heater to warm food, or believe it or not, a lawnmower hand-held by two men to trim hedges. Yes, Virginia," says Nelson, "people can be that foolish."

The engineer also argues that people have the responsibility to buy safe products, remembering that "you can always make a product cheaper by cutting quality, which will often mean increasing the risk of injury to the product user."

To reduce product related injuries, Nelson advises informing yourself about projects before buying. Read available information brochures, catalogs and the better-known consumer product rating publications. Ask other users about the product. Inspect the product for quality of materials, construction and proper shielding of hazardous components. Read the warranty, and look for labels on equipment stating they meet applicable standards. And remember, buy the right product for your needs.

Decorating Hints

Let a new theme and color scheme create excitement or serenity at home for the holiday season.

Holidays provide an excellent opportunity for generous use of accent colors and decorations—and this year's color choices are "anything goes," suggests Glenda Moore, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

HOLIDAY THEME
Selecting a holiday theme first can help set the color scheme, she says. A decorating theme might be religious, country, modern, or an "old-fashioned" Christmas.

Miss Moore is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Spending a lot of money on new decorations is not necessary to create this year's holiday look, either, the specialist says.

New ideas and color combinations can start with adapting decorations already on hand.

"On-hand" items can become fabric or ribbon bows, or tinsel made from popcorn or colored paper rings to carry out an "old-fashioned" theme.

For an effective country look, glue fabric scraps onto plain styrofoam balls, include a velvet ribbon at the top, and hang it on the tree with a bobbin—or mount them around the house with thread and thumbtacks.

COLOR SCHEME
In choosing a holiday color scheme, first consider the existing background colors of walls, carpets and upholstery. Also, take the style of furnishings into consideration.

Then select one or two harmonizing or contrasting colors for "holiday colors," which do not have to be traditional red and green.

Color choices are limited only by the imagination, Miss Moore says.

Consider using red, white and gold—or green, blue and silver.

Perhaps purple, lime and green might be this year's selection. Or pink, white and gold—or green, orange and brown—or even burgundy, red and gold might look best.

In considering on-hand items with color in mind, remember that greenery usually fits into most color schemes. Using either red or green as the base color also allows for the use of more lights and ornaments from last year's supply.

In fact, lighting and accents give a color scheme added excitement or serenity.

Use colored paper over lighted valances, or try lighted wall brackets or corners for example.

A final thought; if regular home accessories do not fit into the 1977 holiday color scheme, store them till the season is over.

WASHINGTON

"As It Looks From Here"

Omar Burleson
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C.— LAST WEEK, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES by Resolution, unanimously requested the Administration to drastically change Federal guidelines which could close some hospitals all across the Nation.

THE PROPOSALS, AS NOW DRAWN, IF ENFORCED could close one hospital in ten across the Country. The purpose of the so-called guidelines is part of a campaign to check hospital costs by eliminating duplication of health facilities. Small rural hospitals would be those hardest hit and, in some cases, would reduce health care to a level that would make them more a clinic than a hospital.

THE RESOLUTION SIMPLY EXPRESSES OPPOSITION to these proposals and, therefore, several of us have introduced another Resolution which would absolutely prohibit some of the actions which could be taken by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. In the meantime, the action taken last week by a vote of 357 to 0 is the quickest and most effective to be taken at this time. The House action was in response to a nation-wide wave of protests against the proposed standards, even though the Secretary of HEW and other officials say they have no power at all to close hospitals and have not asked for any. This, in effect, is true but the guidelines do suggest a limit of no more than four acute-care beds for 1,000 persons in any area. If this was carried out, under the regulations, 100,000 of the Nation's almost one million acute-care beds could be closed at what they say would be a saving of $2 billion a year.

REGARDLESS OF WHAT THE OFFICIALS SAY, these new proposals would be a foot in the door that could soon lead to closing many hospital facilities labeled "unnecessary."

IN ADDITION TO THE ACTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, about half of the U.S. Senate has contacted Secretary of HEW, Joseph Califano, asking for clarification and for exemptions for small hospitals that serve millions of Americans. THOSE OF US WHO HAVE BEEN IN CONTACT WITH THE SECRETARY over the last few months have pointed out that the guidelines, as now proposed, could shut down many obstetric wards since the regulators suggest that obstetric facilities that delivered less than 500 babies a year might be closed as an economy measure. It has been stressed to the Secretary that no such requirement could be met in many hospitals and would require going miles away to a larger hospital for this service. The mother would be in strange surroundings and it would probably mean the services of a doctor

In 1896 William Jennings Bryan said it best, "Burn down your cities and leave our farms, and your cities will spring up again as if by magic, but destroy our farms and the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the country." As long as the North American farmer can supply our food at a price that allows us to spend the greatest part of our income for our cars and TVs and recreational items, our high standard of living can continue. But, when our farmers can no longer produce our low-cost food, or when they have no economic incentive or ability to produce this food—truly, again, "the grass will grow in the streets of every city in the country."

Submitted by Mr. E.T. Evans, Boise, Idaho, in response to a request from Hesston Corporation to the membership of the American National Cattlemen's Association (now the National Cattlemen's Association).

who had not been furnishing prenatal care and who would not know the patient.

TO REPEAT, THE SECRETARY OF HEW has given us a measure of assurance that smaller hospitals qualifying for Federal funds will not be closed, but we believe that more is needed to guarantee against the reduction of needed medical services, especially in small town hospitals. It is true that hospital costs have soared to unreasonable heights in the last few years but this drastic proposal is not the answer to reduction of costs.

A MOVE IS ON IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR by hospitals, insurance providers and doctors to voluntarily practice measures to bring down health care costs including insurance, doctors' fees and hospital charges.

All of the Tech teams have begun competition this season and some have completed the fall schedule. So far, the teams have done well.

Volleyball, under the third-year direction of Coach Janice Hudson, finished the season 43-19 and took first place in zone, seventh in state and sixth at regionals. Hudson, former Monahans High School coach, took her Monahans squad to several state AAA titles.

Cross-country, a new sport at Tech this year directed by Coach Beta Little (formerly of San Angelo Lakeview High School and Angelo State University), finished fifth both in state and regional competition. As an individual performer, petite 5'1", 105-pound Isabel Navarro of Brownfield, who was a high school All American in track and cross-country, qualified for nationals. There she finished in 51st place in a total field of 269 runners.

Basketball is just now beginning its season under new Coach Gay Benson, former Slaton High School coach and former All American and captain of the USA team. Although the Tech squad is not exceptionally large physically, the team definitely has demonstrated winning potential. In surveying the basketball roster West Texans will recognize a number of familiar names, including: defensive capabilities. Scored 42 points in recent Plainview Queens Classic Tournament. Rosemary Scott (Jr) of Slaton-top scorer and steady player, who marked up 28 points in Plainview play.

Karla Schuette (Sr) of Slaton-team leader with excellent speed and marked

Marilyn Payton (Jr) of Cooper-good rebounder and sharp shooter, who racked up 19 rebounds at Plainview.

D'Lynn Brown (Soph) of Stratford-center and leading scorer, with 43 rebounds and 50 points at Queens tourney.

Jill Owens (Jr) of Littlefield injured early in the season but now an outstanding rebounder and scorer.

Sharon Booth (Jr) of Farwell has been injured but is now working out.

LoAnn Phillips (Soph) of San Angelo Lakeview-good defensive player and rebounder. Beth Cleveland (Fresh) of Dimmitt-remarkable play-maker and leader.

Phyllis Jones (Jr) of Kress-good future player and ball-handler. Diana Hartman (Jr) of Kress-good ballhandler and excellent on defense.

Carol Dudensing (Jr) of Rule (Sagerton) - outstanding player under pressure and good rebounder, who scored 16 rebounds in Plainview.

Sue Slutz (Fresh) of Vegafine defensive player, possessing good speed and ballhandling skill.

The Tech basketball team has a few games left this month. Much improved over last year, the squad has added razzle-dazzle with press defenses and several new offenses.

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

According to George R. Bagley, President, National Association of Conservation Districts, President Carter, last week, signed the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977. The legislation, vetoed last year by former President Ford, authorizes a periodic appraisal of the status of soil and related resource conservation problems and the development of a program to help solve these problems.

The action is the culmination of three years of work by Congress; the Executive Branch; NACD; and many farm, forestry, and environmental organizations to design an acceptable procedure for measuring soil conservation problems and evaluating progress in meeting the needs.

Principal sponsors of the legislation were Sen. Walter Huddleston, of Kentucky and Rep. E. de la Garza of Texas. Other key figures in the development and passage of the law were Agriculture Subcommittee Chairman Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi and Rep. Ed. Jones of Tennessee.

NACD expects that the new legislation will help assure that the nation's soil and water conservation program will receive greater attention in the coming years. Similar in some respects to legislation adopted two years ago to assess forestry needs, the new act requires the Secretary of Agriculture to carry out a continuing appraisal of the land, water and related resources of the nation and to prepare by 1979 long-range policy based on the appraisal which sets forth the direction for future conservation efforts on private and non-federal land. The appraisal will also form the basis for the President's annual budget requests for the Soil Conservation Service, which administers the program, and for revisions, at five year intervals, in the long-range policy.

By requiring that 5-year plans for soil and water conservation be based on accurate assessments of progress and problems, the law recognizes increasing public concern about the ability of traditional programs to satisfy current and projected needs in the areas of food and fiber production and water quality improvement. The law calls for active participation by conservation districts and state conservation agencies in the development of the appraisals and policies.

Most of the responsibility for protecting the largest share of America's natural resource base lies with private landowners and operators who cooperate with conservation districts in applying conservation practices and systems to their land. The continuing appraisal of these resources will make current, accurate information available that will assist them in making wise decisions about the use of their land.

Cotton Classing

The Munday Classing Office will stop receiving cotton at 4:45 p.m. on Wednesday, December 14, according to Sidney Ferrell, in charge. The Office will close on Friday. All cotton and correspondence should be sent to the Abilene Classing Office after Wednesday.

Cotton prices were down as mixed lots of grade 42 and higher brought from 42 to 43 cents per pound. Light Spotted grades accounted for 86 percent of the cotton classed during the week, while White grades were only 13 percent. Grade 32 continued as the predominant quality, accounting for 61 percent. Grade 42 accounted for 23 percent and grade 41 was 10 percent. Eight percent of the cotton was reduced in grade because of bark or grass. Staple 32 was the predominant length with 59 percent, followed by staple 31 with 22 percent and staple 33 with 16 percent. Micronaire readings were practically unchanged as 95 percent of the cotton tested miked in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9.

About 12,200 samples were classed during the week ending December 9. For the season 123,600 samples have been classed, which surpasses the old record total of 115,000 set by this office in 1963.

Proper Energy Management Can Save You Money!

Helpful Tips For your Dishwasher

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

Accent ON HEALTH

Texas Department of Health
Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

Surprise is an ingredient which personnel in venereal disease activities have come to accept as an every-day occurrence.

So when a man and his wife walked in together recently to a free Texas Department of Health VD clinic, it wasn't a new event. It had happened before.

Both were treated with the same consideration and concern which marks all those who seek treatment when they appear at the information desk. They received a routine form to fill out, and each was given a number—no names are called out.

When the husband's number was called, he saw a laboratory technician, had blood taken for a syphilis test and also had a smear taken for a gonorrhea culture.

His wife, when her number came up, saw a nurse who screened her for syphilis and took a culture for gonorrhea and other possible problems, even though the wife had no evident symptoms of VD.

Each saw a doctor who counseled them, decided on a course of medication because of the husband's symptoms and set the date for a return visit to receive the laboratory test results.

This part of the story is a familiar one of the tens of thousands of persons who enter a Health Department VD clinic—where all records are confidential, according to Miles Kaltenbaugh.

Kaltenbaugh is supervisor of VD control in Public Health Region 6, headquartered in Temple and encompassing a 30-county Central Texas area. Since the husband and wife both appeared to have VD, a staff member talked with them separately. In addition to an educational session about venereal disease, the counselor seeks to determine the sexual contacts of each patient so that they may be located and checked for VD. This is done to prevent reinfection, to bring the contact to treatment and to prevent the spread of the disease to others.

In this case, both the husband and wife named other sexual partners, who were located and treated, said Kaltenbaugh. None of the contacts was told where the information was obtained linking them with VD, he said, in further demonstrating the confidentiality of VD investigative procedures. "Even in the younger age groups, we don't tell their parents," said Kaltenbaugh.

"We simply explain that the contact has been exposed to venereal disease and that a test is needed to determine if infection has taken place," he said. "The first reaction of a contact is sometimes anger and the feeling that maybe we are lying to him. But when we finally relate that this is a health matter and not a personal thing, the contact begins to understand that we are trying to help."

Getting the names of contacts takes tact and patience. "We work on the premise that an informed person makes logical decisions. In the process of educating someone who has VD, we think the individual will be able to understand how and why others are involved," said Kaltenbaugh. "This conscious or unconscious thought is half the battle in getting names and in controlling specific infections."

Sometimes the counselors may have only a first name or description, and they will visit bars or other places where the patient has frequented. They seldom make visits to places of work, but sometimes visit homes. They may attempt to reach a contact by phone, or may send him a confidential letter.

Just how big a problem is VD in Texas? In 1976 there was a 29 percent increase in infectious syphilis over 1975 and an eight percent increase in gonorrhea. The infectious syphilis total in 1976 was 3,449 and gonorrhea reached 82,304 cases. So far this year, there has been a one percent increase in gonorrhea and a two percent increase in syphilis over 1976.

"These figures may indicate that the VD epidemic is leveling off," says Kaltenbaugh. "But this doesn't mean we can get complacent. What we need to do now is to start getting the VD statistics decreasing."

From January through October, 1977, there have been 68,513 cases of gonorrhea and 3,317 cases of syphilis reported to the health department in Texas.

What's the best advice for anyone who knows or even suspects he has a venereal disease? "You should contact your private physician, or go to the local health department. The clinics are listed in the telephone book, and you will receive a free, confidential examination and treatment," Kaltenbaugh said.

Understanding Yourself

By C. H. Tracy, M.D.

Saving your skin may be a bigger job than you realize—for your epidermis probably measures about 19 square feet and weighs more than seven pounds.

You have millions of nerve endings throughout your skin, a portion no bigger than a postage stamp contains four yards of nerves and 25 nerve endings. That's why even small itches, bites, scrapes and burns can be so painful. To soothe such discomforts, many people apply a general antiseptic such as Campho-Phenique.

Vital oil glands deep in the dermis insulate and lubricate your skin. Surprisingly, parts of your body—the palms of your hands and the soles of your feet—have no oil glands.

However oily your skin is, it's never too late to learn how to care for it properly—and possibly save your skin.

Ever see a 15-million dollar cattle truck? It looks as though that's where things are headed with the announcement by major air carriers that 747's are going to be converted to livestock haulers for international markets. Officials say live cattle transportation to countries outside North America is already 80 percent by air with both the volume and the percentage expected to increase during the coming years. For the animals themselves it's all first class. Interiors are redesigned and structured to resemble a barn with separate pens or stalls. Special temperature control and ventilation systems are being designed and separate studies are underway to determine other ways to increase animal comfort. No one has yet decided whether to include in-flight movies but it sounds as if they may not be far away.

Rhodes Headquarters Opened

Several hundred residents from throughout the 33 counties of the 17th Congressional District were on hand Friday evening for the grand opening of the "Dusty Rhodes to Congress" campaign headquarters in Abilene.

Guest speakers for the event included Howard Sledge, a longtime rancher and president of the Montague County Farm Bureau, Roger Brown, an attorney from Howard County, Dr. Rex Kyker of Abilene Christian University and John Chalmers, an oilman and Senior Vice President of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association. Each of the speakers voiced the reasons they are supporting Rhodes in his bid for Congress. Sledge stated that as an interested observer of the upcoming congressional race, that he has only recently, after meeting all of the candidates, thrown his support behind Rhodes. The Montague County rancher expressed his confidence in Rhodes' ability to fairly represent the agricultural interests of the 17th district in Washington. Attorney Roger Brown of Big Spring pointed out Rhodes' success as an attorney, a man who knows how to get things done. Chalmers, a West Texas oilman, stated that after having been associated with Rhodes for over 20 years in the oil industry, that he is convinced that the congressional candidate is well aware of the problems facing the oil industry. For this reason, added to the fact that Rhodes will guarantee the 17th district a voice in Congress, stated Chalmers, "Dusty is the man that we should send to Washington". Dr. Rex Kyker of Abilene Christian University lauded the past accomplishments of Rhodes, stating "Dusty has been a success in everything he has done, and I believe that this is the type man we should send to the nation's capital." Dr. Kyker then introduced Rhodes to the speaker's podium.

Rhodes address centered mainly around the fact that the 17th district has to have effective representation. He brought out that fact by referring to the flags representing the 33 counties of the district. Stated Rhodes, "We're going to Washington to let these county flags fly high...to let the nation know that there are over 500 thousand people in the 17th Congressional District that want a voice. I want to be your voice. These flags are going to remind me why I am in Washington and who I work for. I pledge to you that your voice will be my voice in Washington. It's time we express ourselves clearly in Washington and say we want the government to be responsive to the people." Rhodes went on to say that the main issue in the campaign will be which candidate can most effectively represent the 17th district. Rhodes continued, "I think you want someone to go to Washington and do something just because it's right!"

The Abilene businessman was the first to announce his candidacy for the 17th Congressional house seat on the Democratic ticket. Since Rhodes' August 16th announcement, four others have announced on the Democratic ticket as well as one Republican.
