Bloodmobile Visit Set In Rule

The goal of the Red Cross Regional Blood Program is to enable the community to meet the total needs for blood for all residents of the 41 counties it serves in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

It does this through volunteer donations at daily Bloodmobiles in the region.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile is coming to Rule on Tuesday, April 18. It will be at the First Baptist Church from 2:15 until 5:45. A total of 55 units from Rule is needed in order to meet the goal. The Regional Blood Program uses at least 350 units a week to support the 41 counties, and the 55 units Rule needs to bring in is part of that 350 units.

The Red Cross is asking everyone to help Rule meet their goal at their Bloodmobile on April 18. Blood is like a spare tire. It's of no use unless it's there when you need it. What would happen if you or your loved one needed blood today and it wasn't there?

There will be a nursery provided.

Dallas Food Show Attracts Eager Buyers from Japan

AUSTIN--Japanese consumer industry representatives flocked to Dallas recently to see, and buy, a tantalizing array of Texas agricultural products. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has said. The food show, held at the Dallas Garden Center, featured raw and processed agricultural goods ranging from pork sausage to hot sauce, Brown noted. The exhibition was coordinated by the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Texas Department of Agriculture. Agreements to increase Japanese purchases of American goods were reached during negotiations between Ambassador Robert Strauss, U.S. Special Trade Representative, and officials of the Japanese trade ministry. Dallas was the first of six cities which will host trade events in the U.S. Brown said that the Japanese buyers were mainly interested in processed foods. Commodities being displayed in various forms were beef, pork, citrus juice, canned vegetables, peanut butter, pecans, flour mixes, turkeys, broilers, powdered milk, and specialty items. "These businessmen were here to make orders," Brown said. Fifteen attended the food exhibits while thirty others traded in apparel and housewares. Japan is the largest export market for U.S. farm products, spending a record $3.9 billion for U.S. agriculture imports in calendar 1977. The U.S. provides about one-third of Japan's food imports. "This type of reciprocal trading should enhance the balance of payments which lately has been tipped by the millions we spend each month for foreign oil," Brown said.

Davis, Neumann Repeat Vows

On the bride's table, crystal appointments were laid on a white net overlay. A six-tiered white cake was decorated with a flowing fountain and staircase with bridesmaids and groomsmen ascending to the bride and groom at the top. Mints and roasted pecans were served along with a strawberry punch. Centerpiece was a flower arrangement of roses, carnations, and daisies.

Mrs. Franciene Johnson presided. Club members voted to welcome Edwina Daniel as a new member.

Mrs. Cliff Dunnam directed a program on drying foods at home. She introduced Mrs. Barbara Elliott. Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent of the A&M Extension Service. Mrs. Elliott used slides to show methods of drying foods in the oven. In her introduction, Mrs. Dunnam pointed out that Mrs. Elliott is leaving Haskell on May 12th; she is moving to College Station, where her husband has taken a position with the University. Mrs. Elliott has served in Haskell since 1965 with the exception of three years, in which they lived in the College Station area while Mr. Elliott completed work towards a graduate degree. The Extension Service feels so strongly about Mrs. Elliott's work that it created a position for her at College Station just to keep her in the service.

Following Mrs. Elliott's customary flawless presentation of food dehydration, Mrs. Dunnam demonstrated her dehydrator acquired in Arizona. Mrs. Dunnam showed squash, corn, onions, as well as peaches, pears, and apples, all dried. She had tomatoes not only dried, but powered as well. Home-dried beef jerky is her grandson's favorite, while granddaughter likes peach and apricot "leather." Hostesses were Mrs. Mary Rosser, Mrs. Bailey Toliver, and Mrs. Hugh Horton.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:

As a member of A.A.M. I am very concerned that people think our movement is dying. We are very strong right now. We are only waiting to see what our administration is going to do.

And if you are one of those people who have been making fun of A.A.M., will you still be making fun when there is no food on the grocery shelf for you to buy? "If you can afford it." Right now we are paying a tremendous price for food. "Based on what the farmer gets for his produce." And yet we only spend 15% of our dollar for food. What will we spend for food if the family farms are done away with? The big cooperative farms will get whatever they ask for their produce. We the consumers will pay the price. We will have to give up our luxuries in order to survive. Can you imagine not having electricity? Or water and gas. Telephones? This may be where we are headed right now. This is what A.A.M. is fighting for, the survival of America.

If you are not with us, then you may need to check into A.A.M. and find out what it stands for. You say we have made our point, why keep making a show of ourselves. This is an earnest appeal to everyone in this nation to wake up and take notice to who we are putting in our County, State and National offices. The people we put in these offices are the ones we will be putting our Legislature in the hands of. Julius and I are proud to be a part of A.A.M. Following is a clipping taken from the Aspermont News. Please study it carefully and look what is happening in America today.

Mrs. Julius Perryman
Old Glory, Texas

The following is an article written by D.B. Swank of Rural Route 5 in Muncie, Indiana. I don't know in what publication it appeared, but I believe it has a very worthwhile message. Thanks goes to Charles Schuler.

JUST A COINCIDENCE?

In May of 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied Forces obtained a copy of some of the "Communist Rules for Revolution". Nearly 50 years later, the Reds are still following them. After reading the list, stop after each item and think about the present day situation where you live — and all around our nation. We quote from the Red Rules:

A. Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial; destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity, thereby:

1. Get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays and other trivialities.

2. Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.

3. Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and disgrace.

4. Always preach true democracy, but seize power as fast and ruthlessly as possible.

5. By encouraging government extravagance, destory its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.

6. Incite unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorder and foster a lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders.

7. By spacious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, self restraint, faith in the pledged work, ruggedness.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

That was quite a list, wasn't it? Now stop and think—how many of these rules are being carried out in this nation today? I don't see how any thinking person can truthfully say that the Communists do not have any part in the chaos that is upsetting our nation. Or is it just one big coincidence?

Strauss Outlines Reasons For Running

Joanne Strauss, candidate for judge of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, in announcing the opening of her campaign, outlines her reasons for running.

"Beginning with my early days as an attorney, I have worked and dreamed of being an appellate judge—an impossible dream twenty-two years ago. Today, there is a fighting chance."

"In order to be a good appellate judge, a person must love to spend many hours doing extensive legal research. I do love this type work—it is my main asset as a lawyer."

"I am proud of the briefs I have written and believe I am ideally suited to act as your appellate judge. I want to be your appellate judge."

A former corporation court judge and federal magistrate, for the past seven and one-half years, Mrs. Strauss emphasizes that the appellate court has an impact on many lives."

"The legislature writes the law but quite often no one is sure what the statute really means. The trial judge has to interpret its meaning and wait until the appellate courts reach a decision clarifying the law. This applies to numerous everyday legal matters such as, marital problems, juvenile delinquency, workmen's compensation and business ventures of all kinds. Government must be by law and not by man—but man makes and interprets the law."

An attorney for 22 years, Mrs. Strauss is a native of West Texas. She earned her bachelor of science and doctor of jurisprudence degrees from the University of Texas. Her husband, Henry J. Strauss, is Judge of the 326th District Court. Judge and Mrs. Strauss have two children, both graduates of Cooper High School in Abilene and the University of Texas. The family is Methodist. They live at 860 Amarillo St., Abilene.

Will our kids live under the domination of an Enemy Power? Only a strong national defense can prevent it.

And strong national defense takes men of strength and courage, men like Dusty Rhodes.

At the end of World War II, the United States was the greatest military power in the history of civilization. Our military force was the greatest deterrent to war, the greatest power for peace this world has ever known.

What's happened to it? Today, the Soviet Union has a larger army, stronger force of strategic weapons, more submarines, more tanks, more weapons than the United States.

Is the answer an arms race? No. The answer lies in a better use of our defense funds, in elimination of duplication in the armed services, in constant research to keep us militarily powerful. The scrapping of the B-1 bomber at a time when Russia is expanding its air power is just one instance of the dangers of an unrealistic military policy in our government.

Dusty Rhodes believes that the only way we can preserve our freedom and the freedom of our children is through a strong national defense. He is a member of the Military Affairs Committee of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

"I served during one war, as a Navy man for four years during the Korean conflict. I don't want my kids or my grandkids to fight another one. I am convinced that only a powerful national defense can deter the threat of global conflict in which there can be no winners," says Dusty.

And he'll fight to make sure our country has the military might to discourage unfriendly nations. As a lawyer who's used to having the cards stacked against him—and still win—as a man in whom the indomitable frontier spirit is still alive—Dusty is the kind of fighter we need in Congress.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McROOM
With the "surplus" of cotton that the USDA says we have, the 1977 Farm Bill tells us we can plant fence row to fence row again this year. This is one reason AAM is fighting so hard to get a new farm bill. The USDA is not helping us to get an acreage control so we will not have the "surplus" they say we have.

It is most farmer's and rancher's fault the 1977 Farm Bill is like it is. Too long we have let someone else represent us in Washington, D.C. We have trusted them to represent us and they have let us down. This is the reason American Agriculture is doing their own lobbying and telling it like it is on the farms and ranches to the Senators and Representatives and others in Washington, D.C.

The Emergency Farm Bill that has gone into both the Senate and House this week and if approved there will go to President Carter, is not what the AAM started out to get and is not what we want as a long term farm bill. It is a combination of Congressmen's bills and their efforts for the farmer and rancher. This is the best bill as far as an emergency one-year bill is concerned. However, America Agriculture will continue to work and lobby for a permanent farm bill that will mean 100% of parity in the market place for every product of every farmer and rancher.

The five demands of the American Agriculture Movement are:

1. 100% parity for all domestic and foreign used and or consumed agricultural products.

2. All agricultural products produced for national or international food reserve shall be contracted at 100% parity.

3. Creation of an entity or structure composed of agricultural producers to devise and approve policies that effect agriculture.

4. Imports of all agricultural products which are domestically produced must be stopped until 100% parity is reached, thereafter imports must be limited to the amount that the American producers cannot supply.

5. All announcements pertaining to any agricultural producing cycle shall be made far enough in advance that the producer will have adequate time to make needed adjustments in his operation. These demands dictate the need for possible production and marketing curtailments that will allow supplies to match demand.

Nowhere is the AAM asking for a subsidy. We do not want a government handout. We want a fair price for our products. This we have told the Senators and Representatives, but they would rather give us a subsidy so the government can get a tighter control over agriculture. Congress wants the farmers and ranchers to receive subsidies so the other people can continue to look down on people in agriculture for their "free handouts." What about the subsidies given to the Postal Department, the National Defense, Social Security, Medicare, Education, Transportation both ground and air to name a few, or did you know they receive subsidies?

Agriculture is the backbone of America. We are trying to strengthen this backbone by having control over our products and less control by the government. They cannot even balance their own books, so we don't want them doing ours any longer.

Arthritis Information Available

"The burden of arthritis in pain and crippling, as well as the tremendous economic toll, is one that nobody can afford," reports Robert J. Burbridge, Chapter Representative of the West Texas Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation.

How expensive is arthritis? Mr. Burbridge said medical care costs of $4.2 billion, including hospitalization, physicians office visits and drugs are annual expenditures for our nation's 20 million victims including 125,000 right here in the West Texas area. The one in four families where arthritis strikes also lose $4.8 billion in wages and $1.4 billion in home-maker services every year.

"These and other expenditures related to arthritis add up to a $13 billion annual impact on the U.S. economy," said Burbridge. "And no price tag can be put on the enormous human suffering, disability, lost potential, and family problems that often accompany the disease."

To help reduce the toll, the Arthritis Foundation is offering a free booklet "Arthritis—The Basic Facts" to anyone who writes to their West Texas Chapter at P.O. Box 3335, Lubbock, Texas 79410.

with Ben Moffett

In the early 1970's, before the energy crisis, some Americans would race to see how many of the almost 300 units of the National Park System they could see in a two-week vacation, or on a weekend trip.

They'd wheel into the visitor center, quick step to the restroom, refuel with a bottle of pop and buy a postcard for documentation. Then they were off to the next park just down the Interstate. Back at home they'd brag about "seeing" five parks in two days.

Park rangers called them "windshields" because they saw the parks through the windshields of their cars.

Then came the energy crisis and those windshields discovered an important principle: a quality park experience comes from close inspection. The energy crisis forced many visitors to slow down and find out just what the parks are all about. They began to read the pamphlets, look at the exhibits, walk the interpretive trails, smell the fresh air.

And they liked it! They found themselves more refreshed and richer in both dollars and spirit.

Park superintendents, those often stern but lovable men and women who manage our National Park Service areas generally agree that the 1978 visitor is a little more relaxed than the 1972 model and more likely to grasp the historical and natural values of the park he is exposed to.

One man who is happy to see the demise of the "Windshield" is John E. Cook, who manages the Southwest Region of the National Park Service, an area that extends across the southern tier of states from the Mississippi River almost to the Colorado River.

"Congress has given the National Park Service the job of seeing that these superlative, one-of-kind areas are managed in a way that will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations," Cook said. "Preserving the parks for our children's children is a big job, but it's made easier by the concerned, thoughtful visitor who values the environment. And the visitor who is really taking the time to look at his park is going to appreciate it more."

Cook offers two suggestions to the visitors who are expected to flock to their parks in record numbers in 1978. "First, plan your visit carefully by writing for advance information," he said. "If the visitor finds out about such things as overnight accommodations, temperature ranges and pet regulations before leaving home, he can make decisions that will contribute to a more enjoyable park experience."

"Finally, plan a leisurely visit," Cook said. "It's safer, less expensive, more rewarding and often easier on the park resources."

"If possible, start by visiting the park areas near home. Many Americans overlook the nearby treasures to seek out faraway parks with famous names. Often the nearby park that you tend to drive right past is just as rewarding and less crowded, which can result in a more meaningful park experience."

If you are planning to visit a nearby park area on your vacation trip, write the National Park Service, P.O. Box 728, Room N, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501. You'll be sent a planning guide that lists nearby park areas and charts the facilities available at each.

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with National Park Service areas in your state and bordering states.

A Governor Who Knows Agriculture

Other candidates may talk a lot about the problems of farming and ranching. None of them has the background and experience in agriculture gained over his lifetime by the Governor already in office—Dolph Briscoe.

THE PAST

- ★ Earned award as the state's leading conservation rancher-farmer when during the drought of the 1950's he turned brush-infested, sun-baked range lands into lush grasslands by root-plowing and re-seeding.
- ★ Helped organize and served as president of Southwest Animal Research Foundation, which conducted the successful screw worm eradication program.
- ★ Past president of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Mohair Council of America, chairman of National Livestock and Meat Board and director of Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.
- ★ Has won two high awards from Texas A & M for contributions to agriculture, as well as the Federal Land Bank Medal.
- ★ As legislator sponsored the Colson-Briscoe Act creating the farm-to-market road system that brought rural Texas out of the mud.

THE PRESENT

- ★ Kept his promise of no new state taxes in three consecutive Legislatures; advocates property tax relief for homeowners and family farmers and repeal of the sales tax on utilities.

- ★ Signed into law a requirement that all beef and dairy products purchased by state-supported agencies be produced in the U.S., and has urged President Carter to require federal agencies to do the same.
- ★ Has urged President and Congress to require imported agricultural products to meet the same inspection standards as domestically-produced goods and favors the Beef Import and Labeling Act of 1978 requiring imported beef to carry an identification label to the ultimate consumer.
- ★ Backs the Flexible Parity Act of 1978 which would establish new target prices for wheat, upland cotton and feed grain.
- ★ Backs emergency legislation in Congress directing Secretary of Agriculture to increase acreage set-asides for this year's crops of wheat, corn, cotton and soybeans by 31 million acres, thereby stimulating market prices.
- ★ Has helped mobilize nation's governors to encourage President and Congress to bring about 100% parity in the marketplace for American agricultural products.

Throughout his private and public career Dolph Briscoe has provided strong leadership for agriculture. His actions speak louder than the promises of others. He has earned re-election to a second four-year term.

Matrons Sponsor Art Show

Under the capable direction and leadership of Mrs. V.C. Derr, Members of the Weinert Matrons Club sponsored an art show in the Community Center Thursday, April 6. Members of the community and other communities were invited to display handwork, paintings, and other forms of art.

Mrs. Ina Cowan, well known for her many beautiful quilts, had quilts on display. The bicentennial quilt, made by club members and sold to Mrs. Donald Griffis, was on display. Mrs. Tom Yates displayed a quilt depicting family history.

The beautiful paintings of Mr. and Mrs. R.S. Sanders were on display. Mrs. Pete Johnson displayed samples of art and paintings that she has for sale. Mrs. Hugh Beatty of Munday brought a Christmas tree and hung clever and beautiful home made decorations on it. Mrs. Johnny Earp displayed a chest and decoupage made by her mother.

One display of special interest was the photography display made the 4-H girls under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Murphy. The students had made their own pictures and had arranged them on poster board. Some of the pictures were arranged so that they told stories. Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Van Horn brought their students to see the art show in the afternoon.

Other women brought shawls, afghans, and smaller pieces of hand work. Mrs. W.B. Guess and Mrs. W.A. King are two who make beautiful afghans.

No ribbons were given, but club members felt that everyone who had a display deserved a ribbon.

Guests were served cookies and punch.

John Perrin To Attend

PCA Meeting

Financing and the agricultural world get attention when John Paul Perrin, Rolling Plains Production Credit Association board vice chairman from Haskell, goes to San Antonio April 7-8. These organizations last year loaned nearly $1.6 billion to Texas farmers and ranchers. PCAs of Texas and the Houston bank are part of the nationwide Farm Credit System which provided nearly $40 billion last year to the nation's food and fiber producers.

Rolling Plains PCA makes agricultural loans to producers in Briscoe, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dickens, Donley, Foard, Hall, Hardeeman, Haskell, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Motley, Shackelford and Stonewall counties.

R for your child's safety

"Good eyesight is one of the most precious gifts your youngster could have. Please don't make the mistake of taking it for granted," urges Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Co.

If parents suspect their child has vision difficulties, Dr. Domm advises them to consult an ophthalmologist promptly. He points out that an ophthalmologist is a physician with a Doctor of Medicine degree, fully qualified to deal with all types of eye defects.

Dr. Domm cites the following as symptomatic of eye trouble: constant redness or watering of eyes; recurring styes; crossed eyes; and pupils unequal in size or shape.

Similarly, your child should be examined if he has difficulty seeing the blackboard or reading his schoolbooks or if he complains of headaches or dizziness following close eye work.

Dr. Domm realizes that much of a child's close eye work is spent watching television. "Youngsters should only be allowed to watch TV for one hour at a time and, ideally, from a distance of six feet away from the set," he says.

Geography today

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Modern geography is not all the study of maps and memorization of capitals that old-timers remember from grade-school days, says the chairman of The University of Texas Geography Department.

Dr. George Hoffman says geographers today are addressing such pressing concerns as energy, urban decay, transportation and environmental problems.

And, he adds a happy note: because the role of geographers has become so important, not one professional geographer with a Ph.D. behind his name is unemployed in the U.S. today.

Sue Miller Is Cystic Fibrosis Chairman

Mrs. Sue Miller has accepted the chairmanship of the Annual Spring Special Event on behalf of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. She will be recruiting volunteers within the Community to plan a Bike-A-Thon to take place this Spring. The purpose of this Special Event will be to provide the Community with information about Cystic Fibrosis and to raise funds to support research, education and care programs for children affected by cystic fibrosis and other lung-damaging diseases like severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, and bronchiectasis.

Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children. Approximately one in every twenty Americans is a symptomless carrier of the recessive CF gene. Cystic Fibrosis is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene. At the present time, no cure for cystic fibrosis is known.

"It takes a seat belt, firmly snapped into place, to protect you at any speed," a Combined safety expert added.

CAROLYN DANCE
Carolyn Dance To Present Book Review

Carolyn Dance, Dallas reviewer, narrator and writer will present "Vivian Leigh-A Biography" by Anne Edwards, at the April 20th meeting of the Progressive Study Club at the Community Room. The review which will be followed by refreshments and social hour will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Dance has reviewed for hundreds of women's clubs, church organizations and library clubs across Texas and Oklahoma for the past 10 years. She wrote and narrated the 1976 musical Christmas program for the Woman's Club of Dallas and also wrote and narrated "The Living Christmas Tree," performed by the First Baptist Church of Dallas before 15,000 in 1975, 1976 and 1977. The videotaped program was shown on channel 39 and affiliated stations across the country and was also shown in China and Africa.

The talents of Mrs. Dance enhance the story of the life of one of the most gifted and tormented actresses of our time. The book is an intimate portrait of the two personalities behind Miss Leigh's legend: one a charming "perfect hostess" whose friends included almost every one of distinction—Churchill, Coward, Williams, Brando, Selznick, Korda, Gielgud; and the other a self destructive manic. Her love affair with Lawrence Olivier was second in notoriety only to that of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. Her frustrating marriage was finally followed by tragic death.

Ms. Edwards' book does not spare the truth, but is as romantic and turbulent a story as any film in which her heroine starred.

Tickets for the program may be purchased from any club member or at Johnson's Pharmacy. The funds from this effort will be used for community projects. The most current project of the Progressive Study Club is the restoration of the first house in Haskell.

Safety Belts Save Lives

Saving your life in an automobile accident can be a snap.

The snap of a safety belt can make the difference between life and death or between a minor injury and being crippled for life, according to the Department of Safety and Research of the Combined American Insurance Company.

Although nearly every passenger vehicle sold in this country is equipped with safety belts, a U.S. Department of Transportation survey shows that fewer than 20 percent of the nation's drivers bother to use them.

"It is certainly discouraging to know that less than one in five American drivers are willing to take the simple life-saving step of buckling a safety belt," says Joan Claybrook, administrator of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

That simple step, according to her department's technicians, could save between 10,000 and 20,000 lives a year and could reduce the severity of the more than 2,000,000 injuries that result from car crashes. It could be economically sound, too, they maintain, when you consider that a total of more than $3 billion is lost by the injured every year and another $1 billion goes for medical bills.

Combined Insurance's safety experts emphasize that a seat belt minimizes damage to a motorist by preventing him or her from being thrown from a car and by averting what is known as the "second collision" or "third" or "fourth" collision—when the initial impact sends the occupants of a vehicle hurtling about, crashing into the steering wheel, dashboard, roof, door, windshield or one another.

The numerous studies of accidents involving the use or non-use of seatbelts are almost unanimous in singling out seat belts, particularly those with shoulder harnesses, as safety devices without equals.

"Yet," observed a Combined seatbelt advocate, "most people leave their belts unused or even go so far as to disconnect them so that not even accident-conscious passengers may buckle themselves in."

According to some surveys, drivers of the smallest cars are most likely to snap themselves firmly in place. Those behind the wheels of foreign cars, principally Volkswagens, use seat belts more than those who own American models. Drivers of large luxury autos are least likely to buckle up for safety.

Studies further show that a driver in the western section of the United States relies more on seatbelt use than an eastern motorist—and women pause more often than men to take the safety precaution of clicking a belt into place. Young people who graduate from driver education classes are setting their elders an example by using belts, which are spurned by many parents.

Although use of seatbelts is not enforced in the United States, the province of Ontario, Canada, has a law making their protection mandatory. This along with lower speed limits has sharply reduced the number of drivers and passengers killed on Ontario's highways.

Six European countries—France, Norway, Denmark, Finland, West Germany and Switzerland—have seat belt laws and the United Kingdom is considering one.

Charles H. Pully, president of the American Seat Belt Council, finds that the effectiveness of these laws is in direct ratio to the degree of their enforcement. Although in all cases, seatbelt use has increased, the practice comes closest to being universal in countries where violators are fined, such as Switzerland and Denmark.

The apostles of seatbelt safety in this country stress that those who maintain that they do not need this protection because they never drive fast are not facing the facts of life and death on the highway. According to the Safety Council, more than half of all accidents causing death or injury occur at speeds under 40 miles an hour, with nearly half of all accidents on country roads occurring at speeds of less than 30 miles an hour.

'D' Day For DEMOCRATS

I have no opponent in the primary for re-election as Representative for the 101st Legislative District. For that I am deeply grateful. I am sure my good fortune in this respect is explained by the fact that my constituents let prospective opponents understand they are satisfied with my service.

Even though I have no opponent in the Democratic Primary, Saturday, May 6, I urge my friends to go to the polls and mark an "X" in the little square opposite my name on the official ballot. I will appreciate your vote and will try to justify your confidence in me as your Representative for the next two years.

I sincerely hope the people of this Representative District will turn out in large numbers. The size of the vote is an indication of popular interest in public affairs. A good turnout will increase the effectiveness of your elected officials in meeting their public responsibilities.

Thank you in advance!

Tornado Warning System Explained

(EDITORS NOTE: The tornado warning system in Haskell is a cooperative effort of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Sheriff's Office, City Police and Fire Department. In the event that a tornado is sighted by a law enforcement officer, the fire department is notified and the large siren at the station is sounded for about two minutes. In addition members of the Fire Department and City Police will drive through the streets sounding sirens.

activated upon sighting a tornado and residents are urged to take shelter immediately).

The familiar lines, "Seldom is heard a discouraging word, and the skies are not cloudy all day," still ring true for the most part in Texas. But when two tornadoes touched down in Monahans, Texas, last April and inflicted extensive damage, townspeople were singing quite a different tune.

Previous to the 1977 Texas tornado season (April through June), there was no record of a tornado ever striking Monahans. But as residents of the small West Texas community discovered, catastrophes don't always happen to "the other guy."

The two twisters—a small white one and a large black one, according to witnesses—only stayed about five minutes. But before they left, they had destroyed 60 homes, damaged 150 others, and caused an estimated $2.9 million in damages. Much of the city "looked like a giant foot stepped on it," one eyewitness said.

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported 18 persons received minor injuries. The town's warning siren went off six minutes before the twisters struck, enabling most of Monahans' 8,700 residents to reach shelter.

Just 16 days earlier, the town newspaper, the Monahans News, had published a story listing precautions to take before and after a tornado strikes, "just in case."

Last year, Texas was the leader in tornado incidents in the nation with between 111 and 160 sighted. The discrepancy in figures is due to the system of recording used by two reporting agencies—The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (111) and the Texas Department of Public Safety (160).

Fortunately, only one tornado-related death resulted in the state in 1977.

THREAT YEAR-ROUND
The peak months for tornadoes are April, May and June—but they are a year-round threat.

Just last December, after "the season" was long gone, a tornado gouged a 25-mile-long twisting path of destruction through northeast Houston. Damages to insured property totaled more than $3.6 million, according to Frank Lewis, regional manager of Property Claim Services American Insurance Association. One person was killed trying to escape the twister when it flipped his truck.

Survivors in the tornado's path compared it to a gigantic fist that "exploded houses" and flung cars and trailer trucks like a child's toys.

Often tornadoes are associated with hurricanes. The "hurricane season" is from June to November. In 1967, for example, Hurricane Beulah spawned 115 tornadoes in a five-day period. Sixty-seven of these occurred on one day, setting a national record.

KNOW WARNINGS
Two phrases that should be part of every Texan's vocabulary are "tornado watch" and "tornado warning."

A watch—usually posted for broad areas spanning hundreds of miles—is issued anytime a squall line develops which has the potential of spawning tornadoes. It is not uncommon for a city or town to be included in a watch dozens of times without ever experiencing a tornado. For this reason, the Texas Insurance Information Center (TIIC) says there is a danger of becoming complacent. No matter how often a watch is posted for a community, residents should monitor broadcasts and be generally aware of the potentially threatening weather.

Should a twister be spotted, a "tornado warning" is signaled.

Warnings are issued for much smaller areas and may mean that residents have only a few minutes to take shelter.

If a warning is issued, persons in the affected area should immediately watch for danger and be ready to take cover at a second's notice.

STAY LOW

The key word is taking cover is "low". The lowest floor in any building is safest. Small rooms—such as the bathroom—or a closet in the central part of the structure offer the best protection. If this hideout isn't available, taking cover under heavy furniture such as a tipped-over upholstered couch is advised.

Neither a mobile home nor buildings with wide, free-span roofs—such as auditoriums—are desirable shelters.

Most deaths associated with a tornado are caused by flying debris and most injuries are to the head or chest. For these reasons, care should be taken to protect the head and chest no matter where shelter is taken.

Immediately after a storm has passed, stay put for a few minutes. Make sure there is no leaking gas in the area before striking matches. Remember too, downed telephone and power lines are a hazard.

Whenever a community begins mopping up after a windstorm or tornado, insurance companies put into force pre-arranged catastrophe procedures to help a community recover from the disaster.

If warranted, additional claims people are called in to help expedite claims processing. As a general rule, hardship cases get first priority. The individual property owner can help by making temporary repairs to prevent further damage—the cost of which is often covered by the insurance policy—and by notifying the agent or company representative immediately upon discovery and estimation of potential loss.

Beware of unscrupulous, fly-by-night contractors who often follow the storm into town. Deal only with reputable contractors.

The message is an old one but worth repeating, especially this time of the year; proper action before and after a storm can save lives and property.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Almost daily, we hear reports on the spiraling costs of medical care. The prospect of hospital rooms costing $100 and more per day, of a relatively minor injury or illness resulting in medical expenses in the hundreds and perhaps the thousands of dollars, is a frightening one for all of us.

However, the intelligent consumer should not purchase medical insurance out of fear rather than real need. Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division say that the consumer selecting a medical insurance plan from among the many offered by insurance companies in Texas should be aware that the more comprehensive the benefits provided the more expensive the program will be. But there are several considerations that may allow you to reduce insurance costs without sacrificing benefits.

If you are covered under any group insurance program provided by an employer or employee organization, avoid duplicating coverage. Limit purchases of supplemental policies to those areas not covered specifically under your group plan. Before purchasing additional insurance, know exactly what your group insurance program provides. Also, remember that many group plans provide for coverage of family members which may be less expensive when purchased under the group program than if purchased on an individual basis.

When considering the purchase of additional insurance, first analyze your own financial ability to meet some medical expenses from sources other than insurance, perhaps from savings. If you are financially able to meet some expenses of medical care in this way, you may not need to purchase as much additional coverage.

If you are not a member of a group insurance program and must bear the expenses of your medical insurance, the task of balancing your needs against your ability to pay is more difficult. In most cases, it is very expensive to be 100 percent insured. Initially, you should determine how much of the financial burden you can reasonably afford to bear yourself. A policy providing for a $250, $500, or even $1,000 deductible, meaning you pay that much before policy coverage begins, generally will be considerably less expensive than one providing for "first dollar" coverage.

There are many limited coverage policies available which provide coverage only for a particular disease, such as cancer. Although, this coverage may be desirable, you should be aware of the limited benefits provided under such policies.

Many insurance policies will not cover a medical condition existing prior to the purchase of the policy. When making application for insurance, be careful to answer all questions relating to age and prior medical history fully and truthfully. Failure to do so may result in denial of your claim at some later date.

A most helpful and useful source for information regarding insurance companies is the State Board of Insurance in Austin. In addition, you can contact our Insurance, Banking, and Securities Division and our Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, Lubbock, El Paso, or McAllen for information regarding complaints about insurance companies. If you live outside these areas, call toll-free: 1-800-252-9236.

Pat Hale

Controlled traffic farming is a concept getting a lot of attention lately . . . and probably even more in the future. Idea of the operation is to keep tractors moving only on surfaces not used for crops. Basically that seems quite unreasonable since the crops are in the field and it is usually necessary to get the tractor out there to do any good. None of that has changed. With controlled traffic farming the tractor would be driven on paths between the rows. Paths used only for the machinery. In most concepts of this type operation the paths would be the only points of compaction in the field. Therein lies the reason for concern. If compaction can be reduced, root systems can be more completely developed and higher yields would result. At Auburn University in Alabama a controlled traffic farm experiment resulted in a yield 43 percent higher than crops grown with conventional tillage.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

Your Role In Conservation's Future
Is your tax dollar for conservation being spent wisely? Do our national programs insure that adequate soil and water resources will be available for future generations? Do our national programs give too much emphasis to some conservation needs and not enough to others?

The future of our soil and water resources depends on how wisely we use these resources now and on how well we plan for the years to come. Through local conservation districts, more than 2 million people have joined in the voluntary movement to conserve soil and water on their own property. Now, because of the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977, you and every other citizen also have a voice in long-range planning decisions that will guide the future of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's conservation programs and the future of the Nation's soil and water resources.

Under the new law, the Soil Conservation Service will appraise the Nation's soil, water, and related resources; develop a 5-year program to guide conservation efforts; and evaluate the effectiveness of on going conservation programs. SCS will carry out the work in cooperation with appropriate citizen groups, conservation districts, and other federal, state, and local agencies. The appraisal and program will be completed by the end of 1979 and updated every 5 years.

You can contribute to the appraisal, program and evaluation by attending open meetings or workshops which will be conducted by the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District some time in the latter part of May or early June.

Our meetings and workshops, which will be announced later, will give you the opportunity to ask questions, discuss issues, and present ideas about soil and water conservation. To develop a responsive conservation program, SCS and the Haskell SWCD must have your participation as a concerned individual.

Future date for formal public participation have been set for Autumn of 1978 in Washington, D.C., where SCS will collect appraisal data and program recommendations from conservation districts and SCS state offices and begin drafting the National appraisal and program. In the spring of 1979, SCS will publish a draft appraisal and a draft program for public comment. Public review and field hearings will be held. Then in late 1979, SCS will prepare the final appraisal and program reports, which will then be submitted to Congress by the President.

Your response to our late May or early June local meeting will be the key to your input into this appraisal and program. I will keep you informed from time to time on activities as they develop. If you have questions now, please feel free to come by the office in Haskell at 102 North Ave. E (US 277), and discuss them with us.

VA News

The Veterans Administration has initiated a study to verify the accuracy of disability and death pension benefits being paid to wartime veterans and their widows, and dependency and indemnity compensation being paid to dependent parents of deceased veterans. According to C.H. Herren, Service Officer for Haskell County, some 3,100 VA beneficiaries will be receiving a letter in the very near future, advising that a Veterans Administration representative will visit them to discuss their entitlement to benefits.

The primary purpose of the study, according to the recent VA announcement, is to measure the accuracy of the current reporting and processing procedures used by the VA. The study, when completed, will provide the VA with information which will determine what changes need to be made in the way in which eligible persons must report their annual income and net worth to the Federal agency. At the present time, such persons must complete an annual income report sent to them on November 1 of each year. Benefit payments for the current year and the following year are determined by the income information furnished by the veteran, widow or parent.

The letters which are to be mailed to those persons who are included in the survey state that participation in the study is mandatory by law. Failure by any person to cooperate may result in the suspension of any VA payments that are being made. When the VA representative calls on pensioners, he or she should insist upon being shown proper identification. Any VA employee chosen for this personal contact survey will have ample identification, and will not hesitate to produce it for verification of his or her status.

Landowners and operators are applying detailed conservation plans, with SCS help, on 108.4 million acres of Texas lands.

Nearly 118,000 Texas farmers, ranchers, and other land users were given technical help on soil and water conservation problems last year by the Soil Conservation Service.

PLANT CERTIFIED

For Higher Cotton Yields

Yields from certified cotton planting seed were up to 18 percent higher than yields from caught or non-certified seed according to research by Dr. L. L. Ray at the South Plains Research and Extension Center in Lubbock, Texas. Certified seed has not undergone genetic deterioration in the field. Volunteer plants and undesirable cross-pollination are eliminated. And certified seed from Pioneer is free from pests and weeds which often accompany non-certified varieties. See your ginner or Pioneer brand seed dealer for these certified varieties.

Dependable even in dry country!

Certified LX571*

You can't control the weather. So, you need a hedge against drought. . . and that's where the Lankart variety LX571 fits in. It consistently produces top yields of high quality cotton . . . even under tough, dry conditions. And you don't have to give up anything to get this outstanding drought tolerance, either.

LX571 produces fairly long, strong fiber . . . with micronaire normally in the premium range. And storm resistant bolls strip well in one pass through the field. Add up all the good things about LX571 . . . then it's easy to see why this is one of the most planted cotton varieties in the Rolling Plains, Central Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma.

*LX571 is a U.S. protected variety (Plant Variety Protection Certificate No. 7200018). Unauthorized propagation and unauthorized seed multiplication prohibited by law. LX571 cotton planting seed can be sold by variety name only as a class of certified seed. It is unlawful to sell non-certified seed of this variety.

Long-time favorite.

Cotton growers in Texas, Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico have relied on certified Lankart 57 for consistently high yields for years. This variety has vigorous plants with short main stems and short fruiting branches. Leaves are large and dense. And this medium-early maturity cotton has storm-proof bolls. Lankart 57 is a good stripper cotton, too. . . well-adapted to Texas and Oklahoma dryland production.

Certified LANKART 57

Certified LANKART 611

High yielding, early variety.

This cotton variety was developed for the early maturity needs of dryland farming . . . especially in the Blackland and Rolling Plains of Texas and Southwestern Oklahoma. Vigorous plants with short main stems and close fruiting branches produce large bolls of high quality lint. A good stripper cotton for the Southern High Plains on wilt-free soil.

Certified LANKART® and LOCKETT® brand cotton planting seed is available from your ginner or Pioneer® brand seed dealer.

WASHINGTON "As It Looks From Here"

Omar Burleson
Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON D.C.— EXCEPT FOR THE SCIENTISTS AND LEGAL SPECIALISTS, the tremendous problems in the use of space may indeed seem remote. The experts, however, say that time is getting short to solve issues affecting all Nations of the world.

MUCH OF WHAT IS INVOLVED SOUNDS LIKE DICK TRACY STUFF, but in the next twenty years man-made satellites will be able to perform all sorts of fantastic services. For instance, 100 million Americans will be able to communicate by simple watch radios. A small contraption could enable an individual to signal a code to Government computers and the Nation's entire electorate could be polled on a given issue in a little more than an hour.

THERE ARE STUDIES ON "VEHICULAR SPEED LIMIT CONTROL" by which speed limits could be strictly controlled by requiring that tiny receivers and governors be built into engines of new cars. By this device, a study shows that each motor vehicle could be located, its speed determined and commands given by satellite operation. In another study called "intrusion detection" a series of satellites could be arranged in such a way that their electronic "footprint" would cover as much as 4,000 square miles which could be used along our borders to detect the movement of drug shipments and illegal aliens. In a report on this particular use, a study says that "sensors could be manufactured to look like small rocks or plants or other natural objects."

ANOTHER SECTION OF A STUDY, CALLED "NIGHT ILLUMINATOR", places a series of large plastic mirrors which could reflect sunlight into high crime areas or the scene of a natural disaster. It is said that it could create light equivalent to ten times the amount of full moonlight on a cloudless night. A section called "nuclear fuel locator" says that twenty satellites could follow all bomb-grade nuclear fuels wherever they are shipped on earth. Small transmitters would give authorities the precise moment-to-moment location of any nuclear fuel shipments hijacked by terrorists.

ALL THESE MATTERS ARE UNDER STUDY but the ability to perfect these things is only a part of the problem. In 1967, there was enacted what is known as the "Space Law Treaty". It expressly prohibits individual Nations from declaring sovereignty over "celestial bodies" or areas of space where explorations are being made. In spite of this treaty, eight equatorial Nations made a declaration that from now on, their boundaries would extend 22,500 miles above their land. In a communique issued by Columbia, Brazil, Indonesia, and Kenya, they said the move was necessary to claim and defend scarce and natural resources. This sounds ridiculous to extend sovereignty over nothingness but to space scientists and the collection of specialized lawyers and social scientists, the move had a most disturbing effect. The reason given is that this is the height at which most of the large space satellites now on the drawing board would function. It is the region where orbiting satellites can remain in a fixed position, relative to a given point on earth.

THESE PEOPLE WHO ARE SPECIALIZING IN

THESE STUDIES predict that, in the next several years, these developments can have a more far-reaching effect than anything since the advent of the combustion engine. TREATIES AND AGREEMENTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE USE OF SPACE are by far more complicated than the Laws of the Sea which have been in effect for many years.

TEN GOOD REASONS WHY YOU OR SOMEONE YOU LOVE SHOULD LIVE AT LEISURE LODGE.

HAPPINESS. Everyone has the inalienable right to the pursuit of happiness. And for many of us, as we grow older, true happiness comes from being around people our own age — people with whom we can enjoy conversation, reminiscences, our real feelings — people who understand.

COMFORT. At Leisure Lodge, we recognize that we are all individuals; everyone is different, and has different needs. Thus, we make every possible effort to see that these needs are met — from turning a thermostat up or down, locating a more comfortable chair, opening the drapes, or closing the drapes — or whatever it takes.

COMPANIONSHIP. We think one of the best reasons for living at Leisure Lodge is knowing that there will always be someone to be with; someone like you (or perhaps someone different, if you prefer.) At Leisure Lodge, you're alone only when you want to be — and we think that's awfully important.

LOVE. That's what living at Leisure Lodge is all about. From the Nurses, to the Aides, to the Cooks, to the Administrators — and certainly, from one guest to another, our home is filled with love. It always will be. Because that's what makes it a home. And we wouldn't have it any other way.

FOOD. There just isn't any better food anywhere. Hot, home-cooked meals, as much as you want, planned and supervised by a dietician, and prepared with love. (We eat here, too, you know, and we eat the same food as our guests.) Strict attention is paid to special diets. Everyone gets what he or she needs; no one gets what they shouldn't have. And usually, with older people, that's not true in even the best of private homes.

CLEANLINESS. We take special pride in making Leisure Lodge shine. Every part of our home is cleaned daily — and you know how important that is, when it comes to preserving good people's good health, at any age. Linens are always clean and fresh, and our guests' personal laundry is done right here in the home, at no charge.

ECONOMY. You might think it costs a lot of money to live here — but it doesn't. In fact, it doesn't cost a bit more to live at Leisure Lodge than at any other home. We're approved by the State Welfare Department for Medicaid — and of course, we're licensed by the State Health Department. Yet the fact is, you can probably live here for less than you can live at home.

ACTIVITIES. Want something to do? Want to have fun, with people your own age? Come to Leisure Lodge, and you've come to the right place! Our Activities Director has more ideas than fifteen computers! There's always something going on. And you'll love it!

NURSES. Ours are the very best anywhere. Bar none! We think so, anyway, and we'd bet you will, too. They care for our guests. They see to it that the proper medications are given, at the proper time. And baths, and shots, and all the other things. But, most of all, they like what they're doing, and they love our guests. And they always remember that a smile, and a cheerful greeting, are sometimes the very best medicine of all!

THERAPY. It comes in all types. Not just in helping people learn to use limbs that have grown weak, or to do things for themselves. We do that, of course, but we do other things, too, that may be even more important. Like making people feel good inside. At Leisure Lodge, we really do care.
