New Agent Assumes Duties

Joan James has assumed duties as County Extension Agent in Haskell County effective July 1.

She is a 1972 graduate of Big Spring High School where she was active in 4-H work, and a 1976 graduate of Texas Tech University.

While a member of Howard County 4-H Club she participated with projects in clothing, food and nutrition, consumer education, leadership gardening and home improvements.

For the past two years she has served as assistant County Extension Agent in Canton.

Ms. James stated that she plans to continue existing Home Demonstration Council and 4-H projects and is seeking suggestions for new projects. She added that she would like to begin projects in creative arts such as needlework and macramae, home improvement projects which would involve 4-H members in working in the community.

Her hobbies include cooking and charcoal and pencil drawings. She has two daughters, Jana, 5, who will begin Kindergarten this fall and Jennifer, 3. They reside at 206 N. Ave. D in Haskell.

Water Rationing Program Revised By City Council

Members of the Haskell City Council revised the water rationing program in Haskell during their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The change will include dividing prec. 1 and allow odd numbered houses to water on one day and even numbered houses on the following day. Members of the council agreed on the change due to the fact that since beginning of the program, water towers are reasonably full on all days except when prec. 1 residents water and on that day are completely drained. The City wells can refill the towers during the three days following prec. 1's day to water but the change will hopefully maintain a continuous reserve on all days.

Members of the council also agreed to request that owners of private wells in the city to follow the same schedule of rationing.

Following is the new rationing schedules as adopted by the City Council:

In other council action, members agreed to purchase four angle decorations to be used in the Christmas decoration program at a cost of $250.00 each. The decorations will be paid for with funds from the hotel-motel occupancy tax.

Council members also voted to set the prices of a 3/4 inch water tap at $125.00 and a sewer tap at $150.00 effective immediately.

Mayor Royce Williams reported the receipt of revenue sharing funds in the amount of $7,253.00 and the receipt of the $32,983.00 which is the final grant payment of the federal government on the recently completed sewer plant. The payment is the final amount of the Federal governments 75% part of the new facility.

Members of the Council also approved the 1978 tax roll. The total roll if all taxes are collected will be $71,736.02. The total roll for the last year was $69,828.89.

Council members also agreed to pay light bills at the Little League Park.

Addition To Fair Announced

Something new has been added this year to the Haskell County Fair.

Young girls, beginning their Freshman year in High School and just completing their Senior year, are being picked to represent business firms in the county. These young ladies will be presented to the public on the night of September 21, at the Fair grounds, where a 1978 Miss Haskell County Fair will be announced.

Activities for the young ladies prior to this night will be announced later.

If you are an eligible girl or an interested business, please contact Mrs. J.R. (Amelia) Perry for more information at 915-773-2968, or write to Rt. 2 Box 295, Haskell, 79521.

School Board Has Meeting

Members of the board of trustees of the Haskell Independent school district met in regular session Tuesday night.

Bill Goode of Thomas-White-Pickett and Co. met with the board and presented a proposal for his cost of the program would be $5,000.00 per year. The board had already heard the proposal of Pritchard and Abbott and agreed to accept their proposal at a cost of $3,750.00. Pritchard and Abbott have had the contract to do the oil, gas and utilities for the school for the past several years.

Board members agreed to accept the resignation of Donna Eaton who has accepted a teaching position in Burk Burnett and hired Paula Everett to replace her. They also agreed to hire Charles A. Neal as industrial arts teacher. In other action board members agreed to participate in the Haskell-Knox Consortium for the next school year and set the budget hearing for August 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Supt. R.K. Sams read the board members several items including a recent action of the Texas Education Agency which completely changes the bi-lingual program. The new program apparently will mandate in the near future the implementation of a full bi-lingual program in grades K-5. Sams stated that there will be a meeting in Abilene July 27, to explain the new program and requested board members to attend if possible. His interpretation of the program is that it might force the school into hiring as many as five certified spanish speaking teachers and his concern to the board was the fact that there is no mention of any State or Federal Funds to pay the additional costs of the program.

The board also held a lengthy discussion on the re-valuation program and discussed different ways of making local taxpayers understand the necessity of the program. Board members issued an invitation to anyone with questions to attend the board meetings or to come by the tax office.

The next board meeting will be held August 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Administration building.

163 Enroll In Singing School

The thirteenth annual Haskell Singing School got underway Monday with 163 students enrolled. Of this total number 41 are from Haskell or the surrounding area and 122 are from out-of-town.

The students from outside the area are being housed by members of the local Church of Christ, sponsors of the school. The enrollment is one of the largest recorded. All sections of the state of Texas are represented by the student body. Other states represented this year are: Kansas, Arizona, Oklahoma, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arkansas and Alabama. Alumni of the school now number in the thousands with its influence being felt across the nation. Holland Boring, Sr., has been director during the twelve year history of the school.

The entire student body and the instructors will give a performance Friday evening, 8:00 p.m. at the city park. This is a change from past years with the court house square being the site of the performance. As in past years, however, everyone of the community is invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets and enjoy listening to the singing of old and new Christian songs. This performance is free to the public.

The members of the Church of Christ also invite all area residents to attend the nightly sessions of the school, conducted each evening Monday through Thursday, 7:30 p.m. These sessions are held in the auditorium of the Church of Christ building. The school comes to a close Friday evening, July 21.

Area Crusade Plans Finalized

The Joint Committees involved in planning and praying for the Haskell Area-Wide Crusade scheduled nightly at 8:00 p.m. July 30-31 and August 1-2 met last Thursday for final planning reports.

Counseling Training Sessions have been confirmed for Thursday, July 20th and 27th at 7:45 p.m. in the chapel room of the First Baptist Church of Haskell. These are duplicate sessions to accommodate some who would have a scheduled conflict one night or the other. These are extremely important to the crusade effort. If God is speaking to you, please make every effort to take part in the study sessions. The material is entitled "All Things New" If you are not planning to be a counselor, please support the crusade with your fervent prayers for those God will use in this capacity. We are looking for Christians 9th Grade and up.

The housing committee reported that all accommodations had been secured for the revival team. The noon meals will be eaten by the team in the fellowship hall of the First Assembly of God with a different cooperating church supplying the food each meal.

A program of house to house advertising has been planned not only for Haskell but also for Stamford, Rochester, Rule, Knox City, Munday, Weinert, and O'Brien.

The committee members are elated with the cooperation of the area churches and individuals and look forward with great anticipation, realizing that mighty things are in the wind. Be praying for the evangelist Dwight Thompson, and the Signs of Peace Choir. Come expecting a real encounter with the Living Lord.

The final crusade committee meeting will be Monday night the 24th of July.

DWIGHT THOMPSON

GENA FISCHER of the Paint Creek 4-H Club will be modeling this ensemble, which she constructed, in the State 4-H Dress Revue in Austin on September 14-16. Gena will be competing with approximately 45 other 4-H members from across the State. (Staff Photo)

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH
from Kenneth Jones

A survey among physicians finds that too many patients withhold vital information—they are reluctant to tell full details of their health problems or symptoms. Half of the patients, for example, did not mention symptoms of heart and respiratory problems which appeared obvious and serious to their doctors. The lesson is plain—the patient can only get his money's worth from his visit to the doctor, and can only be helped to a cure, if he confides all necessary information and symptoms so the doctor can make a prompt and correct diagnosis.

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

Water Quality Planning is an opportunity for conservation District Directors and all Landowners and operators.

Nonpoint water pollution control planning under section 208 of Public Law 92-500 offers tremendous opportunities for soil conservation district directors throughout the United States as well as locally. The statewide nonpoint plans when fully developed will be submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency later this year. In the meantime conservation district directors are exerting substantial influence on future soil and water conservation policies while the nonpoint portion of the statewide section 208 plans are being completed at the state level.

Our local erosion control programs are in some instances different from other localities. However, the experiences of district directors throughout the United States make them potentially valuable participants in the development of Section 208 plans state and nation wide.

Erosion control programs are not the complete answer to nonpoint water pollution problems, but experiences in erosion control can and will serve as useful guides for many aspects of successful nonpoint pollution control programs.

Soil erosion is a serious national problem today. Air and water can be cleaned of pollutants but when the water pollution is caused by erosion, it becomes a real problem because we are also losing top soil in the process. And when the top soil is gone, we are in deep trouble.

To continue to meet our own food needs and help alleviate world food shortages, we must maintain or replenish the top soil. This is your job as well as my job to help you do your job.

What should you do? First of all, become informed. Read all you can on this subject so that you can effectively advocate the proper controlling of erosion and eliminating pollution.

Volunteer to assist the local Board of Directors of the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District when asked for assistance.

The local Soil Conservation Service Office has materials and data that we can furnish you for your enlightenment on Section 208 of Public Law 92-500.

Every landowner and operator, and other concerned citizens must make it your responsibility to become fully informed on 208.

The 208 planning process includes (1). identification of water quality problems, (2). Identification of pollution sources, (3). Recommendation of guidelines for locally developed practices to curb pollution from identified sources, (4). Recommendation of necessary regulatory programs, and (5). Recommendation of state or local agencies needed to implement long-term water quality management programs.

The Naomi Sunday Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Mattie Muriel Felker for their annual installation service.

Claudia Mae Bland, president of the class, introduced Mrs. Retha Mullins who installed the officers. She used as her subject mirrors and taking the scripture reading from 2 Cor. 3-18, which reads, "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." She emphasized the many kinds of mirrors. Some mirrors are flat and some are curved. Flat mirrors are always good mirrors and they always reflect the true image. She brought out that true Christians always reflect the Glory

20 To Attend Convention From Haskell

A schedule of 20 international conventions has been completed by Jehovah's Witnesses for the continental United States during the summer of 1978.

Spokesman George A. Arnold said 20 persons will represent Haskell at the Astro-dome in Houston, July 12-16.

Arnold said 55,000 delegates are anticipated for the convention from Arkansas, Colorado, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

The Witnesses are utilizing some of the largest sports stadiums in the country for the series of international meetings. They include four covered facilities: Astro-dome, Houston; Superdome, New Orleans, Louisiana; Kingdome, Seattle, Washington; and the new Silverdome in Pontiac, Michigan.

Arnold added that 760,000 persons are expected to attend the 20 conventions in three languages: English, Spanish and French. Five conventions are planned for Canada with an attendance estimate of 145,000.

The theme of the convention is "Victorious Faith."

"There are many issues confronting society today," Arnold said. "These include changing moral standards, emphasis on materialism, social problems, energy crises and an accelerating arms race. The convention program will stress the value of faith in the Bible as Christians face these issues and other daily problems of life."

TET Group Announces Goals For Session

The second saddle was won at the American Junior Rodeo Association rodeo at Ft. Stockton, Shawn placed in the roping, barrel racing and pole bending.

Shawn has been competing in the A.J.R.A. Jr. rodeos all over Texas and New Mexico this summer. He is currently standing in third place in the optional racing, fourth in the all-around and fifth in the roping.

tax exemption from $25,000 to $200,000 with provisions for future increases due to inflation.

He said that proposals to limit State taxes could easily lead to higher local property taxes and should be studied carefully before the Legislature tries to act on them. He pointed out that TET has consistently stood for shifting the tax burden from home and landowners to more broad-based State revenue sources and that property owners should be suspicious of any State tax limitation proposal which might lead to higher local property taxes.

Moeller emphasized that TET will need the active support of every concerned property taxpayer in Texas in order to have any chance of success in the Special Session.

Taxpayers in this area who wish to help TET in its efforts to reduce taxes paid by property owners should contact their local TET representative:

HASKELL, TEXAS

WASHINGTON As It Looks From Here'' Omar Burleson Congressman — 17th District

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- CORPORATIONS ARE PEOPLE. They are formed by groups or individuals to do business through a Board of Directors, accountable to stockholders. There are many different kinds of corporate organizations. Basically, they issue stock to acquire capital for plants, machinery or other equipment used in the production of goods or services. Capital used to build facilities comes from the sale of stocks or bonds and the dividends paid to stock owners come from profits.

PROBABLY THE QUESTION OF CORPORATE PROFITS is generally more misunderstood than most issues in the American economy.

OPINION SURVEYS INDICATE THAT MOST AMERICANS THINK THE RATE OF business profit is outrageously high. A sampling by the Gallup Poll a few years ago among high school students showed that they thought profits to be 30% of each sales dollar. The same survey among college students thought the figure was 45%. In the general public, the average guessed was a more modest 28%, while stockholders put the margin at 23%.

IN THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS, there has arisen an apparent distrust of corporate interests because of what has been considered "obscene profits", a term used by business attackers. This concept has been used and successfully exploited by opponents of the profit system, which is to say free enterprise.

IN A RECENTLY PUBLISHED STUDY BY THE EDUCATION AND RESEARCH INSTITUTE, it says in its forward, "Public perception of corporate profits have become less and less accurate over the years. The estimate of profits in 1970 was 7 times the actual figure."

The closest guess was in 1945 when profits were estimated at 3 1/2 times the real level. The recent study completed in 1975 turned up an average opinion that profits amounted to 34c on each sales dollar. Economic analysts find this to be about 7 1/2 times the actual figure.

THE WIDE-SPREAD BELIEF THAT CORPORATION PROFITS ARE EXORBITANT spawns resentment towards the business community, leading many to accept legislative proposals to impose more controls. The polls indicate that almost one-third of our population believe that Government should step in to control profit margins. In questions to high school students, 53% are reported to say that Government ownership of business would be advisable.

AN EFFORT HAS BEEN UNDERTAKEN BY THE LAW AND ECONOMICS CENTER at the University of Miami to more accurately define and identify corporate operations. It has produced what it calls a "Corporate Issues Source Book" contributed to by more than thirty law and economic authorities. This book refutes a host of misconceptions about the corporation and our business system with emphasis on the question of profits. The conclusion is that by every known index, profits have been going down in recent years. It finds that, as a percentage of receipts, profits for manufacturing corporations for the past ten years or so have hovered at about 4 to 4 1/2% -- not 45 or 30%. This is down from a rate of 7.1% in 1950, the peak of profits following the post World War II boom.

AFTER PAYING TAXES, THE EARNINGS OF MOST CORPORATIONS are split roughly half and half between dividends and re-investments. Corporations pay taxes -- provide jobs -- the holders of which pay taxes and this is, essentially, our business system.

consciousness. The spoken language must certainly have more influence in the expansion of our behavior than any other sensory tools we have.

The frightening reality of today is the frustration of listening to different images and trying to sort out what really our version should be.

There was a time when transportation, and information, was not possible from all over the world; infact, it was limited for community to community, so the version of the world was more or less one shared version of all the people of the community. If one believed the world was flat you could assume that all the people in that community believed the world was flat.

This is far from truth now. Infact, for a lot of people, to avoid any more pain of frustration there is no conscious awareness of any version of a real world. The frightening fact without a version of a real world then the loss completely of any awareness which causes interaction between people. For example, one has to aware of expected behavior, or suffer rejection from others; one has to know what pain is like, then one knows why others grimace when they are hurt; by knowing a version of what you feel is the real world is like, aware of how other different from you, only then there can be an adjustment to a common share consciousness.

We have been high on a kick for the last several years to "Know thy self." It will be surprising to a lot of people to see that "Knowing thy self" is a basic concept of working out with your neighbor a genuine shared consciousness that is acceptable to both, and contains peace, harmony, sharing of bread, and caring that the other is living in the fullness of his ability and capacity. I like that version of the real world. I shall share it with others—I hope you will do the same.

Letters To The Editor
Dear Editor:
This last week (June 25-30), at Camp Booth Oaks, we had some very fine Girl Scouts, especially in the unit Plateau. This unit had four outstanding, pretty, young girls that were considerate, happy, helpful, and had fine manners in every way. Each were from Haskell! Plus C.B.O. has a counselor, Lynn Bragg 'Flower', from Haskell which is also pretty from within and out. These girls speak fine of their town and of their families and we look forward meeting the next people from Haskell, as we have in the past. The Girl Scouts from Plateau included 'Tomboy' Holly McBroom, 'Moonshiner' Michell Stout, 'M' Emily Thornhill, and 'Bigfoot' Kimberly Lanier. If the future could speak, it would tell of what fine, respectable women these Girl Scouts will be.

American Ag News

by Betty McBroom

The following are articles from our July 4, 1978, official newspaper, AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS.

The United States total contributions plus the net interest paid for foreign aid since 1946 totals $537 billion. This represents 75% of our national debt. Much of this went to our enemies, and was paid for by the American taxpayers.

Some studies say that for every dollar of foreign aid the government gives, only eight cents finally gets to the people of the country receiving the aid. Also, it has in some cases made enemies. After the Guatemalan earthquake, the US sent 27,000 tons of grain to them despite their insistence they did not need it. The effect was to knock the bottom out of the Guatemalan farmers' grain market for 9 to 12 months.

Clyde E. Runion of Phillipsburg, Kansas, talked with a man who had spent 6 weeks traveling the Port Cities around the South American Continent. This man gave an eye witness account of meat being loaded with blow flies and maggots crawling in and out of the burlap wrapped meat. He said he would remember the stench until his dying day.

He said they couldn't eat the fresh fruits and vegetables there because they were sprayed with everything imaginable. He said they shipped them to the United States.

Runion suggests we get ready to order "Tender Kangaroo Pouch smothered in Cockroach Gravy" and tasty "Blow Fly Soup" down at old Maggot Maggie's.

President Carter has added 28,514 jobs to the federal payroll. Under Nixon and Ford, the bureaucracy lost 176,528 jobs.

The federal payroll has jumped from $3.76 billion to $4.26 billion, costing the taxpayers an extra $6 billion a year, or 10 percent of the $60 billion budget deficit.

When Carter was governor of Georgia, the number of state employees jumped 25 percent and state expenditures jumped 50 percent.

Onions and cantaloupe are rotting in the fields in the Valley of South Texas. Producers cannot sell them for enough to pay the harvesting. One man has opened up his cantaloupe patch to the public-free.

Tomatoes are rotting in the fields, and big corporations are coming in with harvesters, paying the farmers practically nothing for their crop, and making puree out of the rotting tomatoes. Meanwhile, tomatoes are selling for 69c a pound in Kroger and Safeway stores in the Valley.

Valley farmers are getting more and more disgusted.

(Othel Brand, mayor of McAllen, is a big producer operator in the Valley. He has much control over what is sold and bought in the Valley. I wonder if he has had anything to do with the produce being left in the fields since he is the one who turned the peaceful demonstration on the bridge at Hidalgo into a riot by the policemen.)

From a letter to the editor in the Nebraska State AAM newspaper by a Mrs. J:

I want to tell you of a conversation I had with the meat manager of a Safeway store on June 10. I was doing promotion work for the pork producers and in visiting with him about prices, the beef imports came up.

He said it would not affect the price of beef at all. He said, in fact, "We have increased the mark-up on our beef another 5%, from 21% to a 26% markup." He told me the markup took place the day after Carter announced the importing of beef.

He told me there was no one checking on the profit Safeway makes on groceries or their meat, therefore they could increase their margin of profit at the expense of the consumers.

I was appalled. As a porkette, we always check the store for imported port, and I really got the low-down on the meat market from the Safeway point of view.

I would also like to know how many restaurants serve imported meat-I know Bonanza does. Goodness knows how many more do. Mrs. J.

These are a few of the interesting articles that appear in our AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS every week. If you want to read the hard facts and honest reports about the plight of American agriculture subscribe to our paper by sending $10 (for a year), your name and address to our AAM office here in Haskell. It is one of the best publications you will ever read. And, it is printed in Iredell, Texas!

Cotton competition continues to develop new markets as evidenced by two recent happenings. One has been the successful development of flame-retardant cottons as highlighted last year when New York City Fire Commissioner John T. O'Hagan announced that all New York firemen will start wearing "Fire Stop" uniforms (100% cotton). That decision came after nearly a year of testing the cotton material against synthetic products. Second development involves current research at the Southern Regional Research Lab in New Orleans where scientists have produced glass from cotton. Cotton glass has a good chance for extensive use since it has the unique ability to bond together other glasses of different composition. Although product possibilities include nearly everything made from glass, most immediate use will probably be scientific glassware.
