Bovina voters overwhelmingly approved a one per cent city sales tax Saturday with 136 people registering their opinions.

A total of 106 were in favor of the city sales tax, while 30 voted against the measure in a light turnout here.

Polling Light For Election

and passed the sales tax by an overwhelming majority. This will provide funds for the city government to make the improvements the city badly needs."

This was the first time the city sales tax has been presented to Bovina voters. If it had been defeated, two years would elapse before state law would have allowed it to have been voted on again.

rious desires of the people have been made known, but lack of funds have prevented such improvements. How and where the tax monies will be used will be decided as the needs arise. However, the council has pointed out that the present cost of city government has risen as equipment becomes old, expansion of water and sewer lines are always an increasing expense, etc.

Texas Democrats will keep control of Ralph Yarborough's Senate seat in the November election.

When Lloyd Bentsen took the nomination away from Yarborough in the May primary, it was a bitter pill to swallow for supporters of the politico veteran Yarborough, who has championed the cause of one faction of the State's Democratic party for nigh on to two decades.

And while the wounds were still fresh and before they'd had a chance to heal, there was some talk of the backers of RWY moving over to the camp of Republican George Bush in the general election come November.

But, it'll never happen. Bentsen is certainly not, in our opinion, as good a representative in Washington for the people of the great State of Texas or any other, but at that he'll be a way yonder better than Bush.

The election of Bush would give us not one, but two, Republican senators. And here in our 18th Congressional District where Bob Price is our Member of Congress and a Republican we wouldn't have any more Democratic representation than a hen has teeth. That wouldn't be good! Texas Democrats will, as we said in the beginning, have that figured out by the time November and the general election rolls around.

Bush is a fine candidate and we're glad to see him have the opportunity to be in the race. But we just don't need any more Republicans in elected positions, that's all. Best we support Bentsen, even if he is kind of a second choice. It's like a ballgame where you want to be the pitcher. If they say you can't pitch, but you can be the catcher or sit on the bench, it's a heap better to catch than nothing! While it's not first choice, it's easier to take than nothing. And that nothing is what we'd have if we acted foolishly and went for Bush in the Senator's race.

And just because Yarborough lose one race doesn't mean he's finished politically. He proved that back in the '50's. He may be back. And if and when he is, he'll still be on the side of the people, we're guessing.

This town is on the brink of launching still another paving project. This one will consist of a proposed 20 or so blocks and people who are in a position to know about such things estimate that about half of those ---10 or 12---will have sufficient property owner interest to become paved, curbed and guttered.

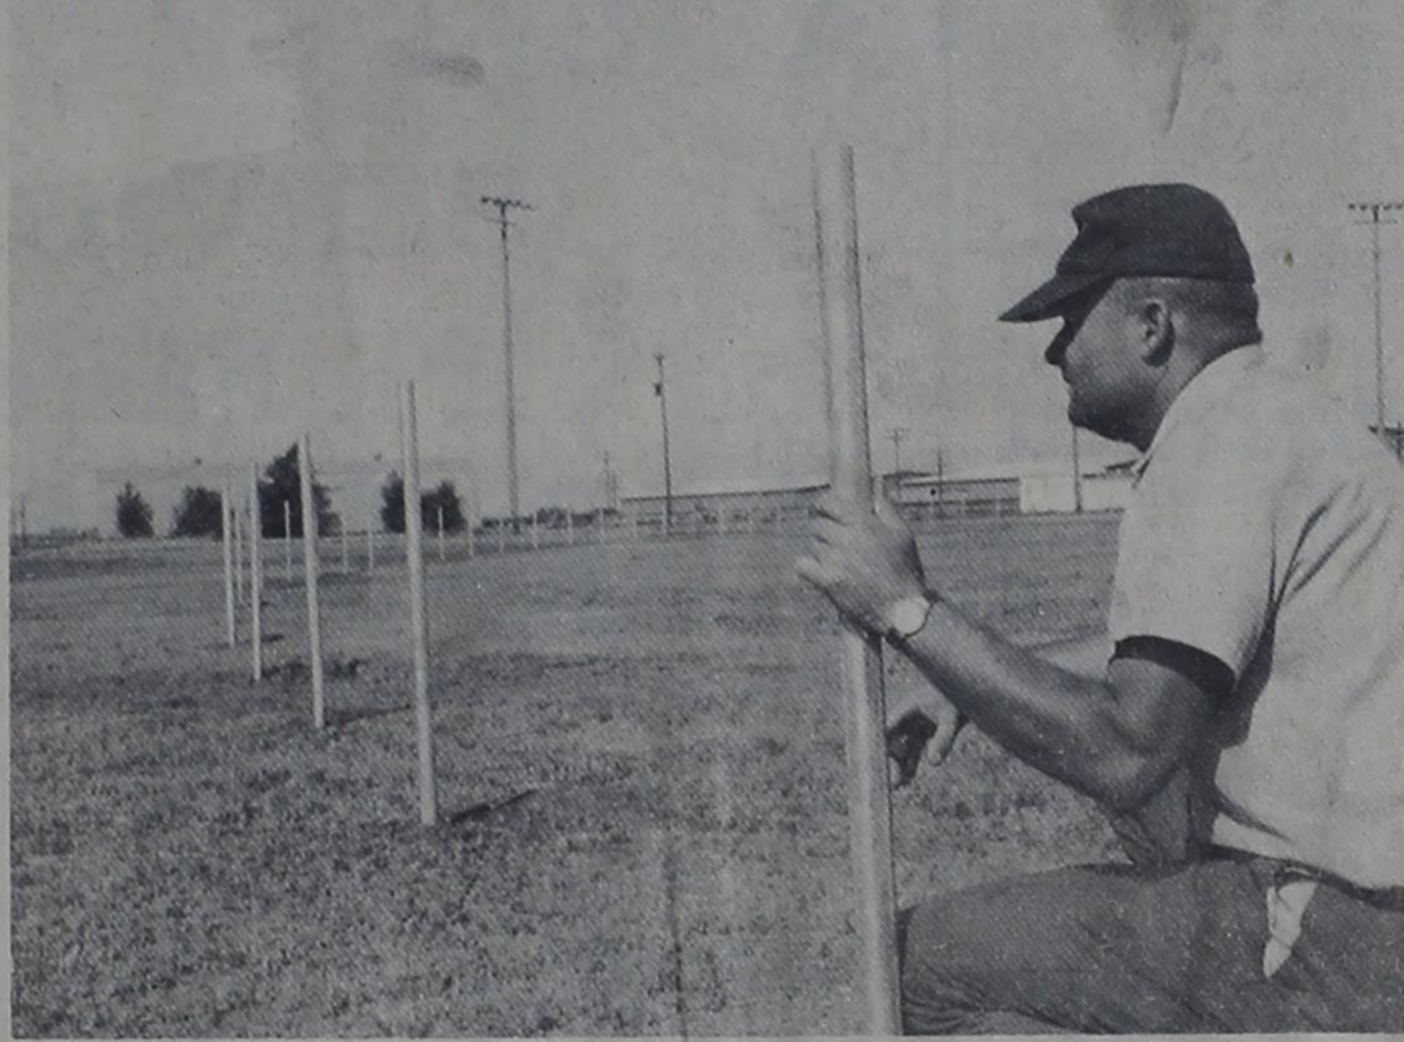

The city will, according to present plans if we understand them correctly, pave those streets in the proposal where more than half of the property owners are in favor of it --- or at least don't say they are against it and won't pay for it.

Nothing helps town property more, we'd guess, than good paving around it. Those who boost such projects say that the property is easily worth as much more as the paving costs.

The particular project came about because of the development of the new Eastview Addition. There wasn't enough interest in the remainder of town to bring about a paving program. However, because the streets in Eastview had to be paved to satisfy loan requirements, other non-paved streets in the city are being considered. This will possibly help --- and certainly won't hurt --- on the cost per foot on the overall project. Theoretically, at least, the more paving you do, the less it costs per unit.

From the standpoint of improved streets, this town has come a long way in the past dozen or so years. Not too far back of that period of time, the

NEW FENCE --- Bovina's baseball park will soon have a new chain link fence as a result of contributions made by individuals and businesses to the Lions Club project. Darrell Read says those contributing as much as $25 will have signs on the fence, which will completely surround the park. It is hoped to be completed this week, and contributors will be announced next week in The Blade.

In Bovina --

Clean-Up Campaign Begins Next Week

A clean-up campaign for Bovina has been set for the last two weeks of June, with the Bovina Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture working with the City of Bovina in the project.

Boys of the town are being asked to work in teams in the clean-up campaign. They will clean lots, alleys, etc. Property owners will be asked to pay them what the owner considers the work's worth.

A committee headed by Jerry Wright and consisting of Charles Flynn, Johnnie Horn and Don Spring was appointed to organize the campaign with the city.

Date for the event will be June

15-27, as proclaimed by Mayor Charles Flynn. Boys wishing to work, and those having areas needing cleaning, should contact Bovina

Insurance Agency. Teams will be formed for the project. Any age boy, if old enough to work, is welcome. Each team will be composed of at least one boy old enough to drive a truck and serve as team captain. Trucks for hauling accumulated objects are available for the campaign, according to Charles Flynn, member of the Chamber board of directors and mayor of Bovina.

Other projects were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber Wednesday noon in Bovina Restaurant.

Spring, appointed to investigate erecting medical clinic direction signs on highways, reported that both the Texas Highway Department and Dr. Prentice Hickman feel the signs would be misleading. Those following the signs would expect emergency service, which is not the case now at Bovina Medical Center. Dr. Hickman lives about eight miles from town and is not on hand during the night hours at the clinic.

Only three responses were received to the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture survey published recently in The Bovina Blade. Wright was appointed to mail survey blanks to residents in hopes of receiving better response.

Spring explained the need of a Bovina Fine Arts Council before an area council is formed, with cooperation of civic clubs of the town. He, Neal Mager, and Mrs. A. M. Wilson will serve on the Chamber committee to meet with others interested in forming the council here.

Projects Here --

Present Full Agenda At Council Meeting

City of Bovina's business session Thursday night was filled with major projects either just completed or about to get underway.

Completed are the sewer and water lines to Eastview Addition, the new dump pit, and speed limits set at the baseball park.

About to get underway is a paving project and investigation into obtaining arms for railroad crossings in Bovina.

Plans were designated for the board of equalization meeting on June 22, followed by a second meeting July 6.

To serve on the board of equalization are Bedford Caldwell, Lloyd Gober, Billie Suderth with Charles Corn serving as alternate.

Mayor Charles Flynn reported the sewer and water installation in Eastview Addition has been completed. Cost of $15,589.25 was the payment made with city warrants through First State Bank of Bovina at five per cent interest. The engineer fee was $1,255.14, or eight per cent of the cost, and attorney fees to Aldridge, Aldridge and Harding was $357.11, for a total of $17,301.50.

The new pit at the city dump east of town has been completed and the grounds are now open to the public. The city asks the cooperation of the public in using the proper places to dump.

Several requests have been made for arms (or gates) at the railroad crossings here, Mayor Flynn said. Santa Fe wants the city to widen the street and provide additional drainage, curb and gutters. This would cost an estimated $3,500.

Discussed by the city council was the safer method, gates and fast trains, or no gates with 40-mile per hour speed limits for trains.

The council decided to continue its investigation to determine the best way to obtain gates here.

Speed limit around the ball park was set at 10 miles per hour during the times that games are being played there. The limit was determined to obtain protection measures to fans and children attending the games, who many times dart into the streets.

City Engineer Ralph Douglas said about 20 blocks have been proposed, including Eastview Addition, for paving this summer. He estimates that about 10 or 12 blocks will become a reality. Cost to property owners for paving would be $5 per foot, with the city cost $1.05 to take care of alleys and intersections.

A legal notice in this issue of The Blade designates the streets which are included in the proposed paving program. Also, property owners will be notified by mail that their property is included.

A paving protest meeting has been scheduled for July 2. It will be at 8 p.m. at City Hall, according to the legal notice.

Attending the Thursday night meeting were Flynn, Councilmen Vernon Estes, Billy Marshall, Johnnie Horn, and Dolph Moten, as well as City Secretary Mrs. Mary Ruth Martin, Engineer Douglas, Water Superintendent Darrell Read and City Marshal Ronald Mitchell.

FLIP SIGNS --- Installed near the baseball park are two signs, which can be flipped into view when games are in progress, calling for a 10-mile per hour speed limit. City Marshal Ronald Mitchell says the signs may be folded in half for normal speed limits at other times.

Heavier South And East --

Showers Fall, Bring .4 Here

Bovina area opened its arms to the showers that fell here Sunday night, the second this Spring.

Only .4 fell in Bovina, but that was exceeded in the Oklahoma Lane area. About .65 was measured there. Up to two inches was recorded south and east of town.

North of town, where heavy black clouds promised a small flood, only showers were received toward the Rhea community. West of Bovina about .25 was estimated.

Heavy rain and hail, however, were reported in the area of Clay's Corner and Lazbuddie.

While the Panhandle and South Plains has received generous amounts of rainfall this Spring, though also carrying tornadoes, this section of the Panhandle has been plagued with parching winds with no relief from moisture.

Last rainfall reported in the Blade was the week of April 22, when an inch fell at the same time Lazbuddie was struck by a tornado.

Barely a trace fell during the month of May.

In Bovina, the .4 was not sufficient to provide lasting benefits, but at the same time was not enough to delay the upcoming wheat harvest.

Texas Highway Department crews were called out about 11 p.m. Sunday to erect flares and clear the roads in the Lazbuddie area. Reports say that about five to six inches of hail covered the ground there.

Wheat Growers Hear Reports At Meeting

About 140 people, including members and their families, of Bovina Wheat Growers attended the annual meeting and barbecue Thursday night in Bovina Schools cafeteria.

James Russell, manager of the company, said the crowd was better than in the past few years and the meeting was considered successful. Two directors were re-elected to the board, Harold Hawkins and Webb Gober. Holdover members include M. H. Carson, Ray Schueler and Walter Potts.

Officers of the board will be elected at its next meeting, Russell said.

A report on the activities of Producers Grain Corporation, the parent organization of Bovina Wheat Growers, was given by George Jones of Amarillo.

Russell gave an audit report

Officers of the board will be elected at its next meeting, Russell said.

A report on the activities of Producers Grain Corporation, the parent organization of Bovina Wheat Growers, was given by George Jones of Amarillo.

Russell gave an audit report and a run-down on last year's business.

The Dale Gassons of Amarillo provided the entertainment for the evening's activities, presenting both comedy and popular music.

Three door prizes were awarded to G. A. Bandy, 25 pounds of Co-op detergent; M. H. Carson, one gallon of Latex paint; and Mrs. Buck Ellison, a set of tools.

The free barbecue dinner was prepared by A. M. Wilson.

Garner Rites In Plainview

Dick Garner, 65-year-old father of two Bovina men, died at 11:40 p.m. Friday in his home at Plainview, following a heart attack.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the First Baptist Church at Plainview with Dr. Franklin Swanner, retired Baptist District missionary, officiating.

Burial was in Plainview Cemetery.

Mr. Garner was born in Dodd City. He moved to Plainview in 1911. He was a cattle buyer. Mr. Garner was a frequent visitor to Bovina and was known by many people here.

Survivors include his wife, Leora; two sons, Wendell Garner and Keith Garner, both of Bovina; one stepson, Jamie Davis of Galesberry, Conn.; one brother, Jack Garner of Victorville, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Reba Holloway of Amarillo and Mrs. Clara Prosser of Bovina; and 11 grandchildren.

At Post Office --

Stop Service On Saturdays

Effective this week, the Bovina Post Office will be closed for window service on Saturdays, according to Postmaster Gene Ezell.

The new regional policy calls for the closing of window service on Saturdays as of June 13.

However, Ezell points out, the mail will be placed in boxes and delivered on star route as always.

Also on Saturdays, mail for out-of-town delivery should be placed in the outside box on the curb, south of Bovina Post Office, Ezell said.

Before the new regional policy went into effect, the windows were closed Saturday afternoons. Most post offices in the region have not had window service on Saturday for the past few years. However, the service was available here until this week.

At Tech --

Conducts Research On Grain Sorghum

LUBBOCK -- Forty-three investigators from nine departments of Texas Tech University are conducting research into production and use of grain sorghum.

They and former researchers no longer with the university have completed 197 reports of their findings regarding the crop, which continues to increase in economic importance to Texas.

These reports and the names of researchers have been catalogued by ICASALS Special Report No. 34 entitled "Grain Sorghum Research" by the colleges of Agricultural Sciences and Home Economics - available upon request.

Most reports are available in reprint form to persons interested in the crop research. The 1969 grain sorghum output in Texas was approximately 310 million bushels, with more than half of it being produced in the High Plains of Texas.

The local supply "has been a prime factor in the tremendous growth" of cattle feeding, and the rapid development of the swine industry in West Texas "is also largely attributable to the region's production of sorghum grain," it says.

A 1966-67 survey showed grain sorghum represented 83 per cent of all concentrates fed in Texas feedlots.

"As the dynamic billion dollar High Plains livestock feeding industry expands," the bulletin says, "the grain sorghum industry must continue its growth at an accelerated rate."

Grain sorghum is expected to become more important year-by-year as a source of food for human consumption.

It can provide "inexpensive, palatable and nutritionally complete food for humans when properly supplemented," the report says. "Several types of satisfactory food products have been developed but the manufacture of acceptable food from grain sorghum requires continued exploration.

Tech faculty and investigators agree that "new knowledge gained through research and education holds the key to future economic growth of the grain sorghum industry" and that Texas Tech "is in a better position than any other organization to make this contribution to the West Texas portion of the industry."

only pavement here was that provided by the state or federal government. Giant strides have been taken in the street improvement department and still another step is in the process of adding still more square yards of asphalt and concrete to the city's network.

Hal Boyle, the popular national columnist, offers this encouraging observation:

"On the plus side: A country can't be all bad if it is buying twice as many worthwhile books as it did 10 years ago . . . if it donates about $14 billion a year to charity . . . and if 50 million of its people voluntarily spend some part of their time helping others. What is that country? The good old U.S. of A."

If anybody is interested in one, we have a surplus Municipal Sales Tax Information Packet. The title on the front of the book-like deal says it has to do with ". . . the law, the election and public support."

The packet has been on our desk for the past two or three months and we've sort of grown attached to it. However, we guess we'd pass it on to someone who wants it.

Seriously, the response to Bovina's one per cent sales tax election Saturday was gratifying and we think the voters of the community took a progressive step by the margin by which the proposition carried --- more than 3-1 and that's a pretty good amount in anybody's election.

One Injured In Oklahoma Lane Accident

Mike Greer, Parmer County highway patrolman, investigated an accident Wednesday evening involving vehicles driven by Sammy D. Adrian and Ortero Medina.

At time of the accident, about dusk, according to Greer, both vehicles were traveling west on FM 145, seven miles east of Farwell. The Adrian vehicle allegedly attempted to make a U-turn as the other vehicle began passing it. The Medina vehicle allegedly hit the right front of the other vehicle. Adrian was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital suffering head lacerations and possibly broken ribs. Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

On Clinic Board --

Nominate Five For Directors

Five people have been nominated for positions on the board of directors of Bovina Medical Center, Inc. The nominations will be voted on at the annual meeting of the corporation which is scheduled for Monday, July 6. The meeting will be in Community Room of First State Bank of Bovina at 8 p.m., according to Mrs. Norma Whitten, secretary-treasurer of the clinic's board of directors. Those listed as candidates by the board members while serving as a nominating committee are B. L. Marshall, Leslie McCain, Nicky Foster, R. G. Barron and Ralph Roming. Other nominations will be accepted from the floor prior to the election.

The terms of Mrs. Whitten and Barron expire. At the end of this month, they will have served two years on the board. Holdover members include Dolph Moten, Earl Stevenson, Mrs. Lucille Walling, Mrs. Ola Lee Jones and A. M. Wilson. A financial report at a Monday night meeting of the board indicated that approximately $4500 is owed by the corporation to First State Bank. The public is invited to attend the annual meeting.

WSCS Sells Fresh Pecans

Women's Society of Christian Service members are selling fresh pecans as a money-raising project, according to Mrs. Ralph Roming. These are usually sold during the Christmas season, but the group obtained some recently as well. Anyone wishing the pecans, at $1.90 per pound, may call Mrs. Roming, Mrs. John Dixon or pick them up at Artistic Beauty Salon.

CHILD'S PLAY AND SUMMER SAFETY

When warm weather arrives, it's up to you to provide your children with a climate for safe conduct wherever they go and whatever they do. Whether you're making a pitch for camping precautions or suburban safety, you can turn hazards into has-beens by heeding summer safeguards. Danger is no stranger to boys and girls who imitate the foolish frolics of their parents. If you play roughly in the water, for example, why shouldn't the children? If you ignore pool safety rules, don't be surprised if your children get in over their heads safely-wise.

Though playful ducking in a pool may seem like fun, it doesn't hold water from the standpoint of safety. And a hike through the woods may be entertaining and even walk away with educational honors, but hikers should take steps to avert such pitfalls as poison ivy, insect bites and falls. Impressionable youngsters will pick up ill-advised attitudes from their parents about safety. It is not what you say, but what you actually do that determines your children's attitudes. Talk all you want to about road safety, but if you speed, the children with you are likely to do the same thing when they grow up.

If you're thinking of sending your child away to summer camp, don't accept any bunk about adequate supervision. Safety requires, according to the American Camping Association, that a summer camp have at least one counselor for every eight campers, one for every six when the campers are younger than eight. And most counselors should be at least 19 or 20 years old.

Depending on the individual youngster, a summer camping safety campaign may include taking along special medication. If so, be sure to tell the counselor about it. And regardless of how well stocked the camp's first-aid department may be, see that your child has with him in his own trunk an extra pair of eyeglasses if he needs them; a can of Rhuli-Spray, good for non-poisonous insect bites and poison ivy, some adhesive bandages to put on if one from the camp's infirmary comes off; and a small can of foot powder to catch athlete's foot early if it strikes.

Follow these sensible suggestions and your children will have clear sailing to a happier and safer summer.

Cook's Corner

MRS. G. D. ANDERSON, JR.

Mrs. G. D. Anderson, Jr. thumbed through a stack of cards and chose several of her favorite gourmet recipes.

"I cook with many kinds of herbs," she said and explained that her herb list is her kitchen dictionary. Preferring gourmet foods has paid off, since the Andersons have found many foods, otherwise ordinary, are delicious when just a dash of unusual seasoning is added.

Born in Fairlie, in East Texas, Anita came to Amarillo with her parents, the Byron Ellis, when a young girl. She attended Amarillo Schools and was graduated from Amarillo High School. From there it was further education at Amarillo Junior College.

She lived several years in Amarillo, New Mexico and Colorado.

It was through mutual friends that she met Penny Anderson. A trip to a football game in Dallas resulted in a marriage ceremony in December, 1956. Anita was in that city to attend a friend's wedding. Texas A&M grad Penny arrived to take Anita to the A&M-SMU football game. Their date ended with a wedding of their own.

Anita says she spent her honeymoon attending the A&M-Texas football game.

The couple has lived in Bovina since their marriage, but also have a home at Lake Tangawood near Amarillo. Penny has been associated with the grain business many years in Parmer County, where he has spent most of his life.

Their son, David (also known as Gabe, like father and grandfather) is employed at the First National Bank in Dallas. He received his degree from SMU last summer and spent several months in the Army Reserve. David is planning to enter Officer's Candidate School this fall.

Besides maintaining two homes, Mrs. Anderson loves to water ski and enjoys nothing better than curling up with a good book. She also enjoys traveling and toile painting. Among her desires is to do some oil painting.

In addition to recipes, she gives some suggestions on the use of herbs and spices.

Add a little nutmeg to fresh chicken salad.

Try a dash of curry powder in cooked English peas.

Add cinnamon to vanilla ice cream and serve with hot apple pie.

She highly recommends the first recipe, since it turned calf's liver into a delicacy.

Calf's Liver
Season four slices of liver with salt and onion powder and sprinkle lightly with flour.

Fry six or eight slices of bacon until crisp. Leave bacon fat in pan and saute liver quickly in hot fat. (Don't cook completely). Pour off fat. Remove liver.

Place two T. butter in pan and one large onion thinly sliced or use finely chopped shallots. Cook until soft but not brown. Add liver (sprinkled with sweet basil and shredded green onions). Pour four ounces wine or sherry over this and one T. butter. Cover and cook slowly five minutes, letting it steam. Serve liver smothered in the onion sauce mixture with crisp bacon and garnished with parsley.

Cucumber-Green Pepper Salad

Miss Thornton, Helmcke Repeat Nuptial Vows In May Ceremony

A double-ring marriage ceremony was repeated by Miss Irene Thornton and Don Wilfred Helmcke May 16 in the United Methodist Church in Dimmitt. Rev. Jim T. Pickens read the ceremony before two spiral candelabra and baskets of daisy mums and stock. Parents of the couple are

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Neff of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Dale Winders, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. James Horton, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Day of Golden Promise."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown of sheer voile over satin, featuring full ruffled elbow-length sleeves and a wide ruffle forming a short train. A satin sash with bow encircled the fitted waist. The bride's floor-length veil fell from a satin bow headpiece.

She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses atop a white Bible, a gift from her grandfather, B. N. Graham. She chose a gold cross belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. B. N. Graham, which had been worn by her grandmother and mother in their weddings.

Miss Susan Thornton served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Connie Sheffy of Hereford and Miss Jackie Armstrong of Abilene.

The attendants wore floor length gowns of sheer cotton, blue for the maid of honor, and yellow for the bridesmaids. Their gowns were accented with white flocked daisies and they carried nosegays of daisy mums.

Beryl Armstrong of Elida, N.M. served as best man, Howard Graham of Pampa, uncle of the bride, and Bobby Ebeling of Dimmitt were groomsmen. They also lit the candles.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Lamar Fellowship Hall of the church. The three-tiered white wedding cake, decorated with roses, was served from a bride's table covered with white illusion over white satin and centered with silver candelabra and yellow and white roses. A double ringed dark cake and coffee were served from the groom's table, which was covered with a white cutwork cloth.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lincoln High School in Portland, Ore. and attended Arizona State University at Tempe. He is currently a member of the United States Air Force and recently returned from overseas duty.

The couple will make their home at Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix, Ariz.

VALUE STILL UNKNOWN --- A Picasso silk screen picture hangs on the wall of Mrs. Herman Estes, a gift from her son on Mother's Day. The gift was purchased at a garage sale for $5.

Picasso Print Causes Stir In Estes Household Here

Whether it is worth anything or not, a Mother's Day present has created more excitement in one Bovina home than has been experienced in quite a "spell."

It is a large Picasso gouche with charcoal outline, purchased at a garage sale for his mother by Kenneth Estes, for the price of $5.

Actually, Mrs. Herman (Edna) Estes, the recipient of the gift, says she thinks Kenneth was more interested in the old wooden frame when he bought the art object.

The possibilities of the gift kept Edna awake for several nights. Since the original excitement has worn off she can enjoy the gift.

Two area men, with knowledge of Picasso's work, have seen the picture. It has been determined to be a silk screen or lithograph copy, but its value is still not known.

That would depend on how many copies were made of the original painting, Mrs. Estes says. She is now in the process of securing this information.

Picasso has controlled the output of copies of his originals, so some record should reveal the information Mrs. Estes seeks.

It is thought to be a copy of "Portrait of Jaime Sabartes," painted during Picasso's blue period while he lived among the peasants in the Barcelona, Spain area between 1900 and 1905. However, this has not been substantiated. It could also be another but Mrs. Estes feels time will also reveal this information.

The picture bears Picasso's signature in the left hand corner, which has been screened. There is no autograph on the picture, but this has been formerly trimmed to fit a frame.

Such silk screen prints have sold all the way from $50 to $75,000. The possibility of its being an original has been ruled out.

The print came to Texas in 1946 after it was purchased in Paris, France and sent a friend in a West Texas city.

Those who have seen the picture think it may be worth about $200 or $300.

"If that is its value," says Mrs. Estes, "I'll keep it." This would depend on how many copies were made of the original, she thinks.

Mrs. Estes has been doing some research on Picasso since becoming the owner of the picture. She believes the original was painted during the blue period, just before Picasso began his pink period. Clothing of the boy is blue, but some pink tones also appear in the painting.

The picture emerged from the garage sale with no glass in front of it. Mrs. Estes has re-framed the picture and put it behind glass. It hangs in her living room.

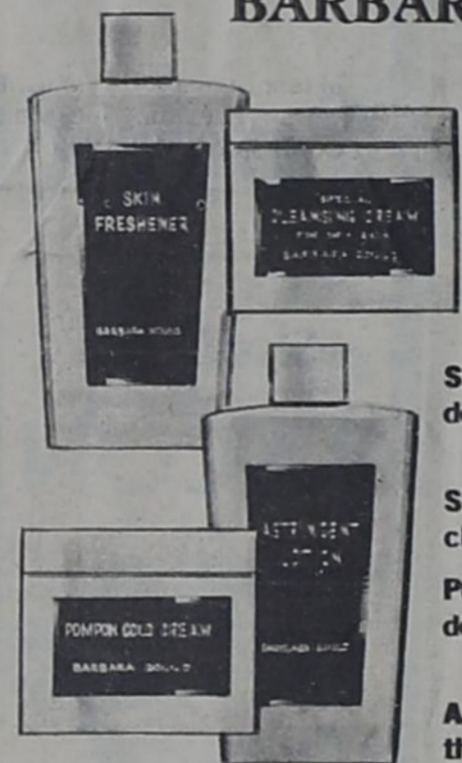

Whether or not it's worth anything, Mrs. Estes says she has had far more than $5 worth of fun from her Mother's Day gift.

"He says he's out seeking a deeper understanding of his fellow man, Mrs. Jones, so he's probably at the baseball game."

MURDER

A gun can kill the body, but a tongue can kill a reputation. An idle person's mind is a good place for rumors and gossip to be initiated. Paul warned: "For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies." (2 Thess. 3:11).

Murder has been classified as a sin of the body, but gossip and spreading rumors are sins of the disposition. Both kinds of sin are wrong. When a fellowman is wrong, go to him in order to help him. A true man will not drive a fellowman away by seeking to hurt him with rumors and gossip -- evil fruit of the mind and tongue.

Constructive work is the remedy for one who gossips and who is a busybody. Doing good helps one resist the temptation to say something bad about his neighbor. It is wrong to be idle, and it is especially wrong when we use idleness to hurt other people through tale-bearing. Your neighbor is at the heart and core of practical living. Jesus presented the story of the good Samaritan, which shows that a person practices neighborliness by assisting one who is in need (Luke 10:33-35). In this story the good Samaritan taught the philosophy of life: "What is mine is thine, and I'll share it."

In teaching practical relationships between a man and his neighbor, Jesus said: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." This principle, when practiced, guarantees that one will keep the rule of life, which says: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

Group Makes New Mexico Trail Ride

A group of Bovina horsemen returned this weekend from a trail ride in the New Mexico mountains.
It was an eventful ride, including being lost in a snow-storm.
The group left Wednesday morning from Cowles, N.M. area and returned to Bovina Saturday.
Ice was reported every morning, according to Owen Patton.
The group was lost for about three hours when the riders took the wrong trail. The trails were snow-covered, causing the riders to make the error.
On the trail ride from Bovina were Patton, Ed Lide and son, Archie McCutchen and grandson, Allen and Gaylen Carson, Wilfred Sikes, and from Amarillo, Reggie Jones.
"We had plenty of fun and experiences," Patton said.

Girls Boost Country, Writes Ex-Teacher

(Editor's Note: The following appeared in the Farmer-Stockman magazine, June edition. The author taught English in Bovina High School last year until accepting the position of home editor in December.)
By Joyce Adams

"WE'RE PROUD to be the FHA from Holliday, a place where even squares can have a ball . . . and boys are still the biggest thrill of all." That's a part of their opener. Then they perform Merle Haggard's "Fighting Side of Me," a cocky comment on campus radicals and their gripes.

Take a look around you. What will you see? Liberation movements, "peace" marching, dissatisfaction. America is a nation with many illnesses. If only there were a single remedy, a cure-all.

Future Homemakers of America in Holliday sponsor a medicine show. It's guaranteed to make you feel better about America's future. Like any medicine show, it diagnoses your ills, then offers a solution.

Since the first of March the five high school girls have made twenty appearances. They've been to Stephenville, Wichita Falls, Archer City, Iowa Park and Walters, Oklahoma.

The girls entertain at public school open houses, banquets, school assemblies and hospitals. They even have a TV appearance to their credit.

Assisting the girls with their presentation are Irma Barton and Helen Parsons. Mrs. Barton is the music director at Holliday High and Mrs. Parsons teaches home economics. Mrs. Barton accompanies the girls on the piano during the show. Mrs. Parsons shared her talents in the speech-writing department.

It's easy to see why the group has become so popular so fast. We, old and young alike, are timid patriots. We do, "stare at our shoelaces when they play the national anthem." We want somebody else to say the pledge of allegiance for us. That "somebody else" is sumthin' else.

They're five girls with a message in monologue and song.

Sandwiched between musical numbers are frank comments that the girls deliver with gusto.

Like real showpeople, the Holliday group saves its best 'til last. Debbie Stone ties up the 15-minute patriotic package with these thoughts:

"The other day I heard someone say, 'You Know, America is in real trouble,' and it's true, Old Glory has never fallen so close to the earth. Our embassies are being stoned, our diplomats often fear for their lives. We're involved in a half-dozen nameless, winless conflicts that spill American blood on foreign soil.

Our young men are dying for ideals which don't seem to mean much to Americans anymore. But America's real trouble doesn't lie in the rice patties of Viet Nam, or in the diabolical situations to the south of us.

We've killed all the sacred cows, destroyed all the images and there's nothing left to respect. Old-fashioned love of God, country and family is passe.

We wouldn't want to be seen at a political rally or at a town hall meeting. We don't want to be caught with our eyes closed during public prayer. We've decided the only way to get into public office is to buy our way there. Our heroes are the fast guys who get away with it.

Patriotism, the old hand over the heart, flag waving kind, has been condemned.

Somewhere along the way we've lost our pride. We still say America stands for the same things. But next time you're at a party, ask someone to sing America and see what happens.

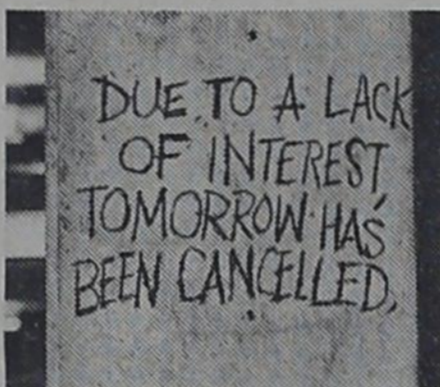

Our enemies know it. They have seen the newsreels of discontented marching around the capitol. They've distorted and blown up our mistakes. They've been putting wedges in the cracks of our solid walls. The new idea is don't attack America, wear it down gradually. It will eventually fall under the weight of its own corruption. And you know, it's working.

A "Let George do it" attitude lights the way for the Viet Cong in swampy jungles of Viet Nam. This 'Better Red than dead' cancer is a bigger threat to the American soldier than mortar shells. It kills the vitality and spirit of America. Democracy is a fragile instrument. It's made of hope, prayer and Yankee ingenuity. Held together by the Fourth of July and flag-waving.

Right now: Lift your eyes to a flag and sing as loud as you can: 'For purple mountains majesties above the fruited plain . . . America, America, God shed his grace on thee. . .'

Now if you feel a little pride welling up inside and if you feel a little mist in your eye, then thank God, you're still an AMERICAN."

Sounds ridiculous, doesn't it? But what if everybody in this country were to throw their hands up in despair and say they don't give a hoot.

Indeed, there would be no tomorrow.

But fortunately, Americans have a way of solving their problems.

And that's just what's going to happen in these troubled times. Simply because it's always been an American tradition.

Now, how can you, as one little ole citizen in this big, wide country of ours, be of any help?

Well, take a minute and think about a U.S. Savings Bond.

That's right, a U.S. Savings Bond. No, it isn't an immediate remedy for all our ills. But it helps.

If everybody were to buy just one $25.00 Savings Bond (cost $18.75), your country would be stronger economically to wipe out some of those scars we've been sporting.

Of course, everybody would be helping themselves, too. If you were to sign up on a Bond purchase plan where you work or bank, you'd have quite a nice nest egg for yourself one of these days.

You'd have a lot more dollars in the kitty for things like college educations, that new home, or a secure retirement.

So think about a U.S. Savings Bond today. And then go out and buy one.

Tomorrow. Take stock in America

Scoopin' - - - - By Pat Jacobs

One of our favorite places in this land has lost another claim to fame.

Hinsdale County, Colorado has been known as the smallest county, population-wise, in the nation for the past 10 years. That distinction was shifted to its always-competitive rival, Loving County, Texas, according to the U. S. Census Bureau after its nose-counting this spring.

The San Juan Range hideaway, of which Lake City is the county seat and only village within that wilderness area, now has a population (permanent residents, of course) of 194.

Loving County, of which Mentone is the county seat, claims 150, therefore winning the title.

Both counties lost ground the past decade, though. In 1960 Hinsdale held the title with 212 to Loving's 226. So while Lubbock and Amarillo continue their battle for supremacy on the Plains, Hinsdale and Loving continue their struggle for recognition in their own way.

Speaking of records, Hinsdale lost another last summer. In that country where pioneers blasted sides of mountains to make a wagon trail, until last tourist season, there had never been a traffic fatality in the county. Its only fatality occurred on level ground (no cliffs around) to a motorcycle driver.

Loving County, incidentally, is the western - most county in Texas, lying between the Pecos River and New Mexico, according to the Texas Almanac. It may not have many people, but it has cattle and $10 million income from petroleum.

A year or so ago, a government report on Hinsdale County raised the ire of Lake City's citizenry. The report said the county was the richest, per capita, of any in the nation.

Now, that was a joke, considering that most are employed by the county, with the road crew jobs considered the most lucrative for year-round livelihood. The figures were no doubt computed by some Washington "know-it-all," based on tourist income and divided by permanent residents. This tourist income, however, is taken in by several hundred non-permanent residents, mostly Texans, who arrive in the spring to operate various businesses and resorts until after hunting season in the fall.

Hinsdale's image is likely to change in the near future and Loving can have its recognition uncontested.

In the mill at Lake City are plans for a winter resort to lay Aspen in the shade. The scenery already does.

Area's Wheat Harvest Nears

All is in readiness for Parmer County's wheat harvest -- that is, everything except the wheat.

And it is expected to be ready within another week or 10 days, although some may begin dribbling in by the end of this week.

Some barley cut from dryland has already been delivered to Bovina's elevators.

Windy, dry days of the past month have not been an aid to a good wheat crop this year, elevator operators say. They expect only average yields from the irrigated and dryland farms.

Last year the first load of wheat was delivered about June 19.

"Harvest is nearly always over by July 4," one operator said. Last year, however, a great deal of the wheat crop was lost to hail.

The showers Sunday night are not expected to delay harvest this year unless they continue. Price of wheat is about five cents lower than last year. It went for about $1.30 last summer and stood at $1.24 the first of the week.

the Production Credit Association of Texas. Steven and Kevin placed fifth with their Beef Cattle Business demonstration. All of the youngsters had an enjoyable trip to and from College Station.
