VOLEYBALL

The Stamford Rotary Club will host a recreational volleyball tournament for men and women on December 2, 1978. The entry fee of $26.00 should be mailed to Don R. Howard, P.O. Box 1238, Stamford, Texas, 79553. Deadline for mailing in your entry fee is November 27, 1978.

Leslie E. Pressler, Soil Conservationist Trainee, with the Haskell Field Office, SCS since the first of June has been promoted to the career-conditional grade of GS-7. Pressler's duties will remain the same as before, except he will now be considered as a professional conservationist. Congratulations, Les!

Word was received on October 23 from the SCS State office in Temple, that Great Plains contracts and modifications on hand in the state office will obligate over $2,141,000 and that Texas only received $2,874,000 for contracts during the year of October 1978 to October 1979. Net adjustments in existing GPCP contracts will more than use up the remaining $733,000.

No additional planning for new GPCP contracts is to be done until further notice.

The Haskell Field office-SCS will continue to take applications and develop contracts, but with the understanding that these contracts will not be submitted for funding until notification is received from our State Office.

There is a possibility that even the contracts that have been submitted since October 6 will not be funded. This will apply to contracts since have been submitted for Jerry Manske of Sagerton, H.L. Guess of Weinert, Billy Middlebrook and R.V. Earles of Paint Creek.

HUNTING SAFETY

When selecting a hunting partner, choose one by the same measures you would rate yourself.

Hunting equipment is a very personal thing and should not be loaned to friends. One should never be embarrassed by refusing to lend his equipment to someone who feels there is no need to buy his own, as long as he has a friend with well-kept gear.

Before venturing forth into the wooded areas, check with local authorities as to the color prescribed for hunters. Many officials are recommending Blaze Orange or a bright color contrasting with the terrain.

Never, never, mix shells while hunting. Be especially aware of this when guns of different gauge are being used in the hunting party.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McBROOM

How many of you have been keeping up with what President Carter has done and is doing? I do, not because I agree with what he is doing, but because I want to see what shady deal he is trying to pull off next. Yes, I was one of those who voted for him. I thought, like several other thousands of Americans, that Mr. Carter was a fine, honest, Christian man, but have I ever been fooled!

If the Peace Talks were so good, why are the countries having trouble getting together, agreeing and signing the Treaty? I would like to know what and how much of America was promised away if the Treaty was signed? Did President Carter promise to support both sides if they go to war as has been done in the past twelve wars between other countries, and Viet Nam and Korea?

Mr. Carter said this week that the United States would borrow money from foreign interest to help stabilize our economy and cut back on inflation. Why should we have to borrow money from foreign countries? Over half of the foreign countries owe the United States money anyway. Why could the notes not be called in? Let those foreign countries worry about inflation. When money is borrowed from the United States it is not paid back directly to the U.S. It is put in a bank agreed upon by the United States and that foreign country in that foreign country. Then when our dignitaries go to that country, they use this money for their expenditures.

President Carter in his speech recently asked (I thought threatened) that the American people cut back on their spending and companies hold down the raises. In my opinion, if he were at all sincere, he would cut his own salary first as an example. If he did this then the American people would feel he was sincere and they in turn would cut back.

The administration in Washington, D.C. is not trying to build up the other countries to our level, they are carrying the United States down to the level of the other countries. Why do you think the interest rates have just made a jump? The big banks are trying to get a tighter control over the American people.

The President is saying one thing to the American people and doing another thing behind the closed door. This is one reason the American Agriculture Movement is working so hard to educate American people that things are not as they seem on the surface. We are a complacent society. We as a whole, feel that as long as we make a living, we will let everything else go it's way. But people, it is time we get honest answers for the questions we are asking!

Another thing, we as tax payers need to know where our tax dollars are going. Since it is our money we have every right to know what the money is being spent for.

If some of you are wondering if American Agriculture is still active. We are still in the ball game, however, we feel like we are the ball and we are being kicked around too much. We will be trying even harder after January 1 to right this wrong.

With elections over we need to get behind ALL of the elected from Texas and make sure they vote the way the majority of the people in Texas want them to vote. We need, so to speak, to keep an eye on them!

The bride's chosen colors of shades of pink were carried out in the setting for the wedding. They were married before an arched candelabra, flanked with emerald, lemon leaves and white doves entwined with pink ribbon. Brass candle trees, spiral candelabras accented with colonial bouquet of bridal pink roses, stephanotis, gypsophila and redbird leaves entwined with seed pearls and lace.

For something old the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her late grandmother, Mrs. Virgil Bailey, something new, gold earrings, something borrowed, diamond necklace and ring, also the traditional blue garter and a six pence in her shoe.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE AN EXPERT TO MAKE THIS HOLIDAY COOKIE HOUSE

You don't have to be a craftsman to build this cookie house. Since the base is a cardboard box, it's much simpler to make than most cookie houses and won't put a big dent in your holiday budget.

You don't even have to make the cookie dough, because this uses refrigerated slice and bake sugar cookies. Two rolls of refrigerated cookie dough will make enough cookies to cover the whole house. Walls and roof are covered with your own butter cream frosting or frosting mix.

The cookies should be completely cooled before you work with them, so you can make them a day ahead. But if you'd rather complete the house in one half-day session, bake the cookies first. Construct the cardboard base while they are cooling, then decorate the cookies and "build" your house.

Cookie houses can be kept from one year to the next, with just a little patching necessary the second year.

COOKIE HOUSE

Materials Needed:

- 2 rolls Pillsbury Refrigerated Sugar Slice 'n Bake Cookies
- Red tinted sugar
- 3 - 15.4 oz. packages vanilla frosting mix or 6 to 8 cups homemade butter cream frosting
- Pressurized cake and cookie decorators (red and green) or pastry tube and tips and tinted frosting
- Cardboard box with top flaps (9" x 12" x 9")
- Heavy cardboard for roof (14" x 15")
- Masking tape

First Bake The Cookies:

- 1. For Roof Shingles: Slice one roll of the cookie dough into 50 slices (less than 1/4-inch thick); sprinkle each with red sugar. Bake at 350° for 8 to 10 minutes until light golden brown around edges. (Do not overbake.) Cool on rack.
- 2. For Wall Bricks: Slice

28 1/4-inch slices from second roll of cookie dough. (Refrigerate rest of dough.) Cut each slice in half. Bake as for Roof Shingles.

3. For Front of House Decorations: Slice remaining cookie dough into 1/4-inch slices.

Santa — Use two slices. Cut narrow strip from two sides of one slice, forming a triangle. Place triangle over one edge of whole slice for Santa's hat. Use two narrow strips for moustache. Add chocolate chip eyes and candy mouth. Bake and cool on rack. Frost hat and moustache with vanilla frosting, using a decorator tip, if desired. Sprinkle hat with red sugar.

Angel — Use one and a quarter slice. Cut narrow strip from two sides of full slice to form triangular body. Place cut-off strips at sides for wings. Roll 1/4 slice into ball for head. Place at top of triangle and add candy eyes. Bake and cool on rack. Outline body and wings with decorator writing tip.

To Make The House

Cut the two longer flaps from box (reserve one for the chimney and the other for reinforcing). Shape shorter flaps into triangles, cutting from top center of flap to corners of box, to form peak at front and back of house. Reinforce triangles on the inside by taping cardboard over the flap fold. Fold 14" x 15" piece of cardboard in half to form roof. Tape securely to house. From reserved flap, form and tape chimney, cutting bottom at same angle as roof. Tape to roof.

To Decorate

- Prepare frosting. (Keep it covered as you work.) Spread frosting over sides of chimney. With red decorator, pipe on lines of frosting, using small writing tip, to resemble bricks. Spoon frosting around top of chimney to resemble snow.
- Spread thick layer of frosting over sides and back of house. Press cookie "bricks" securely into frosting.
- Spread frosting over roof. Starting at the bottom, arrange a row of red sugared cookie "shingles." Overlap remaining shingles in rows to cover roof. (Carefully press cookies into frosting to secure.)
- Spread frosting over front of house. With leaf tip and green decorator, make door and shrubs. With small writing tip make window. Arrange decorated cookies on front. Press into frosting to secure.
- Spoon remaining frosting on peak and around edge of roof to resemble snow. (If frosting becomes too stiff, add a few drops of warm water.)

OIL HUNTERS ON THE ATLANTIC FRONTIER: To the seasoned oil hunter, it's a routine operation—a giant offshore drilling rig, over 200 feet of water, thousands of feet of rock and sand to drill through to reach the objective. Oil companies are sinking multimillion-dollar holes to look for oil off America's East Coast in a place called the Baltimore Canyon. (upper left) In the thick of the search is Mobil Oil Corporation, which is drilling about 70 miles east of Atlantic City and 110 miles southeast of New York City on Block 544. (upper right) The four-year-old, $35-million drilling rig costs $60,000 to $75,000 a day to operate. (bottom) Over three miles of pipe will be drilled into the ocean floor by roughnecks, a term used for an oil-drilling worker, to search for the oil and gas.

Sagerton News

Our community has undergone a general facelift this past week. The roads and ditches have been graded and cleaned and much of the tall grass cut down by the county crew. This work was desperately needed after the recent flooding conditions. A big thanks to the commissioner and the county employees who really did a nice job.

Kris Kupatt will be participating in the American Heart Association's TURKEY WALK on November 11. She will attempt to walk the full 20 miles on behalf of her sponsors and thus collect funds for the association. Prizes will be awarded for the walker turning in the most donations. We want to wish Miss Kupatt a lot of luck.

Congratulations to Miss Laurel Fouts who was the homecoming queen candidate for the freshman class of Rule High School. This is quite an honor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fouts.

Many of our residents may remember R.H. (Bill) Rife, a former resident and county commissioner. Mr. Rife recently celebrated his 91st birthday. He currently resides at the Golden Age Manor, Rt. 5, Box 4, in Dublin, Texas. Two of his nieces are Mrs. Eldon Anderson of Haskell and Mrs. Ama Dippel of Stamford. The ladies state that Rife has vivid memories of early day Sagerton. Many of you might want to send Mr. Rife a belated birthday card and let him know you still think of him.

A pot luck luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Lorene Hanson, Thursday at the L.O.C. Home Demonstration monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. J.A. Hertel, chairwoman and Mrs. Leland Thane presented the opening exercises. Mrs. Hertel then appointed committee members for the upcoming club

Chapman Brothers To Compete

Thirty-year-old Keith and 27-year-old Terry Chapman are very close brothers, who have traveled the same paths of life together.

They were born in Haskell, and now they both live near Austin. Keith lives in Georgetown and Terry lives nearby in Round Rock.

They both were high school football stars playing the same positions—running back and defensive half-back.

Although, they were not large enough to get college football scholarships, they have excelled in sports and education. They thrive on competition.

They both borrowed money to go to Texas A&M and both have Agricultural Economics degrees. Now, they work for the same firm—the Livestock Marketing Association in Austin. They lobby for livestock auctions in several states in the Southwest.

Today, they excel in the same compelling, competitive sport—rodeo and ride in the "classiest" event in rodeo—saddle bronc riding and they are both winners.

They are two finalists to compete at the Lone Star State's first mini-national finals—the Lone Star Circuit Finals in Abilene at the Taylor County Coliseum at 8:00 p.m. from November 15th through the 18th.

The circuit system in rodeo was conceived by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association Board of Directors three years ago.

They divided the good ole' U.S.A. into 12 circuits. Texas is such never ending territory, chuck full of world champion cowboys and stock, that it got one all its own—the Lone Star Circuit.

The circuit system was set up so cowboys who couldn't travel far from home, usually because of business reasons, compete for circuit championships and give them worthwhile identity and the proper recognition they deserve. Too many good cowboys, who couldn't compete nationally were being wasted without a fixed goal in rodeo. The Lone Star Circuit system was perfect for these two brothers who work full-time jobs.

Rex Bland, President of the Lone Star Circuit was the first one to ask the Board to present a finals two summers ago, in which he was assured bylaws would be in effect for a 1978 finals. Rex's father, R.L. Bland, a progressive rancher and feedlot owner in Trent, gathered together a finals committee and started preparing for a gigantic Lone Star Circuit Finals November 15th and the 18th.

There you will see in person, as Keith described his and his brother's status with. "Well, we've got 'em surrounded."

Picked out of the top 15 winners in each event for the rodeo year, Keith explained in his quaint folksy manner. "Yep, my brother is heading the saddle bronc rider's parade and I'm dragging up the tail-end. Yes siree, we've surrounded them. They haven't got a chance."

These two young industrious men, who worked their way through college in the summertimes, didn't have a chance to rodeo until they were nearly out of college. They have come a long ways in a short amount of time.

To catch up real quick, Keith and Terry decided to learn the basics from a four day saddle bronc riding school offered by someone who knows, like Larry Mahan. "After that, said Keith, "It's basically up to you. When I started saddle bronc riding, I decided to go after it and do it good, so I learned real quick."

Recently, Terry won the saddle bronc riding event over all the National Champions at the Texas State Fair in Dallas.

Come and see for yourself these two winners, Keith and Terry Chapman, and give them a healthy handshake. They are both friendly and personable besides being interesting to know.

They'll be looking for some home folks and their neighbors to cheer them to a finals win a the Lone Star Circuit finals November 15th through the 18th at 8:00 p.m. at the Taylor County Coliseum in Abilene.

Lone Star Circuit Finals tickets at $6.00 for box seats and $5.00 and $4.00 for reserved seats can be purchased at Box 5527, Abilene, Texas 79604 or call 915-677-4376.

For further press information, you may contact Carol Young at 1258 Peavy Road, Suite 197, Dallas, Texas 75218 or 214-767-2765.

Beauty in Beasts

In World of Wildlife, It's Courting Males Who 'Dress' to Please, Says Nature Magazine

Among humans, it is the female who is noted for primping and preening to attract a mate.

But in the world of wildlife, the situation is often reversed, according to National Wildlife magazine. There, the current (October-November) issue of the magazine reports, it is usually the male who puts on a spectacular show during courtship.

The show may consist of anything from a display of feathers — which the peacock spreads to impress an admiring hen — to a loud noise or a change of body color. And it sometimes includes the use of weapons, such as spurs or antlers, to fight off other suitors, says the bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation.

Along with the peacock, the male grouse and turkey use their feathers to catch the attention of prospective mates. The grouse raises a ruff of glossy feathers around his neck. The wild turkey, in addition to showing his feathers, sports a "beard" — a tuft of hair-like feathers that sprout from his chest.

The turkey gobbler and the male pheasant wear sharp spurs on their legs to fight off rivals during their breeding seasons. Similarly, the bull moose, the bull elk, and buck deer grow antlers to fend off competition. When the mating season is over the antlers drop off.

MALE ADORNMENTS: Wild turkey displays spurs on shanks and "beard," or tuft of hairlike feathers, on chest; caribou bull grows new pair of antlers which drop off after mating season. Illustrations by Ned Smith.

Lizards and fish are among the creatures who change colors or even the configuration of their bodies to lure mates, says National Wildlife. Some male lizards inflate brightly colored "fans" at their throats. Some species of salmon acquire hooked jaws and humped backs as the spawning season approaches.

A man might think that kind of noise is for the birds, but for those fowl it works better than man's so-called wolf whistle.

With many species, the magazine reports, mating occurs only after the male suitor instinctively performs a series of courtship rituals. Painted turtles stroke the female's cheeks with the elongated claws of their forefeet. The male fiddler crab waves an enlarged claw in the face of his chosen mate — not a subtle gesture among those crustaceans whose "fiddle" claw comprises nearly half of their body weight.

Some males must work faster than others. Since adult moths live only a few days, the male is equipped with a broad, feathery antenna that helps him zero-in on the "perfume" of a female, sometimes miles away.

Modern science has slowed the march of one destructive species, the gypsy moth, according to National Wildlife, by synthesizing the female's scent and releasing it where there are no females. This confuses the males and thwarts their efforts to mate — a mean trick on the moths but a boon to mankind.

Many species resort to mating calls or other sounds, but among the strangest amorous noisemakers is the cricket, who produces his summer evening's "song" by rubbing parts of his wings together. Male woodcocks use special wing feathers to make twittering sounds, while prairie chickens and some grouse hoot loudly by suddenly releasing air from inflatable sacs on the sides of their necks.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Don:

Thank you for the kind words in your last edition of the Free Press concerning my efforts toward recovering from the August 4 flood.

As you know, any undertaking of this sort, in order to be successful, must be a joint effort by everyone involved. I want to express my appreciation for the dedication and the hard work of each and every council member, city employees, Mr. Lee Bahney, and our City Secretary, Mr. Desmond Dulany, who is the hardest working, most dedicated man with whom I have had the privilege to work.

I also want to express my appreciation to the Haskell National Bank for allowing me the time to spend on this project and to the officers of the bank who have assisted in my absence. I would also like to express appreciation to all the citizens of Haskell for their patience in putting up with washed-out bridges and roads until we could arrive at the point of reconstruction.

Certainly we want to express our appreciation to the Haskell Free Press for keeping the public informed concerning our efforts and progress on the project.

Very Truly yours,
Royce L. Williams
Mayor

NEWS OF HEALTH

Beware Of Flu

Whether you call it flu, gripe or The Bug, a case of influenza is no laughing matter. It's an acute, infectious disease that begins suddenly with fever, chills and pains.

THE INFLUENZA VIRUS seems to travel faster than a jet.

According to a pamphlet issued by Abbott Laboratories, flu is caused by a virus, which is constantly changing. Most of the changes are minor, but every ten years or so, a major change occurs. When this happens, we may have a worldwide epidemic such as the Asian Flu in 1957, or the Hong Kong flu in 1968.

Oddly enough, you may be exposed to the flu virus but not get the disease. Or you may even get it and not know it — 25 percent of flu cases show no symptoms and can be detected only by blood test. However, for the remaining 75 percent, symptoms occur within one to four days of exposure. The early symptoms may resemble a cold — except that your nose runs less, your body aches more, and you feel weaker.

Complications that sometimes result — pneumonia, bronchitis, sinus trouble and ear infections — are often more significant than the influenza itself. Many of these are caused by bacteria and can be treated with antibiotics. So it's a good idea to keep in close touch with your doctor and promptly report any worsening of your condition.

Vaccination is the best way to minimize or prevent flu. However, the vaccines have to be changed frequently to combat prevalent strains circulating at the time. The vaccines we have will prevent the disease in the majority of patients, but if you get flu after a vaccination, it will probably be milder than it would be without the vaccination.

A copy of a pamphlet that tells all about flu, and what to do if you get it, is available by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business envelope to "Flu," Department 383NA, Abbott Laboratories, Abbott Park, North Chicago, Illinois 60064.

Men In Service

Maj. Clayton W. Cooper, son of Harold A. Cooper, 3525 Maplewood Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., recently participated with other American and allied troops in REFORGER '78, NATO's largest yearly exercise, held in Germany.

More than 11,000 soldiers were flown to Germany and some 37,000 tons of equipment and supplies have been shipped from the U.S. for the massive exercise.

REFORGER (Return of Forces to Germany) results from a 1967 agreement between the U.S., United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany. The U.S. agreed to return state-side-based forces to Germany each year for exercises to demonstrate allied solidarity.

The entire exercise emphasizes the orderly disposition of forces and stressed deployment procedures and techniques.

Cooper, an executive officer with the 3rd Support Command in Frankfurt, Germany, entered the Army in July 1963. He received his commission by Direct Appointment.

The major received a bachelor's degree in 1972 from the University of Tampa (Fla.).

His mother, Mrs. Fay E. Damron, lives in Rule.

His wife, Donna, is with him in Germany.

Safety—A Good Constant Companion to Wilderness Camping

Outdoor recreation offers a change of pace, helps keep us in good physical shape, and opens new vistas. Wilderness camping can combine all three benefits—if safety is a constant companion.

Proper preparation is a must, and it begins at home. Tackling a wilderness trip requires physical fitness. If you're out of shape, expect an aching, tired body that will diminish both your camping pleasure and chances for survival if something goes wrong.

Map it out—Carefully plan your route by marking it on a map; then stick to the route. A good map will show you the kind of terrain to expect. Compass and map-reading skills are mandatory for wilderness travel. A copy of your route, including departure and arrival times, should be given to a responsible person.

Actual wilderness experience is best gained by taking several trips with a seasoned veteran. A beginner can learn the basics, though, from the many library books on the subject or by taking a wilderness camping or survival course.

Danger—Wilderness camping can be risky. Knowing first aid and carrying an adequate kit is a must. By applying the proper techniques, you can usually deal with an injury until help arrives. If you become lost, don't panic.

Be especially aware of hypothermia, the number one killer of outdoorsmen. Hypothermia is the lowering of the body's temperature to sub-normal levels. It strikes most often in wet, windy weather, when temperatures are in the relatively mild 30 to 50 degree range. Symptoms include uncontrollable shivering; slow, slurred speech; incoherence and memory lapses; fumbling, immobile hands; stumbling, lurching gait; drowsiness (sleep means death); and apparent exhaustion.

These symptoms require fast action. The victim with mild symptoms must get out of the wind and rain, remove all wet clothes, then put on warm clothes, lie in a sleeping bag, and drink something warm. If you're with someone who's more severely affected and is semiconscious, keep him awake. Skin to skin contact is the most effective treatment, so undress him and wrap him in a sleeping bag with one or two other unclothed persons. Build a fire to warm the campsite.

Not for all—A wilderness trek isn't for everyone. But for the experienced camper, the rewards can be great.

Questionnaires Due By January

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield, and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the state of Texas and for each county. Reliable information on what is produced, how much, and where is important to farmers, ranchers, and others in making production and marketing decisions and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. These are also essential to farm organizations and legislators in promotion, planning, and enacting wise legislation and are used in establishing acreages and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs.

The collection and publication of agricultural statistics are a cooperative effort between the Texas Department of Agriculture and USDA. The ASCS & SCS offices in Haskell will be glad to assist in any way possible. County yields are usually derived from data submitted by local Haskell County farmers. This cooperation avoids duplication of effort, promotes economies, and increases the effectiveness of statistical reports. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

County statistics for 1977 and January 1, 1978, are available on Livestock, Poultry, Dairy, Field Crops, Small Grains, Cotton, Vegetables, Fruits and Pecans and Cash Receipts from the Sale of Texas Farm Commodities. Bulletins can be obtained from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767, or by writing Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Many merchants and business persons pride themselves on their ability to make prompt payment for merchandise delivered to their firm upon the receipt of an invoice or bill.

But our Consumer Protection Division attorneys caution these individuals to be certain that they have actually ordered and received such merchandise. In recent months an increasing number of Texas businesses have been victimized by companies billing them for goods they have not ordered or received.

These unscrupulous companies capitalize on the fact that a busy merchant or bookkeeper in a medium to large-size business will assume that the goods have been ordered and will not take the time to check company records or consult with other employees. The invoices are usually sent by companies in other states, most notably California, and often relate to a purported order for advertising space in a "business directory."

Although these phony invoices usually contain a disclosure, required by federal law, that they represent a solicitation for the order of goods and not a bill or invoice, this disclosure is often located at the bottom of the invoice and is easily overlooked.

A common variant of the phony invoice scheme is one in which businesses receive unsolicited merchandise through the mail and are billed for the merchandise at high prices. When the sending company is contacted, it refuses to accept the return of the merchandise and continues to dun the business for the goods.

Businessmen and other consumers should be aware that under Texas and federal law a person has a right to refuse to accept delivery of unsolicited goods. If the unsolicited goods are either addressed to or intended for the recipient, and are accepted, they are considered by law a gift to the recipient and he or she may use or dispose of such a gift in any manner with no obligation.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys offer business persons these tips regarding phony invoice schemes:

*Caution employees to be alert for invoices which bill the business for goods it has not ordered or received. Generally these "phony invoices" will come from an out-of-state business and will request that remittance be sent to an out-of-state post office box.

*Instruct employees to refuse to accept the delivery of unsolicited goods. If the goods are accepted inadvertently, contact the sender immediately and inform him that the merchandise was not ordered and that it is available for pick-up or will be returned at the sender's expense.

If you are victimized by a phony invoice scheme, contact our Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, El Paso, or McAllen. If you live outside these areas, call toll-free: 1-800-252-9236.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW TO HELP YOUR CHILD

For parents of 2 to 5 year olds

When parents read to pre-schoolers, it makes it easier for the youngsters to read later. Obtain books and read to your child often. Introduce your child to the library early.

For parents of 6 to 10 year olds

You can enhance your child's interest during early school years. Include your child in activities, such as museums, trips, plays, the zoo.

For parents of 11 to 14 year olds

Junior High School students want to know the "why" of what they're learning. Encourage family discussions and explore the facts.

For parents of 15 to 17 year olds

Teenagers often worry about their life plans and occupations. Discuss decisions openly with your teenager. Talk to teachers and counselors to find out how you can help your child make important choices.

Teachers care about kids. Help them. Get involved in your school.

Baptist Women Observe World Day Of Prayer

"Baptist World Day of Prayer" was observed by Baptist Women from Independent Baptist Church, Calvary Baptist Mission, and First Baptist Church, on November 5th at First Baptist Church. The theme was "Lifting the World Off of Its Hinges."

The Pastor Rev. Dudley Bragg opened the meeting with prayer for all nations. This was followed by a beautiful solo rendered by Roberta High. The Director of the W.M.U., Dorothy Brown, presented Maye Bell Taylor who read a letter from the President of the Baptist World Alliance, Marie Mathis of Waco.

Notices of and prayer request for many countries were given by members of the W.M.U. All received a blessing from a duet given by two ladies from Independent Baptist Church. Our meeting was closed by singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer." The Director invited all to attend a social hour.

Environmental Technology Uses Wastes To Create Land Resources

Milwaukee area youngsters enjoy playing soccer on completed sanitary landfill. Less than a mile in the background, another phase of landfill development rises 50 feet above grade, well on the way to becoming a 200-foot-tall ski hill.

Kids play soccer on them. Skiers glide down them. Industrial firms set up shop on them. What are they?

They are custom-designed properties, developed through the use of environmentally engineered sanitary landfill.

Sanitary landfill offers communities around the nation a safe, efficient, and economical method of disposing of their solid wastes, while improving large tracts of land which might otherwise be of little use.

Unlike the town dump of old, today's modern sanitary landfill provides safe disposal of wastes in sites engineered to protect surrounding land and water resources. Wastes are deposited in layers and sealed by thick blankets of clay or soil. This "sandwich" effect allows for the development of custom-made landforms, which may be used for a wide variety of recreational or commercial

Just how significant is the wheat producer in terms of world trade? Statistics provide a pretty solid answer. Although U.S. wheat production still ranks behind Russia and Western Europe in terms of total output, it has been the American wheat producer who has most successfully responded to meeting the growth in world demand. Only five years ago our wheat exports totaled just over 17 million tons . . . about 30 percent of the world trade. This marketing year United States exports of wheat will top 37 million tons and account for nearly one-half the world wheat trade. In just five years that represents an increase of more than 115 percent in volume and nearly a 70 percent increase in the share of the market. Well done wheat growers!

Range Tour Set Next Tuesday

There will be a Range Tour on the George Mullino Ranch, 5 miles west of O'Brien on the north side of FM 2229. The tour will start at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday, November 14 at the entrance just inside the cattle guard and will last approximately one hour.

Dr. Tommy Welch, Range Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be on hand to discuss the practices that have been done on the demonstration.

The pasture has received the following treatments:

1972 - Sprayed with 2,4,5-T for mesquite control.

1974 - Sprayed with 2,4-D for weed control.

1976 - 2-way chained 400 acres.

1977 - Spot seeded 400 acres.

Sprayed 159 acres for shinoak control. Sprayed 400 acres for weed control.

Beef production data on the untreated pasture is used for comparison with that in the treated pasture to determine the benefits of range improvements.

Most good farmers don't wait until planting time to buy Pioneer brand seed . . . not anymore.

The best farmers seem to think that having the seed with the greatest potential is too important to leave to chance. So ordering next year's seed as soon as they've seen this year's results is becoming a habit . . . practically a tradition.

Why? Because, when you compare Pioneer performance to brands that are always available and compare the advantages of ordering early to the disadvantages, you've got to pick up the phone and call this Pioneer dealer.
