Tribe To Meet Hamlin Friday

BY DON COMEDY
Head Coach Don Flippin did Haskell proud last Saturday morning in Munday when he drew the marked piece of paper which designated Haskell as the team to represent the district in the playoffs.

Flippin, High School Principal, Bill Blakely, and Superintendent R.K. Sams along with several cheerleaders and fans were at the meeting.

Three small pieces of paper were placed in a hat and the coaches from Haskell, Munday and Knox City each drew.

One slip of paper had been marked with an X and Flippin drew the marked slip.

The drawing decided which of the three teams would play Hamlin in the Bi-District game this Friday night. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Stamford.

The Tribe played Hamlin Sept. 15, in their second game of the season and defeated the Pied Pipers 27-12. Hamlin has only lost one other game during the season and that was to Stamford, 7-2.

Hamlin defeated Munday 21-7 and since that time has rolled up an impressive record of wins.

During the season the Tribe has managed a 8-1-1 record and amassed an impressive record of statistics. The Tribe has rushed for 3003 yards and has held opponents to only 987 yards. Haskell has a total of 206 first downs and their opponents have 90. The Indians have passed for 656 yards and have allowed 621 in the air. The bottom line in any game is the score and the Tribe has scored 380 points and allowed only 73. During district competition, the Tribe scored a total of 248 points and allowed only 21.

The three leading Indian backs, Wallace and the Hise brothers, have combined for a total of 2,297 yards. Vonnie Hise has carried 127 times for a total of 843 yards and an average of 6.6 yards per carry. Wallace has carried 137 times for a total of 832 yards and an average of 6.1 yards per carry and Monnie Hise has carried 114 times for 622 yards for an average of 5.5 yards per carry.

Last Friday, the Tribe smashed the Paducah Dragons, 40-6 and clinched a three way tie for the district title.

Indian Mark Wallace led the rushing attack with 185 yards followed by Vonnie Hise with 103.

The Indians were slow to get started last Friday but when they did get things going, there was no stopping them.

The Tribe drove the ball to the 10 about mid-way in the first period and a fumble stopped the drive. Their only other first possession in the first quarter ended in a punt.

Throughout the remainder of the game, the Tribe scored every time they had the ball with only three exceptions. Two were when the gun sounded ending the half and the game. As the game ended the Tribe was within fifteen yards of another score.

Wallace scored four TD's on runs of 5, 3, 5 and 14. Vonnie Hise scored one TD on a five yard run and added one PAT. Quarterback Thomas McAdams connected with Jackie Steadham for a 37 yard scoring play. A pass from Wallace to Steve Escobedo was good for a two point conversion to complete the scoring.

McAdams intercepted one pass to give the Tribe the only turnover allowed by the Dragons.

Commissioners Canvas Election

Haskell County Commissioners met Monday in regular session and in addition to regular business, canvassed the recent general election.

The election canvass makes official the election.

In checking the results, Commissioners found only one error in the total votes released following the election. The error occurred in box 4 concerning Amendments 8. The change converted the total to 79 votes for and 61 votes against. The original total was 82 votes for.

In other court action, Commissioners voted to place an additional $500.00 in the Ambulance fund and contracted for maintenance of the teletype system in the sheriff's office at the price of $1,260.00.

Trap Club Shoot Set

The Haskell Trap Club will start the winter trap shooting program at the Trap Club Sunday Nov. 26th at 11:00 a.m.

50 singles with five classes and 50 handicap targets with champion and runner up will be offered.

After the two main events a turkey and merchandise shoot will be held for the avid shotgun shooters.

Turn-On Set Thursday

If you're tired of turkey and pie, your eyes are blurred from watching too many football games, need a breath of fresh air, come to downtown Haskell Thursday, Thanksgiving night, as the new Christmas decorations for downtown will be officially turned on at 6 p.m.

These beautiful new decorations, 48 in all, are the result of much hard work, time and effort, and a lot of money generously given by the City and County governments, businesses, organizations and individuals of Haskell. Total cost of the fixtures was $8260.00, with an additional $1,000.00 for wiring, materials and supplies needed for the erection of the fixtures.

This project, spearheaded

Council To Discuss Cable Increase

The Haskell City Council will meet November 28, in regular session and consider a recent request for a rate hike by Cen-Tex Cablevision in Haskell.

Jerry Smith, system manager, met with the council November 14, and requested a rate increase of 75c per month. Following discussion the request was tabled until the next meeting.

The council also discussed park improvements and a grant application for City Park improvements at the November 14 meeting. A representative of the West Central Texas Council of Governments is scheduled to attend the November 28 meeting and discuss the improvements further.

The Red River Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Haskell next Wednesday, November 29, from 1 to 6 p.m. in the Community Building of the Haskell National Bank.

Goal for the drive is 80 units and members of the Haskell Young Homemakers are again acting as sponsors for the drive. The Young Homemakers will be contacting past donors and prospective donors and urge everyone to assist in the project. While it is not possible for everyone to give blood, it is possible for many to that do not. Your assistance will be appreciated.

The goal of the Red River Red Cross Blood Program is to enable the community to meet the total needs for blood and blood products for all residents of the 41 counties it serves in Northern Texas and Southern Oklahoma through the hospitals in the region.

To meet this need, which is currently 91 units of blood per day, Red Cross relies on the cooperation of the entire community for donor support. To do this involves the participation of everyone, including business and labor, industry, churches, schools, fraternal and civic organizations, etc.

Availability of blood to patients is predicated only on ment to make this project a success.

Put a light in your life Thursday night, be at the square at 6 p.m. and see the beautiful new decorations in full living color.

need as prescribed by a physician. Neither the Blood Program, the attending physician, nor the hospitals require patients to replace blood that is used.

Fees connected with blood transfused reflect a processing charge to hospitals which includes Red Cross costs of collecting, processing, and distribution, as well as the hospital charge for transfusion and laboratory services. These charges are covered, wholly or partially, by most health insurance plans. It must be emphasized that no cost is added for the blood itself and that replacement of blood by

PEP RALLY

A pep rally will be held at 10:30 Friday morning for the Haskell Indians. The cheerleaders have declared Friday Black & Gold Day. Everyone is invited to participate in this affair and show their Indian Spirit. The cheerleaders also urge everyone to attend the Bi-District game against Hamlin at 7:30 p.m. in Stamford. Let's back the Indians!

Turkeywalk Nets Over $1,500.00

The Haskell County Heart Association Turkeywalk was held Saturday, November 11, with 20 walkers participating. Nineteen of the twenty walked the full twenty mile route from the courthouse to Paint Creek and back despite the cold weather. A total of $1,542.05 has been collected by the walkers to date.

One participant, Kent Brazell of Paint Creek, jogged the entire distance and finished the 20 mile route in three hours and forty-five minutes. The last to finish the route were five participants from Rule who made a leisurely walk out of the fund raising drive and returned to the courthouse following nine hours on the route.

Ruby Turner won the grand prize donated by Owens Radio and Electric. She collected a total of $277.00. Abe Turner won the $50 savings account from Haskell National Bank for his second highest total of $215.00. Kent Brazell collected the third highest of $112.05. Jimmy Bilbo of Rule won the $50.00 savings account from First Federal Savings and Loan of Stamford for being the top youth collector with a total of $112.00. Seventeen turkeys and seventeen drawing prizes were also awarded to participants.

Other participating in the Turkeywalk were Ron Parks, Todd Kinney, Rachel Pimental, Manuel Pimental, C.H. Rhoads, Mike Iley, Sharalie Jones, Jeff Jones, Scott Langlitz, Mike Jordan, Debra Kay Norwood, Karla Brothers, Rhonda Parks, Diana Conrad, Patrendia Bilbo, Tammy Wright, and Gena Fischer. The money raised will be used to help finance Heart Research Projects in Texas.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—There are many deceptive practices used against our senior citizens by unscrupulous con artists. One of them is the phony dance lesson gimmick.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys have recently filed suit against some dance studio operators who take advantage of people likely to be lonely—people who are older, divorced, or widowed.

Such operators advertise dance lessons in newspapers for very low prices. The wording of their ads is designed to attract individuals who are really looking for new friends and companionship more than dance lessons. Consumers who respond are given a dancing "test" to determine their dancing ability. The main purpose of the "test" is not to evaluate dancing ability but to begin to establish a close personal relationship between the instructor and the prospective student.

In his or her capacity as interviewer and dance analyst, the instructor will attempt to gain the consumer's confidence for the purpose of obtaining information about the student's net worth. The instructor will flatter the student and persuade him or her to sign a contract for beginner's lessons at a price ranging anywhere from $500 to $1,000, according to the consumer's ability to pay. As soon as the student starts the beginner's lessons, the instructor immediately begins to pressure him or her to buy more lessons, usually saying that the individual has advanced so rapidly that it's a waste of time to continue beginner's lessons.

The advanced lessons may cost the student as much as $12,000. The student is also encouraged to join an "exclusive" social dance club created by these operators at prices ranging from $2,000 to $9,000 extra.

These operators continue to pressure the consumer to buy more and more lessons at higher prices, taking jewelry, stocks and bonds, even titles to homes, in some cases, as payment. Students who refuse are subjected to ostracism and total neglect by the instructors.

Here are some suggestions from our Consumer Protection Division lawyers on how to avoid being conned by these unscrupulous dance studio operators:

*Check with your local Better Business Bureau and with regional offices of our Consumer Protection Division to determine if complaints have been received about a dance studio you are considering.
*Talk to members and find out their opinion of the place and the personnel.
*Be especially cautious if the dance studio instructors attempt a "hard sell," and always resist any urging to signing a contract without thinking it over for at least a day.
*Examine anything you are asked to sign very carefully and make sure the contract assures you that you can quit at any time and receive a refund.

If you have a complaint about a dance studio operation, contact our Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, El Paso, or McAllen. If you live outside these areas, call toll-free: 1-800-252-9236.

The U.S. city with the most telephones is New York, with a total of 5,922,128.

The first electric magnet was devised by English physicist William Sturgeon in 1823. It could lift nine times its own weight.

City Receives Sales Tax Rebate

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said Texas cities will receive $19.8 million as their November share of the local option one percent sales tax.

The City of Haskell received $3,494.46. Money that Texas cities will receive this month total slightly less than last month's rebate, but the yearly total is about $42 million ahead payments made over the same period last year.

The November checks raise the cities' total to $349.8 million. Houston's check this reporting period will be $4 million, raising its total for the year to $73.3 million, up 17 percent over last year.

The city of Dallas will receive $2.3 million, bringing its total for the year to $40.9 million, up 9 percent.

San Antonio will get a check for $1.1 million, making its year to date total $20.1 million, up 9 percent.

Fort Worth's check for the month totals $806,717, raising its total to $14.5 million, and Austin will get $600,777, for a total of $11.7 million for the year.

Corpus Christi will receive $373,898, raising its total for the year to $7 million.

The sales tax is collected by merchants and other sales tax permit holders along with the state sales tax and is rebated monthly to cities in which it is collected by the Comptroller's Office.

4-H Achievement Program Set November 27

The Haskell County 4-H Achievement Program will be held Monday, November 27th, at the Haskell National Bank Community Building at 7:30 p.m.

Fifty-four 4-Hers' throughout the county will be recognized and presented awards for their outstanding achievements during the past year in their 4-H club work. The 4-H Gold Star Awards will be presented to recipients Kay Campbell of Haskell and Stanley Hager of Weinert. Also, the F.W. Martin Memorial Achievement Award, another highly coveted award will be presented.

The Haskell 4-H Club is hosting the program. Joe Wilfong will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Other 4-Hers participating on the program will be Sonja Tidrow, Kathy Campbell, Lynn Weatherly, and Kay Campbell. The public is invited to attend.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY GLENN GOODMAN

Goodman, Dick Repeat Vows

Paulette Kay Dick and Jerry Glenn Goodman were united in marriage Friday, November 17th in the home of the bride's parents at 1109 N. Ave. K, Haskell, with Rev. Don Marquart, pastor of Roscoe officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dick. The bridegroom is the son of Bobby Nell and Olan Goodman of Stamford.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Kenneth Turner of Haskell was the matron of honor. Donald Goodman of Stamford, brother of the groom was best man.

The bride's parents were host for the reception followed with a wedding supper for approximately 30 guests in the bride's parents' home.

The couple will make their home at 5220 Hartford, Abilene where she is employed by Lusk's, and he is employed by Dresser Atlas Industries.

Study Club Learns To Trace "Roots"

As they assembled in the Community Room of Haskell National Bank Thursday evening, November 16, members of Progressive Study Club viewed a display of personal heritage items which each had brought for the evening's program, "Time Together For A Genealogical Search."

Among the family treasures were tints of family members, a buttermold, a hand-made rolling pin, a mustache cup and many more. Even a ring which once belonged to Pancho Villa and a "letter edged in black" were included. Several copies of family histories were also displayed.

A banner behind the tables holding the items proclaimed, "People who take no pride in achievements by remote ancestors will never achieve anything worthy to be remembered with pride by remote descendants."

Program director for the evening was Mrs. Garvin Foote, whose opening remarks as she showed a volume of the two-volume history of the Foote family, put club members in the mood to hear how they might trace their own ancestry.

Mrs. Foote introduced Mrs. Jack Pippen, whose grandfather, Sherrill, wrote "Haskell County History". Mrs.

Pippen reminded her listeners that tracing ancestors began with Biblical writers who recorded faithfully the begetting order.

She gave interesting highlights from a Sherrill family history which was discovered by chance in an Amarillo bookstore. The genealogy begins with the first Sherrill who came to America in 1670 and includes presently living family members in Haskell.

Also introduced by Mrs. Foote was Mrs. Sam Herren who discussed her quest for information concerning her own ancestry, the Cox family.

She urged listeners to go home and write down everything they already know of their family history and she compared the search for one's roots to putting together a jigsaw puzzle.

Mrs. Herren gave sources from which information may be secured, mentioning court records, wills, probate courts, church records and the National Archives, among many others.

Both Mrs. Pippen and Mrs. Herren punctuated their presentation with witticisms which made the program delightful as well as informative.

Presiding during the business session was Mrs. Gary Druessedow.

Members will bring stocking stuffer gifts for Girl's Town residents to the next meeting, December 7.

Seasonal decorations were used on refreshment tables by hostesses for the evening, Mrs. R.A. Lane, Mrs. Frank Martin, and Mrs. W.E. Woodson.

B&PW Club Holds Program On Gift Ideals

A regular meeting of the B&PW Club was held in the Haskell National Bank Community Room November 14 at 7 p.m. Twelve members and six guests attended an interesting and informative program on Christmas Ideals.

Guest speaker was Carolyn Schur, West Texas Electric Living Consultant of Stamford. She demonstrated several personalized gifts that fit the life style of the person. Holiday gift suggestions were displayed on a hand made Christmas table cloth. Club members were allowed to ask questions and view the home made gifts.

Hostesses for the evening were the Telephone Committee with Lelia Conner as chairman and Leone Pearsey as co-chairman.

The next meeting will be November 21 at 7 p.m. at Lacey's Steak House. Members are urged to bring Christmas toys for the State School.

W.M.U. Hears Book Review

On Brazil

The W.M.U. ladies of First Baptist and East Side Baptist Churches met Nov. 14 at 9:30 a.m. in the chapel of the First Baptist Church for a book review, "Brazilian Obsession". The book review was presented by Maye Belle Taylor. No one was better able to give it than Maye Belle. She served thirty five years as a foreign missionary to Brazil. She gave some of her personal experiences which made it more real to the ladies.

She said Brazil is a very pretty country. The country has changed a lot over the years and is a modern country now.

After the program the ladies had a salad luncheon.

Homemakers Hold Meeting

Haskell Young Homemakers met Monday night, Nov. 20, at the cottage for their monthly meeting. Larry Suttle, minister of the Church of Christ, presented the program on "Never Cease Learning."

Suttle commented that many accepted facts that people believe to be true have been contradicted and proven otherwise. He also noted that many statements and phrases people use are often not quoted from the correct source. In closing he encouraged everyone to get the facts and to always keep learning and searching for truth.

Following the program members were treated to a "Holiday Tasting Bee." Each member brought a sample of her favorite holiday dish and shared it with the others. Many delicious foods were sampled and new ideas and recipes were collected for the holidays.

MR. AND MRS. JODIE KENNEDY of Haskell announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Camin Jeannine to Rex Allen Pitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pitman. The bride-elect is a graduate of Haskell High School and attends Texas Tech University. The prospective groom is a graduate of Haskell High School and is employed by Haskell Butane Company. The couple plans a February 3 wedding at the First Baptist Church in Haskell.

Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Haskell Garden Club met November 9 at the Community Room. The theme was, Happiness is...growing hanging globes of beauty.

Mrs. K.H. Thornton, president presided and presented the speaker, Mrs. Dave Walker, of Stamford, who gave a very interesting talk on hanging baskets, how to make a basket, selection of plants and location. Mrs. C.O. Holt spoke on growing flowers in water. Several members brought horticulture.

Pumpkin pie and coffee was served to 23 members and 1 guests. Hostesses were: Miss Nettie McCollum, Mrs.

Norman Nanny, Mrs. C.T. West, and Mrs. Ed Fouts. The president urged all that can go to the Fall District Meeting in Roby on Nov. 16.

On Oct. 26 the fair members of the Haskell Garden Club accompanied some 30 members of the Stamford and Rule members to Ft. Worth to attend the State Garden Show. Hundreds of different plants and ways of arranging were viewed. A tour of the Japanese Garden was the high light of the show. Attending from Haskell were: Mrs. Cliff Dunnam, Mrs. K.H. Thornton, Mrs. Martin Rueffer and Mrs. J.R. Perry.

WAYS YOU CAN HELP YOUR CHILD LEARN

Learning doesn't start and stop at the classroom door. As a parent, there are many things you can do at home to spark your child's energy and enthusiasm for learning. Teachers make these suggestions:

Help your child develop a "healthy" attitude toward homework. Explain its importance. Set aside a time and place for homework.

Teach your child to judge his teachers and classmates as people, as individuals, not by race, religion or national origin.

Provide your child with the basic "tools" of learning—a dictionary, almanac, world atlas or globe... even a set of encyclopedias, if possible.

Introduce your child to the use of the public library. Your local librarian will be happy to help.

Learn as much as you can from your child's teachers about what's being taught in school—and how it's being taught.

Teachers care about kids. Help them. Get involved in your school.

Farmers Hold Key To Cotton Prices

Cotton farmers hold the key to the prices they are receiving for their 1978 crop. The key is orderly marketing.

"The manner in which producers market their crop has a great bearing on the price level," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, cotton marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Although the market is still fairly strong, most cotton is traditionally sold in Texas in December and January. Holding back some cotton and marketing only a limited amount can help bolster prices."

Going into this year's crop season, the cotton market looked fairly strong due to the drop in domestic production and stable foreign production, says Anderson. But, once the harvest season starts and the new crop hits the market, prices tend to go down. However, with cotton supplies tight as they are this year, orderly marketings can contribute to a more stable price pattern.

"With the weak domestic demand for cotton which currently exists, bunched marketings will cause a slump in prices," contends the marketing specialist. "Producers short on cash may want to consider placing cotton in the CCC (Commodity Credit Corporation) loan program for several months. This would help even out marketings and maintain a higher price level."

Looking ahead, prospects for a favorable price for 1979 cotton depend on the anticipated crop size which now appears to be substantially larger than this year's crop, notes Anderson. Prices could easily be down near the 1979 CCC loan rate of 50.23 cents per pound for Strict Low Middling 1-1/16 inch cotton this time next year.

"With the prospects of a sizeable boost in next year's cotton crop, producers might consider forward contracting or hedging in the futures market during the next several months at least part of their 1979 crop at a price that allows a reasonable profit," advises Anderson.

So, it all boils down to marketing. Farmers can have some control over the price they get for this year's crop and can also take steps to "lock in" a profit next year.

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The University of Texas has one of the largest undergraduate programs in astronomy in the nation.

About one-third of UT Austin's more than 30,000 undergraduates will take at least one astronomy course during their four years on campus. In 1977, a total of 4,200 registered for astronomy courses.

Additionally, over the next 10 years, the Astronomy Department will be a research participant in a NASA project to orbit and operate a 100-inch telescope in space. A vital element in the research will be UT's McDonald Observatory, located in the Davis Mountains of West Texas.

Fleamk To Observe Eighth Anniversary

The FLEAMK at Putnam, closed since early in the year, will open its doors Thanksgiving weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 24, 25, and 26, to observe its Eighth Anniversary. The hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Eight years ago, R.W. Reynolds, then superintendent of the Putnam Schools, along with some neighbors, held a garage sale in an old abandoned 70,000-barrel oil tank. It was so successful that others joined in and it became an every weekend affair.

The uniqueness of the facility proved to make the place popular with a great many from all walks of life. Reynolds says that the most exciting thing about the FLEAMK was getting to meet so many different interesting people.

The FLEAMK has been featured by AP, national, state and regional television and most of the local and regional newspapers.

Reynolds moved with his family from Putnam in May and the business has been closed since. He states that this opening will be a sort of Eighth Anniversary observance and invites all those who shared in helping get the business started to visit with him sometime during the three days he will be open. Also he reminds all those who have never been in the FLEAMK tank and have indicated a desire to see inside the big old tank, that this will be a good opportunity to do so.

Each day traders and dealers are invited to come and get up on the premises or take advantage of the FLEAMK'S discounted prices to dealers. There will be no charge for dealer space.

Anyone needing a free, adz, old juke box or genuine woodpecker hole can find it if he gets there early enough.

Pat Hale

Taking a punch at public opinion, Nobel prize winner Dr. Norman Borlaug speaking recently in Houston, said the basic attitude toward farmers has been a hindrance to greater food production.

Borlaug, now associated with the Rockefeller Foundation in Mexico City, said the public does not understand the necessity of the profit motive to increase production. The Houston Chronicle quoted the scientist as saying, "If a farmer can't improve his standard of living, he will not adopt the new technologies". He said the hope of feeding a growing world depends on technological advances. Pointing to last year's uproar over foreign grain sales, Borlaug said the public talked about "our grain" as though it was public property. This in effect was making a decision which affected the income of the producer without consulting the producer himself.

Haskell County, the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and especially the citizens of Rochester, will certainly miss the smiling face of W.L. "Knott" Ballard as one of its leading citizens.

Ballard was elected to the Wichita-Brazos SWCD Board of Directors in March, 1965 to succeed the late Herman Gammill. He continued to serve the northwest quadrant of Haskell County as SWCD Director until October, 1977 when he was elected to serve as Director for Zone 5 of the newly-created Haskell SWCD.

Throughout the years, Ballard was a valuable asset to the Soil and Water Conservation program, lending his expert knowledge in irrigation and Soils Management toward the improvement of the total conservation program.

WIND EROSION SEASON APPROACHES
The wind erosion season is upon us. From now until the end of the "blow" season, about June 1, we can expect the normally strong winter and spring winds to ravage unprotected cropland.

Five basic principals of wind erosion control can be established by Haskell SWCD farmers. They are to:

1. Produce, or bring to the soil surface, cold forming material enough "to resist" the wind force.
2. Roughen the land surface to reduce wind velocity and trap drifting soils.
3. Reduce field widths along the prevailing wind direction by establishing wind barriers or trap strips at intervals to reduce wind velocity and soil avalanching.
4. Establish and maintain vegetative cover or vegetative residues to protect the soil.
5. Level or bench land where economically feasible to reduce effective field widths.

Principals 1, 2 and 4 are the most economically feasible. The most effective is principal 4.

Practices successfully used in the past to control wind erosion on dry land cultivated soils are stubble mulching and minimum tillage, cover crops, stripcropping, planting wind barriers, and emergency tillage.

Let us work this blow season to prevent the loss of our valuable top soil from wind erosion.

American Ag News

BY BETTYE McBROOM

The following was written by Key Crawford of Hereford and was published in the November 14 issue of the AMERICAN AGRICULTURE NEWS.

Trying to help a farmer is much like trying to save the life of a drowning man. If you approach him from the wrong position, you might be drowned yourself by his frantic thrashings, while you were only trying to help him to safety.

To some people, it is impossible to understand how anyone could sacrifice time and money in the service of his fellow farmers and his country, without any thought for personal gain or profit. Maybe they question and criticize others motives so that they will have a good excuse not to participate in activities that might cost them some personal sacrifice. Perhaps they are admitting that in the same position, they would try for personal profit!

If this attitude had prevailed in 1776, the United States would still be an English colony. If the same attitude continues much longer, we will, in all likelihood, be someone's colony in the near future. For when a society such as ours no longer has its rebels-men who are willing to take a chance or make a sacrifice for the betterment of that society, no matter what the personal cost-then we have lost our way of life!

It is natural for a farmer to find it hard to accept a leader.

All farmers are leaders in their own right. Maybe the reason the American Agriculture Movement has been so successful is that anyone can be a leader. We are all going in the same direction at the same time, and whoever happens to get in front ends up as the leader.

Many people who would be leaders have been disappointed when no one in the movement would follow them. By the same token, others who would rather just be participants have been called on to speak for the movement because of their unique ability to communicate, when the rest of us just stammer and stumble. Many times statements are made by these spokesmen that some of us may not completely agree with. But they are doing the job and performing a service, sometimes at great personal sacrifice, and we have no cause to criticize, because who among us could do any better?

If a man involved with AAM is offered a position where he might further serve his country, both the movement and the country would be losers if full advantage of such an offer were not taken. Where else in this country of ours will you find people whose character and integrity can match that of a farmer?

To those who would criticize and malign the agricultural movement and its participants, I ask this: Will you refuse to take parity prices for your commodities because they were fought for and won by those who you criticize or don't approve of? I think not! You will gladly accept any gains in prices that the participants in the movement can garner for you. At the same time, you will still be critical of the very ones who fought your fight and won your prices.

I would also say this: the news media and especially the politicians tell us that we farmers are very few in numbers. This is true, and figures are now showing that there are about 489,000 fewer of us this year than last! If any of us are to survive, we cannot afford jealousies and egos that would divide us and keep us from working together. If a man is working for the movement and what he says is right, support him and help him. Whether he is a member of the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, Protestant, Catholic, Democrat or Republican, or he lives in a shack or a mansion, or drives a Ford or a Chevrolet, if what he says is valid and right, he deserves your support!

The American Agriculture Movement needs you! America needs you! We have learned that one person CAN do something about what is wrong with our country if he will just quit complaining and try! It was Theodore Roosevelt who said: "It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out where the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred with dust and sweat and blood-at the best, he knows the triumph of high achievement; if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who knew neither victory nor defeat."

Richardson Truck & Tractor Hosts Product Service Clinic

A special Product Service Clinic, recently sponsored by Richardson Truck & Tractor, attracted several key area farmers who got up-to-the-minute techniques on preventive maintenance and servicing of International Harvester tractors.

The purpose of the clinic, according to A.C. Richardson, was "to help our customers develop efficient, thorough maintenance programs to combat the high costs of equipment breakdowns and repairs."

The clinic featured special movies which vividly reviewed the equipment service needs, as well as tips on performing the service properly and quickly. Parts Manager, Larry Reed, and Service Manager, Paul Gonzales, also discussed the local dealership's ability to quickly and efficiently provide spare parts and service needs. International Harvester Company people were also on hand to aid in the question and answer session. In addition to refreshments guest farmers also were offered special Maintenance Merchandise Packages to prepare them for on-the-spot service in the months a head. Door prizes were given to everyone in attendance with I.H. tape measures going to Paul Cavillo of Haskell and Bill Wedeking of Stamford. Albert Thane of Haskell won an I.H. grease gun and Jess Olivarez of Avoca won an I.H. electric hedge trimmer. The grand prize of a $90.00 combination I.H. wrench set was won by V.C. Schmidt of Stamford.

A study at Michigan State University revealed that people who ate two apples a day had fewer headaches.

INDIAN VONNIE HISE rushed for 103 yards last Friday against the Paducah Dragons. The Tribe will meet the Hamlin Pied Pipers this Friday at 7:30 in Stamford in the Bi-District contest. All tickets will be general admission and will be available at the gate.

Cold Weather Tips

It's getting to be that time of year again when the weather and street conditions in this area can change overnight. Therefore it's a good idea to be prepared for the changes and adjust your driving accordingly.

The following cold weather tips are offered by Bob Draper, Regional Traffic Safety Coordinator at Midwestern State University.

- In the morning, warm up your car before leaving for work. A cold engine may stall on you and cause an accident.

- Clear frost, ice, or snow from all your windows, headlights, and from around your radiator. This will allow you to see and be seen and avoid a boil over.

- Leave for work in plenty of time. Allow yourself at least twice as much time if driving on ice or snow.

- Don't drive on bald tires. Ensure plenty of tread on your tires. Radial tires are best for driving on ice or snow. Keep a set of tire chains for emergency use if possible.

- On snow, never spin your wheels if possible. It's spinning that digs you into the snow deeper.

- Use extra weight in your trunk for traction. An extra 100 lbs. of weight in your trunk gives you much better traction. Part of this weight can be your winter emergency driving kit which may contain one or two blankets, strike-anywhere matches, ice scraper, first aid kit, flares, and a flashlight. Old newspapers can be used for traction when pulling out of a drift. Just put them in front or in back of rear wheels. Another good item would be a 10 lb. bag of salt.

- Always dress warmly for the weather when you leave your home. Remember, you might be stuck for hours or even overnight.

- If you are stranded, use your emergency flashers and tie a scarf, handkerchief, or other article of clothing to your aerial or outside mirror to attract attention. Be sure to crack your window occasionally for fresh air.

- If stranded in winter weather, run your car only 10 minutes per hour to conserve gasoline.

- Don't drive in a crowd if you can avoid it. Try to maintain at least 8 car lengths behind the car in front of you. Drive in the outside lane and avoid driving beside another car.

- Drive slowly, but at an even pace. It takes many times longer to stop on ice or snow

Lee Bahney Attends Seminar

Lee Bahney of Haskell has completed a three-day special seminar (November 14-16) for local officials in Texas Civil Preparedness at Disaster Emergency Services in Austin, Texas. He was one of approximately twenty-five officials from around the state participating.

The course dealt with responsibilities and actions the attending officials must know in order to benefit local communities under emergency disaster conditions. Such conditions--it was stressed--could range from hurricanes, floods, and tornadoes to butane explosions and nuclear attack.

The seminar--one of several each year--was conducted by members of the staff of the Governor's Division of Disaster Emergency Services. The seminars are scheduled each year in an underground fallout shelter which serves as a round-the-clock Emergency Operating Center at the Texas Department of Public Safety Headquarters.

The largest recorded snowflakes fell on Montana in 1887. They were 15 inches in diameter.

- Don't power through a snowdrift. Feed power carefully beforehand. Then let momentum do the dirty work. A deep drift may cause your grill to get clogged with snow and make your radiator boil over.

- Keep moving at a moderate speed. Try never to speed up or go too slow.

- Try to avoid coming to a dead stop if there's a traffic light ahead on an uphill grade. Approach the light slowly giving it time to change to green. If you have to stop on an uphill grade you will probably slide sideways when you accelerate.

- Passing lanes are usually snowier, so if you must pass, hold down your speed to avoid spin--especially on expressways.

- Downshift before hills to keep even traction on the way up.

- Don't gun your engine or accelerate quickly from a stop position. Accelerate gradually by applying the gas slowly.

Most of the above, do's and don'ts of safe driving in winter weather are mostly common sense. Every year Wichita Falls has hundreds of accidents during days of ice and snow that a little care on the part of the average driver could avoid.

If the last two winters are any example we will have lots of opportunities to practice the above "do's and don'ts". During the coming winter season let's all try to "Drive Friendly the Texas Way."

Time for 2 phone calls!

If your gas meter isn't turned on, call Lone Star to have this done. Then call your appliance service company to inspect your gas appliances, light the pilots and change your furnace filter. Winter is on the way!

Young County Breeders Set Hereford Sale Two Set To Attend Summit

The Young County Hereford Breeders Association will hold its Eighteenth Annual Sale at the Agricultural Building in Fireman's Park in Graham on Wednesday, December 6, at 1:00 p.m. according to W.F. Whittenburg, Association President.

Forty-six head of top range bull prospects and seven foundation females are to be offered.

Consignors include: H.E. Bloodworth, Elbert; Luren Campbell, Olney; King Hereford Ranch, Jermyn; Joe Jackson, Ranger; League Ranch, Benjamin; Mrs. R.R. Pope and Harold Pope, Henrietta; Trammell-Swanson Muleshoe Ranch, Breckenridge; Steele Ranch, Graham and Whittenburg Ranch, Graham.

Auctioneer is to be Walter Britten, TXL0036, Bryan, Texas.

Lunch will be available at the barn served by members of the Lake Eddleman Home Demonstration Club.

Catalogues may be requested from Young County Hereford Breeders Association, Box 419, Graham, Texas 76046.

Animals will be in the barn and ready for inspection by 9:00 a.m. said Whittenburg.

Former Texas Governor John Connally and U.S. Sen. Bob Dole of Kansas will headline the speakers list at the National Farm Summit set for Dec. 4-6 at Texas A&M University.

The summit, first of its kind to be held, will examine major issues confronting the nation's agricultural economy. It will represent more than a year of planning, research and study on "practical and positive solutions to current and long-term problems" in agriculture. Sponsoring the activity will be Texas A&M and the Agricultural Council of America.

Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, Texas A&M University president, said this marks a "major attempt to bring leaders representing all aspects of the farm community together to consider mutual problems in an atmosphere of mutual respect."

He pointed out that the conference will center around the work of five task force groups. Reports will be presented by task force chairmen and discussed in detail, in hope of reaching an overall consensus on solutions whenever possible.

Chairman of the International Trade Task Force will be Tim Josling, professor, Food Research Institute, Stanford University; and chairing the Nutrition, Product Quality and Safety Task Force will be Peter Timmer, professor, Harvard School of Public Health.

Emery Castle, vice president of Resources for the Future, Washington, D.C., will chair the Task Force on Resource Use and Production Costs. Luther Tweeten, professor at Oklahoma State University, will serve as chairman of the Farm Commodity Prices and Income Task Force.

Chairing the Task Force on Agriculture's Role in Government Decisions will be John Kramer, associate dean, Georgetown University Law Center.

Scheduled to attend from Haskell County are Rick Perry and R.C. Couch, Jr.

Cotton Classing Office Now Open For '78

Mr. B.B. Manly announced today that the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene will provide cotton market information by recorded telephonic tapes this season. The tapes will replace the written weekly reports previously issued; and will provide more current market information, as they will be revised each workday at 4:00 p.m. Content will include supply, demand, local cotton prices and trends, cottonseed prices, futures closing prices, and quality statistics of Abilene classed cotton. The reports are scheduled to be started on Monday, November 20th at 4:00 p.m. Anyone interested in the cotton market may hear the daily report by calling 676-4211, AC 915 Abilene.

The USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene is receiving cotton samples from area gins and cotton warehouses much later than usual this season. Mr. Manly reported that samples from about 20,000 bales of cotton had been classed by November 16, which compares to 350,000 samples classed by this time last year. The cotton harvest will be further delayed by recent, general rain showers; so Mr. Manly does not expect harvesting to become widespread until cotton is defoliated by frost.

The quality of cotton classed so far this season has been average to low grade, longer than usual staple length, and mostly 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire. Local cotton prices have ranged from 55 to 58 cents per pound for mixed lots. Cottonseed prices paid producers currently range from 100 to 125 dollars per ton.

The seasonal cotton classing office at Munday is scheduled to be opened on November 27th; with Mr. Sidney Ferrell in charge again this season. The telephone number at that office has been changed to 422-4674, AC 817.

Abundant Energy

While her son, the President, may get cold comfort wrestling with burning issues, "Miz Lillian" Carter gets warm comfort from her new Irish cast-iron woodburning Reginald stove.

Known for her own abundant energy, Miz Lillian's stove may help conserve more scarce forms of energy.

Pictured with Miz Lillian at her Plains, Georgia home is Tony Kelly, who presented her with the stove on behalf of its makers, Waterford Ironfounders Limited, and explained how to keep the down home fires burning. Now on sale in the U.S., the stove is only one of many hot new Irish products expected to be introduced in the U.S. by the end of 1979, according to the Irish Export Board's North American office in New York.
