Council Taking Bids On Insurance And Fire Truck

Members of the Haskell City Council agreed Tuesday night to advertise for bids for insurance coverage on all city property and to advertise for bids for a new fire truck.

Members of the Council will open bids for a three year insurance policy at the February 12 Council meeting.

Hess Hartsfield of the Hartsfield Agency, who currently has City insurance, met with the council and recommended several minor changes in coverage.

Information concerning the insurance bids is available from the City Secretary's office.

Fire Chief Tom Watson met with the council and presented proposed specifications for a new fire truck. He pointed out that insurance rates in the city are in part based on the fire department equipment and that the city will lose credit on one truck this year. If the truck is not replaced insurance rates will increase. He added that the city receives credit for 30 years on a new truck and premiums would be reduced about $180,000.00 during the next 30 years with the purchase of the new truck.

Members of the council agreed to advertise for bids for the truck and bids will be opened February 12.

Appraisal Board Organizes

Board members of the Haskell County Appraisal District met to organize Monday in the Commissioners courtroom Haskell County Courthouse.

County Judge John Wayne McDermott administered the oath of office to the members of the board: Pat Hale, Delbert LeFevre, Billy Middlebrook, Donald Griffiths and Manford Reid.

After members were sworn-in, they elected the following officers: Hale, chairman, LeFevre, vice-chairman, and Middlebrook, secretary.

Members of the board will attend a meeting soon to obtain information regarding the organization and operation of the board.

Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, met with the council and presented suggestions concerning work needed on the creek through town. Yearly offered several suggestions which the city could complete which would improve the flow of water through town but added that to shape the creek banks enough to stop flooding after a six or seven inch rain would require special skills and equipment and considerable expense.

Mayor Royce Williams told council members that he would contact Congressman Charles Stenholm and representatives of the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development to seek assistance.

Council members agreed on a contract with the county for use of the county jail. The contract is required by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

Mayor Williams reported the receipt of sales tax in the amount of $3,217.79; revenue sharing in the amount of $7,205.00; and rent on farmland at airport in the amount of $3,238.27.

Dr. Colbert To Retire

Dr. R. E. (Bob) Colbert who, with his family, has lived in Haskell for the past 18 years and in Rule 11 years prior to that, will be retiring from the Haskell Clinic as of February 1, 1980. Dr. Colbert has been a physician-member of the clinic and has many patients and friends in the area.

A native of Fayetteville, Tennessee, a graduate of Fayetteville High School, pre-med student of the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and doctoral honors graduate of the University of Tennessee at Memphis Medical School, Dr. Colbert first called Texas "home" when he extended his training with an internship at Brackenridge Hospital in Austin. Dr. Bob, Golda, and their young daughter, Gerre, moved to Rule in 1951.

During WWII Dr. Colbert served for 33 months in the European Theater of War. He received the Purple Heart and other honors for his outstanding bravery in action and for injuries received as 1st Scout Rifleman and Squad Leader for the 103rd Infantry Division, 7th Army.

Through the association with the many friends and patients of the Haskell County area, the Colberts have come to love the people and to appreciate the years of being so closely associated with them in the doctor/patient/friend relationship. Working companions within both the hospital and clinic have fostered a spirit of service with compassion and helpfulness which makes leaving most difficult.

After a period of rest and a brief vacation back in Tennessee, the Colberts still plan to call Haskell "home." Further plans for the future are tentative.

Cotton Classing

Prices were steady and demand was good for cotton on the local market according to Garland Dye, Officer In Charge of the Munday Classing Office. Farmers received from 16 to 17 cents per pound above loan values for cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9. Grade 32, Staple 32 cotton brought from 62.90 cents to 63.90 cents per pound. Grade 32, Staple 33 sold for 64.95 to 65.95 and Grade 42, Staple 33 brought from 62.65 to 63.65 cents per pound. Cottonseed prices remained at 105 dollars per ton to the farmers.

The Munday Classing Office classed 8,900 samples for farmers during the week ending January 17. This brought the total classed for the season to 169,800.

Quality of the samples classed fell mostly in the Light-Spotted and Spotted color groups. Thirty-three percent of the samples graded 32, 24 percent graded 42, and 3 percent graded 52. As for the Spotted Grades, 10 percent was 33, 11 percent was 43, and 2 percent was 53. Half the samples classed last week were Staple 33. Staple 32 made up 34 percent and Staple 34 made up 12 percent. Micronaire readings were mostly in the 3.5 to 4.9 range, accounting for 69 percent. Thirteen percent miked between 3.3 and 3.4, 16 percent miked between 3.0 and 3.2, and 2 percent was below 2.9.

Rice Springs News

Another week has come and gone, without anyone really realizing where it went. Things here at the home are going on about as usual, I guess. Nothing out of the ordinary or very unusual has happened since I last wrote or at least it hasn't been reported to me. We still have a few residents that are under the weather, but most are not really seriously ill. We are thankful for that and hope the many changes that we are having in the weather don't cause some to come down with colds or maybe something more serious. We had a good week as far as church services go. On Monday morning of last week, Rev. Putnam and the ladies from the Haskell First United Methodist Church came and presented a very good musical program and then Rev. Putnam gave a good talk on "Exercising Our Faith." On Tuesday morning, some of the WMU ladies from the Haskell First Baptist Church came and presented a fine musical program and May Belle Taylor gave a good talk on missionary work in Brazil and also showed some things from there. The residents sure did enjoy this. We also enjoyed having Rev. Tom Jones back for our Wednesday afternoon Bible Study. Then on Sunday, both of the church services by the First Presbyterian and the Haskell Church of Christ were enjoyed by all. The churches of Haskell and surrounding areas can never really know just how much we appreciate them bringing the different services to us, because most of our residents are good Christian people who attended church all of their life, but are no longer able to go to any outside church. Most tell me that they enjoy all types of services no matter what denomination they may be themselves. Our thanks really go out to all of you that come already and we would also welcome any others that are not coming to come any time that they can to share with our people.

The Country Band from Stamford was also back with us last week. They always live up the home when they come to play their good old country style music for us. We appreciate their coming once a month. Ida Phemister celebrated her 88th birthday on Jan. 16th by being taken out to lunch by her son, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Phemister of Weinert. We wish her many more happy, healthy ones. Our administrator, Ruth Ann Klose, also celebrated her birthday last week, which many of you may have noticed in last week's paper. We hope she had a good birthday and hope she has many more.

It didn't seem as though we had as many out-of-town visitors as usual, but with the gas situation, we understand why some don't come as often as they used to do. We do always welcome all visitors, whether they be from out-of-town or from here in Haskell. The out-of-town visitors for the week are as follows: Eileen Lindsay of Weatherford visited Lillie Spitzer. Coming to see Joe Teague, Charlie and Eugene Collier were Lorraine Mitchell of Plainview, Martin Teague of Hale Center, and Christene Mitchell of Hobbs, New Mexico. Visiting Jessie Brown and Claudia Blankenship was their sister-in-law, Ethel Thurman of Jacksboro. Raleigh and Nettie Brock of Fort Worth visited her father, Bill Harrell. Coming to see the Sam Bradfords were their children, Mr. and Mrs. G.A. Bradford and Brenda of Peacock and Faye Cox of Clairmont. Visitors of Jim and Dutch Cross were S.M. Warren of Midland and Bodie Bryant of Breckenridge. Jack Carothers of Levelland came to see his father, Bill Carothers. Visiting Hilda Kupatt were her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt and Kris of Sagerton. Mr. and Mrs. Gary Turnbow and girls of Abilene came to spend the evening with his mother, Mae Belle Turnbow. Visiting with Mary Schonerstedt, Emma Lammert and Hilda Kupatt were Mary's daughters, Ella Nauert of Stamford and Evelyn Teichelman of Sagerton. Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hosea of Munday visited Maggie Martin. Festus and Eunice Hunt of Rule visited her mother, Nannie McCaul. Other visitors of Nannie were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Johnson of Yantis and also Lynn Matysiak of Rule. Hazel Letz of Old Glory visited Alvena Holle, Ada Williamson, Cleo Mondy, Elizabeth Yakey, Jonnye Pumphrey, Alma Cole and several others while she was here. Coming to see Ida Brinlee were her sister, Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Bryant, her niece, Nelda Mae Cockrell, and Mrs. Cockrell's daughter and granddaughter, all of Breckenridge. Clancey Lehrmann of Old Glory and Steven Lehrmann of Sagerton visited their aunt, Alvena Holle. John McMillin enjoyed his son Lon McMillin of Abilene coming to see him. Visitors of Kate Hemphill were Bernice Wells of Fort Stockton, Lila Miller, Patty McGlanahan, and Doris Cook, all of Graham. Coming to visit Edna Collins and also to take her to town were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ophus Posey and Nita of Knox City. Floyd Stewart of Seymour visited with his mother, Eunice Stewart. Visiting Charity Bradley were Geraldine Pool and Mary Place, both of Rule. Pauline Williams of Rule visited her mother, Ethel Rose and her aunt, Charity Bradley.

Essie Long of Childress came to visit her mother, Dessie Marion, and also visited Charity Bradley while she was here. Sue Smith and a friend of Rule visited Trudie Bush. Visitors of Alma Cole were Rev. Wayland Dowden and Lynn Matysiak of Rule, Ladain Anderson of Houston, and S.M. Warren of Midland. Again we thank each and every visitor that comes each week. MEET OUR RESIDENTS The resident that I would like you to meet this week is Joe Teague. At the present time Joe is the youngest resident living at Rice Springs. Joe was born on February 8, 1927 to Joe and Palmetto Teague at Rochester. He lived and attended school at Rochester. He has one brother, J.W., now of Kleburg, and one sister, now Ona Mae Reeves of Knox City, three half-brothers, Martin Teague of Hale Center, Lester Teague of California, and Dale Farquer of Sweetwater, and one half-sister, Clara Hodge of O'Brien. He also had two other half-sisters who are now dead. They were Ada Brothers and Mrs. J.C. Collier. Joe was first married to Frieda Reed and while he was in the Army, they were divorced. He later married Mary Jo Lewis and they were the parents of a son, William Hank, now of Midland, two daughters, Rita Cockran, address unknown, and Linda Perales, now of Lawton, Oklahoma. They were later divorced. At the age of thirty nine, Joe was in a collision with a train in Sweetwater. He was injured badly and spent one year in a Veterans Hospital in Fort Lyons, Kansas. When he got better and regained a little of his memory, he came to live in Rice Springs on December 31, 1967 and has lived here ever since. Joe has greatly improved since coming to Rice Springs and says he really likes living here and has been treated just great. Joe enjoys playing forty-two, and a bingo game once in a while. He also likes all kinds of church programs and especially likes musical programs. His favorite songs, which he always requests people to sing, are "How Great Thou Art" and "Standing on the Promises." Joe is a member of the Haskell Church of Christ, which he attends regularly. That's the news for another week.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service

WELCOME NEW COOPERATORS

The Board of Directors of the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District at their regular January meeting, approved new plans. On the Marvin Massey farm of 175 acres, operated by Herman Cox, both of Stamford, Mr. Massey plans to convert about 45 acres of native rangeland to improved pastureland. This will be a great asset to their plans for providing a higher quality forage for their livestock. The Haynes Partnership, Dr. Harry Haynes and sons, Gordon and Carl, of Stamford, 407 acres out of the old Harrison Estate northwest of Sagerton was approved. They plan grassed waterways to intercept outside water and parallel terraces. Kenneth and J.W. Howard, 195 acres, located in the Irby Community was approved. This unit is the old Richard E. Mathis farm. The Howards plan to rebuild terraces. V.P. Terrel and Tim Everett of Haskell, 170 acres, located in the Sayles Community southwest of Haskell was approved. They plan to remove some native rangeland, converting it to cropland, establish a grassed waterway, and rebuild existing terraces.

BOARD AFFILIATION

The Board of Directors elected to continue their affiliation with the Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and the National Association of Conservation Districts. They also elected to continue participation in the State-wide informational program sponsored by the Texas Association. T.V. showings were aired during November and December by the Wichita Falls T.V. Station. These spot announcements are currently being aired in the large metropolitan areas, and plans are currently being developed to air them in the Abilene Area.

CONSERVATION POSTER CONTEST

The Conservation Poster Contest deadline has been moved forward to February 4 from February 15, to allow sufficient time for district judging. The District Sweepstakes Poster will have to be in the Temple Office by February 15 in order to compete with other Area V poster winners. 1979 ANNUAL REPORT and 1980 CALENDAR

Soon to be mailed out will be the 1979 Annual Report of the District with a 1980 calendar, to all cooperators, advertisers and others on the District mailing list. The Board wants to express their regrets at not having this report and calendar out prior to January 1, but there were unavoidable delays.

HCJC's Celebrate Jaycee Week

The Haskell County Jaycees and Jaycee-ettes this week join some 370,000 others throughout the nation to celebrate Jaycee week. The following message was delivered by U.S. Jaycee President J. Terry Bechtol the eve of Jaycee Week at the TOYM Ceremonies in Tulsa Oklahoma.

Hospital Notes

ADMISSIONS
MEDICAL: Opal Nimmo, Haskell; Edward Melton, Goree; Ella Cartwright, Rule; Thelma Henderson, Haskell; Martin Rueffer, Haskell; Lois Gray, Munday; John Vernon, Rule; Samuel Kelso, Haskell; William Reed, Haskell; Laffie Williams, Rule; Billie Jean Walters, Haskell; Oda Yarey, Haskell; Anna Montgomery, Haskell.
SURGICAL: Violet Allen, Haskell; Nina Bryant, Rule.
DISMISSALS
 Ennis Webb, Shelby Harris, Jackie Teague, Daniel Hoover, Edward Melton, Danny Stewart, Mamie Vaughn, James Powell, Alford Masias, James Wright, Bobbie Williams, Minnie Holcombe.

Jaycees. Over the last 60 years, millions of young men have learned how to dream in Jaycees, then translate those dreams into action. Men filtering through these leadership ranks include Gerald Ford, Charles Lindbergh, Warren Burger, Hubert Humphrey, James Wright, John J. Rhodes, James Skidmore...and millions more such as you and me.

Today there are 375,000 "dreamers" around this country waking up to their potential. These young men are philanthropists for the young and aged. They are opinion-leaders among the liberals and-conservatives. They are fundraisers for the handicapped and underprivileged. They are social benchmarks for the Joneses and the folks next door. They are the Jaycees.

As we celebrate the founding of the Jaycees 60 years ago this month, we owe it to ourselves to find out a little more about the young men who fathered this great leadership training organization. I think you'll be amazed at the foundation they laid and the legacy we have inherited. It is a great story—one surely unrivaled anywhere.

Equally impressive are the stories behind the 10 young men who are this year's Ten Outstanding Young Men (TOYM) of America. Each of these young men merits ranking as a modern-day hero. Each is living proof "that earth's greatest treasure lies in human personality." And each TOYM honoree provides proof that "service to humanity" is equipped with built-in rewards.

Our organization was established by positive-thinking, forward-looking young men who shared a dream: To establish a movement that could exert influence on events of today and tomorrow for the good of themselves and the country."

Haskell County Jaycee President Charles Address urges all young men in Haskell County to come and be a part of this great young men's organization. The local chapter meets each Thursday night at 8:00 p.m. in the Haskell City Hall Annex, and the organization is open to all young men between the ages of 18 and 35.

Carolyn Schur, a representative of West Texas Utilities in Stamford, presented a program on Microwave cooking. Ms. Schur answered questions and added some very innovative ideas.

After the presentation a business meeting was held. The Homemakers voted on a project concerning the purchase of a glucose machine for Haskell Memorial Hospital. It was decided to contribute 1/2 of the purchase price of the machine and to donate receiving blankets to the hospital nursery.

SCOTT FIELDS — SHOWMANSHIP AWARD

VA Letters Incorrect

A large number of veterans and widows of veterans who are entitled to Veterans Administration disability and death pension benefits are currently receiving letters showing incorrect monthly payments. According to C.H. Herren, Service Officer for Haskell County, anyone receiving an incorrect award letter from the VA should contact their local Veterans Service Office for assistance.

In November and December, veterans and widows received annual income questionnaire cards to be completed and returned to the VA. The income information is required under Federal laws each year, and the information shown on the cards enable the VA to determine whether a person continues to be eligible for the benefits being paid. A number of people who completed the income cards are now receiving letters which have been erroneously prepared by the computers at the VA Payment Center. Many such letters are indicating pension payments for calendar years 1972 through 1979, but fail to show any amounts due for 1980. When these letters are received, the pensioner should contact his local Veterans Service Officer as soon as possible. The Service Office can check with the VA regional office and determine whether any other action should be taken to be certain that the benefits that are payable continue to be sent at the regular time each month.

These erroneous letters can cause anxiety for the veterans and widows who must depend upon their small monthly payments to be able to provide for themselves in these inflationary times.

Winter Care Helps Make Summer Lawn Look Better

Homeowners who wonder why their front lawn does not look like a well manicured golf course during the summer months can do something about it right now, during winter.

A Texas Tech University horticulturist says the first thing to remember is that "lawns do not die during winter. They only appear dead and need to be kept alive."

The stem and the leaves of most grass species die after the first freeze, but the crown stays alive during winter, according to Robert R. Reed of the Department of Plant and Soil Science.

Reed said there are four things that homeowners can do in winter to help produce a lush growth in summer.

"Water the lawn four or five times during the winter, fertilize it, apply pre-emergent herbicide and prevent the soil from getting compacted," he said.

Watering lawns is especially important during unseasonal warm days in winter months, "as the water prevents the soil temperature from increasing beyond winter limits," he added.

High soil temperature during winter starts the growth process in the grass. But the tender growing plant tissue dies following a drop in the temperature, which results in "spotty growth" during summer, the Texas Tech horticulturist said.

"Homeowners should water lawns on days when the temperature is not expected to drop below freezing because moisture which enters the plant at freezing temperatures may crystallize and break the living cell walls in plant tissue," Reed added.

Winter fertilization, the second item on Reed's list, helps in root development and strength during the cold months.

"Phosphorous and potassium fertilizers are most important during winter months for root development and homeowners can buy them from any nursery," he said.

Nitrogen fertilizers, which mainly produce the green matter in the stems and the leaves, are of little use during winter, he added.

The third item to remember is pre-emergent herbicide, "which is essential for suppressing weed growth, especially during winters which follow above normal rainfall," Reed said.

High rainfall during the pre-winter months produces an abundant crop of weed seeds which lie in the soil waiting for warm temperatures, according to the horticulturist.

"Pre-emergent herbicides will suppress the weeds and will not affect the grass crown," he added.

Preventing the soil from getting compacted, Reed's fourth admonition, allows free movement of water and air through the soil surface and helps in regeneration of the grass.

"The soil gets compacted as people tend to step over the grass more often during winter than during summer," he said.

"Homeowners can rent airing or coring equipment from nurseries to punch holes in the soil surface or to remove small cores from the soil to make it fluffy," the horticulturist added.

If homeowners follow these suggestions, Reed said, they can expect to see improvement when the grass turns green after winter, but he cautioned against expecting too much.

"It takes more than one winter of caring for the grass to produce the golf-course look," he said.

Gasohol Committee To Meet

State Senator E.L. Short of the 28th senatorial district wants "gasohol" production for farmers and ranchers in the High Plains area.

The Special Senate Committee on Gasohol, of which Short is a member, will hear testimony on subjects such as how to get permits to produce fuel alcohol and what specific plans are now being made to construct alcohol plants in Texas.

The committee will meet in Lubbock Tuesday, February 5, 1980, at the Koko Inn at 9:30 a.m.

"During the last legislative session we amended the law relating to the production of alcohol for fuel in this state," said Senator Short.

"We did that to try and remove obstacles from the process. Now the whole country, and this area in particular, are hurting for fuel and we need to get information out to the people. We really need to get this process going," said Senator Short.

"We are also trying, in this committee, to unravel the nest of bureaucratic regulations which are found in this area," said Senator Short. "We want this committee to hear testimony on how existing laws in Texas relate to the production of alcohol. But also what an individual farmer or rancher or small businessman needs to know to get into it."

A previous meeting of the committee held in South Texas, January 10, brought out testimony from several state agencies, the attorney general's office and persons who are now working to get fuel alcohol plants on stream in several areas of the state.

"As a company we have been working on our Gasohol project at Dimmitt for almost a year," said Douglas Lapins, general manager of the Amstar Corporation, who testified at the hearing.

"We estimate a construction time of 18 to 24 months and a plant cost in the range of $11 million for an annual production of ten million gallons... Many of the unknowns are behind us now and I believe that the gasohol program and our plant will move ahead," said Lapins.

Senator Short said he was informed by W.S. McBeath, administrator of the Texas Alcohol Beverage Commission which issues permits for the production of alcohol, that more than twenty permits have been issued since the new legislation was passed and that "no one has been turned down (for fuel alcohol) so far."

"But I'm still getting a lot of questions from people," said Senator Short.

"I hope this hearing will give our people some specific answers on where to get the permits, some procedures they can follow, all those kinds of things that are particularly frustrating to a man who is sitting out there on a tractor trying to make plans for the next crop," said Senator Short.

Senator Short is chairman of the special Senate Subcommittee on Diesel Fuel Shortages in Agriculture. The previous meeting of the gasohol committee in January, he said, also helped point out that many people don't know that "gasohol" is a common term given to a mixture of ninety percent gasoline and ten percent fuel alcohol at the service station pump.

"The state of the art in this industry is evolving quickly," said Short. "People who are unfamiliar with it might not be able to use many agricultural waste products as fuel to make the alcohol, while deriving cattle feed supplements as a by-product."

Other members of the committee include Senator Raul Longoria of Edinburg, chairman; Senator John Traeger of Seguin, Senator Bob Price of Pampa and Senator Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio.

The hearing will be open to the public and interested citizens are invited to attend, said Short.

Jefferson Is Museum Town

BY GORDON M. QUARNSTROM
JEFFERSON—This East Texas town, once the largest inland shipping point in the entire state, has a world of charm and history with which to woo and please the visitor.

In addition to the 70-plus buildings that have the official historic Texas medalion, the intriguing Excelsior Hotel and the renovated private car of Financier Jay Gould, Jefferson also has an excellent museum.

The museum, of the Jefferson Historical Society, is in the three-story building that once housed a post office and federal court. It was acquired by the Society in 1965, just 75 years after its completion, and the Society moved its outstanding collections into the building.

There is a wealth of material to be seen, including a Caddo Indian collection, Civil War artifacts, truly fine art, antique furniture, a gun and weapons collection, early home, farm and professional tools and equipment, a 200-year-old loom and items from country stores of past generations.

Jefferson is located at the intersection of Highways 49 and 59. The once navigable Big Cypress River flows gently past the business section. There are memories of the shipping days of a century ago. In 1872, for instance, 226 steamboats landed at her port.

Information about Jefferson may be obtained from Dept. GW, Chamber of Commerce, Jefferson, Tx., 76048.

John P. Payne
