COOKIES ANYONE?

Girl Scout Cookie Sale To Get Underway Friday

by Gina Jennings

It is once again time for Haskell residents to answer that big question. The question that is posed annually by petite little girls with sometimes timid and usually irresistible faces. "Would you like to buy some Girl Scout Cookies?"

One look at that face and the question becomes simply, "How many boxes would you like?"

Girl Scouts will begin selling cookies on Friday, February 29, and will continue until March 15. A variety of cookies will be offered including Peanut Butter Sandwich, Thin Mint, Sandwich Cremes, Shortbread, Peanut Butter Patties, Granola and Sesame Wheat Crackers.

The cookies will sell for $1.50 per box or $18.00 a case with 12 boxes to a case.

Proceeds from the sale will be divided between the individual troops and the Girl Scout Council. The money will be used to fund troop activities as well as financing and maintaining Council properties such as Camp Boothe Oaks.

Awards will be offered for the individual girls according to the number of cookies they sell. Brownies may be eligible for a "Cookie Patch" or the honor of attending a Brownie/Dad campout at Camp Boothe Oaks while Scouts grades 3-12 may earn campership awards as well as the patch. Cadettes and seniors may earn "Cookie Currency Credit" for other Council events and wider opportunities.

The Council "Cookie Pusher" award will be given to a Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scout for selling the most cookies.

A final sale will be held if necessary on March 25, downtown, to sell all remaining cookies.

Acting coordinator for the sale is Gwen Unger. Anyone wanting to purchase cookies who has not been contacted by a Scout may call her at 864-3366 or 864-3714 after 5:30 p.m.

City-County Hold Joint Meeting

Members of the Haskell City Council and Commissioners Court met in joint session Tuesday night to discuss several areas of mutual concern to both agencies.

All members of the Commissioners Court and County Judge attended the regularly scheduled meeting of the City Council and a major portion of the meeting was a discussion between the two bodies.

Discussions centered around the local ambulance service, a recently instituted nutrition program and local streets.

Members of the two taxing groups agreed to increase membership on the ambulance board to include two members from each of the three taxing bodies which provide support and also to include two citizens. The board is currently composed of one member each from the City Council, Commissioners Court and Hospital Board.

The two groups also agreed to meet with other cities in the county to request financial support for providing ambulance service and attempt to better organize the service.

Members of the two bodies also discussed the recently instituted nutrition program and agreed to pay one-half of the utilities each. It was announced at the meeting that the nutrition program had started Monday and that about 34 meals had been served.

Members of the Council also discussed street conditions with members of the court and requested the County's assistance in repairing local streets.

Following the joint portion of the meeting, Haskell Mayor Royce Williams continued the street discussion.

Mayor Williams told members of the Council that he felt that street improvement should be a high priority item in the next year and that with some assistance from the County and the approval of a large federal grant much could be accomplished on local streets.

Members of the council discussed the approval of a pre-application for $495,075.00 to pave and curb and gutter 34 blocks in the northeast part of Haskell. The funds were approved specifically for work in this area and cannot be used anywhere else, but according to members of the council, will enable funds budgeted for work in this area to be used in other areas.

Methods Change

You're Never Too Old To Rock And Roll

The residents of Leisure Lodge will participate in a Rock and Roll Jamboree Friday, February 29 from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m. A bean supper will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. Plates will be a donation of two dollars or more to the American Heart Association. A special feature will be the Hee Haw Band of Sagerton providing entertainment while the residents "Rock and Roll."

The Rock and Roll Jamboree is a project of the Texas Nursing Home Association for the benefit of the American Heart Association. Every year countless men and women, boys and girls die from this number one killer, heart attack. The residents of Leisure Lodge want to do their part in helping stop this dreaded disease.

In order to participate in the event members of the community are asked to donate by sponsoring a resident to either rock in their rocking chair, roll in their wheel chair or walk during the six hour period, so please come and give them your support.

Charges Filed

Officers of the Abilene Police Department arrested two persons in Lawton, Oklahoma, Tuesday in connection with the death of Camillo Frautos.

Frautos was found dead, February 5 about four miles north of Haskell.

Abilene Officers Lupe Duran and Leonard Dodgen went to Wichita Falls Tuesday looking for suspects and ended their search in Lawton.

Arrested and charged with murder was Jose S. Renteria, Sr., 47. Also arrested was a juvenile. Both are being held in the Abilene City Jail.

50 YEARS

"It's the roughest business around..." according to M. C. (Sonny) Wilfong owner and operator of Wilfong Texaco. And he ought to know. Operating out of one of the oldest buildings in Haskell, Wilfong has been pumping gas since January 11, 1930. During the past 50 years he has seen Haskell literally grow up around him. Will he make it another 50 years? Grinning, he says he hopes so.

NEW PAVING

The U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development has approved a pre-application for $495,075.00 for paving and curbing and guttering in a designated area of Haskell. The project will include paving 19 blocks of Avenue A and 15 blocks of cross streets. The streets to be paved will also have curbs and gutters. The broad line represents the streets to be paved and the small line designates the area which should receive relief from flooding after the paving is completed.

Henson, Rea United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Tami Sue Rea and Maxie Neal Henson were united in marriage February 23 at East Side Baptist Church with Rev. Darrell Feemster officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rea of Haskell. The groom is the son of Mr. Melvin Henson of Fort Phantom Lake and Mrs. Gene Henson of Abilene.

Soloist for the ceremony was Brian Burgess who was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Kenneth Jarred. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of sheer silk organza fashioned by Bianchi. The fitted bodice was enhanced with tiny, hand-sewn seed pearls and delicate lace butterflies. The A-line skirt adorned with pearls and butterfly appliques swept to a chapel train of organza and lace. The veil was three tiers of French silk illusion held by a silk rose, crowned with pearls and dainty crystalized sequins.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath tied with white satin ribbon.

For "something old" the bride carried a linen handkerchief that belonged to her great grandmother. The "something new" was her gown and shoes. "Something borrowed" was a diamond drop of her mother's and "something blue" was her garter. She also wore a traditional six-pence in her shoe.

Maid of honor was Becky Lipscomb of Abilene and bridesmaids were Mrs. James Robert Crawford and Melva Henson of Abilene, sister of the groom. The attendants floor length dresses were of yellow terry velour complimented with tiny blue and yellow butterflies surrounded by baby's breath for their hair. Their nosegays were of blue and yellow carnations accented by matching satin streamers.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails accented by a blue carnation boutonniere. Best man Peter Eastburn and groomsmen Jeff Owens, both of Abilene, wore tuxedos in shades of blue with white ruffled shirts. Their boutonniere's were yellow carnations.

Ushers were Jeff Owens and Butch Burney, both of Abilene. The church was lighted by baby blue candles in an arrangement of palm fern and love birds.

The mothers were seated by Mike Rea, brother of the bride and Arty Henson, brother of the groom. Bridal Satin Aisle runners were drawn by Cody and Casey Barry of Bellevue, cousins of the bride, immediately before the entry of the bride and groom.

Guests were asked to register at a table covered in white bridal satin on which the bride's book rested. Presiding at the table was Teresa Cooper of Abilene.

A reception for the couple was held following the ceremony. The bride's table was draped with white organza and lace over yellow satin. Centering the table was a crystal cornucopia adorned with blue tapers and blue and yellow carnations.

The two tiered cake was pale yellow and covered with tiny blue and yellow rosebuds. Appointments were silver and crystal. The groom's table was covered with ecru lace over a beige linen cloth. The chocolate cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom that was used at the bride's grandparent's 50th wedding anniversary. Coffee, nuts and chocolate mints were served. Appointments were brass and hand-painted china mugs. Serving at the table were Katie Wooten and Vickie Shaw of Sweetwater, cousins of the bride.

Upon leaving the reception, guests were asked to take a handful of birdseed from a crystal bowl to toss at the newlyweds.

A 1978 graduate of Haskell High School, the bride has also been a student at Hardin-Simmons University and A.C.U.

The groom is a 1971 graduate of Abilene High School and has attended Ranger Junior College and McMurry. He is currently employed with Jimmy Williams Construction Company in Abilene.

The couple will reside at 1602 Nonesuch in Abilene.

Parties and Showers

Employees of Pay Less Cash-way Lumber Company hosted a Valentine-Fun Party for the bride-elect on February 8 in Potosi.

A bachelor dinner was held in honor of the prospective bridegroom on February 22, hosted by Jimmy Williams Construction Company.

A gift shower at the East Side Baptist Church is scheduled for the couple in March.

Hobby Club Discusses Project For Rehab '81

The Rochester Hobby Club met in regular session on Feb. 21st at a Covered Dish Luncheon, hosted by Hettie Michaels. Thirty five visitors enjoyed the noon meal with 18 of the 29 members present.

At the previous meeting Feb. 7th, Alatia Melton had been hostess.

The industrious quilters had also spent the afternoon of Feb. 13th plying their needles to a quilt that was finished that day. Another was completed on Feb. 21st and taken out of the frames ready for hemming or binding the outside edge.

Eunice Newberry will be hostess at the next scheduled meeting Mar. 6th.

The second "Thank You" note was received and read to the club by the president, Helen Cox. The first was acknowledgement of receiving the "Sunflower" pattern quilt that was pieced, quilted and completely finished by the enrolled membership. The other letter told that it had been auctioned off and brought $400.00 to be used at the Rehab Center in their 1980 budget. Needless to say,

Jump Rope-a-thon Scheduled March 1

In conjunction with the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate, Inc. Paint Creek School will be promoting physical fitness for students through a Jump Rope-A-Thon For Heart on March 1, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Paint Creek Gym.

Students will have the opportunity to demonstrate the effectiveness of jumping rope as a cardiovascular fitness exercise to help keep their hearts healthy. They will also have the opportunity to educate the public on the benefits of jumping rope by distributing fliers to all potential sponsors. In addition, their participation will help keep all hearts healthy since the proceeds from this event will benefit the research, education and community programs of the Heart Association.

To help ensure safety, student participants will work together in teams of six using one jump rope. Each team member will jump rope until tiring and then pass the rope to the next member of the team. When not jumping, the remaining five team members will rest in their assigned team area.

An official Student Jumper Kit will be given to students prior to the event to enable them to acquire sponsors. Pledges will be based on each minute the six-member team jumps. Example: If the team jumps the full three hours, and a pledge of two cents per minute is given, the sponsor would pay $3.60.

Each participant receives a certificate of appreciation at the event. When jumpers turn in their contributions, they will be eligible for special T-shirts which will be ordered in individual sizes and presented at a later date. The team at each school which raises the most contributions, in excess of $200, to fight heart attack and stroke, receives warm-up suits in their individual sizes. Each individual turning in pledges of more than $100 (not a member of the winning team) will receive a windbreaker. State prizes include a nine-station Universal Gym unit awarded to the junior or senior high school that turns in the most money. The two elementary schools turning in the most moeny will each be awarded 60 feet of tumbling mats.

WTC Receives Endowment

Vocational Nursing scholarships for students at Western Texas College will be provided by an endowment given by Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin Knox of Houston and Snyder.

Mrs. Knox has presented the $10,000 endowment in memory of her mother, the late Mrs. C.T. (Evelyn Clare) McLaughlin of Snyder. She chose to designate it for the Vocational Nursing program because of its value to the community and the state, she said, and she wished to support Western Texas College in its teaching of nursing skills.

The gift will be placed in the Western Texas College Scholarship Foundation, along with other funds received especially for scholarship use. Interest from the fund provides a continuing source of financial assistance for students at the college.

Cotton Classing

B.B. Manly, Jr., Area Director of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office reported that 22,500 cotton samples were classed in Abilene during the week ending Friday, February 22nd. This brought the seasonal total to about 860,000 samples classed. An additional 180,000 samples were classed at Munday; bringing the combined total to 1,040,000 samples classed.

Local cotton prices dropped by one to five cents per pound this week. Cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9 sold mostly at 18 to 22 cents per pound over CCC loan values. Grade 32, staple 32 cotton miking 3.5 to 4.9 sold at physical prices ranging from 65½ to 69½ cents per pound. The supply of cotton was light, and the market was weak. Demand was light for base mike cotton and low mike cotton. Trading was slow. Cottonseed prices paid producers ranged from 95 to 120 dollars per ton.

The quality of cotton classed in Abilene showed little change from the previous week. Grades were 6% white, 67% light spotted, and 24% spotted. Grades 32 and 42 were predominant at 31 and 30 percent. Grades 33 and 43 comprised 12 and 10 percent. Fiber length was 59% staple 32, 32% staple 31, and 5% staple 33. Micronaire readings were 32% within the 3.5 to 4.9 range. Eighteen percent miked from 3.3 to 3.4, 37% miked from 3.0 to 3.2, and 12% miked 2.9 or lower. About 13% of the samples classed were reduced in grade because of bark or grass content.

Roadster Wins Awards

The 1923 "T" Roadster built by John Snyder of Albany won nine awards in the second Annual World of Wheels Show held Feb. 8-10 at the Taylor County Coliseum in Abilene.

The name "Texas Crude" was given to the car by John because of his working in the oil fields to help supplement the cost of building.

John started working on cars when he was thirteen, he began building his "T" Roadster from scratch at the age of seventeen. Each part had to be specially made, he spent four years building his Roadster.

It has burnt orange crushed velvet upholstery interior, black fiberglass exterior with skillfully hand painted murals relating to scenes from his oil field days, tilt body, jaguar independent rear suspension, and a blown small block chevrolet engine.

John hand built a turntable that has two speeds, fast speed is one revolution every forty five seconds and a slow speed that is one revolution per minute and a half. He covered the turntable with burnt orange carpet, put the "T" Roadster on top of the turntable and encircled it with black drill bit stanchions linked together with copper chain rope. Inside the stanchions and rope encirclement around the "T" Roadster, he had displays of oil derricks and an oil painting of the Roadster he painted himself, to carry out the theme of "Texas Crude."

The entries of custom cars, rods, vans, and bikes are judged on their engineering, paint, interior, and individual display of them.

The International Show Car Association awarded prizes in class division awards, achievement and Special Awards.

"Texas Crude" comes under the class of 1923 Altered Street Roadster, placing first in its class. To qualify in this class it has to be a street car that can be started up and driven. It now has 2,500 actual miles.

In the Special Awards it placed first for outstanding Individual Display, Best Stanchion and Rope, Outstanding Rod Engine, Outstanding Rod Interior, Outstanding Altered Rod, and the International Show Car Association Street Achievement Award in its division.

The Most Popular Award sponsored by Popular Hot Rod Magazine went to John's 1923 "T" Roadster also, this award is given to the car exhibit that receives the most votes from the people who attend the show, these votes designate the peoples favorite car of the overall show. An exhibitor or anyone helping an exhibitor is not allowed to vote for this award.

John has entered his "T" Roadster in five car shows and has received fourteen awards.

Connie Turnbow of Haskell helped with the exhibit set up and Individual Display.

John and Connie want to say thanks to everyone who voted for "Texas Crude" in the Most Popular of Show Award.

VA Project Announced

The Veterans Administration Regional Office in Los Angeles, California, recently completed what was termed "Project World War I," a program which can be applied in every other State, including Texas. According to C.H. Herren, Service Officer for Haskell County, this particular program involved contacting all of the World War I veterans in the area and determining whether they were in receipt of all VA benefits to which they were entitled.

Surprisingly, more than 40% of those contacted were assisted in obtaining increases in either pension or compensation benefits. Among the group of 1,940 World War I veterans interviewed in the survey, 28 were eligible for the $3,800 automobile grant paid by the VA to those meeting the liberalized requirements due to service-connected disabilities.

A large number of World War I veterans are presently receiving no VA benefits, or may be entitled to increased benefits if they are assisted by a competent Veterans Service Officer. It follows that all veterans of World War I should contact their local Veterans Service Officer and determine whether they might be eligible for any benefits which they are not currently receiving.

Many of the older veterans are financially independent and have no desire to apply for any VA benefits. Others have depended upon the information and advice of persons who are not familiar with all of the VA programs, and are under the impression they are not entitled to any pension, compensation or other benefits. Some are even unaware of their eligibility for admission to a VA hospital for needed medical care.

Every World War I veteran who has a question concerning possible entitlement to any VA benefits should visit his or her local Veterans Service Officer as soon as possible for counseling.

Rice Springs News

DRIVELINE

It's the last week of February and it doesn't seem possible that two months of 1980 have already passed. There have been quite a few changes at the home these two months with new residents coming here to make their home, residents passing away, and residents leaving the home to go elsewhere to live. Also at the present we are in a little topsy-turvy condition as the wax is being stripped from all the floors and then they are being re-waxed and buffed to a beautiful shine. If you come out and find us in a messy condition, just forgive us this time and come back again when everything is all shiny and see the difference.

The home was saddened again this past week with the passing away of four of our residents. At this time we of Rice Springs would like to extend our sympathy to all the families of William Malone, Dessie Marion, John McMillin and Ernest Hull. All of these will greatly be missed by everyone here at the home.

We still have several residents who are not feeling well, but it seems that most have improved some since last week. We were very happy that Alma Cole was released from the Haskell hospital and able to come back to the home.

We had one new lady to come to Rice Springs to make it her home at least for a little while. She is Mrs. W.A. (Texie) Perdue of Rule. We are glad to have her here and hope she enjoys being a part of Rice Springs. Mamie Wheatley left Rice Springs last week to go back to her own home to live. We were sorry to lose her, but hope the best for her. Hoyt Gray of Munday came back to Rice Springs last week to live her with his wife, Lois. We want to welcome him back at this time.

Two of our residents celebrated birthdays last week. They were Ethel Edwards who celebrated her 94th on the 20th and Gene Sanders his 52nd on the 21st. We hope both had very enjoyable birthdays.

We were so glad to have Jo Simpson back last week for our Friday morning devotionals. We have really missed her while she and her mother were ill, preventing her from coming for a couple of weeks. The Country Bank was also back last Thursday night and was enjoyed by all who came out to hear them. We were also glad to have all our other volunteer people out last week, including the Haskell First Baptist WMU, who came out on Tuesday, Feb. 19th.

Mrs. Tom Holland led us in singing, while Mrs. Arlo Ivey played the piano and then Rev. Hubert Segro brought us a good message. We appreciated all of them coming and sharing their time with us. We want to also thank the members of the Haskell Assembly of God Church who came all the Sundays in February to present our morning services. We are looking forward to their coming again next year.

Again our thanks go to all of our visitors for the past week, whether they were local or out-of-town. Our out-of-town visitors for the week were:

"MEET OUR RESIDENTS"

This week I would like you to meet Mary Schonerstedt. She was the daughter of L.A. and Henrietta Wendeborn, born to them on April 27, 1889 in Coryell County. In 1905, she, along with her family, moved to Sagerton. At a party three miles south of Sagerton at Leavitt Hall, she met Paul Schonerstedt, who had been born in Germany and had come at the age of nine years old in 1885, along with his family to live in the United States and at the time Stamford was his home.

Paul and Mary were married on Sunday morning, January 8, 1908, in her family's home near Sagerton, by the Lutheran minister, F.A. Bracher. They made their home on her father's farm where Ella, now Mrs. Herman Nauert of Stamford, was born. After several years, they moved to Lockney in Floyd County, where Lena, now Lena Boedecker of Stamford, and Fred, who now lives on a farm between Sagerton and Rule were born.

In 1917, the Schonerstedts moved back to Paul's father's farm, which was located three miles southeast of Stamford in the New Hope Community, to help his father farm. It was there that their youngest daughter, Evelyn, now Mrs. Anton Teichelman of Sagerton, was born.

On April 26, 1919, Paul Schonerstedt died after having influenza and also lung poisoning from paint fumes. He was buried on April 27, 1919, Mary's 32nd birthday. Mary and her children then moved back to Sagerton to live near her parents. Later they moved to the farm she and Paul had bought two years before his death. The farm was located a mile southeast of Leavitt Hall. There were happy and hard times as Mary and her children worked side by side, day in and day out to earn their living and pay for their farm. The family faithfully attended the old St. Paul Lutheran Church in Sagerton.

Later after all her children were married, Mary moved to Stamford in 1942. Mary continued living in Stamford and in 1962, Emma Lammert, who is also now a resident of Rice Springs, came to live in Mary's home with her. For almost sixteen years, the two women shared their lives and families. On Dec. 30, 1977, Mary came to Rice Springs to live and has been living here since then.

Mary is the proud grandmother of twelve grandchildren, and twenty-six great grandchildren, and two great great grandchildren. She also has one sister, Lillie Spitzer, who also lives at Rice Springs, and one brother, John Wendeborn of Sagerton.

Mary attended the Christ Lutheran Church in Stamford. She now seems to enjoy all types of activities that we have. She takes exercises most mornings and loves to play games afterward. She is also a great lover of music. She can nearly always be found with a big smile on her face and laughter coming from her mouth.

That's the news for another week and until next week, let's all think only happy thoughts and the week will go much better for everyone.

The Price of Progress??? In 1948 only one in 33 American families owned two cars. Today it's one family in four . . . That's one reason for the energy shortage . . .

Nine of every ten American vacation trips are taken in automobiles.

Two-wheel Stats Dept. The average American motorcycle rider is male and 22 years old. The average American motorcycle is ridden 3,000 miles a year.

What's the safest thing you can do to protect yourself on a cycle? Wear a helmet. Your risk of fatal injury is 150 percent less with a helmet on. The next safest thing? Slow down and watch carefully when approaching intersections. Almost half of all serious car-motorcycle accidents happen at intersections, usually because a car driver doesn't notice an oncoming cycle and turns directly into its path while making a turn.

Brazil Puts Martinis In Its Tanks . . . This Latin country's solution to higher oil prices is good old ethyl alcohol, the stuff that puts the boo in booze. Cars in Brazil now run on a gasohol-mixture of 20 percent alcohol and 80 percent gasoline. By the end of the decade all cars will be required to run on pure alcohol distilled from sugar cane and other farm products.

The Fungus That Saved America: Meanwhile, back in the old laboratory, U.S. Army scientists have discovered an exotic fungus that turns ordinary garbage (paper, wood, cotton) into motor fuel. The fungus, trichoderma veridei, eats the garbage and converts it into sugar, which can be easily distilled to alcohol at an estimated cost of $1.22 per gallon.

SPEEDERS BEWARE! The Texas DPS has announced a new get-tough campaign against speeders: Unmarked patrol cars and camouflaged radar units may be used for the first time in years in Texas.

Gas Prices Up Again? Many energy experts are predicting $1.50 gasoline by the end of summer, with two dollars not that far over the horizon . . . Surprisingly, they say the most effective immediate conservation measure would be wide spread compliance with the 55 MPH speed limit, which would lower demand and ease the pressure on prices.

USDA Seeking Rural Conservation Comments

The U.S. Department of Agriculture wants your ideas, comments and suggestions on the future of soil and water conservation.

Under provisions of the Soil and Water Conservation Act of 1977, the USDA has completed an appraisal of soil, water, and related resources. Public comment on conservation problems were given some consideration in the preparation of proposed conservation strategies.

Glenn R. Brzozowski, County Executive Director, and Reese Clark, County Committee Chairman, Haskell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) urge local producers to acquaint themselves with the basic proposals of the Rural Conservation Act (RCA). Documents detailing the RCA process and proposals may be seen in four draft publications available for public review in the local ASCS offices or offices of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

Natural resources were divided into several areas for analysis and national objectives were set for each of the following: Soil Resources Quantity and Quality, Water Quality, Water Supply and Conservation, Fish and Wildlife Habitat, Upstream Flood Damages, Energy Conservation and Production, Related Natural Resources.

Seven alternative soil and water conservation programs to carry out these activities are also discussed. Of most concern to local rural producers, said Brzozowski, is the format of the alternative programs. These possible strategies are:

•Redirection of Existing Programs—under this strategy, USDA would continue existing programs, but the allocation of funds and personnel would be redirected.

•Cross Compliance—Producers would be required to apply effective conservation measures to qualify for benefits under other USDA programs, including commodity price supports, low interest loans, cost-sharing and crop insurance.

•Regional Resource Project Approach—This strategy would direct USDA programs toward the more urgent and chronic regional resource problems. Federal participation would be available only for programs that contribute to meeting national conservation objectives.

•State Leadership—This strategy would emphasize the use of backup regulatory authorities at the local, state and national level to carry out an effective national soil and water conservation program. Coupled with strong costshare and technical assistance programs and low interest loans the costs of solving resource problems to meet eligibility standards could either be borne by the farmer or with technical and financial assistance.

•Conservation Performance Bonus—This strategy provides incentives to producers who voluntarily apply and maintain conservation measures that meet USDA standards.

•National Resource Contracts—under this strategy, USDA would offer to purchase erosion reduction, irrigation water reductions, and other outputs of conservation from producers. The public would, in effect, buy specific benefits from those who run, operate, or control private natural resources.

During the public review period, regional, state and local meetings are to be held to inform the public on the contents of the draft documents explaining the resource appraisal and proposed strategies. These may be reviewed at local USDA Soil Conservation Service or Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

"Many questions need to be answered, said Clark and Brzozowski, such as 'At what level of government should a national conservation program be developed and carried out? Who will pay for these conservation efforts? How much are we willing to invest in conservation to insure a continued supply of food, fiber, clear water, and wildlife?' The RCA process is an effort to look ahead to the future, based on project resource demand over the next 50 years, and to select a strategy that will be acceptable to producers while meeting national objectives."

Please send your comments directly to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Georgia 30603. Replies must be postmarked no later than March 28, 1980, to be considered. All comments must be signed. Anyone interested in reviewing the documents or in finding out more information about upcoming RCA meetings should contact J.C. Yeary, Jr., of the Soil Conservation Service, or Glenn R. Brzozowski of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service staff.

Drug Abuse Week Set

Governor Bill Clements and the Drug Abuse Prevention Division of the Texas Department of Community Affairs has launched a new campaign against the state's drug problems that aims to involve people at all levels of society.

Clements has declared this week, February 24-March 1, Drug Abuse Prevention Week in Texas. The program is designed to increase public awareness that 'you don't have to use drugs to have a drug abuse problem.' Activities will include the release of statewide radio and television public service announcements, the use of radio and television talk show appearances by regional drug abuse coordinators, and posters publicizing alternative approaches to the drug abuse problem.

Drug Abuse Prevention Director Richard T. Spence says, "we want to avoid scapegoating...Drug abuse is not just the problem of the user or the fault of his family. It is a problem to employers who may be losing valuable work hours and personnel, to friends who see valued relationships suffer, to children who see other family members abusing drugs or alcohol, to parents who see children suffering the effects of drug usage, and to society as a whole in the cost of lost productivity of its members. If each individual will ask himself or herself what he or she can do, then real progress can begin."

Drug abuse figures show that the pattern of drug abuse in Texas is changing in some areas. Heroin has increased in price, become less readily available and the quality is very poor. As this has happened, narcotic addicts have turned to legally or illegally obtained synthetic narcotics, such as diluadid. At the same time there has been an increase in polydrug abuse, which is the use of a combination or variety of drugs.

Polydrug users rely heavily on legally or illegally obtained prescription drugs such as sedatives, tranquilizers, barbiturates, synthetic narcotics, analgesics and amphetamines. Pharmaceutically produced drugs are quality controlled and safer than illegally produced narcotics or methamphetamines.

In connection with the shift in abuse patterns, law enforcement agencies have noted a sharp increase in thefts of synthetic narcotics during the past two years. As price and popularity of these drugs increases, so does theft and burglary.

Although the patterns are changing, Spence believes that it is probable that there are no fewer drug abusers in Texas. "These shifts from one drug to another may be the result of pricing changes in the street, safety and even what is in vogue in the drug community."

While heroin use has declined, the abuse of Methamphetamine has risen slightly. Methamphetamines, or speed, can be illegally manufactured and presents serious health and physical hazards to those who use them.

Indicator data suggest that there is an upswing in deaths and emergency room treatment of individuals combining different drugs or drugs and alcohol. According to Spence, "we are seeing people who have not traditionally been associated in the public mind with drug abuse. That is, businessmen and women who abuse prescription drugs like tranquilizers, anti-depressants, and sedatives. These drugs, when combined with alcohol, can result in death."

Elderly people who frequently take a variety of medicines may become dependent on them. They may inadvertently or unintentionally abuse their medications. While they may not be seen in drug treatment facilities, their diminished capacity will certainly result in a loss or impairment of social, professional or familial relationships. "They are likely to be helped more by prevention than by treatment," says Spence.

The problem of the youthful abusers continues to be a major concern to Spence and the Drug Abuse Prevention Division. Young people are the most susceptible to the introduction of drugs through their peer group networks. They spend many hours a day outside their homes in the company of their peers. Parents are not always quickly aware that their children may be using drugs, and, all too often, the problem becomes serious before it is recognized.

The abuse of inhalants has become a real concern here in Texas. Spence feels "young people are probably sniffing because it is not difficult to obtain inhalants; they are inexpensive and they are accessible." Most inhalant abusers are young males. Inhalant abuse can produce permanent physical damage.

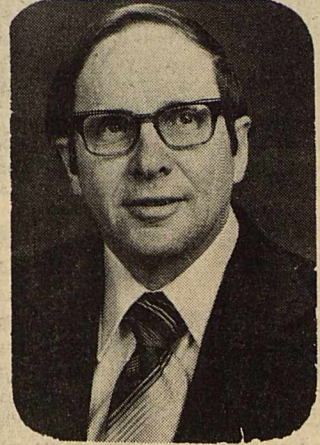

The use of marijuana has become increasingly common among Texas youth. It is also important to note that marijuana use can interfere with normal growth and adolescent developmental experience in the person who uses this drug. "Young people who stay high on marijuana cannot fully develop socially, academically, or psychologically during these crucial teenage years," says Spence. "Again, this is a drug which is easily available and peer group pressure is a major factor in its use. This is an area where parents, police and school administrators must band together in a team effort to have any meaningful impact."

A major thrust of this year's drug abuse prevention program is aimed at family members. Families are encouraged to talk with one another, to bring real or potential problems out into the open where they can be dealt with, and to assist one another in obtaining help when necessary. Posters will reflect the alternatives to getting high on drugs which families and groups can develop to help promote active and rewarding living patterns among young people.

The Drug Abuse Prevention Division has provided funds for the treatment of drug abusers and addicts. The division also funds prevention programs throughout the state of Texas. These programs are designed to educate, intervene and offer alternatives to drugs. Additionally, programs for women, the elderly and other groups are either being piloted or developed as the DAPD attempts to ensure that the needs of all the citizens of Texas are being met.

"Obviously, the key is co-operation," says Spence. "If law enforcement, prevention and treatment can all work together, and the community at large recognized that 'you don't have to use drugs to have a drug abuse problem,' then drug abuse can be better understood and prevented."

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Soviet tanks rolling into Afghanistan in December awakened our nation to the woeful state of our defense preparedness and brought forth renewal of our national resolve.

The Soviet presence in Afghanistan, and the accompanying danger to other non-aligned nations in Southwest Asia, still pose a serious threat to our national security -- but not the only one. Already we are beginning to hear the siren song to crawl back into our cocoon.

Some politicians now are telling us the Persian Gulf really isn't that vital to our interests after all. One presidential candidate has even suggested that the simple expediency of gas rationing would cancel our need to defend that area of the world.

The President finally -- and reluctantly -- asked Congress to delay the SALT II treaty in light of Russian adventurism. But it is the Administration's stated policy to act as though the treaty had been ratified.

After making much noise about a February deadline for declaring an Olympic boycott if Russian troops were still in Afghanistan, the Administration has said it may delay a decision until May.

Failure of our government to stick to its guns and mean what it has said in the past is a major cause of our current troubles in the world. Neither our allies nor our adversaries have believed we could be counted on to follow through on our commitments. A weakening of our resolve now would be the greatest threat to world peace I can imagine.

Unless the Soviet Union is convinced we will follow through on our announced intention to stop the Soviet land grab at the Afghan border, it may well decide to call our bluff. If our allies aren't convinced of our willingness to do what we say we will, how can we expect them to commit themselves to our course?

Soviet officials have become practiced in following their aggression with soft talk of peace and detente. Already, there are indications they will conduct a "peace offensive" to try to convince the U.S. and her allies that more military preparedness would be a mistake. And why shouldn't they? It's worked in the past.

But this time, the American people won't be fooled. The vast majority of our citizens realize now that we cannot maintain peace from a position of weakness, and we cannot count on the Soviet Union to act honorably. Now, we must make our voices heard, not only in Moscow, but also in Washington.

The Congress soon will begin working on the defense budget for next year. The President has recommended a 5 percent increase in real dollars. That is a start, but only a start. An initial assessment of our needs indicates we probably will need twice that increase.

Those are just numbers, however, meaningless in and of themselves. Congress, the Administration and the public must not lose sight of the real issue: We must stop our slide into military inferiority; we must rebuild our military, and we must reassert our national will.

PRIZE STEER

A Haskell youth is being honored by the local Dairy Queen for his success in raising and showing cattle. A photograph of the champion shorthorn steer of the 1980 Fort Worth Fat Stock Show exhibited by Stanley Hager, right, of Haskell and purchased by the owners of the Haskell Dairy Queen is being framed and will be hung on the wall of the Dairy Queen. Also pictured in the photograph is James L. Utley, executive vice-president and chief operating officer of Chapman Fast Foods, the largest independent operator of Dairy Queen restaurants in the world and owner of the local DQ. Also to be framed and displayed at the DQ will be a photograph of a ribbon-winning steer exhibited by Joe Wilfong of Haskell.

DQ Major Purchaser At Ft. Worth

Chapman Fast Foods—a Fort Worth based organization which is the largest independent operator of Dairy Queen restaurants in the world—continued its activities in behalf of Texas rural youth by becoming, for the second year in a row, the major purchaser of prize and ribbon winning steers at the just completed Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

In charge of the bidding at the 1980 show auction was I.B. (Barney) Chapman II of Fort Worth, president and chief executive officer of Chapman Fast Foods. Acting with him in the purchases was James L. Utley of Clyde, executive vice-president and chief operating officer for the organization that owns almost 50 Dairy Queen and Taco Plaza restaurants in Central and West Texas.

The Chapman group purchased more than $50,000 worth of steers, including the champion shorthorn steer of the show, exhibited by a Haskell youth and the reserve champion Angus, shown by a girl from Muleshoe.

All of the steers bought by Chapman were raised and exhibited by youths from or near towns where Chapman Fast Foods restaurants are located.

"It's our way of supporting our Texas rural youth," says Chapman. "We want to encourage these young people from our Dairy Queen towns to continue in the cattle business and to raise better and better cattle in Texas."

The Chapman Dairy Queens serve only 100 percent pure Texas beef in all of their burgers as another means of showing support for the cattlemen of the state.

In addition to offering encouragement to the young cattle raisers by purchasing their steers and by ensuring that they get a more than fair price for the steers they offer at the Fort Worth Fat Stock auction, Chapman also has each steer purchased photographed with the exhibitor and with a representative of his company.

The photographs are then sent to the newspapers in the home towns of each exhibitor for possible publication. In addition, Chapman has each picture framed and hung on the wall of the Dairy Queen in that exhibitor's town. Plus, each picture is featured on a place mat that is printed and used in all Chapman Dairy Queens.

Sagerton Holds Community Meeting

A Community meeting was held Monday evening of last week at the Sagerton Community Center to make plans for the annual Sagerton Hee-Haw production.

Delbert LeFevre, Chairman, called the meeting to order. The first business was the election of a new Community Chairman. Reece Clark was unanimously elected and Leon Stegemoeller was elected as vice-chairman and he conducted the business meeting. J.B. Toney retained his position as secretary-treasurer.

Allen Meier has consented to be the new Fire Chief for the Community, replacing Zenor Summers, who has retired. We wish to express our thanks to Zenor for his years of service. Although there was not much actual activity in putting out fires, he was always on call and kept the fire trucks ready to go when needed, and this has meant a lot to the community and given a feeling of security. Allen Meier's phone number in Sagerton is 817-997-2615 and his "Plow Boy" if that means of communication is needed.

Alvin Bredthauer was elected as maintenance chairman for the Community Center. Mrs. Joe Clark volunteered to be Park Supervisor and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre was elected to be publicity chairman for the community.

Mrs. Joe Clark, "Sagerton Hee-Haw" director, gave out parts to the cast for this year's production, which will be held March 21 and 22. Mrs. Charles Clark will be in charge of the music, Mrs. Pat Bivens in charge of publicity, and Mrs. F.A. Ulmer and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre in charge of the food, which will be served both evenings.

The first practice will be on March 4 at 7:30 p.m. and dress rehearsal will be on March 20 at 7:00 p.m. At this time Channel 32 will be here to televise it as they did last year. They will also be here for one of the performances. Mrs. Bivens announced.

Bass Club Holds Tourney

The Haskell Bass Club held their first tournament Feb. 24 at Lake Stamford. Sixteen fishermen braved the cold wind to fish the first tournament.

There were only three people that could trick the fish into taking their bait. Ed Hester won Big Bass and heavy stringer with one bass that weighed in at 4 lbs 15 oz. Charles Andress placed second with 4 lbs 3 oz on two fish. The only other fish to be weighed in was by Bill Mullins.

The next club meeting will be March 3 at 7:30 in the Haskell City Hall. Paul Clayton of the Knox City Bass Club will be presented at this meeting to discuss plans for a tournament between the two clubs. All members need to be present for this meeting and visitors are invited.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

Dear John Doe,

Hello! Would you like to make $10,000, $50,000, or even $100,000 for only a $100.00 investment? All you need to do is give $50.00 to the person who sent you this welcomed letter and another $50.00 to the first person listed below. Remove the name of the first person listed, copy the letter, add your name to the bottom of the list, and mail the letter to 12 more people of your own choice. Now just sit back and wait! Others will soon receive this letter with your name, and you will shortly be receiving thousands of dollars!

Sincerely,

Mary Jones

Right? Wrong! The above letter is an example of a typical letter used in a "chain letter" scheme, and such schemes are illegal in Texas! At first glance it may be difficult to see why these schemes have been declared unlawful. Many people believe that it is a fast and easy means to make money which does not hurt anyone. The problem, however, lies with market saturation. For example, in a chain letter scheme which uses twelve names in each letter, even the 13th buyer is in trouble because each person ahead of him involves another twelve names who themselves involve dozens of people. The entire population of New York State would be exhausted by the time the last buyer reaches the top of the list. Only the organizers have a chance to recoup their investment and make a profit. Those unfortunate enough to become purchasers shortly before the scheme collapses will not only fail to make any profit but will probably lose their original investment.

Our attorneys point out that such chain letters are against the law whenever anything of value (such as money, bonds, etc.) is involved. However, chain letters in which prayers, poems, recipes and other similar items are exchanged are not illegal.

In Texas organizers and participants of the illegal chain letter schemes may be prosecuted by the U. S. Postal Service's fraud bureau, the County Attorney's Office, and the Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division of the Attorney General's Office. The postal service tries to discourage chain letters by prosecuting participants under federal lottery and mail fraud statutes. Persons who violate the mail fraud statutes may be punished by a $1,000.00 fine or two years in prison or both for a first offense, and up to five years in prison for a succeeding offense. If the mails are not used to perpetuate the scheme, then the County Attorney may prosecute under §32.48 of the Texas Penal Code which states that "a person commits an offense if he contrives, prepares, sets up, proposes, operates, promotes, or participates in an endless chain." Such an offense is a Class B misdemeanor and may be punishable by a $1,000.00 fine or 180 days in jail or both. The Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division of the Attorney General's Office may also prosecute participants of the scheme under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act. The Act declares chain referral sales and pyramid sales unlawful.

If you should receive a letter similar to the one shown above, do not give or send anyone money. Instead contact the three agencies noted above so that proper action can be taken against the organizers and participants of the chain letter scheme.

State Farm Sets Open House March 8-9

Brian Burgess, Haskell's State Farm representative has announced their open house for March 8th and 9th. "We want to invite everyone to our open house. Our new building which previously housed the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, is right across the street from our old location. We'll be having refreshments, balloons for the kids and doorprizes. Come in and have a cup of coffee and keep your State Farm coffee cup. We'll be having some State Farm dignitaries down to help us dedicate the new facilities to the service of our area clients. Also we'll be honoring Leo Fetsch, long time State Farm agent in Munday who has just retired. We're all excited and are looking forward to a great time."

Brian, who started his own agency in Haskell almost three years ago, has recently taken over the servicing responsibilities for the retiring Leo Fetsch of Munday. In addition to a new servicing office just West of the Munday City Hall which opens three afternoons a week, the Burgess agency has installed a direct line to Munday using the same 422-4259 State Farm number Leo's clients are used to. This eliminates long distance charges when the Munday office is not open. Look for next week's article regarding Open House Activities.

After being welcomed by Dr. Gilmore, field day guests will hear several five minute research presentations by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists on such subjects as long-term grazing systems, 10-pasture short duration grazing systems, potassium supplementation programs and the influence of cacti on forage production.

Ranch Committee, Texas Section of the Society for Range Management and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In case of bad weather, the program will be held in the 4-H barn at Throckmorton.

Funny or Unfunny

Convicts in state penitentiaries have found a way to rake in social security checks. Here's how the con game works: The inmate "acts a little crazy," gets declared mentally unstable and begins collecting payments for his "disability," ranging from $166.00 to $518.30 per month. Some inmates spend the money on color TVs, stereos, electronic games and jogging outfits; more prudent ones invest in stocks and bonds.

Social security officials have no idea how many of their 5 million disability clients are in jail. Prison administrators don't mind; they say the extra money and comforts make for contented convicts.

EVA WHITE

I was born in LaMar County December 21st, 1897 to J.K.P. and Jennie Ellen Baugh. My father was named after one of his descendants, President James Knox Polk. My father served on the confederate side in the Civil War. My father tells how the men would walk in their shoes until they were all worn out, then the only way a man could get another pair of boots was by getting them off one of the many fallen soldiers.

My mother's father was killed in the Civil War and my grandmother died shortly thereafter because of grief, leaving her four children orphans. The children were dispersed among the kinfolk and for a time lost total contact with each other.

Our family moved to Haskell County in 1908. In 1910 my mother found out that one of her brothers was living in Ballinger. They had not seen or heard from each other for forty years.

I'll never forget waiting for Papa to get back from Stamford about four miles away with uncle Jim. Finally we kids could not wait any longer and we set out to meet them, walking over a half a mile. That week Uncle Jim stayed with us was one of the happiest memories I have.

In 1911, Papa moved four miles south of Rule during this time they were just getting settled. I attended school until I was in the sixth grade at Tanner Paint. We didn't own a farm but instead rented a place. It was during this time in 1912 that our landlord's son brought his cousin to a party we all were attending. It was love at first sight and when Papa moved again I was happier because we were moving closer to my boyfriend.

On November 29th, 1914 I married Columbus White. We were married 59 years and 10 months. We had four boys and two girls: Durward, Maurine, Mardell, Sammy and then twins, Floyd and Lloyd.

The worst part of the depression hit us in 1932. As a result our family was very poor. We raised most of our food but during that year they wouldn't take credit so we would have to sell our livestock one by one in order to buy things such as sugar, flour, soda, and baking powder, things you couldn't raise on a farm. We did make our own lard. Most of the people put their cars in the garage and took up riding wagons.

We didn't have running water on the farm so we would have to haul it. The gyp was so bad on one of our farms that the cattle would hardly drink the water, which made it more difficult but we made it through.

Then World War II hit in 1942. Sammy entered the War in 1943. I was literally sick at the thought. There were only 14 months between Sammy and the twins and I knew that my other sons would soon be called. Floyd was only seventeen when he enlisted but in boot camp he wrote his brother and told him not to come until he had to.

It also touched my daughter as she was engaged to a young man who was drafted. They were married during one of his furlows which was then followed by two years of separation. I prayed every night for my sons. Sammy was the only one that ever had overseas duty and I just knew they would all come home. The closest call Sammy had was when a submarine passed under his boat just before he was discharged. I can't express the joy I felt when my sons were discharged. Sammy went back to A&M where he had started before he was drafted. He finished a four year course in three years.

When I was 72 my husband had had ten operations and could no longer take care of the farm. We had sold the largest farm to my son but we kept the smaller one. When he told me we were going to have to hire another hand I told him I would take care of the farm because at the price of labor we couldn't afford it. Farm I did, one time working fifteen hours, but I got out crops planted and harvested with a little help from my son. There are times you just have to do when there is no one else to do the job.

Looking back, my husband used to say he never regretted what he did with his life and wouldn't change anything. But personally I would try better to have more patience than I did with my children. I would try to understand them more and be a better mother to them. I would try my best to help them find a quality in everything they did, even more than I did.

Our deepest sympathy goes to the family of Esther King who passed away Wednesday. We will all miss her presence. We also said goodbye to Edith McDaniels who went home this week. We wish her the best of health. We welcome Creed Flanary to the Lodge. I'm sure he will add a little "spice" to our life here. We welcome him to our home.

Thanks goes to the Assembly of God Church who held our monthly services this month along with all the others who came and ministered to the Lodge. We had a special treat when four Catholic Sisters from Monterey, Mexico came and visited our home. Thank you for honoring us with your presence and for making our resident's day a little brighter. We want to wish Mayre Tubbs, Florene Sorrels, Mae Jackson, Billie Oliphant, Dee Phillips, and Elsie Norman a Happy Birthday this month. We hope this coming year will bring happiness and good health. The Derrel Sorrels family treated Oscar Lewis and Mrs. Florene Sorrels to a special dinner in honor of Mrs. Sorrels Birthday this weekend.

Our visitors from around Haskell were: Mrs. Dee Ann Leek and family of Abilene visited Mrs. Ima Frieble. Mrs. Frieda Piland, her son and daughter-in-law visited Mrs. Bessie Piland. Bobby and Tina Shaw of Abilene visited Molly Jarred. Tommy Sorrels Newton Westmoreland, Mrs. Derrell Sorrels and Cynthia, and Minnie Dickey of Rule visited Mrs. Lummie

Westmoreland. Susie Brockett, Francis Mahon of Weinert visited Ola Mae Smith, Pearl Lakey, Oscar Lewis, and Mamie Vaughn. Mrs. Pearl Alexander of Weinert visited Ola Mae Smith and Creed Flanary. Dewayne and Tiny Vaughn of Anson visited Mrs. Mamie Vaughn. Mr. and Mrs. D.I. White of O'Brien and Sammy White of Knox City visited Mrs. Eva White. Gene Flanary, Cinda, Jina, and Russel Flanary, and Ruth Williams of Sagerton visited Creed Flanary. Lynn Matysiak and Nell Estes of Rule visited Irene Yarbrough, Eva White and Eron Boykin.

Our out-of-town visitors were: Teresa & Cady English of Irving, Roy and Randy Rogers of Walforth visited Mrs. Dora Long. Lucille Pickering of Lubbock and Rex Marrion of Fort Worth visited

Mr. J.L. Toliver. Mr. Al Stewart of California State visited Mrs. Mamie Vaughn. Agnes Oliphant and Juanita Brewer of Pampa visited Ray

Insulate your attic first.

The most effective defense against rising energy costs is proper insulation. Insulation keeps the heat in during the winter and out during the summer, so that both your heating and cooling costs will be less.

Insulation is measured in R-values and the higher the value, the more effective the insulation. R-values of R-30 in the ceilings and R-20 in the walls are now being recommended for new construction in this area.
