

It's time to pay our dues.

Most of us live in Haskell because we want to. The reasons explaining why we like Haskell are almost as varied as the individuals but on a list of reasons, one will be found more than others.

Small town atmosphere.

Many residents of Haskell are natives, they were born here and have spent most of their lives here. Others moved to Haskell by choice and almost everyone in both categories has had opportunities to move elsewhere.

We have enjoyed the advantages of living in a small town and now the time has come to pay our dues to our community and work together to solve some problems.

The problem of drug and alcohol abuse may not directly affect you or your family, but indirectly it affects all of us.

During a town meeting Friday

We owe it to ourselves, our children, our community and to the reputation of small towns.

Please be there.

Burglary Charges Filed

Burglary charges have been filed against Frankie Doyle Teague, 24, of Wichita Falls.

The charges were filed in connection with an incident last Sunday at the Eric Bergstrom farm, southeast of Haskell. Teague apparently drove to the house and honked his automobile horn several times. When no one came out of the house, he took gasoline from a large tank and placed it in his car tank.

He then entered the house and was shot with a small caliber pistol. He apparently drove himself to Stamford Memorial Hospital where he was treated and later transferred to Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

Town Meeting Set Friday

All Haskell residents are invited to attend a 'Town Meeting' this Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Building of the Haskell National Bank.

The meeting will be held in two parts with the first portion including a panel discussion dealing with drug and alcohol abuse. The second portion of the meeting will be a question and answer session which will be open to all topics.

A cross section of community officials have been invited to attend the meeting to participate in the question and answer session and most have agreed to attend.

Panel members will include Dr. Frank Cadenhead, Bill Blakley, Jerry Jennings and Bob Baker. Jennings has also agreed to serve as moderator during the question and answer session.

The four panel members represent different aspects of dealing with drug and alcohol problems and will provide a basic understanding of the magnitude of the problem locally.

During the question and answer session, different officials will provide opinions and suggestions concerning how individuals can assist in dealing with drug and alcohol abuse.

Panel members and other officials who have agreed to attend the meeting will be able to explain different aspects of dealing with persons abusing drugs and alcohol.

Officials will be on hand to explain budgetary, legal, medical, and police aspects of dealing with the problems.

All persons who have questions or who are willing to help solve the problem are urged to attend.

Haskell Sales Tax Up 20% For 1980

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Wednesday said a small decrease in the June city sales tax rebates may indicate consumer caution about the

Bid Accepted For Brick Village Project

Bids for modernization of 50 units of public housing in Haskell were opened Tuesday and the low bid of $398,450.00 was accepted.

The bid was submitted by Hoover Construction in Burnet and was the lowest of five bids presented.

The bid was accepted by the Haskell Housing Authority and the funding will be provided by a U. S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development Grant.

Before work on the project begins, HUD officials must approve the information contained in the bid.

Submitting a bid locally was McTid's Inc. of Haskell.

Suspect In Custody For Rule Burglaries

A 16 year old juvenile is in custody in the Haskell County Juvenile Detention Center in connection with two break-ins in Rule Monday night.

The break-ins occurred at the Farmers National Bank and Rule School.

The burglar gained entrance into the bank through the back door. The door was glass with an aluminum frame and almost all of the glass was removed.

The only items listed as missing Tuesday from the bank were ten silver dollars which had been in a desk drawer.

The burglar entered two different buildings at the school through two different classroom windows.

Several windows were broken and $4.00 were taken.

The juvenile in custody is a parolee from the Texas Youth Council and authorities now anticipate revocation of probation proceedings in connection with Monday nights incidents.

economy and spending patterns.

Bullock said 936 Texas cities would share $65.3 million this month, compared to payments of $67.7 million during the same period last year.

The City of Haskell received $14,515.69 compared to $18,796.58 for the same period last year.

Total 1980 payments to date for Haskell are $59,620.94 as compared to 1979 payments for the same period of $49,552.00. 1980 payments represent an increase of 20%.

While sales in the last quarter of 1979 and the first quarter of 1980 were generally strong, sales tax returns now are picking up the period where national credit restraint was being urged, he said.

"We can't be sure a peak has been reached until the 1980 second quarter returns are filed and analyzed sometime after July 31," Bullock said.

He said 1980 payments through June amount to $266.9 million compared to 1979 payments for the same period of $218 million.

June rebates to major Texas cities include:

—Houston, $13.5 million, compared to $14.3 million in June of last year.

—Dallas, $8 million this month compared to $7.9 million during the same period last year.

—Fort Worth, $2.3 million, compared to $2.6 million during June in 1979.

—San Antonio, $3.547 million, compared to $3.556 million during the same period last year.

The optional city sales tax is collected by merchants and businesses along with the state's sales tax and is rebated monthly to the cities in which it is collected by the Comptroller's office.

BANK DOOR

Almost all glass from this door was removed Monday night during a burglary at Farmers National Bank in Rule. Ten silver dollars were taken in the burglary according to bank officials.

SCHOOL BURGLARY

$4.00 was taken from the Rule School Monday night during a burglary, but damage to windows and equipment may total as much as $400.00 according to Supt. Lavon Beakley. A 16 year old juvenile is in custody in connection with burglaries at the school and bank.

Hemlines Can Predict Economy

From Lou Gilly County Extension Agent
You can watch hemlines and sometimes actually predict the nation's economy.

Researchers say much of our behavior depends on the economic climate of the times—and hemlines are part of that behavior.

As economic upswings occur, women raise their dress lengths.

As hard times approach, they are lowered.

One theory predicts that economies in the western world flow in long-term cycles of 45-60 years.

In this type of cycle, there are about 30 years of economic climbs—and about 15-20 years of hard times.

Behavior and economics work like this:

Economic Upswings
During economic upswings, several things happen.

That's the time for social revolutions—a period in which younger generations rebel against established traditions and norms.

People, in general, adopt attitudes which show a striking contrast to those held a few years earlier.

On a more personal level, people tend to liberate themselves from conventional behavior.

For example, divorce rates increase, publications of sex magazines increase, and scandals are more likely to be uncovered.

This is a period of time in which people can and do enjoy the pleasures of life.

This also tends to be a productive period for the arts and the social sciences, because there is time, money and energy which can be devoted to these areas.

In addition, people who have stable economic resources can more easily take risks.

They feel more confident about their own powers, and they believe they have control over their own destiny.

During economic upswings, people also believe that life can be made better, and injustices, therefore, are less tolerated.

As a result of all this, the political climate changes, too, to one of individualistic capitalism.

Economic Hard Times
When the economy becomes unstable, the nation's personality also changes.

People become disenchanted with capitalism, and they sway toward socialistic policies.

On the whole, there is much less tolerance of unusual social behavior.

Young people regain respect for the older generations, the traditional attitudes and behaviors.

Marriages and family life take on a "new meaning," and they become stronger units of society.

Mobility of people slows down, and families spend more time together at home.

And Hemlines...
And here's where the hemlines change.

Women tend to lower their skirts (and pursue the women's movement "underground") during hard times.

So Watch
Now that we better understand the tie in, we can take up "hemline watching" just to help sort out the reasons why people are behaving as they are.

Save Money On Prescriptions By Using Their Scientific Name

Most people could be saving money on prescription drugs that are available generically; that is, prescribed and filled by their scientific name, rather than by their more expensive brand name equivalents.

The Food and Drug Administration says 3,330 of its 5,000 approved drugs have more than one manufacturer and thus are available generically. About three-quarters, or 2,400 of these are therapeutically equivalent drugs. Ask your doctor or pharmacist if there are generic alternatives for the prescriptions you need.

Brand name drugs become well-known during their 17-year patent protection when they have the market to themselves. After the patent expires, other manufacturers can produce the same drug under its generic name or under an alternate brand, and often charge less.

For example, antibiotics such as Achromycin, Sumycin, or Tetracyclin brands may be prescribed, but tetracycline is the simple generic alternative. Similarly, common prescription drugs such as Librium, Darvon Compound-65, Elavil, Endep, Benadryl, Lomotil, Antiver, Diuril, and Tylenol with Codeine all have generic alternatives.

Some consumers think that generics are produced by small or unknown manufacturers. This should not be a concern. Ninety percent of generics are made by the major drug companies.

Generics contain the same drug ingredients as the well-known brand names, so most are equivalent. However, new testing methods have revealed that about one-quarter of drugs available from different manufacturers may not be "bioequivalent" in the speed in which they're absorbed into your body. But most are, and the Food and Drug Administration procedures since 1970 require proof of bioequivalence in New Drug Applications.

Generic prescribing has been on the rise in the past decade. In fact, over 160 million generic prescriptions were written last year. But this is only a small fraction of all prescriptions written. To join the trend, ask your physician if a generic drug can be prescribed for you instead of a brand name. And ask your pharmacist if a generic can be substituted for a brand name prescription. Most states now allow this, and it may save you money.

New grass found for shaded sites

Researchers at Texas A&M University say they have found a grass that grows in the shade of a tree, normally the most barren part of a Texas homeowner's yard.

Although the most widely used warm season grass for shaded sites is St. Augustine, the researchers at Texas A&M's Department of Soil and Crop Sciences found it may not be the best grass after all.

While no final recommendations can be made, all supportive information suggests that a grass called tall fescue has excellent potential where there is adequate irrigation, especially in warm, humid regions.

During the three year analysis, the Texas A&M scientists found that the tall fescue grass took root readily and grew without any significant problems if irrigated.

Several social functions will honor Peggy and Johnny prior to the beginning of the rodeo and art show.

She will be riding her own quarter horse called "Sup" - short for "Superhorse" when she leads the sponsors in the parade and sets the clover-leaf pattern for the sponsor competition.

Leonard Villereal, Rams, hit 2 doubles in Monday's game against the Eagles. Jim Baum, Eagles, made a double also. ## McIntire, Pippin Wed In Garden Ceremony

Karen Sherrill Pippin became the bride of Robert W. McIntire, Jr. in a garden wedding at Green Pastures, Austin, on Saturday, June 14. Officiating at the ceremony was Judge B.C. Chapman, great-uncle of the bride.

The bride wore a colonial tiered gown of candlelight ivory voile banded in ivory ribbon. Her picture hat of apricot straw was trimmed with matching silk flowers. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers and baby's breath with ivory satin streamers.

Mrs. Charles Chapman of Haskell was Matron of Honor. Mrs. Chapman wore a peach chiffon off-the-shoulder gown and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

James Garrison of Spice-wood Springs served as the groom's Best Man.

Mrs. McIntire, the daughter of Carolyn W. Pippin and the late George M. Jack Pippin of Haskell, is a graduate of Haskell High School and the University of Texas at Austin. McIntire, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. McIntire of Carlsbad, New Mexico, is a graduate of Carlsbad High School and the University of Eastern New Mexico.

The Colonial Room at Green Pastures was the scene of a champagne reception. Appointments of silver graced the ivory satin banquet cloth and complementing the flower-trimmed ivory tiered wedding cake. Canapes and finger sandwiches were served by attendants from silver trays. Guests were registered in the Receiving Hall where bouquets of roses and spring flowers highlighted the antebellum setting.

Following a trip to San Antonio, the couple will live in Oklahoma City where McIntire is Vice-President, CFA, Trusts and Investments Counsellor, at the First National Bank of Oklahoma City.

John Barclay was host to a cocktail party honoring Karen Pippin and Bob McIntire.

32nd Sanders Reunion Held In Seymour

From several states and many Texas towns, descendants of the Semion Sanders family who came from Alabama to Texas in 1837 converged on the City Park at Seymour Saturday and Sunday June 14 and 15, 1980 for the thirty-second annual reunion held each year on the second Saturday and Sunday in June. Each reunion has always been in the Seymour City Park and it is a special place to every member of the family. The reunion was started by Andrew Sanders of Weinert thirty-two years ago. His reason for choosing Seymour was for the central location of most of the family who lived in Texas. The family has grown so that now they are scattered over many states. Mrs. Andrew (Fronia) Sanders of Weinert was still the oldest living member that attended the reunion this year. Aunt Fronia, as most lovingly called her, was 88 on her last birthday May 12.

Some two hundred forty-three registered for this year's reunion and every year there are those who fail to register. Traveling the farthest was Carol Sue Skidmore and her family of Rock Springs, Wyoming some 1130 miles from Seymour. Carol Sue brought seven of her family to the reunion. She said her husband, a petroleum engineer, is wanting to take her to Australia (even father from Seymour). Carol Sue is a member of the best represented family, the Sammie Sanders, at the reunion.

and Loretta Payne, all of Haskell. Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Sanders, Shawn and April and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Maupin, Bill, Susan, and Loretta came to go with their mother Mrs. Jack Sanders.

O'Neal Reunion Held June 7 & 8

The descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willie H. O'Neal observed their reunion Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8, 1980.

On Saturday evening at 6:30, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Horace O'Neal were hosts for a dinner at the Lee Roy O'Neal home. Much reminiscing, picture taking and visiting were enjoyed.

On Sunday a brunch and lunch was served in the Community Room. Picture taking and visiting continued throughout the day.

This was the second reunion. June O'Neal Rowan and Elaine O'Neal Cooper kindled the spark that flamed into the idea of having the reunions. The first was observed in Pampa at Elaine's home. It is hoped that each year relatives and friends of the O'Neal family can meet and memorialize the people in whose honor these happy 'get-togethers' are held.

Willie and Jimmie Daily O'Neal came to Haskell County with their family in January, 1921 and resided in the Rose Community east of Haskell.

They were the parents of four boys and two girls. Those living are Robert, Horace and Lee Roy, and Loree. Deceased are Richard and Ora O'Neal Lusk.

Several recognitions were mentioned: the oldest person attending was Robert O'Neal from Hereford, Arizona. The youngest was 10 month-old Rachel O'Neal, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Barry O'Neal of Irving.

The relative with the most children and grandchildren present was Loree Hamilton.

The relatives who traveled the farthest were Robert and Allene O'Neal and son, Norman, from Hereford, Arizona, and Amy and Jim Branch from Cove, Ark.

Thirty-nine relatives registered from Haskell, Seymour, Big Lake, Pampa, Loving, Graham, Irving, Knox City, Fluvanna, Wichita Falls and Hereford, Ariz. and Cove, Ark.

Floyd Lusk of Haskell and Joe Michaud of Wichita Falls were special guests of the family.

REFUGEES FLOOD WELFARE ROLES
Just as Cubans have taken over Florida the Indochinese are taking over large parts of California. Edwin Sarsfield heads San Francisco's Welfare Department. He says they cannot keep up with the flood of Asian applicants. Here is his report which found:

- 1) Over half the 10,000 Indochinese in San Francisco are on welfare. Some 400 new Indochinese arrive in the city every month. Carter's Dept. of HEW has ordered the city to place them on welfare within 45 days.
- 2) By the end of the year Indochinese will make up 25% of all those on welfare in San Francisco. Of the Indochinese moving to California from other states because they prefer the climate, 45% were not previously on welfare. Tom Malla of the Rescue Committee blames this on the fact that California pays higher welfare benefits and "once they become addicted to the crutch of public assistance, it becomes a security blanket."
- 3) San Francisco's welfare costs had stabilized at $5.7 million a year but now will jump to $17.5 million this year. Pres. Carter has asked Congress to approve a $4 billion increase in welfare just to take care of Indochinese immigrants he is bringing in at the staggering rate of 14,000 every single month with no end in sight.

Stenholm Opposes Low Mike Discounts

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm today led the opposition to increases in the low micronaire (mike) discounts for the 1980 Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) cotton loan schedule, asking Agriculture Secretary Bergland for a reversal in the formula which Stenholm said could cost the Texas cotton industry "millions of dollars in penalties."

Stenholm, a member of the House Agriculture Cotton Subcommittee, contacted Bergland in behalf of several other Texas delegation members, including Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower and Congressmen Jack Hightower, E. (Kika) de la Garza and Kent Hance.

The micronaire reading of cotton denotes the fineness of the lint, which many cotton mills believe affects the fiber's spinning characteristics. "A low mike reading means the farmer receives a penalty both on the spot market price of cotton, as well as the CCC loan schedule," Stenholm explained. "It is the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) responsibility to come up with the most equitable formula to keep the loan schedule in line with anticipated spot market prices."

"It is our understanding that the loan discount differentials were figured on a 2 to 1 weighting procedure this year," Stenholm said, "a dramatic departure from previous years. In fact, my information shows that since 1972, the weighting formula has always been at least 5 to 1 and has ranged as high as 10 to 1."

A 2 to 1 weighting factor gives only twice the emphasis to last year's mike loan discount as it does to last year's spot market discount, he explained, thereby increasing the downward effect upon this year's low mike loan discount. If a 5 to 1 factor were used, the increase in the discount would not be as great.

Stenholm said the 2 to 1 ratio was "particularly objectionable since the 1979 crop year in Texas was one of abnormally large supplies of low-mike cotton which drove down the spot price differentials an inordinate amount over what would normally have been expected."

"It is not like all of this cotton went to the loan or even that CCC will end up with large amounts of low mike cotton in their stocks," Stenholm said in comments to Bergland. "In fact, I expect that all of this cotton will be utilized by the trade."

"I don't object to the continuation of the 5 to 1 weighting factor," he continued, even though I realize that this formula will result in an increase in the loan differentials. However, I think it is unfair to Texas producers to change this formula from the 5 to 1 factor that had been used for a number of years. Conditions in nature dictate the mike reading and last year was just a freak year which produced an overabundance of low mike cotton in Texas."

"This decision of USDA, which officials there have told me was a 'judgement call,' will result in an unusually harsh burden on the cotton farmers in the Texas Rolling Plains and High Plains areas when combined with the 2.23-cent per pound drop in the national average base loan rate for 1980," Stenholm said, "and it is most urgent that this decision be reversed quickly."

Cattlemen's Field Day Set In Throckmorton

A tour of the R.A. Brown Ranch near Throckmorton will be held in conjunction with a cattlemen's field day Saturday, June 21, says Rob Brown of Throckmorton. The ranch is located four miles west on Hwy. 380 and one mile north from the ranch sign.

The program is co-sponsored by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, the National Cattlemen's Association, the Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management and the American Simmental Association.

The program is open to all interested cattlemen and is expected to attract several hundred ranchers from across the state.

The program will begin with a 10 a.m. tour of the R.A. Brown Ranch which will include observation of the ranch's Quarter horses and Simbrah cattle, a new breed combining the best attributes of the Simmental and the Brahman. There will be a demonstration of the Savory Grazing Method and an electric fencing system developed in Australia.

Following lunch, the group will adjourn to the Throckmorton High School auditorium to hear updates on current activities of TSCRA and NCA. TSCRA will be represented by Don C. King, secretary-general manager from Fort Worth, and NCA will be represented by Duty Rowe, regional vice-president from Oklahoma.

A panel discussion on building the new Simbrah breed will be chaired by Brown. The panel includes Dr. Ike Smart of Louisiana State University; Dr. Randall Grooms, livestock specialist with Texas A&M University; and Dr. Earl Peterson, ASA executive secretary.

Dr. Henry Wright of Texas Tech University will discuss the use of burning to control mesquite and prickly pear. An actual demonstration of controlled burning will be held at 3:30 p.m. on the Brown Ranch.

The meeting will conclude at 4:30 p.m. following the pasture tour, Brown said.

Playday Set

Essay On Nuclear Energy Wins Contest

Princeton High School sophomore Keith Carney is one of 12 students who won a $50 U.S. Savings Bond in a statewide writing contest earlier this year.

The 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Koch, Springdale, Ohio, Keith shares this honor with 11 other Ohio students from high schools or junior high schools, who have been named finalists in an essay contest sponsored by the Ohio Conservation Congress and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of Ohio.

The topic of the essay is "Nuclear Power in Our Future."

A total of 4,986 entries established a variety of opinions from students, whose essays were limited to a maximum of 500 words.

Pursuing the thesis that nuclear power is the most practical way to complement fossil fuels in America Keith wrote:

"The United States is facing grave energy problems because the world's supply of fossil fuels is quickly dwindling.

"Nuclear energy is the answer to the energy needs of the United States. Nuclear energy is safe, it will decrease the United States' energy dependence on other countries, and it will supply the energy that fossil fuels can no longer provide in the same abundance as in the past.

"Safety is a highly discussed aspect of nuclear energy. Nobody has even been killed as the result of a nuclear power plant.

"In fact, in a study kit produced by Science and Mankind, Inc., the statement 'You have 75,000 more chances of dying in a car accident than in a nuclear accident' can be found.

"All nuclear plants are forced to adhere to strict government regulations, making the production of nuclear energy a very safe process.

"In these times of international unrest it is becoming increasingly more important for the United States to be self-sufficient in regard to its energy consumption.

"Every barrel of oil imported gives foreign, and often unfriendly, nations a tighter hold on the United States as its people and industries become more and more reliant on this energy.

"Nuclear energy provides an excellent chance for the United States to decrease its dependence on foreign fuels because it will be domestically produced with no need for the importation of anything from other countries.

"The United States can no longer depend on the dwindling amount of fossil fuels to supply all of the energy needs that it has in the past. In a kit made by Science and Mankind, Inc., it was stated that fossil fuels now provide 96 percent of the United States' energy.

"It was also stated that up to one half of the nation's electricity may be made by nuclear power by the year 2000.

"Nuclear energy is the only practical alternative to fossil fuels since the United States does not have the technology to utilize solar power, the much-discussed alternative to nuclear energy, on a large scale.

"The widespread use of nuclear energy in the future is a sensible plan because of its safety, the United States' need for energy independence from other countries, and the need to cut down on the use of fossil fuels.

"If nuclear energy is not utilized the United States will find itself in critical trouble because of the decreasing supply of fossil fuels and the decreasing willingness of the rest of the world to sell their fuel to the United States."

Keith is the grandson of Mrs. G.G. Carney and Mr. and Mrs. L.M. Jeter of Haskell.

At the beginning of the 1978-79 academic year, enrollment in journalism schools was 70,601 — up seven percent from 1977-78.

Clothing Care Begins With Reading Labels

BY LOU GILLY

Clothes last longer and look better if they receive proper care. Therefore, clothing care begins with reading and heeding the labels and tags! In the United States, the Federal Trade Commission ruling on permanent care labeling now requires that labels giving care and maintenance instructions be permanently affixed to all finished articles of wearing apparel that require care. Yard goods must be accompanied by a care label or tag which can be permanently attached to the finished article. These must fully inform the consumer of correct procedures (washing, ironing, bleaching, drycleaning, etc.) for regular maintenance or care of the particular article and warn against those care procedures likely to damage it.

In Canada, Consumer and Corporate Affairs has established a voluntary system of care labeling which is permanently attached to the garment. The system consists of five symbols representing basic care procedures for washing, bleaching, ironing, drying and drycleaning. The symbols also apply to trim, zippers and notions. The three traffic signal colors are used for each symbol to designate different instructions. These symbols relate primarily to the properties of colorfastness and dimensional stability, and not to the ability of the article to wear or otherwise perform satisfactorily in service. If care symbols are to be provided for piece goods the label should be affixed to the end of the bolt core or spool on which the goods are displayed for sale, or in such a way that the information is clearly visible to the prospective purchaser.

As useful as labels are, they can't provide all the important care information. To keep laundry and drycleaning, ironing and pressing and your clothes replacement rate to a minimum, you would do well to follow these routine care procedures:

- Dress and undress carefully to avoid snags, rips and tears. Put dresses on over your head, or remove shoes before stepping into a garment. Make sure your deodorant is completely dry before doing so, and if you have already applied makeup, proceed with caution.

- Protect clothes as you wear them. Wear washable or old garments for work around the house or yard; use aprons and napkins to prevent food stains; wear a raincoat and boots or rubbers in bad weather; use dress shields or anti-perspiration to prevent perspiration damage; do not overstuff pockets or purses. Spray ties, cloth purses, etc., with a soil-repellent product before using.

- Do not wear jewelry that will discolor, snag, tear or otherwise damage garments. Be sure pens do not leak before pocketing them.

- Check out seats for crumbs, spillage, dirt, candy and gum before sitting down, and be careful what you lean against.

- Inspect your clothes carefully, immediately after wearing. Are any spots or stains present? Remove them promptly with proper cleaning agents and techniques. Consult a commercial cleaner if you are not sure of fiber content or method of stain removal. Do not press or iron stained areas. Heat-set stains are difficult, if not impossible, to remove. Does the garment have any missing buttons, tears, rips in hem or seams? Repair them right away! If it does not need laundering or cleaning, press or iron as required. Steam out wrinkles by hanging the garment in the bathroom while you shower or bathe.

- Place clothes of woven fabrics on wooden or plastic hangers after each wearing. (Wire hangers are the wrong shape and can rust in damp climates.) Remove belt so as not to strain loops. Take time to fasten buttons and close zippers. Wrinkled sleeves? Stuff them with tissue. Be sure that shoulders, sleeves and creases are straight, that collars and lapels are in place.

- Brush garments to remove lint and dust. Don't forget collars and cuffs!

- Sweaters and other knitted garments should be folded so they won't stretch, and placed on a shelf or in a drawer.

- Prepare clothes for seasonal storage. Because of their vulnerability to moths and carpet beetles, woolen garments in particular should be stored according to certain procedures. To insure the elimination of any moth larvae they might contain, it is wise to launder or dryclean them before storing. Even man-made fabrics and those with moth-resistant finishes can be damaged if food spots and stains attract insects. If the clothes have been recently cleaned and you do not regard this as necessary, follow directions as given above for short-term storage (repairing, brushing, etc.). They may be hung in garment bags containing moth balls, flakes or crystals, used according to directions. Or if you prefer, fold loosely and neatly to avoid wrinkles and store in boxes. Cardboard boxes will do; cedar chests and cedar-lined closets aren't needed if these directions are followed and if the boxes and closets used are first carefully cleaned to remove any moth larvae. Be sure to list the contents of each box in a highly visible place!

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Earlier this week the House passed the Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1980, a bill which some have called the most important civil rights legislation of the decade. Despite this claim, I voted against this measure for two reasons: 1) it attacks basic principles of private ownership of property, and 2) it leaves the federal bureaucracy — and not our judicial system — in charge of handling complaints regarding alleged discrimination in housing.

This means that seven Housing and Urban Development (HUD) bureaucrats, administrative law judges, will have to handle approximately 3,000 housing discrimination disputes that arise each year across the United States. Ideally, these cases should be under the jurisdiction of federal courts. During debate on the floor I supported an amendment, the Sensenbrenner-Volkmer Amendment, which would use federal magistrates to expedite handling of housing discrimination disputes. Unfortunately my colleagues rejected this amendment by one vote, making HUD the investigator, prosecutor, judge, and jury in these suits.

By voting down the Sensenbrenner-Volkmer Amendment and subsequently passing the Fair Housing Amendments Act bill, the Congress has created a system where the victims of housing discrimination cannot be compensated for their misfortunes even if their complaint is upheld. This occurs because HUD's administrative law judges do not have the authority to award civil damages to the complainant. These civil servants can only levy civil penalties — up to $10,000 — against the party guilty of discrimination. Any civil damages awarded by the administrative law judges would be unconstitutional. As a result, the discrimination victim receives neither monetary compensation nor the property which he had originally been denied.

According to the provisions of this bill, as passed by the full House, if the property has been sold to another purchaser in the meantime, that purchaser keeps it regardless of the results of the HUD investigation. This bill, then, only gives discrimination victims the satisfaction of having their complaint upheld. Otherwise, the complainant has not gotten a thing.

In spite of these major problems, there was one amendment to this Fair Housing Bill that I especially supported, and which was agreed to by the full House. This amendment, proposed by Congressman Sam Hall (D-Tex.), provides two exemptions to the Act. The first is for single-family homes sold or rented by the owner, and states that an owner of not more than three single-family homes may sell or rent to anyone he chooses, so long as he does not use a real estate agency or salesman. The Hall Amendment also exempts the rental of rooms in a four-family dwelling in which the owner lives. Without these exemptions, persons renting out a portion of their home for subsistence income and servicemen leasing their homes while on extended tours of duty, for example, would be subject to possible HUD administrative action and Federal Government harassment.

Soil treatment can terminate termite problems

COLLEGE STATION — Sooner or later, nearly all Texas homes are subject to the heartbreak of termites and the agony of their teeth.

Texas A&M University scientists say the only known method of preventing subterranean termites is a chemical soil treatment during construction.

A one-time application during construction might run up to $200, while homes already built could require as much as 18 cents a square foot to receive the treatment.

Getting It All In Perspective

BY GINA JENNINGS

I used to spend just a whole lot of time worrying about the economy and who's going to be the next president and crime in the streets. I did, at least, until I started reading the newspapers a little more closely and found out there were a lot more very important things to worry about as well. I am afraid that I have been guilty of a common human malady. We human beings tend to take ourselves so seriously that we overlook a lot of things that, although they may be distant, are still very worthy of our anxiety. It seems to me that we get so wrapped up in our immediate problems, we kind of get the real world out of perspective. I guess the headline that first got my attention was one that read, "Ugandan Elephants Face Extinction..." I said to myself when I read that line, "Here I am in a fuss about the Russians in Afghanistan while never giving a thought to the Ugandan Elephants who are in such terrible distress." I know perfectly well, of course, that there is not a thing I can do for the Ugandan Elephant but what upset me so was that if the Ugandan Elephant could be extinct right under my nose without my ever knowing it, then most probably there were dozens of other atrocities just crying to be worried about that I was not even aware of. I wised up pretty quick though. I started searching the back pages of the newspapers daily for items which might have escaped my attention before.

To my surprise, I found one particular situation which absolutely demanded concern and worry (if not outright grief) was the pitiful state of pigs. Not just American pigs—although they are certainly having a very rough go of it these days—but pigs internationally. I gathered from what I read that a terrible swine flu virus periodically pestering pigs all over the southern hemisphere!

Not only the southern hemisphere has to worry about nauseous pigs either—American pigs are also being jeopardized because of the Cuban refugees to this country. I had a hard time understanding at first (because this article I read was very short) why the Cuban refugees were a threat to American Pigs but I think I figured it out on my own. I believe since the virus has already affected Cuban pigs, it is possible that one of them might disguise himself as a short, rather pink Cuban refugee and slip undetected past the immigration authorities. Certainly, the pig is well-known to be one of the smartest animals around so he could probably teach himself to say "Como estas" well enough to fool most Americans.

On top of all this, as if the poor porkers didn't have enough problems with the flu, government-granted researchers have started using pigs to test the effects of jogging on the heart. You may find it hard to believe but, in fact, somewhere in Arizona there are full-grown men chasing pigs around and around a track poking them with enormous forks to keep them jogging. This in itself is enough to worry about for several days. Yet, the question haunts me—What recognition will these noble porkers receive when they inevitably keel over in cardiac arrest giving their very lives for science? Do you think you will read the headline in the paper the following morning, "Jogging Pig Gives Life for Medical Research"?

Lest I be accused of citing just one isolated incident of pig abuse (which if you are calloused might not be enough to worry you properly) let me tell you another tale of woe hot off the presses. Just today an AP photo actually showed a pig being forced to leap over a fence to entertain visitors at a zoo. It is obvious to anyone who takes a careful look, that the physique of the average pig does not lend itself to hurdling or joggin either one and that these must be suffering terribly. In addition, the wirephoto confirmed one serious worry of mine. These pigs are not even being supplied with proper athletic shoes, which are so very important to avoid fallen arches and shin splints. I have therefore divided my time between worrying about pigs with the flu; pigs with heart conditions; and pigs with shin splints. If one is creative, one may find all manner of things to worry about in these situations. Once I discovered that the only way to get rid of the swine flu, for example, is to do away with the pig, I was able to extrapolate and worry about an eventual shortage of footballs. What a tragedy it would be if pigs and footballs went the way of the Ugandan Elephant!

My advice is then: If you are prone toward worry, don't limit your horizons to domestic concerns or even national concerns. Don't be selfish and nearsighted in your anxiety, be broad and altruistic—Worry about the WHOLE WORLD! And the next time someone approaches you and says, "I worry about the Russians intentions in Afganistan," (or some such thing) wave your hands wildly and leap about saying, "That's all well and good to worry about that sometimes but what about vanishing Ugandan Elephants and nauseous Cuban Pigs and a shortage of footballs?"

Although the person may at first be shocked at your outburst, he will thank you later for helping him get it all in perspective.

Artesis, New Mexico, and Jona Valentine of Tahoka, vocalists; Don Weemes of Hereford, drums; and Lynn Daniel of Ralls, part-time instructor and bass guitarist. This year's production is highlighted by a basic rhythm section, which will be a mainstay of the show, a full string section and full vocal section as well. "It's patterned more after the modern country sound," says steel guitarist Tim McCasland. "The whole second act is going to be contemporary music, more of a Nashville based sound," he explained.

Elegant costuming, multi levels of staging, and multi-colored lighting also will add to the effect of a polished, professional country music show, says the show's writer, Helen Roberts, SPC assistant professor of speech and drama. She also is handling choreography, costumes, lighting and special effects with help from the crew. The female vocalists in the show, Jona Valentine of Takhoka and Natalie Berryhill of Wellman, will be featured this year on more tunes made popular by their sex. The Sandyland Singers (Loveless, Huckabee and Weemes), a new trio in the show, will do a number made famous by Hank Williams, "Jambalaya."

The show will help raise funds for treatment services for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center with campuses in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder.

DOGGONE SHAME

Dog may be man's best friend, but Sunday the Haskell Fire Dept. proved to be at least one dog's best friend when it responded quickly to a fire call about 2 p.m. The fire was located behind the house of H. R. Greene, 208 N. Av E, and involved the home of Champ—a canine member of the Greene family. Although the doghouse suffered fairly extensive damage by the fire, Champ seemed more puzzled about all the excitement than distressed about his home.

Country Music Show To Benefit WTRC

"The Golden Years of Country Music," the famed show put on each summer by South Plains College, Levelland, is scheduled for a show Friday, June 20, 1980 in Abilene. Show time is 8 p.m. in the Abilene Civic Center. The show will benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Tickets are $3.00 each and may be purchased at the WTRC office, Luskeys, Caldwell Music, Ken Mayhall Music, in the Mall of Abilene, and at the Civic Center box office. Tickets may be purchased at the door on the night of the performance.

Featuring a 15-member cast and nearly 50 classic and contemporary/country music hits, "Golden Years" is a spectacle of music, lighting, costumes, skits and staging. In its debut last summer, "Golden Years" was seen by more than 10,000 people as it toured 20 cities throughout West Texas and parts of New Mexico. The two summers before that, SPS put on its first road show, "Texas Cradle of Giants."

In this year's show the first half will focus on the early years of country music, from the 30's through the prime of Johnny Cash. Music will include a fiddle medley, "Devil's Dream," "Arkansas Traveler," "Old Joe Clark," "Turkey in the Straw," and "Sally Good'n"; a Carter Family medley; "Faded Love," "San Antonio Rose," and "Take Me Back to Tulsa."

TPA To Honor Earl Campbell

Texas newspapers will present Houston Oiler fabled running back, Earl Campbell, with its highest honor during the Centennial Convention of the Texas Press Association June 21 in Houston. Campbell, who has broken all NFL records in yards gained in rushing during his two years on the Oiler team, will be the eleventh Texan to be named "Texan of the Year" by the century-old association, composed of 575 Texas weeklies and dailies. Presenting the award will be TPA President Bill Dozier, publisher of the Kerville Daily Times.

The Texan of the Year Award is not an annual award, said Dozier. It is given when the Association wants to honor a native-born son or daughter who has brought fame to the state while bringing prominence to themselves in their respective fields of endeavor. In the past, Texan of the

Year has been given to only 10 persons, among them the late Dan Blocker, Dale Evans, C.B. (Tex) Thornton, Al Ludden, Ray Berry, Alan Bean, Phyllis George. Campbell is considered to be the "most awarded" Texas football player and applauded as the greatest running back in football history. He began his career as a member of the Longhorn team at the University of Texas, Austin, receiving the famed Heisman Trophy. When he went into pro football, Campbell was named Rookie of the Year in the NFL

League and the two years he has played pro ball has been named NFL Most Valuable Player. The celebrated pro will attend TPA's concluding luncheon to receive his award. Invited to attend are his mother, Ann Campbell, of Tyler, and his wife (he is married in early June). Guest speaker for the luncheon will be Governor Bill Clements. Dozier said Campbell well met qualifications the press association has set up for recipients of the high award: good humor, talent, warm heart, friendly personality, greatness of character and highly regarded in his chosen profession. Texas Press Association's Centennial Convention is set for June 19-21 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston, which was the city of the organization's founding in 1880. In addition to Governor Clements, featured speakers at the convention include Norman Isaacs, head of the National News Council, New York; Jack Landau, director of the Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press, Washington, D.C.; U.S. Senator John Tower.
