

As a member of the Haskell Lions Club for almost ten years I was excited Tuesday when Lions agreed to issue a challenge to the members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs of Haskell.

The idea of the challenge came following the Lions Club agreement to accept sponsorship of the St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon.

Lions Club members learned during their Tuesday meeting that cancer is the number two killer of children in the U. S., second only to accidents and St. Jude's Childrens Hospital is leading the research endeavor in leukemia and other childhood diseases.

Members of the Lions Club also agreed to provide a new bicycle to the person who turns in the most money from the Bike-A-Thon. The prize is offered to anyone 14 or under.

Entry blanks for the event are available from school principal offices, and the Haskell Free Press.

The Lions challenge to the Rotary Club and Kiwanis Club (sometimes referred to by Lions as 'those old

A three man team will be selected from each club and members will solicit pledges for the miles ridden. The team which collects the most money in pledges will be declared the winner and given appropriate recognition and the other two clubs will contribute $50.00 to the Bike-A-Thon.

The event will be held October 4 on a course to be explained to entrants at a designated time and place.

Lions Club members weren't sure that members of the other clubs would remember how to ride a bicycle so they have agreed to assist in securing the use of three wheel bicycles if the challenge is accepted.

Indian Band Receives Award

The Haskell Indian Band won the Best of Class award in the West Texas Fair Parade in Abilene last Saturday.

Not only was the parade the first competition for the band this year, but it was also the band's first competition under the new band director, Berry Crudginton.

Winning is not a new experience for Mr. Crudginton, who has led his bands to a sweepstakes award at U.I.L. competition every year since he graduated from college three years ago.

Mr. Crudginton said, "Winning the award in the parade is just what we needed. It got our enthusiasm going."

The band's next competition will be at U.I.L. marching contest on Nov. 5.

Indians Drop Season Opener, 12-6

Injuries and turnovers plagued the Haskell Indians during their season opener last Friday night and resulted in a 12-6 loss to the Cisco Lobos.

With several Indians sidelined due to injuries at the start of the game and two more injured during the game, members of the Tribe had to fill-in in relatively unknown positions.

In addition to the injured, the Tribe had one pass intercepted and lost the ball four times on fumbles.

While none of the injuries was serious, Indians Mark Bailey and Lonnie Hise will be out of action for several weeks with pulled or bruised

Indian Joseph Browning should see action this week for the first time this season.

Both teams had trouble finding the handle during the first period with Cisco fumbling three times and the Tribe once.

The Tribe's only scoring drive occurred during the first quarter after Bill Flanary recovered a Lobo fumble.

Indian Joe Benavides scored nine plays and thirty-two yards later on a one yard run. The PAT failed with 3:59 left in the first quarter.

With 3:52 left in the half, Cisco tied the score following a drive that covered 51 yards in 11 plays.

During the first half there was a total of six fumbles and two interceptions. During the second half, there was one fumble and no interceptions. During the first half neither team punted and during the last half, there was a total of seven punts.

On their second possession of the last quarter, a 61 yard pass provided the winning margin for the Lobos.

The Tribe will host the Hamlin Pied Pipers this Friday at 8 p.m. at Indian Stadium.

Hamlin lost their season opener 38-8 last Friday to Stamford.

The Pied Pipers will arrive with a big, well rounded team with experience. The team runs a veer offense and a five defense.

All Indian fans are invited to a pep rally at 3 p.m. Friday in the High School Gym.

HISD To Appeal State Appraisal

BY GINA JENNINGS

School Board members agreed to appeal state appraisals of taxable properties in the Haskell Independent School District during their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Superintendent James Lanier voiced concern about the new appraisals which are significantly higher than those obtained by the board.

According to the Superintendent, the state figures are used to set Local Fund Assessment determining how much the school district will be paying for educational expenses. If the current evaluations stand, that could mean fewer state funds for Haskell schools.

Although Local Fund Assessments cannot be raised more than 20% each period, the rise in property assessments could pose a substantially larger burden on the local board.

A report on HISD enrollment showed a drop of 12 students this year with secondary grades (7-12) having a consistently higher enrollment than primary grades.

Donations

Donations to the Haskell Young Homemakers Gymnastics Fund this week amounted to $165.00 to bring the total collected to $933.15.

Registrations in the gymnastics program are still being accepted and donations to the fund may be given to any member of the club.

Club members plan to purchase equipment to be used in the program as funds allow.

Donations received this week include:

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lehrer	$ 20.00
Bynum's Furniture	100.00
Sherman's Carpets	20.00
Bill Wilson Motor Co.	25.00
Total this week	165.00
Previous total	768.15
Total to date	$933.15

Lanier pointed out the drop in students is less than in previous years hopefully trending toward a more stable school population.

Other items on the agenda included unanimous approval of motions for specific personnel raises; renewing the minerals, oil and gas appraisal contract with Pritchard & Abbott; and authorization of a short term loan to cover September and October expenses. The board also approved funding for additional book shelves for the high school library.

The board was treated to a first

Commissioners Accept Audit Of County

Members of the Haskell County Commissioners Court accepted the audit of Bray and Co. of Abilene during their regular meeting Monday.

The auditor presenting the report was highly complimentary of County financial procedures and told commissioners that the auditing company found no exceptions and made no adjustments.

This was the first outside audit of County finances in many years and was required by revenue sharing regulations.

The auditor stated that his company would make two or three recommendations to County auditing procedures by letter in the near future. He emphasized to the court that the recommendations would be minor procedure changes and in no way reflected on prior practices.

In other action, Commissioners approved the contract of Reddy Pest Control to spray county buildings and approved the contract of Pritchard & Abbott as appraisal company for oil, gas, and utilities for 1981 and 1982.

$109,090 Grant Approved For Haskell City Park

U. S. Senator Lloyd Bentson advised the Free Press Monday that a $55,545.00 grant to the City of Haskell had been approved by the U. S. Department of Interior.

The grant will be matched by the City in providing improvements to the Haskell Community Park.

A spokesman from the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife, who assisted in the grant preparation, told the Free Press that the park improvement program would include: paving parking areas; restroom renovation; a concession building; two lighted tennis courts; creek channelization; low water crossing; softball field improvements; work on a wading pool; and landscaping.

City Secretary Desmond Dulaney told the Free Press that according to

Mormons Set Goal For 1980's

If the Seventies were the "me" decade, the Eighties could be the "we" decade—if the Mormons have their way. Leaders of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (known as the Mormons), have watched with growing concern as families seem to see less and less of each other. Meals are consumed singly and on the run; business and social obligations crowd out family activities and pleasures; communication disappears. Days pass without all the members of a family being in one place at one time.

The Latter-day Saints all through their history have taught that families come first: togetherness is a virtue. Every Monday night is reserved for a family gathering, a practice held by many of the 4.5 million church members worldwide. Business, civic, school sports, and church obligations are not allowed to infringe on this special time.

It's called "family home evening." And it might include a planning session or a discussion, followed by refreshments, of course. Another night could be a study of the ancestry of the family. A film, a museum visit, a hike, an athletic event, a concert, a trip to the zoo—each person suggests an activity interesting to him, and the whole family goes along.

Family members are encouraged to talk about themselves, their interests, their hobbies, their troubles. Listening to each other results in new insight and understanding, in a feeling of closeness.

Taking the time to get to know each family member is as contagious as measles, and some Latter-day Saints' neighbors are finding themselves pressured by their own children to hold a family night.

After the first few Mondays when a pattern has been established, the children begin to feel that at last they have a special time when they come first with their parents. Tension eases; effective communication is established; family friction is replaced by a bonding and loyalty which truly changes "me" to "we."

Rehab Officials Optimistic About Prospects For 21st Round-Up

Every day's mail gives officials of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center more reason to feel optimistic about the prospects for the 21st Annual Cattleman's Round-Ups for Crippled Children. Early pledges of livestock and cash are running well ahead of previous years at this point in spite of the drought that grips the Southwest along with many other adverse factors.

However, this gratifying response comes as no surprise to Shelley V. Smith, Executive Director of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Smith said, "The partnership between the Rehab Center and the cattlemen of the Southwest spans more than two decades and every year these partners have generously supported the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children." "As a matter of fact," Smith added, "their support has grown each year through good times and bad." Smith went on to say, "I guess it's a matter of these special friends understanding what the West Texas Rehabilitation Center is doing for the handicapped and the vital role of the cattlemen in helping the Center to meet the growing needs of these folks."

During 1980, the WTRC, through its campuses in Abilene, San Angelo, and Snyder will provide services, without charge to almost 8,000 handicapped children and adults.

Donors take pride in the livestock they give. Livestock, many of them registered, bear the brands of many of the most famous ranches throughout the Southwest. Early pledges include a registered Santa Gertrudis Bull from the world famous Nine-Bar Ranch of Hempstead; registered Santa Gertrudis Heifer from Turkey Creek Ranch of Uvalde; Brahma Bull from Hudgins Ranch of Hungerford; registered Brangus Heifer from Mesquite Tree Brangus of Tye, plus others to be announced later.

Round-Up workers are now in the process of arranging to pick up livestock in just about every area of the state in preparation for a series of sales to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. The cattle sale, the first in the series, is set for Sept. 29 in Abilene. This sale will be followed by the horse sale on Oct. 4 in Abilene, the sheep and goat sale Oct. 6 in Junction, a special auction on Oct. 8 in Coleman, a farm equipment sale Nov. 8 in Clyde, and another special auction in Brownwood on November 12th.

General Round-Up Chairman, Jim Alexander of Abilene, stressed the importance of getting pledge information to the Center as quickly as possible so arrangements can be made to transport the livestock to the sales. Alexander encouraged donors to call the Central office at 915-692-1633.

Last year's Cattleman's Round-Up netted $177,000 for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Missionaries In Haskell Area

Sister Ruby Eichert of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho and Sister Cheryl Hillhouse of North Hollywood, California have arrived in Haskell to serve as missionaries in the area for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The ladies will make their home in Munday for approximately five months. They will serve a large Texas area including Seymour, Knox City, Haskell, Benjamin, Throckmorton, Weinert, Rule, Vera, Crowell, Goree, Guthrie, Stamford and Rochester.

The ladies stated that they are available to speak or show films to any organization. They have non-denominational films as well as films of their own religious faith.

Totally self-supported, their mission for their church is for the most part door to door. However, they also do some work on referral basis.

"While the public often thinks of men as missionaries, it is not unusual to find women dedicated to the work of the Lord as missionaries," stated Sister Eichert.

Both of the ladies invited anyone interested in their work to call them at 422-4834 in Munday.

Also, area people are welcome to attend Sunday services at 540 North 5th Street in Munday, held at 10:00 a.m.

Cornett, Kirkland Wed In Ft. Worth

Tammy Marie Kirkland and Brian Harold Cornett exchanged marriage vows at two o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, August 30, 1980 in a candlelight ceremony at the Ridgela West Baptist Church in Ft. Worth. Rev. James Miller, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Kirkland, Jr. of 3613 South Drive in Ft. Worth and the granddaughter of Mrs. Jack Sanders of Weinert, Mrs. Katie Wilson of Haskell and Dee Kirkland of Haskell.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Cornett of 6606 Sabrosa C&E of Ft. Worth.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. Her wedding gown of silk organza and Venice lace had large floral appliques accented by tiny seed pearls covering the fitted bodice. A scalloped Queen Ann neckline and full bishop sleeves, richly appliqued, with cuffs of delicate point d' esprit completed the bodice. The hemline of the A-line skirt was encircled with double bands of point d' esprit with the back gliding into a beautiful chapel length train.

The bride's veil was a fingertip mantilla, edged in matching Venice lace and large floral appliques accented by seed pearls completed her lovely bridal silhouette. The bride carried a cascade of bridal roses, daisies and baby's breath clustered around an orchid in colors of blue, yellow and white tied with satin ribbon love knots.

Karen Wall was the organist and played the traditional "Bridal Chorus" as the processional and the "Wedding March" as the recessional. She also accompanied Deborah Sue Cox, cousin of the bride of Daingerfield, as she sang, "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Little miss April Ann Sanders, cousin of the bride of Stamford, was the flowergirl. She wore a baby blue floor length dress with tiered skirt with each tier trimmed in lace and carried a lace trimmed basket of mixed flowers in the same colors of the bridal bouquet.

Miss Brenda Kay Cox, cousin of the bride of Daingerfield was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Janice Scott, T.K. Land, and Barbara Bayless. All the bridal attendants wore identical long dresses of silk organza over blue crepe with accoridian pleated skirts. They carried bouquets of daisies cascaded with blue and white ribbons accented with baby's breath.

Mr. Ralph Cornett was his brother's best man. Groomsman were Tom Scott, Jim Hunter, and Jacky Kirkland, brother of the bride. The groom wore an all-white tux and his attendants wore light blue tux's with ruffled shirts.

Ushers seating guests were Ben Harris and Ron Hammon. They also seated the mother's and grandparents of the bride and groom.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length baby blue dress with long sleeves and fitted waistband. The groom's mother selected to wear a floorlength brown gown with an accoridian pleated skirt. Both mothers wore a blue daisy corsage.

The church was decorated with an arch of greenery with large baskets of white and blue gladiola and mixed flowers on either side. Flanked on either side and above the altar were arched candelabrum holding cathedral length pillar candles with woodwardia fern. The bride's aisle was marked with satin bows, blue candles, greenery and baby's breath.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall. The tables were covered with floor length pleated white embroidered alencon lace with an undercloth of baby blue, ribbons of blue with tiny hearts and baby's breath accented the sides and corners of each table. The bride's table held the three-tiered white wedding cake decorated with blue confection roses and ropes of white. It was topped with a bride and groom standing in a wedding bell encircled with a heart. Centerpiece was a silver Espergne holding an arrangement of mixed blue and yellow flowers with long white candles. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl with an ice ring in the center of a miniature bride and groom with blue flowers and white love birds. Blue and white wedding bells in various sizes hung above the table.

The groom's table with an identical lace cloth and blue underlay held Black Forrest cake served from a silver tray. Center piece was a silver Espergne holding a single large candle, fruit and greenery with lemon slices. Coffee was served from a silver samovar and silver compotes held nuts and mints on each table. Other appointments were silver.

A circular table was covered with re-embroidered lace cloth and held the bride's book where guests were registered.

Master Walter Lindsey Cox Jr., cousin of the bride, passed rose petals of blue and white satin filled with bird seed to guests from small wicker baskets to be thrown at the bride and groom as they were leaving the reception.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, Al and Arlene Cornett, at their home at 6606 Sabrosa C&E, on Friday evening.

After honeymooning in Nassau in the Bahamas the couple will be at home in Ft. Worth where both are employed at Pritchard and Abbott Data Processing.

Attending the wedding from Haskell were Mrs. Katie Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Lendon Boldon and family, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, Mrs. Dudley Phelps and Mrs. Jack Sanders of Weinert.

MR. AND MRS. MAC WEATHERSBEE of Rotan announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dee Ann, to Franky Don Mullins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Franky Don Mullins of Rotan and also grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Sherman, Sr. of Haskell. Dee Ann graduated from Rotan High School and will graduate from Baylor University this fall. She is employed by Hobbs Independent School District. Donny is also a graduate of Rotan High School and attended Tarleton State University. He is now engaged in farming in Rotan. The couple plans a November wedding.

Kennamer Family Holds 52nd Reunion

On August 30, 1980, Travis and Peggy (Kennamer) Burson attended the 52nd annual reunion of the Kennamer family in Kennamer Cove, Alabama. Over 400 family members and descendants traveled from California, Tennessee, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Virginia, Georgia, Missouri, Mississippi, Florida, Louisiana, Texas and Alabama for this occasion, but noted this was one of the smallest attendances since its beginning.

The day was of the utmost importance to those attending for the first time. Prayers and fellowship, speeches by some of the elders of the family, made one realize the importance of such a gathering. Lots of picture taking, visiting with old acquaintances, and making new acquaintances, and the lunch that was magnificently spread for all to enjoy, could not be topped.

Kennamers ranging in age from 93 years to 4 months all enjoyed the day. Seven members of the family were recognized for having attended all 52 reunions, and four more were recognized for attending all except for the time spent in military duty.

The day wasn't complete without a visit to the historic Mt. Pisgah Cemetery in Kennamer Cove, Alabama where ancestors and many of the loved ones are buried.

Peggy Kennamer Burson is a direct descendent of Hans Kennamer, founder of Kennamer Cove, and ancestor of most of all the Alabama Kennamers. Peggy and Travis Burson are former residents of Haskell and now live in Lubbock. Peggy is the daughter of Mildred Kelso, now living in Haskell.

Rice Springs News

Things have been going about as usual here at Rice Springs. Nothing too exciting has happened since I last reported the news. We have had one new resident to enter the home. His name is Tom Kreger and he is from Weinert. We are happy to have him here and hope that he will enjoy being a part of the Rice Springs family.

We've had only one resident to celebrate their birthday since our last writing and that was Mattie Sammons who celebrated hers on Sept. 1st. We are happy to report that Jessie Brown has gotten to return to the home after spending over a week in the Haskell hospital. Joe Teague has been taken to Big Springs to enter the hospital there. We hope he is back very soon.

We were so glad to have had the Trinity Lutheran Church conduct our Sunday morning services during the month of August and are certainly looking forward to their coming again. We also thank the Haskell Church of Christ for conducting our Sunday afternoon services again this last month and every month of the year. We appreciate their continued service. Also we thank Rev. William Hodge for the Tuesday Bible Study, Rev. Martin Jacobsen for the Wednesday Bible Study, Jo Simpson for the Friday morning devotional, and The Haskell Church of Christ ladies for the monthly birthday party.

We awarded the loving cup to our "Bingo Champ of the Month" for August last week. It was to Charity Bradley. It was certainly a close race, but we congratulate her for winning.

State Fair Rodeo Set Oct. 13-19

The roughest, toughest, most professional cowboys in the United States will be competing in the 1980 State Fair Championship Rodeo held during the first week of the State Fair of Texas, October 3 through 19. More than 500 daredevil bronc busters, bull riders, steer wrestlers, calf ropers and fearless cowgirl barrel racers will be competing for more than $75,000 in prize money.

The State Fair of Texas has one of the top ten purses on the Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association's (PRCA) circuit and is one of the last major rodeos before the National Finals Rodeo is held in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma during December. At the National Finals, the top 15 contestants in each event for the past year will compete for world championship titles. The contestants qualify based on purse money they win throughout the 1980 season thereby enticing the top cowboys in the world to compete at the State Fair Championship Rodeo as the race for the finals comes to a close.

Rodeo producer Tommy Steiner will supply first-rate

We thank each and every one of our visitors for coming out any time that they can, because this is the only way that some of the residents can keep in touch with what is going on outside of this home, and they love to see the smile and feel the touch of a loved one or friend.

We are happy to have another resident's life history to put in the paper this week and I thank his wife for writing it and getting it to me.

MEET OUR RESIDENTS
The resident that I would like you to meet this week is Joe Ray. Joe was born at Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they also lived at the time.

After their daughter's death, the Rays moved to Rule in June 1977 to make it their home. Joe came to make Rice Springs his home on July 27, 1979 and later Mae came to recuperate here after having surgery, but since has gotten to go back to live in her home in Rule.

The Rays have three grandchildren, twelve great grandchildren, and two great, great grandchildren, all of whom they are very proud.

Joe is a member of the Baptist Church which he joined at the age of eighteen at Sap Oak.

The Rays were privileged to celebrate their sixty-third anniversary here at the home in July with everyone wishing them much happiness in the future.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service

This past week brought to a close the 1978 Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) and the Drought and Flood Conservation Program (DFCP).

The Soil Conservation Service received from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service a total of 624 referrals for assistance. 40 of these referrals were duplications leaving 584 referrals for assistance to be serviced by SCS. The first referrals were received on August 29, 1978.

All 584 referrals have been serviced, resulting in 25 referrals being cancelled as the practice requested was not recommended and 96 referrals being cancelled by the producers as not being interested in carrying out requested practices with cost-share funds. 382 requests have been completed and 90 referrals remain to be completed and checked out for certification.

The results of completed applications amount to over 4.9 million feet of standard level terraces rebuilt, over 2.5 million feet of parallel terraces rebuilt, 45 livestock water ponds repaired and restored to usable conditions, 130 plus acres of waterways re-shaped, 6 diversion terraces rebuilt, and approximately 40 areas graded, shaped, and smoothed out consisting of approximately 800 acres.

The 90 remaining applicants have until February 28, 1981 to complete their work provided an extension was granted by the ASCS County Office. SCS Technicians will start checking out the remaining ECP and DFPC work as soon as each producer reports that he has finished his work.

Again, let me repeat, all work must be completed and reported to ASCS and SCS before February 28, 1981 in order to receive cost-share assistance.

It has been a hard fight for the past two years, but it has been a great opportunity for SCS personnel to become acquainted with some of the Haskell producers that we did not know. All in all it has been a great two years with lots of accomplishments, and an outstanding award for the Haskell Field Office, SCS; but I do not believe I would like to start another such program soon.

School Busing Caution Urged

School busing may be a controversial political subject or just a common way of getting to school. But no matter what role busing has in a community, nobody wants children to be hurt while busing. The Texas Medical Association urges car drivers to be very careful around buses, especially early in the year when many children may be unfamiliar with bus safety precautions.

To help drivers avoid careless children darting into the street, law requires all traffic coming from either direction to stop when a bus that has stopped has its flashers on. Wait until the bus starts moving before passing.

Car drivers also should be prepared to stop when buses approach railroad tracks because state law requires buses to stop at all railroad crossings.

Giving a bus plenty of space is important anytime, but especially when a lot of rowdiness is going on inside. Bus

RAIN DANCE

HHS cheerleaders, twirlers, band members and football players were on hand last Thursday evening to lead Indian fans in a rousing round of rain dancing and cheering. The special event pepped up fans for the opening game of the Indian Rain Dance Sale held last weekend by Haskell merchants.

LITTLE INDIANS

Matt Perry (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Perry and David Bradshaw Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Bradshaw, of Haskell were dressed and ready to 'whoop' it up at the Pep Rally and Rain Dance held on the square last Thursday. Whether or not the dancing brought the rain is open to debate but sure 'nuff—we got some!

HSU To Induct Frank Kimbrough

Two of the most unlikely football players to earn All-America honors, the coach who first guided Cowboy grid fortunes to national prominence, and the key to HSU's last NCAA basketball tournament team will be inducted into the Hardin-Simmons University Athletic Hall of Fame on September 27.

Wilton Davis, Burns McKinney, Frank Kimbrough and Bob Tremaine will be honored as HSU installs the second group of athletes into the Hall. The banquet in the Mabee Complex on the HSU campus will be open to the public. Kimbrough will be honored posthumously while the other three men will be on hand to accept the award.

Kimbrough died in 1971 after a coaching career that included HSU, Baylor, Wayland College, Ranger Junior College and West Texas State University. He was a three sport star at HSU 1922-25, earning four letters each in football and baseball and three letters in basketball. As a senior he was a key as HSU recorded an 8-2 record—the most wins in a single season by a Cowboy squad until Kimbrough returned as head coach in the mid-1930's.

After graduation Kimbrough tried medical school but decided he would be happier coaching. He spent a while at Wayland College then won back-to-back state championships at Ranger Junior College in 1934 and 1935.

Meanwhile, his alma mater was suffering through three losing seasons (1932-34) with a composite record of 10-16-4. But in 1935, Kimbrough arrived for a six-year stay during which time the Cowboys would win 84 percent of their football games, go to two bowl games, compile two undefeated seasons, put together winning streaks of 11 and 14 games and undefeated strings of 12 and 19 contests.

That first season, Kimbrough took the Cowboys to a 6-3-1 record in the regular season and lined his squad up opposite New Mexico in the first annual Sun Bowl. That game wound up tied, 14-14, but the next thrashing of Texas Mines (now UT El Paso). The only losses in 1936 were to Baylor, 13-0, and Texas A&M (the Aggies kicked a field goal on the last play of the game after a penalty had stopped the clock), 3-0.

In 1937 his team was 8-0-1 (including a 7-0 upset of highly favored California Loyola); his 1938 edition was 7-3 (with verdicts over West Texas State and Arizona State) and his 1939 unit was 7-1-1 (the loss to Loyola, 6-0, and the tie to San Francisco, 6-6).

The best came last, as far as Kimbrough's relationship with HSU was concerned. In 1940 HSU posted a 9-0 mark, outscoring the opposition 229-76.

Kimbrough resigned his Abilene job for the head spot at Baylor (leaving the Cowboys under the guidance of Warren Woodson, a 1979 inductee into the HSU Hall of Fame) and promptly engineered a 7-7 tie against a previously undefeated, untied University of Texas powerhouse. That game was voted the top upset of 1900-1950 by sportswriters.

In 1947 he began an 11-year stint at West Texas State University as head coach, followed by 12 years as athletic director for the Buffaloes. He was the fifth member to be inducted into the Panhandle Hall of Fame (1963).

Tickets to the sit-down dinner will be $7.50 and should be purchased in advance from the HSU Alumni Office, Drawer H, Abilene, Texas 79698, phone 915-677-7281 ext 372. The catered meal will begin at 7 p.m. in the main arena of the Mabee Complex.

Earlier in the afternoon, there will be an open house of the Hall of Fame room and a reception for all Cowboy ex-lettermen and friends.

drivers do not need any trouble from traffic while keeping control of the bus and passengers.

Bus caravans may present another traffic obstacle. Often buses do not need or want other vehicles darting between buses because it may slow progress and invite harassment from opposing schools' students. Out on the highway, passing buses one at a time is the safest way.

Trying to pass several buses at once on a two-lane road risks many lives besides that of the foolish car driver trying to whip past.

Clinics Scheduled

The regular monthly clinics will be held at the CAP Center on Thursday, Sept. 18, 1980. The Screening Clinic will be from 10:00-12:00 and the Immunization Clinic will be in the afternoon from 1:00-3:00. Check your children's cards to see if they are up to date.

The monthly luncheon will be Monday, Sept. 22, 1980 at 12:00 noon. Melba Howard will bring our program this month of Food and Nutrition. We invite all families interested in becoming a part of the community meetings to come and bring a dish and have fellowship with one another.

ALIEN IDEA. Texas Attorney General Mark White says he will ask U.S. District Judge Woodrow Seals to stay his order that illegal aliens be admitted to public schools in the state without tuition, pending an appeal to a higher court. Texas is faced with educating children of illegal aliens because the federal government has failed to enforce its own laws to keep them out, White said. "We are faced with the ridiculous result that the Justice Department has intervened on the side of the children of 'undocumented' workers," he said. "Yet the Justice Department is in charge of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. It is their own absolute failure to enforce the law that they are under oath to observe that has created the problem in Texas of having to educate these children." U. S. Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti placed restraints on apprehending illegal aliens at places of illegal employment or residences because of the federal census count. Robert Schultz, deputy director of the INS office in Houston, said, "It's possible people will send children from Mexico to live (here) with relatives," according to the Houston "Chronicle" (July 23).
